Pressure's Off; All Eyes On Kress

The pressure is off, Farwell's exciting Steers came up short with their first loss of the season Friday night, dropping a 24-14 game to Plains that didn't hurt anything but prestige.

This loss left the Steers with a 4-1 record as the season got down to serious business--no mark to be ashamed of.

Pre-season ratings put the Kress Kangaroos as the team to beat in District 3-A this year, and all eyes will be on that game (played away from home) Friday night.

It could determine whether Farwell will have a good chance of coping district--something Steer fans have gotten mighty fond of doing the past few years.

The Kangaroos were nipped by their rivals, Happy, last week, and will be on the rebound. Farwell is expected to have the power to beat them if the Steers have a good night, but the game should be close.

Shows Film On Mental Health

Dr. M. F. Green, Farwell physician, was a guest of the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Monday evening. He showed a film on mental health to the Lions.

Preceding the showing of the film, the members discussed business matters and made initial contacts for purchase of light bulbs which will be sold in their annual bulb sale.

We notice that our shoe-strings always break just as we are about to leave for that important engagement that we're already 15 minutes late for, and this infuriates us no end.

On top of that, as sure as we get to the railroad crossing, there will be a train on the track which will add further aggravation to our already badly soiled humor.

It's vexation almost beyond a man's endurance to have his wife fill him to the brim with red beans and then withdraw a steaming pie from the oven, without mentioning that she had a special dessert a-cooking.

In most cases the husband goes ahead and gorges himself one more round and then really does let it out on the wife for encouraging him to over-eat.

Banks and post offices have a notorious habit of closing exactly on time, and who hasn't grown purple with rage after arriving at the doorstep of one of these institutions to find it locked when your watch showed a minute and a half to closing time?

We have, it mattered little that our timepieces disagreed. We had rushed to make it and were plenty disturbed to get shut out.

Most of these small grievances that we manage to make mountains out of are purely circumstantial in origin, we will be forced to admit. But the few that aren't--that is are inflicted on suffering mankind just because of custom or tradition--are the ones that will probably give us our first genuine ulcer.

Try this one on for size . . . it's just one of those that it seems something ought to be done about:

Suppose you are driving from City A to City B. You are in a hurry, but you have a flat. You change your tire on the side of the road, and drive to City X (the next town) on the spare.

Not wanting to tempt fate, you decide that if you stop to have the flat repaired, it will take only 15 or 20 minutes, and you can easily explain to your friends at City B that you were delayed because of a flat. They'll understand.

So you stop at Service Station D in City X. There's no one else being waited on, so the attendant pulls out your wheel and begins to make repairs.

Just as he gets the tire dismounted, a car full of people enters the drive. The attendant (he's by himself at the station) stops what he's doing for you, goes to the car and says "Yes sir, what'll it be?"

It turns out that the driver wants five gallons of regular gas. He also wants the oil checked, and there seems to be a leak around the radiator somewhere. Would the man please check it.

After the gas has been sold and paid for, the windshield wiped, and tires aired, the oil checked (it needed two quarts), and the radiator leak repaired, the car is on its way.

The attendant returns to the tire. He begins examining the

Steers Get Their Chance But Plains Roars Back

Larry McDorman, an alert end, pounced on an idle ball in the end zone following opening kickoff Friday night to give the Farwell Steers an electrifying "instant touchdown" play against the Plains Cowboys.

A few seconds later Jerry Lovelace rammed over the extra points to hand the hosts an 8-0 lead and send fans into ecstasy.

However, it didn't take long for the visiting Cowboys to squish the joyful yells of local fans and change them to groans as they unleashed the most powerful ground offensive the Steers have yet encountered.

The convincing offense of the Cowboys enabled them to turn the Blue and White back slowly but surely and come out with a 24-14 win.

The Cowboys scored once in the second quarter and twice in the third to set up the winning points. Farwell, trailing by 10 points, tried unsuccessfully to regain possession of the ball with an onside kick in the closing minutes of the game.

Plains was able to move the ball effectively throughout the game and was able with its strong defense to hold down Farwell's ground offense.

Gaining good yardage, the Cowboys charged back in the second quarter to tie the score up at 8-8. Ray Faught, Plains halfback, ran over left guard for the first Cowboy score. Joe Don Marrow carried over for the two extras.

After a slow start, Farwell got to rolling late the second quarter with three first downs up the middle to the Plains' 10, but the Steers couldn't make it and the ball went over to the Cowboys on their 4. The Cowboys pushed the ball back up to midfield stripe before the half ended in a stalemate.

Plains took the lead in the third quarter when Marrow got loose for a 65-yard scoring run. Faught added the extras and the Cowboys led 16-8.

Farwell was still unable to move the ball and the Cowboys took over on their own 30 to set up another scoring drive. Marrow scored again from the Farwell 6, and Mike Sink ran over the extra points and the visitors led 24-8.

Late in the final quarter, the Steers' passing began to connect and a 40-yard run by Carroll Huggins set up the final Farwell score. Quarterback Benji Dial carried over from the 2, making the score 24-14 after the extra point attempt failed.

With only 2 minutes left in the game, Farwell tried to get the ball with an onside kick, but Plains covered the ball on the 50-yard line and moved for two first downs before the game ended.

IT WAS TOUGH GOING for Steer backs Friday night, as they bucked the roughest defense of the year against Plains. Here Halfback Carroll Huggins, for all his speed and finesse, is swallowed up by two Plains defenders after a short gain on an end run. He did break away in the fourth quarter for a 40-yard ramble, though.

Texico Defeated By Melrose In Girls Tourney

The teams played outstanding games according to their coaches, with each losing by only 1 point. The senior team lost 8-7, and the junior game 18-17.

Coaches for the junior high had hopes that they would win the tournament since they had made good showings in their games all year.

One Injured In Three-Car Collision In Farwell

A three-car collision in East Farwell Friday at noon resulted in extensive damage to two cars and slight damage to the other vehicle.

The accident occurred when a Ford pickup loaded with grain, driven by D. O. Rolland, started to pull out of the driveway at Henderson Grain and Seed Company. The pickup struck a 1955 DeSoto driven by Mrs. Wayne Foster of Oklahoma Lane in the side and knocked the vehicle out of control.

The DeSoto was sliding across the street backward and when Colonel Ray Roberson from Cannon Air Force base tried to avoid a collision, his 1959 Lincoln was struck broadside with the back of the DeSoto.

Mrs. Foster was rushed to Clovis Memorial hospital for observation but was released Monday after being treated for cuts and bruises.

The Lincoln and DeSoto both suffered extensive damage with the Lincoln having a broken back glass and a hole knocked in the side of the car. The DeSoto had a dented fender and side; however the pickup was only slightly damaged.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT in Farwell Friday caused the damage done to the cars shown in the picture. The Lincoln had a broken back glass and body damages, while the DeSoto had a crushed side.

THE HOUSE OF A HUNDRED HAZARDS
Dan the serviceman

WHAT HAPPENED, MR. DAN?
MR. JONES FELL OFF HIS ROOF. HE WAS USING A RICKETY LADDER.

HOW TERRIBLE! DADDY WARNED HIM ABOUT THAT LADDER.
ACCIDENTS AROUND THE HOME HAPPEN ALL THE TIME, LINDA.

THAT'S A REAL HAZARD, LINDA!! SOMEONE COULD SLIP ON ONE OF THOSE SKATES AND FALL. HOME FIRES KILLED 13,000 PEOPLE LAST YEAR.

AND, AREN'T THOSE YOUR ROLLER SKATES?
YES, WHY?

THAT'S GOOD, LINDA-- BECAUSE MOST ACCIDENTS ARE CAUSED BY CARELESSNESS.
HOW MANY HAZARDS DO YOU THINK WE WOULD FIND AROUND OUR HOME?

OH, OH-- WHAT HAPPENED HERE?
DADDY FELL ASLEEP SMOKING AND BURNED THE COUCH.

HERE'S A REAL KILLER-- THE MEDICINE CABINET.
YES, SMALL CHILDREN CLIMB UP AND SWALLOW ANYTHING THEY CAN-- ASPIRIN, RUBBING ALCOHOL, PILLS. ALL HARMFUL ITEMS SHOULD BE KEPT OUT OF CHILDREN'S REACH AND CLEARLY LABELED.

MRS. SMITH, IT ISN'T A GOOD IDEA TO TOUCH THAT ELECTRIC OUTLET WITH WET HANDS.
WHY NOT?
ANYTHING CAN BE DANGEROUS IF MISUSED. FOR INSTANCE, PEOPLE OFTEN STAND ON CHAIRS WHEN THEY SHOULD USE A SAFE STEP-LADDER.

IT'S POSSIBLE TO ELECTROCUTE YOURSELF. NEVER OPERATE ANY ELECTRICAL APPLIANCE WITH WET HANDS-- AND, INCIDENTALLY, OVERLOADING YOUR WIRING CAN CAUSE A FIRE.

THANKS, DAN. WE ADULTS NEED SAFETY EDUCATION, TOO.
EVERYONE DOES, MRS. SMITH. HOME ACCIDENTS KILLED 27,000 PEOPLE LAST YEAR, AND INJURED MORE THAN FOUR MILLION. WE CAN'T KNOW TOO MUCH ABOUT SAFETY.

COME ON, MR. DAN. LET'S SEE IF WE CAN SPOT ANY OTHER HAZARDS.

NOW, THIS ISN'T GOOD. THIS VENT IS DISCONNECTED AND SHOULD BE REPAIRED PROMPTLY. VENT PIPES SHOULD BE PROPERLY INSTALLED BY AN EXPERT, AND REGULARLY INSPECTED FOR BREAKS OR CLOGGING.

JIMMY, WHAT ARE YOU DOING WITH THAT GUN?
I DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED. I JUST MEANT TO SHOW IT TO YOU.
WELL, YOU CERTAINLY DID AND IT'S A WONDER SOMEONE WASN'T KILLED. GUNS THAT FOLKS DON'T KNOW WERE LOADED KILL MANY PEOPLE EVERY YEAR. THE HOME IS NO PLACE FOR LOADED GUNS.

WHAT'S THAT NOISE?
IT'S MY BROTHER JACK, USING THE POWER MOWER.
HE'S TAKING HIS LIFE IN HIS HANDS! REFUELING THE MOWER WHILE IT'S STILL RUNNING! HOLD ON THERE, JACK. GASOLINE CAN EASILY EXPLODE AND START A FIRE.
FUELS CAN BE DANGEROUS CAN'T THEY, MR. DAN?
ONLY IF THEY ARE IMPROPERLY USED. FOR EXAMPLE, GASOLINE IS ABSOLUTELY SAFE WHEN USED IN AN AUTOMOBILE ENGINE-- BUT IT'S DANGEROUS WHEN USED AS A CLEANER ABOUT THE HOME. MODERN SOURCES OF ENERGY REQUIRE SAFE EQUIPMENT AND PROPER HANDLING.

WHILE NATURAL GAS IS A MODERN, SAFE FUEL, IT, TOO, MUST BE USED WISELY. IF YOUR HEATING EQUIPMENT NEEDS CHECKING, CALL A LICENSED PLUMBER, HEATING CONTRACTOR OR ME. REMEMBER-- FOR EFFICIENCY AND SAFETY, YOUR GAS EQUIPMENT MUST HAVE A SOURCE OF FRESH AIR AND SHOULD BURN WITH A BRIGHT BLUE FLAME.

AS WE HAVE SEEN HERE TODAY, ANY HOUSE MAY BE A 'HOUSE OF A HUNDRED HAZARDS.'
MAKE SURE YOU'VE CHECKED YOUR HOME AGAINST ALL HAZARDS. YOU MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE OR THE LIFE OF SOMEONE IN YOUR FAMILY. DON'T FORGET, YOUR HOME IS AS SAFE AS YOU MAKE IT!

It has been said that in this modern time the education of a farmer is more widely diversified than practically any other profession. To be a good farmer you have to understand machinery, be capable of negotiating long-term financing, be an authority on markets both current and forward, know livestock and be a fairly good veterinarian, be a plant breeder and understand the theory of evolution, be an expert on weather predictions and be able to read the clouds without fail, but probably the greatest feat of all is to cut milo at 18 per cent moisture, haul it to an elevator, swear by the head of Allah that you knew it wasn't but 12 per cent and talk some poor ol' innocent, unsuspecting, stupid elevator manager into taking it. I've been told that there are some farmers who can shake seed in their hands like a pair of dice and tell you the germination, but I haven't found one yet who can cut less than 15,000 pounds of milo and tell you within 5 points of what the moisture will be. Have you, Herb Potts? Farmers are a wonderful group of people!

We at Golden West still have a good selection of wheat and barley. If you are planning on getting a little more land into a fall crop so you can distribute your water, try barley. We have had yields of over 100 bu. of barley and the price is generally a little better than milo. Golden West still has plenty of Texas Certified Wintex.

From the looks of deer hunters who have been passing the office the last few days I might offer this bit of advice to any deer reading this column -- head for the hills!

Grain Sorghum Good ... As Was Expected

Typical of hundreds of farmers throughout the High Plains area and of many farmers here in Parmer County, Amos Steelman was combining his maize crop last week.

Steelman's farm is located seven miles southwest of Friona and includes one-half section of Texas 620 variety of irrigated maize.

"I planted my crop on June 10," Steelman says.

He says the planting rate was 9 pounds an acre and for fertilizer he used 130 pounds of anhydrous ammonia an acre.

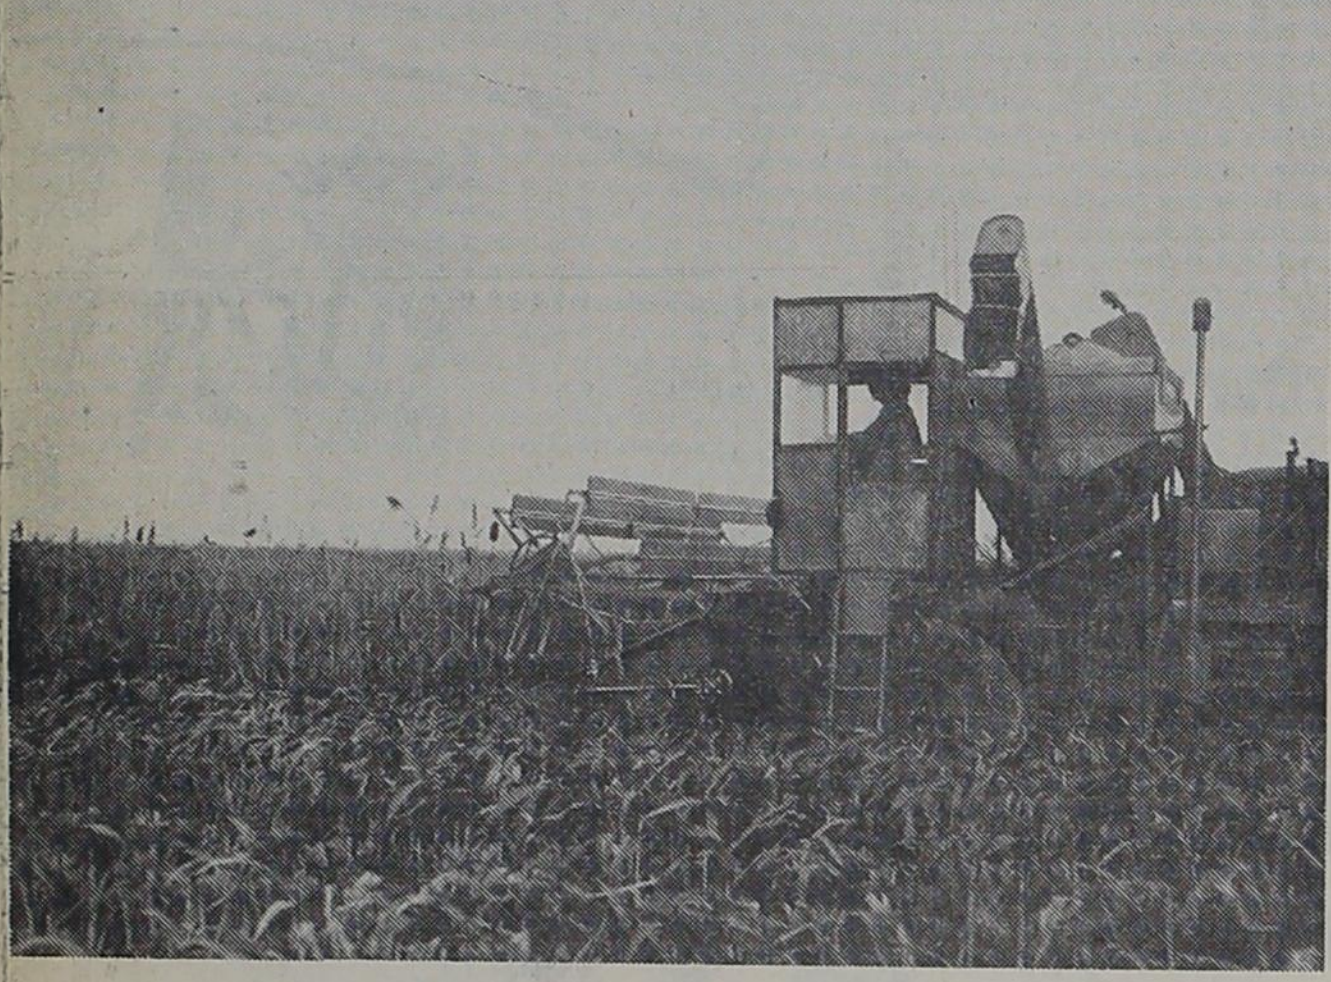

Steelman said he had maize on the same land last year.

"My yield is around 6000 pounds an acre," he says. Steelman had already cut much of his crop before being rained out the first three days of this month. He is putting his crop in the loan.

Dick Steelman, his son, and R. J. Renner, a neighbor, were cutting the crop last week using Steelman's combine and one of Renner's.

"This crop is as good as any I have had," Steelman said.

MAIZE COMBINING was in full swing on the Amos Steelman farm southwest of Friona as it was at most other farms throughout Parmer County last weekend. Rain temporarily interrupted the harvest the first days of October.

Yarborough To Speak Tuesday

T. O. Lesly New Head Farm Union

T. O. Lesly, Lazbuddie farmer, was elected president of Parmer County Farmers Union Tuesday night. Clyde Weatherly was named vice-president and O. D. Spitzer is secretary.

Richard Alexander, state secretary, attended the county-wide meeting and was the principal speaker, although other visitors were on the floor also.

Alexander summarized some of the problems facing farmers in general and Farmers Union in particular. He attacked farmer apathy toward many problems.

A good bit of his talk was devoted to politics. "Farm prices are made in Washington," he told his audience of about 45 persons. "Don't let anybody kid you 'at they're not.

"It's time we farmers mated a little politically speaking," he said, suggesting that farmers "vote their pocketbook."

The Farmers Union leader had hard words for the Republican Party and pointed out that the

RALPH YARBOROUGH

Democratic Party is the only one that has shown cooperation with Union-sponsored ideas.

He urged his listeners to participate in precinct and county politics next year and to keep "Democrats for Nixon" out of influential party positions.

U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, who defeated Bill Blakeley for that post in 1958 and thereby established himself as leader of the "liberal-loyalists" in Texas, will speak in Friona Tuesday night.

The Austin attorney, often a critic of administration-sponsored farm policies, will appear at a Farmers Union-sponsored meeting at the school cafeteria, which will start at 8.

Yarborough has endorsed, before and after his election to office, several phases of the government farm program, and has favored increased price supports for farm commodities.

He bills himself as "a poor man's candidate" and wants protection of income for the "family-size farm."

British Feed Grain Experts Visit In Parmer County

Grain sorghum may be piled deeper in the feed troughs of British livestock and poultry in the next several months as the result of increased promotion on the part of High Plains sorghum growers.

Six feedgrain industry representatives from the United Kingdom will spend the month of October in Texas and surrounding areas.

They will study the harvesting, transportation, merchandising and processing of grain sorghum and consider increased imports of it and other United States feedgrains as they expand livestock and poultry production. The group, headed by British Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, R. E. Moore, will travel throughout the area as guests of Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The group is scheduled to visit elevators at Bovina this week, to see the large storage and handling facilities there.

The visitors arrived in Houston October 2 and toured the port grain export facilities. The following week has been spent at Texas A & M where they visited with agricultural staff members and attended the Texas Nutrition Conference, which attracted grain and feed representatives from several states.

The week of October 12 will be spent in the High Plains grain sorghum production and feeding area. Opportunity will be provided for a visit to a ranch near Dumas, feed lots near Lubbock as well as smaller "on the farm" feeding operations within the area.

Using the high energy feed formulas now in practical use, it is possible to produce a broiler weighing more than three pounds in eight weeks on less than six pounds of feed, according to Dr. J. R. Couch, Texas A & M College System. This is possible if no disease outbreaks occur, if the chick is available that is capable of obtaining such standards and if proper management procedures are followed.

Several conferences have been scheduled with agricultural and grain industry leaders to discuss the value of grain sorghum in balanced feeding programs.

Facts About Teenage Drivers

How big a role does the teenage driver play in the overall auto accident picture?

The National Safety Council, in its newly published statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," points out these facts: Of the 82 million licensed drivers in America, about six million--or 7 per cent of them--are under 20 years old.

However, this 7 per cent is responsible for more than 12 per cent of the nation's auto accidents.

DEAN McCULLOM treats one of his 1700 or 1800 lambs which he is feeding to gain profits because of the low market price of grain sorghums and other crops.

SHEEP CROWD HAY feeding trough on the Dean McCullom farm northwest of Bovina. McCullom feeds maize, wheat and alfalfa as well as hay.

Sheep Help McCullom Use His Grain Sorghum

Like many other Parmer County farmers, Dean McCullom has turned to sheep feeding to gain profits with grain sorghums and other crops at low market prices. "It looks like an awful good year for sheep because of the market prices," McCullom says. "I have been feeding sheep about three years now," he says. McCullom says he is buying lambs at $16.10 Cwt. and selling for around $20.00. "I have been feeding sheep about three years now," he says. McCullom says he has about 1700 to 1800 head of sheep and that his father is in partnership with him. "I have roughly 400 on alfalfa," he says, explaining that he is feeding hay, alfalfa and wheat as well as maize. "We intend to go to about 2,000 head," McCullom says. "It takes about a week to get sheep on full feed," he says, describing the gradual method of getting the animals accustomed to feed without too many animals dying. "Some feeders lose as much as 10 per cent. I am hoping I won't have 3 per cent die." He says that far less than 3 per cent had died to date. After getting the sheep on full feed in the feeding pens, McCullom puts the smaller ones on wheat, but keeps the heavier lambs in the pen to fatten them up for sale a month later. "I build a frame on the smaller ones to fatten them up," he says. "It takes about 250 pounds of grain to fatten a lamb. After the end of the feeding period of 60 to 90 days, we usually have a one-half pound a day gain. "We sell to the packers right here on the farm," he said. By buying the lambs at 60 pounds at $16.10 a hundred and selling them at 100 pounds at around $20.00 and considering his feeding cost, McCullom figures he has been making about $6.00 on each lamb. McCullom says he is experimenting with a night light to see if it will speed gains resulting from all-night feeding. internal parasites. He uses Phenothiazine drench. He estimates his cost to drench at 6 cents an animal and 10 cents to give each one an over-eating shot.

The most valuable crop coming from the farms and ranches of Texas is their young folks, reminds the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. These youngsters will soon be moving to and from school and the Council urges all motorists to observe all traffic laws and especially those relating to the loading and unloading of school children. Play it safe so the children can be safe, urges the Council.

A comparison of typical 1908 and 1958 rations for fattening beef cattle shows that when modern technology is put to work in the feedlot, beef profits climb. U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, sheds this light on the comparison. The use of present day rations has increased weight gain by nearly 30 percent, improved feed efficiency about 35 percent and cut feed costs more than 25 percent.

Marketing Seed Sure No Snap

When marketing seed you should follow the same steps as when marketing any other agricultural commodity, says Dr. Lee C. Coffey, extension agronomist.

The three major objectives in the sale of seed include finding a ready market, obtaining a satisfactory price and establishing a satisfied customer. The agronomist gives the following suggestions as aids to profitable seed marketing.

Your seed must first of all be good. Even though most inferior varieties today have been replaced by new and improved ones, the seed must be of high quality. Good seed must be genetically pure, free of disease, high in germination and free of insect damage. Also the variety should be recommended for the area where it is to be sold, Coffey states.

Good quality seed must be properly processed, he points out, as no farmer wants seed that are contaminated with weed or other crop seed and inert matter.

After you have accomplished these steps, make sure it is packaged attractively and properly.

Herman Gerjes New FB Prexy

Herman Gerjes, a director from the Farwell area, was elected president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau Thursday night at the annual convention.

Elected to serve with him as new directors were J. T. Jones, Bovina; Vernon Symcox, Farwell; Joe Jesko, Lazbuddie; H. P. Hamilton, south Friona; and Franklin Bauer, Rhea.

The convention, lightly attended, adopted resolutions slamming the practices of the government agency, commenting, "It makes me mad for a government agent up there to tell me how much to pay my help." His resolution calling for a abolition of the department was adopted.

Another resolution was to require car and truck owners to prove financial responsibility before they are issued vehicle tags. At the present time the state law on driver responsibility seldom deters an irresponsible person until after a wreck, it was pointed out.

Farm Bureau members called for special permission to pay road tax on butane delivered to a farm tank, without requiring bond and detailed records.

Under Public Law 480 governing exported commodities, the convention asked for repeal of "cargo preference" legislation.

And, on grain support prices, they endorsed a resolution, "To cause the USDA to reconsider and base feed grain support prices on the same premise as corn with proper consideration for differences in feed value, but without so-called 'other factors.'"

Average realized net income per farm in Texas amounted to $3,430 in 1958, compared with $1,774 in 1957. Texas farm operators ranked 17th among the states in realized net income per farm.

MAKE THE MOST OF PEARS . . .

Bartlett pears are plentiful this year . . . Use them to add variety and interest to meals or serve them for between meal snacks.

Try your hand at a variety of salads and desserts using pears, or make preserves and preserves to enjoy later. Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M College, says pears are low in calories; a medium sized pear contains only about 100.

Bartletts are large, bell shaped pears with a smooth skin of bright yellow, often with a reddish-blush on one side. They have a creamy white flesh, a fine texture and good flavor. When you shop, look for well shaped, firm fruit free of blemishes.

Home grown pears are improved in flavor by ripening indoors. They should be gathered when fully developed in size and shape and when they have begun to color.

To ripen pears for eating, canning or preserving, wrap individually and store in a cool dry place until they are mellow.

FRESH PORK

IS A GOOD BUY . . .

Fresh pork, which is rich in nutritional value, is an especially good buy this fall, according to Marie Tribble, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M College.

Pork ranks high in thiamine and is a good source of other B vitamins (riboflavin and niacin). Like other meats it rates for protein and iron.

Fresh pork has a relatively short storage life compared to other meats. This means a few days in the refrigerator and from 3 to 6 months in the freezer. To refrigerate pork, wrap loosely and place in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

Before freezing, trim excess fat from the meat, and package in moisture and vapor-resistant wrappings. You may want to separate cuts into meal-sized portions before packaging for the freezer. Wrap carefully so packages will be airtight to prevent meat from drying out. Then quick freeze at zero F. or lower and store at zero F. or lower. Cooked pork can be frozen satisfactorily, but is not as desirable as pork frozen uncooked.

Fresh pork sausage, like most ground meats, is highly perishable and loses quality when kept in the refrigerator for longer than a day or two. However, it will keep in a freezer at zero for a few weeks.

Uncooked cured pork cannot be frozen as successfully as fresh pork but can be kept somewhat longer in a refrigerator. Half hams have the best eating quality if used within 5 days and whole hams are best when eaten within 2 weeks.

BRIEFS FOR FOOD SHOPPERS

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Specialist in Consumer Marketing Information Extension Service, A&M College

Fresh or cured pork--rich in food value -- is an especially good buy now. Hams, picnics, bacon and sausage are wearing attractive price tags . . . Lots of chicken hens on the market means prices are low.

Economically priced vegetables include sweet and white potatoes, carrots, eggplant, cabbage, and dry onions . . . More cauliflower, brussel sprouts and rutabagas are now available in many grocery stores.

Large displays of apples are seen on produce counters. Varieties for cooking and for eating out of hand are plentiful. Bartlett pears, prunes and grapes are good fruit choices.

Research is important in food marketing. At present, sixty cents out of every dollar spent for food goes for marketing services--the other forty cents pays production--Some benefits we get from government research are: (1) less waste in motion and resources, thus lower costs (2) new and improved food products, and (3) better quality food.

Sizzling sausage, crisp bacon, ham or fried pork chops add extra appeal at breakfast time. There's happy news for both the food budgets and for fall appetites, because pork is plentiful and will be all during the fall months. Be sure to check the meat counter this weekend for good pork buys.

More apples are coming to market each week at reasonable prices. Bartlett pears offer a good quality fruit treat. Bananas, lemons and grapes are plentiful and pleasing in price. Keep fruit on hand for between meal snacks, and for easy enjoyable desserts.

Potatoes and dry onions are good buys. Sweet potato prices are seasonally low. Eggplant, cabbage, carrots, green peppers and peas are some of the other fresh vegetables offered by most markets.

NEWS FROM THE

FARM-BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Mrs. Mabel Jones, of Friona is the winner of the lady's wrist watch in our little contest about the United Nation's Organization. She won with a perfect paper of definitions and other information asked for. There were no male entries from Parmer County, except our brother-in-law, Ralph Bigelow, of Rochester, New York, who happened to be here during the contest period. We may send the other wrist watch to him if he reads this and requests it, since there were no bonafide male entries with permanent Parmer County addresses. His paper was perfect also. We may consider a repeat of the contest on a high school student basis if we can get an appreciable number of requests for it.

A resolution opposing labor regulations extending to farmers was the first one discussed and passed at the annual meeting last Thursday night in Bovina. Another was one again urging repeal of the "cargo preference" portion of public law 480 export program. The other national resolution was to cause the USDA to reconsider and base the support price of grain sorghum in direct ratio with the feed value of corn with the exclusion of the detrimental term, "and other factors."

On the state level, the membership asked that liability insurance be required at time of licensing of any vehicle, and that a penalty be provided to prevent cancellation during the period of license. Also, in response to the recent change in handling of butane and propane, a resolution was prepared and passed that would allow a farmer to keep a separate tank for taxed butane for use in licensed vehicles, without requiring bond and detailed records.

1.82% of cotton gins in the United States have automatic lint samplers; 3.13% of cotton gins in Texas have them.

Arrests of persons under 18 have increased 55 per cent since 1952 (in the USA).

Herman Gerjes was elected Farm Bureau President for the next year. Herman has been an active director for sometime and holds promise of making a good leader for the organization. He farms northwest of Bovina. New directors are Franklin Bauer, replacing Jack Patterson of Rhea; Joe Jesko, replacing Les Bruns of Lazbuddie; J. T. Jones, Bovina, and Vernon Symcox, Farwell, were re-elected.

LOK-RIB STEEL BUILDING

Greater Strength — There's a big difference between light metal sheathing and LOK-RIB's heavy-duty 18 or 20-gauge steel panels bolted together. Let the wind howl — let the snow pile deep — let lightning strike — you can still enjoy peace of mind with your LOK-RIB.

Exclusive V-Rib Construction — This exclusive LOK-RIB feature provides the extra strength that lets you stop worrying while the weather plays havoc with ordinary buildings.

Quick Erection—Low Cost — The LOK-RIB Building goes up fast and easy — eliminates high framing costs because the LOK-RIB panels are both framing and sheathing. In 24, 32, 40 and 48 foot widths.
