

Fugitive Gunman Taken By Posse Near Gladewater

Escaped Convict Charged In Bank Robbery; Had Escaped In Previous Gun Battles

LONGVIEW, Mar. 15 (AP)—Fugitive Harry Wells, captured near Gladewater today after a manhunt that followed a bank robbery and a trail of shootings and abductions, was hurried to San Antonio for arraignment in federal court.

Wells, escaped Arkansas convict, will be arraigned before the U.S. commissioner at San Antonio on charges of robbing the Citizens State bank of Luling on March 5—an offense officers said he admitted. Twenty state police, federal agents and county officers, tipped from an unnamed source, closed in on Wells in a small, three-room house on the outskirts of Gladewater. Tear gas bombs rained in the windows and Wells came out, pleading:

"Don't shoot—I surrender."

Officers had detained the convict's mother and brother for hours before the capture. Capt. Lee Miller of the state highway police, said a pistol, sawed-off shotgun, rifle and currency were found in Wells' hiding spot.

Wells, injured in the foot in a gun battle fought with Bellville officers three days ago, was treated for his wounds.

Miller, with a group of patrolmen, left Dallas yesterday to join the search for the person, believed to

More Revenue Required Of Tax Measure

Leaders Also Want It To 'Restore Confidence'

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15 (AP)—Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) said today the senate finance committee was determined to bring out a tax bill which will "get the necessary revenue" and at the same time raise business confidence.

Shy $2 Billion
As passed by the house, treasury experts have estimated the tax revision bill will yield $2,000,000,000 short of raising the $5,350,000,000 which the treasury has contended is necessary.

"We want to get the necessary revenue," Harrison said. "That is one of the main features of the tax situation the committee is considering."

After an executive session of the finance committee, Harrison reiterated that his "main goal" for the tax revision bill "is to restore business confidence."

"The more we can restore confidence," he told reporters, "the more revenue will flow into the treasury."

Harrison said public hearings on the tax bill would start Friday, with requests from more than 50 witnesses to be heard. Many of these, he asserted, would be asked to make their testimony brief and submit supplemental statements.

To Senate Next Week
Committee members said they were hopeful the tax bill could be sent to the senate floor some time next week.

At the committee session this morning, Arthur H. Kent, a treasury tax attorney, and Roswell Magill, treasury under secretary, outlined capital gains tax provisions of the house-approved bill.

Committee members said Kent favored retention of the alding scale of capital gains levies fixed by the house. Harrison and other senate finance committee members have suggested substitution of a flat tax rate on capital gains.

Members declared sentiment in the committee was overwhelmingly for outright repeal of the undistributed profits tax retained in principle in the house bill.

Asked what could be substituted for the undistributed profits levy if it were eliminated, Harrison mentioned a flat corporation tax.

He declined, however, to estimate what flat tax rate might be needed, asserting that he did not want to be committed "to 17 or 18 or 19 per cent."

Hitler Is Cheered As He Proclaims Entrance Of Austria Into Reich

Britain Turns To Increasing Armed Force

But Will Not Regime To Do So, Minister Says

LONDON, Mar. 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, refusing an inquiry into the British military air program, told the house of commons today he was opposed to imitating Germany by regimenting the nation for production of armaments.

A comprehensive investigation of military as well as civil aviation he did not know whether those suggesting the inquiry "would like to imitate Germany in the method she has employed—regimenting the country for production of armaments."

He added: "We may have to, but we will not do it until we are convinced that nothing else will serve our purpose."

Rearmament First
Chamberlain was determined to match the armed might of Adolf Hitler before publicly pledging Britain to support Czechoslovakia against German aggression.

There were indications that Britain privately had told Germany she might be compelled to act if Chancellor Hitler sought to bring the German minority in Czechoslovakia into the German nation, as without opposition he absorbed Austria.

Publicly, however, Chamberlain refrained yesterday in his address to the house of commons from any guarantee of aid to Czechoslovakia. Nevertheless, the British ambassador, Sir Neville Henderson, told Field Marshal Goering in Berlin, diplomatic informants said, that Britain considered "binding" its friendly assurances to Czechoslovakia on Saturday, Goering is acting, chamberlain in Hitler's absence in Austria.

A similar communication went to Jan Masaryk, the Czech minister to London.

Thus, it was felt here, Britain had given an implied warning to Germany of a determination to uphold the remaining boundaries of Central Europe.

GOVERNOR?

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Austria's Nazi leader, was appointed chancellor of Austria after the nation's absorption by the German Reich. But since Austria is becoming a German domain, his post may be officially that of governor.

Demand Joint Inquiry Into TVA Work

Critics Would Have House And Senate Act Together

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15 (AP)—A group of senate and house critics of TVA joined forces today in demanding a joint congressional investigation instead of one by the senate alone as proposed by several senators.

Senator Bridges (R-N.H.), who with Senator King (D-Utah), previously had pressed for a senate investigation announced they had joined with Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military affairs committee and Representative Andrews (R-N.Y.), ranking republican of the house committee, in asking the joint inquiry.

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.), who was at first insistent on an investigation by the federal trade commission, yielded to gain approval of a senate investigation yesterday.

Five From Each
A new resolution called for an inquiry by five members of the senate, appointed by the vice president, and five members of the house, named by the speaker.

Senate discussion of the proposed investigation branched off into an argument whether Bridges should serve on the inquiry committee.

Norris called on the young New Englander to eliminate himself from consideration. He said Bridges, as the senate's most vociferous critic of the TVA, had shown himself to be prejudiced.

Norris said he himself would not serve, because of his known interest in the welfare of TVA.

Bridges countered with the statement that he wanted a thorough investigation and that he hoped he would be appointed as the committee's republican member.

Sees Defense Of Hemisphere As Nation's Task

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—A tenuous silent House heard a warning today that the United States must prepare to defend the entire western hemisphere because "dictatorships are on the march."

Representative Wadsworth (R-N.Y.), in one of his rare floor speeches, endorsed the Roosevelt administration's billion dollar naval expansion program as a realization of the "grim, grim fact" that "force today is ruling the world."

Tracing the recent turbulent developments in Europe to the pressure of populations seeking an outlet, Wadsworth said that with central Europe under one government "we shall see another example of what is going on in China, but on a much larger scale."

Later, he said, the rich areas of South America would constitute the "greatest temptation" to "those who believe in the use of force."

BANK ROBBED AND PAIR ABDUCTED

PAOLI, Okla., March 15 (AP)—Two armed men robbed the bank of Paoli of an undetermined amount of cash this afternoon and abducted Cashier D. F. Tendley and his wife, assistant cashier.

Officers said the pair drove into this southern Oklahoma town shortly after 1 p. m. in a coupe, and executed the robbery swiftly.

State highway patrolmen were dispatched hurriedly to this area to join the search.

France Moves To Meet War Threats

Officials Discuss Ways To Speed Arms Production

PARIS, Mar. 15 (AP)—Premier Leon Blum, beset by war fears and internal political-financial tension, called military officials into conference today to discuss the production of fighting equipment.

National Defense Minister Edouard Daladier, Navy Minister Cesar Campinchi and Air Minister Guy La Chambre were summoned for a technical discussion with workers' groups of the best method of strengthening France to meet the danger of war.

The conference was one of many the premier had with French officials and foreign diplomats, including talks with the envoys of Russia, France's ally in the past, and of the hard-pressed Spanish government.

Financial Troubles
Financial troubles became more acute as the franc fell to 33.85 to the dollar, lowest point since the franc was stabilized by the Poincaré government in 1928.

Plans for a thousand sons and daughters of French World War veterans to make a trip into Germany were cancelled abruptly "because of the course of international events."

Henri Pichot, president of the veterans' organization, declined the invitation in a letter to H. Bur Von Schirach, leader of the Hitler Youth.

It was reported in chamber of deputies corridors that parties of the right, which are not participating in the new government of Premier Leon Blum, were being sounded out again on the initiative of President Albert Lebrun as to the formation of a national union government if Blum's regime is abolished.

Blum was trying for support of all parties but political sources thought there was little likelihood of success. Deputies were of the opinion that Blum would win a majority in his first appearance in the chamber but run into serious trouble thereafter.

Hitler, who reached Vienna yesterday for the climax of his triumphal journey from Berlin, announced Austria—the "most thoroughly German outpost of the German people"—its "new mission" to be henceforth "the newest bulwark of the German nation and therefore of the German Reich."

"Through centuries in troubled times of the past," he declared, "storms of the east have broken on the border of the old eastern outpost (Ostmark, the old name for Austria)."

"In centuries to come, for all time, there shall be an iron guarantee for the security and freedom of the German Reich and therewith a guarantee for the happiness and peace of our great people."

Many saw in this a hint of revival of the pre-war German "drang nach osten"—march to the east.

Hitler concluded: "In this hour I report to the German people the greatest achievement of my life. As leader and chancellor of the great German nation I declare to history the entrance of my native land into the German Reich."

WOMAN MUST FACE MURDER CHARGES

POCAHONTAS, Ark., March 15 (AP)—Sheriff John T. Thompson planned to leave today for Miami, Fla., to return Mrs. Cora Treuba Hehner here on murder charges resulting from the finding of a skeleton in an abandoned storm cellar on a farm she formerly occupied.

Sheriff D. C. Coleman of Miami wired he had Mrs. Hehner in custody. The Florida official said she admitted her identity and waived extradition but made no statement concerning the charges against her.

PROPOSE PARLEY

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 15 (AP)—Arkansas legislators today proposed a conference with bankers and insurance company executives due to warnings that out-of-state bondholders considered Governor Bailey's move to free toll bridges a violation of the state's 1934 bond refunding contract.

Triumphant, He Leaves Vienna, Returns Home

Austria Made A District In The Realm, Treasury Absorbed By Germany; Jews Denied Vote

VIENNA, Mar. 15 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, his triumph in Vienna, late today departed from the Aspern airport by plane for Munich.

The fuhrer's departure came at the end of a day during which his career seemed to reach its zenith. With the imperial palace of the Hapsburgs as a background he proclaimed this morning to frenzied Viennese through the end of Austrian independence and the entrance of his native land "into the German Reich."

Madly cheered by hundreds of thousands of Austrians, the fuhrer rode into Heroes' Square outside the palace through the great stone arch of the foundation of government.

While Hitler presided over the greatest triumph of his meteoric career, his lieutenants took over all functions of the Austrian government.

The Austrian treasury was absorbed by the German treasury. Hitler's foreign minister took over all Austria's foreign relations with the outside world.

Austria became merely a garrison district of the German Reich, Vienna a provincial German city, Chancellor Arthur Seyss-Inquart merely "governor of Austria"—so addressed significantly by the fuhrer himself.

The new government announced that Jews no longer can vote. Seyss-Inquart, introducing Hitler to the throng in Heroes' Square, solemnly proclaimed to the world Hitler had come in this significant hour as "fuhrer and reichschancellor in the Hofburg (palace) of the old imperial capital, the guardian of the crown."

Some of his hearers took this as a hint that Hitler one day might assume that crown.

To The East?
Hitler, who reached Vienna yesterday for the climax of his triumphal journey from Berlin, announced Austria—the "most thoroughly German outpost of the German people"—its "new mission" to be henceforth "the newest bulwark of the German nation and therefore of the German Reich."

"Through centuries in troubled times of the past," he declared, "storms of the east have broken on the border of the old eastern outpost (Ostmark, the old name for Austria)."

PECOS MAN DIES OF MISHAP INJURIES

L. W. Ligon of Pecos succumbed early Tuesday afternoon to injuries suffered last Friday when the car in which he was riding with members of his family overturned on the highway 31 miles west of here.

Mr. Ligon had been in the Big Spring hospital since the mishap. His condition had been grave and physicians had held little hope for his recovery. Mrs. Ligon, also seriously injured, is in the hospital. Two daughters, Mrs. Claud Duncan and Mrs. W. R. Gaither, aunt of Pecos, were less seriously hurt.

6,000 LICENSES

Registration of a Lincoln sedan by G. H. Hayward brought the total of 1937 passenger car licenses issued in Howard County to 6,000 Tuesday morning.

Plans Drafted For 120-Passenger Airliner For Atlantic Service

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—A proposal to build a 120-passenger flying yacht for service between New York and London was made today to the world's largest trans-oceanic air transport company.

The offer, by the Seversky Aircraft corporation, was in response to an invitation issued by Pan American Airways last December to eight American aircraft manufacturers to bid on airplanes of at least 100 passenger capacity.

The Seversky craft would be constructed of stainless steel and contain several dozen staterooms, a dining salon to seat 20 persons, promenade, and a cocktail lounge. It was given a cruising speed of 250 miles an hour at an altitude of 20,000 feet.

It would weigh 200,000 pounds six times heavier than the flying clippers now in the Pacific service—and have a wingspread of 200 feet.

Maj. Alexander F. De Soversky, world war flyer and designer of the giant craft, said the machine, equipped with eight engines developing a total of 18,400 horsepower, could be built easily to fly non-stop between the United States and Europe.

The bridge of the ship and the huge twin fuselages would be strengthened to permit flying in the stratosphere.

For the first time in the history of commercial aviation, passengers would be housed in the "belly" which, at points, would be able to "float" the light powerful motor would be streamlined into the wing of the wing.

Leaders Discuss Rail Problems

Want Employes Carried Without Wage Cuts

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15 (AP)—Chairman W. M. W. Spivack of the interstate commerce commission said today a White House conference today the "general consensus" seemed to be that railroads "should be able to earn enough to carry their expenses without wage reductions or layoffs."

Spivack, who conferred with President Roosevelt together with 23 others, said there was no discussion of reducing wages as a solution to the railroad problem. He added, however, it was recognized that if economies were to be effected in that manner, or by laying men off, that these workers would have to be taken care of and not put on relief.

Oppose Wage Reduction
Railroad officials will meet in Chicago soon to discuss wage cut proposals.

Strong opposition to such a move was expressed today by George H. Harrison, head of the association of railway labor executives, a White House conferee, who said: "Labor is unalterably opposed to a reduction and will fight it to the bitter end."

Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont) of the senate interstate commerce committee, another conferee, said no conclusions were reached at today's conferences and another meeting would be held with the president at noon Thursday.

Chairman Jesse Jones of the reconstruction corporation, said the conference did not take up any proposed rehabilitation plans but talked about the situation from all angles in a general way.

WASSON TO BUILD $18,000 RESIDENCE

A. L. Wasson, long time resident of Big Spring and Howard county, Tuesday took out a permit for an $18,000 home at the corner of Hillside Drive and Pennsylvania Ave. in Edwards heights. The structure is to be a one story brick affair 49x72 feet. It will also include garage and servant quarter space.

The permit brought the month's total to $31,500, well above the $24,123 for all of March last year. The permit was the largest single residential permit here in years.

Accident Victim's Body To Houston For Burial

Body of Thomas Jefferson Smith 34-year-old truck driver who was killed instantly six miles west of here Monday afternoon, was shipped at noon Tuesday to Houston.

Funeral services will be held in Houston Wednesday afternoon at Eberley Funeral home, in charge of arrangements here, disclosed.

Smith was killed when the front wheel of his truck fouled in the chain attached to a truck that was pulling his machine. Then the front truck took up slack in the chain, witnesses said it caused Smith's truck to jerk violently to the right, hurling him from the cab to the pavement. The back wheels of his truck, loaded with rotary drill stem, passed over his body.

Surviving Smith are his widow and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Davis and Pauline Smith of Houston. His brother, Floyd Smith, and brother-in-law, J. H. Rose, Houston, came here Tuesday morning to complete arrangements.

RETURNS ON FARM VOTE CHECKED

County committee of the Howard County Agricultural Conservation association canvassed the returns of the vote Saturday on the proposal of cotton marketing quotas fixed by the secretary of agriculture and found only one vote change from the unofficial returns gathered by the Herald Saturday evening.

One challenged vote was allowed, making 680 for the program, 32 against. Four challenged votes remained since the committee was unable to decide upon them.

Ship Disabled In The Gulf

Fire Brought Under Control As Cutters Rush To Aid

MOBILE, Ala., Mar. 15 (AP)—Two coast guard vessels raced to the assistance of the tanker Andrew Jackson, reported disabled after bringing under control a fire in its boiler room early today, southern division headquarters of the coast guard said here.

The cutter Saranac and the 160-foot patrol boat Triton were steaming to the aid of the vessel, whose position was given as off the Louisiana coast. The Triton was expected to reach the scene about midnight, guard authorities said.

Advice received from the disabled ship said her uptakes and air tubes were damaged in the fire, and that she was drifting about two miles per hour in a northwesterly direction. No one was injured, coast guard officers said.

The converted wartime freighter, owned by the National Bulk Carriers, Inc., of New York City, was making her maiden voyage as an oil carrier and was sailing from the Atlantic coast to Texas City, Texas.

This was the information furnished by the ship's agents, Collin and Glize of Houston.

The Houston agents said they were puzzled by the fire reports and had received no word from the ship except a message yesterday which announced the Andrew Jackson would reach Texas City today.

Johnny Allen Is Silent About Hurling Feats Record During Last 6 Years Is Greatest

Former Yank Says He Knows Weakness Of Joe DiMaggio

NEW ORLEANS, March 15 (AP)—Everybody in the hotel lobby turned to gaze when the Feller family—Bob clinging to the hand of his little sister, and proudly followed by Ma and Pa Feller and the family preacher, Charley Feller—went out through the doors looking for an orange juice stand.

Everybody knows Bob is the most sensational young pitcher in a coon's age, and they discuss his chances of pitching Cleveland to a flag this year.

Leaning against a pillar, also watching the Feller family procession, is another Cleveland pitcher. Nobody gazes at him. He's Johnny Allen of Lenoir, N. C., who happens to be only the greatest pitcher in baseball on his record for the last six years.

Lost Only 30 Games Feller still has his to do. Allen has done his. He won 15 straight victories last year before he was beaten, 1 to 0, by Detroit in his final start.

That's tops. For the same period Carl Hubbell shows a winning average of .777, Lefty Gomez, .671, Lefty Grove, .655 and Dizzy Dean, .550.

Allen has been with only one championship team, the Yankees of 1932, his first season in the big show. Hubbell and Gomez have been with three winners each in that time, Dean with one.

To make his superiority more emphatic, Johnny has led both leagues in strikeouts, with an average of 6.65 per game and dished out more low-hit games than any rival.

He has pitched 15 games of four hits or less. All this is a matter of record.

Gets Early Bingles "I never could get a no-bitter," said Johnny, "but I had a one-bitter and a couple of twos. Somebody always gets a knock off me early in the game."

Johnny doesn't like to talk much about his achievements. He's 22 now, and, fully recovered from an appendix operation last season, feels that his fast ball is going to be faster than ever.

"Maybe I'd better not say so, though," he reflected, "or I might not be able to get anybody out."

How about those Yankees? Did he have any trouble pitching to them, and had he discovered Joe DiMaggio's weakness?

"I beat 'em the only two times I faced 'em last year," said Johnny. "Sure, DiMaggio can be pitched to, but I don't think I'd better tell how."

Was there any one player he had particular trouble with, any batter he never seemed able to get out?

"Sure," Johnny grinned. "There's two or three of 'em, but I wouldn't give 'em the satisfaction of knowing it. Might give 'em ideas."

Burnett To Lead Big Squad Into Coahoma, Stanton Is Threat

Preparations in all camps of members of the Pioneer School Activities association were underway this week. Athletes in eight schools of this sector worked diligently for the unit's first organized track and field program which takes place in two quarters Friday.

Representatives of Courtney, Garden City, Forsan and Stanton will gather on the Stanton field while athletes of Garner, Westbrook, Coahoma and Acherly will meet on Coahoma's grounds.

In Forsan Coach Brady Nix quickened the training pace. Indications are that Hollis Parker, winner of several county events last season, will be a threat in the dash events and in the javelin.

Coach Robnett of the Courtney team has brought his team along slowly and may figure prominently in the Stanton meeting while Byron Henderson, Stanton, will have a large squad on hand. Hereshell Wheeler, tutoring the Garden City team, reports prospects in the Cox twins and Alvin Rogers.

Rivalry is due to flare in the net will take one of the largest squads of the association to compete with Lloyd Devan's strong Coahoma entries and Jack Crouch's Westbrook hopefuls.

The Thomas twins, R. C. and R. V., will lead about 14 Billie scowls into the Coahoma camp while the Bulldogs' ace threat will be Ralph Marshall, middle distance star.

Tennis tournaments will be conducted in both Stanton and Coahoma in conjunction with the track and field events.

Hogan, Goggin Buck Champs

Conquerors Of Cooper-Thompson Team In Spot For Upset

MIAMI, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Ben Hogan and Willie Goggin, displaying a fine disregard for reputations in the first two rounds of the $4,000 international four-ball golf tournament, bucked the kingpins—Johnny Revolta and Henry Picard—in the semifinals today.

In the first round Hogan and Goggin conquered Lawson Little and Tony Manero, last year's runner-up. Yesterday they disposed of Harry Cooper and Jimmy Thomson, 2 and 1 and were conceded an excellent chance to end the three-year reign of Revolta and Picard, the favorites. The latter defeated Jimmy Hines and Victor Ghessi, 4 and 3 yesterday.

Byron Nelson and Harold (Jug) McSpadden battled Dick Metz and Ky Laffoon in the other semifinal. Nelson and McSpadden were 15 under par yesterday when their match with Denny Shute and Frank Moore ended on the 35th green. Metz and Laffoon trounced Bill Burke and Craig Wood, two up, with their second display of amazing golf.

Games Today To Whittle Field Down To 16 Teams

DENVER, March 15 (AP)—With the setups behind and the upsets ahead, survivors of two days of intensive pruning in the national AAU basketball tournament today were booked for a third marathon session of 16 games which will whittle the field down to 16 teams.

On the whole sterner competition was expected in today's games, which found six Rocky Mountain quartets, three from the Southwest, 10 from the Midwest, five from the Pacific Coast. Four from the East and two from the South still among those present.

The Padgitts from Waco, were scheduled to play the Studebakers of South Bend at 11 a. m. (CST) today.

CURT DAVIS IN RETURN TO FORM

AVALON, Calif.—Manager Charley Grimm, of the Chicago Cubs, is elated over the training camp showing of Pitcher Curt Davis, one of the Cubs' disappointments last season. Davis cut losses against the hitters yesterday with mid-season speed.

DYKES TO TRY TO MAKE SACKER OUT OF BONURA PASADENA, Calif.—One of those training camp shifts used to bring holdouts into line, is contemplated by Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox.

Dykes says he may try to make a first baseman out of Outfielder Hilp Haderik, who succeeded it. Zeke Bonura, the regular first sacker, is a holdout, the only one since Fitcher Merritt (Sugar) Cain signed yesterday.

CLEVELAND WONDER BOY TO BE IN ACTION THURSDAY NEW ORLEANS.—Bob Feller, Cleveland's wonder boy, will make his first appearance in action Thursday against the New Orleans Pelicans, preparatory to a starting berth when the Indians meet the New York Giants here Sunday.

HOFFMANN AND MELLIO TAKE CHARGE IN CAMP SAN ANTONIO.—Coaches Fredy Hoffmann and Oscar Mellio took charge of the St. Louis Browns related opening batting session today. It was postponed yesterday because of rain.

WILSON ANXIOUS TO SCORE VICTORY OVER CLEVELAND NEW ORLEANS.—Jimmy Wilson would like nothing better than a victory for his Philadelphia Phillies over Cleveland today. "I'd rather beat the Indians in one game than beat the Giants five times," he said and explained: "They're an American league club, you know."

TYLER, Mar. 15 (AP)—Tyler Junior college entered final play in the Texas junior college conference basketball round-robin tournament here today, the only one of five entries undefeated.

Each team was scheduled to play two games for a total of five contests, and the winner will be selected on a percentage basis.

Tyler juniors trounced Lamar college of Beaumont 56 to 31 and Texas Lutheran of Seguin 47 to 36 yesterday to maintain an immaculate slate.

Lon Morris of Jacksonville, Schreiner of Kerrville and Texas Lutheran had 500 per cent averages. Lon Morris defeated Schreiner 31 to 20 after losing to Texas Lutheran 30 to 39; Schreiner beat Lamar 52 to 35.

OPENS TRAINING CHICAGO, March 15 (AP)—Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing champion, and Harry Thomas, heavyweight of Eagle Bend, Minn., who will meet in a 15-round title bout at the stadium April 1, were scheduled to open training at downtown gymnasiums today.

WEST TEXAS BUFFS IN DENVER MEET

HARVESTING THE ROOKIE CROP Cards Lead Raid On American Association

Enoe Bradsher Slaughter He Dazzled Frankie Frisch

Kenneth Frederick Keltner What The Doctor Ordered?

Justin Marion Stein An Infield Problem-Solver?

John Riddle Trying To Dazzle Boston

BY DILLON GRAHAM AP Feature Service Writer The majors' biggest talent raid centered on the American Association this year.

This Class double-A finishing school of the diamond was ransacked from pennant-winner to cellar team for likely-looking youngsters.

More than thirty made the jump to the training camps of the major league clubs.

A dozen or more seem very likely to stick. The St. Louis Cardinals, with eyes cocked on the National league flag, may use a trio they grabbed from Columbus, Outfielder Country Slaughter, Pitcher Max Macon and Third-Baseman Ott Stein.

Frankie Frisch, skipper of the Gas House Gang, confesses he was dazzled by the batting average conjured by the stocky Slaughter—a cool .352. He hopes to rearrange his outfield pattern to use him alongside that other well-known clobberer, Ducky-Wucky Medwick.

And with Dizzy Dean at least a trifle uncertain, the Cardinal pilot believes a southpaw fliker who won 21 games, like Mason, is good insurance. Stein may help untangle Frisch's infield problem. The Cards also will have a pair of John Leonard's this spring, J. L. (Pepper) Martin, and J. L. Hopp, a fancy flycatcher from Rochester.

The Pirates dipped into the Columbus collection and came up with Outfielder Johnny Rizzo, whose .358 hickory stick may be usable at the Buccaneers' Forbes field.

Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians says his biggest headache is third base and a Milwaukee catcher, Ken Keltner, may be what the doctor ordered. Just turned 21, Keltner batted .310 last year and demonstrated ability to cover ground.

A free agent, Harry Eisenstat, who played with Louisville in 1937, and Pat McLaughlin, from Indianapolis, are a couple of tossers who may see service with Detroit. Tigerman Mickey Cochrane also likes Outfielder Roy Colandrea of Toledo.

Lee Stine, pitcher, of Kansas City, who has made several stop-offs in the majors, will get another chance with the Yankees along with another K. C. product, Joe Vance, who twirled a bit for Joe McCarthy late last campaign.

Other recruits include: Boston Bees; Infielder Bob Kahle and Catcher Johnny Riddle from Indianapolis. Brooklyn: Pitchers Schoolboy Cohen, Toledo, and Forest Pressnell, Milwaukee; Outfielder Rosny Rosen, Louisville, Chicago Cubs; Pitchers Newell Kimball, Milwaukee and Bob Logan, Indianapolis. Philadelphia Phillies: Catcher Cap Clark, Columbus; Infielder Rabbit Marvins, Rochester.

St. Louis Cardinals: Pitcher Spud Frier, Rochester; Infielder Skeeter Webb, Columbus; Boston Red Sox: Outfielder Fabian Gaffke, Pitchers Jim Henry and Tom Wagner, and Catcher John Pesock, of Minneapolis. Chicago White Sox: Pitcher Don Cox and Infielder Jesse Landrum, of St. Paul.

Cleveland: Outfielder Geoffrey Heath, Catcher Henry Helf and Pitchers Al Milnar and William Zuber of Milwaukee. Detroit, Infielder Don Croucher, Toledo. Philadelphia Athletics: Pitcher Tom Potter, Columbus.

MID-WEST TRACKSTERS PROVE SUPERIOR IN MOST EVENTS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, Mar. 15 (AP)—Going strictly on the records, the mid-west's college track and field stars again had it all over rivals from other sections this winter.

A comparison of the major sectional and conference indoor meets, disregarding the varying conditions under which they were held, shows the top performances in ten out of 3 comparable events taking place in the mid-western sector. The eastern title meet of the Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. gets two firsts while the best 60-yard dash mark of 6.2 seconds was made in three different meets.

Conditions Favorable To give the eastern and southern athletes their due, however, it is quite evident conditions were better for making good times in the mid-western meets, run on dirt field-house tracks instead of the short board ovals. But even that doesn't explain it all.

The times for two standard events run in all five championship meets, the mile and two mile, stack up this way: Mile—Big Ten 4:11.1; Big Six, 4:19.5; I.C.-A., 4:18.5; Central Collegiate, 4:20.3; Southern Conference, 4:23.8. Two mile—Big Ten, 9:18.3; Central Collegiate 9:16.4; I.C.-A., 9:30.2; Big Six, 9:30; Southern, 10:23.8.

Although there is less basis for comparison in the shorter events, the order runs much the same. Here are the season's best performances in events contested in two or more collegiate meets:

Table with columns: Event, Time or Dist., Meet, Winner. Rows include 30-Yards, 50-Yd. High Hurdles, 70-Yd. High Hurdles, 44-Yards, 880-Yards, Mile, Two Mile, Mile Relay, Two-Mile Relay, Shot Put, Broad Jump, High Jump, Pole Vault.

YOUNG CORBETT HAS LOST BUT FIVE BATTLES IN 17 YEARS

BY EDDIE BRIEZE NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—Seems that decision in the Young Corbett-Fred Apostoli match was so sour after all. . . . Ed Orman, sports editor of the Fresno (Calif.) Bee, polled seven sports writers at the ringside and only one of them thought Apostoli "was robbed."

So off goes your hat to Corbett, who is one of the real marvels of the boxing game. . . . He has had more than 150 fights, but sports no scars, no cauliflower ear or battered-up features. . . . Only guys to lick him were Jimmy McLarin, Sammy Baker, Billy Conn, Dominic McCarthy and Lou Broillard. . . . Five defeats in 17 years of campaigning—Where can you tie that?

Gun Dorais, smart coach at U. of Detroit, will conduct a coaching school at Erie, Pa., late in June. . . . Jimmy Klein, who formerly trained him, predicts Barney Ross will score an early victory over Henry Armstrong. . . . "Pound for pound, he is the best fighter in the country," says Izzy who has been around long enough to know whereof he speaks.

When he fought and licked Tommy Farr the other night, Maxie Baer didn't know his daddy had been in a hospital for two weeks. . . . That's the reason Max beat it back to the coast so soon. . . . Joe DiMaggio will sign a Yankee contract before this line hits you in the eyes.

Two guys named Max—Max Roach, 21-year-old heavyweight and Max Long, 39-year-old middleweight—are putting Dallas back on the flat map. . . . Max Roach was the best looking spot

Best Indoor Card Of Year At A C Tonight

Kopecky Meets Bey In Main Event

Andy Tremaine Back For Match With Basante Singh

The most attractive card of the indoor season will entertain wrestling fans at the Big Spring Athletic club tonight when two newcomers cope with a pair who have been around the local park long enough to get acquainted with everything that goes to make the Big Spring circus.

A change in the card moves Andy Tremaine, the best male-eventer Promoter Fuhrer has, back into a semi-go berth and Beyram Bey up to the top spot of the evening.

Only one of the pups who will be debuting this eve can really be called a newcomer. The other, Joe Kopecky, should still rate. It wasn't so long ago that the folk was practicing in grand style in the confines of the Scurry street outdoor arena.

The fellow is a ship-shape Hindu whose label is Basante Singh. How good he is hasn't been established in these quarters yet but then he hasn't forwarded any fan mail to be delivered to him here or hasn't issued any threats about what he's going to do if he gets the chance.

It may be well that he didn't for all he has to do is to toss Andy Tremaine in that 45-minute opener, which may sound easy. Andy is a little deaf on the subject.

Kopecky and Bey tangle in the main event. If Bey goes into his customary prayers and Kopecky isn't warned that the Turk really hasn't opened shop then the bleachers may get an extra inning game right there.

Bey lost his first match here a week ago when Dick Sampson tossed him 66 2-3 per cent of the way in a three fall match but he still found time to win his seventh straight fall by using the Japanese hold.

The Tremaine-Singh mill is set for 8 o'clock.

LOS ANGELES, March 15 (AP)—Featherweight champion Henry Armstrong, the best little fighting machine in the world, tonight collides with Baby Arizmendi, who has outpointed him in two of their bouts.

Tonight's meeting is scheduled for ten rounds. Few, if any, figured today that Arizmendi, 25-year-old battle scarred ring veteran, would repeat the decision he won over Armstrong at Mexico City before he lost to him here in 1936.

No title is at stake.

Christian Circle Plans Box Supper For Thursday

The Rev. Haley Of Colorado To Be Entertainer

Old-fashioned box supper and tacky party will be sponsored by the women's council of the First Christian church Tuesday evening in the basement of the church, according to plans made by the ladies in meetings Monday afternoon.

The Rev. A. L. Haley, pastor of the Colorado Christian church, is to be the featured entertainer of the evening with his sleight of hand tricks. Every one is invited to attend, the women announce.

Circle One met with Mrs. Harry Lees in an all-day meeting Monday. The day was spent in quilting and sewing and the afternoon was devoted to mission study.

Mrs. Byron Housewright was elected as secretary to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Charles Greenhouse who recently moved away.

The circle will make plans Friday for sale. Orders are to be taken by Mrs. Cliff Wiley or Mrs. J. L. Milner.

Those attending were Mrs. O. P. Griffin, Mrs. J. S. Kenemer, Mrs. T. E. Baker, Mrs. J. T. Allen, Mrs. George W. Hall, Mrs. T. W. Moore, Mrs. J. H. Stiff, Mrs. P. C. Robinson, Mrs. E. L. K. Wright, Mrs. Earl Read, Mrs. W. E. Schmitz, Mrs. James Wilcox, Mrs. Milner, Mrs. Wiley and Mrs. Lees.

Circle Two met in the annex of the church with Mrs. H. E. Clay presenting lesson on the Old Testament. Those present were Mrs. G. C. Schurman, Mrs. Tom Rosson, Mrs. C. M. Shaw, Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. I. D. Eddins, Mrs. W. M. Taylor, Mrs. J. H. Gray, Mrs. C. A. Murdock, and Mrs. Clay.

Mrs. J. G. Goldron and boys, John and Clarence, recently moved to Big Spring from Odessa. They have lived here previously.

1st Presbyterian Loyalty Night Program Set

The First Presbyterian church will have "Loyalty Night" Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, it has been announced, and every member of the church is urged to be present.

Officers of the church and the pastor believe that this will be one of the most important and far-reaching meetings the church has held, and every member is expected to attend.

The chairman of the "forty groups" to which the membership has been assigned for those attendance they will be responsible will largely determine the success of this meeting, the pastor said.

Following the business session, a social hour will be held. Blue print of the proposed manse will be on display.

Sunday School Class Has A St. Patrick Party

Homemaker's Class Entertained With Affair Monday

Homemaker's class of the East 4th Baptist church was entertained with a St. Patrick party Monday evening at the church by Mrs. T. B. Clifton and Mrs. L. J. Young.

An interesting program was presented including an imitations contest in which Mrs. E. A. Young and Mrs. Morris Sneed were winners.

Mrs. O. R. Phillips won in an advertising game and Mrs. H. Reeves pinned a shamrock on Ireland successfully. Mrs. Valdeva Childers was the winner in another contest.

A violin solo was given by Mrs. Childers accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. O. Bone. Mrs. T. E. Stringfellow and Mrs. Young sang a duet, "My Wild Irish Rose."

A basket of good cheer was passed to each guest. The St. Patrick colors of green and white were emphasized in the cut flowers used for decorations.

Devotional was led by Mrs. W. S. Garnett and Mrs. E. L. Patton presided during a short business discussion. The social hour followed.

Salad course of green and white was served by Beattie Caldwell and Sue Carnett. Before leaving, the guests sang, "Goodnight Ladies."

Those registered in the green and white book were Mrs. W. P. Barlow, Mrs. E. L. Patton, Mrs. T. E. Stringfellow, Mrs. S. R. McCullough, Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton of Lubbock, Mrs. L. A. Coffey, Mrs. C. R. Bird, Mrs. D. P. Thompson, Mrs. W. L. Sandridge, Mrs. H. Reeves, Mrs. E. A. Young, Mrs. Morris Sneed, Mrs. W. S. Garnett, Mrs. R. C. Linnmoth, Mrs. O. R. Phillips, Mrs. E. O. Bone, Mrs. Valdeva Childers, and Mrs. Otto Couch.

Mrs. Reagan Leads Meeting Of Baptist W.M.U. Monday

Mrs. B. Reagan presided over the First Baptist W.M.U. meeting Monday afternoon when it met at the church for a business session.

After reports were made from the different chairmen, the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor, brought an inspirational lesson on the eighth chapter of Romans. Several of the members made plans to attend the district conference at Snyder Thursday and Friday of this week.

Those attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. W. J. Alexander, Mrs. Nat Shick, Mrs. Una Covert, Mrs. Martella McDonald, Mrs. Joe Hansard, Mrs. W. B. Buchanan, Mrs. B. Story, Mrs. K. S. Mission Books Are Studied By Circle Members

Methodist Circles Meet In Various Homes Monday

Various chapters of missionary books were studied and short business sessions held Monday afternoon when the four circles of the First Methodist church met in individual homes.

Circle One met at the home of Mrs. G. W. Chowns with Mrs. Fox Stripling opening with a prayer. Reports on the missionary book, "How a Missionary Was Made," were given by Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Mrs. W. C. House and Mrs. Tracy Roberts.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. I. S. McIntosh, a guest, Mrs. J. A. Tucker, Mrs. M. E. Ooley, Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. C. E. Shive, Mrs. George Higginbotham, Mrs. Clyde Watta, Sr., Mrs. Tom Slaughtor, Mrs. Stripling, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. House, Mrs. Thomas, and the hostess.

Circle Two Mrs. G. B. Cunningham entertained Circle Two with Mrs. J. B. Pickle, study leader, opening the session with a prayer.

Mrs. V. H. Fiewellen and Mrs. R. L. Warren discussed the fourth and fifth chapters of "The Way of the Witness," study book. Mrs. Arthur Pickle was selected from the circle to assist Mrs. House on a committee of spiritual education.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. H. F. Howie, Mrs. W. E. Plunkett, Mrs. W. C. Miles, Mrs. Arthur Woodell, Mrs. J. D. O'Bar, Mrs. N. W. McCleskey, Mrs. E. D. McDowell, Mrs. Fiewellen, Mrs. J. B. Pickle, Mrs. Arthur Pickle, Mrs. R. L. Warren, and Mrs. Cunningham.

Circle Three Circle Three will meet at the church March 16 for a quilting session, according to a decision made by the members in a meeting at the ranch home of Mrs. Loren McDowell, Jr. Four new members joined the group including Mrs. H. N. Robinson, Mrs. J. B. Neal, Mrs. Joe Ogden, and Mrs. Ray Wilcox.

Report was made of 14 visits to the sick or strangers, one tray sent to a shut-in, and $3.00 in clothing given to the needy. Mrs. Hayes Stripling reviewed chapter four of the mission book.

At the next meeting, all ladies are asked to bring the $1.00 they earned and tell in verse how it was obtained.

Those being served refreshments were Mrs. C. R. McClenny, Mrs. E. M. Conley, Mrs. Harvey Mathews, Mrs. C. M. Watson, Mrs. S. P. Jones, Mrs. A. W. Ellington, Mrs. Stripling, Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Ogden, Mrs. Neal, Mrs. Robinson, and W. Carlton Watson.

Circle Four Mrs. Hugh Duncan gave the fifth chapter of the study book when Circle Four met with Mrs. Logan Baker.

At the next meeting Mrs. J. L. Terry is to talk on "A Selection of Missionary Letters," and Mrs. Bernard Lamun will discuss "How a Missionary Was Made."

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to Mrs. Clem Ratliff, Mrs. J. B. Hodges, Mrs. D. C. Sadler, Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, Mrs. Lamun, Mrs. Terry, and Mrs. Duncan.

Officers' Training Class Is Held By Church Auxiliary

Final meeting this year of the three circles of the Presbyterian church was held Monday afternoon at the church in the form of an officers' training class. Duties of each officer in the organization were discussed by the members under the direction of Mrs. Emory Duff, auxiliary president.

Mrs. D. A. Koons gave the devotional on "Christ the Victor." After a business session a social hour was enjoyed.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. Sam Baker, Mrs. H. W. Caylor, Mrs. H. T. Stanley, Mrs. James Lamb, Mrs. L. E. Morris, Mrs. N. J. Allison, Mrs. H. C. Farley, Mrs. T. S. RULE OR RUIN

Although the Democrats now have an overwhelming majority in the House of Representatives, they could very easily lose a large number of seats in the autumn elections...

So great a change is not likely to happen for President Roosevelt would have to lose 120 seats. But as an example of what can happen, it is interesting to recall that under President Hoover the Republicans lost fifty-one seats between 1925 and 1930...

That this notion has already begun to take hold in Congress is indicated by the action of the House in voting a drastic amendment of the tax bill...

One would suppose, therefore, that a President who has it in mind to carry out such magnificent public works would be peculiarly concerned about encouraging industry to produce efficiently...

If only the President would permit himself to see that in order to find the wealth for his social purposes he must encourage men to produce wealth, the ultimate triumph of the New Deal would be assured...

Oil Production Shows Increase

TULSA, March 15 (AP)—An increase of 27,075 barrels daily brought the nation's production of crude oil up to a daily average of 3,850,201 barrels daily during the week ending March 12, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Oklahoma registered an increase of 4,000 barrels daily for a total of 526,475, East Texas was up 1,200 barrels daily to 457,500 and the Gulf states increased 20,796 barrels daily to 1,580,499.

Louisiana declined 1,063 barrels daily to 285,750, California had a drop of 2,260 barrels daily to 725,260 and Kansas had an increase of 7,125 barrels daily to an average of 1,010.

Eastern states including Michigan increased their output 2,896 barrels daily to 192,977 while the Rocky Mountain region had a decline of 2,860 barrels daily to 62,060.

EMPIRE FOR A LADY

It seemed to me that Christine was vastly relieved to find me working out a set of problems that were my own, not hers. It had been an establishment to me, though none to her, that James Clyde had written a new will, this one without my help.

Time and tide had changed a lot of things; Matusen was broken, and Neutonen was excited, and James Clyde was no longer a gun-runner; and as I read his will I learned that I was Rajah Thorne of Balingong. I was trying to estimate what this meant.

Once I would have been sorry to learn that it meant anything at all; but now, as I thought of my Dyak who had fought for me in the Tomarrup, this was not so. For they had changed me in that black river. In some part, their successes would always be my successes, and

My mind, this time, I believed it every word. From now on the whole struggle will be different than we thought. We'll have to fight warily, and for a long time, with weapons we don't even know about yet. But I'm not going to quit my Dyaks.

"Just by pure accident, without any planning or credit, I happen to be one of the weapons. There's a myth now about a Tuan Dyak. It's a name they make themselves, and it symbolizes nothing except what they themselves did. Without intelligent direction, or even any direction, for I was in a fever dream about it—in a fever dream. But they will answer that name, and rise to it; and they rise knowing Kamangs follow that name, so that they fight crazily, without fear. We can raise something with that name! I know that as well as if it were truly my own."

"Paul," Christine said, "I think they have given you a great gift in that." "I felt thick-tongued, incoherent. It came to me that I had seemed to be boasting, when I knew I had not. I said, 'I can't think of this as a gift. I think it still belongs to them. It's only that I'm responsible to them now.'"

She looked at me for a long time. And then at last she smiled—and And the days ran on. I went on with what I was trying to do. We lost sight of the Linkang, far ahead. We sighted her again, far behind. She passed us. And the days ran on.

And most certainly I had to go to Sarembea. Where was Matusen? I doubted that he was still alive. How official, as representing Sarembea, was Rentongen? There had to be a showdown. That was sure. Who had greatest voice in the British Asiatic squadron? What warships could the Netherlands Trading Society command? I had to have facts like these before I could even decide in what order I must try the many possible moves that were open to me.

My assets were the Linkang, and what debts to her might be collected; and a bit of parchment drumhead, which declared that as I saw them, in a form which I could present to such men as van der Donggen.

I could not yet know how much must happen before the fact would fit the name. Only the object of my labor stood out clear and clean—some day I would free my Dyaks, if I lived. Once more I was tied to Balingong—and this time I knew that—

Only—Somehow I could not make the dream live. I believed in it, saw its splendid opportunity; some part of me was inseparable from it. But in my weariness—and I was truly tired—none of it would quite come alive. And this bothered me for many days.

Then one hot, becalmed morning I found out what the trouble was. Christine would awake again, combing her lovely soft hair with the help of a little mirror which hung upon the stanchion where once I had seen a mass of orchids away. I had been talking a good deal, racing over plans, asking her for names. For her judgment I truly valued.

She was the only woman I ever knew who recognized what most men and all craves instinctively know—that all things are always in flux and change. The belief in the permanence of present status, whether in ethics or in rank—woman live by that; but not Christine.

The Boxwood Barrier

He made a slight movement to attract the attention of the man who knelt near him busily pruning a badly neglected rosebush. "What is it, Hugo, old timer?" Reuben idly followed the dog's gaze, squinting at the silver streak flying between him and the sun.

"Gosh!" He let the clippers fall to the ground. Something familiar about the swooping and swirring of that plane. Something peculiarly reckless—expertly careful. "Clasy, or I'm a horned toad!"

He broke into the short-gaited run of one who is used to the uncertain going of the forest. Not bothering to follow the sunken, tortuous old paths of the garden, with a peculiar suppleness he jumped over flower beds, shrubbery and piles of brick that impeded his way. The dog followed joyously.

"We're getting company, Hugo! Man shared dog's excitement. 'Hope she likes our diggings.' They reached the open field too late to see the plane land. Its pilot was already climbing from the cockpit. Reuben hailed her across the meadow, 'O—o—ho! How's the sky lady?'"

Clasy's heart that usually hammered away with the precision of a trustworthy motor, fluttered to her throat at the sight of him, making speech, for the moment, impossible. She saluted in military fashion and came on steadily. "This is a surprise party, Clasy!" "Rather a tour of inspection, old thing."

She stood on tiptoe to receive his kiss. It landed on the end of her tip-tipped nose, which was not where she wanted it to land at all. "When you didn't answer my letter, Reuben, I decided to come and see for myself."

"I'm not fixed up yet." "Grown particular, haven't you? That old back room in Warden—" "You don't have to remind me," frowning.

She felt a quick shame. "Sorry. The next time I write you'll answer. You know I'd come." "I've a lot to learn about girls." Whitticely he smiled down at her. Small. A green bandanna wrapped tightly about her head. Green and white skirt. Brief green skirt. Canvas sneakers—"Got any luggage, Clasy?"

"You can get it later," carelessly, "I want to be fed, welcomed royally. I'm hungry, surveying his soiled trousers, folded hands, rumpled sunburned hair. "Being a Maryland country gentleman hasn't improved your looks or your manners."

He laughed out boyishly. At least five of his 29 years dropped from him. "Like old times to be scolded. What a nag you are, Clasy."

"Not exactly handsome," she thought, "but something better. Dependable, strong—" "Guess I like being wrangled with at that. I've missed you, red head!" He was surprised that this was so, although he had known Clasy and seen her pretty constantly since she was four years old—she was 22 now. Her father, Clem Rogers, as tough a prospector as ever went west, had given Reuben his first job when he was a scared, hungry, 11 year old urchin.

Since then he had watched the rising tide of good fortune sweep the Rogers from a three room shack in Warden, Oklahoma to a palace on Chicago's Lake Shore Drive. He had watched Clasy develop from a crackled, face-grimy handed tomboy, to a sleek expensive young beauty who each year flung away thousands of dollars on the Rue de la Paix and Fifth Avenue.

It always gave him an amused sort of shock to see Clasy wearing imported models with the dash of a mannequin and the carelessness of a duchess, though it was not one of the more surprising than that he, Reuben Oliver, had as quickly learned to wear a dinner coat, formal dress even, with informal ease. They had come a long way since that windy March day when they saw old oozing through black mud.

CORSICANA MAN DIES

CORSICANA, March 15 (AP)—Dr. W. F. Hoger, aged 82 years, pioneer resident of Corsicana, died in a local hospital early today. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Brotherhood Hears Discussion Of City Problems

Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist church Monday night heard Mrs. L. E. Jobe give a detailed talk on prevailing conditions in the western section of town, and to suggest some possible things to be done toward overcoming certain unfavorable conditions.

At the meeting were some 60 men, several of them visitors from the Foran area.

E. L. Gibson outlined the accomplishments of the church in establishing the West Side Baptist church and discussed that a deed to the property was now being delivered to members of the West Side church. After Mrs. Jobe's talk, Joe Pickle made observations as to what might be done by the First Baptist church to further the West Side work.

Rev. Aubrey Short, Foran, Rev. E. E. Mason, West Side pastor, and Rev. B. G. Hickabough spoke briefly. Dr. C. E. Lancaster and W. C. Blankenship extended invitations for the men to attend one of the First Baptist Bible classes.

Day Cornelison, who presided, announced Tracy Smith as the man to be in charge next month. W. C. Blankenship, Dr. P. W. Malone, and H. A. Stegner were named to the program committee. Appointees at the attendance committee were Nat Shick, J. C. Loper and Joe Pickle. Joe Harrison was retained as chairman of the serving committee.

Final Tribute Paid Clarence Darrow

CHICAGO, Mar. 15 (AP)—Friends and admirers of Clarence Darrow gathered at Bond Chapel on the University of Chicago campus today to pay final respects to the eminent criminal lawyer.

Hundreds of persons filed past the bier of the 80-year-old agnostic who died of heart disease Sunday.

Funeral services included a brief, non-religious eulogy by Federal Judge William H. Holly. Judge Holly and Darrow had agreed that one should speak at the other's funeral.

Three years ago Darrow declared it had taken him 50 years to be convinced there was "nothing after death."

His body will be cremated, at his request.

Mrs. Quia Schnitzer, Corpan Christ, is visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Collins and other friends. Mr. and Mrs. Schnitzer formerly resided here.

PATTY BERG IN 5TH TITLE DRIVE

AIKEN, S. C., March 15 (AP)—Patty Berg, the Minneapolis redhead, defending her title in the second annual Aiken invitation golf tournament, started today after her fifth championship of the winter season.

Miss Berg played a practice round yesterday and her 69, six strokes under women's par, was better than the course record set last year by Babe Didrikson. She played with Marion Miley of Lexington, Kr., who defeated her in the finals of the Bellair, Fla., tournament last week.

bank, when nearly $3,000 was taken. The gunman's car had been disabled on the highway five miles from Beville when Sheriff Harper Morris and Deputy John Rutledge of Kenedy fired a volley at it as it roared over the Barnes-Bee county line.

Shots from two pistols in the youth's hands struck Martin in the chest and ball in the hand, hip and leg as they approached the car. Neither could return the fire.

The fugitive rolled the two seriously wounded men out of the car and fled in their machine, taking their rifle and a sawed off shotgun with him.

Shortly after noon Saturday Deputy Sheriff C. R. Siebrecht and Constable Buck Lane of Wharton sighted the outlaw near El Campo and a 45 mile chase followed, ending in a roadside battle between the officers and gunman near Rosenberg. Deputy Siebrecht was nicked in the shoulder by a bullet.

As the bullet raged Frank Albright of Bealey drove up and the gunman forced Bealey to drive him from the battle scene.

Later Albright jumped from the car. Officers at Columbus, Texas Sunday found license plates of the machine, buried in a pasture near the town.

The search for the fugitive spread over a wide area, once drawing in Louisiana authorities when he was reported between Vinton, La., and Newton, Texas.

Federal Forces Arm For War On Insects

By the AP Feature Service

DENVER—Along the western front farmers and the United States government are mobilizing for the greatest insect battle of the century.

Already $2,000,000 has been approved by congress to buy "ammunition" and another $3,000,000 has been asked to kill billions of grasshoppers, Mormon crickets, chinch bugs and other crop destroying insects.

The mormon cricket campaign will be concentrated in Montana where Dr. Harold E. Mills, state entomologist, estimates 45 per cent of the west's cricket population lives. There will be a concentrated grasshopper campaign in Colorado "egg lands." But 20 western states will witness some sort of "radiation program."

Most entomologists agree that drought and mild winters in the west have had "something to do" with an increase in insect hordes.

Sam McCampbell, extension entomologist at Colorado State college, and a "grasshopper expert," says the Central Colorado grasshopper infestation this year is "unprecedented."

"In one place we counted 2,000 grasshopper eggs to the square foot or 85,000,000 to the acre," he says.

"Last summer our investigation showed that 19 grasshoppers to the square yard ate 85 per cent of the grass in pasture lands, or enough grass to last one cow 14 days."

Last year grasshoppers were painted various colors in an experiment to find out how far they fly. Colorado grasshoppers were found as far away as Iowa.

S. A. Rohwer, assistant chief of the bureau of entomology at Washington, estimates 178,000 pounds of poisoned bait will be used in the grasshopper campaign. He says that last year 79,271 pounds costing $1,104,000 saved crops worth $100,000,000.

Dr. W. E. Dove of the federal bureau of entomology is in charge of the eradication campaign, with headquarters in Minneapolis.

330 Miles Away, He Answers A Call To Duty

SAN ANTONIO, March 15 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Johnny Klevenhagen believes in answering when his name is called.

There was a telephone call at the sheriff's office last night for the deputy.

Not knowing that Klevenhagen was out of town on the trail of a gunman bank robber, a deputy simply took the number and asked the police radio announcer to broadcast a call for Klevenhagen to telephone his office.

In a few minutes, Klevenhagen phoned.

"What is your location?" "Marshall, Texas," he shot back. "What do you want?" "He was told to skip it. Marshall is 330 miles by air from San Antonio."

Dumping Of Trash On Roads And Removal Of Soil Draw Protest

County commissioners had a double complaint Tuesday to make against persons for either dumping trash on or removing top soil from county roads.

The practice of dumping trash on county roads appeared to be most pronounced in A. W. Thompson's precinct. The old "Lovers Lane" road leading eastward from Washington place seems to be a particularly popular place, second only to the road running north and south by the rodeo grounds.

H. H. Rutherford and Ed Brown had similar complaints to make. E. J. Carpenter said that the practice of stealing top soil from county roads was acute just north of the cemetery and that fences were being undermined.

The same condition existed on the old highway No. 1 just east of town, said Thompson. The dirt thieves have hauled away so much soil there that the fence posts are collapsing, he indicated.

Commissioners were content to request the public to refrain from the practice, but added that if they continued, more drastic steps would be taken to put an end to them.

VETERAN COWMEN TAKE BACK SEAT AS BOYS WIN

FORT WORTH, Mar. 15 (AP)—Veteran cattle breeders occupied "back seats" today to two 16-year-old boys whose home grown steers won both grand champion and reserve champion honors at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show here.

Gordon Groce, Mason 4-H clubber, whose Junior Hereford steer took the grand title, chalked up his second victory of the year. At Denver in January his senior steer calf won the Western National show championship.

Glynn Luncean of Whitney, a Future Farmers of America member, exhibited the reserve champion, a 995 pound shorthorn steer.

More Dust Follows Freakish Weather

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 15 (AP)—Dust clouds billowed over parts of western Oklahoma today after a night of freakish weather which included a tornado, hail and heavy thundershowers.

Light rain cleared the air at Gayton in the Panhandle. But a new dust storm blew into Beaver from the northwest this morning cutting visibility to less than half a mile.

DENVER, Mar. 15 (AP)—Mixed snow and rain soaked sections of southeastern Colorado's dust bowl counties today after heavy mountain blizzards had blocked high passes.

FIRING SQUAD FOR CONVICTED SOVIETS

MOSCOW, March 15 (AP)—Guns of the OGPU blazing away in secret execution corridors were believed today to have snuffed out the lives of 18 condemned traitors and murderers victims of Russia's latest purge trial.

The time and place of such executions always are a mystery but Soviet practice was followed there were carried out within a few hours after rejection of appeals for mercy.

The president of the supreme Soviet last night sealed their fate by denying clemency to 17 of the convicted.

NEGRO SLAYER PAYS WITH HIS LIFE

HUNTSVILLE, Mar. 15 (AP)—Leroy Kelley, 26-year-old negro, died in the electric chair at the state penitentiary here today for the murder of Sheriff F. A. Lloyd of Lamb county, March 20, 1937.

Lloyd, for whose slaying Kelley was sentenced as the first person to receive the death penalty in Lamb county, was killed on a country road near Littlefield when he stopped the negro for investigation. Kelley was convicted April 15, 1937.

IDLE SHIP TONNAGE REDUCED 62 PCT.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15 (AP)—The United States reduced its idle shipping tonnage by 62 per cent in the last year, the commerce department estimated today.

Some unused vessels were drawn into expanded foreign trade, but much of the idle tonnage was removed by scrapping.

The government-owned fleet of the maritime commission cut its unused tonnage from 1,180,000 to 784,000 tons, and idle private tonnage was reduced from 2,229,000 to 894,000 tons.

Rural Trustees To Be Named In Voting On April 2nd

School trustees will be elected in every common and independent school district in Howard county April 2. Anne Martin, county superintendent, said Tuesday.

At the same time, school districts in commissioners precincts No. 3 and No. 4 will select county trustees. All districts will ballot on a county trustee-at-large.

Schools in precinct No. 3 voting on a successor to D. B. Cox, Elbow, will be Elbow, Caubie, Hartwells and Lomax. In No. 4 schools picking a successor to N. H. Montgomery, are Richland, R-Bar, Vincent, Morris, Gay Hill, Center Point, Morgan, Richland, Green Valley and Vesalmore.

Gay Hill, selecting three, and Midway two will be the only common school districts electing more than one trustee at the elections. Knott and Coahoma, although independent school districts, will ballot in the county trustee elections since they do not have more than 500 scholastics.

SECOND INDICTMENT AGAINST WHITNEY TO BE SOUGHT

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—A second indictment for grand larceny will be sought today against Richard Whitney, broker and five times president of the New York Stock Exchange—this one for the theft of $109,384 from the New York Yacht Club.

Whitney yesterday pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny—the theft of $105,000 from a trust fund in which his wife and her sister were the chief beneficiaries.

Either today or tomorrow he will appear at a court psychiatric clinic for the customary mental examination in preparation for sentencing set for March 28. Meanwhile he is free in bail of $100,000.

QUOTA SYSTEM GETS 88 PER CENT VOTE

COLLEGE STATION, Mar. 15 (AP)—Texas cotton farmers today had piled up a favorable vote of 88.3 per cent for the government's marketing quota plan.

State AAA officials announced today returns from 163 counties showed 164,553 votes favoring the plan while 21,903 voted negatively.

BOY IS FOUND

LEBANON, Ky., Mar. 15 (AP)—Ralph Orville Wright, three, who had wandered around in the woods since Sunday, was found alive and apparently well not far from his home today.

BRITISH STEAMER BOMBED, SET AFIRE

BARCELONA, March 15 (AP)—A British seaman was killed and four others wounded today when the British steamer Stanwell was bombed and set afire at the Spanish port of Tarragona.

A Danish nonintervention observer also was wounded.

The Stanwell, a 5,747-ton vessel registered from London, was still burning hours after it was hit and was believed a total loss.

The bombing occurred shortly before dawn. Half an hour before an insurgent hydroplane was brought down and its five occupants burned to death. Officials said they all were Germans.

LIQUOR MEN IN NEW SIT-DOWN CAMPAIGN

AUSTIN, March 15 (AP)—The liquor board today ordered 10 additional inspectors to Galveston to aid eight others engaged in a "sit-down" enforcement campaign there.

C. A. Paxton, chief enforcement officer, said the action resulted from failure of certain dealers to stand by an agreement to accept injunctions and post bonds as guarantees against further violations.

Labor Elections Are Ordered

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The labor relations board today ordered elections "as soon as convenient" among radio operators on all tankers operated out of Pacific coast ports by four companies.

Operators employed by the Tidewater Associated Oil Company, the General Petroleum Company and the Union Oil Company of California are to vote whether they want to be represented by the American Radio Telegraphists Association (C. I. O.).

The board certified the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (C. I. O.) as exclusive collective bargaining agent for certain classes of employes of the West Coast Kalsomine Company at Seattle. The C. I. O. union defeated the truck drivers (A. F. of L.), 12 to 10, in a recent election, the board found.
