Cox And Lewellen Win As Commissioners

Dr. Marquis Appears Saturday

Under the sponsorship of six Texico-Farwell businesses, Saturday afternoon will be a time of "sensationally strange" happenings here.

The Amazing Dr. Marquis, who is billed as the greatest mystery man of our life and times, will appear here.

For more than an hour, Dr. Marquis will visit sponsoring business places in Twin Cities. He will read the minds of some individuals and hypnotize others.

Highlight of the tour will be a feat whereby he will "defy death by mindreading."

Sponsoring businesses where special exhibitions will be staged are Rose Drug, Buck's Superette, Graham-Magness

Insurance, Farwell Hardware, Mill and Mary's Truck Stop Cafe, and Electric Shoe Shop.

In addition to these, an all afternoon exhibition of hypnotism will be staged at Buck's Superette, from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. Dr. Marquis will hypnotize the magnificent mystery model, Miss Modjeska, who will remain in a state of "death-like rigidity" for six hours.

Monday night, Dr. Marquis will be guest entertainer at Lions Club meeting at Midget Cafe.

Dr. Marquis is making a tour of air force bases and army posts in the Southwest.

Osborn Carries Here

Two new men on the political scene in Parmer County won election as commissioners Saturday, when final votes were tabulated in run-off races.

In Commissioners Precinct 3, Guy Cox beat out Johnny McDonald for the post of commissioner. Duane Curtis had originally been in the race as a write-in candidate. Cox gained a vote of 330, and McDonald received 216.

At Friona, two men vied for the office as commissioner of Precinct 1. Thomas Lewellen gained the office with a win of 325 votes over 236 cast for his opponent, Wesley Hardesty. E. G. Phipps, incumbent, lost in the first primary.

Great interest was shown in the race for state representative in which Jesse Osborn was nominated to the legislature by over 600 votes. His opponent was Clarence L. Hamilton, a teacher from Earth. Osborn is a Muleshoe banker and is well-known in Parmer County. He carried the county with no trouble, receiving 1017 votes to 268 for Hamilton.

Osborn carried all counties in the district except Lamb, where heavy voting gave Hamilton a good margin. Other counties in the district are Castro, Deaf Smith and Bailey.

In the other state race, Parmer County followed the trend of the state as a whole, and endorsed W. T. McDonald Bryan district judge, for the office of judge of the Criminal Appeals Court, as Democratic nominee. He was nominated over the incumbent, Lloyd W. Davidson.

In this county, McDonald received 692 votes and Davidson had 413.

Baptist VBS Set For Next Week

Rev. C. C. Morgan, pastor of the Texico Baptist Church, announces that registration for Vacation Bible School will be held at the church Saturday morning at 8.

After registration a parade will be held in downtown Texico-Farwell, with the firetruck leading the procession.

The school will begin Monday morning with classes from 8 to 11. Children from the nursery through intermediate age group are welcome to attend.

Mrs. Willie Wall principal of the school announced that it would run for two full weeks.

City Commission Meeting Held Friday At Texico

Members of the Texico city commission met for a regular business meeting Friday.

City employees were re-appointed for the next term, including Mrs. Juanita Autrey, clerk and treasurer; Russell Johnson, water superintendent; Earl Hartley, city attorney; T. L. McLeod, town marshal; and F. S. Thigpen, fire chief.

On the cemetery board for the coming term are Russell and Gladys Johnson, Mrs. T. E. Roth, J. H. Young and Walter Freeman.

Appointed to the recreation board were Buck Doran, Olan Schleuter, Mabel Sharp, Curtis Miller and Paul Frederick.

Berggren Leases Meeks Station

Dale Berggren has announced that he has leased the Meeks Service Station, which has been operated by Earl and Howard Billingsley. The station is located on Highway 70-84 in Farwell.

Berggren, who has been employed by the City of Farwell, invites local people to come in and get acquainted.

Claude Dyer and Felix Winegeart who do contract work for the city were also approved for respective jobs of swimming pool manager and sanitation department head.

During the business meeting Buck Doran gave a report that the school board met and voted to pay the wages for one of the pool lifeguards.

H. H. Delozier from Clovis was selected to audit the city books for the 1959-60 year.

All bills for the month were approved and paid.

Vaccination Day Set For June 14 At Lazbuddie

A dog and cat vaccination day will be held in Lazbuddie on June 14. A veterinarian will be at the agriculture building from 1 to 4 p. m. and residents of the area are invited to take advantage of the services.

Books, like friends, should be few and well chosen. -- Samuel Paterson

About 50 In Youth Program

About 50 boys are participating in the Pee Wee and Little Leagues and are practicing for their first games planned for Wednesday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on the Farwell field, with Lazbuddie teams, says Cecil Dykes who is helping direct the local program. Paul Frederick is also working with the boys.

Directors hope to schedule more games later. No further plans have been developed in the program. Boys practice two days a week, from 9 to 11 on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Tommy Williams To Attend Summer Camp

Tommy Williams, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of Farwell, is among the 32 boys enrolled in the Wayland College summer basketball camp.

The camp will be conducted June 15-24 by Ed Billings, coach of Wayland's Pioneers.

This is the fourth annual Wayland Basketball camp for junior and senior high school basketball players.

During the day fundamentals of basketball will be taught and games will be played each night. Other recreational facilities will include bowling, trampoline and swimming.

Farwell City Commission Meets Friday

Members of the Farwell city commission met Friday for a monthly meeting. The city tax rate was set, and all bills for the month of May approved and paid.

Checks written included Charles Seal, street repair and maintenance, $136; Dale Berggren, street repair and maintenance, $538; C. W. Zahn, street repair and maintenance, $400.92.

Also V. C. Venable, salary, $97; Douglas Landrum, salary, $291; Dorthy Eason, salary, $217.10; Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph, bill, $35.50; Southwestern Public Service, bill, $64.40; Farwell

FORTY-NINTH YEAR

SECTION 1

Last Friday was an eventful day for me. I took my intermediate Sunday school class off to the "boondocks" for a few hours to get away from it all.

We did get away from a lot of things, but something that I have noticed is that I have never been able to go far enough to get away from the ants. I have it on pretty good authority that the meek shall inherit the earth, but I'm not sure the ants have learned of this.

It might do the Author of that proclamation well to pass the word on to these little eight-legged creatures of His, since I think they have some plans of their own.

The day was spent at Roaring Springs, in the edge of the Plains escarpment in Motley County, south of Matador. I doubt if any group of boys and girls ever had a better time than we did that day, the chaperones included.

The wife admonished me to just be "one of the boys" and I obligingly did my best. However, it's pretty tough for a guy getting grey-haired and already complaining of some rheumatism to go over very big as a boy.

Probably the most realistic moment of my efforts was when several of my proteges unabashedly dumped me into the pool. You have to realize, though, that this was sort of beyond my control and required no particular talent on my part.

Back to the ants, I just want to admit that Roaring Springs is another one of their little kingdoms, and that they have everything pretty well under control, as they do in most other places I've ever been.

Around this particular spot that we visited is some of the most inviting sand, grass, and shade that you have ever seen. Just try to take possession of it for a few minutes, though, and you'll quickly discover whose domain you're treading on.

Probably there's no creature in the world more persistent than the lowly ant. He'll crawl down limbs, ford puddles, scale camp stool legs, and resist the offensive odor of anti-bug balm to walk around on your bare hide.

You can step on him until he's mashed in the dirt, knock him away or beat him with a stick and he still keeps coming back for more. No matter what your protection, you are not immune from his prying curiosity.

Now there are all kinds of ants around, as everybody knows, and I guess people have their choices about what kind they'd rather be pestered with. I've tried 'em all and have decided that the oneriest strain of them all is the common little brown-colored sugar ant.

Those big black or red brothers of his make such a commotion when they walk up and down you that you usually knock them off before they sting. However, it's different with the little rascals.

Their footsteps on a hairy leg are just above the threshold of human perception. The victim, if he's deeply engrossed in a magazine article, may actually fail to recognize the intrusion in his conscious mind for a few minutes. He's vaguely aware of a general uncomforness, and that's about all. He may complain of feeling itchy all over or have the sensation that his skin is crawling.

This is where the sugar ant pulls his coup de grace. He and a few of his partners can romp around in relative safety for some time, knowing that their presence, although not openly resisted, is certainly making itself felt. What usually happens is that the victim, after about a quarter an hour of this, impulsively jumps to his feet, brushes down real good, and heads for the swimming pool--or even home--leaving his sandwich or cookie behind.

Considering the effectiveness of these tactics, I think we may as well give the ants credit for inventing psychological warfare.

Knowing I wouldn't get stung, Friday I tried out what I thought would probably be the best policy of resistance: ignore 'em. I managed to drop off into a lazy nap a time or two, knowing all the time they were traversing the hills and valleys of my outstretched limbs.

Twice I awakened to realize that the indiscreet little insects

Texico Teacher Accepts Language Scholarship

TEXICO (Special)--John Adams, language teacher in Texico High School, is accepting an eight-week scholarship in language at the Language Institute on the campus of the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. He will leave here Saturday and attend school June 13 through August 5.

Only twenty-three such institutes are being conducted in the United States and it is sponsored by the National Defense Education Act. The Texico teacher is one of the 25 teachers of Spanish to receive this honor out of 1200 applicants over the nation.

Adams was offered four other scholarships--one in science in Kentucky, one in science in Utah, one in History under the American Studies Program at Abilene Christian College by the Coe Foundation, a New York Corporation, and one in Safety Education at San Jose, California.

To qualify for the Language Scholarship Adams had to be admitted to the Graduate School at the Alabama University and this summer's work will apply toward a Doctor of Philosophy degree. The recipient must hold a degree from an accredited college, have previous college training in the language and anticipate a continuation in that field.

The 25 donees of Spanish

Awards will reside in Language House and participants will be permitted to speak only the language in which they are specializing.

Classes will be held Monday through Saturday, with the Saturday schedule modified to provide for review, consultations, discussions, and conferences. Evenings will be devoted to lectures, motion pictures, and recreational activities in the language.

In class six hours a day, Adams will study the language with a native speaker as instructor, will study methodology with an expert in

A Difficult Position To Defend

It has been a long time since an incident has occurred which has stirred up as much interest and as much controversy as the recent espionage flights of a specially designed United States owned and directed aircraft over the Soviet Union. The public's reaction to news of the shooting down of a U2 plane over the heart of Russia was first received with disbelief. That emotion later changed to shock when this country officially acknowledged that it had directed such activities and the president, himself, assumed responsibility for the incident.

Since the whole thing came up, we have noticed with considerable disturbance that virtually all newspapers and radio commentators have editorially endorsed and supported this government's advanced espionage system. While it may be a practical necessity in modern defense measures to have an effective espionage system, this particular example is, we feel, entitled to some special consideration. By way of illustration, let us take the conventional cloak and dagger type spy who alone unaided and often unharmed ferrets out information vital to his country from the interior of a hostile nation. His capabilities as an individual to wage war are very limited.

But a jet powered aircraft flying at a very high altitude and almost unidentifiable presents an entirely different situation. We are informed that such an aircraft could conceivably deliver a nuclear type weapon at a point of its choosing. The difference between an individual spy and a supersonic aircraft speaks for itself.

Suppose, for example, what the reaction of the American people would be if we were told by the military that Russian planes continuously fly overhead and it is at their discretion whether or not they might drop bombs on our cities and countryside. I dare say our reaction would be much different from the reaction we felt as a nation when Julius and Anna Rosenberg were caught spying and were convicted for the same.

Ours is a position that is difficult to defend. Not just for the sake of the Russians, but for the entire non-communist world as well. Certainly we believe in national unity and in backing up our national leadership to the hilt. However, it is easy to see that the American people are now in a position of having one or two or probably not more than a dozen persons to decide the destiny of civilization itself and we do not know what matters are being weighed and what the decisions are until after cause and effect situations, such as the U2 spy plane incident, are already over.

The United States position in foreign fields is certainly not assailable. We are not always right in our every act and, in fact, there is some evidence to lead us to believe that we are not even right the majority of the time. Small wonder that our popularity has diminished in the free world as well as in communist nations.

WEIGHT AND TIME SAVERS—Meet an expert in the art of packing, Sandra Lee Jennings, 1960 Maid of Cotton, currently on a tour of 30 major U. S. and Canadian cities. If you're traveling by air, Sandra suggests you transfer cosmetics from heavy jars and bottles into lightweight plastic ones. This will save precious weight, which also means extra space for other travel items.

To The People Of Parmer Co. Precinct No. 3

I would like to express my appreciation and thanks to all who voted for me in the past elections. I appreciate all who have cooperated with me in the five and one-half years in office.

I will be your commissioner until January 1. Any time I can be of assistance, feel free to call on me. I will assist Mr. Cox in anyway I can to acquaint him with the duties of this office.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

We are fortunate in our country to have two wilderness trails, one in the Atlantic region, and one in the Pacific. Both trails are open to the public without charge, and traverse unspoiled mountain country of great natural beauty and unrivaled summer climate.

Sports Afield Magazine's Camping Editor, Colonel Townsend Whelen, describes these wilderness trails that are being availed of today by thousands of our citizens, and how to take advantage of the unlimited opportunities for ideal vacations, tramping and camping, or just plain loafing.

The Appalachian Trail is a continuous marked footpath extending through the mountain wilderness of the eastern Atlantic states. It extends from Mount Katahdin, in Maine, over 2,000 miles to Springer Mountain in Georgia. Its greatest elevation is 6,641 feet at Clingmans Dome in the Great Smokies, and it is slightly above sea level where it crosses the Hudson River at Bear Mountain Bridge and the Connecticut at Hanover.

The trail is maintained by hiking and trail clubs located in cities and towns near the trail, under the general supervision of the Appalachian Trail Conference, 1916 Sunderland Place N. W., Washington 6, D. C. The Conference publishes two general information pamphlets as well as guide books and accurate maps. Send to the Conference for the following pamphlets: "The Appalachian Trail," Publication No. 17, 15 cents. "Suggestions for Appalachian Trail Users," Publication No. 15, 35 cents. "Hiking, Camping and Mountaineering Equipment," 50 cents.

The Pacific Crest Trailway consists of a continuous marked trail extending approximately 2,150 miles from the Washington-Canadian border to the California-Mexican border. It leads over the crests of the Cascade and Sierra Nevada Mountains, through rugged, unspoiled country of magnificent, often stupendous, scenery. Its average elevation is over 5,500 feet, and some mountain passes are over 10,000 feet. All but about 250 miles of it pass through national forests or national parks. It is maintained, marked and its natural beauty conserved by the U. S. Forest and Park Services.

The trailway is divided into five districts: The Oregon and Washington Districts. For bulletins and maps covering these districts write to the U. S. Forest Service, Region 6, P. O. Box 4137, Portland 8, Oregon.

The California District, North; the California District, Central; and the California District, South. For bulletins and maps covering these districts write to the National Park Service, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco 5, California. Three park folders—Lassen, Yosemite and Sequoia-Kings Canyon—cover most of the route through these three districts, including the famous Muir Trail. The U. S. Forest Service in San Francisco has more detailed maps available covering these districts, some 25 of them to cover the whole distance.

The Pacific Crest Trail Conference, 2123 Park Drive, Santa Ana, California, furnishes a generally informative leaflet covering the entire trailway.

E. C. WILSON JOHNNY MILLER

Two Boys Drown In Surface Lake

Summer fun had a grim twist for two 16-year-old Friona boys early Wednesday afternoon. E. C. Wilson and Johnny Miller drowned about 1 o'clock in a surface lake on the M. A. Black farm three and a half miles north of town.

Reports indicated the two boys, in company with an older youth, Joel Landrum, were on a raft made of barrels and planks when E. C. fell into the water.

He was not a swimmer, and so the Miller boy jumped into the water to aid him. Both then went under and Landrum ran for help. An ambulance with resuscitating equipment and many volunteers were soon on the scene, but neither boy was immediately recovered. By six o'clock, only the Miller boy's body had been brought to the surface.

The lake was deeper than is common for surface lakes in this area because extensive dredging had been done previously to deepen the depression that collects rain and waste irrigation water. Rains of the past week had increased the level substantially.

E. C. Wilson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Wilson and a sophomore at Friona High School. He was president-elect of the Future Farmers. He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Jean and Mary Ethel; and two brothers, James Carol and Marvin, all of the home.

Johnny Miller was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Miller Sr. Besides his parents, two brothers, Roy V. Jr., Ft. Collins, Colo., and Ross, Friona, survive him; as do four sisters: Mrs. Dale Glass, McLean; Mrs. Sam Mears, Borger; Mrs. Clyde Tims, Friona; and Janice Miller, Ft. Collins.

But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you.—(Isaiah 59:2)

It is our own willfulness, selfishness, weakness, that keep us from living and being fully in God's love, His perfect good. Yet His mercy forgives and accepts the truly repentant heart.

Use Fans For A No-Simmer Summer

For summer comfort an electric fan is a necessity. Fans may be used in two ways for utmost convenience. In the daytime, when the outdoor air hangs heavy with heat, the windows should remain closed while indoor air is kept circulating by means of fans. Air that is in gentle motion creates a feeling of freshness, aiding your body's "cooling system" by helping to evaporate perspiration. When the sun sets and the outdoor air becomes cooler than that indoors, you then want to let in this cool air. A fan's function is to exhaust the stale indoor air through a window and to bring in cool, fresh air through another window on the opposite end of the room. When there's an outside breeze, place the fan so it blows the way the breeze is blowing, taking advantage of air motion.

Outdoor Cookery Is Demonstration At HD Club Meet

Members of the Pleasant Hill Extension club met in the community center on Thursday for an all-day meeting. Mrs. Eric Pierce was hostess for the meet.

A demonstration on "Outdoor Cookery," was given by Mesdames Maurice Clark and Juan Eskew. They prepared a complete meal of chicken, potatoes and beans in a pit, and also demonstrated how to grill hamburgers and chicken.

Food from the demonstration served along with drinks, ice cream and cake at lunch.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames Frank Hemke, J. J. Armstrong, Floyd Bocox, Byron Bufford, Maurice Clark, Juan Eskew, Eric Pierce, John Range, Clarence Smith and Lowry Winkles.

Guests attending were Mrs. Gene Boatwright and daughter, Mrs. B. A. Kelley and Phyllis, and Mrs. John Range's mother.

Next meeting for the club will be in the community center on June 16 with Mrs. J. J. Armstrong as hostess. The meeting will be a half-day affair.

Mrs. Christian Is Hostess For Club Meeting

Mrs. Troy Christian was hostess when members of the Town and Country Home Demonstration Club met for their last meeting of the season last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lonnie Tharp, vice-president, presided at the business meeting, during which time members discussed the annual club party which was tentatively set for Friday night at the Clovis Country Club.

The party will be given for members and their husbands. A report by the club treasurer was given before the business meeting adjourned.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames Truitt Hardage, Carlis Woods, Lonnie Tharp, Troy Christian, Gene Hardage, Jimmy Norton, Gerald Curtis, and LaVon Jones.

Mrs. Christian served refreshments of pops and party pie during the social hour.

Mrs. Billington Is Hostess For Rebecca Meeting

Members of the Rebecca Sunday School class of the Farwell Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Sterlyn Billington Monday night for their regular monthly class meeting.

The devotional on "Church and What it Means To Me," was given by Mrs. John Boling. She used the "tater family" to illustrate the talk.

During the social hour Sunshine friends were revealed and names drawn for new ones.

Refreshments of German chocolate cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Billington to Mesdames O. C. Petree, John Boling, Mable Reynolds, Elmer Scott, Ed Hardage, Willie Hardage, Johnie Williams, Clyde Magness, Nathan Harding, Nelson Smith, H. B. Whitley, E. G. Williams and Sidney Cox.

A lot of people already are working a four-day week, though it takes them five or six days to do it.

The friends to treasure are the few who "guess" it's time to go—and do.

Funny that when a girl's old enough to go out alone, she doesn't.

Miss Gayle Potts Weds Max Neeley

Miss Gayle Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Potts, Route 1, Texico, and Max Neeley, son of Elroy Neeley of Albuquerque and the late Mrs. Neeley, were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony in the bride's home recently.

The Rev. Porter Arnold, pastor of the Rosedale Baptist Church, read the wedding vows as the couple stood between a decorated fireplace and piano.

The fireplace was arranged with the bride's chosen colors of green and white. Three-tiered white candles in crystal holders were placed on each side of the centerpiece, which was an arrangement of white carnations and fern.

The mirror behind the fireplace had white bridal net across the top with white love birds at each side. In the center were two white wedding bells tied with green satin ribbon.

On the piano were white candles with miniature bride and groom figurines dressed in white net veil, dark suit and derby hat, with four bridesmaids on the side.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Potts wore a white knit street length dress. She carried an elongated cascade bouquet of white and green carnations on a white Bible.

In keeping with the bridal tradition, she wore a single strand of green pearls, carried a blue handkerchief, and had as something new her Bible. She wore a penny in her shoe dated in the year of her birth.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Marilyn Potts of Friona. She was attired in a pale green cotton satin dress designed with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Dwayne Ridley of Bellview served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Potts chose a pink floral silk dress with bone accents.

It is chiefly through books that we enjoy intercourse with superior minds, and these invaluable means of communication are in the reach of all.

It is as impossible for a man to be cheated by any one but himself, as for a thing to be, and not to be, at the same time.

To industry nothing is impossible cessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception was held in the dining room of the Potts home immediately after the ceremony.

The bride's table was laid with a green cloth under two tiers of glittered white bridal net. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, which was elaborately decorated at the base with green roses. On the top was a miniature bride and groom. White tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake.

The cake was served by Miss Marilyn Potts, while Mrs. Walter Marion Potts presided at the crystal punch service. Individual crystal trays were used for the refreshments of bridal cake, mints, nuts and punch.

After a short wedding trip the couple is at home at 228 Mitchell Street, Clovis.

The bride graduated from Texico High School in May.

The bridegroom, who was graduated from Fort Sumner High School in 1959 is employed by the Western Machinery Company in Clovis.

MR. AND MRS. NATHAN THARP

Smith-Tharp Vows Exchanged Sunday

Miss Fern Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odom Smith, and Nathan Tharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Tharp, were united in marriage on May 29 in a mid-afternoon ceremony in the Texico Baptist Church.

A large central bouquet of white gladioli and blue majestic daisies formed a setting before which Rev. C. C. Morgan read the double ring vows. Seven branched candle-labra holding blue candles, tapered to a point on either side of the central bouquet. Baskets of greenery completed the altar arrangement.

Miss Smith was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor length dress of white lace over satin, designed with a fitted scalloped bodice, and long pointed sleeves. The round neckline of the dress was outlined with appliques of lace.

Devotional On "Prayer" Given At Class Meeting

Mrs. Ysleta Kittrell gave the devotional on "Prayer" when members of the Companion Sunday School class of the Texico Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Truman Kittrell Thursday evening.

A social hour followed the devotional period during which time the hostess served refreshments of ice cream, punch and cookies.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Mary Lyn London, Frances Boling, Tena Roth, Truman Kittrell, Ysleta Kittrell and Betty Thornton.

encrusted in seed pearls. Her elbow length veil of tulle was held in place by a Juliet cap of seed pearls and sequins.

She carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis atop a satin and lace covered white Bible. Streamers of stephanotis and satin ribbon cascaded from the arrangement.

In keeping with the bridal tradition, she carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother in her Bible, "something old." Her dress was borrowed, a garter blue and the Bible new. In her shoe she carried a penny minted in the year of her birth for luck.

Attending Miss Smith as maid of honor was Margaret Eggers of Farwell. She wore a waltz length dress of blue dactron chiffon designed with a round neckline. A wide cummerbund circled the waist of the dress above the full gathered skirt. She carried an arrangement of blue carnations tied with blue and white streamers and wore white accessories.

Candlelighters were Judy Tharp, sister of the bridegroom, and Latitia Harrison. Ushers were Billy Smith, brother of the bride, and Travis Taylor.

Glenn Reece from Lovington was best man. Betty Matthews, pianist, accompanied Connie Tharp, sister of the groom, as she sang traditional wedding music.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Smith wore a navy blue sheath dress with white accessories and a white corsage.

Mrs. Tharp chose a flowered silk print with beige accessories and a white corsage for her son's wedding.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the basement of the church. Centering the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake iced in white with blue decorations, and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Blue ice cubes floated atop the pastel punch which was served with wedding cake to the guests.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad and Red River, Mrs. Tharp wore a blue sheath dress of embroidered taffeta, with blue and white accessories.

Mrs. Tharp graduated from Farwell High School this year, and her husband graduated from Texico in 1958. He attended college in Texas and is now farming north of Texico.

The couple are making their home in Texico.

Charles Stockton To Play With All-Stars

Charles Stockton, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stockton of Texico, was among the 24 boys from the state of New Mexico selected to play in the North-South all-star game at Albuquerque on August 12. The 24 boys were chosen from all classes of schools by coaches in the district and region, with names sent in for final selection by coaches throughout the state. Stockton will leave for Albuquerque on August 7 where practice games and workouts will be held each day in preparation for the big game on Friday. The game will be played at the end of the annual coaches school. Two boys from Clovis were also selected to play for the South All-stars. They are Jerry Poe and Craig Smith. Stockton graduated from Texico high school this year and was an outstanding athlete, lettering in track, basketball and softball. He was named to the all-district basketball team and played in the state tournament. He was also active in other phases of school work, being in the band for 11 years and serving as president during his senior year. He was also a member of the science club and chorus and had leading roles in the junior and senior plays. Stockton stands 6' 2 1/2" tall and weighs 141 pounds. Coaching the South all-stars will be Joe Langston and Martin Wade from Eunice.

ONE TO GROW ON

By Fred V. Hein, Ph.D., Consultant in Health and Fitness. Bureau of Health Education, American Medical Association.

"One To Grow On" is a happy birthday thought. But no one food can supply all the nutrients youngsters need for healthy growth. For proper development boys and girls need foods that build and repair tissues, foods that supply energy, foods that furnish each of the vitamins and minerals. It takes plenty of all kinds of all good foods to do the job. And during growing years. PLENTY is the key word.

"Johnny is shooting up like a weed" you say. And that's not idle talk. Johnny, or Mary, for that matter, may grow several inches in a few months. It takes plenty of the protein foods--meat, fish, poultry, eggs, cereals, milk, cheese--to provide all the building blocks (amino acids) needed for healthy development. This need is greatest, of course, in rapid growth periods.

Rickets is a deficiency disease in which bones fail to develop proper strength and shape. But doctors seldom see a case of rickets today. That's chiefly because boys and girls now have fortified milk to drink. Milk is their best source of calcium, which along with the vitamin D in fortified milk helps to ward off this bone-warping disease. As nearly everyone knows, milk is also a rich source of protein.

An apple a day may not keep the doctor away for Johnny and Mary. But fruits and vegetables are a vital part of their diets. Vitamin C, for example, is often in short supply among children. Citrus fruits or other C rich foods such as tomatoes, green peppers, cabbage, or berries each day can step up this intake to proper levels. Dark green and deep yellow vegetables are important for vitamin A. And don't forget the starchy vegetables to help caloric requirements.

Healthy children furnish a good example of perpetual motion. Their constant and vigorous activity demands plenty of the carbohydrates found in bread, cereals, potatoes and the like. Many of these foods, contrary to popular notion, furnish considerable good-quality protein as well. Enrichment of bread and other cereal products assures valuable B vitamins and iron.

As we read somewhere, it seems the hurrier I go, the behinder I get.

Kids are often more expressive than grown-ups. Hal looked out the door one day this week and exclaimed "Mama, look what a SHINY day it is!" He also saw the collection plate heading our way in church Sunday. "Give me some money, quick," he says "they're fixing to serve me."

We like this little story. "After failing in four exams, a college freshman telegraphed his sister: 'Failed four exams; prepare Dad.' His sister wired back: 'Dad prepared; prepare yourself.'"

Want to find out how old you are? Try keeping up with a group of 13 and 14-year-olds for a day. The elder Grahams have been feeling their years ever since a workout Friday with members of the spouse's Sunday School class. Four of the boys were determined they would throw the editor in the swimming pool. He was determined that he would take the four with him. All of them landed in the pool, and the spouse has been groaning around ever since. The boys show no after effects.

Ammonia produces more cotton per acre

Leading West Texas farmers like FRED POPEJOY use 100 lbs. of Phillips 66 Ammonia on cotton

Fred Popejoy of Hart, who has 800 acres under cultivation, has used Phillips 66 Ammonia successfully on a variety of crops. "With cotton following cotton I put down 50 pounds of ammonia per acre. On cotton following maize I apply 100 pounds of ammonia. This gives me about 1/2 bale per acre increase," he says.

"Maize land receives about 100 pounds of ammonia per acre. Yields have been up to 7000 pounds per acre... increases average about 2000 pounds per acre. Wheat is where you see the big difference with ammonia. It just about doubles the yields. I use about 80 pounds of ammonia per acre on wheat land," he reports.

Thousands of Texas farmers are using Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre. Actual field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) produces more high grade lint (2) increases maize yields (3) boosts wheat and small grain yields (4) stimulates forage production.

See your local Phillips 66 Ammonia Distributor now. You can depend on better ammonia service.

MR. AND MRS. W. J. MATTHEWS

W. J. Matthews Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Matthews were host and hostess for a barbecue luncheon Sunday at noon at their home south of Texico-Farwell. The occasion marked their 50th wedding anniversary.

A complete meal of barbecue beef, potato salad, beans, pickles, iced tea, pops, ice cream and cake were served buffet style in the yard of their home.

For the reception, a table inside their home was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a large bouquet of golden carnations and bell lilies arranged in a long gold planter. Golden greenery in the arrangement added to the "golden anniversary" theme and the letters "50" were placed amid the arrangement.

A large three-tiered wedding cake was also on the reception table. The cake was iced in white and decorated with golden roses and leaves. Gold colored sugar balls edged each tier and a miniature bride and groom topped the cake.

Ludie Harding was one of the nine children born to Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Harding. She was born in Comanche County and grew up there before coming to Texico-Farwell in 1909 with her parents.

She has five living brothers and sisters including J. T. Harding, N. R. Harding and B. L. Harding of Texico-Farwell; and Mrs. R. J. Klump and Mrs. H. H. Carlyle of Muleshoe.

Will Matthews was born in Bosque County and later moved to Hill County where he grew up. He attended grade school in Comanche County and Hill County and graduated from high school at Edna Hill.

He was one of the six children born to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Matthews, and has one brother, George; and four sisters, Mrs. E. D. Morgan of Amarillo, Mrs. Mattie Putman of Lamesa, Mrs. Maggie Williamson of Wicket and Mrs. Mollie Ott of Baytown.

Mrs. Matthews says she first remembers meeting her future husband one day after church when he came home for Sunday dinner with her brothers. After that time she stated that he just kept coming back again and again and they were soon going together.

In January of 1909 her parents made a decision to move west and the couple was split apart since he was at that time teaching school there.

After the Hardings moved to Texico-Farwell Mr. Matthews followed as soon as school was out and he had helped in taking the 1910 US census. He arrived here in May of that year and they were married on June 1.

Mr. Matthews stated that they bought their marriage license from Sam Bratton who is now Chief Justice of the US Circuit Court of Appeals. Rev. S. T. Tipton married them. A month after their marriage the young couple moved to their present homestead south of Texico-Farwell.

Mr. Matthews stated that when they married he was planning to return to his home town and continue to teach school there but a new school had been built 3 miles southeast of Farwell called Plainview, and they needed a teacher so he agreed to teach there.

After teaching there two years he and his wife went back to Central Texas for a visit and stayed about six months. After they returned, he rode a bicycle to Clovis each day for four weeks to get a New Mexico teacher's certificate. After getting the certificate he taught at Locust Grove school southwest of Texico for a year.

When he finished up the year's work at Locust Grove he began farming and ranching on his land and in 1928 purchased a grain and feed store in Texico, with S. C. Hunter as his partner.

During the time he owned the store Matthews began farming again and although he has most of his farm land rented out now, still keeps Hereford cattle on his pasture land.

Mr. Matthews served as precinct chairman in Texico for 20 years, and Mrs. Matthews is a past Democratic county chairman. She is now a state Democratic chairman.

Both are members of the Methodist church and she is in the Eastern Star and Farm Bureau.

Hinkson-Pilgrim Vows Read June 2

In an impressive mid-afternoon ceremony, June 2 in the Lazbuddie Methodist Church, Miss Carolyn Hinkson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hinkson of Lazbuddie, became the bride of Charles Pilgrim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pilgrim of Irving.

Candelabra holding yellow candles formed an arch before which the couple exchanged vows. Baskets of white stock and yellow mums flanked the central arrangement. Rev. Harold Morris of Coahoma officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, advanced down an aisle marked with large yellow satin bows on each pew.

Her gown of white silk organza over taffeta was designed with a scalloped portrait neckline and had brief shirred sleeves which were complemented by matching mitts. Appliques of lace re-embroidered with iridescent sequins and pearls outlined the neckline. The fitted bodice of the dress was highlighted with soft crushed folds at the waistline from which lace streamers flowed into a bouffant waltz length skirt.

A double-tiered crown of sequins and pearls held her shoulder length veil of silk illusion. Her wedding bouquet was a large white orchid nestled amid clusters of stephanotis. She carried the arrangement atop a white Bible.

In keeping with the bridal tradition the bride wore a strand of pearls which she borrowed from her sister, Mrs. Glenn Lust. Her wedding ensemble was new, a garter blue, and she carried a penny minted in the year of her birth in her shoe as something old.

Attending Miss Hinkson as maid of honor was a cousin, Mary Beth Lade from Litchfield, Nebraska. She was attired in a dress of yellow crystalline over taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline and shirred sleeves. The full skirt of the dress was accented with a large bow in back.

She wore a white headpiece and carried a white fan amid an arrangement of carnations and cascading streamers.

Attending Pilgrim as best man was Ray Reynolds of Lubbock. Trice Williams of Atlanta and Clarence Cochran of Amarillo served as candelights and ushers.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Ronnie Briggs as she accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Wayne Moore, as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hinkson wore a beige lace dress with yellow accessories and a corsage of yellow feathered carnations.

MRS. CHARLES PILGRIM

Mrs. Pilgrim chose a white rayon linen dress with a panel of pastel embroidered flowers worn down the front. Her accessories were white and she wore a white carnation corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The serving table was laid with a lace cloth over yellow. Lighted yellow tapers in crystal holders were placed at each side of the four-tiered wedding cake.

Misses Katherine Smith and Susie Carpenter alternated in serving the lemon sherbet punch as Joanne Parks, sister of the groom, served the cake.

Guests from San Antonio, Odessa, Irving, Dumas, Cairo, Neb.; Litchfield, Neb.; Wood River, Neb.; Coahoma, and local guests were registered by Barbara Lust, sister of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Niagara

Falls Mrs. Pilgrim wore a dress of yellow cotton fashioned with a pleated skirt. A lace yoke and collar accented the bodice of the dress. Lace also formed turn back cuffs on the sleeves and circles of lace were applied on the skirt. She wore the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Pilgrim is a 1959 graduate of Lazbuddie High School, and attended college at Texas Tech.

The groom graduated from Irving High School in 1956 and received a BS degree in electrical engineering from Texas Tech this year. He will be employed with the Westinghouse Company.

The couple will make their home in Pittsburg, Pa.

"Pink And Blue" Shower Given For Mrs. Crooks

Mrs. Paul Crooks of Texico was honored Thursday evening with a "pink and blue" shower in the home of Mrs. C. C. Graef in Lazbuddie.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over pink, and centered with a white four-layer cake on a footed crystal cake stand.

The cake, which was iced between layers with pink, mint green and yellow and covered with white frosting was served along with pink lemonade by Mesdames James Welsh, C. C. Graef and Clayton Ray Graef.

During the evening Mrs. James Welsh directed games.

Attending and sending gifts were Mesdames Milton Henson, Rilda Henson, C. C. Graef, Earl Burns, Buck Price, Gene Phillips, Clayton Ray Graef, Fremant Davis, James Welsh, Ralph Vincent, John Carson, Raymond Carson, Maude Brown, James Inge, Shelby Polk and Hazel Phillips and Dorothy.

Coffee Honors Miss Steinbock Before Marriage

Mrs. Mark Leithan of Clovis was hostess for an introductory coffee for Miss Wanda Steinbock prior to her marriage to Bert Williams last week.

The coffee was to introduce Miss Steinbock to members of the bridegroom elect's family.

The serving table was covered with a white Japanese silk cloth and laid with silver appointments. Mesdames Johnnie Williams and M. A. Snider presided at the serving table and served tea and coffee with party cakes iced in orchid and white.

Orchid napkins with the names "Bert and Wanda" were used. Centering the serving table was an arrangement of orchid daisies with a miniature frying pan standing in the center. A small white daisy was placed in the center of the pan to represent a frying egg. Orchid candles in silver holders flanked the floral arrangement.

Guests presented the honoree with kitchen gadgets.

Those attending were Mrs. Alex Steinbock, mother of the honoree; Mrs. Bobby Broyles, the honoree's sister, and Mrs. Jack Williams, mother of the bridegroom.

Also attending were Mesdames Frank Hinkson, Willie Steinbock, M. A. Snider Jr. and Kim, M. A. Snider Sr., Wilma Limer, Elmer Hargrove, Don Williams, Willie Williams, Bert Williams and Le Ann, Johnnie Williams, Penny Anderson, J. H. Stone, and sister of the bridegroom, Sharon Williams.

The group was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham. Attending were Bob Scott Anderson, Butch Ford, Leon Lovelace, Bill Quikkel, Derrell Crooks, Murrell Smith, Forrest Wellman, Melody Coffman, Janice Prince, Ronny and Hal Graham.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From The State Capitol

BT VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, TEX. -- In a period of deep gloom about state finances, Texans had to pinch themselves to believe the good news.

U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Texas does indeed own its tidelands for 10 1/2 miles out--just as Texans have been claiming for 115 years. Financially, it's a long-range gain at best. But as a moral victory for Texas principles, it's the biggest thing since the Battle of San Jacinto.

Revenue from the publicly owned land will go into the permanent school fund. Problem of Texas' bankrupt general fund is unchanged.

How much money comes to the school fund will depend on how much oil is under the submerged lands and how good is the market. Money going into the permanent school fund--from mineral leases, royalties, bonuses, etc.--is invested, and only the income from these investments may be used for current school spending.

Thus far, the oil yield from Texas tidelands has been far from spectacular. There have been only 24 producing oil wells and 47 gas wells in 22 years.

But if conditions are promising, oil men undoubtedly will keep trying. As an immediate effect, the state will get some $29,000,000 in mineral payments that accumulated while the issue of state or federal ownership was being thrashed out.

POLITICKING VACATION-- Gov. Price Daniel will spend his vacation politicking for U.S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

First stop will be the National Governors Conference in Montana June 26-29. After that, said the governor, he'll vacation and visit around with other governors where he feels he can do the Texas favorite son's cause the most good. And after that, he will go on to the National Democratic Convention in Los Angeles July 11.

Daniel predicted Johnson would lead on the first ballot at the convention.

ANTI-INCOME TAXERS-- Voters who oppose the federal income tax and the United Nations will find a haven in the Constitution Party.

Like the Republicans and Democrats, the Constitution Party will hold a state convention June 14 to name delegates to a national convention.

At a preliminary meeting in Austin, delegates were selected and instructed to work for a ticket headed by J. Edgar Hoover for president and Tom J. Anderson of Nashville, Tenn., for vice president.

Constitution Party also nominated candidates for all statewide offices except governor. gubernatorial nominee was omitted, because if he should receive 200,000 or more votes in a general election, state law would require the party to go the expensive primary nominating route next election year.

HOSPITAL NEEDS GROW-- Deficit or no deficit, the State Hospital Board says the hospital system has increased money needs that must be reckoned with.

Board has voted to ask the Legislature for a $107,000,000 appropriation for the 1961-63 period. This would be $34,000,000 more than the present allocation.

Part of the extra funds, about $2,000,000 a year, would go to hire extra people so present staffers could change from the present 44-hour week to a 40-hour week. Board has recommended this change to put hospital employes on equal footing with those of other state agencies.

But the main problem, says the Board, is that the hospital system is getting more and more patients and needs more money to take care of them. In addition, it has the problem of caring for many oldsters who are not really mentally ill.

YOUTH NEEDS CITED-- Another state agency with a story of urgent need for more state support is the Texas Youth Council.

Youth Council has the responsibility for trying to stem the tide of rising juvenile delinquency and also to provide homes for children who have none of their own.

For this task in 1961-63 the Council is asking for a $13,695,636 appropriation--up by $3,500,000 from the present.

Some of this would be used for new construction at the Gatesville Training School for Boys, Gainesville Training School for Girls, a state home for orphaned Negro children and for additions to the Waco and Corsicana State Homes for orphans.

It also would enable the Council to set up a parole supervision staff to follow up on the rehabilitation of youngsters released from training schools.

Nothing can supply the place of books. They are cheering or soothing companions in solitude, illness, affliction. The wealth of both continents would not compensate for the good they impart. --Channing

FARM PROFIT

New Chemicals Clean The Corn Rows

Corn farmers take note. Weeds between hills where the cultivator can't get at them could be costing you one-fourth of the corn yield you would be getting if the weeds weren't there.

And there's a new way to get rid of them, according to a Massey-Ferguson research report.

Two new chemical weed killers have proved that either of them can kill both broadleaved weeds and grasses with one application and keep them in check for six weeks or a full summer, depending upon the amount used. They are called Atrazine and Simazine.

Three years of research in Illinois proved that weeds in rows can sap away a fourth of the yield.

When Atrazine was applied to a corn field on Fred Schneider's farm near Jerseyville, Illinois, it completely eliminated all weeds, Massey-Ferguson researchers found.

Atrazine and the other new chemical, Simazine, cost more than 2.4-D; but the cost can be kept to a minimum by spraying a 12 to 14-inch band over rows instead of spraying the entire field. Band treatment costs about $3.50 to $4.50 an acre.

There are a lot of advantages to using chemical weed killers besides the advantage of higher yield. Your cultivator will cause less root damage, for you won't have to set it so close to the rows. You won't have to worry about weeds choking your young plants if the field is so wet you can't drive your tractor in it. And, you can harvest your hay at its peak feed value instead of waiting until you have finished cultivating. And hay is a money crop, too.

The only major differences between Simazine and Atrazine are that Atrazine dissolves more fully in water and probably is more effective in dry soil.

Practically every agricultural college in the United States recommends Simazine. Weed specialists also are praising Atrazine which is new this year.

Many thanks to the Will Matthews for the generous portion of their 50th wedding anniversary cake which all of the Graham family enjoyed.

Sunday afternoon the Grahams were among many others who lapped up free barbecue served under the shade trees at the Matthews nice farm home. The reason I came up with some extra cake is that I was complaining about not getting my quota at the time.

This happened because I helped myself to two slices when the cake plate went by, and the wife was off getting a re-fill on iced tea. When she came back she helped herself to one of my two pieces of cake. She thought that I had gotten two so that she could have one. That was a noble idea, but an inaccurate one.

So, I griped, and Mrs. Matthews heard me. The result was that Monday she came in with the entire top layer of their three-layer cake. And now there's enough cake for both myself and the wife.

Incidentally, Will claims to have been pleasantly surprised at the crowd at their shindig. Ten years ago for their 40th anniversary, they did the same thing and about 200 people showed up. Will said it looked to him like he had run off about half of his friends in the last 10 years, so he didn't know what to expect, but was pleased to see the same 200 come back. I'm not sure whether this means he's better at keeping friends than he thinks he is, or whether the news of a free barbecue is too much to resist.

Will also told me that they tried to do everything up right ten years ago because they weren't sure they'd be around this year for the 50th. Well, they were, and my guess is they'll be here 10 years hence.

In this connection, Bob Tomlinson, the Methodist preacher, told about what a time Bob Butler, the Methodist preacher of the 30's in Texico-Farwell, gave his wife. She became gravely ill at one time and there was some doubt about her recovery. In a moment that was quite serious to her, she asked Bob to promise her that if she died he would marry no other woman.

For most men, this was not a request to be treated with levity, but Bob's satanic answer was, "Honey, I may as well tell you that I plan to marry the first good looking blonde that comes along."

This hurt her feelings deeply, but produced the desired effect. She rallied and regained her health and strength just because she couldn't trust the rascal.

GENERAL SHOWERS CONTINUE IN AREA

Good showers Sunday night and Monday night teamed up with moisture in the previous week to establish a definite reversal to the dry pattern that has plagued all of the Plains this spring.

In the Parmer County farming area, most points have received from two to four inches in the three rains, and three inches would be a pretty good average. For the time being, moisture is adequate.

Virtually all of the cotton and a sizable part of the grain sorghum crop is up to a stand and the moisture will be welcomed to help kick off the growing season. The problem of dried-out fields was particularly acute in the case of cotton, until the showers of last week.

Farmers had found it necessary to start watering down the row just to keep the stand alive. It was an undesirable but required practice.

If the weather clears up for a few days, farmers are expected to get back into the fields quickly and finish out the mlo planting chores. Planting dates are staggered not only because of the difference in maturity dates for various varieties, but because farmers want to have parts of their fields at different stages of growth for irrigation purposes throughout the season.

Regardless of what farmers may plan, they won't be getting back to work the next day or so, though. Things are just a shade sticky.

Some of the most severe weather of Monday night was around Bovina. In the city itself, from three to four inches of rain was reported. With downpours of this size, crop damage is unavoidable, and some fields were reported washed out in that area.

Also, strong winds that have accompanied fronts bringing in the moisture have continued to topple the wheat crop. Much of the best wheat in the Parmer County area has been blown down the past week.

IT IS REALLY WET in Parmer County, after three rains in a week. The above field in the Hub community is typical of the lower end of many fields, where water backed up into the rows for quite a way after the Monday night downpour.

Tomlin also at Hub. The Demonstration blocks will have eight to 12 varieties each. Several new hybrids have included along with the ones we have been using in the past. You will want to see these during the growing season.

When deciding how to handle your wheat straw don't forget the value of organic matter in a soil. Better make arrangements to apply nitrogen and work this straw back into the land. The easy way at present may be to burn it but when the organic matter is depleted you will find it would have been easier and cheaper to have put the stubble back in the land than try to build up the soils organic matter. It may cost you now but remember it will also cost you when it has to be done. You had better take a serious look at how you handle your crop residues.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The supervisors of the Parmer County Soil Conservation District recently purchased three new earth moving scrapers for use in this district. These machines will fit most any of the large farm tractors and are easily operated.

They will be in the hands of the following supervisors: T. O. Lesly of Lazbuddie, Robert Callaway of Farwell and Bruce Parr of Black. A. L. Black has charge of the other scraper that the district has been leasing out for the past three years. Charges for the use of each scraper will be $7.50 per day.

At the SCS board meeting last Tuesday morning the supervisors made plans for the annual district tour and banquet. This event will be held early in September. Plans are being made for the tour and banquet to be the most outstanding event of this kind in several years.

ONE OF THREE NEW CARRY-ALLS recently purchased by the Parmer County Soil Conservation District is being shown by T. O. Lesly, supervisor of the Lazbuddie community. The equipment was bought about three weeks ago.

Cummings Plans Grain Storage

Work is scheduled to begin next week on grain storage units at Cummings Farm Store in Friona. The storage bank is being installed as an added service of the store's recently completed custom feed mill.

"We will take the grain in the fall, process, and store it," Doyle Cummings says.

"The grain tanks are supposed to be in by the first of July."

Of his feed mill business, Cummings says: "It's been doing pretty good."

"I don't expect it to get tremendously busy until fall. Right now, most of the cattle are being shipped or are on grass."

"We are pretty well satisfied with what we have done. Of course, we missed all that winter business."

"We have done a considerable amount of steam rolling. We will probably do about the same amount of grinding and rolling over a long period of time."

"We mix quite a bit of hog rations. Nearly all of it is ground."

THE PARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham Jr.

Bob Parker of the Texas Sesame Growers is pushing hard to get farmers of the High Plains to plant more of his favorite crop this year. The association's chief exec isn't one to get unduly excited about prospects and we have long admired his conservative promotion work.

So, when he is genuinely optimistic, we think that his views will bear watching.

In a "West Texas Newsletter Special" which found its way to our desk last Wednesday, he is calling for more sesame plantings. "We have just completed totaling our planting seed sales, and if our figures are accurate, the market can easily use about 1500 to 2000 more acres of sesame in 1960," he predicts. "Buyers have already been talking to us about delivery of new crop seed this fall, and the sesame market is strong."

This is quite a switch from some of our crop markets, including grain sorghum and wheat.

Parker says there's still plenty of time to plant sesame and have a good year. We have until June 15-20 to plant sesame and hope for a "normal" year which would mean a good crop, he says.

Adding meaning to his sales pitch, Bob points out that mlo prices today are about 57 cents a hundred less than what they were at the same time last year. "In our opinion, it adds up to fall mlo prices near the government support level of about $1.34 per hundred pounds," predicts Parker.

Finally, he warns: "We don't want to lose the good sesame markets all of us have worked so hard to build by not being able to supply the demand."

If you've ever been on--or even seen--Lake Meade on the Colorado River, then you know it's a whopping body of water. The biggest man-made puddle in the country, as a matter of fact.

The capacity of Lake Meade is 27,207,000 acre feet of water. Normal storage usually runs somewhere between 15 and 20 million acre feet, and we notice in the Santa Fe crop report bulletin that the present storage is something over 19 million acre feet.

Back in 1954 the High Plains Water District inventoried the underground water supply of Parmer County at something over 13 million acre feet. Thus, the capacity of Lake Meade would be about twice that. And, there are some times in some years when we probably have more water between 200 and 500 feet of our doorsteps than do all those Arizonans and Californians!

It's a tremendous quantity of water, but outside of quantity, there is little comparison. Lake Meade will keep filling up year after year, while our water table continually declines. It is easy to see why we should use a different set of standards for water conservation than do other parts of the country.

HARDY MAY looks over some of the plants in one of his potato fields on his farm four miles southeast of Friona. May has some fine looking spuds of both the Red La Soda and Red Pontiac varieties. Most of the potatoes have reached eating size and will be ready for harvesting in about a month.

Potato Men Look For Good Year

With the prospect of a good growing season, vegetable growers in the Friona area should have a good year. This is the opinion of Kenneth Neill, manager of Friona Growers and Shippers.

"Our shed has around 400 acres of potatoes," Neill says. About 14 of the 18 growers in the area are raising spuds this year. All are raising one of the red varieties.

"We will have approximately 300 carrots, with 14 or 15 growers. There are probably 200 acres planted." Neill expects to plant another 100 or so acres of the crop.

August."

Harvest of the potato crop, which Neill says is doing very well, will begin around the first of July. The later maturing varieties such as Red Pontiac and La Soda are just about eating size, while early maturing Norland spuds are about ready to harvest.

Neill says there was very little damage by hail in the recent storms to any of the vegetables that are up. The damage which occurred was spotted and not heavy.

"There is some cabbage already planted and there will be some more planted late this month." Neill says the acreages of onions, cabbage, and lettuce, the three other main vegetable crops in this area, will be very small.

"Lettuce is planted in July up to the first of August. Onions usually are set out in March, and harvested in July and

They tell us that a trip to Old Mexico is interesting and relaxing. We hope maybe some folks from this area will join the Texas Farm Bureau tour July 14 through 24. It includes a nine-day land tour, and the prices seem pretty reasonable. Look at your Texas Agriculture paper, or come in and we'll give you one.

We don't quite understand how there can be so many men in our congress who are willing to work days and days on a "farm bill" which they claim is designed to help the farmer when they know it will be vetoed if voted out.

This isn't the case with farm bills only, either. It seems that a lot of congressional time is spent cooking up bills on various subjects with the hope they will get a lot of publicity and then be vetoed.

This is the way some of our congressmen spend our money to "show their interest" in their constituents. We are basing our thoughts on a report of Doane's Agriculture, in which it was pointed out that the House of Representatives was expected to pass a bill designed to court a veto while the Senate was making efforts to come up with something the president would sign.

It looks like there will be no major changes in farm legislation. In fact, this session is about over.

If we understand the announced support prices correctly, wheat will be six cents per bushel lower and sorghums will be four cents per hundred higher.

We are proud to read that Texas Farm Bureau President, J. H. West, has been appointed by the governor to serve on the state finance advisory committee. We believe Mr. West is well qualified to serve in this capacity.

CONSIDER THIS: "The righteous considereth the cause of the poor; but the wicked regardeth not to know it." Proverbs 29:7

Our family has time for games after dinner while our dishes are washed electrically," say Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartlett.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett are school teachers, and before the children arrived, Mr. Bartlett helped by taking care of the dishes. When Mrs. Bartlett returned to her teaching duties, Mr. Bartlett decided to let Reddy do the dishes.

The Bartletts bought a portable because they like the convenience of loading dishes at the table. When they built their new home, they kept the portable, designing space to accommodate it.

Demand Big For Sesame

Sesame growers may be in a good position, profit wise, if High Plains weather is favorable to the crop this year.

According to Doyle Cummings, Friona farm store operator and sesame dealer, the president of Texas Sesame Growers, Robert Parker, recently informed all growers and dealers that the demand for the oil seed crop is going to be greater than the supply.

"He seems to think we could use quite a bit more acreage than we have," Cummings says.

"There are not as many acres planted as could be sold, and some of the present acreage is expected to be lost."

"Parker feels that good demand and market may put the growers in a good position."

James Harding Employed At Henderson Grain

James Harding, who has managed the Western Soil Laboratory in Roswell for about a year and a half, is now employed at Henderson Grain & Seed Company in Farwell.

C. M. Henderson, owner, reports that it is the firm's intention to get into the soil testing phase of service to agriculture, and this is Harding's specialty.

The new employee is a graduate of New Mexico A & M College, Las Cruces. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Harding, who live south of Texico-Farwell.

Harding is married and the father of a small child. The family now resides in Texico.
