

First Bale Of Cotton Ginned

Kenneth Johnson, who farms near the Oklahoma Lane community, brought this area's first bale of cotton to town late Monday afternoon.

Grown on an 18-acre field, the bale of Gregg cotton weighed 475 pounds. It was ginned at Cooper Gin in Farwell and Johnson received a 50 cent a pound premium for delivering the first bale.

Johnson started picking the load of cotton early last week but rain halted operations until Saturday. The field from which this cotton was hand-pulled was pre-watered and it was fertilized once.

The Johnson bale was one of the first to be ginned in Parmer County. Two gins at Bovina and Friona received their first bales early last week.

There are only a few early-maturing fields in the county, and for the most part it will be at least three or four weeks yet before much cotton is harvested.

Both ginners and cotton farmers were of the opinion this week that this year's cotton crop would be considerably better than they had hoped for several weeks ago. The warm weather of recent weeks has helped to bring the cotton along, and if this type weather continues a good crop may still be in the making.

Public officials invariably receive all types of requests, not only from their constituents but other people as well.

Mayors, city clerks, chamber of commerce secretaries and commissioners are naturally the persons to go to when a person wants certain information or services. Since these public servants are the recipients of many and varied requests, however, many times it is hard for a person to get what he is seeking out of these fellows.

That is, unless he uses a different approach -- one that will attract the other person's attention and spur him into action.

Johnny McDonald, the county commissioner, received such a request from a young school girl at New Deal this past week. The information she was seeking wasn't so unusual, but her manner of requesting it was.

The letter from the school girl read thusly: County Commissioner Farwell, Texas

Dear Sir, I am a member of the 7th grade history class at New Deal Jr. high, and several weeks ago I wrote Farwell for information about farming, industry, population, history, natural resources, shipping facilities, and how your city got its name. Please HELP ME!!!

My teacher has threatened to fail me if I don't make a report on your city.

At your mercy, I remain, Vickie Esty

Needless to say, she got the information she was seeking. Johnny was scampering around town the early part of this week in an attempt to get the information rounded up and mailed.

The local commissioner was uneasy about having a young school girl's fate resting on his shoulders and he said, "I sure don't want to be responsible for her failing."

After writing last week about the Independent Americans of Texas, I was taken to task by a couple of fellows for remarks about those individuals "who are throwing away their votes."

I was told that a person would be foolish to vote for anyone other than the two major candidates and a person was naive to the functions of government if he thought otherwise.

One fellow, in trying to enlighten me on the subject of politics, used the old cliché that, "A platform is something a candidate runs on but never stands on." A person should realize that, he explained, and judge a candidate not by what he says during a campaign, but how he has acted and voted on previous occasions.

The platforms of our two major political parties were written by the minority groups and "both Kennedy and Nixon are men of too high a calibre to go along with the programs outlined by their respective organizations."

In reality, I know that these things my informants so graphically pointed out, are true to a certain extent. In this age of highly organized, pressure politics, a person can't judge a man entirely by the platform he runs on and the statements he makes while out soliciting votes.

A person can better determine a man's position by what he has done, rather than by what he says he will do.

I'm just an ole country boy, I'll have to admit, and quite naive when it comes to politics, but to me the country is in a sad state of affairs when a person can't put any faith in what a man says.

As individuals, we Americans are a sad lot if it takes sugar-coated promises to get our votes. And, those of us who are opposed to this type of situation, are a worse lot if we don't try to do something about it.

That's what I was getting at in writing about the Independent Americans, even though I'm not sure that they have the answer. In fact, I really doubt that they have. Probably Barry Goldwater, the senator from Arizona, has a better and more practical solution.

He advocates taking the best course available at the present time, but still holding true to those basic principles with the hope that eventually there will be enough support to put them across.

FARWELL'S FIRST BALE OF COTTON is being inspected by L. L. Cooper of Cooper Gin. The cotton was grown by Kenneth Johnson of the Oklahoma Lane Community.

Texico Band Wins First At Fair

Competing with nine other Class B bands in the parade that opened the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock Monday, the Texico High School Band was judged tops and received a $100 prize for its efforts.

The Texico band, under the direction of Fred Danforth, finished ahead of Whiteface in the competition. Whiteface has won first in the division for the past three years.

Danforth says that he feels the Texico band won on its ability to play, since the ten-year-old uniforms are badly in need of replacement. The bands were judged on marching, playing, and general appearance.

This was the second time for the Texico band to be among the winners at the fair. Three years ago the last time the band participated in the fair, Texico finished second to Whiteface and won $50.

Accompanying the band to the fair Monday were Buck Doran, school superintendent, Mr. and Mrs. John Hadley and Mrs. Edgar Campbell.

Ernest Kube Buys Fern's

The sale of Fern's to Ernest Kube of Farwell was announced this week by Fern and Walter Hardage, owners of the women's apparel store since November, 1955.

The change of ownership will be effective Saturday, October 1. Mrs. Linda Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kube, will manage the business and it will now be known as Linda Kaye's. The Kube's are long-time residents of the Farwell area.

Walter and Fern, who have operated businesses in Farwell for the past 25 years, say that their plans for the future are undecided.

Texico Takes Two

Texico's high school boys' and girls' softball teams continued their winning ways last Friday afternoon by taking a pair of narrow decisions from House. The boys won 10-9 and the girls were victors by a 12-11 count.

With Kenneth Murdick handling the mound chores for Texico, the boys' game was scoreless until the fourth inning. At this point the Wolverines' big bats started booming and they pushed across seven runs.

The key play of the inning came after the bases were loaded and Billy Hukill hit a pop fly to the outfield. The visiting Cowboys had a hard time handling the ball and three errors permitted Hukill to round the bases and score three men in front of him.

Texico added three more runs in the seventh and squelched a last-minute rally by the Cowboys.

In the girls game, Texico trailed all the way but rallied in the bottom half of the seventh inning to push across the winning runs.

After Friday's games, the Wolverines record stands at 4-1 and the girls' record is 3-1.

PLENTY OF BLOCKERS is what Farwell halfback Carroll Huggins (24) finds as he goes for good yardage in the second quarter of the Farwell-Morton game Friday night. Providing protection for the fleet Steer back are Quarterback Benjy Dial (11), Mike Nelson, (22) and another unidentified Steer. Farwell won the game, 30-8.

Contest Into Fifth Week

The Farwell business football contest nears the halfway point this week, with T. J. Kittrell and Dempsey still tied in the race for two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game.

W. M. Roberts, who had a hard time deciding which teams to pick in last week's contest, finally settled on the right teams and was the winner. He first had West Texas State and Dimmitt picked to win their games but, before submitting his entry, scratched those two out and picked Arizona State and Floydada.

These changes gave him nine correct picks and an almost perfect entry blank. Since Texas Tech and Texas A&M tied, there were no ten-game winners.

Four other entrants also had nine winners, but Roberts won on the tie-breaker score. His prediction was 29-8 and the actual score of the Farwell-Morton game was 30-8.

For the second straight week there was a tie for second and third places. Glenn Phillips and Mrs. Dan Truelove each picked nine winners and both had an identical tie-breaker score of 28-6.

The other two contestants who had the near-perfect entries were James Norton and John Hadley, but they lost out on the score.

Alexander and Kittrell didn't finish in the money this week to remain on top of the standings. Both have scores of 30 and are two games ahead of the four people tied for second.

Tough Sundown Next Foe

"If we can stop Butch Davis, we'll win," was the way Coach Dempsey Alexander summed up Friday's game between Farwell and Sundown.

What had been tabbed several weeks ago as one of the top clashes of the year on the South Plains has lost some of its lustre because Sundown has already lost two games this season. The Roughnecks were last year's state finalists and were ranked second in the state at the start of this season.

Potent Idalou beat Sundown in the season opener, 26-6, and last week Sudan handed them their second defeat, 22-14. The Roughnecks have won two games this year, edging Hale Center 12-8, and romping Anton, 50-18.

Even though the game won't have regional attention like it might have otherwise had, it still shapes up as being a good game. The Roughneck team is loaded with returning lettermen and could well develop into a leading contender for the Class A crown.

Davis, who was an all-state back last season, has been the sparkplug of the Sundown offense this year and will be a tough customer to stop.

In spite of losing to Sudan last week, the Roughnecks did display some real power, and according to some observers, the game was much closer than the score indicated.

The Farwell team is still plagued with injuries and sickness this week and this could well have a bearing on the outcome of Friday's game. Leon Lovelace and Jim Cain will still be out of the lineup and halfback Carroll Huggins was hampered early this week from a knee injury he received in the Morton game.

Commenting on last week's game with Morton, Alexander had plenty of praise for his team. "I thought they were hitting harder Friday night than they've hit any time during the past two years," he said.

Regarding the clipping penalties which cost Farwell two touchdowns, the coach admitted that they hurt, but he added, "We made up for them."

"When you have a team that's hitting hard, you're going to have a few clipping penalties," Alexander said. "You can't avoid them."

Kickoff time for the Farwell-Sundown game is 8 p.m. A good representation of Farwell fans will probably make the long trip down to the South Plains city for the game.

Grand Jury To Meet Tuesday

Sixteen jurors have been summoned to appear Tuesday at 10 a.m. as the fall session of the Parmer County Grand Jury gets under way.

Notices have been mailed to the jury panel by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace and there will be some 30 felony cases up for review. District Judge E. A. Bills will preside over the session.

Members of the jury panel who will be serving during the fall session are Roy Euler, Dalton Caffey, Mack Bainum, O. D. Bingham, Kenyth Cass, Oscar Baxter, Virgil Woodson, Dwight Sheriff, Joe Magness, Wilfred Quickel, E. M. Ware, H. J. Charles, Elmo Dean, R. L. Kimbrough, Leo J. Ruzicka, and A. G. Thorn.

FFA Boys Win 17 Ribbons

Eight members of the Texico FFA Chapter and their director, James Pierce, returned home from the state fair at Albuquerque last week with 17 ribbons in their possession.

Richard Ridings and Alfred Stover led the list of Texico winners, each showing a grand champion pig at the fair, as well as other winning animals.

Ridings showed the grand champion Berkshire boar in the open class. His Berkshire gilts placed first, second, third and fourth and he also had a Berkshire boar which won a first place ribbon.

Stover's Berkshire gilt was the grand champion in that division and he also had three firsts in the junior and senior sow pig divisions. Also, in the senior sow pig division Stover had one animal which placed third.

Other Texico boys who showed winning animals at the fair included Lee Spears, first place, Duroc gilt; Ronnie and Lonnie Curry, third and sixth place, Hampshire barrows, and third place, Chesterwhite barrow; Leon Kelly, fifth place, Duroc barrow; and Vernon Thigpen, fourth and fifth places, Duroc gilts.

The other ribbon, a second place, was awarded to the chapter for its booth on how to expel the threat of bloat.

Steers Beat Injuns For Fourth Win

Except for a few anxious moments in the third quarter, Farwell's hard-hitting Steers had little trouble Friday night making Morton victim No. 4 by a 30-8 score.

The Steers combined a balanced running attack with a rugged defensive game in the first half to roll up a 15-0 lead, and then staved off a last-half attempt on the part of the Indians to get back in the game.

Throughout the week the Steers had been plagued with injuries and sickness but it didn't show in the first half. Early in the first period, the Blue and White got their scoring machine in operation when Halfback Tommy Williams took a lateral from Quarterback Benjy Dial and ran down the sideline 70 yards for a touchdown.

Dial, on the keeper, first started to run with the ball but ran into a horde of Indian defenders. Just as he was tackled, Dial pitched out to Williams, who bobbed the ball momentarily managed to hold on, and behind good downfield blocking, went for the score. Dial kicked the extra point to put the Farwell team out front 7-0.

A few minutes later, after halting a Morton drive on the five yard line, Fullback Jerry Lovelace broke away for an 80-yard touchdown run. It was the finest run of the night, but it was nullified by a Steer clipping penalty.

This didn't dampen the Farwell team's spirit any, however, and they did continue to dominate play against the Class AA foe. They kept the Morton offense in check and midway through the second period, the Steers were able to muster another scoring drive.

Taking the ball on their own 40, the Steers utilized both passing and running plays for a sustained drive which was capped when Dial plunged over from the two. This time Dial ran over with the extra points.

Farwell's third touchdown came on the first play from scrimmage in the second half, when Halfback Carroll Huggins plowed through the middle of the line and broke away for a 60-yard scamper. Dial booted the extra point and it looked like the game was salted away.

Spanish Study Prepares Couple For Foreign Field

By Bettie Baldridge
 An Eastern New Mexico couple have stopped their travels briefly after having been to Costa Rica and before going on to Uruguay.
 They are Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Watson and daughter, Janet, who have been visiting since August 29 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Smith of Pleasant Hill, his mother, Mrs. Nora Watson of Portales, and other friends and relatives in the area. Mr. Watson has also been guest preacher at various churches in the area.

due to the low altitudes and torrid climate.
 Watson states that because of the good climate the Costa Ricans are some of the most energetic and hard working people that he has ever seen. However, siestas are still prominent. Nearly all Latin-owned businesses close for about two hours after dinner.

Negroes and West Indians who have been imported for this work, but the local girls are better help.

The Watsons' daughter, Janet, who will be three in January, was too small when they first went there to be put in nursery school and had to be left in the care of the maid. The Costa Ricans love children, so she had very good care. The latter part of their stay, Janet was able to go to nursery school, which is run by the First Methodist Church there.

San Jose is perhaps the most Americanized city in Central America. The mode of dress is much like ours except the ladies use more velvet, lace, and net, and they love loud colors and tight dresses.

All the women, from the poorest to the richest, take great pride in their sewing. Nearly every house has a sewing machine.

San Jose is a city of contrast. It has a population of about 135 to 140 thousand, or about the size of Amarillo. There are about 5,000 Americans there not including the language school students. In one block you might find the old-type central markets and in the next a super market.

There are not many North American cars, because most of them are too big for their narrow streets. They favor the small, economy-sized cars, and the foreign makes and jeeps. There are not many trucks as carts are used for hauling. These are drawn by horses in the city, but oxen are used in the country. All of these carts are beautifully painted and decorated and the people take great pride in them. The one in the picture is typical. Buses are numerous with one coming along about every three minutes.

All language students have to have domestic help because they are required to put in so many hours of study. The Watsons had a very good local girl who lived in. They paid her about $20 per month, the average for that type of work is $15. There are many

The official religion is Catholic, so of course the public schools are dominated by this religion. There are also the Catholic Church schools and the Methodist Church runs a secondary school with classes from kindergarten through high school. The National University is also located there and is one of the best recognized universities in South America. At the time the Watsons were there, there were 35 to 40 exchange students from the University of Kansas studying there.

The Watsons were sponsored by the Southern Baptist and helped some with the mission work. There are 12 organized Baptist churches in Costa Rica, five missions and about 12 preaching points. The Watsons were members of the Paso Ancho church which has an average attendance of 135. Of this number, only two families were white. The minister is a Costa Rican, and is a graduate of the Baptist Bible Institute. He was also the representative to the Baptist World Alliance which met in Rio de Janeiro in June and July. Billy Graham spoke there and it was said to be the largest evangelical meeting the world has ever known.

Mrs. Watson brought out the fact that you have to be very careful about uncooked vegetables and fruit. Because of the parasites, foods had to be soaked in an iodine and water solution for about 20 minutes in order to be safe to use.

Food sent in from North America was so high that they bought as little of it as possible. It takes much longer to prepare a meal because they don't have the pre-cooked, instant, and frozen foods that people from the United States have come to depend upon.

Mrs. Watson was the former Joan Smith and was born and reared in the Pleasant Hill community. She graduated from high school at Pleasant Hill and attended college at ENMU and West Texas State. She taught the first grade at Ft. Worth for four years.

Watson lived in Portales and Roosevelt County all of his life. He received his Bachelor of Arts at ENMU in 1951, majoring in religion and language. He attended West Texas State one year while he was pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church at Canyon. In 1956 he received his Bachelor of Divinity from Baptist Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth and also received his Master of Theology from there in January of this year.

In addition to pastoring at Canyon, he has also served at House, N. M., and the Valley View Baptist church in Nocona.

The Watsons are sailing for Uruguay October 31 where they will start their mission work. Their first year, they will be substituting for a couple coming home on furlough. Mr. Watson will be director of a primary school in Conchillas and they will also do general field work. Later on, they hope to direct in the seminary there. They received their appointment for Uruguay in May of 1959 from the Southern Baptist Mission Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dykes attended the wedding of their grandson, Jerry Walker, in Sudan last Saturday. He is the son of the Ted Walkers who were former residents of this area.

gown of handclipped toulouse Alencon lace over Baroness bridal satin, styled with a scalloped V neckline encrusted with seed pearls and rhinestones. The basque waist featured small covered buttons down the back as did the long fitted sleeves that came to petal points over the hands. The skirt was enhanced by a scalloped hemline. A fingertip veil of ivory silk illusion fell from a Juliet pearl cap which was highlighted with rhinestones.

The bride carried a white satin Bible covered with garlands of white stephanotis and centered with a nosegay of white butterfly roses accented with white satin picot streamers and white tufts of French tulle.

As something old the bride wore a single strand of pearls given to her after the death of her grandmother, Mrs. T. A. Harden. These pearls were broken long ago and restrung for the wedding. The white satin covered Bible, a gift from the bridegroom's parents, served as something new. She wore a lucky coin in her shoe which was minted in the year of her birth, and wore a blue lace garter highlighted with pink forget-me-nots and pearls.

Dewey Harden of Clovis, cousin of the bride, and Kent Taylor of Sallisaw, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ushers. Candelighters were Marty Means of Hereford and Mark Means of Farwell. Best man was Paul Crooks of Texico. Groomsmen were Stanley Wilson of Clovis, brother of the bride, and Gary Taylor of Sallisaw, nephew of the groom.

The bride's mother, wearing a champagne beige ensemble of lurex brocade with walnut brown accessories, and the bridegroom's mother, dressed in a two-piece brown silk frock with matching accessories, each wore a shoulder corsage of pink aristocrat roses.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the First Church of God. The table was laid with a cloth of white organdy with lace insertions over pink taffeta and was made by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. E. L. Hatfield of Grady. It featured a fan shaped arrangement of white asters and pink rubrum lilies. Colors of pink and white were carried throughout with the white napkins personalized with pink, pink fruit punch, pink and white mints, and pink candles.

The three-tiered wedding cake displayed the traditional bride and groom figurine under a white archway. It was served by Mrs. T. A. Harden of Clovis, aunt of the bride. Miss Judy Means of Hereford presided at the crystal punch bowl. Others assisting at the reception were Miss Doloris Gregory of Lubbock, Mrs. Maurice Means of Hereford, Mrs. C. D. Harden, Mrs. Eugene Fulgham and Mrs. V. H. Miller, all of Clovis. Mrs. Lloyd Means of Farwell registered guests at the reception.

A supper for the wedding party, given in the home of the bride's parents on Saturday night before the wedding, was hosted by Mrs. Maurice Means, assisted by Mrs. C. D. Harden and Mrs. L. H. Means.

Texico-Farwell Couple Exchange Wedding Vows

Mary Ann McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McDaniel of Texico, and Larry Douglas Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Almer Powell of Farwell, were united in marriage in an informal ceremony at 5 p.m. (cst.) Sept. 15 at the First Christian Church at Clovis. Bro. R. C. Bolton, minister, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar backed by greenery. Roger Powell, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and LaNelda Wall, Texico, was the maid of honor. Brother of the bride, Earl McDaniel, was usher.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street length dress of soft flowing dacron chiffon. The dress was an original design of the bride and had three-quarter length sleeves and a fitted bodice trimmed with white lace. The fingertip veil of net was attached to a white bandeau. For her flowers she chose a yellow carnation corsage.

As something old, the bride wore a 1942 penny in her shoe, her dress was new and, for some borrowed, she carried a white Bible borrowed from her sister, Beulah, and she wore a blue garter.

Miss Wall wore a pastel pink street length dress with full-gathered elbow length sleeves, a fitted bodice, and pleated skirt. Her hat was of pink pleated net and lace.

The bride's mother, dressed in blends of gray and orchid, and the bridegroom's mother, in black, each wore black accessories.

bride, served. The reception table was laid with a white lace cloth over yellow and featured an arrangement of white gladioli, yellow mums and asters.

Four Die In This Wreck

Four persons lost their lives last Friday morning when these two cars collided head-on near the Farmer and Bailey County lines on Highway 70-84. Killed instantly were Mrs. Joseph Gulik and her daughter of Denver, who were riding in the front seat of the 1960 Chevrolet station wagon (left). Two Clovis men, Virgil L. Allen, 20, and Joel Benton Davenport, 21, were passengers in the 1955 Chevrolet (right). Allen was dead on arrival at a Muleshoe hospital and Davenport died several hours later. A blowout on the '55 Chevrolet was thought to have been the cause of the accident.

One of the wise remarks overheard as the Baptist men were washing dishes the other night after the fish fry, "Way back in the good ol' days when a fellow got tired of washing dishes he got married, now he goes over to Sears and buys a $149.00 dishwasher."

We still have a good supply of wheat and barley seed. We were able to get a 1000 pounds of Elbon rye the other day and it might pay to watch this for a winter grazing crop. It has made 50% more grazing during the really cold months of December, January and February. Billy Sides who farms just north of Oklahoma Lane will have 16 acres of this under grazing this winter, so try to remember to look at it during one of the above months.

When will it frost? After looking at some of the late feed north of town I am of the opinion that it can't afford to until after the 1st of November. I believe Gene Sterling has his ordered for November 20th or later.

Two of the prettiest farm yards north of town belong to Mrs. O. L. Woody and her daughter, Mrs. Willie Hester. It's always encouraging to see a farm that has grass, flowers and trees in the yard.

R. L. Douglas has the only crop of cotton I have seen that is double planted on top of the bed. This is nothing new to Mr. Douglas and his present boll count looks like it will again make close to two bales per acre. Come see us.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Woolley, Gladstone, visited Mr. and Mrs. Loren Wilson, Texico, Sept. 15. Mrs. Woolley is vice-president of the New Mexico Rural Letter Carriers Association Auxiliary and Mr. Woolley is an executive committee member for the carriers. The Woolleys have been attending fairs and horse shows to show their registered quarter horses. Woolley is also a rodeo performer and rodeo judge.

Life Is Worth Your Living

By Robert O. Tomlinson

"The pause that refreshed." Life must have moments of rest and refreshments. Worship is the pause that refreshes the spirit. And the physical body has to have food and refreshment, so the spiritual life has to have spiritual food and spiritual refreshment.

Worship in spirit and in truth is the fellowship of the living Christ and like minded persons. The Lord's Day, the Christian Sabbath, is almost an American institution. It has had its highest development in America.

It is God's day for rest, worship, and restoration of the spirit. It is the day to "recharge" for the week ahead. Had you ever thought that there was not one decaying thread in our national life until we began to use the Lord's Day for social and business profits?

And no force, within or without, can destroy our nation until Christian worship is destroyed. When the day of worship goes from our nation then our nation goes. Look out, the evening worship, is almost gone, -- will the morning services go too?

"You shall worship the Lord Your God and Him only shall you serve." Man becomes like that which he worships. As we worship the Christ, we become more like him, and life becomes worth your living.

Steers Beat Injuns--

was bogging down on their own 47, End Tommy Morrison grabbed a long, downhill pass away from three Farwell defenders and waltzed across for a score.

The Indians added two extra points and the complexion of the game changed a few minutes later when a Farwell pass was intercepted on the Morton 40. The Indians drove down to the Farwell 24 before the drive was stopped and the Steers took over.

Farwell's final score came late in the fourth period when Lovelace put on a dazzling display of broken field running. The hard-charging fullback drove through the middle of the line, eluded the grasp of several defenders and travelled 40 yards to paydirt. Dial ran over with the extra point to complete the scoring for the night.

Feed Mission Team Tours Farmer County

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

In an effort to find a new market for its abundant supply of grain sorghum, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association was host last week to a six-man feed grain mission team from Japan.

Three members of the team were in Farmer County Thursday touring grain sorghum fields, feed mills and feed lots. The visit to Farmer County by these foreign agricultural experts was part of the first leg of a tour which will take them to production, marketing and feed utilization facilities throughout the United States. Sponsors of the feed mission are the U. S. Feed Grains Council, of which the Grain Sorghum Producers Association is a member, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service.

Here to investigate the possible purchase of new feedstuffs for Japan's fast-expanding livestock industry, the visitors reported at the end of their tour that they were impressed with the production of grain sorghum in Farmer County.

Arriving in Friona Thursday morning from Happy, the visitors met at Friona State Bank with Dub Anthony, president of the Farmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Association; Farmer County Agent Joe Jones, and other members of the association.

The group discussed the production of grain sorghum in the county and the visitors were shown samples of various grain sorghum by-products before starting on the tour. The tour included visits to the feed processing mill at Cummings Farm Store, inspection of facilities at Friona Wheat Growers Elevator and a visit to Jack Tomlin's demonstration plot of various grain sorghum varieties near Hub.

At the demonstration plot the foreign guests were shown how different varieties are grown side by side for the purpose of seeing which varieties will do best under similar growing conditions.

The visitors also toured the chicken and egg production facilities of the Houser brothers at Friona and the Farwell Feed Lots. The tour was concluded with a visit to Worley Mills in Clovis.

Members of the team which visited Farmer County were Morihisa Emori, chairman of Japan Cereal and Feedstuffs Importers' Association; Hanjuro Kotake, Feed Department of Japan National Farm Cooperative Association; and Kohel Yamanouchi, Mill-feed By-product Producer's Association and Feed Manufacturer.

The other three members of the team, which included Zenichiro Yasuda, director of the Japan Ministry of Agriculture and Livestock Bureau, were in Castro County during the day. The three visitors who were in Farmer County were special guests at a luncheon in the Friona Community Building Thursday noon. Jeff Peeler, legislative director of the sorghum producers association, explained the purpose of the feed grain mission and County Agent Jones showed slides of grain sorghum crops in the county and how the grain is utilized.

Also speaking at the luncheon was one of the foreign guests, Mr. Emori. He explained how the diet of the Japanese people has been improving and the reason for his country's need for more protein foods.

Japan, with its wealth of population, during the past decade has been experiencing an industrial boom and subsequently a higher standard of living for its citizens.

An outcome of changing dietary habits and the continued increase of per capita income in Japan has been the development of a large and fast-growing demand for livestock products such as meat, milk and eggs.

Japanese farmers are finding livestock enterprises more profitable and are making every effort to take advantage of this situation. Also, the Japanese government is vitally interested in improving both the income standards of farmers and the food habits of its people than 90 million, Japan will never be able to provide the necessary staple foods as well as feed for a livestock program.

That's where the United States comes in, especially since this nation's problem in recent years has been a grain surplus instead of a shortage. Currently, less than one-fourth of Japan's feed imports are supplied by the U. S., and it is hoped that visits similar to the Japan Feed Grain Mission will be mutually beneficial to both countries.

As explained in brochure put out by the U. S. Feed Grains Council regarding the Japanese mission, the Japanese and Americans "have a bond of mutual interest in the sharing of information, technical know-how and resources of a free agriculture."

The Japanese have imported corn from the United States for several years, but they have never imported grain sorghum. The reason for inviting the Japanese to the High Plains area, which is the largest grain sorghum producing section in the country, was to sell the Japanese visitors on this area's number one farm product.

Recently, two millions bushels of grain sorghum were shipped to Japan and the grain sorghum association plans to follow through by sending representatives to the country.

Announcing the 1961 Ford ... Beautifully proportioned to the

CLASSIC FORD LOOK

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority, Centro per L'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you ... and for itself!

- It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Good-bye grease racks! What's more, it cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.
- It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.
- Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.
- Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford ... beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look... beautifully built to take care of itself.

Conservation Award Goes To Carl Schlenker

Carl Schlenker

Carl Schlenker of the Rhea Community was honored Tuesday evening at the annual Soil Conservation District Banquet as Conservation Farmer of the Year. This choice was made by a committee appointed by the Soil Conservation District board of supervisors.

Schlenker, a native of the community, owns a section of land and irrigates most of it from three wells by using about two miles of concrete underground pipe. Loss of tail water on his farm is very small and most of it goes on his native grass pasture.

In addition to utilizing the tail water from his fields, Schlenker makes use of surplus water from other farms. Water that flows down the north side of a dike and is re-used. At the present time he is planning to set up a pump and motor to pick up waste water that flows down a ditch on the south side of his farm.

This outstanding farmer is a breeder of registered Polled Herefords and feeds out calves and lambs from time to time and has planted part of the farm to pasture to accommodate his livestock.

He practices a conservation cropping system by growing primarily high residue crops and rotates them over the farm. All residue is utilized by being worked into the soil and a rotovator has recently been purchased for this operation. No stubble is ever burned.

Before irrigation Schlenker used a system of terraces on steeper land and strip cropped on the contour to prevent wind and water erosion. He used a rotation program of grain sorghum, summer fallow and wheat. At the present time he has contoured rows wherever possible to improve the application of water and reduce loss of water.

Schlenker and his wife, the former Velma Schueler, and their four children, Connie, Floyd, Jim and Carlene, live on the farm, which is about fourteen miles west and 1 1/2 north of Friona. The children attend Friona schools.

Mrs. Schlenker assists her husband in the operation of Rhea Grain and Fertilizer, a business which is located on the farm.

He is a member of the Parmer County Community Hospital board of directors, has served on the Soil Conservation District board for two terms and has been a member of the High Plains Underground Water District board of directors for the past five years.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

This past week three members of the six member Japanese "Feed Grain Mission" visited elevators, sorghum fields, feed mills, and feed lots in Parmer County. This group was in Parmer County to observe feeding operations, feed preparations and feed grains used in these operations. They are here as a result of efforts put forth by the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The Japanese are including more protein in their diet each year and to continue to do this it will take more feed grains to produce meat. This offers us a market for grain sorghum and of course is not being overlooked by the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Marketing of grain sorghum is one of our big problems and of course we should do everything possible to move a good product into the trade channels. Contamination of grain sorghum is one thing we must continue to guard against. To market a good product we must keep the product pure, so be sure to sweep trucks clean after hauling seed wheat to the field. It is easy to get a little treated seed wheat in grain sorghum unless trucks are cleaned up.

Also, keep cottonseed away from grain sorghum. One cottonseed in a load of grain sorghum going west can sure cause trouble and expense to the purchaser when found at the California Port of Entry. Lets keep down contamination and try to give the purchaser what he wants and can use.

Friday Sept. 30th we will tour the grain sorghum variety demonstrations on Jack Tomlin and Bob Riethmayer farms. We will meet on Jack Tomlin's farm one-half mile south of Hub at 9:30 a.m. After observing the 13 different varieties there we will go to Bob Riethmayer and see 12 different varieties seeded double row. We should be finished by 11:00 a.m.

Quality cattle are usually as good if not the best buy in cattle any time. This becomes more true as prices lower and the value of 100 pounds of meat put on in the feed lot is near or below the cost of putting the 100 pounds on. Better keep this in mind when purchasing cattle this fall that will be classed as feeders next spring. You may not plan to feed them but someone will and the price will be reflected in light of the cost of putting on a hundred pounds in the feed lot and the value per 100 pounds after they are finished.

This is not to say crossbreds are not good because crossbreds are very popular with feeders. But it is to say cattle should be quality beef breeds that will have shape and be capable of finishing out a choice carcass. The color or markings matter little but how they will

Grain Sorghum Tour Friday

A tour of two grain sorghum demonstration fields in Parmer County is scheduled for Friday, September 30, announces Joe Jones, Parmer County Agent. All area farmers and other interested persons are invited to gather at Jack Tomlin's sorghum demonstration plot one mile south of the Hub at 9 a.m. for the first part of the tour.

The group will observe eight rows of 13 different hybrid grain varieties at the Tomlin farm and will then proceed to the Bob Rietmayer farm three miles east and three and one-half miles north of the Hub. Here the members of the tour will see eight rows each of 12 different varieties seeded two rows to the lister ridge.

"These demonstrations are being grown to give farmers a chance to observe side by side the more widely-grown hybrids and to give them the opportunity to observe a few of the new hybrids and compare them with the more commonly grown hybrids," Jones says. The eight row plots at each of these two demonstration areas will be harvested and weighed separately and yields from each variety will be published for the benefit of grain sorghum growers, Jones explains.

The 13 varieties of sorghum planted at the Tomlin farm were DeKalb F-63, DeKalb F-62, Lindsey 722, Golden Acres TE 66, Steckleys R 111, Amak R 12, Amak Red Raider, Amak Ranger, R. S.630, Texas 611, R. S. 610, Texas 620, and Texas 660.

All of these varieties were seeded on May 19, the ground received 82 pounds of nitrogen before planting and 41 pounds of side dressing on July 1. The seeding rate was 6 1/2 pounds per acre in singlerows. Varieties planted on the Rietmayer farm were Texas 660, Lindsey 788, Amak R 12, DeKalb F-63, P.A.G. 665, Steckleys 108, Golden Acres TE 55, Amak Red Raider, Amak Coastol, DeKalb F-62, R. S. 610, and Texas 601. This plot received 82 pounds of nitrogen preplant, was seeded in double rows at a rate of 8 pounds per acre and the seeding date was May 24.

Friday's tour will be the first of two planned in the county. A second one, to be at the Melvin Sachs farm near Rhea, is scheduled for a later date.

Farm Bureau Convention Slated For Thursday, October 6

At 8 p. m. Thursday, October 6, the 12th annual Parmer County Farm Bureau Convention will begin at the Oklahoma Lane Community Building. Personal invitations are being mailed to all members and Herman Gerles, president, urges each member of every family to attend. During the business session five directors and a president will be elected. Nominations will be accepted from the floor, so anyone present will be able to nominate any person he feels is qualified to hold office.

Various committees have planned meetings this week and an interesting and informative program is being planned. No speaker has been engaged, but Herman Gerles, president; Vernon Symcox, secretary-treasurer; and Gilbert Kaltwasser will be present.

These three attended a policy development meeting of Farm Bureau District Two in Lubbock last Thursday. Any one of them will be willing to pass on information pertaining to minimum for farm workers, the bracero program, marketing methods, taxes and other matters of vital interest to farmers that were discussed at this meeting. Mr. Gerles would like to emphasize the importance of being present at this meeting. He says, "Being present gives you a voice in the affairs of this, your organization, and by taking advantage of this opportunity, you will have a voice in matters affecting your farming business for the next year."

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

One week from this Thursday night, October 6, eight o'clock, Oklahoma Lane Community Building. This is the time and place for the 12th annual Farm Bureau Convention in Parmer County. The building is located on the road that runs from the Oklahoma Lane crossroads to Clay's Corner, on the Muleshoe highway. It is four miles east of the Oklahoma Lane crossroads, or six and one half miles west of Clay's Corner, on the south side of the road. It is a metal quonset-type building. Members will receive individual invitations, and we would like to see most of them there with their families. This is a family affair. Committees will be meeting several nights between now and then, preparing a program that will interest you. This is where you can have a voice in circumstances affecting your farming business for the next year. Be there.

Herman Gerles, president; Vernon Symcox, secretary-treasurer; and Gilbert Kaltwasser attended a policy development meeting of Farm Bureau District Two in Lubbock last Thursday. No decisions were made, but subjects of vital importance, like minimum wages for farm workers, bracero program, marketing methods, taxes, and many others were discussed. Wagner Carr, of Lubbock spoke at a banquet held in the evening.

Remember that you must file for the three or four cents per gallon Federal Tax Refund on tractor gas before the first of October. You can get forms for this from your county agent, at the post office, or here at the Farm Bureau Office. This refund covers a whole year, so it's important.

"A man may learn from the Bible to be a more thorough gentleman than if he had been brought up in all the drawing rooms in London." Charles Kingsley wrote the above statement.

Remember that there will be five directors and a president elected at the convention next week at Oklahoma Lane Community Building. If you know someone you would like for any of these offices, please be there to name him. He may be elected.

CONSIDER THIS: "Fret not thyself because of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked; for there shall be no reward to the evil man; the candle of the wicked shall be put out." Proverbs 24:19-20.

AT FRIONA WHEAT GROWERS ELEVATOR, the Japanese visitors were shown the mechanical method of recording the temperature of grain stored in the elevator bins. Shown here are Hanjuro Kotake of Japan and Arthur Drake, manager of the elevator.

INSPECTING A FIELD OF MAIZE at the Jack Tomlin farm near Hub are these three members of a Japanese Feed Grain Mission team which is touring the United States. Joining them on the tour of Parmer County were Dub Anthony, left, president of the Parmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Bill Nichols, secretary of the association.

THE ELECTRIC CO-OP PROVIDES

PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS

When the Electric Cooperatives of Texas were first organized, their members agreed to serve anyone in their rural area who needed electricity.

The members borrowed money at interest to build their own electric systems and they are paying back principle and interest, often ahead of schedule.

This broad plan of area coverage has revolutionized rural life. Twenty five years have passed since this covenant was made and the pledge is still unbroken.

Today the member-owners of the 77 electric cooperatives serving Texas can point with pride to efficient, dependable electric systems providing PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS.
