Tech' Colege Should be Located to Serve Greatest Number"

Of all the lopsided arguments concering the Technological College the following from the Brownwood Ban-

"Day by day in every way prospects for Brownwood securing the Technological College grow brighter and brighter. Many people have confused the original plan to establish a strictly West Texas A. & M. with the school of Technology, when in fact there is wide difference in the two. The Technological College is to be an institution for all the people of Texas, and by all means its location should be made where the most people would he most conveniently served. The fight for the establishment of a West Texas A. & M. was started by a few people in the extreme western part of the state on the grounds that the distance was too great for them to send to the A. & M. College at Bryan, and due to the fact that Texas is so big their claim was that a similar school should be located in their section. But the legislature which recently authorized the Technological College after careful consideration concluded that a strictly West Texas A. & M. was not needed so badly as one that would afford a technical training for the boys and girls of the entire state, and now since this College is to be an institution for all the people it would be folly to think of locating it way out, in the ragged edge of the west - in some ranchman's big pasture. The locating board of the Technological College is composed of men who are well informed on Texas school needs and it is thinking too little of these men to imagine that they will establish this College where it will favor a few at the expense of the many. Brownwood is the geographical center of Texas, with railroad facilities which enable people from all parts of the state to reach this city in the shortest time possible. Brownwood is already a college town and is well equipped with boarding houses for students, and with all the natural advantages the location of the College at Brownwood would simply be serving the greatest number of the people of Texas."

Some forty-odd towns will differ very strongly with the Brownwoodian in all his arguments except the one that Brownwood comes nearer being in Central Texas than in West Texas. His "Jeca finding that the "Tech" Colnot thrive unless it is located in East Texas or in Central Texas is the veriest rot. Texas University has managed to pull thru_though it is for all Texas, and was not located at the geographic center of the state, nor near the center of population.

mittee are going to be big and broad enough to locate this College in West Texas as was the intent of the law, and where it will best serve the future needs of the section it is to serve as well as all of Texas.

The Brownwood writer seems to be of the opinion that "the few people in the extreme western part of the state should be snubbed for their audacity in starting the movement which resulted in the securing of this great institution for West Texas and the school should be placed as near as possible to the other state institutions,

Brownwood needs to note the spirit of San Antonio-her people realize that the citizens of West Texas deserve a square deal in this matter,

'lech' Colege Should be Located to Little Land Serve Greatest Number"

Of all the lopsided arguments concering the Technological College the following from the Brownwood Banner-Bulletin takes the cake:

"Day by day in every way prospects for Brownwood securing the Technoogical College grow brighter and brighter. Many people have confused the original plan to establish a strictly West Texas A. & M. with the school of Technology, when in fact there is wide difference in the two. The Technological College is to be an institution for all the people of Texas, and by all means its location should be made where the most people would be most conveniently served. The fight for the establishment of a West Texas A. & M. was started by a few people in the extreme western part of tance was too great for them to send to the A. & M. College at Bryan, and due to the fact that Texas is so big their claim was that a similar school should be located in their section. But the legislature which recently authorized the Technological College after careful consideration concluded that a strictly West Texas A. & M. was not needed so badly as one that would afford a technical training for the boys and girls of the entire state, and now since this College is to be an institution for all the people it would be folly to think of locating it way out in the ragged edge of the west - in some ranchman's big pasture. The locating board of the Technological College is composed of men who are well informed on Texas school needs and it is thinking too little of these men to imagine that they will establish this College where it will favor a few at the expense of the many. Brownwood is the geographical center of Texas, with railroad facilities which enable people from all parts of the state to reach this city in the shortest time possible. Brownwood is already a college town and is well equipped with boarding houses for students, and with all the natural advantages the location of the College at Brownwood would simply be serving the greatest number of the people of Texas."

Some forty-odd towns will differ very strongly with the Brownwoodian in all his arguments except the one that Brownwood comes nearer being in Central Texas than in West Texas. Hig., "Secuffinding, that the "Tech" Colnot thrive unless it is located in East Texas or in Central Texas is the veriest rot. Texas University has managed to pull thru_though it is for all Texas, and was not located at the geographic center of the state, nor near the center of population.

The members of the locating con Texas as was the intent of the law, and where it will best serve the future needs of the section it is to serve as well as all of Texas

The Brownwood writer seems to be of the opinion that "the few people in the extreme western part of the state should be snubbed for their audacity in starting the movement which resulted in the securing of this great institution for West Texas and the school should be placed as near as possible to the other state institutions.

Brownwood needs to note the spirit of San Antonio-her people realize that the citizens of West Texas deserve a square deal in this matter,

With lovely Betty Compson as the society girl who prefers a crook to her rich lovers. The some are set amid New York's jazziest lights and secret shadows.

-Jazz babies and tenement waifs, slick crooks and slick lounge lizards, New York's froth and bitter dregs—it's all in "Kick In." -George Fitzmaurice tried for three years to buy the screen rights to "Kick In." Paramount bought them for him and said, "Go the limit!"

There's a kick in every s cene, every title, every second—ehildren disclosed an alarming percentage in deficient health. Physicians are warn-ing their friends to watch child health carefully at this season. It is now defi-nitely known that weak eyes, poor teeth, twisted bones and wasted frames are directly traceable to a deficiency disease. Not a deficiency of food, but lack of the vital elements the food should supply. Usually the first indication of approaching deficiency disease is loss of weight.

At the first sign of loss of weight, start your children on Ironized Yeast. It supplies the vitamines needed and will soon have the children in normal health. According to Dr. Atherton Seidell of the U. S. Public Health Service, Dr. W. H. Eddy of Columbia University and other eminent scientists, brewer's yeast is the richest source of vitamine. That is what Ironized Yeast is-a concentrated extract of brewer's yeast in union with the iron needed to enrich the blood.

A ten-day treatment of Irenized Yeast costs only a dollar. Its use will make a wenderful improvement in your child—it will bring back normal weight, rosy cheeks, bright, snappy eyes and the vim and vigot of happy childhood. As the Editor Sees It Is this a good country in which to live and prosper?

Millions of people in other countries think so, whether you do or not. They want to break through our immigration barriers and become citizens with us, and are making use of every known device to attain that end.

American consuls abroad are literally deluged with requests for passports. with every conceiveable pressure backing up those requests.

Fortunately, however, the number that can be admitted to our shores is limited by law, otherwise they would become a pest surpassing the seven year locusts.

Think a little before you thoughtlessly condemn a country that appears so strongly to other people.

Three thousand or more years ago King Tut reigned in Egypt. Tut was a great old boy and a very rich king and when he died he caused much on painted over.

His grave was recently discovered and opened and its treasures exposed to the envy of modernity. Very rich men of today do not have their wealth buried with them: It is needed to support their gilded ofrspring in idleness.

Back in those days it is assumed that a young man stood on his own feet. Today many of them merely rattle around in their dad's old shoes of less value than the shoes.

Why are we paying a profiteering price for gasoline-or near-gasolinethat reeks with kerosene oil?

.. Possibly that question has been an swered by a senatorial committee that has been making an exhaustive investigation of the question.

That committee has made its report and the report justifies us in the belief that the Standard Oil company abso lutely dominates the gas and oil industry of the United States.

How much is your horse worth? It wouldn't be worth much if it hadn't been properly fed and groomed and trained. At best it would be wild and difficult to control, if not merely an everyday plug.

I is much the same with the child that is growing up, and the results are more far reaching.

If the child is properly fed and its appetite is kept under proper restraint it will develop a physique of priceless

Courts May Afford West Texas Coun

East Texas again saddles the burden of over-taxation on West Texas. Representatives of the 99 counties that do not pay their share of taxes the upkeep of the state succeeded in defeating in the legislature the Satterwhite bill for tax equalization.

Although confronted with official figures taken from state records to show their counties were tax slackers. they voted down this effort to give all counties a square deal ..

With no hope of obtaining legislative relief, it now appears the courts afford the only remedy.

Information from the National Tax association shows 34 states have corrected similar inequalities in taxation, four of them by court action-after legislative correction was refused.

Three of the four won final victories in their own courts. One was obliged to carry its case to the supreme court of the United States and won it.

These 99 countles in Texas have 40 per cent of the state's population and comprise one-third its area. In effect they pay no taxes but get a bonus for being in Texas. They pay small sums to the state and draw out large sums. That is the reason members of the legislature from those counties vote special state taxes so readily. The money will not come out of their pockets and those of their constituents. On the contrary, they stand an excellent chance of drawing back still greater sums from the state treasury by reason of the special tax.

East Texas counties assess their property at about 15 per cent of its value. Ninety-three of the 99 countles reduced their assessments in 1922 by $60,126,000. The result was that the state tax rate was forced up from 62 to 75 cents. These are official figures drawn from the state tax commissioner's report issued in January,

This heavy reduction in assessed valuations by the 93 counties has forced the 153 paying counties, mostly in West Texas, to pay the state 20 per cent additional taxes this year. Thus they have to pay excess taxes in addition to the 30 per cent excess which they were paying in 1921-22.

Sixty per cent of the people of Texas, living in two-thirds the area of the state are paying tribute to 40 per cent of the population living in the remaining one-third of the state.

This tribute amounts to nearly $3,250,000 a year.

Thirty-five counties of the 99 get the major share of this great sum. In the three year period under discussion the three year period under discussion these 35 counties got $6,837,000 of this $9,733,000 bonus. The other 64 east $3,000,000 of the West Texas counties' charge of criminal syndicalism is now POSITORY OF BORDEN COM opening in Michigan.

Foster is the leader in the United States of Russian communism, the accredited representative of the Third Internationale. He was 'the "borer from within"-to use his own termin the American Federation of Labor until the federation found him out and got rid of him.

Foster lost prestige when he foment ed the great steel strike o f1919 which ended so disastrously to the strikers. People have Foster's measure, know what he represents, and do not take him very seriously. It merely happens that he is the first of 32 radicals to go to trial on charges of having violated Michigan's criminal syndicalism law.

Of concern to the public is the novel defence to be offered. The defence is that if the law was violated, such violations were instigated by agents of certain great private detective bureaus. A deposition by Albert Bailin is expected to figure in this. Bailin recently declared he had been a detective agent, a spy and a man hired to stir up "reds" to make trouble so the ...ec'ive agencies could arrest them and make a good showing to the employers of the agencies. He said the ranks of radicals are honeycombed with agents of the detective firms, and with secret service men of the federal department of justice. By his own admission, Bailin made himself out a treacherous crook and a conscienceless double-crosser. The detective agencies named denied promptly having been engaged in such plottings as Bailin alleged.

Nevertheless, the very suggestion that truble-making spies are being em ployed in America to stir up radical agitation is so repugnant to American ideas that the country will welcome whatever light may be thrown on the matter in the Michigan trials.—El Paso Herald.

The Agricultural Credits Act of 1923. Statement by the Secretary of Agriculture, Henry C. Wallace:

On the last day it was in session Congress enacted the Agricultural Credits Act. This act is designated to give the farmer the sort of credit he needs to produce efficiently and market in an orderly way the products of the farm. It is an effort by Congress to meet a need which has been felt for at least fifty years. The act may not be perfect. Quite possibly experience will show the need of amendments from time to time. But it furnishes the basis for a system of intermediate credit adapted to farm conditions and farm needs. Also it should bring about a reduction in the interest which farmers must pay for money borrowed.

The act is divided into two parts In the first, it provides government agencies for handling agricultural loans. In the second it authorizes the organization of private agencies under government supervision for making loans on live-stock security and on farm commodities on the way to mar-

The government loan activities will be carried on in connection with the Federal land banks. At the present time the country is divided into twelve districts, and in each of these districts there is a Federal land bank which makes land mortgage loans, these twelve banks being directed by a central Federal Farm Loan Bureau in Washington. In connection with each of these land banks there is to be established an intermediate credit bank, located in the same city with the land bank and under the supervision of the officers and directors of the land bank. The Federal government supplies each of these intermediate credit banks with a capital of not to exceed $5,000,-000. These intermediate credit banks are authorized to discount farmers' notes which have been taken by banks and other financial institutions, and then carry such notes for a term of from six months to three years. The banks may also loan direct to farmers' marketing associations. Heretofore cooperative associations under condi-
