

FROM THE HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

The Grahams moved their boys ranch off of the state line a month or so ago, and we've enjoyed our new neighborhood over on Third Street, although it's not certain whether this emotion has been reciprocal with the neighbors.

At least we haven't been asked to leave and I don't see any signs in the laws hereabout offering houses for sale. I take this as a signal that the world is becoming more patient and tolerant, because having four kids dropped into an otherwise serene neighborhood where the birds sang and the flowers bloomed is about like a symbol crash in the middle of a preacher's prayer.

There are undertones, though, that we haven't been entirely able to ignore. Clyde Magness had owned a vacant lot next door for gosh knows how many years. As I understand it, he had always planned to build a new home for himself there. I'm sure it's the merest of coincidences that he disposed of his lot and announced plans to build elsewhere a few short weeks after we moved in.

By the way, I would like to point out that we are teaching our kids about property rights. John, the 3-year-old, is supervising the building of the Wels home next door, but doing it all very legally.

He stands atop the fence which is on our property line and shouts his questions and instructions to the laborers nearby. Once in a while one of them will make like they're coming after him but John knows that if he hops down on his side of the fence he's safe from intrusions.

Jeanne thinks the new house is great and I guess I have to agree, except that I haven't gotten around to driving a nail in the door jamb to hang the key on. This is something that is an absolute must for me.

I hold the world's record for losing keys and managed to lose mine to the front door of this house in four days flat. That means that I have to stand outside and bang the screen when I get home at night to get the wife to come let me in.

This is doubly dangerous because not only does she now know what hour I come dragging in, but when she is plodding through the house 95 percent asleep anything breakable in her path is in peril. Besides, with winter coming on it is getting danged uncomfortable standing there on the porch waiting to get in.

I was born with a suspicious streak in me and it raises doubts in my mind from time to time about various things. I don't go around biting quarters or wrinkling dollar bills and when Mama promises me my share of the stew I don't measure my bowl against the boys', but I have been caught poring over the fine print once in a while just to make sure I knew what was going on.

One thing that has been bothering me during the past few months has been the extreme courtesy of the New Mexico highway patrol. The Sunshine State has the biggest bunch of friendly-looking cops I have ever seen. Whenever you meet them on the highway they will wave at you. I mean wave at everybody.

I'll bet that this amounts to quite a bit of physical exertion by time a day on the prowl goes by, and I wonder if the troopers are ordered by the big chief in Albuquerque to just keep on waving no matter how tired they get.

I also wonder if there are some days when by gosh they just don't feel like waving, and if they have to keep it up I wonder if this doesn't result in frustrations and inner tensions that might damage their personalities.

If this waving was but a custom of the corps -- sort of a tradition from years past for the state -- I would be all for it. But it seems to me that one day I noticed they were waving at me, and they have been waving ever since. . . ham, just like that. That's the thing that makes me suspicious.

You know, a guy could get lulled into an attitude of complacency when passing all these friendly cops, and forget for a moment or two that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

Voters Ready For Big Election

A NEW ERA

Tuesday is election day in Farwell and Parmer County, and voters are poised on the eve of what promises to be one of the more interesting "off-year" elections in these parts in many years.

Reason for the added interest is the fact that the Republican party has made a real go of it this year, and is rated a shot at the governor's chair "for the first time since reconstruction days" in many circles.

There are 12 Republicans on the ballot which Parmer County voters will see, which still leaves 17 offices uncontested, but most of the major state and district offices promise heated battles between the two parties for the first time in many years.

Republicans are fielding more candidates this year in the state than ever before. There are 18 candidates for the U. S. legislature, compared to a previous high of five, 85 for the state legislature, against a former high of 17, and 15 for the state senate, where only three ever ran before.

One of the Republican candidates for the state senate is John Zahn, Farwell, who opposes veteran senator Andy Rogers of Childress in the District 30 race.

This race, along with the state representative race, which pits Democrat Bill Clayton of Springlake against Republican Frank Ford of Hereford, has drawn particular interest in the Parmer County area.

Other races of interest are the governor's race, with John Connally (D) battling Jack Cox (R); the race for U. S. Representative, 18th District, featuring incumbent Walter Rogers (D-Pampa) against Jack Seale (R-Amarillo), the nation's youngest mayor; U. S. Representative at large, where Des Barry (R-Houston) battles Joe Pool (D-Dallas), and the lieutenant governor's race, featuring Preston Smith (D-Lubbock) against Bill Hayes (R-Temple).

A total of 16 persons had voted absentee as of Monday, although this may not reflect disinterest on the part of the voters. "Because of the Cuban crisis, most folks are just afraid to go very far from home," County Clerk Hugh Moseley said.

Other contested races are the attorney-general post, where Democrat Waggoner Carr faces T. Everett Kennerly, Commissioner of Agriculture, where John C. White (D) faces Harry Hubbard; Railroad Commissioner, unexpired term, which Ben Ramsey (D) against Bernard M. Hanson; Comptroller of Public Accounts, featuring Robert S. Calvert (D) vs. Mrs. Hargrove Smith; and State Board of Education, 18th District, where Democrat Herbert O. Willborn meets Mrs. E. D. McKay.

Voters are requested to observe instructions by marking out all candidates in each race which they do not care to vote for, or else their votes may not count in that particular race.

There are two Constitution party members on the ballot, making three names in some races. They are Jack Carswell, for governor, and Joseph M. Rummier, for State Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Two Men Saved From Fiery Death

By CHRIS MOSS

Two men, Louis Wall and Charley Thomas, both of Clovis were saved from an almost certain death by fire Tuesday afternoon.

Lynn Doshier, 17-year-old Texico high school senior and W. H. Doctor, a tourist of Independence, Mo., pulled the two men from the diesel-powered truck in which they were riding when it was hit by an Amarillo-bound passenger train at the Texico-Farwell railroad crossing at approximately 4:50 p.m.

The train was moving approximately 25 miles an hour at the time of the impact and the truck burst into flames almost immediately. Wall, driver of the truck, was wedged into the cab of the truck and was pulled from the wreckage by the efforts of the two men only seconds before the tank exploded. His clothing was already burning when he was pulled from the wreckage.

The Texico and Farwell fire departments, which arrived on the scene almost immediately, brought the fire under control and assisted with rescue operations.

The men were taken to Clovis Memorial Hospital by ambulance where they were described to be in good condition. Neither man suffered any broken bones.

The wheat-loaded truck which was owned by Austin Brooks of El Raacho Milling Co. in Clovis was a total loss; however the wheat was not damaged.

SOS Nov. 4, Texico School; Three Point Program Starts

Sunday afternoon, Nov. 4 from 12-5 p.m. (CST) all residents of the Texico - Farwell area who have not previously received their first dose of Sabin Oral Polio vaccine, are asked to line up at the Texico High School Library and wait to chew one of the tiny sugar cubes to which the vaccine has been applied.

Participation in the simple, painless program, is scheduled to give lone-lasting protection against polio and to stop the spread of the dread disease from person to person.

The program is being sponsored locally by the New Mexico Medical Society, Curry County Medical Society, Rotary Club, PTA and the Texico Student Council. It had been felt that a clinic would not be held locally as several other clinics have been held in Curry County; however after a check of Texico School students Monday morning revealed that only approximately 20% of the students had received the first dose of the vaccine, arrangements were made for the local clinic.

Two other clinics will be held locally to administer the second and third doses of the vaccine with dates to be announced later.

According to information received all vaccine will be administered by physicians and nurses at the clinic. To achieve immunization, all children over three months of age and adults, regardless of age are urged to participate in the program.

Donations of 25¢ per dose are requested; but no person will be turned away.

Dinner Nov. 6

The annual dinner held by members of the Texico Cemetery association is scheduled for Nov. 6 at the Texico Woman's Club building, with serving to begin at 11 a.m.

Trick or treat! Chanted this group of goblins, as they went from door to door Halloween night with other twin-cities youngsters. Wearing the cute costumes shown are Linda, Sandy and Bobbie Hart children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hart.

Steers Recover, Rip Hale Center

Farwell's Steers appeared to be on the mend Friday night. They ripped Hale Center 39-20 in a lopsided contest that saw Farwell take a commanding 33-6 lead at halftime, then virtually coast to the end of the game.

Coach Dempsey Alexander cleaned his bench in the second half.

In the second play of the game Jerry Herrington shook loose for 70 yards and a touchdown to open the explosive Steer offense for the evening.

Then, to top that off, the first time the Steers got their hands on the ball again, Barry McCuan was off for a 56-yard scamper and another touchdown. Also in the first quarter, Herrington scored again, this time from 14 yards out, and Leon Lovelace added an extra point with an accurate kick.

Hale Center scored once in the first canto, on an 11-yard run by Manuel Flores, Hale Center wingback, from the 11.

Farwell's crushing offensive rolled on in the second quarter. The first touchdown came through the air when Quarterback Lovelace flipped one to Bob Anderson for 15 yards and six points. Jerry Childs kicked the extra point.

Jerry Fields scored on a three-yard run before the first half ended and Childs added another point with his accurate placement.

The Steers rested up in the third quarter and the only score was for Hale Center. Bubba Brooks scored from four yards out.

Another Lovelace-Anderson aerial clicked in the last round to end scoring for the Steers, that play covering 37 yards. Flores scored the other Hale Center touchdown from the 15 and Robert Byrd caught a pass to add two extra points.

Total offense was 335 yards for the Steers and 171 for the Owls.

Farwell is idle this week, while the rest of the district continue at it hammer and tongs. After dropping a game to Kress two weeks ago, the Steers' hopes for a shot at the district title are pretty glum.

That pessimism deepened when the Kangaroos squeezed past Sudan in a close game Friday night. The Hornets are regarded as the second strongest team in the district and probably the only hope to upset the favored Kangaroos.

Farwell will play Sudan away next week.

Vandals Hit Area Farms

Two incidents of vandalism involving farm equipment were reported by Parmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace.

Tools were stolen and damage was reported to combines on the farms of T. E. Wood and V. R. Wilcox, who live southeast of Friona.

The vandalism happened last Friday night, according to Lovelace.

PTA To Observe Parents Night

Texico PTA members will observe parents night when they meet in regular session Monday night, November 5, 8 p.m.

All parents of children grades one through twelve are invited to attend the affair and attend the classes which their children regularly attend.

Mrs. Melvin Burns PTA president, is urging a good attendance. Several business matters will be discussed at this time.

An alert young lady is Judy Tharp, Texico Senior who points to the SOS Poster which is displayed at the Texico High School. All Texico-Farwell residents are urged to attend the clinic Sunday, Nov. 4; 2-5 p.m. (CST).

Football Tonight, 6:30 Farwell Football Field

Texico - Farwell residents have a rare treat in store for them tonight (Friday) when the little league teams, Calves and Mavericks take on teams from East Clovis, at the local football field.

Game time is set for 6:30 p.m. with the Calves, 9-10 year old boys to lead off the evening performance by playing the Hawks. Calves coached by Bob Hart and Pike Jordan have a season record of seven wins, one loss. They were beaten early in the season by a team from North Clovis.

Mavericks, 11-12 year olds will be trying to scalp the unbeaten Indians. Season record for the Maverick team is five wins, three losses. John Green and Glenn Phillips are coaches for the Maverick team.

No admission will be charged for the evening of good football. Approximately 50 boys are participating in little league play.

Texans are witnessing one of history's most significant political realignments. Within the past two years the advocates of free enterprise, personal initiative, limited government and maximum human liberties have swelled from a handful to a multitude. No more a political curiosity, the "oddballs" as they appeared to be just a few short years ago have leaped into such prominence as to rock the very foundations of Established Politics. This metamorphic movement has manifest itself on a nationwide scale, but nowhere else has it caused more wide-eyed wonderment than here in Texas.

The people who proclaim themselves "true Democrats" but who might more accurately be described as "captive Democrats"--those who bow and scrape to the decrees of the national party leaders and who dance the tune fiddled by the national policy makers--are agast at the movement in their beloved homeland. It's like finding Yankees behind every bush, suh. These befuddled souls have hidden themselves from the facts of life. They must be true escapist, because the groundswell they now decry shook and trembled under their feet for many years in the state Democratic Party. And now, like in the pages of Henney Penney, they shout that the very sky is falling.

Control of the state party has rocked back and forth between the Old Guard and the "reactionaries" as they were erroneously labeled, since 1952 when Allan Shivers shocked party loyalists to the core by walking out on the national party and casting Texas' influence with Eisenhower, the GOP nominee.

This year for the first time in history, Texas is making a serious effort to become a true two-party state. Since the days of reconstruction this has been regarded as a political impossibility, but after the election of John Tower two years ago the scales were tipped. It now appears not only possible but probable that Texas will emerge as a two-party state. The only thing left to be resolved is when. Most observers think this "off" election year and the "on" election year of 1964 should do the trick.

Two things need to be remembered while all this is taking place, however. One is that Texas has for years had an actual two-party system, although it has operated under the Democratic name. The division between the liberal and conservative camps (to bring out a couple of labels to aid in discussing the issues) are deeper and wider than the organization cracks. Texas Democrats have been divided into two distinct groups for years. The other thing that needs to be remembered is that the renegades who are leaving the Democratic vessel to launch a Republican ship are not "Republicans" any more than they were ever "Democrats". It is not the party, but it is the condition of mind that distinguishes them from their old line neighbors. The national policy of the Republican party is not the touchstone of their belief any more than were the attitudes of the Democratic party on a nationwide scale.

Today's Texas rebels aim to think for themselves. They have positive ideas about the fundamentals of government. They will not be warped by policies shaped around political expediency. They will no more succumb to a socialistic Republican Party than they will a socialistic Democratic party. They choose to run as Republicans in order that they might be delivered from the stigma that haunts everyone in Texas who professes to be a Democrat, namely that he endorses the New Frontier because he wears the party label.

We are witness then, to the dawn of a new era in political thinking in Texas. Within a few years we may be able to abandon such titles as Republicrats, Shivecrats, and Dixiecrats for more precise terms. The only thing we pity about this revolution is that the abandonment of the Democratic Party in Texas by the rebels will leave that grand name to the New Frontiersmen. This is the way they want it of course, and in fact is even sufficient reason for some of them to commit the only Unpardonable Sin and vote Republican to help purge the party of undesirables. Such reasonable action is especially tempting in the case of the gubernatorial race. Typical loyalist logic: "Since Connally is now disavowing his allegiance to our national party leaders and his election would be odious, wouldn't we be just as well off to help elect Jack Cox and chase our conservative enemies off into the Republican corral?" As we say, such thinking borders on the heretical, but it makes sense in the field of practical politics, and the Demo loyalists know it (having been masters of practical politics for forever).

In this editorial, we propose to endorse a candidate in each race and to give, briefly, our reasons. One of the main factors influencing our choices has been the revolution described in previous paragraphs. We view this as the most encouraging ray of hope that advocates of freedom principles have seen in this generation. Therefore, when a person who offers himself as a candidate for office embraces this movement, we have an overwhelming compulsion to endorse him, provided his is believed to be morally and otherwise qualified.

Our endorsements are as follows:

JACK COX FOR GOVERNOR. John Connally, although drawing considerable support from the old inter-Democratic Party conservative group, is a middle-of-the-roader and a bird of confused feathers. He espouses individual liberty and limited government in his campaignatory, but his background of service with the advocates of the New Frontier do not leave him untainted. Jack Cox, once a Democrat, is displaying his colors in full view of the voting public. There is no question where he stands on vital issues. His ideologies are along libertarian lines. He stands firm against federal aid to education, an issue that is sure to be a vital one in the next few years. He is a leading advocate of Texas' precious right-to-work law which is in jeopardy. He believes in freedom for Texas farmers and has pledged to throw off the tongs of bureaucracy from Washington that have pinched our agricultural areas until we now are literally selling our birthrights for a mess of pottage. Jack Cox will be loyal to his principles, not any party. He will not support liberal candidates or platforms, either nationally or locally. Jack Cox will oppose the efforts of the people planners to make socialized medicine our next step toward a complete welfare state. Jack Cox believes that government closest to the people is best. Many months ago Jack Cox pointed out that Americans have no choice but to defend their freedoms and carry out the principles expressed in the Monroe doctrine. The wisdom of his beliefs has become abundantly clear in Cuba. Jack Cox is a man of strong religious and moral principles, a lay minister in a protestant church. Jack Cox is qualified for his office after having served six years in the Texas legislature. Finally, he is independent of Washington control. Can any other candidate make that statement?

PRESTON SMITH FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR AND WAGGONER CARR FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL. The Plains is proud to have two representatives for major offices at the state level who are eminently qualified for the positions they seek. Both run under the Democratic banner, but both espouse conservative ideologies. They deserve our support. Both have excellent records of service in state government. Carr is the Plains' only hope of supplying a governor for the state in the next ten to fifteen years. There is no reason to vote against these men and many reasons to vote for them.

DESMOND BARRY FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE. Barry's Democratic opponent, Joe Pool, is an "old-school" Texas conservative from the camp of Allan Shivers, but he is overshadowed by Barry, who leaped into national prominence for his fight against organized labor's domination of private business. Barry singlehandedly fought off the Teamsters Union in Houston. Texas and the nation desperately need men of Barry's stature to defend fundamental American principles. A salient quotation: "I am perturbed at the continued promotion

Directors Meet, Discuss Election

Directors of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce met briefly Tuesday afternoon. Main topic of discussion was the annual election of directors and officers.

A nominating committee of Sam Aldridge, Clarence Christian and R. W. Anderson was appointed by Hurshel Harding, chamber president. This committee, which will nominate directors, is to report their choices to the chamber by meeting time next month.

To these names may be added other nominations at a general meeting of the organization, and then the election will be held. Directors elect officers.

Also discussed at the session Tuesday was the annual chamber banquet, which is to be February 14. Waggoner Carr has tentatively agreed to speak at the occasion.

Other topics of lesser importance included a community brochure, tie-in paving for incoming highways, and the chamber park project.

of national government schemes based on philosophies with a historical record of failures that are destroying our freedoms, have lost us the respect of the world, and have brought our nation to the edge of bankruptcy. I fear not the problem, but the cause!

FRANK FORD FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE. This is a tough choice to make. Bill Clayton of Springlake is one of the most qualified candidates the Democrats could ask for. Moreover, his conservative convictions mirror the attitude of most of the people he will be representing in Austin. However, we will vote for Frank Ford of Hereford. Ford is the personification of the drive and energy and conviction that was described in the opening paragraphs of this editorial, and which is manifesting itself in a new era in American politics. Frank Ford lives the life of what we call "the ideal American." He works hard to provide for himself and his family. He is intelligent, sensitive to the world around him and knowledgeable about problems which threaten our way of life. He participates in churchwork and community service movements. He is the anti-politician personality. He won't go to Austin with any influence, but we can count on him to do his best while there. He is not afraid to speak out, and even when he is wrong there will be no doubt about how he feels. This is a quality we greatly admire in a man and one we know that we desperately need in all levels of government.

JOHN ZAHN FOR STATE SENATOR. Calls himself a conservative Republican candidate. He believes in leaving for our children the high principles given to us by our founding fathers. Since he is a local resident, we all know he is morally and otherwise suited for the job.

BEN RAMSEY FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER. Has the state office experience to qualify for the job. Even though a long-time office holder, appears free of scandals which rocked the Austin statehouse.

ROBERT S. CALVERT FOR COMPTROLLER. The limited sales tax in Texas has been a nightmare to administer. It is our opinion that to change administrators of this program just after getting it set up would further complicate the state's job of running this hodge-podge.

JERRY SADLER FOR STATE LAND COMMISSIONER. He seeks a second term. He is qualified. He has helped clean up the scandals in the land office.

HARRY HUBBARD FOR COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE. Anybody but John C. White.

JACK SEALE FOR U. S. CONGRESS. Jack Seale's ideas are what today are described as "extreme." Thirty years ago he would have been a moderate. If Seale goes overboard on his thinking once in a while by the standards of the day, we are not so sure that it is him, but maybe the standards of the day that are out of their proper channels. At any rate, Seale, whom the people of Amarillo think enough of to elect as their mayor, represents a sure departure from the rubber-stamp "me-too" political philosophy which has characterized too much of our national government in modern times. His campaign motto of "Do you want courage or influence in Washington?" is well-phrased. It is time voters began to vote their consciences instead of their pocketbooks. Walter Rogers can be best described as a political moderate. It turns out that he is pleasing no one, and that is a fate that every fence-straddling office holder deserves.

MRS. E. D. MCKAY FOR STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION. This articulate Amarillo woman is opening our eyes to just what the state board of education is, and why it is important to all of us.

Services In Dennison For McKillip Infant

Funeral services were conducted in Dennison last week for Charlotte Ann, nine month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman McKillip of Desdemona, Texas, who passed away in Children's Hospital in Dallas following surgery.

The child had been in ill health since its birth and was to have undergone more surgery shortly.

Survivors other than the parents are the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McKillip of Excelsior Springs, Missouri, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barker of Lubbock, also several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Attending the services from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Calrk and children. Mrs. Clark is a sister of McKillip.

A speaker was lecturing to the Lions club on the subject of forest preservation. "I don't suppose," he said reprovingly, "anybody in this hall has done a single thing to conserve our timber resources."

Trio Jailed On Charges Of Burglary

Three persons were placed in custody at Farwell last week on $1,000 bond each. They are charged in connection with the burglary at AA Bowl in Farwell, at which a television set was taken, along with a small amount of change.

The trio were jailed following extradition hearings at Portales last week. They are David Barner, Dale Kellogg and Gerald Ecker.

Already in custody is Virginia Tully. The quartet, from the northeast and southeast, were employed by a travelling show.

How do Texas restaurants broil steaks to order?

...the modern answer is gas

- The Texas Restaurant Association recently surveyed 640 Texas eating establishments to see what fuels they are using.
- When all the restaurants' appliances were counted, the grand totals showed...
- 5 times as many gas broilers as any other kind.
 - 5½ times as many gas grills as any other kind.
 - 4 times as many gas ovens as any other kind.
 - 9 times as many gas heating systems as any other kind.
- 10½ times as many gas water heaters as any other kind.
- The cooks and restaurant owners weren't asked why they chose gas. But we think this goes without saying. For speed, efficiency, cleanliness and economy, the modern answer is gas!

JOTTIN'S

By Jeanne

I'm sorry that more people didn't take the time to come out and hear Mrs. Edward McKay of Amarillo speak Thursday night. She is a candidate for the state board of education, and certainly parents should be interested in her platform.

Why is it that Lazbuddie had an enormous crowd to hear Walter Rogers, Bovina did well on an audience when Don Yarbrough, candidate for governor, came to town, and Friona turns out, but it doesn't happen in Farwell?

I'm not sure it's party affiliation either. Mrs. McKay is a Republican, but the Chamber of Commerce invited Will Wilson, attorney general, as speaker for the annual banquet a few years back. He is a Democrat.

Fewer people were present for the banquet than were at the airport in Friona to meet his plane. And worse yet, more than half of those people at the banquet were from out of town. And that was at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, the civic body of the town.

We can get hundreds of people out for a sports event at any time, which is good, if we don't forget that other things are important too.

Yet these same people who stay away from functions such as these, talk loud and long about what should be done about taxes, schools and "you-name-it". Of course the more you learn, the more confused you become at times.

Did you know that the Texas Education Agency handles 1/3 of the state budget? I didn't. That's hitting us in the pocketbook. Also, the textbooks that we heard so much about the past year, are selected through this agency.

The Texas Education Agency is the only agency that can enter into a contract with the federal government on education, Mrs. McKay says. So those of you who have strong feelings about federal aid to education, might consider this.

Friends Invited

This is your invitation to attend a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Judy Billingsley bride-elect of Don Jones, 2:30 p.m., Tuesday Nov. 6 at Oklahoma Lane Methodist church.

Blankenship, Billie Sutherland, Harold Carpenter, Troy Christian, Wendol Christian, Donald Christian, Gouglass Gossett, Turner Paine and Miss Lola Jean Grissom.

Mrs. Pike Jordan is resting well at the hospital.

Ursel Doran was marshal of the "Homecoming Parade" at the University and the Lambda Chi Fraternity of which Doran and Bobby Walker are members won first place on its float, which depicted life in the area surrounding Las Cruces.

Study Club Nets $30 From Supper

Mrs. A. R. Sander and Mrs. Bruce Blair will represent the study club this weekend in O'Donnell where the Caprock District workshop will be held.

Party Lunch Menu

This outstanding soup and sandwich meal was inspired by Knorr's new spring vegetable soup reminiscent of Austria's julienne soup; a delicate broth with small pieces of vegetables. Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capital

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Attorney General Will Wilson issued an opinion that the Constitution Party of Texas cannot nominate members for district offices at its state convention.

But the opinion came a bit late. Election ballots already have been printed, and the tardy nominations are listed.

Secretary of State P. Frank Lake made the request for an opinion on Constitutional Party nomination procedure in September. The "third party" didn't release its list of nominations until early summer, whereas Republicans and Democrats had to comply with a law that says candidates must announce by the second Monday of February.

According to Wilson, the same law applies to the Constitutional Party.

HIGH COST OF LEARNING -- Tuition for Texas' 20 state universities and colleges may be doubled by the time members of the 1964 high school graduating classes are ready to enroll.

Texas Commission on Higher Education decided to ask the Legislature to double tuition -- from $50 to $100 a semester -- and increase appropriations by 55 per cent during 1964-65.

Commission approved a $4,000,000 boost in the previously recommended biennial budget of $162,000,000; agreed to raise college presidents' salaries; and ordered its staff to look into the elimination of remedial writing and reading and tours from college curriculums.

Request for more money came after it was noted that this fall's enrollment of 110,000 students in 19 colleges was an increase of 9 per cent over last year, and the "war babies" will soon be knocking at the doors.

DEFICIT RISES -- Deficit in the State's General Revenue Fund increased by almost $13,000,000 during mid-October, according to a report from State Treasurer Jesse James.

On October 9, the State was in the red to the tune of $41,250,349. By October 24, the deficit was $54,074,283.

MAP PROJECT PUSHED -- Absence of topographic maps of the entire state may be holding us back in the nationwide race for new industries.

At a meeting of the Texas Mapping Advisory Committee, Harry Clark, director of the Texas Industrial Commission, said that topographic maps are very necessary to industries considering sites here. Chairman John J. Vandertulp said the maps are essential to industrial and agricultural planning.

Topographic maps are those that show the physical features of a region in minute detail. When a mapping program of 73 counties is completed, Texas will be half-mapped.

ATTRACTIVE NUISANCES -- State Health Department officials issued a warning against the use of arsenious acid containers for water bottles.

Field engineers recently found about 40 of the one-gallon size containers along the highway in Collin County. One had about one and one-half ounces of arsenic left in it -- enough to kill more than 100 people. Death of three members of a Josephine farm family was attributed to accidental poisoning caused by drinking water out of a container which had been used for cotton defoliation.

"These plastic bottles are attractive nuisances . . . and deadly," an official said.

RADIATION DETECTION PLAN -- An officer of the Texas Department of Public Safety soon should be able to help out at the scene of a radiation accident or incident anywhere in the State in about 30 minutes, Col. Homer Garrison Jr. announced.

A stepped-up training program in radiation detection which began on October 29 is expected to provide enough trained men to handle any emergency.

Officers who have completed the course already are driving vehicles equipped with a Geiger Counter to measure very low amounts of radiation, a mid-range survey meter, and a high-range meter.

Men also carry personal "Dosimeters" on their persons so they periodically can determine the amount of radiation they have been subjected to during the survey of an area in which radio-active spillage has occurred.

Department's also helping to train members of city police departments, sheriffs' departments, rescue squads and other groups.

HIGHWAY HOME HELP -- Property owners and tenants who become displaced by Interstate Highway right-of-way acquisition now are entitled to help from district engineers of the State Highway Department.

In compliance with the 1962 Federal Aid Highway Act, people who must give up their homes or property because of right-of-way acquisition can get relocation assistance.

Assistance will include listings of available rental and sale properties, referrals to services such as local housing bureaus and chambers of commerce, and similar advisory aid.

MOST SCENIC -- Two Texas highways are finalists in Parade Magazine's Scenic Highway Award contest, and rank among the 20 "most scenic" in the U.S.

One is Interstate Highway 45, "The Way of the Pines," which runs through a wooded area southeast of Huntsville. The other is a section of F. M. Road 170, "El Camino del Rio," which traverses rough country along the Rio Grande between Lajitas and Redford.

A-G RULINGS -- Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba asked the attorney general whether newspaper publication of a new State Constitution would be required before one could be adopted.

"It would not," says Wilson. A male juvenile, between 10 and 17, or a female juvenile, between 10 and 18, cannot be tried in a county court for negligent homicide in the second degree, Wellington County Attorney R. L. Templeton was informed.

A county court cannot commit a person to a mental hospital for temporary hospitalization for any longer than 90 days.

A school district which does not teach high school grades cannot cancel or annul the transfer of one of its resident scholastics to a school district which provides high school grades.

JOB TRAINING OFFERED -- A plan to discourage high school "drop-outs" and retain adult workers was implemented when the Texas Employment Commission and the Texas Education Agency appointed an advisory committee to assist in carrying out the terms of the 1962 Manpower Development and Training Act.

Act, which became effective on August 1, was designed to provide occupational training in skills which can be learned in 52 weeks. Adult students who show satisfactory progress may be entitled to unemployment compensation while attending classes.

State Vocational Agency will arrange for facilities and instructors for local schools, but training will be under the complete direction of local educational systems.

Training programs for household appliance repairmen and for auto mechanics already are in operation, the former in Corpus Christi and the latter in El Paso.

CODE REVISIONS -- Texas State Bar officers and directors have selected revisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure as number one on its 12-point legislative program for 1963.

Bar president Leon Jaworski said "There is particular need for criminal procedure reforms in our State."

Other proposals will include a statute regulating the execution of bail bonds in Texas, a Uniform Commercial Code, a Uniform Arbitration Act, and amendments to the Texas Securities Act.

Bar also will propose a constitutional amendment calling for the local option abolition of justice of the peace courts and replacing them with courts of record.

Legislature also will be asked to repeal acts of its last regular session making jury findings, instead of court findings, conclusive in custody cases.

ENFORCEMENT FUND -- Railroad Commissioner Bill Murray says an enforcement tax of 1¢ per barrel of oil is not needed.

According to Murray there would be enough money for oil and gas law enforcement if the Legislature would allocate all the funds collected for the purpose.

His comments were inspired by the enforcement tax of 1¢ per barrel of oil recommended by the Gregg County grand jury.

Legislature authorized the commission to take $300,000 a year from the gas utilities fund to supplement oil enforcement tax income.

Chairman Murray feels that the commission's main need is for 15 more inspectors, to supplement its staff recently bolstered by 15 men.

PLEDGE "NOT BINDING" -- A party primary pledge is not binding on a voter at the general election.

That is an opinion handed down by Gov. Price Daniel when he was attorney general of Texas.

State Republican chairman Tad Smith of El Paso, and other Republican leaders, are using the "Democratic" decision as grounds to urge voters to vote however they please on November 6, regardless of party primary pledges.

Daniel's opinion noted that the courts of Texas have answered this question by holding "that the pledge . . . does not create a legal obligation."

MILITARY DUTY RULING -- State employees requesting another year of active duty with the 49th Armored Division can have their jobs back when they get out.

So says Attorney General Will Wilson.

He held that those staying on for another year "are entitled to restoration of state employment."

Many members of the 49th Division were recalled to active duty when the Berlin situation became tense last year. Most of the men were released in August. Some requested and were assigned another year of active duty.

LONG BALLOT -- Texas' general election will be about as long as a newspaper.

November 6 ballot will contain not only the lists of party nominees for congressional, state, legislative, district, county and precinct offices, but also "for" and "against" questions about 14 proposed constitutional amendments.

NO WAITING -- There is no longer a waiting list of applicants for land purchase under the veterans' land program, says Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Sadler said that 70,000 veterans were given land-buying opportunities the last 21 months. Commissioner reported a backlog of 40,672, veterans on January 1, 1961. Many of them had been waiting their turn for three years.

A total of 116,885 applications have been received since the program began operation in 1949.

VALUABLE MARKERS -- Historical markers are worth their weight in gold according to the Texas Highway Department. Three tourist markers recently erected to mark significant historical sites are proving this.

THD says each of the markers earn nearly its original cost in added tourist revenues each month. Original cost was about $630 each. They will earn this cost ten times in a year. Each marker is credited with earning an average of $17.55 per day.

Markers -- first of 25 to be erected during the next year -- are at Camp Ford near Tyler; at Meteor Crater near Odessa; and at Castle Gap in Upton County.

Honey was of great importance as an article of diet for the ancients, being almost the only available source of sugar. It also was valued highly for its medicinal properties, particularly as an antiseptic.

Farmers May Need Record Of Workers

Farmers need to keep a record of their farm workers and of crew leaders, advises Hal Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo District Social Security Office.

Geldon points out that farmers must report and pay social security taxes if a worker earns $150 or more in cash wages in a year, or if a worker works on 20 days or more during the year for any amount of cash paid on a time basis (hour, day, week or month). The employer tax and the employee tax are each 3 1/8 per cent, for a total of 6 1/4 per cent of wages. These earnings are reported on Internal Revenue Form 943.

Farmers are also required to report the name, permanent address, and employer's identification number on Page 2 of Form 943 of any crew leader or farm labor contractor who furnished him with agricultural workers.

To obtain the proper forms, and an employer's number, farmers should complete a Form SS-4, Geldon states. These can be obtained from the nearest District Director of Internal Revenue, or the Amarillo Social Security Office.

Webb Gober To Be Cubmaster

Webb Gober accepted the position of Cubmaster when the reorganizational meeting was held in conjunction with pack meeting Saturday night. Cub Scouts had completed the first year under the direction of M. A. Snider Jr. who had served as Cubmaster.

Pike Jordan will serve as secretary-treasurer, Dr. T. J. Glenn is awards chairman and Mrs. W. H. Graham is publicity chairman. Still to be named is assistant Cubmaster and committee men.

Further plans will be made at the planning meeting Nov. 5 in the home of M. A. Snider Jr. at 7:30. All den mothers are urged to be present, and any mother who would be willing to serve as den mother is asked to attend. "We have several boys who would like to become Cubs" says Snider, "but the dens are full and we have to have more adult workers."

Terry Edwards, district Scout executive of Clovis, was present and was in charge of the reorganization.

Cubs presented the program on their monthly theme "Heroes in Books."

Passing a run-down store in a distant city, a well-known artist noticed a hungry kitten lapping up milk from a saucer. The saucer, he realized with a start, was a rare and precious piece of pottery.

The artist sauntered into the store and offered $2 for the cat. "It's not for sale," said the proprietor.

"Look," said the artist, "that cat is dirty and undesirable, but I'm eccentric. I like cats that way. I'll raise my offer to $5."

"It's a deal," said the proprietor as he pocketed the $5.

"For that sum I'm sure you won't mind throwing in the saucer," said the connoisseur. "The kitten seems so happy drinking from it."

"Nothing doing," said the proprietor, "that's my lucky saucer. So far this week I've sold 34 cats!"

Candidate Talks To Group Here

A small group of listeners formed a receptive audience for Mrs. Edward McKay of Amarillo, candidate for the state board of education Thursday night when she was honor guest for an informal coffee at the home economics building. Hostesses were Mrs. T. J. Glenn and Mrs. John Zahn.

Mrs. McKay discussed the function of the Texas Education Agency and presented her views on the way the duties should be performed.

Briefly, she told attendants that the Texas Education Agency is composed of 21 members, is a "no pay" job and meets six times a year. "One-third of the budget for the state of Texas is handled by this agency," she emphasizes.

Also, the board sets accrediting for the high schools, issues teacher certificates, and is in charge of textbook selection, a very important job, she feels.

The commission of education submits 15 names to the state board as a committee, with each person from a different district and all must be educators. One-sixth of the textbooks are selected each year. When the approved books are submitted to the state board, this group can delete books from the list, but cannot add selections. The approved list then goes to the local school, which has a committee to select those to be used in individual systems.

She also informed attendants that the Texas Education Agency is the only agency that can enter into a contract with the federal government on education.

She states that she is "for the very best schools Texas can afford with Texas money."

Papers Destroyed By Fire

A fire in front of Rose Drug and Gift Shop in the early hours of Sunday morning, destroyed several stacks of Clovis News Journals which were awaiting delivery by local news boys, as well as damaging the front of the store.

Plate glass windows in the front of the store were cracked and have had to be replaced. No estimate of the damage was available.

No explanation for the fire was given by Otis Huggins, chief of the Farwell fire department.

Barry To Be On Area TV

Barry will be seen on KCBD, Channel 11, Lubbock, from 6:30 to 7 p.m., and on KFDA, Channel 10, Amarillo, from 9:30 to 9:45 p.m.

Man To Face Bigamy Charge

Farmer County officials returned James Lyday, of Page, Arizona, last week to face bigamy charges.

Lyday was returned from Flagstaff, Arizona to Farmer County.

Local Boys Receive Praise Of ENMU Coach

A line is only as strong as its linebackers and Coach Carl Richardson, who had his doubts about the ability of the Eastern team after the injury of Glen Haul 220 pound quarterback in the Sul Ross game, has been calling more and more upon the services of Benjy Dial, sophomore quarterback.

Dial has been alternating at the corner position with Dick Walsh a junior student and Richardson says of both boys "They have the ability to bump through opposing backs and slither through blockers to make the necessary tackles."

Dial has also been handling kicking chores for the Eastern squad.

Richardson is also high in his praise of Carroll Huggins, an offensive fullback, who made the first touchdown of his college career a few weeks ago against New Mexico Western, at Silver City. Huggins scored the touchdown on a ball handed to him by Dial. The boys are high school classmates.

Richardson says of the opposition, "If they don't score any, we don't have to score many."

Don Gerles Clings To Lead; Scoring Low

With eight weeks under the wire in the local Cotton Bowl football contest the field has begun to narrow with Don Gerles still clinging to his lead by a one point margin. He has 50 right games out of a possible 79.

In second place with 49 right games are Mrs. Dempsey Alexander, Mrs. Albert Johnson, Mrs. Glenn Phillips, Don Williams and R. S. Shuman. Five persons, Mrs. Milton Walling, Dargin Kirk last years winner, Loyd E. Smith, John and Champ Porter are in a tie for third place with 48 right games. Several persons have 47 games right and from there the scoring spreads out, downward.

Scoring in the eighth week of the contest was unusually low, with few persons getting more than five games right. Milton Lee Walling was the lone person to call eight of the ten games right, missing on the tie game between Texas and Rice as did all other entrants, and the Baylor-A&M game.

John Adams came in for second place with seven correct games and Mrs. Bobbie McFarland was in third place with six correct guesses. Several other persons had six correct games; however Mrs. McFarland was closer to the tiebreaker score than were the other entrants.

Special Section For Candidates

Voters are asked to turn to the Farm and Home section for details on the major political races, including platforms of the candidates.

There is also a discussion of the 14 constitutional amendments to be voted on.

Nov. 1, 1913—One of football's great games took place at West Point. A virtually unknown Notre Dame team whipped Army 35-13. (The game not only brought Notre Dame and its team captain, Knute Rockne, to the attention of the sports world, but it dramatized a new play called the "forward pass.")

Nov. 7, 1874 — Harper's Weekly ran the first cartoon depicting an elephant as the symbol of the Republican Party. (In the drawing by Thomas Nast entitled "The Third Term Panic," a reference to President Grant's possible bid for a third term, the elephant was labeled "Republican vote" as it was about to fall into a pit marked "chaos.")

Nov. 11, 1918—At solemn ceremonies attended by some 100,000 people at Arlington National Cemetery, President Harding dedicated the tomb in which America's unknown soldier is buried. The monument bears the inscription "Here rests in honored glory an American soldier known but to God."

Numismatist Found In School

Beware! Keep all change in your pocket! We have "Numismatist" (Coin Collectors) in school.

Larry Combs, who has been collecting coins for about a year and a half, really has his eye out for unusual coins. Other than coins of the United States, he also has collected money from Mexico, Canada, Puerto Rico, India, France, Germany and the Philippines. His oldest American coins are a 1835 dime and a 1921 silver dollar which is worth $190. Larry had several coin books almost completed and with his family and relatives help, his collection increases. John Adams, Spanish teacher, helped Larry's collection of foreign coins when he sent him some money from Puerto Rico while he was attending summer school there last year.

One of the most exciting times in Larry's coin collecting history was when he bought some merchandise at the variety store and noticed in the change that he had a 1954 plain nickel, a coin for which he had been searching for a long time.

Larry became interested in coin collecting when Mrs. Peyton his fifth grade teacher showed her collection of coins to the class two years ago.

Because her mother and brother are numismatist, Mrs. Peyton became interested in coins also. Her collection consists mostly of pennies, nickels, quarters and half-dollars. Mrs. Peyton's oldest coin is worth $4.50. She proudly showed an Indian Head penny which is worth $2.25 and another Indian Head penny which is worth about $2.

Enthusiastic about her hobby, Mrs. Peyton has already started a collection for Sharon Peyton, her daughter, and has some books almost finished for her.

Mr. Kent Foster stated that his collection of rare coins is at his parents home in Almodordo and he has laid it aside temporarily. His coins are going into a piggy bank for his new daughter, Cecilia.

Flying Queen Basketball Clinic

Plans have been completed for the sixth annual Flying Queens Basketball Clinic to be held in Plainview November 10.

This girls basketball clinic, which started six years ago as a small local affair, has expanded so greatly that last year it was attended by sixty coaches and over 500 players from high school girls' teams all over Texas and in neighboring states.

The program followed at this instructional workshop is unique. It consists of short periods during which outstanding coaches using their teams or the Flying Queens give demonstrations of their ideas, techniques, and methods.

Coach Harley Redin and the Flying Queens will be featured in the clinic. This team has won six national IAAU championships in the last nine years, has been runnerup twice, and holds the all-time consecutive victory record with 131 straight wins. The Queens and Queen Bees, freshman team, will demonstrate fundamentals, ball handling, and actual game play in their own winning style.

Following the all-day instruction, four regulation basketball games will be played, featuring a game between two of last year's state champions, Sundown and Claude.

4:00 PM Claude vs Sundown
5:30 PM Tulla vs Rosston, Oklahoma
7:00 PM Floydada vs Friona
8:30 PM Olton vs Happy.

The clinic begins at 9:00 AM on November 10, with match games starting at 4:00 in the afternoon. Tuition for the clinic is $10 per school. All coaches and players registered for the clinic will be admitted to the games free. Admission for others will be $1.00 for the complete four game program. All coaches interested are invited to contact Coach Harley Redin at Wayland College.

Voters To Scan Lengthy Ballot Tuesday, Nov. 6

By BILL ELLIS

Parmer County voters, like those throughout the state, will be confronted with a "frightening" ballot when they go to the polls Tuesday.

The ballot, which contains 29 races and 14 proposed amendments to the Texas constitution, is longer than most newspapers - measuring 22 inches in length.

In order that county voters may be more familiar with the candidates and their platforms, individual sketches of the candidates in each major contested race appear on the following pages, along with a discussion of the proposed amendments.

Republicans are providing opposition in 12 of the 20 state and district races. None of the Democratic nominees for county offices have opposition.

There are five columns on the ballot, listing the Independent, Democratic, Republican and Constitution parties in that order, and one column for write-ins.

Only two candidates appear under the Constitution party. They are Jack Carswell, candidate for governor, and Joseph Rumlmer, for Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Voters are reminded that in races where there are two or more candidates, all names except the candidate for which they vote must be scratched out, or their votes will not be tabulated for that race.

Polling places, and election judges for each precinct are as follows:

Precinct 1 (Black)--Black Community House, Mrs. Glenn Roberson, judge.

Precinct 2 (Friona)--City Hall, Clyde Goodwine, judge.

Precinct 3 (Bovina)--American Legion, Tom Rhodes, judge.

Precinct 4 (Farwell)--County Courthouse, J. T. Coburn, judge.

Precinct 5 (Lazbuddie)--High School Auditorium, Roy Daniel, judge.

Precinct 6 (Oklahoma Lane)--Oklahoma Lane Community Center, Harold Carpenter, judge.

Precinct 7 (Rhea)--Parish Hall, Immanuel Lutheran Church, Melvin Sachs, judge.

Precinct 8 (Lakeview)--Otho Whitefield residence, Whitefield, judge.

Polling places will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Voters are also reminded that under state law, the pledge on the primary ballot does not obligate anyone either legally or morally as to whether he votes for Democrats or Republicans in the general election.

In other words, voters are free to vote as they choose; free to split their ticket if they wish, change their party, or whatever.

CONNALLY vs. COX

Revived GOPs Making Bid In Governor's Race

The governor's race in Texas this year is likely to be one of the most interesting in modern state politics.

For the first time in many years, the Republican party has a nominee who has earnestly sought the office, so that voters will actually have a choice in the general election, rather than the usual "formality" of endorsing the winner of the Democratic primary.

Three names will appear on the ballot, John Connally is the Democratic nominee, Jack Cox bears the Republican colors, and Jack Carswell's name will be under the Constitution party column.

JOHN CONNALLY

CONNALLY

John Connally, 45, former Secretary of the Navy, resigned that office especially to campaign for governor of Texas. Connally won the Democratic nomination for governor over five other candidates, being forced into a runoff with Don Yarborough, who waged a spirited campaign.

Connally pulled out all the stops to win the Democratic nomination, showing Texas voters one of the most elaborate campaigns ever. His campaign since the second primary has been sort of an anti-climax.

A graduate of the University of Texas and UT Law School, Connally has maintained a private practice of law in Austin. Along with two brothers, he operates a ranch in South Texas.

He served as administrative assistant in Congress to Vice President Lyndon Johnson and was vice chairman of the Texas delegation to the national Democratic Convention in 1956.

Among the planks in his platform, Connally proposes:

1. Fiscal soundness for the state;
2. Attraction and development of industry in Texas;
3. An education system second to none;
4. Stronger law enforcement;
5. Care for the needs of the aged;
6. Development of the tourist industry;
7. Curtailment of oil imports.

Connally was born on a farm, and has been associated with two of the state's leading industries--cattle and oil.

COX

Jack Cox, 41, is the Republican nominee, and has led the movement to unite Texas conservatives under the GOP. He is receiving support in some instances from liberal Democrats, if for no other reason than to return Texas politics to a true two-party state.

Cox, who ran as a conservative Democratic candidate in 1960, defeated Amarillo's Roy Whittenburg in the Republican primary, which drew a total of 117,000 Texas voters, largest number ever for a Texas Republican primary.

Vice-president of Pico Drilling Company, Cox is a graduate of North Texas State College, with a degree in government.

He was elected to the Texas legislature in 1946, and served three terms, Cox is former Secretary of the Texas Commission on Higher Education and three times received the Valley Forge Freedom Foundation award.

Cox includes the following on his platform:

1. Against "Federal Aid" to education.
2. For bringing new industry to Texas to provide more and better jobs.
3. Advocates a "Right to Work" law.
4. Strong believer in states rights. Says our independence from Washington control is deeply imbedded in our state's history.
5. For strong two-party system.

6. Economy in state budget.
7. Freedom of Texas farmers and ranchers from "dictatorial programs."
8. Opposed to state income tax, and to increasing any present tax. Favors a constitutional amendment limiting the sales tax to the present two per cent.
9. Devotion to principle rather than blind "party loyalty."
10. Opposed to any program leading to socialized medicine.
11. For election law reform.
12. For legislation guaranteeing complete legal equality to Texas women.
13. For local self-government, as opposed to a Federal Department of Urban Affairs.

JACK COX

CARSWELL

Jack Carswell, the candidate for the Constitution party, is a Houston funeral director.

As for his qualifications for the office, in his own words "I meet every qualification as set forth in the Constitution of the State of Texas. I am not a professional politician or a professional lobbyist."

NEWS FROM THE
FARM BUREAU
BY RAYMOND EULER

Five hundred forty members have paid dues of ten dollars to Farmer County Farm Bureau since October 31, 1961. This means that Farmer County has reached its quota in membership for the year 1962. This is the first time in three years that this county has reached its quota.

Prior to the last three years this county had never failed to reach or exceed its quota. President Hamilton and vice president Meissner and the directors and other officers express their appreciation to each member, and welcome any others who wish to become paid up members.

If you need any further information regarding amendment 14, Trial de Novo, we have a new pamphlet giving 14 reasons for opposing the amendment. It seems that nearly every incorporated city, as well as many other groups vigorously oppose this amendment, and Farm Bureau is among the opposition.

"It should be crystal clear to the American voters by this time, that if government is going to be a divider of the country's wealth, there will be no wealth to divide within a few years. This is based on the simple understanding that government has nothing except what it takes away from its citizens and can give back only that portion of what it takes away minus the cost of taking it away and re-issuing it to the citizens.

It is perfectly logical to believe and expect a politician who consistently votes for the distribution of tax money to various individuals and groups of individuals to expect these politicians to control a large number of votes by their action."

This is quoted from a statement by Texas Farm Bureau director of research and education. If you have your work in shape, we suggest that you make plans to attend the Texas Farm Bureau Annual Convention in San Antonio November 10-14.

We believe the banquet on Tuesday evening, at which Paul Harvey will be speaker, will be well worth the trip. The governor-elect will address the convention on Tuesday morning.

THAT WASHINGTON FISHBOWL OR JACK SEALE VS THE FACTS

During the current congressional campaign Republican Jack Seale an admitted John Birchir and the candidate of the John Birch society, has repeatedly accused congressman Walter Rogers of voting for a "Fishpond" for Washington, D. C. The implication has been that this was some useless frills and a waste of taxpayers money.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

Editor Tommy Thompson of the Amarillo Globe-Times writes: "I thought Walter Rogers did a proper job of squelching the fish-bowl jeering on the part of his opponent. Congressman Rogers told the group last week that 'Had the opposition investigated the matter, it would not have appeared so comical.'"

The bill is for the purpose of authorizing a national fishery center and aquarium for scientific research and development, similar to the soil research center at Bushland.

The purpose of the bill is to help pump some life into our "decaying fish industry." As Walter Rogers explained, our fishing industry has been going down hill for a long time. Almost one-half of the fish consumed in the United States is imported from foreign nations. Our fishing fleet is old and obsolete. Other nations are fishing adjacent to our shores, processing the produce overseas and re-shipping it to us. The national fishery center and aquarium is for the purpose of saving an industry that could mean several billion dollars a year to our national products. It is an investment that will pay for itself and make the nation self-sufficient in obtaining an additional three billion tons of fish that will be needed by 1980.

And, while we're quoting editor Thompson, here's another interesting paragraph: "The New York Times says in a Washington dateline story that 46 conservative candidates for Congress are receiving assistance in one form or another from the Americans for Constitutional Action.

Admiral Ben Morrell, board chairman of the group, said that "Publicity might jeopardize the candidates." Texas Congressmen receiving aid from the ACA group include John Dowdy, Bruce Alger, Desmond A. Barry, William A. Steger, Ed Foreman, and Jack Seale. The retired admiral told the New York Times that his group had been linked unfairly in the press with the John Birch Society."

NOTHER CONTESTED RACE

Lt. Governor's Race Pits Smith Vs. Hayes

The lieutenant governor's race is another where the Democrats have vigorous opposition.

A true Republican, Hayes served in the New Hampshire House of Representatives prior to World War II.

Hayes has been in business in Texas for the past 16 years. He was vice president of the American Desk Manufacturing Company in Temple.

In the Republican primary,

Hayes, 43, defeated Kellis Dibrrell, who like Hayes resided in Bell County, by a good majority.

The only candidate for one of the top state offices to carry his campaign personally into Farmer County, Hayes says he stands for:

- 1. A non-salaried, bi-partisan Texas Commission on Lower Taxation to uncover waste, duplication and irregularities in government.
2. Reduction of the sales tax and other taxes;
3. Open proceedings in the Texas senate;
4. A positive program to teach our American heritage in Texas schools;

5. Firm laws and enforcement to control immoral, obscene and indecent motion pictures;

- 6. A better business climate to attract industry;
7. Instruction for our armed forces in the evils of Communism;
8. Full development and utilization of our water and soil resources;
9. Sound business management of the state's affairs;
10. Outspoken defense of states rights, individual rights and free enterprise.

PRESTON SMITH
Preston Smith, 49, defeated five other candidates in the Democratic primary, being forced into a runoff by Jimmy Turman, who had served as Speaker of the House.

A graduate of Texas Tech with a BBA degree, Smith has been a businessman 26 years, and has had 12 years experience as a legislator.

- Smith says he will work:
1. To simplify the general sales tax.
2. To assure economical government without waste.
3. To correct inequities in Texas women's rights.

PRESTON SMITH

BILL HAYES

- 4. For better schools.
5. To provide safe, efficient highways and farm-to-market roads.
6. For vigorous water and soil conservation programs.
7. To provide hunters and fishermen with an improved game and fish program, and better recreational facilities for our parks and lakes.
8. For small loan regulation.
9. For adequate care of the aged, the needy and the blind.
10. To maintain and strengthen the Democratic Party leadership in Texas.

Total Vote Important To Party

Mrs. Wyle Bullock, of Lazbuddie, district committee-woman on state Democratic executive committee, today called on all Democrats to go to polls on election day and help strengthen the county's position in Democratic party affairs.

A large turnout at the polls will serve a dual purpose, Mrs. Bullock said. It will help insure an overwhelming victory for the Democratic candidates and at same time will build up Farmer County's strength in the 1964 political convention.

The voting strength of Farmer County in the '64 state Democratic convention is at stake in this general election, Mrs. Bullock explained.

The kind of voice this county will have in determining the affairs of Democrat Party of Texas depends on the number of votes cast for John Connally for governor.

Mrs. Bullock cited a provision of the Texas Election Code which provides that each county is entitled to one delegate to state convention for each 300 votes in that county for the party's gubernatorial candidate.

Each precinct in 1964 will have one delegate to county convention for every 25 votes cast in the precinct on November 6 for John Connally.

Carr Is Favorite In Attorney-General Race

Waggoner Carr of Lubbock is generally conceded to have the job of State Attorney General all but sewed up. Thomas Everton Kennerly, the Republican candidate, has his name on the ballot as the result of a write-in campaign in the primary.

attorney, defeated five other candidates in the Democratic primary, being thrown into a runoff with Tom Reavley, but beating the latter candidate handily in the second primary. Carr, who has been Speaker of the House of Representatives for the past four years, also has been Acting Chairman of House Crime Investigation Committee and was County and Assistant District Attorney previously. As Speaker, Carr helped create the Law Enforcement Study Commission. He is a Graduate of Texas Technological College and the University of Texas Law School, and has 15 years of active law practice in State and Federal courts.

About the responsibilities of his office, Carr states "Ours is a government of laws and the Attorney General must bear the responsibility of enforcement of the law--effectively, impartially, judiciously. He represents Texas in its disputes and dealings with other states and the Federal Government and renders legal opinions and advice to all agencies of the State Government and local authorities. He must at all times maintain the dignity of the Constitution and Laws without regard to whether he personally approves of the law.

In answer to the question "What efforts will you make to carry out these responsibilities?" he says:

"I will base my actions on the principle that every man be accorded his full rights under the law, but no man can be accorded special privileges. I will work in close cooperation with the State and local law enforcement officials, being careful not to destroy the responsibilities of local officials to the people who elected them. My platform is basically the strengthening of our legal framework where needed, and more vigorous enforcement of laws, once enacted."

KENNERLY

Thomas Everton Kennerly,

59, is a Houston attorney. The Republican candidate had both his academic and legal education at the University of Texas. He has been practicing in Houston for 37 years.

The son of Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly, he was nominated by President Eisenhower for U. S. District Judge, but the Senate adjourned before confirmation.

Kennerly says "The Attorney General of Texas advises the Governor, Departments, enforces all laws aiding County Prosecutors and gives written opinions to the citizens on important matters, representing the State in litigation involving the State, such as the tide lands litigation in the past. This office deserves a lawyer with a wide experience. I have represented clients in every walk of life for 37 years. My experience has been as both a trial and office lawyer.

"The Attorney General does not make laws; it will be my duty to vigorously enforce the laws, especially where the local prosecution is lax or lacks down. I will surround myself with an outstanding staff of assistants and will represent all of the people of Texas. I will try to be a selfless Attorney General and not a selfish one. I will not use this office as a political stepping stone."

CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE

Barry Rated Good Chance For A Republican Victory

The race for United States Congressman-At-Large is one that is very unique in the state. The reason lies in the fact that the Republican candidate --Desmond Barry of Houston, seems to be ahead of his Democrat opponent, Joe Pool--at least in some Political polls.

BARRY

Des Barry, the 54-year old president of a Houston trucking operation, is better known as "The Man Who Beat Hoffa." In 1955, he carried on a one-man fight for the very existence of his trucking company when the Teamsters tried to force him out of business when his employees wouldn't join the union.

Carrying the fight all the way to Washington, Barry won out over Hoffa and the Teamsters.

Barry has had 20 years experience working with state and federal bureaus and the U.S. Congress on transportation and labor matters. In the past six years, he has accepted over 600 speaking invitations in 35 states.

He served four years as an officer in the U. S. Air Force, and five years as consultant to the Mexican Air Force.

Carrying his campaign into every section of the state, Barry was greeted by a full house when he spoke at Lazbuddie July 30, a reception which drew statewide acclaim for Lazbuddie and Farmer County.

Barry's platform states:

--Demand a balanced national budget and a decrease in our national debt;

--Eliminate federal interference, dictation and control over business, agriculture, education, medicine and our local state affairs;

--Shut off aid to communist countries and the "neutrals" (unless they are "neutral on our side);

--Bring two-party government to Texas and our national government back to the people;

--Allow American business the freedom and incentives to compete on an equal basis with foreign industries we subsidize;

--Reduce taxes after reducing senseless spending;

--Return to Constitutional government, assuming as individuals the rights, freedoms and responsibilities our forefathers granted;

--Yield not one more inch of soil or sovereignty to communism or one-worldism.

POOL

Joe Pool, 50, is an attorney and president of Alden Mills, Dallas.

He was a member of the Texas House of Representatives six years, but ran unsuccessfully for the U. S. Congress in 1960, being defeated by Republican Bruce Alger.

Pool was a member of the Democratic National Natural Resources Advisory Committee in 1960, and was a special investigator in Army intelligence in World War II.

Items on Pool's platform are:

1. Against any foreign import that will destroy any phase of American industry.
2. Against foreign aid to any country unfriendly to the U. S.
3. Against federal aid to education.
4. Opposed to socialized medicine.
5. For an aggressive program to maintain the superiority over Communist countries.

Meat Prices Are Lower Than Seem

Housewives may be surprised to learn that they are paying less for meat today than their mothers paid. According to Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist, the proportion of the total family income that is spent for meat has dropped from seven per cent in 1920 to only four and one-half per cent today, while the proportion spent for other consumer goods has increased four times.

At the same time, we are getting better quality meat and a wider selection to choose from at the retail market, the specialist adds. The U. S. Department of Agriculture presently grades about 50 per cent of the beef, 15 per cent of the veal and calf, and 33 per cent of the lamb slaughtered in the U. S.

These USDA grades for carcass beef are Prime, Choice, Good, Standard, Commercial, Utility, Cutter and Canner. Most of the Prime beef is used by hotels and restaurants while the Choice, Good, Standard and some Commercial beef is available to consumers at the retail counter, Uvacek says. Good cuts can be obtained from any of these grades but the lower grades are usually better for the cuts which are cooked slowly, while steaks are usually more tender if taken from the high grades.

Slaughter calves are graded

Prime, Choice, Good, Standard, Utility and Cull but the consumer usually sees the appealing terms, calf, young fed tender beef, veal and others at the meat counter. Most of the lambs marketed fall into the top three USDA grades. These are Prime, Choice and Good.

Pork is evaluated through the packer brand names and is not sold on a Federal graded basis, according to Uvacek.

Meat is a bargain today and any of the retail cuts can be appetizing if prepared properly. Local county home demonstration agents can supply information on meat cookery, concludes Uvacek.

The electric power used by each of the three electric furnaces at International Nickel's smelter at Thompson, Manitoba, is sufficient to furnish electricity for a residential area of over 100,000 people.

AGAINST INCUMBENT

County Resident Tries To Win Senate Seat

Farmers County voters will have more than just passing interest in the race for state senator, 30th district. County resident John Zahn of Farwell opposes incumbent Andy Rogers in that race.

While Rogers has served as President pro-tempore of the Texas senate, Zahn has been designated for the like honor by Republican lieutenant governor candidate, Bill Hayes, should both be elected, states Zahn.

ZAHN

Zahn, the Republican candidate, who has no past political undertakings, chose the task of trying to unseat Democrat Rogers, who has held his position for the past 10 years.

John Zahn, 36, is in the Real Estate business in Farwell. An ex-postmaster at Farwell, Zahn served with the 106th Infantry in Europe during World War II. Zahn is married, and he and his wife, Jo Ann, have two sons, Craig, 6, and Mark, 4. Jo Ann is the county's visiting teacher. He feels that his two and one-half years of experience with the Farmers Home Administration and with the banking business gives him an ideal insight into the needs of the people in West Texas.

Zahn points out that his opponent sponsored Senate Bill number eight, which would place county funds under state jurisdiction, and warns against state control such as this.

In his platform, Zahn includes:

1. State sovereignty.
2. Government economy.
3. Local medical care as opposed to government-controlled medicine.
4. Private enterprise free of government controls.

5. Local self-government—the closer the government is to the people, the more effective it is and less expensive to administer.

6. Right to work laws.

7. Local schools free of federal control.

8. More effective loan shark laws.

9. Codes to guarantee election counts, simplified forms and ballots.

10. Equality for women under the law in Texas.

11. Encouragement of the teaching of Americanism in the classrooms.

ROGERS

Andy Rogers, 37, is a stock farmer and in the general insurance business. The Childress resident has 14 years of legislative experience, four in the House of Representatives and 10 as state senator.

A World War II veteran, he is a Baptist, a member of Farm Bureau and several fraternal organizations.

In 1951, Rogers helped secure the additional senate seat for West Texas, which is now the 30th Senatorial District. He was then a member of the House of Representatives.

On his platform, Rogers lists:

- FOR:
1. Right to work law.

2. Private ownership and control of underground water.

3. Bill that outlawed Jimmy Hoffa's operations in Texas.

4. Resolution to Prevent Red China's admission to U.N.

5. More representation for West Texas.

6. More competitive free enterprise.

AGAINST:

1. Eighty per cent of the new state taxing and spending in the past 14 years.
2. More government and monopoly controls.
3. Income taxes in Texas.
4. Deficit spending.
5. Minimum wage for agriculture workers.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

From time to time I'm sure you have wondered whether a certain food would be safe to freeze. Maybe you have thrown away food that you had doubts about that had been thawed for a day or two.

Research studies reveal that you may refreeze food if the temperature of the food has not risen above 40 degrees F., or ordinary refrigerator temperatures. Of course, this depends if the food has not acquired an odor, or if the texture and color have not changed.

The process of refreezing in itself introduces no hazard, the study shows. If the partially thawed food is safe to eat, then it is safe to refreeze.

A rise in a food's temperature up to thawing will impair color, flavor, and texture, and the refreezing period causes further loss of quality. However, if the total time involved is short enough, there may be enough quality left to justify refreezing.

This is important in maintaining the zero degrees in the home freezer to keep the quality of the food high. Even freezing degrees of fifteen or twenty degrees will lower the quality of the food stored. Check your freezer that it is maintaining a zero or below temperature at all times.

No health hazard is involved if the temperature of the food has not risen above ordinary refrigerator temperature. Food-poisoning bacteria have never been found to grow at temperatures below 38 degrees F. And they grow very slowly between 38 and 45 degrees. But other bacteria can grow slowly at these or even lower temperatures. These bacteria cause off-odors and off-flavors that spoil foods but do not cause food poisoning.

Here is an interesting study that was made in costs of food for small and larger families. It makes a big difference when you go grocery shopping how many are in your family. Naturally, but have you heard about this study?

Today's modern family of four, according to statistics, spends about $32 a week for groceries, using the USDA moderate cost food plan. Or, if they economize and use the low-cost food plan, the weekly tab is $24.

Now let's look at the family of five. You can figure that food costs will run five per cent less per person. With six or more people to feed, you'd pay 10 per cent less for each.

For the small family of two or three, food costs go up rather than down. It costs five per cent more to feed each person in a family of three; 10 per cent more for each member in a family of two; and 20 per cent more if a man or woman lives alone, rather than in our typical family of four.

1963 Cotton Allotment Referendum Announced

A national marketing quota of 14,367,000 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres have been announced for the 1963 crop of upland cotton by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The governing legislation provides an additional 310,000 acres as a national acreage reserve to be used to the extent needed in establishing minimum farm allotments.

December 11 has been set as the date for the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1963 upland cotton crop. At least two-thirds of the upland cotton farmers voting must approve the quotas if they are to be effective.

Prentice Mills, office manager

We had loads of fun last week during a "Let's Have Fun" recreation leader workshop in the Hub Community Center, October 25. We played party, get acquainted games, circle games, high point games, and even sang several songs.

Seventeen homemakers and leaders of the home demonstration clubs, 4-H leaders, and other clubs were very active in the games. I felt each of the group will be enthused in helping others in planning parties and leading games and singing.

of Farmer County ASCS, points out that the Department's announcement of the national quota and allotment declares that "it is not anticipated that this will be the final national acreage authorized for the 1963 crop, because of new legislation to be recommended to the Congress by the president to remove the inequities in the present two-price cotton system."

The 1963 quota represents a cut of 11.8 per cent from last year's acreage. That amounts to around 5,700 acres in Farmer County.

If the marketing quotas are approved in the December 11 referendum, Mills explained, price support will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments for upland cotton at a level within the range of 65 and 90 per cent of parity, as provided by law. The exact level of support will be determined later.

the state turnpikes in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, are turning increasingly to steel median beam type guard rails to prevent head-on collisions of vehicles crossing into opposite lanes of on-coming traffic.

The New Jersey Turnpike, most heavily travelled toll road in the nation, has not experienced one fatality due to head-on collisions since installation of a metal guard rail over its 118-mile course, according to Joseph Morecraft, Jr., chairman of the Turnpike Authority.

The 22-year-old Pennsylvania Turnpike, oldest of all toll roads in the United States, recently passed the half-way mark in a program to install steel guard rails on its 470-mile route.

Tests by California state highway authorities with several types of steel dividers on heavily-travelled freeways showed practical elimination of head-on accidents, highway officials said.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Head-on collisions on major highways could be practically eliminated by use of dividers to separate traffic moving in opposite directions, according to highway authorities.

Statistics compiled by safety experts indicate such crashes account for about 4,000 of the estimated 38,000 lives lost annually in motor vehicle accidents.

14 Amendments Confront Voters

One of the most bewildering decisions facing Texas voters each general election is passing or refusing amendments to the state constitution. Texas operates within a constitutional framework originally copied after that of the federal government, but the state's has been amended so many times in the past 100 years that it is a crazy-quilt collection of policies which seemingly become more difficult to interpret and live under each year.

In 1962, 14 proposed amendments face the voters of Texas, and if the electorate plans to vote intelligently on the merits of the propositions, it will probably take them longer to ferret out the facts in the referendum than to sift the chaff from the wheat in the case of the candidates.

The fourteen amendments have been published in Parmer County newspapers in their entirety. Here is a brief--very brief--description of them together with a recommendation which we make regarding their worthiness. This comment is editorial in nature.

It is pointed out (and admitted, if you please) that we have a natural reluctance to endorse any amendment to the state constitution. The reason is that the state constitution, unlike the federal's, requires only a simple majority of the people to become law. A two-thirds majority ratification is required for any change in the U.S. constitution. Since most amendments in this state originate from groups with special problems, and interest is rarely statewide, it is traditional for voting to be light, and for the most part ill-informed. The general public is simply not interested enough to dig out the facts--which are sometimes pretty hard to find--concerning the amendments. Moreover, it is history that once amendments have been adopted, they are adopted permanently. That is, if the public makes an unwise choice, it is practically impossible to rescind this action in later years. Changes in the constitution have a way of becoming quite permanent, no matter whether they are sound or otherwise. That being the case, we have elected upon a course that could be described as cautious. We believe if an amendment is too broad, or too vague, it should be discarded for that reason alone, since it has such far-reaching consequences.

NO. 1--WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION. Would authorize all counties and other political subdivisions to provide insurance for all employees. Since 1948 counties have been able to provide workmen's compensation for their employees. The "other political subdivisions" is too general. It might conceivably include justice precincts, water districts, erosion districts, and so on. Too vague and not needed.

NO. 2--NEEDY AGED, BLIND AND CHILDREN. Welfare costs are difficult to control and often are the seedbed of administrative mismanagement and abuse. Yet Americans have a Christian responsibility to care for this group, and here is a chance to do it at the state level instead of asking the federal bureaucrats to take over. The $5 million increase is a modest request considering the problems bred by inflation in recent years.

NO. 3--HOSPITAL DISTRICTS. Castro, Parmer County's neighbor, is one of four counties this amendment is specifically drawn for. It would permit the state to create hospital districts the same dimension as the county boundaries. No objection to this; it is permissive legislation and would still have to be acted upon by the citizens who are residents of the county. A point, though: why does the whole state have to vote on this simple issue?

NO. 4--WATER FACILITIES. Would authorize the Water Development Board to acquire and develop storage facilities. This state office needs authority to carry out one of the state's most pressing needs. This is an important job for the future and should be permitted by the state's voters.

NO. 5--HOSPITAL DISTRICTS. This amendment would permit the legislature to authorize creation of districts composed of all or part of one or more counties. It would save the need for the whole state to vote on every proposal, as in proposed amendment No. 3 already commented on. Pass it and move the red tape out of the ballot box.

NO. 6--RETIREMENT BENEFITS. The state already has a plan for retirement, disability, death benefits for employees. This is besides the Social Security program. The cost of this amendment to various political subdivisions has not even been estimated. It should be rejected.

NO. 7--GOVERNMENT AFTER ENEMY ATTACK. Would authorize the legislature to fill public positions if the incumbents were unavailable due to an emergency attack. This is giving the legislature too much power. They don't need it as we already have laws which provide for filling offices when they become unexpectedly vacant. Besides, how do we know we could get the legislature in session in event of disaster? Since we have no control over what might happen in case of enemy attack, it would not be possible to prepare for any eventuality. Play it safe and leave this alone.

NO. 8--PERMANENTLY AND TOTALLY DISABLED. Would increase by $1 million the state's aid to totally and permanently disabled who are not feasible for rehabilitation. This proposed amendment ties in closely with proposition No. 2 and we support it for the same reasons. While there no doubt are some abuses in this program, as is always the case in any government-administered aid project, the amount asked is a pittance for a state like Texas, and there is no doubt that most of the money is going for needed, humanitarian purposes.

NO. 9--HOSPITAL DISTRICT, HOMES FOR AGED. Pertaining to permissive legislation to authorize creation of two hospital districts in Brazoria County, and a home for the aged in Titus County. Here is another case of where all the state's citizens are asked to vote on an entirely local issue. We think that if the residents of the counties mentioned wish to vote taxes upon themselves for the purposes explained, they should be allowed to do so. If the constitution provides they may not do this, then THAT is where we need the constitution amended, or re-amended, as the case may well be.

NO. 10--STATE EMPLOYEES AS CONSULTANTS. Would permit state employees to serve as consultants or on advisory committees with other agencies of the state or the federal government, provided there is no conflict of interest. This amendment would set a dangerous precedent. A person should be elected or appointed to an office to fill one specific job, no other. The amendment provides that under it employees might be reimbursed for their expenses while providing this consulting service. In time, this might be broadened to amount to being paid for two jobs instead of one.

NO. 11--SALE OF LANDS TO NON-VETERANS. Would permit the sale of lands held by the veterans land fund to persons other than veterans. Even though the amendment provides that the lands would first have to be offered to veterans we oppose this measure. Several years ago the veterans land program became one of the most mis-managed state projects ever undertaken. The program was originally designed to help veterans. There is no reason to broaden it to help others now.

NO. 12--TRAFFIC, LITTERING ON COASTAL BEACHES. Would authorize county or local governing agency where the beaches are located to regulate and control speed, parking, travel and littering on these beaches. We are far removed from the beaches of the Texas Gulf Coast, but it looks to us like this job is more properly within the province of the state, which is more likely to have uniform and effective laws governing such matters. We will vote against it.

NO. 13--DALLAS COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICTS. Would authorize Dallas County school districts to continue the levy of taxes and the sale of bonds without having elections following a change in boundaries. Why just Dallas County? If this change is desired and needed let it be for the state, not just one county. If this amendment passes it will further add to the confusion of state law by permitting another small pocket of "special law" for a special situation. Besides, the present requirements for re-authorization of taxes and bonds after any boundary change discourages school boards from making changes to which there may be considerable opposition in areas affected.

NO. 14--TRIAL DE NOVO. Authorize the legislature to provide for a new trial on all appeals to the courts from decisions of administrative and executive state agencies. It is curious that the most important amendment of all--the one which would have the most far-reaching effects if passed--should be at the bottom of the long amendments list. Up to now in many cases persons have been unable to appeal executive decisions made by state officials and boards. Reference is often made to the state's regulatory commissions, and arbitrary and unwise decisions reached by these boards have been a genuine basis for complaint by many of Texas' citizens who have been "burned" when caught in the administrative machinery. It is frustrating for citizens to have no recourse in the courts from decisions made by bureaucratic agencies of the government. The opinions of the state officials often have the same effect as statutory law. However, if this amendment should be passed, it would throw wide the gates and in time could subject every decision made by every agency to trial in the courts. It could, conceivably, mean that every decision made by the Parmer County commissioners court, for example, can be challenged in the courtroom by anyone who takes offense. Such procedure would result in not government but chaos. Officials are elected, and they appoint assistants to carry out the desires of the people using the state and federal laws as guidelines. If a man is elected to do a job, we think he should be permitted to carry it out to the best of his ability, and his every action can not be subject to challenge in the courts by some crank. If the man can't or won't do the job right, then get rid of him--but while he has the job give him the authority to carry it out. We are AGAINST No. 14.

How many hunters and fishermen are there in Texas? It always appears to me there are quite a few, from informal yarn-swapping over the county. Now I have some statistics to back up my survey. Our wildlife specialist says that 1,625,000 Texans age 12 years and older hunt or fish. In 1955 1,418,000 fished in fresh water and 447,000 fished in salt and many did both. Also in 1955 709,000 hunted and of this number 658,000 hunted small game, 242,000 hunted big game, 135,000 hunted waterfowl and many did more than one.

The total expenditure for hunters and fishermen in Texas was

It means a nation which devoted hundreds of millions of dollars to the reconstruction of battle-torn countries after World War II through the Marshall Plan . . . Yankee Imperialism says a man has a right to happiness through a worthy life. Perhaps the Soviets could tell us how this compares with Russian Imperialism. The Soviets hold all the countries defeated by them under their yoke without any freedom at all.'"

$165,054,000. Figuring this out per person this would be $101.57 per sportsman.

It has been said that a sportsman who spends a week-end in town is worth more than a bale of cotton and you don't have to pick it.

The average deer hunter will spend approximately $55 per buck that he shoots and $15, for each doe.

Ever year several people are always killed during the hunting season and a great number of these accidents could be prevented if hunters would follow the simple hunting safety rules.

1. Don't shoot unless you know what you are shooting at.
2. Always assume every gun is loaded.
3. Make sure the barrel is not clogged with mud or snow.
4. Don't climb fences with a gun which is ready to fire.
5. Don't throw your gun into the car or vehicle.

If we would all abide by these simple rules, hunting would be 90% safer.

MILES CITY, MONT., DAILY STAR: "As long as people live, there will undoubtedly be those who will shirk from accepting freedom as their own responsibility. They will want their government to provide their security, guarantee them minimum wages, guarantee them full employment, guarantee them good prices for their products, guarantee them good housing, guarantee the solvency of their loans, guarantee them medical care, and many other things. Such people are thereby choosing slavery rather than freedom . . ."

DEAR PARMER COUNTY NEIGHBORS:

In case Frank Ford's opponent has told you that he is going to carry Hereford against Frank, we would like to set the record straight. Frank Ford is going to carry Deaf Smith County because he is respected and capable. His opponent has waited till the last minute to campaign and then resorted to such childish tactics as pasting bumper stickers all over vacant buildings without the owner's consent and making big claims about support which he doesn't have. We think people in these parts are tired of doubletalk and Lyndon Johnson control of Texas politics. So let's elect Frank Ford as our State Representative and have a man that we can be proud of in Austin.

TOP RACE?

Ford, Clayton Lock Horns For State Representative

One of the races which has generated a lot of interest among Farmer County voters is that for State Representative, 91st district, where Frank Ford (R-Hereford) and Bill Clayton (D-Springlake) square off.

It is the race where Farmer County's votes will have a more direct bearing than most others, excepting the local races, since the district is composed of five counties--Parmer, Bailey, Deaf Smith, Castro and Lamb.

The candidates for the job vacated by Jesse Osborn of Muleshoe, who retired this year after several active terms, have engaged in quite a campaign for the house seat.

Both are young men. Ford is 29 and Clayton is 33. Both also graduated from Texas A&M College.

FORD

Frank Ford, a Deaf Smith County farmer and businessman, worked his way through Texas A&M, where he was named the outstanding student in the School of Agriculture as well as the top-ranking cadet.

Ford serves as chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce. Active in church work, where he teaches a high school class, he also serves as Scoutmaster for Boy Scout Troop 52.

He served 30 months in the U.S. Army, attaining the rank of Captain in the artillery, and commanded a nuclear-equipped rocket battery.

Ford held the job of Bill Clerk in the 56th Legislature in 1959, where he was responsible for all bills, resolutions, and the making of each day's legislative agenda.

He states "My political philosophy is defined clearly in the Constitution of the United States. In these times of crisis I think it is more important than ever to elect men of conviction to public office."

Frank Ford says he believes: 1. Education is the proper function of state and local government. The job should be done by Texas, not Washington.

2. Election procedures must be improved to prevent a repetition of 1960, when thousands of votes were invalidated in this area.

3. Small loan legislation is badly needed to protect individuals and legitimate lending institutions from abuse.

4. Sales tax should be simplified by removing any irregularities which make administration difficult or costly.

5. State Ad Valorem tax should be abolished and this source of revenue kept for the sole use of city, county and school district.

6. Franchise tax--the "temporary" increase in this tax should now be removed, as it is helping cause small business failure.

7. Lobbyists--the best way to prevent illegal lobbyist influence on the Legislature is to elect Legislators who cannot be bought or coerced.

8. Enforcement procedures need to be strengthened so that the "hot check law" and its current penalties can become more effective.

9. Right to work law should be defended to protect the right of choice and prevent the abuses inherent in the closed shop system.

10. For local control of water resources and development of upstream dams in this area.

CLAYTON

Bill Clayton, the Democratic candidate, beat out two other Democrats, Bill Millen and B. M. Nelson, for the party nomination, being forced into a runoff with the latter candidate.

Also a farmer and businessman, Clayton is a deacon and is Training Union Director in the First Baptist Church at Springlake.

Vice president of the Farmers Co-op Gin of Springlake, Clayton is past president of the Lions Club there.

Clayton calls himself a "Conservative Democrat dedicated to fiscal responsibilities and a return of the government to the people."

On his legislative platform he lists:

1. Balanced budget.
2. Across the board sales tax.
3. Better "hot check" law.
4. Small loan regulation.
5. Improving the public school system.
6. Informing one's constituents on legislative matters.
7. Retaining the present water laws.
8. Retaining the "Right to Work" law.

Farm Facts

Preliminary Census of Agriculture figures for 1959 reveal that 509,538 U. S. farms produce some cotton.

Cotton is grown in 19 states. These are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

Cotton is grown on 35% of the farms in Texas--almost 81,000. South Carolina, however, has the highest percentage of farms producing cotton--58.1, followed by Mississippi with 56, Alabama with 55.2, Georgia with 40, Arkansas with 36.7, and Arizona with 35.1.

Texas also ranks first in cotton production, ginning more than 48 million bales of the 14.3 million ginned during the 1961-62 season.

California ginned nearly 1.7 million bales, Mississippi more than 1.6 million, and Arkansas nearly 1.5 million.
