Post Office, Variety Store Robbed

Burglars got only trouble for their efforts when they robbed Bovina Post Office and Bovina Variety early Sunday morning.

Alertness of two Bovina men, Billy Don and Darrell Read, kept the burglars from getting away with five sacks and a pouch of incoming mail and several hundred dollars worth of variety store merchandise.

As it turned out, all the mail and all the merchandise was returned.

The burglars escaped on foot, however, after wrecking their car while being chased by the Read brothers.

Darrell Read noticed two men carrying "something" from behind the two buildings across the railroad tracks. In observing the strange goings on, he said he saw two men make three or four trips each across the tracks. He decided something was wrong when he saw one of the men duck down to avoid being caught in the lights of a passing car.

About that time, Read says, a station wagon pulled up behind the stores and sped off down Highway 60 toward Farwell.

The Read brothers gave chase in an effort to get the license number of the fleeing car, which they think had three men in it.

Some three miles from Bovina, the station wagon turned around and came back to town and the chase continued in the opposite direction.

The station wagon turned on Highway 86 at the intersection west of town, sped into town and turned south on a dirt street, turning off its lights as it did so. Read was unable to turn at the same street the station wagon did and he thought momentarily that he had lost the suspected burglars.

However, he noticed the flash of tail-lights as the station wagon was braked. Taking after the station wagon again in south-east part of town, the Reads were still trying to get close enough to read the license numbers.

Going at a high rate of speed on a dirt street, the station wagon missed a turn onto FM Road 1731 south and crashed into a recently-constructed, uncovered strip of curb, wrecking the car to the extent that it wouldn't run. Occupants of the station wagon then fled on foot as the Reads rushed to get Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter at his home here.

Minter called Amarillo police department for assistance with its dogs. Two Amarillo policemen rushed here with dogs and attempted to track the burglars. Their attempts were handicapped by rain which began falling a few minutes after the dogs were on the scene and this attempt proved futile though one of the patrolmen said his dog followed a hot trail south through town and then west.

The Amarillo policemen who aided in the chase here were Sgt. Walter Head with a dog named "Warrior" and Glenn Farmer with a dog named "Tory." The dogs are German Shepherds. County law officers feel that the dogs would have probably caught the burglars if the rain hadn't washed away the scent left by the fleeing law. (Continued on page 6) to cover her young daughter with a blanket. The youngster, who was riding in the back seat, was uninjured.

The car apparently went off on a shoulder, and when Mrs. Langham swerved, it overturned. The car was found resting on its wheels on the west side of the highway.

Mrs. Langham's husband was following his wife in a pick-up truck at the time of the accident.

Governor Mechem To Attend Texico School Open House

Governor Edwin L. Mechem will be among the honored guests at the Texico High School open house tonight (Friday) 8 p. m. Other dignitaries from the State Department of Education, the State School Board and New Mexico Parent Teacher Association will also be on hand for the ceremonies.

Wesley Quinn, Clovis attorney will be main speaker for the event and special music will be provided by the high school music department under direction of Gary Stelting, new music director at the Texico School.

Persons attending the open house will be taken on a conducted tour of the new building which was completed late in August just in time for the opening of school.

Bonds were voted for the erection of the building in April 1961 but it was not until March of 1962 that construction of the building began. Earhard and Co. were contractors with a successful bid of $155,000. The 12,148 feet of floor space includes seven classrooms which consist of a science laboratory, a home economics laboratory, a mathematics laboratory, an English laboratory, a new business laboratory, which has been equipped with twelve new typewriters and twenty five new tables, and a social science room in addition to three offices, a reception area, a lounge and two rest rooms.

The school held ground breaking ceremonies for the new building in April under sponsorship of the high school student council with a cornerstone laying ceremony being held in May with LaMoin Langton, a 1924 graduate of the Texico School and now chief of the Administrative Services of the New Mexico Department of Education assisted by Masonic Lodge #40 of Clovis in charge.

The consecrated elements of the corn of nourishment, wine of refreshment and the oil of joy and gladness were applied to the stone before it was set in place by the Grand Mason of Lodge #40.

The new building is the completion of a dream for many Texico School patrons who have had as many as five, six and even seven children start to school and finish high school in the original building at the school grounds which has been standing for approximately forty years.

Texico School Board members are John Hadley, president, Glen Singleterry, Paul Harrison, F. S. Thigpen and Ed Combs. J. Buck Doran is superintendent of the school and A. D. McDonald is the high school principal.

The open house is under direction of the Texico PTA with Mrs. Melvin Burns, president in charge of arrangements. She says the public is invited to attend the open house and meet Governor Mechem and see the new school building of which we are all so proud.

Farwell-Friona Teams Meet Tonight At 8 P.M.

Farwell Steers will open their regular season play tonight (Friday) against the Class AA Friona Chiefs on the Farwell field with game time set at 8 p. m.

Coach Dempsey Alexander will be starting a young, inexperienced team as he has only three seniors in the starting lineup. They are Bobby Actinsson, 195 lb. tackle; Kenny Smith, 155 lb. guard; and either Barry McCuan 150 lb. or Joe Tom Reed 170 lb. at halfback.

lb. halfback and Jerry Herrington, 165 lb. fullback. On the defensive team Ronnie Ussery will be starting at guard replacing Darrell Crook.

Alexander says his boys are inexperienced and young but are working hard and are eager to please. Coaches are well pleased with the way the boys are shaping up and are hoping for a repeat of last years 20-0 score over the Chiefs.

Little is known locally of the Friona team with the exception that they have eight returning lettermen having lost only a quarterback and both ends from their starting lineup of last year.

Farwell High School band, under the direction of John McGee, new band instructor, will be performing at halftime.

Here is an exterior view of the new Texico High School with superintendent J. Buck Doran in the foreground.

Carolyn Woodson, Don Lovett Wed In Sunday Ceremony

Double ring vows uniting in marriage Miss Carolyn Jane Woodson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Woodson of Farwell, and Gary Don Lovett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lovett of Texico, Route 2, were repeated at the First Baptist Church in Farwell Sunday, September 2, at 3 p. m.

Rev. J. L. Bass, pastor of the church, officiated. Rev. J. L. King grandfather of the groom, gave the benediction at the close of the ceremony.

Vows were exchanged before an altar setting of seven branched candelabra centered with a huge bouquet of white gladioli and asters flanked by large ferns on either side. A kneeling bench entwined with white carnations and greenery centered the altar arrangement.

Mrs. J. B. Sudderth, sister of the bride, was organist and played "Indian Love Call" as a prelude and accompanied Miss Martha Blair as she sang "I Love You Truly," and "Whither Thou Goest." She also played traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. Markum Chadwick served her sister as matron of honor and Miss Pat Woodson, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore matching dresses of pale blue pima cotton styled with bateau necklines, with the basque waist extending to points at the waistlines and full flowing skirts. Their headpieces were small pale blue crowns with short scalloped net veils attached.

The front skirt panel formed by one large pleat on each side, and the portrait neckline also were appliqued with lace. Seven covered buttons closed each of the long sleeves which ended in points. Forty small buttons fastened the back of the dress. She wore a diamond pendant necklace, a gift from the groom.

The bride's three-tiered illusion veil fell from a cluster of beau de sole roses. White rosebuds formed the bride's bouquet. Carrying out bridal tradition she wore a small locket which belonged to her grandmother for something old, her dress and veil were new, and borrowed and blue was the garter which belonged to her sister, Mrs. J. W. Perry Jr.

Mrs. Range attended her daughter's wedding in a mauve lace sheath and the bridegroom's mother, wore a beige linen sheath. Both women wore white rosebud corsages.

A reception was held in the reception room at the chapel immediately following the ceremony.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom figurine was placed at one end of the damask covered table and a silver punch service, flanked by two five-branched silver candelabra holding pink tapers was at the other end of the table. Pink roses and greenery were entwined and extended to the table center. The cut glass dish from which mints were served was an antique belonging to the bride's great grandmother.

The bride and groom cut the cake with a sterling silver cake knife engraved with their names and wedding date which was a gift from the bride's parents.

A smaller table from which guests were served was laid with a net cloth over plum-colored satin and centered with a pink and floral arrangement and miniature bags of rice in pink

County Farmers Vote "Yes" In Close Wheat Balloting

Farmer County farmers, like those in the rest of the nation, voted in favor of the 1963 wheat quotas last Thursday, but also like the nationwide vote, the margin was a close one.

With a two-thirds majority required in order for the quotas to pass, the national election carried with a "squeaking" 68 per cent majority.

Farmer County voters, while giving the quotas a bit more of an edge with a 73 per cent majority, showed some degree of reversal to past elections, such as last year when the measure carried by 87 per cent.

Several area counties failed to give the referendum the required 66 and two-thirds per cent majority, and in seven counties the vote failed to carry even a majority.

The seven counties where the issue did not carry were on the North Plains-- Dallam, Sherman, Ochiltree, Oldham, Gray, Hutchinson and Donley.

In ten counties, the referendum carried, but not by a two-thirds majority. These counties were Potter, Randall, Hansford, Lipscomb, Hartley, Armstrong, Floyd, Bailey, Hardeman and Wilbarger.

Since the North Plains counties are predominately dryland wheat-growing areas, the voting trend seemed to be against quotas in dryland areas, and for them in the irrigated counties.

Although Farmer County's vote was 150 short of last year's record 702, the county's wheat-growers maintained their record as "most patriotic," as more voters turned out than in any other county in the state, for the second straight year.

The total vote in the county was 405 for the quotas, and 147 against. One county ballot box voted against the measures, the Rhea box, which voted 20-16 against quotas. Another box, at Oklahoma Lane, carried, but not by two-thirds majority, 27-15.

The vote for the county, by precinct, was:

	For	Against
Friona	141	42
Rhea	16	20
Lazbuddie	103	27
Bovina	49	13

Farwell 69 30
Oklahoma Lane 27 15
Totals 405 147

The vote on a statewide basis carried by approximately 70 per cent. The vote in Oklahoma dipped below the required majority, with only 61.4 per cent supporting the quotas. New Mexico voters approved the measure by 69.3 per cent.

By approving the quotas, Farmer County will lose 774 acres from its 1962 crop, a reduction of .7 of one per cent. The national average support price for 1963 wheat has been announced as $1.82 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE fertilizer makes, John Littlefield (left) tells T. O. Lesley, as the two farmers compare height of cotton which failed to receive fertilizer to cotton which had a normal application. Littlefield's farm was one of the places visited on the Lazbuddie area tour sponsored by the Soil Conservation Service last Thursday.

Lazbuddie FHA Has Breakfast

The Lazbuddie chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held a come-as-you-are breakfast recently as a part of the fund raising program for the 1962-63 year. Approximately $20 was collected. The girls were charged for the garments they wore.

The officers were in charge of the breakfast. Some of the officers cooked while the others picked up the girls that had no available transportation.

The parents were notified the day before, however the girls knew nothing of it until the morning of the breakfast.

Brief Is Filed In Water Test Case

The main brief in the groundwater depletion case, styled "Marvin Shurbet, et ux, v. The United States of America," was filed on August 6 with the U. S. District Court in Amarillo, Texas. The suit is being sponsored as a test case by the High Plains Undergruond Water Conservation District.

On August 27, attorneys for the Water District filed with the Court what they term a "reply brief." This brief is a reply to the Government's main brief.

The suit seeks to establish ground water in the Southern High Plains of Texas as a depletable natural resource within the definition of the term as used in the Federal Internal Revenue Service's tax code.

Should the Court rule in favor of Shurbet, and such ruling is upheld on appeal, then he and other ground water owners throughout the area will qualify for a federal income-tax deduction during those years when a decline in ground water levels is experienced. Only those who can show a cost in their water and who are using the water to produce income would be eligible.

The Water District will make public additional information concerning progress of the case as developments become known.

Kay Burleson In Contest

Kay Burleson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Burleson of Route 1, Friona, is the Farmer County entrant in the "Miss Grain Sorghum of the Nation" contest Thursday night in Dimmitt.

Miss Burleson, who recently represented the county in the "Miss Texas Rural Electrification" contest, and reigned as Friona's "Maize Days Queen" last fall, is one of 32 entrants in the contest.

There are 10 entrants from Dimmitt and 22 from other counties, as opposed to only four out-of-town entries at last year's contest, which was the second annual event.

A $500 scholarship is to be awarded to the winner. Trophies will be given to the top three finishers.

A total of 13 counties in the area are represented by the beauties, who range in age from 16 to 21.

Rural Telephone Coop Sets Meeting

The annual meeting of the membership of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc. is to be held September 11, 1962, in the Community Center, Hereford, Texas, at 7:30 p.m.

The cooperative has completed the engineering survey in regard to improvements to the cooperative's system. The membership will decide which proposal of service modification the membership would desire.

All members of the Cooperative are urged to attend this important meeting.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT
DERYL COKER

The Farmer County Weed Committee met last week to evaluate the work and action that Farmer County residents have taken toward the control of bindweed.

The ASCS reported that they had helped more farmers on the cost share basis than in years past. Mr. Ronald Mock, of Santa Fe Railroad was also present and reported that they were treating bindweed at the present time, and he further stated that the bindweed situation has and is improving on railroad right-of-way.

The Weed Committee, Santa Fe Railroad, Highway Department, County Commissioners Court, and the ASC office are to be congratulated for all the work and effort they have contributed in the control of bindweed.

Farmers and city folk alike should back these people and help in any way possible to rid Farmer County of bindweed.

If you should find some bindweed and it is still blooming, take time to treat it, for next year the spot will be bigger and harder to control.

I guess you think I have preached a lot about bindweed. Well, I have, for I know that this weed has the ability to ruin good farm land.

The Texas A&M College has a new service to aid farmers in irrigated sections of Texas. They have equipped and set up facilities for determining quality of irrigation water and measuring salt accumulations in the soil.

Since all waters contain salt, a salinity threat exists to some degree in every area where irrigation is practiced.

Salinity tests of water reveal whether it is safe to use for irrigation purposes and what management practices or soil amendments, if any, are needed for sustained production. Soil salinity tests are also important because soil types determine in many cases whether saline water is usable.

A charge of $5.00 will be made for testing water samples and $4.00 for soil salinity tests. Testing of soil samples for fertilizer and limestone requirements will continue to cost $2. A special set of forms has been developed for use of farmers in submitting water and soil samples for salinity testing. Farmer County farmers can obtain these forms along with additional information of salinity testing at my office.

Rogers Will Speak At SCD Banquet Saturday

Walter Rogers, U. S. Representative for the 18th Congressional District, will be the featured speaker for the Farmer County Soil Conservation District's eighth annual banquet Saturday night at Lazbuddie.

Activities will begin at 7 p.m., with a cafeteria-style banquet at the school cafeteria. After the meal, the program will move to the High School Auditorium. Highlight of the evening will be the naming of the "Conservation Farmer of the Year." Four farmers have been nominated for the county award, as a result of being selected by their community.

Nominees are Burt Williams of the Farwell-Oklahoma Lane area; John Littlefield, Lazbuddie; Tom Caldwell, Bovina; and M. A. Black, Friona. Last year's recipient of the award was Bob Riethmayer of Friona.

Also on the program is to be the awarding of plaques for the District's essay contest winners. Those to be awarded plaques are Patricia Ann Crawford, Bovina; John Agee, Lazbuddie; Terry Dwight Darling, Lazbuddie; and Billy Minter, Bovina.

Winners in the county's essay contest are entered in the Fort Worth Press' regional contest. Last spring, four of the top ten winners in Region I, comprising 51 counties, were from Farmer County. They were Kay Burrenson of Lazbuddie, fourth; Terry Darling, Lazbuddie, fifth; John Agee, Lazbuddie, sixth; and Jimmie Dale Seaton; Lazbuddie, eighth.

Winners of this year's land judging contest will also be recognized. Gilbert Dale was the first-place winner; Greg Jarrell was second; Eric Rushing third and Gary Renner fourth.

In teams awards, Friona took first place in the land contest, Farwell was second and Bovina third.

IT WAS shearing time for approximately 2200 sheep at the Roy Clements farm west of Friona recently, as the herd, one of the largest in the area, received its annual shearing.

TFU Prexy To Speak At Hub Meeting

Jay Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union, will speak at a meeting of the Farmer County Farmers Union at the Hub Community Center Thursday night, September 13, beginning at 8 p.m.

The meeting has been planned to include every member of the family. There will be a special organizational meeting for the youngsters, so they are encouraged to attend.

Naman will bring the organization up to date on activities of Farmers Union, legislation and so forth.

A door prize will be given away, which requires registration at the door.

"We are urging all farm families who are interested in farm organizations that truly represent the farmer to attend this meeting," a spokesman for Farmers Union said.

Home-made pie and coffee will be served, and entertainment will be provided.

Did I Get A "Lemon?"

(One pair of shoes from a manufacturer whose shoes she knows are good gave very poor service. Should she complain to the retailer?)

To keep your conscience clear, first consider the circumstances. If the child was learning to ride a bike or had just begun to ride the merry-go-round at the playground maybe it was a case of unusually hard wear. I know from your letter that you are fair--you don't expect the shoe dealer to keep your child in shoes.

If the abuse of the shoes was just normal I would certainly show them to the dealer. The selection of leather in shoe manufacturing is a time-honored profession--handed down from father-to-son. I'll never know how they can tell from the look and feel of leather whether it will wear or not. Very, very rarely, a poor hide or a weak section of a hide slips by and is used. Drought-time animals, for instance, have an inferior hide. Shoe retailers and manufacturers know that some inferior leather is bound to slip through and they would much rather replace the shoes than have you change brands.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Isn't research great? Long years ago our grandmothers thought they had all the modern conveniences of their day. Little did they know the conveniences their daughters would have just within the next generation. Now in their granddaughters' generation still more research has found better and quicker methods of homemaking.

For instance homemakers of today can find more attractive, and bruse-free products on the market just because of modern packaging of perishable fruits and vegetables. The very latest development is shrinkable film overwraps for tray-packed fruits and vegetables.

This film is applied at the time of harvest to hold the produce tightly on the tray so that it arrives at the supermarket field-fresh and virtually bruse-free.

Researchers find that tray packs with the shrinkable overwraps carry produce better than bulk shipments in crates and cartons. And there is no need for further packaging at the supermarket.

Shrinkable film wraps are now being used for apples, peaches, and pears. Wherever tested, fruit and vegetables wrapped in film and packed on the trays have proved popular with homemakers. They are able to readily see the condition of the produce.

Another product of research is for the packaging of foods for the home freezer. Foods can be packaged in heat-and-serve polyester pouches. Now the homemaker can package prepared foods in the pouches for freezing and heat the food in the same container ready for serving.

A new electric appliance is available to heat-seal the opening of the package making it airtight and moisture-proof, so that original quality and flavor are retained. This packaging method is supposed to be well suited for all kinds of prepared foods, from soup to beef Stroganoff.

Grandmother would never believe her eyes if she would see the improvements made in the latest type of can made of aluminum foil and paper. It is leak-proof, inexpensive, lightweight, and dent-resistant.

The body of the can is a spiral-wound combination of a solid, heavy-gauge, aluminum foil liner, a middle section of separate layers of paper-board, and a printed foil label. The thick, creaseless aluminum liner prevents leakage. The layers of material in tightly-sealed combination provide strength and seal out humidity and moisture.

Ends of the can are aluminum and come with two easy-opening tops. One end is opened by pulling a tearstrip and the other is lifted off with a hook opener. This can is designed only for items that do not involve heat processing or internal pressure. These include frozen juice concentrates, cooking fats and oils, spices and seasonings as well as a number of nonfood items.

Research has also found that cleanliness can go too far. Never wash eggs before storing them. Washing the eggs removes the natural protective coating which keeps air and foreign odors from entering the shell.

What's this about man-made fabrics stealing the show of fashions? According to U. S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service cotton is still king with U. S. consumers. They report that 22 pounds of cotton per person was used last year. This was compared with 11 pounds of synthetic fibers and three pounds of wool used per person.

The USDA says that the label "imitation" need no longer be used on ham and other pork products that contain less than 10 percent excess water. However, they must be properly labeled as to the amount of water they contain and the label must be easily readable.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

One thing too many of us overlook when buying new garments is the label on the garment. This label generally describes material in the garment and gives instructions about laundering or dry cleaning.

If these instructions are read and followed carefully, many times life of garments as well as their beauty can be preserved. Another thing that is very important is that ironing or pressing be done with irons that are the proper temperature for the particular garment.

Most of us enjoy eating roasting ears that have been cooked with shucks still on them when they've been cooked outdoors. But, did you ever try cooking them in the shuck in your oven?

The following recipe, a real old one, is being written exactly as it has been handed down from one generation to another. "Use good fresh corn. Strip the shucks on the ear, but do not remove them. Clean off all the silks and wash the corn. Dry it and wrap your best bacon sliced around each ear. Put the shucks back over the ears, tying them at the ends. Put the corn into an extra thick baking pan, one that will not burn. Bake the corn slowly for about an hour. Serve it in the shucks."

If there's a beginning cook at your house or you want a "hurry up" tray of cookies, try making coconut macaroon treats, which can be made in ten minutes.

Mix together 2/3 cup condensed milk, 3 cups shredded coconut, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract and 3/4 teaspoon almond extract.

Drop by tablespoons, about 1 inch apart, onto a well-greased baking sheet.

Bake in 350 degree oven 8 to 10 minutes or until delicately browned around edges. Remove from baking sheet immediately.

This molasses cake recipe is one of the prize possessions of Mrs. Sam Lewis of Kendall County, Texas.

- 2/3 cup shortening
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 3 eggs
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/3 cup molasses
- 2/3 cup mashed bananas
- 1/2 cup milk

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Blend shortening and sugar and beat until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with molasses, bananas and milk.

Beat well. Pour into two nine inch layer cake pans which have been greased with melted shortening and lined with brown paper. Bake for about 40 minutes.

Cool cake in pans on cake rack for at least ten minutes. Remove from pans and let cool thoroughly before frosting.

FLUFFY FROSTING
2 egg whites
1 1/2 cups brown sugar, lightly packed
1/3 cup water
1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar pinch of salt

Combine all ingredients in top of double boiler. Place over double boiler and beat with sturdy beater or mix at high speed of electric mixer until frosting "peaks." Remove from water and frost top and sides of cake.

Before the days of mechanical refrigerators and deep freezers, raisin pie was a stand by of most cooks and each one had her favorite recipe. Those of us who don't make raisin pie occasionally are missing a treat in good eating.

RAISIN PIE
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
3 or 4 eggs, well beaten
3 or 4 tablespoons vinegar
1 cup raisins
Unbaked pie shell.
Cream sugar, butter or margarine, cinnamon, and allspice. Add well beaten eggs, vinegar and raisins. Pour filling into an unbaked 8 or 9 inch pie shell. Bake at 400 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes.

Just think how many poor people were denied a horse and buggy in the olden days because nobody had thought of this convenient dollar-down idea.

Announcements of the professor's new book and his wife's new baby appeared almost simultaneously. The professor, when he was congratulated by a friend upon "this proud event in your family," naturally thought of that achievement which had cost him the greater effort and modestly replied: "Well, I couldn't have done it without the help of two graduate students."

We favor pay television--they should pay us to watch it.

Citizens' Committee Commended For Its Work

As a result of waste notices and petitions for injunction being served in Farmer, Castro and Deaf Smith Counties by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, a group of 50 to 60 irrigation farmers in Farmer County organized a Citizens' Committee to assist the District in finding solutions to problems of waste that plague some Southern High Plains farmers.

The Citizens' Committee is agreed that irrigation "tailwater" should be used to grow crops rather than run into barchutes or playa lakes and from there evaporate or be used by weeds.

T. L. Bursleson of the Hub Community, an irrigation farmer, has been selected as chairman of the Citizens' Committee. Bursleson states, "we want to work with the Water District. They realize that we're busy with our crops right now and recommend that after we're through harvesting this fall we decide what needs to be done on each farm to avoid having runoff water and then do something about it." Waste of irrigation water has long been the unwanted companion of many farmers. Solutions to this problem have not always been so apparent as have been the results of waste. Tom McFarland, Water District Manager, has stated that the District is prepared to cooperate in every way possible in alleviating waste problems, and that the District's staff is ready and willing to work with anyone in finding an answer to his individual problem.

Management Course Scheduled

Latest range management practices will be discussed at the first annual Ranch Management Conference to be held on the Texas Tech campus September 7.

During the one-day conference expected to draw 200 people, range management problems will be discussed. This includes the latest methods in brush control, grazing systems, stocking rates, wildlife management, poisonous plant problems, and other problems which concern Texas ranchers.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in the Tech Union Ballroom. Sponsoring this year's program are Texas Tech; American Society of Range Management, Texas Section; U. S. Soil Conservation Service; Texas A&M College System; West Texas Chamber of Commerce; and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Wilson's Attend Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Wilson and children have returned from Los Angeles where they were in attendance at the Rural Letter Carriers' National Convention, August 7-10. Wilson, who is a rural carrier in Texico and his wife Geraldine, were New Mexico delegates to the convention. Veda Wilson, New Mexico junior auxiliary president, was also in attendance at the junior auxiliary sessions.

Wilson was honored at the convention when Tommy Martin, national president presented him with the "Outstanding Carrier Award." Mrs. Wilson, who is presently serving as secretary of the southwestern conference of auxiliary members was re-elected to this office and also nominated for a national office. She presided at the banquet of auxiliary members on Tuesday night, and presented each of the outgoing officers with a handmade corsage.

The Wilson children were among the 375 children taken on a tour of Marineland, Disneyland and Knotts Berry Farm. All convention delegates were guests on the "Queen For A Day" TV program and a Roswell letter carrier was the lucky winner. Speaker at the convention was Postmaster General Lay.

cause they had the desire to exercise this splendid gift of choice.

Today there are a lot of professionals in the game of life --psychologists, social workers, politicians, writers, educators, and others--who have gone a long way in brainwashing us into believing that a person is not responsible for what he is . . . and therefore can not be held accountable for what he does! Such a belief is preposterous. To accept it would mean placing man on a level with cows, pigs, and apes.

We can be anything we want to be. And, we should receive the praise--or the censure--for our choices.

BURGLARY--

breakers. The five mail sacks and the mail pouch which were taken from the post office were found in the station wagon with the variety store merchandise. The mail had been deposited in the post office a short time before it was stolen by highway post office bus which runs between Amarillo and Roswell. The mail was returned and "put up" at regular time Sunday morning.

Evidently the burglars were disturbed before they had completed loading all the variety store merchandise they wanted. A large box loaded with merchandise, mostly men's clothing, was left in the back of the store. A lot of merchandise was also found in the car.

Mrs. Alice Moore and Mrs. Opal Bowen, owners of the store, after putting the merchandise back on the shelves Monday that they couldn't discover anything missing except one billfold. None of the merchandise was even damaged, they reported, except for two stuffed dogs which were left in the alley behind the store during the early morning rain.

The station wagon used in the burglary belongs to Doyle Evans, 32, of Muleshoe, according to Minter. Questioned at Muleshoe Sunday afternoon, Evans said that his brother had been using his car. Evans denied knowing anything of the robbery, but said he could not prove where he was during that time.

Evans was taken to Lubbock for a lie detector test Monday.

German Boys On Trek to California

Wolfgang and Peter Stoerchle, 20 and 22 years of age, respectively, passed through Farwell on horseback last week en route to Los Angeles from Toronto, Canada.

These unique tourists are natives of Germany, but have lived in Canada for about three years. Peter studied hair styling in Toronto and hopes to find work in that field in California while Wolfgang plans to continue his studies in architecture at UCLA where he will be a sophomore. He had been attending the university at Toronto before the boys started their trip to California.

The trip began January 27 when they left Toronto. They have traveled some 2400 miles and hope to be in Los Angeles around Christmas. They feel as if they are "almost there" now that there's a little over 1000 miles left to travel.

The Stoerchle brothers began their trip in a Mercury, but later traded it for the two horses and some camping equipment. They say they didn't think it unusual for them to be riding horses on this trek because in

They say children there are taught to choose their life's work at an early age and generally begin preparing for it much sooner than do American youngsters.

Major differences in the customs of the two countries are in the school systems. Wolfgang says, explaining that all children must go to school four years, then take an examination to see whether or not he is prepared to enter high school. (Their first four years of school are equal to the first eight years here, and high school there is similar to our colleges.)

If a child is not ready for high school (does not pass the test) he is permitted to attend public school another four years, after which time he will be "on his own." The boys also say that it is difficult to get into college in Germany.

Wolfgang does most of the talking for the two brothers, saying that when people see his brother with his six-month's growth of beard, "they think he is a religious fanatic or something."

should be back to the normal state of confusion... just in time for school events, sports and football contests and such.

JOTTIN'S By Jeanne

Truly, the little things do count. Moving certainly emphasizes this point. Since we traded houses with the Sam Aldridges a couple of weeks ago, it's the little things that we can't seem to locate.

I think Doll Aldridge is much more efficient than I am because she had everything in place right away. But I looked for items like the spouse's razor blades and our toothbrushes for several days before we had everything ready for routine use.

After about 10 days, I'm pretty well organized except for one item, the husband's nail clippers. We might even have to invest in a new pair.

Many of you have inquired about Joann Getz, the Gal Friday at the Tribune office. She is home now and her doctors gives her a good report.

June Magness has had her hands full trying to do many jobs at once and all of us appreciate the time and effort she has spent in keeping things going here at the office.

In a few weeks, everything

We had planned a busy August with a cousin's wedding set the first weekend, West Texas Press the second weekend had a business trip the third weekend. As it turned out, Andy cut a tooth and I stayed home from the wedding to soothe him, Sonny was too busy at the office to go to the press meeting and we decided to move and haven't yet made the trip.

So we probably saved some energy and quite a bit of money-- maybe.

I've heard some nice comments about the travelogue written by Nellie Craig about the trip to Alaska, which appeared in last week's paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Landrum and children returned Monday night from a vacation trip to Iowa. At Anita, Iowa, they visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coglon and daughters, and were also guests of the Howard Coglon. One of the highlights of the week-long trip was a trip to the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines.

FFA Boys Attend Leadership School

Three officers of the Texico FFA Chapter along with their advisor, Jim Pierce attended a Leadership Training School for officers of District 4 at Clovis, August 21.

In attendance at the meet were Ronnie Curry president of the local chapter, Gary Skaggs vice-president and Lloyd Harrison reporter. Boys were instructed in the proper manner to administer the duties of their respective offices.

Pierce was the instructor for the Sentinel position and helped the boys conduct the program. In attendance at the training school were boys from Causey, Clovis, Dora, Elda, Floyd, Grady, Melrose, Portales, Texico and San Jon.

One thought left with the boys from the school, was the difference between a boss and a leader. The boss says go do a job and the leader says we'll do it.

Boys from Texico who will attend the Curry County Fair and the New Mexico State Fair are Mike Spearman, Floyd Morris, Mickey Lofton, Bill Campbell, Gary Skaggs, Allan Hill, Buddy Spence, and Lonnie and Ronnie Curry. All of these boys will have exhibits at the fairs.

Monday: baked ham, potato salad, green beans, hot rolls, butter, honey, milk.

Tuesday: steamed weiners, macaroni & cheese, marinated vegetable salad, oatmeal bars/lemon sauce, bread, butter and milk.

Wednesday: baked pork chops, buttered potatoes, blackeyed peas, cornbread, butter, pears and milk.

Thursday: hamburgers, cheese slices, potato chips, banana pudding and milk.

KELLY GREEN SEEDS
INC.
"PAT" PATRICK
"GIVE YOUR FUR YOU"

I am always rather amused at the past generation telling the current young group how hard times were when they were kids. One that I heard the other day was a corker. In relating this cruel story the teller stated that "when we were going to school Dad would line us up each morning and spread bacon grease on our face so the teacher would think that we had eaten breakfast."

Kelly Green Seeds still has plenty of rye and vetch. Also Austrian Winter Peas are available. If you are interested in keeping your land from blowing and also to get early grazing try these. In talking to Willie Hester the other day he stated that his rye did all right this year since he got 10 months of grazing out of it. We don't guarantee that much, but it is pretty good.

In talking around this past week we found some pretty good offers to trade or sell different items. Jr. Snider of Farwell might be persuaded to part with a couple of good Shetland ponies and Fred Horner is looking for a used truck. If you have anything for sale or trade let me know and we'll try to get you a new owner.

Kelly Green Seeds will be able to handle your grain. Give us a chance. We feel that we have the knowledge to handle your grain to your advantage and we are poor enough to need the business. Come see us.

Band Rehearsals Underway At Texico High School

Texico High School band rehearsals got underway this week with thirty eight members showing up for practice, says Gary Stelling, new band director.

The band members will be wearing new uniforms this year with approximately sixty new kelly green and white military uniforms available for band members. The band will be playing at basketball games this year, as well as making appearances at some fairs.

A drum major is to be selected at a special session Thursday and twirlers will be selected at the same time. Twirlers from ENMU will be judges.
