County Response Good To First Vaccine Date

Edwin Walker, the former army general, has not finished his day in court, and so it is impossible at this writing to know whether he will be set free, imprisoned, fined, or what.

However, regardless of the outcome of this case, the events which led up to his trial constitute a fearsome encroachment of our constitutional liberties on the part of the federal government.

Walker was arrested and taken into custody, denied bail, denied seeing an attorney, friend, or member of his family, placed in solitary confinement for a time, and booked for a 90-day stretch behind prison walls while government psychiatrists picked his brain to see if he was crazy.

As it turned out, the government ran into quite a hornet's nest with the arrest of this well-known figure, and because of adverse publicity and great public outcry, he was released and permitted to seek his own legal counsel.

Edwin Walker is a nut and I am not on his side politically and ideologically. I did not support his candidacy for governor of Texas, and I do not subscribe to the rant and rave tactics that have been the identifying mark of most of his expressions.

However, being a nut is not the same as being insane. There are a lot of nuts around, and I happen to be one of them. I'm just a nut off of a different tree, that's all. I think the world needs a few nuts around just to keep things in balance.

Edwin Walker has strong ideas. He is a strong man, so that shouldn't be too surprising. However, he is a long way from being crazy, and if we permit our government to violate our constitutional guarantee which assure us of due process before we are whisked off to prison for vague and trumped-up charges, then we had just as well recognize that the police state has come to America.

Walker went to prison on the strength of a memo by a federal prison psychiatrist who was 1000 miles away from Mississippi, and whose only information on the subject consisted of second hand reports and newspaper clippings. He could not possibly have determined that Walker was mentally deranged.

The federal statute which provides for pre-trial psychiatric examination was designed to protect persons who were not competent, mentally, to know what was happening to them. Walker knew full well what was going on.

If we permit this type of ruthless government police action to spread, there is no assurance that you or I will not be the next victim of federal headshrinkers.

After all, I'm not important. Maybe you aren't either. Maybe if the boys in the white frocks come get us when we're disagreeing with what is going on, nobody will pay much attention.

Children want many things. Their wants are manifested at an early age and grow along with the child. By time the children are in their teens, parents realize that the wants have become more than just nuisances--they are downright expensive.

Money for cars, clothes, records, dates, rings, photographs, and a thousand other "necessities" of modern day teen age life put quite a drain on the family budget.

Today's parents attempt to meet most of these needs, and I, for one, think that it's all right if they do, provided some sense of responsibility is imparted to the child for what he receives.

But many well meaning mothers and fathers are so overwhelmed with the demands for material needs that press in on them from their children that they overlook more basic requisites to a satisfying existence.

Locked in every human heart is the desire to achieve--and to be recognized for achievement. This drive manifests itself at a very early age, although often the adolescent or young adult cannot isolate and identify it. But it's there, and it cries for expression.

I think the happiest kids are the ones who are given something to do, who do it, and then are recognized and praised for their accomplishments. This

Girls Lose To Bovina, Win From Lazbuddie

Farwell High School basketball girls lost a game to Bovina Friday night but came back to take two wins from Lazbuddie

Tuesday night, Coach White says the girls were playing much better ball in the Lazbuddie games than had been exhibited by the girls all year.

For the first time they were able to hit 50% of all shots and 46% of the free throws. He says his girls team also played good defensive ball against the Lazbuddie girls and added a word of praise for Becky Strain's performance, defensively in the Bovina game.

Final outcome of the Bovina game was 25-19 in favor of the Bovina girls. Vicki Strawn of Bovina took scoring honors for the night with 11 points and Patricia Kalkwasser took scoring honors for the Farwell girls with 7.

In the A game with Lazbuddie

It was a different story with final score 48-38. Patricia Kalkwasser copped scoring honors with eight field goals and 13 free throws for a total of 25 points. Brenda Dale made 12 points and Melody Coffman followed with seven points; although she played little in the last half, due to too many fouls. Two guards, Margaret Haseloff and Becky Strain, played exceptionally well defensively, says Coach White.

In the evening opener with the freshman girls playing a team of Lazbuddie freshman girls final score was 41-21. Scoring was even in the first quarter of play with each team making 6 points; however in the second

A good turnout was registered at three Parmer County clinics last Sunday in the first stage of the mass immunization program against polio through the use of Sabin oral vaccine.

A total of 4,270 persons filed through lines at Friona, Bovina and Lazbuddie. Friona boasted a total of 2,648 who took the vaccine. Bovina likewise had a good turnout of 1,206, and Lazbuddie administered 416 doses of vaccine.

"We were real happy with the turnout," stated Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer. Spring announced a makeup clinic for this coming Sunday at the Parmer County Community Hospital, Friona, from 1:30 to 4:30 at the hospital's Meeting Room.

Spring said it had been estimated prior to last Sunday's clinics that approximately 3,000 residents of Parmer County had received the Type I vaccine at neighboring clinics at Muleshoe, Clovis and Texico, New Mexico.

If this estimate is accurate, then the total number of county residents who have received Type I Sabin oral vaccine, including last Sunday's turnout, would be around 7,270.

This would be a good percentage of the county's population, which was 9,583 at the 1960 census. Officials hope that the number taking the vaccine at Sunday's makeup clinic will push the total even closer to 100 per cent coverage for the county.

County residents made good use of a special mobile unit which was put to use for shut-ins and elderly people last week. A total of 34 persons received vaccine in the Friona vicinity from the special unit.

Farwell Schools had planned to run a bus to Bovina if anyone in that area who missed other clinics needed a ride, but according to Superintendent of Schools W. M. Roberts, no one showed up.

"I think our school population was about 100 per cent immunized at the clinic in Texico," said Roberts. This pretty well bore out the decision by the Parmer County Medical Society that it would be impractical to hold a clinic in Farwell.

The clinics were sponsored jointly by the Parmer County Medical Society and the Home Demonstration Clubs of Parmer County.

Clinics for Type II of the vaccine will be scheduled for sometime about the middle of January.

Bovina, L'buddie Fall to Farwell

Coach Bill Mayfield's Farwell Steers won a couple of games this week, taking their first win from the Bovina Mustangs Friday night in a hard-fought game, 36-30, and defeating the Lazbuddie Longhorns 66-33 on Tuesday.

Taking scoring honors in the Bovina game was Bobby Actkinson with 14 points, 10 of which were made in the fourth quarter of play, Charles Roberts had 8 points for the evening, Cumpton had 9 points to take scoring honors for the Bovina five. Bovina jumped to a first quarter lead by outscoring the Steers two points and was able to retain the lead until the third quarter when the Steers outscored the Mustangs by one point. In the last quarter of play Bovina was able to hit the bucket for only seven while the Steers poured in 12.

Leon Lovelace had 15 rebounds in the game as he had in the previous game with Friona.

Wolverines Win One, Lose One

In a couple of district games played by the Texico Wolverines on their home court over the weekend, they took an easy win from Grady Friday night 72-44, and were defeated by the Fort Sumner Foxes, second seeded district team, Saturday night by a score of 48-37.

This gives the Wolverines a season record of two wins, two losses.

In the Grady game there was never any doubt as to the outcome of the game as Texico led all the way.

High point man for the victors was Vic Harrington with 16 points, with teammates Jackie Dyer and Buddy Spence hitting the bucket for 12 each. J. Northcutt, with 13 points, led the Grady scoring.

In the Fort Sumner game, at the end of the first half of play the score stood 29-22 in favor of Fort Sumner. Fort Sumner retained its lead by hitting for eight points in the third period

FFA Boys Sell Christmas Trees

Members of Texico FFA announced, this week, that they are selling "Yule" trees with the trees ranging in price from $2-$4. They have on hand 150 Montana Evergreens, which, they say, are much nicer than the trees sold by FFA members last year.

The class has been divided into two groups, with Vernon Thigpen as captain of group one, and James Hudson, captain of group two. The two groups are in a contest to see who can sell the most trees, with the losers to fete the winners with a party. James Pierce, FFA advisor urges everyone to buy a tree from their favorite boy.

Vaccine Makeup At Friona Sunday

Any person who has not received Type I Sabin Oral polio vaccine may do so Sunday at the Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona when a "makeup clinic" is held.

The clinic, which will be in the Meeting Room of the hospital, will operate from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and will be the only one for Parmer County for those persons who missed the regular clinics.

As was the case at the regular clinics, there will be no charge for the vaccine, although those who receive it may leave a donation if they wish.

Trial Opens At Farwell

Testimony began Wednesday morning in district court of Judge E. A. Bills in Farwell on the case of Dick Sparks of Bovina, who is charged with rape and incest.

Court action began Monday morning. Selection of the jury was completed late Tuesday afternoon.

Sparks pleaded not guilty to the charges in action following completion of the selection of the jury.

Jack Young of Muleshoe, attorney of 154th Judicial District, heads the prosecution.

Bobby Actkinson

Danny Lindop

Reed, Actkinson, Lindop All-District

Three Farwell boys made the all-district football team this year, and three others were named to the second team.

Named to the first team's offensive unit were Ronny Reed, end (senior); Bob Actkinson, tackle (senior); and Danny Lindop, halfback (junior).

Actkinson was selected on the first defensive team also.

The second team's offensive unit includes Leon Lovelace, quarterback (junior); and Jerry Field, halfback (sophomore). On the second team for defense are Bob Anderson, end (sophomore); and Lindop, halfback.

Lindop was out a good bit of the season with an injured leg but made both the first and second team anyway. Actkinson made his biggest show for Farwell on defense. He is one of the outstanding defensive players in the district.

LETTERS TO ED

Dear Hop:
I thank you so much for your nice letter of November 1st and the enclosed editorial. I am very flattered because of the nice things you have to say about me. You can rest assured that I will do everything in my power to make your confidence well placed.

I am looking forward to seeing you before long and in the meantime if there is anything I can do please let me hear. I will be spending most of my time now in Austin trying to get my staff employed in time for the new year. There are eighty lawyers in the office which means I must employ all of them in the next forty-five days. That's what I call having my hands full.

Yours very truly, giving our children more to do -- expecting more of them -- and then recognizing them when they do a job well.

A point of view certainly has an effect on a man's thinking. For as long as I have lived -- that is, up until a few months ago -- I had always had the notion that the "school street" (Avenue G) was a primary one and deserved the right-of-way in all intersections.

I kicked caliche rocks along it many a time as I wandered off to my public school education, and often reflected on the streets importance. When through a bit of politics the city powers got Third Street paved is far more satisfying than merely having their parents fulfill their every request.

C. L. Kay, who spoke to the Farwell exes at their banquet, had a good bit to say about young people, and his observations were to the point. He makes a note never to call a teen-ager by that term. To him they are "young adults." He says the term teen-agers has taken on a tarnished reputation.

Kay says that young adults know more than we think they know, and are capable of doing more than we think they can do, and I believe he is right. I believe we will be in for a pleasant surprise when we start as a highway loop by the State Highway Department, this in no way dimmed the importance of "school street" in my mind. It was still THE most important street in town, next to Main, of course.

This view was shared with some other bright minds of the community, and the first stop sign to be put up in the residential area of this city as it began to grow was on Third Street, to let the "school street" traffic through. I was pleased and

Parisian School Makes Students Culture Vultures

DECEMBER 13, 14, 15

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press International

PARIS (UPI) — Put a young American or other foreign girl into an elegant "school" in this French capital and $4,200 later, out comes a worldly woman with French culture and chic. She knows how to make sauce bearnaise, discuss Balzac and Voltaire in fluent French and tell the difference between a truffle and a tincture.

Maxim's "College of Savoir Faire," meaning French know-how, is one of several flourishing schools in Paris which claim to teach French elegance, mainly to us barbarians from other countries.

Maxim's school, run by Mme. Louis Vaudable, wife of the owner of the famous Maxim's restaurant, is the most exclusive and expensive of the charm schools.

It accepts only 30 young girls for the October-June school year. Since most French girls apparently learn all this at home from mother, the pupils registered for the school's third year are from wealthy families in England, the United States and Norway.

The American contingent includes Anne Rod, the automobile heiress.

That $4,200 tuition per year includes board and room. The school arranges for the pupils to live with French families, the better to polish the language.

Each morning the 30 fledglings will attend Sorbonne University classes on art, music, philosophy, history and literature of France. In the afternoon, they will be herded to art museums or occasionally fashion shows.

In the evening there will be the French theater, ballet or opera. The girls also will be taken to cocktail parties organized by Maxim's. There they can practice on other guests, presumably understanding, on how to make small talk and balance a martini in one hand and handbag and cigarette in the other.

One morning a week they'll learn from Maxim's chef how to impress the folks back home with coq au vin or a real French omelette. Classes in make-up, coiffures and how to walk also are included.

Jacques Esterel, the designer, opened another school of French chic a year ago. His "glamour college" omits the culture and stresses training for models.

For approximately $56 a month for three months, the students attend classes on charm, posing for photographs, hair-style and make-up, public manners, how to be a high fashion model, health and physical culture, diet and how to be interviewed for a job.

Farwell Girls--

quarter Farwell jumped into the lead while hitting the basket for 17 points with Lazbuddie able to score only six more points.

Thus it continued for the next two quarters with Farwell hitting the basket for 8 points in the third quarter and adding 10 in the fourth quarter while Lazbuddie was able to make only nine points in both quarters.

Copping scoring honors for the evening was Melynda Ritchie with 21 points off of 10 field goals and one free throw. Scoring honors for Lazbuddie went to Brown who had 16 points.

More Bovina--

In Tuesday's game Jerry Childs copped scoring honors for Farwell with 14 points closely followed by Leon Lovelace with 13 points. Johnny Mabry, with six points, took scoring honors for Lazbuddie. Leon Lovelace again had 15 rebounds.

Farwell jumped to a first quarter lead by outscoring the Longhorns 11-7 and retained the lead scoring 25 points in the second stanza to the Longhorns 9.

In the third quarter of play Farwell again outscored Lazbuddie by four points and racked up 20 in the final quarter with Lazbuddie able to get only 14.

Wolverines--

of play while Texico was able to add only seven points.

In the closing period of play Fort Sumner hit for 10 more points while holding the Wolves to a minimum of four points.

High point man for the game was Vick of Fort Sumner, followed by Hal Ed Helton of Texico with 14, Harrington of Texico had 12 for the evening.

Texico B team was victorious over the Grady B team 57-21 and lost to the Fort Sumner team 33-47.

"Glory to God in the Highest" Luke, 2:14

If Hollywood's directors, actors and technicians had been in charge of staging the birth of Christ, it would have been a supercolossal spectacular. But God knew better. He provided a setting so simple and so significant that it has lived ever afterwards in the hearts of men, women, young people and little children.

Angels announced the coming of the Christ Child to humble shepherds in the fields. They left their flock and went to the manger in a stable. It is all a tender story of plain, humble people, in common everyday surroundings. This very simplicity disarms us and touches our hearts. For Christmas speaks to us of infinite peace and quiet joy. It dissolves our pride and humbles our minds. It gives us a sense of wonder and awe so greatly needed in these times. It cleanses our spirits of unclean things because it ushers us into the presence of the Holy, The Holy Child, the Holy God, that we become a Holy people.

The arresting loveliness of the first Christmas shows up our cluttered living. We do not turn our backs on Jesus, we are just too busy to make room for Him to be born in our hearts and lives. We are not atheists; we just do not have the wisdom to give homage to the divine in our midst, we are not wise enough to journey after a star; we are so preoccupied that we do not hear the song of the angels. We just take "Christ" out of CHRISTMAS and have only "mas" or mess left.

LET us keep Christ in Christmas, then we will have God in our lives and homes and nations. We look for God in the big events when we might better see Him in the affairs of every day. Christmas makes us ashamed of our selfish and superficial living. It bids us learn again the greatness of simple things. Let us look again at the simplicity of God's entrance into the world through a babe, born in a manger. Then may we have the wisdom of the shepherds and find that God will touch our hearts with joy from the heavenly places.

My prayer for each this Holy Season is that the God who became man and visited this earth in the Babe of Bethlehem will come into each of your hearts through the Spirit of the Loving Lord, and give you grace, comfort, strength and courage for anything and every thing that you have to face in life. "Joy to the world, the Lord is come."

Mrs. Pete Jesko

Ceremony Unites Ettie Musil, Pete Jesko

St. Ann's Catholic Church at Stamford, Texas was the setting of the marriage of Miss Ettie Musil of Farwell to Pete Jesko of the Lazbuddie community. Parents of Miss Musil are Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Musil of Stamford and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jesko.

The double ring ceremony was read by Father James A. Meuree before an altar decorated with bouquets of white mums and flanked by baskets of palms. White bows on family pews completed the decorations.

Mrs. Joe Cooper of Seymour played wedding marches and traditional selections. She also accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kubala of Seymour as they sang duets.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gilbert Rod of El Campo, Texas, sister of the bride. She wore a street length dress of regal blue peau de sole designed with fitted bodice and brief sleeves. She wore matching mits and shoes dyed to match her dress. Her arm bouquet was of white carnations.

George L. Jesko of Amarillo was his brother's best man. Al-tar boys were nephews of the bride, Wayne Rod of El Campo and Stephen Musil of Wichita Falls.

Ushers were Joseph S. Musil of Stamford and Stephen Musil of Wichita Falls, brothers of the bride, and Alfred Hoffman of Pryor Okla. and C. W. James of Hereford, brothers-in-law of the groom.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a formal wedding gown of white chantilly lace over white slipper satin, which she designed and made. The fitted bodice featured a boat neckline and long sleeves extending to points over her hands. Tiny self covered satin buttons closed the bodice back and sleeve openings. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and gladioli centered with a gladioli corsage.

For something old she wore a wooden rosary from Czechoslovakia that belonged to her late grandmother, Mrs. Frances Musil. She borrowed a necklace from her mother and wore a blue garter made by Celia Patton.

Mrs. Musil, the bride's mother, wore a sheath dress of aqua silk shantung with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Jesko, wore a blue bolero suit with black and blue accessories. Her corsage was also of pink carnations.

Mrs. Bill Nichols of Arlington registered guests at the reception in the home economics cottage of Stamford High School. The registration table was decorated with two blue carnations in bud vase and wedding book.

The serving table was covered with a white hand crocheted cloth over blue satin and centered with bouquets of bride and matron-of-honor flanked by white tapered candles.

Fruit punch was served from crystal bowl by Mrs. Emory B. Musil. A three tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Joseph S. Musil.

The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. Ed Halsler, Mrs. Henry Hejl and Mrs. Frank Simaich all of Seymour. Others in the houseparty were Mrs. A. C. Musil, Mrs. H. V. Clup Jr., and Mrs. Anton Foyt.

For a wedding trip to Ennis and Austin, Mrs. Jesko wore a gold colored wool suit with black accessories and the gladioli corsage from her bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesko are at home in the Lazbuddie community where he farms and ranches. She is a graduate of Stamford High School and the University of Texas, where she majored in home economics. Before becoming home demonstration agent of Parmer two years ago, she served in the same capacity in Baylor County more than four and one-half years.

Jesko is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and served in the United States Armed Forces in Germany two years.

Uncle Ray's "Hot Air"

The governor of a large state got on a train which was transferring some inmates of an insane asylum to a farm where they were to recuperate. He inadvertently got in the same car. The conductor went through the train checking up on the group and counting them. "One, two, three, four, five . . ." He stopped at the seat of the well-dressed man. "Who are you?" he asked. "I am the Governor." "Six, seven, eight . . ."

Festive Cranberry Pudding Cake

In keeping with the festive mood of the holiday season you'll want family and company desserts that are extra-special. Festive Cranberry Pudding Cake is such a dessert and takes little time to prepare.

Yellow cake batter, made by the easy muffin method of mixing, is baked over a tangy cranberry-pineapple sauce. After baking, for a final touch frost the cake with swirls of meringue and a sprinkle of slivered almonds then lightly brown it in the oven.

Festive Cranberry Pudding Cake will help you and your family meet your daily nutritional requirements, too. Enriched flour in the tender cake layer contributes important amounts of three essential B-vitamins plus the mineral iron.

FESTIVE CRANBERRY PUDDING CAKE

- 1 1/2 cups drained whole cranberry sauce (1-pound can)
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 eggs, separated
- 3/4 cup milk
- 3/4 cup sugar, baking powder and salt
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 3 tablespoons sugar

CAKE BATTER

- 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup sugar

For batter, sift together flour, 1/2 cup sugar, baking powder and salt. Beat egg yolks. Stir in milk and butter or margarine. Add egg yolk mixture to flour mixture blending until flour is well moistened. Spoon over cranberry mixture in baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 35 to 40 minutes or until surface is lightly browned. Remove cake from oven. Beat egg whites until foamy. Add 3 tablespoons sugar gradually and continue beating until stiff, glossy peaks are formed. Spread meringue evenly over cake and sprinkle with slivered almonds, if desired. Return to oven and bake 12 to 15 minutes longer or until meringue is golden brown. Cool slightly before serving. Makes one 8-in. cake.

FARM FACTS

Dr. Herrell DeGraff, Professor of Food Economics at Cornell University, notes that on a worldwide basis the typical family spends about 60% of its income for food "devotes about 60% of its productive effort to securing food."

"In this country, by contrast," he said in an address to the Super Market Institute, "the typical family acquires a far superior diet for barely one-quarter of its disposable income."

"Moreover," says Dr. DeGraff, "ours is a food supply without limitations of geography or seasonality, and with a large part of the work of preparation done by the food industries instead of burdening the homemaker."

"We eat as well and as cheaply as we do only because of the enormous contributions which science has made to food production, processing, and distribution."

"Fully a third of the quantity of food available to us has resulted directly from new contributions of science

Parmer's 1963 Cotton Allotment Cut 11.6 Per Cent From 1962

Parmer County's cotton allotment for 1963 will be cut 11.6 per cent from its 1962 total, according to figures released this week by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

The allotment as announced for 1963 stands at 42,427 acres for Parmer County, as compared to 47,024 last year. The decrease on that basis would figure out to 10.83 per cent, but the county must furnish allotments for about eight farms in the southern part of the county which transferred from Bailey County ASCS last year, making the actual decrease 11.63 per cent.

The cut is in proportion with a slice of 10.4 per cent for the High Plains area, and 12 per cent for the state as a whole.

Cotton farmers will go to the polls next Tuesday (December 11) in a national referendum to determine whether or not marketing quotas will apply to the 1963 crop. A two-thirds majority vote by producers voting is necessary if the quotas are to apply to next year's crop.

Polling places in Parmer

County will be the office of each of the 16 gins located in the county. Voting will take place at the gin offices from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday.

If the referendum carries, price support at 65 to 90 per cent of parity will be available to growers who comply with their allotments and marketing quota penalties will apply to any excess produced.

If the referendum fails, no quotas or penalties would apply to the 1963 crop, although the allotment program would remain in effect and price supports would be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity.

Individual allotments were being mailed to county farmers this week by the ASCS office. The 1963 allotment released this week isn't expected to be the final allowable acreage for next year's planting. New cotton legislation is expected to be recommended to Congress in January.

Classing Activity Shows Effect Of Adverse Weather

Adverse weather conditions continue to show effects on the number of samples being received, said W. K. Palmer, Officer-In-Charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office. Daily receipts have dropped from 35,000 to less than 10,000 samples per day.

The Lubbock classing office classed 146,400 samples for the week ending November 30. This brings the total classed for the year to 481,500 samples. There was a carry-over of 15,000 samples. The Lamesa office classed 12,600 samples for the week. A total of 80,000 samples has been classed for the year and a carry-over of 300 samples was reported by that office. For the week the Brownfield office classed 23,800 samples. This office has classed 119,000 samples for the year and reported a carry-over of 3,000 samples.

On November 30 last year the three classing offices had classed a total of 900,500 samples and reported a total carry-over of 62,000 samples.

Of the samples classed for the week ending November 30, Strict Low Middling increased to 33 per cent and Middling Light Spotted decreased to 33 per cent. The percentage of Strict Low Middling Light Spotted being classed continued to increase with 17 per cent reported. Other

Federal Land Bank Tells Rate Reduction

The Federal Land Bank of Houston has announced that effective on January 1, 1963, it will reduce temporarily to 5% the interest rate on all outstanding loans which presently bear a rate in excess of 5%. The contract rate on new loans will continue to be 5 1/2% but interest on loans closed on and after December 1, 1962, will be billed temporarily at 5% until further notice by the bank.

In making the announcement,

Hal Weatherford, President of the bank, said that of its $260 million of loans outstanding, more than $100 million bear contract rates in excess of 5% and that the savings to Texas farmers and ranchers by this action will be more than a half million dollars in the year 1963 alone. Weatherford said this is the fourth time the bank has voluntarily reduced the interest on its outstanding loans.

The Houston bank makes long-term farm and ranch loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. The one serving this area is the Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe. Ernest Kerr is the Manager and the other officers and directors are Gordon Duncan, Muleshoe, President; H. E. Schuster, Muleshoe, Vice President; Morris Douglass, Muleshoe; A. L. Hartzog, Bovina; and Jim Claunch, Bula. Miss Mildred Davis is the office assistant.

NEWS FROM THE
FARM BUREAU
BY RAYMOND EULER

SURVIVAL OF LIBERTY --

The eight following points are considered by most all educators as essential to the survival of liberty and the continuation of the United States Government: 1. Trust in God as we understand Him; 2. Importance of the individual; 3. Freedom of the individual; 4. Profit motive; 5. Private ownership of property; 6. Dignity of work; 7. Competition; 8. Government as a protector, not a provider.

The reason these points are called to your attention repeatedly is that they are being eroded away. For example, private ownership of property can be completely destroyed by the owners losing control of their property. What good is a piece of land to an owner if the government or some other group is to tell him what to plant on it and how to conduct his farming operations on the land? In other words, the ownership of property carries with it the right to do with that property whatever seems best to the owner. (We have quoted from Facts for You by TFB Information Director, Bill Wedemeyer.)

Although many recommendations of an economic nature were made by delegates to the State Farm Bureau Convention in San Antonio last month, interwoven are many very definite recommendations of a moral and anti-communist nature. It

Grain Farmers Face Deficits Under New Bill

Grain sorghum producers received a cut in net income of 25 per cent to 100 per cent as the price supports and layout payments were announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. This administrative decision will amount to as high as $6 per acre throughout much of the grain producing areas.

There are two cuts to the farmers' prices: (1) Two cents per hundred on the support price (national average 1.91 per hundred instead of 1.93 as in 1962), and (2) not so widely known is the cut in payment on the layout acres. Secretary Freeman announced it would be at 20 per cent instead of 50 per cent of normal yield of 1959-1960 base years. This is a cut of 60 per cent of the 1961-1962 payment rate or a total of about $25 per acre on the first 20 per cent of the base to be laid out. This is required to comply with the 1963 Feed Grain Program. Payment on the second 20 per cent layout, which is optional, remains at 50 per cent of normal yield.

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association has been busy this past week gathering information about the effect on farmers of these cuts, and trying to determine the reason for such cuts. Elbert Harp, President, said the Association will have a delegation in Washington, D.C. this week working with the United States Department of Agriculture officials.

The effects of the Department of Agriculture's latest interpretation concerning layout payments could bear pretty heavy on the pocketbooks in Parmer County next year, without further legislation.

Prentice Mills, office manager of Parmer County ASCS, was unavailable for comment on the situation early this week, but was expected to issue a statement later in the week.

It is hoped to have the support price and layout payments restored to the 1961-1962 level. It is believed this was the intent of Congress and because of earlier discussions with the Department of Agriculture, there was every reason to believe that the prices would not be cut. If allowed to stand as announced, these drastic cuts would result in needless hardship on the commercial feed grain producers of the nation and even send many into bankruptcy.

The only farmers who can profit from the program as announced are the non-commercial producers. They can feed their grain and still collect the 29 cents per hundred

How can I be sure that my children's shoes fit when I buy them.

If you mean that you want to check the fit of the shoes yourself, you should first work in a shoestore for at least two years. Then you will be more uncertain than you are now.

If the shoe internship is impossible I would use the practice of most women when they buy a hairdo. They don't rush downtown at fifteen minutes before closing time and let the first operator they come to give their hair a fast sizzle. Hairdos are too important.

Even a newcomer to town knows before she leaves the house not only which beauty parlor she is going to but which beautician will give her the kind of curl she wants. She will read ancient magazines waiting for the operator to take her and she might even overpay the bill if she is especially pleased with what the mirror says after the ordeal.

"Who fits your children's shoes?" should be as commonly asked as "Who does your hair?" Try it. You will find that our town has shoefitters who realize the health importance of children's shoes and will do a really professional job if they know that you are not primarily interested in speed, low price or high style.

Gins Caught Up; Bale Count 33,634

Parmer County gins were all "caught up" the first of this week, and along with cotton farmers, were hoping for a break from the spasmodic weather, so that harvesting operations could be resumed once again. With stripping activities halted throughout the county by the wet weather, only 8,000 bales were ginned last week by the 16 cotton gins in Parmer County, running the total for the season to 33,634, a canvass of the county's gins revealed this week.

The number compared to a total of 25,792 the previous week, when harvesting had reached a peak in the county, only to be halted by several days of fog, slow mist and rain.

The harvest in the northern part of the county appears to be running ahead of the southern part. Eight gins located in the Friona-Hub-Bovina area had accounted for 19,152 bales from the total ginned in the county. The remaining eight gins in the "southern" portion of Parmer County had ginned 14,482 bales.

Ginners in the Friona-Bovina area are estimating that the crop in that area may be about one-half harvested. Those around Hub figure it is from 40 to 50 per cent complete, while in the southern portion of the county, no one believes the harvest to be as much as one-third completed.

"I'd guess the cotton was about 20 to 25 per cent out," said Tom Collins of Parmer County Gin in the Lazbudie area. "I don't think the crop is one-third out in this area," agreed Alton Morris at McBride Gin, in the southeastern corner of the county. Farwell ginners estimated that the crop was from one-third to 40 per cent harvested in their area. The guess at Lariat was one-third, and Don Sides of Oklahoma Lane Gin said he figured it was "about half through" there.

Even if all the ginners are conservative, it appears that the county's production may top a November estimate of 62,000 bales.

Many farmers are experiencing better yields than they had hoped for, with several reports of two bales per acre, some even more.

The county planted some 49,000 acres of cotton, and appears a cinch to average much better than a bale per acre for the entire county.

To sum up the feelings of farmers and ginners throughout the area "Give us two or three weeks of reasonable weather, and we'll have it all tallied up."

Farm Bureau--

was acknowledged, for instance, that Communism is directly opposed to Christianity, and that that is the primary reason for its being opposed by the citizenry.

For instance, "We commend and endorse Public School Teachers and officials in the use of prayer in the school room and in public functions where they are in charge."

Also, "We recommend that the state law on sale of and related convictions regarding narcotics be rigidly enforced." Also "We oppose the 'Draft Act governing the commitment and hospitalization of the mentally ill' which has been presented to the state by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. We believe that this act would change the state constitution so as to eliminate the citizen's right of trial by jury and habeas corpus."

Another says, "We recommend and support legislation (state) to prohibit the flying or display of the United Nations flag on or over school property occupied and controlled by the State, counties, municipalities and school districts of the State of Texas." There are many more along this line. We hope you will read them in the next Texas Agriculture paper you receive and evaluate them.

pounds direct payment in addition to the payment on the layout land for complying. The Department feels the direct payment will take the place of part of the payment on the layout and result in an even better participation in the program.

The commercial producers did not receive due consideration and everything possible is being done to bring this to the attention of U. S. Department of Agriculture officials.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Babies will eat like astronauts and busy mothers will cook in paper dishes — in the immediate future.

Baby food packaged in spoon-tipped aluminum squeeze tubes was introduced at the Fifth International Food Congress here. So were plastic-coated paper dishes that can be used for some oven-cooking.

Other new products shown at the congress and the 20th annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference included: a low-calorie salad topping made with a non-caloric food ingredient; pineapple-topped cream cheese cake; swiss cheese tarts and swiss cheese balls to be deep-fat fried; a guaranteed leak-proof wide mouth vacuum bottle;

Steel-clad aluminum pots and pans; bottled beef sauce containing seasonings, malt, apples, tomato puree, soy, lemon and orange juice; an electric blender with 5-cup container and 2-speed motor to handle heavy loads; packaged mixes for spaghetti barbecue, chili, pizza, curry and white sauces; Plain and sandwich-type peanut butter cookies; fully-baked small dinner rolls in three shapes and four flavors; a dessert and beverage cookbook that stands like a stenographer's notebook; and hamburgers you slice from a roll-like sausage.

A new plastic roll package is said to keep ground beef fresh under refrigeration for as long as 10 days, five times longer than is possible with current packaging.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The Need For Conservation Planning
If you are a farmer or rancher, you know that your farm or ranch is in some way different from any other farm or ranch. In fact more than likely it is not alike on any two fields or pastures on your own farm or ranch. And, I am sure you don't operate your farm or ranch in exactly the same manner as your neighbor. Your tools and equipment aren't exactly the same; you don't grow exactly the same kinds and amounts of crops and graze the same kind and number of livestock each year.

In some way, however, you are probably like all other farmers and ranchers, you continually make plans about how to operate your farm or ranch. You either rely on memory and keep your plan in your head or you write them down. I am sure the latter always proves to be the best policy, because so many times these plans that we once had in your minds fail to materialize. You plan the kinds and amounts of crops to grow each year, which livestock to keep or sell, and hundreds of other details. Also, you probably do a lot of thinking and planning about how to produce more efficiently and provide a more stable economic income for yourself and your family.

The conservation needs of your farm or ranch are also different from others, and when you plan your operations to make better use of the soil, water, and plants on your farm or ranch you are, in fact, making a conservation plan.

To make such a plan, you need a good understanding with basic facts about the soil, water and plants. With this information, you can decide how to manage your land resources according to their needs for conservation protection and improvement, and also how to best use your land within its potential and capability.

There are two Soil Conservation Service technicians here in the Parmer County Soil Conservation District, with headquarters in Friona, who can and will give you technical assistance in helping you develop a conservation plan for your farm or ranch. These technicians have maps of your farm or ranch that show soil types, slopes, and degree of erosion. These maps will also provide information concerning land that is best suited for irrigated or dryland cultivation, as well as land that should be used as pasture or range. The information from these maps should become a basis for your conservation planning decisions.

A good sound house or building was not built without a set of good blue prints, including a firm foundation; likewise, your conservation plan should be based on a good understanding of basic facts about your land that is available through the Soil Conservation Service. A conservation plan based upon this tax revisions. At the meeting anyone who would like to visit with home or the Internal Revenue Representative about personal problems may do so.

In checking with the farmers on yields per acre of cotton we find they are running a little better than we anticipated. Demp Foster of Lazbuddie thought that about all the cotton in the Labuddie area would average nearly two bales. Bill Fullerton of Wilsey Switch says his cotton ran better than two bales per acre, so if the weather will clear up Parmer County know doubt will set a record for number of bales produced in the county.

Last week I talked to you about leaf rust, but I didn't state that there is a great possibility that we will out-grow this disease during the winter. A lot of wheat this year will be grazed and cattle will remove approximately 40 to 50 pounds of nitrogen that won't be available to seed production next spring.

If you are going to graze your wheat and didn't apply enough nitrogen at the beginning it will probably pay you to top-dress an additional 40 to 50 pounds in February.

Everyone of the 18 persons who attended the Fertilizer Short-Course in Dimmitt this past month certainly enjoyed the meetings. It was very good to see that the interest was high and that the fertilizer dealers have an interest in the farmers' problems.

Parmer County is one of the top counties in the state as far as yields go per acre and with fertilizer dealers and farmers working together yields should continue to rise.

Later on I will discuss with you through my column the highlights of the fertilizer school.

Farm Facts

Analysis of components included in the cost of living shows that the cost of food and clothing has risen only about 5% in the past 10 years.

Consumer durable goods—refrigerators, washers, TVs, etc.—cost less than they did 10 years ago. The big increase—over 30%—has been in the broad category of "services." This includes such items as housing, transportation, medical care, personal care, etc.

There has been an increase in the quantity and in the character of such services as well as a steady upward trend in wages and fringe benefits.

Over the past decade, taxes have risen 121%. Taxes take a larger proportion of our income than food, clothing, and medical care combined.

The rising cost of government is paid for primarily by taxes on personal income. Taxes are not included in the federal government's "cost of living index."

The real rise in living costs is illustrated by the fact that a worker who earned $5,000 in 1949 would have to earn $7,870 today just to stay even with the toll taken by taxes and inflation.
