

Twenty-Nine Graduate Into High School

Twenty-nine young people of Farwell Schools made the step from grade school into high school Thursday evening when eighth grade commencement exercises were conducted at the auditorium.

Mrs. Erma Jobs, head of the music department at the school, played the processional and recessional for the class, and invocation was given by J. Travis Allen, Clovis, who is a former teacher of the members of the graduating class.

Judy Billingsley presented the salutatory address greeting attendants and classmates. Co-valectictorians, Tommy Williams and Tommy Wurster, gave short talks. Special music was by the girls of the class, who presented a vocal number. Cathy Bell read the history of the class.

Kenneth Fields of Friona, speaker, was introduced by Webb Guber. Fields, who served as an instructor and grade school principal in the local school for four years, had taught many of the young people in the class.

L. B. Penick, grade school principal, presented the diplomas. Also, a special event of the evening was recognition of young people who had received blue ribbons in various district interscholastic league contests.

Medals were given to local young people who were tops in the district from Farwell. Receiving awards and events in which they participated were: Benjy Dial, number seven; Cathy Bell, declamation; Judy Billingsley, ready writing; and the honor students received medals for their scholastic achievement.

Pete Rolland, seventh grader, was also honored, when he was given a medal for a first place in declamation in the district.

Benediction was given by Rev. Vernon Willard, pastor of Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church. Sponsor of the class for the year was Mrs. Marie Ellyson.

WILLIAM H. HARDWICK

New Methodist Pastor Arrives

Among the newest citizens of Texico-Farwell are Rev. and Mrs. William H. Hardwick and their three children, formerly of Wink, Texas. Rev. Hardwick preached his first sermon as pastor of Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church Sunday morning, and assumed his new duties here. He succeeds Rev. Casey Cantrell, who retired this year, and is now making his home with his family in Portales.

The Hardwick family arrived in this community Wednesday of last week.

Other than Rev. Hardwick, the family includes the pastor's wife, Ruth; and three children Mary Ann, 14, who will be a ninth grade student; William (Continued on Last Page)

★ COULD YOU FORGET $13,294

It happened Friday morning! Alton Berry of Tom Finley's service station on the Clovis highway, was going about his routine duties when a car drove into the drive, and the man asked Alton to "fill 'er up."

He did, took the man's money, saw him drive away, and rushed to wait on a second car that had pulled into the drive.

Then he returned to his office and spied a billfold lying there. He picked it up, opened it seeking identification and "saw more money than I've ever seen in my life."

Curious, he counted the amount and was astounded when he realized he had in his hand $13,294 belonging to someone else. He was wondering what to do and had just picked up the phone to call Clovis police asking them to stop the man, when the owner drove into the drive in a slight state of shock.

Alton said the man seemed pretty pleased to get his billfold back, and Alton was just as glad to get rid of the responsibility of such a monied wallet.

C. L. Gunn Home From Hospital

C. L. Gunn, father of Mrs. Mitz Walling of Farwell, was released from the hospital Friday and was brought to the Walling home here. Mrs. Walling and Milton Lee then took her father to his home in Forest and remained there with him over the weekend.

Gunn received a painful leg injury recently when the leg was caught between a tractor and a plow.

Mrs. Walling reported Monday that her father's condition was much improved.

TO BUY GRADER

In Commissioners Court Monday, chief item of business was the payment of bills, and other routine business.

It was then decided that the county would advertise for bids to buy a motor grader, according to the minutes of the session.

Summer Youth Program To Be Organized Friday

Texico-Farwell Youngsters Asked To Be on Hand

The initial step in getting a summer youth recreation program organized for Texico-Farwell, will be taken tomorrow (Friday) morning, when all young people, both boys and girls, who wish to participate in the program are asked to attend a special meeting.

This announcement was made this week by J. D. Atwell, who will direct the program. Atwell is the new football coach who has been hired to fill that vacancy at Farwell Schools.

The meeting will be held in the old gymnasium in the grade school building at Farwell at 10 a.m. and youngsters from both Texico and Farwell who wish to participate are urged to be present.

Atwell says that three baseball teams for boys are planned. The three groups will include boys from the ages of 7 through 9 on one team; 10 through 12 on another team; and 13- and 14-year-olds.

Also if there are enough girls to participate, the director thinks there is a good possibility that softball will be initiated this year for them.

On the agenda will be swimming each Monday and Thursday at the pool in Muleshoe. A bus has been made available for transportation, he says, which was the biggest problem in having swimming included in the program. This phase of the youth program has proved to be one of the most successful activities in years past.

Possible activities that could be included in instruction if enough interest is shown to merit them are shows, crafts, basketball, volleyball, tennis and softball.

"But a lot depends on attendance at the Friday meeting and preference of activities shown by those who do attend," says the director.

Texico-Farwell Lions Club has sponsored the summer youth program as an annual program. Two pancake breakfasts have already been held to raise funds for the project.

HUGGINS OKAY AFTER SHOCK

Otis Huggins, manager of the Southwestern Public Service Company office in Farwell, was reported to be okay Wednesday morning after being knocked unconscious by 208 voltage.

He was working on a electric power pole in the alley between Kemp Lumber and Watts Machine and Pump Company when the accident occurred at 9:30. A. T. Watts rushed him to the Farwell Clinic where he received treatment.

He was still in a state of shock about midmorning Wednesday but he will be all right, says Dr. T. J. Glenn.

Openings Listed For Texico Faculty

Openings are available in the Texico School faculty for two grade school and one high school instructor, Paul Frederick, principal of the school, said this week. He indicated that because of expected increased enrollment, the school will possibly have two more teachers on duty than were on the faculty last year.

Mrs. Gorman Byrd, who was on the grade school faculty, has resigned her position and will teach in Plainview next year, where her husband is to attend Wayland College. Mrs. Ed Weisler has also resigned to accept a position in Arizona.

J. Buck Doran, who was principal at Field last year, has been hired as English teacher for the coming term. His wife has been named as school supervisor in charge of testing and measurements and other duties, Frederick says.

Returning instructors include Mrs. Wanda Faville, first grade; Mrs. Curtis Miller and Mrs. C. B. Stockton, second grades; Mrs. Frank Seale, third; Mrs. Avis Patterson, fourth; Mrs. Bud Peyton, fifth; Mrs. B. A. Rogers, sixth; Curtis Miller, junior high coach and seventh grade; Mrs. Fred Danforth, eighth; Fred Danforth, grade school principal and music; Agrie Jones, superintendent; Frederick, principal and high school coach; Mrs. Agrie Jones, business education; Mrs. Jimmie Allman, home economics and journalism; Tom Hudson, agriculture and biology; John Adams, social science; C. B. Stockton, social science and physical education.

★ "PERFECT" LIONS MISS MEETING

Thirteen Lions Club members were called upon Monday night to receive special awards—for perfect attendance during the past club year. Ironically only 11 of the men were there.

But it was all okay. Investigation revealed that the absentees, Joe Helton and Prof. Morton, were gone to attend a state convention in Santa Fe. You might have guessed—it was a Lions Club affair.

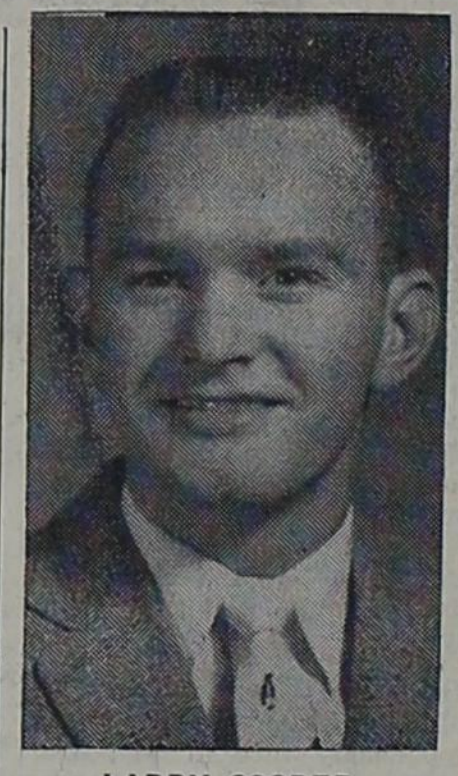

Larry Cooper Wins 'Outstanding' Cup

The 1957 outstanding senior award at Farwell High School was presented to Larry Cooper at the commencement exercises Friday evening at the school auditorium. Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cooper.

This award, which is based on scholarship, cooperativeness with teachers and classmates, character, leadership, and abilities other than in classroom activities, has been presented to the senior student with these qualifications each year since 1928.

Following the presentation of the large trophy, Cooper was presented with a $25 check from Roberts Seed Co. The check is presented annually to the outstanding student.

Among the list of activities entered into by this year's honor recipient include being chosen Boys' State alternate last year, wittiest boy, class favorite of his junior year, student council president his senior year, and editor of the school yearbook. Larry participated in football and track, was voted most likely to succeed his junior and senior years and friendliest boy his senior year. He also had roles in the junior and senior plays and participated in the contest play presented this year.

Anyone having any old clothing or other articles they would like to send to the families in Olton, who lost their homes by a tornado Friday, is asked to contact Mrs. Milton Henson, in Texico.

RETURNED HOME

Dr. V. Scott Johnson of Clovis was returned to his home Sunday from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, where he had undergone surgery. His mother, Mrs. Effie Johnson of Farwell, reports that "he is doing very well." Dr. Johnson, a former resident, now lives in Clovis.

Fern Stit says she'll be happy just so long as she can keep her hair light and her past dark.

PERMITS ISSUED

Two building permits have been issued in Farwell recently, says Wilfred Quickel, city secretary.

The first permit was to Joe Blair for an addition of a bedroom to his present home on lots 30-32, block 50. The other permit was for a driveway, storage wall and carport at the home of W. H. Graham Jr. in south Farwell.

Barn Burns

A fire, presumably caused by lightning, at the Robert Rundell farm in Oklahoma Lane Monday afternoon destroyed a stucco building and its contents. The building, estimated by Rundell to be worth approximately $4,000, housed the workshop, storage facilities and many tools belonging to Rundell and his sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Rundell were away from home at the time the fire started, but they say it started between 12:30 and 1 p.m. Firemen from Texico-Farwell and Bovina hurried to the scene but were unable to control the flames.

Rundell estimates that loss of the building and the tools and equipment inside would be between $7,000 and $8,000. The building was insured, according to Rundell.

Arlin Lee Smith From Hospital

Arlin Lee Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, was released from the hospital in Friona on Monday following a week's confinement there where he was treated for a re-occurrence of rheumatic fever. He suffered with rheumatic fever six years ago.

Arlin Lee will be confined to bed for a period from three to six months, reports his mother. Physicians say that his heart was not damaged from the attack and that if he rests during the prescribed period his heart should bear no serious trace of the attack.

Twenty-Four Enrolled In Spanish Class

The first meeting of the Spanish class for actual study was Monday evening, with 24 adult students participating in the work.

There will be no class on May 30, because of Memorial Day. Next meeting will be June 3.

The class is taught by Ben Vera of Floydada.

Rev. Zinn Addresses Farwell Seniors

"Win or Lose, It's Up to You," was the topic used by Rev. Vance Zinn, former pastor of the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church, as he spoke to members of the Farwell graduating class last Friday night at commencement exercises.

He told the group that there were only two sides in the game of life and "It is up to you to choose what team you will play with." "There can be no middle of the road decision," the speaker stressed.

Rev. Zinn cited the saying, "It makes no difference whether you win or lose, it's how you played the game," and said that he could not agree with this philosophy in the game of life. "Those who say that are the ones who are losing and don't want to realize it," he said.

The pastor pointed out the difference between the two teams, saying that the losing team was made up of "selfishness and self-righteousness." "There are kickers and knockers on the losing team," said the speaker. "They find it easy to criticize but it is hard to do anything better."

As for the winning team, "It is made up of those who are prepared," Rev. Zinn said. "Prepared people are those who prepare to win." In outlining what was necessary to be on the winning team, he gave two main points:

1. Faith in Almighty God. "The basic rules and penalties of the game are found in the Bible," said Rev. Zinn. "The personal faith taught in the Bible is yours to accept."

2. Acceptance of reality. "Facing reality is a must for success in the game of life," the speaker related. He pointed out that the reason for most people being in mental institutions is their unwillingness to accept reality."

He told the seniors to "place things as they are, then seek to find the answer and find it." "Take every opportunity you have to make preparations," he added.

The speaker also touched on going to college this fall. "Everyone of you can go if you're willing to sacrifice."

The school ensemble, under the direction of Mrs. Erma Jobs, played the processional and recessional for the commencement. Rev. Holly, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, gave the invocation and Betty Smart gave the salutatory address.

"Halls of Ivy" was a musical selection by the senior girls' octet and "Graduation Day," was sung by the senior girls' trio.

The valedictory address was presented by Alan Price and Superintendent Jack Williams and Principal A. E. Aatum presented awards. The salutatorian and valedictorian were presented with scholarships and various other awards.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

A Day Of Remembrance

Down through the years people tend to forget the true meaning of certain holidays. As time goes by, historic moments soon fail to have the lustre they once had, even though they are observed in the nation today.

One of these days set aside is Memorial Day, supposedly observed in almost every state in the nation. It has been set aside as a day to honor those who lost their lives in service to their country.

Some places have special services to pay tribute to the war dead, but mostly it has become a day designated on the calendar and that's all. This Thursday as the day rolls around again, to most it will be a day of doubleheader baseball games, a 500-mile auto race, or just a day to take off from work and visit relatives.

As this is a busy time of year for farmers of this area, for many more it will be another busy day of work. Also, the same for many businesses.

No matter what one might choose to do on this Memorial Day, he should take time to recall the reason for enjoying the freedom he now enjoys. Those who have given their lives on the battlefields is one of the main reasons. The United States was founded and still survives because individuals

If this nation is to continue to be one of freedom for its people, its citizens are going to have to continue to believe in this principle — giving their services wholeheartedly for the benefit of their fellowman, not only on the battlefield when required, but in other ways as well.

FCDA Urges 7-Day Emergency Food Supply for All Families

If the United States ever suffers thermonuclear attack, one of the basic problems for America's millions would be food, and how to get enough of it.

In the so-called good old days the family pantry generally was loaded with food—ready for any emergency.

TODAY, THE FEDERAL Civil Defense Administration recommends that every family keep a minimum of a seven-day supply of food in the home for instant use in an emergency. This has become known as Grandma's Pantry.

To estimate how much food is needed for seven days, multiply the number of persons in the family by the amounts shown in the adjoining list for one person. A two or three weeks supply would be more desirable. Foods listed are merely types recommended, not necessarily those which must be stocked. The items kept on hand should be those staple groceries that are used in your normal pattern of daily serving. By following this plan rotation is no prob-

Suggested Pantry

- MILK: One package of powdered, non-fat dry milk, and two 1 1/2 oz. cans of evaporated milk.
- FRUITS: One 1 lb. 14 oz. can each of two varieties of canned fruits, and 1 lb. of dried fruits.
- JUICES: Three cans of approximately 1 qt. 14 oz. each of fruit or vegetable juice.
- VEGETABLES: Six cans (approximately 1 lb. each) of vegetables.
- SOUPS: Four 10 1/2 oz. cans.
- MEATS AND MEAT SUBSTITUTES: Four cans (approximately 1 lb. each) of your favorite items. Include cheese or peanut butter if desired.
- CEREALS: Seven individual-serve packages of ready-to-eat variety.
- BREAD: The canned varieties.
- CRACKERS-COOKIES: One box.
- BEVERAGES: One small jar of instant coffee, one of instant tea, or a 1 lb. package of instant cocoa, whichever your family prefers.
- SOFT DRINKS: Twelve bottles.
- SUPPLEMENTARY ITEMS: Sugar, salt, seasonings, candy (types that store well), chewing gum, and cigarettes and tobacco.
- CAUTION: Store these items like Grandma did—in a dry, cool basement or storeroom within a temperature range of 35 to 50 degrees for best results. Check your "pantry" preferably weekly but at least monthly and rotate items regularly. Use within six months. Bottled water should be changed every six weeks.

lem, as you replace the items used by shopping frequently enough not to deplete your supply to an appreciable extent.

IF YOUR CHILDREN are young, decrease the amounts by one-fourth. If the children are infants, canned baby foods should be substituted for some of the other canned foods. And don't forget—be sure to plan for old people or invalids.

Another word of caution: check your "pantry" at least monthly, and rotate items regularly. Bottled water, for instance, should be changed every six weeks.

Essential items for your stockroom should include two gallons of water in jugs or bottles for each person, and three gallons for each child under three years old. You should also maintain a supply of salt and sugar, matches, fuel, cooking utensils, a can opener, and tableware.

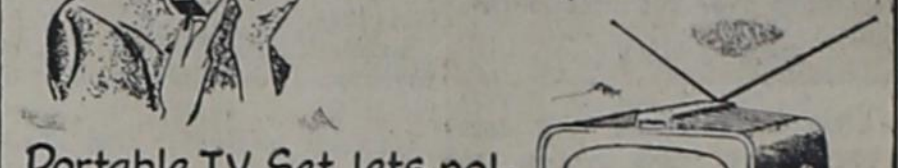

You would also do well to have in your storage room a portable radio, flashlight, candles and holders, first-aid kit, blankets, pail and garbage container. On the lighter side, you might add a supply of games and toys for the children.

Parmer County Keeps Eyes Open As Tornado Rakes Rural Area

This was the first thing which the Oklahoma Lane tornado struck. Soon after the funnel formed it came down overturning the trailer, loaded with corn. The trailer and corn were owned by Wendol Christian.

Out of the brooding thunderheads of a humid May morning swirled the most watched—and most feared—tornadoes ever to come to Parmer County, last Friday at about 10:45 in the morning.

All Plains residents have been jittery about the tough twisters since three weeks ago when 20 persons were killed at Silverton, about 100 miles east of here.

The storm apparently brewed in the southwestern part of the county, and then moved in the traditional northeastern direction. It first dipped down in the Oklahoma Lane area, and later skipped clear across the county, passing through Deaf Smith County and on past Bushland in Potter County. It appeared to build up intensity as it moved along.

Tornado Strikes E. H. Meeks Farm

A tornado ripped through a six mile area near the Oklahoma Lane community at approximately 11 a.m. Friday, resulting in considerable damage at the E. H. Meeks farm. The funnel bounced around the farm home, completely destroying a cow barn, a storage shed, ripping off several tree branches, damaging an orchard, and lifting shingles from the house.

Over most of the area which it passed the tornado covered a path 100 feet wide, but no extensive damage other than that at the Meeks farm was reported. Where the funnel first hit on the Wendol Christian farm, a trailer loaded with corn was overturned.

The black cloud crossed a wheat field, but it was not damaged. The wheat was lain over and completely covered with mud, but by the next day the grain had come out of it and was back to normal. There were several eye witnesses to the tornado, but at the three homes which it came the closest to, no one was around. Mr. and Mrs. Meeks had left early Friday morning for Clovis where they were visiting a neighbor, Ches Fowler, who was in the hospital.

The funnel passed directly through the farm yard and struck on each side of the house, but did not do severe damage to the home itself. An orchard to the south of the house was badly damaged and a tree directly to the north was broken off.

Other damage at the Meeks farm includes holes in a steel quonset building, caused by flying objects from where the cow barn and other shed were destroyed.

This is what happened to one of the trees directly north of the Meeks home. Many of the branches on the trees surrounding the home were twisted off, and an orchard just south of the house was badly damaged.

Deputy Watches As Storm Roars

Deputy Bill Ford of Friona was probably the person who got the closest—and best—look at the tornado (or perhaps it was the second tornado) that moved from northwest of Hub past Friona and through the Black community.

Ford, like many other policemen, was checking on the storm's progress and got a little too close for comfort. He backed up to turn around once, and got stuck in the mud for a few minutes. He was stopped almost under the gyrating clouds that were forming the funnel.

Ford said that at times the wind was terrific. He had one window open, and once the wind whipped into the car, tore loose a flapping seat cover, and jammed his hat into the floor of the back seat. "That's when I began to get a little uneasy," he said.

Ford watched the chunks of clouds chase themselves, and suddenly, "they all dropped to the ground and began moving along," he remembers. He charted the forming funnel along the road and reported to Friona that it looked as though it might strike the eastern part of town. The town evacuated.

However, the winds veered to the east and ripped into the Joe Brummett home. "You couldn't see much in the middle of the funnel itself," says Ford. "A chunk of Joe's roof vanished into the wind and I didn't see it again until it got pitched out of the center way up in the air. The storm would expand and then contract, and it seemed to really tear things up when it got tight and narrow."

Ford says at this point it was hard to make out the funnel, and only when it picked up dirt or other debris was it easy to distinguish from the other clouds.

A CLEAR FIELD

The head of the house was reading a newspaper article very carefully. When he had come to the end he remarked to his wife: "Do you know, dear, I think there's something in what this article says—that the cleverness of the father often proves a stumbling-block to the son."

His wife heaved a sigh of relief.

"Well, thank goodness," she said, "our Bobby won't have anything to fall over!"

House Roof Taken

The twister struck the Joe Brummett residence southeast of town, picked up and then dropped down again at the Ashford Hill and J. L. Stowers residences nearby. Then it raised again and traveled several miles northeast before coming down again on the H. H. Elmore farm.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stowers and Mr. and Mrs. Noah Young and Monroe were at the Stowers home when the rain and hail began. When it stopped, the sun came out for a few minutes and there was no wind. As the men stepped outside to pick up some of the golf ball size hail, Arlene, Darlene, and Ineta Stowers drove into the yard and brought word that the tornado was on the way.

The entire group then went to a storm cellar before the wind struck. Within a matter of seconds, the storm was over and they came out to view the wreckage. Machinery was scattered and torn up, small out-buildings were completely torn up and minor damage was done to the house. Stowers estimates that it will take about $7,500 to repair and replace the damaged machinery. The house was covered by insurance.

When the fire siren began to blow in town, Joe Brummett, who is employed by Vestal-Brewer Hardware, tried to call his wife. When he was unable to reach her by telephone, he decided to go out to see about her. He drove as far as the Elmer Euler residence and could see that his house was being torn up, so waited a few minutes for the storm to move on.

The only persons at the Brummett residence were Mrs. Brummett and six year old Debbie. Mrs. Brummett had been busy preparing lunch for her family and at the same

Hundreds of Parmer County residents watched—or ran—as one, and maybe two, tornado(s) swirled across the countryside Friday morning. The dotted lines show where the tornado was seen in the clouds, but it moved along without touching the ground. The heavy lines show where it plowed fields—and an occasional house or barn—out of the way. It is possible that there was only one tornado. It is also possible that two tornadoes were spawned from the same bank of thunderheads. At any rate, the question mark shows where no one reported seeing the funnel, and there is a noticeable gap from where it was last seen, and where it began again northeast of Hub.

The cross-ties in the foreground were once the foundation timbers for a small 2-room house on the Wayne Stark farm near Black, before the tornado changed things. Note that the well house was not damaged. Near the center of the picture can be seen the Elmore home across the highway.

The southeast corner of the H. H. Elmore farm home near Black was heavily damaged by the high winds, and the tall television antenna was twisted down over the top of the house like a piece of soft wire. It followed the contours of the house almost exactly. Also, the house was scooted about an inch on its foundation. The occupants ducked into a cellar as they saw the storm coming, and escaped the dangerous funnel.

This is the Ernest Altman house on the Willie Black farm northwest of Black, which was demolished by the Friday tornado. No one was at home. Oddly enough, a wheat field across the road southwest of the smashed house was not injured by the whirlings winds.

Elmores Watch Tornado

The H. H. Elmores of Black must be of hardy stock. They stood in their house and looked straight down the "gunbarrel" of a mean tornado until it was within spitting distance Friday morning before they dashed out the back door and into a storm cellar.

Mrs. Dick Rockey, the Elmore's daughter, had heard the storm warning, and gone from her home about a mile away to make sure her parents would take precautions. She took her son, H. V., with her.

When she arrived at the Elmores, she found they knew all about the impending danger, but seemed not greatly disturbed about it. Mrs. Elmore had heard the warning over the radio, and husband H. H. was apparently determined he was going to get a good look at the storm.

He stood and looked out across the fields until he could see the funnel advancing. It marched across a farm southwest of them, churning up dirt. It was forming, disintegrating, then forming again, Elmore says.

All of a sudden, it dropped down and ripped to splinters a small house on the Wayne Stark farm fewer than 200 yards away. "When I saw that house go up in smoke, I took back everything I had Life can be pretty disappointing at times, but Emalee Ann Tucker, daughter of the R. B. Tuckers, has been taking her trials pretty good.

She had her new graduation ensemble and all the anticipation of graduating from the eighth grade, but her joy at going into high school was limited to long distance reports.

Emalee was in the hospital during the eighth grade commencement Thursday night. She is home now and doing fine, and her new graduation outfit hangs in the closet, still unworn.

Mrs. Lenton Pool tells us that if it is stormy Thursday night when commencement is held at ENMU, that Rex, son of the Pools, "will just have to graduate without us."

She said it as a half jest, but

We wonder if she doesn't really mean it. Mr. and Mrs. Pool went over to Portales Sunday night to attend baccalaureate, and never did get to the service.

Before time for the program, weather became severe and the Pools decided they'd better start home. But it took them over an hour to get out of town, the streets were so flooded. In the meantime, the storm had subsided, but by that time, Mrs. Pool admits "we were too wet and bedraggled to go anywhere."

And when we asked Kayla Felts what she knew for news she immediately quipped "It's only 430 days until my husband comes home." Kayla is really counting the days. Her husband is in service.

Among the newer residents of our community are Rev. and Mrs. Hardwick and family. He is new pastor of the Methodist Church.

We enjoyed hearing some of the stories he tells on getting an education while supporting a family. He drove 110 miles for three years, to serve as a pastor of a church, while he was in school. And he told us of another time when the family lived on $8 a week, and thought they were doing wonderfully when he got a $900 a year job.

We love to visit with our friends, but we can't say we particularly enjoyed our visit home Friday afternoon in Silverton.

The times we didn't spend in watching the clouds, we spent in a neighbor's storm cellar, with standing room only. The count before the all-clear sounded was 43 persons, and that wasn't a very big cellar.

But most of us were glad to have a cellar to go to.

Special guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smart recently was Lynn Skelton, son of the Aubrey Skeltons of Garland.

Interesting to us is that Lynn and Betty, daughter of the Smarts, became acquainted last year when Betty was a delegate to Girls' State and Lynn was a delegate to Boys' State. The young people became friends and have corresponded since that time.

The young man was in Lubbock to see about enrolling in Texas Tech, and while in the area, visited the Smart family.

Inez, Betty's mama, was quite impressed with Lynn's achievements, and his modesty. Inez learned that the boy was honored recently by the Engineer's Club of Dallas and was named outstanding pre-engineering student in his high school. He was valedictorian of a class of 160 students with an average of 97.151 for four years.

That is quite a record in itself, but the boy also played football, and was a member of the team that went to state the past year.

Boating seems to be a major topic this summer, especially since a boating club has been organized for this area. Just drive around the community some time and note how many boats repose in garages or carports.

The Grahams don't have one yet - in fact, we don't even have the garage or car port yet, but we're working on it.

Of special interest to residents of this community will be the knowledge that Charles Ott, who suffered a most severe case of polio last fall, is much improved.

Charles' friend, Andre Palmateer, was married last week. Andre had been best man at the Ott wedding just a few years ago. So it was only normal that Andre should want Charles to be his aid at his wedding.

Mrs. M. A. Palmateer told us by phone this week that with the aid of a wheel chair, Charles was there as best man and his wife, Yvonne, was matron-of-honor for the young couple.

It was a very happy occasion for all concerned.

Brimstone, bitumen, oil of pitch, olive oil, oil of fish liver, salt, nitre, butter, lupine in wine, rosemary, and rosin were mangle treatments suggested by Pliny of Rome in the first century A. D.

MAJOR TORNADOES OF 1956, as compiled from preliminary Weather Bureau data, clearly point to Spring as a time for special watchfulness by residents of the central United States—the world's most dangerous tornado area. Civil defense units are on special call throughout this vast region for possible rescue work. In addition, if a tornado-hit locality is declared a major disaster area by the President, as happened in Numbers 1, 3, 6, and 10 above, the Federal Civil Defense Administration can provide funds to aid communities in temporary repair of public facilities. Following the meeting, Mrs. Christian served orange sherbet and coconut macaroons to Mesdames Bob Johnson, Don Garrett, Bill Denney, Clarence Garrett, Roy Fuller, Marion Carson, Aubrey Rhodes, Dick Sparks and two guests, Miss Lillian Fisher and Mrs. Lyntis Goodyear.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Willard were in Mobeetie over the weekend to attend the funeral of Mrs. Willard's aunt.

HAMLIN MEMORIAL METHODIST CHURCH
William Hardwick, Minister

(Under-gird your Life with Faith)

I should like to express the gratitude of myself and my family for the warm and cordial welcome given us upon our arrival in this community. It is with a real sense of expectancy that we begin our service among this congregation.

Our church services were well attended this past week and we were all blessed and thrilled by the special music, "I Would Be True," sung by Miss Susan Levins.

Our church attendance was 102. The Commission on Education will meet this Wednesday night to begin plans to improve our church school services and attendance.

The members of our adult choir meet each Wednesday at 8 p.m. to practice the great hymns of our faith and to provide the congregation with beautiful and appropriate special music. The members of this church are urged to attend the choir practice each week.

This coming Sunday the pastor will pinch-hit as teacher of the combined young adult classes until a teacher is elected. We will meet in the large classroom in the basement and coffee will be served. We will be looking for a room full of vital and dedicated young couples. Bring your children with you. We have excellent classes for all ages.

Our evening services will be held at 7:30 each Sunday. This week we will have the installation service for the new officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and of the Wesleyan Service Guild. Every officer is asked to please be present for this installation.

The official board will meet Monday night, June 3, at 7:30 at the church. The stewards, trustees, and chairmen of the commissions are all requested to be present.

Until next week—"God bless you and your loved ones."
—William Hardwick

TO AMARILLO

Mrs. Pete Vestal is in Amarillo this week to have a medical check-up on her arm. She and two of her children, Mike and Timothy, accompanied her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wilkerson, to Amarillo on Sunday afternoon. She plans to remain there all of this week before returning home.

TEXICO BAPTIST NEWS
Rev. C. C. Morgan, Pastor

Four additions were made to the church by baptism on Sunday. Baptismal services were held during the evening worship.

Attendance for Sunday School was 158 and training union attendance was 98. Good crowds were present for both worship hours. Special music was presented by Miss Connie Tharp at the morning service, and R. L. Douglas Sr., choir director, sang a special number at the evening hour.

The WMU meeting for a business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Henry on Wednesday afternoon. Among the items discussed included summer youth camps, counselors for the auxiliaries of the church and the vacation Bible school.

Mrs. R. M. Walker was selected as counselor of the Junior Girls' Auxiliary to replace Mrs. Gorman Byrd who recently moved to Plainview.

Following the business session, Mrs. Henry served refreshments of iced tea and cake to Mesdames Walker, M. H. Poteet, Sid Thomas, C. C. Morgan and J. O. Ford.

Date for the vacation Bible school has been set for June 10 through June 14, with registration to be held on June 7. All youngsters of the community are invited, and a spokesman for the group says that an interesting schedule is being worked out for the daily sessions.

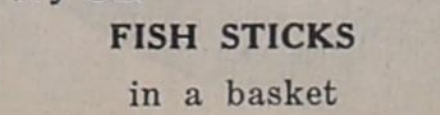

The sessions are to be held from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and studies are planned for those from the nursery department through the intermediate department.

Jerry Poteet, ministerial student at Hardin Simmons University in Abilene, will be principal for the Bible school. He is the son of the M. H. Poteets of Texico and will be here visiting them during the summer.

No Summer Ball For Farwell Girls

Because of lack of interest in organizing, there will be no young women's softball team in Farwell this summer.

Two meetings to try to organize have been unsuccessful and the final meeting Saturday afternoon at the ball diamond proved that not enough persons were interested to have a club this summer.

THE PARMER FARMER

All of Parmer County can well be proud of the Black community, which has just won (for the second time in as many years), second place in the Texas Rural Neighborhood Progress contest sponsored jointly by Farmer-Stockman magazine and the Extension Service.

Although we are very proud that this Parmer County community has made such an achievement again, we cannot help but express our keen disappointment that they were not given first place.

We know that a tremendous amount of work was put forth to win this year, and we feel to "almost" make it two years in a row must be just a little discouraging to those who invested so much time and effort to win.

If you haven't heard, it was the Gafford Chapel community of Hopkins County, deep in East Texas, which nosed Black out. Incidentally, more than 205 neighborhoods in the state vied for the honors, so you can see what Black was up against.

Families in the state winning community placed major emphasis on dairying, land management, and on being good neighbors. The third place winner was the Tennessee Colony community of Anderson County. Their award came primarily because of the pasture improvement program which they conducted.

The two other communities considered by the state judging committee for state honors were the Newbury community of Comanche County, and Belmont in Gonzales County.

We are truly sorry that Black didn't get the blue ribbon—because we sincerely feel they deserved it. However, folks from there who've talked to don't have a "sour grapes" attitude at all, and this speaks even better for Black.

Has the irrigated wheat ever looked better, generally, than it does this year? We don't think it has. It won't be but a short time now until the combines will be grinding through the golden fields, turning out another harvest.

Farmers are thinking more of their irrigated wheat than they used to. Not only do they value it as a basic crop whose acreage should be maintained, and they cash in on grazing and other benefits, but they are learning to get much better yields than was formerly believed possible.

There will be more 50-bushel irrigated wheat this year than might be supposed.

of the calcium in our diets. This mineral is the chief material of our bones and teeth. Without enough of it, children can't develop good teeth and strong bones. Adults need calcium for upkeep of boney structures. It's also needed for contraction and relaxation of muscles and the carrying of nerve messages in the body. All dairy products provide some calcium, but it takes more than one serving of some to equal the calcium you get in a cup of fluid milk.

So eat some dairy foods, and drink milk, too. Use milk in cooking. Specialists suggest liberal use of creamed soups, scalloped dishes, milk puddings, custards and ice cream.

Farmers and stockmen in many areas of Texas are advised by extension entomologists to be on the alert for possible damaging infestations of grasshoppers during this spring and summer. Local county agents have been advised as to the status of possible infestations in the counties. Control measures should be started before the young 'hoppers leave the hatching grounds, if numbers warrant, advise the entomologists.

Livestock producers are advised by Extension Economist A. B. Wooten to watch the calendar in connection with marketing. He says livestock prices follow definite cycles and that the alert producer can cash in on these seasonal changes.

L-333, Seasonal Variations in Livestock Prices, which Wooten authored, is now available at the offices of local county agents and it traces these cycles.

Experience is that which recognizes a mistake the second time you make it.

Joe Brummett Home Damaged

time was decorating a cake for the Rhodes-Coker wedding reception Sunday afternoon.

She picked up the telephone to call Mrs. David Smith to make some arrangement concerning the cake and heard voices on the line. She recognized the voices as those of Mrs. John S. Thompson and Mrs. Leona Wolfe. They were discussing an oncoming tornado, so she went outside and looked in the direction of their homes.

She didn't see any dangerous looking clouds in that direction and started back into the house when she sighted the twister less than one-half mile from her home. She immediately sent Debbie to the basement, made two efforts to call the Ashford Hill residence, turned off the stove, cut off the electricity, then made a dash for the basement.

Says Mrs. Brummett, "I'm sure it was not more than 45 seconds from the time the storm hit the house until all was quiet and I came out to see what had happened." She related the same rain, hail, and sunshine patterns which the Stowers family experienced.

Almost as soon as the storm had moved on, friends and neighbors were on hand to help the Brummetts gather up their scattered possessions and repair the damage which was done to the house. The entire west wall was pulled loose from the rest of the house and the roof over the living and dining rooms and kitchen was torn off.

The ceiling of the house had been insulated with rock wool and everything in the damaged rooms was covered with particles. The cabinet drawers, which were closed when the storm was over, were filled with the rock wool.

The Brummett residence was covered by insurance and Mr. and Mrs. Brummett said, "We are so thankful none of the family was injured that we can laugh about the whole thing now." Their two older daughters were not at home at the time. Linda was at the school house and Joe Beth was on the bus on the way home.

and family, who live a mile north of where the trailer was destroyed, viewed the cloud as it originated and passed around their place enroute to the Meeks farm.

The funnel formed, then touched the ground and lifted, before touching the ground again taking the trailer, according to Mrs. Taylor.

"At first it looked as though it was coming directly toward our house, but it curved to the east of us," she said. "It sounded like a freight train as it came near."

Mrs. Taylor added that, "At first it looked just like a whirlwind, but as it approached the Meeks farm it seemed to spread out. As it hit the farm, the tin flying through the air looked like shingles."

Moved Meeks', the funnel moved straight north, crossing Running Water draw before dissipating, said other observers.

It was first thought that this tornado was the same that moved toward Friona, but two observers reported seeing it dissipate. The two were Clarence Murray and Gene Radford. "It looked as though it disappeared about the time it neared the Bovina-Dimmitt highway," Murray said.

"The funnel got smaller and smaller, and as it lifted there was no longer a cloud, said the two witnesses. Over to the east of where this cloud disintegrated was another dark cloud, which was probably the one from which the other funnel originated.

Radford says that he was listening to a radio report of the Friona bound funnel at the same time the other one was on the ground near Oklahoma Lane.

Considerable hail fell on the Murray farm, but it did not accompany the tornado which was observed from there. "The hail was from the cloud to the east," said Murray.

Quite a bit of cotton is "shining" in rows across our farms. In spite of a rather chilly spring, this critical crop is getting started, and well it may, because this fall may not be as kind as was the one of 1956.

HOME FURNISHINGS TIPS FOR HOT WEATHER.

To keep cool during this hot weather, avoid overcrowding your rooms with extra furniture and "necessaries." Leave space for family living, suggest extension home management specialists. A small room should not have many bulky pieces of furniture. Warm colors, red, orange and yellow, tend to make you feel warm. If you have colorful scatter rugs, or other furnishings in warm colors that aren't necessary store them until cooler weather gets here. Slip-cover your furniture in cool colors, with inexpensive, cool materials such as a denim and sail cloth.

ever said about crawling into cellars and took off," says Elmore.

He and Mrs. Elmore and Mrs. Rocky and H. V. were in the cellar when the funnel hit the house. "The wind roared and whistled something awful," Mrs. Elmore said about 15 minutes after the event, but she seemed calm and collected after the harrowing experience.

Windows were knocked out, the house was moved north about an inch on its foundation, the southeast part of the home was battered, and mud was splattered on the inside walls through the broken windows.

"We feel like we were awfully lucky to get out as well as we did," Mrs. Elmore exclaimed.

Farm-Soaking Rain Continues in Area

Soaking spring rains—welcomed by almost everyone—have been frequent visitors to almost all of the western part of the High Plains during the past week.

The moisture, coming just at planting time, has been very beneficial to most crops. Some re-planting has been made necessary by the rain, but for the most part, the showers are considered a bonus to the long-dry agriculture of Parmer County.

“The rain is ideal for the wheat, and it's sure helping the cotton and grain sorghum that is already up,” points out County Agent Joe Jones this week. “The kind of rains we are getting are very beneficial.”

Although the area has been hit by some severe weather in the past few days, most of the rain that has fallen has come gently, and little hail has accompanied the moisture. Farmers are keeping their fingers crossed in this respect.

Except for the fact that cotton is a little late because of a cool spring, farmers are claiming that this is the first really good start nature has provided the Plains since 1949.

Even the slow-starting cotton crop is really nothing to worry about this early, believes the county agent. “If it will turn hot this summer, the cotton will snap out of it and be okay,” he says. “Besides, here in Parmer County we're better off than most everyone else this spring anyway.”

The moisture reports, through last week (see map on tornado page for location of measuring points):

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

This week is Soil Stewardship Week throughout the nation. Most of you will be hearing talks by your ministers Sunday on this subject. The District has furnished to each church in the district, covers for church bulletins.

We are quoting below a very moving thought on soil stewardship by Nolen J. Fuqua, president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts:

“Sometimes when I am riding in a plane—often at altitudes of three or four miles—I look down upon the crops and grazing lands far below. I see broad areas scarred by gullies and the white or gray patches of sterile sub-soil where no good topsoil is left. This thought usually comes to me: This must be the way that God looks upon what we have done with His gift of soil. The sight can only bring sadness to Him.

“And I think of the many more millions of people who year by year will move into our nation and our world. Statisticians say the population in this country has passed the 170,000,000 mark—a gain of 18 million in six years. Three million a year!

“If we fail in our stewardship, the time may not be too far distant when our blessed abundance which has been our strength may give way to scarcity. Then there may come years when good crops will not be enough to meet our needs. Looking at our farms and ranch lands from high above makes me more certain than ever that there is a divinely conceived charge to mankind to use God's land wisely, and to pass it on in better condition to the next generation. “Can a nation be neglectful of its stewardship of the land and still be a truly religious nation? Can a farmer or a rancher neglect the stewardship of the soil and still be a religious person? “This is God's earth. We ought to try seeing it as He sees it—and each of us may better realize our stewardship in the use of His land.”

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU By RAYMOND EULER

We would like to encourage each of you farmers, when you receive your questionnaire from the ASC office regarding location of bindweed plots on your farm, to immediately mark your form and return it. Farm Bureau's part in this survey is the payment of postage for your reply. We hope you will cooperate in this effort to make known all bindweed plots so they can be destroyed. Your dealers are cooperating again this year by furnishing the sterilant for this treatment at a reduced price. Raymond Schueler of Rhea is chairman of the committee, originated by Farm Bureau, that is attempting to get rid of the weed in Parmer County. Your county agent and the highway department employees are lending complete support to the program, too.

If the U. S. House votes to end acreage reserve payments for that portion of the Soil Bank program, it seems to be the equal of a breach of contract with farmers participating in it. There are, no doubt, many inequities involved in the program, and the administration of the program leaves much to be desired. But since it was inaugurated at such a late date last year, and time was not available to work it out properly, it seems that at least one full year of the program should have been allowed to transpire. We hope it may be allowed to operate for at least that long, or until a better program can be figured out at least.

We appreciate our representative, Jesse Osborn of Muleshoe, and his general support of legislation in Texas that favors the welfare of our farmers. We were unsuccessful, however, in gaining his support of our opposition to the recently enacted legislation against allowing rate deviations by fire insurance companies when they gained approval from the State Insurance Commission. In his reply to our wire, he said, “I definitely feel that the Insurance Commission should have the authority over deviation of rates.” Apparently Representative Osborn was misinformed that such was not the case under the present deviation allowance law.

Consider this: The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself. Ecclesiastes 10:12.

Dallisgrass in Bermuda lawns can be controlled by using disodium methyl arsonate as a spray to treat the clumps of the unwanted grass. Mix 4 to 5 ounces of the technical material with a wetting agent in 2 to 4 gallons of water and apply a fine mist spray. Application should be made during periods of lush growth.

Contest Rules Revealed

Rules for the 1957 Texas hybrid corn and grain sorghum programs have been released by the Texas Certified Seed Producers Inc., report extension agronomists.

Farmers, 4-H club and FFA members are eligible to enroll in the program, say the agronomists. Only commercial hybrid grain seed growers, their employees, and members of their families are barred from participation, they add.

Awards in both programs will be made through fifth place. Corn contestants must plant one of the hybrids: Texas 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 9W, 15W, or 17W. Eligible sorghums for competition are: RS 590, Texas 601, RS 610, Texas 611, Texas 620, RS 650, and Texas 660. A minimum of one acre is required for entry and some sections of the state will sponsor both an irrigated and non-irrigated contest.

Agronomists favor the planting of certified seed. The term “certified” denotes seed free from inert matter, weed seed, and other crop seed as well as ability to produce higher quality yields. Certified seed are easily spotted by the blue tag and state seal on the bag.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

June is National Dairy Month and special emphasis is being placed on the advisability of everyone in the family drinking milk. Some of the phrases used to promote the milk drinking habit are, “You never outgrow your need for milk,” “Get on the milk wagon and stay on the health wagon,” and “Drink more milk for health's sake.”

All of this advice is good and should be heeded by most of us. In our eating and drinking habits as in all other phases of living, “Our actions speak louder than our words.” Maybe we are not setting the proper examples for our children when we serve milk for children and coffee or tea for adults.

By drinking milk with our children, we are teaching them by our example and at the same time safeguarding our own health. There are any number of ways that milk may be used in the diet besides as a beverage; however, a cold glass of milk makes a very good beverage at any time. It is surprising to know that the majority of farmers do not keep a milk cow. A few years ago no farmer or his wife was ever seen purchasing the family milk supply in stores and markets. Not so any more. Farms that have milk cows are usually dairy farmers.

There are many ways to use vanilla wafers besides for making banana pudding. If you are interested in two recipes which are very good and yet simple to make, try the following:

- Pineapple Delight
 - 1/2 cup pineapple juice
 - 1 pkg. lemon Jello
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 1 cup butter
 - 4 egg yolks
 - 1 cup pineapple
 - 1 cup pecans
 - 4 egg whites
 - 3/4 lb. vanilla wafers

Drain crushed pineapple. Heat pineapple juice to boiling point. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Set aside to cool. Cream sugar and butter. Add well beaten egg yolks, pineapple, and chopped nuts. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in.

Crush vanilla wafers. Put half the crumbs in shallow pan about 8 by 10 inches. Add fruit mixture. Spread last half of crumbs on top and pat down gently. Leave in refrigerator 24 hours before serving.

- Lemon Ice Box Dessert
 - 3 egg yolks
 - 1/4 cup lemon juice
 - 1/2 lemon rind
 - 1/8 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 3 egg whites
 - 1 cup cream
 - 1 cup vanilla wafers

Combine first five ingredients and cook slowly until thickened. Cool. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and whipped cream.

Sprinkle half the finely crushed vanilla wafers in refrigerator tray. Add lemon mixture and cover with remaining crumbs. Freeze until firm. Serve in finger length slices.

A small sponge is very handy to use when doing needlework. Keep the sponge in water near the spot you are sewing. Moist fingers when turning hems or facing or doing other small sewing tasks.

For a windproof picnic tablecloth that is very attractive, cut the desired size and shape from colored denim. Hem the edges leaving the ends of the hems open. Have lengths of small steel rods cut to fit all four sides. Insert rods in hems and the cloth will stay spread out on the ground.

“The Place Where Most People Trade” Friona, Texas May 29, 1957

What did you think of the way Friona officials handled the tornado alert last Friday? If the tornado had hit town would most folks have been safe? Friona has a Ground Observers Corps. Ralph Shirley is chairman. Friona's fire department is willing to maintain a twenty-four hour watch during any emergency. They are raising money for a watch tower at this time. If you feel you can spare a few dollars send it to Charles Bainum, fire chief. It would be a good way to express your appreciation to Friona's wonderful Fire Department. After a tornado, or any other disaster, it will be too late for a watch tower and, besides, you might not be here.

Black GOC Enjoys Defense Work

According to Mrs. Claude Edelman, Ground Observer Corps activities in the Black community are progressing smoothly. Organized last January, the corps has progressed rapidly with the aid of Sgt. Calvin C. Doyle, now of Clovis. At the initial meeting, some 22 persons signed up to work with the GOC and all remain active members.

That first meeting was devoted to organizational planning and the selection of officers. Claude Edelman was elected as supervisor and Mrs. Edelman was elected as chief observer.

Since that time, the group has conducted several training sessions, with Sgt. Doyle in charge, and has been alerted and gone into action several times also. The alerts usually take place on Sunday afternoons, and good response is usually had to them.

From all evidences, the organization in Black is making a favorable showing with each alert. Evaluations sent in from the main office in Oklahoma City have rated the Black citizens highly.

The procedure for an alert goes something like this: An alert is called for a three hour period. Several persons may assemble to watch for unidentified aircraft.

When such a plane is sighted, a call is immediately placed to the nearest defense center (in this case, Oklahoma City).

The plane is identified as to markings, type, etc. These calls, incidentally, are given top switchboard priority. They are given precedence over all other calls. This procedure is repeated as many times in the three hour period as airplanes pass over.

In addition to aircraft, GOC members have been authorized to notify the office of any severe weather conditions.

"All in all," says Mrs. Edelman, "the work is extremely valuable. And one of the nicest things about the thing is that it is interesting. We feel that we are doing our bit, small though it may be, for defense of our nation, and, at the same time, we're providing ourselves with something interesting to do."

After 25 hours of service, members become eligible for the Ground Observer silver wings. At the present time, all Black members are striving for enough study time to qualify for the wings. However, GOC identification cards and certificates of award for service have been given all members of the post.

ELECTRICITY BRINGS THE PASTURE TO THE COW

Fantastic, No! Latest innovation of the application of electric power actually brings the pasture to the cow, and dairymen in many sections of Texas are using the machine for supplemental feeding. The magic equipment is a cereal grain "incubator" which grows grass 6 to 8 inches in six days.

Secret of the installation, called a Herbage machine, is in the use of electric heat pumps for accurate temperature control and a practical application of hydroponics. Hydroponics is the cultivation of plants by placing the roots in liquid nutrient rather than in soil.

The cereal grains are pre-soaked, allowed to drain, then put in trays and racked like a file cabinet. With proper control of heat, humidity, light, and chemically

Heat and circulation is controlled by units attached to sides of incubator building. These units have whipped the mold problem which plagued the earlier models of the machine.

Mr. A. O. Blankenship, Blankenship Dairy, Amarillo, inspects a crop of five day old oat grass. Lower left, two baskets show grass and root development after 6 days of growth.

Of course we make mistakes.
