County Farmers Go To Polls Tuesday

It's voting time next Tuesday for Parmer County wheat farmers. On that day, some 1,139 county persons connected with wheat will be eligible to cast their vote on the Kennedy Administration's wheat program for 1964. (See editorial, this issue) There are ten polling places in Parmer County. They are Black Grain Company; Clay's Corner Gin; Sherley-Anderson Grain Company in Bovina, Lariat and Lazbuddie; Hub Grain Company; ASCS office, Farwell; City Hall in Friona; Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply and Rhea Grain and Fertilizer.

Voting will be from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Farmers are asked to vote in the box nearest their residence. The ASCS has attempted to have a list of farmers at each polling place. However, farmers eligible to vote may vote in any box, so long as they vote only once.

This has been possibly the most controversial wheat program offered to the American farmers. It has been debated furiously for several months by various farm organizations, government officials, and interested groups and individuals.

One of the hottest issues in the vote was the special ruling which allowed farmers who grow 15 acres of wheat or less to vote in the election if they signed an affidavit by this past Monday.

The small wheat farmers outnumber the large farmers about two to one. There are about 1.24 million farmers in the 15-acre category, and the total number of wheat farmers is between 1.8 and 2.0 million. It has been stated that the minority group, acreage-wise, could control the election.

In order for the 1964 wheat program to be approved, 66 and two-thirds per cent of the voters nationally must favor the program. Baccalaureate services are scheduled at the Texico and Farwell schools Sunday night, May 19, 8 p.m. In the respective high school auditoriums, Speaker for the Texico services will be Rev. Glenneth Harrington, pastor at Truth or Consequences Methodist Church and brother of senior, Vic Harrington.

Special music will be provided by the high school chorus under the direction of Gary Stelling, music director at the school. Invocation will be spoken by Rev. Robert O. Tomlinson and benediction will be pronounced by Rev. Harvey Hudnall. Processional will be played by Don Chandler. Graduate escorts are Millie Autrey and Sherron Elliott.

Commencement exercises for the Texico group will be May 22, 8 p.m. at the high school auditorium. Processional and recessional will be played by Kathy White and Don Chandler. Invocation will be given by Murray White and Miss Georgina Lambert will present the salutatory address. The school chorus will present three numbers, "Now is the Hour," "A Perfect

Year," and "Graduation Day." Carol White, third high honor student will give the class history and J. Buck Doran, superintendent of schools will introduce Leonard E. Gillingham, commencement speaker. Diplomas will be presented by F. S. Thigpen, president of the board of education, Miss Linda Palmateer, will present the valedictory address and A. D. McDonald, high school principal, will give the benediction. Graduate escorts will be Jackie Hughes and Linda Campbell.

Speaker for baccalaureate services at the Farwell school is Rev. J. L. Bass, pastor of Farwell First Baptist Church. He will be introduced by Amos Tatum, high school principal, and special music will be provided by three senior girls, Shirlene Martin, Dorri Donaldson and Beverly Purvis, Minister Don Tarbet, of the local Church of Christ will give the invocation and Rev. The salutatory address "Use of Freedom" will be given by Bobby Atkinson and W. M. Roberts, school superintendent will introduce the speaker, Dr. R. L. Willingham, pastor of First Methodist church in Clovis.

Miss Margaret Haseloff, the school's DAR Pilgrim, will give the class history after which Miss Dorris Donaldson, will present the valedictory "The World of Youth."

Presentation of awards will be made by A. E. Tatum high school principal, and diplomas will be presented by A. H. Haseloff, president of the board of education. Benediction will be pronounced by Rev. Robert O. Tomlinson, of Hamlin Memorial Methodist church.

Although Coaches Stockton and Frederick had hoped to win the meet they say "we are not disappointed with the showing of our boys". And add that this is one of the finest track teams they have coached since being in the Texico school.

Only other first place won by the Texico group at the meet was by Vernon Thigpen in the javelin throw. He hurled it a distance of 171, which was enough to win the state, but not as far as he had thrown it the week before in winning the district, and setting a new record.

The 880 relay (Dyer, Helton, Hudnall and Harrington) placed second at the state meet and Wayne Hudnall won fourth in the broad jump and Vic Harrington, placed fourth in the low hurdles.

Winner of the state meet with 45 points was Tatum, followed by Eunice, Truth or Consequences and Texico, in that order. Texico had 28 total points in the meet.

It looks like this is going to be a long week. I am having my first experience with wisdom teeth. If this makes me any smarter, I had just as soon stay dumb. This wisdom tooth thing is a serious business. Since treading this vale of shadows is a new experience for me, I have called on the advice of my friends. It seems that everybody has been over this wisdom tooth road but me. It is about like coming down with the mumps or chicken pox as you approach the prime of life.

I don't see much pattern to the problem of wisdom teeth among my advisors. Some of them had them "lifted out" as they put it with practically no effort at all. Others resorted to everything short of a winch line and dynamite.

I remember when the wife had a couple extracted. They were anything but "lifted out." Before the digging got started, her neck and glands swelled up to where she looked like a hop-toad.

When she finally got down to business with the friendly dentist he sallied forth with a kit of tools that would put the village smithy to shame. It made me want to run just to look at those chisels, pliers and pinch bars.

Maybe now you can understand why the advent of wisdom teeth in my otherwise usually tranquil life is not welcomed with open arms. Seeing what happened to my wife was a traumatic experience in itself, and the gory tales that my acquaintances have been pumping in don't make the picture much brighter.

Little by little my jaws have been tightening down on one side. First I had to give up yawning. Then thick sandwiches. With summertime at hand, I love to crunch up the remains of the ice tea after a hearty meal, but that went by the boards too.

I began to face up to the fact that I was developing a real problem the other day when I realized it has been three days (Continued on Page 2)

Editorial Comment :

The Referendum: Farmers Can Show What They Are Made Of

Next Tuesday, the wheat farmers of Parmer County and the nation will be faced with a decision. For the sake of their own personal pride, their particular agricultural industry, and for the future of America, we strongly urge them to turn "thumbs down" on the government's 1964 wheat proposal.

The program, as best as we can tell, is another step by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in gaining "just a little more" control of America's farms, and we think it's time our farmers stood up on their "hind legs" and said "Nope" for once.

They had better say no while they still have the chance. With the continuing trend toward Socialism by the New Frontier, the day may come when they won't even have the chance to express their opinion.

There has been a lot of pressure out of Washington and the USDA for passage of the referendum. Never before has the Secretary of Agriculture had to get the publicity agents working toward passage of one of his programs as he has in this referendum.

If this controversial program is approved, there's no telling what might be crammed down farmers' throats in the future. Even people close to the program admit that it is complicated, and that it has many bad points.

Why then should farmers approve such a program? Have our farmers given in to the socialistic trend? Are they willing to give up the management of their own farms for a few pieces of silver? We think not.

Surely, even in the new generation of farmers, there burns that spark of free enterprise that would make him want to make his own choice, and labor for a good profit, rather than just sit back, turn it over to "government managers," and take what someone in Washington dictates he should have.

Farmers got into the government-aid merry-go-round back in the depression days of the 1930s, when it was generally agreed that something needed to be done. But they forgot that with government aid comes government control, and they've been getting in deeper all the time.

We believe Congress will offer wheat farmers an alternative should they vote "no" on Tuesday. The Democrats control Congress, and with 1964 being an election year, they can't afford to turn their backs on people who are going to be begging for votes come next year.

If the farmers will vote "no" next Tuesday, perhaps the next program will be a little less restrictive, rather than continually taking away from their freedom.

CHRISTIANITY Is The Bulwark of Our Way of Life

Scripture: Matt. 16:13-18; Acts 16:23-25

It is the privilege of Christians to walk in fellowship with the Living Lord, that they know "their faith" is "of God" and they are able to sing at midnight with bleeding backs. Many of us, who are followers of Christ, do not have such a faith and such a reality of fellowship with the Living Lord, but we all may have, as it is for all according to their faith. Jesus took religion out of legalism and placed it in life. He said He came to give life more abundant than man had ever found it to be, a life so great it was worthy to go on and on. The Apostle Paul, a Zealot, a fanatic, a Pharisee, believed that only through the rites, rituals, and ceremonies of Judaism could anyone come into the presence of God.

The Saul of Tarsus met the risen Christ in the dusty road and became Paul, the Apostle, preaching that ALL MEN, Jews or Gentiles, and any others could through faith, come to know God through the LIVING CHRIST. It was what we call experience of God through Christ. It was a fact in the life and experience of Paul, the turning point of his whole life. It made a tremendous impression of the religious life of his day and also on spiritual life of all followers of the Christ down to this time. Whenever followers of Jesus have experienced in their hearts and lives the reality of the presence of God in and through the Risen Christ, they have had power, the power of God. They have had a passion, the passion to share Christ, with all mankind. They have had a victorious life, a life that could sing in the darkness of midnight of the world, even when suffering with torn and bleeding backs. This is our need today. All of the followers of the Christ need such a faith in order that God might for us, His people and for the world, carry out His eternal purposes.

May 24th of this year will be two hundred and twenty five years since John Wesley had his heart warming experience in a little worship service in Aldersgate, London, England. But the effect of that spiritual experience on Wesley and its effect upon the world is a known fact of history. It brought to England and then to America new power in the pulpit and a newness of life to the laity that made a new society as new spirituality came into persons, and they by the thousands became new creations in Christ Jesus. When the world was sick unto death and there seemed to be no hope, then came God with a new life injection into the hearts of people that made for a new society and a higher moral standard. We have many Christians in our nation and in the world today, but all of us need a new spiritual experience.

I recognize all Churches of all Christians and all Christians of all Churches and I hope and pray that the darkness of the world's hate, confusion and materialism, there will come to each and all Christians a new spiritual experience that will make God real and all His followers willing to be that, and to do that which will enable Him to bring about His great and eternal purposes. Twenty-five years ago I was reading a little book written by an Englishman on the subject of John Wesley's heart warming experience and what it had done for the Church and the world, and then he asked the question: "Can Methodism repeat?" "Yes," he answered, "if she can recapture anew four things. First, ASSURANCE, "Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine." The reality of the presence of the LIVING CHRIST. Second, FELLOWSHIP; Fellowship of kindred hearts with the on highest purpose of trying to do God's will through the Christian Faith, the joy of fellowship for fellowship's sake and not to influence people or get something from them. Third, EVANGELISM, the passion to share Christ. Fourth, HOLINESS of heart and life. I pray this for my own church and for all Christians.

since I brushed my teeth, and couldn't get a brush in to get the job done, and that I unaccountably had ordered oyster stew three meals straight because it was one of the few things I could still manage without great effort and considerable hurt.

If it weren't for some troublesome side effects, like a ringing pain that shoots up the side of your head if you bite something too hard or wiggle your jaws in a way they don't want to wiggle, this wisdom tooth business could be put to good use.

My weight reduction program is clicking merrily along, and although the project can hardly be described as voluntary, I did after all cook the idea up so you can rest assured I will claim any credit that may accrue.

The Old Timer

"There are two kinds of men who don't understand women--bachelors and husbands."

The young man was very shy, and after his girl friend had flung her arms around him and kissed him because he had brought her a bouquet of flowers, he got up and started to leave.

"I'm sorry if I offended you," she said.

"Oh, I'm not offended," he blushed. "I'm just going out for more flowers."

"SEARCH THE SCRIPTURES" CAN ONE BE SAVED BY "FAITH ONLY"?

A popular teaching among men in religious circles is that one can be saved by "faith only" -- without being baptized. Does "faith ONLY" exclude "repentance"? Jesus said, "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." (Lk. 13:3). Jesus gives the right to BECOME a child of God to all those that believe. (Jn. 1:12). They are not children of God because they believe in the mind that Christ is divine, but if they believe they have the power to act upon that in becoming Christians. The chief rulers were left condemned because they would not confess Christ; yet they "believed on him." (Jn. 12:42-43).

Jesus said, "He that believeth AND is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mk. 16:16). Two things are necessary in being saved (Faith and Baptism); while one thing is enough to condemn (Disbelief). If only faith is necessary to salvation, why did Jesus name TWO things before salvation? Peter said, "Baptism doth also now SAVE us." (1 Pet. 3:21). How could baptism save people if they have ALREADY been saved in "faith alone"? Are we saved once when we believe; and saved again when we are baptized? NO! Christianity is the system of faith (Gal. 3:23-25) by which man can be saved. Hence, the jailer repented and was baptized to fulfill the command to "believe" and when he was baptized, he was THEN a believer in God. (Acts 16:30-34).

Only ONE time in the scriptures is the term "faith only" found, and it is here preceded by the word "not" -- showing that "faith only" will not save. "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only." (Jas. 2:24).

This Is Your Money

but Everything It Buys Isn't in Those Packages

- Goods and Services are only a part of what our money buys when we spend it.
- About one-third of it goes to help pay for schools, churches, protection, conveniences, and other elements of community life.
- Logically, then, we get nothing we can use for this substantial part of our money, except when we spend it at home.

Justice "Short Course" Seen In Local Court

Five men received prison sentences of two to four years in U. S. District Court Tuesday. Four of the men were charged with forgery. All five entered pleas of guilty, and were sentenced by District Judge Pat Boone. One of the cases found the wheels of justice turning rather quickly.

Johnnie Starr, Jr., McAllister, Oklahoma, was given three years on a burglary charge. Tom Childers and James Childers, brothers from St. Louis, were sentenced to two years in jail on forgery charges. Bobby Lynn Horn of Friona received a three-year sentence for forgery, and Gilbert Martinez Contreras of Hereford was given a four-year sentence. In custody and awaiting trial are Antonio Flores, Amarillo, and Joe Medina, Bovina, both on forgery charges. Six others were indicted by the Grand Jury on May 9, but these are not in custody as yet.

Contreras' conviction has quite a story. He was sentenced less than 24 hours after being arrested on Monday. He was arrested by Highway Patrolman Carol Parker northeast of Farwell on a routine driver's license check.

Parker recognized the truck driven by Contreras as a stolen automobile. Upon questioning by county peace officers, it was revealed that he had stolen at least nine vehicles and committed around 20 forgeries.

He was indicted last Thursday in Parmer County, and a warrant had been issued for his arrest. Contreras, who has served three penitentiary terms, is wanted in several places. Deaf Smith County officers found five stolen trucks and a car in Hereford Tuesday night.

The check charge on which he was tried in Parmer County was one given to Dave Allen at Panciera Tire and Supply in Friona.

Sheriff Charlie Lovelace arrested Judson Goodwin of Arlington early Sunday morning after a chase through Farwell. Lovelace spotted Goodwin's car as a stolen auto which was taken in Clovis, N.M.

Goodwin was transferred to Amarillo by Federal authorities, to await trial under the Dyer Act.

Robert Meredith of Amarillo was fined $100 and costs, plus three days in jail in County Court this week. Meredith was picked up and charged with driving while intoxicated.

Miss Ardella Nickaboine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nickaboine is shown being congratulated by Sgt. Juanita Roberts, Army WAC Recruiting officer, just before leaving for Amarillo, Tuesday where she was given the Oath of Allegiance, prior to leaving for Fort McClellan, Ala. where she will receive eight weeks of basic training in the administrative field. Miss Nickaboine is a former Texico girl and her parents now live at Black.

Shrine Clinic In Hereford May 25

The annual Oasis Shrine Club Children's Clinic has been set for Saturday, May 25 in Hereford with some 200 children expected to attend from a four state area.

The Shrine's Club has been at work in Friona, Hereford, Dimmitt and other area town painting trash barrels and selling bumper stickers to defray expenses of the annual clinic. An estimated $7,000 to $8,000 will be needed to finance the clinic.

Area doctors and nurses are volunteering their services for the clinic with some doctors coming from Dallas, Amarillo, Denver, Lubbock and Houston to assist in examining the children.

All parents in this area, with children who are eligible to participate in the clinic, are asked to have the child examined by the family doctor prior to the clinic date. Children are eligible through age 19.

Each year several children from this area attend the clinic and are examined by the corps of specialists.

Armed Forces Day Invitation

Sunday, May 19, Cannon Air Force Base will be open to the public in celebration of Armed Forces Day.

The gates to the base will be open to the general public at 8:30 a.m., and will remain open until 4:30 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited.

The 832d Air Division Commander, Col. Albert W. Schinz, wishes to take this opportunity to welcome the citizens from the surrounding areas to visit the base on Armed Forces Day and see the role Cannon plays as part of the Tactical Air Command in the defense of the free world.

Highlight of the day will be an air show starting at 1:30 p.m. The feature display during the celebration will be a Thor Able Missile. The missile, will be especially rigged so that spectators may go inside it and observe some of the scientific marvels of the space age.

Other displays will include: Radar and Electronics Equipment; Armored Equipment from the New Mexico National Guard; a Military Amateur Radio System, (MARS) vehicle; Heavy Vehicles and Support Equipment of the Air Force; Fire-fighting Trucks and vehicles; marksmanship display with firing demonstrations and many other interesting booths and exhibits.

The Air Show beginning at 1:30 p.m., will feature sleek jet fighters demonstrating the latest techniques of bombing and strafing, high speed flybys, maximum effort take offs, air to air refueling and many other aerial feats.

A small contingent of Army Troops will land in an Assault Helicopter and attack a simulated enemy position in full view of the crowd.

Aircraft taking part in the show or on static display will include F-100 Super Sabres, F-104 Starfighters, B-57 Comberas, T-33 Shooting Stars, Slick winged T-37 jet trainers and T-38 Talons.

Also on display will be the C-124 Globemaster, a C-123 Provider, a H-43 Helicopter and the H-34 Assault Helicopter. Other smaller aircraft will also be shown.

For the convenience of the spectators, food and refreshment stands will dot the Cannon flightline.

Elderly and Disabled Persons should make themselves known to the Air Policeman at the main gate so that they may be directed to a special parking area and to special seats on the flightline.

Don't forget, Sunday, May 19, Armed Forces Day at Cannon Air FORCE Base.

Farwell School Takes District Baseball Title

Farwell High School baseball team won the district and bi-district titles Friday by taking a win from Petersburg 15-5.

The game was called at the end of five innings due to the ten run rule. Johnny Actkinson, pitching for the locals gave up four hits during the afternoon, while the local team got 10 hits.

Actkinson helped to win his own game by having three singles in the afternoon's play. Big Leon Lovelace, slammed a homer with two men aboard in the third inning to add to the scoring spree.

Danny Huffaker had two singles during the day and Joe White and Jerry Childs each had a double.

In winning district play the locals took two wins each, from Lorenzo and Petersburg and lost two games to Silvertown.

Coach Mayfield, says he is well pleased with the performances turned in by the boys all season.

Vanilla Cows?

Dairy scientists are now predicting that dairy cows of the future may become specialists — with some making milk for ice cream, others for cheese, etc.

The researchers, according to Farm and Ranch, are convinced that certain feed rations might be used to promote growth of particular bacteria in cows' stomachs and thus produce milk with tailor-made qualities.

The need for expansion at Parmer County Community Hospital and a proposed building addition to meet the hospital's needs were discussed at a breakfast meeting in Friona last Saturday.

Dr. Paul Spring, spokesman for the hospital, said that the hospital needs more private rooms, and it was his opinion that 10 additional private rooms would put the hospital in much better position during the "rush months."

H. E. Barnett, administrator for the hospital, reported that during the peak months of January and February of this year the hospital was filled almost constantly, and every possible space was used to house patients. Places such as the lab waiting room, the doctors' library, the EKG room (a room in the clinic in which electrocardiograph tests are made) and one of the treatment rooms were often used to house patients.

"The doctors probably wouldn't tell you this, but I feel sure that on occasion last winter when we were filled up, patients were treated and sent home who under other circumstances would have been hospitalized," Barnett told the group.

"It is the hope of the board of directors that the proposed addition may be started in the near future, so that it will be ready for the peak months next winter," said G. B. (Pete) Buske, chairman of the hospital board of directors.

Barnett said that 10 private rooms could be added to the present hospital plant at a cost of around $63,000 according to one estimate. It was unanimously agreed that a fund-drive would be instigated to raise the money.

"It takes about 98.5 cents of every dollar we take in to pay our operating costs. The rest is applied to the principal on our current debt. So it would be impractical to add to our current obligations," Barnett said.

The hospital has only four private rooms at present, and these become semi-private in emergencies. There are facilities at present for only about 20 patients under normal conditions.

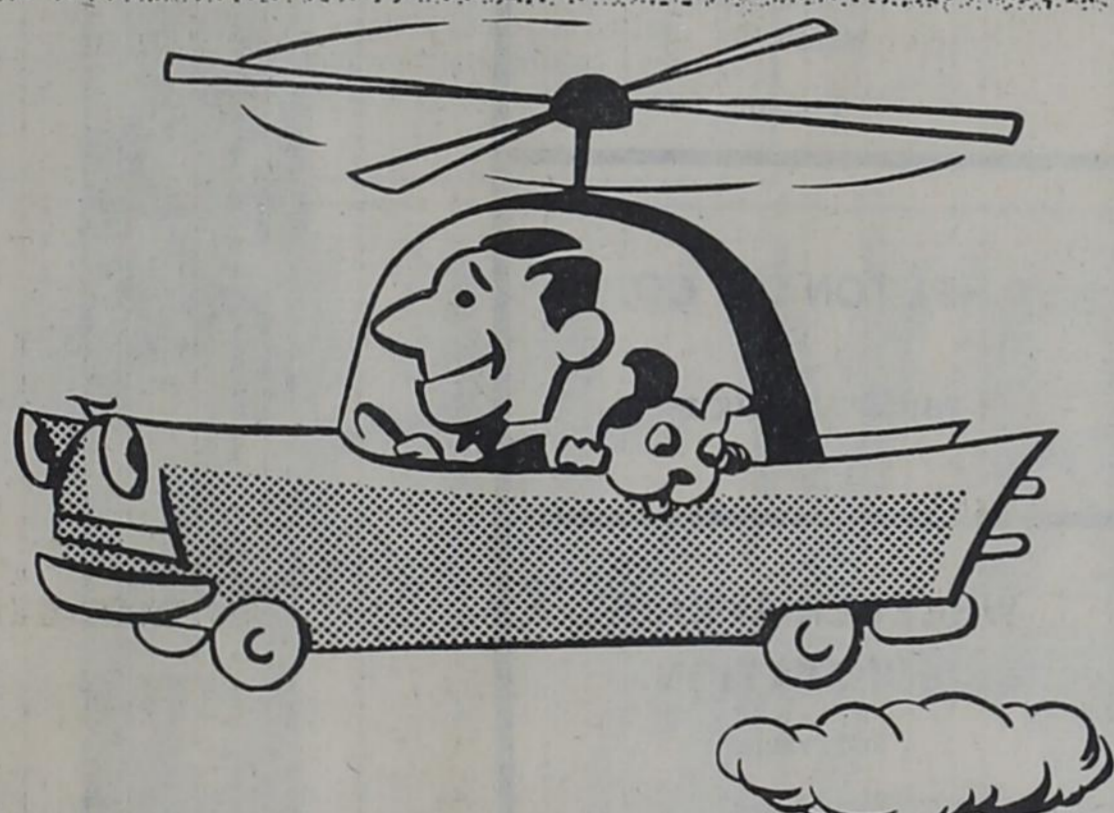

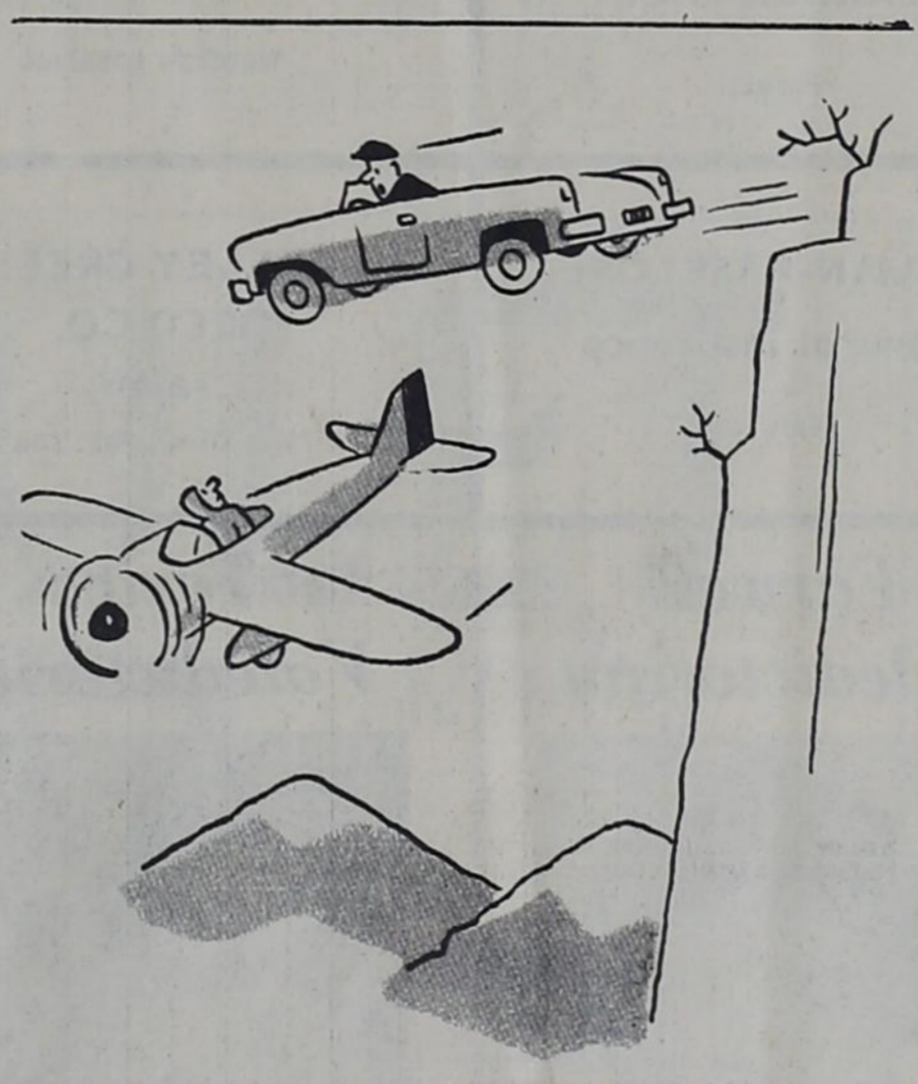

"But, of course, people don't get sick on the average," someone commented.

Certain conditions such as isolation cases, and inability to combine members of the same sex in semi-private rooms and wards often cuts down on the maximum facilities. Young children are almost the same as isolation cases, it was pointed out, so that when a baby is hospitalized in a semi-private room, another bed is lost.

The proposed 10 new private rooms would be approximately 12 by 14 feet with baths. Railings will be installed which would enable the rooms to be easily converted into semi-private rooms, thus giving the addition a maximum capacity of 20 additional beds in emergencies.

"We've been extremely fortunate that no bus or train tragedy has happened near Friona in recent years. We simply would not be able to cope with such an emergency at present," Barnett remarked.

Those present for Saturday's

America -As Seen Through Eyes Of A New Resident

By Chris Moss

"How large is this United States?" might well be a question asked by Mrs. Owen Huffaker, a new resident of the Twin Cities as she first viewed the expanse of the country while traveling with her husband, from her native land of Japan through the western section of the United States to finally arrive in Farwell last week.

She is quite impressed with the size of the country, and in making comparisons with her native land says one cannot imagine the size of a place like America, after living in the islands since birth. She reveals that at one time she thought California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas were cities, and was surprised to learn that each of the states was larger than the whole of her home Island of YaYama.

Her father, Cho Shu Han-ishiro, is manager of the agricultural department on the Island of YaYama and it is his duty to take all dignitaries who visit the Island on a tour of the farms. She has three brothers and two sisters. One brother is a student in the University in Tokyo and another of the brothers is employed in Naha, Okinawa. It was while visiting this brother that she met her husband, who was stationed there as a member of the Armed Forces.

Mrs. Huffaker notes many differences in the customs of her native land and those in America. She thinks American people are friendlier than the people of her native Japan.

One of the first questions asked of Americans visiting the Islands is "Why should we try to get along with you, when you cannot get along with each other?" says Mrs. Huffaker, explaining that her people have been led to believe that the different nationalities living in the Americas are constantly feuding. She feels that a better understanding is needed between the two countries.

Another difference she notes is the fact that many American women work outside the home, and says that in her native land no married woman works outside the home except in cases of dire necessity. It is the duty of the wife and mother to attend to all the needs of her family, and the husband in turn takes care of the financial burden.

In most Japanese homes no beds are in evidence and family members sleep on the floor and cover with mats. She says the people are not bothered with arthritis as much as the Americans who are used to, soft beds, chairs and other modern conveniences. All people are seated on the floor on mats and pillows and they also eat sitting on the floor; although most homes have oil stoves for cooking purposes.

Children are allowed to pretty much do as they wish until they reach school age, when they settle down and apply themselves to their studies. For the next twelve years they attend public school, after which the more fortunate ones are allowed to attend college. On her home island two scholarships are granted each year to persons making the highest grades on tests given by the government. Persons who do not attend college are expected to go to work following high school.

Boys marry much later in life than the American boys, says Mrs. Huffaker, adding that her oldest brother is now 25 years of age and would not think of marriage at that early age.

She was treated to a dust storm on the second day after her arrival in Farwell and relates that she did not enjoy the experience. She says the islands are hot and humid in the summer and extremely cold in the winter; although the temperature does not often drop below 42 degrees. The wind blows constantly and since the islands are surrounded by water she thinks this accounts for the extreme cold.

She likes the country here quite well, she says, but adds that after she has obtained her citizenship she would like to return to her native land for a visit. Present plans call for the couple to remain in the Twin Cities for the summer and possibly enter college in the fall.

Caught in a moment of relaxation is this charming new resident of the Twin Cities, Mrs. Owen Huffaker, who arrived only last week to make her home in the states.

Farwell Athletes Participate In Clovis C Of C Meet

Several athletes from the Farwell School were in Clovis last weekend to participate in the track meet sponsored annually by the Clovis Chamber of Commerce for area athletes. They were accompanied to the meet by Coach Dempsey Alexander.

Boys in the meet are divided into four groups, pee wee, ages 10-11; junior, ages 12-13; prep, ages 14-15 and senior, ages 16-17.

No pee wee's were entered in the meet from Farwell; however in the other divisions Farwell did well and came home with several wins. Boys winning in the Saturday meet will be in Albuquerque in June to participate in the state meet, which will be held in conjunction with the NCAA meet.

In the senior division Roy Donaldson won the 100 yard dash - 220 dash, 440 dash and the broad jump. Leon Lovelace was first place winner in the shot put and discus.

In the junior division, Charles Norton was second place winner in the 120 yard low hurdles. Joe Costillo won second place in the 50 yard dash in the prep division.

Boys participating in the meet in the senior division were Jerry Field, Ronnie Ussery, Roy Donaldson, and Leon Lovelace.

In the prep division were Larry Donaldson, Ricky Fletcher, Lewey Bradshaw, Gary Sullivan, Bobby Fields, Johnny Schell and Jerry Ford.

Juniors participating were Dale Camp, Brad Billingsley, Warlick Dollar, Tim Crume, Bob Chadwick, Bruce McCuan, Charles Norton and Bruce Dollar.

Some 200 boys participated in the meet, which was held at the same time as the state high school track and field meet.

Farm Facts

Aircraft have been used to aid agriculture for nearly 40 years, but growth of the business was slow until the end of World War II. Now an average of more than 50 million acres annually receives aerial treatment.

With planes large areas can be covered in a short time, application can be carried out when the ground is wet, and the growing crop is not liable to damage from the transit of the aircraft as from ground-application vehicles.

Almost 1.6 billion pounds of dry and liquid materials were dispensed from aircraft in 1960. Insecticides, both dry and liquid, accounted for over 45% of the total weight and fertilizers represented over 20%.

Planes permit speedy application of insecticides during critical periods and are employed against pests which infest crops, orchards, rangelands, oils, and forests and against insects like mosquitoes and flies.

Fungicides to destroy plant diseases such as wheat stem rust and herbicides to kill weeds and brush also are applied from the air. Planes are playing a more and more important role also in the fertilization, defoliation, and seeding of crops.

Planes apply chemicals to more than 50 million acres a year.

DO YOU HAVE CHINCH BUGS IN YOUR LAWN?

Here's a good way to find out! Take a large metal can, such as a coffee can, and cut away both ends to produce a metal tube. Insert the tube several inches into the ground in a suspected area. If the ground is hard, you may find that stepping on the edges helps.

Pour water into the portion of the tube remaining above ground. Within five minutes chinch bugs should float to the top if they're present.

Why is it important to know? Chinch bugs can wipe out a lawn in a few days if unchecked. Last year that's just what happened to thousands of homeowners in the Gulf and Atlantic states - from Texas to Massachusetts.

Identification of chinch bugs is not difficult once you find one to examine. Adults are brown to black in color, about one-quarter inch long, and have whitish wings which are folded over. They hover at ground level where they suck juices from stems. Discolored patches of turf are a sign that they're present. Grass first turns yellow, then brown.

Formulations containing ethion, a basic pesticide chemical, have proven highly effective in curbing chinch bugs. Marketed under many different brand names, ethion-containing compounds are available both in spray and granular forms.

Begin applications promptly once you know chinch bugs are present - they spread rapidly. Even if you don't spot any in your own yard, but you know they're in the neighborhood, it's wise to take action.

Committee Formed To Guide Efforts For Special Dam

"You people can have a multiple purpose structure (dam) in Farmer County if you want it badly enough; but you'll have to organize quickly and begin to work out the details."

This was the essence of a discussion Monday by F. F. (Flip) Calhoun, Plainview, chairman of the steering committee of the Running Water Draw Watershed Project, speaking before a group of county residents at Hub.

"Any plans for multiple purpose structures must be organized by the local people, and these people must give proof of organized responsibility before such a plan can be incorporated into the project," Calhoun pointed out.

$45,000 toward the estimated $70,000 which the planning of the project will cost for a special planning party. He said that if the area can raise the $70,000, and thereby pay for its own planning, the project might be speeded up from five to seven years.

The State Soil Conservation Service planning parties are able to plan only one or two projects per year, and there are some 30 projects which are as far along as the Running Water Draw project. The Farmer County group voted to present a request to county commissioners to allocate Farmer County's fair share of money toward the planning fund to speed up the project.

"We feel that the progress of our project has moved swiftly as compared to others that we are familiar with," Calhoun said. He traced the history of the project, beginning in October of 1961.

"This is your best opportunity to build a multiple-purpose structure in Farmer County at a relatively small cost," he said. It was pointed out that around $3 million has been earmarked as the government's participation in the project.

"It is about time we take advantage of the government's generosity and use some of our money here at home rather than sending it somewhere else," someone remarked.

John Gammon, representative of the Lazbuddie Community, said he thought the county would be missing a good bet if they passed up this opportunity to salvage floodwater for storage in the county. "I think we should try to save every drop that ever comes down the draw," Gammon said. He also pointed out the recharge value of such a structure.

A. L. Black, chairman of the board of directors for the Farmer County Soil Conservation District, backed up Gammon's comments on the water conservation aspects of such a structure or structures.

"With our water table dropping in Farmer County like it has for the past few years, we need to consider saving all the water we can," Black said.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

The wheat referendum meeting sponsored by Farm Bureau was pretty well attended at the Lazbuddie School Auditorium Friday night. There were 60 or more people there to hear Bill Wedemeyer discuss the proposal. Several questions were asked and answered, and some of them, of course, could not be answered, either by Wedemeyer or anyone else, because the answers would be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture in "his best judgement" when the particular subject arose.

We had noticed a few days ago that Wes Izzard, in looking around the offices of the Committee for the U.N., in New York, had seen the names of sponsoring organizations, among which was the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Mr. Izzard was very fair in his revelation, in that he "wondered if all the organizations listed were aware of their listing". We wrote Charles Shuman, AFBF president, inquiring about this. His answer was that the U.N. Committee was notified in January, 1963 that the AFBF could not be listed as a supporter of the committee, as a result of AFBF board action on the subject.

We were glad for this answer, because this committee is using tax money to paint a desirable picture of the U. N. by propaganda, rather than letting the citizens determine their opinions solely on the actions of the U. N. Texas Farm Bureau, by resolution, removed the phrase in its creed that had formerly commended the U.N. for its work.

In speaking of the proposed certificate plan for wheat, Wedemeyer made the statement that when a person steals something, he is constitutionally considered innocent until proven guilty. To the contrary, under the proposed wheat certificate plan, any violator is considered guilty until he can prove himself innocent. This, according to recent cases, even under the old program, is practically impossible to do, said Wedemeyer.

Eligibility Discussed As To Wheat Vote

Producers who have an interest in a 1964 farm wheat allotment are eligible to vote in the 1964 wheat marketing quota referendum. General voting eligibility reminders are as follows:

A person can cast only one ballot in the referendum regardless of the number of wheat farms in which he is interested.

Individual members of a partnership shall each have one vote but the partnership as such shall not have a vote.

A person may vote as the representative of an organization such as a corporation (such an organization is entitled to only one vote).

A person may vote as the administrator or executor of an estate or as a trustee or guardian but the persons whom he represents are not eligible.

Producers who have an interest in a 1964 wheat allotment include:

Landlords who receive all or a share of the wheat crop or proceeds thereof. Landlords who rent their land to tenants for cash are not eligible to vote.

In Texas which has community property statutes, owners of community property (both husband and wife) are eligible to vote if the allotment is on community property.

Tenants or sharecroppers having an interest in the farm wheat allotment because of sharing in the wheat crop or proceeds thereof are eligible to vote. Producers who lease land as joint tenants (both names on the lease) are each eligible to vote.

Examples: Husband and wife both sign written lease to operate farm -- both are eligible to vote. Only the husband signs the written lease to operate the farm -- only the husband will be eligible to vote. Husband and wife leased the farm on a verbal lease with the owner and the county committee determines that both are responsible for carrying out the tenant obligations under the lease -- both are eligible to vote.

The important thing to remember is that the wife of an owner of a farm where the allotment is on community property is automatically eligible to vote whereas the eligibility of a wife of a tenant or sharecropper depends on the terms of the lease agreement.

Producers who have an interest in a 1964 wheat allotment include:

Landlords who receive all or a share of the wheat crop or proceeds thereof. Landlords who rent their land to tenants for cash are not eligible to vote.

In Texas which has community property statutes, owners of community property (both husband and wife) are eligible to vote if the allotment is on community property.

Tenants or sharecroppers having an interest in the farm wheat allotment because of sharing in the wheat crop or proceeds thereof are eligible to vote. Producers who lease land as joint tenants (both names on the lease) are each eligible to vote.

Examples: Husband and wife both sign written lease to operate farm -- both are eligible to vote. Only the husband signs the written lease to operate the farm -- only the husband will be eligible to vote. Husband and wife leased the farm on a verbal lease with the owner and the county committee determines that both are responsible for carrying out the tenant obligations under the lease -- both are eligible to vote.

The important thing to remember is that the wife of an owner of a farm where the allotment is on community property is automatically eligible to vote whereas the eligibility of a wife of a tenant or sharecropper depends on the terms of the lease agreement.

Look before you leap --- Think before you VOTE!

THIS IS ONE OF THE REAL ISSUES IN THE COMING WHEAT REFERENDUM

He who loves anything more than Liberty and Freedom will lose it and his Liberty and Freedom too.

THE Real CHOICES ARE ---

YES -- means: Supply Management

NO -- means: More Freedom And Opportunity

1. A reduced market divided among "family farms" by government.
2. "Fair" prices and income as determined by USDA.
3. A franchise to grow wheat even for food and/or feed.
4. Cross compliance with all crops on a farm and cross compliance on other farms as determined by the Secretary.
5. Heavy penalties for violators, including 10-year jail sentence, for all citizens who produce, sell, buy, manufacture wheat or its products.
6. Idle land required and managed by government.
7. The management of all agricultural commodities.
8. People control.
1. Prices as determined by demand.
2. The right to grow wheat.
3. A revised government farm program.
4. The right to be a large or small producer.
5. Increased markets for wheat at home and abroad.
6. The removal of incentives to be dishonest.
7. The removal of government imposed penalties.
8. The right to manage your land.
9. Freeing feed grains and livestock from one of the threats of control.
10. Continued opportunity for young or beginner farmers to enter farming.

This referendum is not just another vote on another one-year wheat program. Wheat has been chosen as the "guinea pig"--testing whether or not the American farmer will submit himself to a totally planned economy where his individual farming operation and personal income are determined by those who govern him. If supply management is to work as it was conceived, all commodities necessarily will have to be involved.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

Why can't I find cheap play shoes that fit as well as good shoes?

There are at least six good answers for this question but let me first ask a question--why cheap shoes for play? Many men and women who work in industries have long since given up the practice of buying cheap work shoes. Good work shoes mean more to a person whose work requires standing than a comfortable car means to a traveling man.

We parents hate to see a good pair of shoes made to look old in a few days of hard play but the abuse taken by the shoes should indicate to us that good shoes are much more important for hard play than they are for sitting in school or in front of a television.

Farm Facts

The greatest single use of fresh water in the United States is for irrigation—75 billion to 100 billion gallons a day, or about half of the fresh water we use annually.
 Next largest consumer is industry and steam power plants. According to Karl O. Kohler, Jr., writing in the 1955 Yearbook of Agriculture, they require about 70 billion gallons of fresh water daily. It takes 18 gallons of water, for example, to refine a barrel of oil and about 300 to make a barrel of beer.
 Kohler notes that application of irrigation water is relatively inefficient. Annual delivery to a farm may range from less than an acre-foot (325,850 gallons) up to more than 7 acre-feet (2,280,950 gallons) to an acre.

 A cutting of alfalfa requires about 325,800 gallons of water an acre, and a crop of cotton, 800,000 gallons.
 In 1959 more than 33 million acres were irrigated as compared with about 20.5 million acres in 1944. Most of the irrigated land is located in the 17 Western states: Louisiana, and Hawaii.

4-H Club Reaches Milestone On Tractor Safety Program

During 1963, the one millionth 4-H Club member will be trained in the fine points of tractor care and operation.
 For nearly two decades the 4-H tractor program has emphasized the value of preventive maintenance and safe operation of farm tractors and machinery. Working with one to a dozen or more tractors on the home farm, each youth has contributed to the efficient use of farm power.
 More than 3,000 Oklahoma 4-H members and 1,300 Texas members this year are completing one of the four units of the tractor program. Usually one year is devoted to each unit. After that the 4-H'er continues in the educational program to increase his skill and knowledge.

 While volunteer adult leaders are the backbone of this extension-supervised learn-by-doing 4-H endeavor, hundreds of the older club members are trained to become junior leaders of their local clubs. They help teen-agers solve mechanical problems and improve their driving know-how.
 To aid adults and members, special tractor books, bulletins, guide sheets and the like have been produced by authorities in the field. These are made available through an arrangement with the 4-H tractor program sponsor, Humble Oil & Refining Company, the Cooperative Extension Service and the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.
 Tractor club members say that 4-H training has enabled them to save hundreds of dollars annually in fuel bills and repairs. The greatest benefit, they claim, is that the tractor is "always ready to go."
 Besides learning to drive the tractor safely in the fields, the country youths learn to drive it with skill and ease. The annual 4-H tractor operators driving contest gives them a chance to show how good they are. On a carefully plotted course spotted with obstacles, the young drivers display a remarkable control of nerves and dexterity in manipulating the big machines.

 Humble Oil has sponsored the program for seven years. Awards include a $500 national 4-H scholarship; all-expense paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress held each fall at Chicago; up to four gold-filled medals in each county.
 Last year the Sooner State produced a national scholarship winner. He is Chuck Robinette, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinette, who operate a large farm near Douglas, Garfield county.
 The Texas state award winner for 1962 was Jimmy Lowe Jr., 18, a student at Southwest Texas State College, whose home is Raymondville, in Willacy county.

County Art Winners Exhibited At Amarillo As Of This Week

Design drawings for plaques which won first place and honorable mention in a county competition, recently sponsored by the Federated Women's Clubs and the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce for the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, will be exhibited in the foyer of the Amarillo City Auditorium May 16-18 during the run of "My Fair Lady" and thereafter for graduation guests.

The winner from Parmer County whose work will be exhibited is Brad Billingsley from Farwell. Honorable mention drawings from the county contest, which also will be exhibited, belong to Jimmy Grimsley, Wake Coker and Mike Smith, all of Friona.

The winning designs will be carved in stone and mounted on the wall of the new outdoor theater in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Drawn by high school students, the designs represent the outstanding characteristic of each of the 41 Panhandle counties entered in the contest. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Latham, representing the Fine Arts Council of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, handled the complicated details necessary for the smooth functioning of the contest, which was initiated last January, and members of the Federated Women's Clubs in the respective counties made the school contacts and took responsibility for the judging.

The contest was part of the Panhandle-wide program of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation for preserving the heritage of the north plains, and for the completion of the Canyon amphitheater, where a musical drama built around the history of the whole area from Indian days, through the early settlement stage to the present era of prosperity will be produced. Numerous descendants of settler families are underwriting the cost of various units of the theater and the production as memorials to their pioneer forebears.

The drama, which will have some resemblance to the all-time-favorite musical "Oklahoma" but with deeper significance, is now being written by Paul Green. His "Lost Colony" at Roanoke County, N.C. and "The Common Glory" at Williamsburg, Va., which is the dramatization of Thomas Jefferson's struggle for democracy, are only two of the nine outdoor dramas which this Pulitzer-Prize-Winning author now has running in the United States. He has several others in the planning stage. Some of his productions have been running since 1944, bringing unheard-of prosperity to the areas sponsoring them. The musical score for the Palo Duro Canyon production is being written by Isaac Van Grove, Hollywood composer-director, who had collaborated with Green on other productions. Recognized professional actors and singers will perform in the production.

Mrs. Ples Harper is president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and seventy-five prominent Amarillo, Canyon and Panhandle area men and women serve on the board of directors. The Heritage office is at 416 16th Street, Canyon, Texas - Box 268.

Recharge Tests Improved At High Plains Station

Improvement in facilities for silt and solids control in the recharge of surface water to the underground Oggalla water bearing sand has been made at the High Plains Research Foundation, according to James Vallaint, Associate Water Engineer at the Foundation.

A concrete pit sixteen by twenty-four feet and five feet deep was constructed in the plays lake replacing the dirt pit previously used to hold the various systems to remove solids from the water flowing by gravity through the recharge well to the underground water bearing sand. Several filtering devices are under study to find the most efficient method of control.

The concrete pit will speed up the study of each of these filters. The pit will allow filters to be changed when the lake contains water because of solid walls and flooring. Each filtering device can be tested in sequence with the new concrete pit. This will decrease the study time for each.

A recording water level indicator to be used in pumping tests was installed at the recharge well. This will be used in pumping tests carried on in cooperation with Frank Rayner of the Texas Water Commission.

Dr. Earl Collister, Director of the Foundation, stated that this new research installation would not have been possible without the assistance from a number of business firms. Firms that gave material and cooperated were Arrow Concrete Co., Pioneer Natural Gas Co., Plains Machinery, Swayze Brothers, Peterson Construction and Gifford-Hill Western.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500 XL SPORTS HARDTOP

IF YOU KNEW WHAT TINY LUND KNOWS ABOUT FORD DURABILITY...YOU'D BE OUT ENJOYING A '63 FORD

Ask Tiny Lund about Ford durability: He'll tell you how it helped him win America's toughest stock-car competition, the Daytona 500. Lund placed first in a Ford, with four other Fords right behind him for an unprecedented sweep of the first five places. Only the Fords were tough enough to stand the pace.

Greater durability is the reason Ford is able to offer a total-car warranty. Only a true total-performance car could offer as complete a warranty as this—with no strings attached:

Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles*, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items.

You can't put a long-term warranty like ours on a short-term car. The '63 Fords have a better warranty because they're built better than any Fords in history. You see evidence of this extra toughness in Ford's outstanding competitive wins this year.

'63 Fords won the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, and the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only cars with total performance could roll up so many big wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

SCD Schedules Special Election

Farmers in the Lazbuddie area will vote May 21 to choose a new supervisor from subdivision 5 for the Farmer County Soil Conservation District board. The election will be concurrent with the wheat referendum, and will be conducted at the same voting places.

Three names are on the ballot -- John Littlefield, Wesley Barnes and Alton Morris. There is also space for write-ins. The election was made necessary due to the resignation of T. O. Lesley, who is moving from the county.

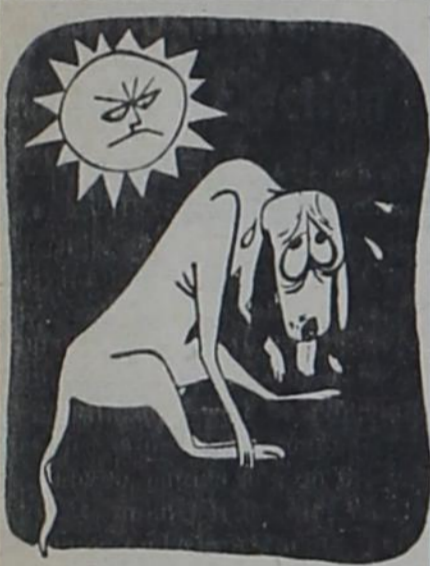

The election will choose someone to fill out Lesley's unexpired term, which has a year to run.

Voting places for the supervisor election will be Sherley-Anderson Elevator and Clay's Corner Gin at Lazbuddie.

Cotton and cottonseed produced in the United States in the 1961-62 season were valued at almost $2.7 billion.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

A great deal of the cotton is up, and what isn't should be up soon. Generally speaking, cotton at this stage is very susceptible to thrip damage.

Heavy infestations of thrips on young cotton may delay plant maturity for a few days to a few weeks. Thrips normally cause heaviest damage from the time of plant emergence until early squaring. Serious damage may continue for longer periods. The first sign of thrip damage on newly emerged cotton is wilted, wrinkled, blackened leaves and terminal growth. The number of thrips and time of occurrence vary from season to season.

Research in these areas shows that substantial savings can be realized by basing early season control on infestation counts. The early season control program in most years will be conducted primarily to control thrips and fleahoppers.

Regular and thorough insect checks by the growers are necessary to obtain good insect control. If the cotton producer knows the insect situation in his field, he can determine when he needs to apply insecticides. Every grower should know how to make insect population numbers and how to recognize the damage by different cotton insects.

The grower who follows an early season control program based on infestation numbers uses insecticides only when needed.

Below is a chart, published by the Agricultural Extension Service, that gives recommendations for early season control program.

Insects	Insecticides	Pound per acre of actual insecticide to be applied as spray	Remarks
Cutworms and certain armyworms	A. Toxaphene-DDT (2-1 mixture)	2.0-3.0	Examine seedling cotton for presence of these pests. Apply treatment as needed.
	B. Endrin	0.3-0.4
Darkling beetles	A. Heptachlor	0.5	Brown to black beetles which feed around base of seedlings. Damage resembles cutworm attack. Begin control when damage warrants it.
	B. Dieldrin	0.375
Thrips and fleahoppers	A. Dieldrin - DDT (2-1 mixture)	0.2-0.25*0.5	Thrips -- Begin control measures as soon as damage is apparent on seedling plants. Damage is characterized by wilted, deformed and blackened leaves. Silvering of the lower leaf surface also is common. Apply spray at 7 day intervals. If difficulty is encountered in controlling thrips substitute methyl parathion at 0.25 lb. per acre for DDT. Fleahoppers -- After cotton is old enough to produce squares, examine the main stem terminal buds (about 3-4 ins. of top of plant) of 100 cotton plants at several representative points in the field. As cotton reaches the fruiting stage, apply control measures when 15-20 fleahoppers are found per 100 terminals. As plants increase in size and fruit load, larger populations may be tolerated without serious damage. Later treatments should be based both on numbers of fleahoppers and on damage as indicated by excessive loss of small squares. Apply sprays at 7-day intervals.
	B. Guthion	0.125-0.25
	C. Strobane-DDT (2-1 mixture)	1.25-2.25
	D. Sevin	0.5-1.0
	E. Toxaphene-DDT (2-1 mixture)	1.25-2.25
	F. Heptachlor - DDT	0.25-0.375*0.5
Cotton Aphids	G. Endrin - DDT	0.2-0.3*0.5	In early season, apply insecticides as needed. In late season, begin treatment when honeydew appears. Demeton, parathion, Malathion or Methyl Parathion may be combined with other sprays.
	A. Malathion	0.625-0.9
	B. Methyl parathion	0.25-0.375
	C. Parathion	0.25-0.375
	D. Demeton	0.125-0.25

I would like to caution you that all insecticides are poisonous. Follow carefully all precautions on the label. Take special precautions in handling parathion, endrin, methyl parathion, demeton, D1-syston, Gutton, and phorate (Thimet) to avoid prolonged contact with the skin or breathing of the vapors or drift from either spray or dust.

Be mindful of insecticidal drift that may contaminate neighboring vegetables or forage crops at the time cotton is sprayed or dusted.

A great number of farmers have used systemic insecticides, and if anything abnormal should show up or if you don't get thrip protection for the first three or four weeks, I would appreciate hearing from you.

"Reduction Cotton" Cost Area Farmers $4 Million

"Reduction cottons" - cotton reduced in price and loan values because of micronaire readings below 3.0, gin damage, or excessive foreign matter - cost High Plains farmers approximately $4,000,000 in revenue during the 1962-63 crop year according to an estimate by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of Lubbock.

PCG made its calculations after receipt of the United States Department of Agriculture report which sets out the number of bales of such cotton by causes in the southwestern area. Some of the loss of course was unavoidable, but much of it could have been saved with proper cultural and harvesting practices, PCG officials say. The report itself states that "Many causes of reduction cottons are beyond the control of mortal man but these causes are far outnumbered by causes that man can control."

By far the most costly of the causes for reduction is cotton classed as "wasty", which is that with low micronaire readings, largely caused by immaturity of the cotton at harvest. Some 140,000 bales produced in the 23 county area covered by PCG fell in this classification, reducing the price on each bale by about $20.00. Early freezes and drought conditions which cause immature cotton cannot, of course, be controlled, but there is no doubt that early use of harvest aid chemicals is directly responsible for much of the 1962 low micronaire cotton. In this instance a goodly portion of the almost $3,000,000 loss could have been avoided by wiser use of defoliants and desiccants.

"Barky" cotton was the second most expensive to the farmer in 1962, and High Plains losses to this cause came to $450,000 and more. Here again farmer income could have been increased substantially by selecting varieties better suited to mechanical harvesting and by exercising care in the operation of strippers.

Grass in cotton also places it in the "reduction" class, and the remedy, of course, is obvious. Losses for this reason were only a little over $11,000 on the plains in 1962 indicating that most farmers do realize

Care Urged In Use Of Insecticides

Pesticides and insecticides are poisons. And what's poison to insects can be an irritant or worse to people, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

In the current issue of the magazine, the editors list the following basic rules for home gardeners:

-- If using a spray: Don't breathe the vapors. Don't smoke when spraying. After spraying and before eating or smoking wash hands and face thoroughly.

-- If using a liquid or powder: Wear gloves to keep the poisons off hands. Should poison accidentally spill on unprotected skin, wash immediately. Always wash hands and face after using.

-- Read the label carefully before opening the package. Failure to do so may result in misuse or injury to the person handling the poison.

-- Never store the contents in anything but the original container with the label intact. When the container is empty, get rid of it. Even a small residue of the poison might be disastrous if young children find it.

-- Don't store the container on the same shelves with household cleaners or food packages. Pesticides should be kept in a separate area, out of reach of children and pets and, as a double precaution, with a warning POISON sign prominently displayed in the area.

the importance of clean crops. Cotton reduced in price by classers as the result of "preparation" is that cotton which has been gin cut or suffered similar damage in the ginning process. This can be either the result of the condition in which the cotton was received at the gin or of faulty machinery. Only 4,496 bales of High Plains cotton fell in this category, and the loss would come to about $37,000,000.

Texas also ranks first in cotton production, ginning more than 4.8 million bales of the 14.3 million ginned.

Small Farmer Position In Wheat Vote Outlined

The president of the Texas Farm Bureau said this week that small wheat growers eligible to vote May 21 will not be subject to wheat quotas and penalties if the wheat certificate plan is voted down in the referendum.

C. H. DeVaney said that small wheat owners in many parts of the state are being misled into believing that if the plan fails to carry they will become subject to quotas and penalties, anyway.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," the farm leader asserted. "Those growers with less than 15 acres will be free to plant as much as they please, the same as larger growers, if the wheat control plan is defeated. Any wheat farmer, if he chooses, could stay within his allotment and be eligible for price support at 50 per cent of parity."

The Texas Farm Bureau president explained that when small growers elected in writing to become co-operators should the plan pass, they were only complying with regulations to make themselves eligible to vote.

"Obviously, if the wheat control plan is voted down and no new legislation enacted, they could not be made to comply with non-existent provisions," he said.
