Texans To Vote On Nine Amendments

Not only will voters find a list of candidates to cast a vote for on November 4, but the state of Texas is presenting several constitutional amendments for the constituents to consider.

Texas has proposed nine amendments to its state constitution and Senator Bob Price and Representative Bill Clayton have issued explanations for the pros and cons of each amendment proposed.

AMENDMENT 1: UNMANNED BANK TELLER MACHINES

Amendment number one is for Unmanned Bank Teller Machines, and would permit the legislature to authorize banks to use unmanned teller machines within the county or city in which they are located on a shared basis to serve public convenience.

The passage of this amendment would allow customers to transact bank business at convenient locations and at any hour. Also, banks would have the right to share in the use of the machines and therefore, would be able to serve a larger area than it currently serves.

The use of unmanned teller machines would allow banks to better compete with savings and loan associations, which currently may have more than one business location while banks are restricted to a single location.

Arguments against the proposed amendment cite that the cost of installing a network of unmanned teller machines would probably be passed on to the consumer and that the amendment circumvents the long stand prohibition on branch banking in Texas.

Also that the use of these unmanned machines would allow large banks to serve the entire community and force the smaller banks out of operation.

AMENDMENT 2: STATES RIGHT OF APPEAL

A constitutional amendment to grant the state the right of appeal in criminal cases from certain rulings of the trial court would allow the prosecution in criminal cases certain appeal rights now available only to the defense.

If passed, the state would have the right to make a temporary or provisional appeal from a trial judge's ruling on the constitutionality of a statute, a motion to dismiss or set aside an indictment, or a motion to suppress evidence.

Those for the amendment reason that granting the state this limited right of appeal provides the only effective way of testing the constitutionality of certain statutes and the legality of certain practices and believe that it will provide a criminal defendant with a method of ending a criminal action at an early stage if the appeal is worthy.

Proponents contest that this amendment will grant the state a right of appeal that will eliminate to some extent the tendency of some judges, who when in doubt, rule in favor of the defense to avoid appellate review of their rulings.

Those against this change argue that the duration of a criminal trial will be substantially lengthened when the state takes an appeal and that the caseload for the court of criminal appeals will be significantly increased.

AMENDMENT 3: EQUALIZATION BOARD FOR AD VALOREM TAX

This amendment will remove the authority of the Commissioners Courts to act as a board of equalization and would mandate a single appraisal of all property within a county and a single board of equalization. The legislature would be required to pass laws implementing the mandates.

Those for the amendment say that as the current Property Tax Code is written, there will be two appraisals in some counties, one by the county and one by the appraisal district. They believe it is unnecessary duplication and that also many counties have voluntarily joined an appraisal district already.

Some argue that the new system may result in higher taxes in some areas and that the mandatory constitutional provision is an interference with local governments.

AMENDMENT 4: LOCAL CHARITABLE BINGO GAMES

If passed, this amendment would allow the legislature to authorize and regulate bingo games conducted by a church, synagogue, religious society, volunteer fire department, non-profit veterans' organization, (Continued on Page 11)

Juveniles Apprehended On Probation Violation

A routine automobile check by Texas State Highway Patrolman Jim Bishop turned up a stolen vehicle from El Paso, two juveniles on probation in El Paso and a 17-year old female driving without a driver's license, according to Farmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace.

According to the sheriff, when Bishop phoned in a license-tag check, a computer check revealed the tags as phony and not belonging to the car on which they were displayed.

Further investigation exposed the auto as stolen from El Paso. The 17-year old female driver has been sent back to El Paso to face charges of driving a stolen auto, and driving without a valid driver's license.

The two 15-year old juvenile boys were released to the Texas Youth Council in Amarillo. The two boys were currently under probation in El Paso when the incident occurred, Lovelace said.

Lovelace also reported a series of thefts in Farmer County this past week.

The City of Farwell reported a Citizen's Band radio taken off a city tractor. The theft was discovered early in the week, but it is not known when it was to have occurred.

Rene Terrazas at Wilsey Switch reported that his home had been burglarized and said that four chairs, three plates, and one sheet had been taken. Terrazas placed a value on the items at $50.

Roland Lusk, manager of Gateway Produce, at Bovina, reported two electric pumps stolen from his business. The pumps had been stored in an open building and Lusk placed a value on them at $1200.

Sheriff's deputies Bill Morgan and Bob Davis investigated a burglary at the home of L.H. Lookingbill, Jr., seven miles northeast of Friona. Reportedly, while the Lookingbills were attending a ball game in Dimmitt (thieves entered their home and stole $3,000 worth of items.

The Lookingbills reported household goods, including vacuum cleaners, clothes, jewelry, stereo equipment, two guns, bedding, and radios as stolen.

A bag of items not taken by the burglars was found with an electric clock stopped at 10 p.m. CDT. The Lookingbill family returned at 11 p.m. and discovered the burglary.

In other action this week, the sheriff's department arrested R.M. Walker in Friona on a Littlefield warrant. Walker was charged with violation of probation and was returned by Farmer County deputy Bob Davis to Lamb County Monday.

Postal Service Lists Mailing Dates

Guess what, folks...it's that time of year again. Time to begin thinking about Christmas gifts, especially if those gifts have to be mailed.

Farwell Postmaster Otis McMillan has released the following Christmas Mailing dates, noting that special attention should be given from those needing to mail packages overseas.

October 27 is the deadline for surface mail to Australia, the Far East and Southeast Asia.

Surface mail to the midwest should be mailed by November

3. All other countries have until the middle of November and early December for packages to reach them by Christmas.

For a complete list of dates contact McMillan at the Farwell post office.

Will The Sun Lose An Hour

Because Central Daylight and Mountain Daylight time become Central Standard and Mountain Standard time Sunday morning, Twin City residents will have to remember to turn back the clock one whole hour before turning in Saturday night. What Jenoyce Ford of Farwell wants to know is, how does one go about resetting a sundial? Does the sun know enough to come up an hour earlier? Or is it later? Anyway, for those with the simpler task of only resetting a watch or clock, remember "spring forward, fall back." Hint: this is fall.

Texico Women Organize Fire Fighter Auxiliary

"We are here to conduct projects that will aid and assist the volunteer department," stated Mrs. Frances Kube about the newly-formed community service organization, the Fireman's Auxiliary Service Team (FAST).

The Texico group consists of wives and mothers of Texico volunteer fire fighters and has planned many service projects for their community.

The first project set by FAST is to take on the task of numbering all residences in Texico. "Many homes do not even have numbers," Mrs. Kube stated, "And some that do are incorrect. What we plan to do is paint reflective numbers on curbs, and where there are no curbs we will put numbers on the house itself."

Mrs. Kube said that their project is a community service and will cost home dwellers "not one dime."

"And when it is completed, this job will aid emergency vehicles in locating a particular address, especially at night," she commented.

FAST has set a beginning target date for the number project for the coming week and estimates that there are over 500 homes they will have to number correctly.

At the service organization's first meeting those present elected charter officers. Teddy Spears was elected as captain; Kim Chancy as co-captain; and Jerri Tharp as clerk. Those present at the organizational meeting were Kim Chancy, Glenda Thigpen, Marie Christian, Jerri Tharp, Ann Cooper, Teddy Spears and Frances Kube.

Mrs. Kube said that the group will meet the third Thursday of each month at 6:30 p.m. MST at Luce's Restaurant and that all wives and mothers of volunteer fire fighters are invited to attend and join.

To Make Study - -

Principal Says Traffic Hazardous Near School

School area traffic is considered a problem by David Gobble, Farwell Elementary principal, and he has requested a traffic study to be conducted by the Traffic Safety Division of Texas Tech University.

Until the study is done, Gobble has offered other possible solutions to the traffic issue. "Some parents have suggested that we organize a school safety patrol to assist the students in crossing," the principal said. "This is being explored, but one question is where would the back-up law enforcement come from?"

Gobble stated that the school will begin to teach safety practices to the student body, including "Crossing the street only at crosswalks."

Parents can also help in the effort, Gobble says. "When parents are picking up children, we ask them to pull over to the curb instead of double parking in the street," he said. "But we realize that parking space is a problem."

Nevertheless, Gobble cites one observable example: "One car stops in the street waiting for a student, and five other cars park behind it, then comes an impatient motorist who eases around the string of traffic toward the corner. If any on-coming traffic turns the corner at this instant, you can imagine the consequences."

In summary Gobble stated that uppermost in his mind is anything that will serve as a preventive measure "because the safety of the children is paramount."

For information on this, or any school matters, Gobble says to "feel free to call" at 481-9131.

School Is Out

When Farwell schools let out, the streets are filled with cars and children. It is Elementary Principal David Gobble's intention to teach children such safety measures as crossing only in the cross walks, and asking parents not to double park while waiting for students. Currently, Gobble has the Traffic Safety Division of Texas Tech University conducting a traffic study in and around the school area for possible safety hazards.

Cemetery Group Slates Dinner

Texico Cemetery Association members are planning their annual "Election Day Dinner" at the Texico community building on election day Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Serving of the meal, which will include turkey, ham and all the trimmings, will begin at 11:30 a.m. Texas time.

Everyone is reminded to put this date on their calendar, get out and vote and then have your noonday meal with the Cemetery Association.

It's Cotton Pickin' Time

At press time this week approximately 75 bales of cotton had been ginned at the Farwell Gin Co. plant, and manager J.J. McDonald inspects another early morning load from Fred Carthel. Farwell Gin's first bale came Friday, Oct. 17, from Bert Williams and although McDonald reports to have "only just begun," he says that acre wise the crop is "better than last year's." Lariat and Oklahoma Lane Gins spokesmen say they have not started their ginning yet and are still waiting for the first heavy frost.

by John

Today, Friday, is the 356th day of illegal incarceration of our citizens by the rag tag government of Iran. A full year will have been marked two days before our national election.

It boggles our mind to think that an administration that has allowed citizens of this country to be kidnapped and held for some form of ransom has the nerve to ask for a return to office, but such is the unpleasant situation.

What a disastrous national position we now find ourselves to be in! Any move on our part that in the least bit affects the present Iraqi-Iran war will be a loss for the United States. This Hobson's choice that we may be forced to answer is a direct result of this administration's vacillation and political ineptitude.

At this time there is no good answer to the mid-east situation, but this is not just a happenstance, it is an outgrowth of this country's dumping the Shah of Iran in favor of the Mad Mullah last year.

Sometimes it takes awhile, but "chickens do come home to roost." Given the short attention span of the American public we doubt if the majority of the people will connect this cause and effect when they go to the polls two days after the first anniversary of this national disgrace.

A theme that we have discussed in the past is cropping up in our minds today. We have witnessed Farwell play the last three football games away from home. In these three games Farwell has been penalized at least three times as much as their opponents. A suspicious circumstance to us.

Two of these three opponents have been particularly inept this year. Does it stand to reason that a superior ball club would execute the rules of the game, faultily, so many more times than the obviously less capable teams? To our mind this would be a very tenuous supposition, yet there is the record. Football is a game of 11 players. It is won or lost in the area of execution of team play. Team coordination is a big factor in getting 11 boys to outplay 11 other boys. A reasonable criteria would be for the winning team to be better at coordinating these 11 boys than a team that is not winning its games.

This, of course, leads to the conclusion that the better the team coordination, and coaching, the fewer errors in executing the rules it would make. With Farwell such is not the case in the last three games, or so say the officials. We find this very strange indeed. Almost as if a kindergarten student found an exception to the law of gravity.

We have said it before and will probably say it again. The University Interscholastic League MUST GUARANTEE all kids that play interscholastic sports an equal, fair and impartial assessment of the rules of the game.

ANYTHING LESS THAN THIS DESTROYS ANY BASIS FOR CONTINUING A COMPETITIVE SPORTS PROGRAM. Without the goals of sportsmanship and competition, these programs are reduced to physical fitness exercises. Physical fitness can be attained at far less cost to the tax-paying public than the maintenance of an interscholastic sports program.

The UIL is so picky about an athlete getting a free hamburger sandwich or extra sports jacket that it gags us, yet their program for insuring the competent enforcement of the rules of the game appears to have broken down almost to the point of absurdity. It is past time for the UIL to quit worrying about a free hamburger and worry if the program itself will break down under the weight of their officials' incompetency.

Funeral Rites Sunday For Mrs. Irene Tarter

Funeral services for Mrs. Irene Maud Tarter, 66, of Farwell were conducted Sunday, Oct. 19, at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in Farwell. Officiating were Rev. Duane Knowlton, church pastor, and David Lasater, minister of the Lazbuddie Church of Christ.

Interment was in Sunset Terrace Memorial Gardens cemetery at Farwell under the direction of Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe.

Mrs. Tarter died Friday, Oct. 17, at Clovis High Plains Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born in Toronto, Canada, October 8, 1914, Mrs. Tarter had been a resident of the Texico-Farwell area for the past 34 years, moving here from Evesham, England.

Her parents immigrated from England to Canada for job opportunities and Irene was born in Toronto. However, when she was about 11 years of age, her father became ill and the family decided to return to their homeland to be nearer other members of the family while their father was ill. And

If it doesn't, it should be discarded and the cost of maintaining the program taken off the public back.

it was at Evesham that she was reared.

During World War II when most of the male population was serving the armed forces, Mrs. Tarter served her country by working as a telephone repairman and even driving a telephone service truck.

She married Archie Tarter, a Parmer County Commissioner, on February 16, 1965. She was a member of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church where she sang in the choir for many years, enjoying one of her best loves, music.

Mrs. Tarter retired from Security State Bank of Farwell in February after being employed there as assistant cashier for 30 years.

Mrs. Tarter is survived by her husband, Archie; four children, Leslie Winsper of Houston, Jackie Dyer of Mustang, Okla., David Tarter of Hurst, Tex., and Joe Tarter of Lazbuddie; three sisters, Mrs. Betty Burkett, Cambridge, England; and Mrs. Margaret Cole and Mrs. Elsie Skelcher, both of Evesham, England; one brother, Charles Haines of Evesham; and seven grandchildren.

L. M. BOYD

Why is 7-Up called 7-Up?

Q. Who invented 7-Up?

A. Credit C. L. Grigg with that one. In 1929, at first, he called it Bib-Label Lithiated Lemon-Lime Soda. It then had the mineral element lithium in it. Later Grigg removed the lithium and in 1936 changed the name to 7-Up. Why he called it that he never said. But originally it came out in seven-ounce bottles, and "bottoms up" was a common expression in those days.

Q. Only one four-letter word in English, when printed in capital letters, reads the same upside down as right side up. What is it?

A. NOON.

Q. In spy talk, what's a "mole"?

A. A double agent.

COMPULSIVE BUYERS

Three out of five supermarket shoppers don't go into the place with a list. They just eyeball it all, aisle to aisle, and pick out this or that. You'd think they would be the big spenders, but the researchers say that's not true. It's the list carriers who are the compulsive buyers. That's why they take the lists. To protect themselves against themselves.

Wrote the great Goethe: "When we treat a man as he is, we make him worse than he is. When we treat him as if he already were what he potentially could be, we make him what he should be."

Men are waterier than women. More specifically, men's bodies are 65 to 75 percent water while women's are 55 to 65 percent water.

You and I may enumerate the Ten Commandments as one, two or three, so on, but no Bible of any faith gives them specific numbers.

LIFE EXPECTANCY

Note it claimed in print that if life expectancy were to continue to rise at its present rate, the average person 1,000 years from now will live to be 200 years old. Something wrong with that claim. The medicos sadly admit they've done little to prolong human life in the retirement years. What pushes up the overall statistics is the success of the doctors in saving the lives of younger persons and babies.

Maybe you didn't know that chickens, too, stampede. They do. One wild stampede can suffocate hundreds of them.

Girls, Boys Staters Speak At Farwell Study Club Meet

The GFWC Farwell Study Club met in regular session Monday, Oct. 20, with Farwell's Boys and Girls State representatives Clay Williams and Robin Vinton, as special guests.

Hostesses for the meeting were Ellen Wurster and Frances Kube.

Club president Julia Symcox presided on the business meeting at which time a report was given on the convention-workshop by Eunice Crume and other members who attended the recent event at Girlstown in Whiteface.

Attending the meeting besides the special guests were two new club members, Eva Kimbrough and Bernice Pennington. Other members attending were Carrie Christian, Julia Symcox, Eunice Crume, Ethelyn Forbes, Gertrude Foster, Ellen Wurster, Frances Kube and Alma Sledge.

In his talk about attending Boys State at Austin, Williams said that about 950 boys were present for the 10-day session. Robin reported that the Girls State session, which was held in Seguin, also lasted for 10 days and some 600 girls attended.

The two young people said that the sessions were learning experiences in the study of government and its functions from the city to the federal level.

Clay said that Boys State had 14 cities and he was a member of Burkhead. Each city was divided into county, district and state-wide governments.

He reported that they got up each morning at 5:30 and had county and city meetings; then in the evenings there were party meetings for state offices where the delegates would announce the winners of offices. He said that at an assembly of both parties they would see what progress had

Steer Band To Clovis Band Night

The Farwell High School marching band has been invited to participate in Clovis' Band Night Tuesday, October 28, according to Lynn Burton, Steer band director.

The evening will feature bands from the surrounding area and will begin at 7:30 p.m. MDT at Leon Williams Stadium. Burton invites the entire Farwell community to attend.

The director also said that his band members are still looking for odd jobs to do to raise money for their planned trip to Mexico. Call Burton at the Farwell band hall with any jobs or tasks needed to be done.

Final Rites Wednesday For Mrs. Zula Mobley

Funeral services were Wednesday, Oct. 22, for Mrs. Zula Mobley, 82, of Clovis, who died Monday at Clovis High Plains Hospital. She was the mother of Mrs. Evelyn Goldsmith of Farwell and the grandmother of Monte Spearman, also of Farwell.

Final rites were conducted at the Primitive Baptist Church in Clovis with Elders Kenneth Martin and Bernard Gowens officiating. Burial was in the Bovina Cemetery with Steed-Todd Funeral Home in charge.

A Curry County resident for 50 years, Mrs. Mobley had lived in the Oklahoma Lane community at one time. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Survivors include six daughters,

Macel Frazier, Erma Tunnell, Sue Rogers, Bea Spearman all of Clovis; Novie Hendrickson of Sacramento, Calif., and Evelyn Goldsmith of Farwell; two sons, J.B. Mobley of Clovis and Buddy Mobley of Jerrico, Mo.; one brother, C.H. Ball of Clovis; 25 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband C.J. Mobley in 1961 and by one son Orville Mobley in 1974.

Pallbearers were grandsons, Berry Goldsmith, Monte Spearman, Tony Tunnell, Ronnie Tunnell, Gerald Tunnell, Leon Tunnell, Danny Tunnell and Terry Rogers. Honorary bearers were grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

beaten by two votes but was later elected county commissioner.

Some unusual things happened, he said. Boys State has been going for about 52 years and the governor has always addressed the boys in the house chamber, but since Gov. Clements was going to Washington, he came out to the campus and spoke to the attendants. He was there about 1 1/2 hours. The TV crew came and the boys got to ask questions. This was a "first," Clay said.

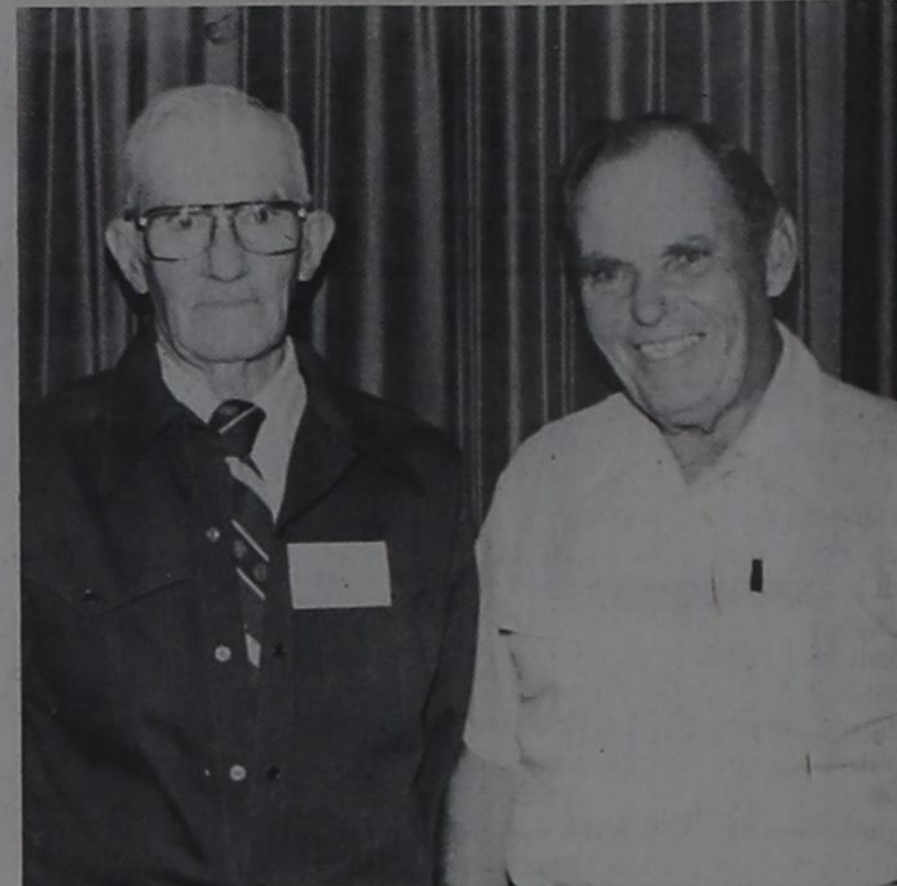

The boys marched everywhere they went. They marched to the capitol, about 16 blocks. There were about 200 lines that stretched about four blocks, and Clay said it seemed that everyone in Austin was there to watch.

At Girls State Robin said there were trials and hearings with a library for research and lectures that lasted four hours although it did not seem like a lecture because it was so interesting.

They were taught by the speakers of the house of representatives how to keep everything in order. One must identify oneself or they are out of order. They could write their own bills. She said there is friendly rivalry between cities with each wanting to do better than the other. She told us that her roommate was elected sheriff.

It is noteworthy that these young people used no notes to give their talks to the club, but spoke from their learning experience. They concluded that one grows so much and there is so much to learn and so much more to government than one realizes. Meeting people is easier now for them, they say. Both expressed their appreciation to the club for helping them to go to these sessions.

Mr. John Getz, Editor
State Line Tribune

Dear Editor:

With reference to your Purely Personal column of October 17, 1980, I was amazed to read your "simple requirements" regarding the publication of letters to the editor.

I do not think your rules regarding publications are too strict. I just question whether they apply to everyone. While I realize you or your staff reserve the right to be the judge on personal or libelous material, I wonder if your judgement is sometimes based on who writes the personal and/or libelous material, or who it is written about.

You state one of your functions is to provide a forum for people to get something off their chest. I can't help but think in some cases it is also used for vindictive purposes. I realize these rules may be a new policy for your newspaper, if so it should have been stated in your column.

Lazbuddie Junior Class Hosts Annual Carnival

The Lazbuddie Junior Class has announced plans for their annual Halloween Carnival, set for tomorrow, (Saturday) to be held at the school.

Coronation of the new carnival king and queen is scheduled for 8 p.m. CDT in the high school auditorium, according to Susan Glover, junior class secretary. Immediately following, carnival activities begin at the old school gym.

Candidates for this year's royal carnival couple are kindergarten, Becky Dotkin and Jeff Coker; first graders Corrie Keasy and Joe Luis Gonzalez; second graders, Marty Moulder, and Raymond Zamora; and third graders Adela Zilla and Eddie Samora.

Also representing the elementary school are fourth graders Amy McGehee and Amos Mail; and fifth graders Jackie Moulder and Tim Lust.

The junior high will be represented by sixth graders Cammy Ivy and Mickey Masters; seventh graders Shelly Masters and Brian Houston; and eighth graders Stacy Ivy and Shannon Weaver.

High school candidates are freshmen Esperanza Gallez and Junior Sanchez; sophomores Trestia Moore and Bart Elliot; juniors Cynthia Everett and Ariel Sanchez; and seniors Jeanette Collins and Mark Rand.

The Lazbuddie royal couple will reign over the carnival which will feature booths, games, dunking board, cake walk, jail house, basketball throw, and football throw, to name a few of the activities.

In other Lazbuddie news, the football team will host Motley Co. on home turf tonight (Friday) beginning at 7:30 p.m. CDT.

Second Place Winner

Lonnie McFarland, left, won second place in the football contest last week and accepts his check of $5 from Dickie Clayton of Horn-Clayton Insurance, one of the contest sponsors. McFarland had 11 correct guesses in the contest as did the first place winner, Earlene Porter of Clovis. However, Mrs. Porter's tie-breaking entry was only one point off, placing her in the top spot. McFarland missed the tiebreaker by two. E.A. Walker also called 11 games correctly, but missed the tiebreaker by three.

Curtis Still Leads - -

Mrs. Porter Takes Top Weekly Prize

The women rallied and charged in to take first place in this week's football contest. With 11 perfect predictions and a one-point difference in her tie-breaker, Earlene Porter of Clovis is this week's champ.

Two other favorable forecasters with 11 right were Lonnie McFarland and E.A. Walker. McFarland's tiebreaking score was only off by two points, placing him in second place for the contest's seventh week. Walker missed the tie-breaker by three.

Following close behind with ten correct predictions this week were Linn Beal, Doug Cole and Virgie Shaw. The games most missed by all entrants were Houston-SMU; Cowboys-Eagles and Bovina-Kress.

The 22nd annual merchant's football contest now moves into its eighth week with Johnny Curtis in first place for the fourth week in a row. Leading by only a point with 66, Curtis is now one week closer to the first prize tickets to the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day, plus expense money.

However, right on his heels is second place holder Earlene Porter with her 65 points. And only one point behind her is her husband Champ in third place with 64 points.

Ridley Lonsdale and Albert

Smith are tied for fourth place with 62 points and in fifth place with 61 points are Hobby Coffman, Gay Goettsch, Mrs. E.A. Key, Kevin Owen and Leigh Ann Woods.

The contest has passed the halfway mark and with only five weeks to go the names of contest leaders becomes fewer and fewer.

But that should not discourage first time entrants. There is still a good chance at winning the weekly prize of $7.50 for first place guessing and $5 for second place.

The pros state that all it takes is a mixture of knowing the odds and choosing the favorite...or something like that. To date the annual contest has had 306 participants.

Safety Turns The Trick Into A Halloween Treat

Children all over will be celebrating one of their favorite holidays, Halloween, next Friday, Oct. 31. This being so, scores of miniature monsters and spooks will scamper through the Twin Cities, but for many of them, "trick or treat" might well turn into tragedy, according to Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety, Lubbock.

Bell suggests that a few precautions on the part of motorists and parents could prevent disasters this Halloween.

"If your children go trick or treating, parents should accompany them to insure safety," he said. "Costumes should be of white or light-colored material to be easily seen at night by motorists. You should also have your child carry a flashlight to serve as a warning to motorists and as an added safety measure on poorly lighted streets," the major suggested.

Costumes should also be fireproof with reflective colors or devises on them. Ensure that the costume provides good visibility for the child and that they do not present a tripping hazard.

"And children should be instructed to use sidewalks whenever possible, while motorists, doing their part, should be especially careful when driving the neighborhood streets as many of the youngsters will be crossing haphazardly going from house to house," Bell stated.

Major Bell also stressed that because Halloween falls on a Friday there will be added traffic due to most area high schools having football games. "If the parents and motorists will join together and think of the children's safety, we can turn this potentially dangerous evening into a safe and enjoyable one," he said.

Some cities and towns have had trouble, sometimes fatal trouble, with persons who like to put a little "trick" in their treats. Parents should thoroughly inspect all candies, baked goods, and fruits. Look for discoloration, pin holes, torn wrappers, etc.

Discard all suspect food stuff!

Make this an accident-free holiday for our youth!

IT'S A FACT!

The largest Catholic church in the United States and the seventh largest church in the world is the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C. Built for the whole Catholic community of the U.S., its architecture, sculpture, windows, inscriptions, mosaics, even its smallest ornaments, are primarily the fruit of American imagination, skill, contributions and devotion.

Construction of the shrine became something of a legend among construction workers because no lives were lost, and no serious accident occurred. Only the most skilled were hired, and no one was allowed to work when conditions became hazardous. It is estimated that work on the tower, where high winds posed special danger, was stopped for one hour of every four.

Roberts Hears Cases

The following cases were heard by Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts since the last report.

Emeterio Chavez, 52, Friona, charged with DWI and fined $150, plus court costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Joe Monterro, 27, Friona, charged with DWI, fined $150 plus court costs and given a six month deferment.

Mary Gonzalez, 27, Clovis, charged with theft by worthless check, fined one dollar plus court costs and made restitution.

FIRE CALLS

Farwell's new 911 telephone number was used for the first time this past week on an emergency call. The Farwell ambulance answered a call to 508 Seventh Street and transferred a man to Clovis High Plains Hospital.

There were no fire calls reported in Farwell.

Texico had one ambulance call and one fire call since the last report.

The ambulance was sent to Texico High School after a student fainted and was transferred to her home.

The fire fighters answered an alarm to the Texico Feed Lots, however, when they arrived, no fire was located.

Fund-raising projects for the organization were discussed Monday night when members of the GFWC Texico Women's Club met for a regular meeting in the community building.

The group decided to have a rummage sale on October 31 and November 1 and also voted to take orders for items from the Current Company. Details may be obtained by contacting any club member.

Also decided was that in the club's Community Improvement Project they would help the school by erecting signs, and would purchase basketballs for Texico's Play Inc. team.

It was reported that the club's scrapbook had won first in district and would be entered in the state competition.

Three new members, Vickie Lynn, Alena Schwarz and Clara Harris, were welcomed to the club.

THE ENERGY MISER

Doctors may not have found a cure for the common cold, but experts at the CertainTeed Home Institute have discovered remedies for the common cold home. These simple "home" remedies will keep you warm from head to toe. And, what's best, they're designed to cure another nagging ailment — headaches caused by sky-high heating bills!

One of the major reasons for heat loss is an under-insulated attic. Check yours. If you have less than six inches, you probably don't have enough. Talk to your local building supplies dealer. He'll know how much fiber glass insulation you should add in your area of the country. (Savings vary. Find out why in the seller's fact sheet on R-values. Higher R-values mean greater insulating power.) For a free booklet on home energy conservation, write: "Save Money" booklet, P.O. Box 860, Valley Forge, PA 19482.

Don't forget the entrance, or "scuttlehole" to your attic. Many people, after they've carefully applied insulation to the rest of the attic, forget to cover the entrance. The scuttlehole should be covered with a batt of fiber glass insulation. Otherwise, a draft-like effect can result much the same as a chimney with an open flue.

Check where your plumbing pipes and telephone wires enter your house. Also check around exhaust fans, dryer vents, and sink and bathtub drain pipes. Any large gaps or holes should be stuffed with fiber glass insulation: small ones can be caulked.

Test your windows and doors to see if they are airtight. Hold a lighted candle around the frames and sashes of your windows. If the flame dances around, you need caulking or weatherstripping. Try slipping a quarter under the door. If it goes through easily, you need weatherstripping there. Both caulking and weatherstripping are easy and inexpensive do-it-yourself projects. You'll find everything you need for the job at a local building materials store.

Lower your thermostat to 65 degrees during the day and 55 degrees at night.

You can save a considerable amount on your fuel bills for every degree you reduce the average temperature in your home.

Use kitchen and bath ventilating fans sparingly. In just a matter of minutes, they whisk outdoors the air you have worked hard to heat. Turn them off just as soon as they have done their job.

Let the sun help you by opening shades on the eastern and southern sides of the house in the morning and by closing them late in the day.

If it's sunny in the afternoon, you can get additional solar heat by opening shades on the western side of the house. Shades on the northern windows should be kept shut at all times during the winter.

If you find 65 degrees cooler than your liking, use the easiest kind of body insulation — warmer clothing. Two long-sleeved tops, a cotton turtleneck and wool sweater, heat your body five degrees, according to the Department of Energy. One thick sweater is itself good for 3.7 degrees, says the government.

Don't forget the entrance, or "scuttlehole" to your attic. Many people, after they've carefully applied insulation to the rest of the attic, forget to cover the entrance. The scuttlehole should be covered with a batt of fiber glass insulation. Otherwise, a draft-like effect can result much the same as a chimney with an open flue.

Study Club Women Attend Workshop At Girlstown

A representative group from the GFWC Farwell Study Club journeyed to Girlstown USA at Whiteface, Tex. for a recent district convention and workshop. Hostess club was GFWC Whiteface Study Club.

Business was conducted by Mrs. James Davis, president, and Mrs. Payne Dalton gave the invocation.

Presentation of the colors was by Whiteface Boy Scout Troop and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Jack Pinson, Brownfield.

Mrs. Jack Harmon, Denver City, led the National Anthem, and the Salute to Texas Flag was led by Mrs. Martin Warren, Tahoka.

"Texas Our Texas" was led by Mrs. Harmon. Mayor Harold Harrison welcomed the group.

General workshops were: Conservation - Beautification, Energy, Environmental Action;

Education - Community Education, Leadership, School Priorities;

Home Life - Consumer Concerns and Family Living & Aging;

International Affairs - International Aid (CARE), International Hospitality, International Policy (National Defense);

The Arts - Creative Arts, Performing Arts, Visual Arts;

Texas Heritage - Texas Women, Historical People, Places, Things, Wild Flowers, Wild Life, Texas Tales, Facts & Fiction.

Luncheon was served in the dining room by the girls of Girlstown. The clubs were welcomed by Marshall Cooper. The girls sang three songs, "Country Roads," "I Believe In Music" and "Love Shined on Me." The latter song was written by a girl who had formerly lived at Girlstown. Cooper made the remark in his welcome that all girls who come to Girlstown must have vision.

Verda Davis reminded members of the educational fund and urged the clubs to remember this fund.

The group toured the campus with the girls as guides. They home. The youngest living there now is three years of age.

Back at a general assembly, the song "You Light Up My Life" was sung by Mrs. Tom Evans. Jeannette Evans demonstrated sign language which would be a service to a community. Caprock District Chorus sang for entertainment of the group. Representing Farwell in the chorus was Julia Symcox.

Reports were given of the workshops. Mrs. J.B. McAdams, Plainview, told the group that there never was a time in the world's important issues where the women of the United States needed to be so concerned, and needed to be informed. We need to vote and we need to pray, she said.

Pray before you vote, pray that the Lord's man will be chosen. Use your privilege and vote. Then pray for the man who is elected to direct our country. She said, "Sometimes it seems that most people fail to mention their leaders except to criticize. No matter whether your man is elected or not, continue to pray. The elected officers will do better if we support them with our prayers. Let's continue to do this. It is the duty of the legislative chairman to keep each informed and to speak out."

Chairmen reporting from Farwell were Mrs. C. E. Crume, Arts, and Mrs. Vernon Symcox, C.P.I.

Those attending from Farwell were Mrs. Carrie Christian, Mrs. Lela Atchley, Mrs. Eunice Crume, Mrs. Alma Sledge and Mrs. Julia Symcox.

Hooked On Kids

This week's area homemaker Cary Kittrell spends her free time hooking rugs for her daughters Lindsay, two, and Kara, three months. Mrs.

Kittrell has also made hooked rugs as gifts, but is currently working on Christmas crafts and baked goods.

Arts 'N Craft Bazaar To Benefit Disease

Cake and pies...home baked bread and rolls, all just in time for Thanksgiving! Hand made gifts just in time for Christmas! Where can you find all this? At the Arts 'N Craft Bazaar, sponsored by the Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation.

This is the second annual Bazaar for the Northwest Texas Chapter. Proceeds will be used for research to help find the cause and cure of the disease, myasthenia gravis. This is a neuro-muscular disease characterized by spells of extreme weakness. Many patients go, for years, undiagnosed because the disease often masquerades as vitamin deficiency, anemia, neurosis, or psychoneurosis. Symptoms include difficulty swallowing, chewing, sometimes breathing; double vision; droopy eyelids, and difficulty walking. With the help of research financed by the MG Foundation, the fatality rate has been dramatically reduced. Hopefully, a cure will be found before MG strikes you or your loved one!

Come to the Bazaar...you will reap a harvest of values and adorable items that will make perfect gifts for Christmas giving...for your children, grandchildren, mom or dad...or maybe a gift for yourself. Members of the Northwest Texas Chapter will reap a harvest from their many hours of work when they can turn their rewards into research.

Sets Rummage Sale

GFWC Farwell Study Club will have a bake sale and rummage sale this weekend at the club room in back of Farwell City Hall.

The sale will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. CDT on Friday and Saturday, October 24 and 25.

At Sacramento

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Mary Sobin

Cary Kittrell is a vivacious young woman with a personality that bubbles over. Both she and her husband Lynn are natives of Farwell and have been married for three years.

Being a close family is very important to the Kittrells. "We are just really happy to be all together, that's what we enjoy doing," she says with a smile.

Lynn farms with his father and Cary is a full time homemaker taking care of the two little Kittrells, Lindsay who is two, and Kara, three months.

The couple's greatest joy is their children, and instead of spending time away from home they spend every free moment with their daughters. "Especially Lindsay, she is really at that fun age and so much fun to watch," Cary says enthusiastically.

Cary worked as a secretary before they were married and until Lindsay was born, but now delights in making a home for her family.

"I enjoy cooking, especially baking at this time of year." She has already begun her plans for Christmas baked goods, experimenting with a new cookie gadget, as well as making Christmas stockings.

Cary spends her free time hooking rugs both for her children and as gifts. "The first one I ever did I thought it wasn't much fun, but I really do enjoy it now," she said.

While at Farwell High our area homemaker played on the freshman basketball team and was a member of the marching band, playing the clarinet and drums. "I never play them anymore, I do like to play the piano though," she says.

Once a year the Kittrells travel to Tombstone, Ariz. for a family reunion. "All the family here meets the family living in California halfway. It's a great time." The week-long occasion is spent sightseeing and catching up on old times. "Tombstone is a great place to visit, there is so much to do there."

Cary has agreed to share three of her favorite recipes with us and says they are all super easy to bake; well, they look easy enough to eat, that is for sure!

1 box lemon cake mix
1 3 oz. box lime gelatin

Longhorns Hand Steers 21-12 District Defeat

The first District 3-AA game of the season is probably one of the most controversial. Farwell lost by nine points to arch rival Vega on the Longhorn field, but six of those Longhorn points will remain questionable for a long time. It was the Longhorn's first TD, showing up on the television screen, the coach's film and in the eyes of the fans as a loss of yardage rather than a touchdown, that put the home team ahead 6-0.

On the game's first offensive play the Steers lost the ball on a fumble on their own 22. But what could have been disaster turned into good luck as three plays later the Blue and White recovered a Vega fumble on the Farwell 13 and were given a second chance to score.

However, the Vega defense kept the Steers from moving and the visiting team was forced to punt.

The 17th ranked Vega team put Farwell's defense to the test. They scored the game's first TD seven plays later but not before some outstanding response from Mac Langford, Ralph Paez and the entire defensive squad.

Even after Vega was inside the Steer five yard line it took the Horns three plays to score, but with 5:24 left in the quarter the tally was Vega 7 - Farwell 0, on what could be considered a highly questionable touchdown call by the refs.

It took awhile, but the Blue and White offense made a 58-yard drive for their first touchdown.

On their initial try the ball could not get past the Vega defense and Brian Langdon was brought in to punt - Vega received the punt and fumbled - a quick-on-his-feet Ralph Paez recovered the misplaced ball and the Steers retained possession.

It seemed to take forever, but 11 plays later the Steers saw their first six points when QB David Daniel squirmed four yards to cross the goal line.

Mac Langford came out to boot the PAT but Farwell's number one toe was not up to par and the extra point was no good, leaving the score at Vega 7 - Farwell 6.

The Vega defense may have proved to be tough opposition on the last go-round of Farwell possession, but the Steer defense showed they could be just as strong, if not stronger, when Vega took control.

The Longhorns found fortified blocks and hard hits from Langdon, Alex Paez, Ralph Paez, Ricky Armstrong, Charlie Rose and Boyd White.

Then Farwell's defense really tightened when Vega penetrated inside the Steer 20. Langford and Rose halted the Vega ball carriers and Byron Mayfield did his part by batting down a Vega pass on a third and goal-to-go pass.

The Longhorns decided then to go for a field goal...but Richard Carpenter blocked the attempt and the score remained 7-6.

The next six minutes of the half belonged to the Farwell and Vega defense as both sides were forced to punt after only four plays each. Farwell had control when the buzzer sounded but a combination of Fangman stops and incomplete Daniel passes kept the Blue and White from scoring before the half ended.

The teams retreated to their locker rooms with the scoreboard reading Vega 7, Farwell 6.

The second half opened with Vega receiving a Langford kickoff, and Dwayne Winter halting the carrier on the 35-yard line. Again the Steer defense kept the opposition in check and Vega was forced to punt.

What happened next is only supposed to occur on locker room chalk boards. On the Steers' second offensive play Jack Deaton ran, and ran and ran -- for 81 yards, after receiving excellent blocking from his teammates, and scored the team's second TD.

The snap on Langford's PAT attempt was fumbled and the score was Farwell 12 - Vega 7. Vega's Ferguson received the Farwell kick but did not get too far as he was literally flipped over by Ralph Paez, this week's Big Hit winner.

The Vega team then danced and zagged their way past vigorous Farwell defense to gain their next score. It was a 35-yard run by Vega's Cannon that lit the board a second time for the home team and a Fangman PAT set the tally at Vega 14 - Farwell 12.

It seemed to be all downhill for Farwell's Blue and White for the remainder of the game. As in the beginning of the game, when they are good, they are very good - But when they are bad, they really blow it.

Even after crisp offensive plays and much determination, the Steers were forced to punt the ball away, as were the Longhorns four plays later.

The fourth quarter opened with E. Paez and Deaton trying to move the pigskin, but even a fourth down faked run on a punt play proved futile.

Now Vega had control, and they intended to keep it.

The Longhorns inched their way downfield controlling the next five minutes and 24 seconds of the game. The Steer defense showed outstanding ability but when it really counted the Vega men pushed through for their needed first downs, taking up precious Steer clock time.

With 2:24 left in the game Carpenter halted Vega ball carrier Cannon and the ball was given back to the Steers on downs.

It was a long way to the goal line as the Steers were now sitting deep in their own territory - but it did not really matter because they lost the ball to a fumble, again on their first offensive play, with only 1:58 left in the game.

Vega seized this opportunity, and five plays later, with 53 seconds remaining in the season's first district game, the Longhorns leaped ahead and gained another six points. The Fangman PAT was good and Vega led 21-12.

The odds were against Farwell scoring, but that didn't stop them from hitting. With 49 seconds on the clock Charlie Rose flattened Vega's Fangman, putting him out of the game.

But if the fans thought they had seen all the action for the night, they were a little bit wrong. The Steers were issued a 30-yard penalty (two at 15 yards each) for unsportsmanlike conduct... "It was really unfair," reflects Steer mentor Randy Adrian, "The referee penalized the team members for something they had nothing to do with, it was a member of the chain crew who was arguing with the refs, not a coach or a player, and technically the chain crew is part of the referee staff...so the ref called a penalty on one of his own colleagues."

So with less than 40 seconds in the game the Steers were marched back 30 yards, for something they had nothing to do with, and when with so little time in the game it would hardly make a difference anyway. "The proper way of handling it would have been to come and talk to me, not to penalize the kids," the coach stated.

But all of that aside, Coach Adrian was very pleased with Friday's match in Vega. "It was the hardest hitting game we have ever had, I thought we did a super job."

Vega's win over the Steers placed them at a 6-0 season but Adrian still feels confident at a Steer chance at the district championship. "As strong as this district is I feel somebody will beat them, (Vega) I don't think they will go undefeated," he predicts. "Of course we will have to win the rest of ours, but if we do I think there will be a three way tie for district."

The big Steer game tonight (Friday) is at home against Hart. The 7:30 p.m. CDT game will see the Steers fighting for victory against a team with a 2-3-1 record. "Their record in no way reflects how their team is, they have a good ball club, they have just played some very tough teams," Adrian said. Their last defeat was against Springlake-Earth 22-20, a team who is undefeated this

Riding For Victory

A whole bus load of Farwellites traveled to Vega for Friday's gridiron clash with the 5-0 Longhorns. The bus was sponsored by the Farwell

Booster Club, but even though these faithful Steer fans rooted for the season's first district victory, the Farwell team lost 21-12.

season. "There are no easy district ball games," the coach announced, "But I think we can handle them."

As for the Vega match, the offensive player of the week award went to Jack Deaton. Deaton carried the pigskin 132 yards on 13 carries in addition to his 81-yard run for a touchdown.

Defensive player of the week went to Byron Mayfield for 11 solo tackles, 10 assisted tackles and one knocked down pass.

The weekly Win Award went to Roger Castillo who saw action on the starting lineup for the first time in his varsity career, substituting for Waverly Coates. "They ran at Roger all night," Adrian recalled. "But for a guy who started for the first time ever, he stepped in and did a super job."

Castillo knocked the Vega team for a total of 13 tackles, eight solo and five assists, in addition to one sack.

Emilio Paez was also cited by Adrian for his 17 ball carries obtaining 35 yards for the Steers.

Farwell JV Outscores Visiting Longhorns

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was written from a play-by-play compiled by Doris Ford.

Farwell's Junior Varsity welcomed the Vega JV to Steer country by beating them 18-6.

Vega received the Ricky Sierra kick and returned it to the 20-yard line before Sierra hustled up and tackled the carrier.

The Longhorns were forced to punt five plays later after stops made by Steers Rocky Ford, Sierra, Gary Haseloff and Frank Cantu.

Santiago Lucio drove the received punt to the 42-yard line. During their offensive attack Alan Eubank, Doug Teel, Paul Fulcher and Cantu drove to the Vega 27 before a fumble gave the pigskin back to the Longhorns.

A hard drive by the 'Horns was halted on downs and again the Steers tried for a TD, but they too were unable to move and were forced to punt, with the first quarter ending scoreless.

The Longhorns began quarter two in possession but strong defensive action by Teel, Wade Kent, Robby Armstrong, Eubank, Johnny Daniel and Ford forced the visiting team to lose the ball on downs.

Fumbled balls kept the fans on the edge of their seats for the next three exchanges.

The Steers began their offensive strategy on their own 29-yard line by fumbling the ball which Vega immediately recovered.

The Vega offense was not on the Steer field for long this time as they also fumbled with Farwell recovering on their 28.

Good plays by Teel, Lucio, Eubank and Todd Christian were cancelled out on another fumble recovered by Vega.

Teel intercepted a Vega pass but the buzzer sounded for halftime and the score was zip-zip.

Farwell's Lucio received the third quarter kickoff, running to the 20. A Eubank hand-off to Teel resulted in a 45-yard gain and Lucio followed next by scampering in for the game's first TD. The PAT was unsuccessful but the Steers now led 6-0.

Ricky Sierra recovered a Vega fumble five plays later and the Blue and White displayed an impressive offensive strategy, gaining many first downs before losing the ball on a fourth and 13 pass interception.

Again the Steer defense kept the Vega team immobile and the Longhorns were forced to punt after only three plays.

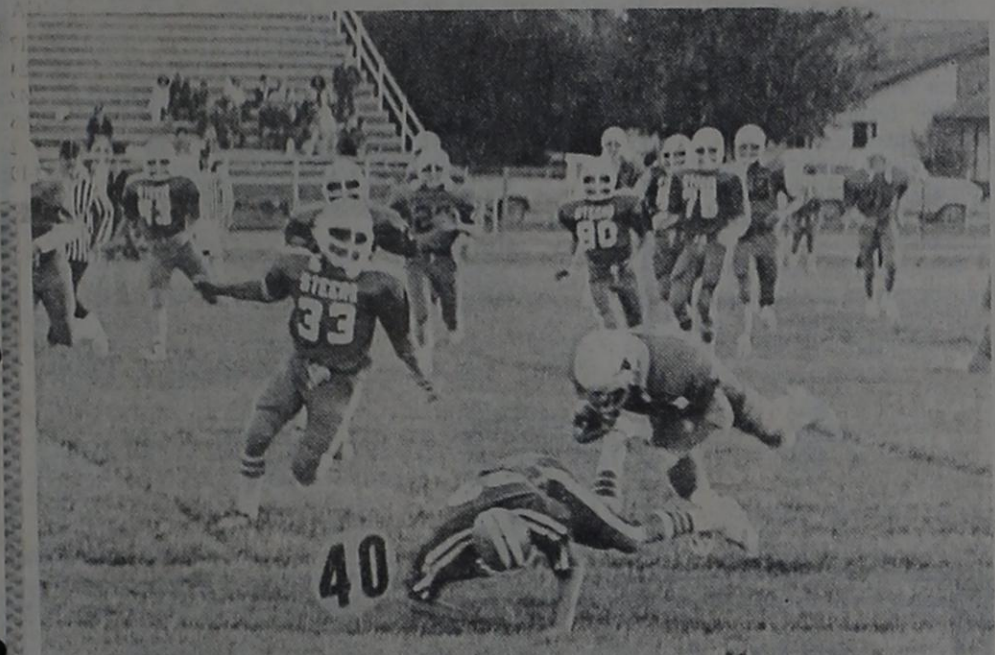

A 70-yard dash by Teel plus a 15-yard penalty against Vega for face mask grabbing put the JV Steers on the Longhorn 15.

Eubank gained nine yards in two plays and with the ball inside the five Lucio drove in for the second TD. Teel attempted the extra points unsuccessfully and the tally stood Steers 12, Vega 0.

The 'Horns fumbled on their first play and Farwell recovered on the opponents' 36. On a fourth and 13 situation Ricky Sierra ran for the team's next TD and the Steers now led 18-0, with 7:45 left in the game.

This time when Vega had the ball they showed unbeatable determination and even though they were held back somewhat by Steer defense, they still scored on their eighth play on a 40-yard carry. The scoreboard now read Farwell 18, Vega 6.

The ball switched hands twice and with mere seconds left Eubank intercepted another Vega pass before the game ended with the JV Steers winning.

He's A Day Tripper

If you can't catch up to them, fall in front of them...that is exactly what Raymond Garcia did to stop a Vega ball carrier in last Thursday's JV competition on Steer turf. Ricky Sierra is close at hand in case assistance is needed. The Farwell junior varsity team won the match 18-6. (Photo by Lillie Christian.)

Junior High Yearlings Shut Out Vega 22-0

The junior high football team at Farwell showed their big brothers that they also can carry a ball. The junior high Yearlings walloped the visiting Vega team 22-0.

Although the first quarter ended scoreless, Sammy Sanchez ran a good 30 yards in the second quarter to set up Kevin Owen's 18-yard touchdown run. The third quarter was filled with much action as Vega recovered a Farwell fumble. Felix Lucio intercepted a Vega pass, and Vega's quarterback intercepted a Farwell pass.

The one TD Vega did manage was called back after an impressive 65-yard run.

Roger Robertson made the Yearlings' next touchdown, and two points were gained by S. Sanchez.

Roberts scored the third and final TD and again S. Sanchez ran for the two points.

Wolverines Take Easy Win Over Tucumcari JV

After having fought their way through a tough season, the Texico varsity football team traveled to Tucumcari and played the JV team there, whipping them 34-0. It was a game where the Wolverines outplayed and outmaneuvered the young junior varsity team all night.

The scoring went as follows: A Gary Mitchell 10-yard pass to Kent Harding in the first quarter gave the Wolverines six points, the PAT conversion attempt was no good and the score stood at 6-0.

Early in the second quarter a two-yard run by Willie Bibbs gave the Wolverines six more points, but the two-point attempted pass was no good and the score now read 12-0.

A 12-yard pass from Mitchell to Todd Gerles late in the second period pushed the team ahead for 6 more points and the three-yard pass conversion was good placing the tally at 20-0.

There was no scoring in the third quarter but Earl Bibbs rallied in the fourth for a two-yard run grabbing six more for Texico. A pass from Mitchell to Danny Reid boosted the tally by two points for a 28-0 lead. A ten-yard Mitchell to Gerles pass finalized the scoring efforts and the scoreboard showed the Wolverines ahead 34-0.

Wolverines of the Week included Jeff Dunsworth for his efforts offensively. The 175-pound junior obtained five tackles during the Saturday game.

Defensive player of the week is Neil Snipes. Snipes was cited for his four tackles during the Wolverines' kicking game.

The weekly Big Lick Awards went to Jesse Orozco on defense and Kent Harding and Jeff Dunsworth on offense.

Leading tacklers in the Tucumcari match were Todd Gerles with ten, and Jeff Dunsworth and Kent Harding, each with five.

The motto for this week in the Texico locker room is "Stand up and be counted!" concerning their second District 1A match with Tatum, set for tonight (Friday).

"Tatum has a good team but I know we can beat them. If we don't it won't be because we weren't ready...we're ready to play all right," reflects head coach David Lynn.

The Tatum team is currently undefeated and according to Lynn have a good blend of offensive strategy. "They run an option team offensively and a split-six and 5-2 defensively, he said. The Coyotes carry seven seniors on a 16-man team, and average the same weight as the Wolverines.

"This one will be a big game. If we win it we will be in the district play-offs I feel sure," the coach stated.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. MDT at the Wolverine Stadium preceded by a junior high match at 4:30 p.m. MDT.

The next game for Texico, and the last of the season before the playoffs, is with the Clovis junior varsity on October 30 at 7:30 p.m. at Wolverine Stadium. This is a change from the original October 31 schedule.

JEFF DUNSORTH

NEIL SNIPES

Texico junior Jeff Dunsworth has been selected by the Texico coaching staff as offensive Wolverine of the Week. The 6'2" 175-pounder netted five tackles during Saturday's 34-0 match with the Tucumcari JV. The offensive Big Lick Award went to Kent Harding and Jeff Dunsworth.

Neil Snipes has been chosen as defensive Wolverine of the Week by the Texico coaching staff. The 120-pound junior had four tackles during Saturday's gridiron clash with the Tucumcari JV. The defense Big Lick Award went to Jesse Orozco.

Valley Whips Lazbuddie 47-0 In District Play

Lazbuddie Longhorns traveled to Valley Friday night for gridiron action and returned home on the wrong side of a 47-0 score.

"They were ranked number two in the state and we are a very young club," stated Longhorn head coach Bob Masters.

Lazbuddie's Longhorns now show a season record of 4-2-1 and a district tally of 1-1.

"Now we are getting ready for Motley County," the coach said.

The Longhorns will host the eighth-rated Motley team tonight (Friday) on the Lazbuddie turf. "Their team is huge, but we will give it our best I think we can handle them," the coach predicted.

Game time is 7:30 CDT.

Texico Volleyball Teams Split Games

By Lisa Crooks, Laura Horne

In their district encounter with Melrose last week, the Texico Wolverines brought home two losses and one win.

Coach Mike Littlejohn commented about the Jr. High, "The girls did as well as they could, but Melrose was just a lot better that night."

The Jr. High Wolverines lost to the Buffs with scores of 15-13, 3-15, and 2-15. Lucia Jesko served 15 of 14 for 9 points.

The Jr. Varsity fought to the end, finally losing to Melrose 15-9, 12-15 and 13-15.

"The JV has been revamped because of game limitations and there are always problems when you put new people together. I felt the girls did a pretty good job until the third game," said Littlejohn.

In the Varsity match the Wolverines defeated the Buffs in two games by scores of 15-9 and 15-8. Littlejohn recalled, "The Varsity didn't play as well as they could, but neither did Melrose. Both clubs had bad serving nights, but we came out on top with more good set-spike combinations than Melrose. With a win against Elida we'll wrap up first place in district."

Game meat provides double pleasure—the sport of the hunt, as well as a variation in the flavor of table meat.

Basically, you can use the same safe handling practices with game meat and birds as you do with domestic meat and poultry. However, there are a few extra precautions you need to take, especially with freshly killed game, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Most general recommendations are the same for handling game animals and game birds. And, when handled properly and safely, game meat can add variety, character, and nutrition to meals the year around.

The best meat comes from a healthy animal, not one that is sluggish or hot from running. One that appears alert, moves quickly and is free from old wounds is apt to yield the best meat.

The most crucial period for preserving the natural flavor of game meat is the first six hours after the kill. This time is vital to the quality of the meat, so it is important to remove the entrails quickly. Wipe the body cavity thoroughly with a clean cloth, or wash and wipe dry. Be sure the cavity surface is thoroughly dry. It should be in a well-ventilated place to begin the cooling process.

The undesirable strong flavor so often associated with wild meat is due to:

Home prices are up, but sales are down

COLLEGE STATION — The number of previously owned homes sold in Texas during the first quarter of 1980 was down 5.2 percent from the same period in 1979, but prices were up 14.6 percent.

Dr. Arthur Wright, research economist with the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University said the drop in sales was a result of the unavailability of mortgage funds, high interest rates and the general slowdown in the economy.

Wright said if housing sales continue to lag, home prices may stabilize or even drop.

"With mortgage rate declining, both sales volume and prices likely will increase during the next several months," he explained.

inadequate bleeding, 2) carelessness or delay in dressing, 3) failure to cool the carcass promptly and thoroughly and 4) wounds causing the blood to spread along the membranes.

Prompt cleaning of the body cavity and cooling will retain the natural meat flavor and help prevent growth of dangerous bacteria. Meat sours rapidly when warm and moist. According to USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service, two bacteria are especially notorious for causing food poisoning in meat and fowl. Salmonella and clostridium perfringens can develop and grow rapidly when the meat is not cooled properly.

Here are some tips from the Food Safety and Quality Service to help keep your game meat safe once you get it home.

If you cut the game yourself, be sure to wash your hands, utensils, containers and work surfaces with hot water and soap before they come into contact with the raw meat. If you keep the germs off the meat, you avoid problems. Don't handle the meat if you have infected cuts and sores.

When cutting the meat, trim off any remaining fat. Fat from wild game tends to become rancid quickly. Also cut away blood-shot and badly bruised or discolored areas to prevent extensive spoilage.

After handling the raw game, wash hands, utensils, containers and work surfaces again with hot water and soap. Germs from raw meat can spread to cooked meat or other foods say FSQS meat specialists.

When cooking your game be sure to cook ground meat thoroughly. It is handled more often in preparation than other cuts, and germs get mixed into it. Also cook game birds thoroughly. Never partially cook them and finish cooking them later. It is safest to cook stuffing outside the bird. But, if you prefer to stuff, do it just before roasting. Refrigerate the leftover meat and stuffing in separate dishes—as soon as possible.

With the proper care and safety this hunting season, you can have all the rewards of a successful hunt without worries of food poisoning.

String Your Own Chili Ristra

Brilliant strings of red chile drying in the sun have become the hallmark of autumn in New Mexico. Recently, ristras have become popular as home decorations and a market has developed for red chile wreaths.

"Some people mistakenly bring their newly strung ristra or wreath inside immediately after it's made. The ristras should be dried first," says James Sais, Extension horticulturist for New Mexico State University.

Sound waves used to detect track flaws

COLLEGE STATION — An improved technique using ultra-high frequency sound waves for detecting flaws in railroad tracks is being developed by engineering researchers at Texas A&M University.

Each year rail failures are the single greatest cause of train derailments throughout the country. Many flaws in the rails remain undetected, despite a large fleet of flaw detector cars inspecting several hundred thousand miles of track annually, said researcher Dr. Don E. Bray, a Texas A&M mechanical engineering professor.

Present methods depend on a less sophisticated system to locate and identify dangerous weak points in the rails.

The new technique under study by Bray sends ultra-high frequency sound waves into the metal and measures their echoes, akin to the technique used in radar.

The study is funded by U.S. Department of Transportation and is a continuation of rail safety research conducted by Bray during the last 16 years.

"Without proper drying outdoors, the chile may rot or turn moldy. And since the decorative ristra can be used later for making red chile sauce, do not spray the chile with any lacquer or similar spray."

Once the ristra is dry, the chile can be ground into powder or used whole. You can even use the seeds if you like really hot food. The seeds also give chile powder a characteristic yellow color.

To make your own chile ristra, gather three-quarters of a bushel of red chile for each three foot string. If you buy the chile, be sure it's freshly picked. Chile with any green spots should be placed in a cool, dark place for a couple of days. This will hasten its red coloring.

There are several methods of making ristras, Sais says. Start with a light package string. Begin by tying a cluster of three chiles on the string. To do this, hold the three chiles by their stems. Wrap the string around all three stems once or twice and then weave the string between the chiles. Finally, place a half loop over the stems and pull it tight.

Repeat this process with a cluster of three more pods about three inches from the first. Continue until you have a fairly long string or until you have used all your chile.

Next you must stack the clusters closely together on a wire. To do this, hang a long piece of bailing wire or heavy twine from a rafter. Tie a wooden peg or dowel at the end of the wire to keep the chile from slipping off.

With the first three pods tied to the package string, begin to braid the chiles around the wire. Push the chile down to cover the peg. Continue to braid the clusters of chile around the wire and push them down.

To make a wreath, use a heavy coat hanger reshaped to a circle. Braid the chile on the wire until the wreath is full. If you use straight wire, bend it into a ring after the chile has been braided on it.

Finally, remember to place the chile in the full sun where it will have good air ventilation to dry, Sais says.

During the illness and death of our loving wife and mother, Irene Tarter, the people of the Texico-Farwell area have provided continuing support and comfort to our family. Those expressions of love and concern came in an avalanche of cards, flowers, food, visits, prayers and words of encouragement. Each inquiry concerning her condition said, "We love you." Many sat with her while she was hospitalized, visited her at home, and finally filled Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in tribute. You filled our home and hearts with your love and concern, and you will always be in our hearts.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

GO, AND SIN NO MORE

The self-righteous Pharisees had brought a fallen woman to Jesus and "when they had set her in the midst," they began to accuse her, saying: "Now Moses in the Law commanded us that such should be stoned, but what sayest thou?" (John 8:5).

They were using this fallen woman to embarrass the Lord into agreeing that this woman should be stoned, or else leaving Himself open to a charge of repudiating Moses' Law.

At first He made "as though He heard them not," but, when they continued asking, they got what they asked for! Simply answering: "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her," the Lord turned away again to let that sentence do its work. They had "set her in the midst." Now He had set them in the midst and, "being convicted by their own conscience," they "went out one by one" (Ver. 9).

And there stood the woman alone before Him: a great sinner and a great Savior. Since none of the Pharisees had dared to cast a stone at her, the Lord said: "Neither do I condemn thee. Go, and sin no more" (Ver. 11).

Thus the Lord graciously forgave the sinner-woman, yet without ignoring the demand of the Law. He had not denied that the woman deserved punishment. He had only pointed out that the Pharisees themselves were sinners; that they, like she, needed a SAVIOR.

"Thank God! Since 'Christ died for our sins,' God can justly forgive us—and He will, if we but acknowledge our sin and our need of a Savior, and do not join the self-righteous who keep 'going about to establish their own righteousness'" (Rom. 10:3).

"This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save SINNERS..." (1 Tim. 1:15). God is very gracious to those who will acknowledge their sin and their need: "For the same Lord over all is RICH UNTO ALL THAT CALL UPON HIM, for WHO-SOEVER SHALL CALL UPON THE NAME OF THE LORD SHALL BE SAVED" (Rom. 10:12,13).

fraternal organization, or non-profit organization supporting medical research or treatment program. Voters in cities and counties would be allowed to decide whether bingo would be allowed in their communities.

Those in favor of this amendment reason that the charitable purposes of the mentioned organizations are of great benefit to society and that revenue from bingo games would be limited to use in this state for charitable purposes. People's attitudes toward bingo vary from one community to another and with this proposal voters would be able to decide whether or not to allow the game.

Opposition to the amendment cites problems that could arise from the possibility of a fraudulent organization setting up shop under the shield of a pretended charitable organization to conduct gambling operations.

There is also some fear that organized crime would become involved in bingo games since profit margins would be as great as in criminal activities.

Others say that if the bingo game is legalized, the number of the games will dramatically increase reasoning that persons of low income would become the most frequent participants because they are the most vulnerable to the ill-advised hope of winning money or prizes in this form of gambling.

AMENDMENT 5: BUDGET EXECUTION

This would allow the legislature to authorize or direct the governor to exercise fiscal control over the spending of appropriated funds, except those constitutionally dedicated to specific purposes. The legislature could then limit the authority or could attach conditions to the authority. Budget execution actions by the governor would require the approval of a committee, including several legislatures.

Favorable arguments are that since the legislature meets in regular session for only 140 days every two years that the amendment would allow the governor to control spending during the long interim between sessions (within limitations provided in the budget) and to alter the use of funds as circumstances may indicate.

Those against this amendment say that further control over spending is less necessary in Texas than in other states, since, under our present system, spending has remained reasonably controlled and taxes are reasonably low.

They believe that since agencies are managed by appointed or elected boards that are accountable to the people now, there is no need to change a system that is considered one of the best in the country.

AMENDMENT 6: REMOVAL OF CERTAIN APPOINTED OFFICIALS

This one would allow the governor who appoints an officer to remove the officer, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the senate members present. If the governor wanted to remove an officer when the legislature was not in session, a special session would have to be called and it could not last longer than two days.

Those in favor of the amendment say that the appointed officials of the present system do not have to answer to anyone during their six-year tenure and that allowing the governor to remove appointed officers of the state gives the governor the ability to insure the promotion of his/her policies.

It is believed by some that this ability would make board members and other appointees more accountable to the needs of an elected official.

But others believe that the proposed amendment would place too much power with the governor and that state boards, agencies and departments should be free from political influence.

AMENDMENT 7: COUNTY ROAD WORK ON PRIVATE ROADS

Number seven would allow counties with populations of less than 5,000 to use county equipment to do private road work. The work would have to be done for a "reasonable charge" and the legislature would limit the counties' authority, and any proceeds from the work would have to be used for public road construction and maintenance.

Proponents believe that in many rural counties it is impossible or not feasible to hire a private contractor to perform private road work. Currently, small counties must maintain expensive road construction and maintenance equipment even though it may not be required on a full-time basis. This amendment would allow them to recoup a part of their investment with the revenue received from private road work.

Some say this will help defray the increased costs of their public road programs and may avoid the need for tax increases.

But those against the amendment argue that the provisions of the Texas Constitution prohibiting the use of public funds for private purposes are a valuable protection against the squandering of public funds and possible abuses.

Others say that for counties to engage in the private construction business is an encroachment on private enterprise, and that counties would be in direct competition with private construction contractors at a time when the construction industry is financially depressed in many areas.

AMENDMENT 8: JURISDICTION AND AUTHORITY OF THE COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

What this means is that the amendment would give the Courts of Civil Appeals criminal, as well as civil, jurisdiction, and would change their name to Courts of Appeals. Appeals in cases involving the death penalty would go directly to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The amendment would also change the name of "associate justice" to "justice." Finally, it would require that all Supreme Court justices be licensed to practice law in the state of Texas.

Those for the amendment explain that it is unrealistic to expect only one criminal appellate court in a heavily populated state to administer criminal justice that is both the speedy justice needed to deter crime and the quality of justice that should be accorded the accused and the state.

Also that the amendment would clarify such questions as qualifications of a justice of the supreme court.

But those opposed say that the present system is the most efficient to achieve criminal justice. Also that because of the present crime rate, the addition of a large number of criminal cases to the civil caseloads of the present Courts of Civil Appeals may create new caseload problems in those courts.

AMENDMENT 9: CONVERSION OF MARITAL COMMUNITY PROPERTY INTO SEPARATE PROPERTY

Spouses, or persons about to marry, would be allowed to agree in writing that income or property arising from separate property is to be separate property. The amendment also states that a gift of property from one spouse to another includes all income or property arising from that property. In addition, the amendment changes the language in the constitution from "wife" and "husband and wife" to "spouse" and "spouses."

Those for the amendment say that the amendment would give people freedom to make alternative marital property arrangements which they feel to be in their best interests. The spouse who owns the property should, as the amendment provides, be allowed the benefits of the property.

It is believed by some that by eliminating the need for making periodic property agreements, the conversion of community property into separate property would become much simpler.

Those against say that the present community property system has served the best interest of the Texas citizens and the system proposed could foster the creation of an entirely different way of settling property matters.

DRIVELINE

Well, Back To The Old Drawing Board: West German engineering students designed a special, torpedo-shaped three-wheeler car that got a fantastic 1,580 miles to the gallon! Unfortunately, the "car" was only a foot high, held one person, and averaged six MPH on a gently banked oval track . . .

Save 15 Cents a Gallon! The U.S. Dept. of Energy estimates the average driver can easily save up to 15 cents on every gallon of gasoline, just by following some good driving tips. Slowing down from 70 MPH to 55 can save 6 cents. Keeping your car properly tuned saves another 4 cents. Using radial tires and keeping them properly inflated saves 5 cents. (You save because you are using less gas and making each gallon go further.)

The average 1980 car gets 51 percent better gas mileage than the average 1974 model . . .
