FROM THE HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

The world seems to be divided up between the good guys and the bad guys, and I have decided that the barbers in my home town are the good guys.

About a month ago I found out what I hadn't appreciated all along when I got taken for a clipping--and I mean literally--in Fort Worth. Ma, Pa and a couple of the kids were down in Cowtown to stomp around a little at the Texas Press convention.

While there I gave sons No. 1 & 2 a couple of dollar bills, some pocket change, and set them off down to the basement of the hotel in search of the tonsorial parlor to get their ears lowered. They found the snippers lair, all right, but were back in about 10 minutes with outstretched palms, explaining that haircuts were $2.00 a head in that town.

As you might imagine, this brought a groan of pain from Dad, and as I reached deep for the required cash to finance their next foray, I decided I'd go along for the ride to see what kind of elegance this tariff was supposed to support.

We found the barbershop to be real high class, okay. In fact, you had to get an appointment to spend your money with them. These guys, I concluded, had the world by the tail. I decided to stick around to see if their talent matched their take.

It turned out to be a long wait, and in fact I didn't stay for the whole show as I got tired of sitting around watching a bunch of old men primp. Most were having manicures and the works and were giving more attention to the femme fatales than they were with regular business.

Finally sons No. 1 & 2 emerged from the stair well to the lobby and I could hardly believe my eyes. Hal's haircut looked like it had been done with a pick and shovel. When I reflected on the $2.00 that had gone into that hair nightmare I felt like going and demanding my money back.

So, I learned a little lesson from that adventure, and have elected to not complain to Sterlyn or George or Truitt or anybody else hereabouts for either their prices or their

The following letter was written by Rev. A.R. Sander who has been pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church at Lariat for the last several years. He will be leaving the church July 31, to retire.

Sir: It is with deep feeling that this change must be faced but it seems best that I retire. We plan to make our home in the north where we will do part time work for St. John's Lutheran Church at LaGrange, Ill., by visiting the sick and shut-ins, and helping with the "Golden Age Group" in that church.

As we prepare to take leave our hearts are heavy; our good people at St. John's have been kind and tolerant especially during my illness and have become close to our hearts.

Also many folk in the Texico-Farwell and surrounding communities shall be missed, for we have been accepted here with open hearts and hands-- in parting we extend kindest regards and God's gracious blessing on one and all.

There are a lot of remarkable people in the world, and you find them in the most unsuspecting places. I got a real inspiration the other day from a 45-minute conversation with a door-to-door salesman -- a "doorknocker" as he called himself.

Salesmen as a group unfortunately do not enjoy an exalted place in the public's eye, and the bottom rung of the sales ladder is, I would suppose, the "door knocker."

County's Bond Sales Lag Behind '62 Pace

During the first half of 1963, the citizens of Parmer County purchased $26,996 in Series E and H Savings Bonds according to a report received from Frank A. Spring, Chairman of the Parmer County Savings Bonds Committee. Only 33.7 per cent of the county's 1963 goal has been achieved.

Parmer's bond sales for the first six months of 1963 well below those for the first six months of 1962, which totalled $79,364, which was 88.2 per cent of its goal.

Savings Bond sales in Texas during the first half of 1963 were $76,246,599 or 50.6 per cent of the 1963 goal of $150,600,000.

"It is encouraging to note that Savings Bond sales nationally are setting a new peace-time high. Bond sales during the first 6 months of 1963 were $2,517 million as compared to $2,277 million a year ago, reflecting a 10.5 per cent gain. As of June 30, 1963, the total amount of outstanding E Bonds stood at an all-time peak of $46,359 million, a gain of $860 million since January 1," Spring stated.

However, the man I was talking with certainly did honor to his station in life. He is a good salesman, selling (you guessed it) Fuller brushes. He makes a good living at it. He drives a late-model expensive car and is building a new home.

Three years ago, or so he told me, he was pretty much behind the eight ball insofar as finances were concerned. Today he has no money worries, except paying his income tax, and he exudes the confidence and carriage of a man who knows where he's going and when he expects to get there.

This man does not owe his well being to his Fuller brushes. They are merely a stepping stone or a tool. And certainly he is not insured success by the fact that his sales method is by calling from door to door. I think anyone would agree that he is handicapped in this respect.

The thing that impresses and inspires me about this salesman is that he has complete freedom to succeed--or to fail--by whatever degree he sets for himself. He has absolutely no limitations except those he brings upon himself. "The sky's the limit."

This man's enthusiasm and desire is so great that he leaves home at 7 in the morning and doesn't come in from a day's work until 9 in the evening. His schedule alone would bring gasps of shock and horror from the 40-hour and a guaranteed annual-wage set. But he doesn't regard his work as drudgery. To him it's a challenge. He meets it and he loves it.

I think that this man, and the few there are like him, are the purest emodiment I know of the real spirit of personal enterprise and American capitalism. And I very much doubt that he is aware that he is impressing anyone.

Helton Oilers Take Three Wins During Week

The Helton Oil softball team, leading the Clovis district in season play, added three more wins to their list during the past week by taking two games from the Independents and one from Swift and Co.

Helton and the Independents collided on Tuesday night July 16, the game ending with a score of 11-3. St Koenig and Ray Carter shared pitching duties and Sonny Gentry was catcher. The scoring for the Helton team was evenly distributed among the team members with most accounting for at least one score.

In the second game between the two teams Friday, Jerry Henson, shortstop for the Helton team, stole the show making five runs on five times at bat and having five triples for his efforts.

Raymond Hadley, first baseman for the team, had a home-run, two singles, and a triple for four times at bat. Harrell Fulcher and Buddy Prince, fielders, each had three runs for three times at bat. Carter and Koenig again shared pitching duties and Eddie Smith was catcher. The game ended at the end of five innings with a score of 23-1.

In a game played against Swift and Co. Tuesday night, Helton was victorious with a score of 12-0. Dolph Moten and Sonny Gentry shared catching duties with Koenig and Carter taking turns on the mound. Outstanding play for the evening was in the first inning when a Swift player caught a high fly ball hit by Raymond Hadley just inside the fence to retire the side.

Jerry Henson was again top scorer for the Helton team having three runs for five times at bat.

The Helton team will be playing in the district tournament this weekend in Clovis. First game for the local team is slated for Friday night and the tournament is to continue until Sunday with the two winning teams, in the double elimination tournament, to participate in the state tournament in Albuquerque, August 8-10.

CHRISTIANITY Is The Bulwark of Our Way of Life

GOD HAS A PLAN AND PURPOSE FOR YOUR LIFE: FOR WHAT IS YOUR LIFE? JAMES 4:14

Dear Friend: God has a purpose in your life. Because of this, God did something for and expects something of you.

In the mind of God, he thought of man, in that Jesus Christ his Son, stood as a lamb slain from the foundation of the world. Rev. 13:8. God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever by Grace are ye saved through faith. Eph. 2:8. Also in Titus 2:11-14 God has outlined something of the plan and purpose in your life. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lust, we should live soberly, righteously, and Godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Savior Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us that we might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people zealous of good works. We can see by these and other scriptures that God has done something for us, to help us in the plan and purpose in and for our lives, and in turn expects something from each of us.

May we list some of the things God expects of us, in return for what he has done for us. Do we not love him for what he has done for us?

1: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. Matt. 22:37 and added thy neighbor as thyself.

2: Being new creatures in Christ, changes things for us. If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature and old things will pass away and behold all things become new. 2nd Cor. 5:17.

Jesus said "If ye love me keep my commandments." "If a man love me he will keep my words." John 14:25.

3: God challenges us "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me." Matt; 16:24. If we follow Jesus where would he lead us on the Lord's Day? Would he lead us to the park, boating, swimming, fishing, bowling or such like? No! He was always in the temple or some place teaching and doing good on the Lord's Day. He said forget not the assembling of ourselves together. Matt. 24:12 says because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold; who would not say we are in the days of falling away, spoken of in Thess. 2:3. Falling away from our steadfastness, from our post of duty, from our fervent love for God's service and lost soul.

4: That you be desired to be fed on the sincere milk of the word, that you may grow there by. Speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things. Eph. 4:15. We are to grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. 2nd Peter; 3:18.

5: That man ought always to pray, and not faint. Luke; 18:1. Pray without ceasing. Thess; 5:17. Ask and ye shall receive. John 16:24. If we ask anything according to His will He heareth us. John 5:14.

6: God also challenges us to worship and witness at every opportunity, we have. Acts 1:8. Ye shall be witnesses of me. Does your life fit in God's plan? What is your life? Does it conform to God's will?

Go to church this Sunday, he was to have Glory in the church, through all the ages world without end. Eph. 3:21.

JOTTIN'S By Jeanne

I realize that, without a doubt, the two-year-old had graduated from baby to little boy stage when he came to kiss me good-night with onions on his breath. He likes hot dogs — with everything on them.

While in Lovington recently, we were guests of the society editor of the paper, and the cake she served was really special. She mailed the recipe as requested, so I could include it in my column. The cake was a deep red color with white frosting and would be a pretty holiday dessert.

She used only the crushed pineapple and nuts in her frosting — and that's the combination I plan to use, when I bake the cake.

Red Velvet Cake
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 tsp vanilla
1 tsp salt

2 1/4 cups flour
1 tsp vinegar
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 ozs. red food coloring
2 Tbsp. cocoa
1 tsp soda
1 cup buttermilk

Cream shortening, eggs and sugar. Make a paste of coloring and cocoa. Add to creamed mixture. Combine salt and buttermilk then add alternately with flour. Add Vanilla. Last add soda and vinegar. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 min., in three 8 inch cake pans.

Frosting
3 Tbsp. flour blended with 1 cup milk. Cook until very thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Cool.

Cream
1 cup sugar
1 cup oleo
1 tsp. vanilla, until fluffy
Add cooked mixture and beat until sugar is completely dissolved. Approximately 10 or 15 minutes. It will look like whipped cream.

Drained crushed pineapple, nuts, red or green cherries, coconut or anything you wish may be added.
This sounds crazy but it is right. Cook flour and milk slowly as it burns quickly.

Guilty of Self-Embezzlement?

It's a serious charge. But lots of us are guilty . . . although very few people cheat themselves intentionally. Yet that's just what we're doing when we fail to shop our home stores before we buy.

Often enough the deals are better at home, dollar for dollar. Always they're better when you consider that Trade Builds Communities . . . and that Trade is the sole source of prosperity for an area and for those who live within it. Even great natural resources benefit only a few people if that wealth gets away from the community's regular trade channels.

When we buy from those who buy from us . . . either our labor or our products . . . when we trade with the neighbors who help us to support our local social facilities . . . when we spend our money where Trade creates opportunities for us and our children . . . then we're getting full value for the money we work to earn.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capital

AUSTIN -- Gov. John Connally says Texas is making a lot of progress on civil rights without demonstrations and disturbances. He urged Texas to avoid the trouble which is plaguing other states.

Roy Evans, secretary of Texas State AFL-CIO, indicated mass demonstrations are needed in Lower Rio Grande Valley to improve working conditions of Mexican workers. Connally commented such statements are irresponsible and inflammatory.

Governor also rejected labor's appeal for a special session of the Legislature to abolish right-to-work law and enact state minimum wage, saying he saw "no need, emergency or desirability" for such a session.

Evans said labor's traditional role is to try to inflame people against injustice, and he intends to keep on trying to do that. QUICK CHANGE -- From one of the unpaid boss jobs to a $16,500-a-year assistantship is the story of Dr. J. B. Copeland of San Antonio.

When the Legislature created the new job of deputy commissioner of the Health Department, Dr. Copeland resigned as chairman of the State Board of Health to accept the job of deputy commissioner. He had been Board Chairman for the past ten years.

Governor Connally named Dr. N. L. Barker of Paris to replace Dr. Copeland. He reappointed Dr. Elmer Baum of Austin and named Dr. John M. Smith of San Antonio and I. D. Flores of Floresville, a pharmacist, to the Board of Health.

APPOINTMENTS -- Connally made other appointments. Among them: S. A. Kerr of Huntsville and Dr. Joe A. Nelson of Weatherford, reappointments, and David A. Kimbell, Wichita Falls, to the board of regents of North Texas State University.

Ed Minor of Austin and W. R. Whitten, Fort Worth, to State Board of Pharmacy. Sister Mary Brian Sherry of San Antonio and Mrs. Martha McClellan Davis, Beaumont, to Board of Nurse Examiners.

Dr. Richard T. Weber of Austin and Dr. James E. Makins, Lubbock, to Board of Dental Examiners. Judge Otis Dunagan of Tyler, former Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs and Judge James H. Moore, Nacogdoches, to the new 12th Court of Civil Appeals at Tyler.

Judge Stephen F. Preslar, McCamey, to the 8th Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, replacing Justice Jim Langdon, whom he had named to the Railroad Commission.

Charles Sherrill, Fort Stockton, to replace Preslar as district judge. Judge Howard P. Green of Cuero, Paul Nye of Corpus Christi and T. Gilbert Sharpe, Brownsville, to the new 13th Court of Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi.

Mayor Joe E. Kelly, Victoria, to replace Green as district judge. Eugene R. Hoyt of Orange, Jack Pierce of Nacogdoches, Warren P. Cunningham Jr. of Houston, Arthur C. Lesh Jr., Houston, as district judges.

Ward R. Burke of Lufkin, Dr. George Andrew Constant of Victoria and C. E. (Sonny) Bentley, Abilene, to Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools. George Christian of Austin, who was administrative assistant to former Gov. Price Daniel, as Governor's press secretary, replacing Wilbur Evans, who went back to sports press relations.

Clay Cotten, longtime attorney for State Insurance Department, as State Liquidator to succeed C. H. Langdeau, who is retiring due to ill health.

LOANS -- Frank Miskell of Austin, who headed up the Texas Legislature's studies on the loan shark problem, will be the administrator of the new law which regulates licensed lenders.

Miskell was chosen by the State Finance Commission to be the first Regulatory Loan Commissioner. He will assume his new duties on August 23. DRY AND WET -- Texas is spotted with drought and flood points.

Texas Water Commission found that reservoirs declined a little in June. They wound up the month 76 per cent full, so there's room to store more floods when and if they come. In general, Northeast Texas reservoirs are full, while those in South Texas are shrinking.

ROADS -- Highway construction is one thing dry weather helps. State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer reported that contractors on state-federal projects completed $24,073,319 worth of work during June. But there's plenty yet to do. They hold contracts which total $382,872,803 and another $25,000,000 worth of contracts will be issued this week.

DO FENCE THEM IN -- Texas Highway Department has endorsed the idea of building

"median rails" on busy urban expressways.

Rails -- heavy-duty fences which keep traffic from careening into opposite lanes -- have been or will be installed on expressways around Houston, Fort Worth and Austin.

Also under development by highway engineers is a woven-wire mesh fence -- similar to backyard chain-link jobs -- to reduce headlight glare and to prevent pedestrians from crossing the freeways.

OIL HOLDS UP -- Despite recommendations by several major oil buying firms that Texas production be cut in August, the Railroad Commission held the line.

Production will continue at the July rate of 28.5% of capability of the wells. Independents praised the action. HIGHER EDUCATION -- Texas Committee on Education Beyond the High School has selected one of its members as paid executive director.

He is Dr. A. B. Martin, president of Amarillo Junior College. He will coordinate all staff work for the big study. Committee has one year to finish its study and report to the Governor and Legislature.

SADLER ACTIVE -- Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler continues to be much in the news. Sadler disagreed with Governor Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr on seriousness of a state-federal dispute on reclaimed lands in the tides-lands; swapped hot wires with ex-Sen. Bob Baker after Baker accused him of impeding Padre Island Seashore project and insisted that Carr get Supreme Court concurrence on Carr's ruling that a new law reorganizing the School Land Board is valid.

POLLUTION QUESTION -- Texas Water Pollution Control Board granted a permit to discharge thousands of gallons of "treated effluent" into the waters of Copano and Aransas Bays in connection with plans for a big new resort motel and marina at Lamar Townsite, Aransas County.

Objections voiced at public hearings led to the Commission's action in instructing backers of the project -- American Liberty Oil Company -- to extend the point of discharge 500 feet farther out into the bay area.

STATE SCHOOL -- Dr. James Turman, Director of the Texas Youth Council, defended his council's action in either

Completes Training Highlights -- In California

Marine Private 1st class Michael C. O'Hair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O'Hair, Route 1, Farwell, recently completed "lock-on" training with the second battalion, seventh Marine Regiment, first Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Lock-on is the name given to a six-week period of intensive training which progresses from basic tactics of the fire team and squad to the complex maneuvers of the company and battalion.

Infantry battalions of the First Marine Division periodically undergo this training to bring new infantrymen up to combat-ready standards. During this period of intensive training the men receive instruction and practice in scouting, patrolling, counter-guerilla warfare and helicopter movements. The Marine also fire flame throwers, mortars and rocket launchers.

firing -- or retiring -- Superintendent O. F. Perry of Gatesville State School.

Perry and his supporters claim too much interference from Austin, too little discipline of boys. Youth Council denies this, contends policy differences caused the dismissal.

M. B. Kendrick was named to replace Perry.

SHORT SNORTS -- Texas Game and Fish Commission, Department of Public Welfare, Board of Plumbing Examiners, Board of Professional Engineers, Board of Pardons and Paroles, Department of Agriculture, Department of Banking, and Building Commission are moving into the new John H. Reagan State Office Building.

Dr. Dorman Winfrey, Director of the Texas State Library, announced that the Val Verde County Library, recognized in December as one of the "Ten Best Small Libraries in the U. S.," also has been cited for its "top-flight public relations program."

Fourteen Accidents Reported In County

The Highway Patrol investigated 14 rural traffic accidents in Parmer County during the month of June according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

Visit In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Langford were in Shawnee, Okla., over the weekend where they visited in the home of their son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Delvin Langford.

They returned their daughter, Carolyn, who has been visiting in the home of her brother for the past two weeks, to her home.

A New Yorker named Walter Hunt invented the safety pin in just a few hours one day in 1846, reports World Book Encyclopedia, when he twisted a piece of wire into the familiar shape still used today. The people of Italy, however, are believed to have used similar devices as long ago as 2,000 B. C.

These wrecks accounted for six persons injured and an estimated property damage in the amount of $11,028.

The Sergeant stated that this brings the total for the year thus far in Parmer County to 62 accidents that claimed one life, injured 18 people and caused property damage of $31,742.

For a comparison, the Patrol Supervisor pointed to accidents in this County for the first six months of 1962 that accounted for three deaths, 33 injuries, and property damage of $33,275.00.

"Prior to July 1, there had been a total of 941 fatal accidents in Texas," Sergeant Wells said, "That took the lives of 1136 persons."

"As the year is over half gone, there are definite indications that traffic deaths will hit an all-time high in 1963. Motorcycles at this time are over 100 more than at the same time last year," the Sergeant said, "If we continue to take lives at the present rate, 1963 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities. Considering the trend of increased accidents and casualties, we have every reason to expect that traffic deaths will exceed the previous all-time high in Texas of 2611 in 1956."

"Only 191 more deaths in

Pvt. Gammon At Fort Polk

Army National Guard Pvt. John H. Gammon Jr., whose parents live on Route 1, Friona, is scheduled to complete eight weeks of advanced infantry training under the Reserve-Forces Act program at Fort Polk, La., August 9.

Gammon is receiving instruction in rifle squad tactics, infantry communications and escape and evasion.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Lazbuddie High School and a 1963 graduate of Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, Okla. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

1963 than in 1962 will make a total of 2612 deaths, an all-time high and an increase for the year of eight per cent over 1962. Deaths this year have consistently been in excess of eight per cent over 1962.

The Patrol Sergeant stated, "This is not just a probability, it is fairly certain to become a reality unless the motoring public becomes more thoughtful in regard to complying with all traffic laws which would break the trend."

Cpl. Gilreath Is In England

Marine Corporal Boyd M. Gilreath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd L. Gilreath of Bovina, reported, June 11 to the headquarters of the Commander in Chief, Naval Forces, Europe in London, England.

He has been assigned to the Marine Detachment.

A graduate of Bovina High School, Gilreath entered the service in September 1960.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Up in Arkansas at that great fishing lake called Bull Shoals there is an unusual man.

Formerly he was a Chicago executive. Then one day he decided he wanted to become a perpetual fisherman. So Sam Welch moved to the Ozarks and began fishing.

While he was on fishing trips his wife got lonesome. So she took a school job. It wasn't long until neighbors began to talk. They characterized Sam Welch as a fishing bum whose wife had to make the living.

To save his reputation he had to do something. So he organized the fishing camps around Bull Shoals and became their publicity man. His job now is to check the fishing catches and send the data (via a weekly bulletin) to newspapers and radio-TV stations.

Naturally this information needs verifying. So several times a week he samples the water himself. A bit of laboratory work, you know.

When a man likes to fish so well, and is so good at it, he also becomes a philosopher. For instance in one of his recent bulletins Sam said:

"Legends are usually associated with events of an historical nature, going back over considerable passage of time. The Bull Shoals impoundment has been in existence only since 1952, but already rumors of legendary bass of Bull Shoals Lake often become a topic of discussion when big bass men get together.

"Obviously, every bass that breaks a line and goes its way with a minimum or maximum display of strength doesn't fall into the category of super-lunkers.

"For these occurrences are commonplace from one end of the impoundment to the other. What then, is the distinguishing characteristic that puts one bass far ahead of others... that separates the chaff from the wheat, or the men from the boys as far as brute strength and fishing ability are concerned?

"It is the lunger that defies capture, not once but often.

And one that is fought by experienced veterans who specialize in big bass fishing.

"There are lots of men, and some women, in this category on Bull Shoals Lake. Naturally, quite a few of them are guides, but others of equal competence have emerged over the years and have built reputations that land them in the weekly box score with considerable regularity.

"Undoubtedly every reporting area of the Lake Association has one or more of these legendary bass in its lunger habitats. I don't have sufficient information about all of them, however, so will have to confine these paragraphs to a couple that I have heard about most frequently. They are indeed something special.

"One of these super-lunkers has been a resident of a pocket along a rocky bluff bank near a point on the main channel. He has been hooked on jigs, spinner-lures and live bait. But to no avail as far as landing was concerned.

"One angler--estimates him at 15 pounds or better. But it is seldom indeed that this largemouth is ever seen. He takes to the branches of submerged trees and racks up another line on the many limbs... At last accounts he was still indulging in his favorite hobby -- collecting moments.

"Lunker No. 2 is certainly as powerful, if not more so. He resides about midway along a steep, ledgy bank in the immediate vicinity of a deep drop-off.

"When I contacted him he zipped off the line (totally unmindful of the hard-set drag on the reel) until he reached his sanctuary... a sunken tree of better than average size.

"This bass is a master at breaking off lures, and he has the strength to reach his citadel no matter how far away he may be at the time he feels the hook.

"Unless he dies of old age he will continue to raise the hackle of those who know his whereabouts every time they make a cast in his domain.

"The largest bass ever taken from the impoundment was a 13 lb. 4 oz. largemouth caught by Marvin Bushong in April, 1961. According to the scale reading, this lunger was going into its ninth year of life, indicating it had been around a full eight years, or thereabouts. Which meant that it took on weight at approximately 1 1/2 pounds annually. Another 11-9 bass... bloomed into obesity at the rate of almost 2 pounds per year. The impoundment is almost 11 years old. So there should be some largemouth bass weighing 17 pounds or more... in that lake, and still others larger that were river bass of seven pounds or better when the reservoir was created.

"So little wonder there's talk of legendary bass in Bull Shoals. It seems to be fully justified.

HAIL DELAYED CROPS

Bovina Vegetable Harvest Begins; Crops Are Late

Gateway Produce Company in Bovina began packing operations Monday, but the bulk of its operations will not begin for another week or two, since the vegetable harvest is later than usual this year.

Vegetable growers in the "heart of Farmer County" were hard hit by hail and exceptional amounts of rain during June, and most of the vegetables were wiped out, having to be replanted at a late date.

"We had 780 acres of vegetables up to a good stand around Bovina in June, but hail ruined all but about 200 acres," said Mario Trevino, Gateway's plant manager.

"This has been our worst year for getting the crops started since Gateway located in Bovina in 1958," Trevino said. "Usually by the latter part of June we're ready to begin harvest operations on some crops. This year we were still planting at that time," he added.

As a result of the hail, this year's cantaloupe crop, annually the company's big money commodity, was cut to 250 acres, as opposed to 400 acres last year. The company had cut the crop to 325 acres to start with, and late hail caused another 75 acres not to be replanted to cantaloupes.

vegetables were some cabbage, a small acreage of cantaloupes and peppers.

With the cantaloupe acreage down, growers have increased or substituted their acreage with sweet corn, which totals 450 acres in the area. Other major crops include 200 acres of cabbage, 200 in cucumbers, 75 acres of peppers, and an additional 100 acres of mixed vegetables.

Included in the minor vegetable crops are turnips, red beets, squash, eggplant, parsley, green onions and mustard greens.

The packing company was scheduled to begin processing cabbage and cucumbers on Monday of this week. If the weather cooperates and the crops mature as expected, Gateway will begin packing corn, turnips, squash and beets on Monday, July 29.

By Monday, August 5, the remaining crops, including cantaloupes, should be ready for processing. "By then, we hope to be processing 14 or 15 items," Trevino said.

The company officials hope that the Farmer County vegetable crop will turn out good, due to crop failures to their operations in the Rio Grande Valley.

"It has been a hard year on vegetables all year, just as it has been on other crops," Trevino said. He pointed out that when Farmer County wheat was hurt by sub-zero freezing weather last winter, the Rio Grande Valley also received a couple of freezes, which spelled the loss of some 500 acres of melons belonging to Gateway, as it was too late to replant them.

Farmers with large plots of sweet corn include James Boardman, 75 acres; Ray Landrum (near Friona), 60 acres; Robert Pegram, 50 acres; Marlin Ferguson, 50 acres; Arlan Hartzog, 40 acres; Bud Crump, 30 acres; and Lawrence Jamerson, 30 acres.

Gateway Produce has 106 acres adjacent to its packing house, planted to cantaloupes, cabbage, cucumbers and mixed vegetables.

Some of the other larger vegetable plots are distributed as follows: cabbage -- Boardman, 40 acres; John Lorenz, 40 acres; and Mark Charles, 20 acres; cucumbers -- Boardman and Lorenz, 40 acres; Tom Caldwell and Ferguson, 35 acres. The main pepper growers include Wendol Christian, Ferguson and Caldwell.

The Texas spring pig crop totaled 612,000 head, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This number is 15 per cent below last spring's crop, and the number of sows farrowed was 90,000 or 13 per cent lower than in the spring of 1962. A further decrease in the pig crop was caused by a drop in the average size litter from 6.9 in 1962 to 6.8 this spring.

CROP SPRAYING

Now is the time to check your fields for Midge in your late heading sorghum. Aerial spraying is the fastest and most economical way of combating them. For all types of aerial crop spraying think of Ol'e Elvie at Benger Air Park.

Choose a company with long years of experience in the aerial spraying business. One that has proven its ability to get the job done and to produce the results you want in your fields.

Parr's Onions Tops; Spud Harvest Goes Mechanical

Bruce Parr Produce Company has just completed processing what Parr terms an "exceptional" onion crop, and is in the third week of processing potatoes, which he says aren't "up to Parr" this year.

The produce company 10 miles east of Friona has "gone mechanical" with its potato harvest this year, with a new mechanical digger-loading machine, which has eliminated about 50 per cent of the labor problem connected with harvesting potatoes.

Under conventional potato harvest methods, a crew of from 50 to 60 field workers are needed, along with another six or eight to load the trucks. With the machine, just a handful of men are needed, and the trucks are loaded as the potatoes are dug.

The elimination of the extra laborers also cuts down on the accompanying housing problem, Parr points out.

Another advantage of machine-loading the spuds, is that they can be dug through the heat of the day, rather than just at morning and evening, without the danger of "burning," which occurs if they lay in the field.

"You have very little control over the potato harvest under the old method," Parr said. "This way you can schedule it to suit yourself."

At the first of the week, the company lacked just a few sacks of onions having the 1963 crop sold and shipped out. The onions were of excellent quality, with practically no cullage, and a good market was realized.

"We came within the skin of our teeth of losing our onion crop," Parr said. He pointed out that if the crop had received another quarter inch of moisture at the critical period, they would have been ruined.

As it was, the onions turned out to be the best in years, the dry harvesting conditions were ideal and there was a good market.

Parr had seven and one-half acres of onions, and harvested 300,000 pounds, or 40,000 pounds per acre. "We experimented with some three-row beds in our onions, and they turned out pretty good," Parr said.

The produce company processed and shipped its own onions this year for the first time. It has been processing potatoes for several years, but this is the first time that the onions were handled "at home."

In the processing shed, Parr has installed other labor-saving devices, to keep abreast of the constant labor pinch. He has special attachments to hand trucks which allow the loaders to load as much as 900 pounds of potatoes per load, then unload the attachment, which stands in place with its load, awaiting shipment.

Parr's processing plant is under the direction of Tom Gonzales, a native of Hereford, who with his family makes up the entire processing crew.

"Tom has been helping me since 1956. I'd be lost without him and his family," Parr says.

Parr has 165 acres of potatoes this year, and still has about 125 acres to be harvested. So far, the spuds have yielded about 180 sacks per acre. "We've had no trouble delivering the potatoes, but they're just not as good as we're used to," he says. "Compared to other areas, though, they may not be so bad," he adds.

Parr's company packs its number one potatoes under the "Kim" brand, named for his eight-year-old son. His number two potatoes are sacked under the "Parmer County Potatoes" label, and his specialty spuds bear an Angus in the foreground, with the Parr brand, a neat three-color printed on bright burlap.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Farm Safety Week has been promoted by Farm Bureau and other farm organizations for many years. Farmers have a hazardous occupation compared to most others, as indicated by the accident rate on farms. Most farm accidents, like other accidents, could probably have been prevented if the victims had not been careless for an instant. In the operation of some equipment, or in the handling of livestock.

Farm Safety Week is just about over now, and we hope safety promotion by news media, individuals, clubs and everyone interested may contribute to a safer year of farming than we have seen before.

THE "Loyalty Pledge", promulgated by the USDA in March of this year, requiring ASC county committeemen to sign a pledge to support farm programs they must administer, was rescinded on July 11, 1963. ASC committeemen will now be required to pledge that they will faithfully, fairly, and honestly perform their duties to the best of their ability. This is a reasonable pledge to be required in any place of public service.

H. R. 3669 by Harris, of Arkansas, and S. 774 by Humphrey, of Minnesota, to amend anti-trust laws to authorize manufacturers to fix resale prices, called a "Quality Stabilization" bill are being considered by House and Senate Commerce Committees in Washington. Farm Bureau Opposes these proposals, and we would think nearly any consumer would oppose them. Competition, which gives the consumer a choice of retailers, depending upon the best price for a given item, would be out of the picture with this kind of law. Some states operate under this type of law now, and dealers are subject to fines and prison sentences if they sell under the prescribed price.

Gideons are prohibited from distributing Bibles in the schools of Orange County, Florida. Nine taxpayers in the county objected on the grounds that "distribution of the Bible, provided by Gideons International, violated the teachings, tenets and principles of the religious faiths of some of the taxpayers". The District Court of Appeals was upheld by the Florida Supreme Court "in view of the recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court concerning Bible reading". It seems that predictions by some so-called

On The Farm In Farmer County

By DERYL COKER
County Agent

Everyone at the present time is concerned about the Sorghum Midge, and it is something we should know about, but not get alarmed about.

There is a possibility now that we could have Sorghum Midge in our grain sorghum in the months of August and September.

The Sorghum Midge is probably the worst insect that attacks grain sorghum, and the insect is present in nearly all southern states.

If you examine a head of sorghum or other host plant while it is in the bloom, you may see many of the small, orange-colored midges crawling over the spikelets. These midges are laying their eggs in the spikelets or seed husks. Pinch the spikelets a few days later and you will crush the small maggots that have hatched from the eggs. In a week or two after the plants have bloomed you will find the seeds dark and shriveled and containing the small orange-colored larvae or pupae of the midge.

The injury to sorghum grain by the sorghum midge is done by the larvae, or maggots, which feed on the juices of the developing seed, causing them to dry up and become discolored. The infested grain heads appear blighted or blasted; they resemble sterile heads and produce practically no grain. An infestation of one larva per spikelet is sufficient to cause the loss of the grain. Blighted heads, however, may be due to lack of fertilization or some other cause.

No variety of sorghum has yet shown any great resistance to the attacks of the sorghum midge. The insect readily infests all varieties of the sorghums, sorgos (sweetsor-ghums), broomcorn, Johnson-grass, and Sudangrass. Purple-top, a wild grass plentiful in many of the Southern and Eastern States, is sometimes infested. Apparently the midge does not breed extensively in any other native wild grasses.

Serious injury to a field of sorghum does not occur unless there is a nearby infestation from which an influx of female midges may come. Johnson-grass, when allowed to head, provides an excellent place for development of the midge. It blooms very early, thus permitting the individuals first emerging to breed and increase in numbers before the sorghum fields come into bloom. Midges continue to breed throughout the season in Johnson-grass, thereby making it a constant source of infestation to blooming sorghum fields.

Fields of early sorghum from which midges are emerging are serious sources of infestation to adjacent fields that come into bloom later.

Volunteer and early-blooming host plants may develop in a field some time before the main crop comes into bloom. These early heads are usually heavily infested and may provide an infestation for the remainder of the field.

Midges may fly a considerable distance from an infested field to fields of other host plants which are in bloom, especially with the help of the wind, which is an important factor in their dispersion. Practically all-spread is in the direction of the prevailing winds.

At Home In Farmer County

By CRICKET B. TAYLOR

Many growing families have chosen plastic upholstery because it is very practical and easy to care for, yet there are problems even with this especially with white or very light plastic.

Plastic Upholstery facts. Vinyl plastic fabrics on upholstered furniture, headboards, stools, hassocks, and the like, may look fragile -- but one sure thing is, they aren't. They shed spilled liquids, resist dirt, and are hard to scuff. They also resist many kinds of stains, though not all. Moreover, dirt can get ground into the grain of the plastics, when they've had long, hard use, to a point where sudsy-water wiping isn't enough.

Solution for stubborn dirt. For ground-in dirt, use a heavy concentration (very sudsy) of regular laundering detergent, and a medium bristled brush. Apply a pool of suds--one-half cup or so -- to an area of the plastic, scrub briskly with the brush, and wipe up the soil and suds with a clean bath towel. Rinse, polish-dry with another towel.

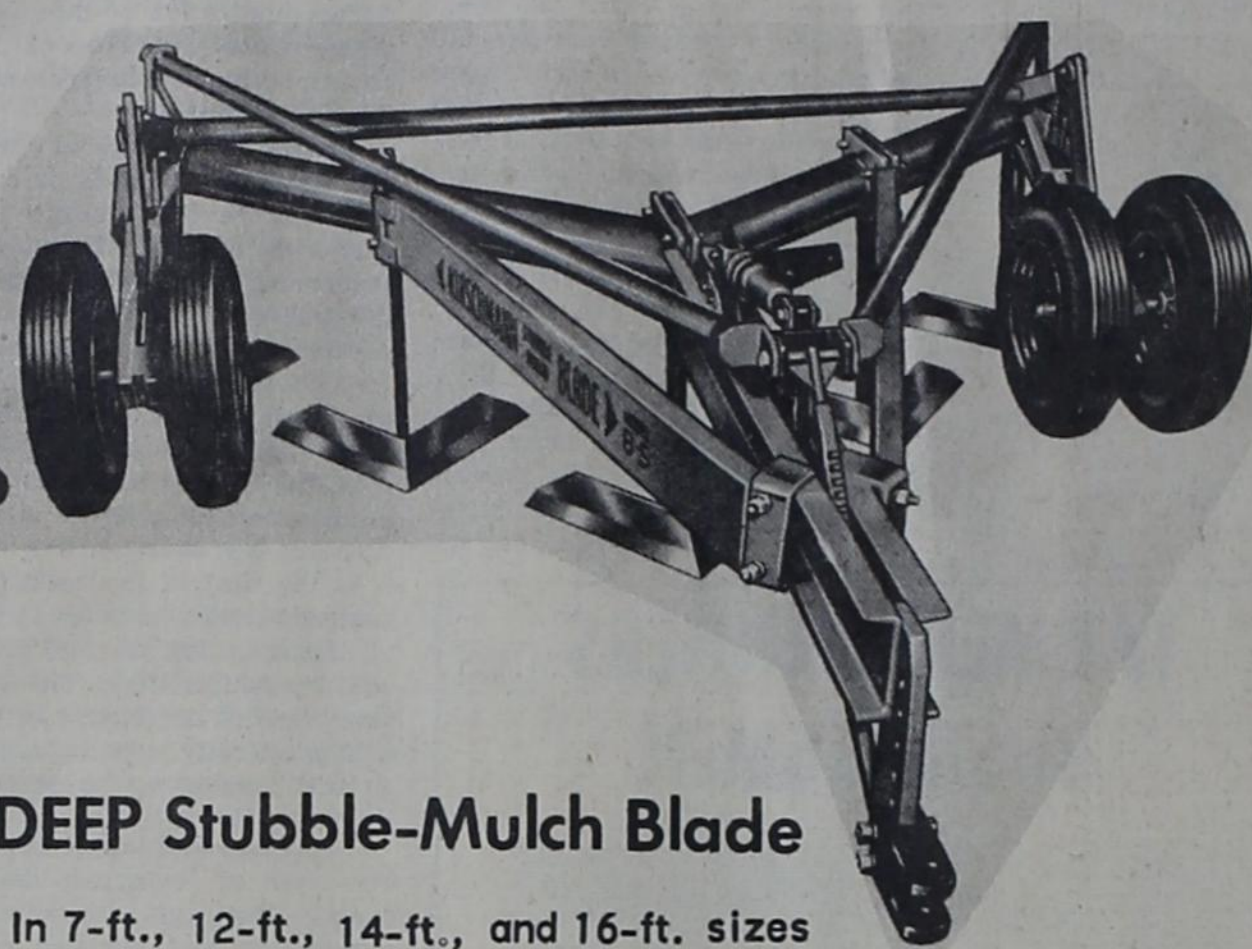

Coping with Stains. Particular troublemakers for vinyl fabrics are shoe polish, paint, ballpoint ink, nail polish and polish remover. Treat as promptly as possible. Note: Rinse plastic after using a stain remover.

For shoe polish (or heel marks): Sponge lightly with cleaning fluid. Paint: Sponge with turpentine. Ballpoint ink: Using rubbing alcohol. Nail polish use polish remover: Blot well, and sponge with cleaning fluid. Brownish stains: These result from contact with products containing sulfur. To remove, saturate a clean cloth with 6 per cent solution of hydrogen peroxide (from a drug store), then place on area for 30 minutes or as long as overnight.
