

Members of the local Jaycees, along with members of the Farwell board of education and FFA boys, were at the FFA barns early Friday morning to begin clean-up operations. Members of the Jaycees are sponsoring an extensive clean-up and remodeling campaign and are asking the cooperation of all interested persons. Anyone interested in helping with the project is asked to contact a member of the organization. First two pictures show some of the rubbish which had been piled up ready for burning or to be hauled away from the barns. In the third picture are shown members of the organization cleaning the inside of an old barracks building at the FFA grounds, in preparation for installing a new ceiling and partitions.

Jaycees To Repair Farwell FFA Barns

Members of the Jaycees, newly organized civic organization in the Twin Cities along with members of the board of education and several FFA boys were busy at the high school FFA barns over the weekend clearing away some of the rubbish which has collected at the barns through the years. The club hopes with the assistance of other civic organizations and interested town residents to completely repair and remodel the barns.

Present plans call for the old barns to be torn down and new modern barns, of concrete blocks to be built. With such facilities the FFA Department would be able to sponsor livestock shows and house their stock properly.

Jaycees have been organized only a few months locally and this is their first major project. They sponsored an auction sale a few months ago to begin raising funds for the project and are planning other fund raising projects in the future.

Texico Dogs Still Worry Council

Chief item discussed by the Texico town council when it met in regular session Friday afternoon was the dog situation in the city which still poses a big problem.

Several persons in the town are not complying with the city ordinance which states that all dogs in the town must be immunized against rabies and licensed, and also must be kept on the home premises.

Repeated warnings have been issued to town residents and a final warning is being issued this week that unless persons comply with the town ordinance they will have their dog impounded and guilty parties hauled into court to answer to the charges. Fine for not obeying the ordinance is set at $100.

City fathers authorized the construction of pressure switches and by-passes on the water and sewer extensions now under construction.

A contract was signed between town fathers and Eloy Doran, Clovis, wherein Doran will take over the duties of disposing of the town trash and garbage, effective June 1. Doran, although a resident of Clovis, plans to move to Texico in the near future. He will replace the Jones Brothers, who resigned last month.

The resignation of Mrs. C. A. Tunnell, as assistant to the city clerk, was accepted and became effective Friday. Also a replacement is being sought for Mrs. Juanita Autrey, town clerk who plans to leave the town offices soon. Persons desiring to apply for the job are asked to come by the town hall or contact Mayor W. D. Howard, Jr.

Man Struck By Lightning

A bolt of lightning from gathering storm clouds struck Gabriel Chavez, 23-year-old farm hand on the Glenn Kelley farm, Monday afternoon, rendering him unconscious and leaving him in a critical condition.

Kelley, who had just gone into the field where Chavez was working to call him in out of the storm, arrived in time to see him slump in the tractor seat. Kelley jumped onto the tractor, which was in fourth gear and stopped it. He pulled Chavez from the tractor and massaged him until help arrived.

A Clovis ambulance arrived soon and took the man to a Clovis hospital where he was placed under oxygen. He was apparently hit just behind the right ear as evidence of a large gash and burns to the right arm were apparent.

Kelley remained with Chavez through the night and says that at times the man evidently almost regained consciousness as he cried out at intervals. He appeared calmer when Kelley spoke to him.

Chavez has been working on the Kelley farm since January. He is married and the father of two children.

No late report was available on his condition at press time.

Christiansity Is The Bulwark of Our Way of Life

Have you ever asked yourself the question, "What does the Bible say concerning the judgement of others?" I believe that it is important today to consider what God's written word has to say about it.

WHICH CHURCH DID CHRIST BUILD?

Jesus said, "Upon this rock I will build MY church." (Matt. 16:18). Christ came into the world to build HIS church. Hence, a plurality of congregations in New Testament times were called "churches of Christ."

To understand which church Christ built, we need to understand the meaning of the word "church." It refers to the people who are "called out" from sin, having separated themselves from the world by having their sins forgiven.

Members of Texico Firemen's Auxillary and invited guests met in the home of Mrs. Russell Johnson Monday evening for a short business session and book review. Mrs. Fred Danforth reviewed the book "The Triumph of Janis Babson" by Lawrence Elliott. The book tells the story of eight-year-old Janis, who wished to will her eyes to some worthy person upon her death, which she assumed would be far in the future. Only a few months after the conversation with her mother she discovered that she was a victim of leukemia. The story tells of her fight to become better from the dread disease and finally of her last will, in which her eyes were willed to an eye bank in Toronto. When the knowledge of the little girl's will became public, a fund for leukemia research was set up in her honor and many contributions were made to the eye banks throughout the world in her memory. Plans were made by club members to send three members, Mmes. Russell Johnson, C. H. Webb and Perry Winkles, to the state Fireman's Auxillary convention in Alamogordo June 3-5. The ladies will be accompanied by their husbands who will attend the Fireman's convention. Mrs. Johnson served refreshments of brownies and lemonade to Mmes. John Adams, Perry Winkles, Fred Danforth and C. H. Webb, members, and Mmes. Avis Patterson, Elward Combs, Claude Dyer, Jack Wardlow and Jim Moss, guests.

JOTTIN'S By Jeanne

The Grahams were surprised this week when we had a note from Darlene Van Winkle, the former Darlene Sprawls, and learned that she lives in Alamogordo. We had attended the New Mexico conference of the Methodist Church there and didn't expect to see any one we knew, so we weren't so observant as we could have been, I suppose. Darlene sang the solo for the music one evening of the service, but was seated with the choir members, and neither of the Grahams realized who she was. It was a large church and filled to capacity, but we were seated fairly close to the front that evening. We're still amazed that we didn't recognize her. We had taken 2-year-old Andy with us, and a photographer had taken his picture at the laymen's banquet Tuesday evening with the photo appearing in the Wednesday edition of the paper. Darlene noticed the picture and was looking for us at the service. She said she had us located, but couldn't get through the crowd before we were gone. Anyway, since we didn't have the visit that we could have had, we did enjoy the letter from Darlene. Her friends here would be interested in knowing that her husband is the band director at Alamogordo. They moved there from Tucumcari a year ago. Duane Sprawls, her brother, still resides in Beaumont and he and his wife have two daughters and a son. Mr. Sprawls and his wife still live in Oklahoma. The Van Winkles have two children, a son, 5 1/2, and a daughter, 3. Darlene teaches piano each day and remarked about the years past when she was student of Mrs. W. W. Vineyard.

Coffee Honors Mrs. Stoffer

Mrs. Pat Stoffer was honored with an informal farewell coffee by den mothers of Cub Scout pack 201 Wednesday evening. Mrs. Stoffer, who has served as a den mother, moved to Kansas Friday. Held in the home of Mrs. M. A. Snider Jr., coffee and cookies were served. Attending were Mesdames Ray Campbell, Elmer Hargrove and W. H. Graham. Mrs. Stoffer was presented with a large handbag.

Local Girl Selected At ENMU

A local girl, Valeria Meier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meier, Texico, was selected as the outstanding girl by Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority at ENMU this year. She was presented with the Mary Harrell Award at the presentation of awards to senior, faculty and outstanding women students at a breakfast in De Baca Residence Hall early this week. Ruth Wheeler, registrar, gained recognition as the faculty woman of the year, Diana Long Culbertson, Carlisbad, was named senior woman of the year.

Attend Graduation

Mrs. W. H. Graham and sons were in Silverton Thursday evening to attend eighth grade graduation services. Miss Connie Dudley, valedictorian of the class, is a sister of Mrs. Graham. The local people returned home Friday. Toy soldiers were first made in 3000 B.C.

STUDENTS' PLANTIVE CRY: "WHAT SHALL I DO"?

With the closing of school in Texico last week came the plaintive cry from the 24 boys and girls who are finishing high school, "What Shall I Do?"

Georgia Lambert, salutatorian of the group, plans to enter business school in Lubbock in the fall and take a course in typing and bookkeeping. She was a member of FHA and co-editor of the school annual her senior year.

Col. John M. Hightower

He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the regular Army following his graduation from New Mexico State University in 1940. During the second World War he was a battalion commander in the 23rd Infantry Regiment in Europe.

After returning from Europe

he was an instructor at West Point, one of the two men who are not graduates of the school to be so honored. In 1948 he served with General Headquarters of the Far East Command in Tokyo and from there went to Korea in 1951, where he commanded the 32nd Infantry Regiment.

After the Korean War, Col. Hightower was director of instruction at Ft. Benning; served with Headquarters Allied Forces in Europe and was a member of the Strategic Survey Council under the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Prior to going to Taiwan he served for a period of time at the Pentagon.

His decorations include the distinguished service cross, legion of merit with one oak leaf cluster, silver star with two oak leaf clusters, purple heart with two oak leaf clusters and the bronze medal with one oak leaf cluster.

General Hightower was accompanied to Taiwan in 1962 by his wife, the former Lois Dunkel, also a graduate of New Mexico State University and two of his three children. An older daughter is a sophomore at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces.

Buildings Designated For Civil Defense

Nine structures in Parmer County have been designated as Civil Defense structures, and will soon be stocked with provisions for use in time of emergency, according to County Judge Loyde Brewer.

The structures have been surveyed, and an estimate placed on the number of people each could hold in the event of an emergency situation.

They are, with capacity in parenthesis: Farwell Elementary School (80); Sherley Grain Company, Bovina (1,000); Sherley-Anderson Grain Company, Lariat (772); Sherley-Anderson - Pitman Grain Company, Farwell (336); Worley Grain Company, Farwell (480); Tri-County Elevator, Black (68); Black Grain Company (350); Friona Wheat Growers (630) and Continental Grain Company in Friona (108).

Brewer said that the structures would be stocked with non-perishable provisions, although he did not know when the provisions would arrive.

The Federal Civil Defense authorities are shipping the provisions to counties, who in turn must distribute them.

U.S. Injury Toll Hits 45 Million

Approximately one-fourth of this country's population—or an average of 45-million Americans—are sidelined by injuries each year, a federal government survey shows.

Leading the list of mishaps are falls, which injure about 12 million persons annually. Accidents involving moving motor vehicles account for only 2.89 million of the injured, compared with the 4.1 million persons who are "struck by a moving object" such as a stone and the 3.48 million persons injured from having "bumped into an object or person."

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Good-nough had as their guest Sunday, their son N.J. of Lubbock. He was also checking on his farm in this area.

Funeral services were conducted in Brownfield, Thursday for Mrs. J. D. McDonald, mother of J. H. McDonald, Farwell and grandmother of Don and J. J. McDonald of Lazbuddie.

Plans Completed For Band School

Plans are nearing completion for the annual McMurray College Band and twirling school which will open July 14 and will last through July 27.

The school, described as one of the biggest, most colorful, and most faithfully attended events of the college year, attracts teachers and students from throughout Texas.

Last year more than 500 students from 81 cities were in attendance at the school, which has some of the most outstanding teachers and twirlers in Texas for its faculty.

Students of instruments, twirling and drum-majoring are encouraged to register for the school immediately to assure attendance.

Full information and registration blanks are available upon request from the office of Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, director of the school.

REV. LEROY LOOPER

held pastorates in Lawton, Okla., Glen Rose and Lipan, Tex. before coming to Tulla.

He was born in Cleburne in 1926 and was reared in that city. He entered the ministry in 1950 after attending college for three years. His home church is at Godley.

Mrs. Looper received a degree in elementary education at the May 26 commencement exercises at West Texas State.

The Texico church has been without the services of a regular pastor since the resignation of Rev. Orvel Brantley, who moved to Anton in February. Rev. Harvey Hudnall has been serving the church as interim pastor.

County Records Traffic Fatality

Parmer County's first traffic fatality of 1963 was recorded Tuesday afternoon in a rural accident that happened just 200 yards inside the county line at the intersection of two dirt roads, five miles south and one mile east of Clay's Corner.

The victim was Clarence Robertson, Muleshoe, Negro male, about 30 years of age, who was riding with Charles Earl Moore, about 50, when the accident happened.

Moore was heading west when his 1959 model pickup - truck was hit by a 1956 pickup driven by Teodoro H. Echavarria of Route 1, Muleshoe.

The Moore vehicle was sent into a spin, and both Moore and Robertson were thrown out as the pickup overturned, according to Highway Patrolman Carroll Parker, who investigated the accident.

Robertson was dead on arrival at the West Plains Hospital in Muleshoe. Moore is in critical condition there. Echavarria's injury was apparently less severe.

Miracle Man?

We knew a service station man who claimed he knew from memory how to lubricate every make and model of 23 different cars. Never looked at a chart. Really a genius!

Trouble is most of us men operating service stations aren't geniuses. And the best way for us to lubricate a car is to follow the proven Phillips 66 method. It's a really foolproof procedure that makes it practically impossible to overlook anything.

At your Phillips 66 Station we do the job "by the book." A scientific chart is followed by rote making the chances for error nil. And we automatically include a bumper to bumper check-up of vital points, such as battery, radiator, tires, fan belt and crankcase with every lubrication job. Drive in and see us for dependable lubrication. Stop at any station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

Public Hearing On Wildlife Changes Set For Farwell

Sportsmen, landowners and others interested in wildlife conservation will have an opportunity to hear proposed hunting and fishing recommendations for the coming year at public hearings scheduled in June.

Technicians of the Game and Fish Commission will present their recommendations at meetings held in all counties presently participating in the Commission's Regulatory Authority program. These recommendations are based on actual field studies and are proposed in the interest of wildlife conservation.

Each hearing will be recorded and a summary presented to the Commissioners prior to their final regular meeting in July, when they will issue hunting and fishing proclamations for the coming season.

The public is invited to attend and participate in these hearings. Parmer County's hearing will be June 10 at the courthouse in Farwell.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

If Children's Feet Do Not Hurt But Adults' Feet Do What Is The Dividing Line?

The question sounds academic but it is really amazing how many young fathers tell us that they wore ill-fitting shoes for years with no discomfort afoot. The first symptom was pain in the knees. A fortunate few investigated the knee pain in time to prevent irreparable damage to their feet.

Girls are more fortunate. Their feet hurt earlier. The bones of girls' feet harden at an earlier age and exert more pressure on soft tissue when the feet are encased in tight shoes. This is the reason for the fact that almost all teenage girls step out of their shoes at the door.

There is no definite age when feet begin to hurt but there is plenty of proof that 99.44% of the torture endured by adult foot sufferers is the direct result of ill-fitting shoes worn in childhood.

County Voting Turnout For Referendum Tops In State

Parmer County led the state in number of voters casting ballots in last week's wheat referendum, according to preliminary figures released by the State ASCS office.

Actually, there was a tie, with both Parmer County and Collin County, in north central Texas, registering exactly the same number of votes -- 1534.

These figures were compiled before county committeemen ruled on "challenge ballots." With the checking of these ballots in Parmer County, the official votes were trimmed to 1525. The corrected vote isn't known for Collin County, so it might be more or less than Parmer's total. Collin's voters no doubt include a number of 15-acre farmers, it was observed by an ASCS official.

Parmer County would no doubt be easily "tops" in percentage of eligible voters casting ballots. It was figured that there were 1687 eligible voters for the referendum, so 90.42 per cent of these went to the polls last Tuesday.

Apparently, Hale County was third in the state for total voters, with 1408 turning out. Next came Grayson, 1330; Swisher, 1289; Deaf Smith, 1128; Castro, 1079; and Floyd, 1068.

The final tabulation in Parmer County showed 918 voting for the referendum, and 607 against, or 60.2 per cent in favor of the program. This is 6.5 per cent lower than 66.7 per cent which was needed in the nationwide totals for the referendum to carry.

Besides being a record turnout for a farm referendum in the county, it was the smallest percentage of "yes" votes ever recorded. Last year's wheat vote, which narrowly won nationwide approval, passed in Parmer County with a 73.4 per cent approval.

Only two polling places in the county gave the referendum the required two-thirds majority. Bovina led the "yes" parade with 77.3 per cent of the voters favoring the program. At Hub, where 34 persons voted, 69.8 per cent cast in favor of the program.

Near two-thirds majorities were registered at Farwell and Friona, where the same percentage, 66.2, cast ballots in favor of the program.

Biggest percentage of "no" votes came at Rhea, where the measure was defeated, 26.8, or only 23.5 per cent in favor. At Clay's Corner, the per cent favoring the program was only 35.7. At Oklahoma Lane, balloting was all even, with 34 favoring the program and 34 against.

Some of the voting results in other districts revealed the following information (there are 20 districts in the state): No votes were cast in District 20. Only 18 votes were cast in District 19, and all were opposed to the program. Only two votes were cast in District 16, both favoring the program.

At Clay's Corner, the per cent favoring the program was only 35.7. At Oklahoma Lane, balloting was all even, with 34 favoring the program and 34 against.

The state as a whole voted 44.8 per cent in favor of the program. District One, of which Parmer County is a part, went in favor by a 56.1 percentage. District Two, embracing North Plains counties, had only 40.8 per cent "yes" votes, and District Three, comprised of counties directly south of Parmer County, had a favorable vote of 49.7 per cent.

Hailed-Out Wheat Cannot Be Termed Diverted Acres

Hailed-out wheat acreage will not qualify for diverted acreage, according to an announcement this week from the Parmer County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

"We have had a number of questions concerning the use that may be made of wheat acreage that was recently lost to hail damage and we felt that we should advise everyone that this acreage will not be eligible for consideration as diverted acreage under the 1963 wheat or feed grain program," said Prentice Mills, office manager of the Parmer County ASCS.

This acreage has already been classified as wheat acreage for 1963, and may not be reclassified after May 1, it was pointed out. The acreage may be used for any other purpose that the farm operator may desire, so long as he stays within his allotted and permitted acreage on his farm.

"If a farmer has any question about the use that may be made of this halled-out acreage or the use that may be made of his diverted acreage, please call on us for a discussion of the situation," Mills emphasized.

"A few producers are considering withdrawing from the feed grain program as a result of the hail and other adverse weather. If you are one of these people, please contact us for a discussion of the matter in order that we both understand just what we are to do," Mills concluded.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

Normally I write my column on Monday morning and it goes to press on Tuesday. The three Farmer County newspapers come out Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, so there is a two or three day lapse period that could nearly make my column obsolete as it did last week.

No one ever dreamed Tuesday May 21 would turn out like it did, and as far as I'm concerned we can do without storms of that nature. It certainly is hard for anyone to conceive or imagine the amount of hail that we received. One thing for sure, it will be easy to remember the date of the hail storm as it was the day of the wheat referendum.

Here we go again on the subject of screwworms, but I certainly feel that we must stay abreast of the whole picture, because we have spent too much money to just forget it. Anyone with any livestock should stay on the alert for infestations of screwworms.

When an infestation is located, collect 10 or more of the larvae from deep within the center of the wound and place them in a collection kit or a bottle of water or alcohol. This sample should immediately be taken to vocational agriculture teacher to bring to our office, or mail to Box 969, Mission, Texas.

All wounds should be treated and all worms killed, including any that may have dropped to the ground. Spraying every two to three weeks with Co-ral or Korlan will prevent the development of screwworm cases that could be the source of further outbreaks.

All livestockmen must give their full cooperation in order for eradication efforts in this county to succeed. The sterile fly technique of eradicating screwworms will work, but the producer—in examining his animals, collecting samples, reporting cases, treating wounds and spraying livestock—plays a key role in its success.

There has been an Area Veterinarian assigned to our area, so if you think we should need him, let me know.

Rogers Voices Disinterest In New Wheat Legislation

(Editor's note: The following is an excerpt from the weekly newsletter from U. S. Congressman Walter Rogers)

NEW WHEAT LEGISLATION?

The majority of the nation's wheat growers, by their resounding "no" vote in the Wheat Referendum this week, have turned thumbs down on high prices through rigid, federally-enforced controls. Will wheat prices be depressed seriously? Will a wheat glut develop? These questions remain to be answered. The farmers had the choice of programs. If the alternative they chose works satisfactorily -- and I believe that, in view of the vote by the farmers themselves, it deserves a fair trial -- no further wheat program will be necessary.

In advance of Tuesday's referendum, I made it clear to farmers in our district that they should study all the facts before making a decision. I also notified them of my belief that no interim wheat legislation could be expected from Congress this year should the referendum fail to carry.

Already, some of those who strongly opposed a "yes" vote in the referendum are saying they believe Congress will provide new wheat legislation before this Session ends. I'm afraid they've misread the mood of the Congress, which had set the enabling legislation under which the defeated program was proposed to the wheat growers, and also the primary political orientation of most Members of Congress.

Most Congressmen are from urban areas. My Texas colleague in Congress, Bob Poage, the chairman of the Livestock and Feed Grains Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture, estimates that not more than 6 per cent of Members of Congress are from major wheat producing areas. That Congress is so heavily weighted to urban areas reflects the dramatic shift in our population over the last few years. The powerful "farm bloc" of the 1930's has been succeeded by a strong "big city bloc". Its power to control the course of legislation is growing stronger.

A study last year showed that 300 Congressional districts are urban, 137 are rural. By sections, the breakdown is as follows: South, 58 urban, 62 rural; East, 109 urban, 20 rural; Midwest, 84 urban, 45 rural; West 49 urban, 10 rural. As you can see, farm legislation must have the support of city Congressmen in order to win approval. Such is their strength in numbers, in both parties, I've discussed the situation with colleagues from big city districts. They are not now inclined to support any new wheat legislation this year. They say that if farm income suffers drastically and supplies of wheat become excessive, the Secretary of Agriculture is obligated by law to take action. He is required to establish a marketing quota for wheat and call a new referendum for no later than June 13, 1964, to establish the program for the 1965 crop.

City Congressmen realize, however, that it is an obligation of government to help prevent economic calamity. If the approval of a program calling for loose controls and low price supports threatens disaster for a substantial portion of rural America, I feel confident that these Members of Congress will be receptive to corrective proposals. It may well be that the next few months will find Congress engaged in a serious re-examination of methods of wheat production controls and support prices.

Those of us who represent major wheat production areas will watch the situation very closely. We will do all we can to see that injustices against wheat farmers by other segments of the economy are forestalled...

Cotton Producers Receive $809 Million For '62 Crop

Texas cotton producers received $809 million for their 1962 crop. The total income for both lint and seed, as well as total production, fell below the 1961 totals by five and one percent, respectively, but the crop was still the second largest since 1949 when the all-time high of 6 million bales was established.

Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, added that the lower income was due primarily to a lower average price for both lint and seed, one cent per pound less for lint and $3 per ton on seed.

Final ginning figures released by the Bureau of Census, he said, placed the Texas crop at 4,726,000 bales, the harvested acreage at 6,500,000 and the per acre yield at 348 pounds compared with 350 in 1961. Almost half of the state's total production, he noted, came from the High Plains area.

Nationally, ginnings were listed as 14,867,000 bales from 15,569,000 acres and the per acre yield as 457 pounds, up 19 pounds from the 1961 average. Top per acre yields were posted by California and Arizona, over 1,100 pounds each and new records. The national income from cotton and cottonseed was placed at $2,653 million, only slightly less than the total for the 1961 crop.

Trans - Pecos growers produced just over 37,000 bales of American - Egyptian cotton from 33,000 acres.

Elliott said that Texas producers are continuing to use the latest research findings for top yields and efficient production. Each year sees a higher percentage of the state crop harvested by machines and more chemicals utilized in the fight against grass and weeds, he said. Also, more extensive use of fertilizers, adapted varieties for machine harvesting and improved cultural and harvesting practices are being used to help hold production costs down. Elliott said.

FOR REGION I

Lazbuddie Girl Writes Top Essay On Conservation

Linda Gleason, who was a sophomore this year at Lazbuddie High School, submitted the winning regional entry in the annual "Save the Soil and Save Texas" essay contest, sponsored by the Fort Worth Press.

Miss Gleason, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Gleason of the Lazbuddie community, was presented with a trophy at the annual regional banquet at Plainview's Estacado Junior High School Cafeteria Friday, May 17.

Walter Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press, presented the award. Title of this year's essays was "Conservation . . . A Way of Life." There are from 25,000 to 35,000 essays entered in the entire state each year, and there are five regions in the state, so Miss Gleason won out over around 6,000 entries in Region I.

At the banquet, Miss Gleason read her essay, and then was interviewed by Humphrey.

It marked the first time an entry from Parmer County had ever won the first-place trophy, although last year the county had three entrants in the top ten. Last year's banquet was held in Friona.

Those attending the Plainview banquet from Parmer County included Mr. and Mrs. Gleason, Linda, Scotty Windham and Steve Messenger.

The text of Miss Gleason's winning essay follows:

Conservation - A Way of Life

Today is a very important time for all of us. Why do I make this statement? Because America's future is left in our hands today. We can easily throw America away, or we can work to save her for tomorrow.

I wish to urge you to save America. What must we preserve in America? What can we do to protect America?

I believe that America owes her position as a great nation to soil and its produce. The people of America owe their power, wealth, and vigor to the soil, our greatest natural resource. Our soil is the foundation of our happiness, prosperity, and progress. Deeply rooted in the earth are our freedom, safety, and welfare. Therefore, to keep America for future roles we must conserve our soil. Conservation is our way of life. With conservation our soil can be kept to meet the growing needs of our people.

The soil that supports life is created by Mother Nature. The sunshine, air, water, and life itself make soil productive. The production comes from a thin layer of topsoil. Topsoil is the chief support of life. The sunshine, air, water, and life all work together many years to produce one inch of topsoil. However, all this work can be destroyed in only a few years.

At this important time we must preserve America. We must preserve her greatest natural resource - soil. We all depend upon the soil for the necessities of life and we all play an important role in conserving our soil and keeping it productive. We must all keep in mind that in order to protect America, we must remember that conservation is our way of life.

June Plentiful Foods List Has A Lot Of Good Eating

June scores high on all yardsticks of enjoyable livability. It's the beginning of the vacation season. Weather and natural beauties are at their apex. Special occasions like weddings and graduation brighten our schedules.

High on the list of June joys is the abundance of good food. Take the U. S. Department of Agriculture's June list of plentiful, for example, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Milk and all dairy products head the list, naturally. June is Dairy Month, when milk production is at its seasonal peak. The plentiful tag applies to all dairy foods -- whole, skim, dried, condensed and chocolate milk; ice cream; cream; half - 'n - half; cheeses of all kinds; butter and even butter-milk. Use them generously, to heighten June enjoyment.

In the meat line, look for plenty of beef, pork and broiler-fryers. All are on USDA's June list. And prices are unusually attractive, as meat production exceeds normal needs. Eggs also will be plentiful all June. Use them in salads, in baking, as gems of breakfast nutrition, or in egg-nogs in combination with the abundance of milk.

Think of vegetables to complete your menus. Early-summer gardens are doing their best to provide a bit of everything for your June needs and pleasures. Lettuce should be particularly plentiful, says USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service that compiles the list of plentiful each month, in cooperation with growers and the food trade.

Rosen Promoted By Foundation

Charles Rosen was promoted to the position of Laboratory Assistant at the High Plains Research Foundation recently. Rosen has been on the field staff at the foundation for two years. In his new position, Rosen will be assisting Dr. Arthur Gohlke on the research being conducted in the Foundation's Killgore Research Laboratory. He will be responsible for the operation of the intricate laboratory equipment being used to investigate problems in soil and plant relationships.

"The promotion of Rosen to this position will result in an acceleration of the research program being conducted at the Foundation," stated Dr. Gohlke, Soil Scientist at the Foundation. Rosen completed his high school education at Idabel, Oklahoma. He farmed in southeastern Oklahoma before joining the staff at Halfway in September of 1962. He is married to the former Louise Corgill of Plainview. The Rosens reside near the Foundation at Halfway.
