Rumor of the Week

Instead of just squeezing in a "Rumor of the Week" at the bottom of a Border Banter column, I thought it might be fun to devote a column to one. So here goes:

Question: What new business is expected to open in the Twin Cities by year's end?

I could leave you guessing but that wouldn't be very fair, would it? So I'll give you the answer, too: a new printing company.

This is one "rumor" I know something about because we're the ones who are planning it. Here's the story:

Remember that auction several weeks ago in Farwell that featured office supplies? Well, I attended it and ended up buying three pieces of printing equipment -- a press, a camera and a plate maker.

Those are the three essential pieces that a printer needs. There are a lot more but the three I listed are the key components.

Well, we've been working on repairing and cleaning the press and it's looking good. So we're going ahead and buying other printing equipment and supplies in order to set up a print shop at the State Line Tribune.

Last week, I began calling wholesalers to see what prices I can get. And I'll be calling area printers to see what they might have available.

If all goes well, we ought to be in a position to announce our "grand opening" in about two months. Let's keep our fingers crossed.

I hope this will turn out to be a good service for the Twin Cities. I do know that I have a lot to learn about printing but my employees and I have begun studying.

It's exciting. I've been in one line of work -- newspapering -- for 25 years. Now it's back to the basics in learning a new line of work. Cross out "exciting"; make that "scary."

We're setting up the print shop in back of the Tribune. That's important in allowing us to keep our overhead down -- and thus offer less expensive prices. Betty Jean Castleberry, our typesetter and advertising layout expert, will be doing much of the work once we get going.

We've got a press called an ATF Chief 15. It's the kind built to last 100 years. It's about 17 years old, so that means we should get good service from it over the next few years.

We'll be able to do stuff like letterhead stationery, envelopes, invoices, business cards, etc.

At least, I hope we'll be able to!

Exchange student learns to commute

(Editor's note: Loretta Gonzales, the Texico girl spending a year in school in the Philippines as part of a Rotary exchange program, will be writing letters for publication every couple of weeks.)

Hi!

First of all, I'd like to say a special hello to everyone in Farwell and Texico. I'd also like to say a belated "Happy Birthday," to my father, Josefre, Sr., and my brother, Josefre, Jr.

I have been here nine weeks, and time is really going by fast. In that time, I have learned so many new things.

One of the things I've learned is how to commute. Angie, another exchange student who is from Capitan, N.M., and I have been exploring our surroundings on our own, using local transportation. Riding the jeepney or the bus is very complicated because we have to know exactly the part of town we're going to before we get on. For example, if I want to go to Cubao then I look on the side of the jeepney, and if it says Cubao then that's the one I get on (and hopefully I eventually reach Cubao). I also have to be sure I'm standing at a particular bus stop for a particular part of town, or they will not pick me up.

When we pay our fare, we have to say, "Bayand," and then we pass our money to the front. Every time I get on a jeepney, I get stared at on the whole trip.

I have also become more outgoing, and adventurous, and I'm not as shy as I used to be. In fact, I'm the one showing Angie the way to commute.

The places here are so close together that it is easy to go from one city to another.

The pace of life in the Philippines is more relaxed here even though the population is about the same as New York. The reason is that everybody (well, almost everybody) has one or two maids. As a result everyone has time for things they want to do without worrying about washing clothes, taking the kids to or from school, fixing three to five meals a day, or sometimes even dialing the phone.

As in everything, there is one exception. In the supermarkets, malls, or shopping centers, it's a real mad-house. People do not wait in line so it is whoever is the most aggressive that will get served first.

I remember when I first went to a shopping center. All I wanted to buy was a notebook, and it took me 20 minutes to do so. Actually I was shocked to see all of these people cutting in front of me. My shopping experiences were like this for three weeks, and I finally got tired of it and decided that if you can't lick them, join them! Now, I buy things more quickly.

I have changed host families now (I will live with several different families while I am here), so I have a new address. If anyone has time to write me a few lines, I'd love to hear from you.

My new address is:
Lab 5, Block 1
Victoria Subdivision
Qandang, Sora
Quezon City, Philippines

Love,
Loretta

More street lights coming

It was announced at Tuesday's Texico City Council meeting that 14 more street lights will be installed Oct. 6 by Southwestern Public Service Co.

The city had asked for more lights a couple of months ago but some parts had to be ordered before they could be installed.

In other business, it was noted that a special meeting had been held last week to open bids for the new water well. Two bids were received and the award went to the lower bidder, L.K. Howard, Clovis. The cost will be $14,539 to dig the well. Work will start Monday.

The council also:
-Approved a variance so Barbara Stratton, of Clovis, could place a mobile home at 404 Garwood.
-Discussed the problem of semi-trailers parking on city streets. No decisions were made.

Wheeler asks residents' help

Texico City Marshal Dave Wheeler has an important message for city residents:

"We've had an increase in burglaries in our community. We need to watch for strangers and also to keep an eye on our neighbors' homes."

-Discussed remodeling city hall and the adjoining community center. Preliminary plans were presented.

-Said that Roy Lovelady has placed a storage building behind his business. Since Texico doesn't have its own building inspector, the state building inspector will be asked to check it.

-Discussed the park pond. Part of the fence is down and folks are fishing there. The council would like to see more recreational use of the pond but must first check to see if the fence is needed due to insurance reasons.

-Talked about street repairs.

Texico man dies in accident

Larry Dean Rudd, 33, of Texico, was killed Monday when his car apparently fell on him while he was changing a tire, Clovis Police report.

Deputy Medical Investigator Bob Morgan said the incident occurred east of Clovis on Humphrey Road. Rudd apparently was changing a tire when the jack collapsed. The car landed on his chest.

Morgan pronounced Rudd dead at 3 p.m. The body will be sent to Albuquerque for an autopsy.

Weese captures 1st in 3rd football contest

It was another difficult week for most entrants in the 28th annual Merchants Football Contest.

Up-sets were the order of the day as several highly-rated teams fell to underdogs.

Three entrants got 10 of the 11 games picked correctly -- Leslie Steward, Carl Gonzales and Jim Weese.

By virtue of being closest to the tie breaker (Farwell 13, Plains 12), Weese received the first place prize of $10. He was 10 off the tiebreaker.

Winning the second place prize of $5 was Gonzales, who was 13 off the tiebreaker.

It was a big day for Texico since Steward and Gonzales are Texico area residents and Weese, of Clovis, has a son at Texico High.

Nine entrants had 9 right -- Brette Southard, Gerald Hardage, Rick Castaneda, Chase Chisman, Al Gonzales, Rubie Craft, Robin Mahaney, Bobbie McFarland, Jana Roberts.

With 8 right were Jim Berry, Alice Blanco, Wade Cargile, Guy Cohee, Wesley Davis, Charles Dannheim, Joannah Gartin, Eric Harding, Roy King, Sabrina Kittrell, Mark Liethen, Eugene Lonsdale, David Lynn, Vicky Lynn, Betty Marshall, David Norton, Kim Owens.

Also, Mark Owen, Millie Phares, Ruth Scott, Joyce Sikes, Ricky Sikes, Martin Singletery, Sheryl Taylor, Dorris White, Florence Engkeling, Gia Hardage, Norma Alexander, Jerry Bentley, Todd Cash, Geneva Hardage, Jeff Lynn, Josefina Martinez, Jerry Dee Owen, Kyle Stancell, Marquette Weese, Russell Young, Howard Whitener and Terry Whitener.

Contest results were: Texico over Eunice, Lubbock over Clovis, Friona over Portales, Muleshoe over Hart, Texas over Missouri, Penn State over Boston College, Michigan State over Notre Dame, Arizona State over SMU, Atlanta over Dallas, New York Jets over Miami, Denver over Philadelphia and Buffalo over St. Louis.

Meanwhile, at the quarter mark in the 12-week contest, it's a real race. Here are the totals for three weeks:
25 points -- Rex Cumpston, Champ Porter, Cheryl Scott, Dorris White.
24 points -- Janene Berry, Kay Bethel, Joannah Gartin, Stephen

Ketcherside, Steve Kittrell, Vicky Lynn.

23 points -- Jamey Berry, Alice Blanco, Rick Castaneda, Hubert Ellison, Steve Franse, Damon George, Esther Ketcherside, Roy King, T.J. Kittrell, David Lynn, Pam Monk, Esther Pena, Roy Perales, Millie Phares, Thad Phillips, Roger Robertson, Jana Roberts, Brett Southard, Sheryl Taylor, Devin Vaughan and Gordon Waldrop.

Also, Terry Winkles, Donnie McDonald, Gary Patterson, Liz Phillips, Dick Pylant, Jason Schilling, Brian White, Robbie White and Delores Williams.

21 points -- Baldo Blanco, Erik Burton, Rubie Craft, Gracie Dane, Jenoyce Ford, David George, Carl Gonzales, Buck Gregory, Brent Green, Charles Dannheim, Farwell High 5th period health, Paulette Green, Eric Harding, Jody Ketcherside, Joyce Ketcherside, Michael Littlejohn, Max Lonsdale.
Also, Sam Webb, Sherilyn Thig-pen, Johnny Torres, James Williams, Kent Armstrong, Lynne Mahaney, Kay Warmuth, Betty Marshall, Lonnie McFarland, Kim Owens, Noni Pitts, Billy Roberts, Dale Sikes and Ricky Sikes.

All the totals are on display at the Tribune office during normal business hours.

All entries must be turned in at the Tribune office before 5 p.m. Friday (today) or, if mailed, must bear a Friday postmark.

The grand prize of the 12-week contest will be two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys - Chicago Bears game Dec. 21 in Dallas. The prize also includes lodging at the Regent Hotel, transportation to and from the stadium and $50 spending money -- to the person with the most points at the end of the remaining weeks.

Farwell sets lower tax rate

The Farwell City Council Monday approved a lower tax rate for its 1986-87 fiscal year.

The taxes are payable before Jan. 31.

The new tax rate is 28 1/2 cents, compared to the past 34-cent rate. Because of new appraised values (the certified value of Farwell is $22,853,341), the lower tax rate is expected to bring in about the same amount of money collected last year.

How will the new tax rate affect Farwell property owners? Here are two examples:

If you have a house worth $10,000, last year you paid 34 cents per $100 valuation. That means your city tax was $34. If that house, due to new appraisals, is now worth $15,000, then you will pay $43 in city tax -- 28.5 cents per $100 valuation.

If you have a house that was worth $10,000 (and you paid $34 in city tax), and the appraisal of that house was lowered to $5,000, then you would now pay $14.50 -- 28.5 cents per $100 valuation.

This is in addition to other taxes, such as schools, hospital district and county.

The council unanimously approved the new tax rate and fiscal year budget (found elsewhere in today's paper). Councilman Fred Chandler was absent.

The budget included the following categories: general fund, cemetery fund and water department (including sanitation).

Total funds expected to be spent were $243,964. Total revenue expected to be received was put at $319,972.

Mayor Chris Gikas said the amount expected to be spent was lower than what it actually will be, citing equipment needs to be met. He also said the city of Farwell was solvent and needs to be kept that way. "We want to have a good cushion," he said.

As for the budget, Gikas said large savings are expected in the insurance area. Last year $18,000 was spent. This year, $9,500 is budgeted. This is due to state legislation that is expected to be approved which will allow cities to be self-insured in the liability area.

In other business at the meeting, one bid was received for a fence for the cemetery. E.R. Akens bid $15,926. It was accepted.

Gikas said a parking area will be paved at the cemetery and that some shrubs will be moved and the road pattern changed.

He noted that the expected widening of the highway will impact close to the cemetery. But he said that highway officials have told him that widening could be five years away.

Parmer tax rate down

The Parmer County Commissioners set a lower tax rate Monday.

The new county rate is .22452 cents, compared to the current .2250. The new road and bridge fund rate is .07045 cents, compared to the current .0707.

Thus, the new overall rate is .29497 cents per $100 valuation, compared to the current .2957.

As for how the new tax rate will affect taxpayers, please see the examples in the story on the Farwell City tax rate.

In other business, the commissioners appointed officials for the November election. Named were judges and alternate judges, respectively:

Pct. 1, Black -- Martha Hamilton and Joan Euler; Pct. 2, Friona, Linda Black and Martha Bates; Pct. 2-1, Friona - Valorie Osborn and Helen Bailey; Pct. 4, Farwell -- Danny Kendrick and Mary Ford.
Pct. 3, Bovina - J.E. Sherrill Jr. and Marie Venable; Pct. 4, Farwell - Billie Blain and Phil Garrett; Pct. 5, Lazbuddie - Marvin Mimms and Claude Gregory; Pct. 6, Oklahoma Lane - Clarence Johnson and Harold Carpenter; Pct. 7, Rhea - Raymond Schueler and Carl Schlenker, and Pct. 8, Lakeview - Connie Willard.

Farwell participates in 'Project SEA'

The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs is launching a new project called "Project SEA" (Stop Elder Abuse).

Based on national projections of the United States House Select Subcommittee on aging, an estimated 110,000 elderly and disabled Texans will be abuse, neglected and exploited this year. Currently only 10% of these cases are being reported. The problems of exploitation or financial abuse will be addressed first, followed by physical abuse and neglect.

"Project SEA" has been endorsed by the Governor, the Attorney General of Texas, the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office, the Texas Department of Human Services, the Texas Department on aging, and the Texas Crime Prevention Association.

The first phase of "Project SEA" is called Operation Con-Game and is co-sponsored by Savings of America. The Farwell Study Club will be offering a one hour program which includes a film, "On Guard Bonco." A law enforcement speaker from Farwell will answer questions on Con-Games against the elderly at the Caprock District Fall Board Meeting. Informative material will be available.

The Caprock Fall Board Meeting will be hosted by the Farwell Study Club at the Farwell Community Center on Oct. 11. The film "Operation Con-Game" will be shown at 1:30 p.m.

Drager first at state fair

Cody Drager of Texico recently won first place at the Albuquerque State Fair with his medium-weight cross barrow.

Cody is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Drager of Texico and is a member of the Pleasant Hill Pals 4-H Club.

Cody's barrow was one of 36 out of 781 barrows to make the sale at the fair. His barrow was bought by Mike Runnels, who is running for state senator in New Mexico.

The barrow was donated to the ew Mexico Christians Children's Home.

Letter To The Editor

Thanks given

Dear Editor,
I would like to thank the freshman parents and students who participated in gathering the wood for the bonfire on Thursday night, Sept. 18th.

Richard Montgomery, freshman sponsor, appreciates all the help that was given by the freshman parents and wants to thank them for their efforts.

Eva Dean Stephens and Student Council, Ron McWilliams and Band need thanks for the hours spent in preparing for the Homecoming Festivities.

Let us all take time and thank these parents and sponsors for caring for our children in Farwell ISD.

Thank you.
Sincerely,
Lynn Burton
High School Principal

Happy drops Lazbuddie

The Lazbuddie Longhorns were defeated by Happy last Friday, 52-8.

Coach James Bartosh commented that the game went badly when Lazbuddie had eight turnovers and six came in the first half.

"That sunk our ship," said Bartosh.

Bartosh recognized Kevin McGehee for scoring the three-yard touchdown run and Joe Salinas for making the extra points.

Also mentioned by Bartosh was Scott Miller who was the leading rusher, carrying the ball nine times for 53 yards; the leading receiver, with one catch for nine yards; and the leading tackler with 13 tackles to his credit.

Lazbuddie has an open date this week.

Longo earns All-Tourney honors

The Texico Lady Wolverines' Twilla Longo had another outstanding performance, says Coach Michael Littlejohn, making All-Tournament last week at the Hobbs Tournament.

In the tournament, Texico won its first two games before losing in the finals. They defeated Lovington and San Jon, then lost to Melrose. Texico defeated Lovington 15-10, 15-2 and 15-8.

Coach Littlejohn commented, "We served very well -- 89 percent as a team. Our attacking game was off slightly, but we still had 18 kills. Our setters are starting to get more consistent."

Texico then beat San Jon, 8-15, 15-13, 11-15, 15-8, 15-13 in the semifinals.

Coach Littlejohn said: "We played extremely well. We served 92 percent as a team. Our setters and hitters provided us with 37 kills. Our blockers were very effective with 20 blocks. I was very pleased with our overall playing. This was probably our best match of the year. Geneva Garcia's best hitting match 13 kills."

In the finals, Texico lost to Melrose, 11-5, 8-15, 10-15.

Coach Littlejohn commented, "We played very tentatively throughout the match. They listened to all the prematch hype and half-way believed it. Melrose has a super team, but I think the girls can now see that they are just human and that they also make mistakes.

"We have been passing very well all year and finally had a breakdown. I feel this came from a mental letdown and tenseness on our part, as well as strong serving and hitting by Melrose.

"Tracey McDonald, I can't say enough about her leadership, especially from the service line. At one point, Tracey served 11 straight points.

"I would, also like to praise our setters, Robin Pierce and Angie Liggins on their many fine sets. Heather Delaney, who was like a designated server, was 28 of 28 for the tournament and Leslie Steward played a very good all-around tourney, again.

The Lady Wolverines' record now stands at 5-2.

The Lady Wolverines will play Ft. Sumner at Texico, Sept. 25 at 5 p.m.

Farwell band meeting set

There will be a meeting on Sept. 30 for Farwell beginning band students and their parents to meet with local representatives of music stores about the purchase or rental of musical instruments.

The meeting will be held in the Farwell Band Hall at 7 p.m.

Lazbuddie blanks Happy

Lazbuddie Junior High gridders defeated Happy last Thursday, 24-0.

Coach Mark Scisson says that the game was just about rained out, but that they managed to hang on to the ball and keep the game going.

Scisson gave credit to safety Ramiro Alarcon for his first touchdown and Louis Gonzales, middle linebacker, with the final two touchdowns.

Scisson also recognized defensive lineman Casey Russel, Frank Gonzales and Louis Gonzales for their good play. They kept Happy from scoring when they were as close as the four yard line.

The gridders didn't do a lot of passing due to the rainy situation of the game, but they did pass once.

Scisson says that the team seems to be improving, but that they would find out this Thursday when they play Farwell's Junior High at Farwell at 5:30 p.m.

Plains tops Farwell JV

The Farwell Junior Varsity was defeated by Plains Thursday, 40-0.

Coach Rex Cumpton said that it was a hard game for them, "since our team consists mainly of freshmen and Plains had a sophomore team, with greater size.

The first half showed the score to be 12-0, but the second half started to tell on them as the game progressed, said Cumpton.

Cumpton says that the boys played hard and put out a lot of effort, but were inexperienced. "Plains physically over-matched them," he said.

Cumpton states that next year these boys will have a better chance and be in the same position, with a mostly sophomore team.

Farwell 8th beats Plains

The Farwell eighth grade team last Thursday defeated Plains, 32-0.

In the first quarter Shawn Stewart scored a touchdown on a 40-yard run.

In the second quarter, Stewart made his second touchdown of the night on a 25-yard run and scored a third touchdown on a 45-yard run. Greg Actkinson completed the two point conversion to Michael Arce.

In the fourth quarter, Monty Delgado scored a TD on a 15-yard run. Stewart scored again early in the fourth quarter after a seven yard run by Delgado.

Coach Gary Cates says that he thought the boys played well and looked good. "The defense did a good job to hold Plains scoreless," said Cates.

Cates also stated that Farwell moved well against Plains, and avoided the turnovers. "There were a few penalties that hurt us, but we minimized them" said Cates.

The Farwell seventh grade team defeated Plains 7th in a scrimmage, with Farwell scoring one touchdown to their none.

Cates recognized Chad Byrd for scoring a touchdown on a 50 yard run and for throwing a touchdown pass to Cody Monk which, was called back due to a penalty.

Cates says that the boys have improved a lot since last time and are getting better each week. "If we keep playing, they'll improve," he said.

The seventh graders will play in a scrimmage against the Lazbuddie seventh graders and will then play with the eighth grade as a Junior High team against Lazbuddie, at Farwell, Sept. 25 at 5:30 p.m.

Texico girls play in Clovis

Texico has two fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls basketball teams that travel to Clovis every Saturday to play in the Clovis Girls Athlete Association.

Greg Martin is the coach for the Bearcats and Sam Jenkins is the Wolverines' coach.

Both teams played super games last Saturday as they opened the season.

The Bearcats played the Shooters and lost by one point in a double overtime. That may not sound so great just hearing that they lost by one point, but the final quarter of play they were down 10-0. It takes a fighting team to come back like that.

The Wolverines scored the first points and continued to do so throughout the game. They played the defending champions, the Silver Streaks. The little Wolverines held them scoreless until the fourth quarter. The Wolverines controlled the ball the majority of the time putting up 37 points. They beat the Silver Streaks 37-1.

This Saturday both teams will play two games. At 2 p.m. the Wolverines will play the Warriors and the Bearcats will play the Roadrunners.

At 10:15 a.m. the Wolverines will play the Bearcats and the Bearcats will play the Falcons at 11:30 a.m.

All games are played at the Yucca Junior High in both the old and new gyms.

Those playing for the Wolverines are Dara Jenkins, Marsha Hamilton, Ruth Terrazos, Virginia Terrazos, Micki Fenn, Natasha Shaw, Kathy King, Kelly King, and Jennie Morris.

Playing for the Bearcats are Carol Servatius, Leslie Servatius, Jody Chadwick, Teri Askew, Brandy Stuart, Laura Vega, Chrystal Foreman, Pam McIntosh, Trudy Elordi and Lesa Pierce.

Stadium renamed

Former longtime Farwell School Supt. W.M. Roberts, second from left, is congratulated by School Board President Joe Hughes while members of the Class of 1986 and their parent sponsors watch at half-time of Friday's Homecoming football game. Roberts was honored by having Steer Stadium renamed after him -- W.M. Roberts Stadium.

Lions Club installs officers

The Texico-Farwell Lions Club held its annual installation of officers Monday night.

Ralph Balfanz of the Clovis Lions Club was installing officer.

Installed were Bill Whitesides, president; Hal Helton, vice president; Weldon Smith, secretary-treasurer; Dutch Quickel, Lion tamer; Mike Pomper, tail twister, and John Getz, Joe Helton, Lee Hutchins and James Craig, directors.

The world's most sensitive natural gas detection device.

If you have a nose, you have all the equipment you need to detect odorized natural gas leaks. Actually, gas is completely odorless in its natural state; the people at Southern Union Gas add the distinctive smell before it's distributed to customers' homes and businesses. That unique odor tells you when something isn't quite right—and that makes your nose the ideal device for alerting you to possible gas leaks.

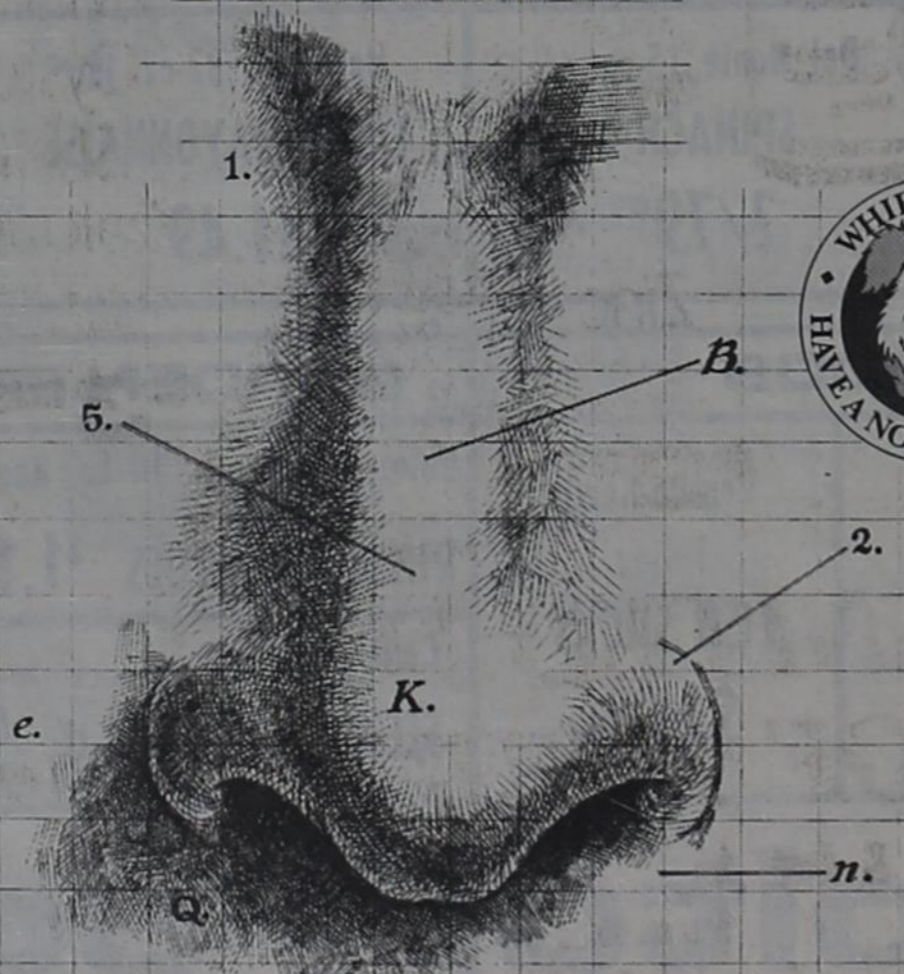

help the people at Southern Union Gas keep it that way by having a nose for safety. When you let us know you smell gas, you give us the opportunity to locate and stop the leak right away, helping us to avert any potential danger and to conserve natural gas energy.

Southern Union Gas asks that you follow these three common-sense steps if you ever smell gas:

- If the odor is faint, check to see if a pilot light is out or if a burner valve is partially turned on. If you cannot find the source, leave and

- call us at once.
- If the odor is extremely strong, leave the premises immediately. Don't light a match or switch anything on or off. Call us from a neighbor's telephone at once.
- If you smell gas out-of-doors, walk away from the immediate area, and call us at once.

A safety message from the people at Southern Union Gas.

Johnnie Rundell moving to Oklahoma

Johnnie Rundell, a longtime resident of Farwell, will be leaving and moving to Mangum, Okla. with her husband, Quinton Jenkins.

But they will keep her home in Oklahoma Lane, if they are working in this area.

Johnnie has lived in the Oklahoma Lane area for 37 years and lived near Muleshoe with her parents, Bud and Luella White, before marrying Merrill Glenn Rundell in May 1951.

Johnnie and Merrill were married for nine years until he died in 1961. Rundell, a farmer had lived all of his life in the Oklahoma Lane area. His parents were Robert and Zula Rundell.

Johnnie has been a member of the Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church for 37 years and has taught Sunday School there for 29 years. Throughout the years, she has worked with many of the organizations affiliated with her children's activities and with the school. She worked as a 4-H leader for many years.

Johnnie began working for the Farwell School Cafeteria in 1966.

In January 1968, Johnny started working for Shorty Hughes, at the Hughes Insurance Agency. She worked for Booth and Roberts, who bought the agency from Hughes and was working there when the agency became Roberts Insurance Agency.

In 1975, Johnny started working for Farwell Abstract and worked there until 1977, when she moved back to Farwell Insurance where she has worked ever since.

Johnnie has three daughters, Tina Sides, Sheree Montgomery and Gay Jeter and eight grandchildren.

All of her children, but Gay live in the Farwell and Oklahoma Lane area. Gay lives with her husband Jet in Tokio, Texas.

Johnnie married Quinton Jenkins Sept. 19 and together they are planning to work in the auctioneering business. Jenkins has worked in this field for many years and wants to continue this business and build it up, with the help of Johnnie as his clerk and cashier.

Johnnie has enjoyed living and working in Farwell for all these years. She says, "Everyone is one big happy family here. They are all loving and caring people."

Sorority is in stitches

Members of Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi enjoyed an evening Tuesday of chatting and stitching when Cindy Patterson presented a program on cross stitch.

She presented each member with a needle, cross stitch canvas, a pattern, and thread so that they could each stitch a decorative jar lid. She also provided the jar lids.

Plans were made for a Rush Party at the Farwell Community Center Oct. 14. Prospective members will meet at 7:30 for an evening of games and refreshments. Present members will meet one half hour earlier that evening to prepare for the party.

Members discussed helping with the distribution of surplus commodities on Oct. 16.

Plans were started for the Pheasant Hunter's Breakfast Dec. 13 at the Farwell Community Center.

Following the meeting, refreshments of cheeseball, crackers, apple-kuchen, and cookies were served by hostess Judy Pomper and co-hostess Lynne Mahaney.

Colleen Stover won the door prize. Present were: Peggy Goettsch, Lynne Mahaney, Cynthia Thigpen, Nedda Travis, Rhonda Kirkland, Joan Johnson, Cindy Patterson, Robyn Paladay, Kendale Burch, Judy Pomper, and Colleen Stover.

Spence heads Pep Club

On Sept. 9, the Farwell Junior High Pep Club met for the first time.

Thirty-one junior high students joined.

Sponsors are Roene Stewart, Kay Stanton and Kay Bethel.

The purpose of the pep club is to bring more spirit into the school by helping the cheerleaders at the games and making posters.

On Sept. 18 the club met to make posters and elect officers. The officers are Sherron Spence, president; Laura Jaime, vice president, and Shelley Bethel, reporter.

Fifteen members were present and locker signs were made for each of the football boys lockers. Posters were also made to promote more spirit in the school.

The next meeting will be Sept. 23 after school. Posters will be made for the Lazbuddie football game.

MR. AND MRS. QUINTON JENKINS

Jenkins, Rundell marry

On the afternoon of Sept. 19, in a ceremony at Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church, Johnnie Rundell and Quinton Jenkins were united in marriage.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Clark Williams, pastor of the church.

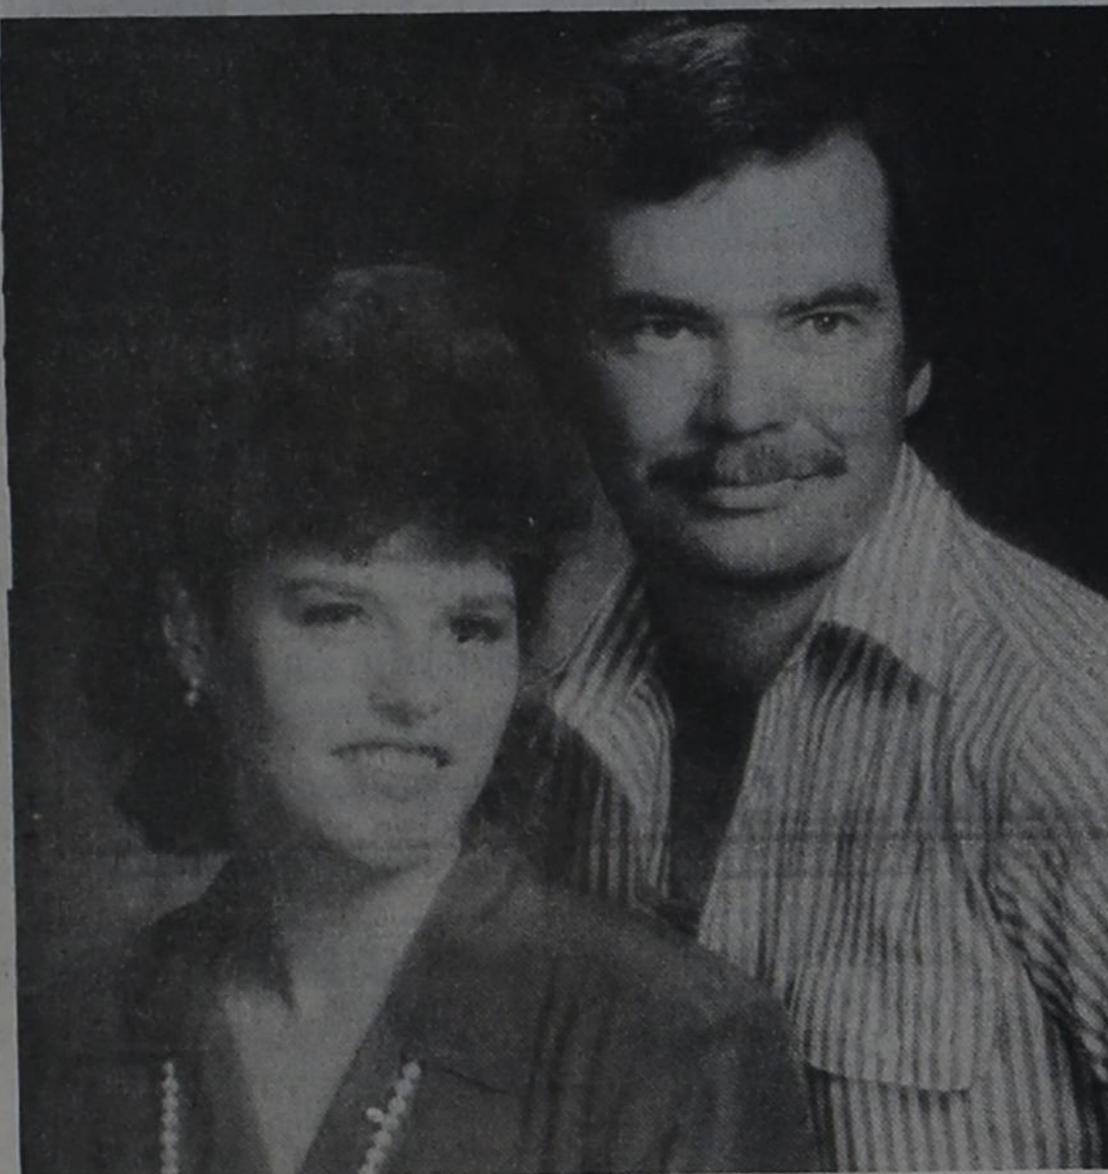

Attending the bride as Matron of honor was her sister, Freda Dale. The groom was attended by David White, brother of the bride.

Tina Sides, organist, daughter of the bride, played traditional wedding music, and accompanied Dendy Williams as she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Fellowship Hall hosted by the bride's daughters, Tina Sides, Sheree Montgomery and Gay Wilmeth. The bride's granddaughter, Jacque Sides, registered the guest.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will be making their home in Mangum, Okla.

LISA HUGHES AND DOUG HARRISON

Engagement told

The engagement and approaching marriage of Lisa Hughes of Farwell and Doug Harrison of Clovis has been announced.

The marriage will be at 2 p.m. MST Oct. 18 at the First United Methodist Church of Clovis. Local invitations are not being sent; all are invited.

Lisa is the daughter of Walter and Sharon Hughes of Farwell. Her grandparents are Lester and Francis Norton of Farwell; Irene Thorn of Lazbuddie, and Walter and Rosemary Hughes of Welsh, La.

Doug is the son of Paul and Lucy Harrison of Texico. His grandmother, Dolly Hardesty, lives in Clovis.

Lisa is a 1980 Farwell High graduate. She graduated in 1985 from North Texas State University with a master's degree in accounting. Doug is a 1972 Texico High graduate. He is co-owner of T&D Commodities in Clovis.

Texico juniors sponsor arts and crafts fair

An Arts and Crafts Fair is sponsored by the Junior Class of Texico High School Oct. 4 and 5.

The juniors have chosen this method to provide a service to the community and to the artists. Artists throughout the state and from western Texas have been invited to show their wares at the fair; however, since it is possible to miss someone, orders are still being taken for the booths.

Booth spaces will sell for $25, and anyone who desires to sell their crafts should contact Billie Cooper or Kay West, class sponsors, at the school immediately (482-3305).

Proceeds from booth rental will go toward the annual Junior-Senior Banquet sponsored by the juniors.

"No admission will be charged, so everyone is invited to come to the Arts & Crafts Fair and browse as long as he likes," said Robin Pierce, class president. Door prizes will be given throughout the day on Saturday and also on Sunday afternoon.

Painting technique taught

Theta Rho Chapter of ESA met Sept. 22 at the Farwell Community Center with Margaret Aycock as hostess.

Bradshaw leads Lazbuddie 4-H

The Lazbuddie 4-H club had its first meeting of the new 4-H year Sept. 8, at the Methodist Church fellowship hall.

Reports given concerning different 4-H projects were given by Jason Thomas, Deon Gallman and Dustin Weir, bucket calves; Jim Allen, - livestock judging; Brett Thomas, - swine; Audra Allen, photography; and Joanna Gallman, embroidery.

Enrollment increased to 21 members and 9 leaders.

Officers were elected as follows: Casey Bradshaw, president; Susan Redwine, vice-president; Brett Thomas, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Allen, reporter.

Hospital Notes

Grady Herrington is in the Clovis High Plains Hospital.

Gladys Kaltwasser is in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

Gladys Armstrong is in St. Frances Hospital, at 6161 South Yale, Tulsa, Okla. 74136.

Fairy Stovall is in room 555 of St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

A short business meeting preceded the program.

Kim Norton, creative home consultant, gave a program on sun-brites, which is a painting technique with results similar to stained glass. Each member painted individual sun-brites with Mrs. Norton's instructions. Mrs. Norton also showed works of stenciling.

Those present were Gwen Corn, Kim Norton, Angelia Mace, Lillie Christian, Maxine Williams, Dot Christian, Neil Walling, Rosa Roberts, Roberta Howard, Denise Christian, Margaret Aycock, and Leslie Lunsford.

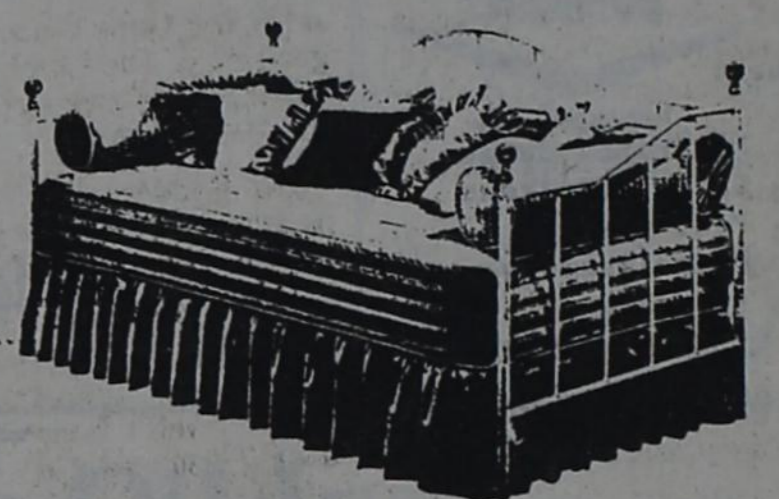

Members enjoyed cheesecake, nuts and candies for refreshments.

Texico stops Eunice

By Janice Jenkins

The Texico Wolverines overcame some adversity and showed maturity in its Friday night game against Eunice.

Texico broke a three-game losing streak as they defeated Eunice in overtime, 11-8, to gain their first victory of the season. The loss left Eunice will searching for its first win of the season.

Things were all too familiar for Texico the first half, when Eunice's Matt Robinson scored on a two-yard run and then ran in a two-point conversion.

Eunice was in control of the first half. They rolled up 90 yards in total offense compared to Texico's 12.

Texico made some mistakes in the first half, but started playing ball the second half. The Wolverines controlled the ball for eight minutes in the third quarter, playing simple grind-them-down football. They ran dive plays to control the clock and move down the field. It finally paid off in the fourth quarter.

Texico's Rod Smith scampered in from seven yards out and then ran in the two-point conversion to tie the football game 8-8. The clock ran out with the score remaining 8-8, putting both teams in an overtime situation.

According to the new Mexico high school rules, each team starts at the 10 yard line and gets four plays during an overtime to score. Which ever team scores the most points in the four plays wins the ballgame.

Eunice got the ball first, but on the third play of the series Texico's defense forced a fumble and Robert Amick recovered.

Again Rod Smith came alive for Texico as he moved the ball quickly to the outside for a seven-yard gain. A dive play was stopped and a bootleg by Smith gained little. With no time left, Smith scored again as he kicked the ball through the up-rights. It was so close it was like an extra-point attempt.

Coach David Lynn thought that the team showed character in the second half. "They carried the ball for eight carries before they ever scored. When Texico started to play, they controlled the line of scrimmage throughout the second half," he said.

Lynn said that Robert Amick played well both offensively and defensively. he recovered two fumbles.

Lynn also recognized Spicer Lewis and Paul Brown. Lewis recovered two fumbles and intercepted a pass and Brown played well defensively with 12 tackles to his credit.

Lynn said, "We made the play when we needed it and someone was always there to rise to the occasion when needed. Winning in an overtime was a big confidence builder."

Big Lick Award

The recipients of the Texico Big Lick Award this week are, from left, Rod Smith and Keith Harrison. Smith is a senior quarterback and defensive end. He scored a touchdown, ran over for the two extra points and kicked the winning field goal. He was also the leading rusher with 13 carries for 60 yards. Harrison is a sophomore defensive back and offensive wide receiver. He intercepted a pass, made four tackles and made one big play on defense.

Lynn said that the next game with Jal is going to be tough, but they were going to give them a good game. "This game will be a good test and get us ready for district." The Wolverines will play Jal at Texico at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Friday). It's Parents Night.

Lazbuddie School adds gifted/talented program

Lazbuddie Elementary School has added a new program to its curriculum.

Lazbuddie's elementary principal Anne Farris, explained, "The gifted/talented education program will be geared to help students develop skills in creative/critical thinking and problem solving."

She added, "A flexible program will be provided to allow the students to develop and achieve to their fullest potential and to make increased contributions within the community, state, and nation."

Mrs. Reed-Farris is the instructor for the new program. At this time, there are 10 students enrolled. Mrs. Farris stated, "As designed by the State of Texas and approved by the local Board of Education, the initial enrollment in this program must include only three to five percent of the total student population in grades K through 5."

Jarah Redwine, daughter of Bobby and Debra Redwine, and a 5th grader at Lazbuddie, showed her horse, "Hollywood Jr.," at the South Plains Fair on Sept. 20. She received a cup and a 1st place ribbon in Western Riding. She also received a 2nd place ribbon in Western Showmanship.

Sheena Seaton and Brett Thomas, both students at Lazbuddie, showed pigs at the South Plains Fair in Lubbock Saturday.

Mrs. Reed-Farris' gifted/talented class took a field trip to the Don Harrington Discovery Center in Amarillo Sept. 20. They were accompanied by some of the students' parents.

While there, the group saw two films: "Eggman," a film designed by computers, and "The Space Shuttle: An American Adventure." The second film is a documentary using actual footage taken from three Space Shuttle flights in 1984. Mrs. Reed-Farris and her class toured the Discovery Center, worked on computers, saw a black hole, and a display of fish.

Lazbuddie school pictures will be taken Sept. 30.

Juniors will order senior rings Sept. 30.

Lazbuddie girls cross-country track team will compete at Hereford Sept. 27.

Long-distance phone company formed

They say that lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place, and ENMR Telephone officials sincerely hope that old adage proves true.

They had just finished replacing the old underground telephone cables in Farwell when the new equipment was struck by lightning about 9 p.m. Sept. 13. About 25 electronic modules were replaced and functioning by 2 a.m. Sept. 14.

The new equipment features fiber-optic telephone lines which can go under, over, or through obstacles to withstand the forces of weather. They can transmit over 10,040 conversations over one tiny hair-like line without confusing any of the conversations.

The power behind the fiber-optic lines is a laser gun that triggers a beam of light and sends conversations from their points of origin to their points of termination.

The new equipment will enable Farwell residents to use ENMR Telephone's newest service. An independent company called ETSC has been formed by ENMR to handle its new long distance telephone service. This long distance service will be available without a service charge to ENMR customers. It will save from 15-30% on the current cost of long distance calls.

To use the service, customers need to have a Touch Tone phone. The touch tone phone relays the calls through the ETSC computer which reads the musical tones from a touch tone phone.

Customers of ETSC also need to sign up for an access code which is dialed in when the ETSC system is used.

For more information about ETSC, customers should contact Marsha Vohs at the ETSC office in Clovis.

"I'd be happy to give a talk or program on the new telecommunications changes to any club or civic group," said Mrs. Vohs.

Medical forms passed out

The Farwell Neighborhood Watch met Tuesday at the Farwell Community Center, with 30 block captains present.

The group discussed the medical forms that each family in Farwell are being asked to fill out for the use of the Farwell Fire Department.

All residents are urged to cooperate.

Also discussed were the elderly people living alone and how they would be watched over. They further discussed warning and protecting the elderly from con men and dishonest salesmen.

Block Captains are:

Gloria Atchley, Gay Nell Bentley, Janie Bowery, C.L. Cash, Tanya Chadwick, Chase Chisman, Leana Cole, Lawrence Cooper, Martha Curtis, Lorene Dannheim, Lenny Engram, Jenoyce Ford, Billie Foster, Chris Gikas, WYvonna Haney, Vickie Haseloff, Priscilla herington, Annabel Hillock.

Bea Howard, Carol Dean Huggins, Gloria Hutchins, Ysleta Kittrell, Francis Kube, Dondra Lonsdale, Vicki Milloy, Joe McWilliams, LaWanda Meeks, Rica Meeks, Sharon Menning, Delia Mitchell, Sheree Montgomery, Trudie Nix.

Cotton harvest is here and the Coop urges extreme caution when operating farm equipment near electric lines.

In recent years, many incidents have involved cotton module builders. The extended portion of the cotton module builder can easily come into contact with overhead electric lines if the operator is not careful. The same problem exists with overhead baskets on cotton strippers.

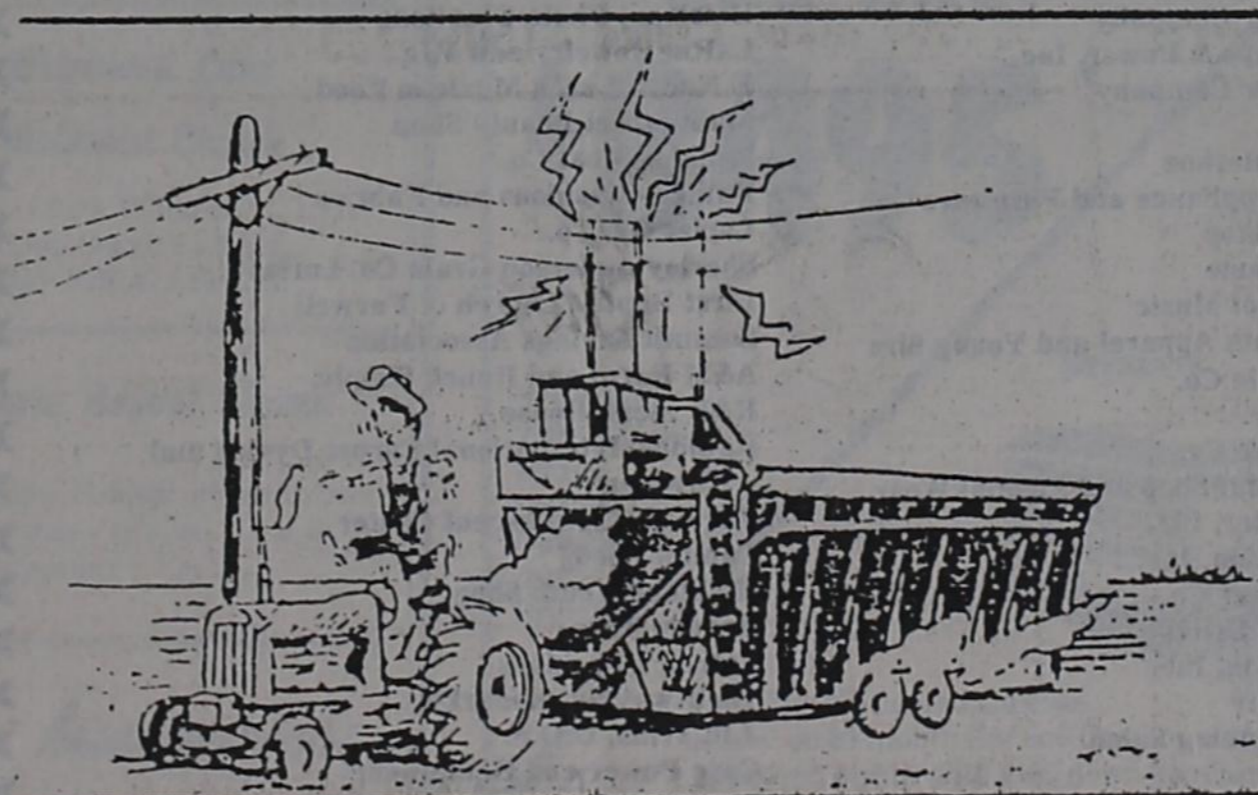

We urge farmers and their employees to be alert to these potential hazards and take every possible precaution to avoid serious injury or death. When moving a module builder, be sure the packer arm is lowered as far as it will go. When using a stripper with an overhead basket, be sure to check for overhead lines before dumping.

If some piece of equipment does contact these 7200 volt overhead lines, it is important that you or the operator not try to simply back away.

The line could break, or if it is already broken it could tangle in the equipment and break again, compounding the problem and increasing the danger.

Jump clear of the machine, being sure not to touch the ground and the machine at the same time. Move quickly away at a right angle to the power line. Then call Bailey County Electric Cooperative at (Area Code 806) 272-4504 whether the line is broken or not.

Lower packer arm as far as it will go before moving module builder.

President Lamar has been prolific with national funds

1841: MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27. The financial difficulties of the Lamar Administration of the Republic of Texas were graphically illustrated by a letter addressed to the President from the seven army members stationed at the Arsenal in Austin, asking for their pay. It states: "It is a fact some of us have not a shirt to put on our back, nor blankets to protect us from the inclemency of the weather, nor indeed, clothing of any kind, but what we have bought with our own money, and even that is scarce as we have not received one cent for the past five months."

President Mirabeau B. Lamar has been extremely prolific with national funds, much of it printed as notes to supply government needs. For example, appropriations for warfare against Indians have totalled $2,552,319 during his administration, as compared with about $190,000 in the two years of the previous Houston administration. A large Navy has been acquired and maintained, with the original purchase price of $660,000 still unpaid. The number of government employees has greatly increased. Last year the payroll was $74,200, and is expected to be equally as large this year. Houston supporters have maintained that this is five times what is actually necessary to run the government efficiently. Texas currency is now going for as low as 10 to 20 cents to the dollar.

1844: THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26. News has arrived of the release from the Perote Castle prison of the remaining survivors of the notorious Black Bean Episode of March 25, 1843. The prisoners, of which only 104 have remained, were freed by order of Mexican President Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna on September 16, in honor of Mexican Independence Day. However, it is known that constant pressure for their release has been exerted on the Mexican government by the American and British Ministers in Mexico City.

The prisoners' release brings to a close a chapter in the history of Texian-Mexican relations of which neither nation can be proud: the ill-conceived Mier Expedition, and the Black Bean Episode which resulted. They were the outgrowth of a voracious demand for retaliation that followed the capture and 10-day occupation of San Antonio by a Mexican army under General Adrian Woll in September, 1842. As a consequence, General Alexander Somervell was authorized by President Sam Houston to conduct a limited offensive against Mexico. With some 750 volunteers, he departed San Antonio on November 25, and after difficult marches, briefly occupied Laredo and Guerrero, meeting no resistance. On December 19 news of substantial Mexican forces in the area caused Somervell to order a return home. This so enraged many of the volunteers, itching for action and booty, that 305 voted to abandon him and continue their forays into Mexico.

Thus began the Mier Expedition, a freebooting adventure without authorization. Captain William Fisher was elected commander. On December 22 they entered Mier and demanded provisions and clothing, and then returned to their camp on the Texas side of the river to await them, taking the town's alcalde as hostage. The demands were not met, and three days later they learned from a captured Mexican that a large force from Matamoros had entered Mier under General Pedro de Ampudia, and General Antonio Canales, a former Federalist rebel who has since joined the Centralists. The Texans immediately decided to attack, which they did on Christmas night and the following day. By the end of December 26, greatly outnumbered, with 12 Texans killed and many wounded, including Captain Fisher, they agreed to surrender in return for "magnanimous" treatment as prisoners of war. The Mexicans claim that 248 were thus taken prisoner, including the wounded, some seriously.

The agreement was not in writing, and after their arms had been given up, the Texans were not accorded prisoners of war status. They were cruelly treated, and during the next six weeks they were marched bound together from Mier to Camargo to Reynosa to Matamoros, and then to Monterrey and Saltillo. On February 10, 1843, they arrived at Rancho Salado, about 120 miles south of Saltillo, still some 400 miles from their eventual destination, Mexico City.

At Rancho Salado came the opportunity to escape that they had been looking for throughout their long march. They were put into one of the few buildings of the rancho, and they noted that a large number of Mexican muskets were stacked against a wall not far from their door, which they found they could open. They elected Captain Ewen Cameron, a Texian from Scotland, as their leader. When he gave the signal, the prisoners rushed through the door, grabbed the muskets and began firing. In a running battle, they fought their way outside, got about 80 of the soldiers' horses and all their baggage, including a chest which they later found had $1,400 in it, and made good their escape. Five Texans were killed and five more wounded. The Mexicans suffered a like number of casualties.

They took the road to Saltillo, and rode 18 hours without a halt. On the evening of February 13, approaching the city, they decided to abandon the road and make their way around the city through the mountains. It was a tragic decision. They became lost in the barren, difficult terrain, and soon exhausted their food and water. After five desperate days, they split up into parties of from two to ten, with 40 remaining with Cameron. Late that night, February 18, Mexican soldiers came upon Cameron's party, exhausted and starving, their arms abandoned. They were taken prisoner without a fight. By February 24, 134 of the Texians had been rounded up. By early March the number was 176. As each group was captured, it was brought into Saltillo. All were in desperate straits, half naked, their legs lacerated by rocks and thorns, their beards matted with dirt, their eyes glazed with hunger and thirst. Of those who originally escaped, only four got back to Texas. Five died of starvation, and three others were lost and have never been heard from.

The returned prisoners were kept bound two by two, and held in Saltillo to await a military escort from San Luis Potosi to march them back to Rancho Salado. During this time, orders arrived from Mexican President Santa Anna to shoot them all. The governor of Coahuila, Francisco Mexia, refused to do so, and sent a message to Santa Anna asking him to reconsider.

The escort arrived on March 21, and the 176 prisoners left the next day. They reached Rancho Saldo on March 25 shortly after noon. A new order from Santa Anna had preceded them, and they were immediately lined up to hear it, without being given a chance to rest. He had generously rescinded his order to shoot them all. Instead, he ordered that one in ten be shot.

Colonel Domingo Huerta was in charge of the execution. He prepared an earthen jar with 176 beans in it, of which 17 were black and the rest white. Each prisoner was to draw a bean, the commissioned officers first, and then the men in order of their listing on the muster rolls. Those who drew a black bean would be shot. This is the infamous Black Bean Episode - a lottery of death that will live forever in Texas History.

Captain Cameron was first. He drew a white bean. One by one the prisoners stepped up, determined to do so with courage and dignity. The 17 doomed men were given a little time to conclude their affairs and write their families if they wished. Around sunset that day, March 25, they were lined up and shot. One, James L. Shepherd, was only grazed by a bullet, but he fell with the rest and pretended to be dead. That night he escaped and made his way to Saltillo. There he was captured again, and shot a second time.

The next morning the remaining prisoners, handcuffed, were ordered to continue their march to Mexico City. As they left Rancho Salado, they could see the sprawled bodies of their dead comrades. On April 24 they reached Hacienda Huahuatoka, about 18 miles from the capital. That night guards came for Captain Cameron, and the next morning he was taken out and shot, by direct order of President Santa Anna.

Later that day, the prisoners entered the prison of Santiago, where they remained for about ten days. They were then transferred to Powder Mill Prison near Tacubaya, Santa Anna's country residence. They were put to work building a one-fourth mile strip of road. It took from May 2 to September 4, the prisoners "striving hard to accomplish as little as possible," as one put it. Their treatment had improved slightly, and during this time nine managed to escape, with only one recaptured.

On September 12, 1843, the prisoners were marched to Perote Prison in the state of Veracruz, some 30 miles west of Jalapa, where they arrived on September 21. It is an old Spanish castle with walls 30 feet high and 14 feet wide at the base, surrounded by a moat 60 feet wide and 10 feet deep. It is located near the base of the volcano Cofre de Perote, and has an altitude of more than 7,500 feet.

There they joined other Texians who had been captured by the Woll invasion. They were required to work at hauling rocks and other tasks. Food was not good, treatment was only fair, clothing and blankets inadequate for the cold high-altitude temptures.

During their stay, some 15 or more were released as individuals by Santa Anna, through pressures from American and British sources and for other reasons. The San Antonio prisoners who had not been previously released got their freedom on March 23 this year. Two days later, 16 prisoners escaped through a tunnel they had spent months digging.

By the time President Santa Anna announced the release of the remaining prisoners on September 16, only 104 remained. In addition to those who had been previously released, and those who had escaped, 43 had died in prison. Most of those who gained their freedom last week have proceeded to Veracruz, where they are now attempting to find transportation to Texas or to the United States.

Farwell Convalescent Center Chit Chat

By Lynne Gann Activity Director

A couple of years ago we were blessed to have join us a group of people from Muleshoe.

This week several are moving back back to their hometown.

To each and everyone of you -- It has been a pleasure to have known you and shared the past times. We hope you will be as happy as you've made us during your stay. We'll miss you.

In the last 6 weeks we've had several new residents join us. They are Irma Bell Dean, Willie Mae Turnbow, Dick Ballew, Vada Smith, Juanita Moseley, Martha Jennings, Lester Gore and Jewel Condit. A hearty and sincere welcome to you all. We hope your stay with us is a serene, content and peaceful one.

We send our thoughts and best wishes to Brother Pat Riley. Back injuries are so painful. Who would have thought your hair and big toe were connected to your spine. Get well soon Bro. Pat. We miss your cheerful smile and special way of making us feel loved and needed. A God given gift you share and we miss our portion.

Again -- to those leaving us -- Ora, Lynn, Cordelia, Murphy and Effie -- Be Happy. We love you and miss you already.

Steers come from behind to nip Plains

The Farwell Steers came alive in the second half of last Friday's varsity football game to defeat the Plains Cowboys, 13-12, before a Homecoming crowd.

The Steers are 2-1 and have an open date tonight. Next week they start district play.

It was almost like two different ball games. The Steers were plagued by penalties in the first half as Plains moved the ball well, jumping out to a 12-0 lead.

But in the second half, it was all Farwell, as the Steers scored two TD's plus the crucial extra point for the victory.

The game started with Plains returning a kick to its own 47. Jason Schilling intercepted for the Steers on the Frwell 30 and returned it to the Plains 37. Damon George completed a 20-yard pass to Martin Arguelles but Farwell was stopped on the Cowboy 12.

Plains couldn't move the ball and Farwell got the ball back on the Plains 46. A fine run by David Woods moved the ball downfield but Farwell lost a fumble on the Plains 5.

Plains then used running plays, plus penalty yardage, to move 95 yards and a TD as the first quarter ended. The extra point run failed.

In the second quarter, Farwell moved into Plains territory but was stopped. Plains then moved 65 yards on the ground to score with 20 seconds left in the half. The extra point try failed.

In the third quarter, after both teams had possessions, Danny Rubio had a key play in breaking up a fourth down pass by Plains in the Farwell end zone.

Farwell began moving the ball, as Jeff Atkinson broke free on a 64-yard run to the Plains 18. Atkinson then scored from the 5. The kick failed when the snap was mishandled and Plains led, 12-6.

Farwell kicked off and the Plains receiver fumbled after getting tackled by Ladd Brown. Farwell recovered on the Plains 25 and moved toward the goal line on runs by Woods and Atkinson. But Plains held on its own 2.

Starting the fourth quarter, Plains was unable to move the ball from out of the shadow of its own goal posts and had to punt. Steve Lara took the punt at the Plains 35, dodged tacklers, and scored. A kick by Roy Perales was good for the extra point. Farwell led, 13-12.

Plains got the ball back twice but was stopped by aggressive Farwell defensive play.

Coach Rex Cumpston says that he thinks the Steers made a super effort in the second half, but were a little flat in the first half. He thought maybe the boys had too much on their minds with the Homecoming events that night.

Cumpston stated that at half the team didn't make a lot of technical adjustments, but that they made the needed mental adjustments to win the game.

Fire Calls

The Texico Fire Department had two calls this week.

On Sept. 21, an ambulance was dispatched to an automobile accident at 3:46 a.m. at the Railroad crossing in Texico. There was no transport.

On Sept. 24, the Fire Department was called at 5:29 a.m. for a wash-down at the Target Gas Stop.

PCG recommends cotton loan rate

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in recommending for 1987 a cotton loan rate at the legal maximum of about 54.5 cents per pound, a fixed loan repayment rate at 80 percent of that figure (about 43.6 cents), a target price of 79.4 cents and a 25 percent acreage reduction program.

Comparable figures in effect for 1986 are a 55-cent loan rate, a 44-cent repayment rate, an 81-cent target price and a 25 percent acreage reduction.

USDA is required to announce these program details by Nov. 1, and interested party comment was requested on these and other program provisions by Sept. 17. USDA's reported plan however is for an early announcement, probably in the week of Sept. 22, allowing program enrollment on all commodities to begin Oct. 1 at the same time as the wheat sign up.

PCG's recommendations were developed at a meeting of the producer organization's 11-member Executive Committee on Sept. 11.

The maximum loan level for 1987 is set in the 1985 farm act at 85 percent of the five-year spot market average after dropping the high and low years. USDA estimates this figure at 54.5 cents based on price data through May of this year. The minimum, also defined by law, is 95 percent of the 1986 loan, or 52.25 cents.

Fixing the loan repayment rate at 80 percent of the loan, PCG says, should be accomplished by USDA choosing "Plan A" of the law as opposed to "Plan B." Plan A requires the announcement by Nov. 1 of a loan repayment rate for the full year no lower than 80 percent of the base loan. Plan B, if chosen by USDA, would permit the loan repayment rate to be set each week at or somewhere between a maximum 80 percent of the loan and a minimum of the adjusted world price.

Both plans require the issuance of first handler certificates equal in value to the difference between the loan repayment rate and the adjusted world price to assure that U.S. cotton will be competitive in world markets.

PCG also is urging that the 50 percent maximum permissible deficiency and/or acreage diversion payments be made as soon as possible after program sign up. And, contingent on the availability of commodities owned by the government or under government loan, PCG wants all producer payments to be made in generic, not cotton specific certificates.

Generic certificates, redeemable in any commodity, were issued in some programs this year and have been trading in the market at up to 116 percent of face value while those redeemable in cotton only, for the most part, have traded at or below face value.

Exports to triple

The farm law's new cotton program is accomplishing its primary objectives and has dramatically re-established U.S. cotton as a price-competitive industry at home and overseas, National Cotton Council economist Dean Ethridge told that organization's board of directors.

Etheridge said projected U.S. cotton exports for 1986-87 are 6.5 million bales or nearly triple the amount for last year. Projected offtake is 13.3 million bales - up 59 percent from last season and 21 percent above the average of the past five years. He said prospects for a larger offtake conceivably could result in ending stocks of around 6 million bales as compared with 9.4 million bales last year.
