Ah, the memories

Watching the World Series last week brought back memories of baseball past.

I guess my first favorite team was the Gashouse Gang -- the celebrated St. Louis Cardinal teams of the 1930s. There were Joe "Ducky" Medwick and Leo Durocher (just traded from the Yankees) and Pepper Martin, "the wild horse of the Osage," and, of course, the Dean Brothers -- Dizzy (Jerome) and Daffy (Paul).

They were a scrappy bunch. Remember Baseball Commissioner Mountain Kenesaw Landis pulling Medwick out of right field during the World Series against Detroit? The game was at Tiger Stadium and the Cards were ahead 11-0 when the Detroit fans started throwing apples, oranges and other items at Medwick, one of the leaders in the Card hitting assault.

When the 1940s came along, the Chicago Cub start was in the ascendant. In 1945, they won their last pennant, losing to Detroit and Hank Greenberg in that year.

Remember Billy "Swish" Nicholson and Phil Cavaretta (who won the batting title that year with .345) and Clyde Passeau, the great pitcher.

That was the year the Cubs were struggling along until, in late July, they traded with the Yankees for Hank Borowy. Ol' Hank proceeded to spin an 11-2 record over the remaining weeks of the season, bringing the Cubs their league title.

Ah, the great names of those late 1940's Cub teams -- Paul Minner, Andy Pafko, Dutch Leonard, Turk Lown, Clyde McCullough, Bob Rush (who later was the winning pitcher in an All Star game).

In the 1950s, of course, it was easy to root for the Brooklyn Dodgers. And, to answer your next question, the answer is that I am still unhappy that they moved to Los Angeles in 1957.

What a team they had. Gil Hodges at first, Jackie Robinson at second, PeeWee Reese at short, Billy Cox at third, Roy Campanella behind the plate, Sandy Amoros in left, Gil Snider in right. Oops, I forgot who played center! I must be getting old.

And on the mound were big Newcombe, Preacher Roe, Carl Erskine and Sal "the Barber" Maglie.

That was the strongest team of all -- until the 1950's Yankees: Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford, Bob Sturdivant, Phil Rizzuto, Billy Martin, manager Casey Stengel, Bobby Richardson, Elston Howard, Bob Turley, Bob Grim, Don Larsen.

When you mention the 1960s, my heart belongs to the Cubbies again. Especially 1969. Look at the All-Star infield -- catcher Randy Hundley, third sacker Ron Santo, nifty shortstop Don Kessinger, second baseman Glenn Beckner and Hall of Famer Ernie Banks.

Add to that future Hall of Famers Billy Williams in right and Fergie Jenkins on the mound. And toss in pitchers Bill Hands and Kenny Holtzman.

You had everything except one thing -- a pennant. The Cubs died that September after their center fielder dropped a ball against the fence in Cincinnati on Sept. 1. I remember it well. I just don't understand why he dropped it.

During the 1970s, I rooted for Charlie Finley's Oakland A's for awhile. What talent they had, with Reggie Jackson, Gene Tenace, Sal Bando, Catfish Hunter, Rollie Fingers and "Charlie O" -- their mule mascot.

Ah, World Series memories. Can you ever forget 1955 when Brooklyn's Sandy Amoros ran forever to grab Yogi Berra's sinking fly ball near the left field line, then toss it to second for the double play?

Or 1960 when that ground ball struck the Yanks' Tony Kubek in the throat, giving the Bucs' Mazerowski the chance to hit the three-run homer to give Pittsburgh the Series?

And 1954 when the Giants (pronounced "Jints" for you old-time fans) whipped Cleveland four straight behind Dusty Rhodes' pinch hitting and Willie Mays' greatest catch of all time (the throw back to second capped it).

A beauty shop will be opening soon in Texico. And Leo's Tire Service is now renting the building at 3rd and Ave. A in Farwell for storage.

Farwell Band gets superior rating

The Farwell High School Band traveled to Lubbock for the U.I.L. competition Oct. 25.

"The band did quite well. They received a superior rating from all three judges," said Ron McWilliams, Farwell school band director.

The contest was held at Texas Tech University. Bands were judged on their half-time performance including: music, marching, effect, appearance, and discipline.

Other bands competing were Kress, Sundown, Nazareth, Smyer, Petersburg, Plains, Borden County, Klondike, Ropes, Whiteface, Loop, O'Donnell, Sudan, Lazbuddie, Anton and Lorenzo.

Out of a 17-band field, Farwell ranked third, tied with Nazareth and behind Plains and Ropes.

"The band missed getting to go to the Odessa competition by a flip of the coin," said McWilliams.

The Farwell High School Twirlers also competed Saturday. Dana Haseloff received a rating of excellent (2), April Haseloff, good (3), and Sonya Curtis, excellent (2).

"We are extremely proud of these young ladies and the many hours of hard work by both them and their twirling instructor, Tammy Jones," said McWilliams.

"Special thanks also goes to the flag corps instructors, Jana Roberts

Eddie and Dolly Villarreal of Farwell announce the birth of a son born Oct. 20 at Clovis High Plains Hospital at 2:33 p.m.

The new arrival has been named Edward Jr. He weighed 7 pounds and 1 ounce and was 21 inches long.

Edward was welcomed home by his sister, Sarah, 3.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dionicio Bermea of Lariat.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Zeserino Villarreal of Bovina.

Maternal great-grandparents are Mrs. Hilaria Bermea of Bovina and Mrs. Concepcion Romero of Donna, Texas.

Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eusebio Rodriguez and Mrs. Rafaela Villarreal, of Edinburg, Texas.

Farwell unbeaten

Farwell Junior High defeated Anton last week, 28-6, to remain undefeated.

"We took awhile to score in the first quarter. We played defense for awhile and in the last two minutes of the quarter we got the ball on the two yard line on a fumble recovery," said Coach Gary Cates.

"In the second quarter we dominated the ball, the defense stopped them from moving the ball and the offense stayed away from mistakes," said Cates.

Scoring for Farwell in the second quarter was Monty Delgado on a 20-yard run and later a 15 yard run with Shawn Stewart making the two point conversion. Later, in the second quarter, Stewart ran 50 yards for a touchdown and the two point conversion. At halftime the score was 22-0.

"In the second half, we worked the seventh grade boys in. The seventh grade played the backfield and the eighth grade played the line. They drove it down with Cody Monk running in for a touchdown on a 15 yard run," said Cates.

"We are but one step closer to winning district, and our kids are real excited about it," said Cates.

Cates recognized Michael Arce on the fine job he did at center and Ruben Lucio. Richey Gulley, first string center, was out due to illness.

"We had good team effort and I'm proud of how we played this week," said Cates.

Farwell will play at Lazbuddie Nov. 6 at 5:30 p.m.

Farwell is 5-0.

Farwell rallies to beat Anton

Farwell waited until deep in the fourth quarter to turn on the offense as the Steers beat Anton, 13-2, last Friday at Roberts Stadium.

The win boosts the Steers' record to 2-2 in district and 4-3 overall.

The first quarter almost saw a quick Farwell score. After Anton got the ball on its 27, the quarterback was rushed and threw a short pass that was picked off by Homer Anzaldua who ran it in for an apparent score. But Farwell was offside on the play, nullifying the TD.

Anton punted to the Farwell 34. The Steers moved the ball behind passes from Damon George to Danny Rubio and Roy Perales, but were held on the Anton 27.

Anton moved the ball on the ground, were stopped and punted to the Farwell 7. Bot teams couldn't move the ball and the first quarter ended with a 0-0 tie.

In the second quarter, an Anton interception gave them a chance for a 35-yard field goal try. Jaime Mendoza blocked it.

Farwell soon had to punt and Anton tried another 27-yard field goal. It was wide.

Both teams traded possessions as the half ended. Jason Schilling had an interception for Farwell. But the score stayed 0-0.

The third quarter saw both defenses stay strong. Then in the final period, Farwell fumbled on its 35 and Anton recovered. A 30-yard pass put Anton on the Farwell 1. Then Anton fumbled and Farwell recovered.

But three plays later, George was tackled in his end zone for a safety and a 2-0 Anton lead. This was at the 9:21 mark.

The Steers kicked to their own 37 but two penalties pushed Anton back to its 35. Farwell got the ball back on its 37.

On 3rd and 4, George went right on a keeper for a 53-yard TD run. The extra-point fun failed and Farwell led 6-2 at 5:51.

Anton got the ball back and started putting it in the air in a last-ditch effort to score. Jeff Actkinson intercepted and ran it back for a 15-yard TD. The Perales kick was good, making the score 13-2.

As time ran out, Perales had an interception.

Coach Rex Cumpton said, "This was a defensive battle all of the way. Our team did a good job turning them back two or three times in the game. We didn't get our offense cranked up and going until the fourth quarter. We are still continuing to make those little mistakes in the game that keep us from really getting it going. The kids did a real good job of staying in the game until we got it going our way."

Farwell plays at Lorenzo at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Friday).

COMBEST COMMENTS

In a few days we will all have an opportunity to go to the polls and cast our ballots for those we wish to represent us in the councils of government. It is an opportunity I hope our citizens will not take lightly, for in many parts of the world it is an opportunity that never comes. In our own history, many of our kinsmen and neighbors have died on battlefields near and far in order that we might govern ourselves. This is one of those times when we must not let them down, but must exercise our right and duty.

I hope my record as your congressman during the past two years is one that meets with your approval. I am standing for re-election as your congressman for the 19th Congressional District, and I earnestly ask for your vote in this election so we can continue the fight for sound, conservative government in Washington.

I hired on as your full-time, working congressman. I have kept that commitment to you. I have not missed a single vote in the House of Representatives during my two years in office.

During those two years, I have worked to make certain that the voice of the farmer, the small businessman, the energy producer of the 19th Congressional District is heard and heard-ed in Washington. You are the people who keep our small towns and cities alive. You need a voice in Washington, and I have tried to be that voice.

Much remains to be done. Those who prefer the route of "tax and spend" still outnumber us in the House. It is important that the "conservative coalition" in the House be maintained if we are going to make progress toward fiscal integrity in our federal government.

So please remember to go to the polls and vote on election day. I know that these are not the best of times. The weather has not been good to us this year. But we have come through rough times before in West Texas, and we will come through this time as well. And when we do, we will go on to better times for all our people.

Tales of terror-r-r

Students of the Farwell sixth grade class taught by Eva Dean Stephens, wrote some Halloween stories for the State Line Tribune this last week.

THE LAST GOBLIN

By Nicole Charlson

I know you probably don't believe in goblins but after I tell you this story you will.

I was walking home one night and I thought I saw a goblin behind a tree. So I crept up to the tree and looked around it. But all I saw was a white sheet on a clothes line. I was relieved. So I started walking on. I came up to a stop sign, and somebody tapped me on the shoulder. I turned around and guess what I saw, a goblin! (I hid under my jacket but that didn't help.)

The goblin said don't be afraid, I'm lost can you help me find a good home? I-I-I guess so but I have to ask my mom first. No! said the goblin I'm not really suppose to tell a-a-a what are you called? A human being I said.

I know where you can live, in the old haunted house on the hill! So I took him there and he loved it! So I went home.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE

By Adam Hobbs

In 1958 there were ten men who went in a haunted house. They stayed in there for a long time. And we waited, and waited, and waited. We never heard of them again.

Now it's the year of 1984, and there were two kids who were curious about the ten men who died in 1958. The two kids names were David and Brandon. David and Brandon wanted to go in there so bad, so David thought up an idea to get in there. He told Brandon to meet at his window at 12:00 o'clock.

David came and they went to the haunted house. David was scared, but Brandon wanted to go. They went into the haunted house and they saw creepy things. David and Brandon started to walk and then they heard someone that said Boooooo. And they heard someone walking and it was getting closer. But nothing was there, so they went on walking. And there were the ten men hanging with knives stuck in their heads, and quick, the kids ran out and never came back.

THE BIG PUMPKIN

By Eric Chadwick

Once there was a pumpkin that had been turned in to a Jack-o-Lantern. He lived at a skinny man's house. One day he woke up and said, "Today is my lucky day." Then he went and got him a wife. Her name was Jill-o-Lantern.

A few days later they were split apart. Jack-o-Lantern and Jill-o-Lantern were bored until one day the fat man felt so bad that he took Jill-o-Lantern back. Jack-o-Lantern and Jill-o-Lantern were in love, and so they lived happily ever after.

THE OLD WITCH

By Mary Beth Blanton

There's an old witch that lives in a torn-down house in Wichita Falls, Texas. She has warts all over her body, and she has an eerie cackly laugh. Her eyes are yellow, and look like corkscrews. Her hair is as black as a night with no stars, and she's as mean as a cobra.

After 1:00 on Halloween night, she goes around collecting the children that are still out. She puts them in a huge cage. The parents have to give her a black cat to get their child or children out. One year, though, one parent spray-painted a white cat, knowing all along that the witch, if seeing a white cat, would die.

One day, about 3 weeks after receiving the cat, the cat accidentally jumped in the witch's cauldron. The black paint came off, the witch came home, saw the cat, and suddenly died.

THE LONELY PUMPKIN

By Clint Austin

Once upon a time there was a pumpkin. He was lonely because people came by and picked all the other pumpkins, but worst of all they took his dream girl.

One day some people came to the patch and saw the pumpkin and said, "Wow, we didn't see that one the last time we were here!" They took the pumpkin home.

When they got home the pumpkin saw a pumpkin that looked kind of familiar. You know who it was, it was his dream girl, (you know, the one in the patch that the people took) but she had a face, she was a Jill-o-Lantern!

They took the pumpkin in the house. The people took out a big knife and made him into a Jack-o-Lantern that was pretty nice looking. The people set Jack-o-Lantern out by Jill-o-Lantern, and they lived happily ever after, until, of course, they rotted.

THE SPOOKIEST HOUSE

By Mark Chandler

The floody moon beamed down on the flat lands of Nevada. In the darkness there was a deserted, run-down house. In the front was a ragged white picket fence. The roof was sagging and had very large holes in it. The floor wasn't very sturdy either.

Nobody dared go into that house, because it was said to be haunted. But tonight was a different story for the two young boys from Empire, Nev.

As the boys walked closer, they heard the spookiest noises they had ever heard. One of the boys said, "Let's go back." The other one said, "Okay," and ran home.

The boys never went back to the house again.

A WITCH'S LOVE STORY

By Dean Rubio

Once upon a time there was a witch that had two black cats and a broom.

The witch was so ugly! She had no friends. The witch tried to make friends, but she couldn't.

One night while a full moon, a werewolf howled to the moon. That werewolf was her boyfriend. They found each other, and they lived happily ever after.

OLD WITCH FROM PITCH

By Darrah Fry

There once was an old witch from Pitch, Who had an old cat named Mitch, She went to the well, To cast a spell, And ended up in a ditch.

GHOST FROM LA

There once a ghost from LA, Who wanted to go far away, So he packed his bags, Then went off with some hags, And they all went down to the bay.

TO ALL NRA MEMBERS

The Washington office of NRA has incorrectly informed its members that Gerald McCathern is pro-gun control. This is totally ridiculous!

Gerald McCathern has always supported the constitutional right of our citizens to keep and bear arms. He owns his own gun collection, is an avid sportsman, and supports the rights of other sportsmen.

As our Congressman, Gerald McCathern will always stand up for the rights of NRA members.

The world's most sensitive natural gas detection device.

If you have a nose, you have all the equipment you need to detect odorized natural gas leaks. Actually, gas is completely odorless in its natural state; the people at Southern Union Gas add the distinctive smell before it's distributed to customers' homes and businesses. That unique odor tells you when something isn't quite right—and that makes your nose the ideal device for alerting you to possible gas leaks.

help the people at Southern Union Gas keep it that way by having a nose for safety. When you let us know you smell gas, you give us the opportunity to locate and stop the leak right away, helping us to avert any potential danger and to conserve natural gas energy.

Southern Union Gas asks that you follow these three common-sense steps if you ever smell gas:

- If the odor is faint, check to see if a pilot light is out or if a burner valve is partially turned on. If you cannot find the source, leave and

- call us at once.
- If the odor is extremely strong, leave the premises immediately. Don't light a match or switch anything on or off. Call us from a neighbor's telephone at once.
- If you smell gas out-of-doors, walk away from the immediate area, and call us at once.

A safety message from the people at Southern Union Gas.

Foster parenting is topic

Alpha Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday heard Debbie Grigsby discuss her experiences as a foster parent. Each year in Amarillo alone, there are 3,500 calls for help, but only the severest cases of neglect or abuse are placed in foster homes.

Many cases involve young mothers who don't know how to care for their children. Children of such homes are placed with foster parents while the real parents attend child care classes. Neglected children come into foster homes in need of basics such as food, clothing, and love.

The Grigsby family has had nine foster children in their home most of them babies. Mrs. Grigsby described the changes that the foster children typically went through during their first few weeks in their new homes: "First the kids go through a feeling of shock, then anger, then grief, and then finally acceptance."

When asked how she reacted to giving up a foster child with whom she had shared her home for several months, Mrs. Grigsby answered: "I have to believe that they are going back to a better home than the home from which they came. If I didn't believe that, I'd never be able to give one up. I have to tell myself that at least I've helped for a little while, and that the child will be better because of the experience of being in our home."

Mrs. Grigsby told of the love and support her husband and children gave to the foster children, and the joy this had brought to their home.

During the business meeting the Pheasant Hunter's Breakfast was discussed. It will be Dec. 13 at the Farwell Community Center.

There will be a Casino Night on Nov. 15, and a Family Christmas Party Dec. 6.

Attending the meeting in costume were: Joan Johnson, Kendale Burch, Linda Foster, Colleen Stover, Jennifer Bearss, Leesa Stephens, Cindy Patterson, Nedda Foster, Peggy Goettsch, Lynne Mahaney, Ann Norton, Cynthia Thigpen, Rhonda Kirkland, Judy Pomper, Robyn Paladaya, and guests: Debbie Phillips, Leigh Ann Woods, Helen Breckenridge, Debbie Grigsby, and Donna Wilhite.

Hostess Linda Foster served spiced tea, cake, cookies, chips and dips.

Minerals demonstrated

Bernadean Kube and Weldon Kube of West Kamp and Priscilla Hogg of Clovis did a rock and mineral demonstration for the Farwell eighth grade earth science classes last week at Farwell Junior High.

The Kubes and Mrs. Hogg are members of the Clovis Gem and Mineral Society. Mrs. Kube is president; Mrs. Hogg, secretary and Weldon Kube, co-show chairman.

They showed the students jewelry that they had made from rocks that they had found, where to find the rocks and the steps to make jewelry from raw minerals to the finished product.

They also explained about the New Mexico State organization and talked about their rock collecting trips. They said some of the best local rock hunting places were around Ft. Sumner, Ute Lake, Plainview and Turkey, Texas. One stone they found near Plainview is a stone that is equivalent to a white sapphire.

One demonstration was how calechi rock could be made into jewelry and how other types of

Our Halloween Bingo Party held Monday, the 27th, was an evening of laughter and fun. We had auxiliary members helping the residents play so we all shared in the fun.

Our Thanks to the Ladies Auxiliary for the cakes, their time and most of all - for their company. Each of you are extra special to us.

In last weeks paper you met Horace! His roll hasn't changed. He lays around pretending to earn his keep - fat chance. He enjoys company so drop by and say Hi.

Laurie Haddenhorst, our music therapist, has put out our first newsletter. We are real proud of her efforts. Good job, Laurie!

We will be mailing your copy to the families of our residents soon.

We WILL NOT be passing out candy this Halloween. We appreciate the thoughtfulness of those who ask but we celebrated Halloween with our Bingo Party.

We lost our dear friend Agnes Tunnell the 26th. She had been with us since November of 1983. We send our thoughts and condolences to her family. We shall miss her.

Anybody with a costume can get in free of admission. There will be a 25 cent admission for those who don't have a costume.

There will be a prize for the best costume. They will also be having cake walks and different kinds of games. Refreshments and Halloween treats will also be served.

This will be hosted by the Women's Auxiliary of The Knights of Columbus.

Farwell Junior High Band places first

Farwell Junior High's band traveled to Brownfield, Texas Oct. 4 for the Brownfield Harvest Festival Parade.

Bands were judged on parade marching as well as playing ability. The junior high band won first place in the junior high division.

After the parade the band was treated to pizza.

"I am proud that Farwell has two competitive bands in its program. Many Class A programs have only one band - the high school and junior high combined. We have been fortunate that our junior high has enough students interested in band that we can compete favorably without combining them with the high school band. The kids worked very hard and they can be proud," said Ron McWilliams, Farwell band director.

Tatum beats Texico

By Janice Jenkins

The Texico Wolverines were defeated by Tatum Friday, 28-0.

Texico came out ready to play ball. They controlled the ball in the first quarter, putting together a seven-minute drive, but their momentum was taken away when they got an offensive penalty. After that the ball game belonged to Tatum. Tatum's Bobby Herara broke the game wide open in the third quarter, when he returned an interception for a 50-yard touchdown. Texico showed strong defense, at times holding Tatum on the line of scrimmage. But then Tatum's quickness would allow them to gain 10-15 yards on a play. Tatum is a quick ball team and they just ran over Texico's defense at times.

Tatum's quickness also kept Texico's offense from making any big plays.

Texico will travel to Ft. Sumner tonight.

"Tatum has a good football team," said Coach David Lynn, "We played hard but just came out on the short end of the stick. I'd say that we have just played two of the best teams in the state - Tatum and Melrose."

"This week we play Ft. Sumner for our pride," said Lynn. "We would like to end the season on a winning note." Lynn further commented that they would be preparing for this game as if it were a play-off game.

Texico's record stands at 2-7 and the District record at 1-3.

"We have a good nucleus here for a good team next year," said Lynn.

YOU WILL HEAR A LOT FROM THE SO-CALLED CONVENIENCE BANKERS ABOUT PROPOSITION FOUR BUT YOU PROBABLY WILL NOT HEAR THIS:

The big banks of Texas hope to create a bank monopoly at your expense. Proposition Four has disguised branch banking as "full service banking". Whatever they call it - Branch Banking is a bad idea for Texas, and Texans will end up footing the bill for the big Texas bank holding companies to get bigger.

You especially don't want this to happen now since the Texas Legislature just passed a law permitting the large banks of New York City to purchase some or all of the large Texas bank holding companies. Not only can this legally happen now, but is almost certain to take place in the immediate future.

For all these years, Texans have never wanted or allowed the big banks of New York City to own and control the Texas Banking Industry. We are sure that this position by the people of Texas still has never changed.

Texians battle Mexican soldiers

1840: SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 1. Despite constant harassment from pursuing Mexican cavalry, Colonel Samuel W. Jordan and some 85 Texian volunteers reached Laredo today in safety, after an eighty-day retreat from Saltillo, Coahuila.

Near Saltillo on Friday, October 23, they had engaged in a fierce battle with a large Centralist Mexican army. They were presumably supporting the Federalist forces of Colonel Juan N. Molano. They were horrified to discover, at the beginning of the battle, that they had been treacherously betrayed by Molano, who immediately deserted to the enemy with most of his forces, leaving the Texians to fight almost alone.

Colonel Jordan has previously fought for the Federalist cause on several occasions. He re-joined them last spring with a number of Texians when General Antonio Canales, commander-in-chief of the so-called Republic of the Rio Grande, set up a recruiting and training camp at Fort Lipantitlan on the Nueces River. It was his second effort to launch an offensive from Texas against the Centralist forces in northern Mexico. The first had failed. An attempt launched from Mexico in 1838 had also failed.

By late summer more than 400 Texians had joined up at Fort Lipantitlan, in return for a promised pay of about $22 per month and a share of the spoils. There were about 110 men under Colonel Jordan, 200 under Colonel William S. Fisher, and 100 under Colonel Juan N. Seguín. Canales also had about 300 Mexican rancheros and about 75 Carrizo Indians.

In July Colonel Jordan with some 50 Texians, and Colonel Luis Lopez with about 100 rancheros, were dispatched to Laredo to bring back some 6,000 to 8,000 pounds of lead the Federalists had hidden there when they controlled the town. The Centralists had retaken Laredo, and had a garrison of about 150 men there. Jordan and Lopez reached Laredo at night on July 24. While the Mexicans remained outside to head off escapees, the Texians silently moved into the town in the darkness, and at dawn charged the central plaza. The enemy garrison fled in panic, leaving four killed, six wounded and 17 taken prisoner, of whom two were shot the next day as spies. The Texians suffered no losses. The Federalists then proceeded to plunder Laredo, and before leaving they installed a government of Federalist sympathizers.

After their return to the Nueces, Jordan, now with about 110 Texians, and Lopez with his rancheros, were ordered to patrol the Rio Grande country between Reynosa and Guerrero. After their departure they were overtaken by Colonel Juan N. Molano, brother-in-law of Canales, with about 150 rancheros. Molano was formerly an alcalde of Matamoros, and a lieutenant-governor of Tamaulipas. He said he had orders for them to advance to China, in Nuevo Leon, to obtain horses. They crossed the Rio Grande near Clay Davis' rancho on September 7, and reached China after occupying Guerrero, Mier and Camargo without resistance, and installing Federalist sympathizers in office there.

In China, they found no horses, and Molano claimed that they had been removed farther into the interior. The Texians were thus led on and on, along difficult trails. At one point they encountered a small Centralist detachment with some 300 muskets and ammunition and some horses that had confiscated from local citizens. They surrendered without a fight, and the prisoners joined the Federalists.

At this time Jordan was warned by a Mexican from San Antonio, Antonio Perez, that Molano was planning treachery. However, Perez was of bad reputation, and Jordan disbelieved him. Perez thereupon deserted and has since returned to San Antonio.

Molano urged a long march to Ciudad Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas, where, he said, they would receive their pay. Despite some grumbling, the Texians agreed. The small force entered the city without resistance on September 29, and set up a provisional government for the "Free and Sovereign State of Tamaulipas." They confiscated about $1,100 in gold and silver, which was distributed mostly to the Texians, to the dissatisfaction of the rancheros. Various depredations are reported to have been committed there.

While in Victoria, another Mexican from San Antonio reported to a Texian friend that he had happened to overhear a meeting in which a dispatch rider offered Molano and Lopez 100,000 pesos to desert to the Centralists and arrange for the Texians to be massacred. Again Jordan disbelieved this report, thinking it merely an attempt to stir up trouble.

With news that a large Centralist force was approaching, Molano proposed that they march to Saltillo, about 170 miles distant, "to sack the city and pay ourselves." They would then retire to the Rio Grande to join General Canales. The Texians agreed, and they left on October 6. On October 8, the newly installed Federalist governor resigned, and on October 11 the Centralist General Mariano Arista entered the city, again without resistance. Mexican citizens have learned to bend with whatever political winds are blowing at the moment. Two days later, Arista issued a proclamation against the Texians, calling them "highwaymen" and "naked bandits, full of misery and crime."

As the Federalists were approaching Saltillo on October 16, still another Mexican from San Antonio informed the Texians that they were being led to a deep mountain gorge to be butchered. Jordan confronted Molano and Lopez, who expressed shock that Jordan could believe such a thing of them. They said that the informer was a personal enemy of theirs, and that there was no gorge in their line of march. Nevertheless, the Texians insisted that the route be changed. Outside Saltillo on October 22, Jordan received an anonymous dispatch charging that Molano and Lopez were in constant correspondence with the Centralists. The two Mexican colonels claimed that this was an obvious Centralist attempt to create discord, but by now the suspicions of the Texians were thoroughly aroused.

The next morning, October 23, the Federalists moved forward, and in the early afternoon encountered the Centralists in battle formation on a small hill about three miles south of the city. On another hill farther back was a drowd of some 500 spectators, including women and children, who were invited out from the city to see the Texians annihilated. At this point there were some 800 Centralists with two cannons, under General Jose Cayetano Montoya, against about 335 Federalists, of whom 110 were Texians.

Texico teams win

By Janice Jenkins

The Little Wolverines played the tough Lady Cats team Saturday, with the Wolverines winning 27-10.

The Lady Gats had a good defense and the Wolverines were having trouble getting their shots to go in, but they hung in there and kept shooting. The Wolverines played good defense, too.

The three outstanding defensive players were Dara Jenkins, Virginia Terrazas and Marsha Hamilton.

Scoring for the Wolverines were Virginia Terrazas, 11 points; Hamilton, 10; and Ruth Terrazas, 2.

Saturday afternoon, the Wolverines defeated the Shooters, 36-8.

Due to the Shooters being a young team, the Wolverines coach pulled off his press after about four minutes of play and let his younger girls get in some more experience.

Noted for their outstanding defensive playing were Dara Jenkins,

Virginia Terrazas and Ruth Terrazas.

Scoring for the Wolverines were Hamilton, 11; Virginia Terrazas, 8; Jenkins, 6; Ruth Terrazas, 4 and Natasha Shaw, 2.

The Wolverines will meet the Fillies Saturday at 11:30 a.m. at the Gattis new gym. These are the only two teams that are still undefeated out of 15 teams.

The Bearcats defeated the Foxy Ladies, Saturday, 18-15.

The lead switched several times as the two teams fought for victory.

The outstanding defensive players for the Bearcats were Teri Askew, Brandy Stewart, and Leslie Servatius.

Scoring for the Bearcats were Servatius, 3 points; Askew, 3; Stewart, 2; Crystal Foreman, 2 and Jodi Chadwick, 1.

At 9 a.m., Nov. 1 the Bearcats will meet the Rochelles and at 12:45 p.m. they will play the Bandits.

Curry County Commission District 1 - Nov. 4

A letter from Larry Combest

Dear Friend:

On Tuesday, November 4, we have the opportunity to exercise our right to vote. I have worked hard to provide west Texas with a strong, responsible voice in Washington.

I believe we must continue to work together for the good of our district and our nation.

I ask for your support on election day.

Sincerely,

Tatum defeats Texico Junior High

Tatum Junior High defeated Texico, 6-0, last Friday. Coach Borde Williams said, "I believe we should have won the game, but we had one pass intercepted for a return of 59 yards for Tatum. We had the opportunity to score, but couldn't." "We played well, but not well enough to win. "I'm looking forward to the freshmen to move on and play on the high school and the seventh and eighth to do well in junior high. I am pleased that those boys who came out this year to play ball have stayed out and to me that's an accomplishment."

Texico ended its season at 2-2-2.

Standing in front of the McCathern Concord Stage Coach is George McCathern, Democratic candidate for Congress, and some of his supporters who are traveling with him touring this district. They stopped in Farwell Monday.

McCathern stresses economy

Gerald McCathern, the Democratic candidate for the 19th Congressional District, stopped in Farwell Monday with his campaign caravan.

McCathern has been stressing the difficult economic situation in his talks.

"There is no such thing as free trade," he said. "The U.S. is an island of free trade in an ocean of protectionism, and to pursue a free-trade policy under those conditions will result in the total destruction of all of our major industries, the deaths of hundreds of thousands of small service and supply industries and the loss of millions of related jobs for our working people."

Discussing federal spending, he criticized this year's farm bill. "It's designed to benefit the big commodity traders and merchants at the expense of the family farmer and American taxpayer. As far as I am concerned this is a Combest (his GOP opponent) farm program because he supported it and voted for it."

McCathern said he has supported a tariff on oil imports.

Lady Wolverines upset Tatum

The Texico Lady Wolverines volleyball team defeated Tatum at Texico Oct. 23.

Coach Michael Littlejohn said, "This had to be our best and sweetest win of the year. We came in as the underdogs, not supposed to stand a chance against the second rated team in district, but someone forgot to tell the girls. They just played super all night. If we can just carry over part of this march into the district tournament we will do fine."

Texico beat Tatum 15-9, 17-15, 4-15, 15-8.

The Lady Wolverines were defeated by Melrose Oct. 25 at Melrose.

Littlejohn said, "We just never got untracked. Even though we did play tough at times, we just couldn't put anything together consistently. We did make a great come back in game three. Trailing 6-13, we fought back to take a 15-13 win. To do well in the tournament we will have to play three straight consistent matches with few mistakes."

Melrose defeated Texico 15-12, 15-7, 13-15, 15-6.

Texico's overall record is 9-7 and district record, 5-5.

Making nourishing meals shown

Janette Pierce, Farmer County home economist and Connie Moyer, Southwestern Public Service home economist, worked together on two demonstrations Oct. 27 at the Farwell Community Center.

Janette did a demonstration on "Meals In A Hurry," and Connie's was on "Tailgate Meals." The demonstrations were designed to help one learn how to balance their time and money and make good, nourishing meals directly from basic ingredients. They also demonstrated how to make your own mixes and get the best use of your freezer. Induction, convection and micro-wave cooking were also demonstrated.

Around 26 people were present at the demonstration and were served some of the dishes prepared by Connie and Janette.

Connie Moyer, Southwestern Public Service home economist, demonstrates one of her recipes.

Halloween dance set

The Farwell Junior Class will sponsor a Halloween dance Saturday at the Farwell Community Center from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The dance is a costume dance and the junior class urges everyone to come in full costume, not just a mask. Prizes will be awarded for the best costume.

Admission is $2.50 with costume and $3 without.

The music will be played by disc jockeys.

The class will serve refreshments.

Junior high and high school students are invited to attend.

Halloween celebrated

Theta Rho Chapter of ESA celebrated Halloween with a costume party Oct. 25 in the home of Mark and Joyce Williams.

A meal of Mexican pile-up was enjoyed by all. The meal was followed by a surprise birthday cake for LaMoin Williams. A night of games and a special appearance by "Carnack the Great" rounded out the evening.

In attendance were Mark and Joyce Williams, Doyle and Susan Johnson, Vick and Denise Christian, Tim and Kim Norton, Micky and Leslie Lunsford, Jim and Angelia Mace, Mitz and Nell Walling, Rosa Roberts, LaMoin Williams, Don and Maxine Williams, Charles and Margaret Aycock, Troy and Lillie Christian, Ed and Gwen Corn and guests Jerry and Pam Monk and Dale and Tracy French.

Dinner slated

St. Ann's Catholic Church of Bovina is sponsoring its annual turkey and trimmings dinner, Nov. 2 from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Donations will be $5 for adults, $2.50 for children under 10. Take-out plates will be 25 cents extra per plate.

40,000 cooperatives work hard for their member-owners and their communities.

In big cities, small towns and rural areas, cooperatives owned and operated by 60,000,000 people provide a tremendous variety of goods and services—electric and telephone service, farm credit, credit unions, farm marketing and farm supply, food, health and day care, and insurance.

Cooperatives work because they meet people's needs efficiently and economically. That's why co-ops have scored high marks for quality goods and services for more than half a century all across America.

Co-op people point with pride at what their cooperatives have achieved for their friends, neighbors and communities. Co-ops are true American success stories.

When cooperatives work, all America benefits.

Combest is PAC man

"Political Action Committees (PAC) representing the huge corporate industries now control the congressional vote in the 19th Congressional District. Congressman Combest is one of the top recipients of PAC contributions, having amassed more than $300,000 in his campaign coffers since 1984 from such companies as AT&T, Southwestern Bell, Delaware Power & Light, Houston Power & Light, and the huge dairy cooperatives."—Gerald McCathern

Congressman shows disregard for constituents, says McCathern

"The Permian Basin Petroleum Association says that over 70 percent of the independent oil producers in the Permian Basin favor an oil import tariff yet, incredibly, Congressman Combest refuses to introduce legislation which would protect our domestic oil producers from the flood of cheap oil imports!"—Gerald McCathern

"Combest says that the results of the recent wheat referendum vote should be disregarded even though wheat producers in his district approved the mandatory supply-management proposition by an 86 to 14-percent margin. This only proves his total disregard for the wishes of his constituents."—Gerald McCathern.

WHO'LL STAND UP FOR US?

Gerald McCathern
for Congress

There are 435 members in the House of Representatives. It doesn't seem to much to ask of the one we send to Washington that he do his best to look out for our interests.

Yet, incredibly, at a time when no one in the country is suffering any more than the oil producers and farmers right here in the 19th District, our Congressman has taken no action to stop the flood of cheap oil imports, while at the same time voting EIGHT SEPARATE TIMES last year AGAINST raising crop prices!

Gerald McCathern will!

As a professional geologist, Gerald knows the oilfields of the Permian Basin and, as a farmer, he knows agriculture from the Panhandle to the South Plains. And, he knows the ropes in Washington!

Just as importantly, Gerald is not afraid to speak out. The 19th District needs a tough, informed representative in Congress while there are still people left in the 19th District to represent!

19th District Reporter

Economy is major issue, says Gerald McCathern

With the economy of West Texas reeling from depressed oil and agriculture prices, voters of the 19th Congressional District are becoming very concerned about ineffective representation in Washington, D.C.

"Something should have been done long before now," many district residents are saying. "We have already lost many of our small, independent oil producers, service and supply businesses and thousands of jobs for our workers just because Congress refuses to take any kind of action which will restore some kind of economic sanity to the oil industry."

Blaming Congressman Larry Combest for not taking the lead to impose an oil import tariff, Gerald McCathern, democratic nominee for Congress, said, "It has not been over six months since OPEC took our oil industry hostage, and Larry hasn't raised a finger in Congress to implement any kind of measures which would assure our oil producers that the U.S. intends to put America first when it comes to protecting our most important energy industry."

McCathern said that he has supported a tariff on oil imports from the very beginning of the crisis which would stabilize prices at the average cost of production — somewhere around $20 a barrel according to most analysts—but that Combest opposed any such protection because it was contrary to the Administration's free-trade policy, changing his mind as the election approached and only after much of the oil industry was forced into bankruptcy.

"There is no such thing as free-trade," McCathern said. "The U.S. is an island of free-trade in an ocean of protectionism, and to pursue a free-trade policy under those conditions will result in the total destruction of all of our major industries, the death of hundreds of thousands of small service and supply industries and the loss of millions of related jobs for our working people."

"The economy is the issue in this election," McCathern said, "and no matter how much Larry would like to talk about other issues, the people of our district recognize that he has been very ineffective in representing the people and the industries of West Texas."

Referring to the agricultural crisis which is forcing thousands of West Texas farmers off their farms, McCathern said that it was Combest's actions, rather than inactions, which caused much of the problem.

"On eight different occasions—count them, eight!—Larry voted against higher market prices for farm commodities in 1985, when higher prices would have turned the ag situation around. Then, when the final bill was passed which lowered farm commodity prices by 30 to 50 percent, he voted for it!" McCathern pointed out.

Pointing to the tremendous costs of this year's farm program, the democratic candidate said that at a time when we should be trying to cut government costs and balancing the budget, Combest voted to spend $32 billion of the tax payers money on a farm program which is destined to bankrupt the majority of the farmers in his district—as well as many of the agricultural banks, agri-businesses and the main-street merchants in rural America.

"It is a farm bill designed to benefit the big commodity traders and merchants at the expense of the family farmer and the American taxpayer. As far as I am concerned, this is a Combest farm program, because he supported it and he voted for it," McCathern said.

Gerald McCathern on the issues: An in-depth interview

To provide 19th District voters with a sense of where he stands on the issues facing our area and our nation, Gerald McCathern recently sat down and answered a series of questions posed to him by a reporter friend

REPORTER: Gerald, tell us why you decided to run for Congress.

MCCATHERN: Certainly. Most folks in the district know that for over twenty years I have been working in community organizations and farm organizations, both on a local level and a national level, to try to influence national economic policy in a direction which would benefit our local economy and the people of our district. During that time I have been very concerned that we were unable to develop a balanced economy where our local industries, our small businesses, our main street merchants, our workers and our oil and agriculture producers could all share in the nation's prosperity.

We all know that the two basic industries of the 19th district, those which generate the majority of the jobs for our workers as well as the need for all of our service and supply businesses, are petroleum and agriculture. With my degree in petroleum geology from Texas Tech, experience in West Texas oil fields as well as my 35 years experience in farming and ranching in our district, I felt that I had the education and experience to do the very best job possible in representing the majority of the people in our district.

As I traveled across the district, I could see first-hand the stress, depression and pain caused by our current economic policies—and I felt that our present congressional representation was not doing anything to stop the economic devastation that was taking place in our district.

I also felt that working from the inside of the political system, rather than from the outside, I could have more influence in developing sound economic policies which would assure rural America a fair share of the economic pie.

REPORTER: Just how would you go about getting that "fair share of the economic pie" for our district?

MCCATHERN: As I said, petroleum and agriculture generates the majority of jobs for our people, whether directly or indirectly. It's not just the number of barrels, pounds, bushels or head or those commodities which determines whether the people of the district are able to prosper from abundance, but at what level they are priced. Consequently, we must make certain that the production from those industries is priced at a level which will return the producers a profit. With a profit, there will be enough money available to keep our service and supply businesses booming and our workers working. In turn, those workers will demand more consumer items from our hometown merchants causing a chain reaction of more demand and more prosperity.

Auctions selling out farmers and taking their land has been the norm for the past two years

Whether we like it or not, directly or indirectly, the price for a barrel of oil, a pound of cotton, or a bushel of wheat is established by governmental action—or in some cases, inaction. I would use my knowledge, my influence and my ability of persuasion to influence legislation which would make certain that those prices were at a level which would return our district a profit for its petroleum and agriculture production.

"When prices are at a profitable level, everybody benefits from the resulting prosperity generated by the additional dollars that circulate within each community."

REPORTER: Specifically, what would you do to reach those goals?

MCCATHERN: I would place a variable levy tariff on all imported oil which would keep the price of our domestic oil from dropping below the actual average cost of production. And I would make certain that any agriculture legislation would be built around a mandatory supply management program which would keep supply in balance with demand, with farmers receiving a fair price at the market place, rather than from taxes from taxpayer's pockets.

REPORTER: How do you feel about the Administration's efforts to lower Social Security benefits to the retired and veteran's benefits to those who have served in the military?

MCCATHERN: I am adamantly opposed to any cuts in Social Security, Medicare or veterans benefits. We are privileged to live in the greatest nation in the world because of the work and the sacrifices of those who built it before us—and it is our responsibility to see that those programs which were set up to give them a comfortable living in their senior years are protected! They paid for it, they fought for it and many of them died for it—they deserve no less than the best!

REPORTER: We hear a lot of talk about balancing the budget, yet we see the deficit continue to grow. What would you do about the problem?

MCCATHERN: Before you can solve any problem, you have to first determine the cause of the problem.

There are several reasons why we continue to spend (on a federal level) more than we earn, but probably the most important reason is being completely ignored. I refer to this asinine policy of allowing the U.S. to be the dumping ground for all of the world's surplus goods and commodities.

Directly it has nothing to do with what we spend or what we earn, but indirectly, it has a tremendous impact on our overall economic condition. Every item which we import means less markets for our domestic production and means less jobs for our workers. So you see, we export our dollars and import our unemployment—which cuts federal revenue two ways. With less people employed and with less sales of domestic products we collect less taxes—and with more people unemployed we pay out more tax dollars as welfare benefits.

Sure, we need to trim out all of the fat and waste in government spending, but even more important, we need to make more taxpayers to help carry the load of financing the government—I reiterate, we don't need more taxes, we need more taxpayers! Stopping all of these foreign imports will be the first step in that direction.

REPORTER: Do you think we're spending too much on defense?

MCCATHERN: I am a veteran of WWII and believe in a strong defense—however, I am a conservative and believe in getting a dollars worth of defense for every dollar spent. I don't believe in making billionaires out of every defense contractor by paying $700 for hammers and $600 for toilet seats! Congress should make certain that there are plenty of checks and balances to make certain that there is no chance of fraud, graft or padding of contracts. And the laws should be strict enough that any individual caught cheating on contracts would receive mandatory jail sentences and any company convicted of dishonesty will be forever barred from participating in defense contracts in the future.

REPORTER: There seems to be much concern about the DOE's plans to place a high-level nuclear waste repository in Deaf Smith County which is your district. What is your feeling concerning this issue?

MCCATHERN: I was one of the first citizens to join the battle to stop the dumping of nuclear waste below our precious water table. This is probably one of the most stupid actions that the bureaucracy has ever taken. Water is West Texas' most precious commodity, and to do anything that might endanger the quality of that water is incomprehensible.

The Ogallala aquifer is the nation's largest underground water supply, and furnishes much of the domestic and commercial water for seven states, including all of the 19th district. With little or no surface water available, the loss of the use of the water from the Ogallala would turn the 19th district into a virtual waste land. Only one human error or one accident could result in the nuclear contamination of our water supply.

While Combest sat on the fence and allowed the DOE to continue to move forward with the program because he thought the "economic benefits outweighed the dangers," I was fighting to stop the characterization study. I will continue to fight until there is absolutely no chance that the project will be completed.

REPORTER: Do you agree that there is a need for U.S. tax dollars to be used for foreign aid?

MCCATHERN: Absolutely not! This policy of trying to support the whole world has resulted in the U.S. becoming the world's largest debtor nation, owing other nations more than they owe us. We have seen our national debt more than double, from less than a trillion dollars to more than two trillion since 1981, and we have seen our budget deficit continue to increase to more than two hundred billion in the last two years. The American taxpayer is being bled dry, and to give those tax dollars away to corrupt dictators such as Ferdinand Marcos is a crime against the American people.

REPORTER: There has been much debate concerning aid to the Contras in their battle against the Sandinistas in Nicaragua. Congress has narrowly passed legislation allowing another $100 million to be sent to the Contras in economic and military aid. What is your opinion on this subject?

MCCATHERN: I think that we all agree that we cannot tolerate a communist base in Central or South America. However, in an effort to see democracy prevail in Nicaragua, we have already spent nearly one billion dollars in neighboring Honduras and in financing the Contras—and we are no closer to restoring democracy than we were four years ago. Can you imagine? One billion dollars, and that country is no larger than the state of Iowa and has only 2.8 million population!

If the American people can be assured that another hundred million will insure that democracy will be restored in Nicaragua, and communism kicked out—and that those millions will not end up in the bank vaults of another corrupt dictator or general instead of in the hands of the freedom fighters—then freedom will have been worth the price. I would, however, demand that assurance.

Where McCathern Stands:

FOR:

Prayer in school
Right to life
Constitutional government
Balanced budgets
Less taxes
More taxpayers
Strong defense
More exports
Strong Social Security for retirees
COLA for all retirees
Protected veterans rights
Higher agriculture prices
Oil import tariff

AGAINST:

Nuclear waste dump in West Texas
Foreign aid
Unnecessary imports
Unemployment
Crooked defense contractors
Cuts in medicare benefits
Business and agriculture bankruptcies
Gun Control

Gerald McCathern
for Congress

Uniquely qualified to speak for the 19th!

Gerald McCathern has been a resident of West Texas for 59 years, and a resident of the 19th District for 39 years. After returning from the military where he served in the aviation engineers in WWII, he worked as a roustabout and welder in the oil fields of the northern panhandle.

Enrolling in Texas Tech under the G.I. Bill, Gerald met and married a Lubbock girl, Bonnie Traweek, and later graduated with a B.S. degree in Petroleum Geology. He put his geology degree to work in the oil fields of the Permian Basin where he was employed by Baroid Well-Loggins Service as a field geologist on many wildcat oil wells before he and Bonnie moved to Deaf Smith County to start a successful farming and ranching operation.

"Bonnie and I wanted to raise the kids on the farm where they could learn the values of hard work and close family relationships," Gerald says. He and Bonnie have been married for 39 years and have three children and four grandchildren.

Long active in a variety of civic, farm and conservation organizations, Gerald is noted as a leader in his community and in his profession. He accepted an appointment as special assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture in 1981 as a result of this leadership. Unable to influence a change in agricultural policy which he felt was destined to create the greatest crisis in agriculture since the depression of the thirties, Gerald resigned and returned home to Hereford. He didn't give up his fight for sound agriculture policies, however, and founded Food for Thought Publications and began writing and publishing the "Agriculture Watchdog", a nationally circulated newsletter which keeps subscribers posted on the latest changes in farm policy and examines the impact of those policies on the national economy.

Gerald has authored several books which includes his recently published "To Kill The Goose." As the title implies, this book examines how ill-conceived federal policies are "killing the goose that laid the golden egg," by destroying our nation's raw materials industries, agriculture and petroleum.

"Why am I running for Congress? I felt I could no longer sit idly by and watch our present Congressman do nothing to protect our domestic oil industry from OPEC blackmail, and while he consistently votes for lower farm prices, both of which have destroyed thousands of small businesses, financial institutions and jobs in our district. I decided that it is time someone stood up for West Texas who would try to save the balance of our economy—I am willing to do that," Gerald said.
