Children's ranch needs help

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas:

Farwell Postmaster Otis McMullan informs us that his post office will be open the next two Saturdays from 9 to 11 a.m. to help folks with their holiday mailings.

This service he and his staff are providing is only for Dec. 13 and 20.

The Christmas lights are starting to go up. Lots of folks start on Dec. 1, like the Jerry Stovers. They sure look nice and make the season more enjoyable.

One tragic note of the season. The recent letter from El Rancho de Los Ninos, the children's ranch in Guatemala supported by many folks here, had a fire in its boys' dorm Nov. 23.

The dorm was destroyed, three boys lost their lives, and all food supplies, clothing and medical supplies stored there were gone.

The letter from the Barleys said: "Please pray especially for comfort and strength for each one at the Ranch. These are trying times for us but we know that God has a purpose in all things and will use this to His honor."

Persons interested in helping with finances at this crucial time for the Ranch should contact Ralph Franse at Franse Irrigation.

Every now and then, I like to take note of an individual who does work for our community beyond the call. Today, I'd like to thank Ann Cooper of Texico.

I admit that I don't know Ann (Mrs. Lewis Cooper) very well. I see her mostly at meetings. But what a fine job she does at them.

We all know that when officers of a board are elected, who does most of the work - the secretary. And Ann serves as secretary of the Texico Chamber of Commerce and Border Town Days Committee. These are posts she has held for a long time.

There are probably jobs Ann holds for the good of our community that I don't know about. I do know she works with the Texico-Farwell Senior Citizens, Contempo Quilt in Clovis and the Texico Neighborhood Watch program.

From working with her on committees, I have learned to value her expertise. Ann uses her knowledge to keep many community activities functioning smoothly.

Texico-Farwell is a better place because of people like Ann.

I think it's time for an update on how our new printing business is coming along.

Early last month I wrote that we hoped to be up and going in early December. That was before I stripped a gear.

Anyway, it's nice to write that our press is now operable, thanks to Bob Stovall of Muleshoe, without whose support and help we never could have got it going.

Our "press people," Betty Jean Castleberry and Barbara Franse, are now practicing on it. We'll be checking with Texico-Farwell businesses on their needs soon. And, if all continues to go well, we should officially be open Jan. 2.

I thought it was better to plan for an opening right after the Christmas holidays than in mid-December. This is a busy time for us, planning our annual Christmas issue.

We thank the Lord for His blessing.

It was 60 years ago Saturday that Albert "Blackie" Smith of Farwell got his nickname.

He showed up at a basketball game wearing all dark clothes and one of his friends tagged him with "Blackie."

Pharmacist Pudge Rose of Farwell, formerly with West Plains Medical Center, is now employed at Revco at the North Plains mall in Clovis.

Farwell Junior High School received a very nice thank-you letter last week from St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

The school had contributed $418 from its math-a-thon.

What it's like to be a missionary in Africa

The ladies of the Farwell First Baptist Church hosted a salad luncheon Dec. 2, with guest speaker Kathy Kiffie, a missionary to Tanzania, Africa giving the program.

Roberta Johnson opened the ceremony and Susan Franse led the opening prayer. Gladys Kaltwasser introduced Dixie Marcades, wife of the Baptist music and youth director who sang, "Special Delivery" and led the group in singing "A Story to Tell to the Nations."

Kathy and her husband Mark are employed as special missionaries. They have a four-month-old daughter, Laura.

Mark has worked in construction work, but is now working to get a degree at Wayland Baptist University. Mark has worked in Africa with the Peace Corp, but wanted to go into missionary work since the Peace Corp does not promote God.

Tanzania is on the eastern side of Africa, halfway down the coast. About 12,000 Christians have been baptized in a years time.

When Kathy and her husband arrived in Africa, they lived on a demonstration farm. It consisted of 300 acres of farm land. Kathy said they knew little about farming. They had 60 people working for them. They soon learned that demonstration farms don't work too well in Africa, because the people learn better from a one-on-one teaching.

The main crop is rice and everyone is well fed. They eat rice at every meal and eat a lot at one time, because sometimes they may not get but one meal a day. When they are cooking enough rice for a group, they measure the rice as two cups for each adult and one cup for each child. It takes quite a large pot sometimes to cook for several people.

Most of the clothes that they wear are hand-me-down western clothes sent from the U.S. Kathy brought a "conda" which is a large piece of fabric they wear wrapped around their clothing like a skirt.

Kathy said that some of the women used the condas to tie their babies on their backs. The babies ride like that until they are two years old. Some of the four-year-old children carry the two-year-olds.

The natives don't know or have any concept about how clothes match, so they put all different kinds of clothing, color schemes and styles together with their condas, which usually don't match either, said Kathy.

"The natives never throw anything away," said Kathy. "The clothes they have usually go through 20-30 people in their lifetime. They don't even throw away cans, because they like to use them to carry things around in. The people in Tanzania washed all their clothes by hand. The clothes had to be ironed, including one's underwear, because of bugs that would lay their eggs in the clothing."

All food in Tanzania is made from scratch. The people grind their own flour and make butter and cheese. "We cook on gas or wood stoves," said Kathy, "but some of the natives cooked out on the ground."

Kathy said most of their food was cooked for them by her houseboy. He could cook so much better than we could."

Kathy said children in Tanzania really don't miss out on as much as one might think. "They miss out on the bad, but not the good," said Kathy. "African people just love little white children. In Africa it is just one big happy family, aunts and uncles are thought of as the same as mothers and fathers and brothers and sisters."

They had a large grove of lemon trees. Kathy said, "That's something in a country where there is no sugar." They would send their lemons to missionaries all over the country.

"People in Africa don't seem to have a good concept of saving for their crops. They tend to eat all of their grain or rice until they have no seed left to plant," said Kathy. "So we would sometimes well or lend seed to them to plant."

Some farms grew pineapples on the presumption that the government was going to buy them, but that never happened. Kathy said that while they were there, they had so many papayas to eat that they fed some to their pigs.

They raised all kinds of animals - cows, pigs, goats, rabbits, guinea pigs, chickens, dogs and cats. Kathy said that they would raise their rabbits and sell as many as they could raise. In Africa they also eat guinea pigs.

Kathy was about 25 miles from a telephone, mailbox or stores. The closest gas station is about 3 hours away and the stores don't carry much food, only about three items are usually on the shelves.

Medical treatment is not too good, Kathy said they never went to the local clinics, because they used the same needle all the time on everyone. The hospital with an English doctor is about three hours away and if you are very ill the hospital is a four-hour flight to Nairobi.

"The roads are terrible. They are about 75% pot holes. One time a whole car got stuck in one pot hole. The roads are bad because it rains four months out of the year. With the roads being so bad it is evident that one can not get everywhere by car. Some of the churches were four hours away," said Kathy.

Kathy said that as a result of all the people going to Africa as missionaries, their main job was to work in some sort of job. They usually worked in agriculture or were teachers. They also built churches, took over all the church work, and supervised the evangelists.

When Kathy and Mark first arrived in Africa, the missionaries were the only white men there. There were no Christians there either, but the people were begging to be taught. Kathy and Mark learned to speak Swahili, but they had a limited vocabulary. Kathy said that most of what she knew in Swahili was farm or house-related.

In Africa women workers were considered either young or old. "Once they had their 10 kids, or so, they were considered old. In church, the women sat on one side of the church and men sat on the other. Also, during the services, the people were constantly moving about."

There were no church buildings in Tanzania, when Kathy first arrived. Kathy said that the churches got together in the U.S. and sent money to build churches there, but then they needed someone to build them. So mark and another man worked together and within a years time had constructed 13 churches.

The Kiffies are planning to go back to Africa when her husband finishes his degree and they are approved to go.

It's time to write Santa

All of you boys and girls in this area, it's getting close to Christmas, and Santa Claus is looking forward to receiving your Christmas wish letters.

Santa is checking his list and would be very pleased (and we all want to please Santa!) if you would get your letters to him as soon as possible, so he has plenty of time to plan his sleigh-packing and Christmas Eve schedule. Please send your letters to the State Line Tribune office as soon as possible, but no later than Dec. 12. The staff at the Tribune will copy your letters for publication, then forward them to Santa at the North Pole by special messenger.

Land annexation in Farwell topic

The possibility of annexing land to the city was discussed at Monday's Farwell City Council meeting.

Mayor Chris Gikas suggested two ideas to gain "more lots for nice homes to be built here."

One would be on property currently owned by Harold Travis south of the southwest corner of Farwell. The other would concern property currently owned by Hurschel Harding east of the southeast corner of the city.

"We need to start thinking about this," Gikas told the council. "We only have a couple of large lots left in the city for nice homes to be built on. We need extra space to encourage people to build good homes on."

The council discussed concerns such as utilities and streets but no decisions were made. Gikas said he will bring up the topic again later after councilmen had an opportunity to consider it.

In other business, the council discussed the future of the Farwell Sesquicentennial Mural residing alongside the city hall wall. The question is whether to leave it where it is or move it inside the Farwell Community Center.

The council reported that most people favor leaving it where it is if it can be weatherized. Unfortunately, moisture condenses behind the mural. It has been repaired four times this year and screws keep coming loose.

Although the council took no official action on the mural's future, it was indicated that the mural will be left where it is for several more months.

The council also: -Agreed to buy the area at the southwest corner of Farwell (Sandia Court) for $2,500. The money will come from revenue-sharing funds. The site will be a potential water well location and-or park. -Agreed to serve as a committee to redo the city's system. Some stop signs will be replaced with yield signs and in some places stop signs will be placed. The council and Gikas will begin surveying the whole city system.

-Agreed to have the sidewalk around City Hall improved.

-Agreed to seek insurance bids for 1987.

-Heard Gikas suggest that some of the old city Christmas decorations be placed on the north side of the highway. Aho, the city will check into finding out why all the new lights are not burning correctly.

-Agreed to spend $20 a week on janitorial cleaning of the Farwell Community Center on weeks when the janitorial service is not there. The service currently does a complete cleaning once a month. It was noted that more funds are being taken in than expended for the center.

-Agreed to change its meeting times to Tuesdays.

Students show math, language arts mastery

Farwell School Supt. John Grigsby told the School Board Tuesday night he was very pleased with the results of the state tests in math and language arts given high school juniors.

This is the second year of the state wide program whereby mastery must be shown in these two areas in order for students to graduate.

Farwell students showed 95% mastery in math and 91% in language arts. This means that only 1 student didn't show mastery in math and 2 in language arts.

Counselors will now check the results and inform parents. Tutorials will be required for students who didn't master the two areas. Tests will be given again next year for them.

In other business, the board: -Approved the annual audit. -Hired Candi McKillip of Farwell as a fulltime special education teacher.

-Agreed to survey the community to see if there is enough interest to start GED (high school diploma equivalency) and English as a Second Language programs.

If adults show enough interest for either program to start, Farwell would provide classrooms but the funding would be provided by the regional service center. There are no tuition or charges for participants.

-Discussed possibly renovating the cafeteria and former wood shop. An architect will be asked about costs and ideas before a decision is made.

-Heard a report from Athletic Plan, zoning unit killed

The Texico City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to abolish its planning and zoning commission.

The unit had been created earlier this year as the agency to first check out planning and zoning variances and problems. But the commission never met due to lack of quorums.

Some commission members, such as Charlotte Pierce, were active in trying to get the commission going, but due to the lack of interest it never got off the ground.

In suggesting the commission be abolished, city attorney Duane Hamar noted that "it was not meeting or doing anything."

In other business, bids were opened on the pump and water lines for the well being built. They are being checked by the engineer and the council will meet Dec. 11 to accept bids.

The council received state approval for Texico to enter into an agreement with Farwell to use Farwell's dog-catcher and pound as long as there is a clause in the agreement that the dog-catcher doesn't bear firearms.

The council briefly discussed City Marshal Dave Wheeler's suggestion from last fall that another officer be hired. The study committee of councilmen Bryan Kube, Steve Chancy and Butch Tharp is still checking into it and was not ready to report on any recommendations.

The questions facing the council are: Is another officer needed? If so, how would he be funded?

The council was told it must decide by April 30, 1987, on whether to buy a new police car. The current model has 59,000 miles on it.

Bond issue discussed

The Texico School Board Tuesday discussed the upcoming school bond election.

The election will be Feb. 3 for about $410,000 in school improvements. Planned are a building, housing 4 classrooms, a nurse's office and counselor's office.

Currently, taxpayers pay $4.94 per $1,000 valuation. If the bond issue is passed, that total would go up $2.30 for one year - to $7.24. Then it would go down to $5 for five more years.

The school board has one more payment to make on its last bond issue for the educational complex.

School Board members attend workshop

On Nov. 20, five members of the Farwell School Board attended a School Board Training Workshop in Amarillo.
The meeting was held at the Region ESC and put on by the Texas School Services Foundation, the insurance branch of the Texas Association of School Boards.
The meeting covered several concepts and problems new to board members of small schools:
Risk Financing -- the systematic study of insurance deductibles. Districts should choose a deductible appropriate to its recent loss history and ability to cover unexpected claims. By choosing a higher deductible, the cost savings can then be directly funneled into a specific account to cover future claims and to do building repair.
Liability Coverage -- the meeting covered the recent history of litigation in the U.S. and explained why certain liability coverages have been dropped or the rates have soared to provide coverage for particular classes of purchasers.

Different types of risk exposures were described.
Unemployment Compensation Insurance/Workman's Compensation Insurance -- Board members were advised of procedures involving these types of insurance as well as recent trends and "pitfalls" to avoid in these matters.
Those members attending were:

Maxine Williams, Joe Schilling, Doyle Johnson, Richard Haseloff and Edward Corn.
Also attending was Supt. John A. Grigsby.
The board members attending commented that it had been one of the most productive and informative meetings they had ever attended.

Steers go to 9-0

The Farwell Steers varsity boys won the Sudan Varsity Tournament. They defeated Muleshoe, 110-72, Sudan 44-30 and Sundown, 75-69. Scoring in the Muleshoe game were David Woods, 18 points; Roy Perales, 17; Jody Ketcherside, 16; Jeff Atkinson, 13; Steve Lara, 12; Danny Rubio, 12; Robbi White, 8; Damon George, 6; Boney Nicholas, 4 and Homer Anzaldua, 4. Coach Larry Gregory said, "In this game we had six people in double figures. Out of the eight games we have played, every one has scored in six." Scoring in the Sudan game were Perales, 22 points; Rubio, 7; Woods, 6; Atkinson, 5; Ketcherside, 2 and George, 2. Gregory said, "Sudan tried to slow down the ball. I was pleased with how the boys handled this game."

Scoring in the Sundown game were Perales, 20 points; Woods, 17; George, 11; Lara, 10; Ketcherside, 9; Anzaldua, 4; Atkinson, 2 and Rubio, 2. Gregory said, "We are now 8-0. We won the Sudan Tournament and the boys are playing real well. We're getting a good contribution from all 10 of the boys on our varsity. That's what it's going to take to compete in our District. I'm pleased with how the tournament came out. "We didn't play as well against Sundown, but I guess we played well enough to win. I'm pleased and feel very fortunate that we're where we are at this time in the season." The Steers defeated Grady, 77-64, at Farwell Dec. 2. Scoring were Perales, 20 points; Woods, 18; Ketcherside, 12; Atkinson, 10; Rubio, 9; Lara, 4; George, 2 and White, 2. Farwell Steers defeated Muleshoe, 86-73, Dec. 9 at Muleshoe. Scoring were Perales, 22 points; Woods, 12; Ketcherside, 11; Anzaldua, 10; Rubio, 7; Atkinson, 6; George, 6; White, 6; and Lara, 4. Gregory said, "We looked a little ragged this time. We had 22 turnovers in the game. Danny Rubio had 12 rebounds and Roy Perales had 13. We rebounded well. We were able to get up on them early in the game. This is the third time we have played Muleshoe and it's hard playing a team three times. We'll be happy not to play them any more this year. "The kids are responding well to the season so far. The Farwell Tournament this Thursday through Saturday will be a good test for us. It looks like Olton will be the team to beat this year. They have won the tournament for the last two years and they have another good team this year." Farwell is now 9-0.

The Farwell High Varsity girls team was defeated by Grady, 68-34, on Dec. 2 at Farwell. Coach George Langan said, "Farwell girls, after being down by 10 points in the first quarter, fought back to come within five points at halftime, holding New Mexico's All-Staters, Lockmiller and Gelhart, to 2 points. "I really thought that we were going to get back in this game. However, in the third quarter, we couldn't take the press or move the ball up the court. We got outscored, 33-11." Scoring were Ursula Dollar, 4 points; Shonda Foster, 13; Dana White, 2; Robbi Fly, 4; Kellie Anderson, 2 and Michelle Stover, 6. The Farwell Steerettes varsity girls team lost three games in the Sudan Tournament, Dec. 4-6. Farwell was defeated by Sudan, 55-24, Sudan, 55-14 and by Sundown, 50-39. Coach George Langan said, "Our best game of the tournament was our loss to Sundown. After being down by 12 at half, we came back to lead again in the third quarter. High scorers were Shonda Foster, 24 points; Ursula Dollar, 2; Dana White, 1; Laura Wolfe, 6; Kelly Brown, 1 and Robbi Fly, 1 and Kellie Anderson, 3. "We made three out of 15 for a total of 15% from the foul line and Sundown made 55% from the foul line. This made the difference in the ball game." ***

The Farwell Junior Varsity girls played in the Muleshoe Junior Varsity Tournament Dec. 4-5 and were defeated by Muleshoe, 47-20, and Bovina, 33-28. Scoring in the Muleshoe game were Angie White, 5 points; Hollie Salamone, 5; Cindy Jones, 2; Gina Ortiz, 1; Terri Hillock, 2; Sonya Curtis, 1; and Leslie Monk, 3. Also playing were Kara Camp, Kendra Stephens, Kelly Kelm, Lucretia Foster, Heather Moss, Joanna Yruegas, Janel Lovorn and April Haseloff. Scoring in the Bovina game were White, 6 points; Jones, 4; Salamone, 9; Camp, 6 and Haseloff, 3. Also playing were, Stephens, Ortiz, Kelm, Yruegas, Curtis, Hillock and Kristy Treadway. Coach Rex Cumpton said, "Overall we didn't play too badly in the tournament. For the most part, we are playing pretty good defense and rebounding well. We just have to shoot the ball better so we can put more points on the board." ***

The Farwell Junior Varsity boys basketball team played in a tournament at Muleshoe and were defeated by Littlefield, 71-30, and by Bovina, 51-44, Dec. 4-5. Coach Gary Cates said, "In the Littlefield game our kids just had a bad game, plus we were outsized. They hurt us on the boards. The main reason for the loss was we couldn't stay with them underneath the baskets. But what we need o do now is just forget these games and come back and play better ball. "In the Bovina game, we made some mistakes towards the last of the game. We had some boys foul out in the fourth quarter and ended up losing at the last. We played better than the night before, but we need to work harder on our fundamentals. These kids are winners and they want to improve." Scoring in the Littlefield game were Jaime Mendoza, 7 points; Bryan Haseloff, 4; Bruce White, 4; Adrian Smith, 3; Ruben Ortega, 2; Donald Rubio, 2; Curtis Chisom, 2 and Lance Castleberry, 2. Scoring in the Bovina game were Mendoza, 12 points; Chisom, 10; Rubio, 4; Ortega, 3; Michael Lovett, 3; Haseloff, 3; Steve Geris, 3; Stephen Ketcherside, 2; and White, 2. ***

The Farwell Junior High eighth grade boys basketball team defeated Lazbuddie, 71-15 at Lazbuddie, Dec. 8. Scoring were Monty Delgado, 19 points; Shawn Stewart, 18; Greg Atkinson, 16; Darren Haseloff, 9; Adrian Nicholas, 5 and Kirk Fly, 4. Coach Gary Cates said, "We played very well. We had the size advantage and the quickness. They had trouble breaking our press. Lazbuddie is a very young team, consisting mostly of seventh graders. The boys are playing real good ball right now." ***

The Farwell Junior High eighth grade girls team defeated Lazbuddie, 37-32, Dec. 8 at Lazbuddie. Coach George Langan said, "This was a hard-fought game by both teams. The game was undecided until late in the fourth quarter. We slowed the ball down a lot in the fourth quarter to get Lazbuddie out of a zone. We were lucky enough to get a few fouls at the right time and two break-away layups by Amy Murray in the final seconds of the game. This kind of iced the game for us." Langan recognized Murray for another outstanding performance, scoring 27 pounds. Others scoring were Misty Stewart, 2; Casey Stephens, 2; Maria Serna, 2 and Tina Ortiz, 4. ***

The Farwell Junior High seventh grade girls defeated Lazbuddie, 11-2, Dec. 8 at Lazbuddie. Coach George Langan said, "The seventh grade girls played a real

Cotton reports look good

One of the few bright spots among U.S. exports is cotton. Boosted by the government's marketing loan program and competitive prices, cotton exports are booming and should continue at a high level over the next few years.

That optimistic note was voiced by Dr. Carl Anderson, cotton marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, at the Annual Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D.C., Dec. 3.

"Lower interest rates and a weaker dollar abroad are giving the new cotton program a big boost," Anderson said. "Foreign consumption of cotton is rising at an accelerated rate and is pushing world cotton trade to a higher level while reducing stocks. At the same time foreign cotton production will likely be about 8 million bales short of mill use. All of that has to be good news to U.S. producers."

According to Anderson, export marketing prospects for the remainder of the '86s should be in the 6-7 million bale range per year provided the U.S. keeps a flexible cotton program with a marketing loan provision. The marketing loan allows producers to use the government's standard loan program as a safety net while taking advantage of fluctuating world market prices. He believes that declining exports from Russia may lead to some increase in U.S. shipments to the European market, with major markets remaining in Asia, Japan, South Korea and Taiwan.

"For U.S. cotton producers to continue to compete in international trade, our government farm program needs to maintain provisions that will meet head on production and export incentives of governments in competing countries," Anderson emphasized. "The cotton marketing loan has done just that; it has given U.S. cotton a competitive price in foreign markets. However, future levels of exports will depend largely on relative costs of production and marketing, level of U.S. government support, and each exporting country's desire to maintain and subsidize its agricultural industry to generate trade dollars."

"The marketing loan removes the U.S. price umbrella over world markets, yet provides a safety net on farm income."

Texico JV girls unbeaten

The Texico Wolverine Varsity boys team was defeated in overtime by San Jon, 63-58, Dec. 5 at San Jon.

Coach Borde Williams said, "We played well, but not well enough to win. We scored three quick points in overtime, but they scored eight to win."

"I was pleased with our offense in Rod Smith who had 23 points and David Loera, 20 points. But we will have to have some more scoring threats on offense, besides these boys."

"We've improved over our last game, but we just can't seem to get over the hump of the pressure situations. We made 10 of 28 free throws and shot 24 of 52 from the field."

"We're still in a learning process and we have learned a lot through experience, but hopefully we can use this experience to our benefit, rather than someone else's."

Coach Williams recognized Larry Powell for the good job he did filling in for Keith Harrison.

Texico will play Olton next Thursday at the Farwell Tournament.

The Texico Lady Wolverines varsity team was defeated by San Jon, 58-40, Dec. 5 at San Jon.

Scoring were Twilla Longo, 17 points; Angie Liggins, 17; Geneva Garcia, 2; Robin Pierce, 2 and Leslie Steward, 2.

Coach Roy King said, "There were times when we played well, so I know we can. But we are making too many mistakes to beat good teams. I thought Liggins played exceptionally well for the whole game. We have to be more patient on offense and move better on defense. We have a tendency to stand around too much."

The record is now 2-1.

The Texico Junior Varsity girls team defeated San Jon, 49-43, Dec. 5 at San Jon.

Scoring were Andria Chadwick, 12 points; Jennifer Gentry, 4; Tracey Askew, 8; Dena McDaniel, 4; Valerie Cavallero, 2; Jennifer Williams, 13; Denise Gonzales, 2; Penny Pierce, 2; and Amy Chadwick, 2.

Coach Roy King said, "We didn't play as well as we have been, but we still came out with a victory. We let them get too many easy baskets by getting behind our press for easy lay-ups. I thought Andria Chadwick and Williams played exceptionally well. Also, some of our 8th graders showed a lot of hustle."

Record is now 4-0.

The Texico Junior High girls team defeated Melrose, 39-28, Dec. 6 at elrose.

Scoring were Denise Gonzales, 9 points; Amy Chadwick, 8; Krystala Cross, 10; Penny Pierce, 8; Josefina Martinez, 2 and Jessica Gutierrez, 2.

Coach Roy King said, "We played real well the first half, but we have to be more consistent and play hard the whole game. The girls are working hard, but we have to start doing the small things correct, such as passing and being able to catch the ball. Our record is now 3-1."

The Texico Junior High boys 7th and 8th basketball teams defeated Melrose, 53-47 at melrose, Dec. 6.

Coach Michael Littlejohn said, "This was probably the most exciting junior high game I've been involved in since I came to Texico eight years ago. Both teams pressed the entire game and played pressure defense. We had 29 steals, 35 rebounds and 17 assists."

"Benji McDaniel had 8 steals, while Jaime Estrada had 7 and Hector Orozco and Pete Fuentes had 5 each. Estrada had 13 rebounds and Orozco, 10. Fuentes had 6 assists. In the scoring department, we were very balanced with Estrada leading the way with 12 points, followed by Orozco with 11 and Fuentes and McDaniel with 10 each, while Kenny Shaw had 7, Warren Martin, 2 and Josefre Gonzales, 1.

Texico is now 4-1.

The next game will be Texico 7th vs Gattis 7th at Gattis, Dec. 16, 4 p.m.

The Texico Junior High 7th and 8th grade boys team defeated Floyd, 47-23, Dec. 4 at Texico.

Scoring were Pete Fuentes, 9 points; Hector Orozco, 2; Benji McDaniel, 4; Jaime Estrada, 12; Warren Martin, 4; Kenny Shaw, 4; William Edwards, 2; David Palmer, 2; Lilo Perez, 4 and Pepe Gonzales, 4.

Coach Michael Littlejohn said, "We played extremely well in most aspects of the game. I was very proud of the way we passed the ball and hustled all over the floor all night. We played a half court aggressive zone defense that produced 22 steals."

"Hector Orozco led with 6 steals while Pete Fuentes had 4 and Warren Martin had 3. We had 47 total rebounds. We were led in rebounds by Estrada with 9 and Orozco and Martin with 8 a piece, followed by Fuentes with 6. I was also pleased with our free throw shooting with a 7 out of 11 effort. Estrada was 4 of 4 and Orozco, 2 of 3. I thought all off the kids played well."

Hunters, beware

Farwell Justice of the Peace Albert Smith reported that 21 hunters appeared in his court Saturday.

He said the average fine was $88 for hunters licensed for pheasant hunting in New Mexico who wandered across the state line into Texas.

Hunters hunting in Texas without Texas licenses were arrested by Texas game wardens.

Smith cautioned hunters to be alert to which state they are in if they only have licenses for one.

Preserve offered

The Theta Rho Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority will sponsor its fifth annual pheasant hunting preserve, located in Farmer and Bailey counties, for pheasant and duck hunting through the pheasant hunting dates, Dec. 13-28.

To hunt on the ESA preserves, one must be a licensed hunter, and purchase a permit for the preserve. All permits are good from the date they are issued through the closing day of the season. The permits are good for any or all of the land secured by the sorority. Each participating landowner is given one or more complimentary permits.

The cost of the ESA permits for this 1986 hunting season are as follows: Permits sold on Dec. 13 or 14, $75; those purchased Dec. 15-21, $50; and those purchased Dec. 22-28, $25. A permit may be purchased for anyone age 12 or under for $25. All permits are good for the date they are issued through the closing day of the season.

A $25 non-refundable deposit will be required to hold all reservations with the balance of the permit price to be paid when the permit is picked up. Receipt of deposit will be acknowledged with a post card. If it becomes apparent ESA cannot accommodate a hunter because the quota has been filled, his deposit will be returned. Deposits may be mailed to any of the following: Leslie Lunsford, Box 393, Farwell, Texas, 79325, 806-481-9336; Gwen Corn, Box 67, Farwell, 806-481-9520 and Altha Herington, Box 542, Farwell, 806-481-9351.

When making your reservations, please indicate if you will be hunting with dogs. The preserve land will be posted and open only to hunters buying permits from ESA. Each hunter will be given a map of the posted land and will be free to hunt on any of the preserve land. The preserve will be patrolled so that only those having permits will be allowed to hunt.

The reserved permits and maps may be picked up Dec. 12 from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. (CST) or Dec. 13, from 5 a.m. to 10 a.m. (CST) at the Farwell Community Center on 9th Street. After Dec. 13, available permits may be obtained from Gwen Corn, Leslie Lunsford, Altha Herington or Terri Nichols.

The sorority sponsors this event as a fund-raiser for the group's philanthropic projects, and also to benefit any worthy causes in the community.

Band Boosters host dinner

The Farwell Band Boosters will be sponsoring a "Turkey and Dressing Dinner," at the Farwell School cafeteria, Dec. 14 from noon to 3 p.m.

The band students are selling tickets or you may purchase them at the dinner. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2 for children (10 and under). The menu consists of Turkey and dressing, cranberries, broccoli and rice casserole, vegetable dishes, rolls, desserts, coffee and tea.

The Farwell Stage Band along with Lynn Burton and Ron McWilliams will be playing throughout the afternoon meal.

Check Safety To Make The Holidays Bright

- Before hanging strings of lights, spread them on the floor and check for frayed or bare wires, cracked insulation, loose connections, and damaged plugs or light sockets.
- Check extension cords for wear or damage and don't run them across walking areas.
- Test lights before putting them on the tree. Unplug them before making repairs or replacing bulbs.
- Overloading circuits with too many lights can cause fire. Follow manufacturer's instructions about the number of lights allowed on one circuit.
- Choose a fresh, green tree, trim its base and keep it in plenty of water. If the needles are brown and break off easily, it could be a fire risk.
- If you buy an artificial tree, make sure it has been tested for flammability by Underwriters Laboratories (UL).
- Place your tree away from the fireplace or other heat sources and out of the traffic pattern.
- Never string lights on a metallic tree. Light strings with damaged insulation can electrically charge a metallic tree. Instead, shine unattached colored floodlights or spotlights on the tree.
- Always turn off lights before leaving home or going to bed. You'll save money and be safer, too.
- Never use lighted candles on a tree or near evergreens. And don't burn evergreens in the fireplace.
- Do not use inside lights on the outside. All outside lighting equipment, including lights, cords and plugs, should be waterproof and made for outdoor use. Also, hang sockets downward and don't leave a socket empty.
- When hanging lights on the rooftop or in tall trees outdoors, stay clear of electrical lines. Make sure you or your decorations don't come in contact with them.
- Should you receive a CB radio or television this Christmas, let a qualified serviceman install the CB base unit or television antenna for you. This delicate job is best left to the professionals.
- Be sure electrical toys are tested for safety. Look for the UL mark.

Wishing You A Safe, Happy Holiday

Posed for their photo are Colleen Stover and Robyn Palady, members of Beta Sigma Phi. Colleen has the clock set on 4 a.m. when they will be up preparing breakfast for the hunters during the opening of pheasant season, Dec. 13 from 5 until 8:30 a.m. at the Farwell Community Center. Robyn has a skillet and spatula ready to help cook.

Hunter's breakfast nears

The Pheasant Hunter's Breakfast was the main topic of discussion at the Dec. 9 meeting of Alpha Rho Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The final check was made so that everyone was aware of what needed to be done for the breakfast. Members will be at the Community Center at 4 a.m. on Dec. 13 so that the food can be served at 5 a.m.

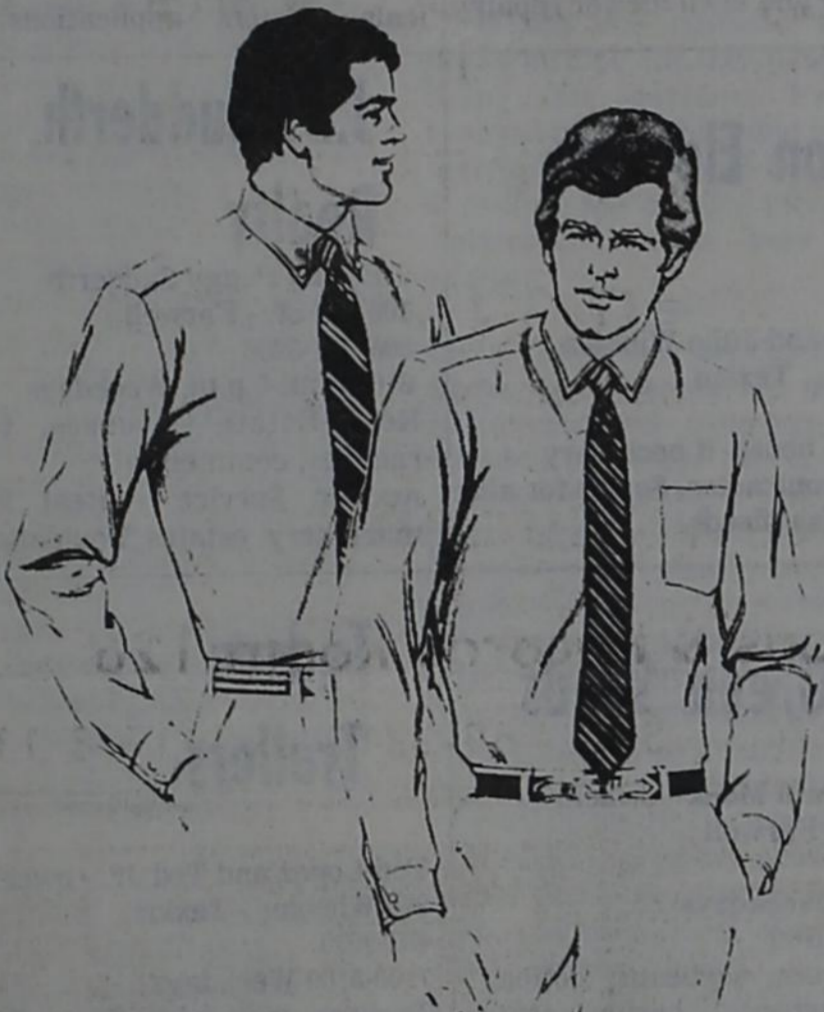

The meeting followed a delicious taco salad supper prepared by hostess Ann Norton. After the meeting, members exchanged Christmas gifts with their secret sisters, and revealed the identity of the secret sisters. There was also an ornament exchange, and members brought gifts for Girl's Ranch.

On Dec. 6, the club hosted a Christmas party for its members and their families at the Farwell fire house. Santa Claus brought gifts for the children, and a variety of snacks were served.

MICROWAVE CARAMEL CORN

1/2 c. butter
 1/4 c. corn syrup
 1 c. brown sugar
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. soda
 4 to 6 quarts popped corn
 Combine butter, syrup, sugar and salt in an 8-cup glass measuring cup or a 3-quart mixing bowl. Bring to a boil and then cook 2 1/2 minutes. Stir in baking soda. Pour over popped corn in a large grocery bag that has been sprayed with a pan coating. Stir slightly to combine. Put the bag in the microwave and cook 2 1/2 minutes, stirring after 1 minute; spread out to cool. Break apart.
 NOTE: SPS does not recommend popping the corn in a paper bag because of the possibility of fire.

President Houston gives farewell address

1836: MONDAY, DECEMBER 10. On this second Monday of December, the two houses of Congress convened at 12 noon on the portico of the capitol building in Houston to induct President-elect Mirabeau B. Lamar and Vice President-elect David G. Burnet. A crowd of spectators was also present.

Outgoing President Sam Houston was invited to deliver a farewell address. To the surprise of all present, he appeared in a George Washington-style costume, with knee breeches and a white powdered wig. Always an eloquent speaker, he delivered a long and somewhat disorganized address, describing the accomplishments of his administration, and the past, present and future prospects of Texas, with numerous anecdotes and other asides. Much of his speech, if not all, appeared to be extemporaneous. It continued for some three hours.

President-elect Lamar became more and more disturbed as President Houston continued to speak. Lamar has a considerable literary reputation, and had prepared a lengthy inaugural address. When Houston finally concluded, Lamar was too indisposed to speak. His address was read to the gathering by his secretary. Some of the spectators have charged that Houston deliberately attempted to "upstage" and disturb his successor. There are wide differences between the two men, even though Lamar served as Houston's Vice President. Others say that it was simply a practical joke, a common practice in the Republic.

Lamar's inaugural address was general in nature. He stated that his administration would seek to foster "agriculture, commerce and the useful arts as the true basis of all national strength and glory." He affirmed his opposition to annexation. His position is not popular in Texas, but was not a campaign issue. "I cannot regard the annexation of Texas to the American Union in any other light than as the grave of all her hopes of happiness and greatness," he said.

"When I view her vast extent of territory, stretching from the Sabine to the Pacific and away to the Southwest as far as the obstinacy of the enemy may render it necessary for the sword to make the boundary," the incoming President said, the resources of Texas can only result in "carrying to the door of every citizen of the Republic, peace, plenty, and protection."

Vice President Burnet also delivered an inaugural address, although many of the spectators had left by this time. President Lamar will submit his Cabinet nominations to the Senate on Wednesday.

1841: MONDAY, DECEMBER 13. President-elect Sam Houston and Vice President-elect Edward Burleson were inaugurated today in a brief ceremony at the capitol in Austin. General Burleson, long famed as an Indian fighter, appeared in a complete suit of highly dressed and ornamented buckskin. President Houston was dressed in a hunting shirt and a wide-brimmed white fur hat.

The President's flair for unusual costumes is well known, and there was some interest in what he would wear on this occasion. It was heightened by a report from the former French charge d'affaires, Alphonse de Aligny, who abandoned his post in Austin last April 28 after a dispute with the Lamar administration over what was come to be called the "Pit War."

Saligny took up temporary residence in New Orleans and later in Mandeville, Louisiana. Houston, who has had no doubt of his reelection, has kept in touch with him there, to smooth the way for his eventual return to Texas. The gist of one of his letters was reported by de Aligny to his superior in Paris as follows:

"I have also received a letter from General Houston. He seems to have not the slightest doubt of his election, for he begs me to have made for him in Paris a uniform for him to wear on the day of his inauguration. In my correspondence with the department in 1839 I already had occasion to remark on the bizarre tastes of General Houston in regard to dress. No doubt they stem from his life with the savages. He has remained true to these tastes in the choice of uniform he asks me to have sent him. The entire costume is to be made of green velvet embroidered in gold, worn under a short cloak in Spanish style, also in green velvet and lavishly embroidered, to be topped by a hat a la Henry IV sporting an immense three-colored plume. It is in this extraordinary garb that the future head of the Republic of Texas plans to appear when he is installed as President next December 10. I hastened to write to Paris to fulfill the ideas of General Houston."

Perhaps the costume was not ready in time for the inauguration today. Or perhaps President Houston changed his mind. Since his marriage to Margaret Lea on May 9, 1840, he has become increasingly conservative in his dress and his habits.

1843: TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12. Barter has become the most frequent mode of exchange in the Republic of Texas, due to the continuing depreciation of its currency. Even large business transactions are often conducted by exchange of goods, with no money involved.

Money is passed as quickly as it is received. For example, one Texian reports: "I received a hatful of new, crisp $1 bills in payment for a horse lost in the San Saba Indian fight, which I immediately turned over to a creditor, without ever having folded them. People would almost rather have anything else than the commonwealth paper."

There are no coins in the Republic, and none have ever been minted. Mexican coins circulated for a while after independence, but soon disappeared. As early as 1838, David G. Burnet, the former ad interim President, commented that there was no specie in the Republic, saying, "I doubt if the desk of the Treasurer has heard the jingle of it for the past year." To facilitate trade, "change notes" in amounts less than $1 have been printed, but are considered of no value.

Barter has become so common that certain items have an agreed value, and almost become legal tender. Cows are presently in this category. Previously it was horses, but they were so often stolen by Indians that they became too risky. The following illustrates how this is manged:

 "Mrs. H., a widow living near me, having need of merchandise, for which the cash was not at hand, offered a cow and a calf in lieu thereof, a cow being rated at $10. The tender was accepted, Mrs. H. reserving the use of the cow during milking season. The bill of sale being made out, the merchant paid off a debt with it, and the creditor likewise passed it on. That bit of paper passed from hand to hand, always with the original reservation, till it paid about $100; when the widow made a deal and bought the cow back again before it went dry." The cow itself never changed hands.
 Merchants advertise that they will sell for barter--"cash, cotton, or country produce; call and see before purchasing elsewhere," as one put it. Doctors accept produce and other items for medical services. A carpenter may contract for a large job in return for a gun. Even newspaper subscriptions may be obtained through barter.

William Bolleart, an Englishman who has been travelling through Texas, reports that "barter is the present system of trade." He says that money is especially scarce in San Antonio. "Even the curate is obliged to receive for his different duties cattle, corn, etc., which he barter for what he may require." He describes a typical scene in a shop, in which a young boy brings in a wild turkey his father has shot. He says his mother wants a pound of coffee and two pounds of sugar in return for it. They bargain, and eventually settle for perhaps half that amount. Chicken and eggs may be accepted for cloth and candles, corn for tobacco and salt.

"But let this country be blessed with peace," Bolleart predicts, "this system of things will change, and cash, cash, cash will once more be seen."

1844: MONDAY, DECEMBER 9. President-elect Anson Jones and Vice President-elect Kenneth Lewis Anderson were installed today in what many believe will be the final administration of the Republic of Texas before annexation by the United States. The ceremony took place outside Independence Hall in Washington-on-the-Brazos, temporary capital of Texas.

In his valedictory address, outgoing President Sam Houston implied opposition to annexation. "If Texas goes begging again for admission into the United States, she will only degrade herself," he said. He pointed out that the country is now in excellent condition, and if left alone, "may become a nation

County Judge Porter Roberts said the petition was filed with the Parmer County Clerk by Texas Rural Legal Help.

Roberts said he is contacting other area counties to get examples of the written forms they use.
In other business, Roberts noted that 53,640 pounds of surplus commodities were handed out in Parmer County in October.
A jury of view was appointed to check a petition to have a road near Bruegel Elevator become a county road. The jury consists of chairman Russell O'Brien, Vernon Brown, Thomas Mason Jr., Dale Milner and Dee Willard.

The Texico Booster Club last week agreed to have a giveaway as a fund-raiser.

Items to be given away include an installed ceiling fan, an afghan, a painted picture and a baby blanket. Items will be given away (with the fan as first place prize) at the last basketball game Feb. 20.

Tickets will cost $1 each.

"We need Booster Club members to pick up their tickets and sell them," said club president Jim Holland. "Tickets will be distributed at the Jan. 6 club meeting so all club members are asked to attend."

Farwell Convalescent Center Chit Chat

BY LYNNE GANN
Activity Director

The Ladies Auxiliary are having a Bake Sale at the Beauty box the 11th, 12th and 13th. Please go by and support our Ladies in their good cause.

Today at lunch I ask our residents who remembered what they used to get for Christmas. Alice Head said "a great big rag doll." Howard Carlyle said "mittens." Joe Sheehan said, "a doll and cradle, all homemade." Harvey Jordan said, "A sled." Fairy Stovall said, "a china doll." Many didn't have Christmas trees. Some who did said they put strings of popcorn or ropes they made of paper loops. They put candles on for lights.

Times change but the good things so plain, so simple are still the best memories.

Chris Roach and her Bluebirds came by today with homemade cookies for their adopted Grandparents. They sang carols and had a lovely visit. We look forward to their visit every second Tuesday of the month.

Welcome Home Althea Donahey.
