Speaking of football ...

Odds and ends today, folks: There's a rumor going around that the fee for driver's education at Farwell has gone from $50 to $150. False.

I got a very nice letter from Rev. Joel Horne at the First Baptist Church of Texico about my recent column on the confirmation hearings for Judge Bork.

He notes in his letter: "Thank you for making a stand. We are truly living in an age of give and take - where most will not give what it takes..."

Thank you, pastor. Oops department: In our write-up last week on the Farwell Junior Varsity game, we neglected to say that Heath Ray Boone made Farwell's second TD.

Our football contest is once again drawing a large number of fans, some of whom have moved away from our area.

Each Friday, Craig Kaltwasser calls from Amarillo. And we get the filled-out contest form each Saturday from Russ Jones in Canadian, Texas.

Another entrant is Daniel Hutchins, who is away at college. With his last form was a short letter that included:

"Mike: I forgot to send in my form last week but I would have gotten 9 with the tie. "How are things going at home? Tell the Methodist Youth Fellowship and Steve (Stephens) 'hello' and that I'm happy to hear from their members.

Yes, I was at the Texas Tech - Texas A&M game Saturday. Wasn't everyone? Anyway, I bought a ticket at the gate and guess where I ended up: in the front row of the Aggie cheering section.

They have all sorts of neat commands for cheers, one of which really came as a shock. I told Joe Jones, an A&M alumnus, about it and he said it likely was introduced as a command to cheer long before the gesture became known for something else.

Nuff said: When you get a chance, ask Joe about it...

Speaking of football, I'm hesitant to write about the NFL strike since this column is being penned last Sunday and it's likely the situation will change by the time this newspaper issue comes out.

Suffice it to say, I believe the NFL Players Union messed up when they made free agency a primary issue. I would hope that issue is dropped from the table and the two sides agree quickly on some financial remuneration for the players so we can get back to good, old-fashioned pro football.

That's not to say I didn't enjoy watching the periphery players last week. I bet a bunch of them make the team after their showings. But how can you get mad at (or be happy with) a Danny White if he isn't playing??

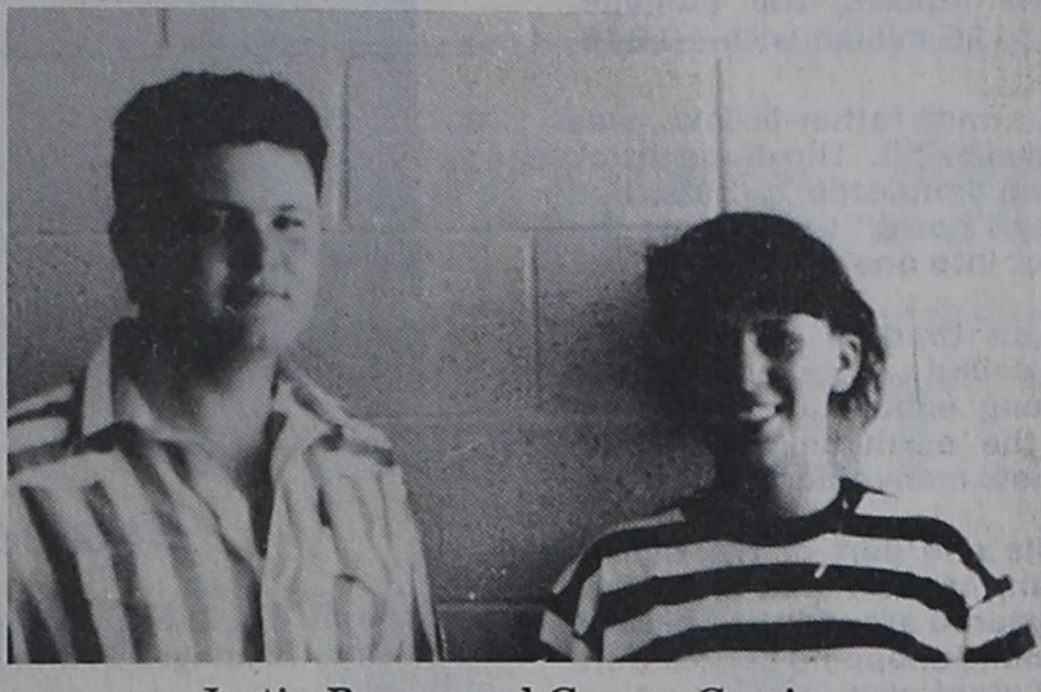

Herman Grissom dropped off the following article that a former teacher of his penned many years ago. It's called "The Great American Sport - Football."

(Here is an account of the first football game seen by a foreign exchange student to his parents in the back country of India.)

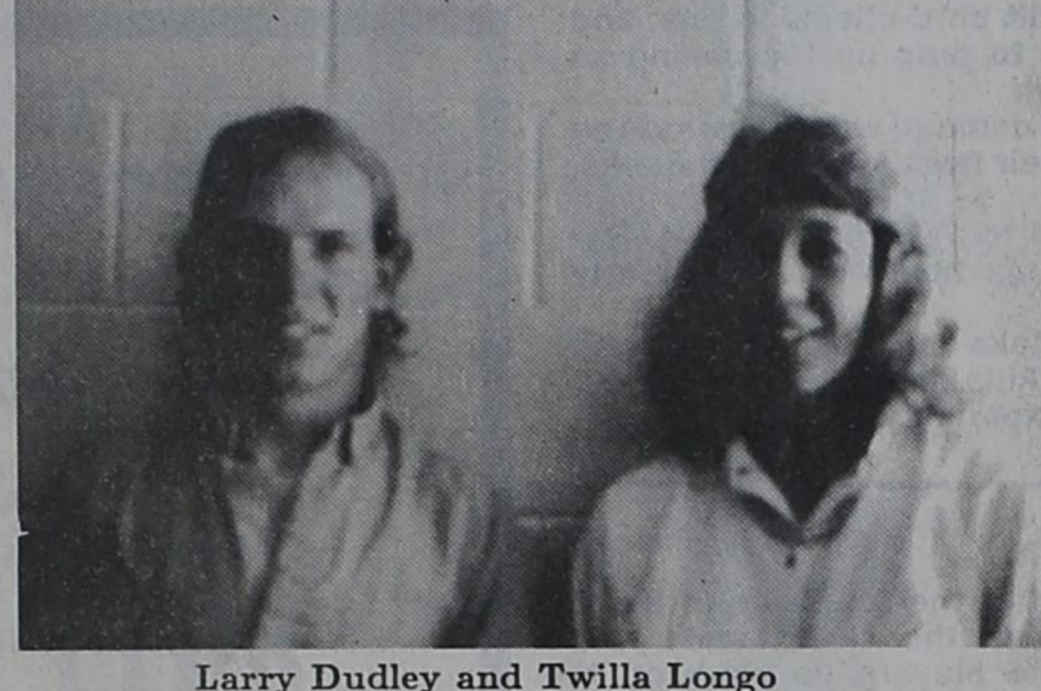

This American game starts with 22 players, 11 to a team, and each player tries to get the ball. As soon as one gets the ball, the other players do every thing possible to get it away from him. One player jumps on him and all the others run and jump on him too, to make sure he won't get away.

About this time, another team of three or four convicts

It's Texico Homecoming!

The Texico Wolverines play their Homecoming game vs. the Hagerman Bobcats tonight (Friday) at 7:30 p.m. (MDT).

A pep rally is scheduled for 9:22 a.m. today in the Wolverine Gym and will include the "Mini Parade." Winners of the Dress Days and Poster competition will be announced at that time.

The crowning of the king and queen will be at 7 p.m. (MDT), just before kickoff of the football game. Crowning will be done by last year's king, Kyle Snipes, and Coy Jo Burk who was last year's first runner-up for queen.

There will be plaques presented at halftime to the oldest alumnus and the alumnus traveling the farthest. The winning floats will also be on parade during halftime.

Candidates for Texico's Homecoming Queen are: Geneva Garcia, Twilla Longo, Dena McDaniel, Heather Delaney, and Angie Liggins.

Candidates for Texico's

Homecoming King are: Justin Barnes, Larry Dudley, Urbano Orozco, Keith Harrison, and Lance Akers.

Dena McDaniel is the daughter of Mr. Roy McDaniel and Mrs. Anna Powell. Dena is involved in volleyball, basketball, and FFA. She is the treasurer of the pep club.

Heather Delaney is the daughter of Robert and Kristi Delaney and James and Kathy Harding. She is involved in varsity volleyball and cheerleading, FFA, Bleacher Bums, and Yearbook Staff. She is Senior Class Vice President.

Angela K. Liggins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Maxwell. Angie is involved in varsity volleyball, varsity cheerleading, Pep club, and Yearbook Staff. She is the vice president of pep club.

Larry Dudley is the son of Mrs. Loretta Dudley. He is involved in football and Pep Club. Last year he received

Rogers tops 4th football contest

This has been an interesting 29th annual Merchants Football Contest this year.

The first two weeks featured a multitude of upsets, thus creating a bunch of low scores for entrants.

But the last two weeks have had participants easily solve the mystery of knowing who will win.

Thus, last week found 9 contestants having 11 of 12 correct. The game missed by most folks was the upset of Clovis by Santa Fe.

With 11 correct answers were Jeff Actkinson, Brian Rogers, Homer Anzaldua, Jerry Bentley, Doyle Green, Amy Murray, Fuji Ortiz, Billy Roach and Todd Thigpen.

Brian Rogers, of Route 1, Texico, was declared the first place winner by virtue of having his score closest to the tie breaker: Farwell 17, Petersburg 13. Rogers was 5 off the tie breaker. Thus, he won the weekly $10 cash prize.

Next closest off the tie breaker was Todd Thigpen, who received the second place prize of $5. He was 10 off the tie breaker.

Those with 10 right were: Kaci Stephens Farwell High 4th period theater arts class, Angie White, Sydney Martin, Champ Porter, Jena Pyburn, Dick Pylant, Billy Roberts, Cheryl Scott, Dale Sikes, Albert Smith, Shawn Stewart, Dolores Williams, Greg Actkinson, Martin Chandley, Evelyn Goldsmith, Berl Johnson.

Also, Vince Smith, Johnny Actkinson, Charles Aycock, Adrian Smith, Jamey Berry, Janene Berry, Steve Breckenridge, Lynn Burton, J.D. Carson, Andria Chadwick, Doug Cole, Rex Cumpston, Mamie Howard, Jane Kent, Steve Kittrell, Eugene Lonsdale.

Also, Red Lonsdale, Monty Delgado, Ronnie Dunsworth, Farwell High pre-algebra class (Gregory), Farwell speech class (Gregory), John Franse, Steve Franse, Robin Gregory, Richie Gullely, Jennifer Guthals, Mrs. B.L. Harding, Kathy Harrison, Sammy Herrera, Tony Nicholas, Brenda Ortiz, Amanda Perales, Roy Perales and Fred Libby.

Results of last week's contests were:

Santa Fe over Clovis, Bovina over Amarillo Christian, Anton over Lorenzo, Tatum over Melrose, Muleshoe over Lockney, Friona over Pampa, Texas Tech over Texas A&M, Arkansas over TCU, ENMU over Texas Lutheran, LSU over Florida, Auburn over North Carolina, and Miami (Fla.) over Florida State.

Last week's contest marked the one-third mark in this year's battle to win the tickets to the Dallas Cowboys game over Christmas vacation.

Here's a look at the standings of the leaders:

- 37 points - Stephen Ketcherside.
- 36 - Steve Kittrell.
- 35 - Amanda Perales, Bruce White.
- 34 - Jena Pyburn, Jody Ketcherside.
- 33 - Gene Hardage, Jennifer Guthals, Mamie Howard, T.J. Kittrell, Roy Perales, Liz Phillips, Raymond Robertson, Shorty Robertson, Trent Schilling, Carl Dean Goettsch.
- 32 - Fuji Ortiz, Ralph Franse, Linda Geries, Lisa Geries, Steve Geries, Doyle Green, Larry Gullely, Esther Ketcherside, Eugene Lonsdale, Roger Robertson.
- 31 - Jeff Actkinson, Lynn Burton, Sherry Christian, Doug

play at the Tribune office during normal business hours. Entrants must be 12 years old or older.

All entries must be turned in at the Tribune office before 5 p.m. Friday (today) or, if mailed, must bear a Friday postmark.

The grand prize of the 12-week contest will be two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys - St. Louis Cardinals game Dec. 27 in Dallas. The prize also includes lodging at the Airport Hilton, transportation to and from the airport, and to and from the stadium, free brunch, tour of Cowboys Center and $50 spending cash.

Why is bed shaking so?

Alma Garms

"Why on earth is this bed shaking so?" thought Alma Garms. It was three o'clock in the morning on Oct. 4.

Then she remembered the earthquake, and realized that she was experiencing another earthquake or an aftershock. She jumped from her bed and stood in the doorway so that the lintel above the door would protect her from harm if there should be falling debris.

Her oldest granddaughter took cover under the dining room table, and other members of the Bradley Garms family of Pamona, Calif., stood in the doorways waiting for the shaking to stop.

Alma Garms (Mrs. Raymond Garms of Farwell) was visiting her son and his family to help them care for their newest child, Brianna Marie, who was born on Sept. 19. Mrs. Garms arrived in Pamona on Sept. 23. She was in Pamona - about 25 miles from Whittier which was the epicenter of the earthquake activity - for the earthquake and for many of the aftershocks.

The original earthquake occurred on Oct. 1. It hit 6.1 on the Richter Scale. The aftershock on Oct. 4 was rated at 5.5 on the Richter Scale, and it actually lasted longer than the first earthquake.

"It was not nearly as frightening as I thought it would be," commented Mrs. Garms. "There were no dishes falling; the ceilings didn't come down. We weren't where the fires broke out. And yet, it was scary because there was absolutely no warning, and no way of knowing how serious it would be.

"The aftershock that came on the morning of Oct. 4 was the type that starts slow and then builds as it goes along. They don't all happen that way. A lot of them are so mild you don't feel them. Others start with a jolt and then die down. You never know what to expect."

After the shaking stopped, the Garms family checked the house for damage. Luckily, the only damage they sustained was a cracked garage floor. But, not everyone was that lucky.

The worst damage in the original earthquake occurred near Whittier. Some people lost their homes to fires which

On Oct. 10, the Texico Jr. high football team will play Tucumcari at Texico at 10 a.m.

Other Homecoming activities which have been held this week include volleyball games, and Dress days. The junior high (A-B) volleyball team played Floyd at Floyd on Oct. 6 and the B (7-8) team played Portales at Texico on Oct. 8.

The Dress days were: Monday, sun glasses and socks; Tuesday, favorite star; Wednesday, Dress Up Day; Thursday, Sadie Hawkins Day; Friday, Green and White Day.

Signs to be placed along highway

At Tuesday's Farwell Booster Club meeting, it was announced that signs previewing Friday's football game at Bovina would be placed along the highway between Farwell and Bovina.

Amy Murray asked the Booster Club to help make the signs and place them along the highway.

The club invited all interested persons to participate in the project. Persons who make signs are asked to take them to any of the cheerleaders immediately after the pep rally Friday 9today) and they will put them up.

In other business, it was noted that next week is Homecoming and it's hoped there will be a large turnout of fans.

Coach Rex Cumpton showed the film of the Farwell - Petersburg game.

The club discussed fundraisers, but tabled the idea until the basketball season.

The next meeting will be Tuesday night at 7:30 at the high school field house.

Gridders fall

Farwell's 7th and 8th grade football team was beaten 32-6 on Oct. 1.

Farwell kept the score in reasonable range during the first half, but Petersburg scored 20 points during the second half.

The lone Farwell TD was scored by Juan Gomez.

Earthquake

were caused by broken gas lines or electrical lines. Others lost theirs to collapsed roofs and walls. Many of these people are still camping in front of their former homes.

According to Associated Press reports, the damage estimates listed on Monday were $125 million with 10,619 structures damaged or destroyed.

Mr. Frank Falcone, Bradley Garms' father-in-law, was in Whittier when the first earthquake hit. The huge truck terminal where he worked swayed from side to side, and semi-trailer trucks "jumped up and down" because of the earthquake. Later in the day he got into one of those trucks and went back to his deliveries.

The video store that employed Bradley Garms' wife, Wanda, before the baby was born called and asked to return to return from maternity leave long enough to help them put things back in order after the earthquake. She had managed the business, and she knew many things that other employees did not.

The earthquake collapsed walls and part of the ceiling of the store. TV sets and recorders, video tapes and other merchandise were broken and scattered around the building. Oddly enough, other stores in the same shopping center were not damaged as much as this one store was.

Wanda Garms helped the telephone company's representative hook up the telephone credit card checking line, and watched while the crew came in to prop up the ceiling so that the business could open again.

Of course, none of the material damage was as serious as the loss of life. Five people lost their lives in the earthquake, most from heart attacks.

Mrs. Raymond Garms returned to Farwell on Oct. 4. Her plane left California only about six hours after the early morning's strong aftershock.

"I was very glad to be home. I'll take Farwell anytime," said Mrs. Garms. "I'd just as soon my kids didn't live out there," she added after the earthquake experience.

get into the act. They're always about two feet shorter and 30 years older than the original teams, but they really do a good job of holding their own. In fact, they sort of bully the other teams. When they barely toot a little whistle, the other teams let them have the ball.

These little ones don't have to wear helmets or other heavy equipment, since they don't have to fight for the ball like the rest do. These fellows, who are quite absent minded, are constantly losing their hankies and getting in the way of the other players. The other players are pretty nice to them, never knocking them down or taking the ball away from them - probably out of respect for their age.

Every two or three plays, someone gets hurt or scared so one of his good friends has to run in and take his place for awhile. Sometimes the coach can talk him into going back into the game later.

Once in a while, a player will get the ball and run with it until he goes clear outside the field, but the little ones make him bring it back, and then they take it away from him. In every game, there is someone standing along the sidelines playing with a gun. After so long, it usually goes off and scares the players half to death. They will run to their respective coaches for protection. The coach can usually pacify them and in a few minutes they will start playing again as well as ever.

No one ever thinks to take the gun away from the maniac on the sidelines, and after the fourth or fifth shot, even the coach can't make the players go back on the field - so the game ends and everybody goes home.

Kirk Fly's trophy for first place in a motorcycle race in Cloudcroft is almost as big as he is.

Fly wins 1st in motorcycle endurance race

Kirk Fly of Farwell won first in his class at Cloudcroft, NM on Sept. 27 where he participated in a motorcycle endurance race.

In an "Enduro," the riders ride on foot trails, horsetrails and Jeep roads most of the time. The objective is to keep a steady pace as close to the set speed as possible. Riders stop at check points periodically along the way where their speed and time are measured. Riders are docked one point for each minute they arrive after their designated arrival time, but they lose two points for each minute they arrive ahead of their designated arrival time.

The Cloudcroft event was 90 miles long-up one side of a mountain and down another through trees and over streams. Only the toughest survived. During the course of the day Kirk saw many people drop their bikes. Kirk was the only person in the 16 and under class to complete the course. He observed several accidents during the day.

At one point in the race, Kirk saw one person fail to yield the right of way to another rider. When the advancing rider caught up with the rider who wouldn't yield, he forced the road hog right off the side of the mountain.

At another point in the race, Kirk watched a rider enter a switchback where he lost his balance and slid down about 10 feet of mountain road-right in front of a photographer.

"I was tired and sore by the end of the day, and I had a few scratches from bouncing into trees, but otherwise I was in pretty good shape," said Fly.

It had rained on Sept. 26, so the roads were very muddy. Even the riders who didn't fall were covered with mud by the time the day was over.

Fly rode a Honda XR100 in the race. He rode with his uncle, Sammy Merritt, of Pleasant Hill who finished second in his class. Merritt rode a Yamaha IT 200 in the race.

The riders rode from 8 a.m.-1:30 p.m. with two short gas stops permitted along the way. With the exception of those gas stops, the riders were supposed to keep moving during the course. They were not allowed to stop just to come into the checkpoints at advantageous times.

Fly hopes to participate in similar events in Post and on the Caprock later this year.

Activity Director

We have an exercise class every weekday morning. We do all our exercises sitting down in chairs or wheel chairs.

We use balloons, stretch, kick, touch toes and exercise to enable us to keep limber and mobile.

Carl Davis used to be here with us, but is now at home. We feel like Carl is still among us as he comes nearly every day to exercise with us. We look forward to Carl's cheerful smile each morning.

Carl also joins us for dominoes Monday evenings and Thursday afternoons. He is a morale booster to our men's domino group.

The purpose of informing you of Carl's continued participation is to encourage more of you to come join us in our activities. We would love to have you join us for exercise, Bingo, dominoes. Any entertainment function can only be made more fun if you're here. So, please, if your afternoon is free, join us. You are always welcome.

P.S. Carl asked that I add "the reason I continue coming is I'm the one who benefits from this. I feel better when I come."

Lady Wolverines roll to wins over Floyd, Elida

Texico's Lady Wolverines had another good week beating Elida 14-6, 10-15, and 15-8 on Oct. 1, and defeating Floyd 15-3, 15-9, and 15-4 on Oct. 6.

The Lady Wolverines are now 4-1 in district play and 10-1 in their overall playing.

The Ladies had impressive records in the Elida match. Geneva Garcia and Leslie Steward each had 6 aces in the match; one-third of Steward's serves were aces. The team scored on 89.1% of its serves.

In serve receiving, Leslie Steward had 20 exceptional passes, Geneva Garcia had 14, Robin Pierce had 10, Jennifer Gentry had 9, Heather Delaney had 6, and Twilla Longo had 5.

In attacking, Twilla Longo had an outstanding 25 kills. She killed the ball 96.8% of the time.

Robin Pierce and Leslie Steward each had seven saves, and Heather Delaney had six.

Heather Delaney led the team in assists with 21, and Robin Pierce had 16.

Geneva Garcia had 10 blocks, seven of them stuff blocks; and Twilla Longo had 11 blocks, six of them stuff blocks.

In the match against Floyd, the statistics were even more impressive. The serving was much better than it was at Elida. The team scored on 94% of all serves made. Seven girls scored on every serve they attempted. They are Heather Delaney, Angie Liggins, Robin Pierce, Jennifer Gentry, Dena McDaniel, Jennifer Williams, and Denise Gonzales.

Heather Delaney scored on all 23 serves attempted.

Leslie Steward made 6 exceptional passes, and Twilla Longo and Robin Pierce made 5. Geneva Garcia and Angie Liggins made 4, and Heather Delaney made 3.

Twilla Longo and Geneva Garcia each made 8 kills in the Floyd match.

Heather Delaney, Angie Liggins, and Leslie Steward each made three saves.

Heather Delaney led the team in assists with 9. Robin Pierce had 6, and Dena McDaniel had three.

Leslie Steward made 4 blocks, 2 of them were stuff blocks.

The family of Henry W. "Penn" Curtis wishes to express heartfelt thanks to friends and members of the community for the love and devotion shown both to our father throughout his illness and to his family during our time of grief.

We are especially grateful to those who opened up their homes as well as their hearts. Special thanks to Ed and Yvonne McPeak for their unremitting efforts in coordinating transportation, food preparation and sparing us much pain. Also, to members of the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department for the loving care given en route to the hospital.

Family requests that any contributions in memory of our father be made to the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department.

Michele and Jack Allan Kirkland

Kirkland is new managing partner of CPA firm

Jack Allan Kirkland is the new managing partner at Berry & Kirkland Certified Public Accountant firm in Farwell. Kirkland, a graduate of Farwell High, has a bachelor's degree in accounting from Hardin-Simmons University. He worked for various accounting firms in Abilene, Texas, while attending college from 1972-1976. He then worked for Jim Berry for four years before returning to Abilene to complete his college degree. He moved to Dallas in November 1984 to work for Cornwell, Jackson & Co. He was promoted to partner in charge of tax and accounting services departments. He also has spoken at various seminars including those on the Tax reform Act of 1986. A year ago, he married. His wife, Michele, also will work at the Berry & Kirkland office. Mrs. Kirkland, a native of New York, graduated from high school in Arlington, Texas. She has bachelor degrees in accounting and information systems from Baylor University. Mrs. Kirkland was employed for one year with Coopers & Lybrand, one of the Big Eight accounting firms and also one year in the tax department of J.V. Smith, a local CPA firm in North Dallas. Kirland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirkland of Farwell. The Kirklands have purchased a home on Third Street in Farwell.

Golf championship held

By CHRIS FONTANILLA
Farwell Country Club Golf Pro

The 1987 Farwell Country Club Golf Championship was held last weekend. The format was somewhat different than in the past: there were three divisions - men's open, men's senior (55 and older) and women's. Each division was divided into two categories - low gross and low net. And each player was eligible to compete in both categories in his respective division. Jim Berry captured the Men's Open Division with a 4 under par 140 for the two-day event. After the first round, he was tied for second with Ricky Ketcherside and Jack Kirkland with 73's. However, Berry's super final round of 67 made him the new champ. "I love this game. It's enjoyable, especially when I'm playing well. And today is one of those days," said Berry. First round leader Fuji Ortiz shot a 76 for a total of 148. Ketcherside and Kirkland ended with 2nd and 3rd, respectively.

Charles Dobbs, an 18-handicapper, won the low net with a 125, 19 under par. Ortiz managed to gain second place with 128. Berry was 3rd with 132. "That's my best round ever," said Dobbs, referring to his final round of 77, giving him a net score of 59. In the Men's Senior Division, Ray Bauer took home the title by winning both low gross and low net categories with scores of 159 and 133, respectively. Low gross runner-up was Bill Cole with 162. Buster Herrington's 135 placed him second in the low net category. Bev Obenshain became the new Women's Division champion with rounds of 94 and 91, for a total of 185. Runner-up was Faye Summers with 197. Obenshain also won the low net category with 145. Summers was runner-up with 154. Winners for closest-to-the-pin were: Saturday - Men, Rick Ketcherside and women, Bev Obenshain; Sunday - Men, Jim Berry and women, Bev Obenshain.

Pierce presents program

Theta Rho Chapter of ESA met Sept. 28 at the home of Susan Johnson.

The program was presented by Janette Pierce, home economist for Parmer County. She spoke on "Time Management." She showed the group a video on how to manage their time more adequately. Goals are very important in time management. A goal simply states what you want to have, to get, to do or to be. A goal should be specific. Mrs. Pierce said it is better to set your values based on what is important to you, not to others. Written goals as stated in the video indicate that you have moved from having only vague wishes to a stronger commitment to seeing goals materialize. Goals should be put in priorities, positively stated and a target date set.

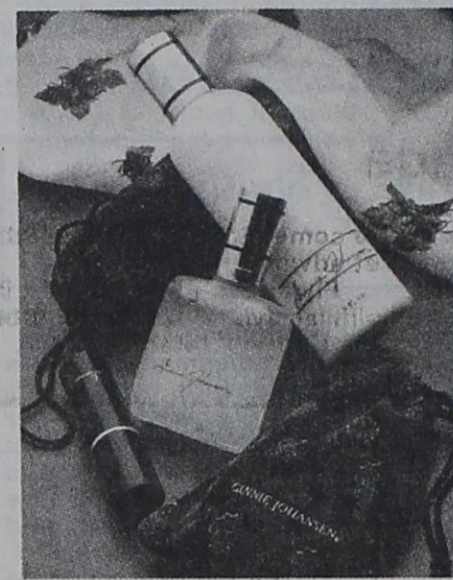

All the videos were provided for the group to consider. A complete "Master Manager" was given each member present. Mrs. Pierce gives this program to audiences everywhere.

ESA will bring plans now for the annual pheasant hunt. The next meeting will be a business meeting with Leslie Lunsford as hostess.

Ortiz cards hole-in-one

Fuji Ortiz of Farwell carded his first hole-in-one at the Farwell Country Club Oct. 3.

This unusual feat was accomplished with a 5-iron on the 216-yard No. 11. Playing partners who witnessed the perfect shot were Kent Armstrong and Ricky Ketcherside. Also watching was country club golf pro Chris Fontanilla.

Stella Garcia is ready for National School Lunch Week

An ethnic flavor

Oct. 11-17 is National School Lunch Week. Schools across the country will be celebrating the progress of the School Food Service program over the last 40 years. This year, National School Lunch Week focuses on the different ethnic groups that have contributed to the American lifestyle. Four daily menus - Scandinavian, American, West African, and Middle Eastern, were created by the National Food Service. Farwell school cafeteria director, Linda Moss, will be using these menus, and she has added a menu with Mexican flavor for the fifth day.

Migrant parent meeting planned in Farwell

A Chapter 1 - Migrant Parent back to School meeting will be held Oct. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Farwell elementary library.

The meeting is designed to encourage parents to become more familiar with the school and learn how the school and home can effectively work together to better educate children.

Guest speaker will be Ginger Schlegel from Region XVI Service Center in Amarillo. She is the Parent Involvement Specialist and will present a short program on Parent Advisory Council. Refreshments will be served.

New Mexico educators visit Texico

Representatives of the New Mexico State Department of Education are visiting in Texico as part of an in-depth self study of the school system. Local school people have already reviewed and revised curriculum guides to bring them up to date with the new requirements in the state of New Mexico. They have also worked to make sure that their lesson plans meet the objectives of the new requirements. The members of the New Mexico State Department of Education will observe the school and make recommendations for future improvement.

Gwen and Joe Hughes have added crafts to their merchandise.

The Hughes' are self-taught businessmen

Joe and Gwen Hughes have been in the auto parts business since 1965. They bought the auto parts store from B.V. Hughes, Joe's father, who owned it since 1957.

During the next few years, they bought two laundries and a car wash which they later sold so that they could add True Value Hardware to their business. In 1978 they moved into the building in which they are now located on Avenue A in Farwell.

In 1983 they added a flower shop to their business, and later sold it to Karen Lovelace.

The Hughes are self-taught businessmen. They have learned as they went along. When they went into the flower business, they both went to Dallas to attend classes in flower arranging taught by Buddy Benz. And when they computerized their business last year, they had to learn to operate the computers as they went along. "The salesman spent a few hours with us, but after that we were on our own," says Mrs. Hughes. "You should have seen our phone bill the first month we had the computers - I had to call and ask all sorts of questions."

Today their business is a combined hardware store, auto parts store, and a craft shop. They employ two full-time employees: Jeanie Smith and Martin Kube, and one part-time employee, Diane Actkinson.

"Joe and I have always worked together," says Mrs. Hughes. "We'd be lost if we worked too far apart."

The Hughes have two sons, Tim who lives in Dallas, and Andy, who attends Texas Tech.

Fuentes scores 4 TDs in Wolverines' win

Pete Fuentes scored 4 TDs as Texico Junior High defeated Melrose 44-8 Oct. 1.

Texico piled up 273 yards against Melrose - 261 rushing, and 12 passing. Melrose, on the other hand had 84 yards total - 20 yards rushing and 64 yards passing. 52 of Melrose's yards came on one pass play.

In the first quarter, Fuentes scored a TD on a 17 yard run, and then made the conversion run.

In the second quarter, Fuentes again scored on an 8 yard run. The conversion pass from Benji McDaniel to Jaime Esstrada was also successful. Ricky Hernandez then made a 1 yard TD run, and Hector Oroczco ran the conversion.

In the third quarter, Fuentes made a 28 yard TD run, and Hernandez ran the conversion. Hernandez followed up with a 2 yard TD run. The conversion failed.

In the fourth quarter, Fuentes scored on a 37 yard run.

Warren Martin had 43 yards rushing. Ricky Hernandez had 2 TD's, 2 two-point conversions, and he made 63 yards rushing.

Big Lick awards go to Pete Fuentes who had 4 TD's and 181 yards rushing, and Hector Oroczco who had a good defensive game and 34 yards rushing.

According to coach Curt Cook, "We're playing good aggressive defense. It is really good to see this kind of playing in junior high; I think we are going to see good things for Texico in years ahead."

The world's most sensitive natural gas detection device.

If you have a nose and a normal sense of smell, you have all the equipment you need to detect odorized natural gas leaks.

Here are some simple, common sense steps to take if you ever smell gas:

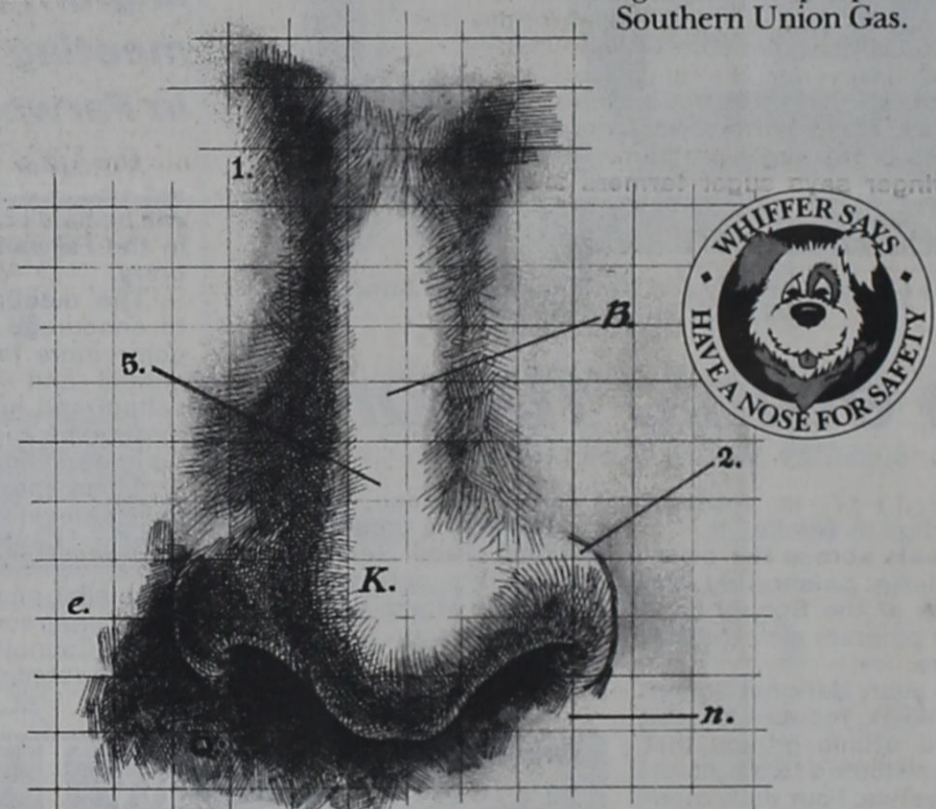

- Don't use the phone, flip any electrical switches or strike a match.

- If you smell the odor of gas indoors, quickly check to see if a pilot light has gone out or if a burner valve is partially turned on. If you cannot readily locate the source of gas, leave the house immediately. Don't light a match or switch anything on or off. Call us from a neighbor's telephone at once.

- If you happen to smell gas outdoors, keep your distance from the area, don't smoke, and don't start up your car.

It's simple: Just use your nose first. Then use your head. A safety message from the people at Southern Union Gas.

Dionne indicted

Joseph Phillip Dionne of Texico was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder on Oct. 2 by a Curry County Grand Jury.

Dionne is charged in connection with the death of Richard W. Lasner of Clovis.

Dionne was also arraigned in District Court on Oct. 5.

The trial has been set to start the last week of February by Judge Fred T.

Hensley, and bail was not been changed. Bail was set at Dionne's first arraignment at $25,000; he was free to leave jail upon paying 10% in cash or surety.

"It is a little unusual to grant bail in a murder case, but the court did grant it," said assistant district attorney Bob Beauvais.

Beauvais said that the court may have granted the bail because they felt that Dionne could be trusted to show up in court since he is well known in the Clovis-Texico area.

Dionne is accused of shooting Lasner on Sept. 21 at the home of Kathy Dionne, Dionne's estranged wife.

"Only two people were present at the time of the shooting," said Beauvais. All of the other witnesses showed up after the shooting was over.

Both Dionne and Lasner owned guns. Lasner's was not found near the body, and it was fastened in a scabbard when it was found. But one was found, according to Beauvais.

Mrs. Dionne has gone to Wisconsin to stay with relatives.

Domestic sugar industry defended

The domestic sugar industry is being unfairly attacked by some national media outlets and powerful American political figures who are compensated by foreign industries in direct conflict with American farmers and other national business interests.

That is the conclusion of many state and national sugar producer organizations, including the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association (TSBGA) headquartered in Hereford.

"The Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association is bitter toward some national magazines and newspapers which are giving consumers false information about our domestic sugar industry," says Bill Cleavinger of Wildorado, TSBGA president.

"We are also angry with many Washington-based lobbyists - including some former members of the Reagan administration - who represent foreign countries which export sugar and many other products into the U.S."

The most recent media attack came from Reader's Digest, which alleged in its August issue that the national sugar policy created high sugar prices for consumers and was a threat to U. S. foreign relations.

Michael Deavers, former White House communications director, and Richard Smith, former chief administrator for overseeing foreign agriculture operations in the USDA, are among the Washington lobbyists the sweetener industry believes are undermining American business interests.

Attacks on the U.S. sugar policy have a direct impact on the economies of the Texas Panhandle-South Plains area. More than 300 of the region's farmers and some 500 landowners count on sugar beet production as a major cash crop.

Holly Sugar Corp., which operates a multimillion-dollar sugar beet processing plant in Hereford, employs more than 400 people. Hundreds of other people work for sugar beet growers. All told, the thousands of people involved in the industry pay tens of millions of dollars in state and local taxes, not to mention the millions of expenditures to chemical companies, implement dealers and other agriculture-related industries in the region.

program provides an 18-cent per pound loan support price to consumers. Import quotas are used to assure that domestic sugar is marketed rather than forfeited to the USDA Commodity Credit Corp.

"With this program, there are no costs to the government other than nominal clerical costs of administering it," says Cleavinger, also vice president of the American Sugarbeet Growers Association.

"That is the intent of Congress. There are no government payments to farmers. The policy is based on an orderly marketing procedure which assures a guaranteed supply of sugar to consumers at a reasonable price."

The worldwide sugar industry is complex to say the least and it has a direct effect on the domestic program. The so-called "world sugar price" - which Reader's Digest supported in its article - is actually the "dump price" for sugar from countries which provide heavy subsidies to their own sugar industry.

Since some countries provide high subsidies, overproduction is abundant, meaning selling prices have been pushed far less than the cost of production.

Although the U. S. sugar program is working well for farmers and consumers, the Reagan administration wants to reduce the program's effectiveness by increasing sugar imports and lowering the sugar loan rate to farmers. Major sugar users, such as Coca Cola and other soft drink companies, along with several consumer groups, are also opponents of the sugar program.

Cleavinger says sugar farmers are not against lending assistance to America's foreign friends, as long as it is not done at the expense of American agriculture, especially actions which damage the domestic sugar industry.

"Destroying the U.S. sugar program would, in essence, destroy the U. S. sugar industry," he says. "American producers and processors cannot compete with artificially low world prices which are priced far below the cost of production. And leaving consumers at the mercy of imported sugar could create a situation similar to that caused by America's dependence on foreign oil - a situation of erratic and high prices."

"If our domestic industry is allowed to die, consumers would not have dependable sugar supplies and would face retail prices which may be low in one instance and extremely high in another."

While Reader's Digest notes that several sugar can processors have been forced out of business by the sugar program, Cleavinger points out that as many as 16 sugar beet processing facilities nationwide were closed during the period without a sugar program in the 1970's. This put thousands of people out of work and left thousands of farmers without a market for their crops.

The sugar program has changed the picture. Prices have been stable for consumers and producers, and supplies have been abundant. "In fact," says Cleavinger, "during the first five years of the program, USDA figures show that sugar prices actually dropped by more than 8 percent."

"At the same time, prices for sweetener-containing products, such as soft drinks and candy, increased by more than 27 percent. This clearly indicates that a drop in sugar prices doesn't translate into guaranteed lower consumer prices for products containing sugar."

In comparing prices paid for sugar by Americans to prices paid by consumers in foreign countries, U.S. prices are actually below the worldwide average. The USDA Foreign Agricultural Service, which surveyed consumer food prices in 16 world capitals, found that consumers in Washington, D.C., paid the ninth lowest price for sugar.

Cleavinger says the argument that American relations with other sugar producing countries are damaged by the sugar program were false. "Major sugar exporters, such as Caribbean countries, would actually be hurt financially without this program," he says.

"Traditional suppliers, such as those in the Caribbean, would lose more than $110 million the first year if the program was rewritten in favor of the Reagan administration's plan, even though their sales would increase."

There are also false implications that foreign countries will default on loans to major U.S. banks if sugar trade is reduced. "For example, if we were to completely shut down U.S. sugar production and import all sugar from Brazil at current U. S. prices, it would erase only 4 percent of Brazil's foreign debt," says Cleavinger.

Cleavinger says that under the Reagan proposal, taxpayers would be out more than $1.2 billion in farmer subsidies over four years, "which is the last thing our budget deficit needs."

Delgado scores TD

Farwell JV falls

The Farwell JV grid team lost to Sundown, 26-6, last week. Monty Delgado scored Farwell's lone TD.

Coach Larry Gregory said that the score was 6-6 with 7 minutes to go. "We got behind and took some chances and they capitalized on our mistakes," he said. Sundown had 2 pass interceptions and a 60-yard pass play for 3 TDs.

Wolverines shut out

By JANICE JENKINS

Texico traveled to Springer for its first district game last Friday, but was blanked 41-0.

Springer's John Martinez scored first on an 11-yard run. Allen Segotta kicked for the extra point, making the score 7-0 in the first period.

In the second quarter, Springer scored 3 times. Martinez scored on a 4-yard run, with Segotta kicking the extra point. John Arias ran in from the 17 to score and Jeff Gillespie ran in the extra points. Then Eric Duran caught a 23-yard pass from Gillespie. The kick was no good and Springer went into the halftime with a 28-0 bulge.

In the third quarter, Springer scored twice more. Martinez raced in on a 4-yard pass from Gillespie, and Texico's Justin Barnes blocked the extra point kick. Then Martinez tallied on a 3-yard run. Segotta kicked the point after.

The final period again found the Wolverines unable to score, but Springer was held scoreless, too.

Texico completed 7 passes to Springer's 5 and intercepted 2 passes - Larry Dudley and Warren Martin - to Springer's 1.

Texico punted 6 times for an average of 34.7 yards; Springer 1 for 28 yards.

The totals of first downs were close with Springer ahead, 15-11. Texico had 69 net yards passing to Springer's 71.

But Springer dominated in other areas. Springer rushed 44 times for 309 net yards; Texico 29 for 67 yards. Thus, Springer gained 380 total yards to Texico's 136. Springer recovered 2 Texico fumbles.

Statistics for Texico showed the following players and the number of tackles they made: Keith Harrison, 9; Larry Dudley and Robbie Edwards, 7 each; Urban Orozco, 6; Lance Akers and David Johnson, 5 each; Mike Williams, Larry Powell, Brian Rogers, Benjy McDaniel, Warren Martin and Hector Orozco, 2 each; Victor Vela and Steve Larado, 1 each.

Leading rushers were Larry Dudley, 15 for 68 yards; Keith Harrison, 6 for 16 yards. Leading receivers were: Keith Harrison, 4 for 41 yards; Robbie Edwards, 2 for 6 yards; Brian Rogers, 1 for 22 yards.

Brian Rogers completed 4 of 16 passes; Larry Powell, 3 for 5.

Falcons, Eagles post triumphs

The Eagles smashed the Vikings 42-0 in Play, Inc. football last weekend.

Lupito Garza scored four TD's. William Liggins intercepted a pass and ran back for another TD. And, Eric Delgado scored one TD.

Eagles for the week are Pat Chumley, Justin Mahaney, and William Liggins.

"I'm really proud of the whole team," said coach Randy Harrison.

The Falcons beat the Bulldogs 14-6.

TDs were scored by Chase Hardage and Josh Lynn. Chase Hardage also scored the two point conversion.

Fire Calls

The Farwell fire department answered one fire call during the week.

On Oct. 6, the fire truck was called to put out a fire in the median between highways 84 and 145 at 2:23 p.m.

There were no Texico fire calls.

Big Lick Award

Big Lick of the Week award goes to Larry Dudley who made 68 yards in 15 carries, and 11 tackles in the Texico-Springer game.

'My Grown-Up Night' slated

Texico First Baptist Church is planning a special event for the children of the congregation. Instead of the usual Halloween events, they will have "My Grown-up Night" from 6-8 p.m. MDT. Children are invited to dress as they would as adults.

Firefighters help out

Members of the Farwell Fire Department commemorated National Fire Prevention Week by assisting with the Farwell Elementary School Fun Run.

Fire Department vehicles were on hand to block traffic at several points along the route.

Assisting with the Fun Run were Curtis Smith, Jimmy Curtis, Chase Chisman, Henry Garcia, Randy Grady, Mike Camp, Lee Hutchins, Joel White, and R.T. Langston.

Some of the other firefighters also joined the run.

Run was to promote the benefits of life-long leisure activities and to provide an enjoyable family outing.

The cafeteria staff prepared cookies, and Borden Milk Company of Amarillo provided orange drink.

Traffic was blocked at the points where the two-mile course crossed the highway. Texas Department of Public Safety Highway patrolmen Hunt and Bishop and members of the Farwell Fire Department were there to protect the youngsters.

Friendship class

The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church of Farwell met Oct. 5 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Symcox with Bessie Landrum as co-hostess. Sixteen members were present.

President Julia Symcox was in charge of the business meeting. Wanda Walker led the opening prayer. Edith Crawford read the minutes of the September meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Tom Paul McCuan gave a most interesting devotional on "Love Devotion." Dorothy Donaldson led the group in a song session, accompanied by Julia Symcox on piano.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Louise Orark, Sally Chandler, Edwina Owen, Bonnie Williams, Dorothy Donaldson, Edith Crawford, Elsie Hardage, Beulah Williams Pearlle Gerles, Beulah McWilliams, Tom Paul McCuan, Ruby Edwards, Wanda Walker, Gladys Hardage, hostess Julia Symcox and co-hostess Bessie Landrum.

Texico band is 1st

Seventy-five Texico band students have a right to be proud of their performance in the Aspencade parade and band competition in Ruidoso on Oct. 3. The students came in first in the class A competition.

"We marched 15 sixth graders in this parade," said Texico's band director, Jerry Sadberry. "I'm always so proud of the work these young kids do for the band. Most schools would never think of marching kids this young, but we do it all the time."

Meet Texico's Class of 2000

Breanne Jolene Black is in Mrs. Jenkins' class.

She is the daughter of Bonnye and Phillip Black. She has three brothers, Ben, Justin, and Carl. Breanne's birthday is June 30.

Her grandparents are Roy and Barbara Dobbins of Las Vegas, N.M., and the late C.F. Black and Frankie Greenlee of Whittier, Calif.

Breanne loves to sing and learn scripture. She enjoys zoos, parks, walks, and animals.

.....on a SafeWatch

.....For Yourself and Those You Love. Bailey County Electric Cooperative Needs You To Help Keep Electricity Safe, To Prevent Accidents Through Concern and Knowledge. Be Alert. Report Potential Hazards.

SAFESWATCH RULES

Live with them!

Never touch a line on the ground. Keep others away, and call your electric cooperative to report the emergency. Let professionals handle the situation. Consider all lines live and potentially lethal.

Keep all appliance cords in good condition! If they're worn or frayed, replace them. The same applies to power tools, which should always have 3-prong (grounded) plugs. If you feel a tingle or see smoke, put the tool or appliance down. Have it repaired before you use it again.

Look up! Anytime you raise something — antennas, sailboat masts, irrigation pipe, ladders — check for overhead lines first. Use the same rules for grain augers and other farm equipment, construction equipment, dump trucks, cranes, frontend loaders, etc. Make sure anything that will raise up is horizontal before you move it. Also, look for lines in trees or brush before you trim or cut. Don't be a part of electricity's path.

Never wire around electrical safety devices in your home! Breakers and fuses are there for a reason — to prevent wiring from overheating, and potentially starting a fire. Don't replace them with a size (amperage) larger than they're designed for. If they trip or blow frequently, have the problem checked by a professional electrician.

Look down! Call before you dig. Before you plant a tree, put in a foundation, sprinkler system... make sure you know where any lines are. Keep away from pad-mount transformers, the ones on the ground. If they're open or unlocked, call your electric cooperative.

Use the right size extension cord, and only temporarily! If it's too small, it might overheat and start a fire. And they are for temporary use. If you need more outlets, have them professionally installed.

And

Other Things to Think About:

- Use safety plugs in outlets when small children are present.
- Avoid using an "octopus" adapter that could overload the circuit.
- Be sure your tools and appliances have been tested by Underwriters Laboratories or a similar organization, so you know they're safe.

Steers shock Buffaloes

By ROBBY DYER

The Farwell Steers shocked the previously unbeaten Petersburg Buffaloes last Friday at Roberts Stadium in their first district clash, 17-13.

The win gave the Steers a 3-2 record and 1-0 in conference. The Buffaloes had been 4-0 and were picked to win district.

It was one of the most exciting games ever. The Steers played extra hard as a unit and wore down Petersburg.

Petersburg kicked off at the start of the game and Greg Actkinson, a freshman who played quarterback for the Steers, received the ball and ran it back 10 yards. Then Reuben Ortega completed a pass and made a 15-yard run through the Buffalo defense. For the next several minutes, the teams played tough, then Jeff Actkinson punted to Petersburg.

On the first defensive play, Jaime Mendoza made a strong tackle to set the tone for the Steers' game. But Petersburg put together some strong runs and passes and score just minutes into the first quarter. The extra point kick was good and Petersburg led 7-0.

Petersburg kicked off. Then a Farwell fumble was kicked by a Buffalo player into the end zone where Petersburg recovered for a TD. The extra point failed and it was 13-0.

Then it was all-Farwell for the remainder of the game. Jeff Actkinson returned the ensuing punt 20 yards. The Steers moved the ball downfield and Damon George made a super 25-yard run. This was followed by a burst by Jeff Actkinson for 35 yards, to the Buffalo 10. Jeff Actkinson then scored the Steers' 1st TD of the game, making the score 13-6.

A few minutes later, Farwell was driving again. This was culminated by a 25-yard field goal by Joe Jaime, closing the score to 13-9.

In the second quarter, the Steers recovered a fumble. The Steer defense was playing very strongly and included two interceptions by Shawn Stewart and Jaime Mendoza.

The Steers moved downfield again, with George scoring their 2nd TD on a 30-yard run. Greg Actkinson hit George with a pass for the two-point conversion, putting Farwell up 17-13.

Both teams played strong defense and neither scored in the second half. One of the key plays in the game was a snap to punter Jeff Actkinson that went over his head. He raced back, got the ball and still got the punt away. Had he not, Petersburg would have had the ball deep in Farwell territory.

Coach Rex Cumpton said, "We had a great win. Our team played well after the first 5 minutes. We showed real character in coming back. A superb effort on offense and defense. All our kids played with a lot of intensity. We made some changes in our offense (using the single wing in the first half), and were able to execute real well. One of the best things we did was control the ball."

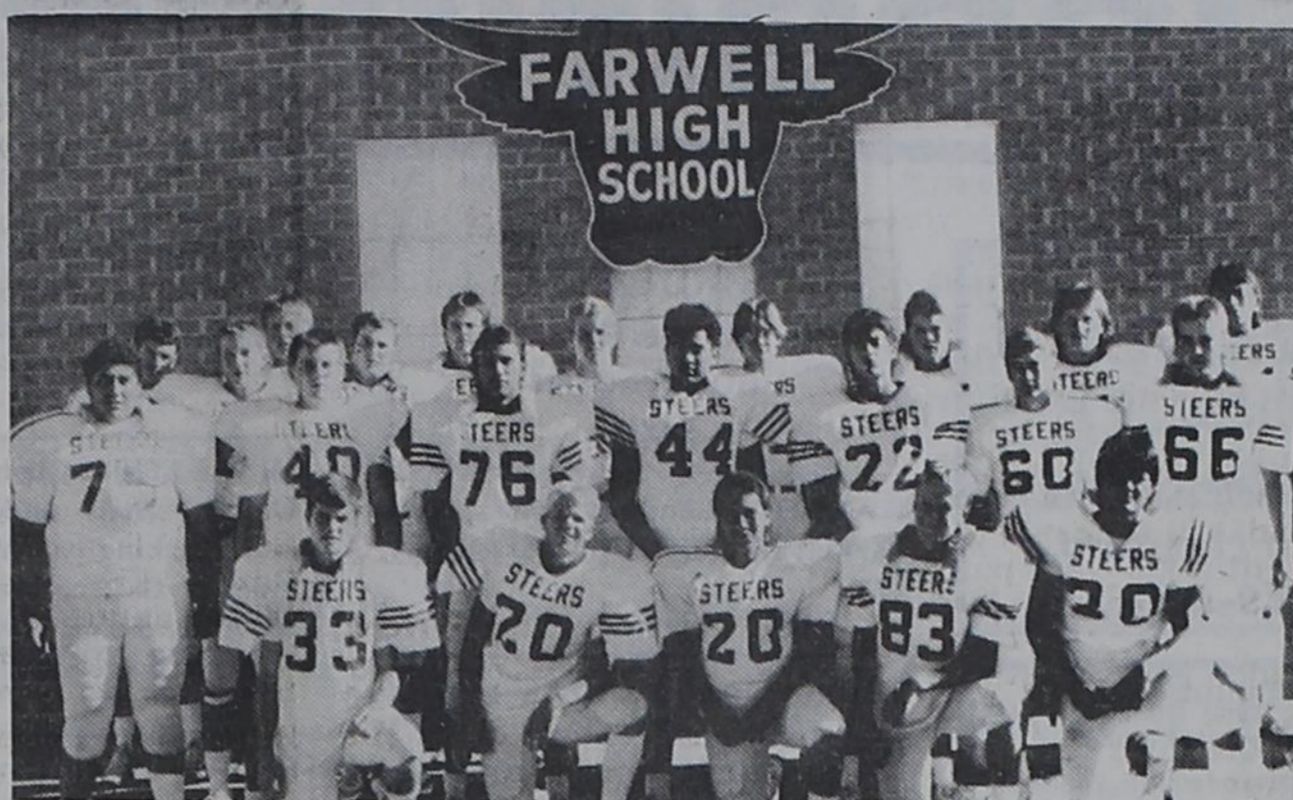

Cumpton said Farwell had 62 offensive plays to Petersburg's 39. "Their size gave us some problems but we overcame it. Our next game is Oct. 9 at Bovina. We appreciate the fans' support."

For Farwell, George rushed 22 times for 87 yards; Joe Jaime, 13 for 42; Jeff Actkinson, 14 for 82; Ruben Ortega, 2 for 18.

Greg Actkinson hit 1 of 4 passes; George was also 1 for 4.

Farwell gained 232 yards; Petersburg 130. Farwell rushed 54 times for 199 yards; Petersburg 32 for 70. Farwell hit 2 of 8 passes for 33 yards; Petersburg 3 of 7 for 60. Farwell had 13 first downs; Petersburg 6. Farwell punted 7 times, averaging 30 yards; Petersburg 6 for a 25 yard average.

Farwell had 8 penalties for 65 yards; Petersburg 1 for 5 yards.

Steers of the Week

"We had so many outstanding performances in Friday's game that the whole team qualifies as Steers of the Week," said Coach Rex Cumpton.

It's a Girl

Brianna Marie Garms was born on Sept. 19.

Bad time for flu bug

Many people in Texico, Farwell and Clovis have been diagnosed as having flu already this year. So far, most of the patients have had the 24 hour variety of flu.

"It looks like this will be a bad year for flu," says Dr. William Green.

Dr. Green has been administering flu shots to patients at the Farwell Convalescent Center and to other patients who are at risk.

"When flu starts this early in the year, you really worry what the flu season will be like," says Mrs. Green.

'Let's make every day a sundae'

'Let's Make Every Day a Sundae' was the theme for the Lazbuddie Homemakers Sept. 17 meeting, in the home economics room with Betty Wagnon of Muleshoe as special guest.
Mrs. Wagnon introduced her mother, Mrs. Wright. Mrs. Wagnon spoke on the changes of color and trends in decorating which have taken place in recent years. She also showed some beautiful place settings exemplifying country, traditional and Southwest styles which are popular in her store.
Discussion centered on the water fountain for the playground. Due to problems in obtaining some materials, the Homemakers voted to drop this project. They voted to buy some new VCR tapes for the grade school. Also discussed was helping the school buy new auditorium curtains.
The first shipment of pecans arrived. They will sell for $3.50 a pound of $42 a case. To buy them, call Mandi Seaton at 965-2438 or Lana Copp at 965- 2806.
The meeting closed with sundaes and cookies. Thanks go to Shelly Pickering of Gourmet Pops in Muleshoe for sending out her delicious specialties.
Janice Bradshaw won the door prize.
Members present were Janice Bradshaw, Mandi Seaton, JoAnn McDonald, Debbie Magby, Tonya Scisson, Pat Randolph, Lana Copp and Barbara Lust, advisor.

Getting ready
Michelle Verner and Shelly Chavez paint trash cans in preparation for Texico's homecoming.

Farwell-Oklahoma Lane club celebrates 4-H Week

The Farwell - Oklahoma Lane 4-H Club is celebrating National 4-H Week.
So the club has hung 4-H clovers on all the lockers and desks of 4-H members in the Farwell elementary and junior high schools. Also, some members are making posters illustrating their interests and projects.
Contrary to what most people in this area believe, 4-H entails more than just stock shows. There are many projects open to 4-Hers such as cooking, sewing, photography and and judging events, plus lots more.
To get in these, see Gary Patterson and Janette Pierce at the county extension office, Parmer County Courthouse, or contact one of the 1987-88 Farwell - Oklahoma Lane Club officers. They are: president, Angie White; vice president, Clint Kelley; secretary - treasurer, Kara Camp; recreation and refreshment chairman, Robby Dyer, and telephone committee chairman, Darren Haseloff. All of these people will be glad to answer any questions and obtain any information you might need.
After having so many show an interest at our September meeting, all the Farwell - Oklahoma Lane 4-Hers are looking forward to the 1987-88 year.

Corn harvest winds down

Elmer Hargrove brought in the first load of corn to Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, Farwell, on Sept. 15 to receive the $50 bonus for being first to arrive there.

Henry Haseloff brought in the first load to the Sherley-Anderson elevator in Lariat on Sept. 16 to win the bonus there.

Neil Agee was the first to bring corn to Lazbuddie's Sherley-Anderson elevator on Sept. 5. His corn earned him the $50 bonus.

The corn harvest is starting to wind down, with more than two-thirds of the harvest complete. It looks as if it will be a good year for area farmers.

Fred Chandler, manager of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, said, "Folks are making pretty good yields this year on the acres they planted. The price is about what they got last year."

Lonnie McFarland, manager of Sherley-Anderson in Lariat, said the yields were real good, but the volume was reduced due to reductions in the numbers of acres planted. Each acre planted produced well, but fewer acres were planted.

Shari Hill at the Sherley-Anderson elevator in Lazbuddie said this was "a pretty good harvest. Some made more than they expected."

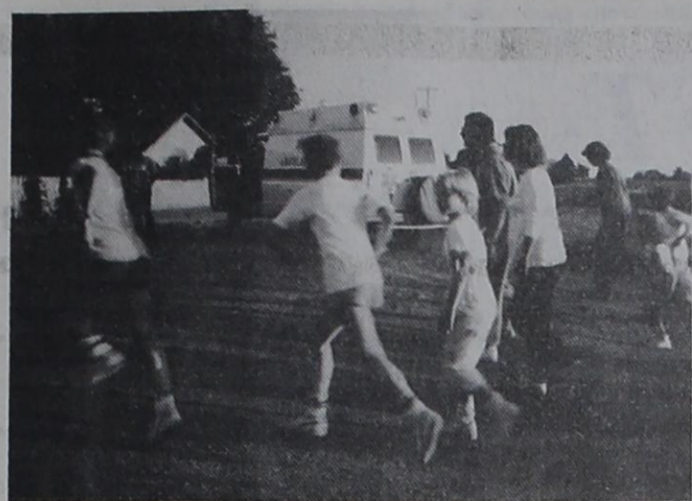

At Farmer's Cooperative Elevator in Muleshoe, the harvest is about 80% finished. The yields reported were good, and the reduction in acreage was not as much as it appeared to be at first. Corn is selling for only a few pennies above the loan rate, and very little is selling. "Storage space is tight, so finishing the harvest is going to be slow," according to Robert Johnson, manager of Farmer's Cooperative Elevator.

The Farmer's Cooperative Elevator has leased the former Ray Griffith's And Sons Elevator in Muleshoe. They have hired some of the people who used to work there in addition to sending some of their own employees.

Crews at area grain elevators have been working long hours - sometimes until midnight - to handle the trucks full of grain. Driers have been going round the clock in some cases. Soon the trucks will stop making deliveries, and the staff members will settle down to complete the mountains of paperwork.

Off and running in Farwell

Fun Run draws large attendance

Farwell Elementary School's Fun Run drew more than 300 participants on Oct. 6.

Some ran, and some walked, and Trey Stephens even rode in his stroller.

"I am so delighted by the number of people who showed up," said sponsor Judy Howard. "I never imagined that we would get such a turn out. We plan to make it an annual event."

Winners received blue ribbons, and participants received certificates.

Winners in the family with 5 or fewer members with one student of kindergarten age were the Fiskes - Virgil, Jacki, Caleb, Jacob, and Sarah.

Winners in a group with three grandparents were Chelisi, Daniel, and Carla Kaltwasser with grandparents, Liz Kaltwasser, and Roy and Lola Richardson.

Winners in a group with one grandmother were the Travis family - Terry, Nedda, Brea, Candice, and Mrs. Foster.

Winners in a group with 1 grandfather were the Grigsby family - John, Debbie, Zach, Amber, with grandparents, Gene and Maxine Collins.

Winners in the group with five or fewer children were the Williams family - Mark, Joyce, Russell, and Reagan.

Winners in the group with families of 6 members or more were the Arce family - Chacho, Maria, Michael, Kris, Katrina, and cousins, Jon Cunningham, and Eric Delgado.

Winners in the group of families of 6 or more with adult sponsors were the Corns - Charla, Christy, Clay, and Clint Corn with their aunts, Loy Mclellan and Tammy Willard and cousins Amber Willard and Courtney Bradburn.

Winners in the group of students with adult sponsor were Kirk and Jody Fly.

Winners of the group of families that consist of Dad, Mom, and one student, were Pam, Jerry and Kelsey Monk.

Winners of the group of families with Mom and one or more children were the Billingsleys - Cindy, Roger, and Deon.

Winners of the group of Families with a Dad and one or more children were the Banuelos - Luis, Elizabeth, and Yesenia.

Winners of the group One Mom with One child were the Anciras - Eva and Michael.

Winners of the group that included One Dad and One Child were the Maces - Veronica and Jimmie.
