Thanksgiving was a community affair

By Virgil Fiske
Farwell Church of Christ

Nowadays it's more of a family get together; but it really started as a community feast. It was a special time to thank God for what blessings they had. Today, there are only a few who really share something with their community.

This change isn't necessarily bad. Our culture is definitely different now than it was over 200 years ago. Everything was community back then.

They shared in farming and ranching, building houses and barns. They truly shared in the battle to survive. Their main entertainment was getting together to eat and enjoy each other's company.

Today, we eat our own food and hire some stranger to build our house. Our entertainment is teleported into boxes in our home where we can each take our food to separate rooms and watch different programs.

So, no doubt, Thanksgiving has changed. And if it gets our families together at the same time in one place to share a meal, it's got to be good. Truly, such happens seldom.

But let us not forget we are a community. And though Thanksgiving is not a community event, we still need the old Thanksgiving spirit. It comes out in the public servants that help keep our streets at peace; the teachers that give the extra time to see that our kids know what they must know to survive; the social clubs that meet regularly to find ways to beautify and strengthen our community; the businesses that try to stock the things we need; the neighbors who work together for common good; and the churches which direct us to God.

Pray this Thanksgiving for the blessings that God has given your family. But don't forget that many of those blessings are yours because of the people that work in your community to make it what it is.

Thanksgiving a favorite

Thanksgiving is one of my favorite holidays. The name speaks for itself.

Due to the kind of life I have had, my aspirations have never been very high. I know some folks hope for lots of money, fancy cars, big houses, power, prestige, importance, big families, material possessions, etc., but I never have.

I've never been into material goods very much. And the opportunity to be highly successful (in a business sense) escaped me. Thus, I give thanks that God has given me the opportunity to earn a simple living and raise a family.

I guess I'm a pretty mundane person, aren't I. Yet, I feel that I have been most fortunate. That's a lot to be thankful for.

Our Thanksgivings have always been old fashioned: dinner about 2 p.m. in our home with just our immediate family members present. A day for us to chat and watch TV and eat too much. Just a pleasant day (unless the Cowboys lose).

We, in America, have so, so much. It always amazes me when I hear someone complain about something. One thing in life that I have learned is that the easier people have it, the more they complain; those who have had hard lives don't complain, they accept. (In which category do you fall?)

So when I hear someone complaining, the first thing that runs through my mind is how fortunate they are.

Just look at us: well-housed, well-fed, a free people with security. Then look at so much of the rest of the world: people living under totalitarian rule or Communism, people suffering starvation, people housed in shanties without plumbing.

And people in the U.S. complain? I don't understand.

Rather, it's important to thank God for the blessed lives we have, surrounded by family and friends, in decent living quarters, with food on the table.

Thank you, Lord.

One of our Farwell folks, Othena Smith, who has Smith Office Supply in Texico, has just purchased the Office Systems & Supply business in Friona from her brother, Curtis.

The Friona business will also be called "Smith Office Supply."

The Farwell Band Boosters Arts & Crafts Show has been cancelled.

Organizer Vickie Jones said they only received about 10 entries.

The show had been set for this weekend.

Producing energy for your home is a pretty costly process in terms of natural resources.

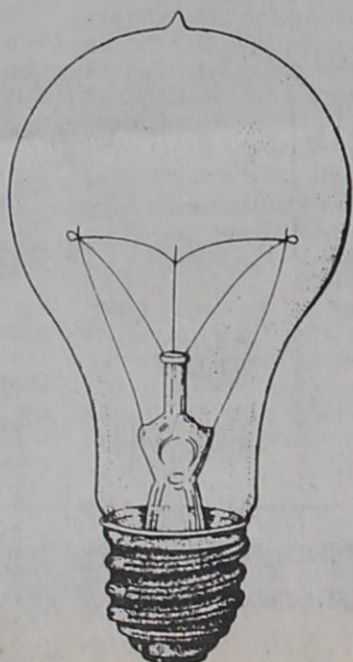

For instance, it takes a lot of coal, or oil, or natural gas to make electricity. And in the process, over 60% of the natural energy is wasted.

In a practice, Farwell Steerett Angie White dribbles toward the basket,

Taking a look at next year's cotton crop

The following information comes from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

The 1987 cotton crop is shaping up as one of the best on the High Plains in several years. While enjoying this year's harvest, there are several things cotton farmers can do to improve next year's prospects, says cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Barring unforeseen weather problems, yields of both lint and seed are expected to be good this year," said Dr. James R. Supak, Extension cotton agronomist. "The favorable seed production outlook is important because much of next year's planting seed will have to come from this year's production."

The quality of planting seed is affected by several preharvest, harvest, and post harvest factors, Supak noted. Producers and seedsmen who will catch seed they produce for planting must be mindful of these factors, he stressed.

The quality and vigor of the seed was determined during the enlargement, filling and maturation phases of plant growth, the Extension specialist said. The best quality planting seed usually comes from fields that were planted early, fruited uniformly, weren't overly stressed for moisture or nutrients, and had 80% percent or more open bolls prior to termination with chemicals or by a freeze, Supak said. "Frequently, the best yielding fields don't produce the best quality seed," he cautioned. Plants that support large numbers of bolls tend to produce smaller, lighter seed, presumably due to competition for photosynthate.

FmHA's Rainey:

Emergency loans available

"Emergency loans for farmers or ranchers are available through county offices of the Farmers Home Administration," Weldon Rainey, FmHA County Supervisor, said.

Farmer County is one of 12 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng as eligible counties to cover part of actual production losses from hail.

Rainey said farmers may be eligible for loans up to 80% of their actual losses or the operating loan up to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate is 4.5%.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30% loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan," Rainey said. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance programs will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

Rainey asked that those who need farm credit as a result of hail make their needs known at the FmHA office at 207 Avenue D in Farwell.

Applications for assistance in the disaster stricken counties will be accepted by Farmers Home until July 11, 1988 for physical and production losses, but applicants should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season.

FmHA loans covering actual physical and production losses may be used to replace installations, equipment or buildings (including homes) lost through this disaster. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate chattel debts.

"Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Rainey said.

Applicants that certify that other credit is not available may receive loans covering actual losses at an interest rate of 4.5% and are scheduled for repayment as rapidly as feasible consistent with the applicant's ability to pay.

To be eligible for an emergency loan, an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster.

Crop could be a record-setter

The 1987 cotton crop under harvest on the High Plains is shaping up as a record-setter almost certain to be remembered as a "near miracle," said Donald Johnson of Plains Cotton Growers. Barring disastrous weather in the next 30 to 45 days, he said, "We will harvest more cotton with a higher value and quality than anyone thought possible only six weeks ago. And that's almost unbelievable when you consider the crop's late start last spring, less than optimum heat units through July and almost a month of cloudy, wet weather beginning about the middle of August."

Johnson said projects of crop observers range upward from an average of 480 pounds to as high as 550 pounds, with some expecting to break the all-time record of 513 pounds.

Using what most consider a conservative 500 pounds per acre and 2.6 million acres for harvest, area production would come in at just over 2.7 million bales, the biggest crop since 1981 and the fourth largest ever.

Johnson said the yield record was set in 1965 when almost the entire crop was planted in April or May, while as much as 70 percent of the 1987 crop was planted in June. He said about 65 percent of the 1965 crop was on irrigated land, compared to something less than 50 percent under irrigation this year.

Early reports from the Lubbock and Lamesa classing offices show unusually good grades and staples and a high percentage of micronaire readings in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9. Average micronaire is running at an exceptional 3.81. That figure will decline as the harvest progresses into a more representative mix of early of early and late planted cotton, but samples from June planted cotton still point to above average micronaire readings for the whole crop.

"And that's unheard of for a crop with less than 30 percent planted in the optimum planting period before May 20," he said.

Also, total farm-level value of the crop, at prevailing prices last week, promise to tackle another high.

The 2,888,700-bale 1973 crop, at the time called a good crop, good price "once in a lifetime" happening, brought farmers about $900 million, exceeding previous highs by some $300 million.

The 1987 crop has a good chance to top the billion dollar mark for the first time in history. Using a 2.7 million bale production, a 60 cent per price for lint, $80 a ton for seed and a total 16 cents per pound deficiency payment, PCG estimates the 1987 farm-level crop value at $1,087,000,000.

ESL class may be cancelled

Lucille Franse says that the English as a Second Language class being taught Mondays is in danger of being cancelled because of falling attendance. The class meets every Monday at 7 p.m. at Farwell High School room 106. Mrs. Franse, ESL teacher, said the class started with 8 students, but the total has fallen to 4. She stressed the importance of persons attending this class. "If a person is in the amnesty program, they need to be in this class," she explained. "Otherwise, the government plans to re-classify them as illegal aliens when their permits run out - because they are not working toward citizenship." Mrs. Franse noted the other importances of the class: improving a person's understanding of English, and the class as a vehicle toward a high school diploma.

County approves elevator funding

The Parmer County Commissioners Monday approved $10,600 toward building an elevator in the courthouse.

The decision was made at the public hearing. The funds are estimated to be about 10 percent of the project costs. The county is in the process of applying for federal funds to do it.

In other business, the commissioners agreed to advertise for a used farm type tractor for Pct. 1.

Two bids were received from Friona Motors (one on a Chevy, and one on a Ford) for a pickup for the extension agent. The commissioners accepted the Ford bid of $11,200 with trade-in.

Helen Bailey of Friona was appointed by the commissioners to serve on the Panhandle Community Services Board. This board oversees the distribution of surplus commodities.

A jury board of view reported that they could find no damage if a road was changed in the Lazbuddie area, as requested by residents. Now the commissioners will check into it, too, and see if they have enough funds available to do the job.

Steerettes shoot past House

The Farwell High varsity girls' basketball team evened its season record at 1-1 by whipping House, N.M., 61-44 Friday in an away game.

Top scorers for Farwell were Amy Murray, 18; Linda Duran, 13, and April Haseloff, 12.

Other team members are Laura Wolfe, Leslie Monk, Dana Haseloff, Robbi Fly, Holly Salomone, Michelle Stover and Amanda Perales.

"It was a good all-around team effort," said Coach Fred Libby. "All our girls played super. We led 26-26 at the half, then outscored House 20-9 in the third quarter. They got tired and we were in better shape."

Farwell had a trio of 3-point baskets, two from Duran and one from Murray. Farwell was 4-9 from the free throw line.

The Farwell High varsity boys' basketball team lost to House, N.M., Friday in an away game by a single point.

House won in overtime, 84-83, after the game ended the regulation time at 78- all. Farwell's record is 1-1.

Pacing Farwell were Jeff Actkinson, 27; Damon George, 16, and Greg Actkinson, 15.

"We did a good job on the offensive boards, but we didn't play enough defense," said Coach Larry Gregory. "I was pleased with our team's output but we are a young team, age-wise and experience-wise, with two freshmen (Greg Actkinson and Shawn Stewart). We're not as far along as we were last year at this time, but we had 7 seniors last year."

House scored 10 3-point baskets, including six in the fourth quarter to come back after Farwell had a 16-point lead.

The Farwell Junior Varsity boys' basketball team easily defeated House, N.M., Friday in an away game, 77-38.

Farwell was led by Michael Day, with 27. Lance Castleberry cored 15. Coach Gary Cates credited Curtis Chisum with a strong all-around game, including good rebounding. Farwell is 2-0.

Farwell's 8th grade boys' basketball team lost to Texico, 61-28, Thursday at home.

Farwell was led by Matt Foster with 8 and Chad Byrd with 9.

"We need more practices and we'll get better," said Coach Gary Cates. "We didn't play that well and Texico has a real good team."

But the 8th graders rebounded Monday night with a 52-37 win over Kress at home. This evened their season record at 1-1 and gave Farwell a 1-0 district mark.

Pacing Farwell were Kirk Lingnau, with 12 points; Chad Byrd, 10; Cody Monk and Mike Loera, 9 each.

"The kids played a whole lot better," said Cates. "I also want to credit Matt Foster and Ray Haseloff for their defensive work, and Steve Vidana for his rebounding."

The Farwell 9th grade boys' basketball team lost to Texico at home Thursday, 71-53.

"We only had 8 kids and we got into a lot of foul trouble," said Coach Gary Cates.

Adrian Smith scored 15 and Kirk Fly had 12.

The Farwell 7th grade girls' basketball team opened its season Monday with a 23-19 victory over Kress at home.

Coach Patsy Camp credited Angie Cenicerros for her exceptional defense and Molly Miller for her overall play. "And it was a good team effort," she added.

The Farwell 8th grade girls' basketball team evened its record at 1-1 with a 24-15 win over Kress at home Monday.

Coach Patsy Camp credited Heather Burton and Lena Ortiz "with super efforts. All our kids played well. We pressed the whole game. The girls' fundamentals are getting stronger every game."

The Farwell 7th grade boys' basketball team nipped Texico 37-36 Thursday at home.

Farwell was paced by Troy Cunningham, 11, and Dean Rubio, 8.

Farwell Coach Gary Cates credited Ryan Williams with a fine floor game and several assists.

"Three days of practice were all that we had so I was very pleased by our game. All our players hustled," said Cates.

Farwell's Junior High girls basketball team was defeated Nov. 19 by Texico, 25-24.

Farwell Coach Patsy Camp said, "Misty Stewart and Amber Bruce did an especially outstanding job of hustle."

The Texico Junior Varsity girls' basketball team defeated Farwell 41-39 Nov. 19.

Farwell Coach Patsy Camp said, "Every girl hustled well and should all get credit for a fine game."

Farwell 7th girls

Turkey shoot conducted

On Saturday, the Texico-Farwell Lions Club helped the Boy Scouts who were working for their Shotgun Merit Badges.

They helped them learn the principles of the shotgun and how to shoot trap. All the boys shot several rounds.

On Sunday, the Lions Club held their Annual Turkey Shoot. Several of the boys from the previous day participated. Five of the boys drew numbers and shot with Lions Club members as buddies. Some of the boys won prizes.

The winners of turkeys were: Walter Dyle, Clovis; Don Gartin, Lariat; Leslie Curtis, Farwell; Ronnie Brooks, Clovis; Mark Chandler, Farwell; Clint Austin, Farwell; Ryan Williams, Farwell.

Lady Wolverines down San Jon

The Texico Lady Wolverines opened their season in convincing fashion Saturday with a 62-32 win over San Jon at home.

Texico jumped out into a 24-2 lead at the end of the first quarter and were never headed.

Pacing the Lady Wolverines were:

Geneva Garcia, 4 points, 4 steals, 7 rebounds and 1 assist; Twilla Longo, 7 points, 14 rebounds, 7 steals and 1 assist; Robin Pierce, 4 points, 3 rebounds, 2 steals and 1 assist; Leslie Steward, 4 points, 3 rebounds, 8 steals and 4 assists; Tracey Askew, 15 points, 9 rebounds and 1 steal.

Also, Andria Chadwick, 11 points, 6 rebounds, 2 steals and 1 assist; Dena McDaniel, 1 rebound; Jennifer Gentry, 4 points, 3 rebounds, 1 steal and 1 assist; Valerie Cavallero, 2 rebounds, 2 steals and 1 assist; Amy Chadwick, 4 points, 3 steals and 2 assists; Penny Pierce, 3 points and 1 rebound, and Krystala Cross, 2 points.

"We played well, except for our shooting," said Coach Roy King. "Most of the girls had only practiced for a week because of volleyball, but I was really pleased with their attitudes and hustle. I think our team will be fun to watch, win or lose."

"San Jon, defending state champion, was lacking in experience. They graduated four of last year's starters. We showed a lot of balance. Eleven players scored and most only played half the game. We rebounded well and our press forced 36 turnovers." ***

Texico's 7th-8th grades girls basketball team has jumped out to a 2-0 record.

They opened with a 25-24 tipping of Farwell Thursday at home.

Leading Texico were Jessica Gutierrez, 12 points, 16 rebounds, 10 steals and 2 assists; Regina Isaac, 3 points, 5 rebounds, 8 steals and 2 assists; Chanda Campbell, 2 rebounds; Marsha Hamilton, 10 points, 7 rebounds and 4 steals, and Melissa Cox, 4 rebounds, 2 steals and 1 assist.

"This was a good win," said Coach Roy King. "This group as 7th graders lost to Farwell twice and was 0-5 for the year. Some of the girls have really improved. Marsha and Jessica played extremely well."

Then on Saturday, Texico won another home game, this time over Tatum, 25-16.

Texico totals were: Gutierrez, 2 points, 7 rebounds and 1 steal; Isaac, 2 points, 11 rebounds, 3 steals and 1 assist; Campbell, 2 points, 3 rebounds and 1 steal; Melissa Hall, 1 rebound and 1 steal; Hamilton, 11 points, 9 rebounds and 4 steals, and Leslie Servatius, 8 points, 5 rebounds and 4 steals.

"We played pretty well, but we have to start hitting lay-ups and easy shots. Two 7th graders, Marsha and Leslie, played great," said King. ***

The Texico 8th-9th grade girls' basketball team has won its first two games.

on Thursday, Texico won a home game over Farwell, 41-39.

Leading Texico were: Amy Chadwick, 14 points, 5 rebounds, 7 steals and 2 assists; Denise Gonzales, 2 points, 6 rebounds, 4 steals and 2 assists; Penny Pierce, 8 points, 6 rebounds, 5 steals and 2 assists; Josefina Martinez, 4 points, 8 rebounds, 2 steals and 1 assist; Krystala Cross, 13 points, 11 rebounds, and 5 steals; Jessica Gutierrez, 2 rebounds, and Leslie Cox, 6 rebounds.

"This was a good game for us. Farwell had to play sophs and juniors because of numbers and our freshmen played hard and were fortunate to win. Amy and Krystala played outstanding games for us," said Coach Roy King.

Saturday, Texico won again at home, over Tatum, 53-45.

Texico was down 38-36 at the end of three quarters but outscored Tatum 17-7 in the final period.

Leading Texico were: Chadwick, 25 points, 8 rebounds, 7 steals and 1 assist; Pierce, 6 points, 9 rebounds, 3 steals and 4 assists; Martinez, 6 points, 13 rebounds, 1 steal and 1 assist; Cross, 14 points, 13 rebounds and 1 steal; Melissa Cox, 2 points, 4 rebounds, 1 steal and 1 assist.

"We had a real struggle in this game. Tatum has a good, quick team but everyone played hard and contributed. Amy played great and our post people are playing well. I thought this area might be a problem because of size, but Krystala and Josefina are really doing the job," said King. ***

The Texico 8th grade boys' basketball team has jumped off to a 2-0 mark.

Thursday, Texico 8th defeated Farwell, 61-28, in an away game.

Pacing Texico were Josefe Gonzales, with 20 points, 8 rebounds and 4 steals; Kenny Shaw, 11 points and 7 steals; Ricky Hernandez, 9 points and 7 rebounds; Greg Akers, 6 points and 5 steals, and Chad Dunsworth, 6 points.

"We played real well," said Coach Michael Littlejohn. "The boys hustled and shot and rebounded well."

Saturday, the combined 7th-8th grades' squad won a home game against Tatum, 37-15.

For Texico, Kenny Shaw had 15 points and 6 steals; Ricky Hernandez, 9 points, 16 rebounds and 4 steals; Greg Akers, 4 points, 6 rebounds and 3 steals; Matthew Williams, 4 points and 4 rebounds; Chad Dunsworth, 5 points, and Barry Foreman, 5 points. ***

Texico 7th grade boys' basketball team lost 37-36 to Farwell in an away game Thursday. Texico is 0-1.

Leading Texico were Matthew Williams, 14 points and 9 rebounds; Anthony Garcia, 6 points and 5 steals; Louie Delgado, 6 points and 6 rebounds; and Jeff Lynn, 4 points.

Coach Michael Littlejohn noted that the team will be joined by Kelvin Gooden, who will be eligible in January. ***

The Texico 9th grade boys' basketball team defeated Farwell 71-53 in an away game Thursday.

Sparking Texico were Jaime Estrada, 19 points, 15 rebounds and 5 steals; Pete Fuentes, 24 points, 5 assists, 8 steals and 12 rebounds; Hector Orozco, 6 points and 10 rebounds; Warren Martin, 9 rebounds; Benjy McDaniel, 14 points, 9 rebounds and 6 steals; Duane Hamilton, 4 points and 5 rebounds, and Kenny Shaw, 4 points.

Saturday, Texico had its record evened at 1-1 by losing a home game to tatum, 54-51.

Pacing Texico were Fuentes, 18 points and 5 rebounds; Estrada, 15 points, 18 rebounds and 3 steals; Orozco, 9 points, 7 rebounds and 3 steals; Martin, 5 points and 4 rebounds; Shaw, 4 points, and Hamilton, 5 rebounds and 5 assists.

Coach Michael Littlejohn said that point guard Benjy McDaniel missed this game due to being out of town. ***

San Jon spoiled the first game for the Texico varsity boys' basketball team Saturday by winning, 64-41.

Leading the Wolverines were Keith Harrison, 9 points and 8 rebounds; Brian Rogers, 9 points, 4 rebounds and 3 assists; Larry Powell, with 8 points off the bench in the fourth quarter; Brett Taylor, 7 points and 4 rebounds, and Darrel Krivanek, 3 steals.

Coach Curt Cook said, "It looked like a first game. We had lots of turnovers, and we need to settle down. The shots were there but we only shot 27% from the floor."

Almost a close shave

The Continental plane crash in Denver last week was almost a close shave for Farwell's Keith Stephens.

Stephens was in Pittsburgh at the time, boarding a Continental jet to Denver. But the flight was delayed as passengers were told that problems in Denver precluded the flight from leaving just yet; but they weren't told about the crash.

Since Stephens would miss his connecting flight, he called his wife to tell her he would be late. She then told him about the Denver crash and that she already had gotten phone calls from friends wondering if her husband was involved.

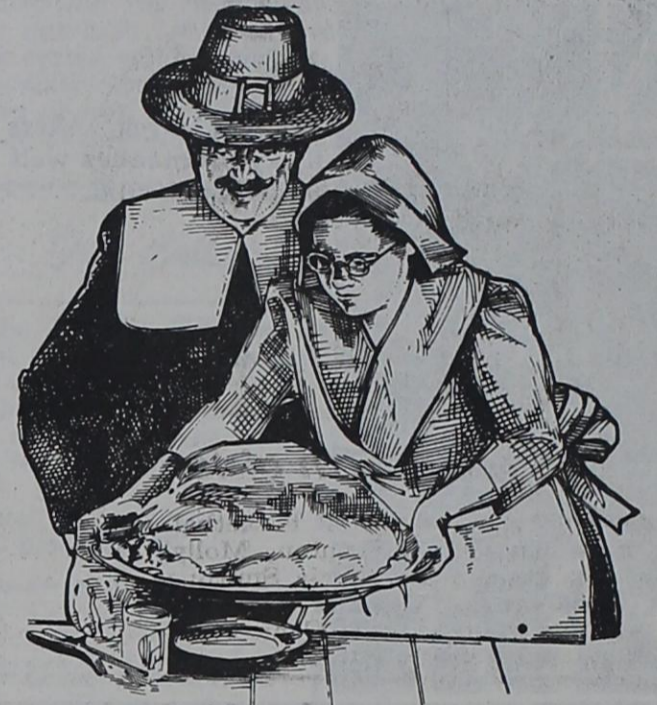

After the call, Stephens told other passengers in Pittsburgh the real reason for the delay to Denver, which he said wasn't appreciated by the Continental ticket agent.

Sullivan accepts call of Farwell Baptist Church

Sullivan has been serving in a Baptist church in Billings, Mont. He is expected to move here before Christmas.

He and his wife have two sons, 10 and 14 years old.

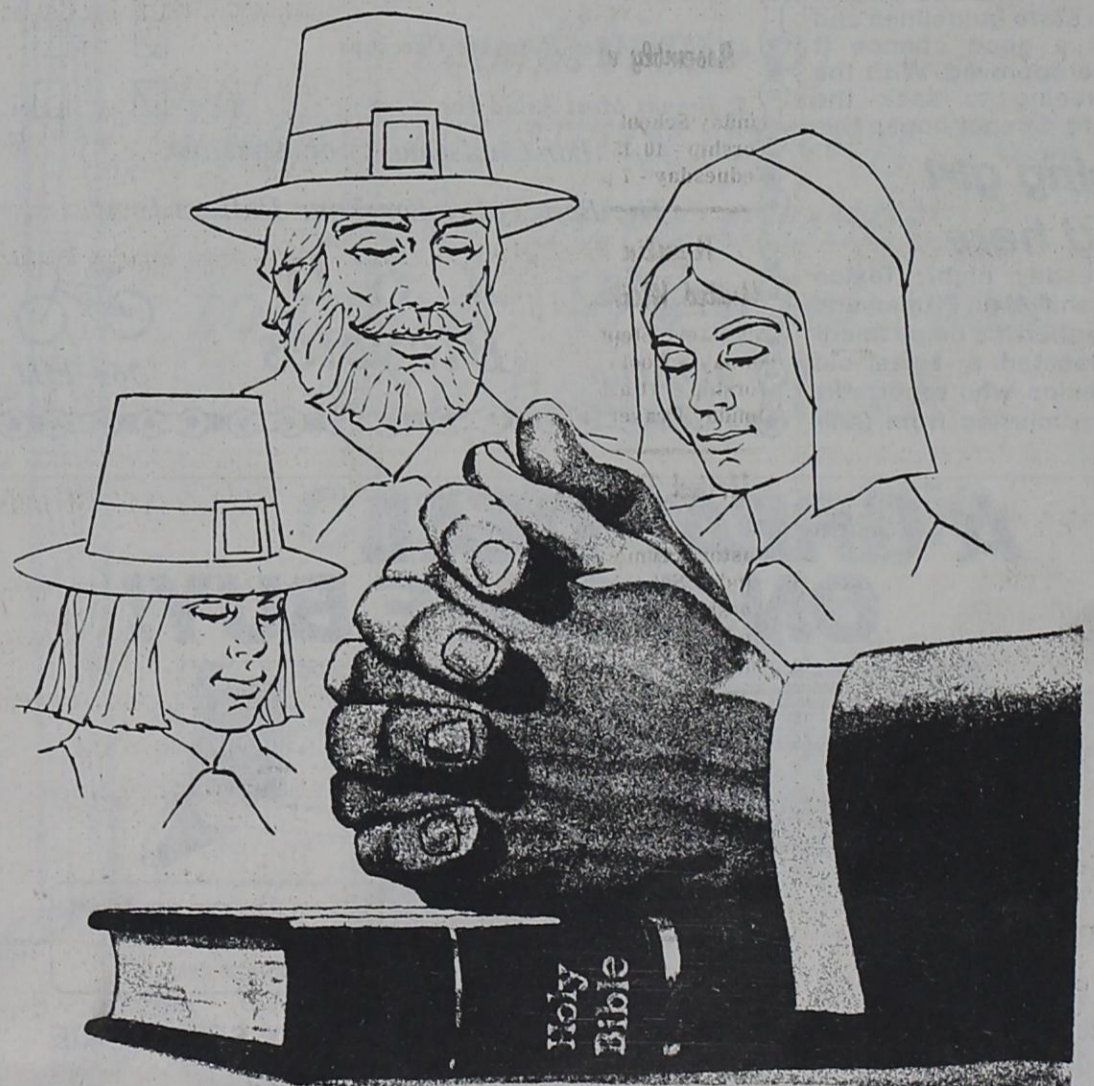

For family and friends, bountiful food on the table, love and laughter in our hearts, we are truly thankful. Let's cherish our good fortune in life all the year through, as we express our thoughts of Thanksgiving today.

Texico to seek depot grant

The Texico City Council Tuesday unanimously voted to apply for a state grant to have the old Texico depot moved.

The council took the action after a request from Ann Cooper, who is heading a committee seeking funds to have the depot moved instead of allowing the Santa Fe Railroad to tear it down.

The railroad wants it demolished because it can then change the tracks, the site of several accidents over the years.

Mrs. Cooper said the Santa Fe had given her a deadline of Dec. 1 to get some concrete action taken.

The city has a deadline of Jan. 1 to apply for a state grant, Mrs. Cooper said. Grants up to $400,000 are available in New Mexico for projects such as libraries, which Mrs. Cooper said the depot building could be used for.

She said a state official has told her that the project is within state guidelines and there is a good chance it would be approved. With the city agreeing to seek the grant, Mrs. Cooper hopes this

found here

Also Tuesday night, Texico City Marshal Alvin Pitman and a county sheriff's department officer located a 1-year-old girl in Texico who reportedly had been missing from California.

will satisfy the Santa Fe so they will hold off until it is found whether the grant is approved.

A public hearing is necessary before the grant is forwarded.

In her plea to the council, Mrs. Cooper said they were "asking for a chance." She said they have found a lot of support, although a few people are against them.

Councilman Butch Tharp asked if the building would be a burden to taxpayers if the grant is approved. Mrs. Cooper replied that many national foundations provide funds for libraries and her group would make provisions that the taxpayers would never have to support it directly.

"After we get it moved, we would keep on raising funds," she said. She gave a rough estimate of $15,000 a year needed for maintenance. She hoped it would be staffed by volunteers or retired persons.

Mrs. Cooper said it would cost $180,000 to move the depot and another $150,000 to renovate it.

Tharp asked who would be liable for the building. Mrs. Cooper said this hasn't been checked into yet.

The second major discussion topic at the meeting involved Ave. F at the southern extremity of Texico.

Lucinda Bonney, chairman of the Curry County Commission, and Bob Whitaker, county manager, attended the meeting along with several Ave. F residents.

Whitaker said it has been found that the major portion of the thoroughfare called

Ave. F was deeded to the city of Texico in 1981. However, a small portion is private.

Mrs. Bonney said the county which recently began laying caliche on the roadway, will maintain it.

In other business, the council:

- Approved an ordinance regulating sexually-oriented materials and displays similar to that of Curry County's.

- Noted that Waste Control will pick up trash Dec. 24 because the usual collection day falls on Christmas.

- Heard Tharp report that the water and sewer fund is $10,000 short, "which indicates the rates should be increased." He said his committee, which was appointed to look into the rate structure, needs more information before it can recommend action.

- Heard Tharp ask if smoking is now banned in public buildings. County Attorney Duane Hamar said he believed it is for state buildings, but will check into it.

Minesweepers go a-hunting

By WILL ANDERSON

The war between Iran and Iraq is being waged in many different ways, one of which being the "war of the tankers. Both countries' economies are based on the money raised from the export of petroleum and petroleum products, and their war efforts are bolstered by imports of armaments and necessities delivered by sea. Tankers and freighters have been hit by gunfire, rocket propelled grenades, and missiles. There is another threat that is ever present as well - the naval mine.

The Persian Gulf is a shallow sea. Mines can be moored in a number of places with a good probability of sinking or severely damaging a ship, particularly in the vicinity of major ports. The "IRAN AJR" was caught in the act of seeding mines near the anchorage off Bahrain. To counter this threat and to ensure the safety of the merchant ships and warships in the gulf, the U.S. has been investigating reports of mine sightings with its minesweeping helicopters of Squadron 14.

These large CH-53 helos fly over the surface of the sea trailing mindswEEPing arrays. Their efforts will be somewhat bolstered by the arrival of USS minesweepers USS FEARLESS, USS ENHANCE, USS ESTEEM, USS INFLICT, USS CONQUEST, AND USS ILLUSIVE. Minesweepers from France, Italy, Britain, the Netherlands, and Belgium are also in the Gulf area.

The U. S. minesweepers are Korean War vintage but are equipped with state of the art mine hunting and sweeping gear. They are unique in that they have wooden hulls, the last wooden hull warships in the world. No magnetic metal is allowed onboard and great care is taken in the effort to reduce the "magnetic field" the ship produces (some mines are acuated by fluctuations in the magnetic field around them). When mines are located, the sweep gear breaks the mooring cable and the mine can be destroyed or sunk by gunfire, or exploded with countercharges installed by the U.S. Navy Explosive Ordnance Disposal Teams (EOD).

The real history of mine warfare began during the tragically unsuccessful war of Southern Independence (also called The Civil War, or the War of Northern Agression). In August 1864, the Union Navy had blockaded all the Atlantic ports of the Confederacy, leaving only Mobile, Alabama, as a major port.

A U.S. fleet, under Commodore David Farragut, attacked there to close it as well. The Confederates had placed a defensive field of mines (or torpedos, as they were also called) outside the harbor and when the leading Yankee monitor, USS TECUMSEH, hit a mine she sank rapidly with heavy loss of life. The other ships fell into disorder, and Farragut said his famous words, "Damn the torpedos, full steam ahead" (or words very much to that effect) and took his flagship, the Frigate USS Hartford through the field without hitting one.

USS TECUMSEH was thus the first warship to fall victim to a mine. She was joined within a year by monitors USS PATAPSCO, USS MILWAUKEE, and USS OSAGE.

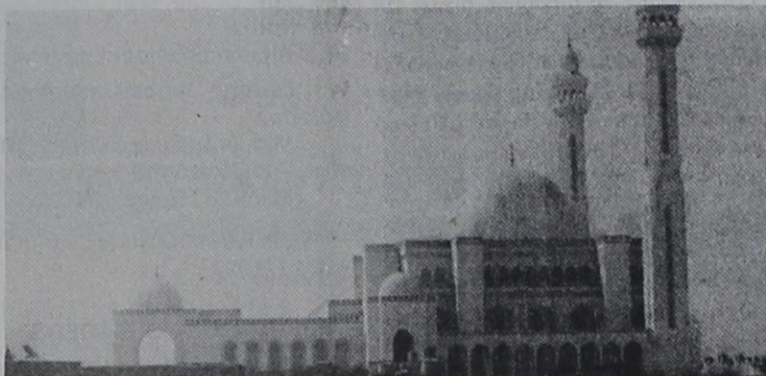

Mine warfare began to come into flower during the Russo-Japanese War of 1904-1905. The Russians sank a Japanese gunboat, two Japanese cruisers and two Japanese battleships. (The Russians also sank one Russian cruiser, which is a lesson on the importance of good navigation and remembering where you've laid mines once you've dropped them overboard.)

Navies around the world began to develop mines and mine counter measures at this time. Mines took a heavy toll in World War I, many of the victims being major warships.

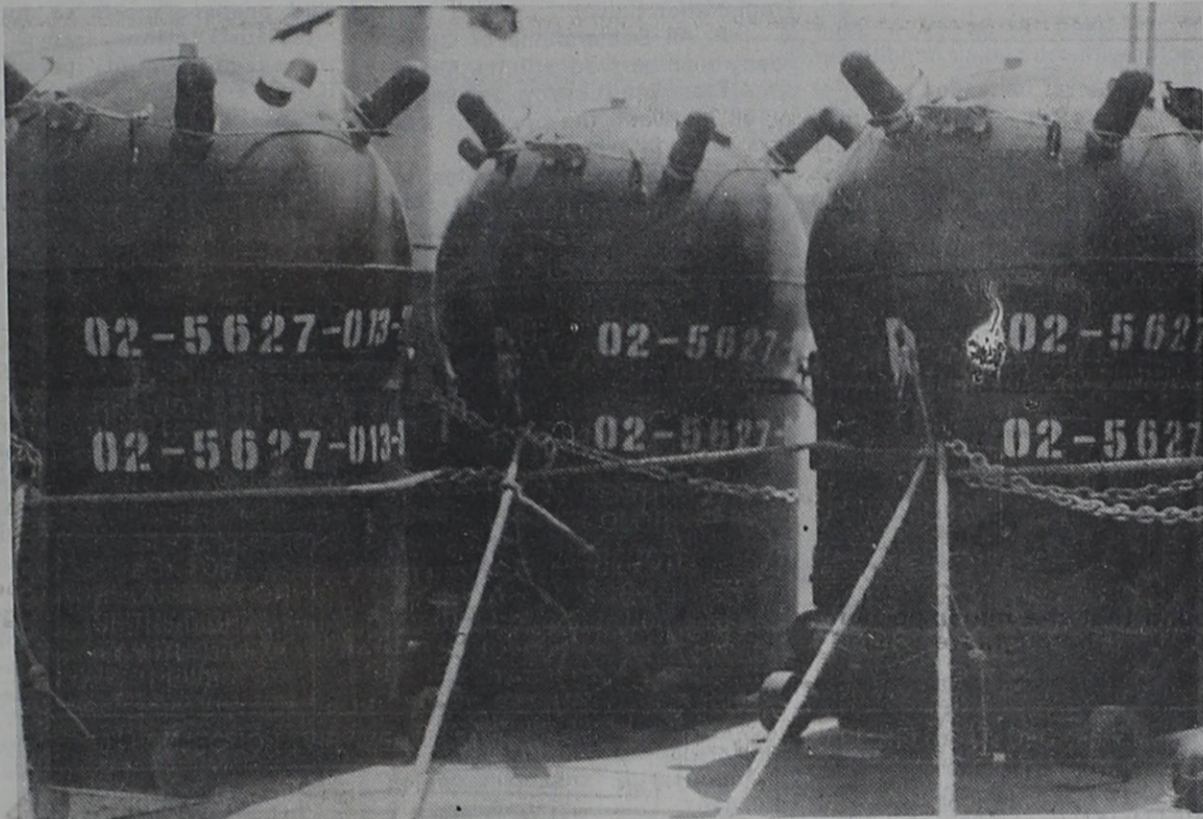

But the primary development was the offensive minefield. The U.S. Navy attempted to spread a field from Scotland to Norway to keep German U-Boats from getting into the Atlantic.

The lessons learned during World War I were applied during World War II and losses of major warships to mines were nowhere as great although smaller warships suffered greatly off coastlines during amphibious assaults. One major use of the mine was against enemy shipping, and by war's end, Japan had lost almost 400,000 tons of shipping to mines. (It is impossible to estimate what other losses can be attributed to mines indirectly. If a mine field is known to exist, it will affect the decisions your enemy makes. Movements of his ships may be delayed or accelerated to your advantage, or convoys routed into an area where you can engage them with other weapons.)

With the arrival of additional minesweeping forces into the Persian Gulf, the chances of severe reductions of oil exports from this area are greatly reduced. The minesweepers and their crews will be working, investigating reports, hunting, and sweeping mines. They will succeed whether they destroy mines or not, because they will have cleared an existing threat, or they will verify that no threat exists.

Farwell
Convalescent Center
Chit Chat

By Lynne Gann
Activity Director

Every 6 months, the state inspects our facility to make sure we meet Texas standards.

They were here the 23rd and we passed with flying colors. We have a superior rating and this isn't something one gets without a lot of hard work.

The aides must keep the residents cleaned, fed, dressed, hair combed, dental hygiene, beds made, plus many more things too numerous to mention. Medication must be recorded, counted, charted, when each pill is given, results from the medication charted, medication ordered, checked to ensure proper labeling, etc.

The nurses must daily check each resident, chart on their well-being, do treatments. The paperwork is unbelievable.

The kitchen must arrive here at a very early hour and prepare meals to specific instructions, serve a measured amount, present it in a pleasing manner, maintain a level of hygiene difficult to obtain at home.

The laundry and house-keeping must meet a standard that is very hard to maintain. They must do floors not once, but three times a day minimum. With 70 residents, you can imagine the laundry we generate.

Our superior rating is an achievement we carry with honor. To all - a job well done!

Sarpalius satisfied with election outcome

AUSTIN — Voters statewide managed to wade through the ridiculously long Nov. 3 ballot and give their seal of approval to 17 of the 25 constitutional propositions and one of the two non-constitutional referenda.

With such a long ballot, in-depth analysis of the results is almost impossible. What is possible is a close inspection of the three or four votes that will have the biggest impact on the 31st Senatorial District.

Proposition 8, which authorizes the sale of $500 million in bonds to pay for prisons and other new facilities, already is paying economic dividends in our part of the state. Just last week, the State Board of Corrections approved Amarillo's bid to become home to a new 2,250-bed maximum security prison.

The prison naturally will bring many construction jobs to the area in the short term and, more importantly, will be the source of almost 1,000 permanent jobs in the Amarillo area. The economic implications of such an employment boost are obvious.

But, the significance of the Amarillo prison extends far beyond the boundaries of the city itself. The Texas Department of Corrections is in an expansion phase, and this new facility marks the first time a maximum-security prison has been built outside the general east-central Texas area.

Borger, Dalhart, Pampa and Tulia

Company's

Comin' to open

A new business is opening in Farwell Dec. 5.

The business, located at 208 2nd St., is called Company's Comin', and is owned by Naomi Walls and Joan Johnson of Farwell, and Rose Gattis of Clovis.

The shop will feature hand made items from area craftsmen. The shop is also selling The Oil of Mink Collection by Rose Marie skin-care program, and the famous Watkins Products.

The doors will open for business Saturday at 9 a.m. and will close at 5 p.m. Refreshments will be served all day Saturday.

There will also be a commitment evening Dec. 2 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

also made concerted efforts to bring some type of correctional facility to their areas. The awarding of the Amarillo prison breaks down a long-standing barrier and paves the way for one or more of those cities to receive some future facility.

The passage of Proposition 19 will not yield the immediate results of Proposition 8, but the importance of the amendment should not be underestimated. Proposition 19 authorizes the state to sell $500 million in bonds, if a Texas site is chosen by the U.S. Department of Energy to house the $6 billion superconducting supercollider.

Amarillo, of course, is one of two Texas sites currently being considered by DOE. As we've mentioned many times, a $500 million promise from the state to help fund SSC construction gives our Texas sites an edge on the national competition for the SSC. If the SSC were to come to Amarillo, there is no doubt it would be the economic development prize of the decade.

Of a more local interest is the passage of Proposition 25, which gives voters in parts of Randall County the option of becoming part of the Amarillo Hospital District. Those residents in the part of Randall County that is not currently in either the Amarillo city limits or the boundaries of the South Randall County Hospital District are eligible to join. A two-step process is necessary to become part of the AHD.

First, five percent of the property owners residing in the aforementioned area must petition the Randall County Commissioner's Court for an election. Once the election is ordered a majority of people residing in the area eligible for membership in the AHD must approve membership. Membership can be dissolved at any time by going through a similar petition/election process.

Interesting as the amendments we've discussed are, they are not the items that attracted the voters' attention. It was parimutuel wagering that drew people to the polls, and it is the legalized gambling issue that continues to attract economic development interest.

There can be no doubt some areas will benefit economically from the voters' decision to legalize betting on horse and dog races. Our area will not enjoy that many benefits. Only one county - Randall County - has passed the local option election necessary to be eligible for a race track with wagering, so there won't be tracks dotting the Panhandle-South Plains area.

Also, no county in our part of the state is eligible for a large Class One racetrack. Those tracks are limited by law to the Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio areas. The track in Randall County, though, could receive a Class Two permit, which would limit wagering at the track to no more than 44 days per year.

We wouldn't want to downplay the economic importance of that Class Two track, but we wouldn't want to build it up too much either. Some, but not many, in our part of the state will prosper from pari-mutuel wagering.

If you have additional questions about the Nov. 3 election, or other matters, please don't hesitate to contact us at P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas, 78711.
