

On Its Way To Storage

Billions of gallons of water flowed down the Colorado River Tuesday in the wake of young floods in the Lamesa and eastern Dawson County areas. E. V. Spence, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, watches part of the flood waters course down the river to storage about 20 miles southeast in Lake J. B. Thomas. The rampaging river hung about floor level of the bridge all Tuesday night.

Commissioners Court Orders Audit Of County Tax Records

A special audit of all records of the Howard County tax assessor-collector during the four-year tenure in office of B. E. (Bernie) Freeman has been ordered by the Howard County Commissioners Court.

County Judge R. H. Weaver announced today that the court has approved such action. This was an aftermath to grand jury indictments returned Tuesday against Freeman, alleging misapplication of public funds.

Four indictments charged him with fraudulent conversion of county monies, one specifying a sum of $126.12 on August 11, 1952; another $200 on Oct. 7, 1952; a third, $150 on Oct. 11, 1952; and a fourth, citing $2,500.71 during a period from Aug. 21 through Dec. 21, 1952.

Freeman served in the tax office for the calendar years 1949 through 1953, having been elected in 1948 and returned to office in 1950. He did not ask for re-election in 1952.

Weaver said the court had employed the firm of Jones, Freeze & Hay, certified public accountants of San Angelo, to make a detailed audit for the four years "to ascertain if all accounts are fully in order, and to report all irregularities, if any."

The judge announced that the same auditing firm also has been engaged to conduct the regular 1954 audit for all county offices. The court, he said, has notified Harold Wine of Ballinger that it was withdrawing its commitment to use his services for the regular 1954 audit. Wine for a number of years has done the annual auditing work for the county, being engaged on a year-to-year basis.

Representatives of Jones, Freeze & Hay are expected here Monday to start the special audit.

Big 4 Chiefs Send Knotty Reich Problem To Foreign Ministers

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four sent back to their foreign ministers today the knotty problem of trying to iron out East-West differences over European security and the unification of Germany.

These are the main problems on the agenda of the summit conference, but the heads of government decided at today's session they had gone as far as possible at present in discussion of the two questions.

President Eisenhower told today's meeting he is convinced Soviet Russia has the same desire for enduring world peace as the Western Powers do.

The President emphasized that East-West differences on the two great stumbling blocks must be worked out. He said the Big Four must show the world these problems can be solved.

The Big Four met for an hour and 45 minutes in their fourth session. They gathered after Eisenhower had a two-hour private luncheon with Georgi K. Zhukov, Soviet defense minister. Simultaneously, it was disclosed that Eisenhower has called some of his top military advisors to Geneva.

Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, flew in from Paris. Robert Anderson, deputy U. S. secretary of defense, came with them.

Harold Stassen and Nelson Rockefeller, two presidential assistants dealing with disarmament and propaganda, also were here.

An Eisenhower aide said these men would meet with the President tonight. Speculation arose that they would discuss with the President the question of disarmament to come up later in the four power talks. The heads of government met for their fourth session at 4 p.m. (10 a.m. EST). For two hours earlier today their foreign ministers tried to arrive at some sort of agreed recommendations on the German problem. One Western source said they just argued in circles. They got into the European security problem to such an extent that Western Leaders became convinced it would be difficult to keep the issues separate.

The West finally agreed to recommend that the summit talks move on to the security problem—second on the agenda after Germany. It was expected the two statements would be discussed together. Western leaders had recognized the close link between the German and security issues, but they had won top priority yesterday for German unification, which they considered the most vital problem in Europe today. The Russians after a day of discussion on the German question proposed that the talks move on to the next item of business.

Although the outlook for any sort of agreement on Germany appeared dim, one American source said the shift to security certainly did not mean that the German discussion was finished. A communique from the foreign ministers after a two-hour meeting described the German question and European security as "inter-related" and said the ministers had decided to recommend that the summit talks switch to security this afternoon.

The statement failed to say whether the German question would be brought up later. The Russians proposed yesterday that it be dropped until West Germany pulled out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The text of the communique: "The four foreign ministers at their morning session had a further discussion of the interrelated problems of German reunification and European security.

"They agreed to recommend to the heads of government that the latter discuss at this afternoon's session point 2 of the agenda which is European security."

In advance of the afternoon meeting (10 a.m. EST) of the Big Four heads of government diplomatic activity went on full blast on a number of fronts.

1. President Eisenhower and his wartime friend, Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, had a private luncheon at Eisenhower's lake-side villa. They were alone except for interpreters.

2. Soviet Premier Bulganin gave a luncheon for the other Western leaders, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure. Secretary of State Dulles represented the United States.

3. Soviet Premier Bulganin and his wartime friend, Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, had a private luncheon at Eisenhower's lake-side villa. They were alone except for interpreters.

4. Soviet Premier Bulganin and his wartime friend, Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, had a private luncheon at Eisenhower's lake-side villa. They were alone except for interpreters.

As there are now 6,850 water connections in the city, a 25-cent hike for each would mean additional revenue of $200,500 per year. Over a 20-year period the additional money would total $4,010,000, just shy of the $4,221,025.50 requirement.

Commissioners figure that any normal growth here will take care of the extra $11,000 needed to complete the requirement. Extra connections which will result from present construction in East Big Spring will nearly take care of the extra, they pointed out.

The $200,000 proposed for general obligation bonds has been slated for fire stations, $175,000; police building, $50,000; park improvements, $90,000; city hall improvements, $75,000; and street improvements, $150,000.

The proposed $300,000 water revenue bonds are for construction of additional settling basin and flocculator basins at the filter plant, a new water reservoir, and numerous mains about the city.

Additional rainfall reports included: O'Donnell 4.85 in town; Lamesa 4.01; Dean Ranch near Lamesa more than 10 inches; Slaton 2.5; Snyder 1.10; Post 2.5; Wilson 3; three miles west of Wilson 6; Tahoka 2.85; Claremont 1.25; 10 miles west of Claremont 10; Jayton 1.30; Ackery 4; Floydada 1.67; Lambhook 1.16.

Lake Thomas Water Level Up 3.5 Feet

Flood waters from eastern Dawson and northwestern Borden counties boosted the level of Lake J. B. Thomas by 3 1/2 feet at noon Wednesday.

Water was still coming in and E. V. Spence, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, predicted that the ultimate increase would be 4 1/2 feet. The elevation at noon Wednesday was 2,247 feet above sea level. Before the increase it was 2,243.44.

The big impetus came from rains up to 10 1/2 inches on the Dean Ranch in eastern Dawson County. Some of the heavy rains just below O'Donnell and on across to the northern fringe of Borden County also got into the shed.

Wednesday morning the rate of increase began to decrease, but at noon, Bull Creek, which had only been trickling, suddenly began to rise and was nearly up to the bridge level north of Murphy school. The rate of increase began once more to stabilize.

The lake, source of supply for Snyder, Big Spring and Odessa, now has around 120,000 acre feet of water in it. Spence estimated that the final figure would be about 131,000 acre feet, or roughly 65 per cent of capacity.

If the 4 1/2-foot increase is attained, this will put the lake level within about 10 1/2 feet of the service spillway level of 2258.

At noon Wednesday the area of the lake covered something like 5,700 acres. Water was backed up the channel eight miles west of the dam.

All night water ran at bridge level on the Colorado River on the Big Spring-Gall road.

City, School Win Tax Case Verdict

A district court jury found Tuesday afternoon that the Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital Foundation has not operated its hospital as a "purely public charity" since formation of the foundation in 1951. The verdict closed the two-day trial of a delinquent tax suit brought against the foundation by the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District. The suit involved unpaid taxes totaling $6,521.63 for 1952 and 1953 and was considered an important test of the tax exemption claims of foundations throughout the state.

The legal institution contended in the suit that it should be exempt from ad valorem taxes because of its charter and operation as a charitable foundation. The jury was asked to answer but one special issue: Has the hospital been operated as a purely public charity?

Testimony of the hospital administrator, D. S. Riley, and members of the board of trustees showed that charitable work performed by the hospital has ranged from three to five per cent of gross business during the four and a half years the foundation has been in control.

Riley spent about five hours on the witness stand as the defendant's principal witness. Five trustees of the foundation, K. H. McGibbon, Dick Simpson, P. D. O'Brien, Truman Jones and R. T. Piner, also testified for the defendant. The plaintiff called no witnesses and introduced no evidence other than portions of the foundation's records.

The testimony of the administrator and trustees showed that the foundation purchased the hospital properties from Malone & Hogan Properties Inc. for approximately $600,000 and that appraised value of the plant was about $800,000. All of the trustees testified that no one has made any profit from operation of the hospital since the foundation took charge, and that all doctors are paid by salary only. They said on cross examination, however, that doctors' salaries have been raised and reduced according to the availability of funds and that foundation income was one of the factors considered in fixing the salaries. The pay for the nine doctors currently totals $221,000 per year, Riley said.

The trustees said they thought that their nominations to serve on the board represented an opportunity for community service.

Dr. O'Brien, Piner and Jones were the only witnesses heard Tuesday afternoon. Rev. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, flew to Big Spring from Marshall where he is conducting a series of religious meetings. He returned to Marshall after testifying.

Carlson Hamilton was foreman of the jury which included Charles Sweeney, Mrs. T. T. Hart, Carl Merrick, W. B. Younger, H. O. Fowler, Rex Baggett, John Taylor, Everett Wegman, James Duncan, C. L. Roden, and Ray Boren.

Violation Of Federal Act Laid To Union

DETROIT (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted the CIO United Auto Workers Union on charges of violation of the federal corrupt practices act in politics.

The grand jury accused the big union of using general union funds to finance political activities in the 1954 congressional campaign.

This was the campaign in which Patrick V. McNamara, Democrat supported by the UAW and other labor groups, defeated U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican. A weekly union-sponsored radio program was involved in a grand jury investigation of charges brought by the Michigan Republican Central Committee.

John Feikens, committee chairman, filed the charges with the Justice Department last March. The indictment named only the union itself. None of its officers, who include CIO President Walter Reuther, was named. Reuther is also president of the UAW-CIO.

Organized labor took a large role in the 1954 campaign. The UAW and other labor groups were among the strongest supporters of McNamara in opposition to the incumbent Ferguson.

The grand jury inquired into the financing of the UAW's weekly sponsored program, "Meet the UAW-CIO," over WJBK-TV, Detroit. Guy Nunn of the union is moderator of the program.

The indictment, containing four counts, charges the union violated a section of the act which prohibits banks, corporations and labor organizations from using general funds for political purposes.

A maximum penalty of $5,000 is provided in event of conviction on any count.

At the time the grand jury investigation began, and since, officers of the UAW charged Republicans were attempting to interfere with the franchise of working people. Emil Masey, UAW secretary-treasurer, said the investigation was inspired by Feikens and Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, Summerfield is a Michigan man.

The union issued a statement denying it had acted wrongly and welcoming "this opportunity to test the validity and scope of this law."

The union said it "deplores the fact that Republican politicians have been able to use the courts in their frantic effort to save face."

Masey, a witness before the grand jury, said at the time of charges and counter-charges over the investigation that union members contributed $5,000 to McNamara's campaign but that all of it was given voluntarily and none was dues money.

Harold A. Cranefield, general counsel for the UAW, said the union would appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court any conviction that might be brought under the indictment.

Cranefield said the union would contend the corrupt practices act violates the First Amendment in its guarantee of freedom of speech. The indictment specifically charges the union with illegally spending $5,985.

15 Indicted In Duval County

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—Fifteen new indictments involving former Duval County officials have been returned by the Duval County Grand Jury, it was announced yesterday.

Former 79th Dist. Atty. Raeburn Norris was named along with seven others on charges of conspiring to misapply $5,000 in Duval County funds.

Norris is a former supporter of South Texas political boss George Parr and had not been previously indicted.

The indictment charges Norris and the others with paying the $5,000 to the San Diego State Bank, which was ordered into liquidation last summer by the State Banking Commission.

Hofheinz Spends $4,000 To Give His Side Of Feud

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston's millionaire mayor spent more than four thousand dollars last night to give voters his side of his feud with the City Council.

Roy Hofheinz, 42-year-old chief executive of the South's largest city, spoke over three television stations and seven radio stations.

Impeachment charges brought against him by the eight councilmen, Hofheinz declared, amount to a "surprise, sneak, Pearl Harbor, revolutionary attack."

He asked the voters to support him in the Aug. 16 special election which will decide the issue. Voters will choose then between 18 city charter amendments proposed by the councilmen to curb "strong mayor" provisions of the current charter and a Hofheinz proposal for new city elections in November.

Texas Streams Reported Up

Rains measuring up to 12 inches sent some major Texas streams on the rise Wednesday.

Muddy floodwaters forced National Guardsmen to evacuate 25 families Tuesday at Lamesa in West Texas. Several farm families southeast of Tahoka also were forced from their homes.

The rains slackened off Wednesday morning but conditions were ripe for them to pick up again as nightfall approached. At dawn rain still was falling at Salt Flat, El Paso and Amarillo.

A heavy rainstorm just north of San Antonio was expected for the day Tuesday of Charles McKensie of Pratt, Kan., who was killed in a head-on collision of two autos.

The downpours covered a 250-mile stretch of West Texas Tuesday—from the New Mexico line to Del Rio—but were heaviest in the Lamesa-Tahoka area.

The heaviest rain was 12 inches measured near the Borden-Lynn county line about 18 miles southeast of Tahoka. Thundershowers were reported elsewhere in Texas.

Parts Of Lamesa Flooded, Area Gets Soaking Rains

LAMESA — This plains city today dug out from the effects of high water while Dawson County in general smiled over the prospects of a booming cotton crop.

While Lamesa got 4.5 inches, there were areas of the county which got substantially more—even up to 10 1/2 inches in the eastern sector.

Three sections of Lamesa were inundated and approximately 25 families were evacuated when water rose into their homes. Several of the Sulphur Draw crossings went under water and even the Lamesa Highway bridge temporarily was blocked.

Most of the county got 4 to 4 1/2 inches. Surprisingly, there was little washing and damage to land. For the most part the rain came steadily with only occasional times when it came in sheets.

"Cotton will jump up like it had dynamite under it," said Assistant County Agent Byron Pierce.

He predicted a much larger yield than last year. About 70 per cent of the allotment, or around 160,000 acres are up to reasonable stand. Last year Dawson made 36,500 bales and some sources were predicting that the 1955 yield would be well over 100,000 bales.

Freeman Posts $10,000 In Bonds On Indictments

Bonds totaling $10,000 were posted by B. E. (Bernie) Freeman Tuesday afternoon; shortly after a grand jury returned four indictments charging him with misapplication of public funds.

The four bonds were for $2,500 each. Sureties were Murph Thorp and J. D. Elliott.

Freeman said this morning he had no statement to make at present concerning the indictments. He told authorities yesterday he was unable to explain discrepancies in tax office records. He denied a any guilt.

Bond Issues Passage Could Hike Tax Rates

The proposed $990,000 bond issues, if passed in an election here on Aug. 9, will probably push the tax rate up 12 cents and increase water bills by 25 cents monthly.

These figures, which are tentative, are based on the bond maturity schedules set Tuesday evening by the Big Spring city commissioners.

The tax hike will enable the city to pay off the proposed $690,000 in general obligation bonds within a period of 17 years. The increase in water bills will allow retirement of the $300,000 in water revenue bonds within a 20-year period.

City Manager H. W. Whitney explained that the required increase is based on 90 per cent collection of taxes. In recent years the city has been collecting in excess of the 90 per cent, but commissioners expressed desire for a safe margin of operation.

The 25-cent water bill increase is based on payment of 3.25 per cent interest for the $300,000 in water improvement bonds. It is hoped that a lower interest rate also can be obtained for these bonds.

Interest, at 3.25 per cent, would be $122,102.50. This would bring total cost of the water bonds to $422,102.50 over a 20-year period.

As there are now 6,850 water connections in the city, a 25-cent hike for each would mean additional revenue of $200,500 per year. Over a 20-year period the additional money would total $4,010,000, just shy of the $4,221,025.50 requirement.

Commissioners figure that any normal growth here will take care of the extra $11,000 needed to complete the requirement. Extra connections which will result from present construction in East Big Spring will nearly take care of the extra, they pointed out.

The $200,000 proposed for general obligation bonds has been slated for fire stations, $175,000; police building, $50,000; park improvements, $90,000; city hall improvements, $75,000; and street improvements, $150,000.

Fire Marks Casablanca Riot

French Foreign Legionnaires watch flames shoot from a burning hut in "Old Medina," native sector of Casablanca, as rioting continued there. French troops and tanks were used in combatting the rioting Moroccans who threw stones at the troops and set fire to stores owned by pro-French natives.

French Seek To Oust Sultan As Step Toward Pacifying Morocco

CASABLANCA, Morocco (U.S.—) Top French officials today were reported working to oust Sultan Moulay Ben Arafat as a step toward pacifying rebellious Nationalists in strife-ridden French Morocco.

Sources close to Gilbert Grandval, new resident general, said he intends to push a political program of moderation toward Nationalist-minded Moroccans despite the recent bloody rioting and threats of new violence. Grandval has met bitter opposition from many of Morocco's French colonists.

Comparative quiet continued in Casablanca yesterday but violence continued in Fedala, 17 miles to the northeast, where fires set by Nationalist terrorists left hundreds of Moroccans homeless. Some French farm houses also were burned. Unconfirmed reports said eight natives had been killed in Fedala. A Frenchman was killed last night in the native quarter of Rabat, 55 miles northeast of Casablanca.

Four persons were killed and 19 wounded yesterday in Casablanca. This was a considerable drop from the casualty count in riots over last weekend. The death toll for those four days stood officially at 64, but some observers believed as many as 200 persons died.

Informants said Grandval's program includes the move to oust Ben Arafat. Moroccan experts say Ben Arafat has no popular backing, while support for the deposed Sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, has been increasing. Ben Youssef was exiled by the French in August 1953 for encouraging Nationalist extremists and Ben Arafat was put in the post.

There is no question of bringing Ben Youssef back, but a council of regency might be set up for one of his sons, the informants said. They added that Grandval's program also includes replacement of top French department chiefs with other Frenchmen willing to take orders before long from Moroccan bosses. The new French chief was said to be planning appointment of an effective Moroccan cabinet to replace the present puppet native administration.

U Nu Suggests China UN Entry, Prisoner Release

TOKYO (U.S.—) Prime Minister U Nu of Burma suggested today that simultaneous admission of Red China to the United Nations and release of Chinese-held American prisoners would "relieve a great deal of tension."

U Nu, who flew here after a tour of the United States, also told a press conference that he backed the proposal of Prime Minister Nehru of India for a world conference on Asia problems.

"A world conference of all countries interested in Asia would be a very good thing," U Nu said. Answering a question, he said, "It would be very difficult" if Red China did not attend such a conference.

Nehru advanced the proposal yesterday.

U Nu said Burma wanted American prisoners in Red China "released as soon as possible, just as we want the U. N. to admit China, perhaps simultaneously." It would relieve a great deal of tension, he said.

U Nu said he personally felt Red China should be represented at any world conference on Asian questions and also should be admitted to the U. N.

"One day the people of Red China will have to be accepted," he declared. "They can't be ignored forever."

U Nu then said, "I don't know what would happen to Nationalist China in such event. Two Chinas—this is quite impossible."

Sheppard Appears Ready For Prison

CLEVELAND (U.S.—) Nearly a year after he was arrested, it appeared today Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard soon will start serving a life penitentiary term for the bludgeoning slaying of his pregnant wife.

An Appellate Court yesterday turned down his second and final motion for a new trial, and one of the attorneys says the young osteopath feels he would get more exercise and privileges in prison than he does in county jail.

The motion denied yesterday was based largely on a criminology professor's affidavit that he found evidence a left-handed sex fiend killed Marilyn Sheppard July 4, 1954. Sheppard is right-handed.

But the 41-page opinion of the three-judge court discounted the affidavit with such descriptions as "highly speculative and fallacious," "guess work" and "sheer supposition."

The affidavit was prepared by Dr. Paul Kirk, professor of criminology at the University of California. Last January Kirk made a private investigation of the crime scene, a bedroom of the Sheppard home in Bay Village.

Dr. Kirk contended a prowler, trying to make a sex attack on Marilyn Sheppard, was bitten on the hand by the victim and left a drop of his own blood on a closet door of her bedroom. Although the blood was the same type as the victim's, it reacted differently in certain laboratory tests, he said. Judges Julius Kovachy, Lee Steel and Jay Seth Hurd held that this theory had "no probative value in support of the defendant's claim of newly discovered evidence."

They also implied that Dr. Kirk took upon himself the privilege of reviewing the case and "usurping the function of the jury" which convicted Sheppard of second-degree murder last Dec. 21. A week ago, the same court turned down a motion based on Sheppard's claim that the original trial was full of procedural errors which resulted in a verdict unsupported by the evidence.

Dr. Kirk, reached for comment in California last night, declared that "the judges weren't able to distinguish legal verbiage from a simple justice."

"I'm just as positive as I am of my own name that Dr. Sam didn't do it," he said.

Defense attorney Fred W. Garmon said Sheppard will appeal the ruling to the Ohio Supreme Court, "but we will not request another stay of execution of the sentence."

Mother, Son Face Prison

MIAMI, Fla. (U.S.—) A Brooklyn mother failed to convince a judge that she alone should be punished instead of her 17-year-old son who shot a policeman, and both faced 10-year-prison sentences.

Mrs. Antoinette Lutz, 45, yesterday pleaded that the son, Frank, was "a good boy and it (the shooting) was all my fault."

Young Lutz actually pulled the trigger when policeman L. E. Anderson was wounded by three shots in the back March 21 after he tried to question the boy and his mother about a bad check they had passed. They had arrived here only a few days earlier from Brooklyn. In ruling that both the mother and son were equally guilty, Judge Ben C. Willard told the boy: "I would have a lot more respect for you if you hadn't been willing to let your mother take the responsibility for your vicious action."

EARL B. STOVALL, AGENT

Tax Bureau Gets Lev Hearing Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators today asked the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service to study a hearing transcript containing new bribe accusations against Harry Lev, wealthy Chicago maker of caps for the armed forces.

Forgetful Lev told the Senate investigations subcommittee yesterday he still cannot remember what he did with $20,000 in cash he acknowledged withdrawing from his Chicago bank in June and July 1953.

But he insisted that "not one cent" of it went to pay bribes to help him get government contracts.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) cautioned Lev that such an answer "certainly casts a very strong suspicion on you" when considered in light of other testimony.

Lev said it was the best he could do, but promised he will try again to remember.

The subcommittee has been digging for evidence of possible graft in the landing of profitable contracts by Lev's Mid-City Uniform Cap Co. of Chicago and some other makers of uniform caps and raincoats for the armed forces.

At the end of the hearing, McClellan ordered copies of the stenographic record sent to the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service for study and possible action.

In a return appearance as a witness, Lev denied accusations against him contained in a signed and sworn deathbed statement by Hyman Roskin, of St. Louis, who died a few days after he made it last June 26. Roskin had worked for Lev as a factory foreman.

Roskin's statement alleged that former Army Col. Vere Painter, now Lev's business partner, "helped Mr. Lev to become a millionaire on taxpayers' money" while Painter was a military procurement officer.

Painter called the statement "a lie." Lev attributed it to a grudge because he had fired Roskin in 1952. He said Roskin died still owing him $2,500. Lev said Roskin had been "a double crosser." Lev gave no details on this point.

Lev also challenged as "not the truth" a charge by former Army inspector Michael Weintraub that Lev had repeatedly offered him bribes when Weintraub was assigned as an inspector at the Mid-City plant.

Weintraub said Lev had abused him in the "vilest, filthiest words in the Yiddish language" for refusing the bribes.

Lev had been called back to tell what he did with approximately $214,000 of about $1,400,000 in cash that passed through his hands in 1952 and 1953. He had testified on June 11 he could not recall any of the details.

Yesterday he gave the subcommittee an accounting of what he said he did with about $203,000 of the money. He called the $214,000 figure inaccurate. Robert F. Kennedy, the subcommittee's chief counsel, disputed Lev's figures. And he asked Lev what he did with $20,000 in cash Lev had taken out of his bank.

"I can't remember," Lev said. Kennedy said $10,000 was drawn by Lev June 27, 1953, at about the time Leon M. Levy, a New York manufacturer and business rival of Lev, has sworn that Lev bribed Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool, then an armed forces procurement officer.

Wool is awaiting court-martial on charges based on his alleged associations with Lev, who stated yesterday: "I have never paid Capt. Wool any kind of a money (sic) whatsoever."

Kennedy said Lev's books show he also drew $10,000 July 10, 1953, less than two weeks later, about the time procurement officials were approving a disputed portion of Lev's contract to manufacture two million white sailor caps for the Navy.

Lev reported gifts to members of his family in 1952 and 1953 totaled $102,700 of the $203,000 in question. He said he paid no gift taxes on those transfers and that none of the money was reported as gifts in his income tax returns. But he claimed he had paid his income taxes in full.

Judge Denies Mistrial Plea

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP)—Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson denied today a defense motion for a mistrial in the case of Manuel Miller, 47, who stood off U. S. marshals 12 hours on May 3, when they came to take Mrs. Miller from her Bethel home to a mental hospital.

Atty. Maurice Broderick of Manchester, N. H., based the motion on the fact that Gibson was the judge who signed the court order for commitment of Mrs. Lucille Miller, 44.

Broderick contended that Judge Gibson is a possible witness in the present case. He also contended that his client was being denied a fair trial by an impartial judge.

Broderick also sought to challenge the proceedings by contending U. S. Marshal Dewey H. Perry, when he went to the Miller home at Bethel had only papers for a civil process.

The defense lawyer asked the court to rule the marshal was acting in a civil process and not in a criminal case. Judge Gibson declined.

A tear gas barrage broke the siege after 12 hours and Mrs. Miller, mother of three children, was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington. After a month there she was adjudged mentally competent and returned to Vermont.

Adenauer is 79. Even if he were not an old man, world conditions change. Perhaps the Soviet leaders believe that in a few years it may be possible to break the Germans' Western ties and unify the country on terms far more favorable to the expansion of Soviet influence there.

Meanwhile, Bulganin keeps talking about relaxing tensions and removing barriers between the Communist and Western nations.

He announced Monday Russia would contribute to the international atomic pool Eisenhower called for 19 months ago.

These things, together with other Russian moves in the months leading up to the Geneva conference, are taken by many Western diplomats here as evidence of a persistent effort on Russia's part to end the cold war—without yielding any vital interests—and establish peaceful coexistence as the East-West way of life.

Witness Points To Lev

Michael Weintraub, foreground, a witness before Senate investigators, points toward Harry Lev, Chicago cap maker, during hearings in Washington, D. C. Lev throws his hands in the air, partially hiding his face. Weintraub testified his life had been threatened and swore that Lev "tried to bribe me many times" and "called me filthy and profane names" for refusing to accept. Weintraub is a former Army inspector. Others are unidentified.

Peaceful Stalemate May Be Russ Goal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—Soviet policy in the summit conference may be aimed at freezing the East-West divide of Europe for an indefinite period of peaceful stalemate.

Key Western diplomats say privately this may well be the common purpose running through several moves by Premier Bulganin in the Big Four meetings to date.

These moves are:
1. Bulganin's making clear yesterday that the Soviet government is unwilling to reunify Germany unless it has no chance of military links with the Western Powers.

West Germany is now a member of the North Atlantic Alliance and the West wants a united Germany to have the option of joining NATO.

2. Bulganin's statement in the Big Four discussion yesterday that the Russians know it is unrealistic to expect the Western Alliance with Bonn to be broken at this time.

3. His proposal in his opening speech Monday of a two-stage disarmament program, the first stage of which could take years to develop.

In the first stage, military forces in Western Europe would be frozen at their present levels and a non-aggression pact made between the Eastern and Western blocs. Later, a new European security system and permanent disarmament would be put into effect.

President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Faure are firmly opposed to these Russian policies.

They also differ among themselves about the problem of European security. Their attitudes were known when the present Russian policies were in the making.

Bulganin's position on these issues suggest, therefore, that he is not as concerned with indicating concessions to promote bargaining as he is in making it plain things are going to stay the way they are for a long time.

He may be doing this not because he likes the status quo, but because he is playing a waiting game.

The great prize in the power struggle that lies beneath the stability of the summit meeting is Germany. The larger part of the divided nation is now securely in the Western camp.

But Bulganin may hope Germany's allegiance to the West, as expressed in the policies of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, is not forever unchangeable.

Flying Vets Fall To Death

HIGH POINT, Md. (AP)—Two veterans of combat flying plummeted to their deaths in the tidalwater country of Chesapeake Bay yesterday after running into another plane 3,000 feet in the air.

Both twin-engine craft were from the Bolling Air Force Base in Washington, a short hop away. The two occupants of one plane walked away from theirs with only slight injuries although it broke up after hitting a house.

The plane carrying 1st Lt. Francis D. Viering, 31, of Washington, D. C., and Maj. Lud Millstetter, Alexandria, Va., carried them almost directly earthward to their deaths.

Their C45 Beechcraft transport hit near High Point High School, exploded and burned.

The fliers in the other plane, a B25, were Maj. Leonard H. Bonham, San Rose, Calif., and Maj. W. T. Phillips, Florence, Ala.

They almost managed to fly their crippled craft to Friendship Airport about 10 miles away. They failed by 1,000 yards, crashing into the house of William, James and Kenneth Murray.

Mrs. Argda Hunter, who cleans house for the Murray brothers, was inside with her two children, 9 and 7 years old. They managed to get out safely.

Judge Overrules Texas Constitution On Segregation

EL PASO (AP)—Federal Judge R. E. Thomason yesterday ruled that the parts of the Texas Constitution and laws which uphold segregation in schools are unconstitutional.

It was a clear-cut decision. Other federal court rulings in Texas since the Supreme Court banned segregation in its famous decision have been limited to specific cases.

Said Judge Thomason yesterday: "In ruling that Miss White can legally enter Texas Western, or any other Texas school, I have, in effect, held that that section of Texas' Constitution and other Texas laws upholding segregation are unconstitutional.

The suit was brought by Thelma White, an El Paso Negro. She asked the judge for a declaration of her constitutional rights.

High Winds Hit Town

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Tornadoic winds, accompanied by heavy rain, demolished a business building and unroofed two houses and a church yesterday at Borrego Springs, desert resort area in eastern San Diego County. The storm dumped 7.29 inches of rain on the area in 25 minutes. No injuries were reported.

BIG CAR RIDE

Plymouth, the biggest car of the low-price 3, gives you the smoothest ride of the low-price 3!

If you appreciate the comfort and smooth ride of a big car, Plymouth is just the car for you! This 17-foot beauty outshines the other low-price cars on these counts, just as it does in beauty, in size, in roominess, and in visibility. With either the thrifty 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 or the high-flying Hy-Fire V-8, Plymouth conquers the road so masterfully you're apt to forget it's a low-price car.

Greater length for smoother ride! Because Plymouth is much longer and larger than other low-price cars, it gives you the smoother, steadier ride that only a big car can give.

New shock absorber mounts for more direct control! Plymouth's famous Oriflow "shocks," now longer than ever before, are mounted inside the front coil springs for direct 100% pillowing action. And new non-parallel control arms minimize body tilt and give you a more balanced ride.

Wider rear springs for greater stability! Plymouth's rear springs — angle-mounted for extra rigidity — have been widened to a full 2 1/2 inches (wider than the rear springs of either of the "other 2" cars). This means far more twist resistance and less sideway on curves.

New steering gear for easier handling! Plymouth's new low-friction steering gear, teamed with higher new steering ratios, gives you the easiest handling this side of Plymouth Power Steering. The wider front tread keeps the car more nearly level when turning.

WHY PAY UP TO $500 MORE FOR A CAR SMALLER THAN PLYMOUTH?

Don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags, you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less, and gives you more car for your money!

Tremendous Benefit To The Area

To overestimate the importance of the rain to north central and northwest Howard County would be difficult. The same could be said for most of Dawson and Severy counties along with a good part of Martin and Borden counties.

As of Tuesday afternoon, however, there were still sections where crops and ranges, already suffering, had not been helped appreciably.

The Windup In Washington

As it does at regular intervals Washington is reportedly getting the wind up over the threat of inflation. The little man in the back row would be forgiven for asking, "What's that stuff we been having for five years?"

But there are some brakes on inflation visible to the expert eye, the story goes. Consumer prices are steady now and average only a little lower than a year ago.

Known And Unknown Factors At Geneva Parley

(This is an analysis based on information derived from sources in Geneva, Washington, London, Paris and Moscow and to some extent reflects confidential data available to the United States Government.)

- 1. That the Soviet rulers want a new and different relationship with the Western Powers.
2. That blustering tactics have been abandoned by the Soviets in favor of a conciliatory approach.
3. That the burden of armament is heavy on the Russians.
4. That Communist China is an expensive ally for the Kremlin, costing Moscow nearly four billion dollars in the past two or three years.

whatever the words used, there is a chance of greater destruction of Russian than of American cities in an atomic war. The net result is a Soviet unreadiness to fight a world war now.

- 11. Russian diplomacy is exerting every effort to make a political issue out of the building of air bases in Europe for the use of American air forces. Efforts by the Soviets to have these bases eliminated and if possible to break up or frustrate the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are definitely part of the Soviet long-range objectives.
12. Whether the U.S. and Allies don't know: (A) The price the Russians are willing to pay for a breathing spell—a truce that might give them needed goods and a relaxation of the tempo of the Western nations in the armament race.

REG-MANNING

James Marlow U.S., Russia Still Miles Apart

WASHINGTON (AP)—The West and Russia still are miles apart at the Big Four conference in Geneva, in spite of all the pleasant talk there.

For years the Russians have had three main goals and, as Prime Minister Bulganin made clear this week, they haven't changed: 1. To break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, of which the United States is the most powerful member.

North Africa, where this country has air bases. And what about NATO? It would be abolished and replaced by the new organization urged by Bulganin and Molotov. And when could Germany be reunited? Bulganin said not while West Germany is a member of NATO and not until Bulganin's new security organization was set up.

Hal Boyle What's A Wife? You Tell Me!

NEW YORK (AP)—Wives always have a secret quality. They're odd people. You can't count on what they'll do—but you always can depend on them to do it.

A wife isn't exactly animal, vegetable or mineral. Sometimes she's all three—and human besides. The average husband finds his wife hard to figure. But then the average husband finds it hard to figure. Bachelors don't have to worry about figuring. They know that in this woman-crowded civilization a single man always rates.

They will rebel against the color scheme in their home they picked out yesterday, and demand fresher fabrics, brighter tints. Yet if their husband comes home with a bold necktie he gambled on by himself, they worry.

At that time the West wanted Russia to let West Germany be united with Communist East Germany.

At that time the West wanted Russia to let West Germany be united with Communist East Germany.

When I opened the battered trunk Frances had packed I found in the pajamas a note saying, "Wish I were here," and in the rolled up socks another note, "I miss you."

In the 10 years since the war Russia has blocked every plea for German unification. At Berlin Molotov proposed that NATO be killed. In its place he advocated a new, 50-year mutual security organization of 32 European nations, but not the United States, which would have to get its forces out of Europe.

Now at Geneva Bulganin has dusted off the Molotov proposal and presented it again, with perhaps minor changes.

My wife packed a lot of gear for me. The gear didn't catch up to me until I had seen some danger and considerable death abroad, and had got around to feeling a bit sorry for myself.

Now at Geneva Bulganin has dusted off the Molotov proposal and presented it again, with perhaps minor changes.

Bulganin offered exactly what Molotov had suggested in 1954—a security system for all European countries—with one variation: he would let the United States be a member. That sounded a little better, but then he said when this new organization was created all foreign troops would have to be withdrawn from the "territories" of European states.

Around The Rim Old-Time Grocery Gone, But Memories Not

Self service has practically knocked out bulk merchandising in the head, a development which should go practically unlamented. However, those of us who were reared in the shadow of a grocery when the trade was known affectionately as pruned-peddling will have memories the present generation may never experience.

came the smaller round parcels of "long-horn" cheese and finally, what we thought was the ultimate, the square 5-pound packages of American and Swiss cheese.

Food stores in those days had a great deal of atmosphere, so much so that a grocery had an honest-to-goodness grocery smell. This resulted from the presence of so many items in bulk stock.

Sugar, of course, came in 100-pound sacks, usually emptied in a barrel for easier dispensing. However, before the Saturday rush, we always sacked up oddies of five, 10 and 20-pound lots. This was true of potatoes, which were put up in 25-cent, 50-cent and $1 sacks. Onions were sacked similarly. The same went for dried beans.

Pickles were dispensed in barrel or keg lots, too. Those large, crisp numbers looked and tasted good enough to make a pickle sandwich. After so long a time, a sort of scum collected on the top, but that didn't hurt anything. You just raked it back with the wooden ladle and fished out another half dozen beauties.

Dried fruit came in lugs, most of them about 20 pounds. You haven't lived unless you have soaked up the aroma of a freshly opened package of dried apples, apricots, prunes or peaches. Sometimes we would get a box of figs, but figs moved slowly. Prunes outlast them all, and in retrospect it seems like nobody turns out such wonderfully sweet and sticky ones anymore.

Cheese came in round drums and was carved off with a large cheese knife. Later

If you wanted flour, you had your choice of a 24-pound or a 48-pound sack. Meal mostly was in 24-pound sacks and you had to be careful lest it get weevily. Crackers were sold mostly from a big box (or barrel), and so were soft and succulent cookies.

Banks Exempted In Bill To Protect Investors

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I can't see why anyone would object. It's so sensible."

unlisted trading privileges. Examples: A&P, Singer, and Insurance Co. of North America on the American Stock Exchange.)

"You wait and see," I answered. "It's going to be called un-American, the ruination of small industry, contrary to the principles of democracy, and an invasion of corporate privacy. The banks won't like it. The insurance companies will want to be exempt."

Such companies escape: 1. Making periodic reports to shareholders under SEC rules.

"But," he protested, "the New York Stock Exchange will be for it. The American Stock Exchange will be for it. So will many brokers. With that support . . . We both were right."

2. Conforming to the Securities & Exchange Commission's proxy rules.

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange, and Winthrop H. Smith, managing partner of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, wholeheartedly okayed the legislation.

3. The SEC insider trading rule — if officers make a profit in the company's stock within six months, the profit is not recapturable by the company.

The National Association of Manufacturers, through its president, Henry G. Riter, III, called the bill and undue burden on small business men.

4. The Federal Reserve Board's margin regulations.

Ewing T. Bowles, a Columbus, Ohio, investment dealer, argued that the bill would make small companies "fair game for unprincipled giants." The "big boys" would use information on sales and earnings to bully little fellows out of business or into mergers.

The Fulbright bill would eliminate these silly distinctions between a listed and an unlisted company.

This is an anti-discrimination bill. It would subject the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., Singer Manufacturing Co., M. A. Hanna & Co., Insurance Co. of North America, and other prominent enterprises to the same regulations as Safeway Stores, Radio Corp. of America, General Motors, whose stocks are listed on an exchange.

Under the bill companies with (a) assets of $5 million and (b) 500 security owners would be required to comply with the Securities & Exchange Commission regulations. If it passes, many companies that don't want to list stocks now would probably apply for listing. That's what bothers many members of the NASD.

When I was in 1942, I kissed my girl goodbye and that was it, the same staid farewell millions of men in that time made.

As I see it, the bill has a basic fault. In its present form it exempts banks. Argument: They already are supervised by the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., the U. S. Comptroller of the Currency, and State Banking Departments. To me, the argument's irrelevant.

My wife packed a lot of gear for me. The gear didn't catch up to me until I had seen some danger and considerable death abroad, and had got around to feeling a bit sorry for myself.

Public utilities are also regulated. So are railroads. So is American Telephone & Telegraph. The purpose of railroad and utility regulation is to protect shippers and consumers on rates. The purpose of bank regulation is to protect depositors.

When I was in 1942, I kissed my girl goodbye and that was it, the same staid farewell millions of men in that time made.

Let's not get our purposes mixed. The Securities Act and the Securities Exchange Act were designed to protect investors—to provide security owners with information about the companies in which they've staked money.

Business Mirror

Put Out More Now And Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The easier the mortgage payments are on your current budget the more money you'll have to put out before you finally get full title to your home.

The insurance company notes that under a 20-year payment plan on a $10,000 deal, all borrowed, they would in 10 years have paid off about $3,900 in principal. It says that under a 30-year schedule, their payments on principal in the first 10 years would be about $2,000.

Lending agencies are starting to stress that paying for a home "just like rent" costs more in interest payments over the years.

The easy payment plans grow in popularity, however. The Veterans Administration reports that 43 per cent of the GI plan loans now being made are the no-down-payment type. And the percentage of the longer maturities has doubled in the last two years.

On a $10,000 loan a veteran can save himself more than $3,000 by taking out a 20-year mortgage instead of a 30-year one, the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. of Minneapolis notes today.

The total of mortgage debt outstanding mounts as the housing boom continues most places unchecked. Since the end of the war the amount has increased four fold and crossed the 75 billion dollar mark as 1953 started.

Or, put another way, on each $1,000 of down payment you can manage to put up, you can save over $800 in interest payments on a 30-year program, or more than $500 in interest payments on a 20-year schedule.

Many families who'd like a home of their own, or a larger house for a growing brood, are discussing today how best to finance it. The problem: they can save interest payments in the long run by taking the 20-year payment plan instead of the 30-year one—but their monthly payments in the meantime will be about $12.50 higher. And they may want to use that $12.50 toward payments on the refrigerator or stove.

Committing themselves to buying a house "just like rent" may be the only way they can afford one on their present income. So they decide to run the risk of their income dropping in the future and thus making payments a burden, or of their moving to another city and leaving behind a house in which their equity may be tiny.

Expensive Fish

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP)—Dr. M. J. Noel found a new way to catch fish but it was expensive. He parked his 1953 model car near a river and the machine rolled down a steep shore into the water. When a wrecker retrieved the car, two fish were found inside.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Dr. and Mrs. Morris Jarratt who have no children of their own are getting in the know about a family as they are keeping the three children of her brother, the Rev. Joe Weldon Bailey, and Mrs. Bailey of Dallas while they make a European tour. In addition to the duties that must be performed to take care of three additions to a family, Mrs. Jarratt, who is organizer for the Baptist Church, has assisted with a revival and with the church's Vacation Bible School. Needless to say she has been a busy woman.

Biggest excitement came Monday when the family was notified that a trans-Atlantic call had been placed from London. This was on the third birthday anniversary of Mary Jane. They waited impatiently as the call was slated for 5 o'clock and wasn't received here until 7.

Rev. and Mrs. Bailey will visit parts of three continents and see at least 18 major cities on this vacation which will include a tour of the Holy Land. He is pastor of the East Grand Baptist Church in Dallas.

On Aug. 2, when the plane arrives with their parents at the Dallas airport, Mary Jane, Lou Beth, 5, and Roger, 8, plan to meet them with Dr. and Mrs. Jarratt.

Mrs. Kenneth Manuel is in Tulsa, Okla., where she was called by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. G. L. James and Marylee had a fine vacation in North Texas visiting relatives in Gainesville, and Sherman, and also in swimming in Lake Murray and Lake Texoma.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Bluba have finally settled down for a while after much visiting about. They have just recently returned from Mt. Pleasant where they went to get their son, Billy, who has been visiting with his aunt, Mrs. E. J. Posey. Earlier they had been to Runge where they picked up their youngest son, Ray, who had been visiting with a cousin. They also spent some time with Mrs. Bluba's sister, Mrs. J. M. Alexander, who lives in Waco.

Marie Petty was expected home Tuesday night after attending the Intercollegiate National Rodeo in Lake Charles, La. Miss Petty had been visiting with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barker in Houston and then joined Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leonard and Johnny of Del Rio for the trip to Lake Charles. Johnny is a member of the Texas Tech Rodeo Team and is one of the top ropers.

West Texas born and reared Marie was much interested in the fact that it rained day and night while she was in Houston and Beaumont.

Earlier this week Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Louise Myers and her children, Clifford, Tony and Steve, all of Houston, visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Caudle and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Petty, of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Caudle of Ackerly and Mr. and Mrs. Don Caudle and son of Big Lake.

Back from a two weeks vacation trip to points in Colorado are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griese. They used Boulder as a point of operations, visiting with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Dome. Also they spent time in Central City, Denver and Estes Park. In Greeley, Mrs. Griese visited with a college friend and they also saw Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Frager who made their home in Big Spring several years ago.

One of the outstanding entertainments during the trip was seeing the legitimate theatre's performance of "Dial M For Murder" with a New York cast. This they saw at the Elitch Park just out of Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Munson Compton are here to spend several days with his mother, Mrs. Hugh M. Compton, 201 Mt. Vernon, and their son, Chip, who is spending the summer with his grandmother. The Comptons have been visiting in San Antonio and are en route to their home in Dallas. They plan to remain here through Thursday in order to be with Chip when he celebrates his 10th birthday anniversary. Chip plans to stay here until the middle of August when he will return to Dallas where he will enroll in school.

I appreciate all those friends who have called during the past few weeks. Remember, I don't care what you call me just so you call to tell about all the things you have been doing. The number is 3-2542.

A-IC AND MRS. DONALD MONN

Alberta McKee Is Wed To A-IC Donald Monn

In the garden of her parents' home, Alberta Ann McKee became the bride of A-IC Donald F. Monn Sunday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McKee, 905 E. 13th and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Monn of Flora, Ind.

Before an arch of fern and white gladioli and chrysanthemums, vows were read by Dr. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Hurricane lamps and altar markers, trimmed with fern and ribbon, completed the background for the double ring ceremony.

Wedding music was composed of "I Love You Truly" and the traditional wedding marches. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length dress of white Chantilly lace over tulle and taffeta. A full skirt was attached to a long torso fitted bodice, which was trimmed with two bows of pale pink satin in the back.

Her bridal veil was of white nylon tulle, and she carried a purple-throated orchid surrounded with white carnations. The veil was borrowed; the something new was a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and she wore a blue garter.

Two sisters of the bridegroom, Rosalie and Mary Ellen Monn, were maid of honor and junior bridesmaid, respectively. They were dressed in identical frocks of nylon over satin, made ballerina length, and they carried colonial bouquets of white carnations. The maid of honor chose pink nylon over satin, while her sister wore blue.

James McKee, brother of the bride, served as best man. S-Sgt. Charles E. Sunderland and A-2C. Robert B. Corey Jr. acted as ushers. During the reception, which was held in the garden immediately following the rites, the bridal couple was assisted by their parents in receiving guests. Serving in the house party were Mrs. Emmett Russell, Mrs. H. E. Carson and Mrs. P. P. VanPelt. Gerene Anderson of Center Point registered guests and displayed the gifts.

The bride's table was laid with a floor-length crocheted cloth, trimmed with an organdy ruffle and white satin ribbon. This was laid over pink. An arrangement of pink gladioli and white chrysanthemums was flanked by crystal holders tied with pink bows and holding pink lappets trimmed the three-tiered cake, which was topped with a tiny bride and groom. A bouquet of pink and white flowers marked the registration table.

An out-of-town guest, other than the parents and sisters of the bridegroom, was Gerald Monn of Flora, Ind.

'The Golden Look' Is Autumn Jewelry News

By JOYCE CONNAWAY

The jewelry story for fall is one that is new and fresh. Around the neck, on the wrist and at the ears, the vogue for this autumn is "The Golden Look."

Gold is new in design, treatment and unusual textures and surfaces, not only in the strictly tailored pieces, but in combinations of gold and pearl, gold and rhinestones, and gold and gem colors.

The golden look not only complements the popular brown family, but adds a prominent accent to that "basic black dress" that is taking its place in the wardrobe this fall.

Fast dying are the strands and strands of rope beads, that everyone wrapped themselves up in last winter. In most instances, the ropes have not been included in the fall showing. The normal necklaces and chokers are back once more.

As the massive necklace recedes from the fashion spotlight, bracelets make a strong step forward. About anything goes around the wrist, whether it be wide, bangles, antique, dangle, or smaller ones worn in sets of three to five.

Earrings, as usual, will be the most prominent and popular in the jewelry field. The big bold button remains as a fashion first, but any large impressive earrings in both button and drop styles are good.

Jewelry colors this fall are in definite families. The brown family ranges from beige to henna to gold. The berry reds feature the deep reds with blue and purple undertones in all colors, fits into anyone's jewelry case real well.

The co-ed can have something new in jewelry take talk to the campus — novelty accessory called "Kilts 'n' Kiars." It features an authentic tartan plaid set in gleaming golden plate. This "bonny" good jewelry is sold at Scotch prices and is available in earrings, bracelets, danglers, and even cuff links.

Sparking blues take their share of popularity including the peacock to the mauve and purple tones. The carbon family, with its speckled beads, black overlay, black diamond effects, and black undertones in all colors, fits into anyone's jewelry case real well.

"Hobby Time" is another dangle set that will make its way back to the class rooms on some smartly dressed school girl. This jewelry is a sensational coin and stamp group with a foreign flavor suspended from shining gold or silver links. The coins are genuine and each stamp is mounted in clear plastic so that every detail is perfectly preserved and clearly visible.

Dig around in grandma's old trunk and find the family heirlooms, because the fashion experts forecast that lots of fall jewelry will have the "antique" look. Chunky bracelets crusted with sunbathed coral, delicate aquamarine, turquoise or ruby stones will be popular.

Charm bracelets, ranging from the ones with lots and lots of little trinkets to those with just one large dangle, join the jewelry race to be prominent this year.

With the outgo of the rope beads in comes the costume pin, usually

Witness Tells Of Giles-Sheffield Discussion About Land Profits

AUSTIN, (AP)—A witness testified today he was present in an Austin hotel room when former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles and B. R. Sheffield discussed a possible quarter-million dollar profit on a veterans land deal.

Stanley Stribling of San Angelo, who said he is in the mortgage loan and appraisal business, testified the conversation took place about Aug. 25, 1953.

Stribling was the 24th witness called by the state in the slow-moving Giles trial in 98th District Court.

He said he came to Austin at the time to deliver corporate papers to some attorneys.

He said Sheffield sent for him to come to a room in the Commodore Perry Hotel. He said he found Sheffield and Giles present there.

"Mr. Sheffield asked me to tell Mr. Giles about the Warren land he was trying to trade for," said Stribling.

"They discussed how much money the land would make. One said if it could make a quarter million dollars, that would be the only trade they would need to make that year," he continued.

Dist. Atty. Les Procter asked if the discussion was in relation to selling the land to the veterans land program.

"Oh, yes. That's what they were figuring on—selling it to veterans," Stribling responded.

In response to questions about what else was discussed, Stribling testified Sheffield had asked him to tell Giles about the Kinney County ranch.

It is in connection with the sale of the Kinney County ranch under the veterans land program that Giles is charged with stealing $5,500 from the state.

These are the main problems on the agenda of the summit conference, but the heads of government decided at today's session they had gone as far as possible at present in discussion of the two questions.

President Eisenhower told today's meeting he is convinced Soviet Russia has the same desire for enduring world peace as the Western powers do.

The President emphasized that

East-West differences on the two great stumbling blocks must be worked out. He said the Big Four must show the world these problems can be solved.

The Big Four met for an hour and 45 minutes in their fourth session. They gathered after Eisenhower had a two hour private luncheon with George K. Zhukov, Soviet defense minister. Simultaneously, it was disclosed that Eisenhower has called some of his top military advisors to Geneva.

Five more witnesses were paraded to the witness stand yesterday, bringing the total to 23 in nine days of testimony.

Among witnesses yesterday were two Dallas attorneys, Ross Bohannon and Dan Gibbs.

Bohannon testified he had represented B. R. Sheffield, Brady land dealer jointly indicted with Giles, in connection with a transaction in which Sheffield borrowed $25,000 from an insurance company and loaned it to Giles.

Bohannon said Sheffield telephoned him and asked him to endorse the $25,000 check from the insurance company over to Giles and to bring Sheffield a deed to an apartment house in Austin.

White Lauds Democratic For REA Support

COLORADO CITY — John C. White, State Commissioner of Agriculture, spoke before several hundred REA members at Colorado City, lambasting the Hoover Commission, the Republican Administration's Farm Policy, and lauding the Democratic Congress, which he said had fought "hard to keep REA going as a service to the people of this nation."

In his prepared speech, White said that the present surplus in farm products stored by the government was really "war insurance" and that Secretary Benson "dares not eliminate this safety margin of commodities."

In commenting on efforts to reorganize the REA, White denounced Hoover Commission proposals to raise interest rates on electric loans and added that the attitude was typical of what "our farm program has faced for two and a half years."

White's address was the highlight of the annual meeting of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative members and election of directors.

Earlier in the morning, Mayor Walter Grubbs had welcomed the members from the six county co-op and later at noon, Grubbs, White, City Attorney John Worrell, REA directors and directors of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce attended a luncheon at Civic House, honoring the REA Directors. O. B. Bryant of Stanton, and Carroll Land of San Angelo were visiting Co-op directors.

Raymond Perdus, Lone Wolf Electric manager, announced Tuesday afternoon that all present directors had been re-elected in the election which closed at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Newly re-elected directors are: W. H. Cooper, Forrest Porter, Odell Fuller, G. W. C. Strangor, Westbrook, R. H. Marth of Roscoe, J. H. Carlock, Corley Rogers, Sam Williams of Scurry County, and L. A. Strain.

Three-Pronged Suit Set For Trial Today

A three-faceted lawsuit over wreck damages was to go on trial in 118th District Court this afternoon.

The case involves the claims of Ersell Hope of Lamesa against Mr. and Mrs. Johnny McCown of Big Spring, of Mr. and Mrs. McCown against W. L. Holt of San Angelo, and Holt against the McCowns.

Each of the three filed suits following an accident on Highway 87 about three miles north of Big Spring on April 9, 1954. The suits have been consolidated for trial.

Hope asked judgment for $46,500 in injuries and medical expenses his suit against Mr. and Mrs. McCown, Mr. and Mrs. McCown petitioned for $50,000 in their suit against Holt, and in a cross-action Holt asked judgment for $229,000 against the McCowns.

Pinkie's Liquor Stores was defendant in another suit filed by Holt, but that case was dismissed.

A panel was to report at 1:30 p.m. for selection of a jury.

John White Stops Here On Area Tour

John C. White, Texas commissioner of agriculture, visited briefly in Big Spring Tuesday between speeches at Colorado City and Midland-Odessa.

White, who flew to West Texas from Austin Tuesday, said crops and pasture prospects have brightened since the Monday and Tuesday rains. From the air, most of the area west and north of Brady appeared to have received a good soaking, he reported.

The agriculture commissioner spoke at the annual meeting of the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative in Colorado City Tuesday. He stopped here to visit friends and was to make another appearance at function in the Midland-Odessa area last night.

New Checks Set In Assault Case

Delia Garcia was charged with aggravated assault in county court this morning, but a hearing resulted in a call for more investigation. The alleged offense occurred Monday about midnight at 507 N. Lancaster. Arnulfo R. Ontiveroz was treated at Cowper Clinic for a knife wound in connection with the charge and he was reported resting comfortably at the hospital this morning.

The defendant told Judge R. H. Weaver in court this morning that she wanted to do with the stabbing. She said that when Ontiveroz came to her, he had already been wounded. She claimed that she called police to come out and investigate and the officers arrested her when they arrived.

County attorney Harvey Hooser and Weaver decided more time was needed in the case so that police officers could be contacted. Delia Garcia was returned to the county jail this morning to wait until more evidence could be acquired. No bond was set for the defendant.

Perle Mesta Outtalks Rioting Anti-Reds In Sacking Of Hotel

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Thousands of anti-Communist students sacked Saigon's No. 1 hotel today but Mrs. Perle Mesta outtalked them when they took axes to her door.

The students were demonstrating against the Indian-Polish-Canadian armistice commission. As some of the rioters started breaking into her second-floor, air-conditioned suite in the Hotel Majestic the former U.S. minister to Luxembourg threw open the door and shouted:

"No! We are your friends: We are Americans!"

One of the student leaders who understood English formed a cordon in front of Mrs. Mesta's apartment and kept back the mob, who laid waste to the five-story, government-owned building.

With Mrs. Mesta at the time were her two American secretaries, Mrs. Jean Anderson, Washington, and Mrs. Lester R. Bridgen, New York City; an unidentified American woman visitor and the latter's baby.

They were trapped in the suite for an hour and a half while the student cordon outside beat back several groups trying to break into the room. Finally Frank Malloy, first secretary of the U.S. Embassy, and an embassy Marine guard rescued them unharmed.

Taking as many of Mrs. Mesta's 17 pieces of luggage as they could carry, the group picked their way down the hotel's litter-strewn stairs to the street, where thousands of demonstrators were shouting and hurling stones.

As Mrs. Mesta stepped into an embassy sedan flying the U.S. flag, police fired shots into the air and exploded tear gas bombs.

"To the floor! To the floor!" the chauffeur shouted.

Mrs. Mesta and her party flattened as the car sped through the crowd and down Saigon's main street to the embassy. There she took a short breather to recover from the excitement then went to the Saigon airport. She took a plane for Singapore, continuing the world tour during which she had stopped here for two days.

Police said there were no dead in the riot, which also erupted at the Hotel Gallieni, a mile away.

First reports indicated seven Vietnamese received minor wounds and a French girl and a French soldier were hit by stones. Several Frenchmen were reportedly hurt slightly at the Gallieni, where the first floor was wrecked.

By noon most of the area, in the heart of the French business section, had been cleared of the rioters but excited crowds gathered several blocks away.

The rioting followed what had been scheduled a peaceful demonstration by 30,000 students, refugees and government workers in front of the City Hall to denounce the armistice commission, the Geneva armistice signed a year ago and communism.

Supporters of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in recent weeks have been accusing the commission's Indian and Polish members of favoring the Communist government of North Viet Nam.

A thousand or so students broke away from the City Hall crowd and marched on the Majestic, where the commission is quartered. Joined by other thousands, they pushed past impassive guards and policemen at the door. They wrecked the lobby, then invaded rooms upstairs, throwing suitcases and belongings of the guests into the corridors.

Two armistice commission cars were burned.

Ed Fisher says there is nothing stable about selling eggs. Prices go up, then everybody starts buying baby chicks. Then when eggs flood the market and prices go down, a lot of the new poultrymen sell off their hens. It's a good business one year and a poor one the next. However, he thinks the poultry units will keep getting larger, and finally the small producers will fold up altogether.

Dawson County already has around 375 irrigation wells, and they are still going down. The biggest well drilling contractors in the county, the Lusby Brothers, say there has been some slackening off, but they still have several more wells to drill.

"We are finding water now where it had been overlooked before," said J. D. Lusby. "We drilled 10 wells last month and got some really good ones."

He says that in most part of the county the water table has not dropped at all. Wells drilled on the Adcock farms north of Lamesa three years ago are still pumping as much as they did the first season.

The boll worms hit Borden County cotton fields about 10 days ago, says County Agent George Sealey. He said the dryland cotton farmers were undecided about poisoning. Good rains would make it worthwhile, but without more moisture the benefits might not offset the cost of poisoning.

He said there were also a good many fleashoppers that were attacking the cotton squares. Wire worms, which did so much damage around Vincent, had not damaged the cotton northwest of Gail.

Quite an acreage of mesquite has been sprayed in the area around Gail, but very few pastures show a high percentage of kill. One large ranch east of town was sprayed a few years ago, and all the top brush seemed dead. Now, however, each one of the dead mesquite trees has a green bush of mesquite growing up around it.

"It really makes it worse where you don't get a high percentage of kill," Sealey said. "Where rains come the same year, the last of shade enables grass to start back quicker. However, I've seen few places where it has been of any great benefit. Some ranches get only a two to five per cent root kill, and this probably did more harm than good."

Salk Inoculations Slated Tomorrow

The second shot Salk polio vaccine inoculations will be given at the First Presbyterian Church Thursday morning, according to Health Unit nurse Jewel Barton. About 1,400 inoculations are expected to be given.

Children who received their first shots in Big Spring do not have to bring any papers with them, Miss Barton said. Vaccination cards and records will be handed to them when they arrive at the church, she added.

Webb AFB personnel may bring their children for the shots whether their first vaccination was given here or not, the nurse said. But, if no polio records are available, the parent should bring the child's immunization service records, she explained.

On arriving at the church, the parent should see that the child gets his card from one of the workers.

Mrs. Trinidad Cano will be giving out the records for Latin American children, Miss Barton explained.

Children should arrive at the church at least ten minutes before their scheduled time. This will insure that they have their records and be ready for the inoculation at the right time. The shots will be given in alphabetical order, according to the spelling of the last name.

Persons whose last name begins with "A" will receive the shot at 8 a.m. Others will follow in this order: B-8:10; C-8:20; D-8:30; E-8:40; F-8:50; G-9; H-9:10; I, J-9:20; K, L-9:30; M, Mc-9:40; N, O-9:50; P, Q-10; R-10:10; S-10:20; T-10:30; U, V-10:40; and W, X, Y, Z-10:50.

Accessories Taken From Parked Autos

Two thefts of auto parts were reported here last evening, police said.

Kenneth Scott, 314 NE 12th, said that fender skirts were taken from his 1949 Ford while it was parked in the 500 block of Main between 8 and 10:30 p.m.

H. C. Rowden, 1313 E. 6th, advised officers that four hub caps were taken off his 1950 DeSoto while the vehicle was parked in the 900 block of the Lamesa Highway.

Auto Almost Rolls Off Mountainside

A car was pulled back on the road late last night by a Quality wrecker after it almost went off the side of scenic Mountain.

The wrecker company reported large rocks on the side of the road stopped the car from rolling all the way down. Damage was light. The driver was unidentified.

Light Rains Fall In Area Tuesday

More showers visited this area Tuesday but not in appreciable amounts.
The southwest part of the county, missed by the previous rains, got some spotted light showers. Around Elbow it was about .3 of an inch. The Hudson Landers place had .5 of an inch but at Lomax there was a bare sprinkle.
Coshoma in eastern Howard and mixed also by Monday's downpours, got only a tiny sprinkle.
The dry area appeared to begin around the Wilkerson ranch and extend southward, and to begin west of Vincent and extend southwestward on a diagonal to Lomax.
Crop prospects in general were given a great boost and the north central and northwest parts of the county were virtually assured of a fair yield and of planting moisture for grain.

This is another in the "Mystery Farm" series — pictures made from the air without any identification to the Herald. Persons who wish to give the identity are asked to call the newspaper, come by in person, or mail in their "guess." The owner of the farm also will receive two show passes and a mounted picture of the aerial view of his place. Molotov Becoming A Publicity Hound

By EDDY GILMORE
 GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov—mello as a collo these days—confided to a member of the American delegation at the summit conference that he's out to make character with the masses.

The Soviet Sphinx is turning into a veritable publicity hound.

Discussing his recent visit to the United States, the once stern and severe Molotov turned the conversation to that day last month in Wyoming when he posed in a 10-gallon hat.

"Did you see the photograph of me in an American cowboy hat?" asked the man who used to be known in Communist party ranks as "Old Stone Bottom."

The American (who asked that his name not be used) said he could not have escaped the picture of Molotov in the 10-gallon headgear—it was printed in so many papers.

"What did you think of it as publicity?" asked Molotov.

"How do you mean?" inquired the American.

"I mean was it good publicity, or was it bad publicity?"

"Do you mean publicity for the Soviet Union, or for yourself?" the American inquired.

"Publicity for myself," Molotov explained. "You see, I'm getting old now and I'd like the people—including the American people—to think of me as something more than a man who says 'No.'"

The American said he replied: "You could say 'Yes' more often, Mr. Molotov."

The foreign minister grinned and said neither yes nor no.

The American said he asked Molotov if his cowboy hat was the right size.

"No," the Russian replied, "but it's more important to have good publicity than to have a hat that fits."

Molotov left the cowboy hat in Moscow and didn't bring it to the Big Four conference, but he's up to other tricks in his mission of winning friends.

When he got out of his automobile Monday at the Palace of Nations—where the conference is being held—he greeted Charles Benschold, a retired Swiss policeman who is chief doorkeeper for the conference.

"How are you?" asked Molotov. "I remember you from the Geneva conference last year."

And he's always smiling these days.

The foreign minister was the late Joseph Stalin's chief "no" man. With the old dictator gone, this could have something to do with Molotov's mellow mood.

Student Strangles On His 'Invention'

BIRDSBORO, Pa. (AP)—A high school senior strangled a belt around the branch of a tree, then under his chin to support his head while he sat on top of a washing machine reading comic books.

State policeman James Woods said the lid of the washer revolved under the boy, 17-year-old John Mattson, causing the belt to tighten around his throat and strangle him yesterday.

His stepfather Charles Morre found his body.

Woods said there were scuff marks on the ground by the washer where Mattson apparently tried to free the belt from around his throat.

Jilted Suitor Calls Off His Picket Line At Girl's Home

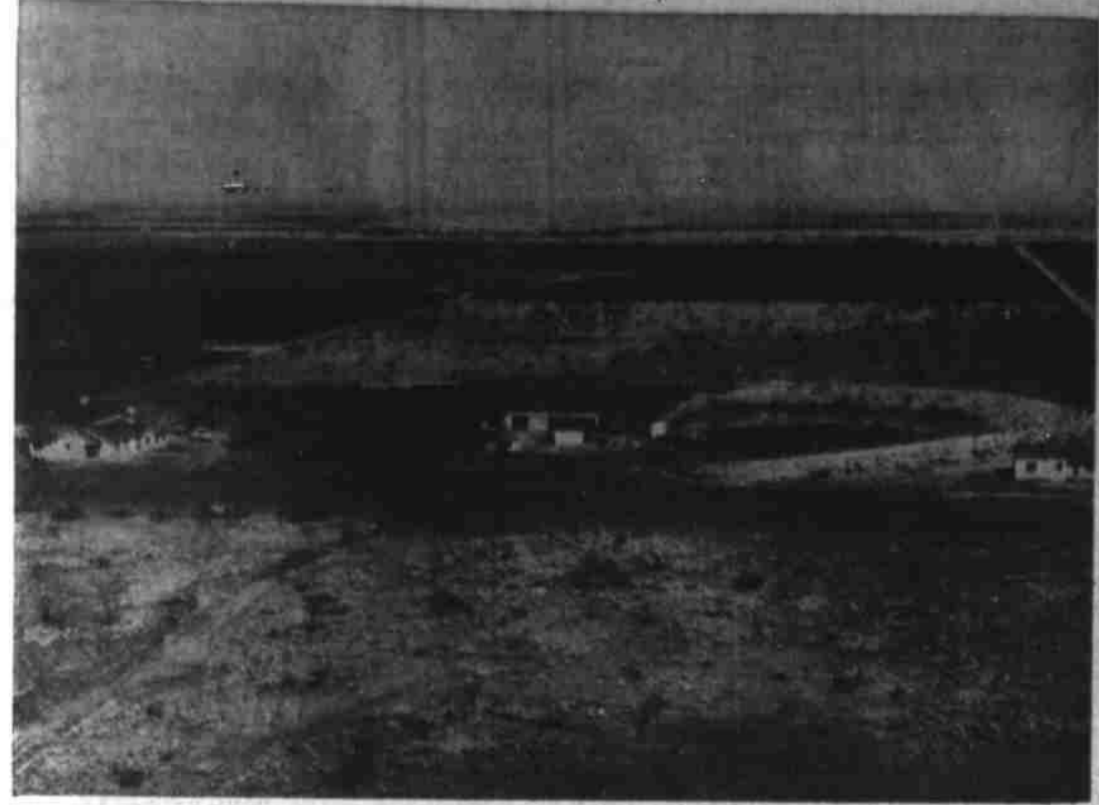

LONDON (AP)—Whether love or aching feet conquered wasn't clear but the jilted suitor stopped his picketing.

Ronnie Hill, 31-year-old clerk, began walking back and forth in front of his ex-fiancee's home Monday. He said he had been engaged to marry Sally Willingale, 21, on July 30, but last week she told him it was all off.

"I'll keep walking until she changes her mind," said Ronnie. "I've loved her since she was 14 and I'll go on walking until I drop." But yesterday Ronnie disappeared from in front of Sally's walk without disclosing the outcome of his overnight march. Sally wasn't talking either.

THE J. C. SHEPHERD FARM
 Located north of Vincent in South Borden

Shepherd Farm One Of Most Successful In South Borden

The mystery farm pictures have been jumping all over the landscape the last few weeks. From Fairview to Lomax, and now the last one is found six miles north of Vincent in Borden County.

It is the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shepherd who have been living here since 1937. They bought the farm from Bob Dale of Big Spring, who in turn had bought it from a Mr. Robinett.

The picture doesn't quite do justice to the farm, because they now have a new yard fence, and a garden that is furnishing plenty of vegetables for the family. Also the mesquites are leafed out. In this area mesquites make trees instead of bushes, and they do much to beautify a place.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd have many pleasant memories tucked away from nearly 20 years on the farm. Most of them are pleasant, but the parents have also had their time of great sorrow. It was here that they lost their boy who died at the age of three. He was the only son born in a family of eight daughters.

The girls are all married now except one, Joy Dale, who graduated from Gail High School last spring and is now attending business school in Midland. Two others still live at Vincent where they make the Shepherd place a sort of second home.

Starting with the oldest, the following is a list of the daughters:

Mrs. Inez Howell, Colorado City; Mrs. Gertrude McGuffin, May; Mrs. Jean Maddox, Fort Worth; Mrs. Gladys Costin, Colorado City; Mrs. Louise Ingram, Vincent; Mrs. Frances Barr, Vincent; Mrs. Ruth Wirsching, Midland; and Pat, the youngest one, who is still single and in school at Midland.

Altogether there are 10 grandchildren. The oldest one, Carolyn Ann Howell, is 13 and is spending a few days with her grandparents. The youngest grandchild is a boy born in June of this year.

In speaking of her family, Mrs. Shepherd said, "We've just had a houseful of girls, and now we hope to have the house filled with grandchildren. But we also enjoy the husbands. I can truly say we have a wonderful group of sons-in-law."

Mrs. Shepherd's maiden name was Jettie Arrant and she moved from Bosque County to Hamilton County with her parents when she was 11. Here she grew up and married Jacob Shepherd on November 10, 1923. They moved to Mitchell County in a few years and settled in the Looney community. Later they moved to the Dorn community southwest of Colorado City, and then bought the farm near Vincent.

"We traded for the farm here eight years ago," said Mrs. Shepherd. "When we moved here, much of the land was still in pasture and the houses were far apart. When one of the neighbors said we might starve, he told him my husband was a good farmer."

The last statement proved very true in the following years. Mr. Shepherd is a good farmer. He was one of the first in the community to start deep plowing. Prior to that crops hadn't done well, and this practice began to boost yields. They made some good crops, and in 1941 picked over a bale to the acre. There were several more good years, but the rain clouds went on vacation and from 1950 through '53, the crops were hardly worth gathering. Last year, though, they got some rain and made about a quarter bale to the acre.

Mr. Shepherd owns 160 acres, but has some more cropland rented, and he also leases a quarter section of grass which adjoins the home place. He has always kept a few cattle and now has some good grass as a result of the spring rain. The crop in general looks good, with the best prospects they have had since 1950.

The Shepherds also keep a few chickens and a couple of peacocks. The male peacock has the temperament of a prize fighter. Whenever he goes near the ear, he sees his reflection in the chrome and charges in for battle. So far, the ear has always won, but Mr. Shepherd has threatened to have the peacock in for a one-way trip to unless he stops scratching the ear.

The Shepherds are active leaders in the community and have a host of friends. They attend the Vincent Baptist Church where they both teach Sunday School classes. He belongs to the Farm Bureau, and has been a school trustee every year since moving to the county except one. He is now president of the school board at Gail. Last spring he had the unusual honor of presenting his own daughter Joy Dale with her graduation diploma.

Living only a few miles from Lake Thomas, the Shepherds do like most people who live near a lake. They go somewhere else to fish. In their case, they have a cabin on their daughter's land near the Colorado City Lake and go there for fishing.

When oil drilling started near Vincent, the Shepherds were fortunate in getting four wells on their own place. Mrs. Shepherd says they have really helped out the last few years when crops were short.

Since getting the oil wells and being at an age when they might retire, the Shepherds could get a place in town and take things easy. But this is not in their immediate plans.

"I don't suppose we'll ever be anything but farmers," she said, in speaking of retirement. "I just wouldn't know how to live in town. This old farm is home to us, so we'll likely just stay on here as long as we can."

SECRET OF WEALTH

Russians Continue U.S. Farm Tour

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—Visiting Soviet farm leaders continued their search today for the magic secret of American food wealth.

This morning the dozen Russian agriculture chiefs set forth to see the workings of the Wilson and Co. meat packing plant. This afternoon after they've been entertained at the Waterloo Chamber of Commerce they pay a visit to the third Iowa farm on their schedule. It belongs to Guy Stover Jr., at Reinbeck, Iowa.

The Russians are proving students indeed. Yesterday they asked farmer George Hora, of Washington, Iowa, who was host at a home-cooked dinner of fried chicken and three kinds of pies, to show them his account books. He obliged without hesitation.

The Russians, including statistical expert Boris Savelev, chief of the Soviet Union's farm planning, were delighted. They poured over the books.

Before that they had questioned Hora seriously about his farm machinery, his crop rotation system, his technique for fattening his hogs for market, and a hundred other things.

These Russians are intelligent men. They know a great deal about agriculture.

"They know exactly what questions they want answered!" commented one Iowa farmer who listened yesterday to the questions they asked Hora.

The Russians so far are looking for some special key to the farm problem which they can fit to their Soviet lock. They are certain there is one particular "open sesame," which they will soon discover. Then they can go home triumphantly to present this cure-all to their boss, Nikita Khrushchev.

The answer lies in front of the Russian noses. But so far it's so near they can't even see it.

"People have got to have a motive to work," said an Iowa farmer in George Hora's front yard yesterday.

A neighbor of Hora told me he puts in 13 or 14 hours a day.

"Would you work as hard and as well as you do on a government or collective farm?" I asked him.

"No, I certainly would not!"

Day before yesterday the Russians looked at Richard L. Allen's farm in Slater. Young Richard works hard and efficiently. He does it because he's working for himself and his family. He knows it. His neighbors know it. Everyone in Iowa knows his secret. But the Russians missed it.

Yanks Always Seem Ready When The Chips Are Down

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

His 'em or love 'em, but you've got to give the New York Yankees their due. When the chips are down, the Yanks are up.

They had their lumps, losing nine of their last 13, at they wobbled into Comiskey Park last night for a showdown with the runner-up Chicago White Sox, fresh from winning eight of their last nine games.

The Yankees needed at least one victory in the three-game set to retain their American League lead, down to two games.

They got it. Elston Howard's two-run homer in the eighth inning carried New York through, making up for two Yank errors that had handed the Sox a 2-3 lead in the seventh.

It was one of those "big" games the Yankees usually win. With the victory they moved three games ahead of the Sox and four games up on third-place Cleveland, whacked by Washington 8-1.

The victory wasn't all beer and cheese, however. New York again lost Jerry Coleman, just back from a three-month layoff with a broken collar bone. This time, the young baseman suffered a brain concussion and possible skull fracture — laid low by one of Harry Byrd's pitches in the seventh inning.

It was in the seventh that errors by Yogi Berra and Joe Collins and a single by George Kell gave the Sox the lead. Walt Drupo had tied it at 3-3 in the sixth with his two-run homer. Then it remained for rookie Howard to belt the homer off Byrd, working in relief of Connie Tompkins.

Tommy Byrne was the winner, with relief by Jim Konstanty.

In the other AL games, Boston defeated Kansas City 6-3 and Detroit laid the wood to Baltimore 12-4.

In the National, Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee 4-3 in a 19-inning game that tied the major league longest night game record; New York lost 5-2 to St. Louis, then beat the Cards 4-2 in a twilight twin bill; Philadelphia took a twilight pair from Cincinnati 7-5 and 6-2. First-place Brooklyn and Chicago were idle.

Vern Law went 13 innings for the Pirates, but the winner was Bob Friend, who worked the 19th and allowed Milwaukee a 3-2 lead with the game's first run since the fourth. A double by Dale Long tied it again in the bottom half and he scored the clincher after Frank Thomas had singled as Del Crandall dropped Billy Brutto's throw at the plate. Gene Conley, sixth Milwaukee pitcher, was the loser as Milwaukee fell 13 games behind the Brooks.

Washington clubbed Bob Lemon and three relievers for 13 hits. The Nats scored five unearned runs in the fourth after Ralph Kiner's error. Dean Stone scattered six Cleveland hits for the victory.

A solo homer by Jackie Jensen broke a 2-2 tie for Boston in the fifth and a two-run shot by Norb Zuchin packed it away in the sixth. Ellis Kinder saved Willard Nixon's eighth victory.

Rookie Babe Birzer, coming on in relief to protect Frank Lary's ninth success for Detroit, swatted a pair of three-run homers against the Orioles.

Robin Roberts drove in three runs while claiming his 15th victory as the Phils made it seven straight in the nightcap. Robin's two-run double powered a three-run eighth inning. In the opener, Del Emswiler drove in four runs with two hits, one a homer, in support of Harry Dickson's seven-hitter against the Redlegs.

St. Louis slipped a percentage point behind the Phils, who moved into fifth place. Windy McCall fourth hit the Cards after Willard Schmidt had checked the Giants on four safeties in the opener. St. Louis homered in the first game.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Carl Coleman, head football coach at Big Spring High School, has yet to find anyone to replace Wayne Bonner on his staff.

He hopes to have the position filled before the coaching schools begin in San Antonio in August. If the post is still open, he'll interview applicants down there.

Carl isn't going to settle for just anyone. He's already rejected a number of persons who asked for the job—because he felt they didn't have enough qualifications and/or experience.

The school board realized too late it was going to lose Bonner, although it had known for some time that Wayne had been looking around for a head coaching job.

Perhaps, by adjusting his salary somewhat, which the trustees would have done, Bonner could have been talked into staying here.

As it was, Wayne was accepted as the head mentor at Anson High School and the trustees felt they didn't want to stand in his way as he moved up the coaching ladder.

Bonner's salary at Anson will reportedly be about $5,500 per annum, but one of the contests was set back, due to the heavy field.

Tonight's action will start at 7 o'clock and each game is down for seven innings.

After tonight, the Cops hit the road for six days. Some of the locals move to Midland Thursday for the Longhorn League All-Star game.

On Friday, the Bobbies pop up in Carlsbad to start a two-game series. They move on over to Hobbs for three games beginning Sunday, before returning here next Wednesday.

Aga Baca will probably get the call for Big Spring in one of tonight's contests.

Mike Rainey is apt to go to the hill in the other one.

Both Baca and Rainey are hurting fine all after slow starts.

Manager Thurmond Tucker of Carlsbad has indicated he will use two Cuban boys against the Cops this evening.

One is Angel Oliva, who has a 5-3 won-lost record. The other is a former Roswell outfielder, Mario Cosso, whose mound record is 2-1.

When this paper's Oliver Cofer went to Philadelphia recently for the Elks convention, he was mistaken for Chat Nichols, a left-handed hurler for the Milwaukee Braves.

A small boy approached him and asked him for his autograph. The Braves and Cofer were staying in the same hotel.

There's a possibility Goose Tatum and Marques Haynes will bring their new touring professional basketball team here for an exhibition next season.

The former Harlem Globe Trotters stars have replied to a letter written by the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce, revealing they will be glad to discuss terms for an engagement in a local gymnasium, if they book games in this area.

Some of the JayCees have expressed the opinion they'd rather book Tatum and Haynes than the Globe Trotters.

Abie Sapenstein, owner of the Trotters, thought so much of Tatum's shrewdness, he paid Goose something like $40,000 a year. Haynes, the master dribbler, drew an estimated $25,000 per annum from the Trotters.

LeRoy Gibson, the former Stanton football star, is spending the summer writing sports for the Galveston News.

The red-head is studying for that kind of career at North Texas State College.

Gibson played on Stanton's great district championship team about five years ago, which had Leo Fields as head coach.

Newest Family Picture

PGA Golfers Are Pleased

DETROIT (AP)—Rough and gust were both conspicuous by their absence today as the 37th National PGA Golf Tournament began a seven-day run at the Meadowbrook Country Club in suburban Northville.

There was no guff from the players, who are usually quick to complain—in rather choice words—when a championship course is toughened up, such as for the National Open in San Francisco last month.

This time all is sweetness and light. The rough, which grew knee high in spots for the Open, is merely too high for the PGA—little too, at that.

"Why, you can get a better lie from the rough than the fairway," said Lou Worsham, the Oakland, Pa., veteran who just about echoed the sentiments of his fellow professionals.

"It's a rather easy course," added Vic Ghezzi, the bronzed New York giant who won the PGA back in 1941. "There's practically no rough, it has burned out. And what's left is being trampled flat by the galleries."

Because of this lack of rough, the players—almost to a man—conceded that the tournament will be decided by the delicate art of putting.

"There's no doubt that putting will be decisive," said Chick Herbert, the defending champion and host pro at the 6,750-yard, par 35-36-71 Meadowbrook layout. "Since there is so little rough, the plan is to make up for this by mowing the greens hard and fast—tough to hold."

Favorites in the field of 135 are Sam Snead; Cary Middlecoff, the nation's leading money winner, who has won five tournaments this year; Jack Fleck, U. S. Open champion; and a pair of hometown hotshots, Harbert and Wally Burkemo.

Today and tomorrow were set aside for qualifying with the top 63 scores in the 36-hole test joining Harbert for the start of match play Friday.

NORTH HEAVY FAVORITE IN WT-NM ALL-STAR GO

PLAINVIEW, Texas (AP)—The North goes into the tenth annual West Texas-New Mexico League all-star game tonight as a solid favorite.

Good pitching was the reason why most observers picked the squad handled by Grover Seitz, manager of the Pampa Oilers, and Eddie Bockman, manager of the Albuquerque Dukes, first and second respectively in league standings.

Guiding the fortunes of the South is Jay Haney of Abilene, making his third appearance as an all-star manager, in none of which has he had a loser.

For Seitz, it will be a sixth appearance. He has headed three winners and will be trying to avenge an 11-6 loss handed his North team by Haney and the South in Amarillo last year.

Haney planned to start veteran righthander Bob Upton of Plainview and follow up with left Ken Yoke of El Paso, southpaw Ken Uhlman of Lubbock and righthander Ed Kapp of Abilene. This is the way their records stand: Upton 11-5, Yoke 13-6, Uhlman 6-8 and Kapp 11-6.

The South manager said the rest of his starting lineup would be: Osmond Walker, Abilene, center field; Doug Lewis, Plainview, first base; Bobby Fernandez, Lubbock, left field; Jim Mangan, El Paso, third base; Don Stokes, Plainview, right field; I. B. Palmer, Plainview, catcher; Bobby Scott, Lubbock, second base; Scooter Hughes, Abilene, shortstop.

Bockman said he would suggest Seitz start either Jack Martin, Albuquerque lefthander, or Tom Pollet, Pampa, for the North. Other northern moundsmen are righthander Ted Shandon of Albuquerque; and lefthander Marshall Bridges of Amarillo. Their records: Martin 15-3; Pollet 13-2, Shandon 15-4 and Bridges 10-1.

Cops Shacked By Potashers

Kermit Sakewitz and Thurmond Tucker combined to pitch the Carlsbad Potashers to a 12-2 victory over Big Spring here Tuesday night and hammer the Cops closer to the Longhorn League cellar.

The contest was unrelieved on a field made soggy by rain. A double header had been carded but the second contest was called off because of the condition of the diamond.

Sakewitz gave up only three hits to the Cops in the six innings he worked and was in supreme command when he departed. Obviously, Tucker decided to save him for a more critical time.

Tucker tolled the final three innings and permitted only one man to reach first base. Frank Billings walked in the seventh but was erased in the midst of a double play.

Pedro Osorio clubbed a third inning home run off Art DiCesare with Regis Burns on base and the Potashers took a lead they never lost.

They went ahead to get two more runs in that inning, added three in the fourth on three walks and three hits and ganged up on DiCesare and Marcus Job for five tallies in the fifth.

In all, the Miners collected 13 hits, including three by Osorio.

Tom Costello gave Big Spring its first run with his 18th home run of the season, a second inning solo blast.

Bob Martin accounted for the other when he hit an infield trickler with the bases loaded in the fifth.

ROUNDING THE SACKS—It was "barrel night" at the park and the club's "take" amounted to $317.42, not bad considering the fact that rain was still threatening to fall at game time. . . Sakewitz picked up his eighth win before departing. . . Manager Bob Martin finished up on the mound for the Cops and did very well, permitting only Duke Henderson to reach base in two innings. . . Jim Zapp started a double play in the seventh that brought cheers from the crowd when he speared Goldy Ghoslon's line drive and wheeled in time to tag Osorio. . . DiCesare helped himself to one of Big Spring's three hits before exiting in the sixth.

Carlton Seffield Leads In Tourney

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Carlton Seffield of Houston held a firm grip on the lead today as the Texas Junior Golf Tournament moved into its second round.

The 16-year-old Seffield carved a 2-under-par 69 over Brackenridge Park course yesterday to take the lead by three strokes. Three San Antonio juniors—Johnny Artega, Hal Kuntz and George Hale—were tied for second with 72.

Wendy Green of Midland, the defending champion, was next in line with a 73. He was tied with John Trimble of Orange, Jackie Cupit of Dallas, Marceliano Moreno of Midland, Tommy Wolf of San Angelo and Robert Rodgers of Lubbock.

Medalist Art Rhodes of Austin, who had a 70 in the qualifying round, shot a 76 in the opening round.

Trophies Will Be Given In Leagues

Individual trophies will be given for players displaying the best sportsmanship in Junior and Senior Teen-Age Baseball Leagues this season.

The Salvation Army will supply the trophy for the player chosen in the Senior League while Anderson Music Company will furnish the award for the boy chosen for the honor in the Junior League.

AT STEER PARK Double Bill Reset For This Evening

Carlsbad and Big Spring will try to get two baseball games in tonight at Steer Park.

The two clubs were booked to meet in a double bill last night but one of the contests was set back, due to the heavy field.

Tonight's action will start at 7 o'clock and each game is down for seven innings.

After tonight, the Cops hit the road for six days. Some of the locals move to Midland Thursday for the Longhorn League All-Star game.

On Friday, the Bobbies pop up in Carlsbad to start a two-game series. They move on over to Hobbs for three games beginning Sunday, before returning here next Wednesday.

Aga Baca will probably get the call for Big Spring in one of tonight's contests.

Mike Rainey is apt to go to the hill in the other one.

Both Baca and Rainey are hurting fine all after slow starts.

Manager Thurmond Tucker of Carlsbad has indicated he will use two Cuban boys against the Cops this evening.

One is Angel Oliva, who has a 5-3 won-lost record. The other is a former Roswell outfielder, Mario Cosso, whose mound record is 2-1.

Law Could Have Completed Record Chore For Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Though he looked a wee bit tired—as any pitcher would after hurling 18 consecutive innings—Vernon Law of the Pittsburgh Pirates said early today he could have completed his hurling chore against the Milwaukee Braves.

"I felt fine and wanted to stay in," he said in the dressing room as he listened to the windup of last night's 19-inning game—won by the Pirates 4-3. It was the longest game in the majors this season.

Although he said he felt in tiptop shape, the 25-year-old right-hander—who has become the mainstay of the Pirates' pitching staff—looked like a fellow who wouldn't have trouble sleeping. As he listened to the radio report of the final half inning, he suddenly let go with a shout:

"Yipes, we win!"

He seemed more impressed with the team victory than the fact that his 18-inning stint was one of the best performances in the majors in recent years. He struck out 12, gave up nine hits and walked two.

Ironically, the score was tied 2-2 when Manager Fred Haney sent him to the showers because he said he feared he would injure his arm.

The victory went to relief pitcher Bob Friend, who gave up a run in the 19th—the first the Braves had scored since the fourth when they tallied on a walk, a wild pitch and an error. The other run off Law was Eddie Mathews' 23rd homer after two were out in the first.

Law, who has a 6-4 record, has won three of his last four decisions.

From the fifth through the 18th Law was in complete command. He gave up only six hits in this stretch, one a leadoff double to Joe Adcock in the 18th. Then Law settled down to get the next three men.

The last previous 19-inning night game was on Sept. 15, 1950, when the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 8-7.

On July 1, 1933, the New York Giants' Carl Hubbell went 18 innings to beat St. Louis 1-0.

Two pitchers hooked up in a 26-inning duel which ended in a tie on May 1, 1920. They were Leon Cadore of Brooklyn and Joe Oscega of the old Boston Braves.

Druggists Protest Phone Rate Hike

A protest against an increase in telephone rates has been entered with the City Commission by members of the Big Spring Pharmaceutical Association. The Company last week placed before the commission a request for authorization to raise its rates.

grants of increase to said company are sufficient to their declared valuation. Also, we think that inasmuch as the first increase was granted several months prior to their expenditure of capital, the community is taking the brunt of their capital outlay. Whereas we as individual pharmacists increase our capital outlay and have to finance it ourselves and do not ask the community to do it for us.

"Also we have never understood the allocation of revenue and expenses to the local exchange, i. e., toll charges and the advertising (Yellow Pages) in the directory. We think the company should be more specific in their allegations."

The communication was signed by A. R. Collins, Collins Bros. Drug; Dwan Leonard, Leonard's Pharmacy; Mort Denton, Mort's Pharmacy; Joe B. Hedleston, Cunningham & Phillips; E. E. Elliott, Elliott's Drug; Willard Sullivan, Settles Drug; E. C. Bell, Bell's 11th Place Pharmacy; Frank Hardesty, Hardesty Drug; Wayne Gound, Gound Pharmacy; C. A. Walker, Walker Pharmacy; Bennett Brooke, Big Spring Drug; A. W. Evans, State Drug.

In connection with the druggists' protest, officials of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company said that the application for the rate increase is based solely upon the company's operational statement, and that no rate increase is requested in connection with specific capital improvements. Their statement before the commission, they said, showed Bell lost $21,907 here in 1948, $54,956 in 1949, and $62,710 in 1950, based on projections of figures available June 30 that year. These figures were figured on a value of the property of $900,000, company spokesmen said, and were recited as an example of operational losses without regard to subsequent plant expansion.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Coolies in India bringing in pails of latex which they have gathered.

Many kinds of trees, vines and small plants produce latex, a milky juice which can be dried and turned into usable rubber. Tests have shown, however, that only a few kinds of trees produce enough rubber to make it worth while to grow them.

As best of all the rubber trees, we single out the Hevea. It is native to South America, and is fairly common in the Amazon valley. Most Hevea trees are of moderate size, growing to heights of from 40 to 70 feet. Usually the trunks are less than 18 inches thick. Some Hevea trees in Brazil, however, reach heights of 125 feet, and have trunks four feet in diameter.

At the present time Hevea trees grow in various other parts of the earth, including southern Asia. Tomorrow I plan to tell the story of how Asia — and islands near Asia — became important in the production of latex.

Aside from the latex which they provide, Hevea trees are interesting because of their exploding pods. The word "exploding" is correct. Gas gathers inside the pod, and there is a noise when the pod bursts.

The pods are about the size of

Girls Threaten To Take Off On Strike If Pay Isn't Hiked

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's more take-home pay for takeoff, else the burlesque queens of Los Angeles are going to stay home.

The threat of a "cover up" strike was made yesterday as strippers met to protest their $85-a-week pay. They said this is the lowest in any large city for their art.

The girls gathered in a hot, stuffy, low-ceilinged upstairs room of a downtown night club. A few wore topcoats. This was regarded as symbolic.

"When the minimum wage is raised, then we'll take them off," said one in a speech. There was scattered applause. This was the first meeting of the League of Exotic Dancers. It is a group within the American Guild of Variety Artists, through which all the girl entertainers are booked.

A quite personable blonde, Jennie Lee, is the founder and president of the group. She says other cities pay as much as $125 a week for strip-teasers, but more than that, she told her sister dancers that dressing rooms are too crowded, there is no suitable place to spend time between shows, and that owners of clubs expect the girls to mingle with patrons between shows to promote bar business. That, she said, is kaput.

On hand to back up her sentiments were Betty Rowland, Rusty Lane with her French poodle, Novita, Daurene Dare, Virginia Valentine, Denise Dunbar, Peggy Stuart, Champagne and others.

2 Killers Walk Calmly To Chair

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—John B. Donahue, 22, and Robert N. Malm, 31-year-old dishwasher, went calmly to their deaths in Connecticut's electric chair last night—Donahue for killing a state policeman; Malm for the sex-slaying of a little girl.

Before entering the death chamber in Wethersfield State Prison, Malm told Warden George A. Cummings: "I am ready to die."

Then he walked into the execution room.

Donahue, although calm, seemed bewildered when the prison guards strapped him into the electric chair. He was the first to die.

Donahue, oldest of three children of an Arlington, Mass., family, shot and killed state policeman Ernest B. Morse Feb. 13, 1953. Morse had stopped Donahue as he drove a stolen car to New York, where he had a date with a girl friend.

Malm strangled 11-year-old Irene Fiedorowicz Dec. 8, 1953, with her scarf when she threatened to tell her mother he had molested her.

NEGROES JOIN WHITES IN KENTUCKY SCHOOL

MONTICELLO, Ky. (AP)—Six Negroes, ranging in age from 6 to 15, yesterday became the first to attend a desegregated public school in Kentucky.

It also was the first time the children of Clark Stonewall had studied inside a classroom.

Heretofore, their father had taught them rather than send them on a county school bus to Travis Elementary School here.

The teacher at the one-room Griffin School, with its 35 white pupils, said all "got along beautifully on this, the opening day of the fall semester."

The Stonewall family is the only Negro family living in the southeast section of the county served by the rural Griffin School.

On July 30, officials will meet to discuss desegregation of Wayne County High School.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Cars And Checks

Dear Miss Brandow:

We are three boys with two problems. When you date a girl who suggests driving her car, and it makes you feel like a heel because you don't have one, how can you make her ride the bus instead?

Also, if she drives, should you go around and help her in and out just the same.

Dick and Allen

Girls are vitally concerned with keeping boys interested and will rarely suggest anything to deflate their egos. Her suggestion to take her car was made for convenience sake.

If you tell her you'd prefer to walk or ride the bus, I think she will gladly agree. A very practical girl lacking in feminine perception may ask, "Why walk when we can take the car?" In that case, explain that you are dating her, not vice versa, and whether you're dating or dancing, you'll take the lead. Girls like the masterful approach and will respect you all the more for it, as long as it does not border on bullying.

When a girl does drive, the boy is none the less attentive, and helps her in and out of the car, as always.

Dear Miss Brandow:

What are a boy's financial obligations to a girl or girls when he is not on a date, but happens to be with them?

Jerry

A girl's purchases are her own except in the matter of food. If she decides to buy a soda while she is waiting on a prescription to be filled, and you are with her, you should pick up the check.

If you are with a bunch of boys at another table, this does not apply. When you put a nickel in the soft drink machine at church and a girl who is a friend is standing nearby, you should offer to buy her one also.

When you meet a girl friend who has already placed an order, you are not responsible for the check.

(Giving a party? "Party Plans" is a free booklet. Get yours by writing Miss Brandow in care of The Herald, enclosing a 3 cent stamp to cover mailing.)
