What's your feeling?

The classified page is one of the best-read parts of a newspaper, whether it be weekly or daily.

Most items involve folks seeking something or selling something. And most of the classifieds in the Tribune are from folks in the Texico - Farwell area. But some come in the mail from national companies.

We try to only run classifieds that seem legitimate. There are some we get - with good checks - that we don't run; the checks are thrown away. For example, if they promise you $500 a week for licking stamps - well, that doesn't cut it, as far as I'm concerned.

Some classifieds that come from national companies offer lists of products or jobs or whatever. If someone wants to buy a list of jobs available in the United States, well, I guess that's okay.

But I got a request to run a classified ad last week that was a first for me. Frankly, it's probably legitimate - and legal for me to run (I checked with the state press association). But I felt there were ethical or moral questions involved.

So what I have decided to do is get your views. If you either feel this kind of ad should run (it's explained below) or should NOT run, I'd be interested in knowing. Just send a note to: Mike Pomper, State Line Tribune, Box 255, Farwell TX 79325.

If I get little or no response, then I will assume that folks here feel it's okay to be in our town's paper.

Here's the letter I received (it came from a California law firm):

"We need your help for a moment.

"We represent clients in private, parent-initiated adoptions. Our clients seek out women who are planning to place a child for adoption, in order to make arrangements for a private adoption between the parties. Independent adoptions are common and legal in California and most other states, and are a real alternative for many infertile couples who want to have a family.

"We advise our clients regarding these methods they legally may employ to seek out a successful adoption. For example, they often write to doctors, lawyers and pregnancy counselors around the country. This is often successful, but not always.

"One method that is becoming more common is that of advertising, and that is why we are writing to you. We would like to add your name to our list of newspapers which accept adoption ads for placement in the 'personals' column of the classified section. A typical ad might say:

Adoption: Happily married but childless couple wish to adopt and love healthy infant. Call our attorneys, 24 hours, collect at (xxx) or write to (xxx).

"An ad might run for weeks, or a month, before it produces an acceptable situation, but those who have used this method have generally been successful.

"Our review of the law of your state indicates no legal prohibition against such advertisements, and we wish to know if your newspaper will therefore accept the.

"We thank you for your help, and hope we can provide new customers to you, while you help our clients to fulfill their dreams of finding children to love."

Well, folks, that's it. What do you think?

Grigsby suggests budget cutbacks

The Farwell School Board Monday accepted the resignation of board member Vick Christian.

Christian resigned when the board offered a teaching contract to his sister-in-law, Hayley Christian who will teach junior high social studies.

The board has not yet decided on a replacement for Christian, nor have they chosen the method of replacement - appointment or special election. Either option may be exercised.

The board also:
- Hired Suzanne Cooper to teach at Farwell Elementary School.

- Accepted the 5 cent per meal increase in school lunch prices suggested by cafeteria director Linda Moss. Milk prices will increase from 15 cents per carton to 20 cents per carton for extra milk.

Mrs. Moss cited the increase in food prices, and the decreased availability of surplus commodities as the reason for the increase in lunch prices.

Elementary school students will now pay $1.05 per meal. Junior high students will now pay $1.10 per meal. Senior high school students will pay $1.15 per meal.

John Grigsby that they will receive the proposed 1989-90 school budget before the budget hearing at 6 p.m. on Aug. 15. He did not have one ready for this month's regular meeting due to a computer problem.

He advised the board that he is within $40,000 of balancing the budget which is expected to be in the neighborhood of $2,256,000.

He prepared a list of items that may be deleted from the proposed budget in order to balance the budget. Some of these items are currently enjoyed by the school system. Some are items that were additions requested of the board, but are not financially within the range of Farwell Schools. Some are items which they may decide to keep in the budget.

Grigsby gave each board member this list and the projected dollar savings if each item were eliminated. The board will decide where the cuts will be made.

1. Teacher's local sick leave - $6,750. Grigsby noted that the principals have requested that this be the first item retained in the budget.

2. Vocational Education Aide - $8,000.

3. Hospitalization benefits - $25,000.

4. Art instruction for junior and senior high school - $1,500.

5. A new school bus - $28,000.

6. Band uniforms - spend only $16,500 of the $18,000 allocated.

7. Band equipment - spend $3,500 instead of $7,700 allocated.

8. Band room furniture - $1,500 eliminated.

9. High school roof repair. Grigsby suggested this expense be spread out over 4 - 5 years instead of one. There would be increased interest by doing this.

10. High school air conditioners.

11. Special Education restrooms - can they be built within the $28,000 allocated in the federal grant?

12. Extracurricular expenses:

a. Student meals while on band ($4,400) and athletic ($3,000) trips.

b. Payment of drivers for athletic trips ($1,100) and band trips ($500).

c. Payments to extra curricular event sponsors $3,000.

d. Student insurance for athletes $1,400.

e. Pole vault pit $4,100.

13. Uniform service for maintenance personnel $2,750.

14. Elementary P.E.

15. Principal's discretionary fund - $1,500.

16. Developmental 1st grade - $29,000.

17. One principal's position - $33,500.

18. Grounds maintenance supplies - $4,000.

19. Custodial staff, cut one position - $14,000.

20. Eliminate or make part-time the administrative officer's position either - $26,747 or $13,375.

21. Combine maintenance director and transportation director's positions - $18,000.

22. Second appraiser contract eliminate - $5,500.

23. Cut travel across all functions.

24. Eliminate pre - kindergarten class unless mandated by the state.

25. Cut kindergarten to 1/2 day instead of a full day.

26. Eliminate a teacher assistant position - $12,000.

27. Cut vocational budget.

28. Cut compensatory workshop - training - $3,000.

29. Cut instructional equipment repairs.

30. Cut local programs:

a. Strategic planning - $3,000.

b. Local Grant (STAR) $1,000.

c. Professional library $1,250.

Grigsby received no pay raise this year though he was entitled to one through the state. This was his own decision.

Also, as part of the original contract Grigsby signed when becoming Farwell superintendent, the board agreed to give him a $300 a month car allowance. Recently, in order to save money, the board bought him a car and cancelled the allowance.

In other business, the board:

- Heard a report from contractor Tom Packard on the window replacement project. He also reported that three new commercial grade replacement doors may be added to the project for $4,900.

- Heard a report that the plans for the handicapped restroom are not complete.

- Heard LeAndra Byrd report that local school districts may group together for a regional health insurance cooperative.

- Voted to approve the budget as presented by the Parmer County Appraisal District

- Tabled the proposed high school and junior high school schedules.

- Voted to pay approximately $443 to settle the outstanding claims on the PCS card portion of the insurance bankruptcy case.

- Voted to appoint De'Aun Willoughby as the school system's independent auditor again.

- Approved a new travel policy.

Pate moves to 'big city'

Joel Pate, Texico Elementary School's new principal, may feel that he has moved to a big city after spending 8 years as the head teacher at Peñasco Elementary.

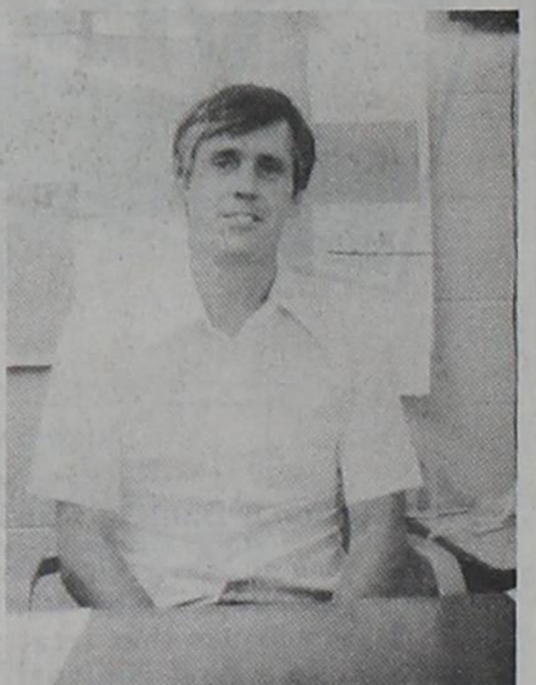

The non-traditional school Pate headed serves about 30 children from a ranching area about 50 miles from Artesia, yet it is part of the Artesia Public School system. Both Pate and his wife, Chris, taught and lived at the school.

They lived a rural life while they were at Peñasco, but they were part of a large city school system. They followed the curriculum and guidelines for the Artesia schools, and they went to Artesia for meetings and training.

The community they served, though, was decidedly rural. "Every kid there came off a ranch," he said.

Some parts of the traditional curriculum had little relevance to the children whose parents chose to live the ranching life far from the city. For instance, "Bicycle safety, which is something that we normally teach at the elementary level was almost a joke, because most of these kids rode horses instead of bikes. What we needed was a book on how to saddle or brand a horse."

The unique school system was one of a handful of non-traditional schools in New Mexico. The entire school had 3 teachers - one for kindergarten - second grade; one for grades 3- 5, and one for grades 6 - 8. They also had a bus driver and a maintenance person.

"One of the key reasons I applied for this job as the principal at Texico Elementary was that our daughter Lorissa will be entering 9th grade this year. If we had stayed in Peñasco she would have gone to high school in Artesia. She would have had to leave at 7 each morning, and return at 4 p.m. She would have spent at least 2 hours a day on the bus." Participation in after school activities would have been nearly impossible.

Prior to becoming the lead teacher at Pefiasco Pate coached and taught math in Artesia for 6 years. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from ENMU, Portales, and his elementary certification from New Mexico State University, Las Cruces.

His wife, Chris, earned her bachelor's degree from ENMU - Portales. The Pates have three children, Lorissa, 14; Joni, 11, and Lindy, 5.

On his first day on the job, Pate had very favorable impressions of Texico Elementary. Even before he had met all of the staff members, he said: "Just looking around you can see that this is a good solid school."

He noted the cleanliness and orderliness of the building. And he noted that there was evidence that several teachers were using a variety of materials in their lessons.

"You can tell just by looking around the school that the teachers had input on the software and materials in the classrooms. That's a sign that this is a progressive school system. When the teachers have input, things tend to be more open and honest," he said.

Texico Elementary School will register students in kindergarten - 5 on Aug. 17 from 8 a.m. - 6 p.m.

1989 Property Tax Rates in Farwell ISD

This notice concerns 1989 property tax rates for Farwell ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 687,319.29
+ Last year's debt taxes	$ 46,464.80
= Last year's total taxes	$ 733,784.09
- Last year's tax base	$ 59,954,579
= Last year's total tax rate	$ 1.2239 /$100

This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 731,617.38
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$ 60,728,629
= This year's effective tax rate	$ 1.2047 /$100
x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ 1.2408 /$100

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 685,289.78
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 60,728,629
= This year's effective operating rate	$ 1.1284 /$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ 1.2187 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$ .0775 /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$ 1.2962 /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
Maintenance and Operations	$48,000

SCHEDULE B: 1989 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
Total required for 1989 debt service			45,000.00
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A			-0-
- Excess collections last year			-0-
= Total to be paid from taxes in 1989			45,000.00
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only 95% of its taxes in 1989			2,368.42
= Total Debt Service Levy			47,368.42

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at Farmer C.A.D.

Farwell landfill burning to end this month

"We have to stop burning at the landfill by Aug. 30," water department Supt. Dee Hammit told the Farwell City Council Tuesday.

He indicated there may be a lapse of a few months before state officials begin levying fines on individuals who burn trash behind their homes, but the city will definitely have to stop burning trash at the landfill by Aug. 30.

Mayor Chris Gikas said he had talked to the mayor of Hereford at a meeting of the Panhandle Mayors Conference. "We are all faced with the same problems," he said.

Hereford will have to spend more than $50,000 to upgrade its incinerator to meet new federal guidelines. Gikas suggested that Hereford and Farwell might work out an agreement so that Farwell could use Hereford's incinerator for burning tree limbs and grass for a fee.

The Council adopted a budget for fiscal year July 1, 1989 - June 30, 1990 which reflects no drastic changes for the new year. The budget does not include changes due to the cost of a garbage truck or containers, nor does it include the cost of police service because the council does not have final costs of these programs have not been computed.

Wayne Hughes of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission reported to the council about the enhanced 911 emergency answering service. When a person dials 911, the dispatcher would have the person's telephone number and address on video screens almost immediately. The computer operated system could also be updated to include additional information if the residents requests it.

He reported that in Parmer County Friona Police Chief Niece would answer 911 calls for the entire county.

Councilman Gloria Hutchins told Hughes, "We already have a 911 system in Farwell, why should we pay extra for a system from Friona?"

The council asked Hughes to meet with the Farwell Fire Department and possibly the Bovina Fire Department before they made up their minds about signing a contract with PRPC for the enhanced 911 emergency system.

Hughes indicated that he would meet with interested parties when it could be scheduled. He added: "I understand fully that your existing 911 system already works." He indicated that the enhanced system through PRPC would cost less in the long run because part of the funding for it comes from the state of Texas, and it would give emergency responders more information than the current system does.

Joe and Cara Castillo requested a variance to tear down an old house and install a 14' x 70' mobile home on property located at 502 Seventh St., Farwell. The council directed them to get the permission of the residents who live in the area.

The council granted building permits to Wesley Davis to build a storage building at 308 8th St., and to Billie Foster to build a storage shed at 405 5th.

The council voted to send Gikas to a mayor's conference in Austin in September. They also voted to send the city clerk Cynthia Thigpen to an insurance workshop in Lubbock on Aug. 17, and to a workshop on retirement in Austin.

City employee Royce Menning was granted a leave of absence so he can participate in National Guard training with the 287th Medical Reserve.

Where did all the kimonos go?

by Juanita J. Hadley

And Mary Lou adds two last traffic tidbits: one is that stop signs are the same red and white that U.S. drivers see, but the Okinawan signs are shaped like an upside-down triangle. The other is that since distance is measured in kilometers rather than miles, the shortened form "klicks" is used in the same way that Americans say "miles." For example, on narrow roads, a car might travel approximately 63 klicks per hour instead of approximately 38 miles per hour.

When the family was not actively sightseeing, they spent their time visiting, watching television, and shopping.

Shopping on the island can be both Usual and unusual. Armed services personnel may purchase items at any of the commissaries or PX's located on the five military installations. And, of course, each base contains at least one convenience store, called a shopette. For anyone who wishes, there are plenty of small Okinawan stores, though Mary Lou found that items in them are quite expensive. Okinawa even boasts a mall, which is really more like a closed off block than the giant complexes in many American cities. Though most stores are owned by Nationals, to Mary Lou's surprise, a good number are owned by immigrants from India.

Merchandise, particularly clothing, is usually exactly like that found back home. Of course, there is the occasional kimono shop and the like to remind one she's not in Clovis, New Mexico or Lubbock, Texas. Mary Lou tells of one such establishment where "ready made" kimonos were located near the front. A raised section at the rear of the shop displayed elaborately embroidered fabrics, in case the customer preferred a costlier custom made garment. The floor of the raised area was covered by woven matting and patrons were expected to remove their shoes before setting foot there. In fact, Mrs. Zinck remembers such areas in a number of stores. She says that any floor covering is the signal to take off one's shoes, then replace them when leaving that special part of the store.

One other aspect of Okinawan shopping was the music playing in every single store Mary Lou entered. It was always American, and always the most current hits. The difference? Although sometimes in English, the lyrics might just as easily be Japanese.

Exactly how does a person pay for his selections in Okinawa? What currency is customarily used? The question had never really occurred to Mary Lou until her trip. She discovered that a few shops will accept American dollars, and that some will take VISA or Mastercard. But she laughingly explains that Carl Malden's TV commercial for American Express ("Don't leave home without it.") is way off base there, for, to her knowledge, only one place of business, a photo developing shop, accepts that particular credit card.

The usual form of currency is the Japanese yen, and each day before the family outing Michael, Mary Lou's son, stopped by the base bank to exchange American dollars for yen.

Possibly the most challenging part of shopping was trying to keep up with the buying power of the American dollar on any given day.

Since the rate of exchange varies each day according to the international market, one American dollar may purchase more or less than it did the day before. At the time of Mary Lou's arrival, the U.S. dollar was worth 138 Japanese yen. At that particular rate, 500 yen equalled $3.60 in American money. During Mrs. Zinck's visit, the rate of exchange hit a high of 146 yen per dollar.

Mary Lou had no idea what style of dress to expect of island residents, but discovered that the Nationals' clothing is generally casual, and much like their American counterparts'. she specifically points out that Okinawan girls wear the same mini skirts and brief tops that one can see almost anywhere in the U.S. Likewise, businessmen are seen in dressy slacks, shirts, and ties or suits. Not once during her visit did she see an island woman in a kimono.

Okinawa is made up of numerous small towns and cities forming basically one metropolitan area. Tammy Annunziato, daughter-in-law of Mary Lou Zinck who teaches fifth grade in Farwell, rests during a shopping trip. In the background are some of the many small shops which fill the needs of the island's residents and cater to the buying urges of visitors.

Farwell Class of '43 gets together

Nine of the 16 remaining members of the Farwell Class of 1943 came together at the Border Town Days celebration. The met Friday night at the home of Guyn Hancock Holt in Clovis for refreshments and time sharing. On Saturday they enjoyed visiting with a lot of friends in the park. On Saturday night they had a banquet at the Holiday Inn in Clovis. Bess Thompson was the evening's hostess, and the marquee in front of the inn read: "Welcome Farwell Class of 1943."

The graduates attending with their spouses were: Smokey Gast, Farwell; Dorothy Cassidy Pruitt, Clovis; Judy Cassidy Cummings, Friona; Maxine Justice Wittenburg, Shreveport, La.; Joe Lindsay, Thornton, Texas; and Twila Strickland Starkey, Big Spring, Texas; Guyn Hancock Holt, Clovis; Dorothea Deaton Baldrige, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Billie Sharpe Phillips of Lubbock who spearheads the class reunion every two years. Also attending were Emma Ruth Miller Vaughn, and her husband of Almagordo, N.M., and Rev. Charles Pruitt of Jacksonville, Texas; Mrs. Pauline Chaney Tunnell, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lindsey of Muleshoe and longtime friend of Billie's; Ms. Bobby Mowery of Clovis.

Music that was popular during the early 1940's was enjoyed by all that evening.

Plans were made for the next reunion. It will be held at the 1991 Border Town Days celebration on the last weekend of July.

Members of the class expressed their pleasure at renewing old acquaintances at Border Town Days. They especially enjoyed seeing Mrs. Elsie Cain of Borger who taught some of the class of 1943 when they were in second grade.

The class of 1943 is a very close knit group, and they missed the graduates who were unable to attend: Reba Stewart Johnson, Virginia Hines Drager, Betty Jo Gilson Giroux, Arlon Lovelace, Robert Moore, Henry White, and Archie Dee Hamm.

'Cicada killer' arrives here

A very large wasp, the "cicada killer" is making its annual summer appearance on the South Plains, says Mike D. Blanton, Parmer and Bailey County Entomologist. This wasp is the largest in our area, being about 1 1/2" in length.

This wasp is much more interested in stinging cicadas than people. They can often be seen dragging or flying and carrying paralyzed cicadas back to their nests.

At suitable nesting sites, the wasps excavate a tunnel into the soil at an angle for a distance of one to three feet. The main tunnel ends in a number of branches and cells. The burrows may be dug during the day or night. The excavation will often result in a large mound of dirt. The burrow entrances are left open during provisioning of the nest and may never be closed except when the wasps' entire job is completed.

Depending upon their size, from 1 - 4 cicadas are provisioned in each underground cell. The female lays an egg on the last cicada she places in a cell. As many as four females may provision a single nest simultaneously although only one of them made the initial excavation.

The wasp larva which hatches from the egg has a cicada meal waiting. After consuming the cicadas provisioned in a cell, the wasp larva remains underground until the following July when the adult wasp emerges again to repeat the cycle.

Cicada killers are not aggressive and seldom attack humans. The males are not capable of stinging. Only females can sting.

Cicada killers are considered beneficial insects because they prey on cicadas. However, they can be present in sufficient numbers as to be a nuisance. For control you may use one of the outdoor aerosol sprays containing pyrethrum or dust the nest entrance with sevin.

BTD Committee looks ahead to next year

The Border Town Days Committee met Monday to pay its bills and discuss how this year's event went.

Present were Dutch Quicquel, Frances Kube, Lynne Mahaney, Ann Cooper, Maurine Caywood, Chris Roach, Cynthia Thigpen and Mike Pomper.

Overall, the group was happy with how this year's event went. Among the problem areas that will be worked on for next year are:

- Revitalizing the queen's contest. The committee will seek a group, such as a local sorority, to oversee this on a continuing basis.

- Not letting youths on bikes in the parade get ahead of the fire engines and circle back, which can be dangerous.

- Will decide next April on whether to change its policy of having park concessions open to only local non-profit groups. The Shrine Club of Clovis asked to sell peanut brittle in the park, too.

- Keeping the animal units together toward the end of the parade; one animal unit was inadvertently in the middle of the parade.

- Placing gravel around the water fountain at Farwell City Park.

- Cleaning up the park

after the festivities conclude. Perhaps, a youth group will be hired for this purpose.

- Encourage more activities for young people. Perhaps, set up a dance floor next to the gazebo.

- Route trucks around the parade route.

- Try to keep the "spaces" between parade units to a minimum.

- Set up a separate table for the Texico-Farwell Senior Citizens for the class reunion sign-up books.

Mrs. Kube reported that the Charlie Phillips Concert was a big success with 342 attending. She suggested that Phillips be invited to perform at the gazebo during Border Town Day.

Mrs. Cooper reported on a brightened financial picture. The committee has a $2,000 base and its by-laws mandate that that total be kept intact unless there is an emergency.

This year's BTD started with borrowing $300 from that total. Roughly, a profit of $700 was made this year, meaning next year's campaign can start with $400 over the $2,000 amount.

The bulk of the $700 profit was derived from a successful pin sale. The pins cost $140, and proceeds totalled $558 - a profit of $418.

The rest of the profit came from fees charged concession stands at the park and the arts and crafts fair.

Here is a breakdown of the costs that these funds covered:

Brackets for the speakers, $25; postage, $43; copies, $15; barbecue tickets, $185; plaques, $53; flyers, $56; pins, $140; welding, $40; and coupons (printing), $53.

Funds from donors, the Texico and Farwell Chambers of Commerce, and the merchants in the giveaway paid for the portable toilets, bicycle contest prizes, float prizes and advertisements.

Terry Winkles named to school board

Terry Winkles was sworn in by the Texico School Board Tuesday night as a new board member. He will fill the position vacated by Johnny Rucker.

The board hired several people:

- Pam Rucker was hired to teach first grade.

- Lonnie Mansell was hired as a custodian.

- Dorothy Acrey was hired as the head cook.

The board will need to hire an elementary school secretary, and a person to help with clerical work in the administrative office. They also accepted the resignation of teacher aide Anita Serna.

Volunteers sought

Dena Martin of Texico will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels for Life" Bike-a-thon for Texico-Farwell Sept. 16.

She asked that volunteers who wish to help call her at 482-9106.

Also, local businesses will be asked to donate prizes for it.

The hospital is the largest childhood cancer research - treatment - education center in the United States, with over 3,200 active patients. Currently, $183,000 is needed each day to keep it open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

To get no-service-charge checking, just sign here.

At Sunbelt, you have two ways to get a checking account with no monthly service charge.

No monthly service charges until 1990: Just so you'll try Sunbelt's simple, affordable checking accounts, we'd like you to take advantage of our special offer. Open a checking account before September 30, and pay no monthly service charges in 1989.

No monthly service charges after 1990: Stay with us after this special offer expires and you'll see that Sunbelt makes it easy to continue to avoid monthly service charges.

For example: Open your account with only $100. Stay above the $250 minimum balance on regular checking or $500 on interest checking with cancelled checks held in safekeeping, and you pay no monthly service charges. Go under the minimum, and you won't get hit with some unreasonable fee. Just $3 or $5 a month.

Because we believe a checking account should be a simple thing. Deposit money. Write checks. No "per check" charges. And no shocking service charges.

It's a simple offer, straight across the board, from Sunbelt Savings, the uncomplicated banking bank.

The 14th of this month we have a very special event that stimulates the taste buds just thinking about it. We have a home made ice cream social, with the most delicious recipes every August, thanks to the ladies of the F.C.C. Auxiliary.

Hopefully, the weather will be nice enough - not too hot or windy - so we may have our party on the patio. The Auxiliary puts a special effort into making the ice cream and we appreciate the hard work applied.

We have two field trips scheduled for this month. The 9th, we go to the sale barn in Clovis. Alan Kelley, Elbert Kelley's nephew, was kind in offering to be our host and explaining the events of the sale to us.

On the 23rd, we go to the animal shelter in Clovis. The animals vary so we have an assortment to see that should spark a few memories of childhood pets. We are looking forward to our adventures and will keep you up to date on the outcome.

We send our condolences to the families of Lucile Duty and Tan Orio. The quick smiles, gentle words and the sharp sense of humor will be missed by each of us. They were surely a pleasure to know and an honor to call a friend.

Meals on Wheels

Noon meals can be delivered to your door. For further information, contact the Farwell Convalescent Center at 481-9027. This program is for elderly, handicapped and temporary illnesses.
