

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

They ran out of innings

There are some folks under the erroneous impression that the Cubs lost their playoff series to the Giants this week.

Not so. The Cubs simply ran out of innings.

I'll tell you something. There probably are a bunch of folks smirking about how the Cubs choked or how badly they looked or whatever. But I have nothing but admiration for Manager Don "Popeye" Zimmer for how he handled his players.

In particular, I'm speaking of Andre "the Hawk" Dawson.

Two years ago, the Hawk was the National League Most Valuable Player. And last year, he had a pretty decent year. But he has been plagued for years with bad knees and had an operation early this season.

He came back but was never the same. He was in a slump much of the season - for him at least; another player getting 21 home runs probably would be pretty happy.

Anyway, Zimmer went with Dawson in the playoffs, but the Hawk couldn't respond. He only got 2 hits in 19 at-bats and left a whole mess of runners on base.

In that last game, the Hawk came up to bat in the 8th inning with two runners on. Another manager would have lifted him. But Zimmer showed loyalty to a great performer. True, the Hawk didn't deliver. But that wasn't as important.

As a great believer in the importance of loyalty, I appreciated Popeye's decision.

It brought back memories of the Great Cub Collapse of 1969. You've read before what I have written about that notorious year. But here's an added piece of information that few know about:

It was late August of '69 when manager Leo "the Lip" Durocher went to Mr. Wrigley to say that the Cubs were starting to falter and he wanted to take Ernie "Mr. Cub" Banks, in the twilight of his career, out of the lineup and put in some young, fresh legs and blood.

No, Mr. Wrigley said to Leo. Mr. Cub had to stay in the lineup even though he was becoming a liability. The organization owed it to him.

So Banks stayed at first base, and Joe Pepitone, newly acquired from the Yankees, stayed on the bench. Mr. Cub grounded into a bunch of double plays and couldn't deliver as he had so often in the past. And the Cubs fell apart in September.

Loyalty. I don't mind the Cubs running out of innings this week. I was just glad to see Dawson get his chance. He deserved it.

I'm proud to be a Cub fan. Why? Because next year they are going to win the World Series.

Well, the Steers finally beat a team by a bigger spread than listed by the Lubbock newspaper - and Coach Rex Cumpton got that haircut he promised.

Texico royalty

Texico's King and Queen - David Johnson and Jennifer Gentry, were crowned during the pre-game homecoming activities.

Farwell royalty

Leah Vandiver and Bruce White were chosen to reign over the Farwell homecoming festivities while crown bearers Sarah Villareal and Josh Curtis look on.

Zinck elected FEA president

Craig Zinck, newly elected president of the Farwell Educator's Association, said that he wanted the group to be a liaison between the administration and the teachers.

Zinck stressed at Tuesday's School Board meeting that the group "had no ax to grind, and was not an adversarial organization."

He indicated that teacher representatives will attend board meetings and keep the lines of communications open between board and staff.

"I hope you don't feel intimidated by us," he said. He also thanked board members Ronald Byrd and Katherine White for attending the meeting on Sept. 30 when school Supt. John Grigsby apologized to the teachers for keeping them waiting four hours while the board met in an executive session on Sept. 29.

The board also:

- Voted to amend the previous meeting's motion which limited career ladder designation to teachers who had perfect scores of 184 on observations. The new motion allows a lesser score to be used for career ladder determination based on ranking of the scores up to the budgeted amount funded.
- Voted to extend the warranties on two school vehicles to 5 years or 100,000 miles.
- Listened to a report from Dr. Kenneth Laycock from Region XVI Service Center on the methods of choosing a new superintendent. Dr. Laycock is available as a consultant in the hiring procedure if the board chooses to hire him. They took no action at this time.
- Voted to accept the new budget report format and reporting procedures suggested by school auditor De'Aun Willoughby.

- Passed a motion to combine the school elections with the City of Farwell and Hospital District elections.
- Nominated Mark Schwertner to the Parmer County Appraisal District Board.
- Heard Grigsby report on the law suit, Edgewood vs. Kirby, which according to Grigsby will have more impact on school funding than anything that has happened in years. "It may have more impact than House Bill 72," said Grigsby.
- Farwell was one of the school systems that participated in the suit to force the legislature to give relief to land poor districts.

Exactly how the legislature will handle the re-allocation of school funding remains to be seen. The changes in school funding will not occur during this school year.

- The board will call a second meeting in November. It will be held either Nov. 27, 28, or 30.

Three file for post

Three candidates have filed for the Farwell School Board post that will be on the November ballot.

The special election was called for by the School Board after Vick Christian resigned his board post.

Filing were Tom Nichols, Stan Austin and Bobby Atwell. The deadline for filing was Oct. 9.

Farwell sophs win 6th contest

It was an even dozen for the number of contestants in last week's Area Merchants Football Contest to pick 10 of the 12 games correctly.

So the tie breaker (Clovis 51, Albuquerque Cibola 0) really was needed to see who would win the prize money for finishing first and second.

No one picked the tie between Lockney and Springlake-Earth.

The first place winner was the entry for the "Farwell Sophomore Class". It was 21 off the tie breaker. So $10 went to the class fund.

In second place was Daniel Hutchins, 35 off the tie breaker. He received the $5 prize.

Also with 10 right (with the total off the tie breaker in parentheses) were:

Loyd Smith (40), Marion Ty Rutter (36), Marshall Pool (37), Lonnie McFarland (37), Pam Monk (45); Larry Gregory (39), Rex Cumpton (44), Harold Carpenter (51), Wade Cargile (44) and Farwell High CLA IV class (36).

As for the leader board at the halfway mark in the contest, Teresa King, wife of Texico coach Rex King, strengthened her lead by getting 9 right last week. The leaders are:

56 points - Teresa King.
53 - Rhonda Grissom, Rex Cumpton, Carl Parker.
52 - Harold Carpenter, Jim Berry, Donnie Gustin, Champ Porter, Brent Ross, Tex Smith.
51 - William Brigham, Marion Rutter, Mark Williams, Ryan Williams, Janene Berry, Sammy Herrera, Roy King, Amy Jo Murray, Dick Pylant, Billy Roberts, Lynn Roberts, Sheree Montgomery.
50 - Gay Goettsch, Ann Liethen, Bill Brigham, Pam Monk, Dutch Quicquel, Loyd Smith, Richard Carpenter, Farwell CLA IV class.

Last week's results were: Farwell over Nazareth, Hagerman over Texico, Lazbuddie over Whitharral, Houston over Baylor, Tennessee over Georgia, Florida State over Syracuse, Illinois over Ohio State, Cincinnati over Pittsburgh, New England over Houston, Philadelphia over NY Giants, Green Bay over Dallas.

Texico seeks tougher mobile home rules

The Texico City Council is moving ahead on toughening its mobile home ordinance.

At Tuesday's meeting, City Attorney Duane Hamar was instructed to put together a proposed ordinance incorporating "teeth" into the penalty part of those who bring mobile homes into the city but don't get them up to standards.

The proposed ordinance likely will include these standards:

- Installed according to state statutes and maintained according to applicable state and municipal standards.
- Skirting meeting state standards.
- Be set on permanent foundation either piers or on a slab as per state standards.
- Removal of wheels.
- Installation of stairway and landing for access to doorways.
- Landscaping such as lawn or ground cover.
- Vehicles shall not be parked on the lot past the front setback line, unless on the paved off-street parking area.
- Anchoring as needed to reduce wind and flood damage.

The proposed ordinance will not affect mobile homes already in Texico. But Hamar was asked to check on current state standards to see what the city can do about bringing up existing mobile homes to standard.

In another action, the council rejected the mobile home variance request of Manford Turnbough for 305 Lamar St.

Eleven notices were sent adjacent property owners to get their views. Three replied - two against and one for. Apparently based on the fact that more opposed than favored, the council denied the request.

The council also:

- Met with the cemetery board, which consists of John R. Hadley, Paul Skaggs, Mae Stone and Linnie Ingram. The council added Doyal LaRue to the board. Hadley was re-elected president and all members were re-appointed to two-year terms. The council is discussing buying additional land to expand the cemetery. The cemetery fund has $29,000.
- Asked Mayor Steve Chancy to check into ways to have a contest to pick a new city logo. An anonymous donor has pledged $75 for the winning entry.
- Decided it couldn't afford the $400 needed to install a water fountain at KKR Park. Mike Pomper was asked to seek donations for it.
- Asked the mayor to support property owners near the pool who are unhappy with a recent seal coating job by a Clovis contractor.
- Decided to legally clear up the confusion on whether Texico is a town or city by placing the question on the next election ballot.
- Approved fixing some street potholes.
- Heard councilman Butch Sharp complain of litter on Catherine Street. He said maggots were in one pile where children were playing. The council has an ordinance against "weeds and debris".
- Received a letter from Waste Control saying the payment by the city to the firm is going up 3.6 percent. Cost to residents stays the same. The 5-year contract ends next year.

New Kids win pair

The New Kids basketball team won two games last weekend in Clovis.

They beat the Shooters Saturday morning 57-4. "Everyone scored," said coach Rhonda Kirkland. As proud as she was of her team, she was quick to note that, "We tried to encourage the Shooters after the game, because we used to get beat like that when we first started out. We wanted them to know that they would improve if they kept working on basketball."

The New Kids won Saturday afternoon 31-28. "We came back from a 6 point deficit in the first quarter to win the game. It was very exciting."

The New Kids will play the Falcons at 10 a.m. on Oct. 14 at the Yucca Junior High old gym. They will also play Floyd at 1:45 p.m. "They were the only team in this league that beat us last year," said Mrs. Kirkland.

Longhorns romp

Longhorn of the Week

Coach Williams cited Michael Williams as the Longhorn of the Week in light of the fact that he threw 6 TD passes and scored on an interception and a kickoff return.

The Lazbuddie Longhorns rolled over Witharral last Friday night to cap off their Homecoming with a rousing 66-24 victory.

Action started when Witharral's Michael Cirilo scored on a 4 yard run and made the point after.

Lazbuddie came back and scored the next 7 TDs.

Doug Barnes scored on a 15 yard pass from Michael Williams. The kick after was no good.

Williams then scored on a 50 yard interception return. The point after attempt failed.

Eddie Zamora scored on an 8 yard run. The extra point failed.

Kirk Jesko scored on a 25 yard pass from Williams; then Williams scored the extra point.

Kevin McGehee tallied on a 23 yard pass from Williams. The extra point attempt failed.

Jesko scored on a 6 yard pass from Williams, and the extra point failed.

Leland Brockman scored the 7th straight Longhorn TD on a 15 yard pass from Paul Williams. The extra point attempt failed, and the half ended with Lazbuddie ahead 46-8.

At the opening of the second half, Witharral came back with a TD by Greg Amalla on a 5 yard run. Cirillo scored the extra point.

Williams scored on an 80 yard kickoff return. He also scored the point after.

Doug Barnes scored on a 50 yard pass from Williams. The extra point failed.

Witharral's Cirillo scored on a 12 yard run, and he made the extra point.

Barnes scored on a 60 yard pass from Michael Williams. The extra point was no good.

"It was a good offensive game," said coach C.W. Williams.

"Our young players played the whole second half. The scoring was spread around a bit. We have a better offense when the scoring in diversified."

JV ties Sudan

Two undefeated junior varsity teams clashed Oct. 5 - and the result was a 6-6 tie between Farwell and Sudan.

In the first half, Farwell moved the ball to the Sudan 1 yard line, mainly due to a 36-yard gallop by Kirk Lingnau. But Farwell was stopped on downs.

Lingnau stopped a Sudan TD when he caught an interceptor at the Farwell 18 after a 50-yard run. Sudan was unable to score as Brian Johnson recorded a quarterback sack.

In the third quarter, Sudan scored on a 4th down and goal pass from the Farwell 7. The extra point try failed.

The Steers moved the ball downfield quickly. Shannon Pool raced 20 yards to the Sudan 40. Then, on 4th down and 6, halfback Brady Pool passed to Roger Billingsley, who ran to the 7. Brady Poole then scored, tying the game.

Curtis chosen

Deann Curtis has been chosen to represent Southwestern Oklahoma at the National Pharmacy Convention in San Antonio in November.

Miss Curtis is a senior at Southwestern Oklahoma this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Curtis of Farwell.

Each day something new happens to change our lives. Someone improves in health to be able to return home. A new resident arrives unsure of what to expect and fearing the unknown or we lose a resident through death. We never know what will have changed each morning as we come to work.

There are every-day routines that seldom vary, meals, baths, grooming, beds made. All are expected, and many go unnoticed because they are just done. How often do we stop and appreciate the simple things in life?

Each day we have a sun rise with free beauty for all to share or a soft breeze to drive away the heat. How many lives changed today? How many drifted through unaware of their surroundings?

We here at the center have to remind ourselves that the outside world should be brought in and be part of our daily routine. We cannot take for granted the simple things because to some they are important events of their daily lives.

The lesson taught us daily is to appreciate the simple joy of living, accept change, really listen when someone shares their innermost thoughts - in the words expressed to me - look around you, see with an open mind, look into what you see, never miss something after it is gone, care while you have it to show you know the effort given. Good advice - I do love that woman.

The extra point run failed. Sudan was unable to score again as Billingsley and Johnson had key tackles.

"We had a lot of opportunities to win the game," said coach Larry Gregory of the 6-6 tie the Farwell JV had with Sudan Oct. 5.

"We continue to play well, I don't have any gripes with the way we played."

The JV, 4-0-1, plays Abernathy here on Oct. 19.

HISTORY
Karl's Auto Clinic

Karl's Auto Clinic, oldest business of its type in the area, was founded in January of 1940 by the late Karl Gast.

In early history of the firm, Buster Gast, son of Karl, operated a body shop in connection with the automotive clinic. This portion of the business was terminated when Buster entered Armed Services during World War II. Buster rejoined the firm, as a mechanic after returning from service in 1945.

Smokey Gast, also a son of Karl and a present partner in the firm, joined the business after his return from service in '46.

From its beginning until February of '48, the business was housed in Muckleroy Building on Main Street in Farwell. At that time, the location was changed to a garage building which was near the present home after an auto repair service belonging to Tom Atkins and Will Hardage was purchased.

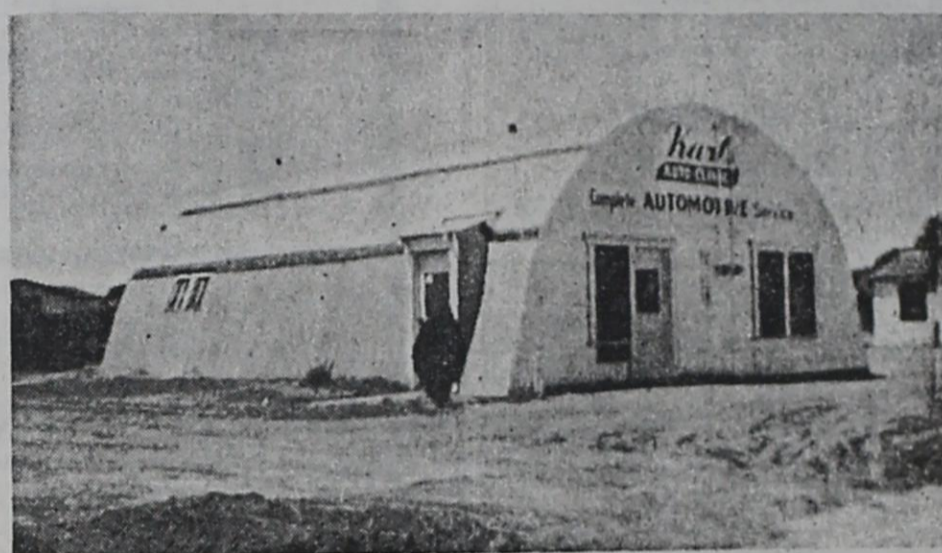

Fred Curtis, also one of the present partners, began work as an employee with the firm in 1950. In '52, Fred purchased the interest of Karl Gast and then Smokey and Fred bought the interest of Buster. There has been no change in ownership during the past eight years.

In July of '56, Smokey and Fred constructed a new garage building near their old location. The former building has since been moved.

Throughout its existence, the business has offered guaranteed, quality, friendly service.

The present owners are grateful for the confidence which has been shown in them and the business.

In February of 1948, Karl's Auto Clinic moved into this building, which was located near the present home of the business.

Steers unde feated

Steers of the Week

In a battle last Friday of undefeated teams, the Farwell Steers prevailed over the Nazareth Swifts 28-6. Farwell used its Homecoming win to go 5-0. The Swifts fell to 4-1. It was the last game for Farwell before starting district competition. At the beginning of the game, neither Greg Actkinson or Shawn Stewart was playing due to recovering from slight injuries. But both entered the game with just six minutes gone in the first quarter. Also, Coach Rex Cumpton was back on the sidelines after spending his time during previous games above the press box. The first quarter was scoreless. Highlights for Farwell were good runs by Chad Byrd and Monty Delgado, an excellent 18-yard catch of an Actkinson pass by Delgado, and a tackle of a Swift interceptor by Darren Haseloff. Farwell got the ball at its 35 early in the second quarter and struck quickly. A 28-yard pass to Haseloff was followed by a strong run by Clint Kelley, a pass to Haseloff at the 7 and a TD pass to Haseloff. The kick was blocked and Farwell led 6-0.

Michael Arce made a nice tackle of the punt returner. Other top defensive plays were by Adrian Nicolas, who forced a bad pass, and a fumble recovery by Kyle Stancell on the Swift 37 with 1:30 left in the half.

Stewart ran for 17 yards and a pass to Delgado got the Steers to the 7. Actkinson scored from the 2 with 13 seconds left. A Delgado run was good for the extra points to up the score to 14-0.

It was a defensive struggle in the third quarter. Stancell made an excellent tackle. Near the end of the quarter, Farwell scored on a 25-yard pass to Byrd. The kick was good.

The final period saw interceptions by Actkinson and Stewart. But the Swifts scored with 1:26 left. The extra point pass failed.

An onside kick by the Swifts failed. And with 40 seconds left, Stewart hauled down a 45-yard pass to score. The kick was good.

Individual statistics were: Rushing: Stewart, 14 for 75 yards; Kelley, 7 for 30; Delgado, 4 for 17; Actkinson, 13 for 37.

Receiving: Haseloff, 5 for Coach Cumpton named Greg Actkinson, left, as Steer of the Week for offense. He gained 40 yards rushing and 140 in the air with three TD passes. Steer of the Week for defense was Heath Dollar, right. "This was probably the best total game he has had this year," said Cumpton.

61 yards; Delgado, 2 for 31; Byrd, 1 for 27; Stewart, 1 for 42.

Team statistics included: Rushing - Farwell, 41 for 178; Nazareth, 42 for 86; passing - Farwell, 9 of 20 for 152; Nazareth, 3 of 16 for 37; 1st downs - Farwell 18 and Nazareth 9; penalties - Farwell 9 for 80 and Nazareth 11 for 90; punting - Farwell 3 for a 34- yd. average and Nazareth 5 for a 25-yd.

average. Coach Rex Cumpton said: "It was another well balanced game offensively. We were able to dominate most of the time. The offensive line did a good job of pass blocking. Our running game did well - we just couldn't seem to break the big one. If we can cut down on penalties and turnovers, we will be in good shape. Farwell plays at Hart at 7:30 tonight (Friday).

Bruce White holds on.

Hagerman squeezes past Wolverines

By Janice Jenkins

After a week of Homecoming activities, hard work and hope, the Texico Wolverines were let down by their 14-6 loss to Hagerman last Friday. Texico is now 3-4 overall and 1-1 in district.

The first quarter of play ended scoreless and the teams looked evenly matched. The Bobcats made some good running yards but the Wolverines were able to hold them scoreless until right before halftime.

Hagerman scored and the extra point attempt failed just before the half ended.

The Bobcats were able to score again in the second half and ran in their extra points to give them a 14-0 lead.

The Wolverines just couldn't seem to get things going. But they didn't give up.

Quarterback Larry Powell literally stole the ball from a Bobcat while he was being tackled. Powell ran down field and saw he was able to be tackled so he lateralized the ball to Benji McDaniel, who scored Texico's only touchdown of the night.

A win would have put Texico into 2nd place in district by itself, but the loss put them, Jal and Springer in a 3-way tie. Hagerman was beaten earlier by Springer, Springer lost to Texico and Texico has now lost to Hagerman.

This weekend will be vital for Texico as the Wolverines travel to Melrose tonight (Friday). A win is needed for a chance at the state playoffs.

"Overall, we just didn't play very well," said coach Richard Luscombe. "We just were not ready to play like we did last week. We had a lot of chances to win, but we just didn't capitalize on them."

Individual statistics were:
Rushing - McDaniel, 8 for -15; Joe Pierce, 7 for 15; David Johnson, 5 for -3; Hector Orozco, 7 for 30; Mark Holmes, 3 for 9; Pete Fuentes, 1 for 8.

Receiving - Kenny Shaw, 1 for 13; Holmes, 1 for 22; Byron Martin, 1 for 7.

Passing - McDaniel, 3 for 11 for 42 yards.

Team statistics included:
First downs - Texico 5, Hagerman, 11; net yards - Texico 85, Hagerman 166; punts - Texico 4 for 35 yard average, Hagerman, 5 for 28 yard average; fumbles recovered, Texico 3 (Powell, 2, and Warren Martin, 1), Hagerman 0; yards penalized - Texico 10 for 105, Hagerman 8 for 62.

Pamphlets to be placed

The Parmer County division of the American Heart Association, Texas affiliate, held their first meeting this year at Cora's Kitchen in Friona.

Leland Hart, president, welcomed 12 members of the group for a Board of Orientation.

Parmer County had 36 cardio-vascular deaths in 1987, which represented 42.3 percent of the deaths in the county.

"We are the only health organization dedicated solely to the prevention of premature death and disability from heart disease, stroke, and related disorders," said Etoile Holley, spokeswoman.

All persons who contribute time and or money are accepted as voting members of the organization.

"We're working to find a cure for this number one killer: heart disease," Mrs. Holley said.

The pamphlets listing all services and helps available from the American Cancer Society are now ready, and are being placed in churches, hospital, library, and banks in Friona, Bovina, and Farwell. They will also be placed in Lazbuddie.

All interested persons are invited to attend the next meeting which will be held at noon at Cora's Restaurant in Friona on Oct. 26.

Lady Spikers win 2 district matches

The Texico Lady Spikers beat Melrose 15-5, 9-15, 15-1 and 15-13 on Oct. 3, and they beat Dora 15-7, 15-13, and 15-7 on Oct. 5 to bring their record to 9-4 overall and 4-2 for district.

Here are the individual statistics in the Melrose game:
Jennifer Williams, 1 ace, 10 kills, 1 save and 3 stuff blocks. Penny Pierce, 1 ace, 6 kills and 1 save. Valerie Cavallero, 6 aces, 1 kill, 2 saves and 17 assists. Krystala Cross, 6 kills.

Jennifer Gentry, 2 aces, 9 kills, 1 block. Denise Gonzales, 4 aces, 3 saves, 12 assists and 1 block. Amy Chadwick, 4 aces. Jessica Gutierrez, 1 ace.

Against Dora:
Williams, 2 aces, 3 kills, 1 save, 3 blocks. Pierce, 1 ace, 10 kills, 2 saves. Cavallero, 2 aces, 1 kill, 3 saves, 34 assists. Cross, 6 kills, 1 save, 3 blocks.

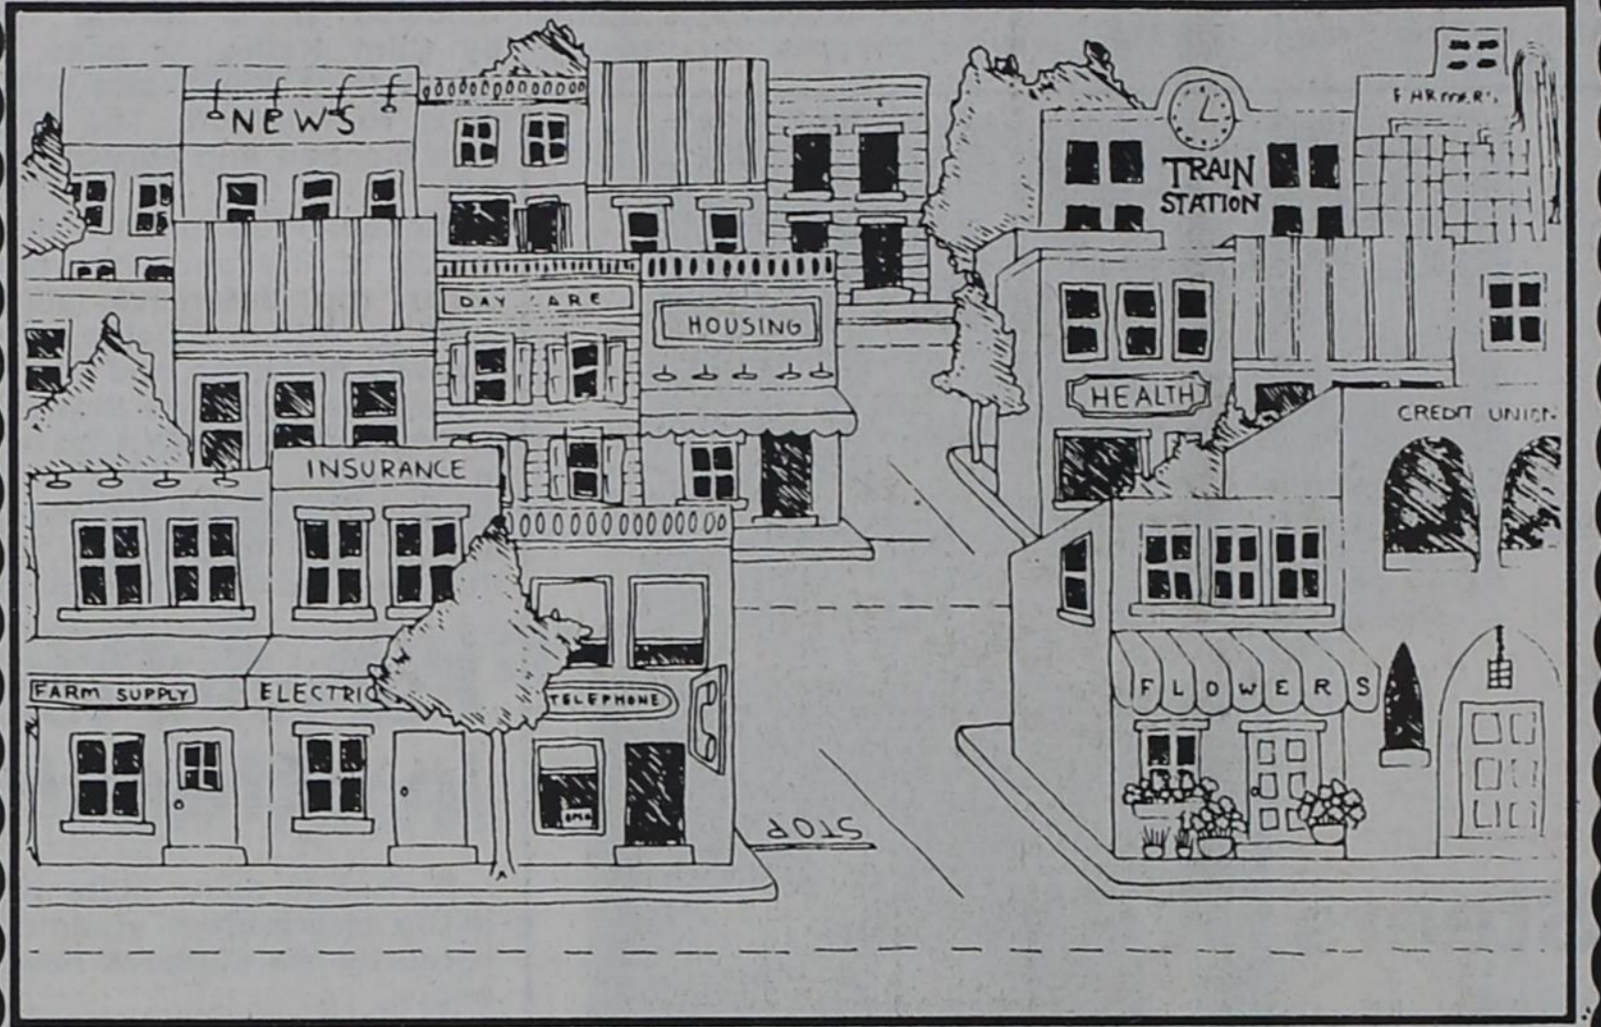

Gentry, 5 aces, 7 kills, 2 saves, 1 block. Gonzales, 1 ace, 3 saves, 17 assists, 1 kill. Chadwick, 3 aces. Gutierrez, 3 aces, 1 save. Marsha Hamilton, 1 save.

A high point of the Melrose match occurred when Jessica Gutierrez came off the bench to score on all 11 of her serves. "We needed that desperately," said coach Littlejohn.

Littlejohn said he was pleased with the passing, but the serving and spiking need a lot of work. "We didn't play badly, we just need to play better," he said.

"Each night it seems to be something else. We need to get it all together pretty quick since the district tournament begins in two weeks."

Cooperative Main Street

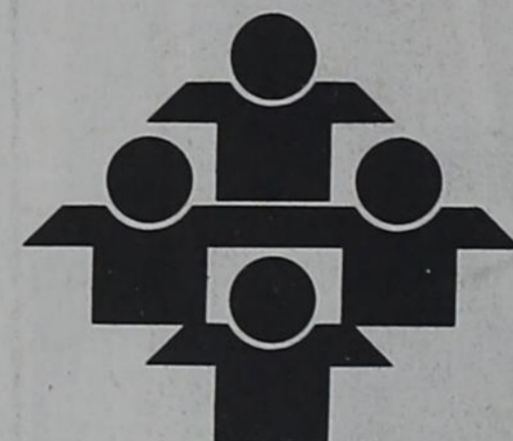

Downtown, uptown, across town — from county to county, state to state and all across the nation — cooperatives play an important role in helping their communities thrive.

In urban areas, the suburbs, small towns and rural communities there are 45,000 cooperative organizations that serve 90 million people. These co-ops, owned and operated by their members, provide a wide range of goods and services that benefit their friends, neighbors and communities.

There are co-ops for electric and telephone service, credit unions, farm marketing and farm supply, insurance, health and day care, farm credit, housing, florists and news services. In fact, there could be a co-op for anything and anywhere people need to get things done both economically and efficiently.

Look around your neighborhood and community — no doubt you'll find a co-op or two working hard to provide important services that benefit everyone. Building communities the cooperative way benefits the entire nation!

Six county gins receive special awards

Of the 1,598 gins across the Cotton Belt, 680 recently received a special award.

Six gins in Parmer County were among the 680 gins to receive the Cotton Board's Distinguished Service Award for achieving above 80 percent grower participation in the Cotton Research and Promotion Program.

Honored were Farwell Gin, Lawlis Gin, Oklahoma Lane Gin, North Lazbuddie Gin, and West Hub Gin.

The Cotton Research and Promotion Program is a commodity self-help program, administered by the Cotton Board, conducted by Cotton Incorporated and funded by U.S. Upland cotton producers through per - bale assessments. Through this collective marketing effort, U.S. Upland cotton producers have a team of scientists working for them to expand cotton's markets.

"With their outstanding support, these gins, and the growers they serve, have done a tremendous service for the cotton industry," said Jim Hansen, a Corcoran, Calif., cotton producer currently serving as Chairman of the Cotton Board.

"Today we have an innovative and aggressive cotton industry," says Hansen. "Net domestic consumption is up from 6.7 million bales in 1975 to 11 million bales in 1988, an increase of 64 percent. Cotton's market share at the retail counter rose to 49 percent. Cotton's market share at the retail counter rose to 49 percent in 1988, up from 34 percent in 1975," Hansen said. "Much of this improvement is the result of Cotton Incorporated market - building work."

From worldwide marketing offices Cotton Incorporated works to build recognition and awareness of cotton's benefits through advertising and promotion. Equally important, new cotton products developed at Cotton Incorporated's Raleigh Research Center Help to fuel consumer demand for cotton at the retail counter.

The 680 gins receiving the Distinguished Service Award, processed 4,983,147 bales of the 1988 - 89 U.S. Upland cotton crop. Of the 680 gins, 147 were first time recipients.

Cotton's market share increases

Donald Johnson of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. reports that cotton holds a 53 percent share of the clothing market, up from 49 percent in 1986. Sixty percent of this year's total cotton consumption of 5 million bales will go to the apparel industry.

Petition heard

A petition from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc, Lubbock, and other farm organizations that the U.S. Department of Agriculture issue rules to forestall sharp inequities in the administration of the 1989 Disaster Assistance Act isn't falling on deaf ears.

According to Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, that's the report from Texas senators and representatives in Washington who at PCG's request confronted USDA on potential disaster payment problems. The issues were detailed by PCG in an Aug. 30 letter to Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeuter and area legislators.

"Department officials have made no commitments of any kind," Johnson cautions, "but it's encouraging to know that the problems we anticipate are getting a hearing before final decisions are made, which isn't expected before mid - September."

A major concern expressed in PCG's letter involves the administration of the law's Section 110 which requires disaster payments to be reduced by an amount that reflects the value of any crop produced as a replacement for the crop on which a disaster payment is made. If further specifies that the value of the second crop shall be "based on" the actual yield of the second crop and the average market price of such crop over a representative period.

"Should this be construed to mean the simple product of yield times price, with no allowance for the cost of producing and harvesting the second crop," PCG points out, "a grave injustice will have been done. Thousands of producers will be denied much or all of their disaster payments by reason of having made an earnest, expensive and often futile effort to recoup at least a part of their losses."

Recipe of Week

Fish with mushroom and tomato

1 Tbs. vegetable oil
1 c. chopped onion
1 c. sliced fresh mushrooms
1 c. chopped ripe tomatoes
salt and pepper
1 lb. lean white fish fillets
1/4 c. shredded part - skim mozzarella cheese

Heat oil in heavy skillet. Add onion and mushrooms and saute over medium heat 2 - 3 minutes, stirring frequently. Add tomatoes, salt and pepper and continue cooking 3 - 5 minutes or until vegetables are almost soft. Pour boiling water into bottom of broiler pan and turn broiler on. Place fillets close together on rack. Cover with vegetable mixture and sprinkle cheese on top. Place rack in broiler pan and broil 5 - 7 minutes or until cheese is melted and fish flakes when tested with a fork. If cheese browns before fish is done, turn heat off. Hot steam will finish the cooking. Makes 4 servings. This recipe is from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Consumer preference for 100 percent cotton and cotton - rich blends was also evidenced by an increased use of cotton in knits such as sport shirts, sweatshirts, underwear, non - sheer hosiery and sweaters. Knit items used almost 2.3 million bales, 47 percent of the cotton that went into apparel. Comparable numbers for 1987 were 2.2 million bales and only 44 percent of the total.

Woven fabrics however continue to dominate cotton in apparel constructions, consuming over 2.5 million bales or 53 percent of total clothing use. Denim and twill cotton constructions proved the most popular end - uses.

Home furnishings, cotton's second strongest market sector, also consumed 2.5 million bales, about 32 percent of the total for 1988. That equals the 2.5 million consumed in home furnishings in 1987 and is a significant gain from the 2.3 million used in 1986.

A more detailed breakdown reveals that cotton's top five end - uses accounted for almost four million bales, about half the eight million consumed in all end - uses. Men's and boys' shirts, with 1,033 million bales used, topped the list.

They were joined in the top five by men's and boys' trousers and shorts, 976,000 bales; towels and washcloths, 895,000; drapery, upholstery and slipcover fabrics, 541,000, and women's slacks and jeans with 522,000 bales consumed.

The number one factor contributing to the increases in cotton consumption in 1988 and in the steady trend of gains in cotton's market share since the 1960's, Johnson believes, is producer support for the research and market development work of Cotton Incorporated.

Kristi Lovelace weds David Woods

Kristi Lynne Lovelace, daughter of Karen Lovelace and Tom Lovelace of Farwell, and David Wayne Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carliss Woods of Farwell were united in matrimony on July 15 at the First Baptist Church of Farwell. Rev. Rick Sullivan officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with a brass archway and spiral candelabra with votive lights. The flowers were aqua and teal colored blooms. Pews were marked with aqua and silver pew markers. There was a unity candle decorated with silk ferns.

Music for the service was provided by pianist Karen Austin and organist Marjory Watkins and a quartet of singers: Cindy Littlejohn, Sheryl Taylor, Jimmy Franse and Mike Blanton.

The bride was given away by her father, Tom Lovelace. She wore a white satin floor length gown. The front off-the-shoulder neckline was decorated with seed pearls and sequins. The back was cut in a low v-shape that ended at a large white satin bow. The short sleeves were decorated with three ruffles. The dress had a circular train.

The bride's outfit included elbow length lace gloves. She wore a crown of flowers and a band of pearls to hold her elbow-length, silk illusion veil with her dress. She also wore four strands of pearls with her dress.

The bride wore a gold bracelet belonging to her grandmother for something old, and a new pearl necklace and earrings for something new. Her wedding bible was something borrowed, and her garter was something blue.

The bride's cascading bouquet contained white bridal tea roses, phalaenopsis orchids, freesia laced with baby's breath and ming fern.

The maid of honor was Leah Vandiver; the bridesmaids were Kendra Stephens and Kristi Stephens, all of Farwell. The attendants wore aqua mist long dresses with ruffled, off-the-shoulder sleeves. The dresses had fitted waist lines.

Each wore matching lace gloves and hairpieces of pearls and aqua silk roses. They carried fresh white roses and baby's breath decorated with aqua ribbon.

The candle lighters were Chelsi Woods and Matt Taylor. The ring bearers were Lindsey Rich and Brock Taylor of Farwell.

The flower girls were Keeley Rich and Holly Lovelace. They wore white lace dresses with aqua mist trim and matching hair accessories.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white tie and white rose boutonniere.

The best man was Joe Jaime. Roger Robertson and Jody Ketcherside of Lubbock were groomsmen. The groomsmen wore silver tuxedos with aqua mist ties and cummerbunds.

The ushers were Andy Pat Hughes of Portales, N.M., Greg Taylor, Mike Woods, and Homer Anzaldua.

The bride's mother wore a dress of aqua mist lace with satin underlay. Both the bride's and the groom's mothers wore corsages of white roses with silver and aqua mist ribbon trim. The groom's mother wore an dropped waist pastel floral print dress with ruffled sleeves and 3 layered ruffles at the skirt.

Leigh Ann Woods was at the registration table before the service. It was decorated with a balloon bouquet and baby pictures.

The wedding ceremony was followed by a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table was decorated with the three-tiered bride's cake that included a fountain, a spiral stairway decorated with dolls dressed like the bride's attendants, columns, bells, and aqua and teal roses and fresh ivy swags. Serving at the bride's table were Tammi Rich and Ruth Schell.

Sheryl Taylor and Leigh Ann Woods served at the groom's table which was decorated with a silver coffee service and a balloon bouquet. The groom's chocolate cake was decorated with chocolate roses.

Following the reception, the bride donned a navy and white silk pant suit with a white rose corsage for the wedding trip. The couple enjoyed a trip to Red River and Taos.

The bride is a 1989 Farwell High graduate who will study art production at the Phoenix Institute of Technology in Phoenix. The groom is a 1987 graduate of Farwell High. He will study architecture at the Phoenix Institute of Technology. They will reside at 4030 N. 44th Ave. Apt. 1077, Phoenix, Ariz.

State to give aid

The Parmer County Commissioners approved participating in two state programs whereby the state helps with funds for emergency aid to county residents.

Under one program, the state will help with funds for heating and electricity. Under the other, the state will aid with a wider range of help, including rent, utilities and groceries.

In other business, the commissioners received a letter from the state Department of Health notifying it that since the county doesn't have rules on on-site sewerage facilities, state rules will prevail in Parmer County.

The commissioners voted to use its 1,101 votes for the Parmer County Appraisal

District Board to support the candidate nominated by the Lazbuddie School Board. This was done to ensure that Lazbuddie has a seat on the board.

Besides the county's 1,101 votes, here's the breakdown on other governmental units' vote totals:

Bovina city, 94; Friona city, 487; Farwell city, 67; Bovina Schools, 544; Friona Schools, 1,344; Farwell Schools, 853; and Lazbuddie Schools, 510.

The number of votes is based on tax levies.

Garcia honored

Fabian Garcia's pencil drawing of an old lantern was featured on a poster for the New Mexico State Fair Art exhibit.

Fabian was a fifth grade student at Texico Elementary School when he made the drawing. It was one of only 12 chosen in the state of New Mexico that received this honor.

The drawing was chosen by a committee which made their choice after looking at all of the items on display at the state fair last year.

Fabian did the drawing while he was a student in Billie Cooper's art class. She sent about 150 items made last year by Texico students to the state fair.

"The state fair is always held the first week or two of school, and there isn't time to get the students to make many things in that time. I always save the best projects until after the state fair before I return them to the students."

Each student who participated in the state fair display received a ribbon. Mrs. Cooper has displayed many of the drawings, and they will also be on display for open house Nov. 2.

The school climate

(This article was submitted by the staff of Farwell Junior High School.)

In recent years, many studies have been conducted in the area of effective schools. The following ingredients have been consistently identified as characteristics in effective schools. They are instructional leadership and focus, high expectations, measurement and school climate.

We want to focus this article on school climate. School climate is an atmosphere which is orderly without being rigid, quiet without being oppressive and generally conducive to teaching and learning. Everyone is involved in school climate.

It starts when a child steps onto the school bus in the morning and ends what that child steps off. Bus drivers, teachers, custodians, administrators, secretaries, cafeteria workers and support personnel are all involved in creating and maintaining a positive school climate. It must be a team effort.

A school's climate or environment should encourage the capabilities and emphasize the worth of all individuals involved within its system. Six major areas contribute to positive school climate:

1. Caring - Interactions among students, staff and administrators must be one of caring for each other.

2. Respect - Everyone must be committed to the school's goals. The staff and students must show mutual respect for one another.

3. Trust - A climate of confidence and trust should exist between students, teachers, parents, administrators and trustees.

4. Morale - Staff and students must support one another and work harmoniously.

5. Social Development - A code of conduct should be developed by all concerned that specifies acceptable student behavior, procedures, and consequences. Staff members should serve as models of this conduct and reward appropriate student behaviors. Students, parents and staff need to accept the code and share the responsibility for discipline.

6. Academic Development - The school community believes that all students can learn and that the school can make a difference. The students and staff should expect success. Accomplishments of students and staff members should be recognized and awarded.

The goal of teaching and schooling is to effect learning and those processes and models which facilitate learning are worth of serious consideration. Creating a positive school climate within our Farwell schools is one means of helping our entire scholastic community make significant improvements in learning for all our students. Farwell Schools does many things well, but excellence comes by making what is working well work even better and by disseminating successful practices. We are striving for excellence!
