

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

There's no 'P' in t-e-a-m

I thought this would be a good time to update our readers on my feelings regarding our local football teams.

We have three very good teams here - Farwell, Texico and Lazbuddie.

As longtime readers know, I'm a bit out of kilter with local folks on the objectives of sports. I put a high premium on what youths can learn from them, such as discipline, team work, etc. Other folks like to just plain out WIN.

Well, this year we may be able to have it both ways. Our teams have started out extremely well: Farwell is 4-0, Texico 4-1 and Lazbuddie 3-1.

We're planning extensive coverage of our local teams this year as they head for state! And we're very fortunate to have J.R. Ivins around, since his photography is indispensable for our Steer coverage.

Speaking of the Steers, I would like to take this opportunity to comment on another aspect of newspaper coverage - concerning the individuals involved.

As folks know, I rarely point out the feats of our local athletes during a season except for giving their statistics and rankings in the regular stories. In six years here, I have not written a story about any individual high school athletes - except after the season is over.

I think this is important for a local newspaper to do it this way because by stressing the individual deeds of a particular player during the season often can be disruptive to the team.

I'll give you an example: A couple of weeks ago, I was talking with a friend who had seen the nice write-up the Lubbock paper had done on Greg Actkinson, Steer quarterback. And one of my friend's comments was "...and Greg did a good job in the write-up, giving the team credit..."

That's the way it should be and it was good that Greg has the maturity to handle it that way.

On the Farwell team, we have players who have a good chance at playing college ball - major college ball. Actkinson, Shawn Stewart (running back and wide receiver) and Darren Haseloff (end and linebacker) come to mind immediately, although other players on the team are showing a lot of stuff, too.

However, I will not be writing of their specific exploits during the season except as part of the game stories. It's not that I am trying to ignore them, but that I think it's better to keep their play in context.

Now, if I were a large newspaper, I would have a different perspective. And I think folks understand that how area-wide newspapers cover things often are different than how a local paper looks at the same situation. That's acceptable.

Now, after the season is done, I plan to level individual praise where I feel it belongs. But for now, don't expect big blurbs about individuals. Instead, you will see me point out the teamwork involved in creating a successful season. A perfect example would be this: the agility and quickness of the Steer line is phenomenal!

We hear that Albert "Blackie" and Carolla Smith won 1st place in a 42 tourney in Childers, Texas. And they brought home a real nice trophy for their efforts.

Argentinian attends school here

Victor Andriani

Victor Andriani, the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club foreign exchange student from Argentina who is attending Farwell High School this year, finds American football "more secure" than rugby. Rugby players don't wear all of the padding and protective gear that American football players do.

He is enjoying his experiences as split end and linebacker for the Farwell Steers this year. It is his first experience with American football, but the rugby experience has given him some skills that transfer to American football easily. Now, all he has to do is figure out how the plays work.

American football is not played in Argentina very much at all. Of course, rugby is a sport that Argentine youths play only occasionally. Soccer is a much more popular sport there.

"When you're small, they put a ball in front of you, and you start kicking. Everybody plays," says Andriani.

In Argentina, sports are not a major part of the school day. School lasts only a few hours in the morning or afternoon, and students have the rest of the day to study or participate in sports.

Over the years, Victor has joined various clubs so that he could participate in soccer, swimming, rugby, hockey, and several other activities through various sports clubs.

Oddly enough, few people play Argentina's national sport - pato. Pato is played on horseback with a ball that has eight handles attached to it. Each four man team attempts to put the ball into a net two meters off the ground. Because the sport requires horseback riding, it is an expensive sport that is played mostly by some of the polo-playing set.

Many Americans imagine that all Argentinians are horseback riders because most of the articles and films about Argentina that we see show gauchos riding across the pampas on horseback throwing bolos and herding cattle.

Victor doesn't live in cattle country. His hometown is Cipolletti in the state of Rio Negros. The area is very much like the New Mexican Rio Grand Valley.

"I feel right at home here," he says. The temperature, altitude, and climate are all similar here to his home.

Like many parts of New Mexico, the area near Cipolletti is sheep raising country more frequently than cattle raising country.

The river valley also supports many artificially irrigated groves of apple, peach and pear trees which produce fruit that is shipped all over the world. Grapes are also grown in the region. Cipolletti is the home of several plants to process canned and frozen fruits, fruit juice, wine, cider and beer.

Victor's home region is also similar to the American West in several other ways. His region, like our Southwest, is newer than the coastal areas. It was not settled until about 150 years ago when the Tehuelches Indian Wars ended.

Also like our Southwest, Rio Negro state is an area where the cultures and traditions of several ethnic groups come together. Argentinian Spanish, Indians, and Chileans come together there. Each group brings different ideas and attitudes. Since the Falkland (or Malvinas, as he says) Islands War, the population of the Rio Negro area has increased dramatically. Newcomers bring attitudes and ideas that fuel the development of the region.

"My region is new and growing; there are many new houses and factories," says Victor.

Man-made lakes which were built to help generate electricity and to control irrigation have enabled much of the growth of the region. They have also created recreation areas. "We have a lot of water skiing," says Victor.

The Andriani family often enjoys the recreation facilities in their areas. They also enjoy seaside vacations and trips to the Andes Mountains.

"When I was little we would go to visit my grandmother in Santa Fe in the Andes Mountains. It is a lot like the Santa Fe here. It is about 1,400 kilometers high."

The Andriani family includes Victor's father, Nestor, who is a math professor and secondary school principal; his mother, Nelida, a primary school teacher; two brothers, Walter, 24, and Julio, 12, and a sister, Valeria, 16.

Walter attends a university in Buenos Aires where he studies and also works in a computer business. Both Julio and Valeria are students; Julio is in primary school, and Valeria is in secondary school.

When Victor returns to Argentina next spring he will enroll in a university there - possibly in Buenos Aires where his brother goes to school. He will have a rather long vacation because the new school term will not begin until March. He is thinking about what he will do in the meantime.

In Farwell, Victor lives with the James Chadwick family.

Weekend rain slows corn harvest

The corn harvest has been slowed down by much needed rains. The moisture provided a pleasant break in the routine.

Lonnie McFarland, manager of the Sherley Anderson Grain Elevator in Lariat, said the area still is a little low this year. Lariat has received 10.48" of moisture so far this year compared to 15" last year.

What happens in the next few months will be important to the farmers. But, the moisture situation is nowhere as bleak as it was in June when the thermometer topped 100 degrees day after day, and there were no rain clouds in sight.

McFarland reported .8" of rain on Sept. 29, and .4" on Oct. 2 with gray skies and mist in between.

In Farwell, Fred Chandler of Sherley Anderson Pitman Grain reports that he measured about 1.2" over the weekend and .4" of moisture on Oct. 2 for a total of 1.6".

Scott Brown of Sherley Anderson Grain in Lazbuddie reports 1.2" of moisture fell over the weekend and .9" of rain fell in Lazbuddie on Oct. 2. "We are finally catching up. It came at the wrong time, but we'll take it," he said.

The harvest will get back into full swing as soon as the fields are dry.

Ag class takes 5th grid contest

Besides the hundreds of individuals who enter the Area Merchants Football Contest each week, there also are a bunch of classes at Texico and Farwell schools who enter.

And last week one of them won.

In a week highlighted by low, low scores, the 6th period ag class at Farwell had 10 of the 12 games picked correctly to win the first place cash prize of $10.

Five contestants got 9 right. Winning the second place cash prize of $5 was Jarrett Winkles of Texico. She was 4 off the tie breaker (Texico 22, Jal 15).

Others with 9 right (and their totals off the tie breaker) were Geneva Rubio, 31; Leslie Williams, 15; Robin Mahaney, 7, and Steve Kittrell, 15.

With 8 right were: Jamie Bethel, Scott Brown, Wade Gargile, June Hunt, Brian Johnson, Randy Johnson, Billy Roberts, Derrick Haseloff, Katrina Stewart, Kelvin Gooden, Geneva Hardage, Helen Armstrong.

Also, Domingo Rubio, Darla Armstrong, Lezlie Castleberry, Butch Davis, Becky Delgado, Truman Kittrell, Domingo Orozco, Sandra Warren, Veronica Soto, Mark Williams.

With 5 weeks of the 12 week-contest completed, it's closed in at the top. Carl Dean Goettsch's lead of 2 points last week is now 1 - and 3 entrants are tied for second.

Here's a look at the leader board:

44 points - Carl Dean Goettsch.

43 - Mike Goettsch, Roy King, Steve Kittrell.

42 - Douglas Hill, Teresa King, Clyde McDonald, Texico world history 4th period class.

41 - Rex Cumpton, Donnie McDonald, Val Tarbet.

40 - Scott Brown, Sammy Herrera, Gloria Mahaney, Billy Roberts, Amy Jo Murray, Becky Murphy, Albert Smith, Nolia Walls.

39 - Gene Christian, Lesley Curtis, Gerald Hardage, Brent Harrison, Richard Luscombe, Dick Pylant, Gaye Roberts, Nancy Roberts, Bruce Scroggins, Lesley Scroggins, Shawn Stewart.

No one picked the tie between Auburn and Tennessee last week. Here are the rest of the results:

Farwell over Sudan, Clovis over Albuquerque Highland, Abernathy over Olton, West Virginia over Pittsburgh, Baylor over Texas Tech, LSU over Texas A & M, USC over Ohio State, Buffalo over Denver, Miami over Pittsburgh, Green Bay over Detroit and Tampa Bay over Minnesota.

Rules for the 1990 contest will be the same as in the past. A person must be at least 12 years of age to enter. Games will be divided among high school, college and professional ranks. In case of a tie game, unless a tie is predicted by the entrant, the game will not be counted.

Each entrant must remember to pick a tie-breaker score, a very important feature of the contest since many weekly winners (and

Each week's scoring is tabulated and kept on public view at the Tribune office. Standings are posted each Monday and may be seen during regular business hours.

All entry blanks must be turned in to the Tribune office by 5 p.m. cdt Fridays, or if mailed, must bear a Friday postmark.

Rose's special talents and interests include being a scout leader, a computer bulletin board operator and sailing.

In the future, Rose plans to serve a residency in family practice.

Supplies collected for GPs abroad

Farwell Elementary School is asking its students to become aware of our nation's efforts in the Middle East. Cannon Air Force Base is collecting supplies to send to our American soldiers in Saudi Arabia.

Several former Farwell students are serving our country in that area.

Below is a list of supplies that could help make these citizens that are far away from home realize that we appreciate their efforts to protect our economic interests:

Sunblock, moisturizing lotion, dry powdered drink mixes (Tang, Kool Aid, Wylers), card games, crossword puzzles, lip balm, snack (chips, nuts, and crackers in sealed packages

- especially the cardboard tube type packages, board games, liquid soap only.

Items which may not be sent include: tobacco, religious material, alcohol, porno, pork rinds (pork is forbidden in the Moslem religion).

Donations are also being accepted to purchase some of the items. Between Oct. 3 and 12, all items collected will be boxed and sent. The kindergarten is decorating camouflage boxes to be placed in each building.

This project is designed to help make each child aware of what is going on in the world by not only reading and watching on television, but also by taking a positive action.

Crooks joins realty

Margie Crooks

Margie Crooks of Texico has become a sales associate at Pierce Realty.

Mrs. Crooks had worked for 28 years at Triangle Home Center in Clovis where she learned about the materials used in the construction industry, and where she dealt frequently with contractors. She believes that this background will be extremely helpful to her in the real estate business.

To prepare for this career change, Mrs. Crooks completed a real estate sales course from the Norris School of Real Estate.

This isn't the first time that Mrs. Crooks has changed the direction of her life. When her children were little, they and her husband were the focal points of her life. She was active in those days as a room mother, class sponsor, Booster Club member, and Texico Woman's Club member.

The Crooks' community service earned them the Man and Woman of the Year awards from the Texico Chamber of Commerce in 1989.

Now that her children, Britt and Lisa Crooks of Albuquerque and Gia Hardage of Farwell are grown, it is time for Mrs. Crooks try something new.

Also elected were: Dawnda Magby, vice president; Sharna Foster, secretary-treasurer; Lori Bradshaw, reporter; and Jason Thomas, council delegate.

Refreshments of homemade ice cream, cookies, and punch were served by the members' parents. There was no regular program for this meeting; it was primarily a time for getting re-acquainted with other members.

Lady Spikers go at it

In the first round of the Capitan Tournament Texico beat Carrizozo in three games: 16-14; 15-4; and 15-12.

"We played a lot better in this game than we did last Thursday against Floyd. We were hitting and serving the ball better. There were a lot of coferences in the games. Against Floyd we struggled," said coach Michael Littlejohn.

"This game against Carrizozo wasn't a big district win, and I would have liked the team to have been a little prettier, but we'll take it anyway," he said.

Outstanding statistics for the match include: Amy Chadwick - 13 aces, 7 kills and 3 blocks; Chesna Campbell - 4 aces, 6 assists; Leah Vandiver - 3 aces; Penny Pierce - 1 ace, 9 kills, 3 blocks; Denise Gonzales - 4 aces, 1 kill, 13 assists; Marsha Hamilton - 1 ace.

Lorissa Pate, Chanda Campbell, and Leslie Servatius also played in this match.

In the second round, Texico met Fort Sumner. "We started out real well, but we couldn't maintain anything," said coach Littlejohn of the match. "They beat us in 3 close ones."

The scores were: 11-15; 9-11; and 14-16. Fort Sumner was "a good team, but if we had played as well as we were capable, we could have won in 3-4 games. It disappointed us."

In the match with Ft. Sumner, the scoring stats included: Chadwick - 3 aces, 8 kills; Chesna Campbell - 1 ace; 7 assists; Vandiver - 1 block; Pierce - 2 aces, 12 kills; 5 blocks; Gonzales, 3 aces, 18 sets; Hamilton, 5 kills; Dara Jenkins, 4 aces.

In the next round of the tournament, Texico lost to Capitan in a tough match: 8-15; 15-10; 15-9; 7-15; and 13-15.

"We played very well there; it was one of our better games," said Littlejohn.

Texico was up by two games when Capitan fought back and won two. Then they fought it out in the final game until Capitan had scored a 2 point victory.

Three members of the Texico Lady Spikers were named to the All Tournament Team at the Capitan Tournament last weekend; Amy Chadwick, Penny Pierce, and Denise Gonzales.

"Capitan happens to be one of the top teams in the state," said Littlejohn. "Last time we played they beat us in three. I felt like we improved quite a bit."

Stats for the match include: Chadwick - 6 aces, 8 kills; 3 stuff blocks; Chesna Campbell - 5 aces, 8 assists; Pierce - 4 aces, 16 kills, 4 blocks; Gonzales - 25 assists; Hamilton - 9 kills; Jenkins - 4 aces; 6 kills.

Leah Vandiver and Lorissa Pate also played in this match.

Texico beat Floyd in a 5 game match on Sept. 27, 15-8; 12-15; 15-10; 13-15; and 15-8.

Stats in this see-saw battle include: Chadwick - 12 aces, 15 kills; 4 saves, and 4 stuff blocks; Chesna Campbell - 3 aces; 20 assists; Vandiver - 7 kills; Pierce - 6 aces, 2 blocks; Gonzales, 35 assists; 4 saves.

Marsha Hamilton, Amber Bruce and Chanda Campbell also played in this match.

'Scratch and Sniff'

As part of the Southern Union Gas annual safety campaign this year, more than 400,000 "scratch-and-sniff" folders will be mailed to customers in October to acquaint them with the harmless odor of natural gas. Folders will also be made available to teachers for use as aids in their safety lessons and made available to community groups this fall.

The company hopes that by acquainting the public with the odor of natural gas, people will be more alert in detecting gas leaks in their homes, in buildings or out-of-doors and will respond by calling Southern Union Gas immediately.

Natural gas has no smell in its natural state. So that people can detect gas leaks and report them, Southern Union Gas adds a distinctive harmless odor to their natural gas. The "scratch-and-sniff" folders emit a sample of this odor when opened.

Prices Effective Oct. 4 - 10, 1990

Here are some facts we'd like you to know:

Gasoline Prices: A Matter of Supply and Demand

► Crude Oil - A Commodity

Just like coffee, sugar and grains, crude oil and petroleum products are commodities. Unlike other commodities, however, oil supplies are limited and non-renewable. More of them cannot be grown the next year.

► Commodity Prices Based on Replacement Costs

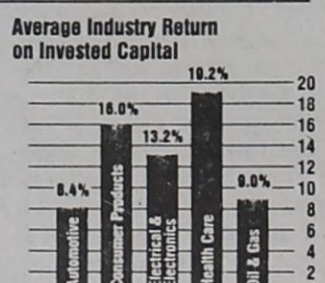

Commodity prices are determined in open markets by the law of "anticipated" supply and demand. "Anticipated" since commodities are bought and sold based on what experts anticipate prices will be at some future date to replace supplies being sold today. A report of a hard freeze in Florida will cause the price of juice oranges ripening on the trees to rise immediately. A drought in Kansas will immediately raise the price of corn currently growing in the fields. A military action in the Middle East will cause the price of crude oil to rise immediately.

► Crude Oil Can Experience Drastic Price Swings

Crude oil, from which gasoline, diesel and aviation fuels, motor oils and many petrochemical feedstocks are refined, is traded in a worldwide market. When a military action or the threat of one occurs, or an embargo is enforced over one or more of the "crude rich" oil exporting countries, the price of crude oil everywhere in the world goes up immediately.

► Annual Rate of Return on Investment for Oil Companies

Between 1984 and 1989, the 20 leading U.S. oil companies made a lower annual rate of return on their investment than did non-petroleum manufacturing companies. The simple fact is, the oil industry is highly competitive and companies cannot set prices to assure high profits. Price - and profit levels - are set by the market forces of supply and demand.

Steers keep up the assault; stop Sudan

The Farwell Steers ended its pre-district schedule with a resounding 40-0 victory over the Sudan Hornets in an away game last Friday.

Farwell, 4-0, has an open date this weekend before starting its district round.

Sudan, which is highly ranked in the area and known for its defense, was unable to halt the Steer attack.

The Hornets started the game with a successful surprise onside kick which they recovered at the Farwell 47. Unable to move the ball, they punted to the Farwell 15. Sudan then recovered a lateral, tossed by Greg Actkinson to Shawn Haseloff, who had been blocked, at the Steer 5. Farwell held for all four downs. Thus, Sudan had started the game with two good breaks but were unable to capitalize on them.

Farwell's Shawn Stewart then ran for two good gainers but Sudan held. The teams exchanged punts and Darren Haseloff returned the latter punt 37 yards. A penalty stopped Farwell as the quarter ended. On defense, Michael Arce had a strong tackle.

In the second quarter, Sudan had a 4th and 2, went for it, made it, but was later stopped at the Steer 37. Then Farwell began rolling.

Stewart ripped off gains of 15 and 10, and Joel Smith added 7. An Actkinson pass to Haseloff covered 20 yards to the Sudan 5. Stewart then scored the TD at 3:44. The kick was wide.

Less than two minutes later, Monty Delgado recovered a fumble at the Sudan 28. After a 15-yard pass to Haseloff got the ball to the 1, Stewart plunged over for his second TD at 1:11. The pass for the extra points failed.

On the kickoff, Kirk Lingnau made a strong tackle at the Sudan 16. Then, as time ran out, Sudan fumbled at its own 30. The ball was picked up by Chad Byrd who scored. Actkinson ran in the 2 extra points and it was 20-0 at the half.

Farwell opened the third quarter by kicking off. Haseloff recovered a fumble at the Hornet 25. The Steers struck quickly as Smith scored from the 3. A bad snap eliminated the extra point try and it was 26-0 at 9:10.

On defense, Smith had a QB sack and Haseloff had a strong tackle. Sudan tried to punt but its snap was bad and the Hornet punter was tackled at his own 12. Actkinson then hit Haseloff with a 12-yard TD pass at 4:30. Haseloff's kick was good and it was 33-0.

In the fourth quarter, Actkinson had an interception at midfield but it was nullified due to penalty. Ruben Lucio had a QB sack. And Farwell took over at the 50.

Stewart caught a bullet Actkinson pass for 25, then Stewart ran for 15. Smith scored from the 3 at 5:28. The Haseloff kick was good and it was 40-0.

Haseloff prevented a Sudan TD by the kick returner. Then there was some argument over a penalty against Farwell and Sudan ended up on the Steer 5. Coach Rex Cumpton put back in his first string defense and the Steers stopped Sudan from scoring. On its last play, Haseloff intercepted and ran the ball back 50 yards.

Individual statistics were: Rushing - Stewart, 12 for 92 yards and 2 TDs; Smith, 10 for 35 yards and 2 TDs; Delgado, 2 for 6; Lingnau, 2 for 6; and Actkinson, 8 for 19. Receiving - Haseloff, 3 for 48 yards; Stewart, 1 for 25.

Team statistics were: Rushing - Farwell, 35 for 155 yards; Sudan, 51 for 93; passing - Farwell, 4 for 12 and 73 yards; Sudan, 2 for 7 and 16 yards; first downs - Farwell 15, Sudan 9; penalties - Farwell 9 for 105 yards; Sudan, 5 for 25; and punts - Farwell, 3 for 24 yard average; Sudan, 6 for 10 yard average.

Coach Rex Cumpton's comments: "Our defense played very well. When you have two goal line stands in one game and limit your opponent to less than 2 yards per snap, you have to be very pleased. Offensively, we did not execute as well as we have in games past. We did not put big stats on the board, but that was partly because we got a couple of turnovers and did not have to go very far for two of our TDs. All in all, it was a very good effort by the whole team. We will enjoy this week off and try to get all of the bumps and bruises well."

According to area statistics kept by the Lubbock newspaper, Farwell ranks third in team offense with 348 yards a game, and 6th in team defense, allowing 157 yards a game.

Individual statistics among area leaders shows Stewart ranking 3rd among rushers with 117.8 yards a game, and 2nd among scoring leaders with 74 points, including 12 TDs. Among area passers, Actkinson ranks 1st with 17 completions in 40 attempts for an average of 165 yards a game. Among area receivers, Haseloff ranks 1st with 11 completions for 312 yards - a 28.4 yard average.

Holly Sugar's ion exclusion process explained

Below is an explanation of the process from Holly Sugar Corporation:

"Imagine gallons of beet molasses pumped into a large cylinder filled with very, very small beads. The beads are resin, and they work in two distinct ways to separate sugar from non-sugar molecules within molasses.

First, the resins are electrically charged to act like non-sugar molecules. Because like charges repel one another, these molecules pass through the cylinder unabsorbed by the resins. Second, the pores in the skin of the resin are precisely the size that allow sugar molecules in, and keep larger, non-sugar molecules out.

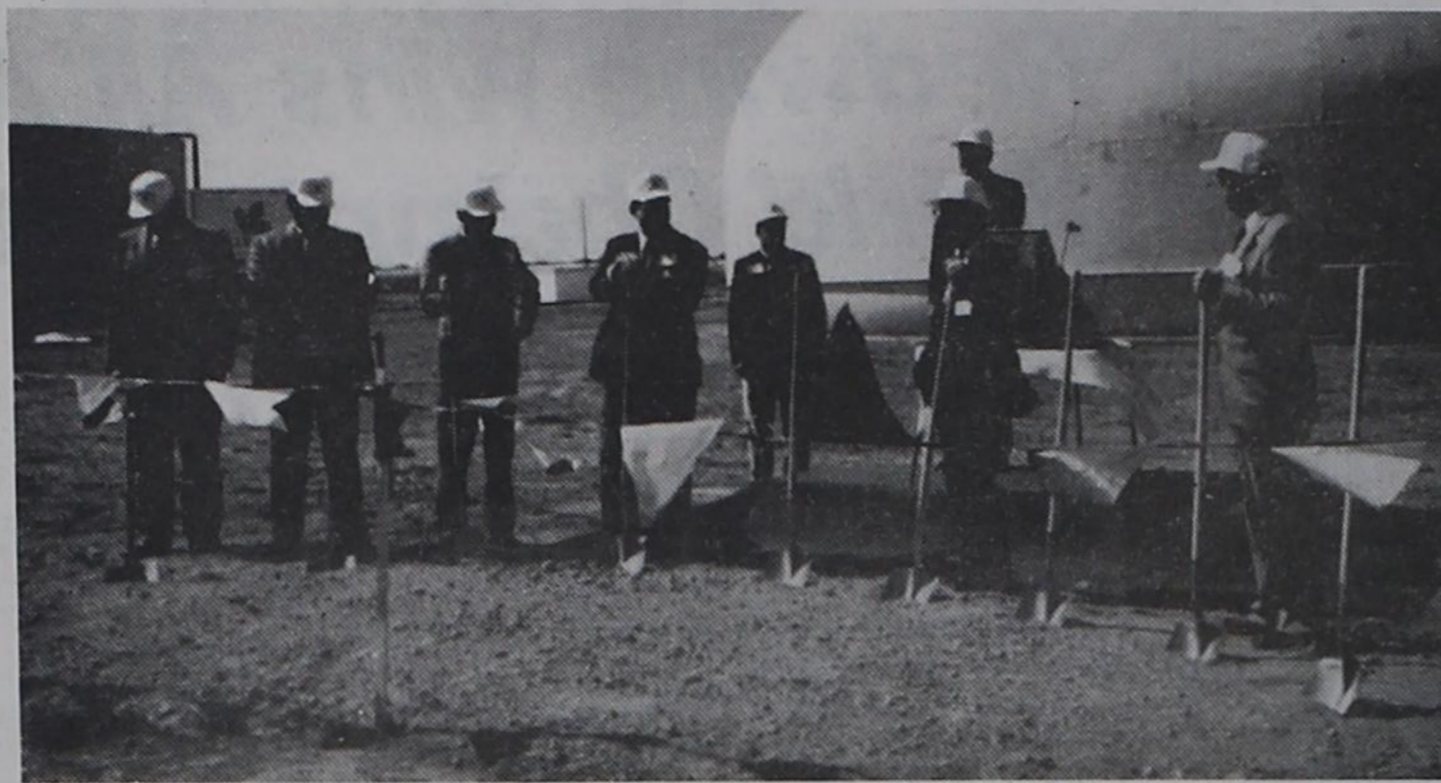

So two processes are at work: like electrical charges repelling one another, and millions of small screens separating sugars from non-sugars.

A pump pushes the molasses through the cylinder, but diffusion pushes the sugar into the resins. Remember diffusion? We studied it in science class when we learned that molecules move from high to low areas of concentration. That's what happens in the cylinder: a layer of molasses is followed by a layer of water. When the layer of molasses passes through the resin, the concentration of sugar in the molasses is high, forcing the sugar into the resin. When the layer of water passes the resin, the concentration of sugar in the water is low. So the sugar is pushed out of the resins and back into the stream being pumped through the cylinder.

While sugar is held up in the resin, non-sugar moves ahead. As the sugar is released from the resin, it will follow the non-sugar. The two layers—molasses and water—have been rearranged into two new layers: sugar and non-sugar.

The two layers are separated at the bottom of the cylinder—sugar is processed in the same manner as the original sugar from beets. The non-sugar substance is concentrated now and may be used as feed stuff for animals. With the sugar removed and the protein concentrated, the feed is generally more desirable than molasses."

The ion exclusion process will allow sugar to be processed in Hereford beyond the beet slicing campaign effectively extending factory operations. New jobs will be created, tax revenue increased, and the use of the Holly Sugar facilities will expand to 12 months per year.

Dignitaries from Holly Sugar break ground for the new $12 million dollar ion exclusion plant at Holly Sugar in Hereford.

The plant will also help increase the production of a by-product which is used as animal feed. A by-product of the conventional sugar beet production process is molasses, a low purity non-edible syrup sold as animal feed stock. It contains approximately 50 percent sugar. It also contains calcium which must be eliminated before the ion exclusion process will work.

- About 900 pounds of sugar are contained in a ton of molasses presently being sold as feed stock.

- The ion exclusion process coupled with conventional crystallization techniques is designed to recover about 80 percent of the sugar in the molasses.

During the beet slicing campaign, molasses produced during the sugar processing is stored for later use.

To extract sugar, molasses enters a pre-treatment process.

It then flows through chromatographic columns separating sugar and nonsugar portions.

The sugar portion is concentrated, stored and then returned to the factory's refined sugar processing system and crystallized into granulated sugar.

By-product from the separation process is concentrated and marketed as an animal feed supplement or feedstock.

As expected economic results are achieved at Hereford, consideration will be given to additional ion exclusion plants at other Holly factories.

Ion exclusion also has the potential to recover edible syrups from the molasses by-product of the cane sugar refining process.

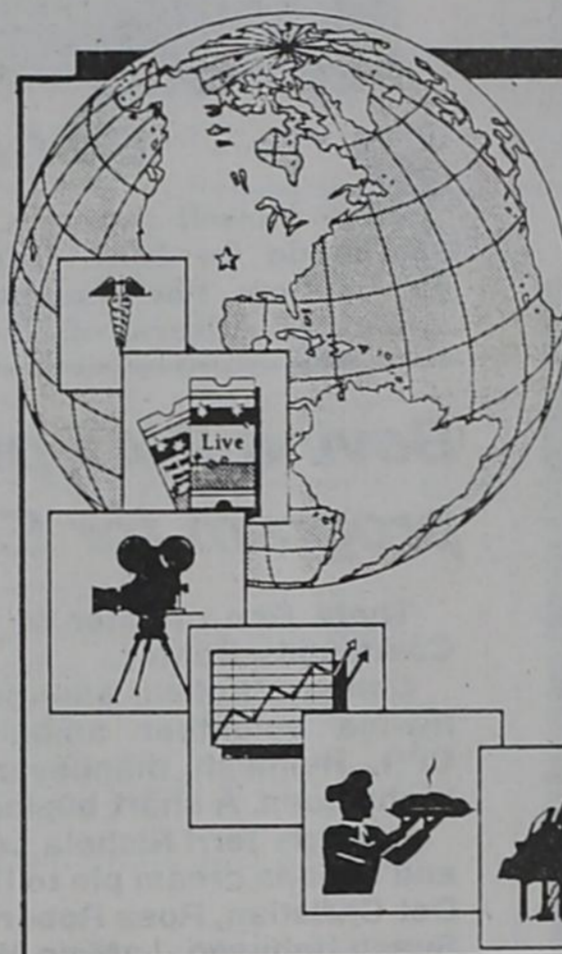

The new facility will have a positive economic impact in the Hereford area in terms of taxes, payroll and employment opportunities.

Wolverines strut their stuff; whip Jal

By JANICE JENKINS

When Jal kicked off to Texico and caused the Wolverines to fumble on the first carry, it looked like it was going to be a long night. Jal is a 2A school and ranked 2nd in the state. Texico had only beaten Jal once previously - and that was when they went on to win state.

But the Wolverines didn't let the turnover get to them. They defeated Jal 22-15 at home last Friday to boost their season record to 4-1. They host Springer at 7 p.m. Saturday during Volunteer Fire Department Night.

Jal scored with 9:01 left in the first quarter on a 25-yard pass. The kick was good and it was 7-0 in their favor.

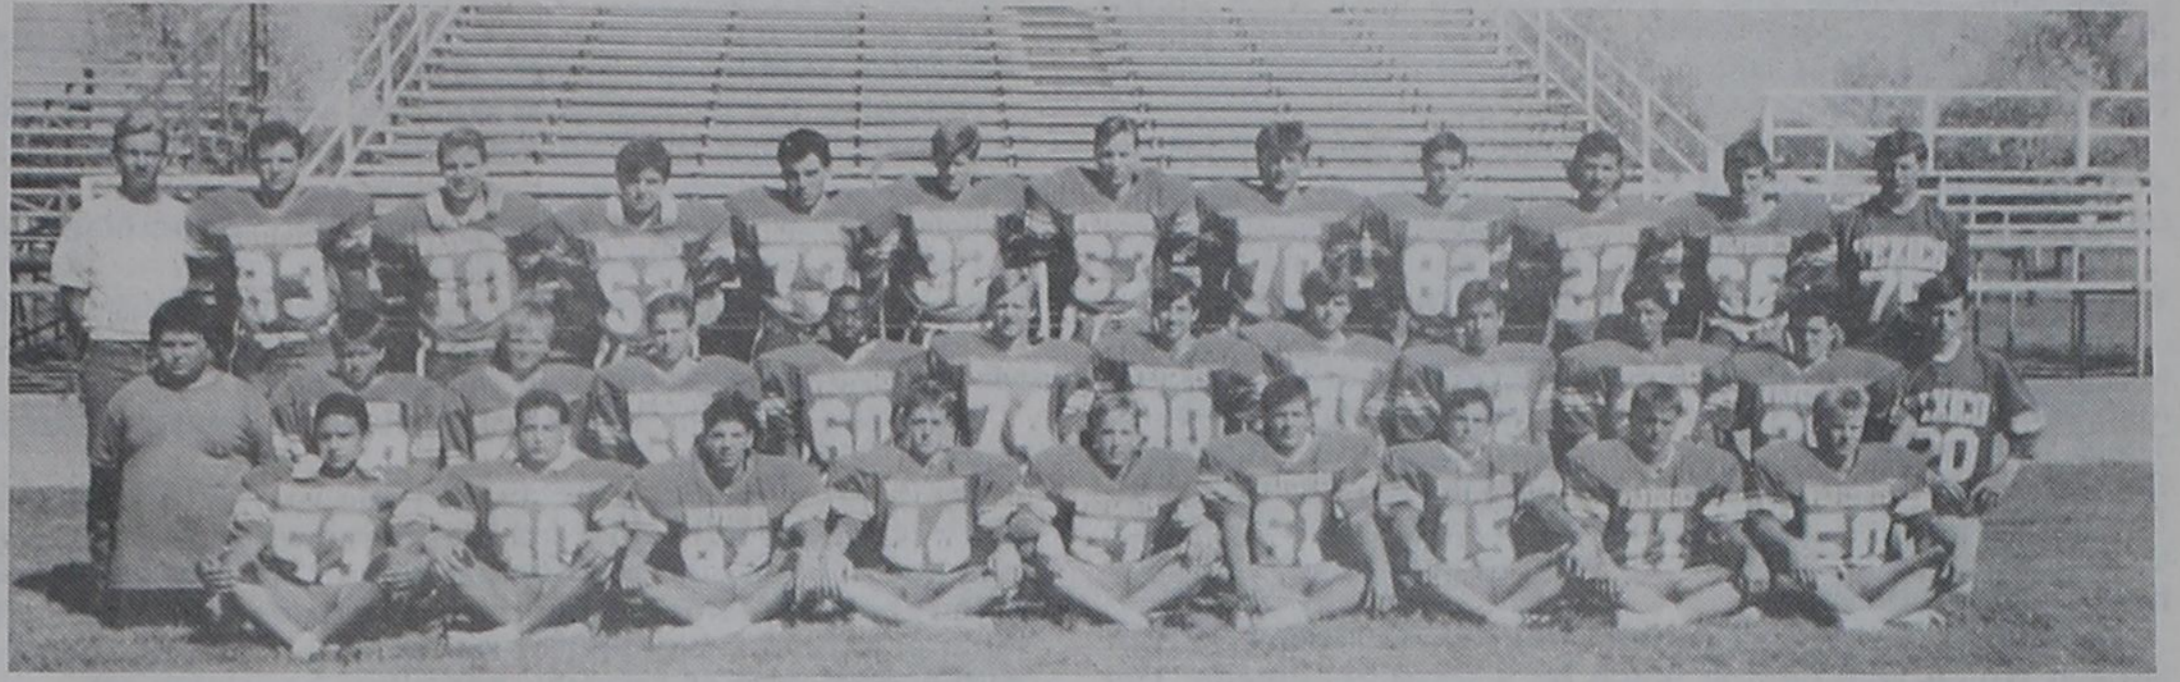

It took Texico several plays to adjust to Jal's quickness and speed.

In the second quarter, Texico scored with 11:53 left when Josh Autrey ran in 23 yards for a TD. Warren Martin ran in the extra points on a handoff from Benji McDaniel. This fired up the Wolverines.

Texico then kicked off and the Jal returner fell on the 19. Dwayne Hamilton and Martin made a strong stop at the 22. Then Steven Horner and Hamilton made the next stop, bringing up a 3rd and 4. Jal made the first down, but Hector Orozco stepped in on a Jal pass play and made the interception.

On a 4th and 7, McDaniel made a first down, putting the ball at the Jal 6. With 4:52 left in the half, Texico tried a field goal. Jal was called for roughing the kicker and Texico had a second chance at a TD. On the first play, Autrey ran in 7 yards for the TD. Orozco kicked the extra point and Texico led 15-7.

Jal still had time to score but Martin made a good tackle on the kickoff. Then Lilo Montano got a tackle causing the Jal runner to lose a yard. Horner stopped a big play and Josefre Gonzales broke up a pass. The half ended with Texico still on top.

Coach Scroggins cited the entire team as "Wolverines of the Week"

With 9:49 left in the third quarter, Jal messed up a handoff. The ball bounced on the ground and was picked up by Autrey, who raced 65 yards for a quick TD. Orozco kicked the extra point and it was 22-7.

With 5:52 left, Autrey made a super tackle behind the line of scrimmage. Jal was looking at a 3rd and 1. A QB sack followed and Texico took over the ball.

Martin made a superb tackle in the 4th period, following by strong defensive play by Rusty Foreman and Hamilton. Then McDaniel broke up a long Jal pass into the end zone.

Texico got the ball back and Autrey ran well on this drive. On a 3rd and 3 key situation with 7:40 left, Autrey galloped for 15 yards and a first down. The Wolverines moved the ball behind Autrey, Orozco and McDaniel. Freddy Chavez caught a short pass from McDaniel but finally Texico was held.

Jal gained big yardage on their first carry to the 42 yard line before McDaniel made the stop. Martin, Gonzales and Autrey all made big tackles on this Jal drive.

With 1:18 left, a Jal pass was broken up by McDaniel and Kenny Shaw. Martin rushed the quarterback, forcing a pass incomplection with one minute left. But with only 27 seconds left, Jal scored on an 18 yard pass. The kick was good.

Individual statistics were: Rushing - Autrey, 20 for 83 yards; Orozco, 6 for 7; and McDaniel, 7 for 19. Receiving - Martin, 1 for 3 yards; Chavez, 1 for 7. Passing - McDaniel, 2 for 5 and 10 yards.

Team statistics were: First downs - Texico 6, Jal 12. Net yards rushing - Texico, 33 for 109; Jal, 36 for 142. Net yards passing - Texico, 10 yards; Jal, 126. Total yards - Texico, 119; Jal, 268. Punting average - Texico, 3 for a 25 yard average; Jal, 2 for 38 yard average. Penalties - Texico, 10 for 59 yards; Jal, 5 for 55 yards.

"We had a real team effort," said coach Bruce Scroggins. "We had people who didn't participate in many plays, but who came in on some important plays. The kids played just super. We're proud of them."

Inservice meeting

Hospital receives grant

Twenty-five rural Texas hospitals, including the Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona, will receive federal grants to beef up their services.

The grant to Parmer County Community Hospital will expand the existing MEDNET telecommunications system to serve Parmer, Lynn, Yoakum, Culbertson, Hudspeth and Jeff Davis counties.

The grants, made by the Health Care Financing Administration, will provide up to $50,000 annually for up to three years for such projects as establishing rural health clinics and physician recruiting.

In West Texas and the Panhandle, one of the grants will go to four hospitals to expand into additional counties the existing MEDNET telecommunications system. This program allows rural doctors to consult with medical school physicians about cases and receive continuing education.

Edwards, Lust wedding vows spoken

Lea Ann Edwards and Timothy Harold Lust were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at Central United Methodist Church of Dalhart Aug. 6 with the Rev. Johnny Robertson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Edwards of Dalhart, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lust of Lazbuddie.

The bride, wearing an alencon lace mermaid gown enhanced with seed pearls, was given away by her father.

Her dress featured a v-neckline with off the shoulder alencon lace Victorian sleeves accented with venise lace and pearls. The sleeves came to points over her hands. There were small satin bows at the wrist. The satin circular flounced skirt was edged with alencon lace and drop pearls. The skirt extended into a chapel train accented in the back by a large satin bow. The train was enhanced with alencon lace and seed pearls.

The bride's veil was a double proof chapel length veil of illusion which was held in place by a pearl headpiece. The v-shaped pearl band of the headpiece was worn across her forehead. The veil was completed with a cascade of drop pearls on the left side.

Lea Ann carried a bouquet of red and white silk cabbage roses arranged in a large cascade bouquet, trimmed with pearls, black pips and ivy. Intertwined in the bouquet were handkerchieves belonging to the bride's and the groom's great grandmothers. Attached to the red, white, and black colored streamers were wedding rings belonging to the bride's and groom's maternal and paternal grandparents.

The items in the bouquet were the bride's traditional "something old." For something new, she had her wedding dress. Her grandmother's ring was something borrowed, and her garter was something blue.

The bride was attended by her sister, maid of honor Kay Lynn Edwards, and bridesmaids: Angie McTee and Dana Pickens, of Lubbock, Paula Willard of Levelland (cousin of the bride), and Kerri Metcalf of Dalhart. Casey Halamicek of San Angelo, Texas was the flower girl.

The attendants wore black chintz tea length dresses fashioned with drop waistlines and peplum, accented with red covered buttons in back. Each attendant carried a single long stem rose with red and black streamers.

The bride's mother chose a dressy suit of red polyester jacquard. The groom's mother chose a red two piece dress of polyester jacquard. Their corsages featured red roses with baby's breath and black and pearl accents.

The groom wore a traditional black tuxedo with black bow tie and black shirt studs. His red cabbage rose boutonniere included a sprig tiny white accents.

The groom was attended by Best Man, Mark Lust of Weatherford, Okla., his brother. Groomsman included his brother, David Lust of Athens, Ga., Omar Sanchez, Lazbuddie, Lony Edwards, Dalhart (brother of the bride) and Randy Richardson, Clyde, Texas.

Candlelighters were Neal Edwards of Silverton, Texas (cousin of the bride) and Trey Hinkson, Cottonwood, Texas (cousin of the groom).

Ringbearer was Clint Cooper, Matador, Texas.

Ushers were Barry Summerour, College Station, Texas; Kurt Pilgrim, cousin of the groom, Ellicot City, Md., and Jim Cooper, brother in law of the groom, Matador, Texas.

The service opened with prelude music played by organist Dirinda Jackson and pianist Nancy Chisum. Candles were lighted to "Ode to Joy" and family members were seated to "Jesus, Joy." The bride's mother, Janet Edwards, sang "There is Love" which was followed by "Flesh of My Flesh," sung by Jonessa Jennings.

The wedding party then entered the church, and the bride was given in marriage by her father, Tommy Edwards.

Following the recitation of wedding vows, the bride sang "Honestly." Then the bridal couple exchanged rings and a prayer was offered.

Marilyn Hinkson, aunt of the groom, sang "Corinthians 13."

The Unity Candle was then lighted.

Kay Lynn Edwards, sister of the bride, and Rick Enns sang "Chances Are." This was followed by communion, a prayer for the bride and groom, and the recessional.

Following the service, guests enjoyed a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table was a round table with a red skirt and black topper which held the three-tiered white wedding cake trimmed in black and surrounded by four small cakes topped with Precious Moments figurines of a bride and groom. The table also held a bouquet of red and white roses accented with seed pearls and crystal and silver appointments.

The round beverage table was covered with a red skirt and black topper. It held a frosty red punch and coffee served from silver and crystal appointments.

Refreshments at the bride's table and the beverage table were served by Julie Chisum and Jennifer Albrecht of Dalhart.

The groom's table was also round; it had a black skirt with a red topper. Centered on the table was a black grapevine

Texico participates in computer program

Texico Schools are again participating in the Computers for the Classroom program sponsored by Furr's and Furrs Emporium.

Anyone who shops at Furr's can help the school get computers and software by saving their Furr's grocery receipts and sending them to the Texico Schools.

Any Furr's cash register receipt dated from Sept. 1, 1990 - May 31, 1991 may be used for this program. The classes at Texico schools will hold a contest between classes. At Christmas, the class which has brought in the highest total in cash receipts will win a pizza party for their class.

If you want your cash register receipt to count for any specific class, put the name of the class or the name of the child in that class on the back of the receipt. There are boxes in all three buildings at Texico Schools for the collection of receipts. Totals will be tallied periodically so that classes will know where they stand in the contest. If you have any questions, please call the school for information.

Fire Calls

Here are the Farwell fire calls:

On Sept. 28, a vehicle was reported on fire at Farwell Schools at 8:09 a.m.

On Sept. 29, the ambulance was called to 610 3rd St. and transported a person to Clovis Hospital.

The Texico Fire Department answered two calls:

On Sept. 30, they put out a grease fire at the Stone residence east of Stuckeys at 1:14 p.m. mdt.

On Sept. 27, they responded to an accident with injuries 5 miles south of Texico at 7:31 p.m. mdt. Rita Loflin was badly bruised.

Longhorns rout foe

The Lazbuddie Longhorns routed a weak El Paso Agape Christian squad, 48-0, last Friday at Lazbuddie.

Lumbrera convicted of murder

Diana Lumbrera, formerly of Bovina, was convicted of murder in a trial in Garden City, Kan.

She is accused in the smothering death of her 4 year old son, Jose, in Garden City.

She also has been indicted in connection with the deaths of four other children in Parmer and Bailey counties, Texas.

Testimony this week centered on the Jose's physical condition with conflicting testimony given regarding the autopsy findings.

The game was called at the half due to the 45-point rule. The victory improved Lazbuddie's season mark to 3-1.

The Longhorns scored three times in the first quarter.

First, Kirk Jesko scored on a 14-yard run. The kick by Luis Gonzales was good. Then Paul Williams hit Matt Cozbey with a 25-yard aerial for the second TD. Gonzales' kick was good. And Williams had a 60-yard punt return for a TD; the kick was good.

It was 24-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter went the same way. Williams threw a 26-yard TD pass to Leland Brockman. The kick failed (Coach C.W. Williams gave others a chance to kick).

Then Williams scored on a 27-yard interception. The kick failed.

Mario Zamora was quarterback now. He threw a 21-yard pass to Gonzales for a TD. The kick failed.

Longhorns of the Week

Kirk Jesko

Matt Cozbey

The final score came on a 6-yard TD run by Gonzales. The kick failed.

Coach Williams noted that the El Paso squad was weak. He noted that the Longhorns had 7 touchdowns despite running only 16 offensive plays in the game!

According to area statistics kept by the Lubbock newspaper, Lazbuddie ranks

8th in team offense with 355.5 yards a game, and 8th in team defense, allowing 269 yards a game. Among rushers, Kirk Jesko ranks 9th with 94 yards a game. Williams is 4th among passers with 36 completions in 78 tries for 594 yards. Gonzales is 10th among receivers with 7 completions for 93 yards.

Boll weevils take a beating

Only 13,274 acres in 130 fields required spraying Sept. 24, 25, and 26 in the first insecticide application of the 1990 High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program. That compares to 254,886 acres in 569 fields treated the first time over in the same week of 1989. Two aircraft were used this year compared to eight needed in 1989. And only one of the 130 infested fields this year was found above the Caprock as opposed to 70 fields last year.

The difference, according to Program Coordinator Roger Haldenby, is attributed to three things. First was a highly effective program in 1989, resulting in an extremely low number of weevils going into hibernation last fall. That was followed by cold and unusually dry weather which cut the winter survival rate to a bare minimum. Then widespread producer cooperation with the recommended planting date below the Caprock resulted in a higher rate of suicidal emergence as weevils emerging early from hibernation starved for lack of cotton on which to feed.

Haldenby, aided by Program Manager Johnny Anderson, carries out day - to - day program operations for Lubbock - based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. A PCG committee, the Boll Weevil Steering Committee, currently chaired by Jarrell Edwards of O'Donnell, has conducted the control effort each year since its inception in 1963.

From the beginning the program has been based on the now - proven premise that keeping weevil populations low in a relatively small acreage below the Caprock would prevent the weevil from ravaging the millions of cotton acres planted each year above the Caprock.

Using 12 ounces per acre of ultra low volume malathion - the same material used to control city mosquitos - the first application goes on infested fields each year around Labor Day. Subsequent treatments at the same rate follow as needed every 10 to 14 days until the first freeze or harvest destroys the pest's food supply.

Haldenby projects that four spray planes will be needed in this year's second application, covering from two to three times the acreage first treated. It is expected to begin October 4 and, barring weather problems, be completed in three to four days.

Assuming the first freeze no earlier than mid-November, Haldenby hazards a guess that aggregate acreage treated this year will be about 120,000. That would compare to over 240,000 acres last year and the previous year's 663,000. The largest acreage sprayed in the program's history came in 1965 when over 1.4 million acres required treatment.

Cautioning against undue optimism about the size of future programs, Haldenby points to the experience of previous years. As examples, he says, acreage requiring treatment went from less than 80,000 in 1981 to over 450,000 in 1982, and from less than 50,000 in 1984 to over 230,000 the following year.

An essential part of each year's program involves determining which of over 500,000 cotton acres in the control zone warrant spraying. Work to that end begins in April when pheromone traps are set to monitor dates and numbers of weevils emerging from hibernation. Then comes a mapping operation to pinpoint the location of very cotton field in the zone. This year over 4,000 fields containing over 500,000 acres were identified, stretching along the Caprock from Briscoe County on the north to Howard County on the south. The final decision on fields to be targeted is based on results of manual surveys that begin in early September and continue between insecticide applications throughout the season.

Altogether, trapping, mapping, surveying, control and environmental monitoring in this year's program has employed 140 people, Haldenby says.
