Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

I didn't leave my heart there

Travelogue today, gang: Judy and I are celebrating our 25th wedding anniversary last month (don't ask me the exact date, please) so we decided to visit an area we've never been to before, San Francisco, as our treat.

And that's what we did last month: we went to 'Frisco.

What a place. I was amazed at its cosmopolitan nature. A place with 8,000 restaurants. The biggest "Chinatown" outside the Far East. Yummy fish at the Wharf.

As typical tourists, we did the typical things: toured the city by bus, walked down lots and lots of streets, visited Fisherman's Wharf and Chinatown.

We didn't visit Alcatraz because I felt we already had been on that tour after reading Larry Cochran's article in the Border Town Days issue of the Tribune. Plus, the weather was cool and the bay was choppy.

That constant fog that attacks 'Frisco was interesting. It keeps out all those pesky little critters, like skeeters, that most areas hate. On the other hand, it sure gets chilly at night, even in the dog days of summer.

Before going to California, I had heard about the high cost of living in the Los Angeles and San Francisco areas. I was right. Are you ready for this?

The average cost of a 3-bedroom home in 'Frisco is $290,000. Of course, you can get a one-bedroom condo for $120,000.

What's happening is that several folks are living together to afford rents. Almost a backward progression, it seems. Also, unless you make a bunch of money (I'd say at least $80,000) - or are willing to share a small apartment with other folks - you end up living outside the city.

Sharing an apartment with other folks may not sound appealing to you folks. But to these recent immigrants from the Far East, it's still a whole lot better than they had it back home.

Our tour guide said a million vehicles enter 'Frisco each work day. Not only do they have to pay fees for using the bridges, they have very high parking garage fees to deal with. Add to that the 60 to 90 minutes it takes to commute in bumper to bumper traffic. Doesn't sound like a lot of fun, does it?

So, like with New York City, I probably wouldn't want to live there, but it's a great place to visit.

For example, we had one meal at a Moroccan restaurant. You sit on pillow cushions on the floor. The first thing they do is wash your hands with warm water, since the meal is eaten with your fingers.

I can't remember all the things in the meal but they sure were tasty. And watching the belly dancer wasn't bad, either.

We also went to a "dim sum" (I probably misspelled that) Chinese restaurant. You don't get a menu. You're seated and every few minutes a waitress rolls a cart filled with yummy tidbits to each table. You pick and choose what you want.

We were really enjoying that until we picked the "wrong thing." One bite was enough.

Another interesting note was the large number of non-Anglos. The majority of San Franciscans are from the Far East and south of the border. Add to that the tourists from

Mr. and Mrs. James Pierce were honored by the people of Texico at an ice cream social Aug. 30 at the football field in honor of Mr. Pierce's retirement after 30 years of service to Texico Schools. They are shown with their grandson, Joshua.

Reception honors Pierce

A large part of the Texico community turned out to wish retired Texico School superintendent James Pierce a fond farewell on Aug. 30.

The Texico Wolverine Band stood at parade rest during the ceremony which they opened with the national anthem.

Texico's new school Supt., Dr. R.L. Richards, offered a prayer and then introduced every school board member who had served on the Texico School Board while Pierce was superintendent.

New Mexico legislator Hoyt Pattison spoke about the 22 years that he and Pierce had worked together on school related issues.

Fellow retired school Supt. Guy Luscombe, welcomed Pierce "to the ranks of the unemployed," and fondly remembered their joint fights against school consolidation.

Former Texico Supt. A. D. McDonald remembered being principal of Texico High School when Pierce was hired as a vocational/ agriculture teacher. And, her reminisced about the days when Pierce was principal of Texico High School, and McDonald was superintendent of schools.

Texico Principal Ken Shaw gave McDonald and Pierce each lifetime activity passes to Texico High School athletic events, and school board president Herman Gerles gave Pierce a gift from the school board members - a video camera.

Pierce thanked the community for their gifts and for the special sendoff.

The band played the school song, and then the community was invited to enjoy the ice cream social in Pierce's honor.

Texico folks prepare for Sept. 22 cleanup

The ad hoc Texico Cleanup Committee met Tuesday night to finalize plans for the major cleanup campaign in the community Sept. 20-22.

Residents are asked to put out along the street their large items of junk and debris on Friday, Sept. 21. Trucks will be rolling first thing in the morning on Saturday, Sept. 22, to pick them up.

Residents are asked to help pick up items. They are asked to be at City Hall at 8 a.m. mdt Sept. 22 to be organized into work crews. Ronnie Warmuth is cleanup committee chairman.

Warmuth will go around the city Sept. 21 to place small flags where the trucks will stop. Several residents have already called City Hall to let the workers know where to come.

Several trucks are expected to help out. Lewis Cooper is in charge of this committee. Also, the county highway department will send men and equipment.

Meanwhile, the city is continuing to keep the Texico landfill open Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m. These new hours were begun two weeks ago.

Two weeks ago, no one used the landfill. But last week, it was in constant usage. After the Sept. 20 cleanup ends, the city will consider whether to keep the landfill open Saturdays periodically.

Here's what can be taken to the landfill:

- Household trash must be placed in the transfer station.
- Metal must be placed in a stack in the designated area.
- Burnable wood items must be placed in the "burn pile."

Doyal LaRue reported that the city of Clovis has said no to Texico's request for a waiver Sept. 20 for bringing

Goettsch wins 1st grid contest

The 32nd annual Merchants Football Contest began last week, with 2 contestants guessing correctly on all 12 of the games.

Scores were generally high as many of the favorites won.

Those with 12 right were Mike Goettsch and Heather King. Goettsch was declared the first place winner by virtue of being closest to the tie breaker. He was 25 points off the tie breaker: Jal 39, Tatum 6. Miss King was 26 points off.

Thus, Goettsch received a check for $10 for winning the first contest. Miss King received $5 for second place.

With 11 right were:

Bob Brown, Freddy Bermea, Rick Castaneda, Sammy Herrera, June Hunt, Audrey Kittrell, Steve Kittrell, Amy Jo Murray, Leslie Scroggins, Kenny Shaw, Mark Williams, Roy King's 4th period world history class at Texico High and Larry Gregory's English II class at Farwell High.

With 10 right were:

Also, Gay Goettsch, Gerald Hardage, Kevin Hardage, Brent Harrison, Douglas Hill, Henry Hudson, Blake Kelley, Rick Ketcherside, Roy King, Teresa King, C.L. Mahaney, Gloria Mahaney, Donnie McDonald.

Also, Clyde McDonald, Isela Mendoza, Leslie Monk, Willie Roberts, Dale Sikes, Aaron Sena, Tex Smith, Shiloh Steel, Val Tarbutt, Nolia Walls, Don Williams, Pat Chumley and Leigh Ann Woods.

Results of last week's contests were:

Texico over Estancia, Clovis over Portales, New Mexico over New Mexico State, South Carolina over Duke, Virginia over Kansas, Rice over Wake Forest, Texas A & M over Hawaii, Houston over Dallas, Washington over LA Rams, Denver over Phoenix, Detroit over Cincinnati and NY Giants over Cleveland.

Rules for the 1990 contest will be the same as in the past. A person must be at least 12 years of age to enter. Games will be divided among high school, college and professional ranks. In case of a tie game, unless a tie is predicted by the entrant, the game will not be counted.

Each entrant must remember to pick a tie-breaker score, a very important feature of the contest since many weekly winners (and some overall grand prize winners) have been determined by tie breakers.

Each week's scoring is tabulated and kept on public view at the Tribune office. Standings are posted each Monday and may be seen during regular business hours.

All entry blanks must be turned in to the Tribune office by 5 p.m. cdt Fridays, or if mailed, must bear a Friday postmark.

Rose Vega hands the $5 reward to Johnny Ortiz, who found a $50 bill she had lost.

Youngster commended for honesty

Texico Elementary School Principal Joel Pate reported a story of honesty involving a young student.

Fourth grader Johnny Ortiz was walking down Anderson Street on his way to school Aug. 27 when he found a $50 bill.

When he got to school, he told his teacher who took him to see Pate. The principal told Johnny that the $50 would be kept in an envelope for 90 days and if no one claimed it, the boy would get the money. And Pate told Johnny not to tell anyone about finding the $50.

Farwell woman charged with LSD distribution

Parmer County Deputy Sheriff Don Hatley and Curry County Sheriff's Deputy Brent Byrum cooperated on the arrest of Brenda Bagwell, 24, 205 1/2 Ave. A, Farwell on a charge of distribution of LSD.

Hatley was called upon to arrest Ms. Bagwell, and then when extradition was waived, she was taken into custody by Byrum.

The arrest was part of

Also on Aug. 27, Rose Vega called the Texico marshal to report she had lost a $50 bill. The marshal's office checked Sept. 4 with school officials and Pate told them of the found $50.

So Pate called Mrs. Vega. She said she had taken her child out for a walk along Anderson Street Aug. 27, then found the $50 bill missing.

At school Sept. 4, Mrs. Vega gave Johnny $5 as his reward for turning in the missing money. And principal Pate publicly commended Johnny for his honesty.

much larger drug investigation by the Metro Drug Task Force which netted 7 arrests on 10 warrants, according to Byrum. It is the result of a long term undercover operation.

The Metro Drug Task Force has brought together law enforcement agents from both sides of the state line to work in unison on drug enforcement cases.

trash there. So the trucks will haul metal and wood junk to the Texico landfill. Other junk, such as concrete, will be hauled to Clovis and the city will pay the normal fees there.

Waste Management plans to place a large container behind City Hall where residents can haul their trash to. (No wood, metal or garbage, but items too big to fit in the Polykarts.)

School students are expected to play an important role in the cleanup. Poster campaigns will be held in the elementary and junior high schools, emphasizing the cleanup dates. Also, students will be enrolled to help pick up junk Sept. 22.

Fern Christian reported that the beautification fund is up to $475. These funds will be used to buy plants and shrubs to help spruce up the community. A wishing well has been placed at the Texico branch of Citizens Bank where residents can put money for this fund. The well was made by Lewis and Ann Cooper.

Rick Qualls is attempting to get some railroad ties. These would be used for planter boxes. Also, the city is seeking to have master plans drawn up for both city parks.

After the Sept. 22 cleanup, the committee intends to keep meeting. Thus, the beautification campaign will be further discussed in October.

The First Baptist Church will have pizza available at the church during the noon hour Sept. 22 for student volunteers. Adults will get sandwiches at the Texico Community Center at that time.

Then, the Texico High Student Council will put on a watermelon feast at KK Runnels Park at 3 p.m. when the cleanup is scheduled to end.

On Sept. 4, Robin Richardson, 39, Friona was arrested by Friona police on a charge of theft. She appeared before Roberts and on a plea of guilty was fined $150, court cost, and 15 days in jail probated for 180 days.

The following cases were heard in the 287th District Court with Judge Jack D. Young presiding on Sept. 4.

- Jesus Silva, 44, Friona pled guilty to indecency with a child. He was sentenced to 3 years probated sentence and $1,082 restitution.

The sheriff's office assisted State Trooper Rick Uribe and emergency personnel from Friona with a serious accident that sent 4 people to Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona. The two vehicle accident occurred on Highway 214, 6 miles north of Clay's Corner. The Jaws of Life was needed to remove victims from the vehicles.

The Sheriff's department is investigating the report of a stolen Apple IIGS computer with dual disk drive, and an Apple Imagewriter printer, and software for it from Farwell High School on Sept. 3.

around the world: we heard a lot of French and German spoken. Truly a cosmopolitan community.

Although the Giants were home, playing their hated rivals, the Dodgers, I didn't take in a ball game. Candlestick Park at night is way too chilly. And the afternoon games start at noon. If you want to beat the massive traffic jams, you need to get there by 10 a.m.

And, yes, we rode the cable cars. What a lot of fun watching the engineer motivate those cars up and down the hills. They're worth the price of the trip by themselves.

Do we plan to return? You betcha. Next time another 25th anniversary rolls around!

It's a Girl

Gabrielle Garza

Enrique and Jennifer Garza of Lubbock announce the birth of a daughter, Gabrielle Rose, Aug. 14 at University Medical Center.

She weighed 8 pounds, 4 ounces and was 20 inches tall.

Grandparents are Leamon and Joy Stancell of Muleshoe, and Felix and Eva Amaro of Brownsville, Texas.

Maternal great-grandparents are Asa and Lois Smith of Bovina.

Paternal great-grandparents are Lucas Garza of Corpus Christi and Janie Villarreal of Santa Ana, Calif.

Equipment stolen from school

An Apple IIGS computer with two disk drives, an Apple Image Writer printer, at least two new programs, and a box of blank disks were stolen from Farwell High School last weekend.

"They knocked the window out to get in," said principal David Reynolds.

Reynolds noted that staff members had been in the building until after 11 p.m. on Sunday, and everything was in place at that time. The theft was discovered Monday morning.

More from wife Judy: San Francisco is a city very different from Texico-Farwell. It is a city built upon hills surrounded by water. The houses are built only about 1" apart.

What is really striking about San Francisco is the city's ethnic mix. It is 55% Oriental and more than 30% Hispanic. Its "Anglo" population may have originated from anywhere in Europe. Many of the Anglos live in suburbs rather than in the city itself.

San Francisco has the largest Chinatown outside the Orient. Unlike the Chinatowns of New York and Chicago, San Francisco's Chinatown covers many square blocks. In addition to the tourist traps on the main street, there are many shops which are patronized almost solely by Chinese.

There are meat markets that sell whole dried ducks with the head and neck still attached, and bowls of duck feet for sale for the preparation of gelatinous soups and stews. The meat markets feature whole roast pigs that can be sliced to the customers' orders.

In the fish markets, there are whole fresh fish complete with the heads intact. There are rubber band - like slices of squid. Eels, crabs, and lobsters are squeezed into the refrigerated cases. Kelp and seaweed are also available.

The green grocery features a variety of greens that boggle the mind. There are snow peas and ginger root and bok choy and napa that we sometimes see here and many, many types of mushrooms. There are also many varieties of vegetables and melons that the stores in Clovis do not carry, and whose names I do not know. There are dozens of varieties of rice and tea for sale.

In the pharmacy there are bottles of medicines imported from China. There are also many packages of roots and herbs to be brewed into teas. The pharmacists slice the roots or pound them into a pulp before the customers very eyes.

Some of Chinatown's families have lived in California for six generations or more. Some are fresh from mainland China. Many work in sweatshops for minimum wages.

How can they manage when the cost of living is so high? They move in with relatives and share a home. They walk to work, and they work more than one job. Like the immigrants of earlier generations, they make do with what they have here because it is better than what they left behind.

Some of the Hispanic population has roots which go back to the earliest Spanish settlers. Others are newcomers from Central America and South America. Like the Chinese, the newcomers often settle with relatives for the first few years that they are in this country. They, too, often take the minimum wage jobs at first.

was an eye opening and refreshing change of pace. It helped us to become aware of the diversity of our nation, and it helped us to appreciate what we have here.

newspaper and direct your attention to the article attached. The actions your son (Eddy Longley) took continued the time honored tradition of rendering proper respect to the United States National Colors. He and his fellow soldiers stepped forward, took the initiative and did what was "right." Many U.S. citizens would have watched rather than take any action. I'm sure you are just as proud of him as I am!"
Following is the article in the brigade newspaper:

by Capt. Wheelahan

The Vogelsang training area, a NATO training site 25 miles southeast of Aachen, held an Open House on June 17. The events included static displays, parachute demonstrations and an impromptu display of good soldierly skills and American patriotism by three soldiers from the 72nd Signal Battalion.

At the conclusion of the day's ceremonies, some soldiers from the 324th Signal Co. made their courteous contribution to events.

They watched as some soldiers from another NATO nation were recovering the U.S. flag and just folding it up in a less than professional manner.

"They just didn't know how we did it, so we went over to help," said SPC Darryl Grant, a wire systems installer from Chicago.

The other NATO soldiers weren't doing it out of disrespect, they just didn't know better.

"We knew it wasn't right when we saw them drag it," said PFC Eddy Longley. "So Grant said, 'Let's square it way' and we did." Longley is a microwave systems operator from Farwell, Texas.

The soldiers knew instinctively what had to be done and did it. They went over, identified themselves, offered to help and folded "Old Glory" with the proper respect. The troops rendered the necessary hand salutes to the flag and to the NCO they returned it to.

Their actions were in accordance with Army Field Manual 22-5. Two of the three soldiers had just recently been on a flag detail in Karlsruhe's Neureut Kaserne.

"Longley and I had been on flag detail, so we were already trained and able to help Grant," said SPC Gary Blomquist, also a microwave systems operator from Satellite Beach, Fla.

"I thought about that flag-burning junk back home. That shows disrespect to our flag and our country. That goes against everything we're serving here for," said Blomquist.

"Why would anyone want to burn our flag?" Longley asked. As they completed their duty and moved back into the crowd, they were met with applause from the 60-70 local soldiers and Germans who witnessed the event.

"That made me feel real good inside. We didn't need that (applause) but it was nice to be appreciated," said Grant.

"We weren't trying to put on a show or anything," said Longley.

"I know any other soldier in this battalion (72nd Signal Battalion) would have done the same thing," said Longley.

The soldiers were participating in Bold Horizon III. Their chain of command is justifiably proud of the soldiers' actions.

"It still gives me goose-bumps just thinking about it," said 1st Lt. Terrance Campbell, their company executive officer.

Their spontaneous actions are an example of U.S. soldiers who know what the right actions are and then have the courage to take that best course of action.

"We just hope it doesn't happen again," said Longley. But if it does, these and other American soldiers will always be ready to pay the proper respect to the symbol of our country - the symbol that so many American soldiers have paid the highest price for - the American flag.

Wolverines whitewash Estancia, 26-0

by JANICE JENKINS

The Texico Wolverines started off their season with a big win at home over Estancia Saturday, 26-0.

Estancia was bigger than predicted from the films.

The first big break came when Texico's Benji McDaniel jumped into the air and intercepted a pass at the 6:40 mark of the first quarter. He raced 40 yards for a touchdown and a 6-0 Wolverine lead. The extra point kick failed.

Texico's defense did a super job of holding Estancia scoreless throughout the first half. In the second quarter, Kenny SHaw caught a long pass from McDaniel but at halftime, Texico clung to a 6-0 lead.

Texico's passing attack fared well. McDaniel passed three times for a total of 68 yards. Shaw caught two passes for 65 yards and Greg Akers had 1 reception for 3 yards that resulted in a touchdown.

With 1:42 left in the 3rd quarter, McDaniel ran in from the 4 yard line for Texico's 2nd TD. Akers put two more points on the board when

Farwell's population decreases by one

Early Census Bureau figures show a large decline in Parmer County's population during the 1980s.

According to bureau data released last week, in 1980 Parmer County had 11,038 residents. Preliminary figures for 1990 show a population of 9,830, a decline of nearly 11 percent.

In 1980, Bailey County had 8,168 persons counted. Preliminary figures for 1990 showed 7,036 - a decline of nearly 14 percent.

Preliminary figures show Farwell has lost one person in the past 10 years. Friona's population is up 4.

Auxiliary to meet

The Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary will meet in the center's sun room at 4 p.m. on Sept. 10 to plan activities for the next few months. Anyone interested in joining the group is cordially invited to attend. The group meets bi-monthly.

grabbed a pass from McDaniel. Texico now led 14-0.

Again, the Texico defense stymied Estancia. Estancia had only four first downs to Texico's 13. Texico led in rushing with 212 yards gained on 39 carries. Estancia managed only 43 yards on 32 ground tries.

In the 4th quarter, Texico's Josh Autrey scored on a 12 yard run. The extra point attempt failed and it was 20-0. Autrey carried the ball 16 times for total of 107 rushing yards.

Texico wasn't finished yet. Hector Orozco put another 6 points on the board with a 1-yard plunge into the end zone. Orozco had 18 carries for 98 yards.

Billy Rogers recovered 2 fumbles for the Wolverines. Estancia tried only two passes - and both were intercepted; one by McDaniel and one by Josefre Gonzales. Meanwhile, Texico had 68 net yards in the air.

Texico's offense gained 280 total yards. And the Wolverine defense held Estancia to 43.

The defensive line played very well. Gonzales made several big tackles.

Other statistics were: Texico punted 5 times for a 34.8 yard average; Estancia, 5 for 32.2 yard average. Texico didn't lose any fumbles but had one interception. Texico was penalized 8 times for 65 yards; Estancia, 4 for 22 yards.

Money crosses state lines

A note from Cong. Larry Combest:

Recently, I reviewed a 3-volume report on government spending from the U.S. Department of Commerce, which does a pretty good job of tracking down government spending. From information supplied through the U.S. Census Bureau, we can account for the crop insurance to Muleshoe, the government grants to Andrews, or the Social Security payments to the folks in Whiteface and Morton. Out of the $932 billion the federal government paid out to state and local governments for grants, benefits, salaries for government employees, and other expenses, Texas received almost $55 billion in 1989.

The $55 billion in federal payments to Texas is the third largest chunk of payments to states (behind California and New York). Yet, when that $55 billion is divided by 17 million Texans, the state ranks near the bottom of the list of total federal spending per capita - at number 40. By Contrast, Washington, D.C. gets five times as much money per Capita than any state or territory in the nation.

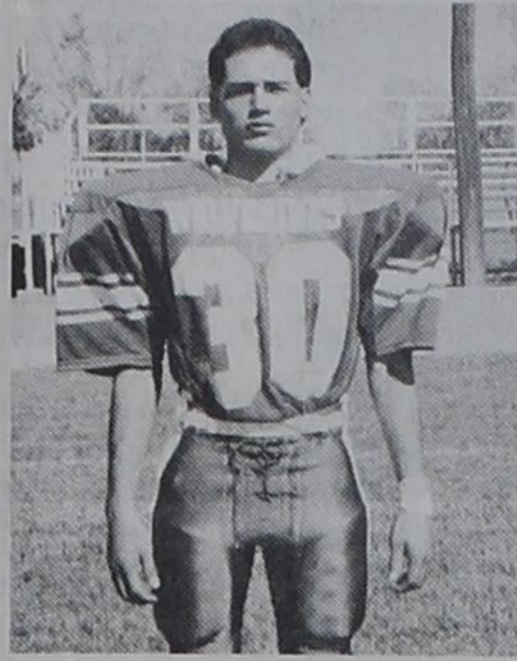

Since most of the federal grant money is distributed on the basis of population, an accurate census count is important to getting our fair federal share. Texans received almost $764 million in U.S. Department of Agriculture grants last year, more than half of that went to child nutrition programs. The Department of Education sent $678 million in grants to our state, a little under half of that for elementary and secondary education for the disadvantaged. The largest grant funding came to Texas from the Department of Health and Human Services; more than half of the $2.3 billion was spent for Medicare. Federal grants for Texas highways came to $930 million of the $1.1 billion in Department of Transportation monies sent to Texas.

Aside from federal grants, in 1989 the government had Texans on a payroll amounting to $9 billion. Most of the total went to pay the $5.2 billion in salaries of Texans working for the Department of Defense. However, the biggest checks sent from Washington to Texas are the $26 billion in direct payments to individuals: almost $8 billion for Social Security retirement payments, $3 billion in Medicare hospitalization, and $2.9 billion for the survivors of Social Security recipients.

Texas is the federal government's second largest customer. Uncle Sam had almost $11 billion in contracts with Texas businesses in 1989; our defense - related industries accounted for almost all of that contract money; nearing $9 billion.

However, a full 14 percent of the federal budget is spent without going to any particular state; the government is paying interest on the federal debt that just passed 3 trillion dollars. Equally divided among everyone, that $3 trillion comes to more than $12,000 for every man, woman, and child in America. When it comes to debt, money knows no state boundary lines.

Wolverines of the Week

Hector Orozco

Josh Autrey

Rusty Foreman

"I was really excited and really proud," said Coach Bruce Scroggins. "So many of the kids were doing their jobs. It was really good to get this first game under our belts."

"We improved between the scrimmage and the game more than I thought we would be able to."

"Coach Luscombe did a good job of calling defense. Estancia had under 50 yards total offense. They only threw twice, and we intercepted both times."

Scroggins noted that Texico rushed for over 200 yards in this game for the first time in a long time.

He was pleased with the performances of most of the Wolverines, but he mentioned Rusty Foreman, Josh Autrey, Hector Orozco, and Kenny Shaw by name.

"Shaw made 3 good catches. I was just amazed at two of the catches."

Named as Wolverines of the Week were:

* Rusty Foreman on defense. "He had a good game on front, and made a bunch of tackles."

* Josh Autrey and Hector Orozco share the offense on Wolverines of the Week. Autrey made over 100 yards and scored Texico's TD in the game on "a really nice run."

Hector Orozco was right behind Autrey with about 97 yards on offense.

Texico hopes to add another win this weekend when it travels to Cloudcroft.

"They have good sized people all the way across," says Scroggins. But, he adds that Cloudcroft lost to Tularosa 32-14 last weekend.

"We've got to be ready to play every week. We are going to try to eliminate our mistakes. Our goal is to play a perfect game, and that hardly ever happens."

THE TOWN & COUNTRY DIFFERENCE

The average farm price of U. S. cotton, weighted by sales volume, through the first six months of the 1990 calendar year stands at 62 cents per pound, according to numbers compiled by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. PCG used preliminary figures released monthly by the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS).

In the most unlikely event the 62-cent average holds at precisely that level through December 31, PCG adds, the 1990 deficiency payment would total 10.9 cents — the difference between the farm price and the year's 72.9-cent target price. That would indicate a final payment of 6.7 cents above the 4.2-cent advance for which producers qualified at program sign-up time.

The advance payment amounted to 40 percent of USDA's then-projected total payment of 10.5 cents. However, PCG notes, producers received a net advance of only 3.63 cents after a total of .57 cents was lopped off by the 1989 Budget Reconciliation Act and the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings (GRH) sequestration order. The budget act reduction was a fixed .515 cents per pound and the GRH reduction was figured at 1.4 percent of the remainder.

PCG hasn't been able to get a firm answer from Washington officials on what reductions, if any, will be applied to the final payment due in January. But two sources say they are "almost sure" the final payment will be cut by 1.4 percent to comply with GRH.

Pressed by producers and their bankers for a projection of what the ultimate average price and resulting deficiency payment may be, PCG officials point out the difficulty of such a projection. The average price and sales volume figures used to calculate the farm price average are reported monthly by NASS, but all are preliminary and subject to revision before final determinations are made.

And the six-month price average this year may be even more unreliable than usual as an indicator of the year-long average. That's because only 3.943 million bales were marketed in that period, probably less than a third of the year's total sales. Therefore prices for the remaining six months can be expected to carry about twice as much weight in the final calculation as prices recorded before mid-year.

In addition, PCG continues, efforts to assess future price prospects this year are being greatly complicated in the wake of world-wide turmoil following the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait.

With all the imponderables, says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, assuming a reasonable volume of sales for the year and doing the arithmetic on that volume at different price levels is "about the best we can do."

To that end PCG assumes another nine million bales will be added to sales during the July through January period. With that constant volume, an average price for the final six months of 60 cents would yield a 12-month average of 60.6 cents and a total deficiency payment of 12.3 cents. At 61 cents the corresponding figures would be 61.3 cents and 11.6 cents.

From there, calculations are simple. For every cent of average price increase during the final six months, add .7 cents to the year's average price and deduct .7 cents from the deficiency payment. Therefore, PCG figures, the price through December would have to average over 71 cents before producers would be required to refund any part of the advance.

To illustrate the variability of monthly prices, PCG points to a 59.8-cent price in January this year, inching up to 60.6 cents in February, jumping to 64.1, 65.0 and 65.4 in March, April and May, then falling back to 62.3 cents in June. The mid-month price for July has been reported at 63.7 cents, but the full-month price won't be released until August 31.

Steers score twice in scrimmage

The Farwell Steers scored twice during their scrimmage against Morton on Aug. 30.

Shawn Stewart ran one in early in the match. Later he was stopped on the 1 yard line after a sensational 80 yard carry. The TD was carried over by Monty Delgado.

The only negative note of the game was an injury to quarterback Greg Actkinson early in the play. He suffered a severe back bruise.

"The defense played well again," said Coach Rex Cump-ton.

"Our offense was kind of hit and miss because we didn't expect Greg to get hurt. We hadn't prepared Chad as well as we might have, but he did a good job anyway," said Cump-ton. "We didn't play badly, we just weren't consistent."

Actkinson's injury, a severe bruise to the back, may keep him from playing at Plains this weekend, so Byrd is being prepared for the possibility.

"You line up and play with what you've got," said Cump-ton.

Farwell's JV plays Plains here at 6 p.m. Thursday, and the varsity plays at Plains Friday at 8 p.m.

JV moves the ball

"I was impressed with our JV even though they didn't get a lot of playing time," said coach Kendale Devault of the Farwell JV team's performance at the scrimmage with Morton on Aug. 30.

The JV squad did not make any TD's but they did make it to Morton's 10 yard line at one point in the match.

"We had 7 first downs to their 3," said Devault. "Our defense did a super job."

During the scrimmage, the JV offensive team made 10 plays; then the defense made 10; then the process was repeated.

Each team had 3 tries to make first downs. If they fail, they go back to the 30 yard line.

Pep rally set

Pleasant Hill receives new rural addresses

The following article was sent to us by Marsha Vohs of ENMR Telephone Cooperative.

The final rural address of the Pleasant Hill area is posted at ENMR Telephone Cooperative Complex.

The residents of Pleasant Hill recently received their new rural addresses, thanks to a host of volunteers and coordinators who brought this rural addressing project to the first community in Curry County to receive the rural address for Enhanced "911" service.

The rural addressing project in Pleasant Hill was the first to take place in Curry County. The rural addressing project was a key factor in fully using the capability of the Enhanced "911" emergency system which speeds the emergency rescue personnel to the scene of an accident, fire, medical or any other emergency within the county.

This rural addressing project is only the beginning for Curry County. Pleasant Hill alone consists of 150 square miles.

Enhanced "911" went into effect in July of 1990 for all of Curry County. Those who live in towns such as Clovis, have street addresses and are easy to find. Those outside of the city limits were more difficult to find. Residents had to give directions to emergency personnel. That is why the rural addressing project is so important. In order for Enhanced "911" to benefit all persons living in Curry County, each resident must have a rural address assigned.

The final rural address for Pleasant Hill is located at the ENMR Telephone Complex. Members of the volunteer team posting the rural addresses for Pleasant Hill, stand with the staff and management team of ENMR Telephone. This group represents the fact that it takes the efforts of each one of us to fully complete the rural addressing project for our residents in Curry County.

Geraldine Wilson, Martha Wall, Frank Dottle, and Robert M. Harris, stand beside the final rural address posted in Pleasant Hill.

This is a key factor to the immediate location of a resident's location by the dispatcher. Residents tended to give directions relative to those who lived around them or relative to landmarks. A new fire fighter, sheriff, dispatcher, or ambulance driver might be unaware of those landmarks, and there were some delays for personnel trying to find the person in need of emergency assistance. Now, when a person uses the Enhanced "911" system, the location he is calling from automatically appears on the dispatcher's screen.

For those in the Pleasant Hill area, the Pleasant Hill Fire Department, Curry County Tax Assessor Martha Wall, Geraldine Wilson, Betty Pettigrew, Tim Lyman, and many others including personnel from ENMR Telephone Cooperative, were greatly responsible for the completion of the rural addressing project for Pleasant Hill.

While the volunteers Geraldine Wilson and Betty Pettigrew, a total of 198 structure locations received rural addresses and 637 miles were driven in four working days.

Mrs. Wall states, "If just one life is saved because of our efforts in volunteering to spot addresses on these structures, then that is our reward for the job."

Mrs. Wilson states, "I appreciated the opportunity to be of service to all ENMR Members in this area, by assisting the emergency vehicles to drive to their exact location through this rural addressing system and our Enhanced "911" network.

The Volunteer Pleasant Hill Fire Department paid for all of the posts used in this district. The Rural Addressing Committee is also accepting donations of posts, labor, or cash to purchase road names. This is a public service venture and we are in need of all the help and support we can get. New maps are on sale at the Curry County Assessor's Office which show the new rural addressing systems county road names. The sale of these maps is part of the county's way of funding the rural addressing project.

Martha Wall, Curry County Tax Assessor, and Robert M. Harris, General Manager of ENMR Telephone Cooperative, place the last rural address posted in the Pleasant Hill Community at the ENMR Telephone Headquarters Complex.

Foreign exchange student arrives from Germany

Sabine Roedde

The James Curtis family of Farwell has another daughter this year, Sabine Roedde, from Essen, West Germany. Sabine is a foreign exchange student who will be attending Farwell High School.

"I wanted to go to a small town and a small school," said Sabine. She felt that she would get to know people more easily in a small town.

Sabine is also happy living with the Curtis family. "I'm glad to have someone of my own age in my own family," she said. Sabine Rhodde and Amanda Curtis are very nearly the same age. The Curtis family also has two daughters who are at college- DeAnn and Sonya- and two others who are at home, Karen and Debra.

Back in Germany, Sabine has two brothers, Thomas, and Stefan, who are 13 and 14 years old. She lives with her mother, Hildegardt, who is an elementary school teacher, and her stepfather, Karl Heinz, who is an accountant.

Sabine will be a junior at Farwell High School this year this year. When she returns to Germany next year she will still have three years of school ahead of her.

Sabine is happy with her classes this year because she is taking some things that she would not have taken in Germany. She will be taking speech, typing, world history, band, library science, Spanish I, and English III. She will be learning to play the clarinet this year- something she has never done.

Not only does she like doing something she has never done before, Sabine is also a person who loves the outdoors. She enjoys horseback riding, wind surfing, snow skiing, playing tennis, and going out with her friends. She also enjoys dancing, gymnastics, playing the piano and listening to music.

Although she has not made a definite career choice, Sabine knows what she doesn't want. "One thing I'm sure of, I don't want to sit in an office the whole time," said Sabine. Sabine is a gregarious person, so she was pleasantly surprised to find that, "People are very friendly here."

She was also surprised to find out that "Most people like to go to school here."

Sabine is making an effort to learn the rules of American sports - football, baseball, and basketball. She said of the first football scrimmage, "I don't know the rules, but I think it's fun."

Hendricks, Potter wed

Claudia Lee Potter of El Paso and Bret Hendricks of Plano were married Aug. 4 in Scotsdale Baptist Church, El Paso, Texas.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. David L. Potter of El Paso and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hendricks of Carrollton, Texas. The bride is the granddaughter of Claude Coffey of Farwell.

The Revs. David Kemmerling of Austin and Guy White of El Paso officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mayrene Mackinnon, organist, accompanied Marsha Ellis-Smith as she sang "The Lord's Prayer." Maynard Matthews sang "Make Us One," as the unity candle was lighted.

For her wedding, the bride wore the traditional something old, something, new, something borrowed, and something blue. For something old, she wore her mother's wedding dress, a princess gown of silk organza with a scalloped sabrina neckline and elbow length sleeves. The gown was adorned with re-embroidered lace sprinkled with seed pearls. A crown of braided seed pearls and fresh roses held a veil of silk illusion. She wore a garter trimmed with blue roses, new shoes and her mother's borrowed earrings.

Katie Potter, El Paso, served her sister as maid of honor. Other bridesmaids were: Gyle Sandifer, Fort Worth, and Lori Rhoda, Becky Mills and Mary Quintana, all of El Paso.

Chip Pierson of Dallas served as best man. Jason Potter, Ignacio Reyes, and Carlos Estrella of El Paso and David Goar of Dallas served as groomsmen and ushers. Dass Reddy of El Paso also served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Christian Life Center. Arnie Adkisson, Lori Rhoda and Patty Mims provided musical entertainment.

Special guests at the wedding were Claude Coffey; Pauline Potter, Clovis, grandmother of the bride, and Dorothy Hendricks, Fort Worth, grandmother of the groom. Also attending were Martha Peoples and Jana Applegate of Lubbock.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Eastwood High School, El Paso and has attended the University of Texas at El Paso. The groom is a graduate of Plano High School and has attended Stephen F. Austin University, TCU, and is a 1988 graduate of the University of Texas at El Paso.

After a wedding trip to Cloudcroft, N. M., the couple will make their home in Plano. Claudia will be attending the University of Texas at Dallas where she is an English major and Bret is a tennis professional at the High Point Tennis Center.

Marshal's Report

Texico Marshal Walt Causey reports that the Marshal's office has had a busy week.

Causey and Deputy Marshal Fry Urioste will be patrolling crossings near the school very carefully.

"Fifteen miles per hour means 15 miles per hour," said Causey. "We will have no tolerance for speeders near the schools." Causey noted that one of the problems at the school is that every parent wants to deliver his child at the door just as the bell rings.

Personnel from the Texico Marshal's department assisted at an accident scene at the intersection of Highways 80-70-84 on Sept. 1.

Causey noted that he had arrested four minors on charges of possession of alcoholic beverages at a dance in the Texico Community Center about midnight on Sept. 1.

The Texico Marshal's personnel are involved in a joint investigation with Curry and Roosevelt Counties concerning three stolen tractors. One tractor was recovered in Texico. The incident is under investigation.

Texico is also investigating an accident in which a vehicle collided with a house at Leftwich and Lamar on Sept. 1. The vehicle left the scene of the accident, and the incident is still under investigation.

Banquet scheduled

The Parmer County 4-H Project Fair and Awards Banquet will be held on Sept. 15 at the Friona Community Center.

Exhibits will be entered at 9:30 a.m., with judging between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The Bucket Calf show begins at 2 p.m. Exhibits will be open for viewing until 6 p.m.

The Awards Banquet begins at 7 p.m.

Record Books for the Bucket Calf project are due on Sept. 10. The Bucket Calf Show will be held at 2 p.m. on Sept. 15 at the Parmer County 4-H Project Fair in Friona.

Annual Harden reunion held

Descendants of Moses and Sara Capers Christian Harden and their children, Evelyn Susan Harden Brady, Asbury Jenkins (Turk) Harden and William Christian (Bud) Harden gathered for their annual Harden reunion at Ned Houk Park, north of Clovis, Aug. 19.

Attending were: Christie Brown of Littleton, Colo.; Rebecca Jaspersen, Brighton, Colo.; Wayne and Elizabeth Drager Jesko, and Kirk Jesko, Lazbuddie; Robbie Harden, Shallowater, Alice Harden Harris, Ralls; I. H. "Bill" Harden, Jerry and Charlett Sue Harden McKeown; Jackie and Katherine Harden Phillips; and Jean Sherrod of Lubbock; Andries and Virginia Hines Drager and Joseph Drager, Ethelene Hines Bell, Merlene Bell Ford, Jayme Ford, Texico; Kenneth "Butch" and Carol Bell Martin, Larry and Valerie Martin, Leslie Martin, Janice Martin Hardin, Ashleigh and Brittany Hardin; Darlene Bell Britton, Garry and Shelley Ford Johnson, and Roy Simpson, Portales; Clinton and Doretha Harden, Clinton Harden, Jr., Dionne and Dustin Harden, Alice Lois Harden Johnson, Arvil and Bertha Harden Ross, Adina and Ashley Renee Davis, Lorene Harden, Lynn and Jestead Westbrook, Alicia Westbrook, Rose Hines Gattis, Aaron Drager, and Bill Bryant of Clovis.

In the early 1900's William Christian (Bud) Harden filed on a quarter-section of land, six miles west of Grady, N. M. He decided he did not want to move to New Mexico, and signed a right of relinquishment with the understanding that his son, Thomas Allen Harden, would be able to file on the property. The Thomas Allen Harden family moved in a covered wagon to the claim in New Mexico Territory in 1906. It was their descendants who met on Aug. 19.
