Parmer faces redistricting

Virginia Daugherty, legal counsel from Northern and Daugherty, spoke to the Parmer County Citizens Advisory Committee on Redistricting Tuesday.

Due to the 1990 census and several landmark court cases, Parmer County precincts have to be re-drawn.

She said this year is unlike other years when the guiding principle was, "one man, one vote." New court rulings dictate that lines must be re-drawn so that minority populations are not diluted and one precinct must be "packed" so that a minority will have a "say" in at least one district within the county.

The committee, consisting of Pat Fleming, Matilda Baca, Carol Ellis, Edwin Lide, Hugh Moseley, Maria Lopez, Richard Haseloff, Pearl Cervantez, Kaye Williams, Jerry Cass, Billie Powell, Scott Brown, and Ben Rejino, Jr. will meet several times to discuss the impact of new information and new court decisions on the election process.

The advisory committee was organized by County Judge Bonnie Clayton.

Once the committee has made its recommendations, the county commissioners will redraw the precinct lines. The maps will be sent to Washington, D.C. where the Justice Department decides whether the process has been followed, and whether the rights of the minority residents of the county have been adequately taken into consideration.

Daugherty indicated that not only will county commissioner precincts be re-drawn, but also justice of the peace precincts and constable precincts.

Lumbrera gets another life sentence

Diana Lumbrera, the former Bovina resident, has again received a life sentence in prison.

Last year, she had been convicted in Kansas; two weeks ago, she got her second life sentence in Parmer County.

On June 6, she pleaded no contest in Lubbock to the 1978 suffocation death of her 3 month old son, Jose Lionel Garza Jr.

The no contest plea was part of a plea bargain.

The sentences to be served by Mrs. Lumbrera, 32, in the Lubbock and Kansas cases

Local doctors to be honored

An open house and reception honoring Dr. Frank Kretsinger and Dr. J.R. Ivins will be held at the Farwell Clinic Sunday from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

At the open house, folks may view the newly remodeled clinic. It had been damaged in a fire last summer.

The day is being hosted by the Farwell Hospital District Board and the Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary.

They will honor Dr. Kretsinger, who opened his medical practice here this spring, and Dr. Ivins, who is celebrating his 12th anniversary in Farwell.

At first, Dr. Kretsinger was open only two days a week - Tuesdays and Thursdays. But lately, his practice has expanded to four days a week - Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

The office hours are from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. The phone number is 481-3200.

The dental office, headed by Dr. Ivins, is open weekdays. The phone number is 481-3336.

'Newsweek' visits us

The Tribune was visited last week by a reporter for Newsweek magazine.

He is one of two magazine staffers assigned to the Dallas bureau. The pair covers Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana. Must keep 'em busy.

The fella is doing a piece on the border dispute - you know, the one: the silliness on the part of the New Mexico legislature to change its border with Texas.

I again pointed out to the fella that if the act were declared unconstitutional, as New Mexico, in its "wisdom" would like, it would mean that New Mexico loses its statehood and reverts back to territorial status.

He got a big kick out of that.

We had a lot of fun joking about whether New Mexico would be able to re-enter the union. Since it would have lost its Congressional votes, I wouldn't be surprised if the Texas delegation held up any readmission of New Mexico to the union until the Lone Star state received some special privileges - like extra water rights, etc.

Of course, New Mexico wouldn't be very happy about that and probably would threaten to rejoin Old Mexico. Then again, most folks in the U.S. probably figure it already has.

I want to emphasize that this silliness on the part of the New Mexico legislature occasionally happens to all state legislatures. The important thing is to keep it in perspective and show it for what it really is - just plain, old silliness.

 We've been informed that the "Guns of Paradise" TV show which stars Muleshoe's Lee Horsley may be cancelled. There is a petition at the Tribune for anyone who feels strongly enough to ask that the TV station keep the show on the air.

 Groups have begun signing up for the BTD parade. To sign up, contact Leigh Ann Woods at Kirkland CPA, 481-3321.

First entrants are: Farwell Class of 1971, Farwell Class of 1981, Texico Class of 1981, antique cars, ENMR Telephone, Cellular 3, Chris' Golf Shop and Texico - Farwell Senior Citizens.

 Pat Howard reports it must have been a twister that struck last week to uproot the large tree in his Farwell yard.

 Rumor of the Week: When you see Charlie Aycock, ask him about what he just learned about his great-grandfather.

Farwell adds 5 school days

The Farwell School Board voted Tuesday to add 5 days to the 1991-92 school calendar to meet new state regulations: Aug. 26 and 27, Jan. 2 and 3, and March 20.

The board also officially accepted the resignations of Ed Wees, Fred Libby, Jane Stephens and Lou Ann Smith. Official approval of candidates to fill these positions was not made at this meeting, although some were discussed.

The Career Ladder which gives incentive pay to teachers who do outstanding work was discussed in executive session. The board also voted to fund one additional position on the career ladder for the upcoming year.

In other business, the board:

- Approved buying a new tractor.
- Appointed Charles Christian to the County Education District Board if it comes into being. Senate Bill 351 which creates such boards has not yet been signed by the governor, but it may come into being very soon. This board would have one representative from each school system in the county, and it would distribute the school funds more evenly throughout the county.

- Approved the transfer of three students to Farwell.
- Passed a motion not to participate in the Texas School Improvement Initiative program this year even though the school system is scheduled for a visit by the state accreditation team.

- Voted to ask the computer committee to take bids on new computers to enable the school system to redistribute the computers it already has, and at the same time set up a new computer system in the elementary school.

Texico Schools study expansion

The Texico School Board Tuesday reviewed building plans with architect Randall Kilmer of Clovis and financial advisor Paul Cassidy.

Due to projected expansion of Cannon Air Force Base, Texico may get more students - causing more building space.

The board discussed the possible addition of a science lab, and a computer room at the junior high. The possibility

Water wells, mains are topics

Water wells and mains were the main discussion points at Tuesday's Farwell City Council session.

Water Supt. Dee Hammit reported problems with the No. 2 well at the water tower. The council felt it would be better to drill a new well than to take out the No. 2 pump because of cave-in problems at that well.

A new well site at the southwest corner of Farwell was discussed. Hammit will check with the water board and report back.

Also, Hammit reported about tree root problems on Third Street at Avenue G. City employees will work on it.

The council discussed skipping the annual seal coating program this year due to other expenses they have had. Councilmen will check the city for "bad streets" and discuss it again at next month's meeting.

In other business, the council:

- Approved proclamations honoring Dr. Frank Kretsinger, who has just set up a medical practice here, and Dr. J.R. Ivins, who is celebrating his 12th anniversary as a dentist here. A reception for them is scheduled Sunday from 3 to 4:30 p.m. at the Farwell Clinic and the public is invited.

- Was told that Martin Chandler will be resigning as chairman of the Farwell Community Center board. Chandler currently lives in Clovis and plans to retire later this year ASCS manager here. The council will consider a replacement.

- Received one proposal, from De'Aun Willoughby, to do the 1991 audit, at $3,000. It was accepted.

- Renewed the annual contact with the Texico - Farwell Lions Club for flags put up on holidays at City Hall and the Community Center, for $60.

- Approved building permits for Joe Jones, a storage building, and Chase Chisman, a patio deck.

- Tabled a decision on a building permit for Mickey Lunsford, a storage building, until Hammit checks it.

Thunderstorms strike area

Thunderstorms hit the Twin Cities last week, bringing needed moisture which boost area totals higher than last year's totals for this time.

Lonnie McFarland, manager of Sherley Anderson Grain Elevator in Lariat, said 5.55" have been accumulated there by June 7 of this year compared to 3.58" at this time last year.

Farwell didn't fare as well as Lariat in Thursday's totals. Fred Chandler reports a total of 1.2" fell last Thursday night. "There was no hail here, it was a real nice rain," he reported.

Shirley Steinbock of the Sherley Grain Elevator in Lazbuddie reported that Lazbuddie was not as fortunate as Farwell. In rains measured on June 6, Lazbuddie got more rain than Farwell, but they also got more hail. She reported 2 to 2 1/2" of moisture fell that day, and an additional .35" on the June 7. Unfortunately, more hail was reported in the Lazbuddie area.

Marriage Licenses

There were three marriage licenses issued in Parmer County last week:

They were issued to: Bernardo Rodriquez, Jr. and Louise Anna Gonzales, Glendel Day Jones and Olivia Perez, and to Michael Scott Abel and Rose Marie Howes.

Cotton production 'healthy'

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.'s final figures for High Plains cotton production reveal healthy 2,950,900 480-lb. bales produced in PCG's 25-county area. The final production figures bring to a close a crop that had more than its share of ups and downs.

In Parmer County, 53,600 acres were planted; 50,100 acres were harvested. The yield per acre was 796 - second only to Casto County in the 25 county area. The 796 yield compares with a 510.4 weighted average for the 25 county area. 83,100 480# Nt. Wt. Bales were produced in Parmer County in 1990.

In Bailey County, 93,200 acres were planted. 73,200 acres were harvested. The yield per acre harvested was 445. There were 67,800 Nt. Wt. 480# bales harvested in Bailey County in 1990.

The 25-county weighted average yield amounted to 510.4 pounds per acre on 2,775,100 acres harvested in 1990. The yield total ranks third behind the High Plains' record of 535.3 pounds per acre produced in 1965, according to PCG records that date back to 1928. The second - best yield total was 1968's 516.8 pounds per acre. The 1990 crop topped 1989's average yield by 146.3 pounds bringing the five- and ten-year average yield figures to 447.5 and 386.5 pounds respectively.

PCG figures indicate that of the 3,183,700 acres planted to cotton, 2,775,100 acres were harvested and 408,600 acres were abandoned. The 408,600 abandoned acre total represents about 13 percent of total planted acres.

TASS is encouraging producers to participate in mid-year crop and livestock survey that is currently being conducted. Through their voluntary participation producers will help TASS develop an accurate picture of how Texas agriculture is responding to the new farm program. Many of the TASS reports and figures are used by the National Agricultural Statistics Service in compiling crop estimates that are used by producers nationwide.

The amendment would also authorize county education districts to hold elections to exempt from ad valorem taxation not less than $3,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of a disabled person or a person sixty-five years of age or older. Finally, the amendment would authorize elections in county education districts for the taxation of certain tangible personal property exempted from ad valorem taxation by the legislature.

"The constitutional amendment to allow the voters of a county education district to adopt certain exemptions from the district's ad valorem taxation for residence homesteads and to provide for the taxation of certain tangible personal property."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

The maximum net effective interest rate to be borne by the bonds would be set by law. The amendment would also authorize the legislature to provide for the investment of bond proceeds and to establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds and provide for the investment of such fund. Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in an interest and sinking fund established at the end of the preceding year that is pledged to the payment of the bonds or interest.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

Beware of bagworms

Bagworms are one of the major pests of junipers and other trees and shrubs in Texas.

Spring hatch began in early May on the South Plains this year. Hatching is usually completed in about three weeks.

Insecticide control is most effective in early June when the bagworms are small, says Parmer County Entomologist Agent Brant Baugh.

In the spring, bagworm larvae emerge from hatching eggs inside last year's bags and begin feeding on leaves they soon begin to construct their own protective bag of silk, twigs, and leaves, making them camouflaged and hard to see. As the larvae and their bags continue to grow, control becomes more difficult.

Bagworms feed throughout the summer months, building their bags until the bags are about 1/12 inches long, Brant Baugh adds. In the fall, the bagworms become adults, mate and the females lay eggs inside their bags. They then overwinter as eggs in these bags in trees and shrubs. Each overwintering female bag on a tree contains from 500 to 1500 eggs.

"Since the bagworm only completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest," says Baugh. "But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring."

Insecticides which can be used to control bagworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion and orthene. The biological insecticide Bacillus thuringiensis can also be used. To obtain effective control, through coverage of the foliage is important. The addition of a small amount of liquid soap or surfactant to the spray solution will improve control because it helps adhere the insecticide to the treated trees and shrubs. Always read and follow label instructions when applying insecticides.

Gonzales, Burch win honors

Frank Gonzales and Jessica Burch, both honor students at Lazbuddie High School, won top honors at the regional academic U.I.L. meet at South Plains College on April 19.

They had won the right to compete at the regional contest after winning first places in their events at the district competition at Wayland Baptist University on March 22.

Gonzales, a junior, won first in number sense at the district contest and third at the regional meet. He advanced to the state meet May 4, where he placed eighth. He was coached by Lazbuddie math teacher Thelma Coffey, who spent many hours after school during her conference period to coach the Number Sense team. Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gonzales of Lazbuddie.

Burch, a freshman, won first in accounting at the district contest and first at the regional meet. She advanced to state, where she placed sixth. She was coached by her accounting teacher Marsella Jennings. Another freshman accounting student of Mrs. Jennings had placed second at the district contest and had advanced to Regionals. Mrs. Jennings worked with the two girls after school and on weekends. Jessica is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Burch of Lazbuddie.

As state qualifiers, both Frank and Jessica will be eligible for U.I.L. scholarships upon graduation.

Farris, Weaver resign at Lazbuddie schools

The Lazbuddie School Board Tuesday accepted the resignation of elementary principal/ counselor Anne Farris, who is returning to DeKalb, and cafeteria manager Cheryl Weaver.

The board also voted to give the staff and aides a 5 percent pay raises.

Some adjustments were made were made for the base pay of band director, bus maintenance persons, and the superintendent's office staff.

The board accepted the Improvement Team's recommendations. The committee had met in Dimmitt to discuss the needs of the school system. Items suggested include: 1. Improving school climate by showing respect, 2. Ways to increase leadership, 3. Organization of an academic banquet.

4. Involvement of parents and community members, 5. Ways to improve relations between racial groups, 6. Improving fine arts in the curriculum, 7. Improving the facilities.

Some of the specific repair projects discussed by the board after hearing the Improvement Team's recommendations include: refurbishing elementary bathrooms, and dressing rooms, painting classrooms, weather stripping on windows, lighting the tennis courts, improving drainage near the band hall, adding a shower and eye wash to the science lab, and repairing the school roof. Maintenance will also be made at the school housing.

In other business the board:

- Heard the attendance committee report to allow students who have missed more than 15 days of school to make up their work.

- Heard a report on the Migrant Summer School program which offers both remediation and enrichment.

- Appointed Robert Gallman to the District County Education District, if it comes into being. Senate Bill 351 which establishes this may be signed by the governor very soon.

Feedlots set record

For a second year in a row, feedlots within the area served by Southwestern Public Service Company during 1990 fed a record number of cattle, according to SPS's annual Fed Cattle Survey.

Feedlots in the SPS service area fed 5,570,203 head of cattle, a 1.9% increase over the 1989 total of 5,468,350.

The survey also showed that the one-time total capacity of area feedlots in 1990 was 2,887,275, up from the one-time total capacity in 1988 of 2,758,662 head.

"The growth indicated in the survey is good news for this region," said Dave Krupnick, SPS manager of agricultural and wholesale marketing. "It shows that cattle feeding is still solid and a vital part of this area."

SPS annually prepares a Fed Cattle Survey covering feedlots in its service area, which covers 52,000 square miles.

The region includes the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles, the Texas South Plains, eastern and southeastern New Mexico and southwestern Kansas.

While most numbers in the survey were up, the number of cattle slaughtered last year in the area decreased slightly. The 13 beef - packing plants in the SPS service area slaughtered 4,661,163 cattle, down from 4,694,852 in 1989. At the same time, however, capacity at the plants increased in 1990 to 5,095,520.

"There are several packing plants located just outside our service area," Krupnick said. "That accounts for the difference between the number of cattle slaughtered and the number fed."

The Fed Cattle Survey is also showing growth in the total number of feedlots in the area, from 117 to 1989 to 120 in 1990.

Wheat harvest slowed

The wheat harvest was slowed down by last week's rains, and it is running a little light.

"We just barely got started when the rain started," said Scott Brown at the Sherley Anderson Grain Elevator in Lazbuddie.

The first bushel of wheat in Lazbuddie was brought in by Elvie Jennings. It weighed 58 lbs. per bushel and had 11.4% moisture.

"We haven't got enough that people can guess their yields," said Fred Chandler at Sherley Anderson Pitman in Farwell.

The first bushel of wheat brought to the Farwell elevator was brought in by James Harding. It weighed 60 lbs., and contained 10.40% moisture. The first bushel of wheat brought in to the Sherley Anderson elevator at Lariat was brought in by Henry Haseloff. It weighed 57.8 lbs. per bushel, and it contained 13.3% moisture, said manager Lonnie McFarland.
