They need assistance

Folks:

Any time now, collections will be made for the Farwell Buyers Club.

This is the group that puts together a kitty to help buy animals that Farwell area youngsters sell at the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show at the end of January.

I cannot stress enough the importance of folks participating in this very worthwhile program. These kids work very hard during the year to present the best animals possible.

Frankly, more funds are needed to be raised for this sale. The Tribune participates as do most local businesses.

More help - especially from individuals, like you folks reading this column - - is needed.

If wish to contribute toward the Buyers Club, send a check to Gary Patterson, Parmer County Extension Service, Parmer County Courthouse, Farwell TX 79325

Since we ran our first request two weeks ago, we've gotten calls with information about 3 more - Ken Bainum, John Wilkerson and Vernon Ginnings.

We're seeking this information so we can present some background in the Tribune on the vets whose names will be inscribed in the Parmer County Memorial to be built this year at Farwell City Park.

Special ceremonies are slated for Memorial Day to unveil the monument.

Following is the list of vets who we have no background on. If you know anything about these men, such as what town they were from or where they went to school or who their folks were, please send a note to: Mike Pomper, State Line Tribune, Box 255, Farwell TX 79325:

Embry's art on display

By Judy Pomper

Work done by local artist Betty Embry will be on display at the Clovis Carver Library in January. Mrs. Embry is noted for her Southwestern paintings and prints, many of them are framed with artifacts of the Old West.

The Oklahoma Lane resident was born in Muleshoe, and has lived in this area all of her life. She and her husband, Floyd, live 7 miles east of the Texas - New Mexico line on property they have owned since 1954. They have three children and seven grandchildren, and have been married 39 years.

Mrs. Embry did not become interested in art until 1973, and she knew very little about it. She took courses from a teacher in Farwell, and another in Clovis. She also took workshops from various well - known artists.

Embry works mostly in watercolors and oils, although she sometimes works in acrylics, pastels, pen and ink. "I think watercolors fascinate me the most because you never know just how it will turn out. Most of the time it is a pleasant surprise; and then you are very enthusiastic about your next

A SALUTE FOR ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

Wilbur-Ellis Cited For Facility Improvements

The Ciba-Geigy Agricultural Division recognizes Wilbur-Ellis, Farwell, for continued environmental stewardship and community service.

The farm supply operation has made several important site improvements aimed at safeguarding the environment. In the past year, they completed a new diking/containment system, a containment pad with a recovery system and a new storage warehouse for packaged products, plus new rinse pads and bulk chemical tanks. These additions provide improved containment for their bulk agrichemical storage.

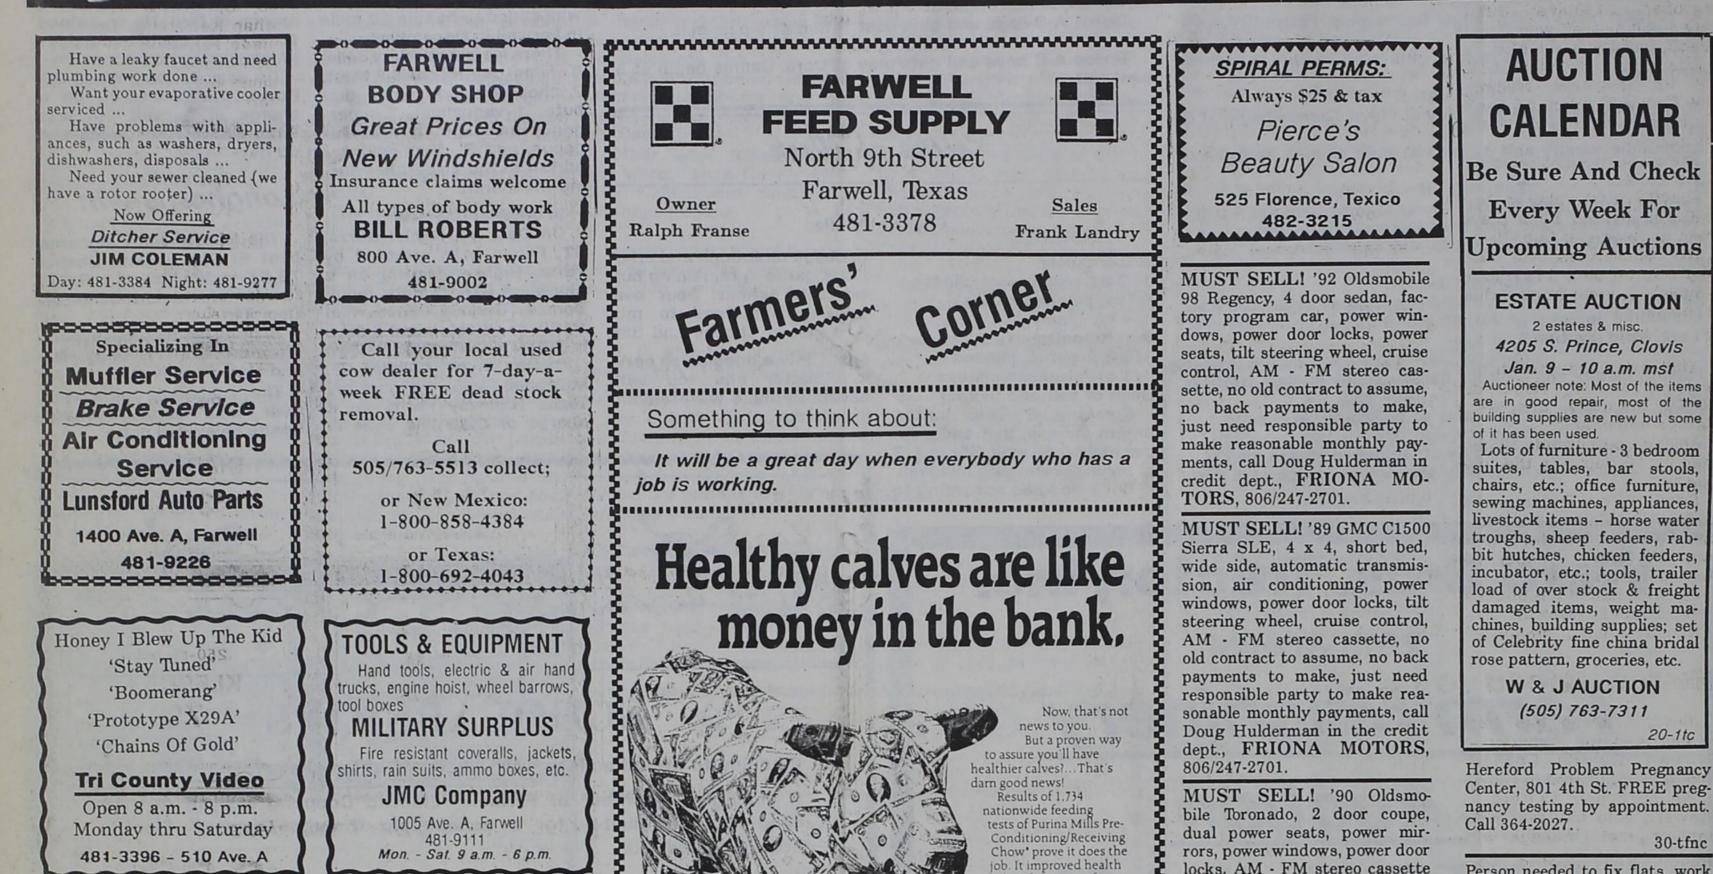

Branch Manager Walter Hughes says the improvements have put the dealership on the leading edge of environmental safety. "We are closely involved with growers and food production," he says. "As partners with farmers, we have a responsibility to provide safe food production and to protect the environment."

A major agrichemical manufacturer, Ciba-Geigy sponsors a site-improvement program that helps defray the costs of such environmental upgrades. And for more than 30 years, Ciba-Geigy has helped farmers protect their crops from weeds, disease and insects while preserving the area's natural resources.

Progressive and responsible dealers like Farwell's Wilbur-Ellis ensure that American agriculture remains the most efficient, productive and environmentally responsible agricultural system in the world. CIBA-GEIGY
