Volunteers Needed To Form Auxiliary

Members of the Farwell Hospital District Board and Farwell Convalescent Center staff conducted a special meeting Friday of last week to discuss the possibility of forming an auxiliary for the Center.

Representing the Board were Carrie Anderson and Maxine Williams, and Center representatives were Dora Nittler, Center Administrator; Maxine Williams, Board representative; Floe Copeland, Center Activities Director; and Carrie Anderson, Board representative. An auxiliary organizational meeting has been scheduled for Monday, Jan. 31, at 2 p.m. in the Center dining area.

snowed under."

The Center representatives were quick to point out that other volunteer services are just as necessary as typing and office work. Mrs. Nittler explained that volunteers could do numerous things with and for the patients. However, she stated that they may not perform any service which is the duty of a nurse, such as dispensing medication.

Handing out fresh water and helping with physical therapy sessions are two other areas that are in need of "extra help", according to Mrs. Copeland. She explained that some of the residents need physical therapy and that at the moment a therapist comes only once a week for a short time. She expressed the idea that volunteers could be taught the physical therapy techniques and could help exercise the residents several times a week. Another service, once the weather turns warmer, will be to take residents for strolls on the patio. According to state laws, no resident may be outside on the patio alone; thus the help of a few volunteers would allow the residents to have fresh air and exercise

John H. West Services Conducted Tuesday

Funeral services for John West, 84, long time area resident, were conducted Tuesday, Jan. 25, from the Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church with Rev. H.L. Whittenburg, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. James W. Putnam, pastor of the Bovina United Methodist Church.

Burial was in the Oklahoma Lane Cemetery under the direction of Steed-Todd Funeral Home, Clovis.

Mr. West, who died suddenly Sunday afternoon at the hospital in Clovis, was born Oct. 6, 1892, in Indian Territory, Okla. He came to the Oklahoma Lane community in 1916 and with the exception of a year and a half when he returned to Oklahoma, had lived in the Farwell-Oklahoma Lane for some 50 years. He was a member of the Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church.

Survivors include a son, Loren J. West of Abernathy; one daughter, Mrs. Obereta Sudderth of Bovina; two brothers, Elbert West of Tulsa; one sister, Mrs. Letha Mae Thompson of Burkburnett; five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife, Ina, in 1963.

Texico-Farwell Girl Scout Cookie Sale Begins Today

Texico-Farwell Girl Scouts, Junior Scouts and Brownies will launch their annual cookie sale at 4 p.m. today (Friday). They are among Girl Scouts from 18 area counties, affiliated with the Caprock Girl Scout Council, who will be participating in the annual cookie drive which will end February 13.

The local girls are among 5000 girls in all who will be wearing their uniforms or pins and selling the cookies at $1.25 per box. Five flavors of cookies will be sold, including lemon creme, chocolate and vanilla creme, scot-tea, mint, Savannah and a new cheese

"Cheddarette" cracker. According to Mrs. Buster Owens, president of Caprock Council, profits will be used to support troop activities and council program activities including maintenance and improvement of Camp Rio Blanco, a year-round camp site located east of Crosbyton.

Prizes will be awarded to the Girl Scouts who sell the most boxes. They include 24 boxes-certificate; 36 boxes-poster; 48 boxes-a patch; 72 boxes-a tee shirt; 120 boxes-one week campership; and 180 boxes-two weeks campership.

The local Girl Scouts will be allowed to keep $1.50 per box sold for their local activities. This year Girl Scouts, Brownies and Juniors will all be involved with selling the cookies.

Members of the Caprock Council cookie sales committee include Mrs. Billy Fisher, Mrs. Billy Hail and Mrs. R.P. McElroy, all of Lubbock, and Mrs. George Poulson of Lorenzo.

Counties included in the area sales program are: Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, and Garza.

Plan Cookie Sale

All branches of the Texico-Farwell Girl Scouts organization begin their annual cookie sale today (Friday). Mrs. Sherry Curtis, Farwell Brownie leader, is discussing the project with two Texico Brownies, Tonia Topliff, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Topliff, and Tracey McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Fenn. The sale will conclude February 13. Mrs. Curtis said that all members of the organization really appreciated all the local support the girls received last year during the cookie sale. According to the local Brownie leader many projects during the past year were financed with proceeds of the previous year's sale.

The forming of an auxiliary for the Farwell Convalescent Center is in the works and, according to members of the Hospital District Board and Center Staff, it has a good chance of becoming a successful organization if all interested persons will cooperate. Discussing the functions of the proposed auxiliary were, left to right, Dora Nittler, Center Administrator; Maxine Williams, Board representative; Floe Copeland, Center Activities Director; and Carrie Anderson, Board representative. An auxiliary organizational meeting has been scheduled for Monday, Jan. 31, at 2 p.m. in the Center dining area.

School Reorganization Plans Now Under Study

Since early last fall the administration and school board of Farwell Independent School District have been involved in a study of how to distribute the tax burden of supporting the school more equitably while also trying to lower administrative and operational costs while still providing quality education for students in the school district. As with any proposed change within a school system, the study has drawn both praise and criticism from school patrons who probably are not completely aware of the steps planned in the proposed reorganization or the reasons they are being contemplated.

In trying to answer some of the questions arising from the school patrons concerning the proposals, Superintendent James N. Perkins this week issued the following statement in the form of an open letter to patrons of Farwell Independent School District:

In an effort to equalize the property taxes, (both real and personal) in our school district, the following proposal is now being studied by the School Board and the Administrative staff of the school district. The proposal is being reproduced here for a two-fold purpose. First, to keep the community informed concerning possible changes made in the school district's organization and secondly to solicit any opinions and constructive suggestions that you as patrons might have.

1. Elimination of Junior High or middle school Principal's position. It is felt at this time the Elementary Principal can take the responsibility for grades K-6. The High School Principal can assume responsibility for grades 7-12.

a. To help facilitate the problems of discipline and routine matters that arise in the Junior High School, recommendation is made to name a head teacher for that building. This position would assume responsibilities for the above as well as teach approximately four periods in that building.

b. It is further recommended that the sixth grade be returned to the elementary building. This would reduce the numbers of students under the supervision of the head teacher by approximately one-third. It would also give better utilization of teacher time and building space and provide an opportunity to reduce the numbers of teachers in the system. With less State support and rising costs, this is extremely important to maintain a quality educational program.

2. Creation of the position of Administrative Assistant to include the following duties:

a. Act as Tax Appraiser for the school district. In this capacity the duties would include appraising all properties, both real and personal within the district to insure that all taxable real and personal properties were properly recorded on the district's tax rolls.

b. To act in the capacity of Business Manager. Also to oversee the general operation of plant maintenance and repair. The duties would also include working with the Superintendent of Schools in the preparation of the annual budget.

Heart Association Meets In Bovina

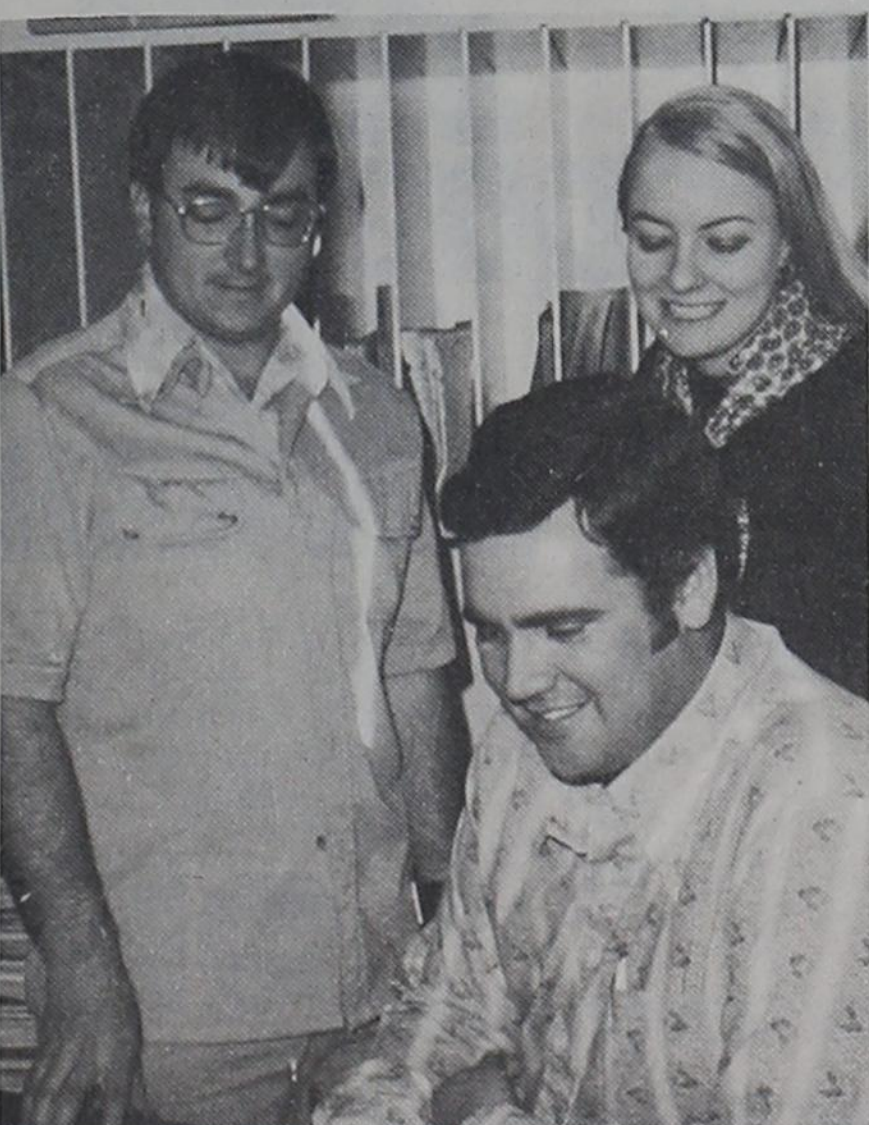

Twenty-six people met Thursday, Jan. 20, at the Bovina State Bank to organize and elect board members for the Parmer County American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate, Inc.

Sydney Baker, Region 2 director, remarked that she was "extremely pleased with the enthusiasm and interest shown in Parmer County for the Heart Association." She spoke about goals for the Parmer County Association and then turned the meeting over to Bill Pope, manager of Southwestern Public Service in Levelland, who is a volunteer on the State Board of the Heart Association. Pope discussed the need for training in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, CPR, for Parmer County.

The meeting was then turned over to Joe Buchanan, campaign chairman for Parmer County, who chose representatives from each community in the county. These representatives then elected Joe Buchanan, president; Jimmy Mabry, vice-president; Arlene McCallum, campaign chairman; Joyce McGehee, secretary-treasurer; Jana Pronger, program chairman; Raymond Schueler, chairman of the Satellite Club, a satellite of the Open Hearts of the Southwest; and Rose Mabry, publicity chairman.

Other members on the board are Dr. Lee Clayton and Delton Wilhite, Farwell; Bob Owens and Jesse Morales, Jr., Friona; Doris Sides, Oklahoma Lane; and Dean McCallum, Bovina. Other persons present at the meeting were L.F. Jacobs, Larry Mitchell, Radford Venable, Nancy Sudderth and Bess and Carl Rea from Bovina. Also, Terry Constancio, and Alex and Angie Guerra, Friona; and Lorna, Martha and Walter Schueler from the Rhea community.

Heart Association Members

Parmer County Heart Association held its organizational meeting last week in Bovina. Several local people have been appointed to the Board, including Delton Wilhite, center, Dr. Lee Clayton, DDS, and Jana Pronger, County Extension agent. Wilhite will be the co-ordinator of the Heart Fund drive in Farwell to be held sometime next month. Miss Pronger is the county program chairman.

Some people are born dreamers. Fred Head, a member of the Texas State House of Representatives, appears to us to fall into that category. Head is introducing into the Texas Legislature House Concurrent Resolution #10. This calls upon the Federal Congress to put the wheels in motion to add an amendment to the Federal Constitution placing the Federal Government on a "pay as you go" basis.

In his covering letter explaining HCR 10, Head says, "With the forecasted conservative attitude of President Carter to help lead the way, -- This is news to us. We didn't know that President Carter was a "forecasted conservative."

The platform he ran on, the speeches he delivered, the diverse groups that supported him did not sound to us "conservative." Well, maybe if Head can consider Carter conservative, he can in all honesty imagine the Federal Government going on a "pay as you go" basis. This kind of "imagining" borders on the realm of the Easter Bunny and the Tooth Fairy.

Last fall we cited a column by our friend James Roberts, publisher of the paper in Andrews, Texas. At that time James said that he hoped the country had a severe winter as this might convince some folks that it was better to have some natural gas at a high price rather than no natural gas at a low price.

James' fondest wish has come true with a vengeance. Everything east of the Mississippi River is an ice cube. Yet, we can detect no relenting in the attitude of the environmental crazies toward the petroleum industry specifically or the energy industry as a whole.

If this winter doesn't force a sane look at our national energy program, our advice is buy stock in the underwear industry. "Long Johns" are coming back.

NEW FORMS are being prepared for government business by the incoming administration. We are in possession of a draft of one, which is for the purpose of prospective employment.

Mealtimes also find the Center staffers short handed. Mrs. Copeland explained that several residents have to be taken to and from the dining area and some must be hand fed. This is another service which the volunteers could perform. Help is needed before, during, and after meal times she said.

Along with this, it was pointed out that any volunteer who remains at the Center during mealtime and eats in the dining area would have to pay $1 per meal. Mrs. Nittler said the cost is nominal but necessary as it would "skyrocket the Center food bill to feed several extra people free everyday. It was also pointed out that volunteers already devoting their time to the Center prefer to pay for their meal as "a free meal cancels out the volunteer work," according to the helpers.

Help is also needed during Thursday afternoon Bingo session, Sunday afternoon worship services and during the regular daily exercise periods. Outdoor barbecues are also planned for the summer months and much assistance will be needed then.

An important area of volunteer service could also be to provide transportation, states Mrs. Copeland. Often a resident needs a trip to the doctor or dentist or elsewhere and it would be a great help to Center staffers to know that they have several persons willing to perform this task.

Mrs. Nittler also said that one of the first duties of the auxiliary would be to develop a rapport with the residents. Once the bond of understanding and friendship is established it is "smooth sailing" ahead, the administrator explained.

Another area in need of more "hands and help" are the parties which the Center holds for the residents and their families at various times throughout the year. Mrs. Copeland pointed out that this past Christmas was a very busy time at the Center and she "sure could have used a lot of help then."

After hearing the presentation of ideas concerning volunteer work which the auxiliary members may do, both Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Williams agreed that the best way to proceed was to hold an auxiliary organizational meeting next week. The meeting has been scheduled for Monday, Jan. 31 at 2 p.m. in the dining room.

Mrs. Williams stated that the only way for the auxiliary to work was to set up a schedule of things to be done and have the volunteers decide which is the best time for them to work. She said it would work only if every member has a set time to work and knows what is expected of her.

However, all four women noted that no volunteer would be "turned away" even if she could not work a set day or hour every week. And they also agreed that the auxiliary would not infringe on the volunteer work already being performed by groups and individuals. Instead, the plan is to have the organization supplement the work already being done or branch out into areas that no one else is involved in.

It was reported that probably two volunteers per shift would be able to "keep busy doing what needs to be done." Tentative schedules for working with residents talked about were 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 3 p.m. until 6 p.m. However, Mrs. Nittler said that volunteer office work could be done anytime.

Several other ideas were also brought out at the meeting. One concerned the use of "uniforms" which would point out auxiliary members to the residents. Mrs. Copeland said residents may not remember faces and names, but they soon learn to identify certain colors with certain people who do certain kinds of work. The "uniform" as discussed by the women at the meeting would consist of a simple smock top, made of wash and wear material and sporting short sleeves and pockets. The color would be the same for all members. Yellow was suggested as the most likely color. The Board representatives said they would search for a simple pattern and materials to present at the January 31 meeting.

Other ideas "tossed around" included presenting certificates to volunteers after they had performed so many hours of volunteer work and the possibility of establishing a "candy stripper" type organization for teen-age girls this summer.

It was also decided that at the organizational meeting a president and vice-president would be elected, and possibly in the future, an officer in charge of the "candy strippers."

Mrs. Anderson said that the upcoming organizational meeting would give all volunteers a chance to meet with members of the Board and the Center staff to decide on what and where to begin.

Mrs. Williams stressed the fact that all volunteers would indeed be welcome and that the auxiliary would be designed to be an organization for getting things done. She expressed the desire that the auxiliary's first efforts could get underway next week if they have a favorable turnout for the organizational meeting.

Remember: The Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary needs volunteers; so do not fail to mark January 31 on your calendar if you are interested in "helping out," says Mesdames Anderson and Williams.

SWCD News

Many farms are losing soil each year by water and wind erosion. Man can create conservation practices that will decrease this loss. One practice is a waterway.

If your farm has water erosion, you will realize the amount of loss during a big rain. The runoff from a big rain will carry silt from productive fields to borrow ditches and to tail water pits.

This causes top soil, if there's any left, to lessen each time a big rain occurs. The cost of repairing damage caused from silt is tremendous.

When you have problems with rain water on your farm there is a good chance that you need a waterway.

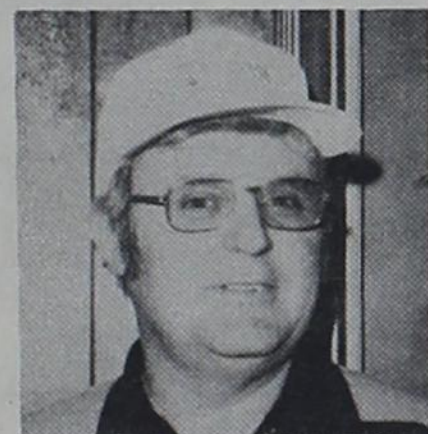

Waterways can be shaped with dirt equipment and then seeded to vegetation. This will spread the water over a given area. The vegetation will then slow the runoff down to reduce erosion.

If you think your farm needs a waterway, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Friona.

Area Farmers Turn Out For Arc Welding Short Course

The farm arc welding course held at Farwell High School January 17-20 was a success, according to Richard Montgomery, high school vocational agriculture instructor. Sixteen local farmers attended the short course, each receiving their certificate of completion at "graduation" exercises

Thursday night of last week. Those receiving the certificates were Gilbert Dale, Cyrus Dale, Max Eubanks, Kregg Wilson, Kenny White, James Cunningham, Jimmie Mace, Walter Hughes, Joel White, R.T. Langston, Robert Vinton, Dennis Slagle, James Sides, David Sides, Carl Wilson and Billy Shepherd.

Instruction offered during the course included basic arc welding, identifying metals and selecting proper electrodes, hard surfacing of farm equipment, cutting with the Oxy-Acetylene torch and the electric arc, and safety in handling an assembly of Oxy-Acetylene equipment.

Royce Hart, welding specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency, and the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A&M University, was the instructor.

Montgomery said that Hart was pleased with the turnout for the course as it allowed him the opportunity to work more closely with each individual.

The short course was offered under the cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University. Fee for the course was $10.

Montgomery explained that the arc welding course was originally scheduled to be held at Silverton. However, at the last minute they were forced to cancel out due to a prior commitment and Farwell, as the first alternate, garnered the program.

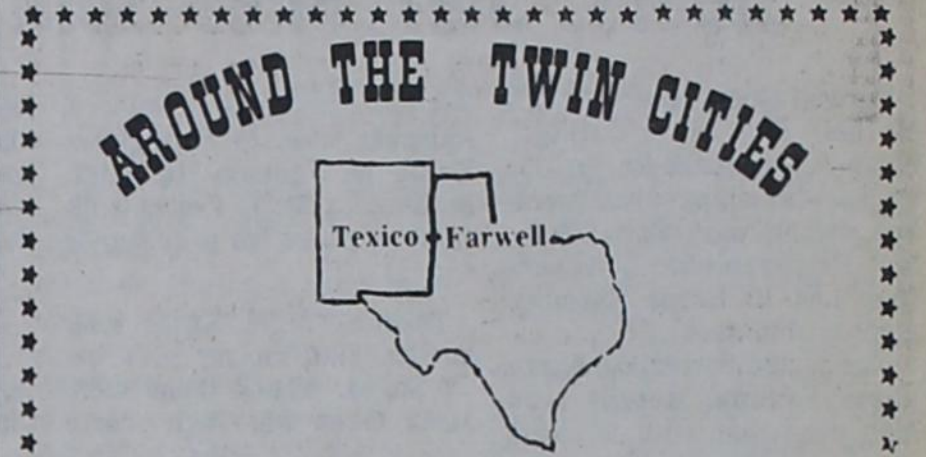

The local vocational agricultural teacher said that many short courses for adults are offered through the cooperative program and if enough interest is generated it might be possible to secure another short course for the future.

Other short courses for adults include beef production, electric motors, farm electrification, pasture management, swine production and tractor maintenance. Montgomery said that if any adult is interested in participating in any of these programs he should either contact him or Lawrence Widner, the vocational agricultural teacher at Bovina High School.

Receives Certificate

A farm arc welding short course was completed at Farwell High School last week. One of the 16 recipients of a certificate was Joel White, center. Congratulating White is Richard Montgomery, left, Farwell High School vocational agricultural instructor, while the welding course instructor Royce Hart looks on.

Sheriff's Report

Several recent thefts and burglaries have been reported to Parmer County Sheriff Charlie Lovelace.

A pickup was stolen from the H.L. Ivy farm near Lazbuddie. The pool hall in Bovina was broken into and much damage was caused, reports the sheriff, who said the culprits broke into the candy and cigarette machines. Entry was gained by knocking out the window of the front door.

The Bi-Wize Drug Store in Friona was broken into but nothing was taken according to Sheriff Lovelace. The burglars gained entry into the store through the vent of an air-conditioning unit located on the roof. Poarches Furniture store located next door was also broken into. The local sheriff reported that nothing was taken.

Money was also reported taken from the candy machines at the Bovina Schools.

Cowboy Evangelist To Speak At Pleasant Hill Baptist

Boyce Evans of Lubbock will be guest speaker at a revival to be held at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church February 6-11. Two performances are scheduled daily at 10:30 a.m. MST and 7 p.m. MST. Music will be provided by Ed and Joannie Wingfield. A nursery will be provided.

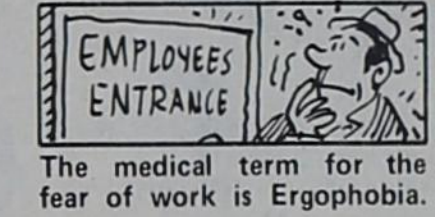

Evans is a Southern Baptist evangelist with over 12 years' experience in that field, and over 16 years' experience pastoring Southern Baptist churches. His crusades include country churches, villages, city, city-wide, and area-wide crusades, participating in approximately 40 crusades a year.

In his younger life Evans was a rodeo cowboy. Having helped organize the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, he rodeoed as a member of that association for three years. He continues to be active in the western life, and has a son presently riding as a professional cowboy. Evans' crusades include some of the cowboy camp meetings of the Southwest, and many of the illustrations and messages in his crusades are drawn from the cowboy life.

Evans was an officer in the United States Air Force and continues to use those skills in serving the Lord. He is an instrument-rated pilot and flies his own twin-engine airplane to his crusades. He is well known as a speaker for men's groups, having been asked to speak to several State Brotherhood Conventions. For a period of time Evans produced a weekly television program that was shown over approximately 200 television stations in America.

Freshman Girls Lose At Dimmitt Tournament

The local girls stunned Tulia, 39-23, during the first round of competition. Lisa Hughes grabbed high point honors with 18. Adding to the score were Kim Marsh, 11, and Jana Berry, 10.

The second game with Dimmitt found the Farwell girls on the short end of the 58-29 score. Berry was high scorer with 18. Others scoring were Hughes, 7, and Marsh and Carole Perkins, 2. The final game with Levelland was a close fought match, but the local girls lost 52-47. Berry earned 24 markers while Hughes and Marsh added 14 and 9 points, respectively.

Potato disease prevention, commodity futures trading in potatoes and new research developments in vegetable production highlight the 1977 version of the West Texas Vegetable Conference to be in Hereford, Tuesday, Feb. 1, at the Bull Barn.

Theme of this year's conference is "Vegetable Management for Maximum Profit." The one-day program will feature a keynote address on potato disease prevention by Dr. Clark Livingston, a Colorado State University plant pathologist and a widely recognized authority on diseases. Another address which is expected to draw considerable interest is on commodity futures trading in potatoes by a futures analyst from New York.

Commodity futures trading in potatoes is a subject of concern to area growers and shippers and has been the center of controversy for some time.

In addition to the two addresses on disease and future trading, eight research scientists with Texas A&M University and Texas Tech University will discuss latest developments from their research programs in potatoes, onions and other vegetable crops produced by West Texas vegetable growers.

Extension Service Specialists and Experiment Station scientists will outline mutual concerns relating to irrigation on sandy soils, fertilizer management, variety development, pest management, weed control, disease prevention and market development. Also on tap are discussions on vegetable marketing outlook and new cultural practices for tomatoes and peppers.

With an unsettled market and crop losses due to bad weather, the outlook information to be presented by the Extension vegetable marketing specialist will help growers decide what to plant and how much. Along with this will be a report on innovative Texas demonstrations of cage-culture of tomatoes and plug-mix pepper planting.

Great emphasis is being placed at this conference on information that will increase vegetable production profit by lowering production costs and expanding market opportunities. Leading experts in the field of vegetable production and marketing in the Southwest will be on hand to answer all grower questions.

The conference is co-sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University, Texas Tech University, Texas Vegetable Research Station at Munday, the Deaf Smith County Vegetable Crops Subcommittee and the Panhandle Economic Program.

A similar vegetable meeting will be in the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room, Feb. 2nd, at 9:30 a.m. Most of the speakers at Hereford will be on hand to discuss problems in the vegetable industry.

Vehicle Registration To Begin February 1

Texans will begin registering their motor vehicles for fiscal 1977 on February 1. Registration renewal notices will be in the mail soon. Some vehicle registration renewal notices will arrive a little later this year. Usually they are mailed immediately after Christmas to facilitate postal distribution. However, this year, inmates at the State Department of Corrections prison facilities at Huntsville are sorting by zip code all of the approximately 10 million renewal notices.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will save approximately $50,000 in postage discounts for performing this service, which is contracted by the prison system.

The 1977 stickers will have a solid red background with white year figures and state name. The sticker serial number will be printed in blue in the upper right-hand corner. Fiscal 1976 stickers had a blue background, white figures and red serial numbers in furtherance of the Bicentennial theme which will be continued in 1977.

Robert W. (Bob) Townsley, director of DHT's Motor Vehicle Division, said he anticipates less motorist confusion in affixing 1977 stickers to the metal license plates.

DHT first issued multi-year metal license plates in fiscal 1975. Last year was the first for attaching annual stickers to the metal plates.

"Although most motorists followed instructions and experienced no problems, others failed to read the instructions for affixing the stickers with - sometimes - laughable results," Townsley commented.

The 1977 stickers will be applied to the depressed area in the upper right-hand corner of the REAR metal license plate, Townsley explained. The 1976 sticker should remain in its present location - the upper left-hand corner of the rear license plate.

Inmates of the Wynne Unit industrial plant at Huntsville make license plates, print stickers and prepare record-keeping materials for DHT and county tax assessor-collectors who are responsible for actual registration processes.

As previously, mail registrations will be accepted from vehicle owners for an additional fee between February 1 and March 1. Motorists who wish to register their vehicles in person can save time, energy and frustration by visiting county tax offices as soon as possible after February 1. Deadline for having the stickers affixed is midnight April 1.

Above all, avoid lengthy registration lines by not waiting until the last minute to obtain 1977 stickers. Said Townsley: "Motorists can ease the pain by heeding the Christmas warnings - shop early!" Beginning in 1978 the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will initiate a year-round licensing system with some registrations expiring each month thereafter.

agri-facts

By John Ricci

One of the ideas we thought had been forgotten recently came up again. Basically the suggestion was that farmers should give up such things as tractors, irrigation, pesticides and fertilizers and really go back to nature. Create jobs... save fuel... decrease pollution... all given as sure results of such a move. Couple of bad problems here. First, according to the experts, we would have to wait until 1994 to have enough horses and mules to go to work for the spring plowing. It takes that long because you need over 60 million draft animals to get things started. You also need 180 million acres of new land to grow enough food to feed the extra 60 million animals. But you will have solved unemployment because it will take 27 million people just to take care of the extra 180 million acres and 60 million animals. And as close as anybody can guess food prices would just about triple. Some things are best forgotten.

Convalescent Center Chit Chat

As Reported by the Center Staff

Many out-of-town people visited several residents at the Farwell Convalescent Center this week.

Visiting Rufus Carter were his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene McClure of Tulare, Calif. Carter is very proud that he walked to the First Baptist Church in Farwell by himself on Sunday. It was his first such excursion since he had broken his hip.

Bobby Hix' visitors included his parents and his sister and her husband Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Knight and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Mason all of Bovina. Other visitors were his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Sorolus and his sister, Ima Jean Ivy, all of Denver City, Tex.

Visiting the Herman Gohlkes and Bertha Kaltwasser were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Streit, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Streit, Kelly and Kimberly of Vernon, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schoppa of Wichita Falls, Tex. Viva Grant's visitor was Mrs. Robinette Johnston of Clovis. Mrs. Grant is very proud of the decoupage picture she completed of her three-year-old granddaughter, April James of Clovis.

Also visiting the Gohlkes were Dr. Arthur Gohlke of Atlanta, Ga., Eldon Gohlke and Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Brandt of Littlefield. A new display on the Gohlkes' bulletin board are pictures of their 50th wedding anniversary, celebrated last year, and pictures of their children and grandchildren.

Lena Ware of Clovis visited Pearl Monk.

Marion Brumfield, pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Texico, conducted the Sunday afternoon worship services. About 25 people were in attendance. Refreshments were served afterwards.

Maude Wilson enjoyed a walk to the home of her sister, Carra Christian in Farwell. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Christian enjoyed a nice visit before Mrs. Wilson returned to the Center.

The talking cassette books donated by the Texico-Farwell Lions Club are being enjoyed by the residents. The first to use the new addition were Charlie Hardwick and Bobby Hix who listened to "How The West Was Won."

Participating in crafts this week were Domitilla Madrid, Krista Gohlke, Viva Grant and Maude Wilson. Assisting was Robin Gregory who had stopped by to visit Mrs. Grant.

Members of the Farwell freshman class: Roy Lovelady, Benny Yruegas, Steve Powell, and Brent Black, brought cookies, candies, cakes and pies to the residents.

The Girls in Action organization of the First Baptist Church in Farwell have been making birthday banners for the residents to place in their rooms. Directing the project are Janie Lovett and Leandra Byrd. Others helping are Shana Blain, Sharla Stewart, Melinda McMillan, Denise Ford, Renee Bartley, Tracy Lovelace, Carla and Norma Moser, and Ursula Dollar.

Members of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority donated boxes of regular and diet candy recently.

Joye Myers is expected to return home this week. Everyone is looking forward to her return to work. Floe Copeland, activities director, reports that they appreciate Rita Dollar taking Inez Sullivan to Clovis this week.

Bingo winners were Nora Edens, who won the first game as usual; Rufus Carter, Bobby Hix, Gladys Wingo and Maude Wilson. Visitors participating were Jerry Utsman, son of Ollie Utsman, and Rita Dollar.

A new project involving all shapes, sizes and textures of carpet scraps is being started at the Center. Mrs. Copeland encourages all donations of scraps from size one inch on up.

The Center is also in need of plant bulbs, other plants and seeds for the flower beds and patio beds. Mrs. Copeland says they have "big plans" for the patio as soon as the weather turns warm. They are all looking forward to the summer.

Many thanks are given to David Kube who is the aquarium attendant at the Center.

Who will be the first "easy rider" at the Center? Read next week's Center Chit Chat to find out.

According to the Convalescent Center birdie Ruth Myers and Krista Gohlke have a contest going to see who gets the most mail each week.

This week the spotlight is on Nora Edens. The 83-year old resident was born in 1893 on September 23. She married Hoarde Edens in 1913. They reared two boys, Jack Edens of New Orleans, La., and Bill Edens of Victoria, Tex. They were married 57 years. Mrs. Edens has four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

During the years of their marriage Mr. Edens was a farmer, oil company engineer, and they owned a hotel in Wichita Falls for 9 years. They lived in North Texas and Oklahoma. After they retired the Edens lived on Kickapoo Lake near Wichita Falls for six years. They enjoyed much fishing and relaxing.

They came to Farwell in September of 1970 because of his poor health. Mrs. Edens has always been busy keeping house, rearing children, and working in the fields. But she also managed to find time to crochet, quilt and applique.

She loves to fish and is especially fond of dogs. Mrs. Edens had a pet dog named Ginger for 15 years.

Mrs. Edens' advice for people today is "never be idle, always keep busy." She claims that is why she is still alert today.

Center staffers love Mrs. Edens and enjoy her words of encouragement.

Proud Of Quilt

Nora Edens of the Farwell Convalescent Center has just completed making an "Around The World" quilt which is draped across her lap. She spent nearly four months sewing the scraps of material together. Pieces for the quilt were donated by many persons, says Mrs. Edens. She says she does not like her hands to be idle and that is why she made the quilt. The "Around The World" quilt takes its name from its pattern which begins in the center and works outward. Each row is sewn of a different color and design. Hanging across the chair is another quilt which Mrs. Edens completed last year.

Meet Your Teachers

Mrs. Truitt (Corinne) Hardage handles many jobs at Farwell High School. She began her first year at the local high school in August 1976. She is secretary to Principal Jack Williams and also serves as the high school annual and newspaper advisor. Every afternoon during sixth period Mrs. Hardage works with members of the annual staff. They are currently gathering pictures and stories of all school events. The versatile woman says the annual and newspaper will be published near the end of the current school year. Mrs. Hardage worked in Clovis before assuming her duties at Farwell High School. "I wanted to be closer to home," she explained, adding that it is "nice not to have to drive back and forth to work every day." The Truitt Hardages have six children living at home, including, Jamie, 17; Judy, 17; Cindy, 15; Gary, 15; Tory, 13; and Suzanne, 7. Two other sons, Dean and Kevin Cooper, are presently serving in the armed forces.

Postal propaganda-it's said that if a moth flies toward you, you will receive a letter.

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Shirley Gorman

Mrs. Howard C. (Wilma) Whitener of Texico, our area homemaker this week, is presently working to complete pinch pleat drapes for her living room windows. This is her second drape-making project, but her first try at the pinch pleat style.

Mrs. Whitener loves to sew and makes most of her own clothes. She also sews for her family and on occasion has made things for her mother-in-law, Mrs. H.C. Whitener, Sr.

Our homemaker took four years of home economics while in high school and has been sewing ever since. Another favorite pastime is hairpin lace crocheting, stated the Texico woman. She first learned to crochet at the Pleasant Hill Woman's Club of which she has been a member for six years. The busy woman says she really does not have the time to crochet so she takes advantage of "sitting down" time to finish her afghans. This "sitting down" time often comes while riding in the car or sitting under the dryer at a beauty shop.

"Whenever I know I will be sitting somewhere without anything else to do, I take my crocheting with me. That's how I get most of it done," she explained.

This past Christmas Mrs. Whitener made an arrangement of Christmas tree bulbs and lights which she learned how to do at the Pleasant Hill Woman's Club meetings. The bulbs of various colors are fastened to a styrofoam base; then the blinking lights and tinsel are added. "The finished project made a good decoration for the home for the holidays, and I enjoyed doing it," Wilma said.

Our homemaker also cites all phases of cooking and baking as "enjoyable" because her family appreciates her efforts and compliment her. "That makes me feel happy and contented," she explained.

Mrs. Whitener's talents also lend themselves to outdoor work as she loves to grow her own garden, later canning and freezing her results. As a farmer's wife she has also driven "many a grain truck." She says. And as daughter Charlene, who is 17, is a member of the Texico Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, Mrs. Whitener also has helped out with raising the pigs.

Mrs. Whitener explained that now it is no longer unusual for a girl to belong to the FFA, adding the Charlene was the first girl officer elected at the Texico Chapter. Wilma explained that her daughter joined the FFA three years ago and that the first year was the busiest time for all of them. "Now it is not so bad as Charlene is able to do most of the work herself."

The Whiteners have two other children, Gerald, 21, who is married and farms with his dad; and four-year-old Terry, "the delight of the family," according to Mrs. Whitener. She explained that he was "an unexpected surprise," but we would be lost without him now as our other son is married and Charlene is almost finished with high school.

Mrs. Whitener stated that "the country is better for children than living in town because it teaches them responsibility. Our kids have always had chores to do, projects to look after, and making their own money helps them learn responsibility too," she added.

The Whiteners have lived on their farm, located six and one-half miles from Texico, for nearly 25 years. Other animals, besides pigs and cows, that also reside there is a dog named Fluffy and an assortment of friendly cats that delight in basking in the backyard sun.

Mrs. Whitener is also kept busy keeping up with daughter Charlene's school activities, including band and basketball. She explained that her daughter is the outdoor type who is happier "cleaning a pig sty than her room."

Little Terry is also a great help in the kitchen, explains our homemaker. He likes to "run the vacuum cleaner and whenever I cook he does the stirring," she added.

Our homemaker has three recipes she has consented to share with our readers.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

Pour 1 c. boiling water over:
1 c. sugar
1/2 c. Crisco
1 stick oleo
1 T. salt
Let cool to lukewarm.
Add:
2 beaten eggs
2 pkg. dry yeast dissolved in 1 c. lukewarm water
6-7 c. all-purpose flour

Cover tightly and store in refrigerator at least 12 hours. Three hours before serving time make into rolls by pinching off and rolling in a small amount of flour. Place on greased flat pan and bake at 375 degrees until golden brown.

Mrs. Whitener said this batter will keep for several days in the refrigerator and will not have to be baked all at once. She added that it is especially good for people who cannot have milk products.

MARINATED CARROTS

5 c. slices carrots
1 large sweet red onion
2 medium green bell peppers
Cook carrots in unsalted water until tender, but not soft. Place in colander. Let stand until cool. Toss with thinly sliced peppers and onion rings. Cover tightly and refrigerate.

The sauce:
1 10³/₄ oz. can tomato soup

When stacked, 490 U.S. dollars weigh one pound.

1/2 c. cooking oil
1 c. sugar
3/4 c. wine vinegar
1 t. mustard
1 t. worcestershire sauce
1 t. salt
1 t. pepper

Mix and pour over carrots, onions and peppers. Let marinate at least 12 hours in the refrigerator. Will keep for two weeks.

CRANBERRY RELISH

Grind:
2 pkg. raw cranberries
6 medium apples (not Delicious)
2 oranges (one with peel)
Add:
1 large can crushed pineapple
6 c. white sugar
Dissolve:
1 large or 2 small pkg. cherry gelatin in 1 c. hot water. Set aside to cool. Add to above mixture. Refrigerate for 4-5 days, stirring each day. Put in containers and freeze or refrigerate.

Contented Homemaker

Mrs. Howard C. (Wilma) Whitener of Texico delights in looking after and caring for her family of four, including, husband Howard and Charlene, 17, Terry, 4, and Gerald, who is 21, is married and lives nearby. One of the daily activities of keeping up with an energetic four-year-old is "reading time." Then mother and son like to recline in the living room chair and share the delightful adventures of many children's book characters. Little Terry is at the inquisitive age when he likes to have his mother share new learning experiences with him.

County Commissioners Name Society Members

Parmer County Commissioners Court met Monday morning to consider a lengthy agenda. The first item concerned the appointment of a chairman and 15 members for the 1977 Parmer County Historical Commission. Hugh Moseley was named as chairman with the following members also appointed to serve on the commission during the year 1977: Mrs. Ida Jesko, secretary-treasurer; Nelson Lewis, historian; Mesdames Ethel Bengner, Wana Brewer, C.W. (Mary) Dixon, Orma Flippin, Mabelle S. Hartwell, Mary Johnston, Allo Reeve, Jan U. Turner, Grace Whitefield, and Louisa Wilson; Joe Jesko and Otho Whitefield, and Glenn E. Reeve all of Friona.

Bruce Parr of Friona met with the court to discuss the sprinkler systems which are sprinkling water on county roads. He suggested that the county obtain standardized signs to put on the roads where such sprinklers were being used. Parr said it was understood that the signs would not relieve the sprinkler owner of the responsibility, but they might be a deterrent to wrecks due to the slick roads.

The next order of business had to do with purchase of a new backhoe for Precinct 2. The Court resolved that the necessary advertising for bids be instituted and that bids be received for one tractor and backhoe. Bids will be opened at 11 a.m. February 14.

The 1977 proposed tax roll was presented by the tax assessor-collector and discussed at length. Following the discussion it was unanimously approved.

The court approved requests by Ralph Sherry and Arthur Drake for certain gas line crossings.

The general revenue sharing situation was discussed at length to the effect that there would be no apparent restrictions on the expenditure of this revenue and that it had been approved through September 1980.

A general discussion was held relative to the job load responsibility of various offices in the county. The court resolved that the salaries of the district clerk and the county treasurer be raised from the salary approved on January 10 by $30 per month.

Tribune Reporter Attempts 'Daring Rescue'

by Shirley Gorman

This strange tale of an ordinary Farwell house cat began one Wednesday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Jadbajla, my four-year-old Blue Point Siamese, evidently decided to explore the rafters of the ceiling in the garage which is attached to my small apartment.

After I left for my job at the State Line Tribune, my Jad decided that higher was better and promptly proceeded to jump from the floor to the old refrigerator, which is stored in the garage, and ultimately to the beckoning beams in the garage.

When I arrived home for lunch the plaintive cries of my pet alerted me to the situation. Jad had gotten up to the ceiling all right, but getting back down was an entirely different matter. I tried talking, pulling, and enticing him down, all of which failed. Finally, giving up, I thought my erstwhile cat must surely come down when hunger pains dominated his fear of heights.

In the meantime, my other Siamese, a female Sealpoint christened Ozymandias by mistake, had sensed her "brother's" peril and was pacing the garage floor, looking sorrowfully from me to the stranded Jad, and all the while "meowing her head off." She even attempted to travel the same route to the ceiling, via the refrigerator, but thought better of the idea and returned to her caterwauling, instead.

In utter desperation, I finally gave up on my rescue attempts. I bolted a sandwich and returned to work, assured that Jad would soon find the courage to return to earth. I could not have been more wrong, of course.

Alas, to my consternation I returned several hours later to find my cat still stranded "up there" and meowing as loud and as ferociously as ever. After deciding I needed help I trotted a few paces over to the Willie Steinbocks, the couple I rent my place from, and asked for assistance.

For one brief moment of insanity I had considered calling the fire department, but felt "I would have been laughed out of Farwell." After all, firemen rescuing stranded cats happens only in the movies - right?

We three then put our collective heads together and promptly came up lacking a successful solution to this somewhat ridiculous problem. Jad would not be coaxed down and I could not get up high enough to capture the elusive Siamese. He simply refused to come down and he most assuredly refused to be helped or forced down. Yet he was frightened and wanted to get down.

Finally, assisted by my neighbors, I hoisted myself up to the ceiling. Now I could get my hands on Jad, or so I thought. At first sight of me, the daring rescuer, my faithless feline darted into the darkest corner to lay down and observe the proceedings with his usual disdain. Now that I was up there with him he acted as if he could not "understand what all the fuss was about."

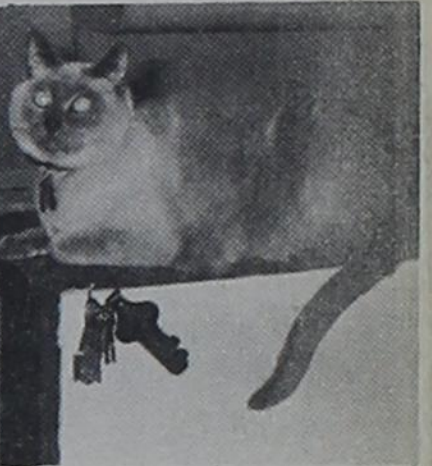

As I straddled the old beams I disturbed hundred-year-old dust which tickled my nose and clung to my clothes. I was beginning to look like a chimney sweep.

Believe me, I am not the heroic type, but my Jad was in trouble and I had to rescue him, right? I am soft hearted or is it soft headed?

Whatever, I finally latched onto my cat only to have him dig his claws into me. But as I held on for "dear life" I was determined not to loose him. Now I was faced with the problem of getting us both down without any casualties. Just then as I spied the green cat carrier resting unobtrusively on the garage floor an idea blazed 100 watts in my head. Mrs. Steinbock handed the cage up to me and as I grasped it with one limb I managed to ease Jad into it with the other. Finally, with the aid of Mrs. Steinbock, Jad was lowered to the floor and I soon followed.

Jadbajla, with Tarzan's lion's name, but none of his courage, was a dirty, tired and very relieved feline when I let him out of his cage. Naturally the first thing he did was dart to the feeding bowl to devour the very tuna he had earlier refused to be enticed into jumping down with. After sating his appetite and thirst Jad hopped onto the bed and quickly went to sleep - just as if nothing unusual had happened at all.

Serene

Siamese

To look at this angelic-faced cat one could never tell that his curiosity would lead him into a daring adventure. But that is just what happened last week. Jadbajla decided to explore the ceiling of a garage and soon discovered that Newton's law of gravity did not apply to him; that is, what goes up does not necessarily always come down.

Small Fire

A small fire broke out in the hot water heater storage compartment of a mobile home in Farwell last week, but members of the Farwell volunteer fire department responded quickly to the alarm and were able to extinguish the blaze before any damage was sustained. Fire Chief Lee Hutchins said the probable cause was a "faulty water heater." The mobile home is owned by Betty Whitson who lives at 304 9th Street.

Chamber Elects Directors, Discusses Banquet Plans

Farwell Chamber of Commerce met at noon Tuesday to elect three new directors and to discuss the upcoming Chamber banquet.

At the Chamber meeting held last month Walter Hughes, Joe Hughes and Lee Hutchins were nominated to fill the director's positions. During this week's meeting the three men were accepted by acclamation to serve as directors.

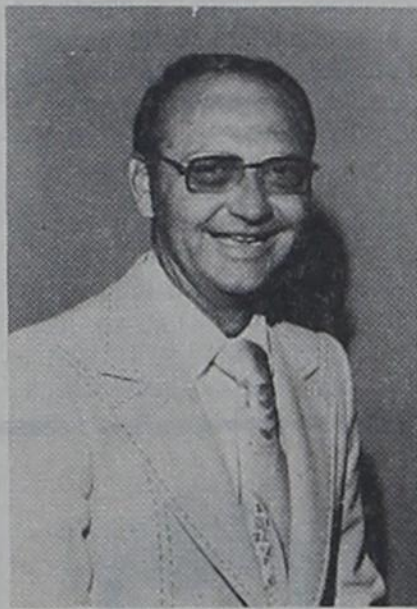

No date has been set for the banquet, but several plans are already in the works. Chamber members agreed to let the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority decorate the banquet hall again.

Bob Anderson issued a report from the speaker committee. As of press time no speaker had been secured for the banquet. Anderson said that he and members of the committee had contacted several possible speakers, but they were all unable to attend due to prior commitments. He indicated that they were in the process "of forming a second list" and would continue to contact various possibilities.

A "man and woman of the year" committee was also appointed at the meeting. Carrie Anderson is the chairman and other members include Gil Patschke, Joe Hughes, Rev. W.T. Perry, Frances Kube, Laurretta Pool and Hurshel Harding. All nominations for the award of either title should be presented to members of the committee. Farwell City Sales Tax Share Over $10,000

The City of Farwell recently received a city sales tax rebate check from the office of State Comptroller Bob Bullock in the amount of $1,077.13, bringing Farwell's total sales tax rebate checks from the state to $10,209.87 during the one year the city sales tax has been in effect. This figure does not include payments from the final quarter of 1976, according to a report from City Hall.

Checks totaling $23.2 million were mailed to 620 cities early in January along with a reminder to quarterly sales tax filers that January 31 is the deadline for their returns. The January checks raise to $152.8 million the total in rebates received by the cities for the current fiscal year, compared to $115.3 million for the same five-month period a year ago. This is a 32.5 percent increase.

(The state fiscal year runs from Sept. 1 through Aug. 31).

The rebate checks, which are mailed monthly to the cities, are for the one cent city sales tax collected within their boundaries. "State and city sales tax collections were up more than 16 percent for fiscal 1976 and the indications are now that the increase will go even higher this year," Bullock said.

"It's always a good sign for the economy when the people have and spend more money." Bullock also reminded those businesses which file their sales tax returns on a quarterly basis that they must have those returns in the mail no later than January 31 to avoid possible penalties. He noted that some 172,000 businesses which collect less than $750 a month in sales taxes file their sales tax returns and collections on a quarterly rather than a monthly basis.

Bullock said that anyone having any problems with preparing those returns should contact the nearest Comptroller's field office or call his toll-free Tax Information number, 1-800-252-5555, for assistance.
