Primary thoughts

First, a clarification: There was a discussion at the Five Area Telephone Cooperative annual meeting Feb. 8 about limiting tenure for directors.

The rules will remain the same: directors can serve 4 consecutive 3-year terms for a total of 12 years. The by-law was not changed. Sorry for our mistake in last week's issue.

Thoughts on the New Hampshire primary: I was glad to see Pat Buchanan do so well against President Bush. That really sent a message to George: he better do a better job on the economy or he will be among the unemployed next November.

However, since neither party's leaders have an understanding of the underlying economic problems, just look for half-measures this summer. There will be a little upswing, enough to keep all our politicians in office. It's a good thing we have national elections periodically. As for the Democrats, I don't have any favorites at this time. I doubt I could vote for Bill Clinton, an alleged adulterer and coward. However, some folks did. Shows what I know. Actually, I hope Clinton becomes president. With his lengthy involvement with other women besides his wife during their marriage, and his other "statesman like qualities," he would serve as an excellent role model for our young folks. Yes, I'm being facetious. When an alleged adulterer and coward runs for the presidency, it shows what state of affairs this nation is in. In my opinion, Clinton is a class-A jerk.

This note is for folks like myself who get disgusted with politicians at the state and national levels - folks like that jerk Clinton. You can always remember what democracy should really be like when you attend more localized meetings. Judy and I attend our local cooperative annual meetings and they are a joy to behold. A committee, basically open to anyone who wishes to participate, is set up to get candidates for the director posts. It's always assured that at least two persons run for each office. And nominations for others are taken from the floor. Folks are given a chance to speak their mind and to support whoever they wish. There are no 30-second sound bites. There are no posters and campaign hullabaloo. Just plain folks asked to assist their communities. This is the kind of "politics" that I enjoy. This is the kind of America I like to envision. I'd rather participate in a cooperative election than watch those bozos on the boob tube tell you anything you want to hear just so they get elected.

Speaking of jerks, I saw a classic on the TV news last week. After it came out that Clinton is a coward, the governor of Georgia, who has backed him, said stuff that happened 22 years ago shouldn't be pertinent. That's like saying it doesn't matter if a man killed his family 22 years ago; that's old news and shouldn't pertain to his qualifications to run for the nation's highest office today. I can't take it anymore.

The Flying J Wranglers

'Wranglers' to perform

Former Farwell resident James Hobbs and the Flying J Wranglers, of Ruidoso, N.M., will present a concert Feb. 29 at 8 p.m. at the Farwell School auditorium as a fund-raiser for the Farwell Convalescent Center.

Tickets are $5 in advance or $6 at the door. The cost is $2.50 for children under 12. Tickets are available at Rip's Western Wear, Hughes Auto Parts, Beauty Box and Farwell United Drug.

A trio of Farwell residents - Ronald Byrd, Jimmy Franse and Stan Austin - who attended school with Hobbs will open the concert by doing several numbers.

Roy Norman of KCLV will give introductions. He is a former member of the Flying J troupe.

The Wranglers perform in Ruidoso each summer from late May through Labor Day, 6 nights a week.

James has been performing western music for over 15 years and his wife Cindy for the last 10. The Wranglers performed at a Farwell Chamber of Commerce banquet a few years ago.

Cindy is recognized as an outstanding yodeler. She won the 1990 Grand National Western Yodeling Championship at the Western Music Association Festival in Tucson.

James has written several western songs, including one about New Mexico that is the group's most requested number. He graduated from Farwell High in 1971.

Also with the group is Bart Trotter, a national champion fiddler from Odessa.

The Wranglers appeared on the Nashville Network in June and September last year as part of the "Be A Star" talent search. They also appeared at the Grand Ol' Opry and will take a two week trip to China in March.

The Farwell Convalescent Center sponsors periodic fund-raisers. Their projects have included furnishing the chapel, the beauty shop, sunroom, outdoor patio, digital weight chair scale, computerized whirlpool bath tub, commercial size washer and dryer, rocking chairs and commercial size popcorn popper.

4th of July Jamboree planned

More than 100 Texico youths and adults turned out for the hamburger cookout Tuesday night at the fire station. Residents are seeking to develop a new youth commission.

Chairman Kirk Roberts said, "I felt the meeting went very well. The turnout was excellent. We had a lot of kids - but we still need more parents to get involved."

Roberts helped lead the discussion on ideas for youth projects. Among those mentioned were a Big Brother program, Adopt a Grandparent (helping with mowing and painting projects, for example), starting a citywide recycling project, and having a monthly "hootenanny" featuring musical performances. Planning has started for a 4th of July Jamboree, with fireworks and a cookout, sponsored by the fire department for the entire community.

The fire department is also sponsoring a contest to select an official name for the group. For details, contact fire chief Lewis Cooper.

Oran Jay Autrey, group co-chairman, talked about three buildings at Cannon Air Force Base that may be for sale. There's a possibility one could be bought and moved to Texico to serve as a community center.

The group enjoyed the hamburger cookout. Bob Spears led the cooks. Texico FFA members volunteered to serve the food and clean up afterward.

The group will meet the first and third Tuesdays of each month at Texico City Hall. The next meeting will be March 3.

Byrd, Lopez file

The filing period for local elections is underway. Here's a rundown: Lazbuddie School Board - Two seats are on the ballot, currently held by Mike Miller and Scott Brown. As of Wednesday, no one has filed.

Farwell City Council - Three posts, held by Martin Kube, Gloria Hutchins and Fred Chandler, are on the ballot. As of Wednesday, no one has filed. Farwell School Board - Two posts, held by Tom Nichols and Ronald Byrd, are on the ballot. Byrd has filed and Nichols plans to. Also filing this week was Maria Lopez. Mrs. Lopez has worked for the Parmer County adult probation department for about a year, after working for the sheriff's office for five years. She and her husband, Alvin, have five children - Alvin Jr., Jacob, Abel, Irene and Jennie. Mrs. Lopez has been active in San Jose Catholic Church, where she has been a teacher for about 10 years. She also has served many years as a scout den mother and Brownie leader.

Texico Hog Show on tap

The Texico Spring Hog Show will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Texico Schools' Vocational Agriculture Shop.

Between 40 - 50 hogs are expected to compete for the prizes. This year's show will be judged by Tommy Thompson, ag teacher at House, N.M.

The show is open to any student enrolled in Texico Schools who has raised hogs. It is organized by Texico ag teacher and FFA sponsor Charles Jackson.

Texico FFA members are busy setting up for the show. They have brought in dirt to cover the floor. They have also set up the show ring.

Prizes will be awarded to winners. The students that show the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion will each receive a belt buckle, and so will the students who win the Junior and Senior Showmanship divisions.

Record books will also be judged. A $25 cash prize will be given to the top record bookkeeper.

The FFA members will be giving away 2 half hogs this year. Tickets will be available at the show.

The FFA has had a busy week in honor of Greenhand initiation - the method that new members follow to become full-fledged FFA members.

On Sunday they attended church together at the First Baptist Church of Texico. After church they went to the shop where they constructed wooden hand shaped plaques and ate pizza.

On Monday each prospective member dipped his hand in green dye and kept it green all day long.

On Tuesday the initiates had to wear their clothes inside out.

On Wednesday, the initiates had to go to class wearing makeup and strange hairdos.

On Thursday, initiates wore the wooden hand-shaped plaques around their necks. They each had to get the signatures of 30 current chapter farmers.

Here comes another one...

Sherree Montgomery and her daughters were really glad to see Richard come home from the San Antonio Stock Show.

Sherree, Melody and Sarah were on hand to watch 10-12 lambs born while Richard was gone. Luckily, warm weather made the chore a little more pleasant than it might have been.

Nature usually takes care of the ewe and its lamb during birth, but there needs to be someone to call a veterinarian in case of a serious problem.

Sherree and the girls also watched to see if the ewes rejected the lambs at feeding time, or if the lambs were strong enough to nurse.

The Montgomerys usually move the ewes and lambs into a shelter for the first few days of their lives to protect the lambs and to make the checking easier.

Sherree says that everything went smoothly during the time that Richard was gone, but it was a lot of responsibility.

Some years lambing season is really a problem. If the temperature is extremely cold, someone has to be handy to move the ewe and lamb indoors so that the lambs don't freeze. A cold spell can mean lost lives and lost profits.

Clay Lewis

Lewis designated 'Outstanding Soloist'

Clay Lewis of Texico was designated as "Outstanding Soloist" at the Solo Contests at ENMU-Portales Feb. 15.

Thirty-one Texico students also made ratings of I at the contest.

"This is about the best we've ever done," says Texico band director Robert Simmons.

Earning I ratings were: Karie Buchan, Mary Ann Castillo, Kara Kittrell, Amy LaFrenz, Noelle McIntyre, Alesha Morris, Lori Stanley, Jennie Brown, Monica Cantu, Andrea Carter, Laura Garcia, Alison LaFrenz, Leslie Servatius, Vikki Watt, Karen Neie, Tonya Chavez, Kelley Cooper, Lindsay Kittrell, Aaron Stanley, Raymond Attaway, Rodney Chavez, Pat Chumley, Cody Drager, Chris Gonzales, John Montano, Antonio Nunez, Billy Rogers, Joey Winkles, Anthony Garcia, Adam Burford, Brent Littlejohn, Clay Lewis, Drew Little, Joni Pate.

Earning II ratings were: Andrea Montano, Michelle Ortez, Amie Bunce, Erin Littlejohn, Kelli Roach, Lisa Tomlinson, Carol Servatius, Natasha Shaw, Tony Cabral, Barbra Autrey, Clyde Jenkins, Bryon Morris, Larry Tomlinson, Steven Horner, Brandon Rodarte, Jason Herrington.

Cary Kittrell and Anna Southard and Christi Pate accompanied the musicians in their work.

Reed, Karie Buchan, Mandy Helmer, Kristi Neie, Tamara Robberson, Brandi Williams.

- Hybrid Relays 2, Coachs Nadine Maben and Paula Leighton, members, Josh Jorde, Ryan Howell, Brandon Rodarte, Charles Williams, Adam Burford.

- Alice in Omerland 2, Coach K'Dawn Driver, members, Brandon Schauf, Mike Litzelman, Stephen Cloud, Lorissa Pate, Jesse Barba, Jennie Brown, Leslie Servatius.

- Hybrid Relay elementary, Coach, Dale Schwartz, members, Amber Shaw, Ross Burford, Greg Qualls, Chad Helmer, Ryan Autrey.

Some of these teams will participate only on the local level. Some of them will progress to the state and hopefully, the international competition.

This year there are three different problems that teams can attempt to solve: Hybrid Relays, The Omument, and Alice in Omerland.

In the Hybrid Relays competition the teams are asked to design 5 different vehicles from free or inexpensive materials. Each vehicle must be powered by a different method of propulsion: batteries, mechanical, pneumatics, vibration, and one free choice.

The vehicles must meet specific specifications. They must also be able to perform specific tasks including: travel a course, break balloons, pull a weight, move flags, climb stairs. The vehicles must also be designed within a very specific price range. Accurate records must be kept. The whole project must then be presented in a creative manner.

That sounds like a lot of "musts," for a competition that aims at teaching youths to think creatively to solve problems without being hampered by preconceived notions. Luckily, the procedure is designed to make the constraints as pleasant as possible.

"Style can carry you even if the vehicle doesn't work," says coach Paula Leighton.

The scoring system helps to place the emphasis on creativity rather than simply on producing a product. At each step in the process the team is asked to do certain things which help to prepare them for the competition. The final presentation is only part of the scoring procedure.

According to coach Nadine Maben, one of last year's teams won in spite of some major last minute problems. The members who were present were quick on their feet during the short term problem solving section, and they were able to succeed in spite of some major problems.

"They are looking for a cooperative effort in problem solving," says Mrs. Maben.

The process involved in preparing the projects is one of developing a real team which is able to work together to solve complex problems rather than simply producing a project.

"Never underestimate the power of cooperation and creative thinking," says Ms. Leighton. Through cooperation and teamwork the team members learn to strive for consensus rather than compromise.

The Alice in Omerland project challenges team members to write a creative play similar to Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland." The play must be accompanied by sound effects and music. Team members must design animated props to accompany their stories.

The Omument project challenges the team members to invent a monument and create a play to explain why this specific monument was constructed. Planning costumes and music are part of the project.

Elementary School principal Joel Pate started Texico's first Odyssey of the Mind Competition three years ago. Each year Texico's interest in it has grown.

"Schools aim at convergent thinking. In this competition five people must work together. There are a multitude of answers possible. This works on divergent thinking, risk taking, and cooperative thinking," he noted.

According to Pate, one of the key elements of the competition is teaching the team members "never be negative when you first approach a problem."

The process relies on brainstorming and writing down all possible solutions instead of simply jumping at the most common solutions. During practice sessions, the team members participate in activities to help foster creativity.

For instance, in one practice session team members are given a time limit, some eggs, putty and toothpicks. They are asked to stand the eggs on end within the time limit. After struggling for a while with the putty and toothpicks they are shown a video tape of a person who has won this competition - he has simply cracked the bottom of each egg so that they will stand on end.

"Nobody said you had to solve the problem without cracking a few eggs," said Pate.

Mrs. Maben said that she thought "Odyssey is probably more work, but it's team work. Science Fair is only one person doing a project. In Odyssey there is something to present as well as solving a spontaneous problem."

Lady Wolverines fall; Shaw sets record

The Texico Lady Wolverines lost out to Elida in the first round of the district tourney Tuesday night 66-49.

The Lady Wolverines entered the district basketball playoffs as the 5th seeded team place.

"It was our first losing season in 13 years," said coach Roy King sadly. "Hopefully we won't have another season like this."

Elida took a narrow 3 point lead in the first quarter. By halftime, Elida had a 31-26 lead. During the final half of the game Elida's score "kind of mushroomed," said King.

Scoring were: Marsha Hamilton, 20; Dara Jenkins, 11; Lorissa Pate, 10; Chesna Campbell, 3; Natasha Shaw, 2; Alison LaFrenz, 2; Laura Vega, 1.

Jenkins had 12 rebounds. The Lady Wolverines were 5 for 15 from the charity line, and 20 of 63 from the floor.

"We have to work on defense. We're giving up so many baskets," King said. But, he stressed the fact that the team had not lost because of lack of effort. His young team did not have the winning spark that previous teams have had.

"We played catch-up all year long. We're ready to start on the right track next year," he said. "Hopefully, we'll regroup and not have to go through another season like this. It's pretty humbling to go through a 4 win season."

The Lady Wolverines finished at 4-20.

The coach noted that they will be older and more experienced next year, and their competition isn't expected to be quite as tough. He hopes to be getting back to the state tournament soon.

The next generation FARMER

It has never been easy for young people to start farming on their own. Today, just as in the past, young people are turning to their Land Bank Association for financing.

Dependable long-term financing - generation after generation. That's the Land Bank way.

Something to think about:

Worry doesn't empty tomorrow of its sorrow; it empties today of its strength.

Buying a center pivot
VS.
buying a Valley
and a good dealer.

One thing is for sure, a good dealership doesn't cost a penny more, yet a poor one can cost you a bundle. That's something to think about, because if hardware is all you measure, you're missing the vital link - us, your Valley dealer.

That link is why the cheapest produce is not necessary the best buy. Through thick and thin, good and bad economic times, the biggest bargain in irrigation is a good dealership. One with staying power, factory-trained service, and parts. It means service, and parts you can depend on for many, many years.

So don't just compare equipment when you buy your next system. Compare dealers. We're ready to talk when you are.

Rest easy. It's a Valley.™

Marshal's Report

Here is the weekly report from the Texico marshal's office:

On Feb. 15, Russell Marshall, 21, Portales, was arrested on charges of furnishing liquor to a minor, driving with a suspended license, open container and windshield obstruction.

In the car with Marshall was Terrell Brantley, 19, Portales, who was arrested on charges of minor possession and open container.

Marshal Fry Urioste reported that a man left the Town & Country service station without paying for his gas. He was stopped in Muleshoe by the Bailey County sheriff's office, returned and paid his bill.

Two accidents were investigated by the marshal's office but no one was injured, although two cows were killed.

Urioste also cautioned parents to make sure their children have seat belts on while riding in vehicles - it's the law. He has seen some small children standing in their seats which is very dangerous.
