MR. AND MRS. T. H. BLACK

Newcomer Celebrating 75th Birthday Today

Today is T. H. Black's 75th birthday, but he doesn't know what, if anything, he'll do to celebrate. His wife might bake him a cake.

"If she does," he said earlier this week, "I hope she doesn't try to get that many candles on it. He was afraid it might burn the house down."

Mr. and Mrs. Black are newcomers to Big Spring, residing at 1704 Gregg. He doesn't look 75, but then, he's a man with young ideas and they may have had something to do with keeping him young.

For instance, Mr. Black was 60 when he decided to fly and got his private pilot's license. He logged more than 1,000 hours before a heart attack grounded him a year ago.

"It was the hardest thing he ever had to do—give up flying," Mrs. Black says. "But the doctor won't even let him drive a car now, I'm the chauffeur." She emphatically states that she does not share her husband's enthusiasm for flying.

The couple lived for many years in Higgins, where for 34 years he was in the banking business. He also developed ranching interests there and later, near Fort Worth. After he learned to fly he owned and operated airports at Fort Worth, Graham and Hamilton and quite often ferried Cessnas down from the plant in Wichita, Kans.

They lived in Fort Worth about 11 years, later in Stephenville for two years before moving here. Their main interest in Big Spring is a young grandson, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Beaman. Mr. Beaman is manager of the Goodyear-Service Store.

Since their arrival here the Beamans have been entertaining so much company that they have hardly had time to get settled good. One of their holiday guests, a flier friend of Mr. Beaman's, is a civilian transport pilot on overseas routes, who has more than 20,000 hours of flying time.

Higgins, their old home, is the town which was struck several years ago by a tornado which killed 50 persons.

"It doesn't look the same any more," they both agree, "with all those people gone. And the bank doesn't look like the same place since the second floor was blown away."

Mr. Black also picked up the photography hobby once and even bought a projector and equipment to show his movies, but his enthusiasm waned and now he rarely ever uses it. But he'd still like to fly again.

Damage Suit Filed In Auto Accident

B. F. Curry filed a $15,000 damage suit in 118th District Court against Lonnie Cleon Thornton Saturday as a result of an accident on Aug. 5.

Curry alleges that he was injured in a collision at the intersection of East Sixth and South Douglas Streets, and that Thornton was driving a car which struck his auto.

The petition claims that Curry drove into the intersection first going east on Sixth. Thornton was driving north. Curry claims that Thornton was negligent in failing to keep proper look out, going at excessive speed, and falling to yield right of way.

Injuries which Curry claims resulted from the accident include jerked and torn muscles in the chest and ribs.

Thirty-Six Persons Referred To Jobs

Thirty-six persons were referred to jobs during the week by the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, according to Leon M. Kinney, manager, and of these 21 were placed in employment.

Thirty-two new applications for employment were made and 39 persons filed applications for unemployment compensation.

Calls at the office to inquire about jobs, but not necessarily to make formal applications, totaled 408, Kinney said.

Fine Is Assessed On Plea Of Guilty

LeRoy Quarles, Negro airman at Webb Air Force Base, pleaded guilty in County Court Saturday to charges of unlawfully carrying arms. Judge R. H. Weaver assessed a $100 fine plus court costs.

HI--TALK

By Margie McDougle

It hardly seems possible, but another six weeks has flown by and it's mid-term. Everyone knows what that means—a lot of study, and most important of all, the school year is half over.

The test schedule for next week looks something like this. Tuesday we will have our third and sixth period exams, Wednesday will be the second and fifth period, and Thursday will be first and fourth period. The tests will be early this week so that means everyone should have done a lot of studying over the week end.

The students of BSHS enjoyed a very good assembly program Tuesday. The program was about India and it taught us many things, mainly never to get disgusted with "God's Land" and to be proud of our America.

The Student Council has set a goal of $100 for the BSHS contribution to the March of Dimes. They urge all the students to take an active part in the drive. A daily record will be posted in the foyer to tell of the progress we are making.

The Majors Club enjoyed a banquet in the high school cafeteria Friday night. Those attending were Alice Ann Morton, Carolyn Miller, Ann White, Carolyn Whitefield, Nita Anderson, Bernice Bice, Mary Ella Bigony, Barbara Bowen, Ellouise Carroll, Narrell Dene Choate, Mary Jo Cochran, Anne Mary Gray, Dana Lee Greenwood, LaJuan Horton, Betty Early and Anna Mae Thorpe.

The sponsors attending were Mrs. Whitefield, Mrs. Bigony, Mrs. Choate and Arsh Phillips. The guest speaker was Mrs. Harris from North Texas.

The students have probably noticed the soft drink machine in the foyer. The thanks for this go to the junior class. They installed this to help raise funds for the Junior-Senior Prom. It is the duty of each student and especially members of the junior class to see that the rules are observed.

Have in a little word of warning to the senior boys who are planning to go to college to study engineering. Be sure to take solid geometry in high school this next semester because if you don't you have to take it in college without getting credit for it.

Welcome to William Lee Wilson, a new student from Coahoma He is a sophomore and the only new student this week. Approximately six students checked out over the holidays.

Saturday several of the band members journeyed to Odessa for the all-state tryouts. The members of the group who win will have the honor of going to Galveston Feb. 11-15. Those making the trip were Harris Wood, Margaret Martin, Charles Partain, Kenneth Briden, Bill Bradley, Manuel Puga and Pat Rutledge.

The BSHS stage band gave a very enjoyable program for the P-TA Tuesday. The numbers played were, "Blue Tango," "Begin the Beguine" and "It Happened in Monterey." They also played for a program at H.C.J. We are very proud of the stage band and we know it is a real credit to BSHS.

Some of the shorthand students are corresponding with pen pals in other schools taking shorthand. All the communicating is done in shorthand. All students who take a part in this will surely gain by it.

Some of the kids seen at the basketball game and afterward were Shirley Wheat, Bobby Hayworth, Frances McClain, Gis Gilstrap, Alma Crittenden, W. A. y. e. Medlin, Janice Nalley, Lefty Reynolds, Joyce Gound, Merlin Peterson, Beverly Vaughn, Savoy Kay, Patsy Clements, Wyman Clark, Gay Jones and James Suttles.

Several of the advanced speech class students presented a radio program Thursday afternoon. Jody Miller acting as emcee introduced the debate question for this year, "Resolved: That the North Atlantic Pact Nations Form a Federal Union." Pat Crossland explained the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, followed by Junior Suter and Don Anderson, giving the pro and con of the debate question.

SUIT AND CAPE
Feminine Grace And Allure Stressed In New Designs

This is the suit story by Philip Mangone. It is the story of a positive line and a positive design carried through in a subtle fabric that blends and lets the style take the lead.

Master tailor Philip Mangone has the manuscript well in hand—his every detail planned to perfection.

There is feminine grace in the soft shoulder-line, flattery in the tiny waistline accentuated by the tapered double-breasted closing and allure, with a capital A in the curve of the padded neckline.

The skirt is red slim but has a deep kick pleat in the back for walking ease. Tweeds are sweeping the country in a panorama of colors and there is no limit to your choice. For color contrast trim the shawl collar in velveteen or linen.

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yds. of 54-inch material for the suit and the contrasting collar takes 3/4 yard of 35-inch velveteen.

This pattern is available in Standard Pattern sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20.

To order pattern No. 1068 send $1 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc. Dept. 164, Box 535, General Post Office, New York 1, N. Y. For airmail handling, enclose 25 cents.

To order our pattern booklet, volume No. VII, send 15 cents.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Darlene Sneed

Our first week back in school after the long holiday season would have been quite a dull one had it not been for the outcome of our first annual basketball tournament. There is no explanation why it was, but there was just a good feeling around school because the Jayhawks had beat the defending national junior college champions to win our own tournament. But this talk soon died down with the sloughs of two big games this week and the biggest portion of the ball players sick with the flu.

There is no doubt about the flu bug's presence on our campus this week. It seems he has especially taken up with the ball players and the coach. Those who have felt the effect of his bite are Coach Harold Davis, Bobby Maines, "Dallas" Williams, Cecil Hoggard, Don Stevens, Rodney Cramer, Tommy Porter, Weldon McElreath, Lonnie Muse, Charlie Howie, Jack Lee, Wayne Glenn, Marie Petty, Beverly Jones, Casey Jones, and Charlie Warren.

Thursday during activity period a group from the Big Spring High School presented the assembly program. Jody Miller acted as mistress of ceremonies.

The High School stage band, under the direction of J. W. King, played "Blue Tango" and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

R. B. Hall and Lily Shipley sang "Shame, Shame on You" and "You Were Only Foolin'." Lily played the piano to accompany their songs. These were very uniquely done and the student body really liked them.

Richard Hughes sang "Too Young" and "A Kiss To Build A Dream On." He was accompan-led by Nina Fryar at the piano.

Jody Miller did a very cute rendition of "Don't It Hurt the Hard Way," "Dallas" Williams and "Casey" Jones had a contest to see who was more musically inclined when they sang "Somewhere Along the Way."

Julie Rainwater played "Why Don't You Believe Me," "Boogie Woogie" and "Down Yonder."

Doyle Maynard sang and played his guitar with "Jambolaya" and as always when he has appeared in the past before our student body, he was called back for more. He then sang "Crossroads."

Several girls who gathered at Beth Stacey's house to play canasta this past week were Mary Sue White, Jamie Bartlett, Beverly Jones and Darlene Sneed.

Some of the junior college kids seen at the Big Spring-Colorado City game Monday night were Alice Boyler and Tommy Porter, Marie Petty and Lonnie Muse, Gay Jones and James Suttles, Sue Lawdermilk and Don Stevens, Shirley Riddle and Charles Warren, "Windy" Randolph, Richard Gilmore, Wayne Glenn and Glenn Barnes.

Those who went to San Angelo Tuesday night to back the Jayhawks were Sue Lawdermilk, Cecil Niblett, Bobbie Adams, Gary Warren, Larry Hamilton, Elizabeth Cope, Shirley Riddle, Beverly Jones, Marie Petty and Mrs. B. J. Petty.

Having a very enjoyable time dancing over at Lou Ann Hall's house Wednesday night were Mary Sue White, Beverly Jones, Sue Lawdermilk, Bobbie Adams, Darlene Sneed, Richard Gilmore, "Dallas" Williams, Don Stevens, "Windy" Randolph, Cecil Hoggard and Rip Riley.

Bruce Frazier's economic geography class has been receiving answers to the letters they wrote to points around the world about agriculture products produced in the different countries. They have received letters from Trinidad, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Bermuda, Madagascar. They also have received a letter from the Library of Congress explaining the status of the Great Corn Island and the Little Corn Island. The islands are being used as a naval training base.

During her visit in Cañon City, Colo., over the holidays, Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan attended a meeting of the Chapter AC of PEO of which she is a former member.

Recent visitors at the college have been Mrs. Tracy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Loftin, Dean Bennett, Beulah Harris, Pvt. Louie J. Moore, Mrs. Clara McLean, Mrs. Frances Doll, Mrs. E. N. Baker, Marie Love and George W. VanHassell.

Some of the new books received in the library lately are "Guide to Reference Books," "A List of Books for College Libraries," "The Stream of American History," "The Cruel Sea" by Nicholas Monsarrat, "The Recent Mammals of Idaho" by W. B. Davis, "The Rise of American Civilization," "Fundamentals of Electricity," "First Penthouse Dwellers of America" by Ruth M. Underhill, "Manual for Athletes" by Volmer and Volmer, "Home Mechanics' Outdoor Handbook" and "Experiments in Biochemistry."

Dior Names Fashions From Geography Book

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The French invasion of U. S. fashion continues apace this year as designers Christian Dior, Jacques Fath and Elsa Schiaparelli show everything from dresses, suits and coats to hats, fur, gloves, men's ties, hosiery, perfume and jewelry.

Dior accents in his showing the "portrait look" for spring with a huge collection of suave, sophisticated fashions.

The French master names his U. S. collection from an American geography book, showing, for instance: a Navy shantung slim dress and jacket named "Washington"; a tweed suit called "Minnesota"; a checked three-quarter coat named "Arkansas"; a heavy silk multi-striped coat in black and white called "Wisconsin."

Dior likes the rounded shoulder flowing into the natural waistline for spring, makes his skirts as narrow as possible, highlights mushroom-pleated bodices, a dazzling array of stoles, varied ascots and the "free-and-easy" collar.

Suits, uniformly pencil slim, have varied feminine details such as double-notched lapels, small stand-up or button-tabbed collars, fabric-rounded, detailed yokes replacing collar and lapels, subtle hand work to soften the severity of the straight lines. Jackets often have a cutaway line in both single and double-breasted versions. Preferred sleeve length is three-quarters, with a rounded cuff.

Dior likes low cuffed oval necklines and all-over pleating in dresses, uses mushroom pleating to telling effect, accents the natural curves of the body. Fabrics include featherweight linens and wools, smooth worsteds, luxurious heavy silk bonans and a series of printed shantung which have a new and distinguished look.

The "portrait look," Dior explains, denotes the subtlety of color blendings in his collection.

He shows a series of new tones of gray, such as pussy willow, pencil, spring mist and twilight; muted tones of beige are sandalwood, drambule and taffy; the shaded blue is dolphin, while bole de rose, grotto blue and budding green are some of the hues used in dresses and ensembles.

Dior recommends the "small mink" fur accessory for spring, shows a series of triangular scarfs and stoles which combine fur and stand-up or button-tabbed collars, fabric.

Grand Champion Bull

For the second consecutive year F. A. Youngblood and Son of Lamesa (Alton beside the bull and Arian at the halter) have had the grand champion bull at the Howard County-South Plains Sale at Big Spring. This bull is a three-quarters brother of the grand champion bull at the Abilene sale in December that sold there for $4,100 at 14 months age. Both bulls are great-grandsons of the famous old WHR Proud Mixer 21st, one of the very greatest of modern Hereford sires. At the time this picture was taken, before the sale, there wasn't any indication that the future of this bull and Leland Wallace would be entwined as the sign in the background appears to have foretold, but when the auction was held that was exactly what happened. The bull was bought, as the highest priced animal in Thursday's sale, on a partnership bid of Wallace and the Wilson Brothers Ranch.

The Finest Lady There

Lady Diamond 189th, consigned by Charlie Creighton, was selected by Judge Frank Jordan of Mason County as the grand champion female of the Howard County-South Plains Association's sale during the week. She was sired by Creighton's herd bull, Major Mischief 20th. This heifer's mother, Lady Diamond 92nd, had but two grandparents, Moline Mischief and Lady Diamond, her sire and dam being full brother and sister. Incidentally, both this grand champion female and the grand champion bull were calved the same day, January 3, 1952. E. W. Lomax of Big Spring bought this cow in the auction that followed the show.

High IQs Don't Always Result In Top Grades

It's almost a cliché that students on the honor roll are those with the higher IQs, but when it comes to failures, those with lower IQs have a lot of strange company.

Records compiled by Wilder Roe, director of guidance at the Big Spring Senior High School, cast some interesting light on the subject.

Of 18 pupils on the all A honor roll, all except one has an IQ rating of 102 or higher. The exception is a student with 94, but who digs long and hard to make the grade.

But look at the 22 failing in three or more courses. Four of these have IQs of 106 or above and should, through a modicum of effort and application, be on the A honor roll. That means that 18 per cent of the failures should be of the other extreme.

In addition, there are eight — or 37 per cent — with IQs from 96 to 102 and certainly capable of making at least the B honor roll without any great effort.

There are only six out of the 22 who are failing three or more subjects who have IQs low enough to indicate that this is near their range. Even among this half dozen, there is not a one but who could make the grade by really working at the job, said Roy D. Worley principal.

Why do youngsters endowed with a quicker grasp than others sometimes get on the bottom rung of the ladder?

Reports from teachers, according to Worley, indicates that lack of effort is the foremost cause. Close behind is incomplete work. Next is classroom indifference. Still another is too many absences, coupled with a failure to make up work following absences.

The absentee problem is a particularly knotty one, said Worley. While it is probable that in many instances children will learn more by going to a fair, exposition, etc. than in a day at school, the fact remains that unless they make up the day missed at school, they lose that learning. If it is necessary to take children out of school, Worley urged that parents insist on them making up the missed work.

He also asked that parents come to his office and ascertain if their children are doing as well as they are capable of doing. The IQs — and these are established on the basis of a number of tests — are but one of the bits of information on file. There is a lot of other which will reflect the child's general attitude in school. By knowing of potentialities and problems, parents can be of tremendous help in making the school experience the richest possible one for their children, Worley pointed out.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Red Propaganda To Be Discussed

One of the knottiest problems of the new year will be discussed on America's Town Meeting of the Air, scheduled over KBST Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The subject matter will be "How Should We Fight Russia's 'Hate America' Campaign?"

A trio of authoritative speakers will present their opinions on the question: Alfred Puhon, program director of Voice of America; Louis Galantiere, policy advisor of Radio Free Europe, and Henry Taylor, ABC commentator.

"GREATEST STORY"

A lad taken from his widowed mother by an unrelenting grandfather teaches the old man the meaning of forgiveness and humility in "Go With Him Twain," the episode to be heard on the ABC Radio Network's The Greatest Story Ever Told, on KBST today at 4:30 to 5 p.m.

In the story young Abner, a follower of the Master, hears the teaching: "whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him; the other also, and whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain." While unwillingly accompanying his grandfather to a distant city he has a chance to translate the counsel into action, thereby rescuing the old man from a difficult predicament and regaining him. The drama based on a teaching from the Sermon on the Mount as set forth in the Gospel according to St. Matthew.

"MYSTERY THEATRE"

A young baseball player, thrown out of organized baseball for involvement with gamblers, turns to hurling hand-grenades in a "protection" racket in "The Case of The Kid's Last Pitch," to be heard on Mystery Theatre, over KBST, Wednesday at 8 p.m.

One of the kid's lethal pitches boomerangs and sends Inspector Mark Saber of the Homicide Squad and his sidekick, Sergeant Tim M. Loney, on a manhunt that almost results in Tim's murder.

Second Suit Filed In District Court

W. A. Hutchens filed a second compensation suit in 118th District Court Saturday against the Houston Fire and Casualty Insurance Company.

The suit for $3,690 follows by several days another compensation suit asking maximum compensation of $10,025. Both suits were filed for injuries sustained while Hutchens worked for the United Pipe Production Company.

Hutchens alleges in the second suit that dope to go on pipes splashed from a vat onto his face, injuring his eyes and facial tissue. He claims it caused 35 per cent disability.

The first suit was filed alleging total disability as a result of Hutchens falling after being shoved with a pipe while working. Total disability, he claims, was caused from injuries in the back and legs.

Legislating To Please Neighbors Is Not The Answer To Problems

Neville G. Penrose, conservative Democrat and chairman of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission, thinks that if Texas would clean itself up, sprinkle a little perfume around and maybe quit saying you-all, it might some day elect a Texas President of the United States.

thinks the state should pass an anti-lynching statute just to please the furriners and maybe pave the way to the White House for some future Texas resident. He seems to think that unless the poll tax and the lynching affairs are straightened out, no resident Texan has a chance.

These Days—George Sokolsky

Even Democracy Does Not Have Same Meaning To U.S., Russia

The visit of Winston Churchill to this country has, from the first, centered on the development of the Korean War.

for this purpose and never did anything about peace.

Stalin having admitted that he is involved in the situation in Korea, in his reply to James Reston of "The New York Times," the degree of such involvement requires analysis and some action.

Our experience with Stalin, since the Teheran Conference in 1943, is that he is dishonest, sleek, tricky, unreliable and even dishonorable.

In the Soviet world, ranging from the River Elbe in Europe to the Pacific Ocean, there is only one master.

He admitted that everybody could agree on the basic principle of opposition to Communist Russia, but he insisted Truman's operation of this policy had been "full of error, of wavering, of failure."

It is characteristic of Soviet Russian diplomacy for Stalin to assume the role of a benign father of all peoples, smiling like a Cheshire cat, while all the time his Asiatic associates are fighting in a real war not only against the United States but against the United Nations of which Russia is a member with a permanent seat on the Security Council.

When at Teheran and Yalta, Roosevelt and Stalin were talking about democracy, they were not talking about the same thing, although they used the same word.

It is possible by this technique for Stalin to conduct a war, managing every phase of it, while at the same time giving the impression of neutrality.

It could have been avoided had the usual procedures of diplomatic intercourse been pursued. When the situation is difficult, it is best for the principals not to meet.

If Stalin wants peace in Korea, he can have it. If he has any proposals to make, he can make them through ordinary channels.

name of "Venus's flytrap." It is a native to some eastern parts of the United States, and has been reported growing wild from Long Island down to Florida.

The old tale about "plants eating people" is heard from time to time, and I would like to know who made it up in the first place.

Venus's flytrap is a member of the sundew family. Other kinds of sundew plants eat insects, but usually catch them in a sticky liquid instead of trapping them in leaves which snap together.

I wrote about insect-eating plants a few years ago, but shall go over some of the facts for the sake of this reader and others.

Outside the sundew family we find another group made up of pitcher plants. These have folded leaves, and the hollow inside of a leaf may be half full of rain water.

Spotlighting A Week Of News

Harry Sings His Swan Song But His Mark Upon Our Life Will Be Recorded

By FRED GREENE Harry Truman sang his swan song as President this week and for a change most legislators had some kind words for him.

ord with some jeers. And jeers he got when he presented a huge, $78.6 billion budget to Congress on Friday.

But not all of them. Sen. Taft didn't think much of Harry's State of the Union message. He admitted that everybody could agree on the basic principle of opposition to Communist Russia, but he insisted Truman's operation of this policy had been "full of error, of wavering, of failure."

The vaudeville budget prompted cries of "fantastic" and "confusion," along with stern promises to wield the axe, perhaps cutting as much as $12 billion, though most critics will settle for around $10 billion.

By and large, however, most senators and congressmen will await President-elect Eisenhower's view on the subject. The Truman budget's major items are defense and foreign aid. Military spending total was $46.3 billion, while foreign aid was up $1 billion to $7.5 billion.

France got another premier, finally, for about the 16th time since the end of World War II. Rene Mayer took the post and he was confirmed only because he unexpectedly won the 86 votes of Gen. Charles DeGaulle's RPF group.

Another rough week for air planes was recorded. One commercial plane went down with seven persons killed. A pair of giant B-50 Air Force bombers collided with six, possibly nine, airmen dead.

Two U.S. employees of the United Nations quit after being under fire for subversive activities or as a risk. They were David Weintraub, who got about $15,000 yearly as boss of the UN division on economic stability and development; and David Zablodowsky, $10,800 a year director of publications and documents section.

By and large, the outgoing chief executive can say he has numerous accomplishments to his credit. Whether such are offset by what many call failures, must be left to future historians.

A troop transport plane was missing and up until late Friday no trace of the plane had been reported. It is presumed crashed with no survivors, although reports were thick that flares had been sent up in the area where the plane is presumed to have been lost.

The President's Greek-Turkish aid decision which ousted Communists from Greece and settled the Turkish regime largely is credited with saving the "soft-underbelly" of Europe from Red attacks and probably forestalled any possible Soviet move to gain the Middle Eastern oil-rich areas.

A plane crash in Ireland took the lives of 27 persons. Missing in the crash was a box of radium, considered highly dangerous.

The Marshall Plan in these and other countries of Europe most definitely put European economy in shape to withstand Communism thus far. Without this aid, Communists could have infiltrated nearly all of Europe.

NEWS IN THE SPOTLIGHT: The expected start of a fight

DEUTERONOMY 33:27—"The Eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."

This verse from the Old Testament, provides a sense of security for whatever may come to us. It is an eternal God upon whom we are dependent to sustain us. We put our arms around our children to express our love and to assure them of their security; and for us, there is nothing that life can do to us that can remove us from the care and the affection that the everlasting arms of God imply.

Talking Makes A Person Weary? What About The Poor Listeners?

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Do you have that run-down feeling? Do you suffer from muscle fatigue, lack of pep and the rest of living? You just too tired to lift a hand?

easy. That is, unless you want to throw a mustard pie in her face.

Could he you talk too much. This is what a fellow says. He's a Chicago physiologist who made a bunch of laboratory tests.

One little gimmick that probably would work would be to lean over to a neighbor who is as bored as you are and in a stage-whisper, say: "Do you know Gladys Glotz was PG?"

It comes as no startling news that people talk too much, and everybody knows that listeners get tired; but probably nobody realized that the talker can get physically exhausted just from over-exercise of the vocal chords.

You can bet the talkative lady friend will over-hear your stage whisper, and since she saw Gladys only yesterday, this news is going to be such a shock that her jaw will drop and her mouth will hang open, right in the middle of the spiel she was making.

"One should try to keep himself from speaking, not by force or compulsion, but rather by simply letting the matter drop," says our scientist. Brother, I agree.

and then start whispering sure enough, this really stops the talk. At least for a time. Then the subject changes—to Gladys Glotz. You have made some progress, but not much.

If all the subjects that should have been dropped, actually were dropped, the resulting shock wave would make an H-bomb seem like a wet firecracker.

In the case of the man, there are just as many, if not more, problems. It does little good to walk away; your true compulsive conversationalist will follow. If you so much as nod your head in acquiescence, this is an invitation for more.

It is sort of a shame that the Chicago authority did not give some scientific suggestions in how to end a one-sided conversation without the use of force and compulsion. I doubt that it can be done, but there are a few methods worth a trial.

If you clam up and stand stolidly by while he talks on, he relishes this business of no interruptions. And if you see fit to interject a mild start of an argument, he will simply raise his voice and erate all the more beatedly.

In the case of an after-dinner speaker, it is suggested that all members of the audience bring tom-toms. After the lecturer has lectured his decently allotted span, everybody hauls out his tom-tom and goes to thumping in rhythm, preferably in a sort of South Sea hula rhythm.

About the only suggestion is to hear the phone ring, go answer it, then dash back and tell old Gush-Mout, that his store is on fire. This gives you a few minutes breathing spell while he breaks for the store and returns. Chances are, even then, he will come back with another story about how that reminded him of another false alarm.

It will serve either to quiet the speaker, or will start him talking in the same rhythm until his talk develops into a sort of chant. As the tempo progresses and the excitement of the rhythm mounts, the audience unobtrusively begins to form a Conga line and eventually winds its way out the door. I know that there have been audiences wanting to do this.

If the scientist is right, you would think that excessive talking would so wear out the talker that he eventually would drop of sheer exhaustion. This does happen, but always after all listeners already are prone and unconscious from sheer boredom.

In the case of a good lady friend who over-indulges in frequent hyper-accelerated labial marathons, the solution is not so

There is always the simple device of holering "Aw, Shaddap!" OK. OK. —BOB WHIPKEY.

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs

President Truman Has Had Good Fortune During His Eight Years

WASHINGTON — President Truman is certainly entitled to the vaudeville routine in his State of the Union message.

remedies applied by the New Deal, the massive unemployment of the depression persisted into 1941 when large contracts started a big expansion of industry.

But on the domestic side it is becoming monotonous to find Mr. Truman insisting every other day in statements, reports and special interviews that all has been for the best in the best possible of worlds during the nearly eight years of his administration.

In at least one aspect the "success" of the New Deal program of farm-price supports, with surpluses taken off the market, can be documented.

Now that he is putting down the awful responsibility of the Presidency, a little sober realism on where we are and how we got there would be helpful.

During recent months farm prices have been steadily dropping. Cattle prices have dropped from the 1951 peak of $30 to around $21.30. Cotton has fallen from 42 cents to 34 cents.

The advance in the ownership of both homes and farms has been truly remarkable. Today three-fourths of all farms are operated by their owners.

While declining farm prices have in the past been the forerunner of depression, the question ahead concerns much more than the farmer and his right to an equitable return for his products.

Realism would acknowledge, however, that the present prosperity owes a great deal to war, the rehabilitation of war-stricken nations, and the spending of huge sums for defense since the end of World War II.

As candidate, promised a prosperity that would not be based on spending for war. Even with due discount for what the late Wendell Wilkie called "campaign oratory," this is a large order.

Mr. Truman gives over the fact that prosperity had begun to curl at the edges in late 1949 and early '50. Unemployment totals were climbing and some industries were beginning to experience a depression.

President Truman would probably be the last to concede it. But along with the tough decisions and the bitter attacks, he has had a great deal of good fortune.

The economic realities of the past 20 years cannot be ignored. Despite all the President Truman announces that the hydrogen bomb tested at Eniwetok is now a fact. It will not be Truman's awful responsibility to decide whether this weapon of total destruction will one day be used.

Reuther Wants Pacts To Keep Up With Prices

DETROIT, Jan. 10 (AP)—Walter Reuther said today that auto industry peace would be threatened unless the predominant five-year labor contracts—only half run out—are brought abreast of inflationary trends within the next two months. Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers Union, held his first Detroit news conference since he was elected president of the CIO itself last month. He made it plain that he expects the big auto companies to come to agreement with his union before March 1 as to how the new and revised government price index will be used in figuring the wages of more than a million auto workers. That is the date for the next adjustment of wages under the Bureau of Labor Statistics index. But Reuther went beyond that. He said the union's recent demands for revisions of all major contracts hitched wages to the cost of living when they were signed in 1950, with no provision for wage reopening before they expire in 1955.

Karachi Quiet After Three Days Of Riots

KARACHI, Pakistan, Jan. 10 (AP)—This capital city, heavily patrolled by police and troops, was quiet with business normal today following three days of rioting which left 11 persons dead and more than 150 injured. The rioting began on Sunday night before the inauguration, a special concert will be presented in Constitution Hall, with the National Symphony Orchestra and soloists Jeanette MacDonald and James Melton. Walter Pidgeon, the actor, will narrate Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait." Then Monday night comes an inaugural festival, entertainment with spotlight stars. This, like the inaugural ball, will be held in two sections to accommodate the expected crowd. Esther Williams, Irene Dunne, Walter Winchell, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians are among the celebrities already booked to appear. Washington hasn't inaugurated a Republican president, if you remember, since Herbert Hoover took the oath in 1928. Marilyn Monroe is thrown in for good measure to make the picture even more "exciting."

Everything turns out fine when Johnson turns out to be honest, and the two unite forces.

Training Of AF Crew For A-Bomb Mission Is Told

One of the best kept secrets of World War II is told in the movie, "Above and Beyond," which shows at the Ritz Theatre Thursday through Saturday. That secret was the training of a group of Air Force men to drop the first atomic bomb in history. Robert Taylor plays the part of Col. Paul W. Tibbets, former B-17 pilot, who piloted the "Enola Gay" during its history-making flight over Hiroshima in August, 1945.

Eleanor Parker co-stars in the role of Lucey Tibbets, the wife of the famous pilot. James Whitmore heads the supporting cast playing a security officer. The story concerns "Operation Silverplate," and Col. Tibbets' job of keeping the secret. Not only does he test and perfect the experimental B-29, but he has to train his crew to drop the A-bomb. His actions are classified top-secret, and he cannot even tell his wife. The tension between them almost results in the end of their happiness. Miss Parker feels she is unneeded and unwanted in the movie.

Washington Is Scene Of New Movie

The Hollywood spotlight is on Washington, D. C. in M-G-M's new picture, "Washington Story," which will show at the State Theatre today and Monday. "Washington Story," starring Van Johnson and Patricia Neal, tells a behind-the-scenes story of the men of the nation's capital who make the headlines of daily papers. The movie effectively blends love, laughs, and legislation. Supporting actors include Louis Calhern and Sidney Blackmer. Johnson plays a young congressman who is a victim of outside pressure, an inner conscience, and a pretty girl—Miss Neal. Calhern has the part of an elder congressman who takes it upon himself to guide Johnson.

OLD-TIME FILMS SHOWING AGAIN

Miss Monroe is thrown in as an extra added attraction. She plays the part of a cannery worker and friend of Miss Stanwyck. Story locale is a fishing town where Miss Stanwyck returns after an absence of 10 years. She marries Douglas, a fishing-boat skipper, for security. However, within a short time she discovers she cannot resist the physical appeal of Ryan, a theatre projectionist. The situation is treated in a straightforward manner. 'APRIL IN PARIS'

Bolger, Day Team Up In Ritz Movie

"April in Paris," a Technicolor musical starring Doris Day and Ray Bolger, will be shown at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. The movie concerns a chorus cutie who, by mistake, is invited to represent the United States at an international festival of the "arts" in Paris. The cutie is Miss Day, and Bolger plays the State Department employe who makes the mistake. Other important roles are played by Claude Dauphin, French actor, and Eve Miller. Action opens when Miss Day receives the invitation intended for Ethel Barrymore. Bolger, when he finds out about the error, is terrified. His boss, however, thinks it is a stroke of genius. Bolger is assigned to escort Miss Day to Europe. On the luxury liner crossing, the chorus girl and Miss Day comes to the surface and she runs afoul of the U. S. officials. Dauphin plays a French actor who has gone broke in the United States and is working his way back on the boat. Miss Miller plays the boss' daughter who is in love with Bolger. Making the picture complicated, Bolger falls in love with Miss Day. The two women then start fighting it out. The triangle leads to some fancy dance numbers by Bolger and some top tunes by Miss Day. Bolger and Miss Day decide to get married and have the ceremony performed in the captain's cabin. The only trouble is that a busby disguised as the captain performs the ceremony. Paris scenes in the movie show practically all the famous landmarks—such as the Eiffel Tower, Arc de Triomphe, Sacre Coeur, Place de L'Opera, Notre Dame and the Louvre. Dauphin and Miss Day emphasize the landmarks in the song, "That's What Makes Paris Parer." Other new tunes include "It Must Be Good," "Give Me Your Lips," "I Know a Place," "April," and "I'm Gonna Ring the Bell Tonight."

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Here are two more junior livestock show dates to mark down on your calendar:

The Coahoma High School's FFA Chapter's annual show at 1:30 p.m. Friday, January 23, and the annual Glasscock County Livestock Show at Garden City on Friday, February 6.

The Coahoma date is also the date of the first day of the two-day Martin County Show at Stanton, but the main events of the Martin County Show will come on Saturday, with the sale Saturday afternoon.

To be exhibited at the Coahoma show are what are probably the only two FFA steers on feed in Howard County, and both of these are drylot steers.

One of the steers is from the herd of Donald Lay of Coahoma, and the other is from the herd of Rentie Hamilton of Texhoma, Texas.

The two feeder-exhibitors are Nat McMinn and Jean McMinn. At Coahoma the following boys will show lambs:

Guy Hodnett of Vincent, one crossbred and one finewool; David Hodnett of Vincent, one crossbred and one Southdown; Dudley Arnett of Vincent, one finewool and two Southdown; Grady Barr of Vincent, one finewool and two crossbred; Tommy Birkhead of Coahoma, one finewool, two Southdown and one crossbred; Bob Garrett of Coahoma, one finewool and one crossbred; Jimmy Burkholder of Coahoma, one finewool and two Southdown; Jack Morrison of Coahoma, one finewool and one Southdown; Johnnie Wilson of Coahoma, one finewool and one Southdown; Nat McMinn of Coahoma, three finewool and two crossbred; Weldon Appleton of Coahoma, four finewool; Norman Spears of Coahoma, two crossbred.

Nat McMinn, Tommy Birkhead and Weldon Appleton, all three bred their own lambs.

All the other finewool lambs were bred by G. W. Jenkins of Melvin, Texas; the crossbred lambs were bred by Alne Real of Kerrville, and the Southdown lambs were bred by Sidney Cowan of Esperanza, Texas.

The following boys will show capons at the Coahoma event: Grady Barr, two; Doug Warren, two; Jimmy Burkholder, four; Norman Spears, three; Bill Dickson, three; Troy Tindol, four; Carl Kennedy, two; David Hodnett, two; Larry Breenfield, two; Bobby Blackshear, one; Don Kenemer, two.

No grand champion lamb will be selected at Coahoma, but the first place lamb in each class will receive a trophy presented by Andrew Dickson, Paymaster Feed dealer in Coahoma.

A grand champion capon will be selected, however, and a trophy will be presented. Another trophy will go to the best calf.

The show is under the general direction of Marion T. Jenkins, vocational agriculture instructor in the Coahoma High School.

As is the custom the Garden City show and sale will be the traditional event, with the big barbecue at noon.

L. M. Hargrave, associate professor of agricultural education at Texas Tech, will judge this show, as well as the Martin County Show at Stanton.

He will be assisted in the judging at Garden City by E. L. Tiner of Big Spring, area supervisor of the vocational agriculture courses in the high schools of 26 West Texas counties.

Three types of lambs will be shown at Garden City, finewool, crossbred and Southdown. A grand and reserve champion will be named for each type. Ribbons will be awarded the first 10 places in each class, with rosettes to the grand and reserve champions.

Oliver West, Glasscock County agricultural agent, says there will be 13 members of the 4-H Club showing lambs. These 4-H members will have a total of 13 finewool lambs and 10 crossbred.

To qualify for the crossbred class the lamb must come from a finewool ewe and Hampshire, Suffolk or Corriedale rams only.

4-H Club members showing crossbred lambs will be Marion O'Bannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac O'Bannon; Butch Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allie B. Cook; Jimmy Davee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davee; Ralph Schafer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schafer; Aubrey Asbill, Mary Ruth Asbill, Thelbert Asbill and Jack Asbill, from the family of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Asbill; Buddy Newell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Newell; Lyndia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Laughlin; Don Charles Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Phillips; Douglas Allee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allee, and Gene Boswell, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Boswell.

4-H Club boys getting steers ready for the Glasscock show are Jack Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Berry, who is feeding out three Herefords, and Ralph Schafer, who has one Hereford calf.

There are 17 Garden City Future Ranchers feeding out 39 lambs and one steer, according to M. A. Barber, vocational agriculture teacher.

Jimmy Smith, is the steer feeder and he is getting a Hereford ready. He is also feeding lambs.

Among the others feeding the FFA (Future Ranchers) lambs are Wilburn Bednar, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bednar; Bryant Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Harris; R. J. McCartney, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCartney; Don Pryor, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pryor; Marion Carter, son of Mrs. Pearl Baker; Jimmy McCorqudale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Bigby; Truitt Newell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Newell; John J. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Phillips; Tommy Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Rich; Darrell White, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. White; Sonny Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Allen; Eugene Davee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davee; Chris Hinds, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hinds; Gary Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mitchell; Darrell Northcott, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Northcott, and Troy Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cline.

Only 30 lambs will be sold, one from each feeder, and only three steers will be sold.

Committees are: Finance committee: Jay Cunningham, Thurman (Spec) Reynolds, D. M. White, Lynn Gandy and Martin Holder. General committee: B. A. Harris, Cecil Wilkerson, J. M. Allee and John Bednar. Barbecue committee: E. F. (Blacky) Pryor, Ted Laughlin, Clyde Berry, Cecil Wilkerson and B. A. Harris.

Remember — The Garden City show is an all-day event.
