Five compete for queen's title

Five young ladies are competing for the title of 1993 Miss Border Town Days.

The winner receives a $300 scholarship.

The competition will begin at the gazebo in Farwell City Park at 2 p.m., as part of the Border Town Days activities.

Here's a look at the contestants:

Pam McIntosh is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Foreman. She will be a Junior at Texico High School this year. Pam's hobbies include being with friends, basketball, and playing pool. Pam hopes to become a probation officer after she attends college.

Barbara Montney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Hicks, Jr. She will be a freshman at Texico High School this year. Barbara likes writing and collecting. She plans to go to college.

Stephanie Olivarez is the daughter of Barbara Olivarez. She will be a sophomore at Farwell High School this year. Stephanie likes to dance, skate, and run. She will be involved in cheerleading and track at school this year. Stephanie would like to attend college, and then to become a choreographer.

Shasta Bowery is the daughter of Vicki Bowery. Shasta will be a junior at Farwell High School this year. She likes drama, poetry, swimming, spending time with friends and family, and meeting new people. She would like to become a drug abuse counselor when she finishes college.

Barbra Autrey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Autrey. She will be a sophomore at Texico High School this year. Barbra enjoys baking, drawing, and sports. She plans to become a corporate attorney after college.

The BTD contestants enjoyed seeing the play "Horse Sense," at a dinner theater in Amarillo last weekend. The play involves quite a bit of audience participation - Shasta Bowery was called up on the stage and asked to deliver a few lines. The audience was also provided with popcorn to throw at the villains.

The contestants had dinner with the judges on Wednesday evening so that the judges could get to know them better, but there was no judging at that time.

There's music in the air!

Normally, Border Town Days ends at 5 p.m. Saturday.

But this year, local folks will keep the musical entertainment going. Under the leadership of Geneva and Kevin Hardage, here's a peek at what's in store after 5 p.m.:

* The Hardage's old band will play music from the '60s and '70s. Besides Kevin and Geneva, it includes Carl Goettsch, Pablo Lucio, David Everett, David Everett Jr., Jack Allen Kirkland and Gerald Hardage.

* "Vizion," a band which features '90s music and Christian rock, includes Lee Cook, Dustin Hardage, Damon Faulk, Blaze Hardage, Greg Bearss and Chuck Hammitt.

* Individual performers will be Tonya Moore, Clay Corn, Jonathan Cunningham, and Adrian and Matthew Ancira.

Border Town Days kick off

The 27th annual Border Town Days celebration kicks off this weekend.

Here are some of the highlights:

Charlie Phillips

Charlie Phillips, the Farwell resident who went on to country and western fame with his "Sugartime" hit, will appear at a fund-raiser for the Farwell Convalescent Center Friday night at the Clovis Holiday Inn.

Saturday events

A highlight will be the 12th annual Merchants' Giveaway in which 38 merchants will give away prizes throughout the afternoon. You must be present to win.

The Farwell Fire Department will hold a drawing for a new pickup truck.

The BTD Committee will be giving away $50 to a person who purchases a commemorative button. You must be present to win. The buttons, which cost $2 donations, finance BTD.

Other highlights of the afternoon include the CAKE Train, dunking booth, petting zoo, basketball shooting contest, arts and crafts fair, and a host of musical entertainment and concession stands.

Barbecue

Following the parade will be the annual barbecue at the Farwell City Park served by the Texico - Farwell Rotary Club.

Serving will begin at noon cdt. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under the age of 12. A drink is included in the price of a ticket. Tickets are available in advance from Rotary Club members.

Decorated Bike Contest

On Saturday, the decorated bicycle contest will be held at 9:45 a.m. cdt on Anderson Street, directly west of Texico City Hall.

The street will be closed to traffic. See story elsewhere in today's paper for details.

Street Parade

The annual parade kicks off at 11 a.m. cdt. It will begin at Griffin Street in Texico and proceed down the highway to Farwell, turning right on 5th Street and ending just past the Farwell Convalescent Center.

Willie Dannheim will be at the ending point of the parade to direct parade participants to the park. He will also direct parade participants on where to park their vehicles.

Fourth Street heading into the park will be closed to southbound traffic for a short time. This will allow parade participants to exit more smoothly.

Parade entrants are to form at 10:30 a.m. cdt in Texico. A map showing where they should go is elsewhere in today's Tribune. A lineup of the parade will be along side it.

In charge of the parade is the Texico - Farwell Lions Club. Parade marshal is Hal Helton. The Lions Club members will wear yellow vests and will be available to assist entrants. They will be at the corner of Griffin Street and the highway.

Park Events

The opening ceremonies will take place at 1 p.m. cdt in the park gazebo. Emcee will be Fred Chandler. Musical entertainment will be provided throughout the afternoon - and beyond.

The national anthem will be sung by Nancy Miller. Greetings will be given by Texico Mayor Doyal LaRue and Farwell Mayor Chris Gikas.

A certificate to Honorary Parade Marshals Roy and Tommie Snodgrass will be presented.

Then Rhonda Qualls, Ann Cooper and Mike Pomper will give out the cash awards and trophies for the decorated bike contest, float contest, best animal units and top motorized unit winners.

Slated on this year's schedule for entertainment are: Lupe Vichurri, Erynn Thomas, Charla Corn, the Billy the Kid troupe, Teri Taylor, and Frank and Eddie Vega. The Kevin and Geneva Hardage Band will provide backup, and plans to entertain after the traditional 5 p.m. closing.

Also, the queen's contest will be held, with the winner receiving a $300 scholarship. Five girls are competing for the prize.

It is advisable to bring a lawn chair or blanket along with you to the park Saturday.

Texico Mayor LaRue resigns

The Texico City Council Tuesday received a short letter from Doyal LaRue, saying he was resigning as mayor.

LaRue's term was to end next year.

Although no explanation for the resignation was given,

Texico's council for the past several months have been having more and more executive sessions to discuss "personnel." LaRue, as city personnel officer, reportedly has come under criticism from one or more councilmen during these closed meetings.

City Attorney Duane Hamar will check into what is legally needed to be done to have a new mayor. Butch Tharp, who was mayor pro tem, ran Tuesday's meeting.

Speculation is that the council will pick councilman Ronnie Warmuth, a retired Texico school teacher, to be the next mayor.

During the meeting, councilwoman Carolyn Burrows read a prepared statement dealing with the recent hiring of Larry Garrison as deputy marshal and the appointment

Farwell, Texico bands to practice

The Farwell High School Band plans to be in the Border Town Days parade this year.

Principal Larry Gregory said all junior high and senior high band members should report to the Band Hall at 7 p.m. July 29 for practice.

The Texico Wolverine Band will practice from 6 - 7:30 p.m. mdt Friday evening for the Border Town Days parade.

Volleyball tourney set

Nine teams have signed up for the Border Town Days Volleyball Tournament so far. Ladies' teams are still needed.

Sign-ups will continue until Friday evening; it can be done by calling Richard Carpenter (806) 825-2055 or Byron Mayfield (505) 683-5229.

The cost is $40 per team. Volleyball games will begin at about 4 p.m. Saturday.

Obituaries

H. Ray Campbell

Graveside services were held July 28 for H. Ray Campbell, 68, of Fritch, Texas, at Bovina Cemetery with the Rev. Geary Brogden, pastor of First Baptist Church of Friona, officiating.

Campbell was a native of Tula. He was a World War II veteran. He was a member of the VFW in Canyo, First Baptist Church of Farwell, and owned and operated Campbell Electric in Parmer County for 30 years before retiring.

He married Vernell Berry on April 23, 1949, in Clovis.

Surviving are his wife; 2 sons, Donny, of Borger, and Danny, of Friona; a daughter, Donna Harper, of Amarillo; 2 brothers, Cecil, of Amarillo, and Lee, of Friona; 2 sisters, Doris Tucker, of Houston, and Nila Nichols, of Canyon, and 9 grandchildren.

Paul Skaggs

Services were held July 24 for Paul Skaggs, 70, of Texico at Advent Christian Church with Pastor Greg Martin officiating.

Burial followed at Texico Cemetery under the direction of Steed - Todd Funeral Home. Skaggs died July 24 at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

He was born Jan. 24, 1923 in Rogers, Ark. He was a long-time resident of this area. He graduated from Texico High School in 1940. He served in the U.S. Navy 1944-45 and was a retired rural mail carrier. He was a member of Advent Christian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Bonnie; 2 sons, Gary, of Muleshoe, and Randy, of Clayton, N.M.; and 6 grandchildren. Casketbearers were Bill Dudley, J.C. Boone, John Hill, Scott Turner, Weldon Smith and Melvin Burns.

Honorary bearers were his grandchildren, Michael Cary, Janna, Robyn, Curtis and Eric Skaggs.

Memorial contributions may be made to Boys Ranch, Melrose, N.M., or to a favorite charity.

Texico

of Gil Holguin as marshal.

Mrs. Burrows pointed out that too many major problems have involved the Texico police force over recent years, with marshals either quitting or being asked to quit.

She said the city policy guidelines used in the process that culminated in hiring Holguin as a deputy marshal last month went very well.

But she said the employment procedures used in hiring Garrison and promoting Holguin were not completed. Thus, she said she cast her negative vote because (1) it was inappropriate to hire by motion - that's up to the personnel manager, and (2) the council needed to complete the employment procedures.

At Mrs. Burrows' request, the council called an executive session to discuss possible litigation concerning the recent law enforcement vacancy (filled by Garrison's hiring).

The council also opened bids for street work - the ex-

Reunion set

The Lariat Church of Christ Reunion will be held at the church Aug. 1 starting at 10 a.m. It will feature singing, the 10:45 a.m. service, a meal, more singing and visiting.

LaRue was outstanding

Folks, I've already written this week's "Border Banter," which appears in the second section of today's newspaper.

However, I could not let the resignation of Texico Mayor Doyal LaRue pass by without immediate comment.

Mr. LaRue has done an outstanding job during his tenure as mayor.

I've watched him at government meetings for several years, first when he was a pansion, with curbs and gutters, for Griffin Street between Eunice and Craig, and Anderson Street, from the highway south to the railroad right of way.

Two bids were received - Appian, Hereford, $91,212; and K. Barnett, Clovis, $90,829 Barnett got the award.

City Engineer Bob Lydick said that the bid award will be cut back to $63,000, because that's the amount of state highway money available for the work.

Also, Lydick said bids will be opened in August for the annual seal coating work. The quantities bid will be cut back to the $32,000 level - again, with funds coming from the state.

Lydick also is preparing plans to build a new water well. He has received state approval for this, although there apparently is still a hold-up with full state go-ahead. The new well is needed due to the contamination at KKR Park.

In other business, the council, will amend the "variance request" forms to make them more easily understood.

The State Line Tribune (USPS 52022) is published weekly for $11.50 in Parmer, Curry and Bailey counties; and for $19.50 elsewhere by State Line Tribune Inc., Box 255, Farwell TX 79325-0255. councilman, then as mayor. He did a superb job. Period.

When he was considering being mayor, I tried to discourage him, saying the job would take him away from his regular duties - LaRue Jewelry, in Clovis - too much of the time.

But Mr. LaRue is that special kind of individual - a man who believes in public service, even at a cost. As a concerned Texico resident, he wanted to do all he could to improve his community. So he made the time.

Folks know I'm not a great fan of "politicians." Most readers probably feel the same way as I do.

But Mr. LaRue is not, nor was he ever, a "politician." He was a public servant, the kind of citizen everyone of us ought to aspire to be.

I cannot tell you of the number of hours Mr. LaRue has worked on Texico concerns the past few years. Or the number of meetings he attended in towns ranging from Roswell to Tucumcari to Santa Fe.

During his tenure, some important issues confronted Texico - cleanup, KKR park contamination and new water well, police, street work, etc. He attacked those problems vigorously, even to the point of personally seeing Gov. King when necessary.

We all know that a year ago, the state gave Texico over $100,000 to build a new well. I can tell you folks that if it hadn't been for Mr. LaRue at that meeting to push Texico's request, it would never have been approved. And the cost of that well in itself could have bankrupted the community.

I am saddened by Mr. LaRue's sudden resignation. I know he planned to resign at the end of his regular tenure - the job takes a toll.

The Texico community owes Mr. LaRue a deep debt for the outstanding work he did in leading the Texico council through heavy thickets the past few years.

He will be missed.

Volleyball time

Texico's volleyball team will begin practice at on Aug. 3.

Coach Mike Littlejohn will again coach the Lady Spikers. The Junior High volleyball team will be coached by Cheryl Scott.

The Lady Spikers will hold their first scrimmage at 8 a.m. on Aug. 28. Teams from all over the area will be on hand for the all day round-robin practice.

Texico Junior High's new addition will house a science lab, a computer room, new classrooms, new restrooms, and office space.

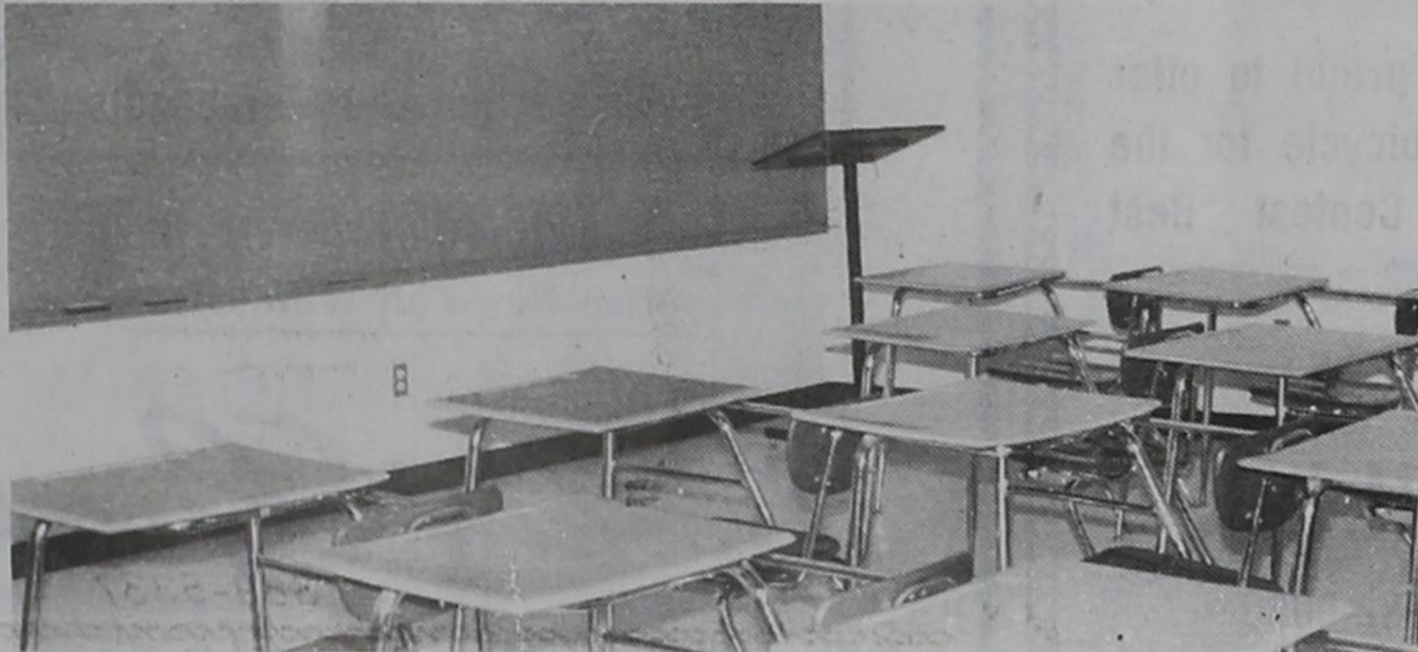

The new wing at Texico Junior High is lined with lockers ready for students.

Texico Junior High sports new addition

The new addition to Texico Junior High School has been completed. It features a large, modern science lab; a large computer science room; new classrooms; restrooms; a book storage room; a teachers' work room, and offices for the principal and school secretary.

The new science lab has a small adjoining room for science projects such as greenhouse plants, an aquarium, or a gerbil's cage.

The new classrooms are all ready for the students.

Texico hires new principal

The Texico School Board July 23 hired Diane Cooper, Barry Partain, and Randy Johnson.

Mrs. Cooper will be Texico Elementary School Principal, replacing Joel Pate.

Barry Partain, of Lubbock, has been hired as football coach, replacing Bruce Scroggins. Partain has been the head football coach at Lubbock Christian High School for the past four years.

Randy Johnson, who has taught English at Floyd, N.M., has been hired as a high school English teacher. Johnson will be working toward his doctorate in education while teaching here.

Positions for a junior high English teacher, an elementary school Chapter I aide, and a high school special education aide are still open.

Earlier this month, Randy Ragland was hired as high school math teacher, and Barbara Helmer was hired to teach 5th grade.

The board voted to make the second to last payment on the building project. All that is owed after their payment is $2,500.

New computers were purchased for the high school, and the high school's old computers were moved to the junior high school.

'It's Sugartime'

Charlie "Sugartime" Phillips and the area's top western swing band, "The Sugartimers" will be playing a benefit dance at the Clovis Holiday Inn's Garden Patio Room July 30 at 9 p.m. cdt.

Tickets are $6 in advance, $7 at the door. Tickets are available at the Beauty Box, Stateline Drugs, Hughes True Value and Rip's Western Wear.

Diane Cooper

Diane Cooper
named new Texico Elementary
principal

Texico Elementary School's new principal is Diane Cooper. She has lived in Texico most of her life. Mrs. Cooper attended Texico schools all 12 years before starting her teacher's education courses at ENMU where she earned her bachelor's and master's degrees in education.

Part of her work toward her principal's license was done through an internship in administration at Texico Junior High School under the direction of Principal Anna Southard.

Mrs. Cooper has taught junior high English and language arts at Texico Junior High School the past four years, and she was prepared to teach there this fall when the Texico Elementary School principal's job became vacant. She had just moved into one of the new classrooms this spring so that she would be ready for school to start in the fall. Now she must sort through her belongings again and move them into a new office.

Mrs. Cooper believes that being a longtime Texico resident will help her in her new position. "It really helps to understand where these kids are coming from, and to know the community and the parents," she said.

She is also very happy about moving to the elementary school. "Elementary education was my first love," she explained. "Essentially I'll be going back home. I taught second grade at Farwell when I first started teaching."

Mrs. Cooper does not foresee making any major changes in the elementary school programs this year. "They are already moving in a positive direction - concentrating on language development and writing. We'll just keep moving in that direction," she says.

In her first days on the job Mrs. Cooper has spent most of her time getting ready for the school year to start. "Basically, I've been trying to acquaint myself with what is there and what needs to be done. I've been putting up supplies, and working with Mr. Pate, and getting ready for registration. Basically, I'm getting ready for the teachers to come back."

When she is not working, Mrs. Cooper enjoys attending her daughter's activities at school, rodeo activities, reading and golf.

Lately Mrs. Cooper and her family have been very active in rodeo activities. Mrs. Cooper, husband Lynn and daughter, Kelley, are involved in Junior Rodeos and CCRA Jackpots.

She also sees her outside activities as, "mostly a release. Everyone in education needs time to just relax and to do something very different. The active part (of rodeoing) helps to relieve stress. I do it for the pure enjoyment," she says.

"I grew up rodeoing. I've met lots of people and made some strong friendships through it. Now that Kelley is involved it has become a family recreation."

Working with horses through rodeo activities early in her life taught Mrs. Cooper to have patience and to learn to set goals for what she wanted to accomplish. Working with livestock can also teach a person to be firm, gentle, and caring.

Area gridders to report

It's football time! Here's how the workout schedule looks for area teams:

Farwell

Pre-season, 2-a-day workouts for Farwell Steer football players begin at 7 a.m. Aug. 4 at the Farwell football field. All returning players, and all new players need to be there.

The first week of practice will stress running and conditioning, learning basic plays and safety. Helmets, pads and other equipment will be passed out later when the team begins working on blocking and tackling.

Players will practice each day from 7 - 9 a.m., and then take a break. They may bring food to eat during their break, but they will not be able to go home during the break. They will practice about 1 1/2 - 2 hours after the break.

Players will need to bring their physical forms and insurance forms to coach Stan Stroebel by Aug. 5. They are also encouraged to bring a pencil and a notebook the first day of practice.

Farwell's first scrimmage will be held against Hale Center on either Aug. 19 or 20. The Steers will also scrimmage at Morton at 6 p.m. on Aug. 27.

Lazbuddie

The 6-Man football squad will be working under the direction of veteran Lazbuddie coach Mark Scisson this year.

"This is probably the last year for 6-Man football," said coach Scisson. The school's enrollment will probably cause the consistent 6-Man champions to move into class 1A, and they will have to have an 11 man team for that.

The Longhorns are currently ranked No. 2 in Texas, and one poll even ranks them as the No. 2 6-Man team in the U.S.

"It is a real challenge to be ranked that high. Everybody is out gunning for you," said coach Scisson. Luckily, Scisson will have 13 lettermen returning this year. The team lost 6 seniors last year, but only 3 starters.

Scisson has the advantage of knowing his team well. He has been a coach and teacher at Lazbuddie for several years.

The Longhorns begin 2-a-day workouts at 7 a.m. on Aug. 4. They will have one workout at 7 a.m. and a second one at 7 p.m. each day. The workouts will begin with non-contact activities such as conditioning exercises and learning basic plays. Contact activities will begin about a week later.

All players will need to have a physical before the season starts. The school has made arrangements so that players can get a free physical at 2 p.m. Aug. 1 at the Muleshoe Gym. Or, they may have a physical examination by the doctor of their choice if they wish to pay for it.

The Longhorns open their season with a scrimmage against Wilson at Lazbuddie at 6 p.m. on Aug. 20.

Texico

Texico's 2-a-day football practices will begin at 8 a.m. mdt on Aug. 9 under the direction of new coach Barry Partain. All interested players are asked to show up at the dressing room of the high school gym.

Practices will be held from 8 - 10:30 a.m. mdt and from 4 - 6:30 p.m. mdt. Each player will need to have a physical examination prior to the start of the season. Players will need to bring physical examination forms, insurance forms, and parent permission forms to practice.

Partain, 27, is a graduate of Lubbock Christian University. He comes to Texico from Lubbock Christian High School where he has been head football coach for the past four years.

Partain will also teach junior high science. He replaces coach Bruce Scroggins who moved.

Partain and his wife, Belinda, have one son, Brent, 1. Texico's first scrimmage will be against Bovina at 5 p.m. Aug. 21 at Texico.

Cheerleaders at camp

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mike,

Well, we finally have things in some kind of order since we moved. I just wanted to drop you this note to place in the "editor" column to let all of the people in Farwell know how much we appreciated them. We really enjoyed the 10 years we spent there and the friends we made.

I wasn't able to visit with everyone that I wanted to before we moved; and would like to wish everyone in the community the best of luck in the future. We really appreciated the support we received from the community, the school, and the school board. They were all great people to work for and with.

I would also like to express my deep appreciation to all of the young men who played on our teams. The wins and losses weren't always what we wanted; but the effort was always great and the hard work was there. The best of luck to all of these guys in the future.

If anyone is ever over Abernathy way, drop by and see us. We will not be hard to find.

Rex, Connie and Amy Cumpton

P.S. Mike, if you haven't already seen the new movie "Rookie of the Year," be sure and do so. It may be the only other pennant the Cubs win. (Just kidding!)

Brochures to be ordered

The Farwell Chamber of Commerce Tuesday voted to have more community brochures made. The same ones as before will be used.

The Chamber also:

- Decided to place a box at Border Town Days for persons who wish to contribute to the memorial for Parmer County veterans who died in wartime. The box will be placed at the Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary table.

- Discussed having a video made on BTM and other Farwell events during the year, then selling copies of it.
- Discussed the proposed Farwell Senior Apartments.

Sheriff's Report

Here is the weekly report from Parmer County Sheriff Rex Williams:

On July 25, Eloy Castanon, 18, Friona, was arrested by Friona police on a charge of evading arrest. The case is pending in county court.

On July 25, Perfecto Cordova, 20, Friona, was arrested by Friona police on a charge of DWI. The case is pending in county court.

On July 24, Senaido Mediano, 37, Hereford, was arrested by Texas Highway patrol on a charge of DWI subsequent. The case is pending before the Grand Jury.

On July 26, Arturo Torres, 23, Muleshoe, was arrested by Bovina police on a charge of escape.

In 287th District Court, with Judge Jack Young presiding July 20:

- Ernest Gallegos, 34, Farwell, charged with assault, received a sentence of 1 year in Parmer County Jail probated.

- Robert Carrasco, 18, Friona, charged with criminal mischief, received a sentence of 3 years deferred adjudication - probated.

- Ernest Ortiz, 23, Hereford, charged with subsequent DWI, received a sentence of 3 years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Jonessa Jennings marries Guy Brockman

Jonessa Jennings and Guy Brockman were wed June 26 in a candlelight ceremony at the Lazbuddie United Methodist Church. The Rev. Al Jennings of Lazbuddie and Father Tim Dran of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Bovina officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The ceremony took place before three arched candelabra with white tapers, decorated with greenery and bows, and flanked by two large bouquets of lilacs, azaleas, bougainvillea, agapanthea, daffodils, delphinium iris, and pepper grass. Strands of tiny lights, in two silk ficus trees, and woven in ivy garland on the altar rail completed the decorations at the front of the church. Each windowsill held small arrangements of silk ivy with bows and streamers of pink, purple and teal. Garlands of ivy intertwined with tiny lights were draped along each side of the center aisle of the church, with accents of bows and streamers in the bride's chosen colors of hot pink, purple, and teal at each pew.

Family pews were marked by large white bows and flowers and ribbons in the three colors.

Escorted and presented by her father, Phil Brockman, Jonessa wore a traditional gown of white Italian satin and tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice and layers of tulle in a full skirt. Lace encrusted with sequins and bridal pearls enhanced the bodice, off - the - shoulder sweetheart neckline, and long, tapered sleeves. Eight panels of the same lace covered the top of the skirt and tapered to points part way down the skirt. Medallions of sequined lace dotted the cathedral train made of layers of tulle. The bridal veil was waist - length tulle, with a wreath headpiece decorated with lace, sequins, and pearls, all accented by a double pouf cloud of tulle.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white lilacs, pink azaleas, purple delphinium, and needlepoint ivy. It contained items to remind her of special people; it contained a picture of Jonessa's brother, Derren, and special mementos of his; a picture of her later maternal grandfather, James Robinson, and his wedding ring; a senior class ring belonging to her paternal grandmother, Cora Belle Jennings, who graduated from Lazbuddie High School fifty years before Jonessa, and a silver charm engraved with her parents' wedding date.

Following traditions, the bride chose: "Something old" - her grandmother's class ring; "Something new" - her wedding gown and veil; "Something borrowed" - a diamond tennis bracelet belonging to Sheryl Engelking, and "Something blue" - a blue garter made by her great-great aunt, Esther Sheffield of Lubbock.

Maid of Honor was Mia Jennings, cousin of the bride, from Lazbuddie. Bridesmaids were Traci Elliott of Lubbock, Ginger Agee of Muleshoe, Misty Maxfield of Lubbock, Holley Morris, cousin of the bride from Lazbuddie, and Susan Cage of Muleshoe. They wore dresses of taffeta and sparkle organza, designed with fitted bodice, off - the - shoulder neckline, and tea length full skirts. Mia's dress was hot pink, and the bridesmaids wore alternating colors of purple, teal and pink. Matching shoes and flower - shaped Austrian crystal earrings, a gift from the bride, completed the ensemble. They carried bouquets of wisteria, lilac, azaleas, and ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brockman

Flower girl was Montana Steinbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charleson Steinbock of Lazbuddie. Her dress of hot pink taffeta and sparkle organza had a fitted bodice with puff sleeves and self fabric roses at the shoulders, and a full skirt. she wore hot pink bows in her hair and carried a white basket with silk petals.

Best man was Leland Brockman, brother of the groom from Lazbuddie. Groomsmen were Jason Schilling and Todd Schilling of Farwell, Scott Holt and Kurt Miller of Lazbuddie, and Craig Wuensche of Wilson. They wore black tuxedos with ties and cummerbunds in colors coordinating with bridesmaids' dresses.

Ring bearer was Roper Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Lazbuddie. He wore a black tuxedo, and he carried a white satin pillow edged with lace. Brian Glover of Lazbuddie and Lance King of Lubbock served as ushers and candle lighters. Bobby Ford of Lubbock also served as usher.

Music was provided by Jeremy Bruns (organ) cousin of the bride from Muleshoe, Alan Finney (trumpet) from Muleshoe, Mia Jennings, (piano) cousin of the bride from Lazbuddie; Tania Gonzales Ortega (violin) cousin of the bride from Livermore, Calif. Vocalists were Lee Ann Williamson and Lori Smith from Starkville, Miss., and Corey Rogers of Lubbock.

The groom is a 1992 graduate of Texas Tech University. He is the son of Phil and Judy Brockman of Lazbuddie. He is employed by Wilbur - Ellis Co. in the San Antonio - Austin area.

Grandparents are Mrs. Sallie Robinson of Lazbuddie; Mr.

and Mrs. Joe Bates Jennings of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schulte and Mrs. Agnes Brockman, all of Nazareth.

Other wedding - related festivities included a steak dinner in the fellowship hall following the wedding rehearsal on Friday night. Walter Hughes of Farwell prepared the steak, while Mrs. Brockman was assisted in the kitchen by Pam Miller of Lazbuddie and Sharon Hughes. There was also a bridal brunch given by Mia Jennings in the home of her parents, Hoppy and Marsella Jennings of Lazbuddie, on Saturday morning. Prior to the wedding there was a lingerie shower given in the bride's honor by Traci Elliot in Lubbock.

Launa Hawkins, sister of the groom from Mesquite, registered guests, and Shayla Kloiber of Lubbock handed out wedding programs. The registry table was covered with a white lace cloth over teal organza, and decorated with a floral arrangement and a white "bride and groom" music box. All flowers and decorations were done by Donna Glover of Lazbuddie.

A reception in the fellowship hall followed the wedding ceremony. The bride's table was covered by a cloth of white sparkle organza, caught up at the corners by clusters of flowers and white bows. "Floating tiers" of individual cakes, a center wedding cake topped with a white bride and groom ornament nestled in a cloud of white tulle and pearl accents, pink punch in a crystal bowl, crystal candlesticks with white tapers, and a Precious Moments figurine, a gift from the groom, graced the bride's table. The groom's table featured a cake in the shape of a double T, and an "armadillo" cake, a brass coffee service, and a large bouquet of anemone and hydrangea in an openwork vase. Centerpiece for the gift table was a picture of the bride and groom - their engagement portrait, matted with a poem written in calligraphy by Sheryl Engelking - brass framed and mounted on a brass easel. The picture was a gift from Jonessa to Guy. A wedding portrait of the bride, a gift to her parents, was displayed on a wooden easel. A white bird cage with floral decorations, silk ficus trees, and silk wisteria on a wooden trellis also decorated the hall.

Servers were: Amy Dent, Robbi Fly, Tiffany Simpson, Becky Schacher, and Cathy Schacher. Serving in the house party were Kirby and Vicki Burch, Donna Cozby, Lyndon and Stephanie Foster, Robert and Ellen Gallman, Greg and Sandra Gregory, Glenn and Barbara Lust, and Robert and Cheryl Smith. Reception assistants were: Holly Engelking, Shelbi Robinson, cousin of the bride, and Meghan Hawkins, niece of the groom.

The wedding celebration concluded with a buffet and dance in the Garden Room of the Holiday Inn in Clovis. After a wedding trip to Tapatio Springs, Texas, the couple will reside in New Braunfels, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Derrell and Glenda Jennings of Lazbuddie. She is a 1993 graduate of Texas Tech University

Carletta Fitz weds Steven Renfro

Carletta Renee Fitz and Charles Steven Renfro exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony July 3 in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka. The Rev. Jerry Becknal, pastor, officiated.

The altar featured arrangements of white gladiolus. A spiral candelabra adorned each side of the altar. A fan candelabra and a unity candle were placed in the center of the aisle.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Ray Fitz.

She wore a romantic gown of white taffeta and schiffle lace. The bodice beaded with sequins and pearls featured a rounded neckline, Renaissance sleeves and a Basque waist. The full skirt was accented by its beaded hem lace. The skirt flowed to a cathedral train. To complete her attire, the bride chose a floral clip accented with sequins and pearls and highlighted with a two tiered silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white silk roses.

During the service, Gail Bush sang, "This is the Day". Byron Norwood sang, "I Will Be Here". They sang "Household of Faith" during the lighting of the unity candle. Diana Hawthorne was pianist.

The bride was attended by Betty Stenette of Tahoka and Gail Bush of Burleson, matrons of honor. Bethany Short, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Each wore a dress of royal blue jacquard with satin finish.

Sammy Pridemore of Tahoka was the best man. Stanley Renfro, the groom's brother, served as a groomsman. Delton Fitz of Lubbock and Don Fitz of Clovis, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride chose a white cake with white icing adorned with mauve, country blue, and royal blue flowers.

Serving at the bride's table were her sisters, Pam Overstreet of Lahabra, Calif., and Valerie Short of Urbana, Ill.

The groom's table featured a chocolate cake with chocolate icing. Serving at the groom's table were his sisters, Jancie Curry of Las Vegas, Nev., and Jamie Haynes of Lake Charles, La.

Sandi Ramsey, niece of the groom, registered the guests. The wedding activities included three parties to honor the bride and groom. An engagement party was hosted in the home of Mrs. Billy Edwards of O'Donnell by the faculty of O'Donnell Schools. A bridal shower was held in the home of Mrs. Martin Hammonds of Tahoka. And, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Pennington hosted the rehearsal supper.

The couple will reside in Tahoka. The bride is a graduate of Wayland Baptist University, and she employed by Tahoka Schools. She is the daughter of Gladys Fitz of Texico.

The groom is a graduate of Tahoka High School, and is employed by the Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

2 Friona men killed

"They didn't have seat belts on, and that's why they died," said Texas Department of Public Safety officer Paul Stout of the two Friona men who were killed in a single-car accident north of Friona July 24.

Manuel Garcia, 30 and Martin Barrientos, 23, ejected from a 1978 Broco that ran off an unnamed county road about 1 1/2 miles north of Friona. It was Stout's opinion that the men might have lived if they had worn their seat belts.

"We're not sure how long they laid there," said Stout. It was after dark when the accident occurred, but the vehicle's headlights weren't on."

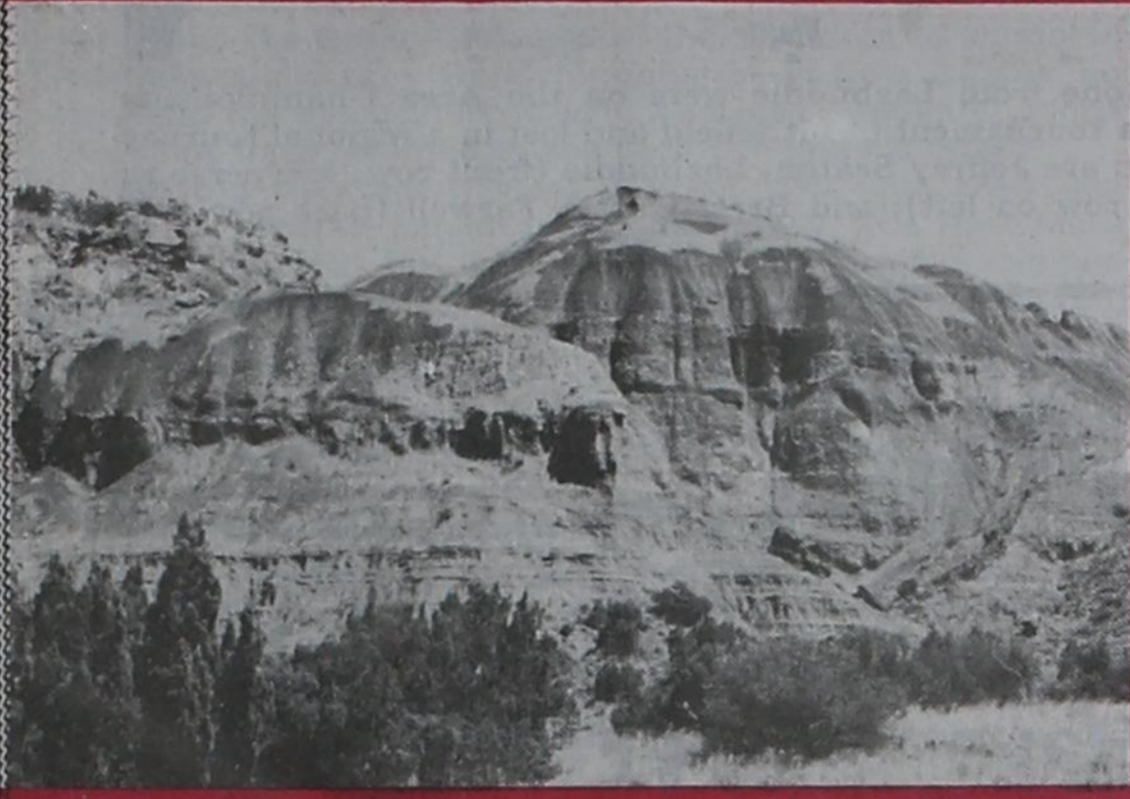

Garcia, the driver, was pronounced dead at 11:40 p.m. by Justice of the Peace Frances Euler. Shortly after midnight Barrientos was pronounced dead at Parmer County Community Hospital.

PALO DURO

Within 100 miles of Texico-Farwell, the scenery shifts abruptly from flat farmland to rugged Western canyons and mesas. Palo Duro Canyon State Park is just part of this immense geologic formation.

Visiting Palo Duro Canyon is like taking a step back in time to see this part of the country as the pioneers and Native Americans saw it - stark, sparse and awe inspiring.

Here are a few photos taken in the state park. It is well worth the drive to Canyon just to see the scenery. The park also has camping sights, horseback riding, and the musical presentation, "Texas."

Something for everyone

It's finally here - the 27th annual Border Town Days celebration.

Once again, the outlook is optimistic. We have a full array of events scheduled - something for everyone.

One important note: please don't forget to bring a lawn chair with you to the park.

We're very fortunate to live in a small community like Texico - Farwell which can put on such a major league event.

However, it does cost a few bucks to put on BTD ($3,000) and that's why we sell those BTD buttons. When you're at BTD and someone asks for a "$2 or more donation," please help out.

Not only does it allow us to continue these great fun days, but you also qualify for a chance to win $50; the giveaway will be held before the pickup giveaway at 5 p.m. on BTD. You must be present to win.

When you think of all the great entertainment, concessions, arts and crafts, parade, etc. - I don't think asking $2 is too much.

The day starts with the decorated bike contest. Youngsters should be at the contest site (Anderson Street next to Texico City Hall) between 9:30 and 9:45 a.m. cdt. The street will be barricaded shut.

The Big Parade kicks off at 11 a.m. cdt. We're really excited about this year's parade. We have a lot of new groups entered, plus Shrine cycles, antique tractors and cars, beauty contest winners, 7 class reunions, and both Farwell and Texico bands.

Then it's time to head over to the Farwell City Park for the big barbecue. You can get tickets early from Rotary Club members. The cost is $5 for adults and $2.50 for kids.

After the opening ceremonies at 1 p.m., with the prizes given out to bike contest and parade winners, the fun begins!

Entertainment will be provided by the Billy the Kid troupe, and singers Erlynn Thomas, Eddie and Frank Vega, Lupe Vidaurri, Charla Corn and Teri Taylor. The Kevin and Geneva Hardage Band will provide backup - and will continue playing after the usual 5 p.m. closing.

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

The queen's contest is always a delight, as the girls perform their talents at BTD. The winner gets a $300 scholarship. Five girls are competing this year.

Meanwhile, the park will be full of fun events for the whole family: The CAKE Train, dunking booth, arts and crafts show, lots of concessions, and much more!

Obviously, to put on an event like this calls for a full team effort. Here are some of the folks who made it possible:

Rhonda Qualls, Ann Cooper, Shandra McIntosh and her queen's contest committee, Willie Dannheim, Tom Shumate, Rick Sullivan, Lynne

Greenthaner: 'Don't judge Australia by Crocodile Dundee'

by JUDY POMPER

"Don't judge Australia by Crocodile Dundee," advised the Rev. Edward Greenthaner on his return from a visit there this spring. "We didn't see any kangaroos or koalas or sheep!"

The St. John Lutheran Church of Lariat pastor and his wife did see some of their family members while they were there.

The Greenthaners did not spend their vacation visiting the tourist sights because they have seen many of them before. Years ago the Greenthaners sent their children to school in Australia while they were missionaries in New Guinea, so they had the opportunity to visit Australia frequently. Since then they have returned to see their son and his family.

This trip they spent most of their visit with their son Mark, a Lutheran minister, and his family. The Rev. Mark Greenthaner and his wife, Christine, live on the campus of Luther College, near Melbourne. They have two children, Nathanael, 6, and Joanna, 4.

Rev. Mark Greenthaner is both a chaplain and a teacher at a state - supported religious high school in Croydon, Australia. The students he teaches would be about the age of our 7th - 12th grade students.

"The school is supported by tax money, and they follow the curriculum guidelines of the state system," said Rev. Greenthaner. "They follow the English Protestant school traditions. For instance, the kids wear uniforms to school every day. Our six year old grandson wears a shirt and tie and blazer when he goes to school everyday."

The uniforms help to build school spirit and a lasting bond between the students. Greenthaner said that high school grads in Australia, like British graduates, often wear their old school ties even when they are out of school. It is a way of identifying other grads.

The Australians have some ideas about education that are very different from ours. Unlike our system, the Australian government decides each year how many students will be able to attend college. "My son knows that only about 6,000 students in the whole country will be able to go to college next year. The rest have to do something else, like attend a trade school or get a job," said Rev. Greenthaner.

"They never over-educate; if they only need 10 doctors, they only educate 10 doctors," he said.

Those who do go to college will be educated in the fields that the government decides it needs them to study. If a student wants to study medicine but there are no job openings in the field, the student is advised to study something else.

On the other hand, the college costs are paid by the government, not by the students or their parents.

Luther College is different from other Australian schools because it is a Lutheran school rather than Anglican. Lutherans are something of an "odddity" in Australia, as are Baptists.

Rev. Greenthaner estimated that there are only about 200 Lutheran congregations in all of Australia. The first Lutherans arrived there in the 1800's about the same time German Lutherans settled here in Texas. Both Lutheran groups were Wendish speaking people from an area of Germany near Prussia. Those who came to the U.S. settled in Lea County, Texas, and those who went to Australia went to Adelaide.

In general, "Australia is not a church going country," Greenthaner.

Since World War II, Australia has seen nearly 20% increase in population due mostly to immigration. The immigrants have brought religious diversity with them as well as ethnic foods, restaurants, and new traditions.

Christine Greenthaner's parents came to Australia after World War II when New South Wales Electric Power and Light company imported German immigrants to run an electric power plant. The country needed people with skills, and the immigrants had these skills. This group of German immigrants settled in Australia as a whole community. When the coal that powered the power plant had all been mined, the electric company moved the whole community - houses and all to a new location.

Germans weren't the only immigrants to Australia. Most come from Great Britain and its former Commonwealth nations. Greenthaner says that Melbourne shows great ethnic diversity. Melbourne is now the second largest Greek-speaking city in the world. There are also Korean and Thai sections of the city.

About those Aussies...

After Pastor and Mrs. Greenthaner stopped by the Tribune office to chat about their trip to Australia, I had to check an almanac for spelling of city names and some of the recent population figures so that I could write the story.

Some things about Australia's population figures really captured my interest.

1. Australia is much, much less populated than the U.S. The two nations have similar land masses, but Australia only has 5.4 people per square mile compared to 66 people per square mile here.

2. Australia's population is more urban than ours. About 85 percent of Australians live in cities compared with 79 percent of Americans. Many folks there rely on public transportation to get to work, so they live in the cities.

3. Australia's population is racially less diverse than ours, but it is changing fast. They changed their immigration policies in 1973 to allow minorities to enter, and many people have emigrated there since then.

4. Australia's population is younger than ours. Because they do not encourage their children to go to college the way we do ours, Australians tend to marry a younger and have their children earlier. About one-quarter of their population is made up of youngsters.

Sherry Curtis turns avocation into a vocation

By Judy Pomper

Sewing has been a hobby that Sherry Curtis has enjoyed for several years. Now she has turned her avocation into a vocation. Sherry has opened "Seams to Dreams," so that she can sew for the public in her own home.

The new business provides an outlet for her creativity, flexible work schedule, and some additional income.

"This is better for my family. I am here in the house. My sewing can be interrupted if something comes up. I can start sewing when the girls go to bed and sew until two o'clock in the morning if I want to."

For many years Sherry sewed only for herself and for the Curtis' five daughters, but then friends started to ask her to sew for them.

"People lack the time to sew for themselves. Some don't care to sew, and some don't know how to sew," says Sherry. "People like to have something that no one else has. If you have a garment made, it's more or less original. You won't see yourself every time you walk down the street."

Getting proper fit is the other reason why people sew for themselves or have garments made. "Tall people have a terrible time getting things long enough, and short people need everything shortened. With patterns you can always alter a garment. You can make it longer or shorter; longer waisted or shorter waisted, or whatever you need so that it will fit."

Careful measurements are taken when a client comes to the Curtis home. Then the garment is made from a basic pattern. Most garments require two fittings before they are finished - once before the hemming and finish stitching is done, and once after it is nearly complete.

Sherry especially likes to sew for special occasions. "I like to do the formal, dressy things best," she says.

Sherry has made several prom dresses and wedding dresses. She really likes working with satin and lace, beads and sequins.

Once she was asked to design a wedding dress and train that featured a host curly ruffles. She took one look at a photograph of the dress, and knew that she would have to do some detective work to find out how the dress was made. She had to question several fabric store clerks and other seamstresses before she learned the technique of using curved, nylon thread to make the ruffles.

"On formal things I ask people to allow me two weeks. I don't want to put myself under too much pressure," she says. She tries to take each sewing order in rotation as it comes into her business - that way the customer will get her dress just as soon as possible.

Sometimes customers ask Sherry to help them with decorating as well as clothing. She has made tablecloths, throw pillows, curtains, and other decorative items. "I can do curtains, bedspreads and draperies, but sometimes it is cheaper to buy ready made draperies than to buy the fabric from a fabric store. It really depends on the price you have to pay for the material. If you watch your sales, you can sometimes get good prices."

Sherry learned to sew at home, but she has also taken some classes. In one she learned the techniques of sewing lingerie.

Sherry also sewed for the public when Peggy Haseloff had a shop here in town.

"Peggy had such a wide background. She knew a lot of short cuts. I learned how to construct a dress from a pattern quickly and easily from her. I also learned a lot of tailoring techniques from her."

Sherry worked at Peggy's shop when Norma Sanders of Texico needed a tailored western outfit for her induction into the Cowgirl Hall of Fame. Sherry learned many finepoints of the sewing business from that experience.

Through the years that she has sewn, Sherry has seen many changes in the sewing business.

"Patterns have become easier to read and to use," she says. Many offer a variety of sizes on the same pattern. Some range from size 8 to size 14. Others offer several options such as short sleeves and long sleeves or short skirt and long skirt all in the same package.

One pattern even boasts that the user can make a dress in four hours.

Another advance that has made sewing more pleasurable is the overlock sewing machine. It enables the user to sew a seam and finish the edge of the material at the same time.

Fabrics have also changed. Stretch knit fabrics weren't available when Sherry was a girl learning to sew. There are also many, many other types of fabrics on the market today.

Karyn Curtis lays out pattern pieces under her mother's watchful eye.

Kendra Stephens weds Darren Head in candlelight ceremony

A candlelight ceremony was the setting for the exchange of wedding vows uniting Kendra Stephens of Farwell and Darren Head of Shallowater in marriage. The ceremony took place on June 26 at the First Baptist Church of Farwell.

Officiating was the Rev. Rick Sullivan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Farwell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Stephens of Farwell, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Derrick Head of Shallowater.

The church was decorated with an arched candelabra flanked by two tree candelabras holding long white tapers and accented with a variety of greenery, baby's breath and white tulle bows. Adorning the setting were white columns topped with potted fuchsia azaleas, white tulle draped on the piano and organ enclosure was accented with azalea pink bows. The stained glass window ledges were decorated with white tulle draped around white tapers and entwined with English green ivy greenery. Tulle bows served as pew markers.

Kaci Stephens, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridal attendants were Amy Dearmin of Perryton, Leslie Monk of Farwell and Luci Bird of Anton.

Randy Anderson of Lubbock served as best man. Groomsmen were Grant Stovall and David Steadman, both of Lubbock, and Chanse Stephens of Farwell.

Guests were escorted by ushers Ty Paris and Coy Paris, cousins of the groom.

Megan Johnson served as flower girl and Jason Johnson was the ring bearer.

Monica Nell, friend of the bride from Lubbock, was the vocal soloist. She sang: "Sunrise, Sunset," "In This Very Room," and "There is Love." She was accompanied by Susan Johnson on the piano. Nancy Miller played the organ processional, "Pachel Cannon in D."

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal length gown of white Regal satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long Edwardian sleeves. The fitted bodice was encrusted with pearls and jewels. The elongated waistline was adorned with pearl swirls. The sheath style slim skirt was accentuated by lace medallions on the bottom. The back of the dress featured a keyhole bodice draped with hanging pearls. A back bustle topped the chapel length detachable train studded with pearls and jewels. The hemline of the train was double edged with borders of European lace.

The shoulder length veil of silk illusion was studded with seed pearls and fell from a headpiece of flowers and pearls.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white orchids, roses, and stephanotis highlighted by pearl sprays and lace streamers. An antique handkerchief belonging to the bride's grandmother was something borrowed; the diamond from the bride's maternal grandmother's engagement was something old; something blue was the bride's garters, made by the bride's aunt Karen Wright and Roene Stewart, friend of the bride; something new was pearl earrings and necklace.

Bridal attendants wore azalea pink moire satin floor length two piece gowns featuring semi-fitted bodices which flowed into a soft peplum at the hips, portrait necklines were accentuated by wide collar bands. Pearl button covers, gift of the bride, accentuated the princess style bodices of the gowns. Each attendant carried arm bouquets of pink throated lilies, spider mums, and pixie carnations in azalea pink accented with baby's breath. The bouquets were tied with tulle ribbons.

The mother of the bride wore a shell pink mid calf length dress of brocade. The bodice of her dress was highlighted by pearl buttons and lace edging. Her corsage featured white roses, stephanotis and azalea pink pixie carnations.

The groom's mother wore a two piece jade brocade suit featuring long sleeves and lace swirls on the bodice. Her corsage also featured white roses and pixie carnations.

Angie White of Farwell registered guests at a round table covered with a floral pink cloth highlighted with a floral pink cloth highlighted by candles and a crystal basket of pot pourri.

Grant Gregory distributed programs to the guests.

Following the ceremony, guests enjoyed a reception in the church Fellowship Hall.

Kristi Stephens of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Andria Chadwick of Farwell and Loris Johnson of Lazbuddie served at the bride's table. The groom's table was attended by Shirley Paris, aunt of the groom, and Landra Luttrell of Shallowater.

The three-tiered white bride's cake was decorated with white roses and pearl swags topped with a Precious Moments figurine of a bride and a groom. The bride's bouquet served as the centerpiece for the white satin pleated cloth covered table.

The chocolate groom's cake was served from the groom's table which was accented with crystal oil candles and garland of English ivy. The gift table was covered with a pink cloth and centered with a crystal vase of gladiolus.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, the bride wore a multi-color striped dress accentuated with hot pink buttons and short sleeves. Upon returning, the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of Farwell High School and Texas Tech University. She will be employed at Meadow Schools.

The groom is also a graduate of Texas Tech University. He is employed at the Sports Rehabilitation Center in Lubbock and will be entering a graduate program in sports medicine at Texas Tech University.

The wedding festivities included several pre-nuptial events.

A rehearsal dinner catered by River Smith's of Lubbock was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Derrial Head, parents of the groom at the Farwell Community Center on June 25.

A bridal luncheon was given by Tonya Gober of Bovina in her home on the day of the wedding. Special guests were female wedding attendants and mothers and grandmothers of the bride and groom.

Earlier, the bridal couple was honored with bridal showers in Shallowater, Farwell, and Lubbock.

Special guests at the wedding were the bride and groom's grandmothers, Irene Stephens of Farwell and Lilly Head of Oklahoma.

Out of town guests attending the wedding came from Dallas, Vineta, Oklahoma, Dimmitt, Friona, Bovina, Shallowater, Lubbock, Levelland and Kansas.

Australian visit

The laws which banned non-white immigration were lifted in 1973. Since then immigration has really grown.

He said Australians have some ideas about jobs and pay that we do not have in this country. Unlike the U.S., "You can live off a salary working for a fast food restaurant in Melbourne today, and the health insurance is covered," he noted.

Rev. Greenthamer expressed some very mixed emotions about the salary situation in Australia. They do not reward well educated, skilled professionals as much as we do.

"I'm not sure I agree that a baggage loader on a 747 should get paid the same as the captain," he said. Nor did he feel that a cafeteria worker in a hospital should get the same pay as a surgeon. There must be some incentive for people to work hard and improve their skills.

Australia has some free enterprise mixed with a lot of government regulation. For instance, when they were at the Melbourne Airport, the Rev. Greenthamer saw about 35 people lined up patiently waiting to be served coffee. There was only one person working at the counter. In this country, there would either be three people working at the counter, or there would be more than one counter. And, we aren't noted for our patience.

He commented upon was the Australia national health system for its workers. It is more like a national health insurance plan than anything else. The government runs the program, and everyone is assured of some type of coverage. Those who can afford it may choose type A health insurance which allows them to pick the doctors and specialists and hospitals they want if they are willing pay part of the extra costs. Those who can't, take a less inclusive health insurance policy. They may have no choice of coverage; they are simply required go to the nearest doctor or hospital.

According to Rev. Greenthamer, the government tells the drug companies, the doctors and the hospitals what they can charge. Because government is involved, cost effectiveness is a priority. Hospitals there sometimes have 8-10 people to a ward rather than private rooms that we sometimes have in our hospitals.

Transportation is another thing that is different for the average Australian than it is for an average American. Many of them rely on trains to take them to work or to shop in their cities rather than driving cars. Greenthamer estimated that more than 100,000 people use the Melbourne trains each day.

Few cars are made in Australia. "It's cheaper to make them here and ship them there," opined Greenthamer. With a population of only 15 million, a modern automotive plant could make all of the cars the country would purchase in a year in about 2 months. Then it would have to shut down.

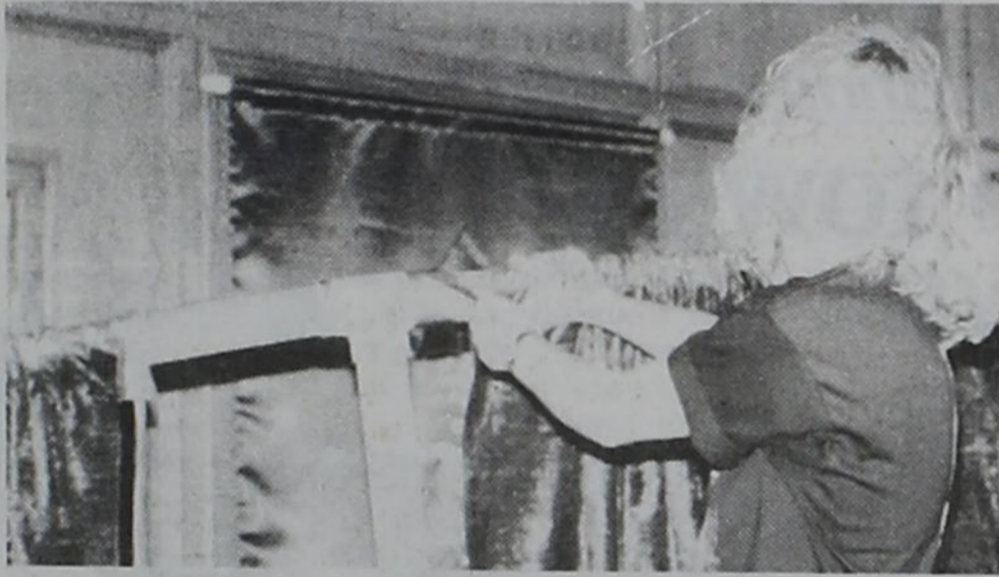

Australians really enjoy sports - especially football. There are often four different games going on in Melbourne alone on a Saturday with 100,000 people at each one. The Greenthamers found the Australian version of the game interesting, "I could spend a whole hour explaining the differences in rules between American football and Australian football," said the pastor.

His advice to tourists to Australia is, "If you go to Australia, don't just go to see the Sydney Opera House and Ayres Rock. There is a whole lot more to see."

The four and five year olds circle up to hear a story.

Farwell's First Baptist Church has Vacation Bible School

Charla Corn helped to set up the puppet theater for the Farwell First Baptist Church's Vacation Bible School.

All the little two and three year old Vacation Bible School participants gathered to learn a song.

Mahaney, Cynthia Thigpen, Frances Kube, Dee and Billy Hammitt and all the Farwell and Texico city employees, members of the Texico and Farwell fire departments, Leigh Ann Woods, Fred Chandler, Dutch Quickel, Kevin and Geneva Hardage, Orie and Peggy Jones, Richard Carpenter, Gilbert Holguin and the area police agencies...

The list could go on and on. It I inadvertently left someone off, my apologies. Everyone helps out - and that's great!

All I can say is, not bad for a community of 2,300 folks.

I got a note from Duane Lloyd, of Muleshoe, asking me to give an update on how my beloved Chicago Cubs have been doing. As all know, I predicted the Cubbies would win the World Series this year.

Well, the season is halfway over and the alibis are flourishing. Injuries, weak starting and middle relief pitching, and lack of clutch hitting have taken a toll on baseball's Best Team - which probably sports the top batting average in the league.

I realize that most of our readers, like Duane and I, live and die with each Cub contest. Mostly die.

As I write this, thanks to the ineffective Colorado Rockies, the Cubs have won four straight and climbed to the .500 plateau - about 12 games out of first.

Folks, it doesn't look good this year. However, where there's a will, there's a way. And I'm sure the Cubs have some will.

Look for a burst from the Chubbies - and a spot in the October playoffs.

I've got to say that Turk Longley, who lives over on Fifth Street in Farwell, is a heckuva gardener.

I may be prejudiced, since he's a Yankee like myself. He's from Connecticut. And he sure knows how to make things grow.

If you ever need advice on getting vegetables to grow, or flowers to bloom, or trees to survive, check with Turk.

Texico kids really enjoyed the track meet.

Texico faculty members Carrie Kittrell, Mrs. Turnbough, and Terri Brigham passed out ribbons to the students at the Texico Track Meet.
