Texico Schools Ready For Start Of New Year

School officially begins in Texico on Monday, but teachers, school personnel and administrators have been busy all week "getting things in shape" for the new year. Superintendent James Pierce announced that classes will begin August 22 at 9 a.m. MDT and will dismiss at 2 p.m. A special meeting and supper for teachers, staff and school board members has been set for tonight (Friday) at 7 p.m. MDT in the cafeteria. Pierce said that today is the first official day for teachers to report to their classrooms, adding that several teachers have already begun readying things in their rooms for the new year.

Several new names have been added to the Texico personnel roster, including Mrs. Paul (Rebecca) Topliff who will teach junior high social studies and Billy Carlyle, the new head basketball coach and Title I migrant instructor.

Other new faces will include Mary Powell, high school secretary; Carolyn Steward, Title I aide; Celeste Flores, migrant aide; Dixie Jesko, library aide. Virginia Loera will return as the junior high secretary and Linda Harrison will transfer from elementary aide to elementary secretary.

According to Pierce, the New Mexico State Health Department has passed a new regulation concerning the measles vaccination. Under the new statute, boys and girls ages 12 years old and under must have the Rubeola and Rubella vaccinations. Boys 12-18 must be vaccinated against Rubeola. Girls over 12 are not to be vaccinated for either the Rubeola or Rubella.

The superintendent reports that Max Carter is the new bus contractor for Texico schools. Lunchroom prices will remain the same as last year, according to Pierce. Prices are 45 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

George Herrington, elementary principal, announces that each teacher will issue supply lists to all students the first day of school.

He pointed out that kindergarten classes will not resume until January 11 and as in the past, sessions will be conducted all day. According to the Texico principal, the school board decided to maintain the past kindergarten schedule because "the children are more mature" and would be more receptive to instruction.

Herrington explained that a telephone survey revealed that about 37 students in Texico would be attending kindergarten this spring. As a result, he said they would probably have two separate classes which would follow the same schedule as regular classes.

Alice Richmond will return as one of the instructors. The upcoming kindergarten class will be her fourth class at Texico, according to Herrington. He said the teacher "believes in really teaching the youngsters," and emphasizes such things as color discrimination, and reading readiness. By the end of the year they will be able to print their names, says Herrington.

Work has been done on the primary playground in readiness for the coming term. According to elementary principal Dale Schwartz the third grade teachers have constructed a sandbox for elementary students to utilize. Another area of the playground has been cleared away and filled with river-bank sand.

Returning elementary teachers are Rita Dunsworth, primary I; Dale Schwartz, elementary II; Wanda Turnbough, Phase I; Nona Beth Holloman, Phase II; Ima Gene Swinney, special education; Ann Pearce, primary II; Kay Singletery, Title I and Migrant; Milton Grimes, Phase III.

Junior high teachers are Carol Brock, math; Joan Edwards, resource room; Anna Southard, language arts.

Open House Attendants

A.S. Holloman, middle, a new resident at Farwell Convalescent Center, received much attention as his family gathered around him Sunday afternoon at the open house which marked the first anniversary of the Center. Mr. Holloman who was 95 years young a week ago Sunday seemed to enjoy the open house activities. Members of the nonagenarian's family pictured are, from left, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ribble Holloman of Clovis; his granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jace Ensor of Lubbock; a grandson and another granddaughter, Scotty and Julie Holloman of Clovis. Ensor is a former Farwell resident.

Scott Levins Killed In New Mexico Plane Crash

Graveside rites for Scott Levins, 48, of Deming, N.M., were to be conducted at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Masonic Cemetery in Las Cruces, N.M.

Mr. Levins, who resided in this area for many years, was among four persons killed in the crash of a Cessna 205 last Thursday night about 24 miles southeast of Truth or Consequences.

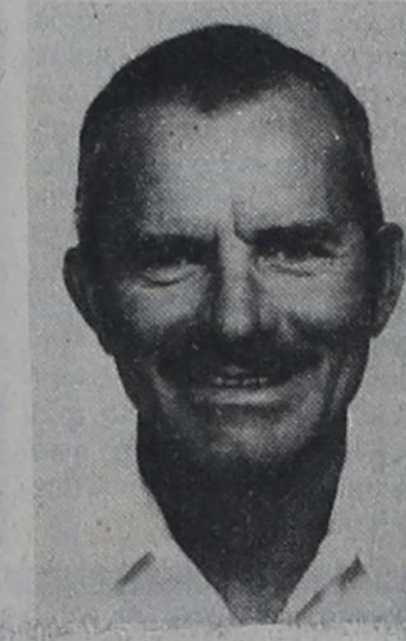

A highly qualified pilot, Levins was flying a University of New Mexico chartered plane on a flight from Los Alamos to Las Cruces when it disappeared in stormy weather Thursday night. The wreckage was located Saturday on the western slope of the mountains near T or C. Other passengers were former Las Cruces Mayor Robert Munson and his wife, Diana; and Dr. Eugene Staffeldt.

Mr. Levins was born August 16, 1928, in Oklahoma and moved here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Levins, in 1946. He operated the movie theatre in Bovina for about 10 years and also assisted his father in operating the theatre at Farwell. Levins still owns the theatre at Bovina and also owned a farm south of there.

Some 16 years ago Levins moved to a ranch near Deming, N.M., and besides operating the ranch, also worked as a charter pilot. He had numerous certificates in instrument flying, the instructional field and commercial aviation. He had been piloting for about 15 years, logging over 3000 hours flying time.

Mr. Levins, who was married to the former Lois Trimble of Bovina, became a paratrooper soon after World War II. He had graduated from high school in Purcell, Okla., and also attended Eastern New Mexico University.

SCOTT LEVINS

Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Aulana, Maudie and Georgia, all of El Paso, a son, Scott Jr., who is serving in the United States Navy; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Levins of Ruidoso; two sisters, Carrie Anderson of Farwell and Susan Miller of Ruidoso; and his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Trimble of Bovina.

Supply lists for elementary students may be picked up at that time or a list will be sent home with the students on the first day of school, Yows says.

New students entering the elementary for the first time should report to the principal's office for registration. Birth certificates for kindergarten and first graders are necessary for admittance, Yows says.

Farwell High Group To Present Comedy

Even though classes have not begun at Farwell Schools, several energetic high school students and one new teacher have already been hard at work preparing a short one act play to be presented September 6.

"The Closet," a comedy farce, features Carole Perkins and Michael Boling as Ann Winston and Dick Winston. Rusty McFarland is the skeleton.

Directing the 40-minute play is Carol Hotze of Clovis, new speech teacher

Dance Slated At Country Club

A dance for teenagers will be held at the Farwell Country Club Saturday, Aug. 27, from 9 p.m. until midnight CDT. Music will be provided by the Music Machine of Lubbock.

at Farwell High. The only performance of the play will be Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 8 p.m. CDT in the school auditorium. Admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Children under six will be admitted free.

Mrs. Hotze announces that a skit featuring segments of the play will be presented to the high school student body September 5.

Mrs. Hotze is a vivacious and dedicated teacher who is determined that "the school should be one as a student body." She hopes that beginning the year with a play will be one means of achieving that unity.

She said that several plays will be presented throughout the school year. Other activities will include a "Sadie Hawkins Day" talent show and a "theatre in the round." In addition to that, Mrs. Hotze said they will be staging plays and programs for any local civic groups, clubs and schools as requested. She said they will "be glad to work up whatever the organization would like to have as long as they give us two months' notice." She hopes they will also be able to present a children's play for the elementary students. Mrs. Hotze will also serve as sponsor of the junior class and senior class plays.

In commenting on the upcoming UIL contests Mrs. Hotze said they "are looking to be competitive and to win."

"With the enthusiasm and cooperation of students and parents we will be able to make this year a success," she says.

Grid Contest Begins Soon

The State Line Tribune along with area merchants will again sponsor the Annual Area Merchants Football Contest this year.

Football fever is once again sweeping the nation as pro teams square off to test the mettle of their opponents and in the Twin Cities the Steers and the Wolverines are hard at work preparing for the upcoming scrimmage games and seasonal competition.

Both the Texico and Farwell teams will take on their first opponents September 2, which is also the date the football contest will debut in the Tribune. The time is rapidly approaching when family members will sit down together and compete against each other in prognosticating the week's football winners.

So all of you armchair quarterbacks get your pencils sharpened and get ready for the start of the 12-week contest on September 2.

Wolverine
Directors

Paul Topliff, right, Texico's head football coach, and his assistant Roy King discuss Green and White strategy for the upcoming season. Both coaches are entering their second year with the Wolverines. They are trying to instill in their players that "nothing great is ever achieved without enthusiasm." Wolverines will scrimmage Clovis JV today (Friday) at 11 a.m. MDT at Clovis.

In last week's column, we printed the W.I.F.E. letter to the President. The letter said, among other things, that nothing could be bought for a nickel anymore.

This is to inform you that something can be bought for a nickel. It's a phone call in Lake Charles, Louisiana. Lewis Cooper, our informant, says that two weeks ago he was in Lake Charles and had to get a dime changed to two nickels to make a local pay call.

We would suspect that the carrier of conversations in Lake Charles is not a member of Ma Bell's penny pinching group. In fact, if they are not a Bell affiliate, it's possible that not only are phone calls a nickel but that the system works when it rains. That's more than you can say locally.

We received a release from the United States Chamber of Commerce giving its views on the Carter energy program. We like the Chamber's position, and pass it along for your thoughtful reading.

HALF AN ANSWER IS NO ANSWER

If you like your share of the federal income taxes and how it is spent -

If you think it is fine that the federal government redistributes 28.8% of our national income in the process of spending our tax money -

If you like the idea of taxes held as a club over your head -

If you do, then you will love President Carter's program for solving the nation's long-term energy crisis.

The cost of waging war, even the moral equivalent of war, is staggering. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States and its economists state that the Administration's energy plan requires the largest increase in peacetime taxes in the history of the United States.

The plan calls for massive efforts to reduce U.S. reliance on high-priced, uncertain supplies of foreign oil. To discourage waste and encourage conservation of energy, the plan places large tax increases on industry and utilities that use crude oil and natural gas. In turn these taxes will increase taxes paid by American consumers. The plan also would include provision for higher taxes on gasoline and a special tax on gas-guzzler automobiles.

By 1985 and thereafter, according to the Chamber, these taxes would average $1,320 for a family of four.

The Chamber endorses President Carter's conservation goals but says he offers only half an answer to the problem - conservation. The other half is greater production of energy.

Instead of relying on taxes, the Chamber believes the natural forces of supply and demand in the marketplace can achieve conservation and greater production simultaneously. If prices rise with market demands, the Chamber argues, the public will consume less because energy costs more. Producers will be motivated to explore and increase supplies because it is profitable to do so. The Chamber estimates a 6% yearly rise in prices would serve the two-fold purpose of conservation. ## Farwell Council Session Routine

Farwell City Council conducted a routine meeting Monday night. Present were Mayor Walter Kaltwasser; commissioners Fred Chandler and Johnny Curtis; city employees, Ronnie Mitchell, Doug Landrum, and Dee Hammit.

It was reported that Lydick Engineers and Surveyors of Clovis assessed the street seal coating work recently completed within the city by Jake Diehl of Hereford and called it a "good job." Reportedly, the streets "are shaping up good," but the gravel which has collected in the gutters needs to be redistributed over the surface of the streets. It was further said that many of the streets need "more traffic" to help pack the gravel down.

Lee Hutchins of the volunteer fire department informed the Council that a new pension plan for firemen is being established by the state of Texas and that cities have the option of belonging to the program or not. Cost of the program would be $12 per man per month. Under the provisions of the plan a volunteer fireman may retire at age 55 if he has completed 20 years work.

Hutchins explained that a meeting will be held in Levelland September 28 to discuss the proposed pension plan. He said someone from the local department would attend the meeting. Action on the matter was tabled until the first Council session following the Levelland meeting.

It was also reported that residents living in the south part of town are having difficulty hearing the fire siren. It was decided to look into the cost of setting up a directional alarm. No action was taken at the meeting. City employee Jack Landrum's salary was raised from $3 per hour to $600 per month. It was noted that he will succeed his father Douglas Landrum who plans to retire within a year or so.

City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell suggested that it might be easier for traffic citations to be handled if he made a schedule of fines which would be posted in the City Hall. City Clerk Janie Bowery would then handle all citations if the person in question pleaded guilty. Not guilty pleas would be handled through a court trial.

Mitchell said he felt the action was necessary due to the absence of a municipal judge. In the past, Mayor Kaltwasser has acted as municipal judge. The local marshal pointed out that due to other obligations Mayor Kaltwasser was not always around to preside over a traffic case at a given time. The Council agreed with the suggestion and the matter was tabled until the next meeting. At that time Mitchell will present a schedule of fines to the Council.

Board Meets

Farwell Hospital District Board met Tuesday night at Farwell Convalescent Center. Administrator Jeannie Norris presented a financial report on the Medical Clinic. Dora Nittler, administrator, reported to the Board that the Center now has 51 residents.

C.H. Rose, Jr., announced that a physician was interested in the position at the Clinic and that he had visited the area and facilities Sunday.

Purely Personal . . .

"The modest increase in prices would cost about $420 per family of four in the form of revenues for gas and oil producers which would then be used primarily for job-creating investment," the Chamber says.

Whereas the White House plan would cost $1,320 or $900 more a year, slow the economy and raise consumer prices by 2.4%, says the Chamber, the marketplace approach would increase jobs by nearly half a million and hold the rise in consumer prices to 1%.

Texico-Farwell Booklore

Noel M. Loomis, a former president of the Western Writers of America who has authored about forty novels plus hundreds of short stories and articles, used to live in Texico.

According to biographical information contained on the jacket covers of some of his books, Loomis was born in the Cherokee Strip settlement of Wakita, Oklahoma Territory, and raised in Texico, New Mexico Territory, and in Slaton, Tex.

His residence here would have occurred between 1905, the year of his birth, and 1910, when the Loomises moved to Slaton.

Presumably, his father -- a newspaper editor and publisher -- worked for a newspaper while in Texico. After attending Clarendon College, Noel Loomis interspersed his prolific writing with careers as a printer, an editor, and a teacher of English and Spanish.

At last report, he was an assistant professor of English at San Diego State College in California.

His works have been printed in the United States, Canada, England, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Italy, Spain, Argentina, Australia, Poland, and Israel, as well as in Braille for the blind.

Two of his books have been made into movies.

Representative titles of Loomis's mystery, science fiction, and Western novels include Murder Goes to Press, The Man With Absolute Motion, The Buscadero, The Twilighters, The Maricopa Trail, Hang the Men High, Short Cut to Red River, and Johnny Concho.

At least two of his "westerns" are set in the Texas Panhandle.

A Time for Violence is a fictionalized account of the establishment of the first court of law in the Panhandle.

Rim of the Caprock tells the story of a comanchero camp, which appears to be located near the present site of Muleshoe.

Loomis is also the author of three books of nonfiction.

The Texan-Santa Fe Pioneers and Pedro Vial and the Roads to Santa Fe are both being kept in print by the University of Oklahoma Press as titles in The American Exploration and Travel Series.

Wells Fargo, An Illustrated History, a large and handsomely printed book that appeared in 1968, is likely to become the most widely circulated of any of Loomis's books.

Not in the text, but on the jacket blurb about the author, this volume publicizes Texico. -- C.C.C.

Republican Gathering

Remodeling Underway At Farwell School Offices

These days a lot of hammering, sawing and scraping can be heard coming from the building which houses the Farwell school superintendent's office and the school tax office. Cause of all the commotion is a remodeling and rearranging project which when completed will allow the kindergarten to be a separate entity. In addition to that, all the present offices will be "changed around."

According to Superintendent James Perkins, when the dust settles and the commotion dies down, tion of school children and other pedestrians who often emerge from behind parked cars to cross the street.

Also in view of the new school year which begins August 29, Mitchell asks all residents to drive slowly and carefully around the school grounds and to obey all the signs and regulations.

He said the object of driver safety and awareness is to prevent anyone from getting hurt or killed.

The city marshal also pointed out that another parking regulation is being "freely violated" in town. According to the Uniform Act, "Every vehicle stopped or parked upon a two-way road shall be so stopped or parked with the right-hand wheels parallel to and within 18 inches of the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway."

Mitchell said that both he and the local city commission feel that more attention should be given to traffic violations because numerous complaints have been received from local citizens. He said citations will be issued and fines will be assessed for violations of city and state traffic laws.

James Craig will occupy school secretary Georgia Rundell's office and she will move into the old tax office. Dorothy Eason, tax assessor-collector, will occupy Perkins' office while Perkins moves into the back room which is being converted into a combination office and school board room.

The bulk of the present activity is taking place in that back room. A few of the improvements include lowering the ceiling, adding new lighting and new wall paneling. A lot of the work is being done by Craig and

Foster Watkins, head of school maintenance.

In order to keep the kindergarten separate, the new entrance to the tax office and superintendent's office will be the west door rather than the north door which has been used in the past.

District Court Cases Reported

Parmer County Sheriff Charlie Lovelace has released the results of the cases heard in district court Tuesday. According to the local sheriff the five defendants pleaded guilty to the charges and waived a jury trial.

Sheriff Lovelace said that four-years probation sentences were assessed to Frank Mendoza, burglary; Arthur Castillo and Charlie Castillo, forgery; William Lee, burglary of a motor vehicle; and Roy Fuentes, burglary.

The local sheriff will serve as the probation officer in each of the cases. He said under the terms of the probations each defendant must make restitution and pay all court costs. He also said that Lee has been turned over to Hereford authorities to face charges of burglary of a motor vehicle. Arthur Castillo was also released to Clovis authorities after waiving extradition where he will face forgery charges.

Sheriff Lovelace also reported that Fred Constance, Jr., pleaded innocent to a charge of theft and was tried by a jury earlier this week. Early Wednesday morning the jury had not returned a verdict.

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Shirley Gorman

Today Mrs. Eddie (Lori) Winegeart of Farwell, our area homemaker this week, is living a vastly different life than the one she had pictured for herself, she says, but quickly adds that she loves every minute of it. At one time the young woman was a very outgoing and outspoken high school student who was definitely not bashful about anything.

Lori, the daughter of an Air Force officer, was born in Germany and has lived in the Philippines, Okinawa and San Antonio, which she calls home. She planned to become a nurse, thus fulfilling the predictions of her high school friends that she would be the "ultimate career woman."

However, all that changed rather pleasantly when Lori met her future husband. She attended Texas A&M University for a year before getting married. Now she resides in a 14 x 75 mobile home which is parked on the Winegeart farm located near Oklahoma Lane with her husband and two very active boys, Paul, who is two years old, and Philip, who is five months old.

Little Philip arrived prematurely and had to be hospitalized in Lubbock for several weeks. That experience kept Lori in Lubbock for a considerable length of time. But now she says her newest son is "feeling better."

Paul, the eldest of the Winegeart boys, is an active youngster who loves to "get into things." One of his favorite tricks is to play in the mud. Lori says he always adores his baby brother whom he considers to be "something special."

According to the young married woman, being a wife and mother is her greatest satisfaction in life and she says she "loves every minute of it." She also says making the transition from big city life to country living was easy, adding that she likes it "so much better here."

"People are so friendly here and they never seem to forget you," Lori says. "I met so many lovely people here during the shower given before Eddie and I were married," she continued, adding, "I met more people during that one shower than at the five I attended in San Antonio."

When the Winegearts were first married Eddie planned to join the Air Force and Lori was to pursue a nursing career. But circumstances changed and they settled down to farm the family lands instead. Lori says she has learned how to do a lot of things around the farm during the last four years.

"Eddie grew up with one brother and several sisters so he was used to having a woman help out with the farming chores," Lori explained. "I soon learned to help him change water etc., and I even drive trucks during harvest times," she adds.

Lori likes living in the country because it is easy for Paul to play outside and he has gotten acquainted with all the farm animals. Our homemaker feels it is important for a child to grow up with animals and to learn not to be afraid of them. "The only drawback to living in the country," says Lori, is that "Paul does not have many little boys his own age to play with." It is harder for him to adjust and know how to mix in and have fun with other children at parties etc., she explains.

Lori likes to teach classes during Vacation Bible School and a few weeks ago she helped teach the two and three year old group at the combined VBS at Oklahoma Lane. The young woman says she really enjoyed the experience, adding that the little children "really do learn what you are trying to tell them."

The Winegearts are members of Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church. Lori says that because Paul is the only little child who belongs to the church, members of the congregation like to "go all out for him" at Christmas and other special times of the year. Last year they decorated a Christmas tree especially for Paul to enjoy," she says.

Yes, Lori's life is different now and she has learned to do things which she never even dreamed of doing before such as gardening and canning. But she says "they are not my favorite things to do." The young homemaker is very adaptable and is not afraid to learn how to do different things.

Lori likes to sew, crochet, do macrame, and make inkling paintings. She has learned many of these arts through the Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration Club of which she has been a member for the last year and a half.

She also spends a lot of time looking after her two boys and since Eddie is a member of the Farwell Jaycees she is usually involved with their activities as well. Recently Lori helped type the material for the record books which they entered in state competition.

Something Lori still likes to talk about is the Bicentennial July 4 celebration which the Twin Cities celebrated last year. It was fun, she says, to just be with people and enjoy all the events which were offered during the day-long festivities. She claims it is just one of the many reasons she likes living in the country and near the small community of Farwell. Lori is definitely an "outdoors person" who likes to keep busy.

Our homemaker has three recipes which she has consented to share with our readers.

be your own Meter Maid

You can add up your groceries while you're buying ...

You can add up your gasoline while you're buying ...

But
can you add up your electricity while you're buying?

Yes you can... Here's How!

Learn to read your electric meter. It will let you determine how many kilowatt hours you use in a given period of time... an hour, a day, a month or a year. That's how electricity is measured - by kilowatt hours used.

Your residential electric meter will have either 5 or 4 dials

Electric meters are easily read from right to left as you look at the meter. If the pointer on a dial is between two numbers, write down the smaller number. When the pointer is directly on a number such as the 1, see center dial above; then read it as 1 if the pointer on the next dial immediately to the right has passed zero. However, read it as zero if the pointer on that dial to the right has not reached zero.

The dials above read from left to right: 9-4-1-5. If, however, the pointer on the second dial from the right above was between 9 and zero, then the center dial would read as a zero.

Now let's read the same meter 24 hours later

This later reading is 9-4-1-8. Subtracting the first reading, 9-4-1-5, from the new reading of 9-4-1-8, the answer is 3. Thus you would have used 28 kilowatt hours in the 24 hour period.

Now you can become a METER MAID and watch your meter like a miser if you choose. WE HAVE A BOOKLET CALLED "MANAGING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL" plus other WISE USE TIPS booklets that help keep you from wasting electricity and so help lower your cost. Any of these booklets are free for the asking at your Public Service office... come by and see us.

Trumi Christian, Kim Wiloth Exchange Double Ring Vows

Trumi Donise Christian became the bride of Robin Kim Wiloth in a double ring ceremony August 6 at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in Farwell. Officiating at the service was Rev. B.J. Foster of Lubbock, uncle of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Christian of Farwell and the bridegroom is the son of Rudolph Wiloth and Nita Wiloth of Albany, Tex.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar setting of several nine-branch candelabra holding yellow cathedral candles. Rising among the candles were arrangements of yellow gladioli, daisies, yellow statice and baby's breath. Palms were interspersed among the arrangements. As the couple left the church they paused to light a wedding candle surrounded by ivy. The pews were marked by pairs of candelabra caught with clusters of yellow daisies and yellow satin bows.

Wedding music was provided by Sharon Armentariz of Lubbock, organist, and Mrs. Troy Christian of Farwell, aunt of the bride, soloist. Songs included "Follow Me" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a candlelight colored polyester organza gown featuring gimped lace down the front. The gown featured an empire waistline, Queen Anne neckline, and angel sleeves. The attached chapel train also featured gimped lace down the back. She carried a stylized cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, stephanotis, pixie carnations, baby's breath and springeri fern.

In carrying out bridal tradition, the bride's dress was something new; a sapphire ring belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. T.L. Kent, was something old and borrowed; and something blue was a garter given to her by Mindy Wiloth, sister of the bridegroom.

Judy Burt of Abilene served as the maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Allen Butler of Anton and Loy Christian of Friona. The flowergirls were Amy Foster of Farwell and Keralee Crume of Amarillo.

The bridal attendants wore yellow Qiana nylon dresses featuring a "v" neckline, angel sleeves and an empire waistline gathered in the front. They each wore a yellow organza flower in their hair and carried clutch bouquets of yellow fugii and yellow statice tied with yellow satin. Brad Koonce of Desdemona, Tex., served as best man. Groomsman were Scotty Koonce of Desdemona and David Bales of Albany. Chad Crume of Amarillo was the ring bearer and ushers were Charles Christian of Farwell, and Buford Salters and Bob Tidwell of Albany.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Christian chose a long green gown. Mrs. Wiloth wore a long apricot colored gown. They each wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

The reception followed at the parlor of the church. The bride's table was covered with a candlelight cloth and featured silver appointments. The two-tiered wedding cake was decorated with fresh flowers and encircled with baby's breath.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a brown cloth. Gold appointments were used to serve finger sandwiches and coffee. The bridegroom's sisters served.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, the bride wore a two-piece blue dress with a corsage of sweetheart roses and stephanotis. The couple will make their home in Albany.

The bride is a graduate of Farwell High School and received a degree in elementary education from McMurry College, Abilene. She is teaching in the Albany school system.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Tarleton State College where he received a degree in business. He is presently employed with a construction company in

MRS. ROBIN KIM WILOTH

Albany. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's family in the backyard of the Donald Christian home.

Tables were individually decorated with the bride's chosen color, yellow, and were covered with cutwork cloths.

A bridesmaid luncheon was hosted in the home of her aunt, Mrs. B.J. Foster of Lubbock. Other hostesses were Mrs. Allen Butler of Anton, Mrs. T.L. Kent of Muleshoe, and Mrs. Steve Foster of Farwell.

The serving table featured a yellow linen runner and was centered with a bouquet of fresh yellow fugii, yellow and white statice and baby's breath.

The menu consisted of tomato bouillon appetizer, chicken breast kiev, green rice, fresh fruit cup, cheese rolls, and rainbow cake.

Guests were the honoree, Trumi; her mother, Mrs. Christian; and Mrs. Nita Wiloth, Misses Tempie, Mindy and Tammy Wiloth, and Mrs. Buford Salters, all of Albany; Mrs. Israel Armentariz of Lubbock; Judy Burt of Abilene; Mrs. Troy Christian and Mrs. Carrie Christian of Farwell; and Loy Christian of Friona.

Farwell Church of Christ

Wastefulness is a burden that is almost too heavy to bear. It may be caused by carelessness; self-indulgence; bad judgment; bitterness; or some other faulty life view. Regardless of the cause, it eventually becomes a heavy load.

Life is wasted by some people; others waste material wealth; some waste natural resources; opportunities are wasted by many people; individual potentialities and abilities are often wasted; and much of the time given to us is wasted, too.

A proper devotion to the Christian concept of life eliminates wastefulness. The Christian accepts the Divine law of stewardship, and understands the necessity for faithfulness in this stewardship.

The Christian will be making the best use of life; of money; of time; of opportunities; and of everything else that is part of the God-approved life structure.

Wastefulness is inexcusable. We cannot make the same progress, but all of us can make progress which will be satisfying, and meet our need for self-fulfillment. This means that we are making our life, our time; our money; our energy; our abilities; and our opportunities count.

Christ says, "Do not give dogs what is holy; and do not throw your pearls before swine, lest they trample them underfoot and turn to attack you."

Wastefulness is self-betrayal, and it displeases God.

Coach Whatley Praises Steers 'Super Attitude'

"We are way ahead of last year," says Farwell head coach Tom Whatley commenting on the two-day contact workouts which the Steers have been participating in since last Friday. "The attitude of the players is super," he says, adding, "it is a great encouragement to the coaching staff."

The Farwell coach says they have been "working hard" all week and will probably "slack off a bit" by today (Friday). Next week due to teacher in-service assignments they will only work out once on some days.

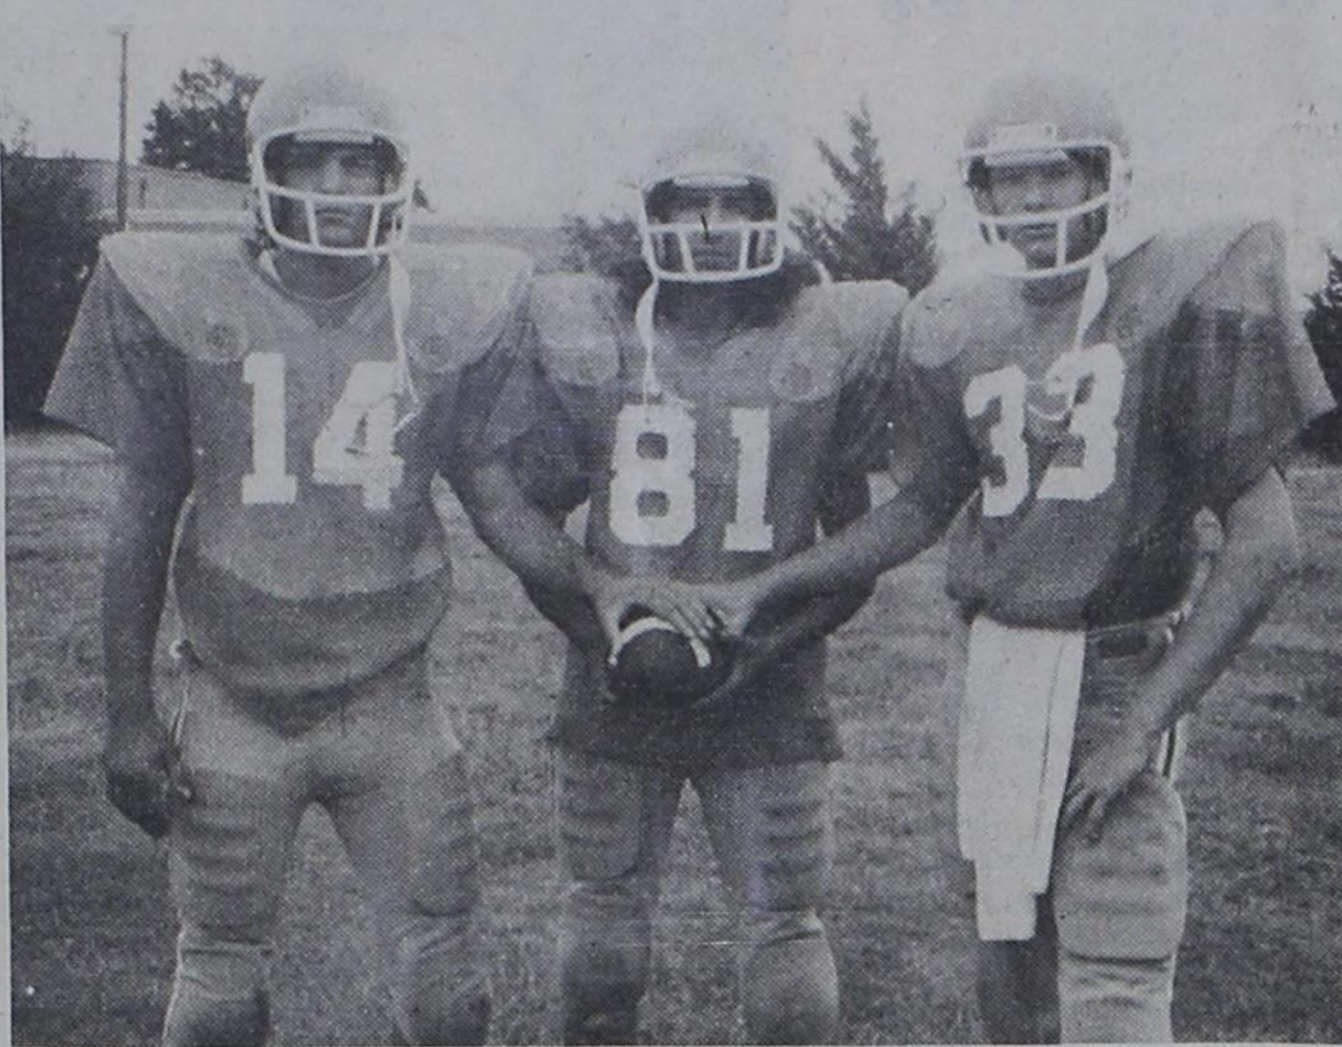

The Steers and coaching staff have been working out daily at 9 a.m and 6 p.m. Whatley encourages all parents and interested fans to observe the sessions.

The Blue and White will scrimmage Sudan Friday, Aug. 26, at 7:30 p.m. CDT in Steer Stadium. Whatley says he looks on the scrimmage game as "just a competition" and he is mainly concerned "with seeing how the Steers have progressed."

This year the offense will have a new wrinkle as they will run the Houston Veer rather than the straight T used last season. Whatley says the change was prompted "by a lack of depth in the backs." According to the coach, the Veer only requires two backs while the T utilizes three. He says the players need "time to learn to run the new offensive plays right," adding, "it will look good later in the season."

"The defense will operate a split four the same as last year," comments the Blue and White mentor. Seven defensive players are returning lettermen and Whatley is confident that the remaining four positions will be filled by several players who have good defensive potential.

Whatley says defense is their strong point and it will be emphasized throughout the season.

Steers Take Break

Ready For Action

Lining up for action during a Steer workout session are from left, Bruce Mayfield, Rance Williams and Radney Robertson, and Robin Roberts, standing. Contact sessions for the Blue and White began August 12. First game of the season for the Farwell eleven will be with Nazareth on September 2; but the Steers will host a scrimmage meeting with Sudan August 26.

Contact Drills

D.D. Foster, center, calls signals as Dan Guether, left, and Richard Yreugas get set for head-to-head action during a recent Steer workout. Two-a-day workouts began for the Blue and White on August 12 in preparation for the August 26 scrimmage session with Sudan. The scrimmage will be at Sudan Stadium.

FHS Boys Stater

Russ Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones of Farwell, attended Texas Boys State in Austin June 4-14. Besides learning about state, local and national government, Jones toured the Capitol, observed a state treasury department session and listened to guest speaker Governor Dolph Briscoe.

'Learns By Doing' At Boys State

Russ Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones of Farwell and a senior at Farwell High School, attended Texas Boys State in Austin June 4-14. The session was organized into political parties, cities and counties. The local student was a member of the Nationalist Party. He resided in Nesbitt which was a city in Schlafli County.

During the session, Jones ran for mayor of Nesbitt, but he did not win. He also worked on a committee which tried to pass a bill. Jones says that several bills which were introduced failed including one to raise the speed limit.

Besides learning about the intricate operations of state, local and national government Jones also toured the Capitol building in Austin and visited the state treasury department. Governor Dolph Briscoe was a guest speaker at Boys State.

Jones said that he "learned a lot about government" and he extends thanks to all the service clubs and business people who sponsored his trip.

Boys State is a pure democracy in that all citizens may vote and are eligible to hold office, says Jones. Its government is operated "for, of, and by the people." Its function is to make its program of training in functional citizenship effective through creating a wide range of opportunities for participating in the various agencies of government.

The objective is to educate the youth of Texas in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of true American citizenship and to inspire and instill a deep sense of personal responsibility and obligation which his citizenship entails.

The program has been developed on the fundamental assumption that persons "learn by doing"

Texico Coach Topliff Sizes Up Workouts

"In spite of a few silly injuries" says Texico football coach Paul Topliff, "we are well pleased with the twice daily contact workout sessions the Wolverines have conducted since last Friday."

According to Topliff, one player injured himself in a minor motorcycle mishap and another player dropped a weight on his toe. "These injuries are not serious, but they do keep the players behind as far as practices go," he says.

But Topliff is not too worried as he feels they have "made more progress than last year at this time." Things are beginning to shape up, says the Texico coach, who says that Jimmy Reid has been switched from tackle to middle linebacker where he is "doing a good job" and tight end and defensive tackle positions are "up for grabs." Several players are vying for the positions.

The second year coach highly praises the offensive backfield. According to Topliff, they have "good speed." Topliff says several players are capable of playing both ways but they are trying to do as "little of that as possible."

"We have enough players for a good 11 man offense and 11 man defense, but after that it gets shallow."

The Wolverines will test their mettle today (Friday) at 11 a.m. MDT when they meet Clovis Junior Varsity at Clovis in a scrimmage game. A second encounter has been set for next Tuesday at 3 p.m. MDT with Portales JV at Portales.

Topliff says they have many inexperienced players, adding that the upcoming scrimmages will "provide much needed experience."

Game strategy for the Green and White includes running an I formation with the slot offense and the 52 defense.

Rope Antics

Texico Wolverines have been working out twice daily for upcoming scrimmages and the first game of the season slated for September 2. Jimmy Reid, left, junior linebacker, and Jeff Christian, junior defensive end, run the gauntlet of ropes as they participate in workouts.

Manners: A hardened form of morality.

* Organize your cleaning aids—store floor cleaners with mops, furniture dust and polish aids with feather dusters and polishing cloth, etc. Keep duplicate sets on each floor of your home, or carry them conveniently in a caddy.

* Large jobs, like major room overhauls, should be done individually. Plan to do just one or two rooms a day, so you can give them a careful, thorough cleaning.

* Practice the reward system. When the job's done, enjoy yourself...lunch with friends, spend the afternoon reading a good book, or just put your feet up and relax!

agri-facts

by
John Ricci

Farmers are customers, and good ones as most merchants know. Last year, for example, farmers spent almost $81 billion to produce crops and livestock. In 1975, farmers spent $5.4 billion for new tractors, motor vehicles, machinery and equipment; $5.6 billion for fuel, lubricants and machinery maintenance; $15.1 billion for feed and seed, and $6.8 billion for fertilizer and lime. Farming and the industries which support it account for about one-fourth of our Gross National Product. Sales of crops and livestock last year introduced $94.8 billion into the Nation's economy, and transportation, processing, packaging, manufacturing, wholesaling and retailing all shared in the economic activity generated by farming. American farm productivity is an example to the Nation. Output per man-hour on farms is over 3 times higher than 20 years ago. In manufacturing industries, output per man-hour is only 1.7 times as great. Output per man-hour on farms is an unmatched record in efficiency.

Rundell, Spears Are Golf Tourney Champs

The annual Penny Anderson Golf Tournament was played last weekend at Farwell Country Club.

Winners in the A-Flight competition were Kim Rundell and Mike Spears of Bovina, first place; and Joe Helton of Farwell and Jack Young of Muleshoe, second;

Also, Pete Goldbaum and Mark Vickers of Clovis, third; and Brett Hargrove of Farwell and Joel McCarty of Lubbock, fourth.

B-Flight winners included Lee Griffin and Mike Johnson of Clovis, first; and Bush Jordan of Pampa and Gary Gillispie of Bovina, second;

Also, Phil Brockman and Lee Jesko of Lazbuddie, third; and Tom Burns and B.B. Whitley of Clovis, fourth.

In B-Flight competition a sudden death playoff was necessary to determine the first place winners. As a result of the playoff Griffin and Johnson took first place from Jordan and Gillispie who finished second.

On Saturday a pork barbecue was served with bread, salad, pinto beans and all the trimmings. Walter Hughes and Bobby Vinton diligently worked to prepare the barbecue, according to reports.

On Sunday pork sandwiches were served along with corn on the cob and other refreshments.

Texico Pool Schedule Set

Kathy Culshaw, manager of Texico Swimming Pool, has announced the schedule for the remainder of the season. Regular pool hours of 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. MDT will be maintained today (Friday) through Sunday. Regular fees of 75 cents for children and $1.25 for adults will be charged.

Beginning Monday, the first day of school in Texico, says Miss Culshaw, the pool will be open from 4 to 6 p.m. MDT. Reduced fees of 40 cents for children and 65 cents for adults will be charged.

From Saturday, Sept. 3, through Labor Day she says the pool will be opened from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. MDT and regular prices will be charged. According to Miss Culshaw, September 5 will be the last day the pool will remain open.

SPORTS SHORTS

Say "football" to a non-American friend and chances are he'll think of soccer—called football everywhere else in the world. It's the world's most popular sport, and a crowd of 100,000 at a single game is not unusual. The record is 205,000 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil in 1950.

Soccer, jogging and volleyball are increasingly popular—and each sport can benefit from a different kind of shoe because each makes different demands on the feet. Experts at Uniroyal, makers of PRO-Keds athletic footwear, knew this when they designed their Soccer Shoe, the Panther Running Shoe for joggers who want to keep fit, and the Volleyball Shoe, which is popular for both men and women. The right athletic shoe can give you the competitive edge in your sport.

WIFE To Meet Bank

The regular meeting of the Farmer County WIFE organization will be held Monday, Aug. 22, at 8 p.m. at the community room of Bovina State Bank.

A major topic of discussion will be the tentative farm legislation which has been passed by the Senate and House and which will go to conference when Congress reconvenes. Of prime importance is deciding how to impress the WIFE viewpoint on the congressional committees.

Syndicated columnist Virginia Payette recently wrote an article to the effect that the farmer's troubles might be his own fault. The article in question appeared in an Amarillo newspaper.

Mrs. Payette received numerous letters from throughout the United States, including Farmer County. Recently, members of the WIFE chapter in Spearman met with the columnist, and as a result she wrote an article which appeared Sunday in an Amarillo paper giving the WIFE viewpoint.

THE APOSTLE OF THE NATIONS

Not Matthew, Mark or Luke; not Peter, James or John, but Paul alone wrote by divine inspiration: "FOR I SPEAK TO YOU GENTILES (or, OF THE NATIONS) INASMUCH AS I AM THE APOSTLE OF THE GENTILES (NATIONS): I MAGNIFY MINE OFFICE" (Rom. 11:13).

Note well that Paul did not magnify himself, but his office, to which he had been appointed by the glorified Lord Himself. In defending his apostleship before the Galatians he wrote:

"But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

"For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ" (Gal. 1:11,12).

In many other passages the apostle claims to speak as a direct representative of Christ (See 1 Cor. 11:23; 15:3; Eph. 3:2,3; 1 Thess. 4:15; etc.) To Timothy, Paul wrote concerning his own writings: "If any man teach OTHERWISE, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness, he is proud, knowing nothing...." This could not indicate more emphatically Paul's claim that his words were "the words of the Lord Jesus Christ," received from Him by direct revelation.

To the Corinthians, who questioned this, the apostle wrote: "...IF I COME AGAIN I WILL NOT SPARE, SINCE YE SEEK A PROOF OF CHRIST SPEAKING IN ME" (II Cor. 13:2,3).

The proof of this claim? This was overwhelming indeed, for Paul was used more than any other apostle to found churches and lead men into the knowledge and joy of salvation. To the Corinthian believers he wrote what he could have written to many thousands of others: "The seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord" (I Cor. 9:2).

S. Billington Marks Fifty Years As Barber

Fifty years ago, Sterlyn Billington embarked upon his career as a barber in a shop at Waco. He also worked in barber shops in places like Erick, Okla., and Magic City, Tex., before moving to Farwell in 1934 where he opened his own shop three years later. Billington learned his trade by "doing and by observing other barbers." When he was 11 years old an incident happened which was to change the course of his life. The local barber recalls the event with amusement.

"It seems," he says, "that one day my mother asked my father to take my brother to town for a haircut. When they returned she was shocked at the horrible mess that barber had made," chuckled Billington. "I said I could do a better job than that, and before I knew it she took me up on the offer. So I took the scissors to my brother's hair and straightened the mess. My mother liked the job and before I knew it I was cutting the hair of everyone in my family."

Eventually, Billington "fame" spread to neighbors and friends and before long the youngster was "cutting a lot of hair all the time." As the young would-be barber grew to manhood he was determined to make a career of barbering, and to that end he decided to accept a position with a barber shop in Waco. Later he went to work for an uncle who also owned a shop in Waco.

From Waco he moved to such towns as Erick and Perico, Tex. where he owned his own shops and Magic City where he was an "oil field barber." Upon hearing that Farwell was a "good place to barber" he moved here in 1934 and has lived here ever since.

Billington started in the business when haircuts were 25 cents each and barber shops offered shaves, baths, tonics and shampoos to the customer. Ten years passed before prices began to increase. Since then they have gradually increased. Now a standard haircut costs $3 and more.

In those early days barbers gave as many shaves as haircuts, but now it is 99 percent haircuts and one percent shaves, says Billington. After World II shaves really tapered off, he adds, because of the electric and safety razors.

Billington also cut women's hair because 50 years ago it was against the barber law for beauty operators to cut hair.

Eventually the operators rebelled, broke the law and in time it was modified. Billington says he still cuts the hair of a few women -- just as he has done for the past 30 or 40 years.

When he began barbering, scissors were the standard cutting instrument used by all barbers. Later the clipper (electric cutter) was introduced. Today both devices are used, says Billington.

He recalls that when the clipper was first introduced barbers would share one by stringing a line between two chairs and sliding the clipper back and forth to each other.

Styles have somewhat changed, says Billington, remembering that the flat-top first appeared soon after World War II. It lasted for a little while and then returned in popularity some time later. "At first I did not learn how to cut the flat-top, but later I had to," says Billington.

He also remembers the bush cut and the burred look. He explains that the barber business was hurt by the long hair look which became popular several years ago. Several small shops were put out of business but things have finally leveled off, according to the local barber.

Billington likes all aspects of barbering and even though he has tried odd jobs such as driving a truck he always returned to his first love -- the barber shop.

When he started in the business, hydraulic wooden chairs were used. The seats were flat and did not have any spring cushions. Now the seats are padded and comfortable.

Billington also recalls that at one time the barber shop was the entertainment center for townspeople, especially the "barber shop loafer." "So many men would come into a shop and sit in the chairs and talk and spin long tales that regular customers would get discouraged and go away," says Billington. Eventually barbers reached the point where they had to limit the men allowed to sit and talk.

When he started his trade in 1927 -- 50 years ago -- attending barber schools and obtaining a license were not mandatory. However, two years later the state of Texas passed its first laws requiring barbers to go to a barber school and to be licensed.

Convalescent Center Chit Chat

As Reported by the Center Staff

Everyone is still excited about Sunday's open house and reception -- especially the residents who made the colored mints and who were so proud to "show off" their home. Many thanks are extended to the Auxiliary members who baked cookies, served refreshments and provided visitors with a guided tour of the facility.

The dining room was decorated with a red and yellow color theme featuring designs of sunshines and yellow chickens. Tables were centered with red and yellow fresh cut flowers, red candles and cookies and mints.

Many local and out-of-town people attended the special occasion. Everyone who helped and/or attended the open house is extended a big "thank you," reports Center staffers and residents.

Anderson Garden Yields

King Size Tomatoes

A few months ago Wilson Anderson of Farwell cleared away a 6 by 16 foot area in his back yard and planted four tomato vines. Now at harvest time those same vines have yielded tomatoes as large as 15 and 1/2 inches in circumference.

Anderson said he dug the area 20 inches deep and heavily fertilized the garden after he planted the vines. Since then he watched over his small garden and irrigated it heavily.

The results have paid off as Anderson and his wife Nora have plenty of tomatoes to eat and to give away to their neighbors and friends.

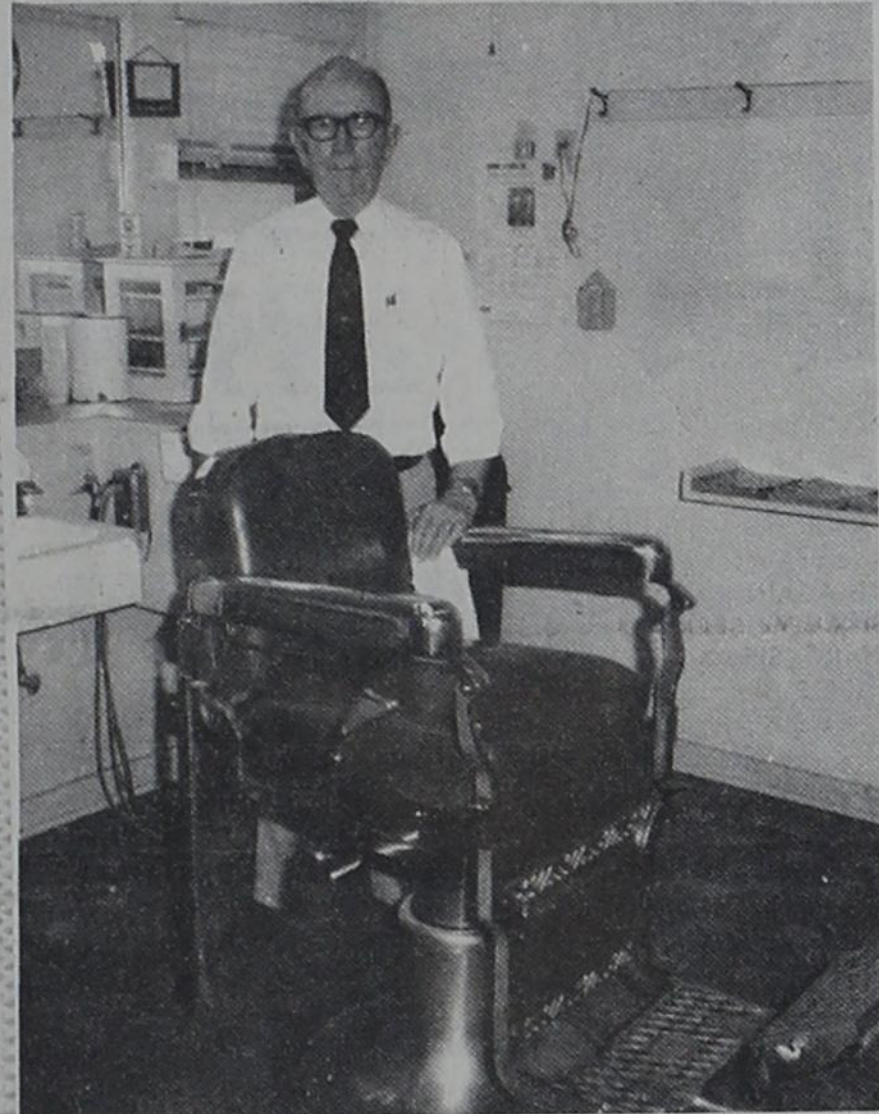

Besides tomatoes, the gardener has planted banana peppers, onions and grape vines.

The Andersons moved here from Snyder a little over a year ago. They have two children and their families living in town, including the Marvin Andersons and the Marvin Schellers.

Plentiful Tomatoes

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Anderson of Farwell proudly display a few of the tomatoes they recently picked from their small tomato garden. The prolific vines have yielded tomatoes as large as 15 1/2 inches around. They have been harvesting them for the past several weeks and have shared them with family and friends.

Barber For 50 Years

Sterlyn Billington of Farwell celebrated 50 years in the barber shop business August 8. The local barber first entered the trade in 1927 in Waco. Fifty years ago barbering was quite different as haircuts were only 25 cents each and barber shops also offered baths, tonics, shampoos and shaves. The chairs were also different. Billington recalls the first chair he used -- hardwood with no spring cushions.

Local Man Uses Caravan To Transport Equipment

by Shirley Gorman

In the early morning hours of any given day this summer, Farwellites may hear a strange noise pass by their homes. Some will no doubt discard this sound as simply a passing car or motorbike while others will pay it no heed at all. But others, driven by curiosity, will peek out their windows in time to catch a glimpse of Eugene Smith and his red wagon caravan — loaded with lawn mowers, edgers and other equipment — heading down the street ready to start another day's work.

Since March of this year Smith and his wagons, pulled by a large red power mower, have become a common sight around town. He says he prefers to get an early start, often taking advantage of dew-covered grass to obtain a more "expert cut." He tries to finish his yard work by 10 a.m. and usually does — barring breakdowns or delays.

Smith is one "senior citizen" who does not believe in staying idle. He began by cutting his own lawn and eventually as "word of mouth" advertisement spread he found himself doing several lawns.

As his "gardening business" grew, so did the need for spare parts, material and extra equipment. Smith says it is not unusual to lose several hours or a day or two if a mower or edger breaks down. Now, he does not have that problem as he has three mowers, two edgers and a host of other spare parts and equipment. If one mower breaks down he substitutes another one and finishes the job anyway.

Thus the need for the caravan arose. As Smith is unable to drive because of an injured leg he decided to purchase little red wagons to transport his equipment. He bought two wagons and immediately began to load all his equipment on them. At first the local man attempted to pull the train himself, but as 300 pounds proved to be too much, he decided to let the lead power mower do all the work. Whenever he is ready to go he replaces the blade with a bar, turns on the motor and guides the mower to whichever yard he needs to work on.

Second in line is the wagon which carries the mower and spare parts and tools. As it is too heavy to lift, he uses a ramp to load it on the wagon. He then anchors the machine to prevent any unnecessary moving. He also has bags which collect the cut grass he "sweeps up."

Smith says all the equipment is gas-operated and he changes the oil after every 10-15 working hours. "When I change one I change them all at the same time," he says, adding, "it is less time-consuming that way."

When he goes out on a job he takes spare blades, plugs and other parts with him so that if he has to stop and make repairs and adjustments he can do so without having to return home. "That also saves time and energy," he says.

Sometimes if Smith has a small job to do he will attach either one mower or the edger to his bicycle — red of course — and pedal to his place of destination.

This summer Smith limits himself to working on only four yards regularly. The rest of the time he does as many edging jobs as he has time for. "I often have to turn people down because I do not have the time it takes to do several complete yards all the time," Smith says. "I do not take a job unless I know I will be able to do it," he adds.

Smith is a dedicated man who believes in doing a good job. In addition to the lawn mowing and edging equipment, he also has 500 feet of hose and two traveling sprinklers which he uses to water lawns.

The local man comes by his talent naturally as he was born and reared on a farm. Other jobs he has held include driving a truck for four years and being relief man on a 70,000-acre ranch in Arizona. As relief man he often substituted for various ranch hands, thus doing a little of all the jobs required to run a ranch of that size. He also maintained, serviced and operated large machinery such as Caterpillars.

Today, he and his wife, Hattie, reside at the fire station in Farwell as they have served as dispatchers since 1973. Besides being the dispatcher Smith also checks out all the fire vehicle equipment and reports any problems. Every day he starts the vehicles and lets them run for about 10 minutes.

The Smiths were married in 1962. They were living in Clovis at the time the dispatcher's post became available. Smith says they like it here because "no one has ever been this nice to us before."

Inventive Gardener

Eugene Smith of Farwell is quite an inventive gardener who has found the perfect way to transport all his lawn mowing and trimming equipment. Several months ago he purchased two red wagons on which he now loads all his yard equipment whenever he has to go to a job. Heading the caravan is a heavy duty gas-powered mower which pulls the 300-pound load while Smith guides it to its destination. Since Smith cannot drive because of an injured leg this provided the perfect solution to the perplexing problem.

N-SERVE* HOW IT WORKS

N-SERVE blocks bacterial action that would quickly convert ammonium fertilizer to nitrates. Nitrates are subject to rapid loss through leaching and denitrification. This blocking action keeps nitrogen in the soil longer so that it becomes available slowly as it's needed. This reduces the crop stress that would occur from temporary nutrient shortages if you had to rely on side-dressings to maintain a steady nitrogen supply.
