Memories, memories...

I've been in a reminiscing mood lately. It must be because I'm approaching the Big 5-0 later this month.

I've had a bit of an interesting life. That could be the understatement of the century.

Some folks who've known me well have suggested I write a book about my life's experiences. But I'll never do that. I don't have the discipline for it. Plus I've forgotten too much.

It's always amazed me that in movies and TV shows about courtroom dramas, that when they ask a witness what he said 10 or 15 years, he always recall verbatim. Heck, I have trouble remembering what I said an hour ago.

I do remember that when I was in my early 20's, I was known as quite a story teller. Since I had gone "on the road" when I turned 17, I could spin a bunch of neat tales. It seems I would keep running into odd folks.

I remember this one fella I met outside a race track who claimed he could only live in sub-freezing temperatures. As I smoked my perote (that's an old Italian cigar that looks - and tastes - like hemp rope), he told me about the government people who were interested in his condition.

Sounded cool to me. And there was this fella from South Carolina. He's serving two years in Europe in the Army but marries his high school sweetie back home. She stays in South Carolina and it looks like they will stay separated for the two years.

Back then, when a gal got married while still in high school, she was forced to quit school. So she had no education, and no job.

So I ask the guy how come he married her, knowing they would be separated, she would be out of school, etc. His answer told it all:

By being married, if something horrible happened to her, the Army would grant him an emergency leave to go see her back in South Carolina. If they weren't married, and something horrible happened to her, the Army wouldn't have to grant him an emergency leave.

Right. Speaking of the Army, I met this guy who was vigorously trying to get out of the service. So he played crazy. His favorite ploy, he told me, was lying in his hospital bed, waiting for the doctors to look through the glass window in the door to check on him.

When that happened, he would wiggle one of his big toes.

He was discharged a week later.

It must have been the toe. My favorite, though, involved this fella who had just been fired at a steel mill in Northwest Indiana. He tells me how unjust that action was, especially considering who he was.

And just who are you, I inquired.

"I'm Jesus Christ," he says. "And why do you think you're Jesus Christ?" I ask.

And he says, "Because it says so, right in the Bible, that Christ will return as a welder. And I'm a welder!"

Right. I could go on and on, but I think I'll save some for a future column. They could include:

- The fella who had 13 diseases, including one that only 96 people in the history of the world had been diagnosed with.

- The fella who helped organize a massive racial riot and called himself "The Derek Dictson (left) was informed that he had received a $1,500 National FFA Foundation Scholarship at the Texico FFA Banquet. He was also named the Outstanding Boy in Texico's FFA. Dara Jenkins (right) was the Outstanding Girl.

Calloway Clark (left) was the Star Chapter Farmer of Texico FFA. Misty Barnes (right) was the Star Greenhand.

State FFA Vice President Tami Sue Wells sang and spoke to the Texico FFA members at their banquet on May 9.

Texico FFA banquet held

Misty Barnes presented a keynote speech, "To Russia With Love," to the 27 members and 56 guests who attended the Texico FFA banquet on May 9 in the Texico School Cafeteria.

In her speech, which will be presented in the FFA Public Speaking contests, Misty told of the ways that American firms such as Land'O Lakes, Pillsbury, Heinz, and the Potato Promotion Board have worked to help solve the problems of agriculture in the former Soviet Union. She mentioned herds of cattle which have been sent. She told of ways that Americans are helping people who have no credit, no land, no management training, no promotion, and poor systems of transportation and marketing.

Following the theme of the banquet, "Seeds of the Future," State FFA Vice President Tami Sue Wells sang and spoke to the group about the state of American Agriculture. She reminded the Future Farmers that like "Jack and the Beanstalk," farmers can reap great rewards if they take risks, but they must not forget that the risks are very real.

Awards were given to the following people: Calloway Clark was the Star Chapter Farmer, and Misty Barnes was the Star Greenhand.

Derek Dictson was informed that he had been awarded a $1500 FFA Foundation scholarship. He was also named the Outstanding Boy. Dara Jenkins was the Outstanding Girl.

Among the adults honored at the event were: Honorary Chapter Farmers, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jenkins; Outstanding Service, Nancy Barnes; VIP Award, Richard Hadley, Service, Dewey Pierce, Sam Drager, and Julie Aldersbach. FFA sponsor Ken Taylor received a jacket from the FFA.

Here's a look at Saturday's local Texas elections:

Farwell City Council

Martin Kube, Ysleta Kittrell, and Jimmie Mace were elected to the Farwell City Council in a battle of write-in candidates.

Five candidates sought the three posts.

Kube, an incumbent, got 62 votes. Mrs. Kittrell, a former councilwoman, led with 77 votes. Mace got 67 votes.

Others to get votes were Jesse Cantu, 53 and incumbent James Chadwick, 49.

Farwell Hospital District

It was an easy election for the four candidates, since four posts were open.

All three incumbents were re-elected, and Peggy Suderth was elected to the post formerly held by Frances Kube, who didn't seek re-election.

Totals were: Tom Nichols, 82; Troy Christian, 88; Bert Williams, 85, and Peggy Suderth, 96.

Lazbuddie School Board

All three candidates were elected to the Lazbuddie School Board Saturday in an uncontested election.

Vote totals were Gail Morris, 24; Randy Thomas, 23; and Tommy Martin, 21.

"This was not a contested race, so we had very low election turnout," said Supt. Phil Warren. Morris and Thomas were incumbents.

Farwell School Board

All three incumbents were re-elected to the Farwell School Board in Saturday's election.

Elected were: Katherine White, 107; Teresa Ancira, 106, and Steven Kaltwasser, 101.

Island adventure with Mary Mesman

Mary Mesman with her Farwell Chamber of Commerce Woman of the Year award.

by Judy Pomper

"Oh, I hated to miss it!" said Mary Mesman of missing the Farwell Chamber of Commerce banquet where she was honored as Woman of the Year. Mrs. Mesman had left Farwell on vacation to the tropical island of St. Martin without even knowing that she had been selected for the honor.

"Ben ordered the tickets for the trip three months ago," she said. The trip was designed to be a special gift. The tickets were ordered before Ben knew when the Chamber Banquet would be scheduled. Neither Ben nor any of their children knew about the award she would receive when the tickets were ordered.

When family members were informed that Mary would be honored, they struggled with the question of what to do. They couldn't return the tickets. But going on the trip meant that Mary would miss both the Farwell Chamber of Commerce Banquet and the Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary luncheon - something she had not done before.

After a long discussion, the family decided that Ben and Mary would go on the trip as planned. They would keep the award a secret from Mary, but it would go along with them hidden in a suitcase.

At 7 on the evening of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce Banquet, Ben drew a large brown envelope from a suitcase stored in the closet of their hotel room. On it were written words of congratulations from her children. When she looked inside, Mary found the Texas-shaped Chamber of Commerce award. It was quite a surprise!

Ben and Mary had a wonderful time on St. Martin, a tropical resort island in the Caribbean. The island boasts a year round temperature of about 80-85 degrees. It is surrounded by miles of beaches, crystal clear water, and deep sea fishing boats.

Ben really enjoyed St. Martin because it is one of the closest places where he can hear his native language, Dutch, being spoken. Part of the island is the Netherlands Antilles, and the other part of the island is called French Antilles.

"Ben would like to go back were people speak Dutch," said Mary. The trip gave them an opportunity to enjoy a taste of home without going to Europe.

Ships come to the harbor in groups of four or five ships at a time, bringing swarms of tourists with them as they come. One ship that arrived when the Mesmans were there was filled with people from the Netherlands.

Some tourists come from Europe. And some ships come loaded with tourists from cold Yankee cities. All are looking for a warm, sunny place to vacation.

"The beaches are beautiful; they're clean. It's lots different than some places," said Mary.

Tourists can stay in hotels or rent little houses or time-share properties for two to three weeks at a time. Ben and Mary stayed in beautifully decorated quarters that came complete with kitchen facilities. "We got one - - all blue and white decorations, (her favorite colors). It was so wonderful," Mary exclaimed.

According to Mary, food is expensive on St. Martin. "It is very, very expensive on the French part," she noted. Most of it has to be brought in by ship from other places.

The residents of the island make their living serving the tourist trade. They run the taxis and deep sea fishing boats and work in the hotels and shops.

Mary enjoyed shopping in the many and varied shops on the island. Wood carving is a specialty of the island, and so is jewelry. Mary told of a beautifully carved wooden hope chest that one islander had carved. She nearly bought it, but she decided against it when she found out what the shipping would entail.

She was also impressed by the jewelry on the island. "Gold is well known in the island; you get better gold for the price than in the States," said Mary.

"People are so trustful, so truthful, and they help you rather than worry about selling you souvenirs," says Mary. "I don't have to worry about my purse over there."

Fire Calls

Farwell firemen were called at 10 a.m. on May 3 to Allsup's where a car had a hole in its gas tank.

The Texico Fire Department ambulance was called to Playorama on May 6 to assist an ill person. No transport was made.

Texico faces street problem

Street problems were discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the Texico City Council.

Mayor Butch Sharp reported that Griffin Street, near the school, and Anderson Street, near City Hall, will have to be redone this summer. Last year's work has not worked out.

Tharp also said last year's chip seal project is falling apart and needs to be redone. The company that did it is in bankruptcy, city officials said.

In other business, the council:

- Gave approval for the Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary to use the Texico fire hall for its annual Charlie Phillips concert the night before Border Town Days. No alcohol will be allowed, and the Auxiliary will need insurance. Previously, the Auxiliary used the Holiday Inn but it wasn't available this year.

- Donated $100 to the Texico Chamber of Commerce's project for a golf hole in one shootout in July. It's to raise funds for scholarships.

- Allowed the Texico Junior Class to borrow community center tables for the prom and paint them white.

- Allowed the marshal to buy new radar units and pagers. Texico has over $4,000 left in state funds that need to be spent by July.

- Agreed to return $2,500 to Pat Gafford, who has a mobile home park on State Street. She had planned 10 separate connections there and the city has bought the meters and equipment. She has changed her mind due to ill health, she said. Since the city can still use the materials they bought, the council voted to give her back her money.

- Met with Dan Walterscheid, who is to begin his animal control officer duties soon. If he is called after the Clovis animal pound is closed, he was told to call the city marshal, who would cite the animal's owner. He was also told to work hours when the pound is open.

Marshal's Report

Here is the weekly report from Texico Marshal Gil Holguin: On May 3, Jarvis Ferguson, 54, Clovis, was arrested on a charge of DWI and no insurance.

On May 5, Carlos Rodriguez, 22, Texico, was arrested on a charge of drinking in public.

On May 7, David Potts, 29, Clovis, was arrested on charges of DWI, speeding and no insurance.

On May 8, James Cole, 35, Amarillo, was arrested on a charge of DWI.

TAAS scores improve

High School Principal Larry Gregory had some excellent TAAS scores to report at Tuesday's Farwell School Board meeting.

TAAS results were:

- * Reading, 83 percent, up from 72 percent last year.
- * Writing, 93 percent, down from 100 percent last year.

- * Math, 86 percent, up from 76 percent last year.

Gregory was pleased with the math score, which he felt is one of the highest around.

He complimented Patsy Camp for the work she did with students who hadn't done well on the state tests in the past.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I cannot see how people in West Texas and all of American can be an eye witness to what Clinton has done since childhood.

On juries I have sat on, the judge said, "A man is innocent until proven guilty." Unless the system has changed, it is still the same and in effect.

Jimmy Carter was a good, moral person; but it didn't get him anywhere. He was voted out in 1980.

We have a privilege to vote, but not judge and condemn a man on hearsay without proof.

When Fiske gets through with Whitewater, then Congress can take over. If nothing is found, then they will have to look for something else.

We want to thank each one of you for your prayers, cards, food, flowers and visits.

Your friendship and caring at a time like this makes it much easier. Thank you,

Barbara Helmer read, "The Giving Tree," by Shel Silverstein to Texico 4th and 5th graders who planted a tree on Earth Day.

Earth Day activities include tree planting

Students at Texico Elementary School planted a silver maple tree on the school grounds as part of their Earth Day activities. They learned about planting the tree deep enough so that the roots could grow, and about watering it.

Teacher Barbara Helmer read a book about a tree to the students.

The students also cleaned up trash on the playground and did an activity designed to teach them that all of the things on the earth are inter-related, and without each part the whole thing could collapse.

Chad Helmer dug a hole for a new tree at Texico Elementary School while Becky Wooten asked the students what biodegradable means.

We wish you "Happy Birthday" with great cheer.*

Herington attends O'Brian seminar

Cortney Herington

by Judy Pomper

Cortney D'Ann Herington was this year's representative from Farwell High School to the Texas Panhandle Hugh O'Brian Foundation (HOBY) Leadership Seminar in April in Amarillo.

"It was really neat, I had a really good time," said Cortney. Cortney was one of about 100 outstanding high school sophomores to attend from throughout the Texas Panhandle to attend a weekend educational seminar that teaches, through discussions and demonstrations, a variety of subjects relating to profit, economics, business, self-improvement, motivation, and leadership skills.

The Texas Panhandle Seminar is one of five held in Texas and one of 92 seminar sites in the U.S., Canada, and Mexico. Cortney became eligible by being nominated by principal Larry Gregory last fall. All discussions and presentations centered around the theme, "America's Incentive System" - our free enterprise economic system which motivates productive activity in our society.

Speakers talked to the group about many fields of endeavor that included banking, medical technology, and business.

Former Astronaut Scott talked to the group about being an astronaut. "The space part was the most interesting. I always wanted to be an astronaut. He talked about the faces on Mars and, about the four different theories about how they got there," said Cortney.

The group also toured the Northwest Texas Hospital where they talked to medical personnel including from surgeons and doctors.

One speaker talked to the HOBY participants about futures and stocks and bonds. Cortney found the math and business section less exciting.

"I'm a science person," she said. "I'm hands on, I want to see it now," she explained.

One of the most interesting parts of the HOBY experience was meeting new people.

He won his 400 dash heat in a time of 51.00, but was in the pack in the finals, which was won in a time of just over 46 seconds.

A look back at state golf champs

The Farwell boys' golf team is the first Farwell golf squad to compete at the Class A State Golf Championship since 1981.

That's when the girls' golf team of Sharmy Christian, Tammy Obenshain, Cydney Ford, Robin Vinton and Janene Berry were runnersup for the state title. That team was coached by Mike Martin.

The 1981 team lost to Granada, but they certainly did the school proud. It was the end of a Farwell Steerette golfing dynasty that started in 1975. Farwell girls competed in golf at the state level 5 out of 7 years between 1975 and 1981.

In 1975, the Steerette team of Deanna Williams, Carol Vinton, Kathy Booth, Penny Hughes, and Claire McFarland took the Class A State Golf Championship.

In 1976, the team returned to Austin to take the championship a second time. Penny Hughes was the 2nd place medalist in the state that year. The team included Penny Hughes, Kathy Booth, Carol Vinton, Deana Williams, and Claire McFarland. All of the team members were among the top 10 medalists in the state that year.

The 1977 Steerette team coached by Don Alana took the State Golf Championship for the third straight year. The team included Penny Hughes, Deana Williams, Carol Vinton (medalist), Kathy Booth and Lisa Hughes. The team managed to win by a whopping 78 stroke margin over Rankin that year.

The 1978 team of Penny Hughes, Lisa Hughes, Dondra

Gerries, and Kim Marsh went to Region, but didn't make it to State competitions that year.

The Steerettes came back in 1979 to place second at State. The team included: Robin Vinton, Lisa Hughes, Dondra Gerries, Kim Marsh, Janene Berry, and it was coached by Mike Martin. Lisa Hughes was the Class A medalist at state.

ESA conducts meeting

The April 11 meeting of Theta Rho chapter of ESA was held at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church with Margaret Aycock as hostess and Pam Monk as co-hostess.

Misunderstood!
 Every misunderstanding develops in basically the same way. First, an act, word, or motive even if it is innocent, is misinterpreted by someone, who - based on this faulty perception then becomes offended with the innocent person. Things then begin to spiral!

Something to think about:
People think peer pressure is the root of all evil, but parental example is more powerful.

Field Tough. Energy Gentle.
Valley gives you more value per $

Field Tough. It means that no shortcuts were taken in design and fabrication. It means thousands of hours of proven field performance. And features that give you more for your dollar including:

- Hot-dip galvanizing throughout. It's standard, not an option.
- A virtually indestructible gearbox. So reliable, they're becoming the standard replacement on other makes of center pivots.
- The no-grease, maintenance-free U-joint. Specially developed urethane inserts mean these joints will easily outlast conventional metal on metal types.

Energy Gentle. It's the utilization of computer technology to match the right pipe size, water pressure, sprinkler package, and energy source for the most energy efficient system today and in the years to come. There's no question that quality costs less. Let's talk today. Chances are we can save you thousands of dollars. Ask us for a free Val-A-Net energy analysis before you buy any pivot.

Rest easy. It's a Valley.
