

Yoshida Party Wins; Political Picture Cloudy

By JIM BECKER
 TOKYO (U.S. Press)—Pro-American Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party won 42 per cent of the seats in the powerful House of Representatives yesterday but Japan's political picture was a cloudy as ever.
 Complete returns showed today that the second national election in seven months gave the Liberals 199 seats in the 466-member House—not enough to form a single-party government. It was a loss of five seats.
 Yoshida had staked his political future on the balloting, hoping for a majority. However, his foremost rivals lost strength and it was possible Yoshida would pick up enough outside strength to form his fifth cabinet.
 The Communists placed one man in the House. They had none last time.
 With only three seats in doubt, this was the lineup: Liberals, 199; Progressives, 76; Left Socialists, 72; Right Socialists, 66; dissident Liberals, 35; Communist 1; others, 17.
 Slightly more than 35 million, or 73 per cent, of the electorate turned out.
 Political observers had predicted that a coalition of dissident Liberals—who split away from Yoshida last month—with progressives and some Rightist Socialists would rule.
 Favored to head such a coalition was either Ichiro Hatoyama, leader of the dissident Liberals, or one-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, Progressive leader.
 But the voters turned thumbs down on both Hatoyama and Shigemitsu's parties. Hatoyama had 39 seats in the last hours and lost ground. Shigemitsu, who put up 169 candidates, saw his strength dwindle from 89 seats.
 The Rightist Socialists picked up strength from their previous total of 60, while the Leftists made the biggest leap, from a pre-election total of 56.
 The Left Socialists, alone among the major parties, stressed a neutral course in the cold war and opposed rearmament.
 Yoshida himself easily won reelection.

Bohlen Takes Over Moscow Envoy Post

MOSCOW (U.S. Press)—U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen presented his credentials at the Kremlin today and told the titular head of the Soviet Union that the U. S. government hopes all its differences with the Russian regime "may be settled amicably."
 Bohlen, replacing George Kennan as the top American envoy here, presented his credentials to Marshal Klimenty Voroshilov, the President of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).
 "In its foreign policy," said Bohlen in a brief speech, "the government of the United States is consistently guided by the desire to contribute to the cause of peace in the world, to enhance respect for international obligations, and to develop friendly relations with all nations."
 "In conformity with these principles, it is the sincere hope of my government that all questions requiring adjustment between our two governments may be settled amicably."
 "As ambassador of the United States, I shall endeavor to faithfully represent the hopes and aspirations of the American people, who entertain feelings of sincere friendship for the peoples of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."
 It was Bohlen's first formal statement since his arrival in Moscow April 11.

Senate Group Reports Voice Of America Broadcasts Ineffective

By JOHN CHADWICK
 WASHINGTON (U.S. Press)—Voice of America, short-wave broadcasts to the free world appear to be ineffective, a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee said today in a report based on data from American foreign correspondents.
 The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Hickenlooper (I-Iowa), said its report is the result of efforts to get the reaction of nonofficial Americans abroad to the government's overseas information program.
 The group came up with conclusions drawn from observations submitted during the last six months by 55 U. S. foreign correspondents in 41 countries, none of them behind the Iron Curtain.
 Hickenlooper said a similar analysis of reports from American business and religious organizations abroad will be made public shortly. These, he said, are much like the comments of the newsmen.
 The subcommittee, looking into all aspects of the overseas information program for almost a year, scheduled another public hearing today with former Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.) as a witness.
 Benton had charge of the program as an assistant secretary of state for two years until September, 1947.
 The State Department's new international information chief, Robert L. Johnson, announced Saturday he is launching a full-dress survey to seek ways of improving it. Cecil B. DeMille of movie fame, among others, will help.
 Hickenlooper's report said one conclusion reached from comments of the correspondents, who were not named, was that information agencies abroad should be better co-ordinated with freer rein given field officers.
 "There was no consensus, it said, on whether or not information activities should be separated from the Department of State."
 But Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee although not on Hickenlooper's subcommittee, said he would fight any attempt to pull the information agency out of the State Department.
 Mansfield said he would also oppose any move to shift Point Four, the program of technical aid for underdeveloped areas, from the State Department to the Mutual Security Administration, which handles other foreign aid programs.
 "I shall be forced to protest against any mushrooming bureaucracy and waste of the taxpayers' money," Mansfield said in an interview.
 Mansfield pressed his suggestion that the Mutual Security Administration, now headed by Harold E. Stassen, be abolished and its operations placed directly under the State Department.
 "I want to see both Secretary of State Dulles and Harold Stassen succeed," Mansfield said. "But foreign policy must be concentrated in the hands of the President and the secretary of state."
 The Hickenlooper report paid particular praise to two programs—the exchange of persons and the information libraries established abroad. It said the general feeling among the reporters was that these were successful and should be expanded.
 As to Voice short-wave broadcasts, the report said: "Reception is, on the whole, bad. Locally produced radio programs and transcripts from New York often have greater audiences."

 General effectiveness, the report found, was "very difficult to evaluate." But on other points it commented that:
 1. U. S. foreign policy and action should be closely co-ordinated with the information program.
 2. Greater emphasis should be placed on positive pro-democratic information themes and less on negative anti-Communist material.
 3. "The U. S. speaks best when it speaks softly and when it avoids high-powered publicity methods."
 4. "The quality of personnel could be improved and the quantity reduced."
 5. Motion picture films are very popular but their effectiveness "depends on content and the subtlety of their propaganda."

Musician Collapses For A Second Time

BOSTON (U.S. Press)—Benny Goodman, one of the nation's top bandleaders of the 1930s, was scheduled to be moved to a New York hospital today in an ambulance equipped with an oxygen tent. He collapsed last night for the second time in 18 hours.
 He spent the night in an oxygen tent in his Hotel Ritz-Carlton suite. A doctor said his condition was not serious enough to warrant immediate hospitalization.
 John Hammond, brother-in-law of the 43-year-old clarinetist, said, "We don't think it was a heart attack."
 Hammond added: "The cause seems to be sheer exhaustion from Benny's current nation-wide concert tour. He had only four hours sleep in the four days before his first collapse yesterday."

Lubbock County Is Eligible For Mexican Labor

WASHINGTON (U. S. Labor Department)—Labor Department officials received word here today that Lubbock County, Tex., is being restored to eligibility for participation in the Mexican farm labor program.

Don Larin, chief of the department's farm placement service, told a reporter he had no details of what had taken place but understood the Mexican consul in Amersillo has recommended to his government that Mexican nationals again be permitted to work in Lubbock County.

The U. S. official said there apparently had been some misunderstanding that had led to Lubbock being blacklisted. He said the regional office of the Labor Department in Dallas probably would have more exact information as to what occurred.

Larin said that sometimes an area is blacklisted because of local discriminations against Mexicans, and that the matter may be cleared up quickly if authorities in the area pledge to do all possible to correct a disagreeable situation.

Six Foot 7 Inch Rattler Is Tops In Okeene Hunt

OKEENE, Okla. (U. S. A) — A six foot seven inch rattlesnake was resting placidly under an old log in the rocky gypsum hills 10 miles north of here yesterday.

Suddenly two men yanked the 28-pound reptile from under the log, dodged his furious thrusts, paid little attention to the poison-packed fangs and pinned his head to the ground with a forked stick.

One of the men grabbed the rattling tail and shoved it into a sack. Before long the entire snake was covered, a victim of the 14th annual Okeene Rattler Roundup.

"Tiny," as his captors preferred to call him, turned out to be the biggest catch of the day. The unarmored hunters were Ralph Kramer, from San Diego, and Bob Bates, 26, Midwest City, Okla.

A record crowd of 21,000 from all over the United States turned out in unseasonably cool weather for the big event, the climax of the annual rattlesnake season in Oklahoma.

No one was bitten.

Winnie Backs Ike Speech, Hopes For Big Four Talk

LONDON (U. S. Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today he hoped the "processes of good will which may be at work" would lead to talks among big power chiefs of state.

Officially associating the British government with President Eisenhower's recent foreign policy declaration calling on Russia to end the cold war, Churchill said: "I trust that nothing will be said here or elsewhere which will check or chill the processes of good will which may be at work, and my hope is that they may presently lead to conversations on the highest levels, even if informal and private, between some of the principal powers concerned."

City, Contractor To Meet Today On Paving Agreement

City commissioners were to meet with representatives of H. B. Zachry Company again this afternoon to attempt to work out details of a paving contract.

The Zachry concern was low bidder on the city's 183-block paving program scheduled for this year. Delbert Ward, president, said the bid was too low because of an engineer's error in preparing estimate of cost of the project. He requested adjustment of the bid for installing quadruple penetration pavement.

Commissioners countered with a proposition that Zachry Company reduce its bid for putting down hot mix pavement, so that contract might be executed for installing the latter type of paving.

Ward said he would present his company's answer this afternoon. If contract is completed, work probably will proceed on issuance of warrants with which the city will pay its share of paving costs.

Today's meeting was set for 2:30 p. m.

Today Churchill stressed that now is the time for patience rather than haste. He said: "In my opinion, no one can measure the extent or purpose of the change that has become apparent in the Soviet mood."

"I repeat what I said in Glasgow on Friday, that no single hope, however slender, should be cast away."

"Time may well be needed to enable a safe judgment to be made. I do not read President Eisenhower's speech as a challenge nor should I expect the Soviet government to give an immediate categorical reply."

President Makes It Clear We're Not Stumbling Block To Peace

President Eisenhower's recent address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors was a clear and unmistakable challenge to Russia to do something toward peace as well as talk about it. This straight forward call for action may not register with the Communists, but it should find its mark with the rest of the non-Communist world.

It was an effective counter to Russia's runaway "peace" offensive in which she has been doing a lot of talking and making a lot of gestures, without doing anything concrete beyond a few minor moves.

Stiffer Driver Tests Might Help Reduce Rising Accident Trend

The insurance industry, at least that portion represented in the Association of Casualty & Surety Companies, comes up with a five-point plan of driver control that goes far beyond any general plan now in practice, but that offers superficially at least a Homeric treatment of the problem that might conceivably work.

Paul H. Blaisdell, public safety director of the association, presented the plan at a meeting of insurance agents in St. Paul the other day.

It Is No Longer Possible To Assume A Fixed Soviet Policy

WASHINGTON. —The striking fact about President Eisenhower's speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors was the continuity it established between past and present policy. That is something for those senators to ponder who seem determined to reverse not only the future but the history of the past from Teheran and Yalta forward.

There was, however, a striking difference between this first broad Eisenhower definition of foreign policy and the Truman-Acheson line. It had none of the crusading anti-Communist zeal of the recent past. At times during the last two or three years the impression was given of an inevitable war to exterminate Communism.

The President's words were calm and measured. He never once used the word "liberation" which became such a buzz word last fall. Instead he recommended both for Korea and for Eastern Europe a free choice by free peoples of the kind of government they want.

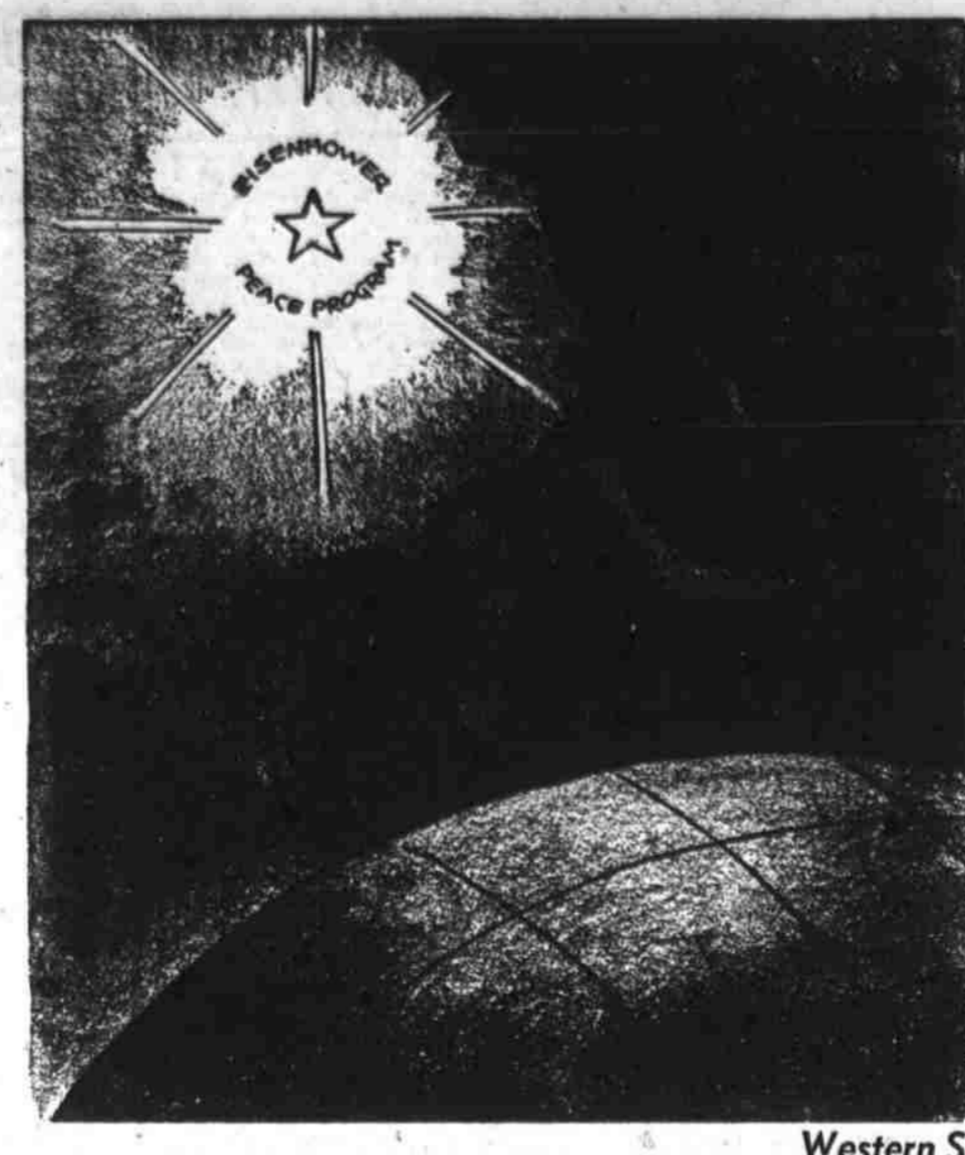

have governments of their own choosing. It was directly in violation of provisions of the Yalta agreement that in Eastern Europe with the force of Soviet troops in occupation Moscow installed puppet governments.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

A West Texas newspaper on this day in 1877 reported, with tongue in cheek perhaps, the expulsion of two members from the local "Lazy Man's Club."

During that year such clubs had been organized by the professional loafers of several towns in the area. The rules strictly prohibited members from performing any sort of manual labor and even went so far as to outlaw "undue mental exertion."

The two who received such summary punishment had indeed committed terrible crimes. One had assisted, "by looking on," while another man laid the floor of a house. His defense, that he just happened to be passing by, was deemed insufficient by the members. The other member expelled by the club had violated the rules and spirit of the organization to an even more serious extent.

Business Outlook — J. A. Livingston

Wall Street Disagrees With The Analysts And Stocks Go Higher

PHILADELPHIA. —Are you worried about business? Afraid of layoffs, the end of overtime work, of lower profits? Well, maybe here's an optimistic tip from Wall Street.

local government expenditures on roads, bridges, schools, and public works will sustain production and employment and even push it up to a higher level.

The day after the news got out that two out of three financial analysts expected prices to go down, the stock market rose "two to three points." The next day ditto. Wall Street wasn't worried.

Furthermore, tax reductions will add to consumer purchasing power, thereby increasing the demand for all types of goods, such as clothing, shoes, household appliances, and automobiles. Lower taxes will boost corporate earnings, making possible higher dividends.

Nor was an analyst from Canada dismayed by the replies to my questionnaire released at the convention of the National Federation of Financial Analysts Societies here. He said:

The other side is the conventional view. The boom can't last. The nation needs a letdown to regather strength for another upward push. Banks are hesitant to increase loans, and business men are not too anxious to go further into debt.

"Nearly all of us are in the securities business. We're usually optimistic. Yet most say in answer to your questionaire that we expect stocks to go down. Well, if that's the majority view, I'm a bull. The market will never do what most people expect."

Tighter credit now coincides with increased competition in business. It's harder for corporations to make profits. There's less incentive to borrow to build plants.

The analysts at the convention didn't set like men and women condemned to a serious decline in business. They had a good time and looked as if they expected to have many more good times over the next year or two. Table and cocktail-hour talk was of baseball, golf, trips to Europe—no storm cellar, unemployment, and dividend cuts.

Both bears and bulls are awaiting a sign: Will the next move in production be up, proving that the boom has not reached a peak? Or will it be down? It's noteworthy that commodity prices continue to drag. Can a boom continue so long as prices dribble downward?

Why not? Even the bears weren't really bearish. Though two out of three expect stock prices to decline, only one out of three expects a drop of more than 10 per cent. That's significant. If an investment adviser or investor expects the stock market to decline only 10 per cent, he's not likely to liquidate stocks wholesale. He's much more apt to reason: "I'll ride this through."

And some of the bears, who expect a big drop in stock prices, have been "de-clawed." All the way up, pessimists have been liquidating stocks, getting ready for the decline, hoping to buy back at lower levels. Unless they're willing to go short stocks, their selling power is limited.

Reds Make Claim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Chinese Communist claim that to make better use of large deposits of low-grade iron ores in Manchuria scientists have devised a method of mixing fatty acids derived from soy beans with large quantities of soft water. Uncle Ray's Corner

Lion Choice As King Of Beasts

An old question is brought up in a letter from Edward Derbyshire. He asks: "Could you tell me who is the 'king of beasts'?"

The bears have been named "king of beasts." The bears which the Romans saw were less powerful than many of North America's bears. A full grown Alaska brown bear weighs three or four times as much as an African lion. If bears of this kind had fought on the arena, it is likely that they would have whipped lions in the majority of contests.

The ancient answer to that question was the lion, and to this day it is common for the lion to be given the honor.

A lion can move faster than an elephant, but in the jungles of Africa, a lion is less than a match for one of the huge beasts with tusks and trunks.

Menu Of The Week

Strawberries, always rich in vitamin C, are now on the plentiful food list.

Ten large strawberries contain 60 milligrams of vitamin C (ascorbic acid) and the total daily requirement of vitamin C for an active woman is 70 milligrams.

What happens when the diet is low in vitamin C? Gums are tender and bleed easily, joints swell and hurt and muscles weaken. In advanced stages the disease called Scurvy results.

And since the body can't store Vitamin C, it should be in the daily diet.

Lanes Create Beauty Spot In Big Spring

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever," John Keats once said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lane, 1604 Nolan, believe it's true. Their yard, one of the beauty spots of Big Spring, has afforded them much pleasure in the past eight springs.

And well it should. It has taken much hard work to get the yard just exactly as they want it.

Almost any variety of flower may be found in the beds that surround the Lane home. For instance there are roses (of every description), poppies, petunias, calendulas, candytuft, snapdragons, irises, larkspurs, Queen Anne's Lace, forget-me-nots, phlox, verbenas, pansies and alliums.

Mrs. Lane's favorite flower, the peace rose, is found in abundance throughout her yard. Its delicate yellow coloring with just a touch of pink has made many passersby stop and look.

Water is no problem for the Lanes because they have a windmill with an electric pump. Even during last year's drought the

Shoat Webster Wins Calf Roping Contest

Two mishaps occurred in the course of the calf roping match here Sunday afternoon and both of them happened to Toots Mansfield.

His second calf became untied, and he broke his rope on his eighth calf, with the result that Shoat Webster of Nowata and Lenapah, Okla., won the match with a margin of 39.7 seconds on a total of 10 calves, for an average of 18.9 seconds.

Mansfield's average was 22.9 seconds. He roped and tied the second calf in 17.1 seconds but was penalized 10 seconds when the calf became untied. The necessity of using a second rope on the eighth calf brought him a time of 80 seconds flat on that animal.

The Big Spring roper's times on his 10 calves in seconds were: 13.4; 27.1; 26.6; 18.6; 16.7; 15.7; 21.6; 60.0; 16.0, and 13.4 for a total of 229.1 seconds.

The Oklahoma's times were: 13.9; 18.2; 25.3; 15.8; 12.2 (the fastest calf of the match); 14.4; 27.5; 25.5; 13.0 (second fastest calf) and 22.6 for a total of 189.4 seconds.

Dial Telephone Numbers Being Given Out Here

New telephone numbers are going out to all patrons of the Southwestern Bell exchange in Big Spring in preparation for the switch-over to dial operations.

Although it will be several weeks before the new dial system goes into operation, all telephone subscribers are being notified of their new numbers in advance in an effort to reduce confusion to a minimum during the transition period, said Clifford Fisher, local manager for Southwestern Bell.

This is expected to be particularly helpful to business concerns and individuals who have business telephones, since it will give them an opportunity to advertise their new numbers.

In many cases the changes will add two or more digits to existing numbers. All numbers for the dial system will consist of five digits.

In the present system there are many three-digit numbers, some two-digit numbers and a few have only one digit. Also, letters following the numbers of party-line subscribers, mostly W's and J's, will be eliminated when the dial system goes into operation.

The telephone company indicated that it is still shooting at June 28 as the date for activating the dial system.

No Progress Noted In Bill Oatis Case

NEW YORK (AP)—The Board of Directors of The Associated Press said today there has been no "substantial, discernible progress" toward obtaining the release of William N. Oatis from a Czechoslovakian jail.

Oatis, chief of the AP bureau in Prague, was jailed two years ago on charges of espionage. He is under a 10-year sentence.

The board noted also, in its report for the annual membership meeting of The Associated Press, world-wide news-gathering co-operation, that another AP employee, photographer Frank Noel, is still a prisoner of war in Korea.

"Freedom-loving people everywhere continue to denounce the detention of Oatis and demand his release," the board said. "The Czech government thus far has turned a deaf ear to pleas based on humanitarianism and has been equally unresponsive to the economic and political pressures imposed as a result of the treatment of Oatis. It is the board's fervent hope that before the members assemble again, Oatis' freedom will have been restored."

The board said available information indicated that both Oatis and Noel are in "reasonably good health and receiving humane treatment. Prolonged incarceration, however, must be as galling to them as our failure to effect their release is frustrating to us."

"Every possible effort is being exerted in their behalf," the board said.

The board presented its report for a business meeting of members prior to the annual luncheon, at which Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey was to speak.

The members voted for six directors and considered applications of 12 associate members for regular AP membership. The results of the election for directors will not be known until late tonight.

10 Persons Die, Over 400 Hurt In South Storms

ATLANTA (AP)—Pint-sized tornadoes and a strange, hurricane-like wind battered three Southern states over the week end, killing 10 persons and injuring more than 400.

Property damage climbed into the millions of dollars.

Countless homes were wrecked. Hundreds were left jobless when the winds devastated an Alabama cotton mill. Three grammar schools in Columbus, Ga., were so heavily damaged that 2,000 children were being reassigned to other classrooms on a double-session basis.

In a tragic sidelight, eight persons were killed in an automobile collision near Jackson, Ga. Four of the victims were en route to inspect the damage to the family home hit by stiff winds at Montezuma.

With surveys still in progress, 625 homes in Arkansas, Alabama and Georgia were reported demolished. Approximately 3,500 others were damaged, at least half of them extensively.

Gov. Gordon Persons of Alabama estimated the economic loss in his state at between four and five million dollars. Damage in Arkansas was fixed at about 1 1/2 million. Georgia damage, confined principally to the Columbus area, was estimated at several millions.

The storms, packing gusts of up to more than 100 miles an hour, first struck in Northeast Arkansas Saturday night, dipped into Central and East Alabama, then slammed into West Georgia.

Lee County and Siluria, Ala., and Columbus were the areas hardest hit, although many small communities suffered heavy damage.

The baby tornadoes pounced into 15 Alabama towns and rural areas all told, and the injury reports totaled 127 in that state.

Charles Lucey Wins Ray Clapper Award

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles T. Lucey, chief political writer for the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance, is the winner of the ninth annual Raymond Clapper Memorial Award.

As the judges' unanimous choice, Lucey was cited for "comprehensive and discerning" reporting of last year's presidential campaign.

Trio Charged In DWI Cases Here

Three men were charged in Howard County Court this morning with driving while intoxicated. All were arrested over the week end.

Roy M. Brown, 1903 West 3rd, was arrested by city police on East 3rd Street last Saturday evening. Miguel Franco, local Latin-American, and Grady Hopkins, from Mississippi, were arrested on area highways by the Texas Highway Patrol.

Both Hopkins and Franco appointed Sheriff Jess Slaughter to plead guilty in absentia for them today. Each was assessed $100 by the sheriff to meet the fine.

The two men appointed the sheriff to plead for them because County Judge R. H. Weaver is out of town and cannot hear their cases today. Weaver is at a convention in San Angelo.

Brown had not pleaded either way this morning. He was consulting with Attorney Tom Adams.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

The Longhorn League teams will be off and running tomorrow night but Scriber Ben Peeler of Odessa thinks the race will all be over by July 4. Fact is, he opines four clubs — including Big Spring — will be out of business by Independence Day.

Those who do make such forecasts reckon without the ability of Miller to knit together a club and make it go. Hack inspires a team to heights few men can. More than one player on the local team hunted over Frank and asked to be signed, simply because Miller was masterminding the team.

Long-Range European Defense Program To Be Asked By Dulles

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles files to Paris this week to advocate a long-range European defense program designed to meet a continuing Soviet threat over a period of 20 or 30 years. Dulles says that what he calls the Soviet "peace offensive" has produced no evidence to indicate the Kremlin is abandoning aggressive policies or that the free world would be justified in letting down its guard. He does say it may bring an armistice in Korea.

Society of Newspaper Editors here Saturday night that Russia has yet to respond in action to the test which President Eisenhower outlined in his world peace plan last Thursday. Eisenhower called for a series of settlements beginning with a Korean truce and running through the ending of other Far Eastern conflicts, the conclusion of treaties for Germany and Austria and freedom for European satellites, and finally to agreement on global disarmament. Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader in the Senate, said in a week-end interview that any Korean armistice not based on settlement of Far Eastern problems generally would leave Korea permanently divided. "Every effort should be put into attempts to settle the overriding issues of the Far East—to end the Communist threats against Indochina and Malaya—as a part of the Korean truce agreement," Taft said.

"Of course, it would be better to have a cease-fire in Korea than to continue a stalemate there, but I don't think we will ever get a united Korea by merely agreeing to stop the shooting. We will have to settle all the questions of the Far East at one time. Until it does so, he made clear, the Eisenhower administration is convinced that defenses must be fully maintained. This is a long-time undertaking, he said, requiring adjustments of programs now under way. In going to Paris tomorrow, Dulles will have a cease-fire in Korea than to continue a stalemate there, but I don't think we will ever get a united Korea by merely agreeing to stop the shooting. We will have to settle all the questions of the Far East at one time. Until it does so, he made clear, the Eisenhower administration is convinced that defenses must be fully maintained. Inquest Is Planned Into Chicago Blaze
 CHICAGO (AP)—Haber Corp. officials will be subpoenaed for an inquest "in minute detail" into a factory fire Thursday in which at least 34 employees died, Coroner Walter E. McCarron said yesterday. Bodies of three men and three women were found near that fire escape on the third floor level yesterday, raising the death toll to 34. Murph Thorp knows paint. (Adv.)

les will head a Cabinet-level delegation including Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen. They are to represent this country at a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council. It opens Thursday. While Dulles did not publicly state the possible duration of the European defense system as he envisions it, it is known that the Eisenhower administration has decided as a matter of policy that the North Atlantic Allies should so organize their military forces and armament production that they will be able to meet any Soviet aggression over the next 20 to 30 years. The administration has decided this means the Atlantic nations must avoid such a burden of armament as would reduce them to bankrupt and let the Reds take over by default.

Ike And Taft Unhappy Over Golfing Scores

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Senate Republican Leader Taft—a couple of golfers somewhat unhappy about their scores—hope to do better in another joust with par today. The President and the Ohio senator played 18 holes at the Augusta National course yesterday but kept their tallies a deep secret. "They said both their scores were so bad they didn't want anyone to know," Presidential Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters, who were barred from the course. Hagerty said he tried hard to learn the scores but got only an indication "they were pretty high." The only other time Eisenhower and Taft played together—two weeks ago in Washington—the President shot a 93 for 18 holes and the senator had a 94. Eisenhower and the man he defeated for the GOP presidential nomination planned to play another round today before Taft returns to Washington. He was scheduled to leave in the afternoon. Hagerty said the President had decided to put off his own return to the capital until Tuesday at the earliest, instead of going back today as he had planned. "He wants to play more golf," Hagerty explained. Taft flew in from Washington yesterday morning as the President was returning to the golf club, where he has been vacationing for the last week, from church services. Hagerty had announced Saturday night that Eisenhower would forego church because he wasn't as completely recovered from an attack of food poisoning as he had thought. The Secretary said at the same time it was uncertain whether the President would be well enough to golf with Taft. But Eisenhower felt much better yesterday morning and attended services at the Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church with the First Lady and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower. On arrival at the church the President told the pastor, the Rev. Massey Mott Hitzel, he had been "under the weather all night" with a case of food poisoning that developed early Thursday. He added, however, that he was over the attack and ready to golf with Taft. Talking to newsmen after the service, the pastor quoted Mrs. Eisenhower as having told him the President was "really sick" and "we were really concerned about golf." But he and the President world peace plan and legislative ample, there is the Senate log jam ham created by what Taft called the filibuster being waged by opponents of the submerged oil lands bill.
