It started with 'a-choo'

Celebrating Veterans Day earlier this month brought back a multitude of memories of my Army days. Especially basic training.

Anyone who has ever served in the Armed Forces can never forget their basic training.

I took mine one frigid winter at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. It was a winter where the thermometer showed minus 18 degrees one particularly nasty day.

So it goes without saying that colds and flu bugs were rampant during the 10-week course.

My sniffles began about the second week of training. It wasn't bad enough to go on sick call. I just caged a couple of shots of cough medicine from other new GI's who had already checked with the medics.

As week after week went by, the a-chooing and sniffing increased in intensity. I took swallow after swallow of that medicine that most of my fellow trainees seemed to have, but it couldn't make that persistent cold go away.

Of course, sleeping in a drafty barracks (remember those frozen cigarette butt cans?) didn't help matters. And charging around outside from 5 a.m. to twilight in sub-freezing temperatures wasn't real helpful, either.

At first, I wasn't worried. Colds go away, don't they?

But by the seventh week, I was getting concerned. This was ridiculous, I thought. Why not go on sick call and get treated properly?

There was a problem, though: recycling. If I was as sick as I was beginning to feel I was, and if I did go on sick call, then they might put me in the hospital. And if I was hospitalized, I would miss the last two crucial weeks of basic -- including the target test. Miss that, and you get recycled -- you have to take basic training all over again.

Perish the thought.

So I kept cadging medicinal sips, and kept worrying. I finally made a pact with myself: once I passed the target-shooting test in the ninth week, I would go on sick call.

Finally, the day arrived. We went out on the firing line. To pass the test, you had to score 30 hits on 90 targets, ranging from 25 yards away to 300 yards away.

I'll never forget it. I scored a 31, got back in the truck -- and passed out. The following morning I went on sick call.

After falling out for sick call that chilly February day, I had to report to an officer and explain that I wanted to see a doctor. It was a formality but I still recall that dialogue:

"I'd like to see a doctor, sir."
"Your name and company."
"Private Mike Pomper, Bravo Company, sir."
"Okay, fine. Go ahead."
"Uh, where is the doctor located, sir?"

"What? You don't know? Haven't you been on sick call before?"

"No, sir."
"My God, you must be the only soldier in the battalion who hasn't. Let me show you the way."

So he got up from behind his desk, put an arm around my shoulder and personally led me to the medical station.

At the medical station, an orderly put a thermometer in my mouth. Five minutes later, he came back and checked it. I had a slight fever, around 101.

So he gave me some of that same medicine I had been cadging for the past seven weeks from others, and told me to rejoin my company for training on the double!

I finally did get over the cold -- about two weeks after basic training was over. It was the longest cold (pneumonia?) I ever had -- 10 weeks.

What an introduction to the U.S. Army. I knew it could only get better.

No comment.

A blizzard?

Monday afternoon, the Twin Cities saw what looked like a full-fledged blizzard, but it didn't last long enough to do any damage, and only a small amount accumulated.

Last weekend, instead of snow, it rained. Farwell got 1.4 inches. North of Farwell reported 1.5 inches, with Oklahoma Lane reporting 1.2 inches and Lariat 1.3 inches

Theta Rho ESA plans third annual pheasant hunt

The Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority will be sponsoring a pheasant hunting preserve for the third year in a row.

The sorority is undertaking this event as a fund-raiser for the group's philanthropic projects, and also to benefit a worthy cause in the community. Their first hunt resulted in a $3,000 donation toward the community center fund, and last year, a whopping $10,000 was donated by the same group, also toward the community center.

A lot of time and hard work goes into the planning of the preserve. The sorority members make sure that all areas of their preserves have plenty of cover for birds to hide in, so there will be some birds there for the hunters. They talk to the landowners to secure permission for the use of their lands, and pay a fee to the Texas Parks and Wildlife to establish a shooting preserve, then the land is posted as such.

After the land is all set up, the sorority then must estimate the number of hunters who can safely hunt in each area. Then they patrol the preserves themselves to make sure there are no unauthorized hunters.

To hunt on the ESA preserves, one must be a licensed hunter, and one must also purchase a permit for the preserve. All permits are good from the date they are issued through the closing day of the season. The permits are good for any or all of the land secured by the sorority. Each participating landowner is given a complimentary permit.

The cost of the ESA permits are: if they are purchased on Dec. 8 or 9, $75; those purchased Dec. 10 through 16, $50; and those purchased Dec. 17 through 23, $25. A permit may be purchased for anyone age 12 and under for $25. All permits are good from the date they are issued through the closing day of the season.

Pleasant Hill Fire Department to host pheasant hunt

The Pleasant Hill Fire Department will be sponsoring a pheasant hunt Dec. 8 through 11 to raise funds to help finance a station building and equipment for their newly organized department.

Hunters must have a valid New Mexico hunting license, aside from the permit for the special 20,000-acre hunt. The permit will cost $25, and may be purchased at the following locations in Clovis: White's Auto Store, R and S Gun Shop, Reb's Gun Shop, and Billynn's Gun Shop. In Farwell, permits may be obtained at Farwell Hardware. Permits will also be on sale at the Pleasant Hill Community Center during the hunting season.

Hunters reminded

With pheasant hunting season upon us, it would be wise for all prospective hunters to review rules and regulations that go along with the season.

Most all laws concerning hunting deal with either the safety of hunters and others, or the rights of people to privacy on their own property.

This year, the pheasant season opens Dec. 8 in Parmer County, and also in Curry County. In Parmer County, the season continues through Dec. 23, while the Curry County season lasts through Dec. 11.

A resident hunting license or a combination hunting and fishing license is required by all Texas residents who hunt outside the county of their residence. A resident hunting license is $8, while the combination hunting and fishing license is $12. Certain persons may qualify for a resident exempt hunting license that costs only $5. These persons are classified as under 17 years of age; 65 years of age or over; and certain disabled veterans. No license is required by a person hunting in the county of his residence. A non-resident small game license is $37.75.

Licenses may be purchased locally at Hughes True Value Hardware and at the Parmer County Clerk's Office, which is located on the first floor of the Parmer County Courthouse.

This year, in Parmer County, the bag limit is three cocks per day, and

The permits are good for hunting areas secured in Parmer and Bailey counties in Texas, and in New Mexico, Curry and Roosevelt counties.

Permits may be purchased at Hughes True Value Hardware. On Friday, Dec. 7, at 6 p.m., ESA will move to the community center, and will be there selling the permits until 10 p.m. Saturday. Permits may be purchased at the community center from 5 p.m. until 10 a.m.

After the opening days, permits may be purchased at the office of Aldridge, Harding, Aycock & Atkinson at 402 Third Street, Farwell, or by calling Maxine Williams, 481-3638; Leslie Lunsford, 481-9336; Kim Norton, 481-3223; Terri Nichols, 481-3408, or Altha Herington, 481-9351.

A lot of effort is made by the planners to make sure that everyone involved in the hunt benefits from it in some way. The landowner benefits in that his land is posted and patrolled, and unauthorized hunters are kept off his land. The hunter coming in from out of town is given a map, so he knows where to go to hunt. The community benefits, as the hunting season brings money into the community, and the sorority tries to keep at least part of it here.

In conjunction with the hunt, there will be a longest tail feather contest. The tail feathers are measured on the last day of the season at 5 p.m., at Farwell Hardware. There will be first, second and third place prizes awarded, and also a county-wide contest for the longest tail feather in the county.

The Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be serving breakfast Saturday morning, Dec. 8, at the Farwell school cafeteria. The breakfast will consist of sausage and eggs, biscuits and gravy, and coffee. The cost will be $4 for adults and $2.50 for those 10 and under. For this price, you get all you can eat.

There will be 1st and 2nd place prizes for the longest tail feather, and there will also be door prizes.

The Pleasant Hill Women's Club will have refreshments, coffee, hot chocolate, soft drinks and donuts for sale beginning an hour before the hunt opens on Dec. 8. They will also be serving a chili dinner at noon on the opening day. The proceeds from these will be used for community improvements.

More information may be obtained from the following fire department officers: Chief Richard Kelley, 389-5482; Assistant Chief Gary Singletery, 389-5320; Captain Paul Barnes, 389-5413; or secretary-treasurer Ted Richardson, 482-3402.

State champs treated

The Texico Lady Spikers, state volleyball champions, were treated to pizza at the Pizza Mill and Sub Factory in Clovis Tuesday evening, by the Texico Booster Club. President of the Booster Club is James Holland, vice-president is Mrs. Roy Thornton, secretary is Reta Dunsforth and the treasurer is Weldon Smith. The ladies each received a beautiful rose, compliments of the Booster Club. Above is Loretta Gonzales, Cheryl Scott and Helen Jo Boarman. Top right are some of the Booster Club members in the front, with team players behind them. At right, is Kathy Harrison, and cheerleaders Rachel Jarmillo and Elaine Horner. Kathy Harrison, one of the two senior players, reflected, "I have loved playing and will miss it a lot. This has been my best season - not just because of the way I played, but because of the team. We've all been real close."

Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m., the curtains will go up for a musical variety show at the Farwell Community Center.

Lawrence Cooper will be the emcee. Opening the show will be Charles Turner, who will be playing either the piano or the accordion for the opening number.

The Top O' Texas Cloggers will be performing, along with a host of

Goettsch wins football contest for 2nd time

A total of 502 people entered the 26th Area Merchants Football Contest.

And at the end of 12 weeks, there was a winner -- Gay Goettsch of Farwell. Mrs. Goettsch also had won the contest in 1976. She now has joined two others who have won the contest twice -- T.J. Kittrell and Sam Gonzalez.

Mrs. Goettsch had 9 of 12 right last week to end the contest with an even 100 points. She was one ahead of Diane Dannheim, who had entered the final week two behind the front-runner. Mrs. Dannheim ended up with 10 right last week -- to fall short by one.

Here's a list of the top entrants:
100 points -- Gay Goettsch.
99 points -- Diane Dannheim.
96 points -- James Williams.
95 points -- Buck Gregory.
94 points -- Charles Dannheim and Edwina Owen.
93 points -- Jim Parker and Modine Parker.
92 points -- Larry Gregory.
91 points -- Scott Parker, Debbie Weir and Delores Williams.

90 points -- Duane Hamar, Mark Liethen, Jerry Dee Owen, Vernon Thigpen and Jennifer Williams.

Mrs. Goettsch averaged 8.33 points per week. She had totals of 9, 10, 7, 9, 9, 6, 8, 10, 5, 9, 9 and 9.

Last year's contest was won by Ruth Scott with 110 points, with Dale Sikes second.

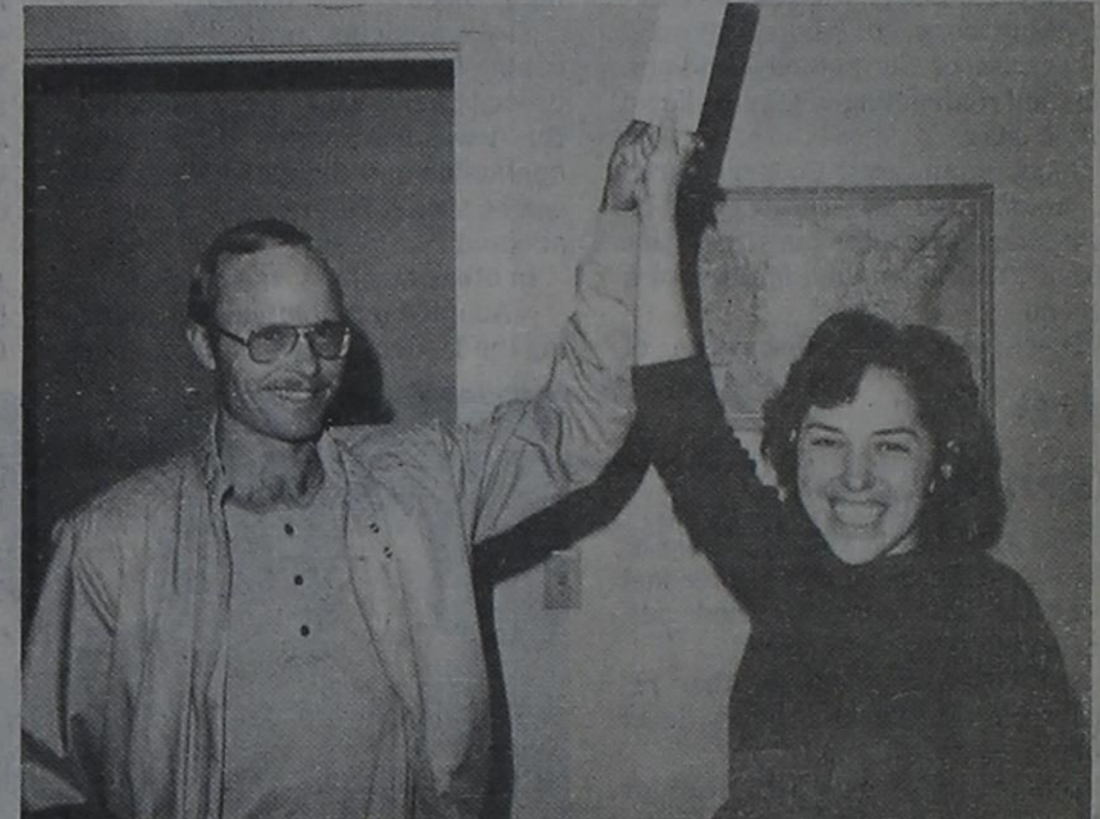

Besides individuals, two classes at Farwell High School turned in entries. The recordkeeping class averaged just over 7 points for the seven times it entered (50 points), and the health class also averaged just over seven points for the nine times it entered (65 points).

As for the final contest week, five entrants had 10 of 12 games picked correctly: Kenneth Adams, Diane Dannheim, Mona Hardage, Cynthia Thigpen and Gary Patterson.

Mrs. Hardage was closest to the tiebreaker (Houston defeated Texas Tech, 24-17) and received the weekly cash prize of $7.50. She was three points off the tiebreaker.

Patterson and Mrs. Dannheim tied for second, both being six points off the tiebreaker. Patterson received the $5 second prize after winning a coin toss.

Here are the results of last week's games: Clovis over Albuquerque Sandia, Wheeler over Nazareth,

Gay Goettsch is congratulated by her husband, Carl, as they hold aloft the $50 cash prize that went along with winning two free tickets to the Dallas-Washington game Dec. 9 and hotel lodging.

Mona Hardage, winner of the football contest's final week, accepts her first place cash prize from Robert Johnson, manager of

Monahans over Lubbock Dunbar (a playoff tie but Monahans advances due to penetration), Texas A&M over TCU, Oklahoma over Oklahoma State, Pittsburgh over Penn State, Notre Dame over Southern Cal, Maryland over Virginia, Pittsburgh over San Diego, St. Louis over Philadelphia, Cincinnati over Atlanta and Cleveland over Houston. By virtue of her grand prize victory, Mrs. Goettsch received two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys vs. Washington Redskins game in Texas Stadium Dec. 9.

She also won a $50 cash prize and one night's lodging at the Regent Hotel with transportation to and from Cowboy Stadium.

Variety Show features Cloggers

Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m., the curtains will go up for a musical variety show at the Farwell Community Center.

Lawrence Cooper will be the emcee. Opening the show will be Charles Turner, who will be playing either the piano or the accordion for the opening number.

The Top O' Texas Cloggers will be performing, along with a host of local talent. A gymnastics club will perform a tumbling routine; solos will be sung by Cheryl Burton and Jimmie Franse; a duet will be sung by Lynn and Cheryl Burton; Daniel Hutchins will play a solo on his saxophone.

Charles Turner and Carolyn Burrows will be accompanying the singers on the piano. Also, the Mexican Polk Dancers from the San Jose Church of Texico will be performing.

Tickets for the show may be purchased from any of the following: Beta Sigma Phi, Farwell Study Club, Carrie Anderson, Margaret Aycock, Irene Jones or Julia Symcox. The price of the tickets is $3 for adults and $1.50 for students, kindergarten through 12th grade. The proceeds from the show will go to the Farwell Community Center.

SPS: Reduced rates for coal will hold down cost of electricity

Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) has negotiated contracts that will significantly reduce costs customers eventually pay for hauling coal by rail from Wyoming mines for use at SPS power plants, company officials announced today.

New contracts with the Burlington Northern Railroad and the Santa Fe Railway will lower costs of delivering coal to the power plants by about $27 million in 1985, said Bert Ballengee, SPS president and chief operating officer.

"The new contracts will save our customers an estimated $790 million through the year 2002," Ballengee said.

Ballengee cautioned, "These contracts provide an excellent overall savings for customers. We're lowering fuel costs by some five to six percent. But, of course, purchasing fuel on the open market -- as we must do -- remains expensive for us, as it is for everyone."

The new contracts will hold down the average SPS residential customer's electricity bill by about $1.07 per month, Ballengee said. The reduction could begin as early as January 1985.

The average SPS residential customer uses 635 kilowatt-hours of electricity monthly. The average monthly bill for a residential customer in Texas is $49.51, plus sales tax. An average New Mexico customer pays $46.94, plus tax. The average customer in Oklahoma pays $49.27 per month plus tax. In Kansas, the price of 635 kwh is $51.33, plus sales tax.

Southwestern's last general rate change, an increase, was in mid-1982.

The importance of the new contracts will become more apparent in the future, Ballengee said, when SPS generates significantly greater proportions of its electricity at coal-fueled plants. The company will bring a new coal-fueled power plant unit into service in August 1985, and plans still another for service in the early 1990s.

Presently, coal fuels the boilers at two SPS power plants, near Amarillo and near Muleshoe, Texas, generating about 56 percent of the company's electricity. Natural gas fuels the boilers at the company's other power plants.

The coal-fueled plants generate significantly less expensive electricity than do the natural gas-fueled plants, Ballengee said. "Our fuel costs at the coal-fueled plants are less than one-half of the fuel costs at the natural gas-fueled plants. Our coal-fueled plants are playing a major role in keeping electricity affordable."

He said the newly renegotiated contracts with the Burlington Northern and the Santa Fe railroads, signed last week, are particularly important because in recent years the cost of transporting coal by rail from Wyoming to the Texas power plants had grown higher than the costs of the coal itself. "For our customers' sakes, we had to reverse that trend," Ballengee said.

Sheriff's report

Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan reported the following:

On Nov. 21, Jay Potts reported that his home had been entered, and some guns and cassette tapes had been taken. He estimated the loss at approximately $2,000.

On Nov. 21, Reaford Wenner, of Rt. 1, Muleshoe, reported that the fuel from his overhead diesel tank was drained out onto the ground. The loss was approximately $330.

Sheriff Morgan reported one arrest since last week. On Nov. 22, Abel Avila Vega, 38, of Bovina, was arrested by the Bovina Police Department on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He posted the $500 bond, and his case is pending in the county court.

Street potholes a problem

The growing problem of street potholes in Texico was discussed at the City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor John Hadley explained to the council that rain has prevented patching work being done by city employees. But city officials expect patching work will be done shortly.

Because of the pothole problem, planned remodeling of City Hall ran into a snag.

Councilman Lewis Cooper offered a motion that the remodeling be postponed until after the streets are fixed. The motion died for lack of a second.

There was some discussion of taking bids on the remodeling to see what the project's cost would be. But no motion was made to this effect.

Finally, Mayor Hadley instructed City Clerk-Treasurer Marie Christian to get estimates on the remodeling project.

The remodeling project had been in abeyance, waiting on the new city procurement code to be adopted. But it was learned that state law is applicable and the remodeling bids can be sought before the city code is adopted.

In other business, the council:

- Adopted a resolution commending the Texico Lady Spikers on their state volleyball championship.

- Agreed to offer a job to a temporary employee to run the Caterpillar in the landfill, for $5 an hour.

- Plans to amend its proposed contract with the state for the remodeling of the restrooms at the senior citizens center. Broader insurance coverage will be needed and a written lease pact with the senior citizens may be necessary. City Attorney Duane Hamar will draft a contract.

- Will have its next meeting Dec. 11. The second meeting in December was canceled because it fell on Christmas Day.

Arts fair turnout low

The Arts and Crafts Fair held at the Farwell Community Center last weekend was nearly rained out, according to Janie Bowery.

She held the damp weather responsible for the weak showing of customers for the show.

This year's show netted $224.65 for the community center. Last year, the center got $537.05 from the fair.

The quilt contest had eight entries. Maureen Caywood's quilt won Best of Show and the People's Choice awards, while Mary Louise Jones, of Clovis, entered a postage stamp quilt, which was the Most Unique. The Oldest Quilt was a baby quilt belonging to Bob Watson, of Hale Center.

Denver May

Denver May, 80, died Nov. 23 in Pampa, Texas. Funeral services were conducted Monday at the First Baptist Church in Pampa. Officiating were the Rev. Claude Cone, pastor of First Baptist Church, and the Rev. Dan Pearce, pastor of First Baptist Church of Tarzan, Texas. Graveside services were conducted in the Texico Cemetery under the direction of Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Home.

Mr. May was born Feb. 8, 1904, in Colorado City, Texas. He moved to Pampa in 1977 from Texico. He married Gladys Mayo on Jan. 3, 1977, in Pampa. He was a retired farmer and lumber salesman. He was a member of First Baptist Church, Pampa Oddfellows Lodge and Senior Citizens Center.

Survivors include his wife of the home; two daughters Mozelle Kirby and Aileen Pearce, both of Texico; two sons, Robert May of Elk Grove, Calif., and Jack May of Coure d'Alene, Idaho; two stepsons, Gerald Mayo of Santa Rosa, Calif., and Calvin Mayo of Naperville, Ill.; two stepdaughters, Virginia Anderson of Joshua, Texas, and Senora Lewis of Pampa; two sisters, Mary Wright of Tulia, Texas and Delia Newsom of Albuquerque; three brothers, Charles May of Georgetown, Texas, Ruben May of Allison, Texas, and John May of Round Rock, Texas; 26 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Hunters

the possession limit is six cocks. In Curry County, the limit is three cocks per day.

New Mexico hunting licenses may be purchased in Clovis at Reb's Gun Shop, White's Auto, Alco, and K-Mart (and Farwell Hardware). A resident small game license is $9.50, while a non-resident license is $51.

In order to insure that hens are not shot, hunters must leave the heads and feet on their birds until they have reached their final destination. There will be a severe fine if this rule is not followed. It is illegal to shoot hens.

The legal shooting hours for game birds are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. Hunting is prohibited on any public road or road right-of-way. Calling devices, except recordings and electrically amplified calls, are permitted.

It is illegal to hunt on privately owned land without the consent of the owner or the owner's agent. The trespass laws are very explicit, and you may be charged with a Class B misdemeanor, which carries a maximum fine of $1,000 and/or 180 days in jail. It is not necessary for a property owner to post no trespassing signs, if he has fences. If there are no fences, signs are all that are needed.

Farwell businesses to hold open house

Two businesses in Farwell will be holding open house this Sunday, Dec. 2.

Special Occasions Floral, 501 Ave. A, will have its open house from 2 to 5 p.m. They will have on display all types of centerpieces, wreaths, nativity scenes, table top Christmas trees, poinsettias, etc.

There will also be refreshments and door prizes. The prizes are a nine-plant poinsettia hanging basket, a silk Christmas centerpiece, and a fresh greenery, which will be delivered during the week of Christmas.

Circle D Feed Supply, 1017 Ave. A, will hold its open house from 2 to 6 p.m.

The open house will feature Christmas trees of all sizes and done any way you like them, and Christmas decorations.

There will be door prizes and refreshments.

An 18-year-old Texas youth, who raised prize-winning beef cattle and swine, has been named a winner of a $1,000 4-H agricultural careers scholarship.

Charles Johnson, Route 1, Box 36, Farwell, also was awarded a trip to the 63rd National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29. He was one of four young people to receive these awards from DeKalb AgResearch, Inc. Winners were selected by the Cooperative Extension Service and awards arranged by National 4-H Council.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Johnson, is a high school senior and plans a career in farming and ranching after attending college.

The Farmer County youth, an eight-year 4-H'er, has been involved in a number of transactions, often as a partner with his father, as he bought and sold beef cattle and Holstein heifers.

Earlier this year, they sold 77 Holstein heifers, 13 small Holstein steers and five Brangus bulls, netting a profit after feedlot costs.

He also bought a Chianina cross steer that he said was "mean, wild and crazy. After breaking dad's leg, he jumped a trough, injuring his own leg. He developed an abscess and died. His net loss was $797," Johnson said.

The youth added he lost money a few times when he bought calves, fattened them and then found that cattle prices had dropped when it came time for him to sell.

Johnson said one of the most enjoyable things he has done has been to work with younger 4-H'ers. "I have been one of the older 4-H'ers working in the barn with them for the past three years. I really think the younger members paid attention to what I did around pigs and cattle," he said. "I also helped several members feed their pigs and really taught them some of the basics of livestock feeding."

The youth said he couldn't raise field crops on his own "because it would mess dad's acres up for the farm program. So I started my own business. The first year I leased dad's trucks and went to harvest wheat. This year, the combines I'd been hauling for didn't go to harvest. So I leased dad's combine and a truck and went myself."

The youth added he brought camping equipment along and "planned to stay in the field, but rattlesnakes changed my mind for me."

8th graders write myths

Here are more myths written by Farwell 8th graders.

HOW A PARROT GOT HIS COLORS by David Stehle

A long, long time ago there was a big bird with a long tail. He had feet that were perchy so he could stand on the branches. He was a dish-water gray. The parrot lived in a magic forest along with a witch who had tried to catch him for years.

One day the witch was making some soup. She was eating crackers and she laid them on the table so that she could go out and pick some fruits and vegetables from the magic forest. She picked yellow yippyappies, purple papadookies, blue bobadips, green goo-goos and red rexadeez. She took them all and popped them into a pot and let them cook. After awhile, she took off the lid, but her stew was still tasteless. She needed more flavor-

About that time the gray parrot was out on a branch. He was perched there like a vulture getting ready to attack something in the window. They were salted squares. The parrot swooped down to retrieve the squares that lay on the table. Once he landed on the table, the witch ran over and slammed the window, and the parrot was trapped.

Then she leaped over and snatched the bird and slammed him into the pot and slammed the lid on. She let the pot simmer. Later on she went to peek into the pot and the parrot leaped out, squawking crazily. The witch saw the garish rainbow of colors on the parrot's feathers. She was so startled to see the parrot so beautiful, she decided to let him fly away. From then on, parrots have always been a rainbow of colors until this very day.

Kaltwasser named to Wayland Baptist University board

Walter Kaltwasser, Farwell mayor, has been named as a trustee of the Wayland Baptist University, a Baptist Christian school at Plainview.

Kaltwasser said that he was at first surprised by his nomination, and felt that his occupation as a farmer was an important factor in his nomination.

Voting for the trustees took place four weeks ago at a convention at Dallas-Ft. Worth. After the voting, the new trustees were appointed to committees. Kaltwasser is on the business and finance committee, which also includes farming and ranching.

The trustees had two days of meetings. There was a new trustee orientation, which included an explanation of the job and a tour of the campus. During the first day of meetings, the committees made resolutions. The second day was an executive meeting, where the resolutions were passed.

Kaltwasser said, "I've never done anything like this before, so it will be a challenge. I'm looking forward to it."

Texico boys

nie Galvan, Billy Bibbs and Kyle Snipes. In front are Head Coach Scott Parker, Manager Jessie Martinez and Assistant Coach Michael Littlejohn.

Farwell boys win

The Farwell boys' varsity basketball team won their game Tuesday against Hart, 48-44.

Coach Mike Martin said that it was a tough game. The score at the end of the first quarter was 8-6, Farwell. The halftime score was 27-20, Farwell, and at the end of the third quarter, the score was 39-30.

Scoring in the game were: David Wood, 11 points; Eric Williams 8; Roger Robertson, Mark Cole, and Kevin Owen, with 6 each; and Jody Ketcherside, 10. Mark Cole had a good game, with 13 rebounds.

Martin commented, "We started off slowly. The first four minutes and the last four minutes of the game, we didn't play well, but we made up for it in between. We shot well in the first half, not so well in the second half."

The next game is against Sudan, Friday night, at Sudan.

Lazbuddie girls win

The Lazbuddie girls' varsity basketball team won their game against Springlake-Earth, 43-32.

The leading scorer in the game was Becky Schacher, with 14 points.

Girls' Coach Mark Albin felt that the girls played their best game yet, and they are improving as a team.

Albin commented, "I feel like we're on our way, and should be competitive in the district this year."

Traci Elliot has averaged 13 points per game so far this season, with an average of 7 steals.

Albin said that last year, the girls only won five games. This year, they're already 2-1.

Farwell JV girls lose

Scoring in the game were: Laura Wolfe, 4 points and Gracie Ortega, 2.

The halftime score was 18-0. The girls' coach, Larry Gregory, said the girls played better in the second half.

Their next game is against Sudan Friday night. Gregory said that Sudan has one of the best girls' varsity teams in the state, regardless of class. They won 3rd place in the Queen's Classic at Plainview. The game begins at 4 p.m.

Eighth graders split

The Farwell eighth grade girls traveled to Happy to play basketball Monday afternoon, but lost 36-10.

Commented Coach Larry Gregory, "We need to work on our basic basketball."

Scoring were Gina Ortiz, 2 points; April Haseloff, 2; Leslie Monk, 2; Janel Lovvorn, 2, and Kara Camp, 2.

They next play in the Muleshoe Tournament, beginning with Christ the King at 5 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 29. Then Monday, the 7th and 8th grade girls play Muleshoe at Farwell, and the 7th and 8th grade boys play Muleshoe at Muleshoe.

The Farwell eighth grade boys beat Happy 29-16.

Coach Rex Cumpton said, "This was a pretty good overall performance. We still aren't shooting the ball as well as we need to, but the lay-off over the holiday had something to do with that. Improvement will come as the season progresses."

Scoring the highest number of points in the game was Jeff Actkinson, with 14 points. Next were Donald Rubio and Aaron Kelley with 6 each, Ruben Ortega, 2 and Dustin Hardage, 1.

Farwell varsity girls fall

The Farwell high school girls' varsity basketball team lost its game against Hart Tuesday night, 46-24.

Girls' Coach Larry Gregory said he felt that these girls made a good effort in the game, even though the result was a loss for Farwell. Gregory said that the girls got into some early foul trouble.

Scoring in the game were: Cheryl Stanton, 5 points; Sheila Smith, 4; Sherilyn Thigpen, 4; Dana White, 5; Trina George, 4; and Shonda Foster, 2.

The halftime score was 24-9, with Hart in the lead. Farwell shot 44 times for 7 baskets, which is 16%.

Lazbuddie JV teams fall

Both the Lazbuddie boys' and girls' JV basketball teams lost their games against Springlake-Earth Tuesday.

The girls' final score was 28-25, and the boys' final score was 71-21.

The next JV game is against Spade Dec. 8.

UPC labels still needed

Texico High School is still in need of a lot of help to get enough UPC labels in time to get their new computer.

Ronnie Warmuth, the teacher in charge of the project, says that they have now started keeping records, and are having a contest at the school.

Right now, the student who has turned in the most labels as an individual is Terry Whitener. The seventh grade is the leading class.

Anyone who will be kind enough to save the labels may deposit them in containers which may be found at Capitol Foods, Allsup's, Hughes True Value, or the Citizens Bank.

Laman, White united in marriage

Terri Lynn Laman became the bride of James Martin White Sept. 14, in a double ring ceremony performed at the First Baptist Church in Clovis, with Rev. Wesley McAfee, of Sandia Baptist Church, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon M. Laman of Artesia; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Murray White of Texico.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight gown with embroidered organza scalloped overlay on the bodice and skirt which flowed into a chapel length train edged with accordin pleats. The sleeves and victorian neckline also had accordin pleats.

Silk illusion, framed a wreath of silk flowers and bordered with seed pearls fell into a fingertip veil.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of peach and ivory rose buds, with peach and ivory ribbon streamers.

Serving as matron of honor was Pam Stovall, the bride's sister, from Clovis. Bridesmaids were Suzanne Johnson, sister of the groom, from Texico, and Debra Franco, sister of the bride, from Artesia, N.M.

The flower girls were Jill Ann and Jennifer Adell Stovall, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stovall of Clovis, nieces of the bride.

Candle lighters were Anna Devine, niece of the groom from Loveland, Colo., and Amy Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parker of Clovis.

Serving as best man was Gib Kassing of Arlington. Groomsman were Doug McKinnon of Albuquerque, N.M., and Dr. David Boyles of Houston.

Eric Erwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Erwin, served as the ring bearer.

Ushers were Kevin Turner, nephew of the groom, from Amarillo, and Lynn Hughes of Texico.

Music was provided by Linda Dayhoff, pianist, and Karolene Inman, organist. Randy Dayhoff performed "This is the Day," accompanying himself on the guitar. Jean Mitera sang "Holy Union," then the two joined in singing "A Time for Joy."

Melissa Anderson presided over the registry table.

Jodi Allison Stovall, niece of the bride, handed out scrolls as guests entered the church.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered with ivory linen cloth with an ivory lace overlay. At one end sat the three-tiered cake, which was decorated with cream frosting and scattered with embossed peach rose buds. The cake was topped with a pair of ivory wedding bells.

Featured in the center of the table was the bride's bouquet displayed on a crystal pedestal. On either side of the bouquet were crystal candelabras, each holding three peach tapers. The crystal punch bowl completed the table.

The bridegroom's table, covered by a wheat-colored linen cloth, displayed a decorated chocolate cake and coffee service. The centerpiece was an arrangement of wheat in a brass box. Crystal vases with ivory candles topped carved wooden candle sticks on both sides of the centerpiece.

Serving as hostesses at the reception were: Mrs. Modine Parker, Mrs. Treva Nance, Mrs. Marsha Miller, Becky Hawbaker, and Vickie Hackett.

For a going-away outfit, Mrs. Martin wore a navy silk pant suit, with gold accessories, and a silk orchid corsage, compliments of Sandy Graff.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple are at home in Clovis.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the home of Doyle and Susan Johnson in Texico, with 40 present.

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended the couple included a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Terry Osborne on July 28. Hostesses were Darla Sneed and Kathy Robillard.

On Aug. 23, the couple was honored with a wedding shower in the home of Mrs. Mickey Erwin. Hostesses were Eileen Coker, Linda Dayhoff, Freddie Deaton, Loise

Hudnalls visit Baton Rouge

Brother and Mrs. Harvey Hudnall, of Farwell, left Lubbock by plane Nov. 17 for Baton Rouge, La., where they spent several days with their son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Hudnall and Eric.

Dr. Hudnall is an associate professor in the Agronomy Department at Louisiana State University. His wife is the secretary to the minister of education of the First Baptist Church. Eric's school had no school the entire week, so he needed a "baby sitter."

The Hudnalls attended Sunday School and worship services with their son and family. Wayne teaches an adult "single again" Sunday School class. He is a deacon in the church, so he assisted in the morning worship services.

On Wednesday night, the church had their Thanksgiving supper. The program recognized visitors of each family, wishing good wishes to all who had birthdays or anniversaries. They sang some Thanksgiving songs, read the names of missionaries who had birthdays that day, and members who were seriously ill. Following the meal, church members observed the Lord's Supper.

On Thanksgiving day, a delicious meal of grilled ham and all the trimmings with pecan pie and pumpkin pie, was enjoyed in the Hudnall home, with Brian Johnson as a guest. Johnson is a student at LSU, who helps Hudnall in his soil research work.

Thursday night, both families enjoyed dessert and coffee with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hammett and family.

The Hudnalls did some sight-seeing on Friday and Saturday morning.

They returned to Lubbock Saturday night to fog and rain. The weather was fair in Baton Rouge.

Convention attended

Arvene and Doris Eckhardt, Leon Jones, Lester and Anita Merrill, of Nutri-Tech Inc. recently attended the first annual USA-CAN Fertilizers Convention in Phoenix, Ariz., November 14-16.

The convention was held as a forum for an exchange of ideas and technology relating to the use of a new family of fertilizers, USA Fertilizers in the United States and CAN Fertilizers in Canada. Such a convention was made possible due to the fact that USA and CAN Fertilizers are manufactured and sold by over 50 independent operators like Nutri-Tech, Inc., throughout the United States and Canada.

USA Fertilizers are patented acid-based liquid formulations combining Urea, Phosphoric Acid, Potassium, Sulfuric Acid, and micronutrients.

Harvey, Karolene Inman, Jean Mitera, Lynette Nolan, Ann Pearce and Martha White.

The First Baptist Church of Texico was the location of a bridal shower for the couple hosted by Jamie Day, Mary Jean Patrick, Mozell Kirby, Aileen Pearce, Donna Donahey, Francis Boling, Lois Hudnall, Betsy Autrey, Velma Kelley and Evelyn Hadley.

Mrs. Marie Barton of Artesia, N.M. hosted a shower-brunch in her home on Sept. 8. Hostesses were Maurina Sears, Margie Pennington, Marie Dawn Perpening, and Jackie Miller.

but cool. They had their first frost on Friday night. Wayne still had potatoes, broccoli, cauliflower, green beans, carrots and turnips in his garden.

Dr. Hudnall left Nov. 25, for Las Vegas, Nev., to attend a week-long National Agronomy meeting. While there, he will read a paper on some soil research he has been doing with a graduate student.

While the Hudnalls were in Baton Rouge, her mother, Mrs. Cordelia Heath, of Farwell, went to Portales to stay with her granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harmon and Bryce. Joining the group on Thanksgiving day was Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harmon of House, N.M., and a son, Bob Harmon and his fiancée, Ronda Heacock, from Albuquerque, N.M.

On Friday, Robert and Bryce went to the breaks around his parents' ranch to camp and hunt. Mrs. Heath and Sue went to Hobbs to spend the day and night with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Hammond and Jayson. Five-month-old Jayson is Mrs. Heath's great-great-grandson. Mrs. Harmon brought her grandmother back to Farwell Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Heath enjoyed her stay with her granddaughter and family. She says she is feeling better, but glad to be back home.

Beta Sigma Phi meets

Members of the Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at Sheree Montgomery's home on Nov. 11 to plan upcoming events.

The Pheasant Hunter's Breakfast which will be held at the opening of the pheasant season was the main topic of the meeting. The breakfast will be held in the Farwell school cafeteria Dec. 8 from 5-8 a.m.

The menu will include: eggs, biscuits, gravy, coffee, jelly and jam. The tickets will cost $4 for adults and $2.50 for children under ten. A portion of the profits will go to the Farwell community center.

Who's Who in Music includes 17 Farwell students

The 1984 edition of Who's Who in Music will carry the names of 17 students from Farwell Independent School District, who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding high school musicians.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,300 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the Who's Who annual directories since the first publication in 1934.

Students named this year from Farwell are: Cynthia Ancira, Jesse Coburn, Mark Cole, Sandy Coleman, Ray Galvan, J'Don Kube, Marla Meeks, Royce Menning, Roger Robertson, Sammy Sanchez, Angie Charlson, DeAnn Curtis, Andy Hughes, Rhonda Lingnau, Gracie Ortega, Brent Stephens and Elva Whitesides.

Letter of thanks read

The meeting of Theta Rho Chapter, ESA, was held at the home of Maxine Williams, with Robin Gregory serving as co-hostess.

Fourteen members were present on that blustery Monday evening, to take care of the business at hand. A warm letter of thanks was read from Girls' Town for the gifts recently sent to them.

The hostesses served delicious pumpkin roll and nuts, with assorted drinks to the following members: Leslie Lunsford, Robin Gregory, LaMoin Williams, Angelia Mace, Maxine Williams and Roberta Howard. Also, Dot Christian, Dardanella Helton, Denise Christian, Margaret Aycock, Terri Nichols, Altha Herington, Nell Walling and Joyce Correll.

VNS offers service here

The Visiting Nurse Service of Lubbock is a private, non-profit agency organized with input from many disciplines and persons interested in health, who believe that home care should be available to ill or disabled persons of all ages.

Twenty-six communities are receiving health care from this agency and the unparalleled growth by VNS is proof of its capability to adequately care for persons in their homes and of the acceptance of this home concept by physicians, families, and patients.

VNS provides intermittent skilled nursing to persons in their homes when such care is necessary and ordered by a physician. Procedures commonly ordered are dressings, catheter insertions and care, ostomy care, special treatments, wound irrigations, injections, tube feedings, intravenous therapy, personal care, bowel care, and skin care.

Nursing assessments, evaluation and health teaching are done as are monitoring of disease processes and supervision of medication changes prescribed by physicians. Nurses are available to assist hospital personnel with discharge planning for patients making the transition from hospital to home. Blood samples can be drawn for laboratory analysis for those persons who have difficulty leaving the home for this procedure.

Speech, physical, occupational, and medical social persons may be provided when ordered. Nutritional counseling, home health aides (personal care), and patient care management (team approach) are provided.

Nurses are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week and practice the highest quality of health care in a cost effective manner.

VNS's office is located at 3212 34th St., Lubbock.

VNS also has an office in Muleshoe. Nurses Connie Bruns and Mary Johnson are on the Muleshoe staff. They would be glad to explain their services to you on request. The phone numbers are 272-5298 and 272-5290.

Texico Baptist Women meet

The Baptist Women of the First Baptist Church of Texico met at the church Oct. 10 for their regular Bible study, with chairman, Velma Kelley in charge.

The meeting opened with Lois Hudnall playing on the piano, "Love Lifted Me" and "I Know Whom I Have Believed." Mary Dell Brown read the scripture 1 John 5:7-12, and then read the names of missionaries having birthdays on that day. Mrs. Hudnall led in prayer.

The topic was "God's Love: Unmerited, Everlasting, Steadfast, Abounding," with sub-topics being, "The Nature of God's Love," taken from Ephesians 3:17-19. Mrs. Kelley dismissed in prayer.

A short business meeting followed with the director, Helen Bowers, in charge. She read a thank-you note from the missionary from Espanola for the gift that was sent.

Those present were Nora Day, Mary Dell Brown, Lois Hudnall, Velma Kelley, Helen Bowers and Gracie Dane.

Family and friends needed for holidays

The holidays are a special time for all of us, maybe especially to those who now live in nursing homes, as this is the time of year that means visits from family members and friends.

This can also be a very depressing time of year when family and friends are not available to visit nursing home residents, because it is a break in a lifetime of tradition.

Lisa Bond, activities director at the Farwell Convalescent Center, is hoping that everyone who can will visit during the Christmas holidays.

Also, Mrs. Bond would like to invite groups to call about caroling, visiting, or any other special holiday activity they would like to share with the residents of the center. She may be contacted by calling the center at 481-9027.

The Latest

Hutchins honored

Forty-one outstanding members of 4-H Clubs across the South Plains were honored Nov. 19 in Lubbock.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, highest honor presented by the youth organization at the county level, the youths were challenged by Dr. Don Newbury, president of Western Texas College, Snyder, to continue to excel.

Joining the youths at the awards banquet in the cafeteria at Coronado High School were parents, government officials, Extension leaders, fellow 4-H'ers, educators and other community leaders.

Honored from Parmer County were Daniel Hutchins, son of Lee and Gloria Hutchins of Farwell; and Melanie Gallman, daughter of JeDon and Kittie Gallman of Friona.

"We're here to celebrate people who do not choose to be average. You've chosen to excel...to do better than well, but to be excellent," Newbury told the honorees.

To the adults, he said, "You hear talk about how much harder we worked than kids do now. I don't believe we worked harder than these kids, or they wouldn't be here, being honored."

Citing many reasons for being thankful, at this season of Thanksgiving, he told youths that although it is sometimes easy to "get into ruts of distrust or dismay," there are more people giving than taking.

"I'm glad you have values, I'm glad you have commitment, I'm glad you have ability, and will make a stand when it counts," he told the boys and girls. And he urged them

Junior High honor roll

The principal of Farwell Junior High School, Jerry Dee Owen, has announced the honor roll for the second six weeks.

Each grade is listed in the order of the grade averages.

The honor roll for the sixth grade includes: Heath Dollar, Greg Actkinson, Isela Mendoza, Joel Smith and Brandy Martin.

The seventh grade honor roll includes: Angie White, Jeremy Jones, Kara Camp, John Ware, Trent Schilling, Chris Aycock, Clint Kelley, Sonya Curtis, Bruce White, Valerie Ulibarri, Stephen Ketcherside, Leslie Monk and Cindy Jones.

to continue to have the kind of standards, hopes and dreams which "keep up the payments" on the things for which we are so thankful.

Master of ceremonies was State Rep. James E. "Pete" Laney of Hale Center. Guests were welcomed by Bailly L. Reece of Dickens County Electric Cooperative, one of 12 electric cooperatives which have sponsored the banquet for the past 27 years. The others are Bailey County, Caprock, Deaf Smith, Lamb Lea, Lighthouse, Lone Wolf, Lyntegar, Midwest, South Plains and Swisher cooperatives.

The awards presentations were narrated by Jim Bob Carver of Abernathy, Chairman of the district 4-H Council, and Brandon Harris of Lamesa, council vice chairman. The awards were presented by Dr. Catherine B. Crawford and Billy C. Gunter, district Extension directors.

DANIEL HUTCHINS

Grant discussed

L.M. Smith, of Lazbuddie, discussed the possibility of a program to allow Parmer County to get grants for small businesses with the Parmer County Commission Monday.

Such a program would be handled through the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

After a long discussion, the commissioners agreed to check into the program further. County Attorney Charles Aycock was asked to look over some booklets about the program.

In other business, the county commissioners:

- Helped an indigent citizen with medical and travel expenses of $125.
- Paid the expenses of a visiting District Court Judge, for $358.74.
- Approved a bill for foster child care for $216. The money will be reimbursed by the state.

High School honor roll announced

The principal of Farwell High School, Lynn Burton, has announced the honor roll for the second six weeks, as follows:

Freshmen: Joanna Castner, Robbi Fly, Kelley Foster, Tonya Price, Dee Ann Ray and Laura Wolfe.

Sophomores: Shonda Foster, Melinda McMillan, Dana White, and Robbie White.

Juniors: Angie Charlson, DeAnn Curtis, Carl Hutchins, Alma Nicholas, Kevin Owen, and Sherilyn Thigpen.

Seniors: Franka Bungarten, Mark Cole, Royce Menning, Christina Pena, Patty Pomper and Roger Robertson.

Christmas is in the air

In case you haven't noticed, the City of Farwell has installed Christmas decorations on Ave. A this week.

If they aren't yet, they will be lit soon.

While the subject of Christmas is on our minds, let's remember to jot down our favorite recipes and get them into the Tribune office as soon as possible, so we can share them with everyone.

Check Safety To Make The Holidays Bright

- Before hanging strings of lights, spread them on the floor and check for frayed or bare wires, cracked insulation, loose connections, and damaged plugs or light sockets.
- Check extension cords for wear or damage and don't run them across walking areas.
- Test lights before putting them on the tree. Unplug them before making repairs or replacing bulbs.
- Overloading circuits with too many lights can cause fire. Follow manufacturer's instructions about the number of lights allowed on one circuit.
- Choose a fresh, green tree, trim its base and keep it in plenty of water. If the needles are brown and break off easily, it could be a fire risk.
- If you buy an artificial tree, make sure it has been tested for flammability by Underwriters Laboratories (UL).
- Place your tree away from the fireplace or other heat sources and out of the traffic pattern.
- Never string lights on a metallic tree. Light strings with damaged insulation can electrically charge a metallic tree. Instead, shine unattached colored floodlights or spotlights on the tree.
- Always turn off lights before leaving home or going to bed. You'll save money and be safer, too.
- Never use lighted candles on a tree or near evergreens. And don't burn evergreens in the fireplace.
- Do not use inside lights on the outside. All outside lighting equipment, including lights, cords and plugs, should be waterproof and made for outdoor use. Also, hang sockets downward and don't leave a socket empty.
- When hanging lights on the rooftop or in tall trees outdoors, stay clear of electrical lines. Make sure you or your decorations don't come in contact with them.
- Should you receive a CB radio or television this Christmas, let a qualified serviceman install the CB base unit or television antenna for you. This delicate job is best left to the professionals.
- Be sure electrical toys are tested for safety. Look for the UL mark.

Wishing You A Safe, Happy Holiday

Texico grad all-conference

Kent Harding, a 1982 graduate of Texico High School, has been selected as a first-team all-conference player by the coaches of the four Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association schools.

Harding was one of six defensive players from McMurry College to be named to the first team.

Because the TIAA schools are the only football-playing institutions in NAIA District 8, the TIAA's all-conference selections also count as the All-District 8 team, from which NAIA All-America nominations are made.

Harding, a 6'3", 210-pound junior defensive end finished the season with nine sacks, and three other tackles for losses. He had 39 unassisted tackles and 22 assisted.

Following the game with Sul Ross, Harding was named defensive player of the week by McMurry College. In that game, he was in on eight solo tackles, four assisted tackles, one tackle behind the line of scrimmage and four quarterback sacks. He is said to have spearheaded a McMurry defense that allowed minus 101 yards rushing by Sul Ross, a conference record.

Lion's trap shoot winners announced

The Lion's Club trap shoot was enjoyed by all who attended, even though the weather was pretty cold last week.

Winning prizes of turkey, ham or cash were: Lute Boty, of Clovis; Emil Leh, of Clovis; Don Garten, of Lariat; Darrell Embry, of Muleshoe; Gary Skaggs, of Muleshoe; Larry Cox, of Muleshoe; James Craig, of Farwell; Lynn Cox, of Muleshoe, and Brandon Cox, of Muleshoe.

A trap shoot is a shooting competition with shotguns. The contestants start out on the 16-yard line, and shoot one target from each station. All who hit the same number of targets then move back to a further distance and shoot from there, and so on, until all but the winner are eliminated.

There is a buddy shoot, where two people compete as a team. A monkey shoot is a variation of this, where one team member shoots a target, and if he breaks it, the buddy shoots at a large piece that has broken off the target, while it is still airborne.

There will be another trap shoot Dec. 15 at 1:30 p.m., sponsored by the Lion's Club, at the Texico-Farwell Trap Range. There will be more details later.

Thanksgiving topic

There wasn't enough space in last week's Tribune to present this Thanksgiving theme written by a Farwell student so here it is today:

By Diana Bermea

The cold pierced right through the boy's thin jacket. He was going to the house of the family that had adopted him only a short week ago.

The man who was to be his father saw the frightened tears run down the boy's cheeks and felt his heart melt. As he led the way towards the house, he thought, "Why him? It wasn't his fault his parents had been drunks. It wasn't his fault they hadn't spent time with this quiet boy before they were in a crash and were killed."

It wasn't the small boy's fault, either, that he had never felt love and didn't know what the word meant. But that was the way of the world, and would continue that way.

His wife was waiting for them on the porch steps of the large house. She had a kindly face - she was about 40, with ash gray hair. She saw the boy was frightened as a rabbit, and would run if she said or even asked anything out of the ordinary. She merely said a pleasant "hello" and gave her adopted son a nervous smile. She told them to come into the house, since it was cold outside.

As she led the way towards the dining room, she noticed the boy holding her husband's hand like a drowning man. As the boy's eyes roamed over the room and rested on the beautifully set table, he saw a large plump and juicy turkey. He had never seen anything like it! There were three plates set on the table obviously just for them. There were about five different kinds of pies that looked so good it made his mouth water and his stomach thunder. He wondered what the occasion was, and asked the question aloud. The woman knew he had had no Thanksgivings before this, and explained patiently, "It is to thank the Lord for giving us a successful harvest. It is also a time for love and peace among men. We celebrate this holiday every November with our loved ones."

"You mean there will be more of these?" the boy asked.

"Oh, of course," the woman said. "There will be one every year of your life!"

The boy looked at the turkey again and then he knew what he had been missing these past seven years. He had missed the love in a family and the peacefulness on this holiday. "This is the life," he thought as they started eating the wonderful meal. He thought this was the most special of all holidays.
