Nazi Records To Aid Proof In War Trials

By WES GALLAGHER
NUERNBERG, Nov. 21 (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U.S. prosecutor opening America's case against the 20 Nazi war lords facing the international crimes tribunal, said today the Germans planned as far back as 1940 to attack the United States.

He said Nazi records also disclosed that the Japanese planned to assassinate Soviet Marshal Stalin in 1940, through the use of Russian traitors.

In rapid fire order the 20 once-powerful war lords pleaded innocent to charges of engulfing the world in a bloodbath. Jackson promised in his opening 20,000-word statement to the court that the defendants would be convicted by the Nazis' own meticulously kept records.

The four-power international tribunal sitting in judgment adjourned the morning session at 11:25 a. m. (4:25 a. m. CST) after hearing the pleas from the Nazi defendants.

The court knocked the main defense prop from under the Nazi chieftains when it abruptly denied their claims that they could not be tried for war guilt under existing international law.

The pleas of innocence were entered in a hectic 10 minutes with responses varying from the dog-like bark of "no" from Rudolf Hess, Hitler's one-time deputy, to a passionate reply of "not guilty in the eyes of God" from Baldur von Schirach, Hitler Youth chief.

The dramatic high point of the morning session was reached when Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, called the defendants forward one by one, warning them to plead merely guilty or innocent and to refrain from speeches which would be permitted to make later.

Despite the warning, Hermann Goering, stripped of his medals and insignia as German Reichsmarshal, lumbered to the microphone with a prepared speech in his hand, and attempted to read it.

Reading from German records, Justice Jackson said that German General Falkenstein wrote on Oct. 29, 1940, that "the Führer is at present occupied with the question of occupation of Atlantic islands with a view of prosecution of the war against America at a later date."

In March, 1941, Jackson said, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Chief of the German High Command, issued a secret directive that "the Führer has ordered investigation of Japan's active participation in the war."

Lovett Resignation Accepted By Chief
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—President Truman today accepted the resignation of Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, effective Dec. 8.

Lovett's resignation was submitted Sept. 6.

In a letter to Lovett, dated yesterday, the president wished him success in his return "to private pursuits."

Vet Representative To Establish Office
Ray H. Boren, contact representative of Veterans Administration, may be reached at a temporary location in the Selective Service office and is ready to lend assistance to veterans and their dependents concerning information on veteran's benefits.

As soon as office furniture arrives from the Waro regional office, permanent quarters will be in room 206 and 207, Petroleum building, Boren said.

Hash From Leftovers?
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Left-over atomic bombs can be converted from war to peace.

And some of those that America's atomic energy factories still are turning out today may be used to drive vast new power plants of the future—a future of permanent peace.

That is the opinion of President Truman, who qualifies the conversion possibilities, however, by saying that first the world must arrive at a stage of international security that will assure it against destruction.

Foreign issues are piling up on the calendars at the State Department and White House. Here are some of the top listings:

1. The Iranian government, with a revolt on its hands in Russian occupied Azerbaijan, wants the United States to use its influence with the Soviet Union to have Iranian troops admitted to the area to put down the rebels. The United States, along with Britain and Russia, signed a declaration in 1943 guaranteeing Iran's independence.

2. American officials have expressed belief privately that Russia would like to see changes of government in both Iran and Turkey in order to get regimes in which the Kremlin could feel

Eisenhower, Nimitz Named Staff Chiefs

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—The army and navy underwent a major shift in top commands today in the midst of an inter-service scrap over proposals to merge them. President Truman announced the biggest shake-up in the defense departments since before the war, with these four changes:

1.—General of the Army George C. Marshall, 64-year old army chief of staff, retires, to be succeeded by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, 55.

2.—Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, who will be 67 Friday, retires as Chief of Naval Operations, and Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, 60, takes his place.

3.—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, 52, who recently was acting Allied Supreme Commander in the Mediterranean Theater, succeeds Eisenhower as Commanding General of the American Forces in the European Theater, Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Occupation Forces in Germany, and U. S. representative on the Allied Control Council of Germany.

4.—Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, wartime commander of the 5th Fleet who has been described by associates as a "cold-blooded fighting fool," becomes Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific Fleet in place of Nimitz. He is 59.

The shifts were announced at a late afternoon news conference yesterday. Mr. Truman said Gen. Brehon Somervell, commander of the Army Service Forces, and General of the Army Henry H. Arnold, Chief of the Army Air Forces, had asked to be relieved, too, but he had not consented to their retirement at this time.

Pending Senate action on Eisenhower's nomination, the President named the 55-year old Kansas as acting Chief of Staff, effective immediately.

Nimitz will return to the Pacific to turn over his command to Admiral Spruance, then return here for a few weeks' rest before taking over King's place.

Immediate reaction on Capitol Hill to the command shifts was uniformly favorable.

U.S. Marines Needed In China For Safety Of Japs, Says Byrnes
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes said today that American marines are in strife-torn North China because of a promise made to the Japanese government last August to help in the surrender and repatriation of Japanese soldiers there.

This was the first disclosure of a pledge to the Japanese to use American forces in China to help get Nipponese troops home.

Heretofore, the U.S. government position has been that it was helping an ally, the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, to rid China of defeated enemy forces.

Questioning of Byrnes started at a news conference when he was reminded by newsmen that two weeks ago he had said that plans were under way for withdrawal of the marines from China.

He said that his information now is the same as it was then.

Byrnes explained that the Potsdam declaration said that Japanese soldiers would be permitted to return to their homes. American assurances given to the Japanese stated flatly, however, that they would be returned, he said. This is, therefore, a duty of the United States, he added.

Local APO To Cease Functioning Soon
Big Spring Bombarrier school's Army Post Office, which has already been experiencing a booming Christmas business, will cease operation sometime between Nov. 27 and Nov. 30.

The department will quit functioning as quickly as the mail now on hand can be disposed of.

C. E. Sandridge has been serving as chief postal clerk at the base.

Court Refuses To Reopen Case
AUSTIN, Nov. 21 (AP)—The state today failed in its attempt to reopen in the Court of Criminal Appeals the case of William Pressession Amen, publisher of the Laredo Times, whose criminal libel conviction and six months jail sentence previously was reversed by the Appellate Court.

Denied by the court today was the state's request for leave to file a second motion for rehearing.

On Oct. 31 the court denied rehearing motions by Allen and the state. It originally reversed the conviction last summer and stood by that reversal in its Oct. 31 action. Today's action further upholds its original action. No opinion was written today.

The case was reversed because the trial court submitted the charge to the jury in a general manner. Allen's indictment and trial grew out of publication of an article critical of the Laredo Rotary club board of directors' administration of a student loan fund and its attempt to collect loans from members of the Armed Forces.

Drive New Cars
Two 1946 Chevrolests are in service now by the police department and the water department has a 1946 Chevrolet pick-up, city officials announced Wednesday.

Court Asked To Review Decision On Oil Title
AUSTIN, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Supreme Court was asked today to reconsider its refusal to review a Civil Appeals Court decision affirming the title of Thomas O'Connor of Victoria to approximately 20,000 acres of land in the rich O'Connor oil field of Refugio county.

Losers in the suit, in which the state had joined were granted an additional 30 days in which to file written arguments in their motion for rehearing. The Supreme Court had refused for want of merit to grant the state's application for a writ of error against the holding of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals, favorable to O'Connor.

Auto Workers Begin Strike

DETROIT, Nov. 21 (AP)—The CIO's United Auto Workers Union began its long-threatened strike against General Motors Corp. today in support of its demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

Timed for 10 a. m. (Central War Time), the strike apparently began prematurely in at least one plant—Buick Motors in Flint, Mich.—and at the stated hour UAW-CIO headquarters said the strike was "in effect."

That announcement came from Vice President Walter P. Reuther, who had headed UAW-CIO representatives in the weeks-long negotiations with General Motors over the wage demand.

The strike, pitting the nation's largest labor union against America's largest operating corporation, affected by company estimate 200,000 production workers. The UAW-CIO has used a figure of 325,000 as the number to be involved.

Since the end of the war, GM's employment has been heavily reduced, and the discrepancy in union and company figures lay apparently in the union's reference to its membership totals as the basis for estimating the number affected.

Workers streamed out of other GM plants at the 1 a. m. deadline. At AC Spark Plug in Flint a picket line assembled almost immediately. At the Cadillac plant in Detroit workers also marched out into the streets.

A UAW-CIO sound truck had been playing music before the Cadillac plant for a half hour before the walkout. As the strike began, a unionist in the truck announced "You are now on strike," repeating his statement.

In meetings at Flint last night, union members were warned to refrain from violence, but to see that non-union foremen were not permitted to enter the Flint plants.

Local 1075 of the AFL's Building Trades Council notified the Flint UAW-CIO that approximately 1,000 AFL workers aiding in the General Motors reconversion program will walkout in sympathy with the auto workers.

Officials of the Railway Brotherhood told the strikers that a single man posted at track entrances to GM plants will be recognized as a picket line and that railway traffic into the factories will cease.

Buick Local 599 voted to take $2 per member out of its general fund to aid the strike cause, and Fisher Body Local 581 voted a $2 strike assessment against each member.

At Lansing, approximately 2,400 employees of the Fisher Body plant left their jobs at 9:50 a. m. They were joined by 6,100 workers in the Oldsmobile Forge plants of General Motors at 10 a. m.

Transportation Service Halted
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—The second tieup of bus and street-car service within two weeks left many of 300,000 government employees and thousands of other workers without their regular means of transportation today.

Members of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees (AFL) rejected a proposal by labor department conciliators that demands for higher wages be arbitrated. They voted instead early today to hold a continuous union meeting.

The union, which claims 4,000 members among the company's 4,400 workers, asks a 30-cent increase to $1.25 an hour.

The conciliators proposed that the issue be submitted to a board of one company and one union representative and an impartial chairman chosen by both.

E. D. Merrill, president of Capital Transit, and three union negotiators accepted. However, the union representatives—Walter H. and R. E. Hanna—stipulated their action was not binding on the union unless the members agreed.

A 36-hour stoppage two weeks ago ended in a 14-day truce.

A company official estimated it normally handles about 1,500,000 fares a day.

Richardson 'Hurt' Chief's Feelings
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Admiral J. O. Richardson today quoted the late Secretary of Navy Knox as telling him he was relieved as commander of the fleet in 1941 because he had "hurt the feelings" of President Roosevelt.

Richardson told the senate-house committee inquiring into the Pearl Harbor disaster that Knox told him in Washington March 24, 1941 after Richardson was succeeded by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel:

"The last time you were here, you hurt the president's feelings." Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) asked Richardson, who said he had argued previously with the president against keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor, if he knew how he might have hurt Mr. Roosevelt's feelings.

"It would hurt my feelings if a senior subordinate under me disagreed with me and I couldn't make him change his mind," the admiral replied firmly.

Richardson testified earlier the navy assumed on October 10, 1940 that United States was ready to go to war if the Japanese retaliated against a proposed plan to stop Japanese shipping.

Richardson told the investigators today that discussions of the plan to halt Japanese shipping—never carried out—had prompted him to send a message to Admiral Thomas C. Hart, then Asiatic fleet commander, containing 10 "assumptions."

He had testified yesterday the late Secretary of Navy Frank Knox told him and other officers at a conference Oct. 9, 1940, that President Roosevelt had suggested establishing a line of ships to halt Japanese shipping to the Western Hemisphere in the event Japan moved against the British as a result of the reopening of the Burma Road set for Oct. 17.

The naval officers assumed, the message showed, that "the United States is prepared to accept war" if the blockade brought counteraction by Japan.

Among the other assumptions was that the United States would support British forces in Australia and Singapore and Dutch forces in the East Indies.

Mail Order House Strike Scheduled

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Samuel Wolchok, president of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees of America, CIO, announced today that the union had called a nationwide strike of Montgomery Ward and Company employees, to begin next Monday.

Wolchok said at a press conference that the action was taken because Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward, had not replied to a union proposal sent to Avery via air mail special delivery last Friday.

The union said it had offered to drop demands for a closed shop and check-off and to submit other proposals to arbitration.

Wolchok said Avery must have received the proposal on Saturday and added that if the head of the mail order company "accepts the proposal in time we are willing to call off the strike."

Truman May Have To Hasten Slow Labor Meeting
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—A proposal that President Truman intervene in the labor-management conference to hasten its seemingly slow progress was reported today.

Persons concerned over what they considered the failure of delegates to grapple effectively with major problems of labor unrest have suggested that Mr. Truman deliver to the conference a "yard stick" of the work he expects of it.

This was reported by two public officials well posted on conference affairs, but both unwilling to be quoted by name.

One said the suggestion already had been taken up with Mr. Truman, but neither wanted to guess whether the president might decide to step in.

Bond Buying Sags But Officials Hope For Holiday Rush
Sale of bonds sagged perceptibly Tuesday but Victory Loan officials today were hopeful that the pre-Thanksgiving rush would boost the totals back to a level which will aid in reaching the quota.

One said the suggestion already had been taken up with Mr. Truman, but neither wanted to guess whether the president might decide to step in.

The Rotary club continued to set the pace for other clubs in an E bond sales contest. The organization reported $3,018.15 sales since Saturday, bringing the volume to $44,493.75. The second place Lions added $2,691, boosting their total to $36,797.75.

New figure for the ABC club was $24,468.75. The Kiwanis $11,113.75. The B&PW had reported no change from its $5,675.

Reports from the regional headquarters Wednesday showed Howard county in a better position, said Ira Thurman, county bond chairman. The percentage which had cleared the Federal Reserve bank was 34.9 per cent, leaving Howard county 40th in the region. Actually, well over 50 per cent of the $330,000 quota has been met here so far.

Three Fire Alarms Answered Tuesday
Three fires in less than three hours kept the Big Spring fire department busily occupied Tuesday night. H. Y. Crocker, fire chief, said Wednesday morning.

A junk car body caught fire from an unknown source at 7:15 p. m. The car body was at 405 Main.

At 7:30 p. m., a light wiring short caused small damage to ceiling and wiring at the Presbyterian church, 701 Runkles.

A stack of paper rekindled from a previous fire Monday at Charles Morris' paper storage warehouse, 510 Owens. No damage was found when firemen answered the call at 10 o'clock.

Buster King Dies From Head Injury
Buster King died Wednesday morning in a local hospital from injuries he received in an automobile-truck accident Oct. 26th. He received a broken neck and other head injuries when the accident occurred at the overpass east of Coahoma.

The body is to be taken overland to Quannah by bery-Curry ambulance Thursday. Final services and burial will be in Quannah under the direction of the Methodist pastor.

He is survived by his wife in Houston and other relatives.

Gen. Alexander Patch Ill With Pneumonia
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 21 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, Jr., commander of Fourth Army Headquarters, is seriously ill with pneumonia in Brooke General Hospital here.

Brig. Gen. George C. Beach, commanding general of Brooke Hospital Center said "his condition is considered very serious."

Garner Making Golden Wedding Ceremony Plans
UVALDE, Nov. 21 (AP)—John Nance Garner, former Vice-President of the United States, will be 77 years old Thanksgiving day, Nov. 22, and Sunday he and Mrs. Garner will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Garner was born Nov. 22, 1866 in a log cabin near Detroit, Red River county, Texas. He was the son of John and Sara Guest Garner, both of revolutionary descent.

He and Ettie Rheiner were married Nov. 23, 1895, when he was running for County Judge. She worked closely with him throughout his political career, acting as his secretary in Washington.

She amazed the country by stating that as wife of the vice-president she spent probably $100 a year on clothes. She usually left Washington before her husband's canning and preserving at their fine, old-fashioned home here.

The golden wedding will be observed at the home, where, since he retired from public life that cold January 20, 1941, when he administered the vice presidential oath to his successor, Henry A. Wallace, he has lived the life of a prosperous, healthy and happy rancher.

One of his few political contacts since then was with President Harry Truman. Truman stopped in Uvalde while campaigning for vice president. Garner met him at the train.

However, his public appearances and utterances have been almost non-existent, and Sunday's gathering of friends and relatives to honor his golden wedding anniversary will be one of the first he has attended since he left Washington for virtual seclusion here. He has consistently refused comments, interviews or pictures.

The golden wedding plans were announced by Tully Garner.

Three To Get Ready

Glynne, Lynne And Wynne Confusing On Family Tree.

The Hamrick family, living in the Ellis Homes, will be doing everything in three's now that the five-months-old identical triplet boys have made their mark on the family tree.

IDENTICAL FRATERNAL TRIPLETS: Living in Big Spring now are the three five-months old sons of Lt. and Mrs. James Q. Hamrick who were born June 20 in Denver, Colo. Just so you'll know them the next time you see them, they are left to right, Wynne Roger, Lynne Robert and Glynne Richard. (Jack M. Haynes photo).

Lt. and Mrs. James Q. Hamrick named their sons, Glynne Richard, Lynne Robert and Wynne Roger when the triplets were born June 20 at the Fitzsimmons General Hospital in Denver, Colo. The father is stationed at the Big Spring Bombardier school even though the new additions to his family chalked up 36 more points on his ASR score.

Medical men say that identical triplets are far more rare than fraternal triplets and that's just what these young men are. When they were born Glynne weighed 5 pounds, 5 ounces — a slight edge on Lynne who weighed 4 pounds, 11 ounces and Wynne who weighed 4 pounds 6 1/2 ounces. Now they weigh 14 pounds 10 ounces, 13 pounds 12 ounces and 13 pounds 12 ounces, respectively.

Dewitt Coulter Named 'Lineman Of The Week'

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Army's great line finally landed a hunk of individual recognition this week when Dewitt 'Tex' Coulter, mountainous Cadet tackle, was chosen by the Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers as "lineman of the week."

The hulking 222-pounder, who has played a whale of a game in each of Army's crushing victories this season, gained the honor in a wild balloting spree in which three of his teammates also were nominated as outstanding in the Cadets' 61-0 triumph over Penn at Philadelphia.

Coach George Munger of the Quakers certified the verdict of the writers by singling out Coulter as the lineman who did the most to zash his boys into defeat. His two-word description of Coulter was "just terrific."

The other Cadet forwards who received at least one vote apiece were Tackle Al Nemeck, Guard Johnny Green and End Hank Feldberg. The fact that so many press box observers were unable to agree on which Army lineman was best gives, perhaps, an inkling of what Penn's ball carriers were up against.

Outside of the huzzahs for Coulter and Company, the loudest drums were beaten for Ohio State's great guard, Warren Amling, a previous recipient of the "lineman" award.

Most consistent nominee in the south was Dick Foreman, Wake Forest center.

As in the case of Army, there was disagreement among the writers as to what lineman played the biggest role in the week's two biggest upsets—Temple's win over Holy Cross and U.C.L.A.'s victory over St. Mary's.

Both Center Mort Hochheiser, who batted down eight passes, and Guard Mark Dolin were nominated as Temple's main hero up front.

U.C.L.A.'s celebrated right guard, Al Sparlis, divided honors with Ed Tyson, Bruin center, for having contributed the most to the first St. Mary's defeat.

Big Six writers conceded the week's honors to Jim Kekeris, Missouri tackle, for his part in the win over Oklahoma.

Other forwards to receive recognition included: Ends: Jack Mead, Wisconsin; Ted Kluzewski, Indiana; Bob Nelson, Washington; Dale Schwartzkopf, Texas; Jack McBride, Rice.

Tackles: Mike Castronis, Georgia; Joe Kirkland, Virginia; Ross Orr, Virginia Tech; Bobby Davis, Georgia Tech; Tom Dean, Southern Methodist.

Guards: Ralph Gruven, Drake; Doc Holloway, William and Mary; Frank Lebart, Harvard; Felix Trapani, Louisiana State; Morris Klein, Idaho.

Center: Vaughn Mancha, Alabama.

which are beginning to stretch out into the future if you want to know what's happening, and why, as it happens.

It will help you see where you're going, where we're all going. Since Germany quit events have tumbled over one another. Some of them may not seem tangled, or even related. But they are. And they are shaping the future.

Here are some: The atomic bomb, Russian influence in the Balkans, the United Nations, our trade program.

Remember some of the events in the 20 years before World War II: the armaments conference, the League of Nations, loans to Germany, the London economic conference which failed?

They were separated by time and seemed in a way unrelated. Yet the history books will show how each, by failing to do what it set out to do, led to World War II.

For months now, ever since the atomic bomb hit Hiroshima, we've been listening to a torrent of words on that weapon: we should keep it, we should share it, we should outlaw it.

And while we listened the foreign ministers of this country, Britain, Russia, France and China, met fruitlessly in London, and the United States and Britain continued to plumb Russia's intentions in middle Europe.

Meanwhile this country and others whipped up the United Nations, and now are ready to start it going, all for the purpose of making a better, safer world, prosperous and free from war.

And Russia eyed, and still eyes, our single control over Japan, which is in her backyard. She wonders where we think we're going in the Pacific, what kind of bases we want to set up within short bombing range of Russia.

We have laid down a policy on the bomb. Before there's any sharing of its secret, other nations, and this most definitely includes Russia, must give assurances they won't use it.

We don't trust anyone with the secret. Yet we're asking all others to trust us not to use it against them. But what will Russia think of this? Would Russia come closer to this country and Britain—perhaps by some change in its interests in middle Europe—if we gave Russia the bomb secret as a mark of confidence in her?

Or will Russia, feeling that the western allies refuse to trust her, plunge more strongly than ever into setting up a string of bomber states in the Balkans, under Russian domination?

The history of the world may revolve around Russia's moves from now on, and Russia's reaction to the bomb decision may be reflected in the United Nations.

Stubbornness or distrust by the western allies on one side and Russia on the other could wreck the United Nations.

Newhouser Wins 'Most Valuable' Award 2nd Time

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Hal Newhouser, 24-year-old pitching ace of the world champion Detroit Tigers, today added a second straight American league most valuable award to his harvest of laurels.

The slim Detroit native who southpawed Steve O'Neill's Bengals to a pair of series triumphs, including the seventh decisive tilt with the Chicago Cubs, had a runaway in the voting of the Baseball Writers' association.

The writers last week voted Phil Cavarretta, first baseman of the pennant-winning Chicago Cubs, as the most valuable player in the National league.

Last year Newhouser just squeezed past teammate Dizzy Trout by four points but this time the talented lefthander polled a 72-point margin over his nearest rival, second baseman Eddie Mayo, another important cog in the Tiger machine.

Detroit fans will agree with the verdict of the writers for it was Hurricane Hal who came in on relief to save the "pennant" game against St. Louis on the final day of the season, picking up his 25th win to nine defeats. Over a two-year stretch Newhouser has piled up 54 victories against 18 losses. His 211 strikeouts were tops in the league and he also showed the way with eight shutouts, 312 innings pitched and 29 complete games.

Only once before in the history of the most valuable voting in the junior circuit had a player won the crown two years running. Jimmy Foxx did it in 1932 and 1933. He also won it in 1938. Joe DiMaggio, Lou Gehrig, Hank Greenberg, Mickey Cochrane and Walter Johnson each was honored twice but not in successive seasons.

Newhouser matched his 1944 point total of 236, receiving nine first place votes from the 24 writers, three representing each city in the league. Mayo's 164 points just shaded George Stinewiss of New York who drew 161 for coping the batting title at .309, and showing the way with 33 stolen bases.

Dave Ferriss, Boston's freshman phenom who stepped out of the army air corps to win 21 games in his first shot at the big time, was a strong fourth with 146 points, followed by George Myatt, a key man in Washington's pennant drive that just did fall short. Myatt had 98 votes to 94 for Vern Stephens of St. Louis.

Newhouser will receive the second annual Kenesaw Mountain Landis memorial plaque as baseball's official designation.

Iowa Baseball Star Can Play Football, Too

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Out where the tall scores grow! . . . Jack Dittmer of Elkader, Iowa, high school, who played in the Esquire boys baseball game last summer, put in a few weeks this fall scoring 218 of his team's 405 points to help win the Upper Iowa conference football title . . . And Webster City, Ia., which produced Bill (191 points) Chauncey last fall, came up with another pretty fair scorer this year. Merle Harris, 150-pound quarterback, made 17 touchdowns and passed for four more . . . And in Utah, Quarterback Bill Green of Provo tallied 144 points in eight games, playing only about two-thirds of the time, and heaved eight touchdown passes . . . Some observers in the Rocky Mountain region rate him a better prospect than Whizzer White was in his prep days . . . Down South, Eddie Travis nominates Norfolk's Granby High as the "Army" of the schoolboy circuit.

Granby scored 342 points to 53 for the opposition . . . Tucson, Ariz., high, unbeaten since 1942, goes after its 32nd consecutive victory tonight.

Today's guest star, Joe Gooker, Paterson, N. J., Evening News: "With everybody offering Red Cochrane various amounts for the privilege of taking the title from him, it appears that this bout won't need a referee—just an auctioneer."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE Commenting on the omission of Army and Navy in forming the new "Ivy League"—which isn't a league at all—Yale's Oggie Miller explains: "They and a number of other colleges are great people and we like to play them." (But not this year) . . . The Piedmont league directors may try to persuade President Ralph Daughton to stay another year before retiring to Congress rather than try to make a choice among about 20 candidates . . . Columbia's footballers need to score only eight points against Dartmouth Saturday to become the highest scoring Columbia team on record . . . Comdr. George Earnshaw, the old Athletics pitcher, is gunnery officer on the recently-commissioned carrier Princeton. George's alma mammy was Swarthmore.

EXPERIMENT FARM CORNERING CATTLE AILMENT IN TESTING

By process of elimination, urinary calculi is being cornered in feeding tests at the US Experiment Farm here. After three years, results indicate that steers fed corn with limestone supplement and steers fed ground threshed milo with bone meal supplement, were significantly lower in urinary calculi bladder precipitates. Since corn is ruled out in this area for economic reasons, this puts the spotlight on the milo and bone meal lot. Now, with a new series of tests starting, it is hoped that the finger may be put on a surer way of eliminating the calcium precipitates which the results during the next some feed lot cattle and occasionally cause death. If bone meal supplement reduces the amount of calculi, is it the phosphorus in the bone meal which does the job? This is the question which the results during the next three years may answer, for one lot of the new group of calves is being fed the standard ration with a phosphoric acid supplement. Five of the six lots now on test will be fed a standard ration of six parts ground threshed milo to one of cottonseed meal, plus sumac silage. Lot one gets a supplement of one ounce of limestone flour. Lot No. 2 gets the same ration except three ounces of salt, possibly twice as much as normally is taken free choice, will be mixed with the feed. This is to test whether additional salt will increase water consumption and keep kidneys flushed. Lot No. 3 gets no mineral supplement; No. 4 200 grams of bone meal daily, and No. 5, one of the key lots, gets phosphoric acid to see if it is the phosphorus which is doing the job in curbing urinary calculi. Lot No. 6 will be fed a four to one ration. A seventh lot, carrying extra calves for replacement purposes, will utilize the self-feeder. Last year this self-feeder lot made one of the best gains and had comparatively little trace of urinary calculi. Missing this series of tests will be a lot fed ground threshed milo heads. Tests proved that this type of ration definitely increased urinary calculi. Moreover, the days of headed feed are numbered since combined types of grain are far more economical to produce.

'Y' Committee Answers Query, Why Organize?

The Temporary Committee on Organization, in answer to the question of "Why should we organize a WMCA?" today presented this statement in anticipation of the community meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the USO building: Some people may favor an entirely local organization with an entirely new name, something different. If this idea were followed, the same result would likely follow which has happened in all other entirely local set-ups. It would go out of existence in a relatively few years or months. Because of its strong central objective, its spiritual basis and the fervor of its employed secretaries, the broad expanse of the movement, the high-training qualifications of its professional workers and its tremendous experience and experimentation over 100 years of service, the international movement of the YMCA has much to offer a community like Big Spring.

Some of the outstanding achievements of the movement, contributed from many places and by many personalities are: 1) invention of the game of basketball (which is played and watched by more people than any other sport in America); 2) invention of the game of volleyball; 3) popularizing of swimming and the "everybody a swimmer" idea; 4) origination of the first life-saving techniques and standards; 5) starting of the first boys camps; 6) origination of service to soldiers at the front; 7) fathering of the Big Brother movement; 8) initiation of the father and son idea; 9) developing the Christian student movement.

Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District News

"Had it not been for terraces and contour rows we wouldn't have made much of a crop this year," Raymond Wilson of Wilson Bros. ranch said as he pointed out a good crop of grain sorghum to Soil Conservation Service technicians, C. R. Donaldson and T. R. Morris. The field referred to was terraced last year as a part of the coordinated soil and water conservation program Wilson Bros. is applying in cooperation with the district. A trial plot of yellow bluestem grass is making favorable progress on the ranch. Several new soil and water conservation plans have been developed on farms of the following men living in the Vincent Conservation Group: G. C. Brown, J. C. Shepherd, and E. W. Brown. Technical assistance in planning conservation practices was given by J. C. Webb of the SCS. Some of the practices were: stubble mulching, crop rotation, soil improvement crops, temporary pastures (sudan or small grain), deferred grazing, terracing, contour planting, terrace maintenance and legume crops for trial. E. W. Flanagan, rancher-cooperator of the Coahoma Conservation Group, recently completed construction of a 2500 cubic yard stock tank on his ranch. This is the fourth stock tank Flanagan has built in the past 18 months. Better water distribution is an important phase of the soil and water conservation plan which Mr. Flanagan is applying. SCS technicians located and designed the dirt reservoir. Three applications for assistance in planning a coordinated soil and water conservation program were received by the district from the following: J. L. McNeil and H. C. Ernst of Vincent and R. C. Reed of Elbow.

Toxic Gravy Causes Mass Poisoning At Turkey Dinner

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Improper handling of gravy today was blamed for the mass food poisoning of 150 persons at a pre-Thanksgiving dinner here yesterday.

Only 41 remained hospitalized today. There were no fatalities. John H. Hall, manager of the Fort Worth and Dallas plants of Swift and Company, said company chemists reported toxin in the gravy caused the sudden illness of nearly half of 300 guests at a turkey dinner at the company's Dallas plant. Hall, himself, was among the victims.

Dr. Dan T. Meredith, resident physician at Baylor Hospital, said the packing plant employees were suffering from what is commonly known as food poisoning.

A new cook used up gravy for the dinner on Monday evening, and left the gravy off of ice all night, Hall said.

The gravy was re-heated Tuesday morning and mixed in with the dry dressing for the Thanksgiving feast.

The re-heating killed bacteria which had formed, but did not remove the toxin which the bacteria had caused in the gravy, Hall said the chemists reported.

The bacteria was described as straphylococcus.

A series of tests on the foods was made by plant officials, city health officials and Southwestern Medical College.

Superintendent A. B. Greene said the plant is not operating today.

CONSTIPATION is the cause of MUCH SUFFERING

Constipation may cause no symptoms for a long time, but unless corrected will finally impair the health. Symptoms associated with advancing constipation are loss of appetite, heavily coated tongue, tired feeling and mental depression. Headaches, dizziness, anemia, and skin disturbances such as acne, are commonly experienced. In severe cases, neuralgia and joint pains occur. Indigestion, with gas formation and colic, and piles and fissures frequently add to the discomforts of severe chronic cases. No matter how many other medicines you may have tried for constipation, we urge you to try B-L PREPARATION, with the understanding that B-L PREPARATION must bring you satisfactory results or your money back. ## Herd Cage Drills Begin; Regulars Due Next Week

John Malaise Assumes Tasks As New Coach

Newcomer coach John Malaise got a look-see at Big Spring high school basketball prospects Monday afternoon when a dozen gangling kids reported for initial drills at the Steer gym.

No lettermen were present, since most of the monogram wearers are on the football team and will not switch sports until the football season terminates. That little matter will be taken care of this week when Sweetwater and Big Spring square off in the seasonal windup tomorrow afternoon at Longhorn stadium.

Among players Malaise greeted Monday are Gil Barnett, who will not become eligible until mid-term, Fred Phillips and J. Y. Blount.

Such prospects as A. J. Cain, Jim Shafer, Jackie Barron, Ensor Puckett, Jim Thomas, Cecil Heath and Ike Robb are expected to don Herd cage togethery.

Malaise will probably book a couple of practice games for the first two weeks in December. He is counting on taking his charges to the McMurry invitational tournament in Abilene, which will be unraveled Dec. 14-15.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 (AP)—Cmdr George Halas, who recently returned from extended service with the navy in the Pacific, will return to his duties as owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

By ANGUS LECESTER

George White of the Dallas News writes that Oklahoma A & M, Duke, Georgia, Tennessee and Virginia are worth consideration for invitation as the "visiting team" to the New Year's Day Cotton bowl game.

Four Longhorns Sing Swan Song Here Thursday

Only two of the 20 youngsters due to gain their letters this season will be playing their final game in Big Spring colors when the Steers and Sweetwater's Mustangs meet here at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Two others leaving the team probably will not be able to play.

The lads due to bow out are Billy Casey, sterling guard; Tommy Clinkscales, center; Hugh Cochran, back; and D. D. Douglas, a wing. Neither Cochran nor Douglas are due to see action, due to ailments.

Some of the players need as many as three quarters to get enough playing time for monograms but Coach John Dibrell is due to substitute liberally.

Lions Hit Road This Weekend

Big Spring's Lakeview (colored) school football Lions hit the road this week, invading Odessa for another go with the Black Broncs Saturday night.

Frank Miller's eleven routed the Odessans 25-0 in their first trial but elected to accept a surprise challenge from the Hosess.

The test will serve as a tuneup match for the Nov. 29th game with the powerful Emmitt Scott high school Bulldogs of Tyler, which will be played in Steer stadium.

Wichita Falls, Vernon Clash In Loop Two

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor
Championships go on the line in every section of Texas schoolboy football tomorrow as traditional Thanksgiving Day games are played from Panhandle to Gulf.

Top battles on the gridiron menu:
Vernon at Wichita Falls for the District 2 title.

El Paso High vs. Austin (El Paso) for the championship of District 4.

Paschal vs. North Side for the pennant in District 7.
Breckenridge at Mineral Wells for the District 9 title.

Marshall at Tyler for the title of District 10.
Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. Breckenridge (San Antonio) for the title of District 15—if Jefferson wins. Otherwise, the decision will wait until Friday when Austin plays Kerrville.

Friday will determine several other titles. Crozier Tech meets Sunset for the Dallas district crown on that day, Lufkin plays Jacksonville for the championship of District 12, Galveston clashes with Goose Creek for the District 14 flag and Brownsville takes on Harlingen—the last team in its title-toward undisputed honors in District 15.

There are two games in the state tonight, neither meaning anything in conference races.
The week's schedule by districts (all conference games except where indicated):

1—Thursday: Lubbock at Amarillo, Borger at Brownfield, Pampa at Plainview.

2—Thursday: Vernon at Wichita Falls, Electra at Quanah, Olney at Graham.

3—Thursday: San Angelo at Abilene, Lamesa at Midland, Sweetwater at Big Spring.

4—Thursday: El Paso High vs. Austin (El Paso).

5—Thursday: Denison at Sherman, Gainesville at Bonham, Greenville at Paris.

6—Thursday: Arlington at Sulphur Springs, McKinney at Highland Park (Dallas).

7—Wednesday: Poly (Fort Worth) vs. Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth); Thursday: Paschal (Fort Worth) vs. North Side (Fort Worth).

8—Thursday: Forest (Dallas) vs. Adamson (Dallas); Friday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Sunset (Dallas); Saturday: Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs. North Dallas.

9—Thursday: Weatherford at Brownwood, Breckenridge at Mineral Wells, Stephenville at Ranger, Eastland at Cisco (non-conference).

10—Thursday: Hillsboro at Waxahachie, Temple at Corsicana; Friday: Ennis at Waco.

11—Thursday: Marshall at Tyler, Longview at Gladewater, Kilgore at Henderson.

12—Friday: Lufkin at Jacksonsville, Nacogdoches at Athens, Palestine at Livingston.

13—Wednesday: Lamar (Houston) vs. Austin (Houston); Thursday: Sam Houston (Houston) vs. Jeff Davis (Houston); Friday: San Jacinto (Houston) vs. Reagan (Houston).

14—Wednesday: South Park (Beaumont) at Orange; Thursday: Beaumont at Port Arthur; Friday: Galveston at Goose Creek.

15—Thursday: Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. Breckenridge (San Antonio); Friday: Kerrville at Austin, San Antonio Tech at Laredo.

16—Thursday: Corpus Christi at Robstown (non-conference), McAllen at San Benito; Friday: Harlingen at Brownsville, Edinburg at Kingsville.

Ex-Aggie Halted As 71st Defeats First Division

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 21 (AP)—A snow-soaked gridiron combined with an ever-alert opposition to stop Texan Fowler (Barney) Welch, triple-threat backfield ace of the First Infantry Division, and give the 71st Infantry Division the Third Army football championship.

Welch, former Texas Aggie, had been the offensive spark which took the 1st Division to the final game in the giant Nuernberg stadium Armistice Day. The 71st throttled Welch, and beat his his team, 40-13, before 25,000 shivering fans including members of the American delegation working on the Nazi war crimes trials.

Although halted in the running department, Welch averaged more than 40 yards booting the slippery ball on a field made soggy by two days of light snowfall. Several times he kicked the 1st Division out of dangerous situations. Welch, whose home is at Stephenville, Tex., connected with passes which led to his club's two touchdowns.

The 71st Infantry is to meet the winner of the Seventh Army league, yet to be determined, for the ETO championship.

Al "Bummy" Davis Slain By Bandits

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—A prizefighter and a 16-year-old girl were slain today, the latest deaths in the city's mounting wave of violence and crime.

Al (Bummy) Davis, 30, former contender for the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing crowns, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern after he struck one of four men who had held up the place.

The girl, identified by her father as Susan Scanga of Brooklyn, who worked and went to business school at night, was found dead beside an old shack at the foot of Huron street in Brooklyn. Police said she apparently had been raped and beaten. Beside her body was her school bag, containing notebooks.

A physician at Kings county hospital said Davis, whose real name was David Davidoff, was shot in the throat and chest.

Best Two-Year-Old Entered At Pimlico

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The word from Pimlico today is that they're going to have a re-run of last Saturday's special and possibly a look into the crystal ball at next year's Kentucky Derby at Ol' Hilltop on Saturday.

Reading from left to right, these are the $25,000 Riggs Handicap, in which Armed will try to make last week's win over Stymlie and First Fiddle stand—although he'll be pulling a milk-wagon load this time—and the Pimlico Futurity, which may see the unveiling of 1945's two-year-old champion.

Up to right now, the $129,000 money-winning bargain from Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's hot stable is being tabbed as the boy most likely to succeed when the band makes with "My Old Kentucky Home" down at the Downs next May.

Alpine Bowl Game Booked For Jan. 1

ALPINE, Nov. 21 (AP)—The first annual Big Bend Bowl game matching West Texas high school football stars will be held here on New Year's day.

Stars from the class AA high schools will be pitted against Class A and Class B players.

Clyde Wafer of Ysleta and Eugene McCollum of Midland will coach the Class AA squad. Carl Coleman of Pecos and Boren Hunter of Marfa will direct the Class A and Class B team.

Carl Coleman formerly was assistant coach at Big Spring high school. He assisted Pat Murphy here in 1939.

District Nine Title Game Starts At 7:30

Diddle Young's Clan Favored To Cop Tilt

Water Valley's Wildcats and the Coahoma Bulldogs contest for the right to represent the District Nine six-man grid loop in the bi-district playoff in a 7:30 encounter at Steer stadium — and Diddle Young's troupe from Tom Green county rule as slight favorites to cop the duke.

The cats, with such standouts as Gene Cope and Dick Miers setting the pace, have been standouts all year. The one loss was suffered at the hands of the Garden City Hurricanes and they came back the succeeding week to outlast GC, 28-14, in an exciting battle.

The most impressive feature of the Water Valley makeup is the fact that Young has been able to rally his contingent to the heights when the chips are down.

The affable Water Valley mentor, incidentally, is well known here. He played baseball in this section about ten years ago.

Coahoma's courageous little battalion won't be without its backers. Mentor John Alber's aggregation is wealthy with reserves, which means a lot in six-man ball.

Bulldog backers will put their hopes on a youngster by the name of Denny Turner, a powerhouse in the Coahoma secondary all season. Turner will be aided and abetted by such stalwarts as Wayne DeVany and Marion Roberts, both versatile backs.

Play Kansas Sunday

TEMPLE, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Camp Hood Doughboys will fly to Great Bend, Kansas, Saturday for a Sunday football game with the Great Bend Army Air Base. The Doughboys are tied with the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station for second place in the Texas service team standings.

Up front, Larry Borden, Pete Hull and Everett Self will man the positions for the Bulldogs.

Good representations from both communities are expected to be on hand. The Coahoma band will probably be there to lend color to the occasion.

Gate tariff will be 50 and 25 cents.

Music To Unburden Us

This is a troubled world. Although the universal upheaval has subsided, eruptions of strife are manifest.

In an atmosphere such as this the passing of Jerome Kern will be doubly felt. Mr. Kern was a happy soul who filled his mission in life as a composer of enduring melodies.

Yet the people loved his down-to-earth melodies, and that made them good music. "Ol' Man River" is a fixed part of Americana, and it will be a long time before people cease to sing and play such infectious tunes as "They Didn't Believe Me."

Sometimes we think perhaps the world would be a little better off with a few less so-called political leaders and more men like Jerome Kern to unburden the souls of the people with music.

Not As The Pharisee

We are thankful that Providence has bestowed upon us one of the heaviest responsibilities in history.

The material blessings, which are ours, are too numerous to enumerate, and there is always the temptation to make comparison of what we have with others do not.

Robert Quillen recently expressed this point most effectively: "So we shall give thanks, comparing our lot with that of others. And our prayers will mean: 'We thank, Thee, Father, that we are not as other men.' Thus the Pharisee prayed, and the Lord despised him for it."

Let us not stumble into this pitfall; rather let us be thankful that God has given us opportunity to be of service to mankind, and pray for strength and courage to rise above littleness and selfishness to meet the needs of our day.

Hollywood--

Benny Gets A Gag Transfusion

By GENE HANDSAKER HOLLYWOOD — The rehearsal had sounded swell to me, but now Jack Benny and his four jolly gag men were trying to pump still more merriment into the script.

"Now we come to that place where I say, 'Rochester, you're not a coward, are you?'" said the wit from Waukegan, looking at the script he held in one pale hand.

"Rochester could say, 'More than that; I'm a CAREFUL coward!'" suggested Head Writer Sam Perrin, formerly of the Bronx.

"That's swell," boomed Benny. "Put it down that way, Jane." Jane Tucker was a patient, quiet young woman who records the gags in shorthand.

They sat about a long table in NBC's little green-walled "Script Room B." Jack at one end slouched far down in a leather chair with both his narrow ankles on top of the table, level with his head. He wore horn-rimmed spectacles, rumpled gray slacks and a checkered gray coat and chewed a long cigar. "Sometimes we work for two hours over one line," he said, turning to me, "and then we may write 20 pages without stopping."

Jack is 51, has receding brown hair tinged with gray, and walks with an easy, miltling stride. His gag men, tossing tentative quips at one another, reminded me of corn-popping machines.

Besides Perrin, they are George Balzer, who with Perrin wrote the book for the new musical show, "Are You With It?"; Milt Josefsberg, an ex-publicity man from Brooklyn, and John Tackaberry, former Houston, Tex., gasoline service station operator. He sold his first gags to Horace Heidt when the orchestra leader visited that city.

One isn't permitted to stay throughout an entire gag-polishing session because the wits find an audience distracting.

When the program recounted the troupe's boat trip from Vancouver, B. C., to Seattle, Orchestra Leader Phil Harris was at first given the line, "Look at all that water—and nothing to drink with it."

That had to be changed because, while Phil is always pictured as the guy who eyes every girl, drinks a lot and can't spell, the effect must be achieved with good taste.

So the boys changed the line to: "Look at all that chaser—and nothing to blaze a trail for it!"

The Unseen Audience

With The AEF: Ship Arrives Too Late

By HAL BOYLE Aboard Army Transport Spindle Eye, Shanghai —(AP)—This is the ship that came too late.

It is the correspondent's idea of a "dream press ship" — the kind that writers like Richard Harding Davis earlier in the century and Ernie Pyle in this war never lived to see.

It is the answer to every newsman's prayer in a war theater — for perfect communications to send his story back home to his readers. If the little brown men of Nippon hadn't folded up when they did, it would have provided the American newspaper public with first-breaking news of the "Battle for Japan" on a scale never before known in the Pacific.

The dangers of battle and the heartbreaks of Army life in the field make up only half of the war correspondents' heartbreaks. The worst that can happen to you is to have a good story and learn there is no way to get it out. The breakdown in communications takes more out of your spirit than the rain, cold, heat and rations for 10 weeks in a row.

In the island hopping days of the Pacific campaign, communications were difficult and many stories that correspondents risked their lives to get arrived in America so late they were all but useless.

From this grew the idea of building a press communications ship designed solely to get war news home to the relatives of the fighting men — and get it there while it was still hot.

"The Spindle Eye is the outgrowth of all the experience in the Pacific in covering amphibious operations," said Lt. Col. Jack Harris, former Nashville, Tenn., radio executive.

The Spindle Eye is a new 5,000-ton freighter converted into a press ship at Seattle.

The vessel is manned by Army Transport Service personnel and its equipment is operated by trained Signal Corps personnel who can send up to 800 words of news copy per minute direct to San Francisco. It can also handle direct on the scene radio news broadcasts and radio photographs.

The vessel is completing a round trip voyage from Tokyo to Korea to Shanghai and back to Japan.

"This ship can be a real contrail which depends on free access to which depends on free access to communications," said Harris.

Washington— Pity The Poor Pointed Soldiers

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Postwar notes from your peacetime Capital:

Little sympathy has been given them, but there are a number of Army officers with more than enough points for discharge who are stuck in Maj. Gen. Groves' atomic bomb project.

Most of them have been in the atomic bomb set-up since its inception and were "drafted" from the fields of engineering science, management, law and journalism. The Army is holding on to them until the future of atomic energy is worked out by Congress and the picture of atomic energy and research production becomes clear.

The U. S. Army Signal Corps is working on a "seeing eye" cane, using the principles of radar. Reports are that the new device will transmit impulses which will permit the blind to "see" all objects within a radius of 20 feet.

Capitol Hill observers look for some action now on President Truman's 21-point legislative program. (What the action will be depends on what observer you are talking to.) The reason given, however, hasn't anything to do with pressure from the White House or administration leaders.

It's simply that Congress is getting those recess "eagers." Its summer vacation was cut short by the end of the war, and Congress is beginning to realize that if it wants to get home for Christmas, it will have to do a little bumping on legislative matters now hanging fire.

Few Congressmen have been able to make more than flying trips home since the pre-election campaigns of 1944. Political speculations on 1946 are beginning to pop up and have some of the members jittery. There isn't much time for fence-mending and pulse-feeling.

In a little publicized speech before the American Society for Public Administration the other day, Secretary of Commerce Wallace outlined his program for a more frequent sampling to keep census statistics of population, business and employment right up to date. His initial proposal is a complete business census in 1946. It would include full data on the number and kinds of businesses, employees, payrolls, credits, sales, expenses.

Airline passengers are getting lighter—at least the Civil Aeronautics Administration thinks so. According to a new ruling, airline passengers will now be considered to average 160 pounds in summer and 165 pounds in winter. Heretofore passengers were considered to weigh an average of 170 pounds—the old fatteries.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Snyder Opposes Minimum Wage Bill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, — The situation inside the office of fumbling War Reconverter John Snyder is so bad it can't go on much longer. It got so confused the other day that Lt. Gen. Levin H. Campbell Jr., Chief of Ordnance, and one of the ablest executives in the War Department, walked out of Snyder's office. Campbell had been loaned to Snyder to help with the reconversion job, but the mess was too much for him.

Another climax came last week when Snyder informed Truman secretly that he would not testify for the Administration-supported bill to raise minimum wages to 65 cents an hour. Snyder was to have been one of the key witnesses. The bill is considered one of the most important pieces of legislation on the Truman calendar, and aims to keep buying power at a high level to prevent depression.

Snyder, after backing and filling, finally wrote his boss in the White House a confidential memo saying that he did not believe in the 65-cent-minimum wage law, that some employers couldn't afford to pay it, and that he could not testify.

How long Truman will go along with his old Missouri National Guard friend remains to be seen. He has been very patient so far. Note — Many capital observers believe Truman's most serious mistake was firing Henry Morgenthau as Secretary of the Treasury. When Morgenthau departed, Fred Vinson was yanked out of the War Reconverter's job to replace him. Vinson is one of the few men in government who have the know-how to cut red tape and get things done. Skilled men of his type are few and far between. And Snyder, a relatively green banker from St. Louis, was put in Vinson's large and difficult shoes.

JOHN L. LEWIS BATTLES Here is what's been happening behind the closed doors of the labor-management conference during the last few days. Delegates have witnessed an astute campaign by John L. Lewis to become the leader of the AFL as well as the United Mine Workers; also a frantic fight by Lewis and Bill Green not to be backed into a corner by CIO chief Phil Murray regarding wage increases.

Here is some of the backstage byplay. When Bill Green virtually let Lewis become the AFL spokesman, it immediately leaked to labor ranks. Also, it backfired. Green got a barrage of complaints from the AFL that he was letting Lewis steal the show. Also AFL members didn't like the Lewis idea of price increases as well as wage increases — which, in the end, meant no gain for labor.

Meanwhile, Phil Murray kept hammering home his resolution for "immediate substantial wage increases." Finally, at a secret session of the Executive committee last week, Green nervously announced that he had something to say. "I want to make the A. F. of L.'s position clear," declared Green. "The A. F. of L. should not be misunderstood. We are not opposing wage increases for our people. If only the A. F. of L. had not misunderstood Mr. Murray's resolution, the problem would never have arisen."

Green spoke, realizing he was losing some of his grip on the A. F. of L., whose members also want immediate wage increases.

"In that case," replied Phil Murray, "I propose that this conference record itself in favor of my resolution which says that parties in collective bargaining agree to substantial wage increases."

This again brought Green to his feet. He made a half-hour speech saying that his organization, which bargains craft by craft, could not support a resolution asking for "substantial wage increases."

Green was followed by George Harrison of the A. F. of L. brotherhood of railway clerks. "It is obvious," Harrison interjected, "that neither side is going to get its resolution approved. We should avoid being compelled to vote for or against either resolution."

Harrison was referring to a substitute management resolution favoring collective bargaining but making no mention of wage increases. Harrison suggested that management withdraw its resolution and that Murray eliminate the last paragraph of his proposal, namely his statement that wage increases are imperative. Management delegates promptly agreed with Harrison's suggestion. But Murray was on his feet storming. "I want a vote on my resolution," he bellowed. "If I am going to lose, well then, that's all right too. I am entitled to a recorded vote. I want everybody on record as to where they stand on this issue."

John L. Lewis then rose and offered an innocuous substitute resolution calling for neither higher nor lower wages but only for harmony. But the Lewis proposal got no support from any side. MANAGEMENT PARRIES H. W. Prentiss Jr., of the Armstrong Cork Co., Lancaster, Pa., then proposed a 6-man committee to iron out the differences in the various resolutions. He suggested that the committee be composed of Green, Murray, Lewis, and three other management members. This delighted Green, who immediately moved acceptance of the Prentiss suggestion. Green knew this would put Murray on the spot and result in a 5-1 vote against the CIO.

But Murray was on his feet again. "Management has had one full week to study the CIO proposal," stormed the CIO chief. "It has submitted its own proposal. Their answer to our call for immediate

Old Fort Surplus McIntosh Ordered Closed, Colonel Dunbar Announces

LAREDO, Nov. 20. (AP)—Old Fort McIntosh, established in 1846 and once commanded by Capt. Mirabeau B. Lamar, second president of the Republic of Texas, has been ordered closed. Fort McIntosh is on the outskirts of Laredo, facing the Nuevo Laredo, Mex., garrison across the Rio Grande. During World War II, about 200 troops were stationed there. This has dwindled since to 10 officers and 54 enlisted men. Colonel Richard E. Dunbar is the commanding officer. Col. Dunbar has announced that the War Department has declared the post inactive and surplus. Almost 100 years old, the post has seen many of America's most prominent Army men, including U. S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, General Funston and others.

UNCLE SAM'S BEST FORAGERS CAN'T FIND CIVILIAN SHIRTS

By JACK BUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

An unexpected postwar development is the almost amazing shortage of men's clothing. Shirts, underwear, suits—you can't even find them with radar. James V. Lovell, back from the wars and writing again on the Dallas Times-Herald, devoted his first column to it. He said if he hadn't been lucky enough to have some civilian clothes in storage he would have had to stick to khaki with the insignia ripped off.

"The shortage," he says, "is not exactly a surprise for veterans. At separation center, the orientation officer gave us a 30-minute lecture on the pitfalls of civilian life . . . He described the empty racks and predicted some of us might be forced to continue wearing Uncle Sam's garb . . . He said nobody would be able to tell us from Texans, anyway."

Even the double threat of a clothing shortage and of looking like Texans failed to discourage the separatees. Practically none, he said, volunteered to join the regular army.

Fat men are lucky, Dallas stores say. Once resigned to long search for suits that fit, they're now finding it easier to shop than men built like Clark Gable. Average sizes, from 38 to 42, are practically impossible to find, but there are a few off sizes scattered around.

But down in Brownsville, the police stepped in and found clothing for five men. They had to. Five Mexicans were robbed of $60 and all their clothing in Matamoros across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, and then forced to swim the river to the U.S. side. Officers hastily gathered new wardrobes for the naked five as they sheepishly established a beachhead in Texas.

The clothing shortage may or may not have had anything to do with it, but Robert N. Beeville of Denton has enlisted for the third time. He said he'd tried civilian life twice and prefers the army, where he has spent seven years so far.

Don't mention it, sir... it's me who should be thanking you! Back when I was in school, I learned about you Pilgrims. I knew by heart the principles you stood for—like all the different kinds of freedom—freedom from fear and want, freedom to worship and meet. But heck, sir, those were just words then. I had to go and get myself right smack into a war, to understand that those were words to live for, fight for, words to be thankful for.

You said it soldier. You fought for these principles... now you're thankful for the privilege. We here at home are living free and secure because of those principles. Imagine how much more thankful we must be... LET US GIVE THANKS.
