Cemetery board revitalized

The Texico City Council on Nov. 26 was told that five persons have volunteered to serve on the cemetery board.

They are Margie Crooks, Laurie Goforth, Lynn McDaniel, Marcia Leavell and Oran Jay Autrey.

The group is expected to be confirmed at the next council meeting.

In other business, the council:

-- Agreed to have just one meeting in December, as is the tradition: on the 10th.

-- Allowed Lewis Foster to move in mobile homes at 511 and 521 Florence St.

-- Heard Fire Chief Lewis Cooper report that one bid was received for a new fire truck, from Triple A, of Clovis, for $251,094. The bid was accepted by the council.

-- Allowed Cooper to buy a chain saw and two reciprocating saws for the fire department, plus tables for the fire station.

-- Heard Cooper say that there was only one entrance to Mesquite Village, the new low-income housing development on the south side of town, although he had understood there would be more entrances.

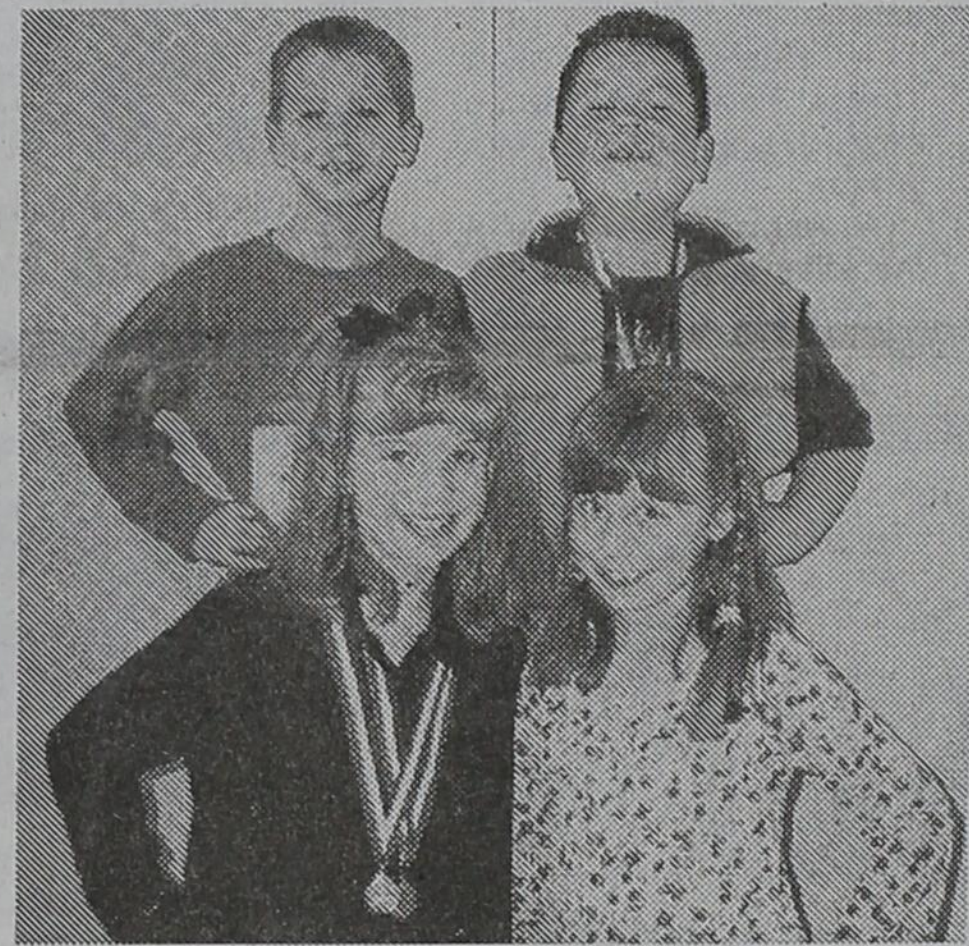

Because of just one entrance, vehicles such as ambulance and fire trucks have to back out. He said the fence around the property needs to be cut and alleys allowed.

City Attorney Marion Ty Rutter said he would contact the developer about these concerns.

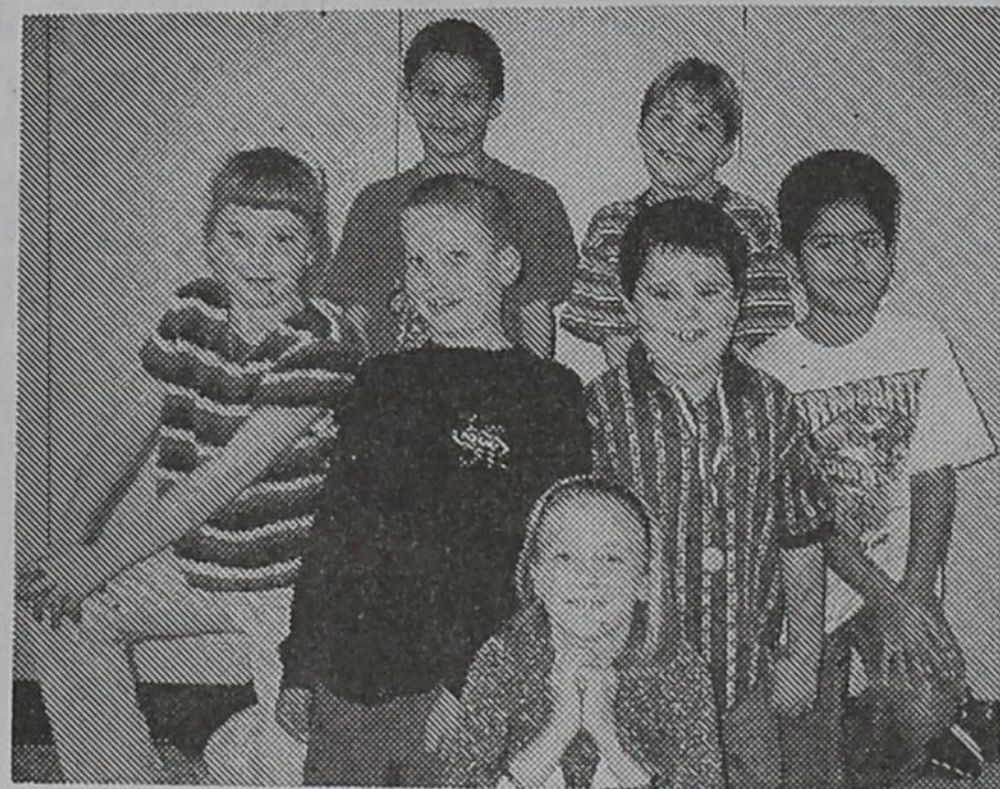

-- Heard Police Chief Kelley Brophy report that he had met with Xcel Energy officials about the need for more lighting along the highway. It will be surveyed.

-- Approved Brophy's request to seek state funds to build a separate police station. This also LIVE CATTLE: Cash cattle prices traded at $73.00 early Wednesday morning. Fundamentally, this market has continued to gain ground on good demand. Numbers and weights are both down compared to a year ago levels. Technically, it would be healthy to see a little downward correction into December followed by another move-up into the Spring?

FEEDER CATTLE: Prices have already exceeded earlier estimates of $83.00 basis the January contract. The spread between feeders and fed cattle prices make some traders nervous, but this market continues to move higher. Cattle feeders may find it difficult to make an $85 feeder work off the June Live Cattle board at $72.00? Expect this spread to narrow between now and January.

CORN: Daily trends turned back lower this week and a re-test of the $2.38 area is likely basis the March contract. At this time, odds favor a push below this level with prices reaching long term projects of $2.30-2.32 before making a long term bottom? Seasonally, most harvest lows are complete by the end of December into the first week of January?

SOYBEANS: This market has remained the strongest of the grain complex with short and long term trends still pointing higher. Demand has led to strong support and although production levels this year were very good historically, demand seems to be driving prices. Very little news out of South American which would change the current direction of prices.

WHEAT: KC Wheat prices have turned short term trends back higher, but this rally has been weak at best? The seasonal tendency is strong for higher prices into the December/January time frame and demand remains strong. This market has a shot at moving back up to re-test old highs, but export demand will be the driving force. A move below $4.00 basis the March contract would not be good?

COTTON: March cotton prices have been able to re-test last Summer's highs, but have yet to penetrate. The seasonal tendency is for lower prices into late December or early January. Over time, the big picture still looks like the March contract will be able to push above the 52 cent level and possibly test the 55 cent early next year? Production is high, but quality is down.

Commissioners continue work toward a new jail

The Parmer County Commissioners on Nov. 25 continued their deliberations over which way to go in solving their jail situation.

To recap the options:
1. Build a new jail, and the commissioners have received estimates of $3.2 to $3.5 million for this cost.

2. Build a separate sheriff's office, between $560,000 and $630,000. But this doesn't solve the fact that the jail doesn't meet state standards and has received seven variances over the years to keep open.

3. Modify and expand the current jail, estimated to cost between $2.4 and $2.6 million. But the state historical society has said it won't agree to this, thus basically killing this option.

Thus, common sense indicates the commissioners will continue to work toward construction of a new jail.

So on Nov. 25, the commissioners agreed to have its architect put together a sketch for a new jail that would cost in the vicinity of $2.5 million.

"We want to see what we can get for this amount of money," said

County Judge Bonnie Clayton-Heald.

The architect is Kenneth Burns of the firm Burns, Fletcher & Gill Architects, of Fort Worth.

Burns is expected to prepare such a sketch, perhaps at the commissioners' December meeting.

My favorite holiday

As longtime readers know, Thanksgiving is my favorite holiday.

What really made it great this year was that much of my "extended family" came to Farwell to enjoy the holiday (and overeat like mad!).

Talk about a long trip: the parents of my son's wife came from Harlingen, Texas. That's a 16-hour drive.

I told them it's a good thing I bought the Tribune years back instead of my first choice in Follett, Texas. Then the drive would have been from the south end of the state all the way to the north end. Follett borders Oklahoma.

I hope everyone enjoyed our special Thanksgiving issue last week. I thought Rev. Bob Burris did an excellent job of bringing his message to our community.

Of course, I took a real ribbing all weekend from my family over a one-letter miscue when I typed up Bob's sermon.

That should have been a "C" and not a "V"! My bad...

And you all thought I was perfect...

Anyway, it was a special time to give thanks to our Lord for all His many blessings to us and our children.

It's a funny thing about life. We all get irate over the smallest items that don't amount to diddly.

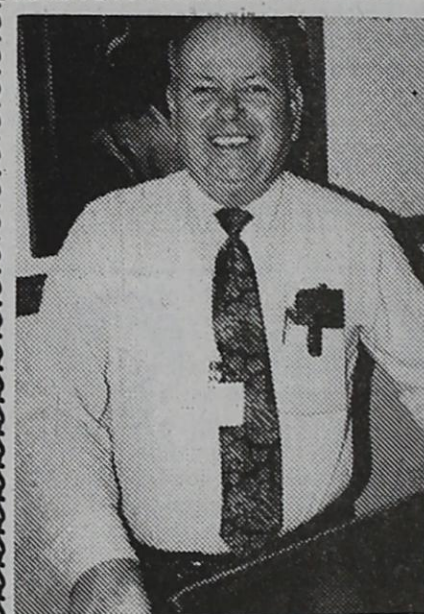

Too often, we forget all the ways our Lord has blessed us in our lives. This gives us purpose, to reciprocate and do God's work to the best of our abilities.

Every one of us, regardless of our status in life, married or single, young or old, has the opportunity to help others in ways that please our Lord.

And whether we use our God-given abilities is entirely up to us.

Anyway, I hope you and your family had a wonderful Thanksgiving, too.

The Latest

This info came from the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative December newsletter:

From now through Dec. 31, Texans may register for the statewide and electric no-call lists for half price.

During this limited time, the cost is $2.40 instead of $4.80.

Telemarketing prohibition for consumers who register during this period will begin March 1, 2003, and numbers will remain on the list for five years.

Currently 729,401 Texans have registered on the no-call lists.

A registration form may be requested by calling (866) 896-6225 or writing: Texas No Call, PO Box 313, East Walpole, MA 02032.

The statewide no-call list was implemented by the Public Utility Commission last January.

The electric no-call list was created in 1999 as part of electric deregulation legislation.

Katherine Schraeder, the Edward Jones investment rep in Muleshoe, will host a free program on Dec. 10 at 6 p.m. for investors wondering whether they should buy, hold or sell their investments.

Special note to Bovina area subscribers:

Our special Thanksgiving issue got to the post office on Nov. 26 and should have been in your mail boxes Nov. 27 or 28.

Some folks told us they got it delivered on Dec. 3.

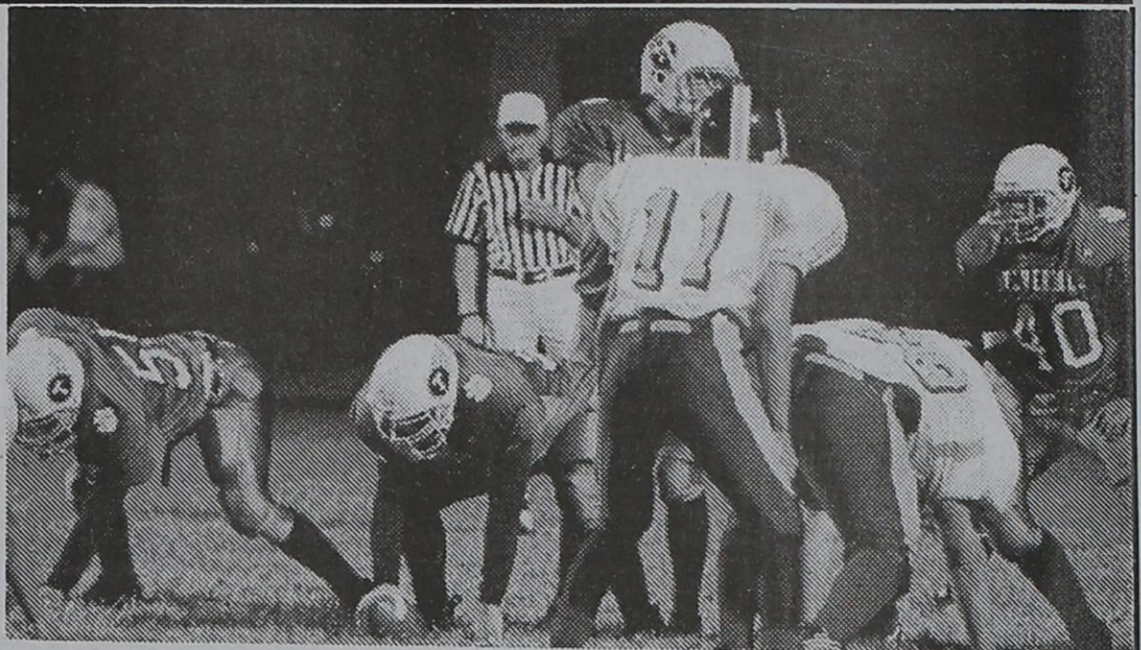

Texico School teacher Dennis Roch did not get the post of state senator for District 42.

The post was open due to the resignation of Shirley Bailey, who moved to Texas.

Roch was one of three applicants for the job. He is Curry County Republican chairman and was supported by the county commissioners.

Late that afternoon, he was told that Gaye Kernan, of Lea County, was given the post.

While only part of Curry County is in District 42, all of Lea County is. So it was felt that Ms. Kernan had a better shot at re-election.

George's Gold Strike closed by police again

A police raid on Thanksgiving eve closed George's Gold Strike, one of three 8-liner businesses in Farwell. Parmer County Sheriff Randy Geris said four charges have been placed against store manager Tae S. Roper, 40, of Clovis: Keeping a gambling place, possession of gambling devices, possession of gambling paraphernalia, and gambling promotion. Ms. Roper posted bond and was released. Sheriff Geris said the store's two owners have charges pending -- John George Kioussis and his father, George John Kioussis, of Post, Texas. Sheriff Geris said that in addition to seizing the machines and cash, the building was seized, too, under the gambling promotion law. Last time George's Gold Strike was closed, the building was not seized. The building seizure will stand until the courts decide.

As was the case in June, when Farwell's three 8-liner businesses were closed, it's charged that the state law involving payouts was broken. The state says "the wholesale value available from a single play of the game or device is not more than 10 times the amount charged to play the game or device once or $5, whichever is less."

In simple terms, if you bet one credit, you cannot win more than $5 or 10 credits. If you bet one credit and win 150 credits, for example, there's a legal issue.

Sheriff Geris used area residents to do undercover work at George's in recent week under the sheriff's department supervision. Originally, he had planned to use Department of Public Safety folks, but the DPS was too busy with other cases.

Sheriff Geris said it's alleged that the payouts at George's involved Wal Mart gift cards (equivalent to cash) and cash exceeding state legal limits.

On Nov. 27, 287th District Court Judge Gordon Green signed the papers to allow the police raid, which occurred that night.

Last summer, police raided George's Gold Strike, Border Games and Winner's Touch. Plea agreements were reached in all three cases. As part of the plea agreement with George's Gold Strike on Sept. 25, John George Kioussis pled guilty to promotion of gambling. Charges against George John Kioussis were dismissed. J.G. Kioussis was sentenced to 3 days in jail, $500 fine, and court costs. Parmer County confiscated $15,850 in cash; a checking account with $18,199 in it, and 27 Wal Mart shopping card gift certificates totaling $900.

Also as part of the plea pact with George's, 49 of the business's 50 video machines were returned to the owners with the stipulation they could not be used again in Parmer County.

Winner's Touch and Border Games have reopened, said the sheriff. He said neither is under investigation because it is believed both are just offering playbacks, in accordance with state law.

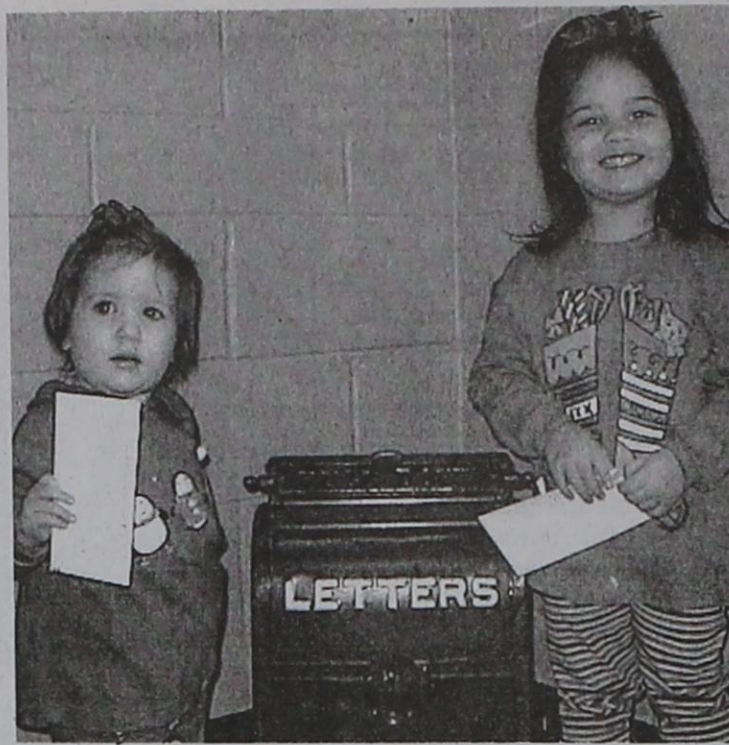

Ginning going full throttle

The cotton is lined up at the area's cotton gins. Parmer County Cotton Growers Cooperative manager Edwin Teltschik is busy as a beaver, with 19,000 bales already ginned.

Teltschik expects his place will gin about 38,000 bales in all.

Meanwhile, Doyle Johnson, manager at Farwell Gin, reports about 7,000 bales have been ginned there so far, with the total to be about 15,000 when all is said and done in January.

Letters to Santa

Hey, kids, it's time to mail your Letters to Santa! Any letters to Santa Claus can be mailed at either the Texico or Farwell post offices. Postmasters Lonnie Pickel and Lynne Mahaney guarantee they will get to their destination because they have the North Pole addresses complete with 9-digit zip code. And the letters will appear in the annual State Line Tribune special Christmas issue. Pictured getting their letters mailed are Katey White, 16 months, and Edie White, 3 1/2 years old, daughters of Susan and Boyd White.

Schilling, Doolittle recognized

Two local members of the Raiders football team that participated in the Play Inc. football league were recently honored. In the grades 3-4 division, Farwell's Russell Schilling had the most TD receptions and Texico's Connor Doolittle had the most TD passes.
