Vandiver reports on crops

From Monti Vandiver, Parmer County extension agent - IPM

Most corn and cotton planting operations have been completed. The earlier planted corn has emerged and is growing rapidly. Some cotton has emerged and is looking very good.

Some sorghum has been planted and has emerged while some is still in the bag. Dryland conditions are poor for seeding a crop and in most cases will require significant rain to get a crop established.

As a whole, area wheat has been rated fair to poor. Much of the area wheat appears stressed and continues to exhibit injury due to freezing temperatures as well as symptoms consistent with several viral diseases.

Results from the laboratory analysis have confirmed wheat streak mosaic virus and barley yellow dwarf in most samples submitted. It is likely due to a combination of harsh environmental conditions including freezing temperatures during the jointing stage and viral disease all of which have been compounded by an extremely dry winter and spring as well as heavy Russian wheat aphid pressure.

Texico water conservation rules explained

The Texico City Council on Tuesday discussed the water conservation measures after City Clerk Carolyn Johnson said that several folks had called to ask about lawn watering times.

Johnson said that houses with odd addresses are to water their lawns on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, while even addresses can water on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. There is no watering on Sunday or between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on any days.

Johnson also said the city will look for folks who are dumping trash outside of the dumpsters. Especially larger items.

Those items will not be picked up by the trash service, and it is illegal to put those items anywhere except for the city dump.

In other news, the council:

- Heard that Police Chief Doug Bowman spoke to Parmer County Commissioner Ronald Byrd about paving State Line Road from the end of the pavement up to Craig Street.

Bowman is working on getting machinery from Curry County to do the work, and using excess material from Texico. Byrd offered some Parmer County material to help with the project, and asked that they pave as far as possible.

Bowman is also working on signs to put up around town informing truckers that using engine brakes, or "Jake" brakes, is prohibited in town.

- Discussed the city interim budget. Johnson said the city is planning a 50 cent increase in utilities, and has budgeted money for opening the swimming pool next year. They are also including a 5 percent raise for city employees, $5,000 for the Senior Citizens fund, $4,500 for EMS training, and a new computer for Johnson.

- Received a report from Councilman Jerry Bradley about a new chemical the city is looking at

Bovina man killed in crash

New Mexico State Police reported Wednesday that Guillermo Montes, 40, of Bovina, was killed Saturday night on the Pleasant Hill Highway in a one-vehicle rollover.

In his Jeep were two children, a 3-year-old son and a 7-year-old daughter.

Police told the Clovis News Journal that the girl tried to drive the crashed Jeep for help after her father was ejected in the rollover. After about three miles, a passing motorist saw her and stopped to help.

State Police said the crash is being investigated as alcohol related.

The children were treated at Clovis hospital for minor bumps and bruises, then turned over to their mother.

using in the wastewater plant. As it stands, any solid material will have to be collected, transported and dumped, but this chemical will dissolve any solids in two months. This will have to be done for the wastewater project.

- Heard the police department will be using a $3,000 DWI grant from the state to watch the roads at night. The department also just set up a new server and computers to help with record management. Bowman saved the city money by setting it up himself.

- Was updated on the construction of the new Fire Department building. They have finished the floor and hope to have the building up in three weeks.

- Heard that the new memorial stone was placed at the Texico Cemetery in time for Memorial Day. There are also nice benches that were donated by the VFW post in Clovis. Councilman Doug Scioli said it does look nice out there.

LIVE CATTLE: Live cattle prices were basically flat on week with cash trading steady at $85. Futures prices were able to trade back up into Friday after moving down earlier in the week and closed fairly strong. Supplies are expected to continue to tighten as we move forward and the USDA Cattle on Feed released Friday was termed slightly bullish as cattle on feed remain lower than last year.

FEEDER CATTLE: Feeder prices also came under a little pressure early in the week, but were able to recover into Friday's close while closing close to the high of this week. Cash trade remains fairly strong and demand continues strong as well. Tight supplies of feeders continue to support ideas that higher prices are still possible. This market will eventually need some help from higher Live Cattle prices.

CORN: The July corn tried a couple of times this week to move above last weeks highs around the $4.34 area and failed both times. Prices are extremely overbought at these levels with seasonal tendencies turning down. The collapse seen in the U.S. Dollar over the last several days has helped to support the most recent rally. There will come a time that this relationship changes?

SOYBEANS: Soybeans also made a hard run at last weeks high, but also failed to close above those levels before closing lower on Friday. This market is also very overbought at current levels and has also been supported to a large degree by the falling U.S. Dollar. World stocks continue to grow above year ago levels and prices may be topping at these levels.

WHEAT: Wheat prices were the only grain which was able to close above last weeks highs after several tests during the week. Like the rest of the grain complex, prices have been supported primarily by a lower Dollar. This market is also very overbought and could be topping. World stocks are expected to grow to considerably larger levels than seen last year. This would be negative long term.

COTTON: Cotton prices remained basically flat last week with no real direction. The lower Dollar has little support as a real stock market played a more important role. There are some longer term cycles and seasonal tendencies which may have topped the market. There could be another test of the highs, but odds favor lower prices over the next few months.

Futures and Options Trading involves risk of loss and may not be suitable for everyone.

Somalia is a problem for the West

The big news in the world involves the forthcoming takeover of Somalia, a nation on the Horn of Africa, by terrorists allied with Al-Qaeda. You say you haven't heard anything about that?

You probably have heard more about Madonna trying to adopt an African infant than this horrifying news involving Somalia.

Folks, we are about to see a nation taken over by terrorists. A place that can be used as a safe haven by other terrorists. This is very, very bad for the West.

Remember Afghanistan?

And what are we doing about Somalia? Nada.

Just take a look at the situation involving piracy that also is occurring off the shoreline of that beleaguered "nation."

The West can't figure out how to stop a few ragtag, so-called pirates (actually a bunch of teens who can't get work), other than by paying huge ransoms.

With all our great technology, the West is reduced to paying bribes. Did I say the "West?" I meant the "effete West."

We have all this great satellite technology where you can see a man's face from outer space. Why isn't the West working together to use that high-tech stuff and keep track of when pirates leave their bases in Somalia and head toward open sea?

Makes sense to me. Thus, forget it.

Any day now the legitimate, UN-backed government of Somalia is about to head into exile (unless it already has happened since this column was written); this is another situation that the West should have gotten involved in.

But, no, we turned a blind eye, hoping the terrorists will go away. Shoo, terrorists, shoo.

Yes, I remember "Blackhawk Down" and what occurred in Mogadishu, Somalia's capital. Does that mean we have to yell "we give."

What is happening in Somalia won't affect us for a while. But when the stuff hits the fan, you will ask: "Why didn't someone do something about that earlier?"

I wish to God that we Americans didn't have to worry about a bunch of sorry terrorists halfway around the world. But with all those high-tech weapons that are being sold left and right, it presents a big nightmare for us.

What is needed is a united front by the West. And that won't happen.

A quick plug for the Texico EMS fund-raiser, "Poker Run for Life" starting at 8 a.m. mt on May 30 at KKR Park in Texico.

There will be lots of prizes, lunch, a bike show, bike games, etc.

Folks, you don't have to be a motorcycle aficionado to attend. Just come and have a fun time for you and your family.

Periodically, you will see a note about tennis lessons at the end of this column during the summer.

It's the way I will communicate with the junior high girls about when practices are scheduled.

REVERSE MORTGAGES NOW AVAILABLE IN CLOVIS

Reverse Mortgages are becoming popular in America. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) created one of the first. HUD's Reverse Mortgage is a federally-insured private loan, and it's a safe plan that can give older Americans greater financial security.

Many seniors use it to supplement social security, meet unexpected medical expenses, make home improvements, and more.

The Mortgage Superstore located on the corner of 7th and Mitchell in Clovis has loan advisors available to answer all of your questions. Since your home is probably your largest single investment, it's smart to know more about reverse mortgages, and decide if one is right for you!

You can receive free information about reverse mortgages by calling us today at...

Jeffery Casas was home from his tour in Iraq with his family.

Jeff is the son of Javier and Sandy Casas. Words cannot even begin to describe my gratitude to you and all of our service men who have served and are serving. God Bless you all.

I will be doing a interview with Jeff in the coming weeks be on the look-out.

A friend of mine, Angie Gomez, called my house last weekend. She asked me if me husband was home and if so to get over there like right now. Apparently she had found a snake up on her counter behind the microwave.

Well, believe it, folks because I saw it and took pictures of it. It is pretty early in the season ... be careful out there. And be the way I was not even scared. (David got it, not me!)

Graduation is on Friday at 7 p.m. at the High School Auditorium.

As always, there is open seating and Bovina does not require an invitation. A big thanks to the Baptist Church who held a dinner, games, and a give away for the Seniors. That is so wonderful. I am so glad to see activities like that going on.

Interesting Fact of the Week: It cost $7 million to build the Titanic and $200 million to make a film about it. (Can you believe that?)

Carlene Jones passed away last week and her services were held on Saturday.

I had a phone call that morning from John Dixon asking if I would please run down to the Methodist Church to take a picture of all of the ladies from different churches coming together to serve a lunch to all her friends and family. I went down a little hesitant, as we all know this is not the best place for picture taking.

My wonderful husband went and snapped the picture. Well, when I reviewed it, was I surprised. I saw all these ladies smiling and enjoying their time together. Later I spoke to one and she told me that as they cooked and served, they told stories and shared memories of Carlene.

Mrs. Jones lived a long, wonderful life that touched so many lives in this town. It is with gifts like hers that can bring a community together and enable people to forget all else but the wonderful memories of a wonderful woman.

Thank you, Carlene, for all you shared with us.
