Say neighbor, have you been enjoying the summer ball games? There is hot and heavy action on four nights a week at the Lion's Club ball parks.

This big undertaking is the result of effort by many individuals who have given of their time and money. In the meantime if you have enjoyed these games, you might step up to the concession booth and stand a round of soda pop for the little players.

The Tribune is preparing a special edition on the local ball scene with pictures of all the boys and girls on the various teams. We hope to have it finished early in July.

A good thing for the Twin Cities is the second annual ball game, barbecue, and fireworks display being sponsored by Texico Fire Department, Texico Chamber of Commerce, and the Texico Woman's Club.

In the less hectic days of our country's glorious past, it was customary for communities to get together for frivolities on the "fourth."

So you wonder where the money went? Read these facts and see if you can figure out who has been getting into your purse ahead of you.

In 1902, all taxes -- federal, state and local -- came to $18 per person. In 1948 the figure rose to $377, and by 1958 it had reached $628 per person.

Now figure out how many people do not pay taxes, thanks to the sob sisters who have exempted large groups of persons from the tax onus.

Somehow we must rediscover fiscal sanity and insist on a reduction in government spending at every level, or reconcile ourselves to being pauperized by our own government.

Survivors include the widow, Corda, Hereford; two sons, Keith of Bovina and Hurston of Abilene; two brothers; three sisters; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from First Methodist Church in Hollis, Okla., Sunday afternoon for Claude R. Husband brother-in-law for Melvin Snider, Sr. and Mrs. Willie Williams.

Attending the services from this area were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Snider, Sr., Mrs. Hugh Mosely, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Williams, Don Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Snider, Jr. and John Snider.

Wheat Harvest In Full Swing

Wheat harvest in the Texico-Farwell area will be lighter this year, believe most of the local elevator men, who attribute the light harvest to unseasonable rains and hails which damaged the crops severely.

The harvest operations in the area got underway last week with the first load of wheat received in Farwell by Worley Grain Company on Wednesday.

Most of the wheat is making a yield of 60-70 bushels per acre where it has not been damaged by hail, while hail damaged wheat is making a yield of 30-35 bushels per acre.

Approximately 175 persons from over the Eastern New Mexico-West Texas area were in attendance at the service.

Announcement has also been made by Rev. John Payne, local Calvary Baptist pastor, that the church has set its summer revival from August 18-August 24.

WEATHER OR NOT

During spring every fisherman should have his own crystal ball.

For this is the time of year when the whims of weather affect fishing success the most. During these critical weeks not only success, but the fun of going fishing can be ruined by sudden weather changes.

However, you can be your own weather expert. According to the fishing authorities at Mercury outdoors there are ways to analyze weather and what it means to your chances of fishing success. The secret lies in interpreting the forecast in terms of how it affects fish.

Rapid changes in barometric pressure, up or down, greatly affect fish feeding activity. A sudden change in air pressure seems to disturb fish and they quit feeding. Most barometric changes are due to the formation of fronts — either cold or warm.

Cold fronts form when cold air pushes its way under a warm air mass, forcing it up. Cold air replaces warm air, clouds form, and violent rainstorms often rage in a narrow line along the front. Air pressure becomes heavier and the wind reverses direction from its normal clockwise flow. Cold fronts generally mean storms; storms usually put fish off their feed.

Warm fronts lessen the air pressure, bringing clouds and thunderstorms along a wide belt. This, too, will cause fish to stop feeding.

Of course, there are exceptions to these general rules. At times fishing in the rain — a slow drizzle, usually can be very productive. Watch for forecasts of frontal activity. Know that they bring sudden changes in temperature, wind direction and air pressure.

BOYS STATER Doug Harriman said upon returning to Farwell from the Boys State Sessions in Austin early this week, "I just wish every boy in Farwell High School had the opportunity to attend Boys State. It is wonderful and I have learned much that will be beneficial through the rest of my life." Doug, a senior at Farwell High School, is employed this summer at the local ASCS office.

Texas Boys State 1969

By Doug Harriman
I would like to thank the American Legion Post at Friona, the faculty and the administration of Farwell Public Schools, and everyone else who had a part in giving me one of the greatest weeks of my life. For this I will always be thankful.

Between the week of June 7 through 14, it was my privilege and opportunity to attend the 29th session of the American Legion Boys State, Boys State is a mythical 51st state that is formed within the boundaries of the University of Texas at Austin. The purpose of Boys State is to teach the youth of today constructive attitudes toward the American form of government.

Boys State attempts to show that a democracy needs an intelligent citizenry and a clean, honest, and impartial administration responsive to the will of the people. The motto of Boys State is to "Learn To Do By Doing," and this is exactly what you do. Each boy at Boys State is expected to get involved by running for an office and to back the candidates from their respective parties.

Fifty-six boys from the 18th congressional district left Amarillo on a chartered bus at 4 a.m. Saturday, June 7. We arrived at Austin around 2 p.m. and from there we were registered and told what party and what city we would be in. I lived in McGee City and I was in the Federalist Party. There were 43 other boys living in McGee and 374 other boys in the Federalist Party. The other political party was the Nationalists and they had 375 boys.

Sunday we attended church and after that we had our first general assembly. Dr. Norman Hackerman, president of University of Texas, spoke to us at this assembly. During the week we had many speakers from the state and national levels of the government. Among the speakers were: Lt. Governor Ben Barnes, Attorney General Crawford Martin, Secretary of State Martin Dyes, former Attorney General Wagoner Carr, Texas Republican Party Chairman Peter O'Donnell, Texas Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Dr. Elmer C. Baum and many others too numerous to mention.

Each morning at 5 a.m. we had callisthenics on the freshman field, Tuesday morning Governor Preston Smith led Boys State in callisthenics.

Between Monday and Wednesday each boy at Boys State spent most of his extra time campaigning for offices. I ran for State Representative and was lucky enough to be elected. The Governor and Lt. Governor of Boys State were elected from the Federalist Party and the members of this party were happy since they had represented us.

Thursday we practiced governing the state and were told what our own individual duties were. Friday we put what we had been taught to practice at the capitol building in Austin. Each Boy Stater went to his respective office; in my case, it was at the House of Representatives Chambers where we proposed and passed bills just as the real representatives do. The highlight of Boys State was at the general assembly on Wednesday evening when H. Roe Bartle spoke. He is a lawyer and veteran of World War I who has had many honors awarded to him during his life. I'll not try to name them all but I will give a few so you can see what kind of man he is. He was awarded His Majesty's Medal for Service in the Cause of Freedom by Great Britain; Order of the Crown in the country of Belgium; and he has received distinguished Service Medals from the Republics of Chile, Uruguay, Brazil, and Mexico. He is a former Mayor of Kansas City, Mo. He is also an avid sports fan, Dr. Bartle was responsible for bringing major league baseball to Kansas City, and, in addition, he was instrumental in establishing the Kansas City pro football team, called the "Chiefs" in tribute to him. The main thing I learned from Boys State is that our government, schools, churches, and everything else important to us are going to be just what we as individuals make them. I am thankful I live in a country where such an organization as Boys State can exist and I will always cherish the memories that I have been given by going to Boys State.

Again I would like to thank everyone responsible for this great experience and I only wish every boy in the United States could have attended the American Legions Boys State.

Home Ec Classes Assist In Headstart Program

Homemaking students in Farwell High School have been working in the headstart program at the school this summer as a part of their summer homemaking work. The students will receive one-half credit for the work, done in June; however several of the girls have volunteered to continue assisting in the program through July. Some of the girls will be working full-time through July and others will be working only part-time. Girls assisting with the program are members of the homemaking I and homemaking II classes, directed by Mrs. Naomi Austin.

The girls assist with music and art classes, read stories, assist with puppet shows, and supervise the children in the play room, where the children play with blocks, play house-keeping and play with wheel toys. The girls also supervise the outdoor play period for the children. Mrs. Laquetta Pool, head teacher in the headstart program, states that the children have a special love for the young girls who are working in the program and are much more willing to take directions from the girls than from an older person.

ROCKING BOAT is one of the games especially enjoyed by the headstart children who receive supervision from Home Economics I students.

PUPPET SHOW -- Children in the headstart program join members of the homemaking class in presenting a puppet show.

SKIPPING IS FUN -- Children in the headstart program at Farwell school participate in a skipping game directed by Cheryl Kaltwasser and Tina Rundell.

TABLE GAMES at the headstart program are supervised by Diane Rodrigues and Donna Black, homemaking girls who are assisting with the program as a part of their homemaking classes for the summer.

- 1 yeast cake
- 1/4 warm water
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 Tbsps. sugar
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 egg
- 3 cups flour (about)

Griffin's Strawberry Preserves

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Put shortening, sugar and salt in large bowl and pour in boiling water. Stir until ingredients are dissolved. When they are lukewarm, add the dissolved yeast, beat in the egg and stir in the flour. Cover with a clean cloth and let rise until doubled in bulk.

Pinch off small pieces of dough with buttered hands and place in greased muffin tins. Cover the tops with melted butter and let rise about 1 hour. Then make holes in the rolls and put in 1 tsp. strawberry preserves. Continue to let rise for another hour. Bake in 425° oven about 20 minutes.

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Chris Moss

Students at Texico High School describe Mrs. Howard (Marcia) Leavell, secretary-bookkeeper at the school, as "one of the most helpful, cheerful, and busy individuals at the school." Mrs. Leavell is all of these things and more, for she is also a homemaker who enjoys all of the extra work which goes into "making a house a home!"

Mrs. Leavell, the former Marcia Guthals, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Guthals. She was born in Montezuma, Colo., but moved to Pueblo at an early age. She lived in Pueblo until she was a third grade student at which time the family moved to Clovis. Upon arriving in Clovis, Marcia was enrolled as a student at Eugene Field Elementary School and later attended Marshall Junior High School and Clovis High School, graduating from the latter institution in 1956.

While Marcia was a student at Marshall Junior High School, she received instruction in homemaking from the late Miss Opal Kittrell, and it is to this teaching that Marcia attributes much of her love for homemaking. "Miss Kittrell was always kind, patient and understanding, and was quick with ideas for turning a house into a real home," says Mrs. Leavell.

Marcia later took courses in homemaking at Clovis High School where she learned to put many of the ideas learned in Miss Kittrell's classes into practice.

While attending high school, Marcia also worked at a Clovis business firm as clerk, window decorator and stockroom girl. Following graduation she continued this work for a short period and then took a job with Southwestern Public Service Company.

Following her marriage to Howard Leavell in 1957, Marcia worked part time as a cashier in a Clovis department store and later worked in the bookkeeping department at Ranchers and Farmers Cattle Company. She later assumed a job as a teacher aide at Texico School in 1965 graduating as secretary-bookkeeper in 1966.

Following their marriage the Leavells bought a small home in Texico where Marcia spent many happy hours decorating it and landscaping its yards and garden. Last year, however, the family built a new home in Texico and since that time Marcia has spent much time landscaping her new yard. (job is about half done she says) and getting a vegetable garden ready for the family's enjoyment.

The Leavells have two children, Freda, a seventh grade student at Texico and Monty, a fourth grade student in the same school. Leavell is employed as yard foreman at Texico Feed Lots.

The home features a den complete with fireplace made from brick from the Old Red Brick Texico School which is Leavell's home school. Her years of studying homemaking have been a great asset to Marcia in decorating the home and with the assistance of her mother, who did most of the actual work, drapes have been made for the entire home.

Furniture in Freda's room has been refinished with orchid curtains and a bedspread. Completing the room decor is a storage chest for Freda's dolls, made from an old storage crate antiqued green.

An avid gardener, Marcia is making plans to plant cucumbers, beets, and okra in the near future and recently she had the joy of eating a strawberry raised in the garden which was only begun last year. Cucumbers will be used in making 14-day sweet pickles, the family favorite. Okra will be frozen for winter use in soups, various vegetable dishes and for frying or boiling. Beets will be canned for winter use with some pickles and others canned for making various family favorite foods which require beets.

Marcia has recently begun the art of decoupage and finds it quite enjoyable as she does all other crafts. She also likes to sew, especially making clothing for herself and her daughter.

BUSY AND HAPPY is Mrs. Marcia Leavell as she goes about her daily duties at Texico School where she serves as secretary-bookkeeper. She is also an energetic homemaker who spends much time in the summer canning and freezing food for her family's winter use.

The family belongs to Immanuel Lutheran Church, and Marcia is part-time secretary for the church. Before she took the job as school secretary-bookkeeper, she assisted in Vacation Bible School each summer, but since that time, she has had little time to assist because of her busy schedule.

Conservation Stressed

Do you believe in the conservation of our great nation's natural resources? You should if you expect our nation to remain great.

In the ten seconds it takes you to read this paragraph, an average of 140 tons of topsoil will be washed out to sea by the Mississippi River and its tributaries. By this time tomorrow over two million tons of topsoil will have been lost to the Atlantic, Pacific, and Gulf of Mexico. This fact should indicate the great need for controlling as much soil erosion as possible.

A person's domestic and industrial needs of water per day is estimated at 250 gallons plus 1,300 gallons to produce the food and fiber he consumes. While the amount differs by climate and surroundings, the total is about 1,550 gallons of water per day for direct and indirect water usage.

By the year 2000, it is estimated, the United States will have a population of 400 million. That is twice today's population. That means about twice as much food and water will be needed. There will not be twice as much land. In fact, there will be less land in the year 2000 than there is today. Which means that in 31 years today's

The 4-H Clothing program is under way for this year. Adult leaders and mothers, Mmes. David White, Wayne Magness, Bert Williams and Hurshel Harding, attended a training and planning meeting last week. These are some of the women who will be working with the girls this summer. The 4-H program would not be possible without the help of parents and volunteer leaders.

Does your teenager have a summer job? When tax time comes around both you and your working youth can get a $600 exemption. You as a parent are entitled to an exemption because you support the teenager. And the law permits the youth to have his own personal exemption even though the parent claims him as a dependent. There is one requirement, though. The teenager MUST be a full-time student or under 19. ***** This past week brought calls for two bulletins "Frozen Foods" B-175 tells of preparation, packaging and cooking frozen fruits and vegetables. It includes information from cantaloupes to Irish potatoes. It also has a section on freezing eggs. Another bulletin, "Pickles and Relishes" B-188 is a for sale only bulletin. It has preparations information as well as recipes for pickles, relishes and sauces. *****

STEAM FLAKE VS. MICRONIZED GRAIN SORGHUM Recently a feedlot evaluation of steam flaked and micronized grain sorghum was conducted at the Lubbock Feedlot, Dr. Lowell Schake, area extension livestock specialist from Lubbock, assisted in coordinating and conducting this test. The following information was supplied by Dr. Schake in a preliminary report on the feeding test.

INTRODUCTION Micronized grain sorghum has evolved through the combined efforts of Chardo Pierce of Lubbock and research previously reported. Originally, popping of the grain was thought to be essential to increase nutrient availability and was accomplished by dry heat produced by gas fired infra-red burners. Data derived from feeding and digestion trials indicated that popping was not essential. These data suggested that dry heat treatment reducing the grain to about 7 per cent moisture followed by rolling may produce a feed grain with certain unique feeding qualities. The term micronization was coined to describe this heat treatment since microwaves were emitted from the burners used during processing.

PROCEDURE Four hundred uniform Hereford steers were made available for this study by the Lubbock Feedlot. Steers were randomly placed in 1 of 4 lots of 100 head each. Two hundred head of these steers received the steam flake grain and the other 200 head received the micronized grain. One replicate (or 100 steers) on each of the processed grains was treated with anthelmintic drugs. Total weight of each replicate of steers was taken on December 2 and at 50-day intervals thereafter. Grain and ration samples were taken on a weekly interval. Steers averaged 1150 pounds before shipped for slaughter. Detailed carcass data was acquired from a random sample of approximately 35 carcasses from each replicate. Feedlot performance of steers fed rations containing micronized grain rations gained 1.12 lb. more per day than steers fed rations containing steam flaked grain. Conversely, pounds of ration required per pound of live animal gain was 0.20 lb. less for steers fed steam flaked grain rations compared to steers fed micronized grain rations. These data are consistent with field observations comparing steam flaked and popped grain rations. Carcass characteristics tend to be rather uniform except for several minor advantages for carcasses resulting from steers fed micronized grain rations. Most of these differences appear in accordance with observed differences in feedlot performance of the steers. Results of this field trial indicate that both of these processed grains produced carcasses with near equal value with slightly improved feedlot performance of steers fed the micronized grain rations. Most of the improvement in feedlot performance occurred early in the feeding period.

REACHING NEW Heights

Man has explored most of the earth, and has now set out to conquer space. While achieving these marvelous works, let us not forget our creator. "When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained; what is man that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour. Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet..."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Or Suffer Consequences --

Residents Must Clear Property Of Weeds

At the meeting of Texico town fathers last Thursday a resolution was passed to balance the 1968-69 town budget. The commissioners also passed a resolution to the effect that town residents must clear their property of weeds by July 5 or suffer the consequences. If by July 5 the lots have not been cleared of weeds the town employees will clean the property and owners will be billed at the rate of $6.00 per hour for the work involved. A building permit was issued to Johnny Hammit to move a trailer house to his property on Kindred Street to replace the trailer house presently located on the property. Approval was given for Mrs. Clara Lee Wiehl to take a vacation from her duties as town clerk from July 7 through July 21. Next official meeting of the town fathers was postponed from July 8, regular meeting date, to July 22, when Mrs. Wiehl will again be in the office. An application for town marshal was reviewed and tabled due to lack of information on the applicant. The application was that of Robert Birela Tyree from Albuquerque. Persons interested in applying for the marshal's job may do so by obtaining an application blank at the town hall. The Board also agreed to make a special rate to Texico school for water used in irrigating the new football field. The school will be charged 20¢ per 1,000 gallons of water after the first 100,000 gallons have been used. Mrs. Wiehl was instructed to contact the town attorney in regard to platting of town property which has not at this time been plattd, but is inside the town limits.

Nancy Patschke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gil Patschke, who has recently returned from Bluebonnet Girls' State in Austin, shares her experiences with a friend, Sheila Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Garner.

Girl's State, A Unique Experience

By Nancy Patschke
 Girl's State is a mythical 51st state organized and administered for citizenship training purposes. It is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. It is "A Laboratory of Government". It helps to instruct the girls in duties, privileges, and rights of American Citizenship.

It is a belief that from active individual participation in governmental affairs of a mythical state there will come a broader understanding of the responsibilities of the citizenship in a democracy and a deeper appreciation for its great privileges, enable us to understand some of the responsibilities which we would be called upon to assume when becoming an adult.

This unique, tiring, exciting adventure started on the morning of June 10. To be able to arrive on time in Austin, we left Amarillo at the bright hour of 3 a.m., which brought to mind, what I had heard, "Don't plan to get much sleep." After eleven long hours on the bus, all 39 Panhandle girls were ready for whatever they could dish out to us. But that's only what we thought.

The minute we stepped off the bus, it started. From that moment till we left, everything was perfectly planned for us. I seriously don't think I had time enough to sit down and just think things out clearly, but if they hadn't had such a good schedule, there wouldn't have been any way to have gotten everything in.

We had many long interesting assemblies on city, county and state government. When afterward, we would break up first into cities, and then when organized, then the county level and finally the state organization. We discussed the different forms of government and picked the most useful form for our purposes.

Our city, being the largest, chose the strong Mayor-Council type. All the assemblies were very interesting but it was so much easier to understand when we set down and worked it out ourselves. I learned so much from both listening and doing that I know I can now be a better citizen in my city, state and country.

The study of the Legislature was very interesting to me. We had a few assemblies to acquaint us with the basic purposes, duties, etc. of the legislature; then we started regular sessions. I was in the House. At first I was a little scared but after learning the strict parliamentary procedures it was quiet exciting. Once everyone knew what was going on, there developed many heated debates. I guess I really never realized that so much went into passing one simple little resolution or bill. It's also very important for every person to back their Representative so that it will be easier for him to fight for what he's sure his people are for. Every morning we got up at 6:00 a.m. One of the most impressive events was the flag raising each morning, and standing there looking at that magnificent flag flying in that beautiful morning light would start me deeply thinking what it really stood for. It's a great feeling having 500 people proudly saying the pledge of allegiance, and meaning it. It's the greatest feeling in the world to know that I'm a citizen of this United States. Singing was something else that brought us very close together. It was so beautiful to hear 500 voices raising to sing some of the great songs of America. It was inspiring to listen to the words and find the true meaning in our own lives. Functioning in the different levels of government was worthwhile and interesting; there I came to find out what really makes our country as strong as it is.

Every office from city sheriff to governor of the state was elected through a mythical two-party system. The two parties were the Federalists and Nationalists. I was in the grand Fed party. I don't believe that even the national elections could have been more tense, exciting and heated than during our campaign and state elections. The look on the faces of both the girl that won and the girl that lost, was unforgettable.

A highlight of Girl's State was our day at the Capitol. All morning and afternoon we were allowed to meet in the House of Representatives and Senate. It was such a great honor to be able to carry on our legislative duties in the room where the real legislative duties are carried on. At noon we had the inauguration for our state officers in the rotunda of the Capitol.

The mood was set by singing some of the Girl's State songs and some of our country songs; then the inauguration began. In the absence of Gov. Preston Smith, Ben Barnes escorted our newly elected governor, Es-ter Chavez, while the other 10 state officers of Girl's State were escorted in by their respective officers of the state of Texas. After the inauguration Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes talked to us about the importance of our lives in the government and what we should do with them.

We got such great recognition from all over the state and country, Senators in Washington and Representatives in Austin. We were also honored by all the great speakers that took time to speak to us. But I think the greatest honor bestowed on us was during the closing assembly. It was already very touching knowing we had to leave all these great friends, but knowing that this experience would live with us forever.

Miss Golf, our director, instructed us to stand as our guest speaker was being escorted in. We turned only to discover to our complete surprise that former President Lyndon B. Johnson and Lady Bird were walking up the aisle. This was his first public appearance since he had left office. For a great man like him to come speak to us in an old, hot gym has to be one of the greatest things that has ever happened in my life. He talked to us on the future of America, and said that the only way this country could stay great was for girls like us to take hold and show this country what the true meaning of government and democracy means.

I only hope I can stand up to what all that these great people expect me and the rest of the youth of today to do. And this is to establish peace and love and true understanding for everyone.

I want to personally thank everyone that had anything to do with my going to Girl's State. It was a unique experience that I shall never forget.

"BOYS STATE was a wonderful experience and I wish all boys in our local schools had the opportunity to attend," said Larry Duncan, Texico High School representative, upon returning home. George Ortiz was also a delegate to the sessions from the Texico School but was not available for a picture.

Fire Calls Answered

Farwell Fire Department has been called out twice in the past week to wheat field fires. Saturday night at 10:15, a tourist called the department to say that a wheat field, six miles north-east on the Amarillo highway was burning and endangering a house in the vicinity. Upon arrival, the firemen found that a wheat field was burning (had been set to clear the stubble) but no house was in the vicinity. Monday the department made a run two miles south of town on the Stateline Road where a wheat field was on fire.

Texico Fire Department made two runs in an hour's time last Friday. They were first called to an area north of town on Farm Road 108 where a car was burning. By time the firemen were called, the car had already been destroyed. The other run was to an area in west Texico where a motorcycle, belonging to Terry Armstrong, was on fire. The fire was extinguished before the motorcycle was severely damaged.

Commissioners Act As Equalization Board

The Parmer County commissioners court sat as a board of Tax Equalization Monday. Only one person, James Russell from Bovina, appeared before the board. All other business of the body was of a routine nature, with bills for the past month approved for payment and warrants issued for payment of same.

Judge Archie Tarter states that the repair work at the county courthouse is proceeding on schedule. Storm windows are being installed in the structure and the outside of the building and also the outside of the jail are receiving new finish coats.

pretty warm. Also, be sure you don't pack soap; furniture polish; medicine; cleaning compounds or other inflammables in the same carton with groceries.

Q. Can I leave clothing and other items in bureau drawers? A. Yes, but be sure you check those drawers for valuables. Household goods movers will not accept responsibility for money, stamp or coin collections, documents, jewelry, watches or precious stones.

We are drawing near that season when families—by the thousands—start planning their move to a new home. As a result, my mail at Allied Van Lines is getting heavier. And I thought it might be a service to some harried housewives if I passed on some of the questions I am asked most frequently—plus my answers.

Q. Isn't it wise to save space in larger packing containers by filling in the corners with smaller items? A. Generally not, if you're thinking about the containers used for lamps and large mirrors and those used as wardrobes. The smaller pieces might be overlooked in the unpacking and thrown out with the container.

Q. If the move isn't too long a distance, is it feasible to pack food for moving with the other belongings? A. Yes, if you're sure it's the type that will keep. Remember that moving vans can become forces reserve units.
