NEIGHBORHOOD CLEAN-UP--If you happen to be in the vicinity of the corner of East Chicago and East Fir, take a look at a large triangular lot that has been cleaned up through the efforts of several people in the neighborhood. None of the people own the lot, but said they were afraid for their small children to cross the lot which has grown up with tall weeds. Working together on the project are from left, Charles Haight, Connie Haight, Brent Chapman (who asked if he could help) and Frances O' Grady. Neighborhood clean-up would be a good idea for most neighborhoods. Work together. Let's make Muleshoe shine again!

Teachers And Students Affected By Legislation

H. John Fuller, superintendent of the Muleshoe Schools, announces that tomorrow, Monday, August 20, is the first day of instruction for students of the Muleshoe I.S.D.

He said buses will run the regular routes and school opening will be at 8:30 a.m. Teacher hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., said the superintendent.

At Dillman Elementary, Milton Oyler, principal, said that breakfast will be served from 8-8:25 each morning and classes will be from 8:30-3:00. Buses will pick up children at 3:20 at Dillman and then go to the other campuses.

Bill Taylor, principal at Mary DeShazo, states that breakfast will be served from 8-8:15 and classes will begin at 8:20 and continue until 3:20 p.m. Buses will pick up students at 3:20 and then go to the other campuses.

According to Fred Mardis, principal at Watson Junior High, the schedule will be breakfast from 8-8:15; classes begin at 8:20 and continue until 3:40; and buses will run at 3:50. The noon period is from 11:35 to 12:15.

Wayland Ethridge, High School principal, said breakfast would be from 8-8:15; classes from 8:20-3:45; and buses will run at 3:50. The noon hour will be from 12:15-12:45.

Ethridge said that students may pick up their class schedules Monday morning at 8 a.m.

Teachers, aides and administrators attended inservice meetings on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, said Fuller, and used Thursday and Friday as preparation days.

"Parents, teachers and students are certainly faced with a challenge this 1984-85 school year as a result of the passage of H.B. 246 and H.B. 72," said Fuller.

"There are a lot of good things that will happen in education because of this legislation and the impact may be greater than the passage of the Gilmer-Aiken Bill," concluded Fuller.

(editor's note: Because of the major changes in education mandated by HB72, a summary of the bill will be broken in the three parts and will be in this issue and the next two issues of the Bailey County Journal and Muleshoe Journals.)

SUMMARY OF HOUSE BILL 72
Administration and Oversight Legislative Education Board. The Legislative Education Board (LEB) is established, composed of 10 members of the Legislature. The board is responsible for overseeing and reviewing the implementation of legislative education policy, including fiscal policy, and curriculum rules.

State Board of Education. A new State Board of Education (SBOE) composed of 15 members is created and the current board is abolished. Initially, the Governor will appoint a transition board which will serve from the time of preclearance of the election change by the U.S. Department of Justice or January 1, 1985, (whichever is earlier) until January 1, 1989.

Elections will be held for each position on the board at the primary and general elections of 1988. A candidate must be a resident of the district he would represent for at least one year. Members will serve staggered four-year terms. The Governor appoints the chairman for a two-year term.

The Texas Education Code is amended to reflect that the SBOE, not the commissioner of education, makes policy and rules.

Appeals. Appeals from disputes with local school districts are taken to the commissioner of education and then to a district court in Travis County, Appeals by or on behalf of students will be reviewed using the substantial evidence standard.

Lion's Broom, Mop Sale Is Scheduled Wednesday

It's time for the Lion's Club annual broom and mop sale, and Lion Boss Les Irvin and broom sale coordinator, L.T. Johnson urge you to make your annual cleaning supplies next Wednesday.

The truck will be set up on the parking lot of the Muleshoe State Bank between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. and all types of cleaning supplies and equipment will be available.

All the merchandise is quality merchandise and is made totally by the blind. All proceeds are used to help the blind. Over 50 different household aids are available.

They explained that Lighthouses employ blind, deaf-blind and multihandicapped individuals who are unable to find work elsewhere. In addition to employment, Irvin and Johnson said the Lighthouses offer vocational evaluation, vocational training, job placement, social services, and recreational events for the elderly and homebound blind.

Mops and mop heads, sponge mops and squeegees, and dusters are available. Also brooms of various types, including both for home use and industrial use, along with whisk brooms.

Also on sale will be rubber and fiber mats, industrial cleaning supplies, as well as brushes of all kinds, from garage/patio brushes to bowl and counter brushes and grill brushes.

They will have dish towels, pot holders, dust cloths, sponges, dust pans, oven mitts, ironing board covers and pad, pet dishes, fly swatters and other supplies.

Irvin and Johnson say that when you help the blind, you also help yourselves.

Red Cross, Local EMT Slate CPR

On Tuesday and Thursday, September 4 and 6, the South Plains Regional Chapter of the American Red Cross will offer a Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) course in Muleshoe. The class, which will last from 6:30-10 p.m., will be held at the First Baptist Church.

Larry Rasco, of the local EMT organization, will be one of the instructors for the CPR course. Other local EMT's will be assistants.

Carl Hill said the course combines CPR, aid to choking victims, and artificial respiration. He explained that CPR is a technique of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and heart stimulation used to revive victims of heart attacks, poisoning, electrical shock or other causes of cardiac arrest.

Fee for the course is $10. This fee covers the cost of all course materials and student certification. It is payable the day of the course.

Persons over the age of twelve who wish to sign up for the course may do so by calling the First Baptist Church at 272-4224.

HOW ABOUT A NEW BROOM?--Les Irvin, left, and L.T. Johnson, are shown with a worn out broom, and suggest that if your broom, your mop, or your brushes, look something like this, you can purchase new ones during the Lions Club annual broom and mop sale next Wednesday at the Muleshoe State Bank parking lot.

MEAT INSPECTION--The Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 has enhanced sanitary meat slaughtering and processing, but not all packing plants are yet federally inspected. Some 4,000 plants are state inspected, and the inspection is equal to federal levels as required. However, violations still happen, causing further demands for consumer protection, which will likely lead to a mandatory federal meat inspection system nationwide, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. This could lead to tighter federal meat inspection rules as well, which in turn, could reduce beef imports and lead to higher hamburger prices in the U.S.

Use of natural light decreases utility bills A&M prof reminds COLLEGE STATION--For years America's architects have turned their backs on daylight. Now that rejection of free energy is showing up on our utility bills, says a Texas A&M University architect. Raymond Reed, professor of architecture and a member of the American Institute of Architects' Task Force on Energy Conservation, says that daylighting--or the use of natural light--offers "one of the greatest potentials for producing energy efficient buildings--particularly office buildings." Studies have shown that up to 50 percent of a building's energy cost can be attributed to lighting, Reed said. "Architects have become dependent on artificial lighting of spaces. If we can depend on natural light for any portion of the day we save not only the electricity used in fueling the lights, but also the air conditioning that counteracts the heat from those lights," he said. "The idea is that you can design with nature as opposed to overcoming nature with technology," Reed said.

Miss Buckner, Albrecht United In Marriage

MR. AND MRS. DOYLE ALLEN ALBRECHT
(nee Tammy Jean Buckner)

Miss Tammy Jean Buckner of Muleshoe became the bride of Doyle Allen Albrecht of Abernathy Saturday, July 7 at 8 p.m. in the Courtyard of Lonnie's Photography. Rev. Tommy Beck, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Abernathy, read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. F.D. (Buddy) Buckner of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Montgomery of Abernathy. Decorations included: an altar with two potted white mums on each side, setting on two pedestals.

Kathy Tutt of Muleshoe and Darrell Thrash of Ropesville sang "The Rose", "Up Where We Belong" and "You and I". Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza featuring a fitted bodice embellished with white Venise lace scattered seed pearls and iridescents, and a Queen Anne neckline.

The full Bishop sleeves were accented with appliques of Venise lace and edged at the cuffs with matching lace. The natural waistline was encompassed with a string of white Venise lace. The full skirt fell to floor length and flowed to the back in a Chapel length train.

To complete her ensemble the bride wore a mater headpiece. The small silk flowers formed a soft band around her face and was accented by loops of white seed pearls. Iridescents were scattered throughout the garden of flowers. The double layer illusion veil was finished with a rolled edge and fell to fingertip length.

The bridal bouquet consisted of white daisies, white roses, baby blue silk flowers and was carried on her mother's Bible. The bouquet was accented with white streamers.

In keeping with tradition, for something new was her wedding attire, something old was her mother's Bible, something blue was the traditional blue garter. She carried pennies minted in the years of their births.

Miss Tena Landers of Canyon served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Francis Green of Pep and Miss Pam Hutchens of Levelland.

Doug Albrecht, brother of the groom, of Lubbock served as best man. Groomsmen were Dennis Penka and Danny Vest, both of Levelland. Ushers were Dee Buckner, brother of the bride, of Bryan and David Wolbrueck of Levelland.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tillema. Mrs. Donna Buckner, sister in law of the bride registered the guests. Members of the house party included: Mrs. Helen Free, Mrs. Waonnie Fraizer, Mrs. Betty Steinbock, Mrs. Ann Lacey, Mrs. Shirley Farmer and Mrs. Lynda Tillema.

Sheere Montgomery, sister in law of the groom, made the three tiered wedding cake. Miss Dora Black of Levelland and Cindy George of Morton served at the bride's table.

Serving at the groom's table was Carol Tutt of Lubbock.

Erika Stark, Meldoy and Sarah Montgomery, Kaiynn Breiting and Vaughn Montgomery, all nieces of the groom, passed out rice bags.

The bride is a 1981, graduate of Muleshoe High School and a 1984, graduate of South Plains College. Albrecht graduated from Abernathy High School in 1982, and South Plains College in 1984. The couple will make their home in Lubbock.

Out of town wedding guests were registered from Bryan, Abernathy, Dalhart, Eastland, Farwell, Morton, Lubbock and Wheeler.

A rehearsal supper was held at Big Boy's Bar-B-Que, hosted by the groom's parents.

ODDLY ENOUGH!

In flight, mosquitoes beat their wings about 1,000 times a second, reaching speeds of eight miles per hour, making their familiar humming sound. Mosquitoes are like helicopters in that they don't run to start or stop flying; they lift up immediately after their wings start beating and must flap their wings constantly to stay aloft.

High Plains Hospital
Modifies Obstetrics Unit

In late July, the Obstetrics unit at Clovis High Plains Hospital became the proud owner of an Adel birthing bed. The bed is considered state-of-the-art equipment that modifies the OB unit considerably.

Several of CHPH's employees went back to OB to take a closer look. Lee Smith, RN and head nurse on OB, explained the details of the birthing bed.

"The bed is structured so that the mother can position herself on the bed however she is most comfortable. She does not have to lie flat on her back as she would on the conventional bed. The top half of the bed moves so the mother can go from lying down to sitting almost upright," Smith said.

She went on to explain that if the lower section is left on, the birthing bed looks like a conventional bed. But if that part is removed or lowered, the bed is almost like a chair because the mother can be in a sitting position.

Smith said, "Another nice feature of this bed is that the padded arm rests are adjustable. Also, instead of conventional stirrups, the bed has adjustable foot rests. This way we can adjust the bed and its features to fit the mother."

The CHPH personnel who sat on this cushioned birthing bed thought it was extremely comfortable. Kathy Dionne, RN and Director of education at CHPH, said, "Now that CHPH has this will be my third baby, and I think this new bed is going to be great."

According to Smith, the mothers who have already used the bed have found it to be very comfortable.

Right now the bed is only being used for delivery. Eventually, the room where the bed is located will be redecorated and furnished so that it can be used as a "birthing room" for both labor and delivery. Smith said that initially the birthing room will probably be offered to low-risk couples who have attended childbirth classes and want to use it.

This is just one of several innovations the OB department plans to implement in the near future.

In the past five years, long distance telephone companies have redefined the long distance industry. Here's why:

Competition for the long distance dollar is completely redefining the market. With the breakup of the Bell System on January 1, 1984, the courts ruled that MCI, Sprint, NTS Communications and others could compete equally with AT&T for long distance revenue. Time should eventually bring competition to all communities.

Here's how you can take advantage of this phenomenal growth.

NTS Communications, Inc. of Lubbock, Texas is expanding its West Texas network. If you would like further information and disclosure on our franchise please contact us at 806-762-4565.

Know Your Food Additives

Food additives are found in grocery products ranging from baby foods to coffee creamer. In fact, Americans swallow about five to ten pounds of emulsifiers, preservatives, flavorings, colorings, acids and vitamins in their food each year.

Yet few consumers can distinguish between products that use additives for a useful purpose, versus those that use additives to make a less-nutritious product more attractive, says Marilyn Haggard, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

On the positive side, she says, preservatives help prevent spoilage, while emulsifiers keep water and oil mixed together. Vitamins and minerals add nutritional value.

According to the nutritionist, some of the most common useful additives include:

Calcium propionate--inhibits mold growth in bread.

Polysorbate 60--an emulsifier. Beta carotene--an artificial coloring that the body converts to vitamin A.

Citric acid--an acid that occurs naturally in citrus fruit.

Thiamin mononitrate--a nutrient (vitamin B-1).

Carboxymethyl cellulose -- a thickening agent.

Sorbic acid--a preservative. Casein--a protein that is obtained from milk.

Vanillin--the main flavor component of vanilla.

However, shoppers should be concerned when additives are used as a replacement for nutritional foods, says Haggard. For example, thickening agents are sometimes used to make a food look rich and thick, even if it contains smaller amounts of ingredients than a competing brand.

Artificial colorings and flavorings are sometimes substituted for fruit, chocolate or other real foods, she explains. Caramel coloring can make white bread look like whole wheat bread.

We enjoyed Rose Sebring attending the Sing-A-Long Wed. Rose is visited just about every day by her sister-in-law Mrs. Walter Sebring.

Mrs. Winnie Berry visited Wed. We were glad to see her.

We too have been enjoying the nice vegetables grown around Muleshoe. We really do thank Ruth Hall for bringing enough green beans, ready to cook, for the residents a meal.

We think our volunteers are doing a great job. Thank you volunteers.

Barbara Morris is in the West Plains Medical Center this time. We miss her and hope she will be back with us soon.

Social Security News and Views

Nearly everyone in the Lubbock area who applies for a Social Security number remembers to bring evidence of age and citizenship, but many forget to bring evidence of identity.

Evidence of identity is always requested before the Social Security number can be assigned, no matter how young the person is. This rule applies to infants and small children as well as adults.

A person applying for a Social Security number usually needs at least 2 pieces of evidence: one to establish age and citizenship and the other to establish identity.

The best evidence of age and citizenship is a public birth certificate established before a person's 5th birthday which was issued by a U.S. State or local government. Of course a foreign born person needs the appropriate immigration or naturalization records as well.

Some people find it difficult to find evidence of identity for infants or young children. Examples of documents that can be used include vaccination certificates; newspaper birth announcement; day care or nursery school record; adoption records; or doctor, clinic, or hospital record.

Older children can use school records, membership in Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts or other youth organization, report cards, ID card, or welfare case record.

In fact, any document that gives enough identifying data to establish proper identity can be used.

Parents who apply for a Social Security number for a child must also provide evidence of their own identity in addition to the required evidence for the child.

Only original or copies certified by the issuing agency can be used. Uncertified or notarized photocopies are not acceptable.

U.S. citizens applying for a replacement Social Security card to replace a lost card need evidence of their identity, while foreign-born persons need evidence of current U.S. citizenship or lawful alien status as well as identity.

People reporting name changes need evidence of identity under both the old and new names before a card can be issued.

Although people 18 or over who are applying for a Social Security number for the first time must apply in person, others may apply by mail. Social Security will return all original proofs submitted to the applicant promptly. Documents issued by the Immigration and Naturalization Service should not be mailed.

More information about applying for Social Security numbers can be obtained at the Lubbock Social Security office, located at 1611-10th. Street, Suite 100, Lubbock, Texas. The telephone number is 743-7381. A free booklet can be obtained which tells about other evidence that can be used.

HARVEST-AID PROGRAM FOR COTTON--Harvest-aid compounds can help farmers get a better grade of cotton and consequently a better price, says a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. With stripper harvesting, a harvest-aid program can cut ginning costs and improve grades by first dropping the leaves with a defoliant such as DEF or DROPP and then applying asenac acid, sodium chlorate or paraquat. Apply a defoliant when at least 65 percent of the bolls are open, or use a desiccant when bolls are 75 to 80 percent open. Adding methyl parathion to a tank mix with the defoliant or desiccant will help control late-migrating boll weevils.

Best? One of the best face-saving ideas is to keep the lower half of it shut.

Comment On Sports

GOLF *****
By Pete Fritche

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The National Open at Winged Foot demonstrated how much pressure a tough course can put on even the best of golf's pros.

It seems almost unbelievable, but only two pros were the co-leaders, Fuzzy Zoeller and Greg Norman, the Australian who came from behind on the final nine holes with amazing chip shots and putts.

Zoeller played magnificent golf and is a favorite of the fans because of his good nature, talkativeness and casual demeanor. Norman looked like a hungry bounty hunter that final day, determined, tense and dead-serious. They were a perfect contrast, but Zoeller proved the cooler number in winning the playoff.

Players like Jack Nick-laus, Gary Player and Tom Watson soared many strokes over par. So did everyone else. That raises the question whether the par-70 rating for Winged Foot is proper, and whether the course is too tough.

The one major oversight of the Open's directors was in not making a special exception and inviting Arnold Palmer. Palmer means much to the game; his absence was awkward and unnecessary.

It would have caused no problem to have Palmer participate--and that exception would not have caused future problems. There are only two or three in the game today with such a remarkable record over the years. That surely can be taken into account at the National Open.

HANSEN SENTENCED
Rep. George Hansen, (R-Idaho) was sentenced recently to five to 15 months in prison and was fined $40,000 for failing to disclose more than $245,000 in loans and $87,475 in profits in the silver futures market from 1979 to 1982. The conviction will be appealed.

ON THRILL RIDES
Since 1981, an average of nearly 10,000 people a year have been injured on amusement park rides, almost a 50 percent increase from 1980, the year before federal authority in the area was cut back.

43 DUMP SITES
The EPA has failed to include 43 "sufficiently dangerous" toxic waste dumps in 11 states on a priority cleanup list, a labor-environmental coalition said recently.

ESTIMATE DOWN
The nation's farmers are expected to harvest 1.97 billion bushels of winter wheat this year, down marginally from last month's estimate and 1 percent less than last year's crop, the government said recently.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek discusses thinking this week, perhaps.

The ability to think ahead is fairly rare, I think.

For instance, a couple of satellites put up in space by the U.S. are mal-functioning. Either a fuse blew or a wire came loose or something, because the things aren't sending any signals back to earth.

So on the next shuttle trip an astronaut is going to ease out of his ship, attempt to hook on to one of the satellites, bring it aboard, and try to fix it.

To get a hold on the thing, the astronaut will carry a long pipe, try to ram it up the exhaust pipe of the satellite, hope it locks into place, and pull in aboard.

Here's where thinking ahead comes in. Looks like somebody at the space center would have said, "Say, what if we have to capture a wayward satellite sometimes? Wouldn't it be a good idea to weld an iron ring on the outside so an astronaut could fasten a rope to it?"

Apparently nobody thought of it, and as a result can you think how ticklish a job it's going to be for an astronaut, while floating around in space, to try to run a pipe up an exhaust pipe of a floating satellite?

Space scientists aren't the only ones failing to think ahead. I know a man who told his son, "If you don't stop dawdling in front of that TV set and get your home work, I'm gonna turn it off for the rest of the evening." His son kept dawdling and the man strode over to the set and snapped it off, forgetting it was Monday night and a football game he wanted to see was coming on.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Computerized price scanning systems in grocery stores mean speedier checkouts, and can mean lower grocery bills -- if you read the receipts. "Many people throw away the computer generated receipts listing each item, size and price without realizing that they provide an ideal way to keep track of food costs," says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist Bonnie L. Piernot. Consumers can use the receipt information to determine how much they spend in certain categories, such as food and non-food items; or meat, vegetables, packaged products, convenience foods and staples. Reviewing the scanner receipt helps identify impulse buying and categories where spending could be cut, says the home economist.

Joe Reap, State Department press officer, on cutback on outside shipments of food, clothing, etc., to Soviet citizens:

"We can only assume that it is their intent to further restrict contacts with persons outside the USSR."

PICKUP BECOMES VICTIM OF RAIN--This pickup was spotted on FM1760 during the very heavy rains last week. It is one of many vehicles that fell victim to the mud and water.
