Farwell Street Work Completed Tuesday

Thirteen blocks of street paving in Farwell, that has been under construction the past few weeks, was completed Tuesday afternoon and Special Foreman J. B. Sparks moved his crew and machinery back to the District Highway Headquarters at Muleshoe on Wednesday.

Programs launched early in the year by the Chamber of Commerce to get Avenue A paved from curb-to-curb, a distance of seven blocks through the business section, and a second program to pave Third Street a distance of six blocks was taken over by the State Highway Department, with local citizens paying part of the cost of the materials used.

Along Avenue A (main street) the property owners paid for the installation of curbs and guttering and the Highway Department provided without additional cost, the extensions of paving the street the full width.

On the Third Street job, the cost of the materials was paid for by local capital with the Highway Department doing the work. A 20-foot slab of paving was laid along Third Street a distance of six blocks. In addition to the 20-foot slab, a parking apron was laid in front of the county court house. Citizens of Farwell are indebted to A. L. Tandy for starting the Third Street project.

Efforts were made to get additional paving laid while the crew was in town, including a loop around the court house, but officials of the Highway Department turned thumbs down on other suggestions. While here Foreman Sparks hauled in several truckloads of dirt to fill in low places on private property.

Farwell citizens found Mr. Sparks and his crew members a very congenial group and appreciate the benefits they brought to this city.

Commissioners Set Equalization Date

The Parmer County Commissioner's Court, in session here Monday, set Monday, June 2, at 2:00 p. m. at the courthouse as the time and place when the Court sets as a Board of Equalization, and all interested parties are invited to present matters concerning tax adjustments.

County Clerk Loyde Brewer said that to date only three firms in the county had asked for hearings, but any property owner having tax adjustment complaints to register may do so at that time. Those asking for hearings to date are: Sherley Grain Co., Bovina; Henderson Grain & Seed Co., Farwell; and Parmer County Community Hospital, Friona.

Other matters handled at Monday's meeting included the purchase of a town lot in Bovina from Mrs. Rosa Hamlin to be used as county property. Sheds housing county road machinery are located on the property.

The Court authorized payment of current bills.

Housing For Teachers Already In Demand

Supt. Jack Williams of the Farwell schools, is this week making an appeal for housing accommodations for school teachers for the coming school term, and has asked that persons having a living accommodations of any description to contact him at once.

Faculty members for the local schools, both in Texico and Farwell, are being lined up, and Williams said that about the first question asked was about housing facilities. He said that single bedrooms, apartments and small houses were in demand and asked the co-operation of the citizenship in helping to solve the shortage.

"We can't bring additional teachers here unless we can find a place for them to live," he observed.

Fire Destroys Small Shed Monday Night

Originating from an unknown cause, fire practically destroyed a small shed at the Percy Tipton home in Farwell shortly before 10 o'clock Monday night.

The fire department made a quick run to the scene and had the flames out on short notice, although the building was practically consumed before the fire was discovered. Tipton said that the building contained a few sacks of cow feed and estimated the cost of the feed at "around $15.00." The building and other contents, he said, had little value.

Water Shortage Threat Faces Texico-Farwell

For the first time since the present system was put into operation some years ago, a serious water shortage threatens the users of Texico-Farwell.

This was the emphatic prediction of V. C. Venable, superintendent of the local system, in an interview with a Tribune reporter. Venable has been in charge of the system for the past 18 months and Monday afternoon was the first time he has been on the job that the water tank was completely drained.

Fearing that a serious leak had developed in the lines, Venable said that he made a thorough investigation at once and discovered no water being lost. "It's just a case of our system being overtaxed," he said and went on to explain that during the past few months an additional 51 meters have been attached to the mains. Lawns and gardens, coupled with dry weather, he said, have increased the water consumption.

Venable said that recent tests made by fire insurance inspectors, had revealed that while the two pumps at the plant were lifting an average of 400 gallons per minute above the ground, only an estimated 250 gallons was being hoisted into the water tower 125 feet above the ground.

Venable had the following suggestions to offer in conserving the water supply during the emergency:

Use all water sparingly, especially on lawns and gardens.

Cut down the flow through air conditioners.

Reduce the frequency of car washings.

Cut off all hydrants when the fire siren sounds in order to give pressure for fire fighting.

Emphasizing how critical the water shortage really is, Venable said that he had a full tank of 40,000 gallons of water on hand at 6 a. m. Tuesday morning, and by 11 o'clock the same morning the tank was completely empty.

He said that he had made a number of tests and was convinced that the two wells were not failing and the pumps are keeping up their usual rate of pumping at full capacity.

Waterworks officials have been pondering a pending water shortage for some months and have been making efforts to meet the expected emergency, only to find that the serious steel shortage has bottlenecked any expansion program that might be undertaken at the present time. Furthermore, any expansion job that might be undertaken would necessitate temporary shut-down of the system that would make the shortage even more acute.

It was the consensus of opinion that the most practical thing to do right now was to lessen the water consumption . . . or else!

CURB WORK CONTINUES

Work on laying of curbs and gutters on the north end of Friona's Main Street is continuing, under the direction of H. H. Weis, contractor, following upheaval of the work for several days due to showers. The work is being paid for by the city, at the conclusion of which the State Highway Department will pave the street from curb to curb. Part of Main already has the curb to curb paving, and completion of the current phase will insure an all-weather road the length of the street.

Brush Fire Provides Fast Practice Run

A brush fire in the alley at the rear of the B. N. Graham home gave the local fire department a practice run last Wednesday, shortly after dark.

An accumulation of brush and uprooted trees that had practically blocked the alley for months, was allegedly touched off by the fire boys to provide the practice run. No damage to nearby buildings resulted and the fire was put out in a short time.

STILL IN JAIL HERE

Elbert Pollen, 20-year-old Muleshoe lad, is being held in the Parmer County jail to answer burglary charges. In his preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Jess Newton, his bond was set at $2,500, which he had not made early this week.

Pollen is alleged to have burglarized four places of business in Lariat and Muleshoe during the past month.

First Car New Wheat Received In Farwell

The first carload of 1948 wheat arriving in Texico-Farwell was reported late Tuesday afternoon by C. M. Henderson of the Henderson Grain & Seed Co. in Farwell.

He said all the receipts received to date had come from the irrigated farms in the West Camp Community, and was of excellent grade. The best wheat brought in thus far came from the Jack Williams farm in the West Camp community, which was of the Wichita variety and weighed 64 pounds to the bushel.

Williams reported that the yield was averaging around 25 bushels to the acre.

Harvesting of wheat produced on dry land is not expected to get under way for a few days yet. Ray Ford of the Farwell Elevator, said that he had a customer who was making plans to begin his harvest on Friday of this week.

M. C. Roberts of the Roberts Seed Co. reported no local receipts at his elevator here, but added that he had been receiving some new grain at his Clovis elevator.

Farm-To-Market Roads To Be Completed Soon

With the topping and seal coat already applied on the 12-mile stretch of farm-to-market road leading south out of Friona completed the latter part of last week, work on the 9-mile strip from Farwell to Oklahoma Lane school house was expected to be finished this week.

Drainage structures and the cache base was laid on the two projects during the past winter, and the final topping was held up awaiting warm weather.

They are the two first farm-to-market jobs to be done in the county, and are looked upon as a forerunner to a series of such projects to be carried out in the county during the coming months. County-wide civic leaders have been meeting at various times during the past few weeks in an effort to launch a road-building program in this county that will bring a series of projects badly needed in the rural sections.

Street Work In Texico Nearing Completion

Street work in Texico, which has been in progress for the past week, is nearing completion and should be concluded this week, Mayor O. W. Francis stated early this week.

The work is being done by county machinery with crews maintained by the county, sent here at the request of the Texico Town Council. Francis said that once the streets are put up in good condition he believes it will be possible to keep them properly maintained with the use of the light maintainer owned by the city.

He expressed his appreciation for the co-operation on the part of the Texico citizenship in carrying forward the street work, "although we did have a little static," he added.

MOTHER QUITE LOW

W. S. Menefee, county commissioner of the Lazbuddy district, returned home Monday night from Greenville, where he was called by the illness of his mother, Mrs. C. J. Linton, 80, who has cancer of the stomach with little hope for her recovery.

Additional oil activity in this section came to the forefront the first of the week when the Sunray Oil Company began moving equipment in for a wildcat test in the Lazbuddy community, about 20 miles directly east of Farwell.

The legal description is the NE 1/4 of the NE 1/4 of Sec. 23 Douden-Keifer subdivision, Parmer County, and the land belongs to Finis Kimbrough. Those familiar with the surroundings describe the location as about two miles east of the twin houses on the Farwell-Lazbuddy road.

Information here in Farwell said that a contract had been signed for a test that will go to 10,000 feet unless oil or gas is found in paying quantities at a lesser depth. The same source said that the Sunray Co. was planning "three or four" tests in this county in the near future. At least ten tests will be made in Parmer and Castro Counties, it was stated here.

This will be the second deep test made in Parmer County in recent years. The Sharp No. 1 wildcat, drilled about five miles northeast of Farwell two years ago, was abandoned as a duster after drilling to a 10,000 foot depth.

Sinking of the Kimbrough test will be the second to be in progress at this time. The other test is being made some 25 miles northeast of here in the vicinity of the Garcia Lake in Deaf Smith County.

Wheat Harvest Due In About 2 Weeks

Although the wheat harvest in Parmer County will be exceedingly light this year, observers here today predicted that the harvest would get underway in about two weeks.

Only a few fields of the county will be cut this year, on account of the dry weather that has prevailed since the wheat was sown last fall. A large part of the county's acreage has been plowed up, and only a few fields remain to be harvested. The best wheat in the county is reported to be located north of Bovina, and the most enthusiastic estimate on the best fields of that area place the yield at 15 to 20 bushels to the acre, with many fields being placed in time 5 to 10 bushel class.

Warning Issued To Paving Damages

The Parmer County Commissioners Court has issued a warning to residents of the county on the apparent careless practice of doing damage to pavement in the county.

Most of the damage is blamed on farmers who are careless about getting on pavement with steel-wheeled implements, which is a violation of the law. Actually, in more than one case, farmers have driven heavy steel disc machines onto the pavement while making turns in their fields.

An official of the State Highway Department met with the commissioners here Monday and suggested that when it became necessary that heavy machinery be moved across the pavement that old casings be placed on the steel wheels to protect the paving surfaces. "We are going to be forced to crack down on some of the offenders unless the practice is stopped," he warned.

Getting Ready For New Ford Show

Attachees at the Sikes Motor Co., in Farwell were "cleaning house" Tuesday in preparation for the first showing of the new 1949 Ford cars that will be on display here on Friday of this week.

All merchandise items, usually carried in the showrooms of the building were being carried to the rear and stored to make way for the showing. O. C. Sikes said that he had been promised at least two models for Friday's showing, but more recent developments indicated that he would be able to obtain but one of the new cars.

MATTHEWS INJURED

W. J. Matthews, living six miles south on the state line, has been under a physician's care this week, following an injury he sustained last Friday when he attempted to crank a gasoline engine that operates a grain loader. His injuries are not considered of a serious nature.

FROM THE HOPPER

By HOP

While enjoying a game of pool in a local parlor last Wednesday night, Sonny Graham heard the fire alarm. Three blasts indicated that the fire was in Farwell. "If it's in Farwell, I hope it's the print shop," Sonny offered as he and his companion, Junior Robertson, jumped into their car and took off behind the fire truck. As he neared the scene of the fire he began to feel that his wish was a reality. The brush fire was only a few feet to the rear of the printing office.

A dissatisfied customer came back to Bob Kyker to inform him that he "didn't like that xxxx farmer haircut you gave me a few minutes ago." After standing around a few minutes, however, he soon discovered that that was the only kind of haircuts Bob could do.

Commenting on the influx of newcomers to the Twin Cities during recent weeks, Sterlyn Billington observed that we could use a few of "them Yankees" to bolster our population and business interests.

A local citizen observed that John and Sam Aldridge actually gave more time to civic matters than they did to their own business. And this writer agreed wholeheartedly.

It is Cayson Jones' belief that there are far too few people in any small town who take part in civic matters of their own community.

Health Notes
By Texas Department of Health

ASUTIN—Seasonal advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports was released from the State Health Department today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Lakes and ponds of unknown depth, and streams of unfamiliar currents are often the site of picnics and excursions, and the usual life-guard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools is, of course, not available in such places.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health, provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted. "Nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety are disregarded through carelessness or thoughtlessness."

The State Health Officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming safely: at least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water; upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore, and don't re-enter the water; if chilled, leave the water immediately; do not enter the water when over-heated; learn to float—this is important; never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun; and never swim in water that may be polluted. "Outdoor excursions, picnics, and swimming parties contribute much to a healthy, happy, normal life," Dr. Cox said. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these pleasures from our summer program, but it is important that they prove beneficial and not disastrous."

PENAFIEL, Portugal — Curious when the family of a man suspected of illicit slaughtering of cattle refused to rise from their beds when the police called, the anti-black market squad took strong measures to force them out. Under the mattresses and in the pillows were hidden legs of beef and shoulders of mutton, cutlets and steaks. Even the grandfather clock was full of meat.

VETERAN'S NEWS

Eligible veterans who want to take courses under the GI Bill that cost more than $500 for the normal school year may do so by trading training time for the extra cost, the Veterans Administration reports.

The additional charge in training time will be at the rate of one day for each $2.10 of the excess charge above the $500 maximum allowed by law.

Veterans desiring to enroll in excess cost courses must authorize VA to pay the full charges by filling in forms provided for that purpose.

To prevent overpayments of subsistence allowance, the Veterans Administration urges ex-GI students and their schools to notify VA as soon as a veteran breaks off or completes his program.

A veteran student in training under the GI Bill is not entitled to subsistence allowances after the date he interrupts or completes his training. In some cases, veterans stop their training and receive additional payments before VA is notified of their change in status. All such overpayments must be refunded to the government.

Advance notice is preferable whenever a decision is made to discontinue training. However, prompt notice immediately after such a break in training will prevent most overpayments.

About 40,000 schools and colleges have been approved to train World War II veterans under the GI Bill and Public Law 16. Over 700,000 training establishments have been approved to give job-training under the same laws.

True Stories of West Texans

(By N. H. KINCAID)

J. WRIGHT MOAR, BUFFALO HUNTER

As the young woodcutter pocketed his pay and turned to leave the quartermaster's building at Fort Hays, Kansas, his eye chanced on a printed statement. True, it was in the form of a personal letter and being read by another man, but the contents were interesting indeed—especially since the woodcutter was now out of a job.

"Pardon me, Sir," he said to the stranger, "but this man Lobenstein," and he pointed to the signature of the letter in the stranger's hand, "is he really paying people to kill buffaloes?"

Charlie Rath turned angrily toward the intruder, but seeing the anxious eagerness in the youngster's eyes, stifled his retort.

"Yes," he found himself explaining, "Lobenstein is hiring Charles Myere and me to furnish him these buffalo hides. An English firm wants 500 for experimental purpose. If you are interested, go see him. He is located in Fort Leavenworth, and is a reputable fur dealer."

So met two men who were destined to help write the pages of Plains history from Dodge City, Kansas, to the Concho country of West Texas. J. Wright Moar was hired by Lobenstein to fill a prorate part of the 500 quota, and in doing so, had 57 hides left over. These were sent by Moar to his brother John in New York with the request that he try to sell them, perhaps to some tanner or leather-making firm.

Big incidents swing on little hinges. The bales of hides were seen by a Pennsylvania tanner who bought them, and for $3.50 a hide, tested them, and ordered 2000 more at the same price.

And this is where the history part comes in. For it was this order that launched the Big Buffalo Kill of the seventies. This was in 1872, and John hurried to join his brother who was already hunting and selling a few buffalo hides and meat to Charlie Rath, who had sent up his own store in Dodge City.

The Moar brothers formed a hunters company, hiring their men and furnishing the equipment. In 1873 they, with other hunters, swung down into the Texas Panhandle, entering in the present Hansford county. They were followed within a few months by two different merchandizing firms—that of A. C. Meyers and of Charlie Rath. These men, together with James Hanrahan, saloon keeper, and Tom O'Keefe, blacksmith, located at what became known as Adobe Walls.

But that is another story. Suffice it to say that the industry reached immense proportions within the next five years. It swept down the high Plains, with Fort Griffin becoming the central merchandizing point in 1876, assisted by Hide Town (Snyder), and Rath City or Reynolds the two following years.

And always the Moar brothers' firm was on the field. When the buffalo had been exterminated and the industry closed in 1879, J. Wright Moar had already started into the ranching business. He located north of present Snyder, and the pailins of West Texas became his home thereafter.

Farms Triple Use Of 'Bottled Gas'

DALLAS.—Use of "bottled gas," which now performs a variety of jobs on farms and ranches, has increased 299 per cent since 1941, according to the Oil Industry Information Committee. "Bottled gas" refers to such gases as butane and propane which can be stored in portable containers under high pressure.

Indicative of the changes that have taken place during and since the war as almost every phase of farm and ranch operation have been mechanized, bottled gas is used not only for cooking and for home and water heating, but to operate brooders and incubators as well. Individual users of bottled gas, other than industrial users but including agricultural consumers, now total over 4,500,000.

FRESH TOMATOES ARE PLENTIFUL THIS YEAR

COLLEGE STATION.—There will be lots of fresh tomatoes on the market in June, the USDA reports. Supplies will be coming in throughout the country from Texas, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, California, South Carolina and Louisiana.

Myrtle Murray, extension home marketing specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says the reason for the extra supply is from an overlapping of crops in the South. In parts of Texas, Georgia and Florida, the mid-March freeze made replanting necessary. So tomatoes in these areas got off to a slow start, while in other areas they are ripening at the usual time.

Another reason for the unusual abundance is that tomatoes that are usually marketed in Canada will be on the U. S. markets, since Canada is not importing them this year. In other years Canada bought over a thousand carloads.

These lentiful fresh tomatoes are expected to be of good quality, says Miss Murray. Shopping housewives can plan many fresh tomato salads for June.

ERNEST O. NORTHCUTT

Candidate For Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals

Ernest Northcutt became interested in law at an early age, worked his way through law school, received his law degree and entered private practice in Amarillo in 1919.

Judge Northcutt practiced law in Amarillo until he was elected County Judge of Potter County in 1940. He is now serving his fourth elective term.

Ernest Northcutt has tried cases in all Courts over the Panhandle. His trial work carried him into the State and Federal Courts and into all Appellate Courts, State and Federal. He is familiar with the duties of the Office of Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. He has tried hundreds of Civil cases. THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE.

Judge Northcutt is 56 years old, married and has three children. He is active in civic work, a member of the Baptist Church and was President of the West Texas Judge's and Commissioner's Association in 1947.

Presenting Candidacy To Voters Of County

Judge Ernest O. Northcutt has been visiting in Parmer County in the presentation of his candidacy for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, Texas.

Judge Northcutt was born on a farm in Parker county fifty-six years ago. His father, Elihugh Northcutt, settled in Bell County, Texas, in 1853, from Tennessee, and moved to Parker County in 1870. Becoming interested in law at an early age, Ernest Northcutt worked at night and went to school in the daytime to pay his way through the Law School of Oklahoma University. He graduated in 1919, received his Bachelor of Laws Degree, and moved to Amarillo where he entered the private practice of law in 1919.

Judge Northcutt is married and has three children: a girl and a boy in college and a boy in Junior High School. He has been active in civic work for many years, a member of the Baptist Church, and President of the West Texas Judge's and Commissioners' Association in 1947. Judge Northcutt is now serving his fourth elective term as County Judge of Potter County, Texas.

Soil exploitation in this country began as long as three hundred years ago. Today our account with Nature's bank is overdrawn.

You Still Have Time To Plant Some Varieties Of Shrubbery

COLLEGE STATION.—If you have been slow about putting out cuttings of your favorite shrubs, take heart. You still have time to grow some of the plants. Cutting of most of the plants can be grown at this time, but you will need to give them plenty of water and some shade, says Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College.

Shrubs and trees are not the only things that can be grown from cuttings. Some of the ordinary plants such as pinks, caranations, tomatoes, and many others can be grown from cuttings, too.

During the early part of the growing season plants may root within a few hours after being placed in the warm moist soil.

Wood the size of a new pencil is about right, although larger or smaller pieces may be used. Select young cut stems of shrubs and trees, but they should be old enough to be hard. Take off all the leaves except the top two of each cutting. If many of the leaves are left on, the cutting may die, and if no leaves are left on, rooting may be slow. Plant three-fourths or more of the cutting underground. Keep the cuttings moist, well-drained and in half shade. Some people plant their cuttings on the north side of the house. For plants that are liable to wilt, some people turn fruit jars over their cuttings, and put a light shade over the jar. The jar becomes a small greenhouse for each cutting.

Sikes Motor Co.
FARWELL, TEXAS

Now is a very good time to think of rooting some of your favorite shrubs and trees for your friends, says Miss Hatfield. They will make nice gifts for next Christmas. The plants may be grown in pots, tin cans or in the open ground.

CO-OP TRACTOR TIRES

CONTROLLED: QUALITY — PRICE — CONSTRUCTION

The unusual lug design of this big husky tire is what gives your tractors more pull, less waste motion. Firmly buttressed to the heavy undertread, these deep rectangular lugs are powerfully braced to give extra years of service. They bite in, they forge ahead, regardless of soil conditions.

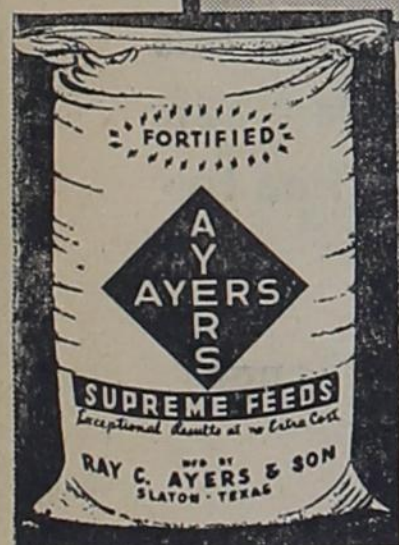

Each lug meets the soil squarely, assuring a full bite of the tread from shoulder to shoulder.

Scientific spacing and curvature of the lugs forces mud and clay out as the wheel turns. Mud pockets don't form. You get positive traction in any type of soil.

Strong plies of powerful cord fabric give this tire the inner strength to support the massive lugs, take punishing treatment without weakening of the tire.

Facts About Cotton To Be Presented July 22

DALLAS.—Facts on the kind of cotton American manufacturers want and other information on domestic markets for cotton and cottonseed products will be featured at the afternoon session of the opening day of the ninth annual Cotton Research Congress in Dallas, July 22, Gibb Gilchrist, College Station, program chairman, has announced.

H. A. Burow, Bonham, president of the Texas Manufacturers Association, will preside at this session, which follows a morning program devoted to cotton's opportunities through world recovery.

Qualities of cotton desired by manufacturers will be discussed by Claude L. Welch, director, cotton production and marketing division, National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tennessee.

Doctor N. R. Whitney, economist Procter and Gamble, Cincinnati, will speak on domestic markets for cottonseed products.

The value of commodity exchanges will be the subject of W. A. Wooten, vice-president, First National Bank, Memphis, Tennessee.

Open forum discussion, led by authorities on each subject, will follow the presentation of papers by these speakers.

General theme for the three-day Congress, sponsored by the State-wide Cotton Committee of Texas and to be attended by an estimated three thousand persons, is "Cotton Counts Its Opportunities". Sessions the second day, July 23, will be devoted to technical research and farm production, with the final day's program built around extensive displays of the latest farm machinery at the State Fair of Texas.

Who pays for TELEPHONE EXPANSION?

Investors Do!

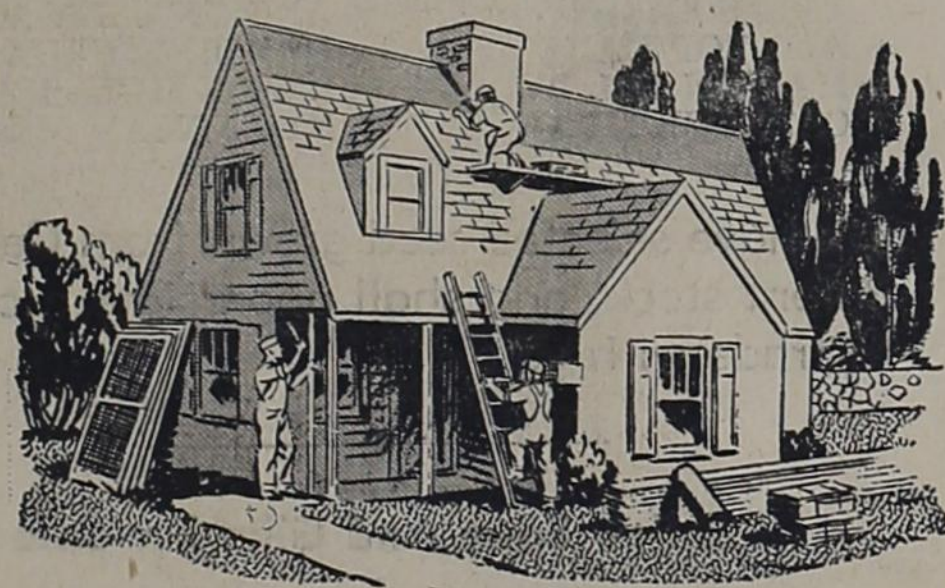

The money we use to build new telephone facilities comes from people with money to invest in telephone stocks and bonds.

On the other hand, the dollars we receive for telephone service are used to pay wages, taxes, and other operating costs.

Whenever you see a new telephone building going up—or new cable being laid or new poles being set—you can be sure that it is made possible by the invested savings of many people.

It takes investment money and lots of it (about $28,000,000 last year) for the new telephone facilities we are adding to provide more and better service.
