

We feel like datelining this column from Alaska after last weekend's chilly weather and snowfall. However, unlike our more northern cousins, we have to look hard today, Monday, to find traces of our Friday and Saturday snow.

We do not have the exact measurements around the Twin Cities, but read in the Lubbock AJ where they have had in excess of 12 inches of snow so far this season. This is almost four times last year's recorded 3.2 inches in the Hub city.

Also in the odd weather pattern, we notice where Mulehoe reported a minus one degree for their low point. This has got to be most unusual for so early in the fall scheme of things.

Having been on the Ole Baldies for more than several moons now, we will not hazard any sort of prediction for the rest of the winter months. It can range all the way from a "Woolly Bear Winter" to our more usual, very dry and quite moderate one.

For the true blue football fan, heaven is just around the corner. The state high school playoffs are starting and they will be three or four weeks in unreeling. The college games are now deciding conference championships and bowl bids. The Pro boys are tightening up on their division races with each game vital. Soon the television screen will be a constant Saturday and Sunday of grunt and groan and pass and punt entertainment.

Incidentally for the "pore soul" who is not a true blue football fan, the next six weeks will be one of excruciating boredom. To each his own - we're taking football.

At this time of the year everybody is looking forward to Thanksgiving and subconsciously having visions of the traditional turkey. So we thought we would pass along this bit of doggerel verse.

QUADRUPED BIRDS
They've developed a turkey
With a wide plump breast,
But what about people
Who prefer the reast?
They'll never be enough
Drumsticks to go around
Until a bird is created
With four feet on the ground.

Came across this bit of spoofing on the Texas drawl in the Canyon News. It was purportedly compiled by a native of Massachusetts who was amazed at the way the English language could be contorted.

Lahr - a prevaricator; one who tells lies as "Are yew callin' me a lahr?"
Riot - correct or proper as "That's jes as riot as rain."
Barley - only, just, no more than as "Ah can jes barley open mah eyes."

Pour - having little or no means of support as "Them folks is downriot pour."
Main - of ugly disposition, as nasty, as "That ther is one main man."

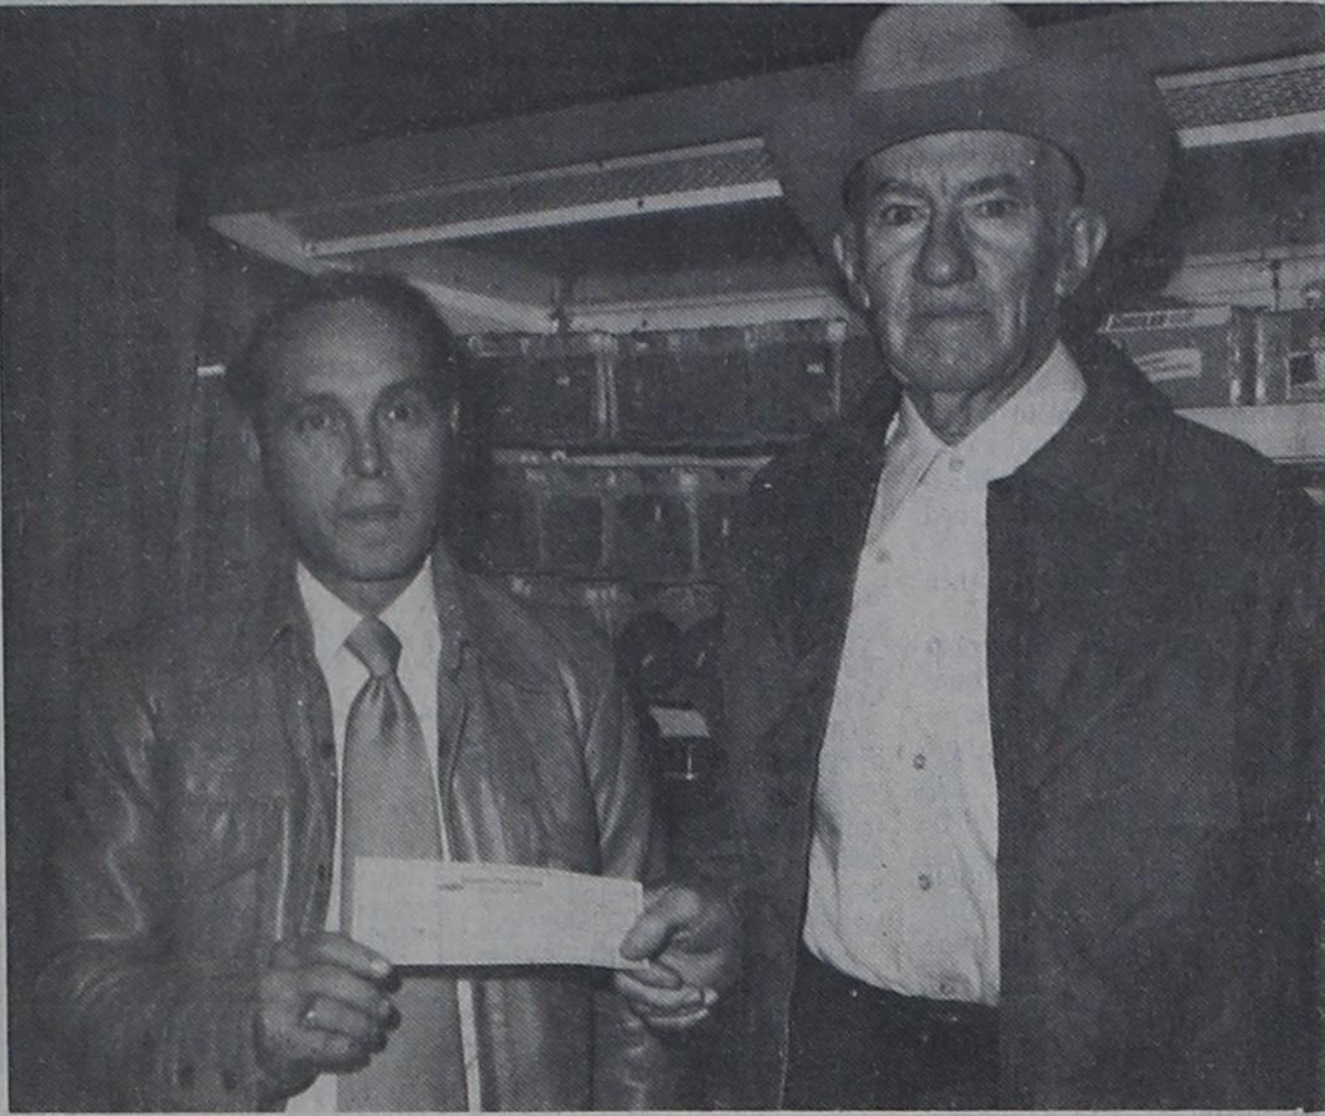

Ails - other than the person or things implies as "Ah only done what anybodys ails would do."
Air - the organ of hearing as "Ah got an airache."
Truss - reliance or integrity as "Don't you truss me?"
Mere - a reflecting surface as "Ah jes hate to look at mahself in the mere."
Hep - to render assistance as "Ain't nobody gonna hep me?"

Contest Outcome Still Undecided

It's down to the nitty-gritty for local football prognosticators. The final week of the 1976 contest is at hand and a measly four-point margin separates first through fifth places and 11 contenders who are "going down to the wire" before a winner is determined. It is also playoff time on the gridirons and the guessing gets rougher as contestants have to pick teams they are not familiar with, making for an interesting outcome in the bid for Cotton Bowl or Sun Bowl tickets.

Gay Goettsch was edged out of first place by Eddie B. Smith who was in second place last week. Smith has 92 points while Mrs. Goettsch has 91. Only another point back at 90 are Donald Jones and Ellen Wurster in third place, and holding 89 points and fourth place are Louise Hancock, Missy Taylor and Beulah Williams.

Ron Hancock, Thad Phillips, W.M. Roberts and Dorris White have 88 points each to share fifth place.

Winning last week's contest by calling 10 games correctly and being off on the tiebreaker by only 10 points was Albert

Smith, father of this week's overall leader. Taking second place was Roy M. Lovelady who also called 10 games correctly, but was off 14 points on the tiebreaker. Don Williams earned third place honors and a check for $2 by calling nine games correctly and being only two points off on the tiebreaker. Football prognosticators have only one more chance to enter as today (Friday) marks the last week of the contest.

area merchants who hope all you contestants have enjoyed the fun and challenge of trying to outguess the experts for these 12 weeks of gridiron guessing. Sponsors include Worley Mills, Security State Bank, Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, Inc., Sherley Anderson of Lariat, Citizens Bank, Wooley-Hurst, Farwell Equipment, Clara's Spur Restaurant;

Games on last week's list which gave the callers the most problems were the Sudan-Sundown clash, the Alabama-Notre Dame game, and the Baltimore-New England duel, which, according to the guessers, were upsets.

Upsets, true predictions or whatever, after this weekend, someone will get to choose between two tickets to the Cotton Bowl and $50 or two tickets to the Sun Bowl and $50. And another lucky person will receive two tickets to the Sun Bowl, plus $25.

Festival Of Thanksgiving - -

Dr. Earl Nowlin To Speak At Methodist Church Services

Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church of Texico-Farwell has planned its annual Festival Thanksgiving Services to be held November 21-23. Featured as speaker for this year is Dr. Earl Nowlin of Albuquerque, N.M. Dr. Nowlin was formerly District Superintendent of the Clovis District of the United Methodist Church.

Dr. Nowlin will also be remembered as pastor of First United Methodist Church in Clovis. He was also Conference Treasurer, Superintendent of the Sacramento Assembly near Cloudercroft, Superintendent of the Albuquerque District for six years and pastor of St. John's Church in Santa Fe.

In planning the Festival of Thanksgiving Services, Mrs. M.A. Snider Jr., who is the Evangelism Work Area Chairman, reports that the services begin with a planned dinner on Sunday evening, Nov. 21, at 6 p.m. in the Church Fellowship Hall.

Following the dinner, the congregation will move to the Sanctuary for the first service at 7 p.m. Additional services planned include a breakfast service at 7 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 22, and Evening Worship Services at 7 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 22 and 23.

The purpose of the Festival of Thanksgiving Services is to remind not only the congregation of Hamlin Memorial Church, but the entire community of Texico and Farwell of our dependence upon the harvest each year.

As our forefathers sat down to celebrate a season of Thanksgiving, so we celebrate through the Festival of Thanksgiving Services. Everyone of the Twin-Cities communities is invited to share and participate in these special services.

Vaccine Still Available - - 'Ideal Time' Almost Up For Flu Shots

To date the Farwell Medical Clinic has administered a total of 400 Swine Flu inoculations, states Jeannie Norris, clinic administrator. No further Swine Flu Clinics are planned, but the shots are still available at the clinic, reports Mrs. Norris. She adds that there will now be a charge for the office call, but no charge will be made for the shot itself.

Anyone wishing to receive a Swine Flu immunization may do so during regular clinic hours, says the administrator.

Dr. Jerry Don Gregory of the clinic stresses that anyone who wishes to be inoculated against Swine Flu should do so within the next few days as the "safe" time to receive the shot is almost up.

The flu season will be upon us around Christmas, Dr. Gregory says, and it takes two to six weeks to develop a good immunity from the shot.

Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona has announced a change in the schedule for the Swine Flu shots being given at the hospital.

Beginning tomorrow (Saturday, Nov. 20), the shots will be available only on Saturday mornings from 9 a.m. until noon, instead of the three clinics per week as had been offered for the past month or so.

Dr. Paul Spring, spokesman for the hospital, said that as of last week, a total of 1,050 adults had received the shots in Friona. The number getting the shots has dwindled to around 30 per clinic during the past couple of weeks.

Dr. Spring, Parmer County Health Officer, emphasizes that they still strongly recommend that people receive their shots, adding that no severe reactions have been reported at all locally.

Dr. Spring said that he was not disappointed at the number who had accepted the free shots, but still would like to see more people participate in the mass immunization.

Project Christmas Card Canvass To Begin Soon

Canvassing in Farwell for the 1976 edition of Farwell Elementary School's "Project Christmas Card" will begin Monday, Nov. 29, and will continue for one week ending on Friday, Dec. 3.

All funds received from Project Christmas Card are returned to the school system in the form of educational aids. During the past years, such items as films, cassette learning packages, story cassettes and library aids have been purchased with proceeds from the project.

The project is sponsored yearly in an effort to aid the school and also aid local residents in the work and expense of mailing Christmas cards locally. Persons participating in the project simply donate the money, or a portion thereof, that they would normally spend in sending Christmas cards locally.

For this donation, their name and names of family members are included in the Christmas greeting published in the Christmas edition of the State Line Tribune.

In this manner, the greeting not only reaches the majority of local residents, but is also sent to each and every subscriber of the Tribune.

Anyone wishing to participate in the project who is not contacted personally may call Gwen Hughes, 481-9114, Sylvia Buchenau, 481-3880, or Farwell Elementary School, 481-9131.

Five Inches Of Snow - -

Pre-Season Winter Storm Covers Twin Cities Area

A week ago today (Friday) an icy winter storm roared across the Twin Cities area depositing several inches of snow and sending temperatures spiraling downward.

The snow started to pile up about 5:30 p.m. as Farwell football fans readied themselves for the trip to Springlake-Earth for the final game of the season. Since travel was being discouraged on area roads beginning at an early hour Friday evening, many fans changed plans and kept off the highways. Fortunately, no strong winds accompanied the snowfall to cause drifting and blockage of roads in the area.

As the sun came from behind the clouds Saturday afternoon, Twin City residents began to dig out from under the carpet of snow. Travel was hampered by slushy and ice-dotted roads and travel warnings were in effect throughout most of Texas and New Mexico Friday and Saturday.

Parmer County Extension Agent Mack Heald said about five inches of snow blanketed the county, temporarily halting the local cotton, sugar beet, and sun flower harvest.

He added that the corn and milo harvest was complete except for a few scattered fields.

As of press time, Heald said it was still too wet for farmers to resume their harvest. Officially, Clovis received four inches of snow, according to Alvin Woodburn of the National Weather Service. Woodburn said the four inches contained .31 inch of moisture.

Lubbock and the South Plains received an official 5.4 inches of the unseasonal snowfall. The total was within one-half inch of the record 5.9

inch total for November in 1972 - a year which produced 19 snowfalls locally.

At the same time, 12.9 inches of snow recorded at ready this year is well ahead of the average annual accumulation of 9.2 inches and substantially more than the last year's 3.8 inch total.

'Snoopy'

Greg Lovett, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lovett of Farwell, is pictured with the remnants of the snowman he built last week after an icy blast of winter deposited about five inches locally. He nicknamed his creation "Snoopy" and said he was two days old when the photo was taken.

November Snow Scene

A capricious Mother Nature waved her magic wand last week bringing forth colder temperatures and a carpet of snow measuring five inches over Parmer County. The scene depicted here was typical of the residential scene in Farwell and Texico following the storm.

Local Churches Slate Thanksgiving Services.

Preparations are underway at several local churches for the upcoming Thanksgiving holiday to be celebrated next week.

Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church plans a "Festival of Thanksgiving Services" for November 21-23. Services are to begin each night at 7 p.m. CST. Dr. Earl Nowlin will be the guest speaker.

In keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit, the Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church has scheduled a "family night" celebration for Wednesday, Nov. 23. The evening's activities are to begin at 7 p.m. CST.

First Baptist Church in Texico will have a 9 a.m. MST service Thursday morning.

Services at St. John's Lutheran Church in Lariat are scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. CST Thursday morning. Pastor Herman J. Schelter said the choir will sing. He added that the services will probably pertain to the bicentennial year in some way.

Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church will observe the Thanksgiving holiday at its regular Sunday morning services at 11 a.m. CST.

On November 13 the local fire fighting unit responded to a call to the Robert White residence on Fifth Street where a gas storage tank had caught fire.

Texico Volunteer Fire Department answered a call to Castor Feed Lot Monday where they extinguished a hay fire. They did not report any emergency vehicle runs this past week.

Texico City Council will convene its regular meeting Tuesday night, Nov. 23, at the city hall.

Farwell City Council Discusses Gas Storage

Farwell Fire Chief Lee Hutchins appeared before the City Council Monday night and discussed the problem of bulk gasoline storage tanks which are scattered throughout the city. He said that one of these tanks caught fire Saturday night, indicating that the blaze burned "fast and furious" before the volunteer fire department was able to put it out.

Hutchins called the situation dangerous. The Council agreed to check into the laws concerning gasoline storage within the city limits.

In other business concerning the fire department, the Council authorized the purchase of 500 feet of one and one-half inch hose and 500 feet of three-inch hose for the local fire department.

Further business included updating retirement benefits for city employees. A final topic of discussion was the "dog situation."

City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell said numerous complaints have been received regarding dogs running loose and overturning trash cans. The City Council has authorized Mitchell and city employees Douglas Landrum and Roger Menning to enforce the city ordinance pertaining to dogs.

Mitchell said that as of Tuesday they have begun to issue notices to any resident who has a dog running loose. He said all dogs must be penned up or else be on a leash and that they must have current dog tags.

The city marshal explained that after a person receives a notice, they have ten days in which to meet the requirements of the ordinance. After the allotted time is up they will be issued a citation if they have not complied with the ordinance. Mitchell said the citation means that they will have to appear before the municipal court.

He added that dog tags may be purchased at the City Hall for a fee of $2. Before obtaining the tags from the city, dog owners must present proof that their dog has received a rabies vaccination.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Gil Patschke, Commissioner Ralph Franse, and city employees Roger Menning, Douglas Landrum, Dee Hammit, Ronnie Mitchell, and Janie Bowery; and Hutchins.

Hospital District Board Conducts Routine Session

Farwell Hospital District Board conducted a routine business meeting Tuesday night at Farwell Convalescent Center.

One topic of discussion was a request made by the local TOPS club to use the Clinic facilities after office hours to conduct their meetings. Members of the Board voted not to let any organization use the Clinic facilities as they felt it would not be a "good policy" to initiate.

Reports were heard from Jeannie Norris, Clinic administrator, who said the operation of the Clinic was "coming along fine."

Jim Berry reported that one-third of the hospital district taxes had been collected.

The Board also voted to install a flag pole at the Center. They are in the process of obtaining an American flag which has flown over the nation's capitol and a Texas flag which has been flown at the state capitol in Austin. U.S. Representative George Mahon and Speaker Bill Clayton are assisting in obtaining the flags.

The next meeting has been set for December 21 at noon in the Center.

Cases Settled Out Of Court

District Clerk Dorothy Quickel reports that the civil cases to be heard Monday and Wednesday in the district court with Judge Pat Boone, Jr., presiding were all either dismissed, passed on, or settled out of court. All of the prospective jurors were dismissed.

The attempted theft took place in Bovina. Sheriff Lovelace said someone tried to remove the radio from a city pickup and then "apparently changed their mind."

The local sheriff also said that Rujellio Reyes of Dumas was to be transferred to Huntsville State Penitentiary Wednesday where he is to begin serving a four-year term for assault with intent to maime.

Curry County Farm Bureau Elects Officers, Directors

Officers and directors for 1977 were elected at the annual meeting of the Curry County Farm and Livestock Bureau this past week.

Re-elected to office were John R. Hadley, president; Joe Roark, vice-president; Buford Qualls, secretary-treasurer; Helen Kelley, chairman; Virginia Burnett, vice-chairman; and Quineil Roark, information director.

Directors for the coming year will be J. D. Kelley, James Williams, Edgar Hough, Hoyt Pattison, Troy Lovett, Eddie Harrington, L. E. Davis, Wiley Snyder, Russell Downey, Randy Monroe, Coke Cates, German Byrd and Allen Kelley.

Dr. L. S. Pope, Dean and Director of Agriculture and Home Economics, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, guest speaker, was introduced by President Hadley.

Dr. Pope spoke of this Bicentennial Year as being a good year as it brought to our attention the 200 years of progress in our nation and the role which agriculture has played.

He said agricultural people had the greatest part in the making of our country.

Washington and Jefferson were farmers, Eli Whitney invented the cotton gin, Cyrus McCormick the reaper, Charles Goodyear the rubber tire. Then there was Thomas Edison and his electricity which contributed a great deal to agricultural progress and lit up both the city and country.

During the business session with Hadley presiding, secretary Buford Qualls read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. Phil Crystal, chairman of the auditing committee, moved the audit be accepted.

Alice Pierce, chairman of the Woman's Committee, gave her annual report. Quineil Roark, publicity chairman, reported on her activities and asked, "Were You Involved This Year?"

The president's report was given by Hadley and the annual insurance report was given by Robert Taylor, agency manager.

Joe Roark presented two recommendations from the Resolution Committee which were passed.

Christmas Bazaar Begins Today

The annual November Christmas Bazaar and Arts and Crafts Festival, which has always been well received by area residents, has been set for today (Friday) and Saturday at the Community Center in Friona.

Sponsoring the Festival is the Parmer County Family Living Committee with County Extension Agent Jana Pronger serving as co-ordinator.

The Bazaar will be open today from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. and from 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Two fashion shows featuring festive holiday wear will be highlights of the Festival, one this afternoon and the other at noon Saturday.

This morning, Eula Mae Madole, representing Farmers Electric Cooperative of Clovis, will be demonstrating gourd craft. This will feature the curing and drying of gourds and the use of them in holiday decor.

Throughout this afternoon a representative from American Handicrafts of Lubbock will be doing types of craft demonstration. Another highlight of the festival will be the demonstration of hand painted china jewelry on Saturday morning.

Various individual booths will also be featuring demonstrations of crafts work as well as having many items for sale. Hodge Photo Art and Rock Shop of Amarillo will again have a booth in this year's Bazaar.

Other booths will include the painting of Brenda Chisolm Ballew of Sudan, cloths and woodworking, plus the paintings of Robert Reed of Floydada.

There is no admission charge at the door and there is no obligation to buy anything.

Parmer County Family Living Committee charges a small rental fee for each booth. The proceeds from this rental go to help buy equipment for the Community Center.

Study Club Sponsors Antique Show

L'Allegra Study Club of Hereford will sponsor their fourth annual Antique Show and Sale November 19, 20, and 21 in the Hereford Community Center.

Included in the show will be collections of furniture, art glass, jewelry, primitives, cloths, and china. Dealers from several states will have displays at the show.

Proceeds from the show will go into a fund to outfit the playground at the Hereford Day Care Center. In the past, proceeds have benefited the YMCA fund, provided a fetal heart monitor for the Deaf Smith General Hospital, and one year they completely redraped the Community Center in Hereford.

Admission charge for the show is $1.50 per person, and tickets for the show may be purchased at the door or from any club member. Door prizes will be furnished by local florists and by the Funny Farm. The hours for the show are from 1 to 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 1 to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

SWCD News

I don't know if you realize how close together conservation and environmental quality are. They go hand in hand. I'll just mention two today and let you carry on from there.

We see ads on TV about clear, cool running water. This clear, cool running water is not possible without good conservation. The mountain streams would not be clear and cool if it were not for good woodland conservation.

Our streams are not clear and clean in this part of the country because they are polluted with mud. This mud comes from our fields which do not have terraces or conservation irrigation systems applied.

The second thing that pollutes our country is smoke from burning residues. If you have a respiratory problem, you know our environmental quality is low at this time of the year. Burning is as "un-conservation" as you can get.

These are just two things, of the many, we do here in Parmer County which link our environmental quality with conservation.

Wrong Emphasis

"As some nations are haunted by the past (such as Great Britain) and some are obsessed by the future (such as the Communist dictatorships), we are threatened by a fixation on the present—the now, the instant solution. 'Right To Read' Tips To Parents

The following are suggested activities for you to use with your child in helping him or her learn a sight vocabulary:

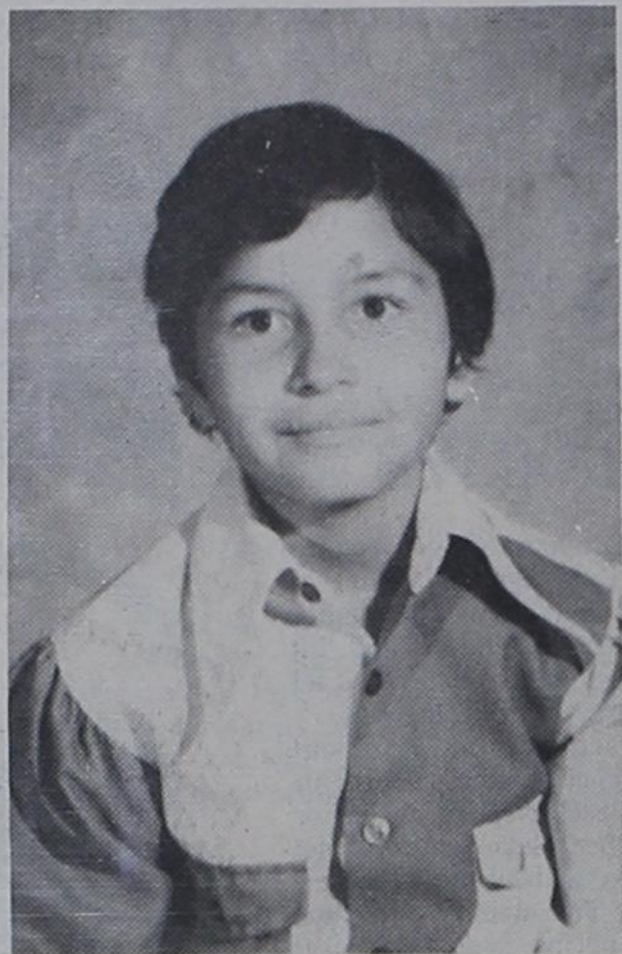

1. LABELING - Put labels on everything you can in the household or your child's room.
2. MATCHING - Play a matching game by cutting simple words and pictures from newspapers and magazines. Have your child match the word with the picture.
- WORD CARD GAME - Put individual sight words on cards. Have each player take a turn drawing a card. The player must pronounce the word on the card in order to keep it. The player with the most cards wins.
3. MONOPOLY WORD GAME - Make a game board like Monopoly, but put sight words on each space. The player will throw the dice and move to the proper space. If the player can pronounce the word correctly, he may stay at that place, if not he must move backwards.
5. PUZZLE - Write simple words on cards then cut them apart. Have the child put the puzzle pieces back together again to spell words.
6. WORD EXPERIENCE - Have your child tell about an experience while you write it down in simple word sentences. Have the child read the sentences back to you.
7. WORD TRAVEL - Write down a list of words you would expect to see while traveling, riding in the car, or going shopping. Give this list to the child and ask him to see how many of these words he can find.
8. WORD HUNT - Use a newspaper or magazine and give the child a time limit to underline basic sight words. After that time is up, see how many words he could find.
9. PIE WEDGES - Cut 5 to 10 circles into 6 equal pie-shaped wedges. Print a sight word on each piece of the pie, then shuffle all of the pieces. Place them face down and let the child choose one at a time. Ask your child to name the word and form "pies" as he does this. As soon as he misses a word the game is over. The object is to see how many "pies" he can make.
10. COMPOUND WORDS - Write compound words on strips of paper, then cut these into two pieces. Mix them up and ask the child to place them together to make compound words.
11. PUT IT TOGETHER - Put words on separate cards and ask your child to place them together to make meaningful sentences.
12. WORD FOR A DAY - Have a vocabulary word of the day which you discuss and spell.
13. FLASH CARDS - Make a set of flash cards using basic sight or spelling words. Practice these with your child as often as possible.
14. WORDS IN WORDS -

Write a word for your child and ask him to see how many words he can write using the letters of that word.

15. WORD BANK - Make a word bank from a shoe box. Every time your child learns to spell or say a new word, write it down and put it in the bank.
16. MAPS - Let your child read symbols or words on a road map when planning a real or imaginary trip. Ask him to give you directions.
17. SOMETHING'S LEFT OUT - Write words on a sheet of paper but leave some of the letters out. Ask your child to fill in the missing letters and then pronounce the words. Example: d g, ca e, hap y.
18. WORD ADVERTISING - Look at packages, boxes, cans, etc., together and discuss the words written on them. Then you can read various things together such as cereal boxes, cake mixes, etc.
19. COOKING - Let your child help you cook and read recipes.
20. NEW WORD BOOK - Read a story together and have your child write down any new words found in a "New Word Book."

Next week we will include activities to help your child's fluency and understanding in reading.

Billy C. Gunter and Catherine B. Crawford, district agents for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, say some 450 persons, including parents, distinguished guests and special friends of 4-H, will be on hand to congratulate the youths.

A boy and girl from each of the 20 counties in District 2 are eligible to receive this highest county award each year. The award is based on outstanding achievement, leadership and contribution to the county 4-H program.

Portraying Area Homemakers

Mrs. Jimmy (Susan) Franse of Farwell, our area homemaker for this week, is still "almost a newlywed" as she and her husband have been married only 15 months.

The young marrieds are natives of this area and are currently building a home in Farwell.

While excited about the prospect of having "everything just the way I want it," Susan is careful not to get "over anxious" as the home is not expected to be finished before the first of the year.

The young couple recently returned from a hunting trip to Colorado where they and the rest of their party bagged four deer. Mrs. Franse said she loved Colorado but did not really have the "hunting fever". She added that she enjoyed seeing the countryside and liked to hang around the camp while the men went hunting. Susan said it was their first such trip adding that they would like to do it again.

Following her marriage to Jimmy, Susan worked briefly for the State Line Tribune. While at the paper she wrote several area homemaker features. She liked her work but admitted that taking pictures with the Polaroid caused "a few problems".

The young homemaker likes to sew and tries to make all her own clothes. She also has made an orange afghan which attracts the attention of one of the little boys she babysits for. "The bright color appeals to him and he is at the exploring age," she said.

Susan has been babysitting in her home since June. "It just all kind of happened," she said. "Several of my friends were in need of a sitter and I ended up doing the job."

Susan likes working with the children who range in age from pre-school to kindergarten. As of now the total number of children she keeps in four and she says that they keep her busy looking out for them.

Other interests of the young homemaker include doing macrame and making infant seat covers. The demonstration on how to make infant seat covers was given at a meeting of the Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration Club of which Susan is a member.

Likes To Cook

Mrs. Jimmy (Susan) Franse of Farwell likes to cook and keep busy around the house. Her interests include growing plants, canning, and doing macrame. The Franses are building a home in town and Susan is looking forward to the first of the year when they will probably be ready to move in. The young homemaker is also active in the Oklahoma Lane Demonstration Club and the Baptist Young Women's organization of First Baptist Church, Farwell.

Susan says they are easy to make, adding that she enjoys the work.

Growing plants is another fascination of the young homemaker. She admits that when she was first married it was husband Jimmy who was the "plant lover". According to Susan it is now the other way around. She is always looking for a new plant while husband Jimmy wonders "where will we put it?"

Susan has three favorite recipes which she has consented to share with our readers.

Steers Capture Snowy Victory At Springlake-Earth

A resilient bunch of Farwell Steers traveled to Springlake-Earth last Friday night and amid adverse weather conditions etched out a snowy 22-6 victory over their hosts.

It was a gruesome night for football action as the icy-fingered players of both teams fumbled numerous times.

With nearly three inches of snow on the ground the Wolverines kicked off to the Steers. A fumble occurred and the host team took possession of the wet ball. Clay Roberts stopped the Green and Gold warrior on the second down attempt and after one more play they punted.

Quarterback Russ Jones handed off to Chip Craft who gained one yard, then Travis Bibbs carried for two yards, but an offside penalty forced the Steers into a second and 16 situation. Jones earned first down yardage on a keeper. An offside penalty against the Wolverines moved the pigskin five yards closer and on the next play Rowdy Chandler scooped up a Jones aerial for the touchdown. Bibbs ran for the two points and the Steers took an 8-0 lead.

Billy White kicked to Springlake-Earth and after three plays, the Wolverines punted. Bibbs, Mike Goettsch and Jones were unable to earn a first down after three carries and the ball went over on downs.

With three minutes remaining in the first period of play the Wolverines took possession of the ball on their own 46-yard line. On first down they were thrown for an eight-yard loss and on the following play Carlos Lucio deflected a pass. The Green and Gold then fumbled on the 38 and Farwell took over. Two plays later the Blue and White fumbled and the Wolverines took over on the 33.

Unable to move the ball, they punted and Farwell took the ball at the 46. They were penalized five yards for being in motion and on a keeper Jones earned seven yards. They moved the pigskin to the 10-yard line but another fumble stifled the scoring effort. A personal foul against the Steers moved the ball to the 22. Chandler dropped the ball carrier for a loss and after two plays, S-E punted.

Farwell took over on the 41 but the extreme cold conditions forced another fumble and Springlake-Earth recovered. On the next play the hosts fumbled with Chandler recovering for the Steers. Another fumble occurred and the Green and Gold recovered. They maintained possession for two plays and then punted. The punt was blocked and the Steers faced a first and goal situation at the 3. However, the Steers fumbled in the end zone and the Green and Gold recovered for the touchback. The pigskin reverted to the Steers after the host team fumbled. A Jones pass was batted down and time ran out in the first half with the Steers remaining in the lead 8-0.

The Blue and White kicked to Springlake-Earth and Craft dropped the returnee. On the next play Kent Goldsmith dropped the ball carrier for a four-yard loss. Then the Green and Gold runner broke for 43 yards before Goldsmith finally brought him down.

The Steer defense stopped the Wolverines and the Blue and White took over on their own 13. Unable to gain a first down the Steers attempted to punt but a bad snap gave the Wolverines possession of the ball on the six-yard line. Rodney Geissler went in for the score, but the run for the extra points failed, as they trailed their visitors 8-6.

As the adverse weather conditions continued each team traded several fumbles during the remainder of third quarter action.

As the final quarter began the Steers had possession at the Wolverine one-yard line. Unable to convert on a fourth and inches situation, the ball went over on downs. The Wolverines then fumbled and the Steers recovered. Jones scored from the one and Chandler caught a Jones pass for the two-point conversion, making the Steers lead 16-6.

The Steers scored again with eight seconds left on the clock when Bibbs plunged in from the one; however, the try for extra points failed, leaving the final score 22-6, Farwell.

The win was the eighth of the year for the Steers against two losses for one of their best records in several years. In district play they wound up with a 3-2 record alongside Kress who also lost two district matches.

Junior Varsity Clobbers Springlake-Earth, 62-20

Farwell Junior Varsity ended its football season on a triumphant note last Thursday night by soundly trouncing their Springlake-Earth counterparts, 62-20. The JV squad's record is now 8-1 for the season.

Almost half of the local team's points were earned by Benny Yruegas who scampered for four touchdowns and four extra points throughout the game. The young JV squad member struck twice in the first quarter, bounding 10 yards for the first touchdown of the game and also running for the two extra points. Later in the same period Yruegas scampered 20 yards to pay dirt and punched the pigskin across the goal line for the two point conversion.

Yruegas opened the second stanza of play with a 10-yard run for the money and Leonel Jaime added the two extra points. Later Steve Owens rang the cash register from 10 yards out, while Robin Roberts passed the pigskin to Robert Lucio for two points

Mark Owen opened scoring in the second half by intercepting a Springlake-Earth pass, running it back 30 yards for the touchdown. Leonel Jaime ran for the extra points. Also in the third stanza, Mark Owen again picked off a Springlake-Earth aerial and jaunted 20 yards to paydirt. The try for the PAT failed.

During the final quarter of play the Benny Yruegas scoring machine ground out another touchdown from 20 yards out. Kayle Watts caught a Roberts pass for the extra points.

Craig Kaltwasser punched the pigskin in one yard to add the final six points to the Farwell score. Leonel Jaime bounded across the goal line for the two extra points, resulting in Farwell JV's victory over the Springlake-Earth Junior Varsity Squad, 62-20.

Coach Royce Baker was thrilled with the victory. He complimented his young warriors on their performance adding that they "came through real well in the last game."

Baker said teams sometimes have the tendency to fall down on the last game of the season, but he commented that the JV squad kept their poise and continued to play the same kind of ball they had played all year. "They wanted to win and they did," he said.

He said the defense played well, limiting the Springlake-Earth offense to 20 points while the Farwell offense racked up an impressive 62 points.

According to Baker, offensive standouts were Bruce Mayfield, Chad Phillips and Kayle Watts.

Defensive players drawing the coaches' praise were Leonel Jaime, Ricky Coleman and Radney Robertson.

Whatley Reflects On Final Game, Season

An elated Farwell Steer head football coach Tom Whatley had nothing but words of praise for his team after they battled Springlake-Earth in the cold and snow last Friday night and came away with a 22-6 victory.

The Steer coaching staff named all the players as the "Steers of the Week." Coach Whatley called the victory a "united team effort," adding that it put them over the top. "An eight and two season is always better than a seven and three season," he said.

The Steer mentor went on to say that he was proud of his boys for playing in such unpleasant conditions without complaining. "They proved what they were made of," he said.

Several other players were cited for their efforts during the last game of the season. Quarterback Russ Jones was named "outstanding back of the week." Whatley said he handled the ball well under the adverse weather conditions and also ran the ball well.

Steve Meeks was tabbed the "outstanding offensive line-man". According to the coaches, he played his "best game of the season".

Dan Geuther, who was named "outstanding forcing unit man," recovered three fumbles.

Billy White was named "outstanding secondary man". Whatley said he called the defensive plays and kept them going. "His leadership was crucial to us," the coach said, adding that White "showed what he was made of".

In reflecting on the overall season, Whatley said "it was a good year." He called the 8-2 record a "team effort," adding that the boys wanted to win because they were tired of losing.

He said their mental attitude was important. Whatley also complimented his coaching staff for their efforts throughout the season. "The coaches and the players worked well together. We learned as we progressed through the season and I couldn't ask for anything other than that," Whatley said.

The Farwell gridmaster said that they had set their sights on the district crown, but fell short of that mark when Hart tripped them up two weeks ago. He said "the best team won the district", adding that he is looking forward to next year.

Texico Coach Comments On Independent Football

by Shirley Gorman

When asked how he felt about the recent Texico School Board decision for the Wolverines to play independent football for the 1977-78 school year, Head Football Coach Paul Topliff said it was the only "fair thing for the kids."

The first-year Texico coach also stated that he felt the move would prove to be a boost to the football program. He explained that it was difficult to compete with District AA teams who "platoon" throughout the game. Topliff explained that platooning means that different players fill the slots on the offense and on the defense.

According to him, teams like Jal, Eunice and Dexter have very few players who play both ways while on the Texico team there are very few players who do not play both ways.

Topliff added that by the time the second half rolled around and particularly in the fourth quarter, the Texico players were often exhausted from having played both offensively and defensively throughout the first two or three quarters of play.

Topliff said a typical question he has been asked by interested fans is "what do we play for now?" He said he answers them by saying "we are going to play for a winning season."

The Wolverine mentor said he is serious about that, too. "Texico does not have a winning tradition as yet and until we do we won't be able to compete in the big district league.

On paper, said the coach, they were giving away three games a year to Jal, Eunice and Dexter because we were always mentally prepared to be defeated. It came as no surprise when it happened, he added.

The Texico gridmaster stated that he felt it was unfair for the New Mexico Activities Association to vote out the referendum which would have dropped Texico into District A without first giving it a try.

The decision to rescind the referendum which was passed by the organization last spring was made during a November 10 meeting in Albuquerque. The referendum called for schools with a population of no more than 200 students to be classified as an A school. If the decision had been allowed to stand, Texico with a total high school enrollment of 160 pupils, would have been reclassified as an A school.

However, once the decision was made to revert back to the old classification system, Texico became locked into the AA classification rank; as schools with a student body of 150-400 students are classified as AA schools.

Before Texico went independent in football it was the smallest AA school in New Mexico. Topliff said he had expected Texico to drop into the A ranks next year and had been preparing for the move accordingly. "I was keeping up with class A district competition because I really expected us to be in class A next fall."

Topliff said that all the non-district teams which the Wolverines played have been A teams.

"We are really an A team as far as I am concerned, but once the decision was made in Albuquerque there was not anything we could do about it except stay in class AA competition or go independent," Topliff said.

The football coach said he does not anticipate any trouble in picking up games next fall. We will virtually be playing many of the same teams we have played in the past, namely Lazbuddie, Vaughn, Melrose, etc., Topliff commented. He said that they were currently negotiating with Carizozo who had two open dates on their schedule for next fall. Bovina was also another possibility, the coach said. He says he expects the schedule to be finalized within a few days.

Topliff emphasized that they would definitely not be looking for "easy" teams to play. Instead, he explained they will be looking to play the best A competition they can find.

Topliff stressed that he felt the move was an important one for the Wolverines. He is anticipating a good season next year and expects 30-40 boys to come out next fall as compared to the 27 who tried out this year.

"Winning breeds success," Topliff said, "and that is what this move is all about."

"If we can establish a winning season then we can attract people to the stands and that will help make our football program a success all the way around," he commented.

He added that the decision to go independent is still fairly new and emphasized that not everyone understands it yet. "School is for the kids and by going independent we have shown them that we are backing them 100 per cent," Topliff concluded.

Coaching the junior varsity girls teams is Larry McDorman.

The boys teams will host Dora, N.M., on Monday, Nov. 22, and on November 23, all four high school teams will travel to Lazbuddie for action.

Scarf Prints Add Interest To Garments

Scarf prints, an exciting new fashion fabric look, create garments with individualized uniqueness, Mrs. Becky Culp, an area clothing specialist, points out.

"The 'scarf look' includes large square or rectangular panels with border designs around the four outside edges. Often the design includes a prominent design along the center, spreading toward the borders," she said.

Mrs. Culp is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Scarf prints are usually a medium to lightweight fabric and are available in a variety of fibers and blends. One or more companion, smaller scale prints or solids are often available to coordinate with scarf print fabrics sold by the yard."

The specialist suggested placing scarf panel borders to emphasize certain garment design details such as two borders meeting at the center front or back, or a border outlining a hem, cuff, collar or yoke. Dominant center scarf designs also can create emphasis by being positioned the outside of a sleeve or in the center of a garment, she added.

"Due to the extra emphasis scarf prints create, all garments should be tried on before purchase to observe illusions of size and shape created on the body. Also, the homemaker should hold panels up to the body to see illusions created and plan to cut out the garment accordingly.

"I feel that the girls' condition for our basketball season will be a great asset," Texico Girls Coach Kathy Culshaw commented.

The varsity squad will be substituting in platoons. With this kind of substituting, five should be able to wear down the opponent and hope to capitalize on their tiredness, the coach said. "The varsity team is not afraid to shoot the ball, consequently I predict a high scoring season," she added.

Coach Culshaw feels that the varsity team is ready for its forthcoming season which will start Saturday, Nov. 20, against the Ft. Sumner Foxes on Wolverine ground. The game starts at 5:30 MST.

Come From Behind Win Ends Yearlings Season

Farwell seventh graders hosted the Springlake-Earth seventh grade team Thursday night, Nov. 11, and came away with an 18-12 victory, upping their record to 3-2 for the season.

The Springlake-Earth visitors had the local team down 12-0 at halftime but the determined Farwell junior high team came back in the final half of play, putting 18 points on the board while holding their opponents to no points.

Waverly Coates was the one man scoring mechanism for the seventh Yearlings, scampering for two touchdowns in the third quarter and bounding across the goal line for another six points in the final stanza of play. The three tries for the PAT failed.

Wishes and Goals

"Could there possibly be a more important goal for us to achieve than helping to save our economic system through supporting and improving economic education, in this country? An industrial psychologist friend of mine clearly defines the difference between a wish and a goal. A wish is just that —and you can't count on it. A goal requires planning and effort, and the goal of broad-scale economic literacy is no exception. In my view the way to this goal lies through understanding and education. By understanding I mean what is practical of accomplishment and what are the strengths from which we lead."

Coach Larry McDorman said the seventh graders played a "poor first half" as the score indicates. "We were down and it showed," he explained. "However things started clicking for us after halftime and we went on to win the game."

McDorman said during the second half the lineman started blocking and the running game improved immensely. He was proud of their win as the visiting team had come into the game unbeaten.

Players drawing praise from the junior high gridmaster included linemen Ricky Armstrong, Doug Cole, Rocky Ford and David Daniels.

He also complimented the backfield adding that they "ran well in the last two quarters of play."

McDorman commented that "for a team which didn't know much in the beginning, it had come a long way." He called them a "good bunch of kids" adding that he looks for "a lot out of them next fall."

Hang 'Em High

It may come as a surprise, but hundreds of years before cattle rustlers and such varmints were being hanged by mobs in America's Old West, lynch law was known in Scotland.

In the old days one of the most dangerous parts of Scotland for a traveler was the Border country between Scotland and England. The Border clans were a law unto themselves and, if they were not preying on visitors (particularly English visitors), they were preying on each other.

The main Border court of justice was held in the town of Jedburgh, popularly known as "Jeddart." The motto of the court was said to be, "Hang him first, and try him afterwards."

Teacher's Scotch Information Centre is happy to point out that things have improved. "Jeddart justice" no longer exists, and the town is now more famous for "Jeddart snails."

These are peppermint sweetmeats first made in the town by French prisoners-of-war kept in jail at the time of the wars between Britain and France.

These three members will advance to District competition, December 13, at Dora.

The Parliamentary Procedure team with Billy Joe Potts, president; Mark Powell, vice-president; Alan Moss, secretary; Jeff Sharp, treasurer; Neal Haile, reporter; Britt Crooks, sentinel; and Mike Schwartz will also compete.

Members of the Parliamentary Procedure team gave a demonstration on Monday night at the Women's Club meeting. The group will be available to demonstrate and to answer questions for any group that would like to have them present a program before December 6, said Eddie West, FFA advisor.

Another group of FFA members returned home Saturday night from Kansas City, Mo., where they attended the National FFA Convention. Members attending were Dal Moss, Don Cherry, Mike Scott and Ken Richardson. They were accompanied by Roy Richardson.

FFA members are also selling rat poison for a Community Service project.

Risking A Sunset

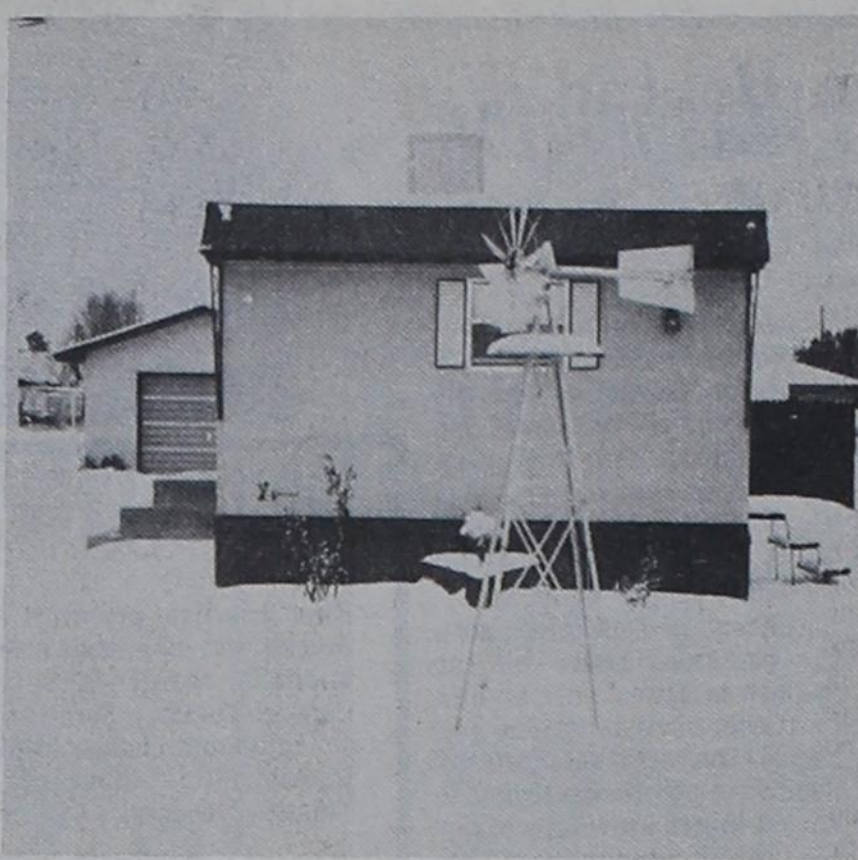

"Coupled with the American enterprise system, self-determination has given us our enviable way of life—a precious heritage—a hope for a bountiful future. It is clear to me that enhancing and preserving self-determination and the American enterprise system will give us a future blessed with freedom, liberty, and the opportunity to prosper and enjoy many of the better qualities of life. That is a high priority goal for each of us to share. To fail in the obligation to try to achieve that goal is to risk a sunset of the system."

Meet Your Teachers

Dolores Vaughn, the new Farwell High School math teacher, is a veteran of the Farwell School system, having taught math in the junior high since 1970. She has been a teacher since 1968, the year she graduated from Northeastern Illinois State College in Chicago. Her first year Mrs. Vaughn taught a combined fourth and fifth grade class at one of Chicago's inner city schools. From there she traveled to Clovis where she taught second grade and pre-school children. Last school year she helped organize the "back to the basics" math program at the local junior high. She is serving as math coordinator this year and is currently involved with putting together a catalog of visual aide materials. She earned her masters degree from Eastern New Mexico University and is presently working toward her Education Specialist degree. The math instructor is also serving an internship in school administration in the local school system. Mrs. Vaughn's approach to education is to "treat each child like an individual". She also believes in giving credit if a student tries. She has two daughters, Patricia, 7, and Ragina, 16 months.

Windmill In The Snow

This snow-covered mobile home scene was representative of the wintry look in the Twin Cities after last week's pre-winter storm laid a five-inch carpet of snow over the area. The ornamental windmill rested unmoving, apparently waiting for warmer temperatures.

agri-facts

By John Ricci

Ecofallow is the name of a relatively new practice which is gaining more supporters every season. Basically, the system involves letting wheat stubble stand after harvest. Spraying it with herbicide then planting the next crop with the straw still in the field. Purpose of the system is to utilize the ground cover for moisture retention and as a buffer against wind erosion. Using the herbicide application gets rid of weeds that could in as little as a month's time burn up 30 pounds of nitrogen an acre. Specific systems being used are generally of two rotations: winter wheat-corn-fallow and winter wheat-sorghum-fallow. With ecofallow being tried on about 20 thousand acres this year, some specifics on yield effects should be available next year. Major problem with the new system is reported to be using planters heavy enough to get through the straw.

Battle Of Fort Washington

by Donald Whisenhunt

Cornwallis was nipping at their heels.

In the middle of November two hundred years ago the future of the American cause looked more bleak than ever. Control of New York fell completely to the British and Washington was forced to retreat.

When Washington had evacuated Manhattan in late October to reestablish his forces at White Plains he had left a strong garrison at Fort Washington on Manhattan Island. On November 16, General Howe sent a force of 13,000 troops to take the fort. In the fierce battle about fifty Americans were killed and 250 wounded. More significantly, 2,818 Americans were captured when the fort fell. The British and Hessian losses amounted to 450 killed and wounded.

The British were aided in this battle because the plans of Fort Washington had been given to them by Ensign William Demont (or Dement) of the 5th Pennsylvania battalion who had deserted to the British on November 3.

Pressing his advantage two days later General Howe sent Lord Cornwallis across the Hudson with 4,500 men to capture Fort Lee. General Greene, the commander, was able to evacuate Fort Lee and avoid a battle, but he was forced to abandon much-needed military supplies.

With these major setbacks, Washington was very hard pressed to keep his army together and to put up an effective defense. Washington and Greene joined forces at Hackensack, New Jersey, but they had no time to assess their situation because Lord TRASH BARREL HOLDERS for sale. From $2 to $5. Also barrel covers. Doug Landrum, 381-3825.

Therefore, Washington began a retreat across New Jersey on November 20. His main objective was to keep his army intact and to find a suitable place to make a stand. This was obviously a bitter pill for the proud Washington to swallow.

Although of a different sort, the problems faced by the Spanish in Texas were similar to those of Washington. In their efforts to defend the Southwest they were trying to do too much with a force far too small. Because of the territory to be covered, the Spanish could do little more than provide the illusion of power.

If the troops were stationed at strategic points and appeared to be strong, that might deter some of the native inhabitants from engaging in hostile actions. However, when battles did occur and the weakness of the Spanish forces was made apparent, the Indians were only encouraged to become more aggressive.

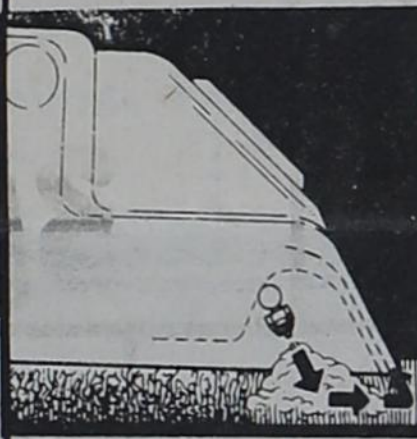

The forces that were available in Texas might have been more effective if they had had well-trained officers. Unfortunately, the officers were often not much better trained than the men they commanded.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"FOR JESUS' SAKE"

"Delivered unto death for Jesus' sake" (II Cor. 4:11).

There is much that we all do for our own sake, for the sake of our children, our loved ones and others, but the real test of the believer's love for the Lord is what he does "for Jesus' sake."

Under the dispensation of law our Lord told His disciples that to be forgiven they must forgive: "Forgive, and ye shall be forgiven" (Luke 6:37), "but if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses" (Matt. 6:15).

But now, under the dispensation of grace, He exhorts us to forgive one another "even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you" (Eph. 4:32). The difference is striking. Before the cross: "If you would be forgiven, forgive." Now, in the light of the cross: "You have been graciously forgiven for Christ's sake. In the light of this, be tenderhearted and forgiving toward others."

And we are to go farther than this: Not only are we to forgive our brethren in Christ, but we are to be prepared to show this attitude toward the world as well. St. Paul said: "For though I be free from all men, yet I made myself servant unto all" (I Cor. 9:19), and referring to his persecutions by unbelievers, he said: "We... are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake" (II Cor. 4:11). How many unbelievers would be won to Christ; how many of our Christian friends would be strengthened and helped if we adopted this attitude toward others!

As to suffering itself, the apostle also gladly bore this "for Jesus' sake." In writing to the Corinthians, he said: "I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake; for when I am weak, then am I strong" (II Cor. 12:10). He had learned that in weakness he leaned harder, prayed more, and was brought closer to His Lord, and herein lay his spiritual strength. He also knew that "our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory" (II Cor. 4:17).
