Advertising fads wax and wane. For years and years, the calendar has been used by most businesses for year 'round advertising. For the last several years, the main calendar we have received is the beautiful western scene one which Helton Oil Company has distributed for the past 20-odd years.

Then for awhile, rain gauges were the big giveaway items in the advertising gift line. Of course there have always been staple items such as key chains, rain caps, rulers and ballpoint pens. This year, it looks as if the cap with a business name on it is the "in" thing.

We came across this unimportant observation the other day while visiting in the local coffee shop. It was a rather busy time as a number of folks were willing away the hours as they waited for their grain trucks to get dumped. It looked as if everybody but the newspaper editor and a traveling salesman were advertising somebody else's business.

We counted the following different emblems on the various caps: Pioneer Seed, Phillips 66, NK, N-Serve, John Deere, M-F, Gifford-Hill, Aero Farm Chemical, Rain Cat, Curry Co. Grain, O's Gold, PCA, Allis-Chalmers, Steiger, and Chemical Enterprises. Of all this group, nobody's cap was duplicated in the crowd.

It looks as if Gilbert Kaltwasser is playing a game of one upmanship. Gilbert is distributing a little green job for Pioneer which has a rolled brim and looks like a second cousin to a Swiss yodeler's cap. If this move escalates the "big cap giveaway" we may even see a few derbys and stove pipes gracing local nogginns before too long. Think of the message on an Abe Lincoln-type topper!

Good Grief! It surely seems to get late early this week. Here we have jumped off the daylight savings time and back to the standard variety without this writer's old inards doing the same. Well we have this twice-a-year internal disturbance, thanks to our log rolling congressman.

This puts us in the mood to "toss the boulders out" but unfortunately far too many just received another two-year lease at the public trough, so we presume the untidy practice of cutting the bottom of the blanket off to sew on the top will continue indefinitely. Ugh!

Buster Herington looked at the sample ballot in last week's Tribune and noticed the Spanish language instructions under the English. Commented Buster, "Huh! is that the metric equivalents?"

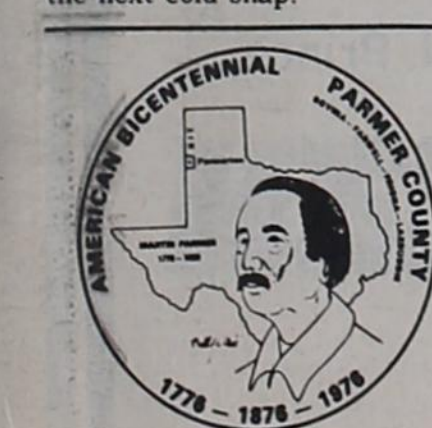

According to newspaper reports, over 54,000 persons poured into Tech Stadium last Saturday afternoon to witness the Tech-Texas shootout. It was a wild and wooly game right down to the wire.

Now, Tech has to polish off TCU, SMU and Houston before they get to the Arkansas Razorbacks-but this ought to be the game to decide the Southwest Conference.

This whing ding will come off in Little Rock this year and there will be So-e-e-e-calls resounding off the Arkansas hills for days in advance of that game.

Ah, this Golden Spread weather. Last week, we winterized all our air conditioning units and turned on the heat. This week we are opening all the doors and windows and looking for a breeze.

However, we seem to have a procrastinating streak along with brother grasshopper so at least these annual fall chores are done. This leaves us with only antifreeze changes for three cars, so possibly we can get this accomplished before the next cold snap.

In one of the highest scoring weeks of this year's Football Contest, Linda Gerries came out on top in a group of 24 persons calling 11 games correctly and took first prize money by being only eight points off on the tiebreaker score. As did most of the callers, Linda missed on the Missouri-Oklahoma State outcome to miss having a perfect score by only one game.

Taking second place this week was Buddy Lunsford who called 11 right and missed the tiebreaker by 12 points. Third place winner was Gene Beavers who was off 14 points on his tiebreaker guess.

First place lead in the overall contest stayed the same with W. M. Roberts and Eddie B. Smith calling nine games each to hold onto the top slot with a total of 74 points on the season.

Ellen Wurster, who was all alone in the second place position last week, was joined there by three others, Gay Goettsch, Thad Phillips and Missy Taylor, this week. Second place contenders have 73 points. Louise Hancock and Tex Smith have 72 points apiece to be in third place.

In fourth place with 71 points are Susan Franse, Henry Haseloff, Donald Jones and Clay Williams.

Ron Hancock, Mrs. E. A. Key, Jack Kirkland, Kayle Watts, Dorris White and Beulah Williams each have 70 points to be in fifth place.

Other games which were missed by those calling the contest "logically" or by the "law of averages," West Texas-McNeese State, Plainview-Pampa and Amarillo-Palo Duro, proving once again

Takes Second Place Money

Buddy Lunsford, left, receives his $5 second place winner's check from Bill Christian of the Citizen's Bank, Texico Branch, one of the sponsors of the Annual Merchant's Football Contest. Lunsford guessed 11 games correctly and was only 12 points off on the tiebreaker score. First place honors went to Linda Gerries with 11 correct calls and eight points off on the tiebreaker. Gene Beavers placed third with 11 right and 14 points off on the tiebreaker.

Early Snow Covers Area

A freak snowstorm crept upon the Twin Cities area Thursday of last week, blanketing the area with an early coat of white.

Mack Heald, Parmer County Agriculture Agent, said the early blast of winter deposited about seven or eight inches over Parmer County. He said the average moisture content was about .7 or .8 of an inch.

Mother Nature's fickleness temporarily halted the corn harvest which only resumed operation Monday afternoon. Heald said corn farmers are now hoping for continued dry weather so they can finish harvesting the remaining five percent of the corn crop.

The agriculture agent also said that the recent slob was beneficial to the wheat and barley fields.

The Friona area received about five inches of snow which yielded 51 of moisture. The Rhea community received more than four inches and Clovis reported five inches on the ground.

Goblins In The Snow

Twin Cities' "trick or treaters" almost had a white Halloween, thanks to a snow storm which broke over the area Wednesday afternoon and Thursday. The early winter storm sent temperatures spiraling downward and delighted local youngsters who engaged in such chilly activities as making snowmen and having snowball fights. Warmer temperatures on Friday melted Mother Nature's white blanket and youngsters were able to enjoy their Halloween activities minus the cooler temperatures and the carpet of white crystals. Snow-covered jack-o-lanterns and other frost-laden Halloween decorations were a common sight before the snow melted.

Lazbuddie Voters OK Bond Issue

Voters in the Lazbuddie school district passed a $575,000 bond issue for construction of new facilities in a bond election Tuesday of last week.

Voter turnout for the election was determined "very good." Three hundred persons cast votes in the election, with 193 votes cast in favor of the proposal, and 107 against it.

The bonds will provide funds for construction of a new physical education center and gymnasium, the addition of a band hall to the existing auditorium, a new industrial arts shop and classroom, a bus repair shelter, duplex housing for teachers and a concession stand and restroom facilities for the football and track field.

Superintendent Sam Barnes says the district will accept bids on the bonds Dec. 6 and said construction should start sometime in January.

It has been approximately 11 years since any major work has been done on the Lazbuddie school system. The approval of the bond issue is expected to increase school taxes in the district by 18.7 per cent.

'Right To Read' Tips For Parents

How To Improve Your Reading Skills

Reading is the most important learning skill one can acquire for success and enjoyment throughout life. It is an integral part of our personal and working lives. Consider how much time everyday is spent reading newspapers, letters, books, menus, directions or signs!

Eighty-five percent of college work, for example, involves reading. The better you read, the more you will succeed in study or work and enjoy the time you spend with books.

Reading is basically the understanding of words and the association between them. To improve your reading skills you must increase your ability to see and understand the grouping of words, or ideas, at a speed and in a manner that is comfortable for you.

To be a good reader concentrate on what you are doing and learn to use your eyes to the best of your ability. Move them at a rate that allows your brain to absorb the main ideas printed on a page. Bad readers are usually distracted and read each word without grasping the relationship between them. This causes them to retrace or reread the material.

Most people do not perfect their reading after the fifth grade. High school or college students are often bad readers. They overlook the need to continually use and improve good reading habits. Remember your eyes, like fingers for the piano or legs for skiing, must be trained to be skillful.

If you would like to improve your reading skills these seven steps can help:

1. Evaluate your reading habits.
2. Provide the right atmosphere.
3. Use your eyes efficiently.
4. Continue to broaden your vocabulary.
5. Adapt your speed so you understand the material.
6. Practice on a regular basis.
7. Enrich your life with good books.

Reading can greatly enrich your personal and business life. A well-read person is generally a well-informed one and is, therefore, a more interesting companion, a better student, a more successful worker.

People who like reading can invariably occupy themselves happily at any age, no matter where they are. Whether alone on a rainy day, incapacitated by illness, or tired from the chores of work, reading can provide immense enjoyment while adding to your knowledge.

It is never too early, or late, to take up reading as a hobby. The shelves of libraries and bookstores are filled with books to satisfy the interests of everyone. Acquaint yourself with the pleasures of browsing.

Ask the bookseller or librarian for a bibliography or list of great books, science fiction, poetry, craft books, mystery stories or whatever. The variety of titles and authors are guaranteed to match your mood, give you pleasure and enrich your life.

Pre-Schoolers - -

Help Available For Handicapped Youngsters

Texas Handicapped Children's Early Childhood Program, a federally-funded project helps handicapped pre-schoolers in this area. Even though the program is based in Hereford at Shirley Elementary School it is also open to handicapped pre-schoolers in the Farwell area.

The project is manned by trained workers from Panhandle Educational Service Organization (PESO) of Amarillo. The program is designed to reach handicapped youngsters at an early age, from birth to four years. The criteria is established to accept children with handicaps, including emotional problems, physical disabilities, development lags, language and speech impairments and other detriments.

Each of the 14 pre-schoolers who are now participating in the program comes to the school three times a week and a PESO aide comes to the child's home once weekly.

Various and numerous methods of training are utilized at the local center, depending on the individual child's handicap. The program strives to help circumvent the problem, compensate for a disability or correct an impairment, when possible.

Before being accepted by the THCECP, a child is screened through an interview with Susan Robbins, associate psychologist. Director of the PESO team in Hereford is Wendell Jones, who is aided by five co-workers. Should a child not be eligible for the Hereford facility, the PESO employees offer free referral to numerous facilities, including the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center, and the Children's Rehabilitation Center, or to specialists in psychological and medical fields.

It is a goal of the PESO group to stage public meetings this year, featuring speakers who are experts in their respective areas. These assemblies would be particularly aimed toward the parents of handicapped children.

Also, members of the childhood intervention program are available to present informative talks for civic groups and other clubs. For information concerning this, or for possible enrollment of a handicapped pre-schooler, contact Mary Ruth Baird at 276-5387 or 364-0622.

Jaycees Sponsor School Project

Box tops from Post brand cereals can mean playground equipment for Farwell Schools.

Farwell Jaycees are sponsoring a drive to obtain new playground equipment for the local schools. Jaycee spokesman Donald Jones asks all interested people to save and collect all their Post cereal box tops for this project.

According to Jones, the box tops can be redeemed through the school system for playground equipment. Tentative plans call for obtaining additional basketball goals and tether balls. Jones added that the possibilities are endless if the community will cooperate. The local Jaycees ask that all box tops be turned into the schools at Farwell. The deadline is March 31.

Farwell Steers Corral Vega Longhorns 29-20

A determined bunch of Farwell Steers traveled to Vega Friday night and defeated their hosts, 29-20, upping their season record to 7-1 and their 3-A loop record to 2-1.

Travis Bibbs took the opening kickoff for the Blue and White and returned it to the 18-yard line. Bibbs and Mike Goettsch alternately carried the ball during the next series of downs advancing the pigskin to the 42-yard line. From that point Rowdy Chandler caught a Russ Jones' aerial for another 15 yards and the Steers were on their way to paydirt. Bibbs scampered the final 21 yards for the score and kicked the PAT. With six minutes left in the first quarter, Farwell took a 7-0 lead.

Farwell kicked to Vega and Richard Yruegas brought the returner down. Unable to convert on third down, Vega punted and Bibbs carried to the 38-yard line. However, neither team was able to score again in the first period of play.

Early in second quarter action Bibbs returned a Vega punt to the 20-yard line. On two carries Goettsch advanced the ball to midfield. Bibbs added another 14-yards but the Steers were unable to sustain the drive and the ball went over on downs.

Three plays later Vega fumbled the punt and Farwell took possession of the pigskin on the 50-yard line. Successive carries by Goettsch and Bibbs moved the ball to the 30 and Jones earned another 20 yards on a quarterback keeper. Billy White carried for eight yards and the Steers were on their way to another six points. Bibbs struck again in the second stanza, carrying the ball inside the ten, punching the pigskin in from two yards out and also kicking the extra point, increasing the Blue and White's lead to 14-0.

Vega bounced back late in the first half and scored with 39 seconds left on the clock. Marvin Moore caught a nine-yard pass from Mike Yell, but the run for the extra points failed.

The teams retired to the dressing rooms with the Steers holding a 14-6 lead.

Early in the third stanza the Longhorns fumbled a Farwell kickoff and the Blue and White recovered. Ten plays later Bibbs did it again with a one-yard run. Goettsch ran for the PAT, upping Farwell's lead to 22-6.

The period ended with neither team scoring again. With six minutes left to play Vega scored on a two-yard run by Yell. The conversion attempt failed and Vega trailed their visitors, 22-12.

Farwell bounced back on their next possession, scoring their final touchdown of the night with less than two minutes remaining in the game. Rowdy Chandler hauled in a Jones' aerial for 18 yards and six points. Bibbs toed the extra point, increasing Farwell's lead to 29-12.

As the final 30 seconds ticked away Vega immediately fired back with an 80-yard scoring run by David Doshier. Mode caught a pass from Yell for two points, increasing their score to 20.

Before time ran out Vega attempted an onside kick, but it was recovered by the Blue and White. The buzzer sounded with the score remaining 29-20, Steers.

Problem Of Leadership

by Donald Whisenhunt

As the year 1776 drew to a close General Washington found himself faced more and more with the dilemma of recruiting and maintaining an adequate military force with adequate leadership.

Officers were often men from the various colonies who had seen previous military service in their own locality or who were popular enough or politically powerful enough to be appointed to a military commission. Often they were headstrong men who were reluctant to follow orders.

On occasion an officer's reputation and popularity were so great that his lack of ability was unknown. Washington sometimes could not remove an incompetent officer because of public opinion.

An example of Washington's problem can be seen in the career of Israel Putnam. Putnam was generally a good soldier, but there were times when he disobeyed orders and made poor judgments. Yet, he maintained a good public reputation.

Born in Massachusetts, he spent most of his career serving the state of Connecticut, his home for most of his life. Putnam is best known for his leadership of American forces at the battle of Bunker Hill. He served in the continental forces from the beginning until 1779 when a paralytic stroke ended his service.

Putnam was also the source of two legends of the Revolutionary period. As a young man he supposedly chased a wolf into its den, found it by the glow of its eyes, and killed it with his bare hands. The other story states that when he heard of the battle of Lexington, he left his oxen and plow in the field and headed for Boston without changing his clothes. If this story is to be believed he was a true "minute man."

On two occasions, at least, he disobeyed Washington's orders and caused serious problems for the commander. Even so, he remained a popular figure among his colleagues and the public at large.

The words of an authority on this period reflects Washington's dilemma: "Unfortunately his (Putnam's) self-confidence, his belief in his own ability, and his great popularity necessitated appointing him to a position beyond his powers."

Just as Washington had problems of leadership so did the King of Spain in administering his colonies in the American Southwest. This was one of the reasons for the reforms that created the "comandancia general." Presidios were to be inspected once a year by the commandant inspector or one of his assistants. The inspector was to check into the conduct of the presidial officers and report any irregularities to the Viceroy.

Such irregular inspection probably would help improve leadership only by the fear of exposure of poor leadership.

Mohammedans believe that meteors are firebrands flung by good angels against evil spirits when they approach too near the gates of heaven.

7-1 Record - -

Whatley Attributes Victory To 'Sharp, Crisp Football'

Farwell Steer Coach Tom Whatley called Friday's 29-20 defeat of the Vega Longhorns "one of our better games." He added that the Steers committed less mental errors and played a "sharper, crisper game of football."

"We did a good job of running the ball," he commented. "The overall team effort was excellent," Whatley added.

Clay Roberts was singled out as the "Steer of the Week." The coaching staff chose Roberts because he performed well both offensively and defensively. He is an offensive tackle and plays striker on defense. According to the coaches, Roberts is their most improved player. Roberts was also named "outstanding offensive lineman" and "outstanding forcing unit man."

Billy White was named "outstanding secondary man." According to the coaches, he is the defensive leader and as such calls the signals well. He also intercepted a pass against Vega.

Travis Bibbs was chosen as the "outstanding offensive back." He carried 30 times for 172 yards and scored three touchdowns and three extra points.

Tonight (Friday), the Farwell Steers take on the Hart Longhorns in the final home game of the season. Game time is set for 7:30 at Steer Stadium.

The "big shootout" as Whatley called the game is the fourth act in 3-A conference play. Hart is 3-0 in loop play and Farwell is 2-1.

Whatley said they are looking forward to playing Hart. "It will be the best team we have had to face so far," he said.

The Hart Longhorns have a new head coach this year, promoted assistant Bill Taylor. They were 9-2 last year and are 7-1 this season. They returned 12 lettermen this year.

One of the top returning players is Bryan Irons, 6-3, 185-pound tight end and line-backer. He has great hands for catching and unusual tackling sense which makes him a strong contender for district honors, reports Coach Whatley.

Kerry George, 5-10, 160-pound senior, runs the 40 in 4.5. He was the all-district honorable mention quarterback last year.

Another strength in the Longhorn ranks is Glenn Black, 165-pound fullback-linebacker. Rounding out the tough Hart contenders are Eliazar Castillo, 145-pound safety; Gary Jackson, 160-pound tackle; Larry Marble, 6-2, 178-pound tackle; and Berto Minjarez, 150-pound noseguard.

Steer Of The Week

Clay Roberts, junior, has been chosen "Steer of the Week" by the Farwell coaching staff. Roberts operates both as an offensive tackle and a defensive striker. According to the coaches, he is the "most improved player." Roberts was also named "outstanding offensive lineman" and "outstanding forcing unit man." (Farwell School photo)

Demons Spook Wolverines In Season Finale

by Susan Snodgrass

Dexter's Demons started their Halloween tricks a little early and spooked the Texico Wolverines 50-8 in the final game of the season for Texico Friday night at Dexter.

The Wolverines won the toss and received the opening kick with Homer Ashley returning it to the 36-yard line. Duwain Hill picked up two yards, but Texico was unable to move the ball and punted to the hosts who started their drive on the 30 after being assessed 15 yards on a clipping infraction on the kickoff.

The Demons moved for 20 yards on two carries, but were set back on two penalties before picking up their first TD of the game. The conversion attempt was foiled and the Demons led 6-0.

Ashley returned the ensuing kick to the 24, but the Green and White was once again unable to move the pigskin and punted it away. Dexter was held for no first down and punted to Texico who took over on the 35. On the next play, a Demon intercepted a Wolverine pass and ran in for their second score. The PAT failed once more and the Demons were ahead 12-0.

Texico started out on the 27 after Ashley yielded the kick. Three plays later the Wolverines were forced to punt with Steve Turner stopping the kick returner at the 37. Just as the first quarter ended, the Demons had picked up 36 yards on two carries.

Dexter gained 19 yards on the first play in the second period and two plays later went in for their third touchdown. A run for the PAT was good and the hosts were in front 20-0.

Hill returned this kick to the 27 and the Green and White moved the ball with Ashley picking up eight, West running for 16, and Turner taking it for a 21-yard pickup. A reverse from Ashley to Hill to Turner was good for 15 more. After a couple of losses, Ashley connected on a pass to Hill for eight yards, but an incomple- tion on the next play forced Texico to give up the ball deep in Demon territory.

Dexter picked up eight yards on the first down try, then sprang a runner loose for 85 yards and another six points. A run for PAT was good and Dexter led 28-0.

Texico was held on the next series and punted to the Demons who brought it back to the 50. Aided by four ground gains and two Texico penalties, the Demons took it in for their next score from two yards out. They ran in the PAT to make the score 36-0 in their favor.

Ashley returned the kick to the 27 and in this series, Joey West received an injury to a rib which put him out for the remainder of the game. As the first half ended, Dexter intercepted a Texico pass as the Wolverines tried to move.

The Demons received the second half kick and despite a couple of penalties, drove past the Texico defense for another TD. The conversion attempt failed, making the score Dexter 42, Texico 0.

On the next series, the Wolverines took to the air, but had the second attempt intercepted and Dexter once again moved into the end zone for six points. The PAT was good to put Dexter's count at 50.

For the remainder of the game the Demon offense was denied any points; however the Wolverines could not muster enough offense to compensate for the 50 points already on the board.

The teams exchanged the ball early in the fourth period and after the Demons had recovered a Texico bobble, Robert Lacy intercepted a Demon pass on the 14-yard line.

Ashley gained nine yards, Hill picked up three and a pass to Turner was good for eight. A pass to Ortiz picked up 19 yards but Dexter's defense stiffened and Texico faked a punt, only to have the attempted pass blocked for Dexter to take over.

Ben Small, known as the "Great Benjamin" will be the performer. Admission will be 50c for high school students and outsiders, and 25c for elementary students.

Texico Pep Club is planning a "slumberless" party, Nov. 5, from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. Members are to bring felt tip pens, colors, and paints.

James Pierce, superintendent, and James Harding, high school principal, went to Albuquerque last Wednesday to discuss the reclassification of the athletic district. Classification is determined by the number of enrollment in the schools. Currently, Texico is classified in District 4-AA. Results on the new referendum should be announced by Nov. 10.

In a straw vote at Texico on Monday, President Ford came out on top with 137 votes. Carter ran close behind with 105. Grades sixth through twelfth and faculty and staff voted in the Mock election.

In a vote for New Mexico Senator, Schmitt won with 151 votes against Montoya's 82. Votes for State Representative were Runnels 171 and Trubey 53.

In Mrs. Holloman's class, fifth graders also had a poll on the top Presidential candidates. Carter won by only one vote.

Wolverines Of The Week

Robert Lacy, left, and Eloy Ortiz have been selected as "Wolverines of the Week" by the Texico coaching staff. Lacy played well defensively and intercepted a Dexter pass. Ortiz scored Texico's only touchdown as the final buzzer sounded. He earned 80 yards on three carries.

Coach Topliff Reflects On Wolverine Season

Texico Coach Paul Topliff labeled the Wolverines' bout with Dexter Friday night as "our worst game of the season," adding that the Wolverines did not play well. "Some of our best players had their worst night yet," he explained. "Dexter hammered us good and outright beat us," Topliff said.

In reflecting on the 50-8 loss at Dexter the head coach said they simply were not ready to play ball. "Our mental let-down was terrible; we couldn't key on anything," he said.

Topliff said Robert Lacy and Eloy Ortiz were selected as "Wolverines of the Week." Lacy worked well on defense and was responsible for one interception. Ortiz' scoring play was in mch ion as time ran out. Topliff said he had three receptions, or 80 yards.

Even though Topliff was not pleased to lose the last game, he was pleased with the overall season and was optimistic about the future.

"We have come a long way this season," Topliff said. "I wish we could play teams like Hagerman and Lazbuddie again this year. I know we would do a better job. But in football you just get one shot and we have already had ours this year."

"We have had tremendous community support. A bus load of fans traveled to Dexter to be with us at the last game. We all really appreciated them," Topliff explained.

"The kids have been great," he added. "We've had buckets of fun this year," he continued.

"I have enjoyed working with them and we are all looking toward next fall," Topliff added.

The Texico coach commented that assistant Roy King deserves a lot of credit for his efforts with the offensive and defensive lines.

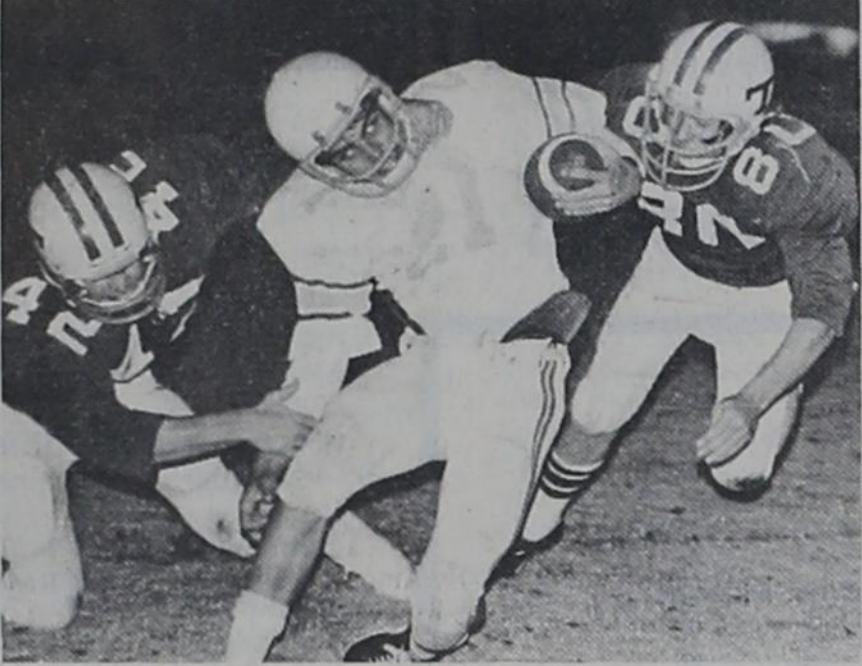

The Wolverine gridmaster said enthusiasm is still high and he expects a good turn out for football next season. "We should have most of our players back," he explained. "We will need offensive linemen though," he continued.

Topliff went on to say that even the freshman attitude was high and that was a good sign. "If they maintain their spirit next fall, they will be a bonus for the varsity," he remarked.

Topliff said they will miss the seniors who will graduate at the end of the school year, adding that they were important links in the Wolverine machine this season.

Looking toward the future the Green and White mentor said they will have to work on improving their defense. He also remarked that they will have to learn to "cut out those mental errors which can cost us the game."

Topliff said he was not

Portales Defeats Junior Wolverines

Texico Junior Wolverines dropped their final game to the Portales Lambs in a game at Portales Tuesday afternoon, 14-0.

In the first quarter of the game the Lambs got a drive headed toward the end zone, but a strong Wolverine defensive line stopped the run for four plays, and Texico took over on the 20-yard line. The first quarter ended scoreless.

Texico started at their own 20 in the second quarter. An interception stopped the drive at the Lamb's 10-yard line. Both teams failed to score in the second quarter, and the half-time gun stopped a Portales drive at the Wolverine 10-yard line.

The third quarter went in favor of the Lambs. With one minute left in the period, Eddie Poe scored from the two-yard line. The PAT failed.

Holding on to their lead in the fourth quarter, the Lambs took advantage of a Texico fumble on the Wolverine 15-yard line. Louis Kitchell scored on a play up the middle. On a fake kick, Robert Farrow went around the end for the PAT.

Texico got another drive started, but the gun sounded to send the game with Portales victorious 14-0.

The Junior Wolverines ended their season with three wins and two losses with their only other loss at the hands of Ft. Sumner. They defeated Melrose twice and Tatum once.

SWCD News

Believe it or not, you need your trees ordered within the next two weeks. These trees are for the 1977 spring planting.

As we've said before, trees ordered from the Texas Forest Service should be kept in a garden area for the first year or two so that they can be watered and weeded. After they are well started, then they can be moved to their permanent place.

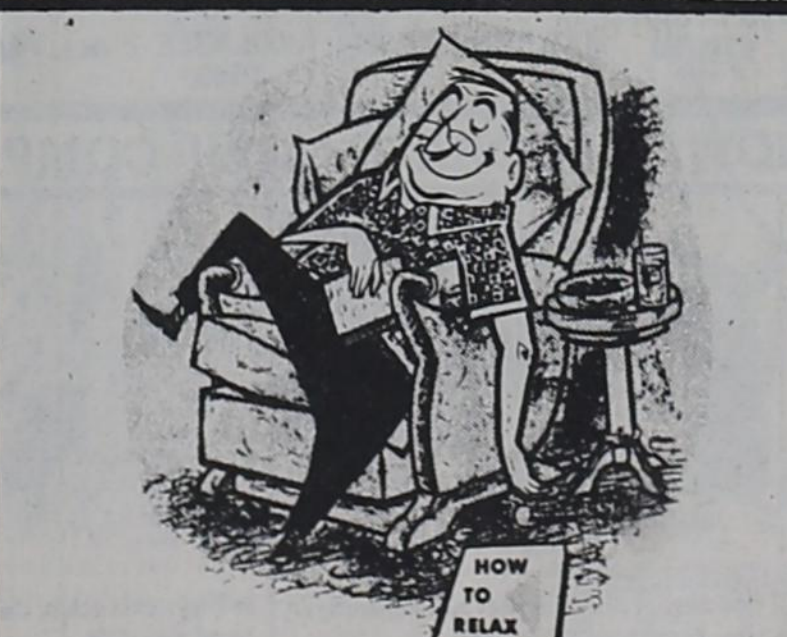

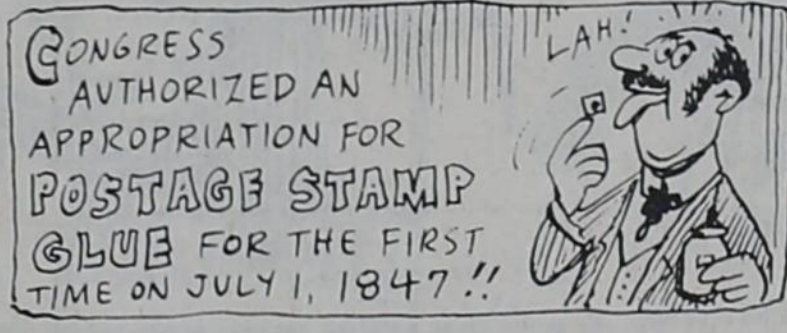

Trees for windbreak planting are ordered directly from the Texas Forest Service. Order blanks can be obtained at the Soil Conservation Service in Friona or the County Agent in Farwell.

Wildlife tree bundles can be ordered through the Parmer County SWCD. These bundles contain 150 trees and cost $15.00.

The bundles contain 50 Russian Olive, 50 American Plumb and 50 Eastern Redcedar. Some of the local people who have ordered wildlife bundles are Ralph Robinson, J.P. Sims and Dan Fortenberry.

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Shirley Gorman

Mrs. Doug (Alice) Autrey of Farwell, our area homemaker for this week, is a very active and vital woman who knows exactly what she wants to do with her life. To prove it, she and husband Doug eloped when Alice was only 16 years old.

Mrs. Autrey recalls that at the time neither family was too pleased with the elopement, but in time they realized that this was what she and Doug wanted and come to accept their marriage as fact.

The young homemaker said she was a sophomore at Farwell High School at the time. "Sometimes I regret not finishing school and I have plans to finish someday, but for now I am content with being a wife and mother," Mrs. Autrey said.

The Autreys have been married for six years and have one little girl, Jeane, who is six months old.

To further her ambitions to become a better homemaker, Alice joined the Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration Club several months ago.

"I enjoy attending the meetings twice a month," our homemaker stated. "The club is a learning organization. It teaches you how to be a good homemaker and that is what I want to be," she added.

The Autreys have lived in Farwell off and on over the past several years. Alice said that her husband was once involved with road construction in New Mexico.

"We lived in mobile homes and had to move around a lot," she said.

Mrs. Autrey explained that now that Doug is working for a company which installs sprinklers they have a more stationary life.

"We have lived in Farwell a year and a half now and I am really happy here," the young homemaker said.

Mrs. Autrey explained that she did not like living in a mobile home because "I always felt like I was traveling in one direction. There was never any space for anything," she added.

Mrs. Autrey enjoys her home on San Andres and she loves "fixing it up." Part of the wall furnishings are her works of art and those of her family.

"I come from a very talented family," Alice remarked. "I like to dabble a bit in the field of art, but it really isn't where my talents lie," she added.

Our homemaker has made a nail windmill wall plaque and a country carving of an owl.

The local resident said she loves to do macrame and made the plant hangers in her home. She has also made a macrame owl wall hanging.

Her other interests pertain to sewing. Alice says she loves to sew and someday plans to make matching outfits for herself and Jeane.

Other projects which keep the young woman occupied include gardening and canning. The Autreys have a garden in their back yard and she loves to do all her own work. She confesses that she probably gets that from her mother who always has loved to work outdoors.

This past summer Mrs. Autrey canned pickles, beets, green beans and peas.

The Autreys are members of the First Baptist Church in Farwell. They also participate in the young couples Sunday School Class. Alice said they enjoy the class because they have a good teacher and they learn a lot.

Mrs. Autrey said a primary goal of her life is to "be good at what I want to be in life." She added that that is what makes her happy.

Our homemaker has three recipes which she has consented to share with our readers.

The meeting opened with the group singing "Living for Jesus". Frances Boling led the prayer.

Mary Dorris gave a Thanksgiving devotion. She read Psalms 100. She compared the early day Thanksgiving observance which required a complete devotion to God to the present day observance of feasting rather than of giving thanks.

By John Ricci

You have to really be looking for something to worry about to join in with some of those who've decided that we have a major problem with cities taking over farmland. According to experts who have studied air photo maps of the country's most rapidly growing urban counties, less than two percent of cropland in those counties was displaced by urban development. This boiled down to one acre of cropland being displaced for every twelve new people moving into a city. And for those who can still manage to worry about this less-than-fearsome takeover of cropland, there's another set of statistics hot off the press. According to government estimates, there is over 110 million acres of now idle land in the United States that could be producing crops within the next two years. So, on your list of priority worries mark running out of farmland way down at the bottom.

Thanksgiving Facts Appropriate Now

by Jana Pronger

In this bicentennial year of American Heritage, a few interesting facts about "Turkey Day" may provide some extra meaning to the holiday.

Surprisingly, America was not the first country to celebrate some form of Thanksgiving. They also observed it in China, Greece, Russia, Norway, Poland and Lithuania. When the Pilgrims first came to this country, they knew very little about farming, but an Indian named Squanto helped and they were able to harvest some corn and barley.

To celebrate their first success, Governor Bradford named a date in late 1621 as a day of thanks. Hunters scoured the woods and returned with turkeys, wood pigeons, partridges, geese and ducks, while the women prepared puddings and hoecakes. Because the Indians had been so helpful, the Pilgrims invited them to join their celebration - and it was a good thing, for the Indians contributed five deer.

It was also the Indians who first introduced eating oysters to the settlers. During the three-day feast, they even set a precedent for our Thanksgiving holidays today - they participated in races, and athletic events. Just think of how many big athletic events are held in the U. S. that weekend.

Thanksgiving in 1621 was largely a social occasion, but the second Thanksgiving in 1623 was probably the real start of our present holiday, for it was religious as well as social.

During the next 200 years, Thanksgiving was not celebrated on any one special day - until September 1863, when President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed that Thanksgiving be celebrated on the last Thursday in November.

The menu of that day was much like the one used widely today - cranberry juice, roast turkey with dressing, sweet potatoes, creamed onions, cranberry sauce, squash, pumpkin pie, plum pudding, mince pie, milk and coffee.

Like Christmas, Thanksgiving brings out the altruism and generosity in people. For 200 years, Americans have helped the less fortunate by providing them with food, clothing, and other necessary items.

For many, it is also a time families have reserved for being together. In a country where families are so geographically separated, it may be a hard thing to manage. But since traditions die hard, this is one family unifier well worth keeping alive.

Since the stuffed turkey is traditional in most homes on "Turkey Day" I thought you might like a new twist to that old favorite - Stuffing. Here are three recipes from one of our Extension Bulletins - "All Time Favorites - Chicken & Turkey" which can be obtained through our office for 30 cents.

RICE STUFFING

- 2 c. cooked rice
- 2 T. butter or margarine
- $\frac{2}{3}$  c. chopped celery
- $\frac{1}{2}$  c. chopped onion
- $\frac{1}{2}$  c. chopped green pepper
- 2 chicken livers, diced
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. monosodium glutamate
- $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. curry powder
- $\frac{1}{4}$  t. pepper
- 1 egg, well beaten

Mix rice lightly with butter or margarine; add celery, onion, green pepper, chicken livers and tomato broken into pieces with a fork. Combine seasonings; add to mixture. Mix in egg, lightly. Spoon stuffing lightly into chicken. Makes enough for 5-pound chicken.

CRANBERRY STUFFING

- 3 c. fresh cranberries,  $\frac{3}{4}$  lb.
- $\frac{1}{4}$  c. sugar
- $\frac{3}{4}$  c. butter or margarine, melted
- 3 qts. small bread cubes
- $\frac{1}{2}$  c. raisins
- 1 tsp. salt
- $\frac{3}{4}$  tsp. cinnamon
- Grated rind of 2 lemons
- $\frac{3}{4}$  c. broth or water

Chop cranberries and blend in the sugar. Blend butter or margarine and bread cubes. Combine the two mixtures with the remaining ingredients. Mix well. Makes enough for a 10 to 12 pound turkey.

Note:  $\frac{1}{2}$  cans of whole cranberry sauce and  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sugar may be substituted for the fresh cranberries and  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of sugar. Break up cranberry sauce with fork; add sugar and proceed as above.

SHRIMP STUFFING

- $\frac{1}{2}$  lb. shrimp, fresh or frozen
- $\frac{1}{4}$  c. chopped onion
- 2 tsp. chopped parsley
- 3 T. butter or margarine, melted
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 T. milk
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. thyme
- 1 tsp. salt
- Dash pepper
- 3 c. soft bread cubes

Peel shrimp and remove sand veins. Wash and cut into small pieces. Cook onion, parsley and shrimp in butter or margarine until tender. Combine egg, milk and seasonings. Mix all ingredients together including bread crumbs until well moistened. Makes enough for a 4-pound bird.

First Place Scrapbook

Texico Woman's Club Garners Many Awards

Four members of Texico's Woman's Club attended the New Mexico General Federated Women's Club convention held last week in Hobbs, N.M. Those in attendance were

Marie Christian, Ann Ledbetter, Teresa Curry and Audrey Kittrell. They attended a luncheon Wednesday and a banquet Wednesday night. Mrs. Curry conducted a workshop on Community Improvement on Thursday. Mrs. Christian, who is the State Safety Chairman, conducted a workshop on Public Affairs.

Texico Woman's Club garnered many awards, certificates and ribbons during the convention. Its scrapbook was awarded the first place ribbon in Division C, for clubs with fewer than 35 members.

Winners in arts and crafts were Margie Crooks, third in jewelry; Ann Killough, second in quilts; Audrey Kittrell, first in jewelry; Ann Killough, first in decoupage; Clara Wiehl, first in rugs; Maurine Caywood, first in arrangements; and honorable mention in quilts.

Winners in the Penny Arts category were Steve Kittrell, first in pastels; and Britt Crooks, third in wall hanging.

All first through third place winners are eligible to compete in the national competition.

Visit Mother

Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Roberts of Farwell traveled to Bellevue this past weekend where they visited her mother, Mrs. Stella Jones, who is a resident of a nursing home in Bowie.

Convalescent Center Chit Chat

Floie Copeland, Farwell Convalescent Center activities director, reports that about 250 people attended the Halloween and "family night" party last Saturday night. Residents wore masks and hats and handed out candy to the "trick or treaters." Apple bobbing, refreshments and costume judging added the finishing touches to the successful evening.

The Halloween cake was provided by Nona Skaggs of Clovis. The cake helped to celebrate the October birthdays of Center staffers, Robbie Johnson, Judy Hamlett and Clara Cardoza.

Dora Nittler, administrator, says she hopes the community enjoyed the festive occasion and adds that they plan a similar affair for the Christmas season.

Cindy Hess, aide, recently left the Center to take the position of activities director of a nursing home in Dallas. Mrs. Copeland reports that everyone liked her very much and that while they will miss her they wish Cindy the "best of luck" with her new position.

Members of Epsilon Sigma Sorority will be spending their first and third Mondays at the Center, reports Mrs. Copeland. They plan to take individual residents on "excursions". Monday, LaMoin Williams took Maude Wilson on a shopping trip to Clovis. Upon their return they picked up Nora Edens and went for a ride and stopped for coffee.

Another future plan of ESA is to visit the Center and to write letters for the residents.

Danny Morin visited Domitilla Madrid. He played the piano for all to enjoy.

The Center now has a new bird cage, courtesy of Mrs. Pike Jordan. The parakeet was donated by a pet shop in Clovis. The little bird caused quite a stir among the residents after he escaped and eluded his trackers for a long time.

Red Prather, a member of the volunteer fire department who happened to be visiting the Center at the time of the excitement, finally apprehended the frightened and bewildered bird. He was assisted by Glenn Hess, custodian.

Judy Hamlett, Center staffer, has taken a leave of absence due to the death of her grandfather, G.D. "Curley" Sanders, who had lived for a number of years at the nursing home in Clovis.

Jim Swank, pastor of United Pentecostal Church in Texico, presided over the Sunday afternoon services. About 25 people attended, and refreshments were served following the service.

Mrs. Copeland said everyone at the Center is very appreciative of the white table cloth which was donated by the Farwell Study Club. She said it will be used for their socials.

The morning and afternoon kindergarten classes of Marcie Cole demonstrated their Halloween costumes last Friday afternoon. The third and fourth grade students of Billie Worley sang Halloween songs for the residents.

Mrs. Nora Edens is making an "around the world" quilt.

Sherry Curtis' Brownie Troop 143 plans to help out with the crafts session in January.

Thursday, Bingo winners were Bertha Johnson, black-out; Domitilla Madrid, one game; and Nora Edens, two games. Everyone enjoyed popcorn and prizes.

Mrs. Copeland thanks all the women of the Assembly of God congregation who helped with the devotional and singing services on Tuesday afternoons.

All the Center residents add their thanks to kitchen staffers, Margaret, Robbie, Eva and Marilyn, for "those wonderful meals they prepare."

Everyone extends a big welcome back to M.H. Berry who had been away at a hospital for a while.

Mrs. Copeland and staff add "special thanks" to Frances Kube for all the efforts she has made on behalf of the Center.

County

County Agent

Any time after crops mature in the fall is an ideal time to take soil samples.

Once plants reach maturity, they virtually stop taking up nutrients. Therefore, the soil's nutrient state will remain about the same until planting time next spring.

There are many advantages to soil testing at this time. For one thing, you can now readily identify problem acres in a field. If you think fertility caused reduced yield or unusual symptoms in some areas, sample these areas separately so that a comparative evaluation can be made.

Other reasons for soil testing this time of year include pleasant weather and more favorable soil conditions.

Although overall shortages of fertilizer are not anticipated, there can be a big advantage in having time to make plans with your dealer for the material needed.

The possibility of fall application of all or part of next year's fertilizer soon after harvest is another important consideration.

Information on how to collect representative samples can be obtained from my office.

It is important to provide the soil chemist with information about your land use plans for next year so that fertilizer-use suggestions can be made on your soil test report. A choice can be indicated on the information sheet accompanying soil samples whether regular tests or regular tests plus the micronutrients iron, zinc and manganese are desired.

Prospects for the Texas cotton crop have been lowered by some 250,000 bales due to recent freezing temperatures and frost in the Texas High Plains. This would leave U.S. production at about 10 million bales and the Texas crop at 2.8 million bales. Market conditions remain strong as both foreign and domestic mills need cotton and will compete for it. World consumption should exceed world production by about two million bales this year.

As of Oct. 1, farms, ranches and other enterprises defined as "agricultural operations" who have 10 or fewer employees at any one time are exempt from all requirements under the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) for one year. The change resulted from amendments to the appropriations bill for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare; all OSHA operating funds for fiscal 1977 are in that bill.

There will be plenty of pork available for the dinner table the remainder of the year. The pork supply has been boosted by increased farrowings, thus upping the number of hogs moving to market. Market barrows should bring $32-$37 per hundredweight for the remainder of the year provided other meat situations remain similar to last year. Some 17-18 per cent more hogs will be marketed during the last quarter of this year than a year ago.

Use a regular size ice cream scoop when a recipe calls for a quarter cup of shortening.

"PAUL, THE PATTERN"

No conversion in sacred history is given so much attention as that of St. Paul. Besides the many references to it, we find three detailed accounts of it in the book of Acts. As Saul of Tarsus, the learned Pharisee, he had led his nation and the world in rebellion against God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

St. Luke says: "As for Saul, he made havock of the church" (Acts 8:3). The believers at Damascus feared Saul's presence among them, saying: "Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name at Jerusalem?" (Acts 9:21). Paul himself later testified: "Many of the saints did I shut up in prison . . . and when they were put to death, I gave my voice [vote] against them" (Acts 26:10). . . . beyond measure I persecuted the church of God and wasted it [I laid it waste]" (Gal. 1:13).

There must have been an important reason why God saved this rebel leader. Clearly it was that He might make Paul, not only the herald, but the living example of "the exceeding riches of His grace" to sinners. Paul himself said:

"And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord . . . for . . . putting me into the ministry; who was before a BLASPHEMER, AND A PERSECUTOR, AND INJURIOUS: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly and in unbelief, AND THE GRACE OF OUR LORD WAS EXCEEDING ABUNDANT. . . .

"This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that CHRIST JESUS CAME INTO THE WORLD TO SAVE SINNERS, OF WHOM I AM CHIEF.

"HOWBEIT FOR THIS CAUSE I OBTAINED MERCY, THAT IN ME FIRST JESUS CHRIST MIGHT SHOW FORTH ALL LONGSUFFERING, FOR A PATTERN TO THEM WHO SHOULD HEREAFTER BELIEVE ON HIM TO LIFE EVERLASTING" (I Timothy 1:12-16).

Carrie Christian Enjoys Two-Week Alaskan Tour

Carrie Christian of Farwell enjoyed a two-week tour of Alaska in September. Accompanying her on the pleasure trip were her sister-in-law, Mrs. Loucile Foster of Ft. Worth; and a friend, Mrs. Herta McNatt of Austin.

Mrs. Christian left Farwell September 6 and traveled by car to Amarillo where she met her two companions. From there they all boarded an airplane and flew to Seattle, Wash. The following day the three women were transferred from their hotel in Seattle to the cruise ship Renaissance in Vancouver, British Columbia.

The travelers spent four days on the Renaissance, sailing through the waters of the Gulf of Alaska. During the water adventure they were never out of sight of land. Massive forests of spruce, cedar and hemlock covered the shore. Fiord-like inlets hugged the broken coastline.

During the second day of sailing a brief halt was called in Prince Rupert, British Columbia, which allowed the passengers time for a brief sightseeing excursion.

The next port of call was Juneau, Alaska. The several hour layover allowed Mrs. Christian and her companions to view the famous Mendenhall Glacier. The following day the cruiser docked at Skagway, Alas. The passengers had arrived at their destination and the highpoints of the tour were about to begin.

According to Mrs. Christian, the joys of the journey were hampered by a small inconvenience. She explained that their luggage had been re-routed to another location and that she and her companions spent the four days aboard the cruiser with just the clothes on their backs and the few items they carried in their traveling bags.

"We had decided to turn back because all our warmer clothes were in the luggage. But when we arrived at Skagway we found our bags waiting for us," Mrs. Christian said. "I learned one thing," she commented, "I always pack more things than I need for a trip." She added, "I have learned to do with a lot less."

The local traveler remarked that she enjoyed the four-day cruise and felt she was encircled by many lovely people. "I met many wonderful people and formed many lasting friendships," she said.

Mrs. Christian described Skagway as a "gold rush town." They stayed at the Sourdough Inn which earned its name back in the gold rush days when the prospectors carried yeast in a bag around their necks. Sometimes the yeast soured and the "sourdoughers" were refused entrance to many locations, explained Mrs. Christian.

The travelers left Skagway and traveled to Lake Bennett, head waters of the Yukon River, by way of the White Pass and Yukon Railroad. Mrs. Christian said the nickname of the train was 'WPYA' which means "wait patiently and you'll arrive." They traveled along the Summit at White Pass. A brief layover at Whitehorse provided ample time for sightseeing.

The following day Mrs. Christian and her companions left Whitehorse and traveled by motorcoach on a two-day excursion to Fairbanks. Scenic sights were Lake Kluane which parallels the highway for 40 miles. They stayed at the Alaskan Border Lodge the first night of the two-day trip to Fairbanks.

Sightseeing in Fairbanks included the University of Alaska and its museum and the residential areas of "Old Fairbanks." According to Mrs. Christian another highlight of the Fairbanks' stopover was the Tanana River cruise aboard the sternwheeler Discovery.

The following day the motorcoach transported the travelers over the scenic McKinley Highway en route to McKinley National Park.

They were treated to an eight-hour excursion 60 miles into the park to Eielson Visitor's Center. Mrs. Christian said the peak of Mt. McKinley was cloud-covered while they were there. They enjoyed a box lunch and viewed wild game that made their home in the park.

The motorcoach then continued to Anchorage, passing through Denali State Park and skirting the edge of the Matanuska Valley farming area.

From Anchorage the tourists participated in a two-day Arctic Coast excursion. They crossed the Yukon River before arriving in Nome, the gold rush capital of the Arctic. Mrs. Christian said they saw the movie, "Story of the Gold Rush" and visited the new Eskimo Museum. She added that agents of the touring company were on hand to provide them with warm colorful parkas for the colder Arctic temperatures.

The excursionists also took a bus tour of the city and viewed the nearby gold dredges and gold fields. The Farwellite said they actually panned for gold and added that she has a few tiny specks for her efforts.

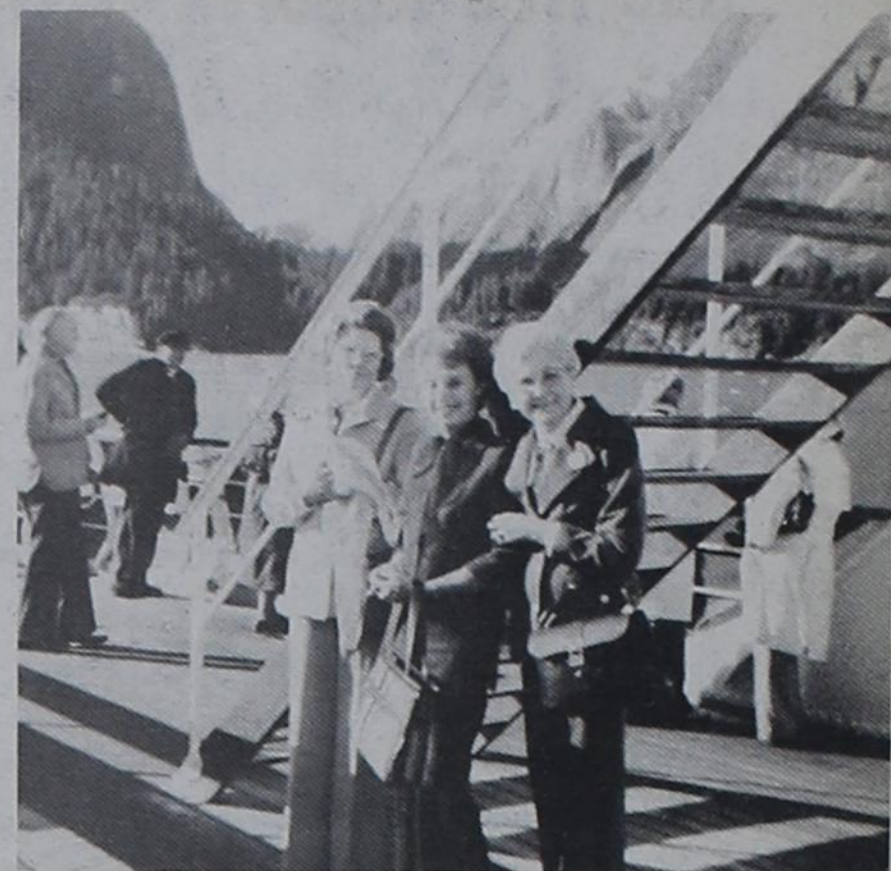

Part of the tour included a visit to Kotzebue, an Eskimo village where they were met by an Eskimo couple who guided them on a tour through the village. Mrs. Christian said they were treated to a "blanket toss."

Following their sojourn in the Eskimo village, the vacationers continued by motorcoach from Anchorage south over the Seward Highway to Iceberg Lake at Portage Glacier. They stopped at Alyeska, Alaska's famed ski resort. Mrs. Christian said they were unable to ride the chairlift because the wind and rain were blowing too hard.

From Alyeska the group returned to Anchorage. There they toured Earthquake Park, Turnagain Arm residential area, and historical sites in the city.

Mrs. Christian called her two-week trip to Alaska a "rewarding experience." She said it was the "best managed tour" she had ever participated in. The Farwellite called her experience "unforgettable" and remarked that she "wouldn't have missed it for anything."

Excursionists

Mrs. Loucile Foster of Ft. Worth, left, Mrs. Herta McNatt of Austin, center, and Mrs. Carrie Christian of Farwell embarked on a 14-day tour of Alaska in September. The three women enjoyed many sights and adventures together. The beginning of the trip was a four-day cruise on the ship Renaissance through the Gulf of Alaska.

Alaskan Pipeline

This segment of the Alaskan Pipeline is just one of the many sights Mrs. Carrie Christian viewed when she toured Alaska in September. Mrs. Christian said the pipeline was being built around Beaver Dams because of protests made by environmentalists. She added that it was common for the workers to earn about $1000 per week.

Lifeboat Drill

Mrs. Carrie Christian, left, and Katherine Weywood of Canada were two of the many passengers on board the cruise ship Renaissance who participated in lifeboat drills. The two women were roommates on board the cruiser. The Farwellite was on the first lap of a two-week journey which would take her through many interesting points of the state of Alaska.
