

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

Your help is needed

It's a funny thing when you try something new, you never can be quite sure whether it will be a success or a failure.

Such is the case with the Celebrity Auction planned as a fund-raiser for the Farwell Community Center.

To be blunt, it could be a massive failure. And I'm sure some folks would say, "I told you so." But if you go on the assumption that something new might be a failure, very little would get done in this world; at least that's my opinion.

I've always felt that the important thing in life is to try. That's a lesson I've tried to teach my children. As long as they try, that's what counts -- win or lose. So some of the townsfolk are trying to help pay off loans that have established a beautiful focal point for the Twin Cities -- the Community Center. I think it's a good idea to try to help them.

Knowing the people involved in this project, it appears that it will be successful. Two of the strongest Twin City groups -- Beta Sigma Phi and Epsilon Sigma Alpha -- will be putting on a supper during the auction. With the Farwell Study Club spearheading the efforts to sell tickets for that dinner, my guess is that there will be a strong turnout.

That takes care of one piece in the puzzle: getting a large crowd. Another piece deals with the place and time. Since the auction will be at the Community Center, we don't have to worry about a big rental fee. And the date is planned -- starting at 5 p.m. June 22 -- so that it doesn't interfere with our Bordertown Days or Clovis' Pioneer Days.

As far as we know, there are no major conflicts to the June 22 date; thus, another piece of the puzzle is in place.

Obviously, an auction needs auctioneers. Joe Jones is in charge of getting some volunteers for this most-important job and, knowing Joe, I'm sure we will be in great shape in this department. Yet one more piece is in place.

That brings us to the last piece: items to be auctioned. If you've been following the articles on the auction, you know that the items will consist of donations from celebrities, local businesses and area residents.

Here's the breakdown on this piece in the puzzle:

Letters have been sent out to celebrities, such as movie stars, sports heroes and politicians, asking for donated items. Already, a commitment has been made that we will receive two autographed baseballs from Hall of Famer Johnny Bench.

As for items from businesses in Muleshoe, Clovis and the Twin Cities, members of the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club have agreed to go door-to-door to seek them.

That leaves donated items from area residents -- such as our readers. Wouldn't you like to help? Surely, there is some item sitting around the house gathering dust that you wouldn't mind contributing to a good cause?

We're not asking for money. We're just asking that you look around your house and find something -- a knickknack, some toys, a piece of art, furniture, whatever -- that you would like to donate -- and help our new Community Center. All you need to do is to bring it by the State Line Tribune office, 404 Third St., Farwell, any weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Surely, after all the work done by community residents on setting up the Community Center, it isn't asking that much for folks to help out in this small way.

As I've written in past columns, one of the things that attracted me to the Twin Cities was the belief that folks here work together in a constructive way. And I've heard folks tell me the same thing since I've arrived.

Now's a chance for folks to chip in. We'd surely appreciate your kind help. It's kind of hard for a small community to take on a major task, like a Community Center. But it sure gives you a warm glow inside when you see the dream become a reality. And an achievement like that can only happen when folks, with the help of God, work together.

Success rarely comes easily. It's something you have to work at. There are a bunch of folks working like the dickens to make this auction a success. They need your help.

Edwina Owen used to feel like Santa Claus

Edwina Owen retires today (Friday) after more than 26 years with the Farwell Post Office. Here is her story, in her own words:

In 1955 there was little interest in taking a civil service exam or in employment at the post office. It was a seven-day a week job, holidays included, with very limited working hours.

Mrs. Brown at the Texico Post Office had obtained around 10 to 12 people to apply for the test. I was not interested, but out of curiosity, applied and took the test in Clovis.

Before becoming employed by the Farwell Postal Service, I worked part-time at Rip's Western Wear, and then two years at the Farwell Lunchroom. When Reva Bradshaw quit at the Farwell Post Office, I transferred my rating from Texico to Farwell and went to work in 1959 for the postal service.

The pay was $2 an hour and I worked a few hours every day, seven days a week. On Saturdays we were open until noon. We waited for the rural carrier to get in before we could go home. During the winter months, on bad roads, you never knew just when the carrier would get back to the office.

The main part of our mail came in about 10:30 a.m. on a train from Lubbock. We also had two night highway post office buses that left mail on their way from Lubbock and Amarillo. The mail was transported by two trains that came through on their way to Amarillo and Lubbock.

We had a swinging leather reinforced pouch that we hung on an arm. The train had a hook and would catch the pouch and throw us one off.

You could mail a letter and it would arrive in Bovina or Friona the same day. On Sundays and holidays you went down twice to put up the mail, once at 8 a.m. then again about 1 p.m.

On Christmas day I would go in the mornings, put up the mail, then deliver the packages that arrived late to people in town. I use to feel like Santa Claus. We still do this, but now, we have a phone and are able to call the patrons to come to the post office for their packages. This is a service that I doubt you would find in very many towns.

Charlie Crume carried our mail to and from the trains daily. John Zahn was the postmaster and Carrie Hamrick was the regular clerk. Nelson Smith and Lee Meeks were the rural carriers at that time.

I fondly recall some of our patrons from those days. Judge A.D. Smith would come roaring in. Mr. R.V. Ham came every Sunday and waited in the lobby until I got all the mail put up. The post office at that time was located on Main Street, which meant there was very little parking area. Truly, a congested area. It included Sikes Motor Co., Pulliam Service Station, Kurt Crume Cleaners, McDorman Laundry, Sprows Electric, a drug store, bank, grocery store, and at one time Floyd Trantham's cafe.

To me it seems like we had more mail when we were in the old post office building, but I am sure it was due to the crowded facilities. We had a hand-operated cancelling

This photo of Edwina Owen was taken just after she started work in the Farwell Post Office, then operating out of a building on the highway.

Reception to honor Edwina Owen

Farwell Postmaster Otis McMillan said a reception will be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m. today (Friday) at the post office to honor Edwina Owen, who retires today.

Mrs. Owen has been with the Post Office for more than 26 years.

Refreshments will be served at the reception.

machine and about 350 boxes. We had a waiting list for boxes as we had no more room to expand. Many of our people had to use the general delivery service as boxes were not available. Because postage was cheap, we had lots of Christmas cards, but not as much political mail as we do now.

Politics played a big part in the selection of our postmasters. When the administration changed, sometimes, so did the postmasters. I have worked with John Zahn, Jessie Landrum, Albert Smith, and Jim Bob Smart. Postmasters are selected at the present time by the postal system. Otis McMillan became our postmaster in 1975.

When we moved to the new office in 1968, the greatest change for us was the electric cancelling machine. Our box sections have about doubled. We now have postage meters for our large mailers.

In the old post office building, we had so few boxes that they were randomly numbered; therefore, we put up the mail by names. At that time, we knew everyone. Now, we have to rely on the box numbers. Mail used to be cased and tied-out to individual towns. At the present time, it is all sorted on machines in Lubbock. Mail now comes in once a day from Lubbock.

Retiring will be a big adjustment for me. I have watched children grow up, marry and then their children come in and start stamp collections. I will miss the association with the people, as I have enjoyed the years I have spent in the post office. I have not made any big retirement plans. I may not get much further than Ute Lake, but with a fisherman for a husband I am certain of that much.

I used to paint, crochet and quilt. If I get bored, I am sure I can entertain myself. But for the present, I haven't found anything wrong with just being home.

pictures and raise money to buy a duplex for them. Eight hundred dollars is needed to purchase a multiplex that will keep the composites together in an air-tight environment.

Donations are being sought, not only from the general public and local businesses, but also from former classes. These donations may be brought to Farwell High School, the Beauty Box, Capitol Foods, Luce's Restaurant, Hughes True Value and City Cleaners.

The class would like to thank Joe Hughes and Ruby Meeks who have helped in the endeavor so far.

Chamber banquet to feature talent show

Farwell Chamber of Commerce Secretary Dutch Quickel announced at Tuesday's Chamber luncheon that an astronaut will be unable to be the guest speaker at this year's Chamber banquet.

Although the appearance had been tentatively approved, it turned out that due to increased activity in the Space Shuttle program, it will be impossible for the astronaut to come this year.

However, Quickel was told that an astronaut definitely wants to come to Parmer County and that if arrangements are made in October, an appearance can be expected at next year's Chamber banquet.

Thus, this year's banquet will feature a local talent show, Quickel said. Fred Chandler is in charge of arranging the program. The banquet will be the second week in June at the Community Center. Tickets will go on sale next week.

In other business, Gwen Hughes and Tom Nichols spoke in support of organizing a shop-at-home drive. Mike Pomper and Larry Millhouse were appointed to head it. Quickel said the annual Chamber dues will be collected soon. Dues are $17.50 for individuals and $50 for businesses.

Quickel said Chamber representatives will be attending a Farwell City Council meeting in May to suggest hiring an individual on a part-time basis to help promote the community. He noted the number of empty buildings along Main Street.

Questionnaires were sent to community groups earlier this year asking their views on whether a post was needed. Quickel said most replies were favorable.

The Chamber voted to spend $11 for postage on sending letters to celebrities as part of the Celebrity Auction to raise funds for the Community Center.

Letters went out this week to several hundred celebrities, such as movie stars, sports heroes and politicians, seeking items for the auction, scheduled June 22 at the Community Center.

Week proclaimed

Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts has proclaimed the week of May 12-19 as Soil Stewardship Week.

Letter To The Editor

I enjoy your newspaper very much. It's very newsy, quite enjoyable and has improved every week.

I've got something I need your help on and not make people mad: Trash cans - lids. This is in Texico. Supposedly we have an ordinance for putting trash in plastic bags and then in trash containers with lids?

Also, mowing alleys and keeping them neat. Now if the people are elderly or sick and not financially able to hire someone, don't bother. I'm sure there would be enough volunteers to help those people like that.

How about a cleanup campaign? A little pride and work can do a whole lot. No offense intended; just a little work and pride.

We have a very good man taking care of trash and he does clean up messes that are uncalled for. He's a very nice person and hard worker but why should he clean up messes that are unnecessary?

My Customers Have A Choice...

Comparable Yields OR Outstanding Yields with Lower Fertilizer Costs with No Cost Increase...

It's true, while everybody else seems to want more of your money, my USA Fertilizers afford you a profitable choice. I can cut your fertilizer costs with USA Fertilizer with no reduction in yield. Or spend the same amount on fertilizer, and my USA Fertilizers can help you to a significant increase in yields.

How Can USA Fertilizers Offer That Choice

It's simple, they work more efficiently. USA Fertilizers condition the moisture surrounding the plant so that more key nutrients can get to the roots. USA Fertilizers patented acid based liquid formulations create an "acid zone" where conditions are right for the release of nutrients that were tied-up with the minerals in the soil and unavailable to the roots. Floating in the soil moisture, the nutrients are free to attach to clay particles so that they can be easily absorbed by the plant. In other words, you efficiently fertilize the plant, not the soil.

USA Fertilizers Make Dollar Sense

You do have a choice with USA Fertilizers. Lower fertilizer costs or higher yields, either way you're ahead of the game. So, whether you want comparable yields with lower costs, or outstanding yields with no cost increase, come see me. My USA Fertilizers will give you the results you expected from other fertilizers.

USA Fertilizers are manufactured by:

SAFETY... EVERYONE'S CONCERN

Electricity is the farmer's co-worker. But, it can be a potential danger to the farmer if irrigation equipment is not maintained properly.

All center pivot sprinklers should be grounded properly to operate safely. Improper grounding can cause hazardous voltages to appear on metal objects such as ground wires, guys, and equipment enclosures following equipment failures.

Because we are interested in your welfare, we urge you to take EVERY possible precaution to avoid serious injury—or possibly even death!

We at BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOP are concerned that on towed systems, grounds could be broken off; also, systems located in pastures and areas where livestock may be or may have been. The grounds may have been broken or rubbed into. It is up to the member to see that his pivot systems is in good electrical condition. Grounds need to be checked often and replaced if broken or missing. PLEASE CHECK YOUR SYSTEM'S GROUNDS AND EQUIPMENT. Not only is it for your safety and your employee's safety, it is for the safety of anyone who should come in contact with your pivot system. If you have doubts about your system, contact your sprinkler company, or your electric supplier.

Former Lazbuddie resident honored

A former Lazbuddie resident, James Robinson, was posthumously inducted into the Pioneer Section of the National Greyhound Hall of Fame on April 27, at Abilene, Kan. This section "pays tribute to the persons who participated in greyhound racing before 1940 and who have made outstanding contributions in any field or service to the sport."

Mr. Robinson resided at Clay's Corner and raised greyhounds for over 40 years before his death on Dec. 21, 1984. He raced dogs in Florida for forty years, in Juarez, Mexico since 1963, and in Arkansas, Arizona, Colorado, and South Dakota at various times.

His racing kennels have maintained a high position on the kennel standings based on wins and money earned throughout the years.

In addition to raising top quality dogs over the years, he also taught the business to his children and helped get them started in raising and/or racing their own dogs. One daughter, Gayle McElhinny, operates the racing kennel in Florida. Jimmy Robinson has taken over the operation of his father's dog farm at Clay's Corner. Mrs. James Robinson assists Jimmy with the running of the farm. Two other daughters, Vicki Morris and Glenda Jennings, raise greyhounds near Clay's Corner. One other daughter, Sherry Embry, resides in Muleshoe and is Asst. Vice President of the First Bank of Muleshoe.

With his children involved in the business, the bloodlines Mr. Robinson started developing over 40 years ago will be carried on in the future.

Meat dishes sampled

"Delicious Meat Dishes," "Stretch your Meat Dollars" and "Herbs and Spices" were the topics demonstrated April 18 at the meeting of the Pleasant Hill Womens Club.

The group met with Connie Moyer at the Southwestern Public Service Hospitality room.

Mrs. Moyer demonstrated meat dishes for the women to sample at lunch time. She also had a display of herb plants and told the ladies various ways of using them in cooking. She suggested growing herbs in your own garden so that they would be readily available for use fresh, frozen or dried.

Following the demonstration the women enjoyed a delicious salad luncheon hosted by Ima Kimbrough.

Rozeltha Clark presided at the business meeting. Plans were discussed for the home tour scheduled May 2. Homes to be toured are the Wayne Pierce's, Pete Moore's and Alvis Clark's. The group will meet at K-Bob's at noon for a Dutch treat luncheon.

Members and guests present were Nancy Barnes, Rozeltha Clark, Ima Kimbrough, Mary Meiers, Jo Mae Priest, Alice Pierce, Diane Smith, Donie Roberts, Marie Smith and Connie Moyers.
