

FROM THE HOPPER

By Hop Jr.

This warning should go to any resident in town who relies on the figures coming from his own rain gauge, or a gauge owned by someone else.

Some pretty unscrupulous persons have stooped so low as to visit the gauge stations under cover of darkness, and, with a cupful of water in hand, just about done away with the accuracy of the little meters.

When the gauge reads six inches within a 10-hour period, we suspected something was up!

The rain is wonderful for the dryland farmers, and the fellows who aren't through their pre-irrigation should be pretty happy, too. You can count us in with those who approve the showers.

After all, that vegetation sometimes referred to as a lawn that is in front of our place could certainly use the moisture. People have unfairly criticized us for the shoddy appearance of our "lawn."

It's an unfair criticism. That delicate combination of tickle grass, sunflowers, dandelions, sandburrs, and rye is intended for nothing more than a cover crop. Soil erosion is a pretty serious subject around our house, and we have taken firm steps to keep our place from blowing.

We tried to mow our cover crop—once. The occasional tangles of wire, survey markers, and sand hummocks discouraged a repetition of this attempt at elementary landscaping. Maybe next year will be "it" for the Grahams, and they'll get something to come up that can honestly be referred to as a lawn.

As every conscientious wife should do, our wife tries to be helpful to her husband whenever she can. This past week she asked us how many were in our Sunday School class, and when we confessed that the number that rainy morning was pretty small, she offered a suggestion.

She had been reading somewhere that a county sheriff emptied the jail and brought all the prisoners to Sunday School with him. Charley Lovelace is a member of our class.

Some of the most energetic and persistent sales people we have ever seen have been calling by the dozens at our office. They flock in from the high schools of the surrounding area, and have a blurt and inescapable answer for every reason a person might think of for not BUYING.

During the past week we have bought tickets to something we don't have time to see, had our car washed when it was raining, purchased yearbook advertising (and we are supposed to sell advertising, not buy it), and goodness knows what else.

The kids are getting their business training at an early age, we'd say. We are glad to see that all their selling schemes have at least guaranteed something in return.

This is a big improvement over the "handout" method sometimes employed, we think.

No telling what the weather will be like by time you read this, but as this is being typed, the writer is dreaming of a hot bowl of stew—his first of the season.

We have a weak spot in our tummy for seasonable foods. When the weather cools, we're the first to get in the stew and chili line. In the spring when it's still pretty snappy, we get great pleasure from our first beaker of iced tea. Variety is sure enough the spice of life.

Texas will produce more than half of the nation's grain sorghum crop this year, and a substantial part of that production will be from the farms of this immediate area.

Yet, there is no person or organization, save the government's export agencies, who are trying to sell grainy sorghum.

Times have not changed as much as you might think. At least, the younger (and just-dating) set has not originated any more appropriate remarks to open a telephone conversation than we used to use when about 15: "Whatcha doin'?"

We also notice a pronounced carry-over of this lazy beginning, that throws all the effort of conversation directly and immediately to the opposite party, in persons of later years.

Our wife, for instance, she starts every discourse with the old hackneyed, "Whatcha doin'?" We notice that her lady friends suffer the same complex, however, as when the phone rings for her, and she answers, the first words will invariably be, "Oh, nothin' much."

All of this is, of course, little short of preposterous. Anybody who telephones anybody else should immediately conclude, when the receiver is lifted from the line, that the opposite party is doing nothing but talking on the telephone.

What a Mess

The driver of this truck had quite a job for himself and several others for several hours after this load of alfalfa dumped itself in front of the Lewis 66 Service Station in Texico last week. The baled hay, which was "slick," according to those who watched it topple, did no damage to persons or property in its fall. It was, however, a traffic hazard until cleaned up.

Fog-Bound Weather Brings Some Rainfall

You could have mistaken it for England. So say persons who have lived both on the windswept High Plains of the Southwest and the rolling hills of green and colorful England.

That was the weather for four straight days over the weekend, when fog closed in over a tremendous area, and subjected the unusually high and dry residents to a bit of a wet spell.

Few points in the immediate Texico-Farwell, Parmer County area reported heavy amounts of rainfall, but the increased humidity and cool weather brought on by the spell made the moisture more noticeable.

Here in Farwell, the rainfall totaled 1.52 inches. About the same figure has been quoted for Bovina, but points to the east of Bovina seemed to have received more rain. A farmer living near Friona said his gauge showed almost three inches.

The weather turned downright cold, compared with what September temperatures have been lately. The drop in the mercury brought out coats and hats, and even gloves for some.

Most homes were "stunk up" with the first firing of the floor furnace which had been inactive many months.

What About Crops
The moisture has not been of great harm to any crop in the county, believes County Agent Joe Jones. "Cotton won't be hurt if it will turn off dry and warm after this spell," believes Jones.

He added that some late feed will

Leon Langford Wins State Fair Honors

Leon Langford was one of the 4-H Club boys to receive the State Fair of Texas Award of Honors according to a release made by Floyd Lynch, state 4-H Club leader.

Langford will show a fat Hereford steer at the State Fair next week.

This special recognition award is made annually by the State Fair of Texas to one boy and one girl in each of the extension districts and to one Future Farmer and Future Homemaker in each vocational area in the state. Selections are based upon all around record of the member and their achievements in both leadership and production activities.

Formal presentation of the awards will be made in Dallas on the evening of October 14, when the winners and their parents will be honored guests at a banquet given by the State Fair with the Rural Youth Committee in charge.

The winners will join with thousands of other rural youth the next day on Rural Youth Day at the State Fair.

Parmer County Included in New FHA Loan

A new loan program, known as "The Great Plains Credit Program," has been made available through the Farmers Home Administration, and Parmer County is included in the list of Southwestern counties where the loan will be available.

Information on this new loan was released by the Parmer County FHA office this week:

Purpose
The Great Plains Credit program is designed to provide loans to farmers and ranchers in designated areas to help them reorganize their farming operations and develop systems of farming that will make proper use of the land and minimize the hazards of drought and wind erosion.

Credit For Proper Land Use
A loan is made only after a land use map has been prepared by the Soil Conservation Service for a farm or ranch to be developed or operated with the proceeds of the loan.

A plan for operating the farm or ranch under the type of farming best suited for the land will be prepared by each applicant with assistance of agricultural technicians.

If the plan is feasible, and the applicant is eligible, loan funds will be advanced to make the adjustments and to carry on the types of farming that are outlined in the plan.

Who May Borrow
A loan may be made to a farm owner, farm operator, or stockman, including a partnership or corporation, if the applicant:

1. . . is an established operator and is primarily engaged in farming or livestock operations;

Special Election On New Office

Tuesday, November 1, was set aside by Parmer County commissioners Monday as the day for a special election in which county residents will decide whether they want to create a new office for tax assessor-collector.

The duties of this office now are being carried on by the sheriff. If the election carries, the new office will be created, to take force January 1, 1957.

Election judges were appointed by the court. They are as follows: FRIONA—Tom Crawford, Floyd Reeve, George Baker.

LAZBUDDIE—E. V. Craine, George Craine, Clara Belle Craine.

BLACK—John Benger, Mrs. Dick Rocky, Mrs. Bruce Parr.

RHEA—Melvin Sachs, Jack Paterson, Raymond Schueler.

BOVINA—J. W. Parker, Troy Armstrong, A. B. Wilkerson.

OKLAHOMA LANE—Mrs. Clyde Perkins, Clyde Perkins, Clarence Christian.

FARWELL—Albert Smith, Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Mrs. Felix Monroe.

LAKEVIEW—Otho Whitefield, Mrs. Otho Whitefield, Mrs. George Jones.

ABSENTEE—Johnie Williams, Sam Aldridge, H. Y. Overstreet.

This election is a direct result of a state constitutional amendment last November which made it possible for counties of fewer than 10,000 population to decide whether they wished the duties made into two offices rather than one.

In counties of population exceeding 10,000, the law provides for separation, but it does not in those such as Parmer. This county's population is now approximately 7,000.

Several neighboring counties have separated the offices, including Deaf Smith, Bailey, and Cochran.

"OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF PARMER COUNTY"

FARWELL, TEXAS THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1955 NUMBER 51

State Offers, County Accepts 2 FM Roads

Two Parmer County farm-to-market roads are scheduled for construction during the coming two-year building program, revealed S. C. McCarty, district engineer of the Texas Highway Department, this week.

The roads which have been scheduled:

From F. M. Road No. 690 at Oklahoma Lane, south to the Bailey County line, a distance of approximately 5.5 miles;

From F. M. Road No. 1731 west and north to the old Rhea school, a distance of approximately 5 miles.

Parmer County commissioners Monday agreed to accept the state's proposal to build the two roads and to furnish right-of-way for the construction of them.

Cost of the right-of-way is estimated at $114,000.

E. R. Thornton Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, notes that funds for this program are being derived from the fund

Appliance Store To Open Monday

Farwell's new appliance store, Spurlin TV, Radio and Appliance, will be open to the public on Monday, October 3, according to the firm's manager and owner, Jack Spurlin.

The new business, located in downtown Farwell, will handle many famous name appliances. Some of these are Emerson, Kelvinator and Zenith.

Complete and prompt repair service on radios and television will also be a feature of the new business.

300 Persons Attend Watts Grand Opening

Approximately 300 persons registered at the grand opening of Watts Machine and Pump Co. in Farwell Saturday.

A. T. Watts, owner of the firm, says that he considers the opening a great success and that he sincerely appreciates the courtesy of all the people who came by Saturday to see the new building.

Ray Campbell, Farwell, won the table radio, which was donated by Jack Spurlin's Radio and T. V. Appliance Shop. The electric percolator was awarded to E. M. Roop, Texico, and Morgan Billington, Texico, won the automatic clock radio.

Coffee and donuts were served to those who registered throughout the day.

Gifford-Hill Western Plant Nears Finish

Construction on the big, new concrete irrigation tile plant of Gifford-Hill Western in Farwell is in advanced stages this week, and company spokesmen indicate that it likely will be in production within the next two weeks.

Most of the heavy components of the industrial installation have been set up and are ready to go into operation, including the pipe-making machine itself.

The only major part yet to be installed at the plant is the boiler system, which generates steam for curing the pipe after it has been cast.

Hoppers for sand, gravel, and cement are in place, ramps for incoming trucks have been run, and the steel building housing the equipment is now completed.

E. M. Combs, office manager of the Farwell branch, Tuesday told The Tribune that work has progressed satisfactorily during recent weeks, and that no hitches of major significance have been encountered.

Dee Morgan will be manager of the pipe-making operation when it begins.

About ten workers will be hired by the firm to begin work when the plant is completed, although others will be needed as production rolls ahead.

The capacity of the plant is 3000 feet per day. The plant will serve Gifford-Hill Western's western territory.

New Industry

Farwell's most recent industrial-type operation is this new concrete pipe manufacturing plant of Gifford-Hill Western, now in final stages of construction. Note the outside hoppers for sand and cement.

Use of Loan Funds
Loans may be made for the re-seeding and establishment of grasslands and other approved conservation and land use practices, including soil and water erosion control measures; development and improvement of existing farm buildings, and, where necessary, the purchase of additional land needed to enlarge a farm to family-type size.
Loans may also be made to purchase livestock, farm equipment, seed, fertilizer, feed, insecticides, farm supplies, and for the payment of interest and taxes.

In cases when it is necessary to enable the farmer or rancher to continue his operations, loans may include funds to refinance his indebtedness.
Authority
Applicants for loans will be served whenever possible under the regular loan authorities of the Farmers Home Administration. Emergency loan authority will be used to supplement the regular loans.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

New Office Proposal Makes Sense to Us

Parmer County citizens will get a chance about one month from now to indicate whether they wish to create a new office of tax assessor-collector.

Other counties around us have taken the lead in this step, and although we do not believe in doing something just for the sake that everyone else is doing it, we think their judgement is sound.

The offices of sheriff and tax assessor-collector have, after all, little relation. In addition, the law enforcement and tax collecting duties of the county are multiplying each year. Parmer County is getting to be pretty grown up although we still have fewer than 10,000 people in the county.

The creation of a new office will not necessarily mean that additional expense will occur to the county, for the reason that the same amount of work will be done as before. It is presumed that the work could be done with the same number of employees.

The principal difference would be a division of responsibility for the two related offices, which now rests upon one person.

We favor the proposed creation of a new office of tax assessor-collector.

any line is certainly a rare exception. While it is true that markups may seem to be excessive on some items, the person who investigates this situation will usually discover that the profit from the sale of these few items will be spread over several other low-profit (or even loss) lines. That's the way it works in the retail business.

In fact, the services which many suppliers are now offering farmers simply could not be without a reasonable profit margin on goods that are sold. In short, we think that the charge made that suppliers are profiting unfairly is unsound, and suggest that the full story be investigated before any person reaches a conclusion for himself.

Retailers pay large amounts of taxes which go toward building the community, they are consistently the most energetic workers for improvement of the community, and they are the ones who get "touched" a pay off for every conceivable drive for funds—be it worthwhile or not.

Also, retailers are presently helping bridge the farm's financial gap, and many of them make the practice of carrying thousands of dollars of indebtedness on their books between harvest seasons.

You can be sure that competition has just about eliminated the big-time profit maker—at least in this area—in every field of selling. Many retailers, just like farmers, are "hanging on by the skin of their teeth" now. They are the best friends that the farmer has.

Retail Is Vital, Even to Rural Area

We are sorry to see the apparent increase in interest by farmers of the area in using their farm organization, Farm Bureau, as a vehicle for cooperative or group purchasing of needed farm supplies.

While we certainly can see why the farmer feels it necessary to lower his cost of production everywhere he can since prices he receives for his own produce are declining, we wonder if this is not an application of the old adage about being penny wise and pound foolish.

Retail-level (even though it's sometimes called wholesale in areas such as these) businesses which furnish farmers a place at which can be conveniently purchased such items as fertilizer, butane, and heavy implements, are the very cornerstone of the communities in which farmers live. To cut them off would be to strike a death blow at the community.

A great error in judgement often is made concerning retail "markup" or profit margins. They actually are at their lowest level ever, and the retail establishment that is making enormous profit in

Don't Risk Private Fire, Call Fire Department Early

Ask any fireman and he'll tell you that fires, like icebergs, often are largely concealed.

Because a bad fire can and too frequently does build up hidden and undetected in wall spaces, attics and under piles of rubbish, the smartest thing to do the minute anyone smells smoke or even suspects a fire is to call the fire department at once.

And calling the fire department just for an investigation is nothing to be ashamed of. Firemen without exception appreciate such alert action and you certainly will appreciate it, too, if they actually do find a fire.

Another word of caution about little fires that could be bigger than they seem: never over-estimate your own fire fighting ability—before attempting to fight even the smallest fire, first call the fire department.

When it actually comes to calling the fire department, most people for some strange reason would rather leave this simple, logical job to someone else. It's a fact that a number of buildings, according to National Fire Protection Association records, have burned to the ground while crowds stood around wondering why the fire department didn't show up.

Everybody assumed that someone else had turned in the alarm — and no one had.

Minutes count in any fire—so make sure an alarm is turned in by calling the fire department yourself. And don't wait until an actual emergency forces you to learn how to do it quickly and correctly. Right now, learn the location of the nearest fire alarm box and check whether you know how to operate it properly.

Remember, too, to stay near the box after pulling the alarm so you can direct firemen right to the fire.

When telephoning, be certain that you know how to reach your home town fire department—this is especially important when several departments share the same exchange.

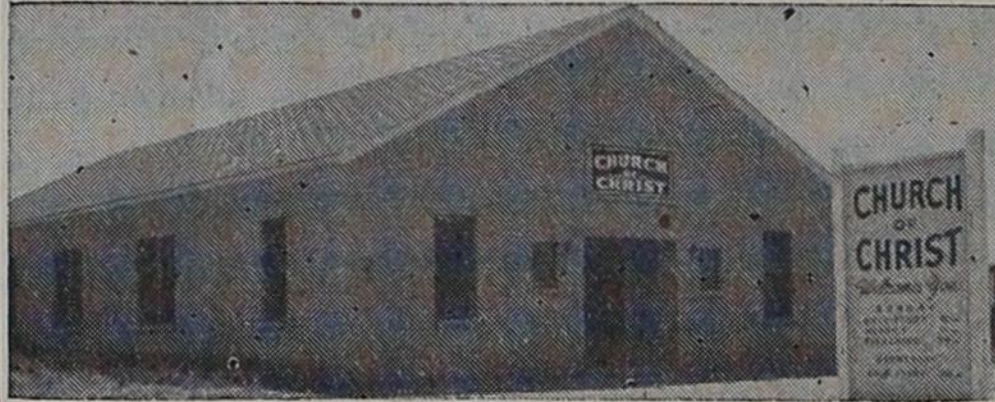

Reporting a fire by phone, remember to give: the street and number; the name of the city or town; what's burning; and your own name and phone number.

First Special Week

Fire Prevention Week dates back to 1911 when the Fire Marshals' Association of North America, today a section of the National Fire Protection Association, first selected the anniversary date of the Great Chicago Fire (October 9) as the best time to annually remind the nation of the need for greater fire safety.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

State Line Tribune
Farwell, Texas
Dear Mr. Graham,

Thank you very kindly for the picture of the steam engine which you sent us. It was very thoughtful of you and we do appreciate it.

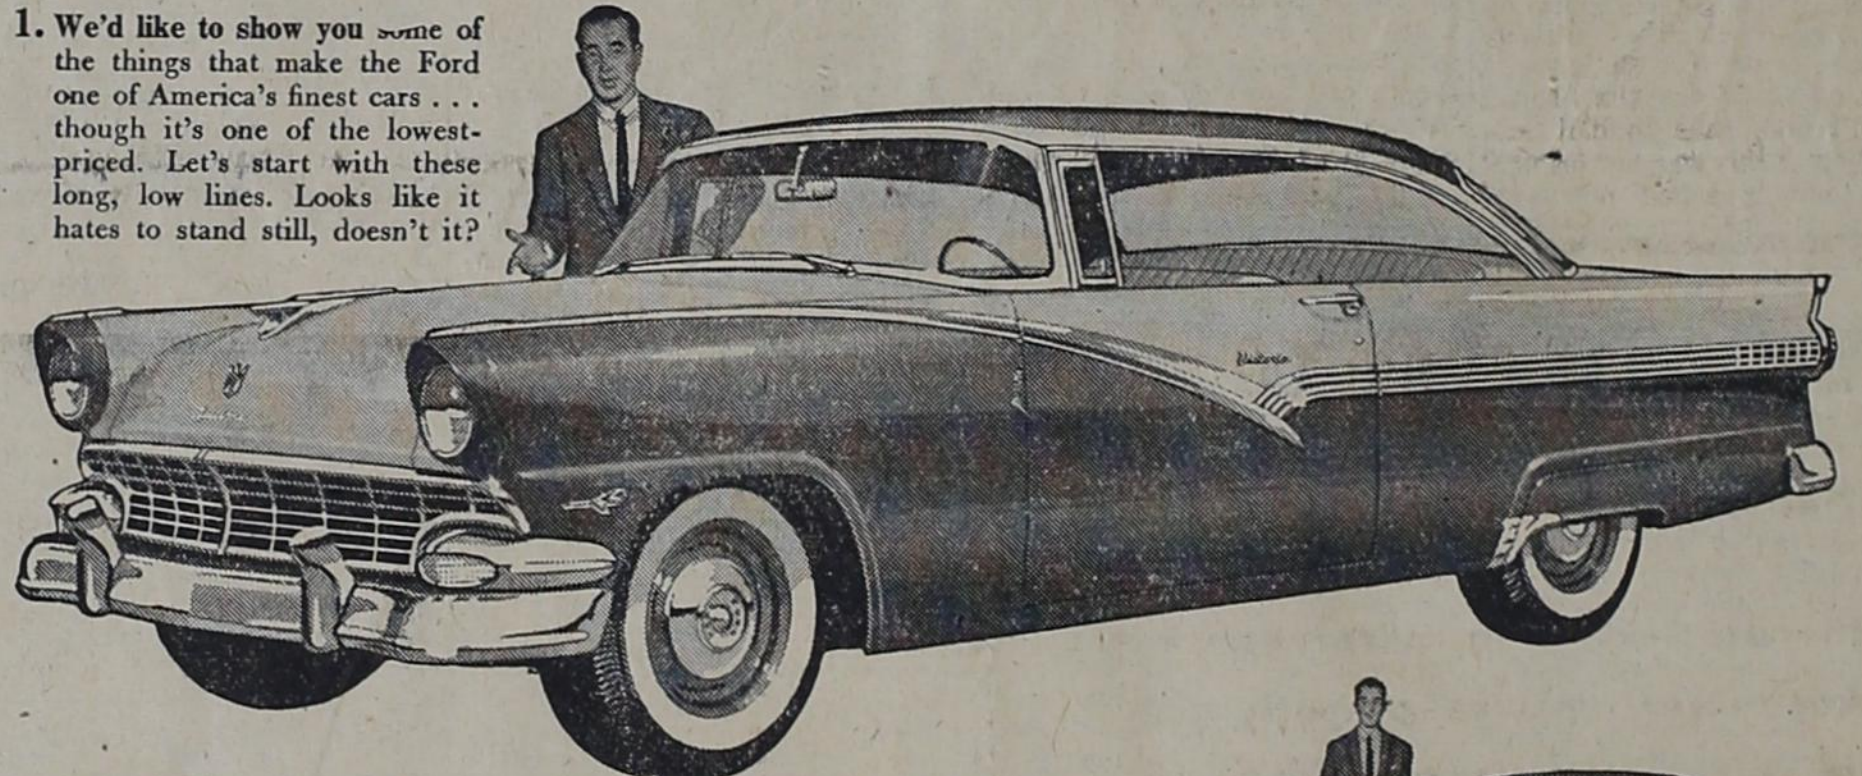

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sylvester, Sr.

R. M. Johnston, of The Houston Post, was elected president of the Texas Press Association in 1889 at a convention in El Paso. After the meeting the newspapermen went on an excursion to Mexico City.

Women who marry for money usually get a man who marries for a fancy figure.

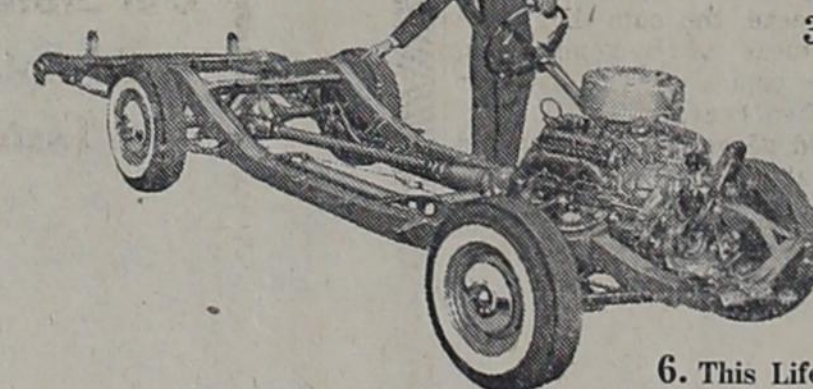

It is pretty hard for a man to think straight when all he has on his mind are curves.

1. We'd like to show you some of the things that make the Ford one of America's finest cars... though it's one of the lowest-priced. Let's start with these long, low lines. Looks like it hates to stand still, doesn't it?

Let's take
the NEW '56 FORD!

It's the fine car at half the fine car price!

3. Here's what you ride on. This frame has five cross-members including a special K-bar member up front. It can really take it! By the way, the control arms of Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension are angle-mounted to cushion out the head-on as well as the up-down shock of bumps.

4. The new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8 will give you a new lease on driving enjoyment. It's available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models. You can have the "GO"-packed 176-h.p. Y-8 in Fordomatic Mainline and Customline models, or Ford's new 137-h.p. Six is available in any model.

5. Note the deep-center design of this new Lifeguard steering wheel. The wheel rim is over three inches above the post to help cushion the driver in case of an accident. It's a feature of new Lifeguard Design which Ford spent over two years developing... to give you added protection in case of an accident.

6. This Lifeguard cushioning for instrument panel and sun visors is optional. It gives you extra protection when thrown forward in an accident. You may also have optional seat belts to help keep occupants securely in seats.

7. Here's Ford's new Lifeguard door latch. It is another member of Ford's new Lifeguard family. A double-grip locking engagement reduces the chance of doors springing open under unusual strain of impact. Chances of serious injury in accidents are less when passengers remain in the car.

Well, that covers the important points. But there's a lot more. So we'd like to invite you to come in and see the new '56 Ford for yourself. Then you'll see the colorful new exteriors and interiors, the quality workmanship that is evident everywhere. Then you'll learn the full story. When you do, you'll know that Ford is the fine car at half the fine car price.

COMING NEXT WEEK

Be sure to watch for the 1954 farm census of Parmer County, which will appear in The Tribune next week.

This significant statistical work, prepared by the U. S. Department of Commerce, will be a boon to the hundreds—even thousands—of persons vitally interested in learning the exact dimensions of this county's great agricultural development during the recent years.

The information on this history-making report arrived too late to be included in this week's paper. It did not reach the post office until today (Thursday).

Rather than publish mere statistics, The Tribune prefers to hold over this report for another week, at which time ample space will be provided for interpretation of the most significant facts which will show up in the census.

This will be something you will want to save. If you'd like to reserve extra copies, please notify us in advance.

he made the remark "junk is something you save for 10 years, then throw away just two days before you need it!"

Those of us who rooted for Texas Tech Saturday are due a sympathy towel. TCU had it! Anyway, we have the consolation that we were better than Texas two weeks ago.

The new 1956 cars on display at Sikes, over the weekend convinced us of one thing—there is no end to the luscious colors that the automobile industry can create. They are something to behold—and the combination of hues is another story.

Free coffee and doughnuts two days in a row! The Sikes Ford showing was a good excuse for our morning refreshment on Friday and the Watts Grand opening was the Saturday morning affair. We wouldn't mention any names, but we weren't the only addict to take advantage of our host's generosity and to enjoy seeing the "new" items in town.

Watts was showing off his new building—one of the nicer additions to the business district.

"Since I've been enjoying some of the fine recipes from your column, I've decided to send you one which I think all readers of the paper will enjoy if they give it a try," is the comment of Mrs. A. J. Jarrell, Route 2, Texico, who sends this recipe for Orange Kiss Me Cake and Orange Nut Topping.

ORANGE KISS ME CAKE
Grind together 1 large orange pulp and rind. Reserve juice for topping.
1 cup ground raisins.
1/3 cup ground walnuts
Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1 cup sugar. Then add 1/2 cup shortening, 3/4 cup sweet milk. Mix well at low speed for 2 minutes. Add two eggs (unbeaten) and 1/4 cup milk and beat 2 more minutes. Fold orange and raisin mixture into batter and bake in greased pyrex dish.

ORANGE NUT TOPPING
1/3 cup orange juice
1/3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
Pour 1/2 of the orange juice over warm cake. Mix rest of ingredients and spread on cake. Then lastly, sprinkle a little sugar and cinnamon on top of the cake.

The question of what the polio vaccine can do, has been a major question in the past few months. Maybe this release by Hart E. Van Riper, M. D., Medical Director of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will answer some of your questions. It follows.

Almost all of us are infected by the polio virus at one time or another. Generally, we don't even know we have the infection. We may feel perfectly well, or we may have a sore throat or an upset stomach.

"Sometimes, however, the polio virus does serious damage. It attacks the central nervous system, destroying nerve cells and causing paralysis.
"If almost everyone is attacked by the virus, there must be an important reason why some people succumb and some do not. There is.

The critical battle in the fight against polio takes place, as it always has, in the bodies of human beings. It is a battle between the polio virus and tiny particles, called antibodies, which can destroy the virus in the blood stream.

When an individual is infected by the polio virus, the virus enters trying. This is a good example of the old saying "good news travels."

You know that sentimental feeling you get when you begin cleaning the attic or some other storage place where all the relics from the good old days are kept. You have the best intentions of getting rid of all those things that take up space and are actually no good to anyone. But each item brings back some memory and somehow you end up by merely rearranging the odds and ends.

That is sort of the way we felt when our husband informed us that we needed the space in the back of the shop, and everything must go. So the bonfire was set for Saturday, and despite rain—we began our task, with the help of the shop crew, and a few of the neighborhood kids who peeked in to carry away the discarded loot.

The first thought that struck us was that the Grahams are champions at keeping everything. If we had waited a few more years, we would have been able to open our own museum. But we did discard many things.

First thing, we found the gasket from our husband's old model T Ford. It would be just as good as new if we had all the other parts to go with it.

And all the adding machine paper that we knew we had, but couldn't find, also turned up. Our next door business neighbors, the Aldridges, should be glad to hear this. We had been borrowing off them for several months and finally resorted to buying several rolls. All the time, 100 rolls of perfectly good paper were reposing among the "junk."

There was the "thing" which now rests in Farwell junk yard. Not knowing what to call it, and not knowing exactly what it was, we finally gave up and carted "it" away. We think it might have been a bar or some such early business. There is one fact we know about "it". Mrs. Graham said it was stored in the back of the shop when she and Hop moved into the building 26 years ago.

We found the old pot-bellied coal stove that heated the building for so many years—Don Barnes took the heavy crates and boxes that we kept thinking we might use them some day. They will now house Don's FFA feeding project.

Out the door went the jars of old anti-freeze, the cuts that were news pictures of by-gone days, and extra copies of Tribunes for the past five years.

We could go on for columns and columns about our tendencies to keep things, but the important part to the narrative is that the back shop is in readiness for the next 25 years. If it hadn't been a necessity for more space, we would have these same items to rearrange next time. But as Sonny instructed us, practically everything "went."

It was bound to happen! As I said, we cleaned the back of the shop Saturday, and on Tuesday, John Getz came in wanting some of those old Tribunes we threw away. Wes Izzard was right. In his column last week, EVERYBODY reads The Tribune.

HD Council Meets Monday In Farwell

Sixteen ladies were present at a regular monthly meeting of the Home Demonstration Council Monday afternoon at the office of Miss Corinne Stinson.

Reports were given of summer activities of the home demonstration clubs of the county.

Mrs. H. L. Ivy, chairman of the yearbook committee, reported that the yearbooks are almost ready to be printed.

Mrs. G. A. Thorn, chairman of the 4-H Club leaders, reported on the summer activities of various girls' clubs.

Parmer County delegates to the THDA convention held in Fort Worth gave reports on the workshops they attended at the August convention.

Mrs. Bill Buchanan of the Lakeview HD Club reported on "Health and Safety." Mrs. Lee Renner, Hi-Point HD Club, reported on the recreation workshop, and Mrs. Dick Rocky of the Black Club reported on citizenship.

A nominating committee, which will submit names for new officers of the council, was appointed. Serving on this committee are Mrs. S. C. Hough, Mrs. Floyd Schlenker and Mrs. Dee Brown.

New council officers will be elected at the next monthly meeting of the group on October 24. Meeting will be held in Miss Stinson's office.

The group made preliminary plans for a county-wide get-together of members of all the home demonstration clubs. This luncheon meeting will be held in Bovina on November 17. Place of the meeting will be announced later.

Committees appointed for this meeting include the general committee which will be in charge of all arrangements, the invitation and hospitality committee, the program committee and the decoration committee.

Mrs. Glenn Taylor is chairman of the committee on arrangements and Mrs. Cordie Potts is serving with Mrs. Taylor on this committee.

Heading the invitation and hospitality committee is Mrs. J. H. Boyle. Mrs. Floyd Schlenker and Mrs. Dee Chitwood are also members of this committee.

Decoration committee members are Mrs. T. I. Burslem, Mrs. J. T. Hopingardner and Mrs. Gordon Massey.

Other routine business was conducted at Monday's meeting before adjournment.

Drum major Glenna Ruth Davis and majorettes Phyllis Magness, Jo Elaine Magness, Doris Harriman, Cora Sue Atchley and Jeanette Hughes will attend the second annual twirling clinic and festival for Panhandle twirlers which is slated for Saturday, October 1, on the West Texas State College campus. Bob Roberts, famed Los Angeles twirling instructor, will direct the clinic.

Opening at 10:30 a. m., the schedule will include sessions in contest rudiments, ensemble routines, tricks, showmanship and strutting. A competition will be held in the afternoon to select the three best solo performers and the two best ensembles.

Winning soloists and ensembles will be presented during the half time show of the WTSC-Midwestern

Reunion Held Sunday For Bell Families

On Sunday, September 25, a reunion was held for the Bell families with dinner being served at the Mounted Patrol Club House. Mother Bell, who lives on South Price on the Portales Highway, was unable to attend the reunion. Mrs. Bell suffered a stroke in August of 1954 and has been confined to her home since that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bell, who have been visiting relatives during the past week returned home Monday. The Donald Bells live in Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bell reside in Lynnwood, Calif.

Judy Garrett New Worthy Advisor

Miss Judy Garrett was installed as Worthy Advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly 158, on Thursday night, September 22, in an installation ceremony held at Farwell School auditorium.

Mrs. Mae Porter was installation officer and Mrs. Harry Whitley was installation chaplain. Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Whitley are both Past Mother Advisors.

Jo Ann Williams was installation recorder and Jo Elaine Magness was installation marshal. Jo Ann and Jo Elaine are both Past Worthy Advisors.

Mrs. Erma Jobs, installation musician, played two piano selections, "Over the Rainbow" and "Sparklets."

Masochs for the ceremony were Christy Ivy and Jeanine Wagner. They wore pink and white floor length dresses.

Other officers installed Thursday night were Phyllis Magness, Worthy Associate Advisor; Donna Hobby, charity; Janie Alverson, hope; Murlene Crook, faith; Lillie Ellison, recorder; Celia Berry, treasurer;

Also, Harriet Charles, chaplain; Kay Leake, drill leader; Gari Lynn Crook, love; Sherry Vestal, religion; Joy Redden, major; Jo Carol Whitley, immortality; Sharon Coffman, fidelity; Katherine Billington, patriotism; Gwenlyne Potts, service; Fern Tipton, outer observer; L'Orchid Latham, confidential observer; Sue Estes, musician; and Pat Aldridge, choir director.

Mrs. Verna Hobby is Mother Advisor and Nelson Smith was elected as Rainbow Daddy.

After the installation, Judy introduced her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Garrett; her grandmother, Mrs. Eva Dee Ivy; and Mrs. Grace Snider who presented Judy with a floral arrangement for the ceremony.

The arrangement featured pink gladioli and asters and white stock. Standing on a world globe in the center of the arrangement were two dolls shaking hands. This symbolized friendship which was the theme of Judy's installation. A pink ribbon bearing the inscription "Friendship" was placed on the front of the arrangement.

Special guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Wagner and Mrs. Hopper Ivy of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ivy of Lazbuddie, Jimmie Reed and Dorothy Giles of Muleshoe.

Next regular meeting of this assembly will be Monday night, October 3, at Bovina.

Farwell Chamber Okays Brochure

A small crowd present at the Tuesday night session of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce okayed the final draft of the printing of an extensive brochure boosting the city.

The project, which has been in the works for over four months, is scheduled to be printed "within two or three weeks," according to W. H. Graham Jr., chairman of the brochure committee.

The four page special publication will be carried in The State Line Tribune, and in addition, 1000 extra copies will be printed for distribution to distant points.

Local pictures will be featured in the brochure, plus statistics prepared by the Chamber relative to Farwell's growth and progress.

In addition to approving the brochure, Chamber members had a lengthy discussion session of community problems, including paving, highways, business expansion, and other topics.

Manager Wilfred Quickel reported on the joint Clovis-Farwell CC meeting held at Clovis last month, also.

Cary Magness Writes About Interesting European Travels

(Editor's Note: Cary Joe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Magness, who is stationed in Germany, is leaving no stone unturned, in making the most of being abroad. He has already visited much of Europe, and when he had a two weeks leave recently, he spent the time traveling.

His biggest engagement during the leave was getting to attend the Southdown Sheep Society annual dinner at the Warnes Hotel in Worthing, England. Cary Joe, who was becoming more and more interested in Southdown sheep before his induction into service, felt this was a constructive way to spend his leave.

His trip is explained better in his own words, we are printing parts of the letter received by his parents. The Magnesses are permitting the use of the letter, so Cary's friends may enjoy his description of his travels.)

Dear Folks,
Am writing this in Worthing, England—Worthing is down on the coast near Brighton if you would like to look it up on the map. It is a very lovely little city of about 80,000 population. It is quite popular as a resort town and is very crowded now. August and September are the vacation months for Britishers and everyone possible gets out of London these months.

The coast is a likely place as we are only a couple hours train ride from London. It is rainy this afternoon and I thought I would write and let you know how I've been doing.

We left Kaiserslautern Sunday a. m. and made it quite nicely until we came into Dusseldorf. There, some joker on a motorcycle and sidecar plowed into us while we stopped, waiting for another car to turn. Spent the whole afternoon clearing with the German police and also Royal M. P.s. There are no American forces there. The next morning $25 was spent replacing the gas tank and checking with the insurance company. Anyway, we got all straightened out and made it into Amsterdam around 5.

Spent four days and nights there, seeing most of the things I saw before, and many new things.

Friday a. m., I took the train to Holland and caught the boat across to Harwich, England. The trip took all day, but I really enjoyed it. . . was much impressed by a gentleman who was in the mining industries from South Africa (Johannesburg). I was the first person he had ever met from the South and he was especially interested in the racial problem. He had read so many of our books and knew so much of our history, I am afraid I wasn't able to help him much. We had a fine day together and he was another person to add to my "people I'm glad I met" list.

Got into London about 9:30 and I was really snowed. The place is immense, finally latched onto a young officer from Karlsruhe who had been there before and finally got a hotel room. Was supposed to meet friends there (they left Amsterdam a couple days earlier) but we missed connections. Anyway, we spent all day yesterday sightseeing.

We actually didn't scratch the surface, but did put on a lot of miles and saw as much as possible. Spent most of the morning in Regents Park where they have one of the world's largest zoos, then to Madam Tussaud's Wax Museum where we found life size statues of wax, of the world's most famous people. They were most realistic.

We enjoyed the Chamber of Horrors where was depicted the world's most famous crimes. They had many actual weapons and all were dressed in authentic clothes.

Then we had a walk through

Hyde Park where all the orators are discussing (if it can be called that) every phase of politics, religion and most everything else imaginable. From there, we went through Piccadilly Circus (equivalent to Times Square in New York), past the statue of Eros, over by Buckingham Palace, which was quite beautiful.

Saw many buildings and parks which I couldn't even start to remember. We saw people of every nation imaginable.

This morning arrived at the Warnes Hotel on the seashore—very nice. The room I have is one of the nicest, but is costing only about $4 for "bed 'n breakfast." Food is cheap, a steak costing from 75c to $1.

The money has kept me constantly confused—they have countless coins of various sizes and shapes (size means nothing in regard to value. The penny is the largest and is worth the least.)

The weather hasn't been good for picture taking, but has been comfortable. This is the first rain we've had.

Just a bit about the tour of "The Goat Farm," where Mr. John Craig operates one of the most beautiful stock farms I have ever seen. Caught a train to Brighton and from there, a bus to Ringmen New Lewes. Got to the big house about 1:30 (and I do mean big). There I met Mr. Craig and he showed me the farm.

It was one of the big estates typical of the English Down's tea.

country. It covered 1200 acres—rolling meadows and croplands—big stone barns and workers' houses—the thatched-covered roofs and rock walls—all just as you would imagine an English farm to be.

They have 100 dairy cows, fine work horses and above all, about 300 head of the prettiest Southdown sheep I have ever seen. He has been raising Southdowns for about 38 years, culling every year, buying the best rams in the country. So you can see how his flock must have looked.

The shepherd was with the flock at the time—a fellow about 33 years old whose father was a shepherd on the farm when he was born. He was a very nice fellow and seemed to really know the sheep. He had been getting ten rams ready for the sale tomorrow and they were really beauties.

They have acres and acres of crops—growing every bit of the feed used as well as wheat, oats, barley to sell each year. They use Allis Chalmers tractors and equipment, all the most modern machinery. It takes about 20 men to handle the setup.

After seeing all this, we went back to the house for tea prepared by Mrs. Craig. There I met the two sons about my age. The "tea" was something, they really make a meal out of it, about four different kinds of bread, muffins, cheese, all kinds of sweet cakes, cookies and of course, good hot together for this.

They were really great to me and made me feel at home. It was great to be among farm families again.

The Southdown Sheep Society banquet was plush. I am sending the menu. I was seated at Mr. Noake's (the social secretary) table with he and his wife. They were very easy to get acquainted with and were wonderful people.

The place was loaded with dignitaries—all kinds of titles—even two members of parliament. I was impressed with Wing Commander Grant-Ferris as he was a wonderful speaker.

Anyway, lots of good food, but you have never seen the like of silverware. Luckily, made it through the whole banquet without a bobble. Believe I could handle the best now.

As for the show and sale, have never seen so many good Southdowns. There were all breeds there, about 15,000 sheep in all, but as for having facilities, none! Seems as if the only reason they have it there is that it has been the custom for hundreds of years. It is in Findon, a small village near no-where and is held on a large meadow where wooden pens and rings are set up.

The sale was interesting—done by auction—pens of ewes going in lots of 10s, rams as individuals. The champion yearling ram sold for 330 guineas, or about $990.

Was surprised in the fact that they are breeding for a larger Southdown.

Sunday nite—made it back fine and figured I had better wind this letter up and get it in the mail. We got in last night with no trouble at all. Is almost a relief to get back after two weeks "going hard."

I got back to Amsterdam Thursday and we left Saturday.

By the way, would you see that everyone gets to read this as I doubt if I could get it all down again. Hoped to have a few pictures, but the weather was cloudy.

Cary.

the Snapshot Guild

The sky is one of the best, most flattering natural backgrounds against which to picture your favorite people.

Good Backgrounds Are Natural or Neutral

Of course, your subject is the most important part of a picture—but you can easily ruin the best of subjects by failing to look "behind" them in your viewfinder.

The eye can easily skip over a couple of garbage cans and a patterned fence to concentrate on a cute child, but the camera isn't so selective. It will record anything within its field of vision. So, a good background is important.

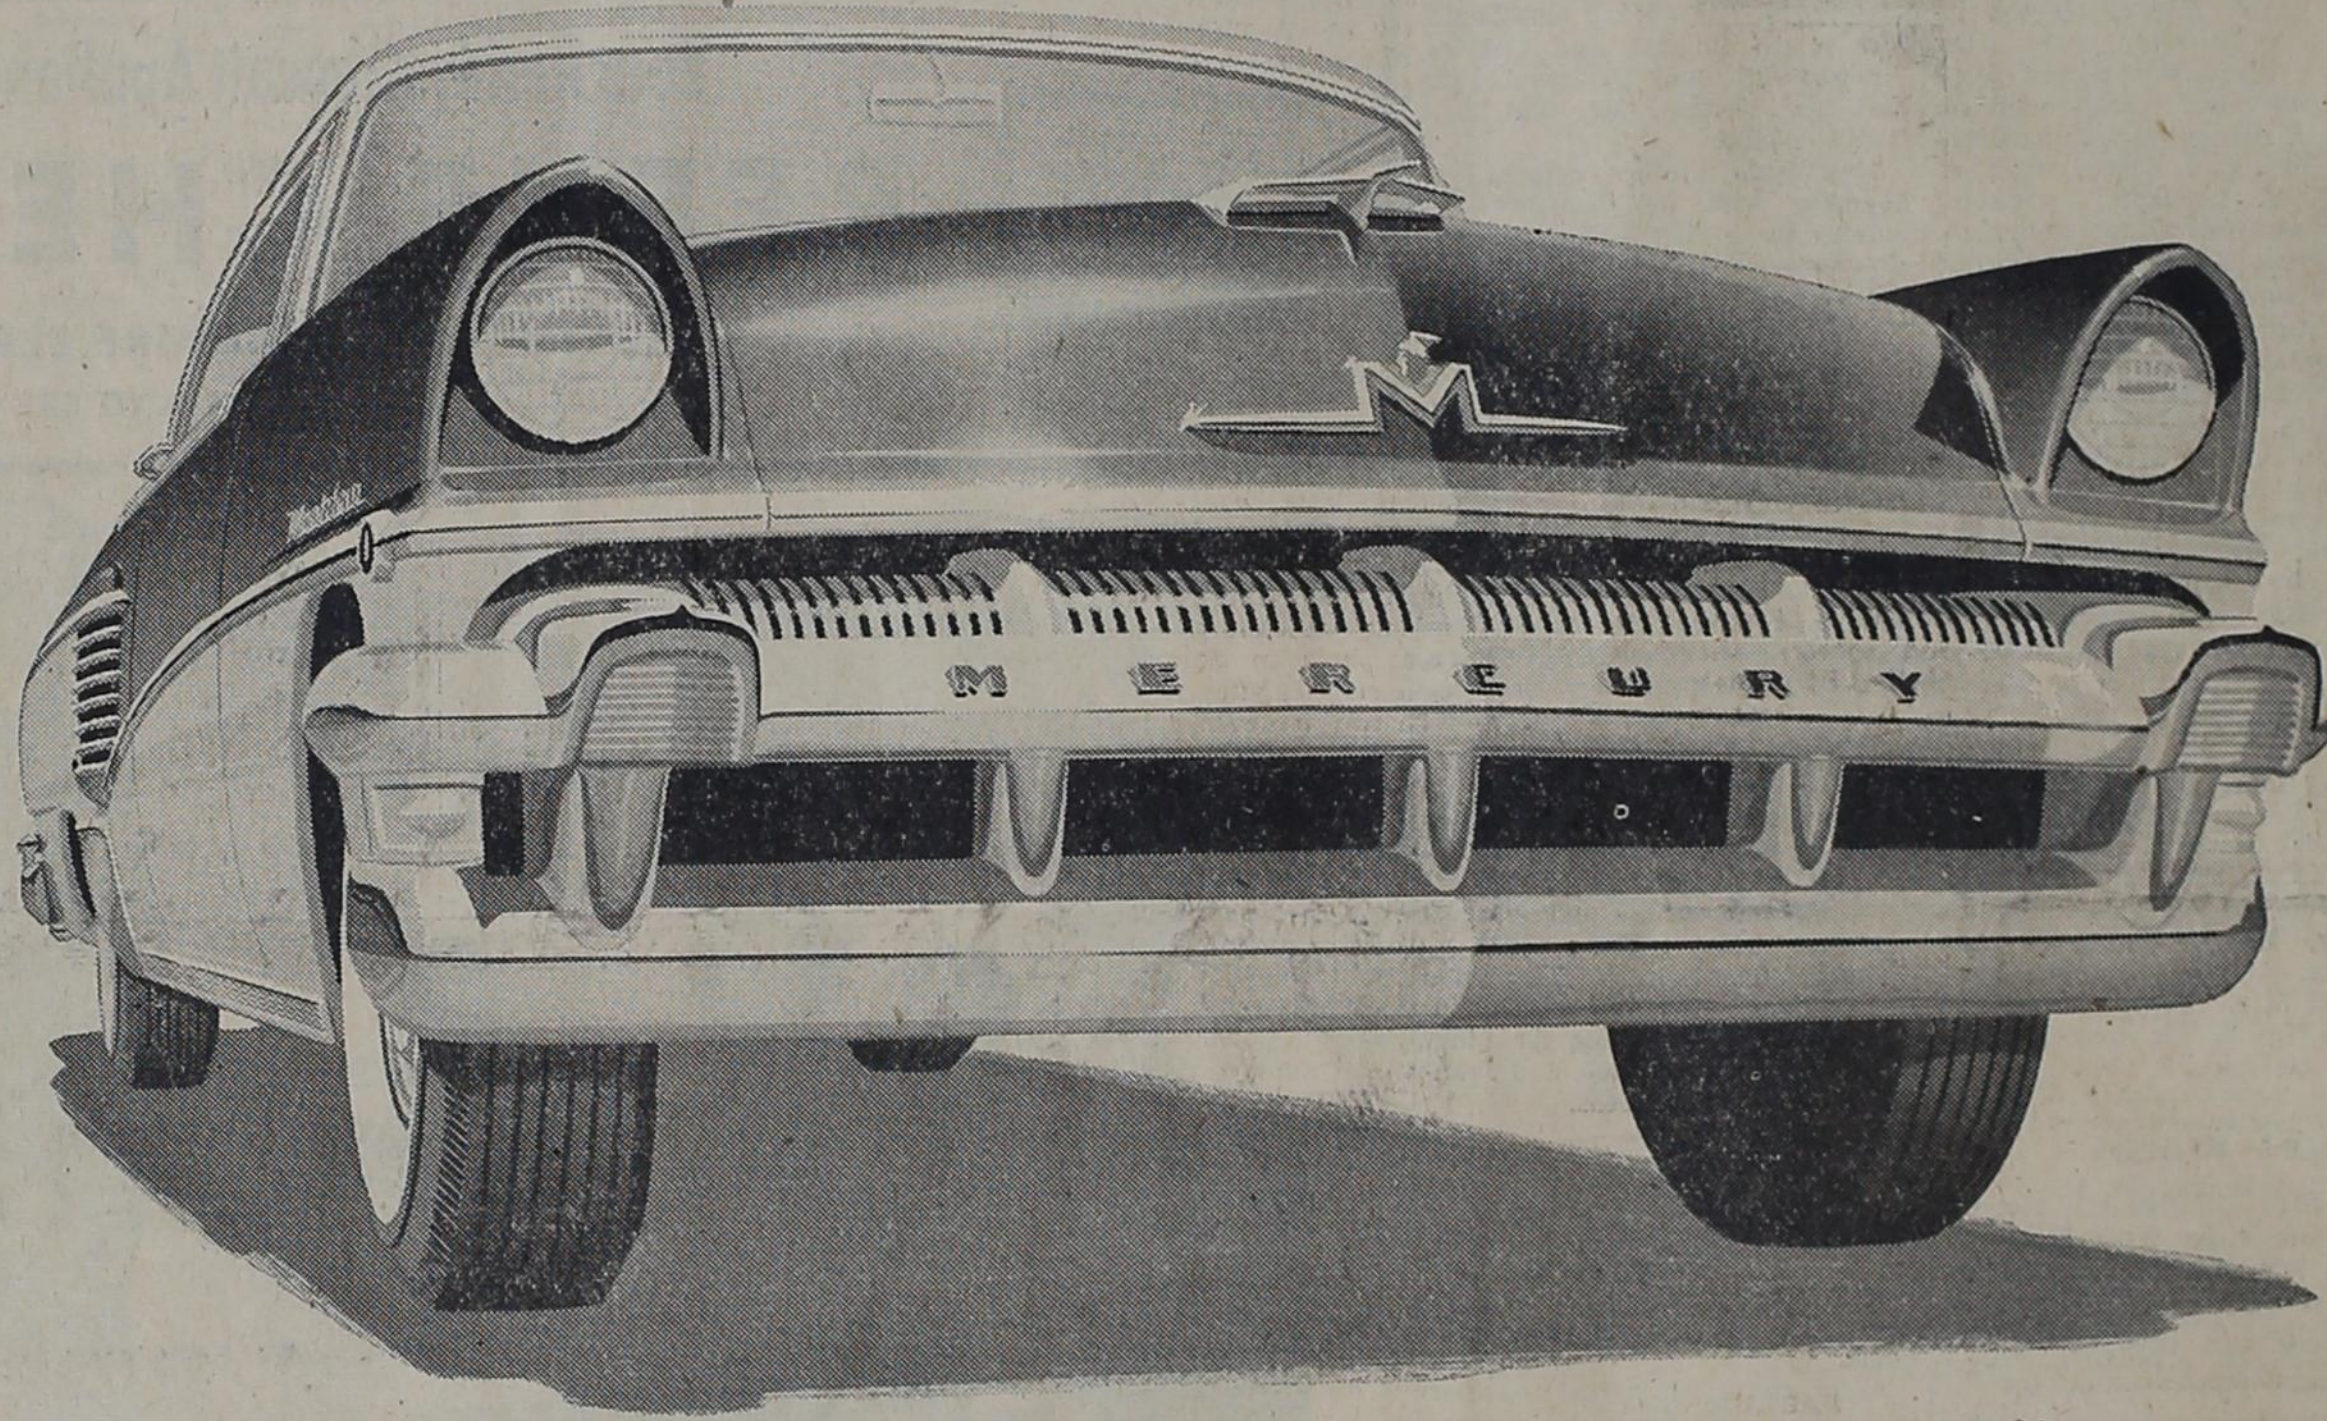

To give you a quick idea of what we mean by "good" backgrounds, let's just roughly divide them into two broad classifications: neutral and natural. A neutral background is one that makes the subject stand out merely because it itself is completely inconspicuous, adding nothing to the story the picture tells. Plain walls, the sky, a grassy lawn, the sweep of wide open spaces—these are the most common neutral backgrounds.

If you want to take a snapshot that will tell more of a story, try placing the subject against what we call a natural background—one that serves as a stage setting for the action being performed by the person in your picture. A proud fisherman would probably look best against the wooded bank of his favorite stream, the professor at his desk in his book-lined study. The garden would be a natural setting for the attractive young girl carrying a basket of flowers, the home workshop for the "do-it-yourself" weekend carpenter.

Whichever type of background you choose, however, remember that color contrast is important for the best results. Be sure to pose light subjects against rather dark backgrounds, and vice versa. You can readily see that a dark green hedge would be a poor background choice for a dark-haired girl in a black dress—but she would certainly be a stand-out against a white garden-gate or a cream-colored convertible!

his system and begins to multiply. At the same time, the human system begins to produce defensive antibodies. A race ensues. If the human antibody factory works speedily enough, the antibodies destroy the virus in the blood and keep it from attacking nerve cells. If the virus multiplies faster than antibodies can be produced to fight it, the virus overwhelms the body's defenses, attacks the nervous system and may cause paralysis.

For nearly all of recorded history knew no way to influence the critical battle of polio within the human body. Then, in 1951 and 1952, research supported by the March of Dimes revealed that antibodies from other people's blood—contained in gamma globulin—could be "loaned" to an individual by injection and would give some protection against paralytic polio.

But the loaned antibodies would last only a few weeks. And to be effective, they had to be injected before or at most within a few days after a person was exposed to polio, and it is not generally possible to tell when this is.

Obviously, gamma globulin, while of value in epidemic situations, was no final answer to the control of polio. Among other things, there could never be enough to go around (since it comes from human blood) and it is extremely expensive.

Now—for the first time—we have an effective means for controlling polio. The Salk vaccine, in the most extensive and careful field trial ever given a vaccine, was shown to be 60 to 90 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio. The vaccine now being manufactured is even more effective.

In most parts of the country we are now at the tapering-off part of the 1955 polio season. We have the fall and winter months and the early spring to prepare for 1956. There is no doubt that we have it in our power greatly to reduce polio incidence next year. How well we succeed will depend largely on how many children receive vaccine.

First, of course, the vaccine must be manufactured and distributed. During the fall and winter large supplies will be made available for use. It is too much to hope that all of the 165,000,000 people in the U. S. can be vaccinated before next summer, but many millions of children will surely be inoculated, including almost all in the highly susceptible five-through nine-year age group.

Since polio attacks more children than adults, it is by vaccinating children that the greatest effect can be achieved, in terms of preventing cases of paralytic polio.

Every parent naturally has questions about the vaccine. Foremost is the question: Is the vaccine safe? The answer to this is yes. Last spring, according to a U. S. Public Health Service report, live virus was found in a small amount of vaccine that had been released. More stringent government safety standards were promptly established to prevent a recurrence of this incident.

The difficulties of a single manufacturer do not, of course, reflect on the safety of all commercially produced vaccine, any more than the existence of one contaminated source of water suggests that water itself is unsafe.

During the summer there have been suggestions that a single shot of the vaccine might give some protection against paralytic polio, and so parents may wonder if such an injection is not enough. The answer is that it is not enough for full and lasting protection.

Here is what happens when a child is given vaccine. Some seven to 10 days after his first shot he begins to develop polio-fighting antibodies. These help strengthen his defenses against paralytic polio. When he receives his second shot, the number of antibodies again rises. Then, approximately seven months later, when he receives his third shot, there is a further rise in antibodies, and he then has the full protection of the vaccine.

Thus, the child with one shot has some help in defending himself against paralytic polio. The child with two has even more help. The child with three, properly spaced, has the full protection of the vaccine.

The body tries to defend itself against paralytic polio even without vaccine. What the vaccine does is bolster natural defenses.

Everyone would like to know how long the effect of vaccine lasts. And no one can give a hard and fast answer, because we have not had the vaccine very long. A number of children who have received it will be followed through the years until we do know how long it protects.

However, because the level of protection after the third shot is so high, there is reason to hope that it will last for many years.

The third shot is in a sense the real key to the effectiveness of the vaccine. This is why we will look with growing interest toward the 1956 polio season. By that time enough youngsters should have received their complete series of injections to make a substantial difference in the nationwide polio rate. Then we will be able to look forward to final control of polio within a few years.

This fall the vaccine program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be concluded in school clinics in all states. In these clinics youngsters from the first and second grades will receive their second shots of vaccine, and so will third and fourth graders in schools that participated in the 1954 field trials. No first shots will be given.

The United States Congress has appropriated $30,000,000 for the purchase of polio vaccine during the coming few months. Supplies of vaccine are allocated to states on the basis of the number of unvaccinated children five through nine years of age. Each state is responsible for the distribution of the vaccine within its borders. Your local health officer or personal physician will be able to tell you what arrangements have been made in your state.

The battle against polio in the summer of 1956, so far as prevention is concerned, will be won or lost this fall and winter. Success will depend on how many children are vaccinated. If we vaccinate every youngster for whom we have vaccine, next year should begin to show a significant decrease in the number of paralyzed children.

Two sweet young things were discussing affairs of the heart. "So you've accepted Tom?" said one acidly. "I suppose he didn't happen to mention he had previously proposed to me?" "Well, not exactly," replied the other blandly; "but he did confess that he'd done a lot of silly things before he met me."

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU
By RAYMOND EULER

A COUNTY-WIDE OPEN FORUM will be conducted at the Bovina School Auditorium Thursday night, October 6, at 8 o'clock. We again refer you to this opportunity of getting your ideas for improving the farmer's situation before the people who can do something about it. You are welcomed, and urged to attend this meeting, whether you are affiliated with any farm organization or not. If you are a Farm Bureau member in good standing, and are deriving the major portion of your income from production of agricultural products or livestock, then you will be qualified to vote on policies at the County Convention, which will also be held at the Bovina Auditorium on October 20 at 8 p. m.

For the benefit of some who have inquired, and any others who do not know, Farm Bureau "Associate Members," those who derive a major portion of their income from business other than agricultural or livestock production, do NOT vote on policies at Farm Bureau meetings. A grain elevator operator, for instance, who farms some, but derives the major portion of his income from the operation of the elevator, does NOT hold a vote in Farm Bureau.

Three hundred twenty railroad cars were needed in Farmer County to ship CCC grains ordered out by that office. Not more than 10 or 12 per week were being received. Your local Farm Bureau gathered this information, and as it has done the past three or four years, relayed it, through TFB President Walter Hammond, to the Chicago RR Car Pool, which supercedes district RR distribution of cars. We expect now to have enough cars to empty bins of CCC grains ordered out before harvest gets underway. Bruce Parr did this work in the absence of the president and vice-president. Remember that you can get 80% of the loan on grain stored in the open, or in temporary shelter; don't sell it because storage is not available if the price is much below the loan.

A labor spokesman recently stated that Benson's claim that continued wage increases for labor contribute to the "cost-price" squeeze of farmers was sour grapes, because, said he, labor pumps these wage increases right back into markets, mostly for food, which is what the farmer produces. What we can't figure out, is how a man can work less, and eat enough more, to make 7 to 10% more money for the farmer, who is paying those increases for farm machinery made by the laborer, who is paid more, works less, but eats all of his increase in pay. We refer to the spokesman, not the laborer who we are sure would not make such an asinine statement.

New FHA Loan Available in County

Interest rates will vary, depending upon the purpose for which the loan is made and the authority under which the loan is made. Loans will be scheduled to be repaid in accordance with the borrowers' repayment ability.

Under both the regular and emergency loan authorities, advances for operating expenses are repayable within 1 to 7 years. Loans advanced for real estate purposes are repayable over periods up to 20 years when made under emergency loan authorities.

Under regular authorities, real estate loans are repayable over a 40 year period.

Each loan will be secured in a manner that will adequately protect the interest of the Government. In no event will the amount advanced, exclusive of funds for annual recurring expenses, exceed the applicant's equity in the real estate and chattels offered as security.

Voluntary Debt Adjustment
Assistance is available through the county committees of the Farmers Home Administration to both creditors and debtors in effecting voluntary adjustments of existing debts, when necessary, in order that the debt load on the farmer or rancher may be held or adjusted to an amount within his ability to repay.

Where To Apply
Applications for loans may be made at county offices of the Farmers Home Administration.

Continued Showers Visit High Plains

may be expected to increase in some instances because of the rains.

There is no doubt but what wheat farmers are happy to see the break in the weather. Young wheat—both volunteer and planted—is coming up "all over the place," and the countryside is beginning to green up after the showers.

The moisture will be of great benefit for those wheat farmers who have already planted dryland, or who were intending to "dust in."

All residents would like to see the county's 100,000-plus acres of wheat make something this coming year, and few complaints have been heard about the soggy weather.

'Tain't Froze Yet!

High Plains farmers, some of whom are taking a pretty long chance with maturity of crops—especially cotton—are glad to note that September is almost past, and freezing weather has not come as yet.

Last year's freeze came in mid-October, after an ideal series of warm, sunny weeks which ripened both feed and cotton to perfection. What will the next few weeks hold for the weather?

Oil Land Leased; Bonds Re-Invested

Parmer County Monday agreed to lease 664.2 acres of county school land to the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company of Fort Worth. The land, located in Gaines County, was leased out for a five-year period by county commissioners.

Rental for the land will be $1 per acre per year, and Stanolind has agreed to begin drilling operations by August 15 of next year. The county received a $2,490.75 "bonus" payment for the lease.

In addition, commissioners Monday re-invested $44,500 worth of government savings bonds held by the county.

Atchley and his family had made their home in Yuma, Ariz., for the past 16 years. He had been hospitalized in Phoenix for two years. Survivors include his wife, Maggie; one son, Donald, 16; one daughter, Sherry, 11; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Atchley; one sister, Mrs. Tom Lindop of Oklahoma Lane; two brothers, Cecil of Lariat, and Milton of near Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Atchley of near Dallas came to Texico Saturday and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Atchley, Mrs. Tom Lindop and Cecil Atchley accompanied them to Arizona for the funeral services.

Loyd Cain's Brother Dies In Canadian

Frank Cain, brother of Loyd Cain, Farwell, died Wednesday morning in a hospital in Canadian after having been confined there since Friday of last week.

Loyd Cain had returned home Tuesday night from visiting his brother in Canadian and received word Wednesday morning of his death. Cain's father was buried in Canadian on September 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Cain and family left Wednesday to attend the funeral services. Time of the rites was pending at the time of this report.

Deaton to Arrive In San Diego

William E. Deaton, boatswain's mate second class, USN, son of Mrs. Lora Brown of Route 3, Box 30, Muleshoe, Tex., and husband of Mrs. Patricia A. Deaton of San Francisco, Calif., is scheduled to arrive in San Diego September 30 aboard the attack cargo ship USS Skagit after a tour of duty in the Far East.

The highlight of the Skagit's overseas tour occurred last May when she gave assistance at sea to injured personnel of the Chinese Nationalist freighter Hai Foo bound for Hong Kong.

The Skagit picked up the freighter's distress call, altered course, and provided medical assistance to four men who had been injured while trying to clear a clogged fuel line in one of the freighter's fuel tanks.

FARWELL BAPTIST NEWS

Rev. E. J. Keith, Pastor

First Baptist Church in Dimmitt will be host church to a meeting of the Tierra Blanca Associational Brotherhood on Tuesday night, October 4.

An evening meal will be served at 7:30 at the church. A quartet from Wayland College will furnish the evening program. Rev. Keith urges all members of the local Brotherhood to plan to attend this meeting.

On Saturday night, October 8, the Tierra Blanca Associational Youth Rally will be held in the local church. The program will start at 7:30 after a picnic supper at 7 p. m.

New officers for the association will be installed at this meeting. All young persons of the church are urged to attend.

Rev. Keith encourages members of the church to start this new Sunday School year by attending Sunday School and training union regularly. New officers of the Sunday School and training union departments will assume duties next Sunday.

Potter County Has 344,000 Acre-Feet Of Water Now Available for Irrigation

The portion of Potter County within the boundary of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District covers approximately 23,000 acres of land. The underground reservoir in the Ogallala formation beneath the area within the Water District contains approximately 344,000 acre-feet of ground water in storage available for pumping.

The map in plate 1 shows the thickness of the water-bearing strata between the water table and the redbeds in 1953 before an appreciable amount of water had been pumped from the reservoir. The map in plate 2 shows the decline of the water table from the spring of 1938 to January 1955.

The volume of water remaining in the underground reservoir was determined by subtracting the volume of material unwatered since 1938 from the total volume of saturated material in 1938 and multiplying the remainder by the coefficient of storage of 15 percent. These data show about 376,000 acre-feet of water was in storage available for pumping in 1938, and about 32,000 acre-feet of water has been removed from storage since 1938. In other words, approximately 8.5 percent of the volume of the available water has been removed since 1938.

The approximate quantity of underground water in storage, available for pumping, beneath an individual farm may be determined by multiplying the number of acres in the farm by the thickness of the water-bearing strata underlying the farm and then multiplying by the storage coefficient of 15 percent.

What Do YOU Think?

Many problems confront farmers today. Your Parmer County Farm Bureau wants to know what YOU think about certain vital questions. Thursday, Oct. 6, there will be an "open forum" type meeting at the Bovina School, starting at 8 p.m.

We Will Discuss Problems Vital to You. Look Over these Questions, and Bring Your Own Answers to this Meeting!

1. Do you favor compulsory Federal Social Security for farmers?
2. Do you think the tax refund on farm used gasoline should be reduced 1c per gallon, the 1c going into the public school fund?
3. Do you favor Federal Taxation of gasoline for highway improvement and construction, or do you think the state should retain this responsibility?
4. Do you think farmers should be allowed exemption of 2c Federal tax on gasoline, and on any future increased tax on such gas?
5. If Texas adopts a water development program, which method of financing would you suggest: A water user's tax? A State Ad Valorem Tax? Get money from the General Revenue fund?
6. If a water development program is adopted in Texas, there will have to be a board of directors. Do you think the board members should be appointed by the governor or elected by the people?
7. Do you think the "Right to Work" law in Texas should be repealed, since it works a hardship on labor unions?
8. Texas has more livestock than any state in the United States; Therefore, the feed manufacturing business in Texas is one of the biggest businesses in Texas. Should the law under which this feed has to be sold be written to protect the feed manufacturer or the farmer & rancher who buy the feed?
9. Do you think Texas law should be changed to allow use of a farm licensed pickup as a private passenger car?
10. In view of the fact that in numerous instances, grain sorghums shipped from this area to other states have been denied license for feed use because of the presence of Johnson Grass and other noxious seeds, do you favor a penalty system on such infested grains at the local market level as a means of eliminating this hazard to markets of our feed grains?
11. Do you favor increased effort in the county weed control program that Parmer County Farm Bureau has conducted the past two years?
12. Do you favor making grain sorghums a basic commodity with acreage controls on the same basis as present basic commodities?
13. Do you favor this resolution adopted in the 1954 Texas Farm Bureau Convention "we favor 90% of parity for non-basic commodities as long as supplies are in line with demand. If supplies are not in line with demand, we favor a price support level that will decrease 1% in support level for each 2% increase above normal supply."
14. Do you favor rigid Federal price supports with absolute acreage controls, or flexible Federal price supports, based on supply and demand factors?
15. Do you favor the Land Fertility Bank Agricultural program, as supported the past year by Texas Farm Bureau and American Farm Bureau?

NOTE: This is not the time we will vote on resolutions. That will be done at our annual convention October 20

Formal Opening Set For Church of Christ

Sixth Street Church of Christ in Friona will hold its formal opening service at the recently completed auditorium this Sunday.

The program for the day will begin at 9:30 a. m. when Bible Study for all ages will be held followed by the worship service at 10:30. A basket lunch will be featured at the park in Friona at 12:45 p. m. and then the group will return to the church at 3 p. m. for the opening service program.

Special speakers at the afternoon program will be Stanley Lockhart, Levelland; Bob Wear, Canyon, and Doyle Chapin of Vega. M. B. McKinney, minister of the local church, says that most of the afternoon will be spent in singing sacred songs, led by several out of town guests.

A gospel meeting, beginning Sunday evening, and continuing through Friday evening will further carry out the formal opening of the auditorium. This meeting will be conducted by M. B. McKinney, of the local church.

Services throughout the meeting period will be held each evening at 7:30.

All people in the Friona community are invited to attend any or all of these services.

Meet the New

★ Friona Teachers

Baker Duggins, who teaches American and world history, and coaches girls' basketball and the "B" football team, is the third new teacher in the Friona school to be interviewed.

Duggins comes to Friona from Stratford where he was a physical education teacher and coached both boys and girls' basketball. He also was a swimming instructor at the pool at the Stratford school.

He is married and his wife, Dorothy, teaches the fourth grade in the Friona grade school.

Duggins received his high school education at Cordell, Okla., and attended college at Panhandle A&M at Goodwell, Okla., where he received a Bachelor of Science degree. He did post graduate work at Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, Okla., and West Texas State College at Canyon.

His mother resides at Lawton, Okla., and he also has two brothers, one is the manager of the C. R. Anthony store at Hollis, Okla., and the other resides in Massachusetts.

As for Friona, Duggins has this to say, "I like Friona very well and I think that they have a very good school system with a very democratic administration."

Lions Club Has New Meeting Time

Friona Lions Club met in regular session last Thursday evening at the club house in Friona with 32 members present. Joe Ferrell was admitted as a new member at Thursday's meeting.

The evening's program was brought by Jack Sims of Amarillo who is with the Southwestern Public Service Company there. Sims showed a film on house wiring and made several comments about this subject.

It was announced that meetings during the winter months would commence at 7:30 p. m.

Friona Lions voted to have a broom sale, light blue sale and Negro minstrel some time during the coming year. No definite dates have been set for those projects.

Deon Awtry was given a hand shaking prize. As an explanation of this, Steve Messenger, secretary, says that a man is picked out at each meeting. No one knows who this person is and the third or fourth person shaking this man's hand is given the hand shaking prize.

Next meeting will be held October 13, at 7:30 p. m.

Vera Ann Jones is next on the list of teachers to be interviewed and although she is a new teacher, she is not new to Friona since Friona is her home.

Miss Jones teaches speech and freshman English, and is sponsor of the girls' basketball team and the local Thespian Club.

She received her high school training in Friona and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones of this city.

Miss Jones has two brothers, Billy Ray, who attends Texas Tech and is majoring in geology, and Charles L. who resides in Amarillo and is a civilian instructor at Amarillo Air Force Base.

North Texas State is Miss Jones' Alma Mater and she received a Bachelor of Arts degree from this institution in August of 1954. She taught at the Lefors school last year.

Chiefs Lose Game With Bovina, 13-0

Bovina Mustangs, although held in the first half, went ahead in the third and fourth quarters to score an upset victory over Friona with a final score of 13-0.

Friona made only half as many first downs as Bovina with final tabulations giving the Mustangs 16 first downs while the Chiefs had eight.

The first Bovina TD came in the third quarter when Read scored from 10 yards out. Smith missed the try for extra point and the score stood at 6-0.

The second Mustang touchdown came when Read passed the ball 41 yards to Smith who was waiting in the end zone. This gave the Bovina team a 12-0 lead over the Chiefs. Smith ran the extra point so the score stood at the fourth quarter of play, Bovina, 13 and Friona, 0.

Next game for the Chiefs will be at Farwell when they meet the Steers Friday night, September 30.

About last Fridays game, Coach Means says that the Chiefs played good defensive ball in the first half but were unable to get their offense going.

Means adds that he is going to stress defensive plays this week in practice. He says that other teams running wide has hurt Friona and this will also be an attempted correction this week.

Three boys have been lost this week due to ineligibility, Means says. These are Donald Petty, Charles Beaton and "Burr" Blake.

City Commission Meet To Be October 3

Friona City Commission will meet Monday, October 3, at the city office in Friona at 7:30 p. m.

City Manager Roy Wilson says that quite a bit of pending business will be discussed at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Martin, accompanied by Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs. C. D. Carter were in Amarillo Saturday where they attended the ice follies at the Tri-State Fair.

To Reopen Sale Of Concert Tickets

The Friona Concert Association will reopen the sale of concert tickets for one week beginning October 2 and continuing through October 10. All newcomers within the community and all faculty members of the public schools are urged to get their tickets for the winter series.

First program of the four scheduled in Friona will feature the team family. They will present their program on October 29, at the Friona High School auditorium. This is a Negro family and Negro spirituals are their specialty. The family was presented in Friona last year by the Concert Association.

Tuesday, November 29, the Association will present the Alard Quartet. This group is composed of four boys who are graduates of the University of Texas and come to Friona highly recommended for their skill and ability in the vocal and music field. It is reported that the quartet will give the audience good entertainment in several different varieties of music.

Anyone interested in purchasing a ticket for the series of programs may get tickets at the Friona Star, Bi-Wize Drug or City Drug Store in Friona. A dual ticket—which entitles all members of a family to all programs is $10, and a single ticket has a purchase price of $6.

Friona "B" Team Loses Game 26-7

Friona "B" team lost their game with Farwell last Thursday by a score of 26-7. Tom Jarboe directed the traffic on the football field at Thursday's game.

The only Friona touchdown was made by Carter from about four yards out.

The "B's" will travel to Lazbuddie this Thursday for another game.

Jarboe says that his boys are improving and that they have lots of spirit. He adds that most of the team is made up of freshmen.

Hi-Point HD To Have Rummage Sale

Hi-Point Home Demonstration Club met Friday, September 23, in the home of Mrs. Glen Mingus. In the course of the business meeting it was announced that the club would sponsor a rummage sale. This affair will be held in the Friona park on October 15. Anyone having clothes which they wish to donate to this cause are asked to call Mrs. Glen Mingus for further information.

Mrs. Lee Renner gave a report at Friday's meeting on the THDA meet held in Ft. Worth in August. Mrs. Renner was a delegate to the convention from Farmer County. Refreshments of chocolate coated donuts and pops were served to Mesdames Spencer Hough, V. R. Jordan, James Boyle, Floyd Rector, Glen Mingus, G. L. Mingus, Lloyd Mingus, Lee Renner, Billy Dean Baxter, F. M. Woolbright, Ed Boggess and Harry Hamilton.

Next meeting of the organization will be held October 14, in the home of Mrs. G. L. Mingus. Miss Corinne Stinson, county home demonstration agent, will be in charge of the program on "Floors and Floor Coverings."

THANKS TO EVERYONE!

The Watkins are moving. Although we are leaving this community, we will not be far away from our friends here. Kenneth is going into the barber business in Farwell, and for the time being, we will live in Clovis. We were unable to find a place to rent in Farwell.

This is supposed to be a note, but it may turn out to be more of a letter, and although all of my words may not see print, I wish to take this means to say a "thank you" to all of you who have aided me in my job in the newspaper field.

First of all, I wish to take this opportunity to thank Jeanne and Sonny, who have been so very patient with me. I haven't worked for them very long—and it was my first job as a news correspondent. I will miss them, the shop and everyone else around the Tribune office.

There have been times when I felt that I wasn't doing my job as well as I should be, but there have been quite a few factors to consider. I have tried to give Friona the news coverage it needs in the county-wide paper.

I would also like to thank everyone in Friona who has been cooperative with me in my gathering of the news. I only hope that my successor has as much cooperation from you as I have had. We appreciate it!

Well—goodbye, good luck, and God bless everyone at the Tribune, and all those with whom I have made contact, in my capacity as Friona correspondent.

Sincerely,
Thelma Watkins

FFA Boys Win Honor at Fair

Texico FFA boys literally "brought home the bacon" from the Curry County Fair last week, winning $90 in prize money and taking 14 ribbons with 15 entries.

Top honors among the Texico boys participating went to Allen and J. C. Kelley who brought home two first place ribbons, one second, two thirds, and two fourths, having won a ribbon on all seven hogs entered.

Others entering hogs and placing in this division were Raymond Hadley, second and third; Dickie Adams, first and fourth; Weldon Bell, two fourths, and Dick Lockhart, second.

Allen Kelley was among the five boys in the county who received a ribbon on showmanship. The boys took fifth place with their club booth which showed that with better care and feeding of hogs, a larger litter of pigs may be expected.

Tom Hudson, local agriculture teacher, accompanied these boys to the county fair and is with a group of boys in Albuquerque this week where the state fair is now in progress.

"These boys have made an excellent showing with hogs this year," Hudson states.

Exploratory Typing Proves Beneficial

"Proof of the value of exploratory work in typing has been verified in typing I this year," says Mrs. Agrie Jones, business education instructor.

Three students—Verlene Thigpen, Mikala Faville, and Susan Levins—who had exploratory work in the sixth grade were typing 70 words per minute at the end of the second week on one minute writes.

Those taking exploratory work in the eighth grade and typing over forty words per minute are Barbara Caldwell, Joyce Gillean, Carolyn Curd, Sue Stover and Audrey Hapke. The average for the true beginner is 15 words per minute.

The present program is so arranged that exploratory work is to be done in the ninth grade each year.

"This will help to have better typists as well as let each individual know whether or not he wants to major in business education," Mrs. Jones states.

Editorial Texico a More Beautiful School

A very noticeable fact around Texico school this year is the almost mutilated condition of some of our newest desks, tables, and other school furniture.

Of course, it is the responsibility of the state to be certain that each school has a reasonable amount of furniture, but it isn't the responsibility of the state to see that it stays in good repair. That is a duty of students, and it is a situation to which students are giving too little attention.

Is it necessary to scribble on the desks, carve initials on tables, and scrape paint off the walls? No, it isn't necessary and it takes away from the neatness and appearance of our school.

Texico has a wonderful school plant, but it would be a more beautiful place, and a place to be much prouder of if the students would pay a little more attention to the upkeep of the school and steer clear of careless habits which damage school property.

If knowledge feeds the minds; then beauty feeds the soul. One is as important as the other: neither should be neglected in our school if it is to turn out well-rounded students. LET'S DO OUR PART.

Eighth Grade Has Health Inspection

Ivory Inspection Patrol has served the purpose of bringing about a greater degree of neatness in the eighth grade recently. During home room period, inspectors take inventory on cleanliness of hands, fingernails, neck and ears. And don't you think the inspection ends there! They also see if shoes are laced and shined and that hair is neat. The reward is an ivory bar if you satisfy these strenuous requirements.

Commenting

Yes, we have enemies: the ganders who litter corridors, the guzzlers who spill on cafeteria tables, the grouzers who find fault with student leaders, the growlers who can't be loyal to the team, the grumblers who know the teachers are "agin 'em," and the sad sacks of whatever kind

But—our friends are as numerous as the leaves on a tree.

This article was recently published by Quill and Scroll, national journalism society. If you are gander, guzzler, grouser, growler or grumbler, let's try to improve these conditions; let's always remember the importance of our friends.

Congratulations to the Texico FFA boys who recently won several ribbons at the Curry County Fair.

Surprised!—That could well describe the situation of Mrs. Jones last week. It is the usual procedure for her to play a slow rhythmic record at the beginning of her typing class. One of the students brought a faster record to school and slipped it on the record player in the typing room. Imagine Mrs. Jones' surprise when she heard "Rock Around the Clock" instead of the usual record.

"Off to a good start!" is the Texico High girls' softball team. The Whirlwinds have won their first four games, beating Ranchvale, Field, Grady and Rogers.

The sophomores have always thought that Judy Wakefield talked too much, but now they know she does. It seems last week she was talking in English class when she should have been listening. Suddenly, she was overcome with violent coughing. No wonder, she had swallowed a fly. Think!—Too many of us conduct our lives on the cafeteria plan—self-service only.

Sponsoring the group were Mr. and Mrs. Agrie Jones, Paul Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stockton and son, Charles Bennett.

Are You Glad You Live in America?
By Teresa Cox

(Editors note: This essay, written by Teresa Cox, junior, in Merle Thurman's fourth year English class is an example of the patriotic thinking of an average high school student of today.)

Are you glad you live in America? I ask this question because I want you to meditate upon it for just one moment. Do you realize the privileges you have here in this land we call America?

Here, everyone has an equal opportunity. Even the poorest person can achieve the highest possible success. It makes no difference who you are, or what social position your family holds, but it does matter what you can do to help your fellow man and what you can contribute to your country.

In America we can dream and see our dreams fulfilled. In the past men have dreamed of America as being a free and independent nation. They have given their lives for this cause of freedom.

Our people are happy people. Happiness can be seen on the face of a little Negro boy as he takes his first bite of strawberry ice cream. It is reflected from one face to the other of a team playing baseball, and it can be seen in the eyes of middle-aged ladies talking about their new spring wardrobes. Wherever you glance you can see happy people, happy in their different professions, and glad to be doing the things which they so greatly desire.

Some people from other countries may look down upon America as being a "melting pot" of different nationalities. Why do you think they came to America? They came because of the hope, the faith they had in America and her countrymen. Here they can worship as they wish, voice their opinion on religion, politics and government, and have the privilege of doing the things they desire most.

Texico Girls Beat Rogers 23-7 Friday

Texico High School Girls' softball team is still undefeated after playing Rogers Friday and beating them 23-7.

In the first few minutes of the game it looked as if this would be a tight game, but the home team forged ahead in the third inning and led all the way.

Garlene Seale was the heroine of the game when she hit a home run with the bases loaded. Although the game was only a practice game, it was nice to win again.

Both the boys and girls will play House Friday night at the Jaycee Park in Clovis.

Texico School Entertained by Aerial Artists

Texico School was entertained in an assembly Friday by the Aerial Downies, a man and wife combination who have been with big top shows and television.

Although the performance was lacking in color of the big top and was performed at a less daring height, it met with favor among the grade school students.

Many of the third graders attended the fair last week. Those who did not go enjoyed listening to reports given by those children who did attend.

NEATNESS IS ESSENTIAL TO SEVENTH GRADERS

Seventh graders will really be on their toes for at least two more weeks as they are involved in a four week health inspection contest. The health inspector, as much feared by these youngsters as a policeman is by some people, checks on hands, nails, neck and ears. Shoes must be polished, hair must be combed and each pupil must present a good appearance in general.

Dorothy Perciful checked out Monday to start school in Clovis. Joe Ortiz has missed two weeks of school because of sickness.

The 28 students of the seventh grade have completed their yearly achievement tests.

Biology Is A Scream!

By Betty Pendergrass

If you don't believe it, you should have been in Mrs. Allman's biology class one day last week. It seems that the girls were studying biological specimens and a tiny mouse was introduced to the class. Screams could be heard throughout the school. The mouse was almost frightened to death and some of the girls are still believed to be hiding.

Other living contributions to this class were tarantulas, worms, bugs and even centipedes. They were brought to school by girls who were afraid of a tiny pink mouse!

Thallophytes, Bryophytes, Spermatophytes, (these words may sound strange and unfamiliar to you) but most of the seventeen girls in this class can tell you the meaning of these terms.

The girls are also making a collection of plant phyla found in this area and are observing the growth of mold on a piece of yeast bread.

FIRST GRADE HAS TWO NEW PUPILS

First graders have found that a closed door is a big curiosity, especially when the sound of a film can be heard but not seen. With the completion of a new building these youngsters should have a quiet place in which to study.

Jimmy Winegeart has moved to Pampa, and Irene Barrazo has moved to Bovina. The class is sorry to lose them.

Betty McFadden and David Widner have joined the first grade in its downstairs room. Betty and David are getting acquainted very easily.

Others enrolled in the first grade are Ardell Autrey, Myrle Arnold, Jackie Billingsley, Johnnie Burford, Jerry Cook, Sheryll Henry, Linda Hukill, Jerry Wayne Martin, Donnie Morris, Clara Ortiz, Marsha Palmateer, Lloyd Seal, Bobby Stewart, Manuel Trujillo, Sherry Wall, Gerald Weatherford, Linda Carroll Wimberly and Beverly Jo Winkles.

Those bringing plants for the room are Beverly Jo Winkles and Sheryll Henry. Those bringing beautiful flowers to brighten the room are Carrol Wimberly, Jackie Billingsley, Gerald Weatherford, and David Widner.

FIFTH GRADE PUPILS DECORATE ROOM

Fifth graders seem to believe that beautiful surroundings are a necessary prerequisite to good study habits, for they have been working all week to make the room more attractive.

Duranna Curtis brought a glass planter and Hal Ed Helton brought an anchor thermometer and compass from the Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco. He also brought a huge sea shell and pictures from his trip to California. Velda Paine brought some wooden plaques which she purchased in the state of Washington. One plaque has "The Lord's Prayer" on it and the other bears Joyce Kilmer's poem, "Trees."

The fifth grade class has lost two students and gained one. Kay Hall enrolled and Sheryl Howard and Robert Perciful both started to school in Clovis.

On the sick list for the week are Hal Ed Helton, Freddy Ferguson, Alice Martin, and Tommy Wakefield who has been absent because of a broken toe.

All the fifth graders say they enjoyed Curry County Fair.

FIRST GRADE CLASS HAS PROJECT

First grade class is carrying on a project about the farm. The theme of it is "Fun on the Farm." They are having a good time in making this project.

Ray Barrazo has moved to Bovina, and that leaves 20 pupils in each first grade class.

The boys and girls said that they enjoyed the Curry Co. Fair, especially the rides.

FOURTH GRADE WELL REPRESENTED IN BAND

Boys and girls of the fourth grade are grateful to Betty Pendergrass of the homemaking department for presenting the fourth grade a nice health poster for the bulletin board. The theme of the poster is "Take Time to eat a Good Breakfast."

The fourth grade is well represented in the beginners' band. The following boys and girls have beautiful new instruments: Kathleen Smith, Calalya Roberts, Millie Autry, Wanda Eshleman, Hap Danforth, Billy Billington, Gary Skaggs and Terry Neice.

Felipa Barrazo served candy to her classmates and the teacher.

Friday because she is moving to Bovina. The class is sorry to lose her.

Wanda Eshleman brought a bouquet of beautiful flowers for the school room.

Terry Neice spent the weekend visiting his grandmother in Clayton.

The boys and girls enjoyed visiting the Curry County Fair over the weekend.

SECOND GRADE HAS TWO NEW PUPILS

Second grade pupils are glad to have two new students in their class. Barbara Jolls from Newman, Okla., and Ronald Briggs from Portales, N. M. There are 32 enrolled in the second grade.

The children in the second grade are thrilled over their 42 new library books which they received from the state library at Santa Fe.

To brighten the room, Marilyn Doshier brought an ivy, and Harvie Winkles brought an avocado plant.

The second grade saw a good film on safety. After the film was over they made posters on "safety in the home."

FIFTH GRADERS HAVE NEW SCIENCE BOOKS

Members of the fifth grade are proud of their new science books which have the work books to go with them.

Each student is to make a poster of one of mother nature's many seeds.

These students are beginning early to learn to be journalists. They are learning to find the "who, what, when and where" in newspaper articles.

Give some men three high balls and they will strike out for themselves.

Mustangs Kick Chiefs 13-0 Friday Night

The Mustangs of Bovina and the Chiefs of Friona battled to a scoreless tie in the first half of their football game Friday night in Friona, and it looked as if the game might end in a scoreless tie but Bovina caught fire in the second half to score two touchdowns and an extra point to come out of the game with a victorious 13-0 count.

Bovina, led by interchangeable quarterbacks and tailbacks, Darrell Read and Neil Smith, scored without ever losing the ball in the second half.

Friona kicked off to Larry Ezell on his own 25 and he returned it to the 43. Quarterback Read picked up two to the 45 and then handed off to Smith who made a first down on the Friona 46.

On the next play, the handoff was again to Smith and he squirted thru the line all the way to the Friona four. From that point the Mustangs made no gain the first play, Smith lost two back to the six on the second, and then with third down and goal to go, Read circled his own right end on a keeper for Bovina's tally of the three game old season to give Bovina a lead that Friona could never overcome.

Read's attempted place kick for the extra point was blocked.

Following the touchdown, Jerry Chiles carried Ezell's kickoff from the 20 to his 39, then added six more yards to the 45. But the Chiefs bogged down with that series of downs. With fourth down and four yards to go they elected to carry the ball and failed to make the needed yardage by some six inches.

Bovina took over on the 31 but fumbled two plays later on the 35 and Friona recovered. However, four plays later, Friona fumbled and Mike Barrazo recovered for the Mustangs on the 33. Bovina gained two yards on the exchange of fumbles.

Read picked up a first down on the first play from that point, Smith moved the ball to the 48, Ezell carried four yards to Friona's 48 and another first down. Read carried to the 34 in two consecutive tries but a fifteen yard penalty for clipping against Bovina put the ball back to the 44. Smith made four yards, down to the 40 on second down, Read couldn't go and with fourth down and one yard needed, Smith managed for the first down on the 38.

On the first play from the 38, a Read to Smith pass was completed and good for the remaining 38

Recent Rains May Give Crops Boost

Rains over the weekend that were slow and ground-soaking in nature improved the prospects for the '56 wheat crop around the Bovina area. Most farmers agreed that the rain totaled in the neighborhood of 1 1/2 inches.

Farmers felt that the rain was beneficial in most cases. An exception being where the hay was cut and still in the field. The grain sorghum will be given a boost by the rains as a rule, however, some of the grain was so near ready to harvest that it is doubted if it will be helped or hindered by the moisture.

The rains pretty well covered the High Plains area and it was reported that it rained as much as five inches in or near the Hereford area.

Cotton farmers' opinions on what the rain will do to the cotton crop vary. Some feel that if the moisture hangs on long enough that it could do damage to the bolls, however, it is admitted that this sort of damage is more possible than probable.

The cotton will have a later maturing date due to the rains and this could hurt if a freeze comes early. If the first killing freeze comes late, then in all probability, the cotton will be benefited by the recent rains.

Rain in October of last year didn't have any damaging effect on the cotton crop and most farmers feel that if it didn't hurt last year in October it shouldn't hurt this year in September.

James Ellison Receives Commission in USAR

James Roy Ellison, son of A. J. Ellison, Bovina, was recently commissioned second lieutenant in the Armour branch of the United States Army Reserve at New Mexico A&M College.

While he was a member of the ROTC at A&M, Ellison was in charge of one of the student companies. He received his degree in general agriculture in June.

Ellison is awaiting his orders for active duty in the U. S. Army.

Sectional Rehearsals Proving Helpful

Wayne Stephens, band director of the local school, reported that sectional rehearsals of the band were proving successful and helpful. The rehearsals have been well attended.

Less advanced students have received a great deal of help and have been coming to sectional rehearsals regularly.

The woodwind practice session begins every Monday morning at 8:30 and lasts until 9:15. The brass practices Wednesday morning at 8:30 to 9:15 and the percussion practices Friday morning at the same time as other sessions.

Student Council Presents Assembly

The student council of Bovina High School presented a Truth or Consequences program in the auditorium last Friday morning.

It was put on by the members of the student council and members of the student body participated. Brother J. B. Harlin, who is preaching for the Baptist Revival gave the devotional.

Mrs. Sammy Sudderth Honored with Shower

Mrs. Sammy Sudderth was honored with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. James Boardman last Thursday afternoon. The pink and blue theme was carried out by the hostesses Mrs. James Boardman and Mrs. Tom Rhodes.

Several games were played by the guests and prizes were given to the winners. The guests were also served cake and punch.

Those attending the shower were Mrs. Billy Marshall, Mrs. Don Sudderth, Mrs. Will Parker, Mrs. Howard Ellison, Miss Beverly Roberts, and Mrs. Mel Gunn.

Mrs. Lee Sudderth, Mrs. Betty Rose Lowrie, Mrs. Levi Johnson, Mrs. Tom Rhodes and Mrs. James Boardman were also present.

Division A of Music Climbers' Club to Meet

The Division A of the Music Climbers' Club will have its first meeting September 30. This meeting includes pupils from the 7th grade up.

This club is a member of the National Federation of Music and pays regular dues. Students belonging to a National Music Club may enter the National Federation Music Festival if they so desire.

Study Club Meets

The Bovina Women's Study Club met in the Reagan Looney home with Mrs. Reagan Looney and Mrs. H. N. Turner as hostesses.

In the business meeting the minutes were read for three previous meetings, corrected and approved.

Mrs. Jones gave a treasurer's report and the Odis Echols show was discussed. Tickets for this show were distributed to each member of the club for sale.

A new member, Mrs. Jane Barton was voted into the club. Roll call was carried out with each member writing an idea on paper for fixing up their club house.

Mrs. A. B. Wilkerson suggested that they bring a Red Cross course to Bovina but no action was taken on that suggestion.

For the program, Mrs. Bill Thornton gave a quiz on rules and laws of the federated women's club and Mrs. Frank P. Wilson read a paper of the Do's and Don'ts of parliamentary law. The next meeting will be a buffet supper honoring the school personnel October 13, with the social committee as hostess.

Rev. W. R. Beard, the pastor, will preach at both services Sunday. Good music, fine fellowship at this church. Come worship with us.

The Contest

Members of the four classes, the Hammonds, the Friendship, the Men's and the Women's classes of the Methodist Church School, get into this contest. Get your class membership present at the session of the school at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. We are counting on you. It is Rally Day.

Robert E. Wilson, is superintendent and W. R. Beard is pastor.

Rally Day Sunday

Special interest is being given to the Church School work at the Methodist Church for next Sunday. It is "Rally Day." An appeal is being made to members of each class to be present and bring a friend with them to the class session. A friendly challenge was given by the Hammonds and Friendship classes to the Men's and Women's class. This is a friendly contest for attendance for Rally Day. Our goal for Sunday is 180. An appeal is being made by your Church School superintendent, Robert Wilson and a joint session of the Commission on Education with the teachers of the school. We want all members of each class in the school present at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. Come help us make Sunday a really great day in our church.

BOVINA BAPTIST NEWS

Rev. Virgil Goodwin, Pastor

Choir rehearsal has been changed from Friday night to Wednesday night. The first rehearsal being this Wednesday at 8:45 p. m. Soon the choir will begin work on the Christmas music.

Sunday will begin a new year for the Sunday School teachers and workers, training union workers, and also the WMU, and Brotherhood leaders. Many changes will be evident in the classes next week.

During the revival meeting which closed last Sunday nine people joined the church. They are Mrs. Gail Haden, Mrs. A. B. Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Olan W. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Edwards and Roberta Edwards, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Roberts. Sunday School at tendance was not what we had hoped for, 232 did come for Sunday School, and a larger number for the Worship Service. It was nice to have the rain to blame the low attendance on, for we were expecting well above 300.

Faculty Entertains School Personnel

The faculty of the Bovina Independent School District entertained the school's personnel and their families and the members of the school board and their families Tuesday evening, September 20, in the school cafeteria.

Following a watermelon feast, the group was led in songs by Wayne Stevens, the band director. Then a card game, Dub's Mixer, was played.

High score winner of the game was Mrs. Howard Kelso. Her prize was a box of assorted candies. Winning low score prize, an all day sucker, was Wendol Christian.

The group was served soft drinks, coffee and cookies. The rest of the evening was spent in getting better acquainted.

Those attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truitt, Mrs. Olan Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hammonds, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Willoughby, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Methodist Home Choir Back on Airwaves

The Methodist Home Choir of Waco, returns to the airwaves at 8:15 a. m., Sunday, October 2, and will be a weekly feature until Christmas. This year's series, "Bless This House," will mark the advent of an entirely new programming technique for the choir. The boy and girl vocalists will sing old time favorites, folk songs and hit tunes, as well as their customary hymns and religious songs. By adapting this newer, wider approach in the selection of songs, the choir plans to bring more all around musical entertainment and enjoyment to their listeners.

For the first time this year the choir will be producing their weekly presentations from their new radio studio.

The choir, currently under the direction of Henry McDowell, has been broadcasting for seven seasons. Their new 15-minute series will be heard each Sunday morning at 8:15, beginning October 2, and continuing until Christmas, over the following radio stations: WFAA, Dallas; KENS, San Antonio; KFYO, Lubbock; and KSWB, Roswell.

Rev. W. R. Beard, pastor of the local Methodist Church, believes that many people in this area will be interested in these programs.

Honored with Shower

Mrs. Don Sudderth, the former Danita Gaines, was honored with a bridal shower last Friday afternoon at the Methodist Church.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of white mums tied with blue ribbon. Mrs. Gaines and Mrs. Sudderth were presented a white carnation corsage each.

The table was covered with a white linen table cloth with blue cut work in it. The centerpiece was a blue crystal bowl filled with multi-colored roses. The centerpiece was flanked by blue crystal candleholders with white candles.

Helen Hartzog played music while the guests assembled.

For the program Miss Kay Hartzog sang two songs accompanied on the piano by her sister Helen Hartzog.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by Mrs. Elmer Lowrie. Guests registered by Mrs. Ed Paetsch were Mesdames Sammy Sudderth, Arlin Hartzog, Billie Sudderth, Amos Steelman, J. I. Gober, Lee Sudderth, A. E. Gaines and H. J. Charles.
