Cliff Henderson Gets Leg Broken In Kansas

Cliff Henderson, manager of the Farmers Supply Co., and co-partner with his father, C. M. Henderson in the grain business, is in a Dood City, Kansas, hospital receiving treatment for a broken leg and injured eyes.

Henderson, who had gone with a fleet of trucks to Kansas, was engaged in inflating a tire on one of the large trucks when the tire rim blew out and struck him on the leg below the knee, breaking the member.

Flying dust, gravel and cinders occasioned by the blast struck him in the eyes and inflicted injuries that may be even more serious than the broken leg, it is reported here.

FARWELL SOLDIER IN MEDITERRANEAN ZONE PLAYS IMPORTANT PART IN TRANSPORTING OFFICERS OF ALLIED FORCES IN AFRICA

Allied Force Headquarters, Mediterranean Theater— Allied Force Headquarters in North Africa is a large installation and an important one. And the soldiers of this Car Company have the job of getting the officers who staff this headquarters where they want to go when they want to.

Among the Texans listed in the Company is Pvt. Thomas C. Williams son of Homer W. Williams of Farwell.

The technique of war demands clockwork precision and that demands swift, sure action. When a call comes in for a vehicle these drivers report where ordered with dispatch and surety, for they know the part they are playing in the overall scheme of the war. By this time, they know the intricate, labyrinthian ways of this city and know, as well, they must always be on the alert to get their passengers to their destination without hitch. This they do—come Hades or high water, and the carfree traffic habits of pedestrians representing almost all of the Allied Nations.

This Car Company was first formed in the United States Army. It was activated in June, 1941 and has been driving wherever our armed forces needed them since that time. In August, 1942, they landed in England and it wasn't long before they could say that they were familiar with most of the roads in the British Isles. Their duties took them through England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. One platoon of the Company drove for Allied force Headquarters in London prior to the invasion of North Africa.

The men are often separated from the Company itself on detached service. It was on such duty that two of the drivers went to Gibraltar to drive for General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Lt. General Mark Clark just before the landings in North Africa. Staff Sergeant Floyd Kkaahnke drove for General Eisenhower from this time for ten months and in this period it is likely he chauffeured more notables than any other G. I. in the world.

In January, 1942, the Company arrived in North Africa to assume its duties of providing transportation for Allied Force Headquarters. It has been fulfilling this function since that time both for the main element in this city and for the Advanced Echelon in Tunisia during the campaign there. Thus it is that fully fifty per cent of the Company have the bronze star for the Tunisian campaign.

The files of the Company are filled with commendations for the drivers for their excellent skill and

Deadline for Office Seekers Approaches

With the deadline for filing of county and precinct candidates coming the near future, it began to appear likely that all county wide candidates in Parmer county would be renominated without opposition.

The last date for filing of county and precinct candidates is June 17th.

At this stage of the campaign, only one contest for the Democratic nomination will be staged in the county. This is the commissioners race in precinct 1, where two candidates are in the race to succeed Dave Mosley, who has announced he will not be a candidate for renomination this year. His seat is being sought by Dudley Robason and Bill Flippin.

In the county wide races, none of the present office-holders have drawn an opponent, and it does not appear likely that any contest will develop in any of these races, with the present incumbents being presented the nomination on a silver platter.

As to the remaining commissioner races, speculation is not so certain. Reports do not indicate that Floyd Schlenker will be opposed for renomination in precinct 2, and the same holds true in precinct 4, where O. M. Jennings has succeeded thus far in avoiding an opponent.

However, in precinct 3, political observers are inclined to believe there will be a last-minute filing to give Jim Miller an opponent. So far T. E. Levey, incumbent, has made no statement for publication as to his intentions.

And there are others in the precinct, including Ed McGuire, former commissioner, who have not been entirely eliminated from political speculation.

Other dates on the political calendar during the next few weeks include the following:

June 19—The county committee meets to determine the order of the names on the ballot and apportion the costs to be assessed each candidate.

June 27—Last day for candidates to file expense accounts.

July 22—Date of first primary election.

August 26—Date of second primary election.

As to the remaining commissioner races, speculation is not so certain. Reports do not indicate that Floyd Schlenker will be opposed for renomination in precinct 2, and the same holds true in precinct 4, where O. M. Jennings has succeeded thus far in avoiding an opponent.

However, in precinct 3, political observers are inclined to believe there will be a last-minute filing to give Jim Miller an opponent. So far T. E. Levey, incumbent, has made no statement for publication as to his intentions.

Muleshoe Man Dies Of Crash Injuries

Funeral rites for Frank J. Patton of Muleshoe, were conducted at Muleshoe Sunday and he was buried in the Bovina cemetery that afternoon.

Patton died of injuries in a three-way automobile crash just west of the Texico Port of Entry Thursday night, when his car is said to have lunged into the rear of a car driven by O. B. Bryand, of Texico, and then swerved to the left to be hit by another machine approaching from the opposite direction.

Five persons were injured in the pile-up, but Patton is the only one whose injuries proved fatal. He suffered a fractured skull and chest injuries that caused his death about 48 hours after the accident.

Of his immediate family, Patton is survived by two children, a son Frank, nine, and a daughter Barbara, six.

Farwell Soldier Injured In Italian Campaign

T. Sgt. Murt J. Sullivan, son of Mrs. Valter Wagon, residing nine miles northeast of here, has been receiving treatment in a hospital in Italy for three weeks for "slight injuries."

Sgt. Sullivan communicated this information to his mother this week, but added no details. He is known to have been stationed in Italy and was attached to a service company. He didn't reveal the nature or extent of his injuries, nor how they were obtained. His step-father, Mr. Wagon, who saw overseas service in World War I, is inclined to believe that the injuries were not received while in action, but were caused by an accident or a bomb dropped by the enemy.

DRAFT BOARD TO MEET

The Parmer County draft board will meet Saturday afternoon, it was announced today.

Mrs. Claude Rose and son, Claude Jr., have gone to Houston, to spend a few days visiting Mrs. Rose's sister.

An injunction suit, seeking to set aside the election held in the state Line School district recently when voters on the Texas side voted to withdraw from the consolidation with Pleasant Hill School District in New Mexico, was reviewed in district court here last Saturday before District Judge James W. Wither- soon.

The proceedings lasted most of the day after getting under way shortly before noon. At conclusion of the testimony, and the arguments, Judge Wither- soon announced from the bench that he would take the case under consideration and would announce a decision at an early date, possibly by the latter part of next week.

Election Carries

Meanwhile, the voters of the State Line district and those of Bovina district voted almost unanimously to consolidate the State Liners with the Bovina district.

Only three dissenting votes were cast in Saturday's special election, and those came in the State Line district. Bovina voted unanimously in favor of the consolidation. The vote, according to unofficial information, was as follows:

State Line district: For Consolidation, 18; Against consolidation, 3.

Bovina District: For consolidation, 47; against consolidation, 0. In event Saturday's election is not invalidates, the State Line district will be attached to the Bovina District for school purposes.

It is understood that a tentative agreement has been reached between the Bovina School Board, the Farwell School Board, and the County Board of Education, that a small portion of the south end of the State Line District will be annexed to farwell district after the consolidation of the State Line-Bovina districts has been completed.

This tentative agreement has entered into in consideration of the patrons living along the south end of the State Line district who prefer to send their children to the Farwell school because of the traveling distance involved in transporting the to and from school.

MEMORIAL DAY IS QUIET

Memorial Day passed off here very quietly with no local observances being scheduled. All the county offices were closed for the day as were both postoffices.

A number of business houses also took off for the entire day with some observing only the afternoon as a holiday.

Quite a local number of local residents drove over to Clovis to witness the Memorial Day parade and other observances in keeping with the spirit of the day.

LOCAL WORKERS ATTEND MEETING AT MELROSE

Among those attending the training rally on last Friday night, May 26, were local director Henry Minter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eason, Miss Mabel Davis, Pastor W. C. Wright and wife and Norma Ruth.

Norma Ruth won first place in the Bible story contest which was sponsored by the Plains Baptist Association.

Hopes for one of the best wheat crops produced on the Plains in recent years increased over the past week-end when timely rains fell throughout the entire area.

Reports from east of here indicate that the moisture was increasingly heavy with some of the counties on the North Plains and to the east reporting a full inch and upwards. While the moisture in Parmer county and to the west was lighter, it is believed that sufficient rainfall was received to carry the wheat through to maturity.

Half Inch Fell Here

Most of the reports on the moisture in Parmer county seem to indicate that the slow, drizzling rain that kept up almost constantly during Friday and Saturday amounted to an average of a half inch, with the east side of the county getting slightly more than that amount.

To the west, the rain seemed to grow lighter, with Clovis reporting only .33 of an inch. The Farwell gauge registered .47.

Wheat Greatly Benefitted

Speculation is already being made that Parmer county will produce the best wheat crop since 1931, barring unfavorable weather conditions from now until harvest. Hail, high winds and excessive rainfall are listed as the most common hazards to be dealt with.

Belief is expressed that some fields in the county will yield upwards from 25 bushels to the acre, with most of the best fields being found north of Bovina, around Friona, and along the east side of the county. Few, if indeed any, fields on the western side of the county are calculated to yield that much, with most fields in this particular area being rated in the 12 to 20 bushel class.

Barley Is Good

Along with the prospects for a good wheat crop, comes the report that Parmer County is expected to produce the biggest barley crop in its history. An increased acreage of barley is to be found in the county this year, and some estimates are running as high as 40 bushels per acre. Several rye fields over the county are showing indications of a good yield, also.

Benefits Row Crops

The slow, drizzling rain was "just what the doctor ordered" for the row crops over the county. Most of the row crops and cotton planting had just been completed, and this timely rain almost insures a good stand. Farmers say that there was sufficient underground moisture already in the ground, and the gentle falling moisture of Friday and Saturday will moisten up the topsoil just enough to insure speedy germination.

Falling gently as it did, the rain soaked into the ground as it fell, and none of the young crops were covered up by washing of the soil from the ridges.

Farmers who have been here many years are in accord in agreeing that possibly never before did this section have a more favorable season in the ground and a more favorable prospect for a fair wheat crop at this particular time of year.

ATTEND GROUP MEETING

Rev. and Mrs. Paul H. Tripp and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Le Veque accompanied 13 young people of the Methodist Church to Portales last Sunday afternoon to attend a group meeting of this district.

Combines Ready for Custom Jobs

A survey now being conducted by the Extension Service reveals that a good number of combines in Parmer County will be available for custom work during the coming wheat harvest.

County Agent Garlon A. Harper, in making this announcement, said today, "We are having very good response to the questionnaires sent out to farmers, asking if they needed or could supply combines for outside work during the harvest."

"I believe," he went on, "although the current plan of swapping, exchange or straight hire of combines is in its infancy, that we will be able to handle most of the necessary harvest work in this county with the machines that are now available."

May Have Field Man

Going further along the line, Harper said that if the reaction continues favorable during the next week it is likely that a field man will be engaged by the Extension Service to coordinate the work.

In other words, some person will be charged with the responsibility of contacting farmers who have indicated that they had combines for custom work, and in turn keep the machines busy on farms where none is on hand.

A number of men in the county who have combines, Harper said, have already made preparations to do work for their neighbors, "and, of course, we will not interfere with their arrangements . . . what we are trying to do isto see that all combines are kept busy when the crops are ready for cutting."

Naturally, harvesting of grain sorghums and barley enters into the planning picture, but with wheat harvest in the near future, the majority of farmers are interested in that particular phase.

Grain men over the county, along with farmers themselves, have stated definitely that some such plan of cooperation will be necessary this year, in view of the scarcity of labor and machines.

Indications the first of the week that wheat harvesting would begin about the twentieth of June, which gives only a few short weeks to complete details of the plan, and all men who will cooperate in any way, who have thus far failed to contact Agent Harper, are asked to do so immediately.

Erisman Is Candidate For Attorney General

LONGVIEW, Texas—Fred Erisman of Longview, now serving his third consecutive unopposed term as criminal district attorney, 124th judicial district, has announced his candidacy for Attorney General of Texas. Erisman is a former city attorney of Longview, has had 13 years general legal experience, and is licensed to practice law before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Supreme Court of Texas, and all federal and state courts. He is now resident of the district and county attorney's association of Texas.

Erisman's record as prosecuting attorney of the 124th district is outstanding. Although oil producing Gregg County is the third smallest county in Texas, under his vigorous prosecution it ranks among the top ten counties in the state for number of persons committed to the penitentiary and leads the entire state for prosecutions under the habitual criminal act.

Marvin Jones Cites Need for More Cottonseed

Because cotton is a war crop, there are now no restrictions on production. The 1944 acreage goal is slightly above last year's planned acreage. We have not had to expand production to meet the war demand for lint, but we do have great need for its meal, hulls and oil. War Food Administrator Marvin Jones pointed out in a recent broadcast of importance to every cotton grower who has land and equipment best adapted to cotton growing.

"Cotton is our largest single source of vegetable oil, about half the total supply. Of all fats and oils, both fats and vegetables, cottonseed oil is second only to lard as a cooking fat, and second only to butter as a table fat", he added.

Stressing the importance of producing grades, staples and qualities of cotton needed today, the War Food Administrator urged more careful harvesting and ginning to produce the kinds of cotton needed. He discussed the many problems of lint cotton exports and supplies, calling the attention for careful planning along practical lines by cotton leaders, adding "If they do that wisely, cotton will always be a source of happiness and means of livelihood for many people in the United States."

Discussing cottonseed, Mr. Jones said: "It should be remembered that for every 500 pound bale of cotton lint there are produced 900 pounds of cottonseed. Not a pound of this seed is wasted, not even the hulls. This 900 pounds of cottonseed yields 140 pounds of vegetable oil for food, 400 pounds of meal and cake for livestock feedland, finally 80 lbs. of linters for smokeless powder, plastics and other things. The linters alone, which are just the fuzz of cottonseed, are the best natural form of alpha cellulose for making smokeless powder. Out of some of these linters they make the transparent section of bombing lanes and the finest synthetic yarns and fabrics.

TWO REGISTER IN MAY

Only two Parmer County lads registered with the Parmer County Selective Service board during the month of May, under the law requiring that all boys attaining the age of 18 years to register with their local boards.

This is about half the usual number of registrants received through the local board office, and Mrs. Bessie Lee Henneman, clerk, gave it as her opinion that the decrease was caused by boys enlisting in the navy before they were required to register.

Those registering were, Charles Edward Christian, Wilber Dale Treider.

W. Aldridge, chairman for the Stamford show.

Approximately $600 will be given in prizes, with five winning places being named in each class. Other the grand champion and stallion and grand champion mare, there are six other classes, with cash awards given first to fifth places in most classes. Entry fee is $5 per horse and $4 per horse for stall fee.

The association had a total of 248 members in 1942. This membership has grown during the past two years until Texas alone now has 230 registered members. The complete list now represents 16 states other than Texas and includes four owners in foreign countries.

Official judging will be on the morning of July the 3, with all entries to be kept on exhibit the two days of the show. Entries are not limited to Association members but, are open to any quarter horse owner.

PINEAPPLE MOVES INTO STATE

COLLEGE STATION—Shipments of Mexico-grown pineapple, bought cooperatively by Texas home demonstration club women, are finding a welcome reception.

One of the early reports reaching the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service headquarters tells of the success of a pineapple venture made by the marketing committee of the Lipscomb County Home Demonstration Council. Within four days after preliminary arrangements had been made with the importer, the order for 400 dozen pineapple was complete. In all, 315 families placed orders, Wanda Kimbrell, Lipscomb County home demonstration agent, has advised the extension home industries specialist, Myrtle Murry.

The pineapple arrived three days later. To replace those which were shipped an additional eight dozen. But only 23 were damaged in transit. One member of the marketing committee utilized the bruised fruit the same day.

Many of the pineapple weighed from five to six pounds, and none weighed under three. The purchasers were well pleased with their pineapple, which was of the sugar-load variety. So successful was the deal, that a later canvass indicated an additional 300 dozen might be ordered to meet the needs of families who did not order on the first shipment.

Among other council marketing committees now considering cooperative purchase of pineapple are those of Scurry, Mitchell, Dewitt, Runnels and Nacogdoches counties, according to press dispatches and reports from county home demonstration agents.

South Must Produce More Protein, Says Agricultural Writer

If the South stays in livestock business it will have to produce more protein along with other feeds. We cannot depend upon the importation of soybean meal from the cornbelt or of carbohydrate feeds in form of yellow corn. We must learn to utilize our own resources, and in doing so we may get more economic results, even though we do not follow the feeding programs which have been found successful in other states.

Our best source of commercial protein comes from cotton, and with the lid off for 1944, cotton-producing states should increase their acreage in areas where cotton can be most economically produced. This can be done without unbalancing the farm program. In fact, it will bring about a better balanced because it will provide the much-needed protein feed of which there is an alarming shortage.

There are other sources of protein which our farmers have neglected. Green grasses, including small grains, Sudan grass and even Johnson grass contains up to 21 per cent protein if cut before the maturing stage is reached. Instead of waiting for more growth to secure tonnage, farmers should make hay when the protein is at its highest point a good supply with 20 per cent protein content will go a long way towards supplementing the supply of cottonseed and soybean meal. Grain for grazing and improved pasboth came into the picture to make the South independent of soybean meal. Dehydrated and dried sweet potatoes can be made to make up the deficiency in our corn production.

The South can become a great livestock area, if we will take advantage of our opportunities and utilize our home-grown feed stuffs.—FARM AND RANCH.
