Who do you think sent it?

To be honest about it, when I stood up in front of a bunch of grizzled Rotarians and suggested a Celebrity Auction as a way of raising funds for the Farwell Community Center several weeks ago, I decided to hedge like mad.

I knew that such an auction had been tried successfully years ago elsewhere in the nation, but I had no firsthand knowledge of how it would go. I mean, just because you send a letter to someone seeking a donation doesn't necessarily mean that you are going to get something.

But I had been asked to attend a meeting of representatives of several community groups that had been called for the purpose of suggesting fund-raisers. I threw out the idea that night and the folks present thought it was worth investigating. The next day I made the same pitch before the Rotarians, the result: the Rotary Club decided to be the main sponsor for a Celebrity Auction.

The way it works is easy. Locally, you go to businesses and ask for donated items. The Rotarians agreed to do this in Texico-Farwell, Clovis and Muleshoe business districts. At the same time, you send out letters to celebrities, such as movie and TV stars, sports heroes, politicians, musicians, etc., asking for personalized items, too.

Thus, if it works out, you end up with a couple of hundred items from businesses plus a goodly portion of stuff from celebrities. But I hedged at the beginning of the proposal because I just didn't know if any celebrities would send something.

Now, I can breathe a sigh of relief. Make that a BIG sigh of relief. The items have rolled in to Farwell from celebrities and that guarantees a really special auction.

Even without the celebrity items, it's shaping up to be a great auction. A lot of nifty items like a stereo, commemorative half dollar and an electric heater, have been collected so far. But, unless I miss my guess, the celebrity items will act as a major drawing card.

I have been wishy-washy on one point, though: whether to let folks know what we are collecting and who it's from. On one hand, if folks knew that, it might help bring them to the auction. On the other, if folks don't know that, the mystery also might bring them to the auction.

I was talking to Curtis Smith about this dilemma the other day and he made a pretty good suggestion: that just before the auction, I run a big ad in the paper showing two lists - one for items collected and the other for the celebrities that donated them. Then, you could try to figure out who gave what. And if you turn in that at the auction - or maybe if you're among the first ones to arrive - you get a free celebrity items (since we have duplicates of some donations).

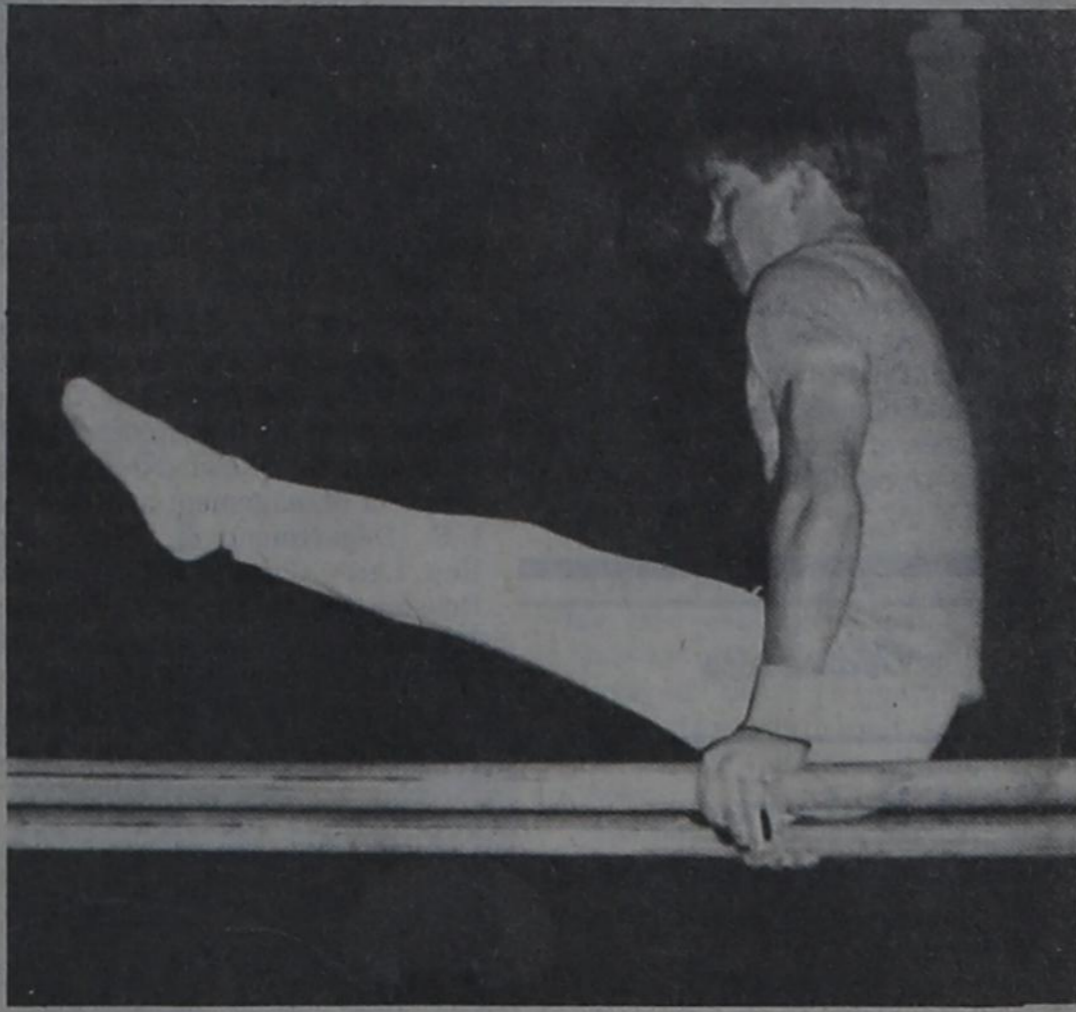

What do you think? I thought it had merit and we're still mulling it over. We'll probably make a decision early next month. Let me know what your views are.

Anyway, I began to worry that folks might think that the only items celebrities would send might be chintzy. Folks might think that the hullabaloo over the "celebrity" part of the auction might be a con man's "come on."

And frankly, when we were sending out letters to celebrities, I also feared that they might not send anything worth bidding for. Fortunately, though, my fears have been put to rest. Just take a look at this:

1. Two autographed baseballs from a Hall of Famer.
2. A sweatsuit like the ones U.S. Olympians wore in Los Angeles games, complete with Olympic insignia (small men's size).
3. An autographed hat from a famous country music singer.
4. A jersey from a National Football League team (No. 49).
5. A cuddly doll from another National Football League team.
6. A record from a well-known country singer.
7. A scarf from a lady who once ranked among the most respected women in the nation.
8. A handkerchief from a singer who has a big following here.
9. Autographed pennants from yet another NFL team.
10. Script books from two highly-rated TV shows.
11. A matching cap and jacket from a firm involved in auto racing.

Hughes wins regional meet

Farwell's Andy Pat Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hughes, earned the all-around trophy for class II, 16-18 year old boys in the Region III Gymnastics Championships held at the University of Oklahoma field house in Norman, Okla. on May 17-18.

This meet was for the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Kansas and Arkansas.

To compete in the meet, a gymnast had to have a qualifying score of 70 points. Andy entered with a total of 85.3. The all-around is determined by the highest number of points for six compulsory routines and 6 optional routines.

Andy placed first on vault, parallel bars and pommel horse. He received second place for both floor exercise and high bar with a third place for steel rings. At the end of the first day's compulsory competition, Andy led by 1.4 points and had led his closest competitor by 7.10 points at the end of the second days optional routines.

Andy, as well as the other local gymnasts, faces two difficult problems. Not all of our apparatus is competition size. It is difficult to train on a piece of "home made" equipment and then to compete on regulation apparatus. The distance that must be traveled to reach a meet is also a big drawback for local gymnasts. Most Texas meets are held in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio or Austin.

Therefore because of the time, distance and expense involved, usually only one qualifying meet and the state finals are attended. In the metroplex cities, a student can participate in gymnastics as a UIL sport in their school as well as private clubs. Many will compete 3 or 4 times per month all spring. This additional experience is difficult to compete against.

Andy has earned 13 trophies, 52 medals and numerous ribbons for his gymnastics achievements. Andy will move to Class I competition for the 1985-86 season under the guidance of coach Clay Burch.

Andy hopes to receive a scholarship to the University of Oklahoma. He plans to major in physical therapy or possibly sports medicine.

Andy states that he has made many close friends from a lot of places because of his sport. There is a lot of competition among the boys but there is also a lot of pride in each other when a new trick is accomplished.

There is a lot of handshaking going on at a meet as the boys congratulate each other. Gymnastics is a sport of hard work, sore muscles, blisters and personal pride.

Rain: Just what the doctor ordered

The Twin Cities saw May 16, 17 and May 21 with a gently pouring of rain on the farms, crops, neighborhood lawns, and gardens - without cold, or hail. Just rain.

Lonnie McFarland, manager of Sherley-Anderson elevator in Lariat, reported that so far they had received 7 1/2 inches. This time last year in May they got half an inch. This was good for the corn and cotton. He reported that the wheat was showing a little rust, which isn't so good.

Walter Curd of Texico reported 1.9 inches for May 16 and 17. Another inch of rain fell May 21.

Ted Magness lives south of town and his gauge showed 2 1/4 inches for the first two days. Magness said, "This was good for the crops."

Fred Chandler, of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator, reported that as of May 20 Farwell had 2.20 inches of rain. Chandler said, "This rain is just what we needed for the crops. The wheat does show a rust problem but we're not sure how much damage until harvest time."

Martin Chandler, executive director of Parmer County ASCS said, "This rain has helped the corn crop. The cotton was beginning to need water and this is just what it needed. There was no damaging hail this time, just a gentle rain. It was excellent for the wheat, dry and irrigated both. There is a rust problem in the county."

Chandler added, "There are still some areas that still need some

Drug store owners start setting up

The owners of the new drug store in Farwell began working this week to install the fixtures and stock the shelves.

A tentative opening is set for Monday, June 3.

The owners are Dennis and Pat Mitchell, of Hatch, N.M., and Steve and Helen Breckenridge, of Farwell.

The Breckenridges are renting a home of the Wilbur Kalbas farm south of Farwell.

In February, the Mitchells and Breckenridges signed a contract with the Farwell Hospital District for the store, which will be in the former Gateway Restaurant building across from Capitol Food and Dairy Queen.

The contract called for a rent-free period and renovation work to be paid by the district. The cost for this work will be reimbursed by the owners. The building was donated by public-spirited residents last year to the Hospital District.

The Mitchells also own drug stores in Hatch and Tombstone, Ariz. They are part of a cooperative group called "United Drug." The store in Farwell will be called Farwell United Drug.

Breckenridge, 27, was born in Anderson, Ind., and raised in Farmington, N.M. He lived in Tombstone for eight years - where he worked for the Mitchells, then has spent his last eight years in Tucson, Ariz.

He graduated the University of Arizona in 1983 with a degree in pharmacy. After graduation, he became pharmacy manager at St. Mary's Medical Park Pharmacy in Tucson. He held that post until coming to the Twin Cities.

His hobbies are golf, basketball, hiking and sports in general.

His wife, formerly Helen Johnson, was born and raised in Ste. Genevieve, Mo. She moved to Arizona in 1982. Her hobbies are horseback riding, water skiing, macrame and sewing. In Tucson, she was a member of the Fifth Street Baptist Church.

Mrs. Breckenridge will work part-time at the drug store.

Breckenridge said the store will carry general merchandise, including a good selection of gift items, greeting cards, bathroom and kitchen ideas and, of course, prescription items.

The store will have a coffee machine and some tables.

The store will be open 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. The store also will be open Saturday but Breckenridge has not decided on the times yet. It will be closed Sunday.

After the fixtures are installed and the stock brought in, the Mitchells will return to Hatch.

The building has received a new roof, new ceiling, new carpeting and the lot is to be blacktopped this week.

Auction gathering steam

The Celebrity Auction to raise funds for the Farwell Community Center continues to gather steam. A lengthy article appeared in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Tuesday about the auction, set for 5 p.m. June 22 at the Community Center. A promotion for this article was carried at the top of page 1 of that issue.

After the article appeared in the Lubbock paper, it was mentioned on KSEL Radio in Lubbock. One of the DJ's suggested auctioning off the T-shirt of another DJ and several persons called in to support the idea.

Then the radio station interviewed Martin Chandler, president of the Farwell Community Center board, and Mike Pomper, Celebrity Auction chairman, Wednesday morning about the upcoming auction.

KSEL said they will auction off the T-shirt with proceeds going to the Community Center. And they said they are considering broadcasting live from the auction in June.

Meanwhile, the list of items donated from celebrities is growing rapidly. As of Monday, 54 items had been sent to Farwell.

In addition to the list carried in last week's State Line Tribune, here are more celebrities who have sent items:

Julia Child, Roy Rogers, Erma Bombeck, Dave Smith of Houston Astros, Gary Coleman of Diff'rent Strokes, Lynda Carter, Paul Newman, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, Pearl Bailey, the Pittsburgh Steelers, Journey, Big Bird, Charles Bronson, Washington Redskins, Jerry Falwell.

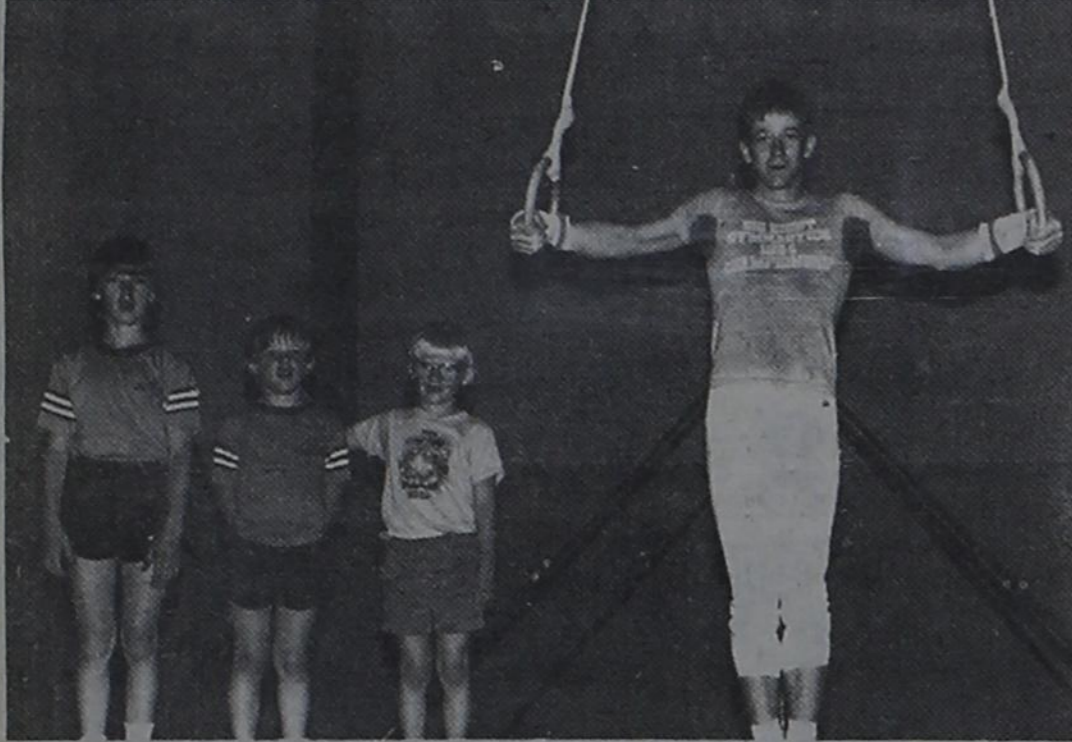

Also, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Jane Pauley, Ed McMahon, Orville Redenbacher, Robert Redford, Bob Hope, Olivia Newton-John, U.S. Office of Management and Budget, U.S. Department of Commerce, Rep. Larry Combest, Mars Candy, Houston Oilers, Sen. Phil Gramm, Tom Landry, Tony Dorsett, Don Rickles and the L.A. Raiders.

members of the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club have begun collecting donations from area businesses. In addition to items mentioned last week, the list now includes:

Twenty-five gospel records; a 1982 commemorative half-dollar--90 percent silver; an eight-track stereo with speakers; an afghan; a porcelain doll; a free pass to Disneyland, and two pair of designer blue jeans.

Donations have come from Security State Bank, Jim Bishop, Farwell United Drug, Annette Black (Avon), Hailey's Family Affair, Crossroads Motel/Turquoise City and KIJJN Christian Radio.

"We're happy about how the collection is going," said auction chairman Mike Pomper. "Practically all the items being donated are brand-new."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Thompson of Denver. The bridegroom's mother is Ruthie Foster of Texico.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long lavender satin dress with a train attached. The dress had a high neck with lavender lace around neck and white pearls around waist, down the back and on each sleeve. The veil was net and lace with white carnations.

THEY GAVE THEIR LIVES TO PRESERVE YOUR FREEDOM

It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us - that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; and that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, shall not perish from the earth.

IN MEMORIAM

This Memorial Day, taps will sound across countless graves throughout the land, as a thoughtful nation pauses to honor those men and women who have given their lives in the service of their country. Since the days of our forefathers, so many brave Americans have made the ultimate sacrifice in order to preserve our way of life. Today, we will be honoring their memory with many lasting tributes. But the most lasting tribute of all, is the dedication of all Americans to the goal of peace. Let us remember the departed most fittingly by achieving that peace.

Under God, we are determined that wheresoever, whensoever, or howsoever
we shall be called to make our exit, we will die as free men.

OLD FASHIONED AMERICAN PRIDE

There was a time in this country when the things we made, we made by hand. Skilled craftsmen who cared about the work they did took the time to do the job right. And every object they made was stamped with pride.

That spirit of endeavor is not lost today. You'll find it in Americans from coast to coast — men and women who still care enough to do their best. From artist to accountant, farmer to factory worker, Americans can be proud of the work they're doing. Just as they can be proud of the country that work has built.

It may sound corny today to say it, but we're proud of America — proud of the old-fashioned values this country stands for and still has. America, you're the greatest!

Combest announces questionnaire results

Congressman Larry Combest (R-Texas) has released the results of his 1985 Congressional Questionnaire which was mailed throughout the 19th Congressional District during February.

Combest's questionnaire focused on a variety of questions relating to such issues as the Federal Deficit, the income tax system, decontrol of natural gas, line item veto and the problems currently facing West Texas and the Nation.

More than 9,600 questionnaire responses were received in Combest's Washington office. Although the results are not scientific, Combest said he believes the views adequately reflect the opinions of the people of the 19th District of Texas.
