Just A Little Too Slow Proves Costly To Farmer

One of the most amusing stories of the season has finally leaked out and the professional jokers of Bovina are having another inning.

Lester Rhinehart was determined that the full details of the damage to his practically new car would never become known, but it finally leaked out and here it is as relayed to us by a Bovina businessman.

Rhinehart was having difficulty in starting a stubborn tractor, so he conceived the idea of pulling the machine with his car. Alone and unassisted, Rhinehart had to tie to the tractor, put his car in low gear, return to the tractor and manipulate the gas and spark of the tractor. He reasoned that when the tractor did begin to fire that he could apply the brakes, thus "killing" the engine of the towing automobile.

Everything worked according to his calculations except one thing. When he stepped on the tractor brakes, expecting to "kill" the car, the tow-chain snapped and the loose automobile took off driverless across the two section pasture.

Lester relates, now that the story has leaked out, that he pursued the driverless auto for several hundred yards only being able to barely touch a rear fender at one time. Giving up the chase, Lester returned to his tractor and gave chase, but was never able to catch the wild car, which finally ran across the large wheat field, rammed through a fence and was approaching Highway 60 at Catfish Draw, when it ran into a tree—there it "died." A garage bill of $290 put the wayward machine back into driving condition again.

Lester says now that if he had anticipated the amount of the garage bill he believes he could have caught the runaway car.

Amendment Meeting Opposition Here

Considerable opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on by the people of Texas next Saturday, seemed to be coming to the surface here on the eve of the election.

Characterizing the move as a "rope around the necks of the smaller colleges of the state," B. N. Graham stated that he expected to campaign against the adoption of the amendment from now until election time.

Considerable opposition is also being voiced by students and ex-students of Texas' smaller colleges who see in the adoption of the amendment a scheme to fatten the purses of the Texas A. & M. and Texas University at the expense of the small colleges of the state.

ADDS ANOTHER TITLE

Col. Dick DeGher, of the Farwell Rel Estate and Commission Co. received another title last week, even though it is not known whether it is official or unofficial.

A Tucumcari Sheriff's posse paid the Twin-Cities a good will visit last week advertising their rodeo and while here, persistently called for the mayor of Farwell, wishing to present him with a gift. Some fast-thinking citizens of the city took the situation in hand quickly, and upon seeing Doshier standing nearby, knew the answer to their dilemma. Dick was presented with a Queen for a Day Doll, and was told by the leader that even though he was an auctioneer, he would make a good mayor. Thus "Colonel" Dick attained the title of "mayor".

Showers Fall Over Limited Sections

Widely scattered showers last week brought some relief to limited sections of Parmer County, which, for the most part, still remains desperately in need of moisture.

Readings in Farwell show that three showers last week brought 1.50 inches of rainfall here, with the bulk of the moisture coming on Tuesday night when 1.25 was recorded here. Reports indicate, however, that these showers were very limited in their scope and extended only a short distance in any direction from town. Over the county, generally it appears that less than a half inch fell in any section with the exception of in the Rhea section.

Floyd Schlenker, who lives in the Rhea community north of Bovina, reported that better than two full inches fell there last week. This rain, too, he said, was limited in its scope.

While some Fall plowing has been going on the past week in the rain-favored sections, most farmers claim that there has not been sufficient moisture to stimulate extensive plowing. Wheat growers are anxious to get their ground in shape for wheat sowing, but are being delayed by the continued dry weather. Reports indicate that with few exceptions there has been sufficient moisture to cause the volunteer crop of wheat to come up.

FARWELL SCHOOL BUDGET

Notice is hereby given that Farwell School Trustees will meet Monday, August 25, 1947 at 8:00 p. m. for the purpose of adopting the annual budget. Any taxpayer may be present and participate in the hearing.

Amendment Vote Comes Up Saturday

Fire School Slated For Local Members

Beginning Wednesday night, August 20th, at 8:00 o'clock, (Texas Time) a series of meetings will begin on fire fighting at the Texico Fire Station, under the direction of J. R. Dobson, who is connected with the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. It is sponsored by the Texas Fire Insurance Division.

The school will be a 30-hour course divided into 2½ hour classes each, twice a week for a period of six weeks.

Any citizen of Texico-Farwell or surrounding territory who would like to get the benefit of this schooling are invited to be present at each meeting.

Instructor Dobson's plan is to start with elementary work and advance into the course more fully as the class progresses. To attend this school you do not have to be a member of the department, as it is for the good of all, and may benefit any resident, who is in no position to know when his home may be attacked by fire.

At the end of the six weeks course, diplomas will be awarded those who complete the work, and if you wish to become a member of the local fire department, you may do so.

A motion was made and seconded that a banquet be held at the end of the course for the school members and their families. The place and date will be released at a later date.

Those present Monday night for the organizing of the school were: Hershell Morgan, Silas Jones, Frank Jones, G. C. Houston, Russel Johnson, Ed Blain, Hayden Cason, Woodie McDermitt, W. D. Hardage, Paul Wurster, Mansell Cranfill, Milburn White, John Aldridge, Jack Crane, Stanton Thigpen, A. C. Green, Chief, and Otis Huggins, Secretary.

The school nights for this week are Wednesday and Friday nights, and dates for the coming weeks will be decided on at the last meeting in the week.

Leaves Saturday For Voyage to England

Mrs. Claude Dyer and her two small children, Jackie Ray, 15 months, and Leslie, 4, are making last-minute plans to leave here Saturday by train for New York, where they will take passage on the luxury liner Queen Mary for her former home in England.

In an interview Tuesday, Mrs. Dyer was uncertain as to her return date, except to add that she would not likely return until after the holidays.

Asked about how she felt about the serious food shortage that is reported in her native England, Mrs. Dyer brushed the idea aside with the opinion that most of the talk of that nature was without foundation.

Mrs. Dyer, an English war bride, came to this country in March of 1946, and has resided here since that time. Her husband operates a fresh fruit and vegetable truck between here and the west coast.

Stock of Groceries Added to Bakery

Perry Crawley of Crawley's Bakery in Texico, is adding a stock of groceries to his bakery business and announced this week that he would cater to the local and tourist trade.

The grocery stock will be displayed in the front of the building and the bakery department moved to the rear. Crawley said that as yet his stock was somewhat incomplete, but he expected to have a full line within the next few days.

BOVINA NEWS MISSING

The regular Bovina news column is missing this week for some unknown reason. It had not arrived at the office at the time of going to press.

Lightning kills about 400 in the United States every year.

Boyhood Chums Have First Meeting in Forty-Five Years

E. C. Christian and Fred Kepley had a great time the past Friday, talking over really old times when they were boyhood chums back in Indiana. Christian, who now lives in Mineral Wells, Texas, dropped in at the Kepley home unannounced and spent the day going over happenings of their boyhood days.

This was the first meeting the two had had in 45 years, and needless to say that the conversations were quite interesting to the old friends. Christian was accompanied by his son, Eldon, also of Mineral Wells.

Roberts Starts New Storage at Clovis And Portales

M. C. Roberts of the Roberts Seed Company, with grain elevators in Texico, Clovis and Portales, announced plans this week to begin immediate construction on additional storage for his Clovis and Portales elevators.

At Portales, he plans a completely new iron clad elevator with a capacity of 50,000 bushels. Both jobs are being constructed simultaneously under the direction of one general superintendent, he said.

Texico Schools To Register Aug. 29

Supt. B. A. Rogers announced today that registration for the Texico school would be held on Friday, Aug. 29th, starting at 1 o'clock p. m. (Texas time).

He said that all school buses would make the rounds immediately after noon in order to reach the school grounds at the time for the registration.

Supt. Rogers also called attention to the age requirements of beginner students, stating that children who will attain their sixth birthday before Jan 1st, 1948, would be eligible for entrance. The law is very specific on age limits, Rogers added, and children not coming under the above date would of necessity be denied entrance.

Farwell Residents Molested By Electrical Display

Lightening took its turn in striking residential homes in and near Farwell last Wednesday night, when the first summer rains hit the local area.

The flashing streaks seemed to follow a path in a southeastern direction, after hitting Johnnie Armstrong's place, north of Farwell, and from there moved nearer town to damage the roof of the John Porter home.

Still seemingly unsatisfied, the lightning skipped across the town to take a crack at the home of Felix Monroe, burning a drop cord into a few feet from Monroe's head.

Monroe says that this is the second time his home has been the victim of an electrical freak this year. During the same storm, lightning hit Homer Fletcher's home across the road from Monroe's home, inflicting only slight damage.

Border Theatre Front Lighted

Felix Monroe has almost completed installation of a modern front on the local Border Theatre, with the addition of neon lights and a billboard adding to the attractiveness of the showhouse.

An aluminum sheeting behind the lettering on the front will make the reading more prominent to passers-by so that they may see the billing of current pictures.

Texas will vote next Saturday to approve or disapprove a 60 million dollar plan for Texas colleges and universities over a 30-year period. They will vote for or against the following constitutional amendment: "Providing for the levying of a state ad valorem tax on property in County Judge A. D. Smith announced today that the voting booths of Parmer County would be open at the usual places in this county for the voting, and the polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m.

lieu of the present state ad valorem tax of seven cents for confederate pensions in order to create special funds necessary for the payment of confederate pensions and equipment of building and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning in the amounts of two cents and five cents respectively providing for a five-cent reduction of the maximum allowable state tax on property, making such tax not to exceed thirty cents on the one hundred dollar valuation; providing for the construction of payment for the construction and equipment of improvements and buildings at the Agricultural and Mechanical colleges of Texas and the University of Texas."

Adoption of the amendment would permit the University of Texas and Texas A & M to float a bond issue on the permanent university fund to raise fifteen million dollars for new buildings.

The State University would take ten million dollars; Texas A & M five million dollars.

The five-cent ad valorem tax switched away from the Confederate pension fund would give revenue to the other 14 state colleges, permitting them to float bonds totaling forty-five million dollars over a 30-year period.

Advocates of the plan say no damage would be done to Confederate pensioners. Only 2 cents of the 7-cent tax authorized for their fund has been levied during recent years as the number of pensioners has declined and the fund has built up a surplus.

To forestall charges that the constitutional amendment would impose a new tax on property owners, the 50th Legislature provided for reduction of the state tax on property from a maximum of 35 cents to 30 cents.

The amendment prohibits the colleges from receiving any other state funds for new buildings during the 30 years except in case of fire, flood, storm or earthquake.

Levy of the five-cent tax would be discontinued upon payment of all the bonds authorized.

Proportionate allocation of funds to the 14 colleges would be made at the start of each 10-year period on a basis of average full-time student enrollment for the preceding five years.

The percentage for each school the first 10 years would be: John Tarleton Agricultural, 5.7; North Texas Agricultural, 6.1; Texas State College for Women, 11.5; Texas College of Arts and Industries, 4.7; College of Mines and Metallurgy, 4.7; Texas Technological, 16.5; East Texas State Teachers, 8.1; North Texas State Teachers, 12.6; Sam Houston State Teachers, 5.5; Southwest State Teachers College, 6.7; Stephen F. Austin State Teachers, 4.5; West Texas State Teachers, .05; Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical, 5.3.

Parents Urged to Have Children Immunized

Parents are urged to bring their six-year-old school beginners to the Farwell School Vocational Building for vaccinations between 9:00 and 11:00 on Friday morning, August 22. All pupils must be vaccinated for smallpox and diphtheria before entering Farwell Schools.

Dr. Stokes of Friona will vaccinate for smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, and lockjaw. There will be a one dollar charge for the smallpox vaccination and a two dollar charge for the combined whooping cough-diphtheria-lockjaw vaccination shot.

Mrs. Grace Loyd of this city was visiting in Austin last week with her mother.

(From the Amarillo News) Panhandle wheat producers—now completing their greatest crop in history—are finding they have built an agricultural house on the sand.

Terminal market mill buyers are penalizing incoming loads from the Texas region because of high percentage of poor milling quality varieties of wheat. In some cases, as much as 16 and one-fourth cents per bushel penalty has been assessed below regular market quotations.

In a few instances, buyers have refused to bid on Panhandle wheat because of extremely low milling quality.

Even mills in the Panhandle region are importing high quality wheat to manufacture bread for local consumption.

It was confirmed yesterday by The Daily News that at least one large mill in the region has been importing wheat from Nebraska and Colorado to grind into flour. Purchased supplies of Panhandle wheat are being channeled out of the region, sold principally for overseas export.

A high official of the flour milling concern asked that his firm not be mentioned by name. He said however, the standard of wheat in the Panhandle has slipped drastically during the last two or three years.

"Panhandle wheat is now at low ebb—to date," he emphasized.

The mill official predicted that wheat buyers soon would be forced to follow the precedent set by cotton buyers—whereby purchase is made strictly on a grade classification.

To avert more serious repercussions and to attempt to stem the wave of criticism directed at Panhandle wheat, various mills, grain organizations and individuals are joining in a campaign to urge producers to plant only recognized good quality varieties during the coming year.

Frederic T. Dines, wheat variety expert and agricultural agent for Tex-O-Kan Mills here, is one of the leading figures in the campaign.

Mr. Dines lists the following varieties as chief offenders in producing poor milling quality wheat:

1. Chiefkan.
2. Red Chief.
3. Early Blackhull.
4. Superhard Blackhull.

On the recommended list for planting are:

1. Westcar.
2. Comanche.
3. Tenmarq.
4. Wichita (early variety)
5. Triumph (early variety).

Also recommended where farmers have experienced good production results are:

1. Turkey Red.
2. Kanred.
3. Regular Blackhull.

The latter three varieties are not as highly recommended for milling qualities, although they are acceptable.

Pre-harvest surveys made by Mr. Dines over the entire Panhandle wheat belt showed 21 percent of the total acreage north of Amarillo was planted in Chiefkan and Red Chief, both high on the blacklisted varieties. On the plains south of Amarillo, the acreage in poor varieties was 18 percent of the total.

"The overall figure of poor quality varieties is so high that millers throughout the country are either refusing to purchase our wheat or are discounting it in some manner," Mr. Dines declared.

"Texas Panhandle wheat has been in the past a good source of high protein, high quality wheat with a good market demand," Mr. Dines pointed out. "This year, in spite of a shortage of strictly high protein wheat, Panhandle wheat has not enjoyed a favorable market in comparison to good quality producing areas."

Not only the Panhandle, but Western Oklahoma and southwestern Kansas is in the same classification, the Tex-O-Kan expert emphasized.

"The whole trouble has started by producers getting good yields out of some of the poor type varieties," Dines pointed out. "But there is no sense in getting good yields with wheat—if it is to sell on the discount market."

Dines explained "poor milling quality" is a misnomer commonly used by the grain trade. Actually what is meant is "poor baking quality."

Wheat Poisoning To Receive Study

LUBBOCK—Texas Technological College and Texas A and M College this winter will launch a long-range cooperative research program to determine causes of cattle deaths resulting from grazing winter wheat, conducting experiments on 8500 acres of land at the Pantex Ordnance plant near Amarillo.

Pres. W. M. Whyburn of Texas Tech has signed a use permit from the War Assets Administration authorizing the college to use the land for seven years upon payment of one dollar to WAA. Buildings, including laboratories, are now on the acreage, and their use is included in the permit.

Tech Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel, in his capacity of director of farms, will be in general charge of Tech's operations there. The college hope to develop grazing practices that will eliminate livestock losses during periods of grazing on winter wheat and other lush pasturage following study of the nature of physiological disturbances resulting in animal death.

Complete details of the proposed program have not been worked out, but it has been agreed that A and M will provide personnel and laboratory equipment and that Tech will supervise growing of wheat and make arrangements for cattle to be provided as needed in the study. A number of livestock owners in the region have agreed to cooperate with the college in making cattle available.

The federal government invested approximately $35,000,000 in the war time ordnance plant. Slightly more than half of it has been turned over to the schools for this research.

If the boys in Washington and the big brains in the colleges keep on pumping up this depression, we sure will get one.—John Wheeler, farmer, Ridgefield, Conn.

Two Ships to Bring War Dead Home

WASHINGTON—The War Department said Friday probably only two ships bringing home American War dead will reach the United States this year.

The first, with about 3,500 bodies, is due at San Francisco about Oct. 10. A second, bringing some 6,300, mainly from the Henri Chapelle Cemetery in Belgium, is scheduled to reach New York Oct. 25.

When the caskets arrive in this country relatives will be notified. It is expected to take about thirty days from the time the caskets are landed before they reach their destinations.

Further shipments are not expected until spring.

MEXICAN STUDENT

LUBBOCK—Manuel Garcia, 19-year-old Texas of Mexican ancestry, this fall will realize a long-cherished hope of going to college.

He has been awarded the Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks scholarship, which will provide him $350 next year for college expenses and a like amount annually for the following three years so long as he maintains a grade average of C and otherwise remains in good academic standing.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks, residents of Lubbock and Brownfield, established the four-year scholarships in 1945 to be awarded annually to a high school graduate on the Panhandle or South Plains who is of Mexican descent.

The 1947 winner is the only member of a family of nine children who finished high school. He said he had planned to try working his way through college, but that the scholarship will allow him to work during the summers and concentrate his efforts on his studies while in school. He is employed at a local cannery.

Born in Lubbock, Garcia graduated from Lubbock High School last June. He will major in Business Administration at Tech. Future plans are for entering the field of international trade between the United States and Latin America, where his college business training and his knowledge of the Spanish and English languages will be of particular benefit.

Strawberry plants can be carried through the summer by irrigating every five to seven days, and providing shade, which can be made with old sacks tacked onto a frame.

Enrollment Up At Lubbock Tech

LUBBOCK—An increased enrollment at Texas Technological College over last fall's record breaking 5366 is expected for the 1947-48 session because of increased facilities for housing students, officials say. Registration is scheduled Sept. 19 and 20.

Now under construction are two new dormitory units for women and two for men, which will more than double current college-operated housing facilities. When all are completed, more than 2700 students will find rooms on the campus. All Texas Tech dormitories are financed by revenue bonds and built at no cost to the state.

One new unit for women will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall semester and the other will be completed within a few weeks following. Reservations have been taken for both units, and the college has provided temporary accommodations in other dormitories for women students who have reservations in the unit not to be immediately completed.

The new units for men are scheduled to be ready for occupancy by the opening of the second semester in February. When both women's units are completed, the college expects to convert an old dormitory for women into one for men temporarily, making three men's dormitories on the campus this fall.

Apartments for 285 married couples attending Tech are provided at Veterans' Village, former Lubbock Army Air Field, and barrack space is also provided there for single men.

The college is conducting an intensive campaign to obtain rooms in homes of Lubbock residents for students who will not be able to find rooms in aforementioned places. Lists of available rooms and apartments will be posted on the campus beginning Aug. 22.

Questions and Answers For Discharged Vets

Q—How does a veteran apply for readjustment allowance?

A—A veteran must present his original service discharge or separation paper, or if that has been lost or destroyed, a certificate in lieu of or a properly authenticated copy of such paper. He must file an application on Veterans Administration Form 4-1382. An initial claim is usually filed at the same time the application made. This claim indicates whether the veteran is unemployed, partially employed or self-employed.

Q—Does Veterans Administration help the disabled veteran to get a job after he finishes his training?

A—Yes.
Q—What is the maximum length of training a disabled veteran can get under Public Law 16?

A—The maximum is four years however. Veterans Administration may extend the time if factors in any case warrant an additional period for rehabilitation.

Q—Must a disabled veteran go to vocational school or may he go to a liberal arts college, a high school or similar institution under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act?

A—He may enroll in any VA-approved educational institution of training offering the course of training which VA has found h needs to insure his proper rehabilitation in line with his own desires

Black market prices of building materials in Japan still are rising. In May, prices averaged 7.5 times higher than in September 1945. Cement, tile and slate were 15 times higher.

Great Britain's recently announced import cuts actually amounted to little more than a gesture. They won't prolong appreciably the life of the U. S. loan. One of the biggest reasons for the announcement was to impress on Washington the seriousness of Britain's financial predicament.

That's the kind of job that confronts telephone engineers when they plan the manufacture of telephone equipment to fit a certain town.

You see, no two towns are exactly alike in their telephone requirements, so when equipment is added—and a lot is being added these days—it has to be "tailor made" to fit perfectly into existing systems.

In scores of towns throughout the seven western states we serve, telephone men are busy installing more equipment and extending our wire and cable facilities, bringing us closer to the day when everyone can have the kind of service he wants, when he wants it.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores.

True Stories of West Texans

(By N. H. KINCAID)

BALAD OF THE BARBED WIRE

Not far from Ballinger in Runnels County and just off U. S. Highway 33, there is an old fence, its wires cut and spliced at every post. A frayed and most uninteresting fence, perhaps, but behind those spliced wires is a story that was duplicated throughout the west until it had become history of West Texas itself.

This fence was new, back in the spring of 1883. It enclosed the 100,000 acre holdings of the Odom-Luckett Land and Livestock Company. But those were the days of conflict between the cattlemen, or the "free grass" element, and the small landowner, and every fence became a challenge to the man with the pliers. Guards became a necessity.

So on this night in 1883, just after the guards, going in twos, had completed the first leg of their inspection of the 40 miles of boundary fence, it happened.

"All right, you fellows, up with 'em," came quietly from the shadows beside them. Deftly their guns were removed and each had a pair of pliers pushed into his hand. "Now get to work!"

And all night long the guards had to cut wire, every strand at each post. Forty miles of fence, three strands high.

This opposition to fenced-in pastures and watering places was bitter and deep. Nor was it confined to cattlemen. Nesters had their grievances also. The farmers fenced so they could grow crops, the stockmen fenced to assure a range for their cattle; they both fenced for spite. And wife cutting became a profession in itself. Men were known to hire out to first one faction and then another, just for the thrill and the pay.

Garland G. Odom and his father, Thomas L. Odom, had been among the first cattlemen of the open range to fence their holdings. But in 1886, three years after his expensive fence-cutting experience, Garland established his ranch in Apache County, Arizona.

Meanwhile the state legislators, realizing the gravity of the situation, made it a misdemeanor to carry a pair of pliers. And 20 years later final measures were enacted that gave protection to the land owner against the land-claim jumpers and the man with the pliers was no longer a problem.

New Wheat Varieties Becoming Popular

According to a recent survey by the Kansas State Board of Agriculture and the Production and Marketing Administration, the following variety recommendations were made for that State: desirable varieties—Pawnee, Commanche, Wichita and Tenmarq; less desirable varieties—Early Blackhull; undesirable—Red Chief and Chiefkan.

The report reveals three new wheat varieties—Pawnee, Commanche, and Wichita now occupy 40 percent of the seeded acreage in Kansas. The rapid switch to these varieties has occurred in the last three crop seasons, as they were not recorded in the 1941 survey.

Turkey has slowly given way to the new and improved varieties derived largely from the Turkey blood lines. In 1919, Turkey occupied 83 percent of Kansas seeded acreage, but today is only 3 percent of the total acreage. Tenmarq declined from 36.8 percent in 1944 to 16.9 percent in 1947.

The acreage of Red Chief and Chiefkan has declined to 10.1 percent in the state. It has been replaced by Pawnee and Commanche in the area just west of the Flint Hills, but is still grown to some extent in the central west and southwest.

One of the outstanding facts shown by the survey is the rapidity with which the varieties in an area can change. The rapid switch to Pawnee, Commanche, and Wichita were made possible by a large number of certified seed growers and the effective work of the Kansas Crop Improvement Association.

Housewife Discovers Stain-Proof Process

Stepping where scientists were balked, a California housewife undertook an experiment in her own wash tub that resulted in a boon to her sisters.

The discovery that was made by Mrs. Henry O. Dorman of 1121 Stearns Drive, Los Angeles, was that an unsuccessful formula for rendering paper water-repellent was actually a highly successful formula for stain-proofing fabrics.

The formula, now known as "Stainproof", has just been made available to home users after having, according to Lt. Gen. E. B. Gregory, U. S. A., Q. M. C. (Ret.), filled an important war role in protecting the clothing and hospital supplies of our G. I's.

Carrying on what Mr. Dorman began, the Stainproof Co. of Los Angeles has also just succeeded in compounding the formula with starch making it possible to starch fabrics and at the same time render them water-repellent and proof against such horrors as tomato catsup, meat gravy and the like.

The magic of Stainproof discovered by Mrs. Dorman also protects curtains from an incidious action known to scientists as "sun rot". This occurs through a constant cycle of hydration and dehydration each 24 hours, the curtains soaking up moisture from the air during the hours of darkness and then being dried to under degree by the sun during the day. Mrs. Dorman's discovery prevents sun rot by keeping the curtains constantly dry.

The formula had a long record of failure, beginning in Europe, before Mrs. Dorman took it firmly in hand. In Europe scientists tried fruitlessly to use it to make bricks and mortar water-repellent. In this country an attempt was made to use it to render cardboard boxes water-repellent for use in shipping agricultural products. Mrs. Dorman's husband was interested in that phase and brought a bottle of the formula home one night.

After he had gone next morning Mrs. D., being a bit of a home scientist herself, washed out a tablecloth and used a little of the formula in the rinse water. Then she dried and ironed the cloth. It was not a good tablecloth, but nonetheless it made her shudder when she deliberately spilled meat gravy, Worcestershire sauce, cherry juice, ink and other vicious staining agents over it. Stainproof was born the minute that she found the stains washed right out.

The secret of Stainproof is simple. Minute particles of wax, conveyed by aluminum salts, are so thickly deposited around the fibers of a material that they coat them. As a result, no stain can "soak" into the fibers and thus it is simply "flushed" from the fabric by the application of soap and water.

ACA News

Harold W. Carpenter, Secretary

Parmer County wheat is extremely high in protein according to the Amarillo Grain Exchange's official tests.

Tenmarque wheat and its numerous off shoots such as Comanche, Wichita, Pawnee and Westar has a large edge over such old standbys as Blackhull.

Steve L. Struve of Friona has the highest protein test so far with a 16.50 on his second year Comanche. From 12.00 to 13.00 is considered average. We would like to have a biscuit made out of Steve's wheat.

We took time out last week to go with the Bovina GI school down south of Portales to look at some permanent pasture.

The object of this school and similar ones all over the country is to teach better farming practices by both preference and observation. We might add that several of the boys in the class were impressed enough to pay $5.00 per pound for some of the Lehmann's Love Grass seed to try on their own farms. And you really have to be impressed to pay that much for any kind of seed.

Anyhow, the grass looked good.

It had been seeded three years ago on what is commonly known as blow sand. The field had been put into cultivation back about the turn of the century and looked as if it had blown ever since. The ground was even drier than Parmer County but the grass was knee high and headed out and the cattle were in excellent shape without any other source of feed. don't take our word, ask some of the boys.

Amer. Legion Installs Officers Next Thurs.

The Legion Post No. 516 will meet Thursday night, August 21st, for the purpose of installing new officers for the coming year.

The meeting will be held at the courthouse at 8:30, and all members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Rollins are here visiting with relatives and friends. Rollins was a student at Highlands University at Las Vegas during the Summer term. As yet, he is undecided to resume his teaching profession during the Winter or reenter school for work on his degree.

Mr. Chas. Holland and young son, Dusty Lee, of Clovis, are visiting with her sister-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Holland.

Warning Sounded

"Flour from other varieties may be of poor quality. It bakes unevenly and produces lumpy, hard, unattractive and unsalable loaves."

Joe Coffee, president of the Panhandle Feed & Grain Dealers Association, viewed the future with alarm—if current poor type varieties are not eradicated.

"Now we have the best export market to absorb wheat which the millers prefer not to use," the grain dealers president said. "But someday this market is going to disappear."

"The Panhandle then will have to compete with good quality producing areas for sale of its wheat," he added. "We may have a tough time of it."

Mr. Coffee said many reports are reaching him where Panhandle wheat has been discounted by mill buyers. The discounts are averaging perhaps 5 cents a bushel.

"Some producers here think they are not being penalized for the kind of wheat they produce," Mr. Coffee said. "But this it not true."

Te grain dealers recently held a called meeting of directors and officers to consider the problem. Mr. Dines was invited to speak at the meeting.

After hearing his opinions, the grain officials voted to join a widespread educational and promotional campaign—urging farmers to change to recognized good quality varieties.

"We used to hush-hush this thing," Mr. Coffee explained. "We were afraid the area would get a black eye in the national milling circles."

"We don't have to be quiet anymore. We've already established our reputation."

He pointed out Nebraska, now one of the best quality regions, once had the same problem facing the Panhandle. Through a concentrated program of variety education, the state effected a complete change-over in a matter of a few years.

Lariat Gin Preparing To Open This Fall

Willie Williams, one of the principal stockholders in the cotton gin at Lariat, stated Monday that arrangements were being made to operate the gin this fall.

He said that Guy Nichols of Enoch, would be manager of the gin this fall, and that Nichols, with the assistance of a crew, has been overhauling the machinery the past several weeks. Williams predicted that there would be little cotton gathered before the latter part of September.

He added that there was a nice acreage in the Lariat-West Camp section, and estimated that about 400 acres of promising fields had been surveyed in those communities.

Six Boys Take Feeders Course at Tech

Parmer County Agent Ollie Liner announced that he will take six 4-H Club boys to attend the second annual 4-H Club Feeders Short Course, to be held at Texas Tech in Lubbock Saturday.

Those who plan to attend the short course are: Meril Foster, Lloyd Kreigel, Ross Miller, Daffrell Norton, Donald Vernon and Giles Walling.

SAME TO YOU, OLD TOP

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. (Bill) Bradshaw of Bovina, who are vacationing in Colorado, send The Tribune publisher a picture of a nice string of trout, with this tantalizing greeting: "Wish you were here." We hasten to return the greeting, and wish you were here pounding at this typewriter instead of me.

Mr. W. S. McDaniel left Sunday for Guymon, Okla., where he was called by the death of his niece.

Certified Wheat Seed Now Available

According to County Agent Ollie Liner, Parmer County now has on the average of 19 percent poor milling quality variety of wheat. Liner stated that it is believed that poor variety was planted during the war as a means of solving the harvest problem. These poor varieties gave a good yield and became ripe about fifteen days before the good milling variety, offering the grower an opportunity to get his wheat harvested and out of the way before the better grades were ready.

Liner states that certified wheat seed of the recommended variety, including Westar, Comanche, Wichita (early variety), Triumph (early variety) can be secured as follows: No. 1 cleaned and sacked, $3.50 bushel; No. 1 at the granary $3.00 bushel; No. 2 cleaned and sacked $3.25 bushel; No. 2 at the granary, $2.75 bushel.

The Elevator men and agriculture workers are conducting a campaign to encourage the farmers to plant better quality wheat this year. Parmer County was once at the top of the good variety wheat production. Its decrease in its standards of wheat is costing the farmer a discount on the wheat market this year.

If any additional information is desired on the above wheat, or if anyone needs information to secure certified seed for 1948, consult agent Liner at the courthouse in Farwell.

Boys to Attend 4-H Club Roundup

The annual 4-H Club Roundup will be held at Texas A. and M. College, September 3rd through the 6th.

Those who have been selected to attend the Roundup are: Donald Christian of Oklahoma Lane, and Bill Thorn of Lazbuddv. The two boys were selected by County Agent Ollie Liner in accordance with their outstanding work and achievements during the past year. Christian and Thorn will be representatives of Parmer County, and will go by chartered busses from Lubbock, with other boys and girls of the No. 2 District.

Travis Poteet, tester for the Dairy Herd Improvement Association of this area will go as leader of the Club boys, and at the same time, Poteet will take a short course in his field of work, enabling him to become an official tester.

Last year winners selected to attend the roundup were Arlyn Krieger and Maril Glenn Rundell.

County Agent Liner will leave for the A. and M. College about the last of August, and will attend the annual conference for county agents starting September 1st and concluding on the 6th. Liner will be with the 4-H Clubbers part time during their stay at the roundup.

Vacationists Driven Home by Wet Weather

Most of the local vacationists, who have been taking off to the higher altitudes the past two weeks, bent on a little rest and relaxation, have had their outings cut short by rainy weather.

For the most part, returning pleasure-seekers said gentle mountain showers fell almost every day in the high altitudes of New Mexico and Colorado. Trippers to Red River, however, declared that the rain fell in torrents every afternoon last week, rendering outings anything but pleasant—especially where the pleasure-bent vacation parties were crowded into a small tent with a brood of little children underfoot.

Little Mike and Bill Gattis, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gattis, of Clovis, visited Wednesday of last week with little Jean Cox, daughter of Minister and Mrs. L. C. Cox of this city.

Local Man Becomes Licensed Auctioneer

Mr. Raymond C. Martin has just arrived home from Decatur, Indiana, where he has graduated from the Reppert School of Auctioneering, which teaches every phase of auction work. This school was established twenty-six years ago by Fred Reppert, known as America's foremost auctioneer who explains to the students just how to become successful auctioneers.

Bona fide sales are conducted every day in the auction house so that the students have actual experience under the guidance of these instructors, and are really seasoned auctioneers when they receive their diplomas.

Two hundred and twenty-seven students from forty-one states in the Union and three from Canada attended this summer term of school. All of them were more than pleased with the training and the future that the auction business holds in store for them.

Mr. Martin's many friends will be glad to know that he has taken up this pleasant and profitable occupation, for with his natural talent and with the training received at this school, we predict a bright future for him as an auctioneer. He will be glad to contract anyone expecting to put on an auction sale. In addition to this, he will conduct auctions for the benefit of the Red Cross, churches, or any other organizations who want to raise money for a worthy cause.
