Heavy Frost Leaves Little Damage

So far as can be ascertained, little damage resulted from an unseasonal and heavy frost that greeted the eyes of early-risers last Saturday morning.

Examination of fruit tree blooms shows little evidence of damage, and the majority express the opinion that with the possible exception of peaches, the fruit crop appears to be safe.

The frost followed a general rain here Thursday that averaged from a quarter to a half-inch over the section.

White has been in the grocery business for 25 years, having been connected with T. J. Crawford, pioneer Frona merchant, for 23 years. He remained with the Frona Cash Grocery & Market, purchased by Lee Edwards from Crawford in January, until the first of the week.

MRS. MOORE BETTER

Fireboys Respond To Texas City Disaster

The Texico-Farwell Volunteer Fire Department last week responded to the call for aid to the Texas City Department by contributing $24 in a cash to a relief fund being raised by Olin Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission and secretary of the State Firemen's Association of Texas.

In asking the local Department for aid, Culberson revealed that thirty of an original crew of 40 Texas City firemen lost their lives in the explosion and resulting fires which wrought such a heavy loss of life and property damage in the Gulf City. The money is being raised from the firemen of the State of Texas and will be added to funds to relieve the distressed condition of widows and children of the firemen who lost their lives in the disaster.

Bovina Men Interested In New Mexico Track

Giles Williams, George Trimble and Fred Carson, well-known race horse breeders of Bovina, have associated themselves with parties in New Mexico to form the Hollywood Racing Association, at Ruidoso, N. M.

Plans call for a race track to be opened early in June and daily horse races will be featured over a 45-day period, with pari-mutuel betting to be allowed. Sponsors of the venture believe that some great races are to be staged there during the coming summer months.

What is believed to be the last obstacle to be cleared before Farwell can be assured of the widening and paving of Main Street was cleared here Monday when the Commissioners Court passed a resolution, submitted by the State Highway Department, affecting this project.

The Commissioners had long ago gone on record as favoring the project, but their actions could not be officially approved in Austin until the special resolution was passed. The main terms of the resolution calls for free access to the right-of-way along U. S. Highway 84 from the east side of the city limits to the state line, said right-of-way to be cleared of all obstructions, and that traffic will be regulated within the town limits.

The Commissioners approved the bonds of Bovina's newly-elected town official, O. W. Rhinehart, mayor; J. T. Hammonds and John W. Kimbrow, commissioners.

Included in the bills passed was an item of $66.65 expense of A. D. Smith to Mineral Wells.

Local Theatre Will Be Opened Soon

Scotty Levins, owner of the new theatre now in the erection stage announced this week that he plans to have the movie house ready for opening within thirty days.

Levins added that all equipment is here and ready for installation except the seats, and stated that they should arrive any day. There is quite a bit of interior work to be done, such as plastering, finish work and painting, before the fixtures can be installed.

The building crew was delayed for some time, several weeks ago when the wind blew off some of the roofing that had just been put on, and which had not been covered with the outside roof. The setback came the evening that the tornado hit the Panhandle towns north and east of Amarillo.

WATCH for the opening of the Border Theatre in Farwell.

Predictions are being freely made locally that Parmer County's wheat crop will be materially earlier this year than usual, the prophets basing their opinion on the fact that most fields are already beginning to develop into the "boot" stage.

It is also being freely predicted that this county has a strong prospect of yielding the largest harvest ever gathered in this county. "I never saw a more favorable prospect at this time of the year," is the common comment heard on all sides from observers and growers who have lived here for 20 years or more.

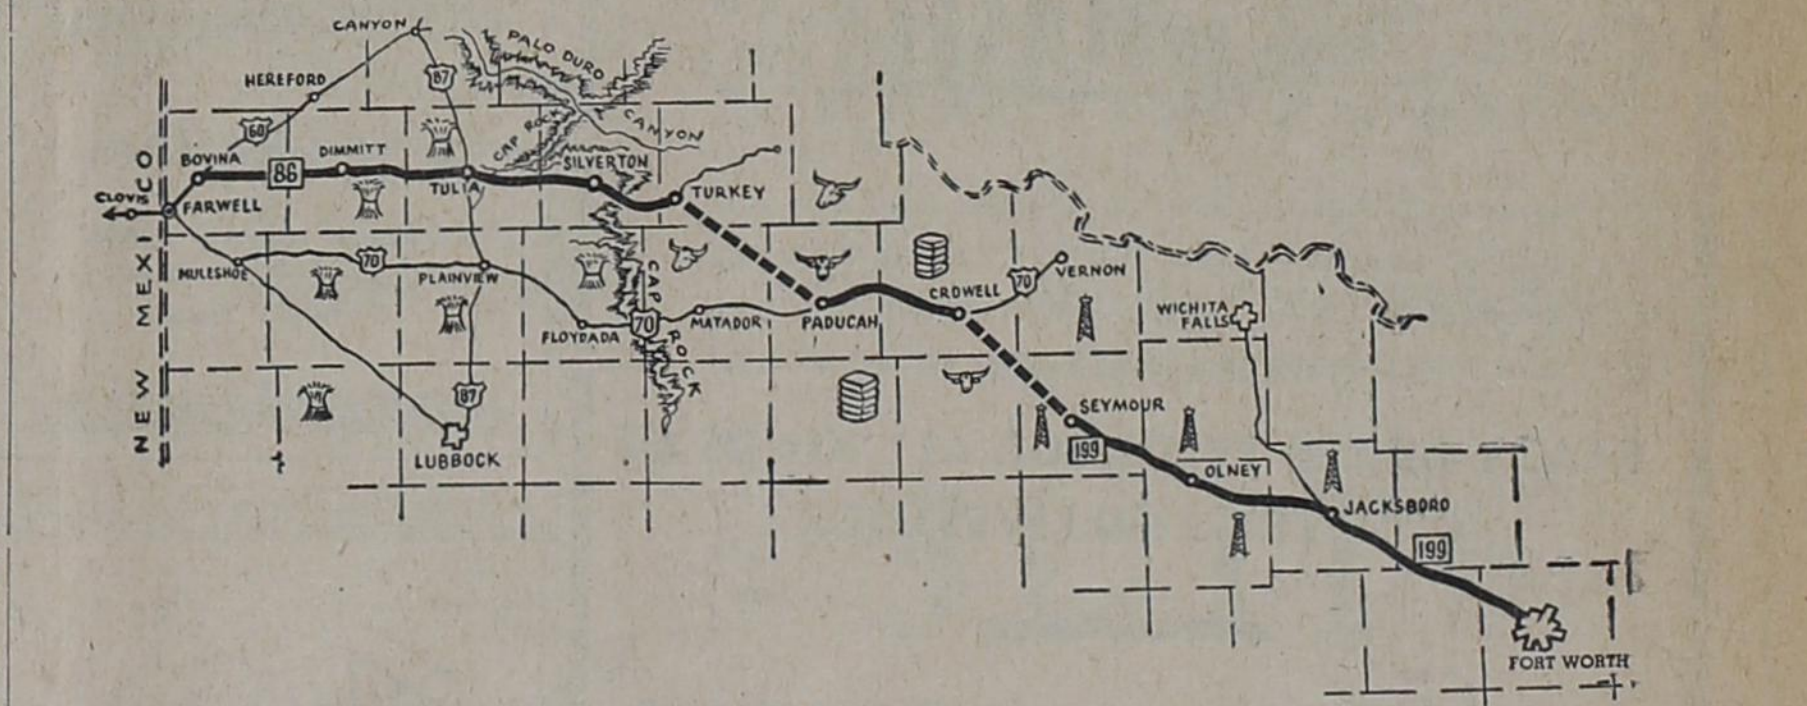

Since an accurate record of the wheat acreage is not required any more, attaches at the ACA office were unable to give the actual number of acres planted in Parmer county this year. But Harold Carpenter, ACA secretary, estimated that the acreage would be about 233,000 acres, as compared with 265,000 actual harvested acres in Parmer during 1946.

Comparison of these figures somewhat upsets the opinion previously voiced here that the acreage this year would exceed that of 1946 by many hundreds of acres. Carpenter said that his estimate was based on contacts his office has made with growers of the county, many of whom reduced their wheat acreage last fall, in order to leave out a few acres for row crops and cotton. He added that this condition did not prevail in the sections usually considered "strictly wheat-growing," but was more confined to the farms along the south side of the county, whose owners "got tired of buying feed last year."

Local seed men had begun to express the opinion that planting this year would be slow to move, due to the belief that very few acres of tillable land were left open. Attaches at the ACA office, however, do not share this opinion, and predict that there will be a good demand for planting seed when the soil warms sufficiently to induce growth.

Some plantings of row crops are already being reported. But by far, most of the farmers prefer to wait a few days in order to allow the weeds to sprout, so they may kill them out with planting operations. Most growers agree that around May 15th is the most desirable time for spring planting, provided other conditions are favorable. Farmers point out that earlier plantings often result in the crop putting on grain during the hottest and driest part of the summer, which is undesirable for full heads. Far-Reaching Highway Improvement Being Planned Sketch shows proposed improvements and extension of State Highway No. 199 from Seymour (its present terminus) northwestward through Crowell, Paducah, Turkey, Quitaque, Silvertown, Tulia, and Dimmitt to Bovina on U. S. Highway 60, just east of the Texas-New Mexico border. Heavy line from Fort Worth to Seymour indicates present State Highway 199. Broken line shows sections between Seymour and Crowell and between Paducah and Turkey which lack construction, and when completed, will shorten the distance into Fort Worth westward from Crowell along U. S. 70 through Paducah, Matador, Floydada, Plainview and points west by 17 miles, and by 32 miles from Turkey, Quitaque, Silvertown, Tulia, Dimmitt, Canyon and Amarillo.

Communities from over a 350-mile area—from Fort Worth to Dimmitt in Castro County—have banded together under the name of Highway 199 Northwest Extension Association to work for an improved highway that will move their West Texas country 32 miles closer to Fort Worth.

Good road advocates meeting recently, Tuesday, March 18, 1947, in Seymour included representatives from Turkey, Paducah, Olney and Fort Worth. From this meeting came plans for improvements along the route by closing existing gaps between Seymour and Crowell, and between Paducah and Turkey. Other plans include unification of the route numbering from Fort Worth to Bovina in Parmer County on U. S. 60 through extension of the present State Highway 199—between Fort Worth and Seymour—from Seymour northwestward over proposed new construction from Seymour and Crowell, along present U. S. 70 to Paducah, and thence along and supplanting State Highway 86 from Turkey westward through Quitaque, Silvertown, Tulia, and Dimmitt to Bovina.

Hubert Lee, Paducah, was elected chairman; Lee Vardy, School Superintendent, Turkey, vice-chairman; and J. O. Butler, Seymour, secretary-treasurer. Two committees were appointed to assemble data for the nine counties along the route, pertaining to marketing and transportation needs, and a right-of-way committee, whose responsibility would be to secure commitments from those county courts concerned with right-of-way problems in extending and improving the proposed route, and the proper assembling of said data into an acceptable form for presentation to the State Highway Commission at a later date.

Crowell, County Seat of Foard County, was selected for the next meeting. It was brought out at the Seymour meeting that in addition to the mileage saving and unification and simplification of the route under one number (199), the plan also would open a popular week-end motor trail from Fort Worth and Dallas to Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Health Notes

By Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the past two or three years, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises you to go to your doctor or to the nearest health officer and have him give you the three "shots" that will protect you against the disease.

"The three shots that will protect against typhoid fever are given at intervals of one week apart," Dr. Cox stated. "As it takes some time for the protective treatment to be established throughout the system, it is wise not to delay in having it done. My advice is, have it done now so that immunization may be complete before summer arrives and vacation trips are taken."

This advice was directed particularly to Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other youngsters who are looking forward to spring and summer hikes and trips. It is, however, meant also for others, young and old, whose business or pleasure during the summer will take them to places where there may be doubt as to the purity or safety of the water supply, or as to the care with which the food is handled.

The old adage that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is particularly applicable to this disease, which is so dangerous and debilitating when it does occur, and which can be prevented, so easily through immunization.

THE TELEPHONE STRIKE SITUATION TODAY

You as a telephone user have an important stake in the issues involved in the telephone strike. We would like to give you straight answers to some questions that you may be asking.

Why Is There A Telephone Strike?

In recognizing its responsibility to the public, to the workers in the business, and to the owners, the management could not in good conscience accede to the Union's excessive demands. The Union refused the offer to continue the present liberal contracts, and has refused the Company's offer to submit wage issues to arbitration.

What Were The Demands?

There were over one hundred items and the pay roll cost would amount to over $27,000,000 a year. That is about five times the Company's net earnings last year. If added to present payroll it amounts to more than all the revenue collected last year by the Company.

Why Doesn't The Company Grant An Increase?

The Company's earnings in relation to its investment are at the lowest point in its history of operations. It is in the process of seeking increases in its charges for service based on 1946 costs, the largest element of which was wages. A further increase in wages will make it necessary to seek additional telephone rate increases in areas where recent increases have been made, and larger increases than otherwise would be necessary in areas where rates have not yet been increased.

The Company feels, therefore, that if present wages are fair and just, it should not increase them and thus increase the cost and eventually charges for the service.

Mountain States Telephone wages have increased 72 percent over 1939.

Are Present Telephone Wages Good?

The Company thinks so. Here are some typical wage rates in Clovis:

A girl starting as a student OPERATOR in Clovis begins at a minimum of $26.00 for a five day week; gets three raises the first year, and after 18 months has a basic wage rate of $30.00. Regular increases bring this basic rate to a top of $35.00. This does not include overtime and premium payments for evening and night work.

For Central Office Repairmen the minimum rate for beginners learning the business is $28.00 a week. Regular increases bring this to a top of $63.50 per week. In addition there are overtime and premium payments for evening and night work.

There are other advantages to working for the Telephone Company, including eight holidays a year with pay; vacations with pay, of one, two or three weeks, depending on length of service; liberal sickness and death benefits, and pensions, with full cost paid by the Company—and telephone work is STEADY WORK.

Arbitration — What Is It?

The Company thinks its wages are good, but the Union does not agree. The Company suggests that a board composed of impartial citizens of this area who are not associated with either the Telephone Company or any union, and who are mutually agreeable to the Union and the Company, should decide the question.

Arbitration is simply a means of letting an impartial person or group of persons settling a dispute after reviewing the facts and giving full consideration to both sides. The arbitrator acts as a judge or umpire. We think this method of having an unbiased party decide the wage question would be fair to the employees and the Company. It would certainly be in the public interest.

It hardly seems logical that the Union should oppose arbitration, especially when the Company is not proposing a reduction in wages if the board should find that the telephone are above community levels of pay for work requiring similar skill and training.

Should Increases Granted In Some Industries In Other Areas Set A Pattern For Telephone Wages Here?

The Company does not think so. It will be noted that some of these other industries whose business is of a competitive character have stated that it would not be necessary for them to increase prices. An impartial board of arbitration would, of course, decide among other things the extent to which recent wage settlements in other industries have a bearing, if any, on telephone wages in the Rocky Mountain Area.

We regret the continuation of this unhappy situation. We are doing everything we can to bring about the restoration of normal service. In the meantime we sincerely appreciate the friendly understanding and cooperation of the public.

Tech College Approves Artificial Breeding For Dairy Cattle

LUBBOCK—An artificial dairy cattle breeding program to serve hundreds of farmers operating on the South Plains has been authorized by Texas Technological College by recent action of the board of directors. Dairymen in the Lubbock milkshed will particularly benefit from the service, according to W. L. Stangel, dean of Agriculture.

The college plans to purchase two proven registered Holstein-Friesian bulls and two equally fine Jersey bulls for the program, Dean Stangel said.

Citing the practice of artificial breeding to superior bulls as the surest method of increasing efficiency, both of type and production, Dean Stangel further pointed out that cost of such service is less expensive to the majority of farmers than the cost of individually maintaining bulls.

Greater and better livestock feed supplies for West Texas are resulting from the increased number of irrigation wells and the more widespread use of farm manure and commercial fertilizers, the dean stated. Recently noted predictions of declining prices for agricultural commodities suggest that livestock will be needed to convert cheap feeds into human foods and an even greater need for efficiency in livestock being used.

In addition to making a concrete and constructive contribution to agriculture in West Texas, the program will provide demonstration of an outstanding modern dairy practice to Tech agriculture students and will instruct them in its use.

Kill Garden Pests

Gardeners should watch for aphids, commonly known as plant lice, and for flea beetles, two very destructive garden pests, according to George W. Elle, assistant professor of plant industry at Texas Technological College.

A teaspoon of Black Leaf 40 in a gallon of sudsy soap and water solution is excellent to kill aphids when sprayed on vegetables, thoroughly covering leaves and stalk. Flea beetles may be destroyed by dusting on a powder composed of one part fresh calcium arsenate to 10 parts sulphur. The spray is most effective if applied during the warmest part of the day, while dust should be used early in the morning since dew helps make it adhere to leaves.

(By Sonny Graham)

Ever so often about this time of year, there is a certain pathetic disease that besets a most unfortunate class of people. One of these distressing cases, poor guy, is the editor of this paper. Therefore, to the eyes of those unfamiliar with this seasonal change, this rag may, in some respects, take on a peculiar trend.

Anyway, to quit beating around the bush and get to the foundation of my announcement, I would like to advise the reading public that Hop has stood it as long as he can and has decided to do something about it. If you haven't guessed yet, he's going fishing. At least he WAS going fishing—until that lamebrain son of his slammed the car door on his hand and utterly disabled two fingers, which in turn disabled his entire right hand.

Now ordinarily, Hop wouldn't give much thought to a minor mishap like this, but, already being shorthanded at the printing office and then having THIS happen didn't put him in exactly good spirits.

By time you read this, if anybody does, he will either be gone fishing—or will still be trying to put out a weekly fire starter.

Your guess is as good as mine.

Ready For Wheat Harvest

COLLEGE STATION: A call to custom combine operators to be ready for the 1947 wheat harvest is being made by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

J. B. Kidd, farm labor field assistant in charge of the Extension wheat harvest program, announces that more "outside combines will be needed this year than ever before." Texas wheat and small grain acreage is eight per cent larger than the record acreage of 1946.

"The wheat crop is in better condition at this time of the year than in many seasons", says Kidd. "The subsoil moisture is good and Texas County agricultural agents report 99 per cent of the wheat in good condition . . . the other two percent in fair condition. Some green bug damage is reported but the present prospects are for a bumper Texas wheat crop."

Kidd also urges combine operators to plan to bring their trucks to the harvest. Independent truckers, no attached to combine outfits, may be needed, he says, and harvest labor of all types will be in great demand if the crop develops as it looks now.

The farm labor field man invites custom combine operators to contact him for any information regarding the coming harvest. His address: Extension Service District Farm Labor Office, Box 1110, Painview Texas. The farm labor office will keep operators posted on crop conditions; combine, truck and labor needs; and what counties need help.

S. O. S. To Homemakers

COLLEGE STATION—The housewife's kitchen, for many months to come, is the consumer's only hope for more soap and other commodities in which fats and oils are used.

According to B. F. Vance, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, the housewife with the used kitchen fats she saves and sells to her butcher, is the only individual who can help bridge the gap between supply and demand for fats and oils. Vance states that the nation's supply of fats and oils are almost exhausted now, 1947 production will be short and imports will be below normal. This situation can result in a serious shortage if housewives don't answer the call to help.

Every pound of kitchen fat that a housewife can save is really needed, Vance says. He is urging all homemakers to take a can of fat to the butcher when they shop.

The average age of GI's who lost their lives in the last war has been figured at 24½ years.

ACA News

Harold W. Carpenter, Secretary

Planting season is about here and most of us are wondering which way is the best way to run our rows to catch and hold as much rain as possible. Where land has been bedded up, new guide lines can be run very easily. A good contoured row not only holds more water, but prevents washing and insures a more even growth over all the field.

Running a guide line is about the easiest thing you ever tried. All you need is a simple farm level and a long legged boy to carry the stick. An hour's work with a level can improve your farm and bring in quite a few extra dollars you've been missing.

PMA thinks enough of this practice to pay farmers 50c per acre for trying it. This offer is not to subsidize farming, but to conserve the soil. Make application for payment at the local office before planting is underway. This offer is also good on row crops planted on wheat land after harvest.

Now is the time to get that Johnson grass you planted last year in your sudan and grain sorghum. The first shoots have got up big enough to see and the root system isn't very extensive yet. It's only a few minute's work to get rid of each clump and it is well worth the time.

Digging Johnson Grass is like pulling a bad tooth—if part of the root is left, you haven't accomplished much.

Most of our Johnson Grass starts by planting what is supposedly good seed. In fact, it has been known to come up the year after certified seed was planted. However, if it is dug the first year it shows up, it can completely be destroyed with a minimum of effort. With the price of land and grain is, it pays to watch out for those stray bunches. A few licks with a grubbing hoe and the trouble is over before it has a chance to get started. By next year, every clump will be bigger, healthier, and harder to get rid of.

There is no chemical on the market that we know of that will permanently kill Johnson Grass under all kinds of weather conditions and plowing "by the signs" is more of a myth than a reality. Which all leads us to think that the only sure way to kill Johnson Grass is a stiff application of elbow grease.

season of early fall is much preferred for fruiting and maturing of small grains, they claim.

With an abundant wheat harvest in prospect, farmers are already getting their machinery in readiness for the task. Local garage and repair shops are reporting a heavy run of machinery repair work just at this time.

County Thanked For Paralysis Donation

B. N. Graham, head of the drive for contributions to the infantile paralysis fund in Parmer County, is in receipt of a letter from Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation, thanking this county for the donations made during the recent campaign.

On behalf of those you have benefited let me thank you and your colleagues for meeting a great need with a good campaign. . . And let me add my personal thanks for a job well done."
