Health Notes

AUSTIN.—In a vigorous campaign to elevate the State health level by preventing the spread of communicable diseases which might be transmitted by foods, the State Department of Health is conducting training schools for food handlers in all sections of Texas, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Food handlers are being instructed in sanitary methods of preparing, handling and serving food for public consumption," Dr. Cox said. "Actual experience has shown that on insanitary eating establishment is one of the surest sources of spreading infection. The lack of proper sanitation in food handling is a definite menace to public health and our goal is the education of cooks, waiters, butchers, bakers, fountain men, and all their food handlers to such a level as will insure an elimination of this health hazard."

The training schools consist of elementary courses in bacteriology, communicable diseases, medical zoology, foods, disinfection, sterilization, personal hygiene, and sanitation.

Since the program was instituted about 8 years ago, more than 400 schools have been conducted, with a total of over 25,000 food handlers receiving their certificates of completion in the courses.

Arrangements for such a food school can be made through any county health unit by requesting the service from the Division of Health Education, State Department of Health, Austin, Texas.

Outlook On Farm Machinery And Supplies

COLLEGE STATION.—Farm machinery prices are still climbing. They have gone up continuously for the past eight years, and right now are at a record high.

That's the report from W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A. and M. College. He says that in last September, prices were 62 percent higher than in 1940, and 15 percent higher than in September of 1947.

As for this year, farm machinery and motor fuel prices are expected to remain high. And, as things look now, he says, farmers will have to continue to buy tractors and tractor equipment on a seller's market through this year, even though there was a record production last year. This production will probably continue in 1949.

Cement, nails and paint supplies look favorable. Reports are that the cold weather and seasonal building slump have made cement more available. This is an item short in supply. If any farmers have been looking for this material and are fixed so they can use it now, this should be a good time to check up on local stocks, suggests W. S. Allen, extension agricultural buildings engineer of Texas A. and M. College.

The nail supply is building up somewhat at this time, and paint of pre-war quality is now available.

Allen warns prospective buyers to beware of low quality, as such types don't have the carrying agents and pigments that make for long-lasting coats of paint, he says.

All-Time High Record In Hog Production Set During 1948

COLLEGE STATION.—Last year was a good year as far as the hog raisers were concerned. They set an all-time state record for the number of pigs saved per litter. The average was 6.4 pigs per litter, far above any previous year.

Great progress is being made in improving the quality of hogs raised in Texas, says E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman of Texas A. and M. College. Hogs of excellent breeding are found in all sections of the state.

More than 15,400 adults and 4-H club members conducted hog demonstrations last year, using improved breeding stock and following recommended practices in carrying out their swine improvement programs.

Good green pastures are pretty valuable to have in the hog raising program, and most producers know how the cost of grains can be lowered if these pastures are available. Last summer's drought taught others the real meaning of deficiency diseases. Good grazing crops generally supply all the vitamin requirements necessary in a ration. They also supply most of the mineral and about one-half of the protein requirements of the ration as well.

When the dry summer parched Texas pastures the result was an increase of the deficiency diseases of swine. The effect of this on the hog producers was strong. Minerals and vitamins have taken a new meaning and hog raisers now know their value in a properly balanced ration, says Regenbrecht.

In the line of medicines, the new vaccines B. T. V. and crystal violet proved their efficiency in protecting hogs against cholera. Over a thousand demonstrations were conducted, and not a single case of cholera was reported on farms where these vaccines were used.

Sodium fluoride was used widely in worming hogs of the large round stomach worm. Results were very good when used as recommended, says Regenbrecht.

Chlordane and BHC were widely demonstrated in Texas last year as a control for hog mange and hog lice. Mange is found over most of the state, and was hard to control before these new drugs were introduced on the market, he concludes.

TO BE PRESENT

LUBBOCK.—Eve Curie, author, newspaper publisher and lecturer, will be presented at Texas Technological college March 24 on the college recreational program.

Dean James G. Allen, director of the recreation program, said Miss Curie is scheduled as the first speaker this semester on the recreation schedule. She is replacing Bennet Cerf who cancelled a previous personal appearance engagement.

The achievements that adorn human progress are not the rewards of those who did not plan.

VETERAN'S QUESTION BOX

Q. I was honorably discharged from the Army in 1946 but have not yet applied for readjustment allowance. How long will this benefit remain available to me?

A. Generally, this benefit must be claimed within two years from discharge or release from active service, or two years from July 25, 1947, whichever is later.

Q. As an honorably discharged veteran of World War II I would like to know to what hospitalization I am entitled.

A. If you have a service-connected disability, you have top priority for VA hospital care. If you suffer with a nonservice-connected disability, you may be hospitalized under existing law if beds are available and you say you cannot afford treatment elsewhere.

Q. I am at present receiving compensation for 30 percent disability. If I take a job carrying rural mail three hours a day, will my compensation be stopped?

A. Compensation is not reduced because of your employment. Reduction in compensation is made only if your disability has lessened in degree.

Q. Early last year I received an adjustment check on my compensation from the VA. Do I have to pay income tax on this payment?

A. No. By law, all payments made under laws relating to veterans are exempt from Federal income tax payments.

FEEDING DEMONSTRATION TO START NEXT WEEK

A Holstein calf, "Beautena", will arrive next week at Farmer's Supply Co. to spend the next three months growing at the store. "Beautena" will be one month old and will be brought to the store from the farm of Truman Doolittle.

Her stay at the store will be used as a demonstration to show that regular feeding of a good ration will help grow a big, dairy-quality calf. "Beautena" will be fed nothing but Purina Calf Startena, hay, salt and water. Her growth and development will be posted prominently near the special calf pen that has been brought to the store for the occasion. All who visit the store during this period will be able to see the progress "Beautena" makes.

No Limit On Foods That Mate With Beef

There's hardly a food that doesn't go with beef. Its hearty flavor almost demands that it be served with a different food each time, and this is more than possible when you consider how well all beef cuts, from a lordly beef roast to a homey family stew, mate with other foods.

More than that, beef goes well with each of the seasonal foods, points out Reba Staggs, food authority. Springs tender young vegetables, whether cooked or in a peppy tossed salad, have added goodness for being served with a tender Salisbury steak or meat pie.

duce is at its best, there's many an opportunity for a good beef and vegetable combination, whether served indoors or out. Maybe it's a picnic with a sturdy meat loaf carried right to the picnic site in a pan, and accompanied by a varied and generous assortment of crisp vegetable relishes. Of maybe it's beef kabobs, threaded on a roasting fork with sweet onions and tomato halves, then roasted over glowing coals or broiled indoors. Fall finds savory squash, corn, green pepper, apples, pears and eggplant on the scene, and even better for being included in a meal with beef. Green peppers stuffed with ground beef is one of fall's most special treats, while breaded eggplant slices make a fine accompaniment for a homey dish such as braised arm steaks.

Winter-time means hearty foods, and here beef shines again, in stews and meat pies accompanied by hot biscuits and mixed vegetable salads. Ground beef is the basis for adding flavor to some of the filling one-dish meals and casseroles so popular during this season.

THANKS...

After 13 years of active service as the Phillips 66 distributor for this section, serving Texico-Farwell and surrounding trade territory, we have disposed of our interests to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helton and N. E. Helton, of Amarillo, who assumed charge of the business March 1st.

May we use this means of expressing our most sincere thanks to the people of this community, who have been wholly responsible for the measure of success we have achieved during these 13 years here. We consider each customer a personal friend, and our relations with all of you have been highly satisfactory in every particular.

We also want to recommend to your favorable consideration our successors, and it is our earnest wish that you will be generous with them in your patronage. They are very admirable people and we believe will be valuable assets to the community.

MR. AND MRS. D. W. BAGLEY

PHILLIPS PETROLEUM COMPANY

GREETINGS...

After much consideration, we have decided to "cast our lot" with the people of the Texico-Farwell community as successors to Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bagley, as wholesale representatives of the Phillips Petroleum Company.

Having had considerable experience in the oil and gas business, we feel that we are not entering a field with which we are unfamiliar. However, we realize that getting acquainted in an entirely new community is no small undertaking.

And for that reason, we are sending each of you of this community this greeting. We want to know each of you better . . . we are going to make your acquaintance just as rapidly as humanly possible. We want to extend you an invitation to drop in and get acquainted whenever it is convenient for you.

With your cooperation, we believe that it will be possible for us to continue the highly efficient service that you have enjoyed in the past, and to that end we solicit a continuation of your loyal patronage.

Take care of your clothes Electrically

EVER stop to think of what a beating your clothes take when hanging on the line on a windy spring day?

That whipping wind tosses them, pulls them, twists them, detracting every minute from their future usefulness to you.

That can be easily avoided through the use of a scientifically designed labor saving home clothes dryer. In this economical machine, gentle puffs of warm air remove the moisture from your wash, leaving it to toast dry. You'll avoid, too, the trouble of bundling up to go out to "hang up clothes" and resulting colds and sniffles.

Put an electrical clothes dryer on your list of electrical needs... you'll like it.

Your appliance dealer will gladly give you a demonstration of the efficiency of the new automatic clothes dryers. See him soon.

Hatfield has this to say. It's a good idea to examine the flowering quince gardenia, roses and wax leaf holly for signs of scale. That's from a list of pests to watch for. The list also includes: Pear and plum trees as well. County agricultural agents have further information on the treatment and protection of shrubs from insects and diseases.

When shrubs, trees or roses have abnormally yellow leaves, this specialist suggests using a corrective treatment of one cup of iron sulphate (or coppers) and two cups of sulphur. Mix this in well with the soil within 15 square feet of the plant, says Miss Hatfield.

Now Is The Time For Setting Rosebushes

COLLEGE STATION.—Note to rosebush fanciers. Roses will do better if set in ground which has been sodded with grass for the past five years. This suggestion comes from Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College, who adds this reminder: be sure your rosebushes come from a reliable nursery. Roses can be set out now, or anytime as long as the ground isn't frozen.

There's still some time left for removing unattractive and unhealthy shrubs, and replacing them with better ones. This should be done before the spring growing season begins, adds Miss Hatfield.

City dwellers may want to grow a few vegetables as part of a landscape plan. If so, pruning the roots and the tops of overgrown shrubs will make room for their new plantings. Among those vegetables, Miss Hatfield lists as suitable for planting now in most parts of Texas are roots or seed of asparagus, seed endive, carrots, lettuce, mustard and turnips.

The recent state-wide freeze injured a large number of shrubs. Don't prune such frost injured shrubs right away, she warns. Leave the injured part on for a while as further protection against other cold snaps, should they occur.

Trees Can Be Grown Without Irrigation

COLLEGE STATION.—Trees can be grown without irrigation in any county in Texas. That goes for shade trees, windbreaks and ornamentals, says Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College.

But she admits there's a trick to it. The secret of success is in properly collecting and storing rain water in the soil for the trees to use. Terraces and contours should be constructed so as to collect and hold the moisture which falls throughout the year. And the terraces may be built any time you can get around to it.

Soil is the most natural, the easiest and the best place to keep water for growing trees in the Panhandle, the plains, and in all the drier regions of Texas, says Miss Hatfield.

She goes on to say it is true that three or four acres of soil may be needed to produce one acre of trees, because it's necessary to take rain-water from nearby soil in order to give a tree—or a group of trees—as much as two or three times the annual rainfall of a semi-arid region.

That's where terracing and contouring come into the picture. These practices, long diversion of water in almost any area selected for trees.

Among the trees which are being grown successfully—and have been grown for more than 10 years—by landscape garden demonstrators in the Panhandle and on the plains are black, walnut, red cedar, orange, orange of bois d'arc, green ash, desert willow, hackberry, and honey locust, says Miss Hatfield.

Also grown in these and the drier regions of the state are the jubbe mulberry, Russian olive, salt cedar, wild plum and Chinese elm.

There's a trick to it, but trees can be grown in any Texas county.

State Legislature Deadline Closed

"The livestock industry of New Mexico received a full load of controversial issues as the deadline closed for introduction of bills in the State Legislature," according to G. W. Evans, President of the New Mex-

"We are trying to approach all of these problems with an open mind and with a view toward working in the best interest of the state", Evans said. "The industry is fortunate in that the current legislature includes many capable livestock growers who are familiar with problems confronting our industry."

State Senator Burton Roach, Hot Springs, serves as Chairman of the Land and Livestock Committee of the State Senate and Rex Kipp, Lordsburg serves as Chairman of the Livestock Committee of the House. Both are executive board members of the State Organization. Most bills pertaining to the industry now rest in these two committees where they will be given hearings before cattlemen.

A complete report of all bills enacted and defeated will be made at the 35th Annual Convention of the state organization which is expected to bring more than three thousand ranchers to Albuquerque, March 27, 28 and 29, Evans said.

A Slight Decline In Poultry Prices Predicted

COLLEGE STATION.—The egg-shaped crystal ball of the Texas A. & M. College extension specialists in poultry husbandry, and agricultural economics has several pictures for the 1949 poultry prospects.

Prices are expected to be about like those of last year, and they may average higher for the first half and a little lower for the second half of the year. Texas farms will have fewer layers, but the demand for eggs is still strong. Total egg production this year may be as high as it was last year, three specialists believe.

Feed for layers is more plentiful these days, and prices may drop this year about one-fourth lower than last year. This year's pullet crop is expected to jump sharply, which means Texas will have a large holding of layers by next January 1.

From the poultry meat angle, the crystal ball shows that recent prices of broilers and turkeys is good. This will likely make for larger production this year. Outlook on the feed supply show there is plenty, and the costs are more favorable. The demand for broilers and turkeys is dropping off slightly, but prices are expected to remain near the '48 level in first half, and less favorable the latter part.

Transportation, equipment and other production costs—except feed—may go up some. On the other hand, a higher net income from broilers is expected. As for turkeys, a larger number is predicted for 1949, giving an improved outlet for hatching eggs, say these specialists.

John Foster Dulles, acting head, U. S. Delegation to U. N. General Assembly: "I don't see any likelihood of any early agreement with Russia, but disagreement does not necessarily lead to war."

4-Day Program To Be Presented By Baptist Student Union

CANYON.—The Baptist Student Union on the West Texas State College campus will present a four-day program of study and discussion in the field of vocational guidance beginning March 3. Two outstanding Texas laymen W. F. Howard, head of the Department of Baptist Student Work in Texas, and Dr. T. B. Maston, head of the Department of Social Ethics at Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth, will head the program.

Howard will conduct the first general meeting Thursday night, March 3, at 8 o'clock at the Baptist Student Center. He will discuss the Christian's approach to a life vocation. He will also conduct the morning watch Friday. Friday night he will head a forum of out-of-town guests.

Saturday morning Dr. Maston will have the morning watch. Highlight of the meeting will be the Saturday night session at the Baptist Church. Dr. Maston will answer questions and informally discuss different phases of moral and social relationships. A social will follow. He will also speak Sunday at both the morning and evening church services.

"The Lawton Story" To Premiere April 1

LAWTON, Okla.—The late Rev. Mark Wallock, founder and motivating genius behind the Wichita Mountain pageant, basis of "The Lawton Story", new Hallmark film that world premieres here on April 1, died peacefully—his dreams come true.

Even as he slipped away, his friends and co-workers were redefining themselves to carry on his work, and "The Lawton Story" was being completed in Hollywood studios.

Mr. Wallock, who dreamed that millions would some day see his pageant of the life of Christ, learned in his last hour on earth that the film would be shown throughout the world. For Hallmark, after its American presentation of the religious film, will show "The Lawton Story" to the world.

Other dreams of the little pastor of the hills was a Christ of the Wichitas statue, as large as the famed Christ of the Andes, overlooking the Holy City, site of the pageant, and a monument to the men who died in two wars for their country.

These dreams will come true, because earnings from "The Lawton Story" will continue for 20 years and the pageant participates in every dollar earned from part of the film's presentation.

Tickets are still available by mail, according to Reece L. Russell, secretary of the pageant board. They may be obtained by writing direct to Mr. Russell here, enclosing check or money. The remaining seats in the three Lawton and Ft. Sill theatres are being sold at $5 each.

President Truman, the governors of Oklahoma, Texas, and Georgia senators and congressmen are among the important personages invited to the premiere. In addition, there will be two plane-loads of movie stars who will appear in person at all theatres during the evening.

WILL JUDGE LIVESTOCK

LUBBOCK.—Stanley E. Anderson, assistant professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college, will judge the livestock show at Lamesa, during March.

Cut And Store Pecan Budwood Now, For Budding Pecans Later

COLLEGE STATION.—If you're planning on budding pecans later on, this is the best time there is to cut and store pecan budwood.

Budwood cut in early winter does not season as quickly or as uniformly after it's taken from storage as that cut just before the sap rises in the spring. J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. and M. College, says that late February and early March is the best time of the year to get budwood.

The most desirable wood is that cut from vigorous shoots of the previous season's growth, and is usually found toward the top of the tree. Shoots ranging from 3-8 to 3-4 inch in diameter are the ones that make the best budwood. A pole pruner six to twelve feet long makes a good budwood cutter, since most of the wood can be cut from the ground or from a short ladder, says Rosborough. Budwood bundles should be tied tightly together near each end so the sticks will not be loose enough to twist in handling. As each bundle is tied, cut a small notch in one of the sticks and write the name of the variety on it with a pencil. After the budwood is cut, tied and labeled, place it in moist shingle tow, sphagnum moss, peat moss or equal parts of shavings and sawdust.

Rosborough suggests having the storage material wet enough to prevent drying of the budwood, but not wet enough to squeeze moisture out of it. Lard cans with good fitting lids make better storage containers than wooden boxes, since they don't permit drying out of the budwood and still allow plenty of aeration.

Budwood should be held in cold storage at 32 to 38 degrees F., where it remains in a dormant condition until ready for use at any time during the growing season. Current season—or freshly cut—budwood may be held for several weeks at this temperature, says Rosborough. When cold storage isn't handy, it's a good idea to pack the budwood for several days in moist shavings or peat moss mixed with chunks of ice the size of a baseball. Graftwood should be cut at the same time and stored the same way as budwood.

It's time to make these cuttings now.

Dates Set For 1949 Chicken-Of-Tomorrow Campaign

The 1949 Texas Chicken-Of-Tomorrow contest will be held May 30 to June 3 at Gonzales. In making the announcement today, State Chairman F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist at Texas A. and M. College, reported that birds competing in the contest must be hatched the week of March 16, in order to meet contest specifications.

"Goal of the new three-year program," Beanblossom said, "is a 1951 model chicken patterned along the lines of progress made in the initial Chicken-Of-Tomorrow breeding contest. The new bird, to grow faster, with still more meat, is being scientifically re-designed to bring increased consumer satisfaction, in the same fashion that science has converted cattle, hogs and other food animals," he said.

Breeders and growers throughout the state are encouraged to help develop and produce the meatier bird—one with beefier drumsticks and extra layers of white meat. State, regional and national contests are scheduled from coast-to-coast, and $10,000 in awards from the A & P Food Stores is awaiting breeders turning out the prize specimens.

"In many respects, the Chicken-Of-Tomorrow is here today," Beanblossom said. "Birds judged at the national finals last June in Delaware where a California hatchery won the top $5,000 prize for its Cornish-New Hampshire cross, are a better meat-type chicken than consumers have had in the past. The main objective now is to spread and expand production of these birds, so that more and more superior chickens will soon be reaching American dinner tables."

The state committee urges 4-H, Future Farmer and school participation, and has set up a special junior division of the state-wide contest, with the same rules and hatching dates to apply as in the adult competition.

In order to compete, entrants must have 100-300 straight run chicks or 50-150 sexed cockerels. Beanblossom announced, Entry blanks, complete information about the contest are available at the Texas Chicken-Of-Tomorrow headquarters, College Station, care of Mr. Beanblossom.

Other members of the state committee are O. M. Holt and R. M. Sherwood, both of College Station; W. R. Archer, of Houston; Marvin Stahl, of Gonzales; Stuart T. Nash of Kaufman; T. A. Hensarling, of Stephenville; R. G. Staines of Abilene; Wiley Akin, John B. Collier III and George P. McCarthy, all of Fort Worth; John E. Simpson, of Yorktown; and O. I. Black, Robert L. Boyd, C. M. Evans, Joe Fechtel and Roy McDonald, all of Dallas.

Texico Girls Titilists In Grade Tourney

In the final game played at Clovis Saturday night, the Texico grade girls literally mopped up the floor with Rosedale, to win the championship of Curry County, 22-9.

Fortunate enough to draw a bye in the first round of the meet, the girls played a semi-final match against Center, winning 17-23, to get into the finals.

The "B" string boys advanced to the semi-finals of the meet, losing out to a strong Rosedale squad, 37-23, after having defeated Field, 25-15, in their first-round battle. Rosedale lost to Melrose 22-21, in the final game.

The local grade boys were edged out in their initial game, losing 19-13 to a determined Grady aggregation. Center defeated Grady, 35-24, for the tournament crown.

Track Workouts Begin For Local Students

With conclusion of the cage season, track workouts are in their primary stages at the Texico school, Coach C. E. Sanders said today, adding that he had a number of boys interested in the various track and field activities.

Actually, organized workouts are not yet underway, but are expected to get started within the next few days, weather permitting, Sanders added. The Curry County meet is currently scheduled to be held in Clovis on April 23rd, with the district activities the following Saturday, April 30th, at Portales.

Sanders added that the locals plan to hold a three-way invitation meet, with Rosedale and Pleasant Hill, the second weekend in April.

Junior Tournament Is Slated For Weekend

Junior teams from over a wide area of his section will convene in Bovina this weekend, for the first junior cage tournament to be held in that city for some years, Supt. W. O. Cherry has announced.

Twelve boys' teams and eight girls' squads are slated to take part in the activities, which get underway Thursday night. Play continues on Friday and Saturday, with the last-round games determining the champions on Saturday night.

The boys' drawings reveal that Canyca drew a bye in the opening round, while Hereford "A" and Farwell will play at 3:15 Friday, the winner meeting Canyon at 9:15 Friday night. Littlefield "B" also got a pass and Friona and Muleshoe "A" hit the deck at 9:15 Thursday night, the top scorer to face Littlefield at 7:45 Friday night. Finishing out the upper bracket, winners of the Friday night games meet for the semi-final at 1:45 Saturday.

In the lower half of the boys' bracket, Bovina and Lazbuddy scrat at 7:45 Thursday night; Dimmitt "B" got a bye and faces the Bovina-Lazbuddy winner at 7 Friday. Dimmitt "A" and Hereford "B" are on the court at 1:45 Friday, the winner to contest Littlefield "A", in on a bye, at 8:30 Friday night. Winners of the Friday night games meet for the semi-final at 3:15 Saturday.

Semi-final winners take the court for the championship round at 9:15 Saturday night, while the consolation game comes off at 7:45.

Turning to the girls' division: Bovina "A" plays Muleshoe at 8:30 Thursday; Dimmitt "B" meets Lazbuddy at 1 Friday, and the winners come up at 1 Saturday for the semi-final scramble. In the lower half, Friona and Bovina "B" are cast at 7 Thursday night, Farwell meets Dimmitt "A" at 2:30 Friday, the winners going into the semi-final at 2:30 Saturday.

The consolation game for the girls opens Saturday night's activity, slated at 7 o'clock, to be followed by the championship game at 8:30.

Coach Louis Purvis listed the following boys for the local team: Nix, Walls, Bill Crume, Jordan, Spurlin, Dasher, Coburn, Gerles, Crume, Norton, Terry and Pipkin.

Representing the girls, Coach Shelby Jobs listed Foster, Spurlin, McCoy, Hines, Magness, Pruitt, Williams, Billingsley, Herington, McKillip and Hughes.

Trophies will be presented to first, second, and consolation winners. It was understood here, J. H. McKinney and C. W. Grissom have been named to officiate and admission will be 25c and 50c for each session.
