FROM THE HOPPER

Here we go again. It seems that the American public can never learn even through experience With another war threatening, the big rush on the part of the hoarders seems to be on. Despite the fact that we are being constantly reminded that there is no shortage of foodstuffs, merchants say that sales are increasing

Fear of rationing seems to be the motive behind all this increased buying. We don't seem to realize that hoarding is the very thing that brings on rationing.

Heard a tire merchant report this week that one man came in to his place of business, and bought twenty new tires. The result was that the tire dealer had no bees of a particular size until he could get in another shipment.

Permer County will be well represented when the old XIT cowboys gather at Dalhart for their annual reunion the end of this month. Mrs. Winnie Dunn of Truth or Consequences, N. Yard Gets Underway

After numerous delays over a period of the past few years, construction work on the new lumber yard of the Cicero Smith Lumber Company at Bovina, got under way the first of this week

Hubert Ellison, Bovina contractor, will have charge of the construction work, which is calculated to last for several weeks.

Originally, the new buildings were scheduled to begin just prior to the outbreak of the late war, and since that time other obstacles have delayed the project.

Complete new buildings for the offices, sheds, st re rooms and workshops are to be erected, Aubrey Brock, firm manager, stated today.

Brock said all the buildings would be of lumber construction with stucco exterior. The office building will be thoroughly modern with large plate glass frontage as well as along July 23 through July 30. The XIT Reunion will be held the east side. "It will be one of the finest and best lay-outs in our sys-

Don't Discard Paper Waste at Dump Ground

Final warning was given today to Twin City residents regarding the continuing practice of discarding paper and cardboard in the city dump grounds. The Farwell City Commission has asked that persons refrain from this practice because suits against the city are being threatened by landowners as dump ground paper blows onto their property.

Citizens are asked to insure the disposal of inflammable trash on their own premises.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE

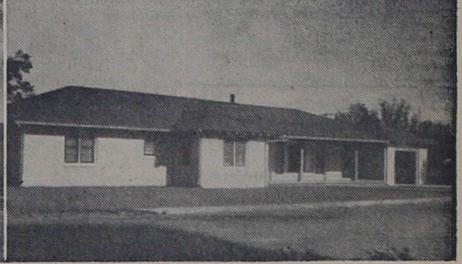

25 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

No. 1 In a Series Here are four Beautiful Homes That are Typical of Twin City Building

Pictured above, in sequence of left-to-right, are four new homes in Farwell that are typical of the many new residences springing up lately in the Twin Cities. All of these homes are models of functional design, and all four have beautiful young lawns gracing the yards. First is the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Anderson. It is frame-and-stucco design, and features a long, rustic porch. The Andersons planned much of the home themselves. Second is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Jones, which is located two blocks west of the schoolhouse. The garage door seen open in the picture is operated by remote control from their automobile. Third is the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Vincent, west of the Jones' home. It features a double garage and many large picture windows. Note shrubbery in front. Last panel is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams. They have an adequate back yard which incorporates a large fireplace in one corner. Inside, several rooms are especially adapted to occupancy by the Williams' three boys.

This is the first in a series of feature articles The Tribune will carry on new homes in Texico and Farwell. This week, all four homes were located in Farwell, and were selected merely because of their convenience to The Tribune office. Persons in the Twin Cities who are proud owners of new homes are invited to visit our office and a reporter will be dispatched along with a photographer to the residence. No charge is made for the story, of course, but an engraving fee of $2.50 must be made. The Tribune is proud of the many new homes and is anxious to cooperate with interested persons in this series of articles. (By JEANNE DUDLEY)

Arrangements for a staff photographer should be made in advance, or the picture may be furnished by interested parties if desired.

Baked Eggs in Toast Cups

Company variation of an American favorite, bacon and eggs, are these baked eggs in scalloped toast rings. Rashers of bacon, hot coffee, and extra enriched toast with preserves complete the menu.

Best way to wish your family a sunny good morning is with a good breakfast. Favorite foods include golden toast and scrambled eggs. For variation, try baked eggs in toast cups. You'll find the cups attractive and an easy way to serve a crowd or provide a special family breakfast.

They're this easy: drop an egg into each bread cup, then bake in muffin pans. The number of eggs desired are baked all at one time. Slide pans out of the oven and lift cups onto a warm platter for service. While the eggs bake, fry the bacon and make the coffee. Bread rounds may be cut and buttered the night before and wrapped in wax paper, so that in the morning only a second is needed for breaking the eggs into the cups, adding milk, and putting them

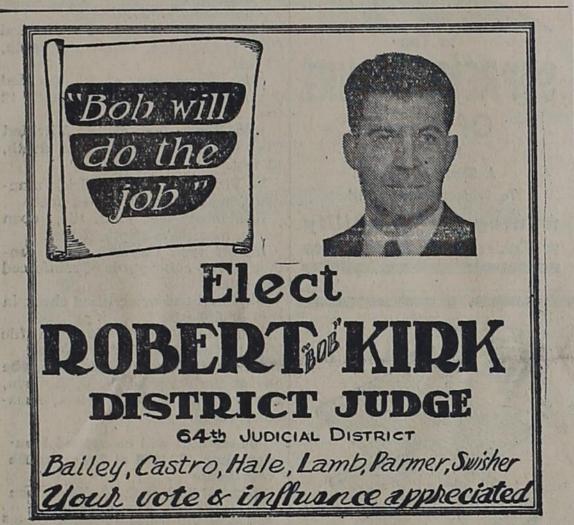

You'll want extra toast to serve with the egg cups and bacon. Temptingly browned toast is an easy way to see that your family gets a good portion of the B-vitamins and iron they need daily. Six one ounce slices of bread per day provide about 1/4 of the daily minimum requirement for iron, even more of the thiamine and niacin needed for pep and all-around good health.

Wives Should Use Care In Selecting Peaches

COLLEGE STATION - Some peaches are now being harvested in Texas but the total crop will be smaller than usual due to the unfavorable weather during the past winter and spring. Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says homemakers should bear this fact in mind and make the best possible use of the small crop that will be harvested.

First, she says don't let that "skin you love to touch appearance" mislead you when selecting peaches. The best tasting peaches ripen from the seed outward and it is the poor quality varieties that ripen from the outside in to the seed.

Tree ripened peaches have a more desirable flavor because the fruit enzymes have an opportunity to do their job, adding the luscious flavor that is lost when the peaches are packed before they are mature. She says fruit that is harvested before it is well matured never becomes soft not even when canned.

The tree ripened peaches must be handled with care for they bruise easily and deteriorate rapidly. They eaten, canned or frozen as soon as tarts and on fruit plates. possible after picking. If they must be held over for several days, keep them in cold storage at 36 to 40 de-

She says the delicious flavor is reason enough for eating peaches but they also supply needed vitamins. At the peak of ripeness, they supply a fair amount of vitamin C, some vitamin B and yellow peaches contain vitamin A. They also contain needed

From a nutritional standpoint, Miss Mason says each person should get a serving of at least two fruits a day and peaches can be used to fill at least a part of the bill.

For breakfast, she suggests serving a bowl of prepared cereal with sliced peaches and cream; for dinner, a peach chiffon pie or an old fashioned peach cobbler will taste mighty good to the family and for supper, you might try fresh sliced peaches and cream, frozen peach salad or a

Q-What are the compensation rates payable to World War II veterans for service-connected disabili-

A-The rates range from $15 per month for 10 percent disability to $150 per month for total disability. Additional amounts are payable for such disabilities as loss of arm, leg, eye, etc., and also for dependents if the disability is over 50 percent. For certain specific disabilities, the rates may be as high as $451 per month under laws enacted by Congress.

Q-Am I entitled to more compensation for my service-connected disability incurred during World War II than a veteran who did not have overseas service?

Q-I am the widower of a woman World War II veteran whose death was not service-connected. Are the children and I entitled to a pension?

A-Under present laws, you, the widower, are not entitled. Surviving children may be entitled to a pension if they meet the requirements of the law.

Q-Is it possible to grant power of attorney to other than a lawyer to represent a veteran in a claim before the Veterans Administration?

A-Yes, it is possible. Accredited representatives of recognized organizations such as the American Red Cross, the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, etc., are authorized to accept power of attorney for such purposes. Also, agents have been admitted to practice before the VA and a power of attorney may be recognized for the purpose of a particular claim upon filing of a power of attorney from the claimant and a statement signed by such person and the claimant that no fee or compensation of any nature is to be charged or paid for such ser-

Those qualifications which are essential to a competent presiding judge of a trial court - judicial temperament, knowledge of the law, integrity, dignity, actual trial experience in trial courts and in courts of appeal —are so plainly evident in Judge E. A. Bills of Littlefield, candidate for the office of District Judge of the 64th Judicial District, that our neighbors to the south of us have seen fit to recognize those qualities in unsolicited public print.

Judge Bills, who has lived and practiced law in Littlefield and this district for 26 years, has all the necessary qualities to make and is making an outstanding trial judge. His qualifications as recognized by the bar and citizens of this district and our neighbors to the south merit his election to a first full term in office. Judge Bills was appointed by the Governor upon C. D. Russell's resignation as of January first this year, the Governor making such appointment upon recommendations of citizens of this district.

THINK ON THESE THINGS

The County Judge of Parmer County is also the ex-officio County School Superintendent. and such is the administrative officer for all the schools of the county.

Under the Gilmer-Aiken school law, put into operation during the 1949-50 school year, the office of county school superintendent has become tremendously important to every school in the county.

The entire financial program of each school separately, as well as all the schools collectively, is centered in the office of the county superintendent.

Let your vote be for a modern and progressive program of education for Parmer County schools. Vote for W. L. Edelmon whose experience includes 13 years in the public schools, 4 years of which he was superintendent of the Friona Public Schools with 23 teachers in the system at that time. He is a past president of the Panhandle Plains Superintendents and Principals Association, a position of leadership among the school administrators of the Panhandle.

If elected, he will begin a program of supervision to raise the standards of each school in Parmer County.

Let's put aside prejudices and divisions and elect a leader to an important place of leadership for those who are depending on you the School Children of Parmer County!

it four days and four nights." The fire raged on northward where it burned itself out at the Denver Railroad line near the Cap Rock south of Amarillo. 'Although the fire damaged range conditions "for about three years," it did not result in large cattle losses. Pres explained, "Most of the cattle rushed to water holes where the grass had been trampled out, and were not harmed by the fire.'

Bovina Formerly "Bull Town" Asked when he first moved to Bovina, Pres quipped, "I didn't move to Bovina; Bovina moved to me."

During his tenure in the Springlake division, Pres herded cattle over the range now occupied by the West Texas town. "There wasn't even a windmill there then," he smiled.

In 1898 the PV&NA Railroad extended a line to Texico, and this marked the chronological spot where Bovina originated. A large number of barns and lots were erected near the line by the XIT ranch. Here was kept many excellent bulls for the improvement of ranchland bloodstrain.

Pres laughed as he recalled, "Every time a train came by these pens they would have to stop and shoo stray bulls off the tracks before they could get through."

These oblivious animals were responsible for the nickname not too lovingly dubbed on the collections of barns by passing trainmen—'Bull Town."

And Bull Town it remained for some time, until someone decided to euphumize the brash sounding title with its Latin-Ameircan equivalent: "Bovina."

Married in 1913

Pres settled down in 1913, and married Mae Lee Messenger, who was 20 years his junior. They were united in Deaf Smith County. She had been living near Friona.

The two had one son, John Benjamin, who became an army chaplain. At present he is in Dallas. Mrs. Abbott is now in South Texas where she is engaged in Spanish missionary

The Agricultural Act of 1949 requires that the price of 1950-crop wheat be supported to farmers at 90 percent of the parity price on July 1, 1950, the beginning of the marketing season. Camp reports that the July 1 wheat parity price was $2.21 a bushel. For the same date the wheat parity price was $2.17 per
