

Adlai Blames McCarthy's Acts On Ike

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 6 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson asserted tonight that the Republican party—"divided against itself, half McCarthy and half Eisenhower"—has deliberately embarked on a campaign of "slander, dissension and deception" in an effort to remain in power.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, declared in a speech prepared for the Southeastern Democratic Conference, that President Eisenhower has soft-pedaled criticism of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) because he has been persuaded "that McCarthyism is the best Republican formula for political success."

Lashing out at McCarthy, vacationing in a nearby Miami Beach hotel, Stevenson said that the chief objectives of the Wisconsin senator and those who support him include "not only the intimidation and silencing of all independent institutions and opinion in our society, but the capture of one of our great instruments of political action—the Republican party."

"The end result, in short, is a malign and fatal totalitarianism," he declared.

Stevenson's speech was arranged before the backdrop of a Democratic harmony fest in a state the former Illinois governor lost to Eisenhower in 1952. Party officials and office holders from almost every section of the nation came here to hear him speak as the titular head of their organization.

Before Stevenson spoke, Sens. Holland (D-Fla.) and Fulbright (D-Ark.) told conference panel sessions that charges of "treason" against the Democrats were rebounding against the Republicans.

In what was for him a bitterly-phased address Stevenson took a step toward ending speculation about Democratic tactics in this year's campaign for control of Congress.

As few Democrats thus far have been willing to do, Stevenson charged Eisenhower with personal responsibility for the "McCarthyism." The former presidential nominee blamed "McCarthyism" for "the bitter harvest of the seeds of slander, defamation and disunion planted in the soil of democracy."

Citing the controversy between Eisenhower and McCarthy over the latter's charges that the Army had "coddled" Communists, Stevenson said that if the President had cracked down on the Wisconsin senator he would have had the country's support.

"Had the Eisenhower administration chosen to act in defense of itself and of the nation which it must govern, it would have had the grateful and deluded minority of our people," he declared.

"Why, you ask, have the demagogues triumphed so often? The answer is inescapable; because a group of political plunger has persuaded the President that McCarthyism is the best Republican formula for political success."

He added that "clear as the issue is, and unmistakable as the support is, the administration appears to be impotent. Why? Because the party which created the administration is hopelessly, dismally, fatally torn and rent within itself."

Stevenson said that Eisenhower had been "patronized," the press threatened and "our servants of C. I. impugned." The latter was a direct reference to McCarthy's employment of J. B. Matthews as an investigative aid. Matthews resigned in the furor over a magazine article he wrote contending that "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in the United States today is composed of Protestant clergymen."

Declaring that there was in progress a "calculated campaign of deceit," Stevenson struck out not only at McCarthy but other Eisenhower advisers he said had made demagoguery "a national movement."

"Where we looked forward to a nation united, we have a people divided," he said. "Where we expected candor, we have misrepresentation. Where we expected firm leadership, we have timidity."

"It is wicked and subversive for public officials to try deliberately to replace reason with passion; to substitute hatred for honest dissent; to fulfill campaign promises by practicing deception; and to hide discord among Republicans by sowing the dragon's teeth of dissension among Americans."

He said Republicans had violated the limits of partisanship by classing 20 years of Democratic rule as "20 years of treason," as McCarthy did.

Stevenson said he deplored the "baseless charges" that had been raised against Chief Justice Earl Warren before the latter's confirmation by the Senate. He said Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, whom Stevenson said had been "abused" by McCarthy when he appeared as a witness was "one of our great Army's finest officers."

He said Zwicker had been called "a disgrace to the uniform" by

NICHOLAS BRENNER

Brenner Rites Are Scheduled Here For Today

A career that encompassed Cossack and contractor ended here Friday night for Nicholas Brenner, 79.

Funeral has been set for 4 p.m. Sunday at Nalley Chapel for the long-time resident whose friendship was his trademark. Dr. Adolph Phillipsborn of Lubbock will officiate. Masonic and Odd Fellow services will be conducted also.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Brenner, a resident here for more than a quarter of a century, passed away about 11:45 p.m. Friday at his home, 402 Virginia. He had been in ill health for the past year and in failing health for several years.

Wage Proposal Accepted Here By Carpenters

The wage disagreement between carpenters and contractors was at an end Saturday.

Carpenters had voted Thursday evening to accept the proposal of a 12 1/2-cent per hour increase offered by eight contractors. Saturday, the contractor group said it was ready to put the offer into effect.

From a practical standpoint, the effective date will be Monday morning. Carpenters will be paid a base wage of $2.25 per hour.

Some jobs here had been slowed or halted for a month or more because of a disagreement over the scale. Last Dec. 7, the carpenter's local had posted a $2.37 1/2 per hour rate, up 25 cents from the previous rate.

After an unsuccessful joint meeting, contractors a week ago made the offer of $2.25 per hour. Carpenters delayed an answer pending a membership meeting Thursday. The offer was accepted by more than a two-thirds majority.

"Carpenters are willing to meet builders halfway in the matter of wage adjustment," said Floyd Jones, business representative of the union. "Our local feels that the adjustment is overdue. Had the offer been made before we posted a new scale in December, we feel there would never have been any occasion for disagreement. It is our hope, too, that this compromise will make its contribution toward a free and increased flow of construction. As citizens and homeowners, we are as anxious to see this happen as any other group because of benefits to the entire town and area."

Two More In Race For Commissioner

Two new candidates had announced and one who had filed earlier withdrew to leave a field of eight in the race for three city commission posts Saturday.

A. G. Mitchell, first to announce, withdrew. Mitchell said he had learned that he would not be able to attend all of the meetings, due to his duties as special agent for the T&P Railroad.

"The city charter calls for two meetings each month for the city commission. After talking with some of the commissioners and candidates I find that they are in favor of a commissioner's meeting every Tuesday night. It would be impossible for me to attend a meeting every Tuesday," Mitchell said.

He expressed appreciation to those who had "given me encouragement in the race."

He said he felt that from the field of candidates who had announced local citizens could select three commissioners who would give fair and impartial government to the city.

S. P. Jones, lumberman, and Bill Horne, manager of West Texas Stationers, filed for places on the ballot before the deadline Saturday.

Gun Battle Breaks Out In Puerto Rico

By JULIO RIVERA

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 6 (AP)—Police seized Pedro Albizu Campos, chief of Puerto Rico's Nationalist party, and five of his aides in a blazing two-hour battle of guns and homemade bombs today.

Gov. Luis Munoz Marin made plain the crackdown on the fanatical Nationalist party was the result of the shooting of five U.S. congressmen by Nationalists in Washington last Monday. He pledged all out effort to "stamp out this poisonous snake in our midst."

The governor issued orders to police to arrest 38 Nationalist party leaders. There was no violence elsewhere in connection with the other arrests, and the entire island was reported calm tonight.

Albizu was in a hospital under police guard. Tear gas had been used to subdue him and the others but police said the fiery-eyed longtime radical was not injured. When he was found upstairs in his apartment he had gasped "I am asphyxiated."

Albizu was jailed for a violation of a pardon given him after being sentenced to 54 years in prison following a revolt he led in 1950 which claimed the lives of 50 Puerto Ricans. Albizu, a graduate of Harvard University, had served a previous 6-year sentence in Atlanta Federal Penitentiary for insurrection. Today's shooting will probably result in additional charges against him.

This was how today's battle, in which more than 150 shots were exchanged, developed:

Police were dispatched to the apartment of Albizu with warrants for his arrest about 6 a.m. The party headquarters is in the same location.

Officers lined both sides of the street. Then a police car roared up to the apartment entrance and three officers with guns drawn rushed into the hallway.

They were under instruction to advise Albizu and his aides that they had orders for their arrest. One of the police knocked on the door.

Jose Rivera Sotomayor, the Nationalist chief's bodyguard, opened fire. The police beat a hasty retreat out into the street, and the battle was on.

Home made bombs fashioned out of glass bottles were rained down upon the street from the upstairs windows. U. S. Army Sgt. Roy Wrenn of Greensboro, N. C., said he saw at least three bombs explode on the street. He was in a jeep striking a routine trip with other members of a Military Police patrol and witnessed the gun battle.

Police said it appeared that the besieged Nationalists were using revolvers and at least one automatic weapon. Finally police resorted to tear gas.

Kerr Appeals For Fem Votes, Raps Shivers

By WAYLAND YATES

SWEETWATER, March 6 (AP)—Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma appealed to women voters to line up with the Democratic party, took a poke at Gov. Allan Shivers and charged the Republican administration with misleading the people with "empty words and futile gestures" here tonight.

Speaking to some 300 persons from over the 24th senatorial district at a Jefferson-Jackson Day Democratic party gathering, Kerr claimed that 20 years of Democratic power had done "more than all the McCarthys, Jenners and Brownells put together 10,000 times" toward stamping out Communism.

In an indirect slap at Gov. Shivers, Kerr said he believed that Texas Democrats were re-uniting and predicted that the state would vote Democratic again "from government to government."

He said it was generally conceded that President Eisenhower got a majority of the women's votes in 1952. However, Kerr said it is a cherished right of women to change their minds.

Pope Pius Reported Slowly Recovering From His Ailment

VATICAN CITY, March 6 (AP)—Pope Pius XII was given some soup today and was reported to be slowly recovering from an abdominal ailment which had its onset Jan. 25.

He has been on a mainly liquid diet, although he was able to take some solid food, mostly rice and fruit, this week, Vatican sources said.

L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, said that the Pope's improvement continues. It was the first mention by the newspaper of the Pope's condition since Monday, his 78th birthday and 15th anniversary of his coronation.

Stevens Denies He'll Resign; Aide Quits; Kyes Will Leave

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Robert T. Stevens formally announced today he intends to remain secretary of the Army and not resign because of "some stormy weather" with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Stevens said "nothing could be further from the truth" than reports he intended to follow the lead of one of his key assistants and turn in his resignation as an outgrowth of his scrap with McCarthy.

The assistant was John F. Kane, an Army employe for seven years. He quit his $10,000-a-year job yesterday. Kane said he hoped Stevens would stay on although he contended some of the secretary's superiors had failed to offer "full fighting support" in "the gallant battle you are trying to put up for the Army."

Stevens said McCarthy pulled on the gloves over the senator's methods in questioning Army officers while probing for Reds.

There was one top echelon resignation at the Pentagon today. Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes is quitting May 1. A former General Motors official, Kyes had agreed to serve only a year, and the year ended Feb. 2.

Government Action Against Terrorists Due To Be Probed

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Chairman Velde (R-III) said today the House Un-American Activities Committee plans to check up on what the Justice Department has been doing to combat the fanatical Nationalist party of Puerto Rico.

Four Nationalists wounded five congressmen last Monday in a burst of gunfire from a House of Representatives gallery.

Velde said his committee wants to know first, why leaders of the terrorist organization have not been prosecuted under laws dealing with conspiracy for the violent overthrow of the government.

"This, he said, leads to these three questions:

1. Are there sufficient laws on the books to cope with such an organization and its activities?
2. Does the Justice Department have sufficient personnel to keep tabs on the group?
3. Does the Justice Department have sufficient means for the gathering of evidence against it?

The committee, Velde said, has directed its investigators to go out after the answers. He did not indicate, however, whether Atty. Gen. Brownell or other Justice officials will be called formally.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

One of our rare snows conditioned the ground Thursday to receive a good rain. But only .08 of moisture resulted, and Saturday lazy spring weather was back. Meantime, some damage was done to fruit by freezing temperatures but it can't be accurately assessed until the forepart of this week.

A petition has been filed with the commissioners court asking for a $400,000 bond issue to finance a county airport. R. L. Tollett, who transmitted the petition, said that all would carry 65 to 70 per cent of the cost and that the county and city urgently need a modern, private airport.

Cotton acreage for Howard County, under the new allotment allowances, will be 85,735. This is about 640 acres more than previously announced, so it is plain to see that efforts to compensate for drought conditions laid an egg—a mighty small egg.

One other name was removed finally from the missing list last week. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Moody were notified by the Defense Department that their son, Sgt. Charles V. Moody died of wounds the same day he was reported missing on Jan. 1, 1951. The nobility of this sacrifice has been enriched by long anxiety.

All of the right-of-way for Fourth Street has been secured by City and County. Removal of obstructions, posting curb money and securing drainage easements remain to be cleared before the job can be contracted in April.

All's quiet on the Second Street front. However, the county is now exploring the possibility of getting

4-H, FFA Members Preparing For Show

Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs members throughout the county will converge on the Howard County Fair buildings Tuesday morning for the start of the 17th annual FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show.

All entries—and there is due to be about 400—are to be in stalls and cages by noon Tuesday.

The steers, lambs and capons will be on public exhibition Tuesday afternoon and until the judging starts Wednesday morning.

About 250 FFA members and 4-H boys and girls are to have their projects on display and competing for more than $500 in cash prizes.

Judging is to get underway promptly at 8 a.m. Wednesday. About 200 capons are to be entered in the show, representing eight

State Director Of Civil Defense To Attend Meet Here

William McGill, state director, will address a Civil Defense meeting here Tuesday.

W. D. Berry, co-ordinator for the civil defense program here, said that Mayor G. W. Dabney and County Judge R. H. Weaver had called the meeting for 7:30 p.m. It will be held in the county courtroom.

Invitations have been sent to the various communities of the county to have two representatives present. In addition, officials are invited, along with representatives from the schools. The Chamber of Commerce and the Red Cross disaster committee also will be represented at the parley.

McGill will be accompanied by representatives from the federal civil defense set-up, said Berry. They may offer suggestions which might be used in revamping the local defense plan.

Nation's Population Shows Big Increase

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The nation had a population of about 161,000,000 at the beginning of 1954, a gain of nearly 10 million since the last census April 1, 1950, the Census Bureau estimated today.

During 1953 the population increased about 2,700,000, or 1.7 per cent. The bureau said the growth in population has been remarkably stable for several years, ranging between 2,500,000 and 2,700,000 a year, or at an average annual rate of about 1.7 per cent.

Of major significance, said the bureau, is the continued high level of the number of births in this decade, reaching almost four million in 1953 alone, the greatest number in any year to date. Mortality during 1953 continued at the record low 1952 level of 9.8 deaths per 1,000 persons.

Laughlin Sticks By Indictments

ALICE, March 6 (AP)—District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin today refused to dismiss assault to murder indictments against two Texas rangers.

Ranger Capt. Alfred Y. Allee and Joe Bridge had challenged the legality of the grand jury that indicted them for assault to murder George B. Parr, Duval County political boss.

Laughlin ruled the grand jury was fully constituted and had been selected in a legal manner.

The rangers had challenged the three jury commissioners that selected the present Jim Wells County Grand Jury.

The grand jury last month indicted the two rangers as the result of a courthouse scuffle here Jan. 18. Parr and his nephew Archer Parr, Duval County sheriff, and the rangers scuffled. Parr's ear was bloodied.

Parr said Allee was going to kill him in the scuffle but was prevented by the screams of Mrs. Caro Brown, a reporter for the Alice Echo.

Parr, long dominant political boss of neighboring Duval County and this South Texas area, unsuccessfully sought a federal court injunction against the rangers. He said he needed it for protection against Allee and Bridge. Three federal judges ruled they had no jurisdiction.

Parr was in the courthouse here Jan. 18 for a hearing on a pistol packing charge against him. He was freed on $1,500 bond. His trial is March 15. The charge was brought by Manuel Marroquin, who claimed Parr waved a pistol and made threats near a meeting of the Freedom Party in Jim Wells County Jan. 18. The Freedom Party opposes Parr politically in Duval County.

Parr's home county is the target for state and federal investigations into use of public funds and other matters.

The three jury commissioners who were challenged were among five witnesses today. They were W. C. Johnson, B. O. Goldthorn and Fidel Rul.

The rangers challenged Johnson on the grounds he had not lived in Jim Wells County six months at the time he was selected as a jury commissioner.

Goldthorn and Rul were challenged on the grounds they were members of a Jim Wells grand jury when selected as commissioners to pick the present one.

District Clerk J. L. Carls Jr. and Librado Gonzalez, former landlord of Johnston, were other witnesses.

District Attorney Rasmus Norris argued against the rangers' plea.

Jake Floyd, bitter political foe of Parr, and Truitt Barber represented the rangers.

No date has been set for trial of the rangers on the charge.

Snow Falls Along Gulf

By The Associated Press

March—the month spring comes in—hit northwest Florida and other parts of the flower-splunged Gulf Coast with the area's heaviest snowstorm in years Saturday. Northern states shivered in a daytime freeze.

The snow ranged from a trace on the ground in Florida up to four inches in parts of Mobile, Ala.

The powdery white stuff filtering down was such a strange sight in the area that children and adults rushed outdoors in excitement.

In Mobile, where azaleas and camellias are blooming in profusion, oldtimers called the four-inch snow the heaviest in a half century. The snow reached its greatest depth at 7 a.m. and then greater temperatures turned it to slush.

The March storm left a white blanket across parts of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and northwest Florida. The fall was the heaviest since January, 1944 in Biloxi, Miss., Crestview, Niceville, Pensacola and Ft. Walton, Fla.

Daytime temperatures remained below freezing over lower Michigan, the eastern Great Lakes region, and the northern Appalachians.

CHIEF H. V. CROCKER
... He And 1925 Engine Still Going Strong

CHIEF WITNESSES TRANSITION

Both Equipment And Methods Change In Firefighting Field

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE
Although Chief H. V. Crocker now heads up a modern two-station fire department boasting 21 firemen and seven trucks, he can easily remember when the "department" consisted of himself and one other man.

That was back in 1929, when Crocker joined Bob Fields to become the second paid member of the department. At that time the Big Spring Fire Department, operated on a volunteer basis, was housed in the old city hall on the courthouse square. The city owned two fire trucks.

Although Fields and Crocker were paid firemen, the chief at that time was Harry Lees, a volunteer. (Lees is the only volunteer of bygone days to draw a fireman's pension here).

Crocker came to Big Spring from Lufkin, where he had served on the fire department for three years. He was offered a job in Big Spring by the city manager, Vernon Smitham.

"I had never been to West Texas before, and when I saw Big Spring I was ready to go back to the swamplands," Crocker said. "Everything looked just about like a desert to me."

Crocker was 26 years old at the time he came to Big Spring and went to work on the fire department. He weathered the initial shock and withstood the strain for a continuous 24 years service. In that 24 years, the fire department has changed considerably. The first change came in 1932 with the move to the present fire station in the city hall. In 1934 the volunteer fire department was replaced with a full paid force, and Ollie Cordill was appointed chief. Then there were eight paid firemen, according to Crocker's recollection. They worked 48 hours on and 24 hours off. Today the firemen work 24 hours on and 24 hours off, in shifts.

old 1920 Chevrolet truck which carried two 30-gallon tanks and an old 1925 model Seagraves 750-gallon pumper truck.

The old Seagraves truck is still in use here. Other trucks of older models include a 1930 Ford 600 gallon pumper, a 1941 Ford 500 gallon pumper, a 1942 Dodge crash truck, and a 1942 Ford 500 gallon pumper.

Two new vehicles are in service. They are a 1951 Mack (750 gallon pumper) and a 1951 Ford (750-gallon booster truck).

Crocker has sufficient time of service to retire, but he is not old enough. It only takes 20 years to draw a fireman's pension, but the age of retirement is 55. Crocker is only 50.

Fields, the one paid fireman here when Crocker arrived, is now a mechanic for Clark Motor Company. He put in 20 years service which qualifies him for a pension when he reaches 55 years of age.

Crocker and his wife, Loma, live at 1707 Benton. They have four children, two boys and two girls. Mrs. Crocker came to Big Spring about a month after her husband arrived, and it is suspected she had quite a lot to do with his staying. They have lived in the same home for 22 years.

House leaders predict this bill will pass easily next week. Byrd, who is a member of the Finance Committee that must consider the measure when it reaches the Senate, said he had not studied the particular cuts in detail.

"But my position always has been," he said, "that we must balance the budget before we cut taxes."

He added that the excise tax reductions in the House bill should not be made now unless they are offset by corresponding cuts in spending in the next fiscal year.

Sen. George (D-GA), senior Democrat on the Finance Committee, is sponsoring a bill to raise personal income tax exemptions at once by $200 each, which would slash revenue by 4 1/2 billions in 1954.

That postal rates will be increased. A House committee has approved a 240 million dollar rate hike measure, but some House members predict it will have trouble passing that body.

That there will be no Federal employees' pay boost. The administration already has agreed to go along with 230 million of pay raises, but employ organizations are asking much more.

Sen. Byrd Says Administration View Of Deficit Far Too Rosy

Byrd today proposed a budget of his own, carrying three billion dollars of additional spending cuts to bring the Eisenhower income and outgo figures into balance.

But at the same time the Virginian warned that the deficit easily could be far more than the President estimated.

Byrd offered his own budget at a time when Congress is talking about tax reductions much deeper than Eisenhower took into account in his revenue estimates.

For instance, the House Ways and Means Committee has approved cuts in a about 20 excises which would cost almost a billion dollars in revenue that the administration had not expected to lose.

House leaders predict this bill will pass easily next week. Byrd, who is a member of the Finance Committee that must consider the measure when it reaches the Senate, said he had not studied the particular cuts in detail.

"But my position always has been," he said, "that we must balance the budget before we cut taxes."

MAYOR DABNEY PROCLAIMS GIRL SCOUT WEEK IN BIG SPRING

Mayor G. W. Dabney has proclaimed this as "Girl Scout Week" in Big Spring.

Noting that the date of annual observance has been shifted from October to March, to coincide with the actual founding date, Mayor Dabney called upon the community to give special heed to the activities of the movement.

"It is conceded that the Girl Scouts constitute one of the finest programs in existence for constructive use and direction of leisure time," said the mayor in his proclamation.

"In Big Spring we have 23 troops with approximately 300 members and 50 leaders.

"The present arrangement has been active here for 12 years now, and there are scores upon scores of women who will testify that Scouting gave them a solid experience that helped to shape their characters, or helped them to stand firm.

"Today Girl Scouts will be observing the traditional Girl Scout Sunday by attending the churches of their choice. During the week they will carry on their regular program together with some special activities such as their cookie sale. I earnestly urge every citizen to be as generous as possible in his support of these efforts. I commend to women who would like to make a real contribution the opportunity of serving as leaders with the girls."

City Schools, HCJC Get First Candidates

Candidates were announced Saturday for a place on the Board of the Howard County Junior College and the Big Spring Independent School District. Three vacancies occur this year on the College Board, two on the public school board.

Richard Clifton announced that he was offering for HCJC trustee. Dick Simpson filed for a place on the Big Spring board of trustees. He could not be reached Saturday and therefore there was no elaboration on his candidacy other than his letter of request for a place on the board.

Senate And House Demos Compete In Tax Bill Fight

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Senate and House Democrats showed signs today of competing for the first chance at trying to boost income tax exemptions.

Sen. George (D-Ga.), senior Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee, said this is a possibility. George is pushing a proposal to lift the income tax exemption from $600 to $800.

French Force Vietminh Back

HANOI, Indochina, March 6 (AP)—The French hurled back stubborn Vietminh forces both around embattled Dien Bien Phu and in the vital Red River Delta today in some of the bitterest fighting since the Communist-led rebels stepped up their Indochina offensive.

They expect to combine their own proposals into a single motion—the only one they will be allowed when the tax revision bill reaches the floor.

Hudson Sales Corp. Wins Court Reversal

DALLAS, March 6 (AP)—Attorneys today received notice the Fifth Court of Appeals in New Orleans has reversed an $82,500 judgment against Hudson Motor Sales Corp. of Dallas.

The committee put into the bill a provision President Eisenhower wants to cancel some two billion dollars in income tax reductions for corporations which otherwise would go into effect April 1.

Ridgway Gives Stevens Praise While At A&M

COLLEGE STATION, March 6 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway brushed aside comment about Sen. Joe McCarthy today with a terse joke. Instead he told a press conference how much he thinks of his boss Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens.

BOB FLOWERS

Flowers Wins Mercury Award For Salesmen

A top record in automobile salesmanship is paying off for a Big Spring, Robert O. C. (Bob) Flowers.

Riding The GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

Back there in 1945 after Walker D. Wyman, head of the Department of Social Sciences at Wisconsin State College at River Falls, had written his splendid volume "The Wild Horse of the West" he got a letter from a horse rancher at Okmulgee, Okla., who had read it.

and sky" would have been lost forever to the future. The volume is available at all book stores and is to be recommended to those who like a good story well written, as well as to the thousands who want to know more about the earlier days in the West.

Sibert's reference to "sheep ranching" is explained in the book. He knew, as probably few men ever did, the real story behind the wars in the Northwest between the sheepmen and the cattlemen. Moreover, he doesn't soften his blows in charging that the Pinkerton Detective Agency was hired by the cowmen "to rid" the range of all settlers and farmers.

Stevens accused McCarthy of abusing and humiliating Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker in questioning him about the honorable discharge of an officer the senator accused of being a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Flowers has been consistently at the top in the district in unit sales, following a program of making at least 10 contacts per day, and following through on sales efforts to see the customer guarantees are fulfilled.

Pictures In Court Cooperation Urged

ATLANTA, March 6 (AP)—Another cooperative effort by the press and bar to solve the problem of newspaper, radio and television coverage of court trials was proposed here today.

Flowers is widely known in this area, gained first fame as an outstanding footballer, when he played for Big Spring High School prior to his graduation in 1935, and later for Texas University and Texas Tech. He was a center with the professional Green Bay Packers from 1941 to 1949.

Fireworks Shed Fire

FORT WORTH, March 6 (AP)—Fire raged through three sheds at Pan American Fireworks company northwest of here today and caused $25,000 damage. The sheds contained machinery and paper stock. No explosives were stored there.

Crash Kills Airman

BRYAN, March 6 (AP)—Airman J.C. Winfred Lewis of Flag Pond, Tenn., attached to Bryan Air Force Base, was killed today when his car left Highway 6 ten miles south of College Station and struck a bridge.

When Wyman received the few pages he was delighted. He knew he had found that rare thing for which the good reporter is always searching — an unusual and great story. He started out by telling about the old South Dakota wagon cook who had been to Australia and who knew the internationally famous 400-pound street walker in Sydney named Harriet Lane.

There weren't many people in the Dakotas of those days and still fewer, even, who either had a story to tell or who could tell it. If Bruce Siberts, who died about 18 months ago, at the age of 84, hadn't read "The Wild Horse of the West" the chances are that such an interesting and authentic history of the land and time of "Nothing But Prairie

He was a tough man when it took a tough man to cope with the hard work, the blizzards, the rustlers, and the companionship of rowdy men and still rowdier women on the Dakota frontier.

Senator Quizzes Air Secretary On AF Academy Site Selection

By EDWIN S. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Senator Smathers (D-Fla.) today asked Secretary of Air Force Talbot "to deny or confirm rumors that a decision already has been reached" on the site of a proposed new United States Air Force Academy.

Predicting that the Senate will approve an air academy bill "within the next few days," Smathers made public a letter to Talbot asking about congressional rumors that the site already has been picked.

He said there are other rumors "that California, Texas, Alabama, are those finally in consideration for the site. Some rumors include Florida."

Many states and localities are in competition for the site, and the decision is eagerly awaited on Capitol Hill.

The Air Force has been seeking its own academy for several years and in the past has sent boards out to survey possible sites. One recent board narrowed the field to seven sites.

Secretary Talbot told the Senate Armed Services Committee this survey would be used but

New Mexico Asks Site Consideration

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Sen. Chavez said today he has been assured that New Mexico "will get full consideration" as site for a proposed academy of the Air Force.

Chavez has introduced a bill to designate Clovis site for the academy and said he has also received applications from Albuquerque, Clayton, Tucuman, Lovington, Gallup and other areas in the state.

He said in a statement that Secretary of the Air Force Talbot told him in a letter:

"The selection will be made without partially or favor, and I assure you that New Mexico will receive full consideration in the site selection."

He insisted that all applications for the academy would get careful consideration. He also testified that no final decision would be made until Congress passes a bill authorizing the school, the President signs it and a commission has screened all applications.

Senate passage, expected during the week, would carry out a five-year-old recommendation of Dwight D. Eisenhower, made long before he entered the White House.

In 1949 when he was President of Columbia University and a five star general, Eisenhower served as vice chairman of a board that recommended establishment of a separate air academy.

The House already has overwhelmingly passed the authorization, which would enable the academy to start next year, and the Senate Armed Services Committee unanimously agreed after inserting three important changes.

Most important to members of Congress is a restriction upon Talbot, who, under the House version, would have been authorized to select the permanent site for the new academy.

Sensors directed Talbot to name a five-member commission and have it report within 45 days. If the commission's site decision is unanimous he must accept it.

If the five are unable to agree, the majority must select three possible sites and Talbot is directed to pick one of them within 15 days and then explain his selection to Senate and House Armed Services Committees.

Another Senate change put a 126 million dollar cost ceiling on the academy with the understanding this could be increased if Air Force officials justify it later.

Legislative Seat Vacancies Filled

By The Associated Press
Five new state representatives were elected Saturday in Texas.

The special elections were held to fill vacancies created by resignations or deaths in the past year.

Charles D. Kirkham Jr. was elected without opposition in District 61, Hood, Somervell and Johnson counties.

Miss Maud Isaacs of El Paso was named the winner in a special election to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of her father, veteran Rep. S. J. Isaacs of El Paso. He resigned because of ill health.

Miss Isaacs, according to the unofficial count, polled 2,461 votes to 1,321 for her nearest opponent, Jim Moore of Arlington won out over 15 opponents in the race for a place from Tarrant County. Final but unofficial returns from all 139 precincts gave Moore 2,979 votes.

Runner-up was E. S. Williams, Republican, with 1,993. A total of 10,355 votes were cast.

George D. Ford, University of Texas law student from Bogata, won the District 3 post. Ford, in his late 20s, succeeds Phil Brooks of Bagwell, who resigned last fall.

With about 80 per cent of returns in, the unofficial count showed Ford 1,905; C. T. Neugent, Mr. Pleasant, former Tarrant County judge, 691; Thene C. Williams, Mt. Pleasant business man, 557; and Vern Davis, Mt. Pleasant car dealer, 48.

O. H. (Muggie) Schram, Taylor wholesaler and farmer who resigned from the Taylor City Commission to make the race, was the apparent winner in District 64, comprising Williamson County.

With only three small boxes uncounted, the unofficial tally was Schram 1,263; Martin B. Teimer, Walburg cotton gin, 1,218; and Oliver P. Harris, retired Taylor business man, 922. The winner fills the unexpired term of Frank Svadlenak, Thrall, killed in a car accident early this year.

Organized excavations of Pompeii which was buried under volcanic ash in 79 A. D. were started in 1748.

DALLAS DOGS FLEE POUND

DALLAS, March 6 (AP)—There was a mass jail-break today from the city dog pound. Patricia Ann Burch, 10, engineered the break with the unexpected help of an unidentified woman.

Patricia's 4-month-old mongrel pup, Teddy, large for his size, had somehow got behind the bars. Patricia suspects a dog-hating neighbor turned Teddy in. Anyway, she didn't have the $1.50 fine and was afraid the pound would sell Teddy.

Stealthily she entered the pound and was just stuffing Teddy out a rear window. She was unexpectedly joined by a matronly looking woman, who helped Patricia get behind the bars. A few more "convicts," winding up by handing three puppies to a man standing outside.

Teachers Meet Set For Friday

More than 2,000 teachers are due here Friday for the annual district meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Speakers will include Robert Vogler, American businessman who was seized by Communists in Hungary and subsequently released, and Mrs. Billie Davis, author of a recent Saturday Evening Post article, "Sen. Lyndon Johnson, minority leader in the Senate, was to have addressed the general assembly and the administrators luncheon. Press of official duties made it impossible to leave the capital at this time.

The meet will be preceded Thursday evening by the house of delegates banquet. Friday there will be a general session in the high school gymnasium, followed by group luncheons at noon. Two divisions of sectional meetings are being scheduled for the afternoon. A general session addressed by Vogler in the evening will climax the one-day meeting. Special displays are being arranged by Big Spring teachers.

Bachelor Prober

SAN ANTONIO, March 6 (AP)—Col. Cyril D. Hill, judge advocate at Fort Bliss, today was named to conduct the pre-trial investigation that will determine if Cpl. Claude Bachelor will stand court martial on charges of misconduct and aiding the enemy.

The announcement came from Fourth Army Headquarters at Fort Sam Houston where Bachelor, of Kermit, Tex., soldier who stayed with his Red captors and then changed his mind, was placed under arrest Friday.

Both the White House and Defense Department in simultaneous announcements today, said Kyes' resignation which will become effective May 1 is in line with an understanding at the time he took the post that he would remain for only a year.

However, Kyes agreed at the urging of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson that he remain beyond the Feb. 25 anniversary of his arrival at Washington — until May 1. He is a former General Motors vice president.

Both the White House and Pentagon emphasized that there was no connection between Kyes' departure from Washington and the current controversy surrounding the McCarthy committee's inquiry into alleged communism in the Army. Widely spread reports that Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens was resigning as the result of that controversy were denied by Stevens today, who said "nothing could be further from the truth."

Murray Snyder, White House secretary, said that dispute had nothing "whatsoever" to do with Kyes' resignation. Wilson, in a statement expressing the wish that Kyes were "staying on indefinitely," emphasized that his colleague in business life and the government accepted the deputy secretaryship with the understanding he would stay in Washington for only a year.

Although there was no immediate announcement of a successor for Kyes, a decision can be expected shortly, a well-placed Pentagon source said. Kyes was in Detroit last week when the Pentagon White House announcement was made.

Wilson prevailed upon Kyes to accompany him to the Pentagon when President Eisenhower named the General Motors Corp. chief as defense secretary at the outset of his administration.

Kyes was a vice president of General Motors and head of two coach and truck divisions. Like his boss, Wilson, Kyes had to resign all offices with GM and dispose of stock holdings. Secretary said the law required this since General Motors holds extensive military contracts. All pension and other benefits also were terminated.

Kyes gave up a $82,500 salary plus a $210,000 bonus. In exchange for that, he got a government job paying $30,000 a year. His GM salary and bonus was in addition to the income from his extensive GM stock holdings.

His future status with General Motors was not known tonight.

During the week two veteran employees of the Cosden Petroleum Corporation were guests of honor at dinners at which the company was host.

Both were presented with the newly-coined Cosden 25-year diamond-studded emblems.

The two employees, G. L. Monroy of the Pipe Line Department, and Rufus E. Morton, of the Pumping and Treating Division, both went to work for Cosden on March 1, 1929, and both have been continuously employed since.

Given their choice of mountings for the service insignia, Morton selected a ring and Monroy a tie clasp.

Morton was entertained with a stag dinner at the Settles Hotel at which 30 of his close friends and associates were guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Monroy were honored with a dinner in the Candle-light Room at the Wagon Wheel where the guest list included Mrs. Lula Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hines, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holladay, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whittenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cowley, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Monroy, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hull, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. K. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Maddux, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Cowley, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Conger and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Barwell.

R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden, was master of ceremonies on both occasions, and upon behalf of the company presented each of the employees with a sum of money in trust at the First National Bank of Big Spring with the stipulation that the funds can be spent only in taking a special and extended vacation trip.

At both dinners the program included the reading of specially prepared biographies of the guests of honor.

"a man whom the Republican National Committee sends around the country to sow slander and disunion—in the memory of Abraham Lincoln."

Stevenson attacked what he said was the "fraud" of Republican claims that most of the 2,300 persons separated from the government were "subversives, spies and traitors."

"The figure has now been raised to 2,427," he said, "but the only thing we know for sure is the government's reluctant admission that out of more than two million federal employees only one alleged active Communist had been found."

"It looks as though the great crusade had practiced a great deception. They are vicious through good politics. But it is our government."

Stevenson said he doesn't hold that the past should be closed against investigations "but I do hold that past errors do not excuse new ones."

Stevenson swung into a criticism of the "massive retaliation" military policy outlined previously by Secretary of State Dulles. Dulles said that instead of meeting aggression by direct and local action, the country would "depend primarily upon a great capacity to retaliate instantly by means and places of our choosing."

"All this means, if it means anything," Stevenson said, "that if the Communists try another Korea we will retaliate by dropping atom bombs on Moscow or Peking or wherever we choose—or else we will concede the loss of another Korea and presumably other countries after that as the 'normal' course of events."

"Asserting that the Russians have 'massive power of retaliation with atomic weapons just as we do,' Stevenson said any such strategy probably will mean the beginning of World War III.

While the Democrats plotted over disunity in the Republican ranks, there seemed to be a careful avoidance throughout the conference of any mention of that old sore which ripped the Democratic party apart two years ago—civil rights.

"There was no time given to it on any of the panel program discussions. No speaker mentioned it."

links out of the roadway, as decided by owners. Since the road will be there forever more, it might as well be right.

Oil activity is about at a peak here. On the oil page today you will learn 27 rigs are now turning in Howard County. The next month will be a critical period in trends, but activity is due to be brisk for several months even on the present basis.

Farm Bureau representatives in district meeting here disagreed with the compromise plan to give the teachers a $402 per annum raise. They liked the raise but not the 80-20 state and local district formula. Local districts already are coughing up enough toward education cost, the Bureau said.

Lateral road construction will not be sidetracked because of high priority for U. S. 80 as a freeway. Clarence Rea, resident highway engineer, told commissioners this last week. At the same time he said contract would be let in August for paving a road from U. S. 80 south to Otis Chalk, present terminus of the oil field road.

Make your plans to look in on the annual 4-H Club and FFA Livestock Show at the Fair Grounds this week. You'll see a lot of champions come out of Howard County.

Contractors started shooting asphalt last week for new paving and immediately had trouble with people running through barricades. That's bad business — like walking in fresh concrete. A little cooperation will speed up work and give better paving.

County commissioners have reached a decision to beautify most of the courthouse lawn, shaving off enough to widen Third and Fourth and Scary Streets to provide safe parking. This may not be the cheapest solution, but we believe it will be by far the best.

Kyes To Quit Defense Post; McCarthy Factor Denied

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Roger M. Kyes, the tall, tough "business manager" of the multi-billion dollar Defense Department, is resigning his post of deputy secretary.

Four Die In State Crash

FAIRFIELD, March 6 (AP)—Two cars rammed together on a straight stretch of highway near here today. Four persons were killed and two critically hurt.

Three victims—including a Denver, Colo., man and his little girl—died instantly. A fourth succumbed later in a hospital here.

Killed instantly were Paul Stames, 50, of Denver; his daughter, Mary 20; and Theodore T. Whittington, 38, of Fort Worth.

Gregory G. Nichols, about 50, of Denver died later.

In critical condition were John Katsimitas, 75, also of Denver and Mrs. Stames, 31, Paul's wife and Mary's mother. An undertaker said he thought Katsimitas was Mrs. Stames' father.

This year," he said.

The Oklahoma senator charged that part of the GOP is acting like Truman is still president, while the others "are wishing that Ike was."

As for himself, Kerr said he hoped that Eisenhower would be president for three more years.

"I've seen the vice-president and the speaker of the House," he said.

He had words of praise for Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Congressman Sam Rayburn. He referred to Rayburn as the greatest speaker of the House in the last 100 years, and said Texans showed good judgment in sending Johnson to the senate.

The invocation was led by the Rev. William Boyd of Big Spring, and Bryan Bradbury of Abilene was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Boyd served as Sec. Kerr's secretary, before and after he was governor of Oklahoma.

Kerr was introduced by Ralph Yarborough of Austin, who was a candidate for governor in 1952.

Among those in the delegation attending from Big Spring were Jim Engstrom, W. D. Berry, Rev. and Mrs. Boyd, Frank Hardy, D. A. Brazle, Alfred Goodson, George White, Clyde Thomas Sr., Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Collins, Fox Striplin, Mrs. Andrew Jones, Johnny Burns, Frank Goodman, Novice Womack, R. H. Weaver and H. L. Shirley.

Hudson Landers Candidate For Commissioner

Hudson Landers is to be a candidate for county commissioner from Precinct No. 3.

He announced his candidacy Saturday subject to action of the Democratic primaries.

A resident of this county and an area practically all his life, Landers is a graduate of Big Spring High School. He now resides in the Elbow - Lomax community where he has farm and ranch interests.

Most of his adult life has been spent in association with the public. Landers pointed out. This long contact, plus record in business and administration, provide him with experience which would be useful in serving as commissioner.

For approximately three years he served as manager of the Big Spring Municipal Airport. From that appointment, he went to Amarillo to head the aviation department of the Amarillo Junior College. Landers also had four years of work with the United States government with the C. A. in administrative work, serving as supervisor for flying schools.

In addition, he has been associated in private business in Big Spring as well as in the operation of farm and ranch properties here.

Landers said that he believed his long residence had made him familiar with road and other problems of the precinct and county. "I respectfully ask consideration of voters on the basis that they believe I can represent them effectively in the efficient and progressive operation of our county," he said.

Wall Street Is Hopeful Of Rally

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—Are we headed for a big spring rally in the stock market?

That's a question being asked in Wall Street as a result of the surprising strength shown by the stock market this week.

The market on average came within a short distance of establishing a new high mark for the past 24 years.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks in its second strongest showing of this year advanced to $116.20. At that point the market was only 10 cents under the 1953-54 high mark of Jan. 5, 1953. That was the best since June 4, 1930—nearly 24 years ago.

Current strength has led many brokers to believe that the market is capable of swinging into a spring rally before it faces the necessity of considering a wide readjustment of values.

BRENNER

um, Latvia, then as now a part of Russia, on Feb. 17, 1878. He served five years in the Russian cavalry prior to his marriage in 1904. He came to the United States later that year, Mrs. Brenner following in 1905. They would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on June 4 of this year.

He took out his first citizenship papers shortly after his arrival in America, becoming a U. S. citizen in about 1910.

The Brennens went to Pawhuska in 1912, moving from there to Hominy in 1914. They lived there until coming to Big Spring. He was also a plumbing contractor there. In recent years, he served as a plumbers examiner.

He had been active up until the last year, becoming very ill last spring. He only partially recovered and had not been well since. In the last week or so, he had begun to sink steadily. His eldest daughter, Mrs. W. H. Curry, of Milledgeville, Ga., arrived by plane Wednesday. One of his last fully conscious actions was to greet her and say "Now that you are here everything is complete."

Members of the Odd Fellows lodge here had assisted members of the family and friends in sitting by his bedside during his last week.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lena Brenner, of Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Curry and Mrs. Jim Zack of Big Spring; four grandchildren, W. H. Curry Jr. of Annapolis, Md., a United States Naval Academy cadet; Joel Brenner Curry and Mrs. W. H. Layson of Milledgeville, Ga.; and Susan Zack of Big Spring. He is also survived by one great-grandchild.

Odd Fellow pallbearers will be Earl Wilson, Jess Shipley, A. C. Wilkerson, Luther Coleman, W. B. Abernathy and Joe Roberts Jr.

Mononic pallbearers will be Tom Hinton, Roy Lee, Roy Franklin, J. J. Richerson, D. F. Bigony, and A. J. Prager.

Four Left In C-City Race

COLORADO CITY — There were still four candidates in the race for three posts on the city council here late Saturday after one man filed and withdrew within a 24-hour period.

Pete Ainsworth, Mitchell county rancher, withdrew Saturday. He had filed Friday afternoon. Ainsworth is a member of the county school board. He said he was withdrawing Saturday after learning that he could not serve on both groups if elected.

Meanwhile, Clayton E. Neal, 54, member of the Fort Worth police force, apparently was the leading applicant for the job of police chief. The chief's post was left vacant when Sam Hulme resigned Wednesday. City Manager Roy Dozier said he had not definitely committed himself on the job offer.

Dozier indicated that an appointment would be presented to the city council Monday night. Dozier also plans to present a proposed city budget for 1954-55 at Monday night's council session.

DEMO MEET NOT FOR JOE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 6 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was in this resort city for a time today while Southeastern Democrats in a nearby meeting were making him a campaign target.

But the Wisconsin senator could not be reached immediately for comment. He was not accepting phone calls and any messages had to be relayed to him.

The manager at his hotel reported he left early in the afternoon wearing old clothes and would not be back until tomorrow. McCarthy has enjoyed fishing in this area in the past.

The senator arrived by plane from Washington last night and told members he was going to meet two of his investigators. He added that his business with them was "nothing of any importance, nothing mysterious," but would not give their names nor say what they were investigating.

McCarthy said he didn't know when he left Washington that the Democrats were meeting in Miami Beach to hear Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, and a dozen or more senators.

"I didn't come for that meeting," he quipped.

Weatherly Rite Held Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Katie Weatherly, 91, who died in a local hospital following a lengthy illness.

She had come here in Oct. 1952 to make her home with a daughter, Mrs. Bessie Watson, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Anna Mae Berry. She died Saturday morning.

The Rev. Clyde Nichols of the First Christian Church officiated at the services which were held at the Nalley Funeral Home chapel. Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Weatherly was born Oct. 17, 1862. Other survivors besides Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Berry include another daughter, Mrs. Charles Rader of Dallas; a sister, Mrs. W. C. Yarborough of Roy, N. M.; and three great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were L. T. King, W. B. Crocker, J. A. Coffey, W. A. Laswell, G. J. Zachariah and Otto Peters Jr.

Fluvanna Girl Has Champion Steer At Borden Junior Show

GAIL—Barbara Reeder, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeder, a student in the Fluvanna High School, and a member of the Borden County 4-H Club, was the proud owner of the grand champion steer, an Angus, at the annual Borden County Junior Livestock Show here Saturday. The steer was bred on her father's ranch.

The reserve champion steer was a Hereford exhibited by Kenneth Williams, a 4-H Club member.

This annual Borden County event is open to all 4-H Club boys and girls, and FFA boys, living in Borden County. Some of them, however, attend schools over the county line including O'Donnell, Fluvanna and Ackery. The show is sponsored by a Junior livestock show association composed of individual annual memberships. This year the Borden County Sheriff's posse assisted with the production which is held at the County Show Barn on Highway 180 just at the west edge of the city.

At noon a community dinner was served at the school by the women of the county who brought the food, consisting of many kinds of meat, vegetables, salads, cakes and pies, to the school from their homes. The show is always a thoroughly county-wide enterprise attracting many visitors.

Sammy Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Davenport, took Fine Wool honors in the sheep department with lambs bred by his father. The Davenports formerly lived at San Angelo.

Young Davenport had the first, second, third and fifth place heavy Fine Wool lambs; both the grand and reserve Fine Wool, and the reserve champion lamb of the show. He is a 4-H Club member. He also had the second place pen of five Fine Wool lambs.

The grand champion lamb was the only Southdown in the barn, a feeding project of Donald Reddell, of the Gail FFA Chapter.

The blue ribbon in the class for pens of five Fine Wool lambs went to the Gail FFA Chapter. Bobby Gray, instructor in vocational agriculture in the Gail High School, explained that the chapter bought eight lambs to be fed out as a chapter project and to serve as specimens for practice by the livestock judging team. Five of these lambs were selected by the judge, L. L. (Broadway) Browning of Snyder, as the best pen on the grounds.

The Gail FFA Chapter also exhibited the grand champion barrow, a Hampshire, also fed out as a chapter project on scraps from the school cafeteria.

The reserve champion barrow, another Hampshire, was the entry of Don Shortes, a member of the Ackery FFA Chapter. This barrow was selected and fed out under the supervision of A. H. Smith, vocational agriculture instructor in the Ackery High School.

Betty Lang, a nine-year-old student in the school at Plains (Dawson County), had both the champion buck and doe rabbits. The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lang, exhibited a pair of White Chinchillas.

Officers of the sponsoring association are K. T. Reddell, who also served as announcer and general superintendent; president; Oscar Teichik, vice president; H. D. Williams, secretary, and Borden Gray, treasurer. There are also five adult directors and five student directors. The adults are Milton Weaver, Garland Doyle, Roy Reeder, S. C. Sharp and Ed Franklin. The student directors, from the 4-H Club and FFA Chapter, are Ray Weaver, Lonnie Doyle, Barbara Reeder, Borden Reeder, the latter a son of Sheriff Sid Reeder, and E. L. Franklin Jr., County Agent George Gealy and FFA Advisor Bobby Gray assist with the show.

Many of the entries shown here at Gail will be taken to the Lubbock

Shivers Stakes Prestige Upon Upcoming Legislative Session

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, March 6 (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers' prestige and perhaps his political future are at stake in the special session of the Legislature which starts a week from Monday.

Shivers spent the week-end putting the finishing touches on his plan for financing a $402 base pay raise for teachers, the special session's No. 1 job.

Monday night the governor said he planned to talk about special session problems, especially money, with a group of business men at the mansion.

The governor said also he has scheduled a series of meetings with others, including school teachers and legislators, before he makes public his tax plan. Shivers said he hoped to have his concrete suggestions ready to announce later in the week, but perhaps by Wednesday or Thursday.

Shivers promised to have specific suggestions ready for the lawmakers to get to work on early in the 30-day session. He has said he hoped the legislators would agree with him, but if not, come up with their own concrete ideas.

Shivers has drummed on the idea that the job of raising teachers pay is a "must." He also will submit other topics of legislation such as added funds for several state agencies, a pay raise for state workers, and tighter Communist control laws.

Drought-pinched lawmakers are also expected to bring pressure for some sort of legislative help for some areas reported to be especially hard hit.

Four years ago Shivers called a special session of the Legislature, put his political future on the line, and came out on top. That session, without much difficulty, voted new tax money for improved care of state mental patients, passed a series of sex crime laws, and found more money for cancer research.

Austin Man Files For Lt. Governorship

AUSTIN, March 6 (UP)—C. T. Johnson, 43-year-old businessman today paid his $600 filing fee as a candidate for lieutenant governor and announced a platform hitting high telephone rates and urging more adequate old age pensions.

Johnson formally applied for a place on the Democratic ballot in the July primary, announcing his firm affiliation with the party.

"I'm going to make a race into every county of Texas and see if a candidate can win here without obligating himself to a tremendous special interest slush fund," Johnson said.

Johnson proposed a state commission to regulate telephone rates and called for a gross income tax on telephone and telegraph companies to help finance a $100 a month pension plan for eligible citizens over 65.

Johnson said that Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. excludes long distance revenues in determining a fair return on its investment in connection with rate boost requests. He called this "fantastic."

Crash Fight Leads To Murder Charges

GONZALES, March 6 (UP)—Verness Waller was charged with murder today in the shooting death of Alvin de Grasse, 23-year-old veteran of the Korean War.

County Atty. E. W. Patterson said Waller and De Grasse were in an argument that grew out of a minor automobile accident on a farm-to-market road near here last night.

Missing Boy Thought To Be Camping Out

A 13-year-old Big Spring boy who has been missing from his home for several days is believed to be "camping out" somewhere around town.

A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, said the boy has returned to his home since he first was reported missing. The youth came back while other members of the family were away and secured some blankets and a quilt, the juvenile officer reported.

The boy has been missing for "four or five days," Long said he apparently is afraid to return home.

The juvenile said the boy has disappeared on previous occasions. When he is located this time, Long hopes to learn the reason for the absences.

Many auto crashes take place on long straight stretches of road because drivers tend to become drowsy on them.

IT HAPPENED

Can't Keep A Car

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Last August Morris Lebovitz purchased a high-priced sedan. It was stolen a few weeks later after he had driven it only 3,000 miles.

Two weeks ago he made a settlement with an insurance company. Then, he purchased a 1954 model of the same make. He had only 300 miles on the speedometer when the car was stolen yesterday.

As he was bemoaning his fate, police found his 1953 car last night. It had 8,778 miles on the speedometer but was in good condition otherwise.

However, Lebovitz is still without an auto. The insurance company which made the settlement has taken possession of the recovered car.

two women were held for grand jury action.

Magnolia Plans Economy Run For Stock Cars

The 1954 Mobilgas Economy Run, a precise road test of America's stock automobiles, will begin at Los Angeles April 5.

There will be a three-day run to Sun Valley, Idaho, Guy L. Tate, vice president and marketing manager of Magnolia Petroleum Company, announced.

"This grueling test is designed to demonstrate to the average car owner the economy potential of his automobile and is conducted under the strict supervision of the American Automobile Association," Tate stated.

"The power, speed and reliability of modern cars have been proved through the years," Tate said. "But when it comes to economical driving, the average American gets only about 15 miles per gallon from his car, well under the par which the automotive industry believes can be reached with careful driving, regular maintenance and quality fuels," Tate emphasized.

The automotive industry estimates that 1,800,000,000 gallons of gasoline can be saved each year if the nation's drivers will increase their mileage just one mile per gallon.

Cars will be divided into low, low-medium and high price classifications. A Ford six, entered by Al Stuebing of Hollywood and driven by Les Viland, was the 1953 sweepstakes winner with a 27-miles-per-gallon average and a ton-miles-gallon mark of 56.7 Average miles per gallon of all 25 entrants in last year's event was 22.2.

HARLEY SADLER

Sadler To Run For Re-Election To Senate Post

Harley Sadler of Abilene announced Saturday that he is a candidate for re-election as senator from the 24th Texas Senatorial District.

His announcement is subject to action of the Democratic primaries.

In offering for re-election, Sadler had this statement:

"In announcing that I will seek re-election for my first full term as State Senator from the 24th Senatorial District, subject to the Democratic Primary election to be held July 24 this year, it might be stated that all of the 21 members of the Texas Senate were elected in 1952 for full 4 year terms. But because of the Senatorial re-districting measure passed by the Legislature in 1951, it is now necessary that 15 State Senators be re-elected this year for a full 4-year term as our Constitution provides that 15 members of the Senate shall be elected at one regular election year (to serve for 4 years) and the other 16 are up for re-election 2 years hence. At the regular session in 1953, by Senate resolution, the 31 members drew to determine which would serve 2 or 4 years. I was one of the 15 members that drew a 2 year term, hence my announcement for re-election this year.

"I don't feel that a long announcement is necessary as most of the voters and residents of this district know that I have served 8 years in the House of Representatives and am now serving a 2-year term in the Senate.

"During my 10 years service in our State Legislature I don't think you will find any member of either house that has had a more perfect attendance record, both on the floor and in committee hearings. I have served on major committees in both the House and Senate. I believe our State Department heads, as well as my colleagues in the Legislature, will agree that I have rendered conscientious and honest service to the best of my ability. I have successfully handled much legislation for our various State Departments and have sponsored and co-sponsored or red many measures that were in the interest of the district I represented. First, I have tried to serve the district from which I was elected; second, I have tried to render service to all Texas, more especially West Texas.

If you, the voters, feel that I am worthy of re-election and can see fit to support me during the coming primary, I will promise you that I will show my appreciation by trying to serve all in a fair and efficient manner. I am grateful to you for the past honors that I have received at your hands. I feel that I owe much, not only to the people of the 24th Senatorial District, but to all West Texas. Anything that you may do to help me in the coming election will be appreciated."

Some Texas Cities Report Big Upsurge Of Juvenile Problems

By The Associated Press
At 4, the little boy in Waco was an accomplished burglar. When police caught him, he was squeezing through narrow windows to open doors for his big brothers and sisters.

That is one incident turned up in a survey of Texas juvenile delinquency. Waco reported a "terrific upsurge" in juvenile crime. In Galveston, Borger, Houston, Austin and Dallas kid crooks were reported to be a growing problem.

But there were cities where juvenile crime was reported under control. These included Big Spring, San Angelo, Paris, Sherman, Corsicana, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Port Arthur. In most cases, a city program to keep kids out of trouble was given credit.

There were still others where it was hard to determine whether juvenile delinquency is on the upswing or is under control. At Lubbock, for example, County Probation Officer John W. Wilson said there is an increase in the number of cases filed in juvenile court—but the population has increased at the same time.

City by city, here's what the survey showed:
Waco—Detective Capt. Wiley Stem said "teenagers are responsible for 75 per cent of our crime. First offenders usually escape with probation, many repeat their offenses. You can't put them all in reform school," Stem said, "or you would need 8 to 10 more places to send them."

Leonard Duce, assistant dean at Baylor University, is chairman of the Waco Youth Committee. He said this group's work is in the "nebulous" state now but action is expected soon. W. Wilson said there is an increase in 1947. "Waco needs a juvenile detention home to keep the children out of jail," Duce said, "but no actual plans have been made for it." However, a juvenile ward was built in the jail on the committee's recommendation to keep children separated from hardened criminals.

Port Arthur—A constantly increasing recreation program is successfully combatting delinquency here. More than 500 boys, ranging in age from 8 through the teens, take part in organized leagues conducted by the YMCA, Youth Council and city. Schools cooperate with the city in a summer play program.

Dallas—Police Chief Carl Hanson said every type of crime—from petty theft to murder—committed in Dallas County in 1933 by adults also was committed by kids. Major juvenile crime offenses increased 53 per cent over 1932. Most of the offenses were by 16-year-old boys. The biggest problem is a sharp rise in auto theft and burglary. No one in the city or county has come up with "the answer" to the problem of juvenile delinquency. The latest attack on the problem is a proposed survey to be made by the Dallas Council of Social Agencies, a Community Chest agency, and the Dallas Crime Commission.

Paris—Juvenile delinquency in this northeast Texas area is well under control, largely because of a good program of boys club work, Little League and Pony League baseball and Boy Scouting.

Austin—The city is now trying to solve a wave of vandalism for which police blame juveniles. Slingshots flinging lead slugs have broken scores of auto windshields, most of them parked in used car lots. Tires on parked cars have been slashed and picture windows in homes smashed by stones or bottles thrown from passing cars. A curfew for teenagers has been proposed but seems to be generally frowned on.

Sherman—County Juvenile Officer Albert S. Brown says the city and Grayson County are in "fairly good shape." Children under the scrutiny of the juvenile office are visited regularly on their jobs and in their homes. At the same time, the juvenile officer is carrying on an adult education program.

Galveston—Since the first of October, 1933, about 300 juveniles have been arrested—more than in any entire year on record. Theft from automobiles and theft of automobiles are the most frequent serious juvenile crimes in Galveston. Organized gangs armed with knives and pistols have been blamed for many serious crimes. However, police say they have made steady progress in breaking up the gangs.

A long-unused Galveston curfew law was put back into effect Thursday by the City Board of Commissioners. It provides that children under 15 years old must be off the streets by 10 p.m. and those under 18 must be off the streets by midnight, unless accompanied by parents.

Borger—the county juvenile officer said that since January, 1933, delinquency has been rising and blamed the increase on unemployment. The juvenile officer said transient workers from other areas move to Borger thinking it's an area of plentiful jobs. They find they're wrong but wait around for work. Home life is unstable and children of these families often are neglected and are not in an "inner" social group. Civic organizations and the city government are trying to provide better recreation opportunities.

Lubbock—There's no percentage increase in juvenile delinquency because a rise in crimes about matches a rise in population. There is an alarming note in the increase in seriousness of offenses, mostly burglaries and thefts. There has been an expansion of character-building programs by churches, the YMCA and schools.

Houston—Juvenile delinquency is increasing in Houston and Harris County. The county probation department estimates 1.8 per cent of the juvenile population is involved in delinquency. The county probation department has 12 case workers, each carrying a load of 80 or more cases. The big need is in pre-delinquency work—to get to the kids before they go bad. Various groups are now working for community projects to keep youngsters busy.

Big Spring—The biggest juvenile problems are stealing, drinking, vandalism and running away from home. Juvenile Officer A. E. Long does not regard the present volume as above normal.

Corsicana—No special problem. Dist. Judge A. P. Mays, when sitting as juvenile court, takes a keen interest in the child's welfare. First offenders are paroled to parental custody or to some other person usually sent to state training schools. Most girl offenders are involved in promiscuity, boys in theft and burglary.

Wichita Falls—Largely because of the work of an active juvenile board and Juvenile Officer J. W. McCormick former police chief and Texas Ranger, kid crime is being held to a minimum. McCormick has more than 40 years' experience as a peace officer. Three district judges, the county judge and representatives of civic and service clubs compose the juvenile board, which makes a thorough inquiry into every juvenile situation. A juvenile home has been recommended but not yet started.

Fort Worth—City and county officers, working together, have done much to lick juvenile delinquency. One of the biggest steps was organization of a special division in the Fort Worth police department to handle juveniles. It consists of 16 specially trained officers. The men have found jobs for scores of wayward boys and girls, helped rehabilitate others.

San Angelo—Burglary appears to be the biggest problem. San Angelo has a police school officer, Capt. Earl Breedlove, who gives talks at schools and at Boy and Girl Scout meetings.

Safety Speaker

George Oldham, executive secretary of the Big Spring Citizens Traffic Committee, is to be speaker Tuesday in Midland. He will address the Permian Basin Safety Society at 7:30 p.m. in the Humble conference room. His talk will deal with details and operations of a citizens traffic group. The Permian Basin society is composed of safety engineers and supervisors whose aim it is to render a civic service to their communities.

Agreement For Curb, Gutter Signed By City

City commissioners Friday signed an agreement with the State Highway Department for construction of curbs and gutters on 4th Street. City Manager H. W. Whitney was also authorized to forward $28,306 to the Highway Department to pay for the project.

Commissioners took the action in a special session Friday afternoon. State Highway Engineer Jake Roberts was to have received the agreement and money this week-end, so he would have them to present at a highway meeting in Austin Monday.

Money for the project came from the city's curb and gutter escrow fund and the recently voted street improvement bond fund. A total of $20,363.93 came from the street improvement bond fund.

Money in the curb and gutter escrow fund totaled $7,937.07 Friday, and all of it was used. Whitney said that property owners had paid $539 between the time he posted letters asking for money Wednesday and the special session Friday.

The property owners' share of the $28,000 total is approximately $15,000. Since only $7,937.07 has been collected, about $7,000 is still due. Commissioners pointed out that some people have signed up to pay their money on a time basis, which accounts for about $2,000. This means that bills will be posted for only $3,000, which is still owed.

The city share of the project cost is about $13,000. This is for intersection costs and other expenses such as the curb and gutters on condemned property.

Hendrix Trial Opens Monday

A special venire has been summoned for Monday morning for the 118th District Court trial of Randall Leon Hendrix who is charged with murder.

Hendrix is charged in connection with the death of his 14-year-old bride of 18 days, Patricia Hendrix died the night of Oct. 2, 1933, after receiving a bullet in her chest.

Mrs. Hendrix was shot as she and her husband sat in the back seat of a car traveling on Highway 89 between Coahoma and Big Spring. Hendrix said the shooting was an accident.

Driver of the car was Junior Coleman Lawhon. Lawhon's wife also was in the machine.

Both Hendrix and Lawhon have since been given penitentiary sentences on pleas of guilty to burglary charges. Lawhon was returned to Big Spring recently from the state penitentiary at Huntsville and both he and Hendrix now are being held in county jail.

The special venire has been called for 10 a.m. Monday.

10 Arrested During Trial Are Released
The 10 persons who were arrested Friday by W. F. Hendrix, state narcotics agent, have been released from Howard County jail, sheriff's officers said Saturday.

Hendrix arrested the 10 in the courthouse just before the start of a narcotics trial in 118th District Court. They were booked into the jail as vagrants, according to records in the sheriff's office. No charges were filed, however.

Two of the 10 arrested were awaiting trial on narcotics charges.

Singapore To Texas Land, Sea Trek Set

SINGAPORE, March 6 (U.S.—A five-member American family has left Singapore in an eight-year-old Ford hoping to complete a 10,000-mile land and sea journey to Fort Worth, Tex.

They are Bruce Wickwire, his wife, two daughters, Barbara Jane 15, and Linda Lee, 13, and son, Bruce, 8. Wickwire represents publishing interests of the eastern division of the general conference of the Seventh Day Adventists in Singapore.

Calling his journey the "Wickwire Overland Trek," Wickwire said their first stop would be Penang, then across to Calcutta by sea, then by road again across India, Pakistan, Iran, Iraq, Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia, the Balkan States and Italy.

The Wickwires will tour the continent, cross to England by sea and take a ship to New York. They then resume their motoring, crossing to California and then down to their hometown of Fort Worth.

The party is traveling in a 1946 car which has already done 48,000 miles.

"We hope to make the trip to London in 70 days," said Wickwire. "In fact we must meet this deadline because our permits are booked from Southampton to America for May 6."

The car is equipped with almost everything necessary for the long trip—tools, shovels, tire chains and cooking utensils.

Each member of the family will have some particular task to do on the trip. Mrs. Wickwire is co-driver, cook and general supervisor, Bruce Jr. is dishwasher.

Fort Worth Man Quits Federal Post
FORT WORTH, March 6 (U.S.—Tom McCann, former Fort Worth city councilman, is resigning his post as director of the U.S. Foreign Operations Mission in Bogota, Colombia.

McCann told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram he had resigned effective April 15 and would return here then before going to Washington to make his final report.

In a letter, McCann said, "I feel my position in Colombia is superfluous, and am recommending the abolition of the country's director's setup there.

"I am much in accord with the technical aid to these countries where it is needed and requested but I am of the opinion lots of the administrative costs can be eliminated."

McCann, 38, a building contractor, resigned his council seat last November. He has been director of the mission, which administers technical aid, since the first of the year. He was President Eisenhower's campaign manager here in 1952.

Changes In AF For The Better, Officer Says

The Air Force has changed—and for the better, Col. Newton Hagins of Webb Air Force Base told members of the American Business Club Friday.

He stressed the austerity program to cut costs and the higher caliber of men he found in the service. He warned that valuable training time was being lost by failure of men to re-enlist, due, he said, to the pay being too low.

He said that those who had served during World War II had undoubtedly noticed waste of equipment, but that every effort was being made to get the most out of every dollar now. As an example, he said 28,000 items used to be stocked for operations but the total has now been cut to 13,200.

"We are borrowing techniques from business," Hagins said. He pointed out that time motion studies and other management surveys were being made to reduce the number of personnel required in various phases of the Air Force. He said that boards of review had to pass on requests for additional equipment.

"Air bases are compared for their cost figures on different operations," he said. "Every effort is being made to give you more Air Force for your dollars."

Yet, he said, are safer planes than the old propeller-driven type since they are simpler mechanically and fewer things can go wrong. The human factor remained the chief cause of air accidents.

"Over a period of years," Hagins said, "the Air Force has made a study of accidents. Ninety-two per cent were attributable to the human factor, seven per cent were material failures, and one per cent were maintenance errors. We try to give the cadets the safest planes possible but you can't avoid that human factor."

Recruiters Want Tickets Returned
Sgts. William Parks and Cecil Deakins, local recruiters for the Army and Air Force, are looking for a couple of men who disappeared with some GI meal tickets and transportation requests.

The two men decided to enlist at the Big Spring Recruiting Station. Parks and Deakins accepted their applications, and outfitted them with meal tickets and orders for bus transportation to Abilene for induction.

That was several days ago, and so far the enlistees haven't showed in Abilene. Apparently, the bus tickets haven't been used, Sgt. Parks said. But he's worried about the meal tickets, and would like to talk to the "enlistees" about them.

Another man with the nickname of King Tut sent me a letter. Writing from Louisville, Ky., he says: "Several weeks ago, you quoted a letter from a gentleman in Canada by the name of Mr. Tutton, who had dropped the "tu" and has been using the name of King Tut for some 20 years. Well, you have one a little better in the United States. My family name, Tut, is pronounced TUT, and I don't have to drop any letters. "When the Egyptian king's tomb was opened, my boss in the newspaper plant said, 'The king isn't dead! He's working tonight!' From that night on, I had the title (or nickname) of 'King Tut.' A lot of my friends and co-workers still use it. I have been with my present employer for 35 years." Then you, Mr. Tut—or let me say King Tut! Human interest items are highly welcome and your account is appreciated. Many letters have been coming from readers who describe strange and interesting names. I shall quote some of the letters a week from today. Perhaps you remember the article I wrote about the fat-tailed sheep of Greece and parts of Asia Minor. Several readers, including farmers, have expressed interest in that subject, but they have had words to say about the tails of common sheep. The sheep which we see on meadows and elsewhere almost always have short tails, but there is a reason. The tails are cut short while the sheep are lambs. It is a different story with wild sheep. The tails of wild sheep almost always are short. No one clips the tails of wild lambs, but those tails stay short all through life. There is a mystery as to why most domestic sheep would have fairly long tails if their owners left the tails of the lambs alone.

Texas Congressman Seeks To Get Full Subsidy Story

By TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON, March 6 (U.S. News)—Rep. Walter Rogers, Texas Panhandle Congressman from Pampa, is trying to find out exactly how much various segments of the U.S. economy are being subsidized. "There are a lot of sides of this question that should be brought to light," he told a reporter. "I have introduced a resolution calling for such an inquiry. I'll insist it be considered." Fundamentally involved in his proposed probe, said Rogers, is whether the farmer is being subsidized at the expense of city taxpayers. "I'm getting tired of all this loose talk about the farmer being kept up at the taxpayer's expense," he continued. "I'd like the whole picture before us. The airlines, for instance, are subsidized in air-mail pay. The railroads get mail contracts, and the shipping concerns build vessels here for Uncle Sam when we know we could get the same ones constructed in Denmark and Sweden for less." Rogers said he had conducted a private poll to find out what the city man thinks of the farmer. "All the way from Texas to Washington," he said, "I have talked with individuals, bus and taxi drivers, waitresses, filling station operators, and the like. I'm sorry to report there is a great deal of misunderstanding of the farmer's plight. They all think he ought to be getting rich." Declaring that the profit is going to someone in between the farmer and the consumer, Rogers said that the wheat grower up in the Panhandle gets 2 cents out of a 16 cent loaf of bread, and that the cotton farmer gets only 33 cents out of a $2.64 broadcloth shirt. Enlists in Army Billy W. Baker of Lamesa has enlisted in the Army through the Big Spring Recruiting Station. Sgt. William Parks, recruiter, reported Saturday Baker was sent to Ft. Growing Injury List Casts Big League Camps In Gloom

Some Rookies Try Too Hard

By JACK HAND
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6 (AP) — Ted Williams' broken collarbone and Bob Porterfield's close brush with serious injury head a growing accident list that threatens to make spring training an unhappy memory for several major league clubs.

Not since Monte Irvin snapped an ankle at Denver in an exhibition game in 1952, has a training injury jolted baseball as did Williams' fracture.

Usually the spring training mishaps occur in the games, but they started early this season in routine practice sessions.

Williams, reporting an hour late at Sarasota for the Boston Red Sox' first drill, lasted only 15 minutes. He bent over to field a sinking liner, tripped and tried to save himself by rolling over on his shoulder. A bone snapped and the $100,000 salaried star is back in Miami with his shoulder in a cast. He won't play any exhibitions and it's 50-50 whether he'll open the season.

Porterfield was conked on the head by a liner off Clyde Vollmer's bat while walking in the outfield at Orlando where Washington is quartered. Unconscious for 15 minutes, the hard luck pitcher luckily escaped serious injury.

The St. Louis Cards received two tough jolts at a pre-training camp at Deland, Alex Grammas, the $100,000 shortstop who is expected to be a regular, strained a muscle in his throwing arm. He won't be able to play for at least another week. It remains to be seen whether the injury will affect his throwing.

First baseman Tom Alston, another $100,000 purchase, came up with a bad back at Deland, trying to work too hard early in the season. He was supposed to battle Steve Bilko for the Cards' first base job but he'll get a late start.

The world champion New York Yankees didn't even wait until spring training to get their bad news. Mickey Mantle had to undergo a second off-season operation late in the winter, leaving him in the doubtful category. Mickey reported at St. Petersburg Tuesday and even took a turn at bat. But he'll be kept under wraps during most of the exhibitions. Pitcher Ewell Blackwell retired Friday because of a sore arm.

Milwaukee's pennant-minded Braves had a few anxious moments when Eddie Mathews, their home run ace, pulled up with a bad back. A little work by the trainer, however, quickly relieved Mathews and he soon was running again. Reserve catcher Walt Lindner will be lost for a time due to a thumb fracture.

Sore arms, of course, are the rule at this stage of the game. The Cards' Memo Luna, another $100,000 purchase, hurt the elbow on his pitching arm in his last Mexican League start. The injury could cost him his chance to make the grade in the big league.

On the other hand, the Cards are encouraged by the early work of Eddie Yuhas, their 1952 relief ace who was out all last season with a bad arm.

Brooklyn's injury list included pitcher Ken Lehman, hit on the leg by a line drive. Fortunately, there were no broken bones, only severe bruises.

At West Palm Beach, Manager Eddie Joest is beginning to wonder if his oft-repaired right knee will permit him to be a playing manager. Eddie hurt the knee again in an auto accident in January. Bob Trice, the A's rookie Negro pitcher, hurt his left shoulder in a fall.

Pittsburgh lost three rookies in the first week at Fort Pierce. Don Belter's knee folded under him. Bobby del Greco suffered a leg cut striking eight stitches and Dave Reider, just signed out of college, came up with a bad knee.

With the games starting today and the boys heading down to win or hold their jobs, more injuries are to be expected. No wonder each manager crosses his fingers when his star slides. It's bad enough when a player is hurt in a regular season game but in an exhibition it's a tragedy.

Rugged Going In Squad Game

The Whites gained sweet revenge in their Big Spring High School football game with the Blues Friday but the Blues didn't give up without a fight, as the pictures above will attest. In the top photo, Ronnie Wooten of the Blues set sail for the goal, only to have Ronnie Phillips put the clamps on him. Truett Newell (white shirt) is at the extreme left and back of him is Bobby Newsum. Curtis Wynn is running in Wooten's wake while Roy Hughes can be seen over his right shoulder. That's Frosty Robinson galloping out of the picture at the far right. In the lower picture, John Birdwell is about to take a pass from Tommy McAdams that gave the Whites another TD. Giving futile chase are Wayne Tollett (left) and C. T. Kilway.

Steers To Play Seniors Here Friday Evening

Weather permitting, the Big Spring High School footballers will wind up spring drills Friday night in a game against the Seniors.

Present plans call for the contest to start about 7:30 p.m., but the engagement could become an afternoon engagement if the weather turns cold.

The seniors can field a rugged eleven, since 20 members of the 1953 club were in their last season. However, the Exes will probably be handicapped by a lack of practice.

Such backs as Frank Long, J. C. Armistead, Jerry Hughes, Billy Martin and Don Swinney will be available for duty with the Seniors.

Jimmy Ellison, J. W. Thompson, Norman Dudley, Paschal Odom, Billy Earley, Jimmy Porter, Wayne Medlin, Dean Porter, Roger Brown, Louis Stupp and others are eligible to play with the outgoing group.

The Whites caught up with the Blues in the second intra-squad game of the spring football season at the local high school Friday afternoon and registered a convincing 27-7 victory.

Tommy McAdams' ability to hit his receivers proved the big difference as John Birdwell caught two passes and Carlisle (Frosty) Robinson one for touchdowns.

Robinson scored the other one in a fourth quarter 60-yard scamper down the sidelines.

Buddy Cosby, star of last week's game, which was won by the Blues, counted his team's only TD on a fourth-quarter sprint of 20 yards.

Birdwell played a bang-up game, both on offense and defense and should be able to solve some of Coach Carl Coleman's line worries.

The Whites drove to the Blues' eight-yard line in round one but couldn't power the ball into the end zones.

McAdams loosened up the defense in the second period, however, on an over-the-center pass play to Robinson that netted 15 yards and a score. Tommy kicked the goal to make it 7-0.

Early in the third, McAdams sought out Birdwell with a TD aerial to widen the daylight between the two clubs.

Later, Robinson dove over the goal line for a third six-pointer but the Whites drew a penalty, nullifying the counter.

Not long after that, McAdams again was 'on target' in passing to Birdwell and John lumbered into the end zones to make it 15-0. Robinson pounded across for the extra-point.

Cosby put the Blues back in the ball game with his score but

Stroud Doesn't Mind Losing -- Money, That Is

TYLER, March 6 (AP) — Five years ago they got J. C. Stroud into baseball by appealing to his civic pride.

Today Stroud owns three ball clubs and would own a fourth if a league hadn't folded in its organizational stage. And he doesn't give a hoot if they lose him money. It's his only enterprise that does but "It's my only hobby, so I don't begrudge dropping a few thousand on it each year."

The Henderson club in the now defunct East Texas League was on the verge of collapsing that day in 1949 when Stroud, an oilman at nearby Joineville, was talked into taking the plunge.

The Henderson club needed a financially independent backer if it was to survive. Approached on the idea, Stroud was reluctant. The millionaire already had enterprises ranging from oil to trucking to insurance. Anyway, apparently baseball was a losing proposition.

But members of the Henderson Baseball Association played on his civic pride and Stroud agreed to take over the club and see it through the season. "That's all," he said.

But when the East Texas League folded, Stroud moved the Henderson franchise to Tyler to become a member of the Big State League in 1951. The club finished last but the next season, Stroud, who does not like a loser, dug deeply and bought some of the best players money could spare in the minors.

Tyler finished second and won the playoffs. Last season Tyler was in the playoffs again but lost in the final round to Wichita Falls.

Needless to say, Tyler is sold on Stroud. Recently the city decided to spend $14,000 on repairs of the Tyler baseball park and the improvements will double the seating capacity.

The baseball bug had really infected Stroud by 1953. Before the end of the season, he purchased the Port Arthur club of the now defunct Gulf Coast League and will operate it in the Evangeline League this year.

The stocky, 200-pounder acquired his third club—Decatur, Ill., of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley League—almost by accident. And in doing so, he probably established a new record for quick transactions.

As Stroud and A. C. Gonzalez, then owner of the Decatur franchise, were leaving the Big State League meeting in Austin last January, Stroud commented: "That Decatur franchise of yours is one of the best in the minor leagues from what I hear."

"I'll sell it to you," Gonzalez shot back.

"I'll buy it," Stroud said.

Snyder Opens With Ysleta

SNYDER, March 6 (SC) — The Snyder Tigers, now in the midst of spring training, have booked Ysleta as their opening game opponent. The game will be played in Ysleta Sept. 10.

Coach John Conkey tried to book the game here, since the Bengals have only four home games, but Ysleta would not agree to the proposal.

Snyder will play three El Paso area schools—Bowie, Thomas Jefferson and Ysleta—in non-conference starts.

The schedule: Sept. 10—At Ysleta. Sept. 25—Bowie (EP) here. Oct. 1—Thomas Jefferson (EP) in El Paso.

Oct. 8—At Levelland (C). Oct. 15—At Sweetwater (C). Oct. 22—Vernon here (C). Oct. 29—Plainview here (C). Nov. 12—Breckenridge here (C). Nov. 19—At Big Spring (C). Nov. 25—At Lamesa (C). (C) — Denotes 1-AAA games.

Sewell And Miller Unanimous Choices

BEAUMONT, March 6 (AP) — Tom Sewell of Sam Houston State and Jim Miller of East Texas State were unanimous choices for the All-Lone Star Conference basketball team selected by the coaches and announced by the conference bureau today.

Others making up the team, which turned into a sextet instead of a quintet because two players tied for the fifth spot, are Bill Banks of Southwest Texas State, Clarence Lynch of East Texas State, Ray Wilson of Lamar Tech and Joe Perry of Southwest Texas State. Walton and Perry tied.

Miller, Sewell, Lynch and Walton are repeaters from last year.

Junior Tournament To Open July 19

SAN ANTONIO, March 6 (AP) — The twenty-eighth annual Texas State Junior Golf Championship tournament will be played at Brackenridge Park here July 19-24.

The Texas section of the PGA and the San Antonio Light are co-sponsors.

Dragonettes Lose In Second Round

CANYON, March 6 (SC) — Flower Grove's Dragonettes lost out in the second round of the Region 1-B girls' basketball tournament here Friday.

Cotton Center measured the Flower Grove team, 49-36.

Turn-To Heads Kentucky Derby List Of Nominees

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 6 (AP) — The name of Turn-to topped a list of 137 nominees for the 80th Kentucky Derby announced today by Churchill Downs.

Turn-to's presence in the lineup gave immediate rise to speculation that a rare Derby double might be completed in the 1954 running May 1.

Harry F. Guggenheim, owner of the bay charger, won last year with Dark Star in an incredible upset over Native Dancer, who hasn't lost another race in two years of campaigning.

In Turn-to, Guggenheim seems destined to have the favorite in this year's mile and a quarter race for $100,000-plus and a horseshoe of roses. The colt has been outstanding among 1954's early campaigners eligible for the Downs classic. He was especially impressive in winning the Flamingo Stakes by 3 1/2 lengths last Saturday.

Mut of the other 136 nominees is expected to come the toughest kind of competition, however. As usual, the Derby will draw its field from the most promising three-year-olds in the land.

Porterhouse . . . Hasty Road . . . James Session . . . These and others on the sophomore honor roll were made eligible for America's No. 1 glamor gallop.

Caumet Farm, which has cashed in by nominating several of its top prospects from year to year, will pin its hopes on one horse, Duke's Lea, this year.

Another good horse expected to come in from west of the Rockies is Determiner, A. J. Crevello's Santa Anita Derby winner.

The winner may, as often happens, be a little-known candidate not yet in training, but since the winners usually develop early, these other nominees may be worth watching: Double Speed, Grand King, Goyamo, Fisherman, Best Years, By Jeebers, Revolt, Geldar, Home Stake, Palm Tree, Everest Jr., Mr. Prosecutor and Touxis.

Coahoma Defeated In II-B Tourney

BROWNWOOD, March 6 (SC) — Coahoma lost out in the second round of the Region II-B girls' basketball tournament here Friday afternoon to Lipan, 31-33.

Joyce Francis scored 24 points for the losers.

The Bulldogs played without the services of Sue Buchanan, star forward, who is recovering from the mumps.

Pampa, Alamo Hts., Crowned Champions

AUSTIN, March 6 (AP)—In the second overtime game in the history of the playoffs, the Pampa Harvesters won their second straight AAAA state basketball championship by defeating Crozier Tech of Dallas here Saturday night, 47-44.

Alamo Heights of San Antonio capped AAA championship honors by subduing Galena Park in an earlier game, 67-60.

Crozier Tech trailed most of the way in its game but tied the score just before the end of the regulation game, 33-33.

Pampa quickly grabbed a four-point lead after play was resumed and the Dallas team was never able to pull even. At one time, Pampa led by five points.

The victory was Pampa's 56th straight.

Alamo Heights held only a one-point lead with a minute to go, and Tinker Wilson of Galena Park missed a free throw that would have tied the score.

Bill Eldridge, great on his one-hand push shot, banked in 22 points for top scoring honors for the victors. Ervel Elswick, with 20, was high for Galena Park.

AUSTIN, March 6 (AP)—Russell Boone, a six-foot-four sharpshooter, put on the greatest scoring exhibition ever seen in a Texas Schoolboy Basketball Tournament today, shattering the all-time record with 50 points as Sweeny walloped Sundown 92-47 for the Class A championship.

Records fell almost as fast as the points dropped in all afternoon.

Bowie of Class AA, the only team ever to win three straight state titles in any conference, stretched that record to four in a row by drubbing Spring Branch of Houston 70-40.

Temple Tucker, Bowie's six foot two-time allstate center, accounted for 27 points, just two shy of his Class AA scoring record in the state.

Boone's sensational performance wiped out the record of Greenville's giant Marcus Freiberger, the 6-11 slammer in 46 points in the 1947 tournament.

Records fell left and right as a record daytime crowd of 7,500 roared during the afternoon's first two championship games.

Nine new records were set in the Class B championship clash, which saw Cayuga's Wildcats sack up their third state title in four years by blasting Big Sandy, 79-59.

That was the same team Cayuga had beaten in the 1951 and 1953 finals.

Cayuga set several records, including that of becoming the first Class B team to cop three championships.

Then Boone and his Sweeny teammates came along to do some more rewriting of the record book with Sundown's help.

They eliminated one record that had hardly had time to cool off. That was the tournament aggregate scoring mark of 138 for a championship game which Cayuga and Big Sandy had just established.

Sundown and Sundown replaced it with a combination of 159 points.

That also broke the tournament record for one game covering both title and non-title games. The old mark was 146, set earlier in this tournament by Sweeny's 74-72 triumph over Buna in the first round.

Boone's 50 points, the most ever scored in the University of Texas Gregory Gym by a high school or college player, broke the Class A record of 38 which he had set two days earlier. Previous high for the gym was 49 by Slater Martin of the University of Texas in 1949.

The 6-4 center, an 18-year-old senior, also grabbed two other individual tournament records. His 89 points broke the mark of 72 for a two-game series set by Jerry Mallett of South Park last year.

It also gave him the highest game average for a series, his 44 1/2 points per game comparing with Mallett's 36-point average.

Sundown's 67 points were the most ever scored by the loser of a championship game, supplanting the tournament mark of 59 set one game earlier by Big Sandy.

In all, 12 tournament records and eight Class A marks were broken by the Sundown-Sweeny match.

Cayuga's victory for its worst defeat handed Big Sandy in their three title meetings. Cayuga's previous margins were six and four points in 1951 and 1953, respectively.

Jack Hellett of St. Edward's, James Upshaw of East Texas Baptist and Jim Bridges of Texas Wesleyan were unanimous choices.

Others on the first team are Jim Kridler of St. Edward's and Ron Wimpy of East Texas Baptist.

Named to the second team were Ralph Warner of Texas Lutheran, Larry Freeman and Bill Merritt of Southwestern, and Bob DeLaney and John Kizza of St. Mary's.

March 12, the Tech-Santa Clara winner meets the Skyline Eight Conference champion at Corvallis. The Seattle-Idaho State survivor clashes with the Pacific Coast titlist the same night. The finals are down for Saturday, March 13.

The winner will go to Kansas City for the NCAA semi-finals.

Carpenter has overcome inexperience to rank among the nation's most accurate field goal shooters. He is only a sophomore. He has scored 288 points for a 12-point-per-game average.

Tech won 11 of 12 Border Conference games and takes a 20-4 overall record west.

horns to tie Rice for the conference title.

Rice ran its season record to 21 victories against only four losses last night as Gene Schwinger led the Owls to their victory over Texas in the opening game of the playoff. Schwinger flipped in 35 points to make his season total 563.

Chiefs Seeking Fred Salling?

The Lake View (San Angelo) school board reportedly will interview Fred Salling, popular Coahoma coach, about the head football coaching post vacated recently by Bob Russ.

Salling is not an applicant. He could not be reached for comment Saturday.

Salling fills the added duties of high school principal at Coahoma and Lake View would probably have to go very high to lure him from his present post. He is supposed to be one of the best paid Class B coaches in this area.

Salling, one-time Brady assistant, coached the Bulldogs to a bi-district championship in football last fall. His team compiled a 12-1 won-lost record. He also coached the Coahoma basketball team until this season, when he turned over the reins to Grady Tindol.

The Bulldogs are being promoted to Class A next fall and will compete in 4-A, one of the most rugged conferences of its classification in Texas.

Lake View is looking for its third coach in as many years.

Tom Proctor and head cage mentor, Proctor resigned in November of 1951 and Salling moved up. His Bulldogs finished as runners-up to Hermleigh in district play in 1952, then won the school's first 11-man championship in history last fall.

GIRL TENNIS TRIM S'WATER

SWEETWATER, March 6 (SC)—A talented Big Spring girls' tennis team of five girls to Odessa on Monday. Miss Clyburn said she a series played here Saturday.

Billie Clyburn, who coaches the Steerettes, said she would take a team of five girls to Odessa for more matches. Miss Clyburn said she was having difficulty in arranging practice tests for her girls. Her idea is to have the tennisists play as often as possible before the district meet.

The sweep over Sweetwater proved a mild surprise, since the Mustangs annually field one of the best tennis teams in West Texas.

Betty Anderson, number one senior singles player for Big Spring, paraded to a 10-8, 6-3 triumph over Charlotte Cook, Sweetwater's top-seeded singles player.

In senior doubles, Clara Freeman and Nanette Farquhar, Big Spring, downed Celeste Lindsay and Jackie Lindsay, 6-1, 6-2.

In junior singles, Dixie Faulkner, Big Spring, outlasted Jackie Lindsay, Sweetwater, 6-3, 6-7, 6-3.

In junior doubles, Sue Barnes and Janice Rome, Big Spring, kayped Rose Mary Morris and Glenda Scuff, Sweetwater, 6-1, 6-2.

Laredo Track Meet Upcoming

LAREDO, March 6 (AP)—The University of Texas sprint relay team, hailed as the top quartet of the nation this year, is expected to furnish a record-breaking performance in the twenty-second Border Olympics next weekend.

Texas set the record at 41.9 here in 1952 and has two members of that team—Charles Thomas and Dean Smith—back. Smith didn't compete last year because he was scholastically ineligible.

The Olympics, first major outdoor track and field carnival in the nation for the year, already have drawn 70 schools, representing 925 athletes. This is six schools over the 1953 record-smashing entry.

The Star-spangled university class will have nine teams with the University of Texas expected to unseat the defending champion, Texas A&M, Texas A&M, Baylor, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Rice, Louisiana State, Texas Tech and University of Houston will have teams and Oklahoma WAM, a perennial entry, is expected to also be here.

North Texas State is due to defend its championship in the college class which has 10 teams—Abilene Christian, Hardin—Simmons, McMurry, Southwest Texas State, Stephen F. Austin, St. Edwards, Texas A&M, University of Corpus Christi, Howard Payne and North Texas State.

There are six junior college entries with Victoria expected to win the title that last year went to the Rice Freshmen. Freshmen are not being allowed to compete in the junior college division this year, which accounts for the fact that there now are not as many teams entered in the meet as last year.

Ray, won the high school division title last year but is expected to have trouble aptly repeating.

A golf tournament will be run off at the same time as the Olympics Friday and Saturday, with eight schools entered.

Central Wraps Up Second Cage Title

The best by test, that's Central Ward's Calves. L. D. Spradling's club copped the City Ward School Basketball league championship for the second year in a row by beating Park Hill, 27-16, in the Junior High School Gymnasium Saturday morning.

The Calves are now unbeaten in two seasons. They felled eight league opponents handily this year.

Central led all the way, although the scrappy Spartans got close on several occasions.

Tall J. B. Davis, speedy Don Masters and equally quick August Joe Lueddecke paced the Calves to victory. Davis tossed in ten points for high scoring honors. Masters and Jimmy Tucker each had six for the champions.

Jackie Richbourg paced Billy Mack Sheppard's team with six points.

Central led at the end of the first period, 6-2; at half time, 12-8; and after three periods of play, 21-13.

Park Hill appeared to be on the verge of overtaking the Calves just before half time but Masters was awarded two free tosses and made them both to pad Central's lead.

Haas Holds Off Challenge Of Dave Douglas To Lead

HOUSTON, March 6 (AP)—A 12-foot putt on the 17th green enabled Freddie Haas to hold off a challenge from Dave Douglas and retain his one stroke lead in the $30,000 Houston Open today.

Haas scored his second straight 71 to go with his opening round 68 to enter tomorrow's final 18 holes with a seven-under-par 209.

Douglas, a native Texan now playing out of Grossinger, N. Y., took birdies on the two final holes for a 69 and a 210 total.

Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., turned in the day's best round to tie for third place at 211. He had a four-under 68 for the 7,200-yard Memorial Park Course.

Grouped with Kroll were Ed Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif., Shelley Mayfield, Chicopee, Mass., and Cary Middlecoff, the defending champion from Memphis, Tenn.

A gallery estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000 swarmed onto the course as a bright sunshine ended two days of cold, wet weather. The crowds were so large the final threeholes were delayed in teeing off.

A six-over-par 222 was needed to qualify for tomorrow's final round which will include 73 players.

Douglas finished a half hour ahead of Haas and it looked as though he had gained at least a tie for the lead until the New Orleans pro sank the 12-footer on 17.

Haas took the front nine in even par 36. He picked up a stroke with a two-foot putt on 13 but this was nullified when he took a bogie by missing a six-footer on 15.

"It was just the best I could do," Haas said. "The course was in fine shape despite all that rain yesterday. I used the wrong club a time or two."

Haas began the day with a one-stroke advantage over Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y.

Turnesa took a fat 75 today to jump to a 214 total.

Milwaukee Braves Defeat Brooklyn

MIAMI, Fla., March 6 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves staved off a sixth inning rally to open baseball's exhibition season today with a 3-2 victory over the Brooklyn's National League champions.

Shutout only once all last season, the Dodgers didn't score until the final inning today and were then stopped cold by reliever Dave Jolly with the tying run on third base and one out.

Five Milwaukee doubleplays behind Bob Buhl and Ray Crone prevented Brooklyn from getting a runner as far as third base until the eighth, but Crone ran out of gas in the ninth.

Frank Sabbath Insurance, 35-37; sixth, Big Spring Herald and Lee Hanson's, each at 31-41; and last Team 8, 21-51.

L. J. Brown, Sabbath Insurance, posted a 210, the only knicker to get a 200 game or better. Jake Douglas, Lee Hanson's, had a 541 for high series. Joe Liska, Team 8, was not far behind with 529.

Big Spring Herald posted high single game with an 849. Evans State Drug had an 825. Evans State Drug placed together a series score of 2528, followed by Cosden, at 2308.

Cosden takes on Jet Tavern in the feature match this week.

Drilling Operations At Biggest Pitch Since Early Boom Days

The latest survey conducted by Reed Roller Bit Company shows more rigs operating in Howard County than at any one time since the boom days of 1926 and 1927. There were 27 rotary rigs operating when the survey was conducted on Feb. 25. Not only is this a large figure for Howard County, it is large for any county in the Permian Basin. Howard County tied for third place as the Basin's most active rotary drilling area. The only two counties with more rigs are Andrews and Lea County, New Mexico. Both of these counties have 76 rigs turning, according to the survey. Tied with Howard for third place is Crane County, which also has 27 rigs. Crane had the same number of rigs on the last tally, while Howard's count increased from 26

Interior Department Proposes To Absorb Functions Of PAD

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The Interior Department has asked Congress for funds to continue remaining functions of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) under the department's oil and gas division. Present plans are to liquidate PAD within a few weeks, possibly by the end of this month. PAD was set up after the war broke out in Korea; the corresponding agency in World War II was the Petroleum Administration for War. PAD and Defense Department officials supported the request before a House Appropriations subcommittee. The request was for $200,000 to re-establish the oil and gas division and operate it through the year beginning July 1.

PAD's expenses for the current year were estimated at $447,500. In the previous year, with war in Korea, the agency spent $1,574,817. In testimony just made public, Joseph A. LaFortune, deputy PAD administrator, told the subcommittee: "We are now so well advanced toward our petroleum and gas mobilization goals that it appears that we can very shortly liquidate the defense agency—the Petroleum Administration for Defense—and transfer any remaining functions to the oil and gas division of the Department of the Interior." Col. Gus M. Montgomery, acting staff director of the petroleum division of the Defense Department, considers reestablishment of the oil and gas division

Devonian Oil Test Flows

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1-A E. N. Phipps reportedly kicked off and flowed 21 barrels of oil per hour this weekend. At last reports Saturday it was still flowing. This project is on the northwest side of production in the Luther Southeast Field of Central-Northeast Howard County. Operator has set 5 1/2-inch casing and perforated for completion tests. Unofficial reports are that perforations between 9,928 and 9,951 feet were acidized with 5,000 gallons before flow started. Then the flow died and a swabbing unit was requested by operator. Before the swabbing unit could arrive, the project kicked off and flowed 21 barrels per hour.

Observers Say Oceanic Edger Will Produce

A Borden County edger to the Oceanic (Pennsylvanian) Field of North Howard County was being drilled this weekend in the reef line below 8,192 feet. Interested observers say the project will make a well. Location is about a half mile north and slightly east of Veakmoor. Drillsite is 2,308.9 from south and 330 from west lines, 19-32-3n, T&P survey. Texas Crude No. 1-44 L. M. Brown, wildcat about four miles northeast of Ackery slated for a test of the Pennsylvanian, was boring below 4,770 feet in lime this weekend. It is 600 from north and 1,700 from east lines, 44-33-4n, T&P survey. In Dawson County, a wildcat about three miles north of Lamesa was having the plug on surface casing drilled out. The project is Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Otto Dunlap, C. SE SE, 46-35-6n, T&P survey, casing was set at 480 feet. Cascade No. 1 J. S. King, C. Pew Predicts Good Outlook For Oil

HOUSTON—Technology is providing a new dimension to oil men's thinking. Jno. G. Pew, Sun Oil Company vice president, said Friday in a talk emphasizing "evolutionary opportunities" of the oil business. Pew addressed the Southwest district meeting of the American Petroleum Institute's division of production. He is API vice president for production. He recommended "the greatest possible encouragement" to the development of new and improved technology, and he pointed to benefits which have already resulted from scientific studies. "Technical developments which make possible greater yields from known fields than formerly anticipated, have already been responsible for significant additions to our estimated underground reserves. They have made it possible for us to renew production in wells which once were considered depleted and to undertake production in wells that would once have been considered profitless." He cited hydraulic fracturing and the still experimental in-situ process as examples of technical developments intended to improve the efficiency of oil field production. "I believe it is no exaggeration to say that never before in the history of oil have the opportunities for future development been more obvious and more promising than they are today," said Pew.

He stressed as "probably the single most significant trend in the entire oil industry" the upgrading of product values through new and improved refinery processes. "Today the modern refiner's skill at rearranging and reshaping hydrocarbon molecules has resulted in significant improvements to standard products... and the manufacture of new products undreamed of a few years ago." He said that "petrochemicals loom large on the horizon of future opportunities." "If we work hard at our jobs and make every effort to reduce our costs and increase our efficiency, the future prosperity of our industry seems assured."

McAllister Fuel Co. No. 1-A Roy Largent, a northeast stepout from Although No. 1 Whittington, a reef discovery in southwest Mitchell County, had set intermediate string Saturday. The 9 1/2-in. string was run to 2,037 feet, and operator was waiting on cement to set. This test, scheduled to explore the reef and the Ellenburger, is located 5 1/2 of a mile northeast of Although's discovery, which completed in the Pennsylvanian. It is about 23 miles southwest of Colorado City.

Activities On Even Keel Over Nation

DALLAS, March 6—A total of 2,641 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of March 1, 1954, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company. This compares with 2,661 reported a week ago, 2,597 a month ago, and with 2,580 in the comparable week of 1953.

Free World Output Up

TULSA, Okla., March 6 (AP)—Crude oil production in December in Venezuela and the Middle East increased the non-Communist world's daily average to 11,956,196 barrels. The Oil and Gas Journal also reported this was a gain of 217,300 barrels over November. United States production, the Journal declared, slumped from November's 6,277,200 barrels daily to 6,238,000 in December. Production a year ago was 6,633,700 barrels. Daily average for the non-Communist world during 1953 was 11,832,000 barrels, up 54 per cent over 1952. Total U.S. output in 1953 climbed 3 per cent more than the 2,256,765,000 barrels in 1952.

Albough No. 1 Hutto In Steady Progress

Ray Albough No. 1 Louis Hutto, central-east Howard County wildcat, was drilling ahead Saturday at 4,658 feet in lime. This venture, slated for 5,900 feet, previously set the 9 1/2-in. intermediate string at 2,247 feet with 1,338 sacks. This is a stepout to the one-well Hutto field, a producer from the Wolfcamp. Stanolind had carried its No. 1 Hutto to the Ellenburger before plugging back to complete in the Wolfcamp. Location is 330 from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 4-31-1s, T&P, about two miles southwest of Coahoma.

H-G ADDS WELL, GETS LOCATION

A completion and a location were logged this weekend in the Howard-Glasscock Field. The new producer is Shell Oil Company's No. 8 Hart Phillips, which made 100.18 barrels of oil on potential test. Gravity of oil is 31.8 degrees. Total depth is 2,357, pay top is 2,070, and 3 1/2-inch casing goes to 2,158 feet. Pay zone on the No. 8 Phillips was acidized with 1,000 gallons. Location is 330 from east and 644 from north lines, 23-33-T&P survey. It is in Glasscock County. Continental Oil Company spotted its No. 20-A W. R. Settles about a half mile south of Forsan. It will be drilled to 3,200 feet by rotary. Drillsite is 1,980 from north and 1,370 from east lines, 135-28-W&NW survey.

Independents Say Gathering Tax Feasible

AUSTIN—Independent oil and gas producers believe a constitutional gas gathering tax can be written as at least a partial solution to the State's tax problems at the special session of the Texas Legislature. Meeting in Austin on Monday, the executive committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association reaffirmed its position that the production tax on oil and gas should not be increased. "Oil and gas producers already pay more than two-thirds of the state's business and property taxes," declared President M. D. Bryant of San Angelo. "If additional taxes are required from the natural gas industry, our studies indicate that they can be raised through a constitutional tax on gas gatherers, who so far have escaped their share of the gas tax burden."

The committee also adopted a resolution placing TIPO behind the principle of Congressional action clarifying exemption of gas producers from Federal Power Commission jurisdiction in the event the Supreme Court sustains federal regulatory authority in the pending Phillips case. The resolution, addressed to Senators Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel as well as all members of the Texas delegation to the House of Representatives, asked delay in passage of H. R. 9376 which would exempt only intra-state distribution. In event the Supreme Court should uphold extension of federal

Output Lags Despite Rise

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON, March 6 (AP)—Domestic crude oil production increased this week but still lags behind year-earlier levels. A 150,277 barrels a day hike in Texas allowable becomes effective Monday. American Petroleum Institute estimates for the week ending Feb. 28 placed United States output at 6,303,000 barrels a day, compared to 6,521,000 a year earlier. Stocks for three of the four principal refined products have adjusted themselves in recent weeks to fairly comfortable working levels. The exception is gasoline, which last week jumped to another record total of 178,170,000 barrels, 21-558,000 above year-earlier levels. Based on past history, gasoline can be expected to continue its climb another four weeks. Increased demand for spring and summer normally begins around April 1. Many oilmen, particularly among the independent operators, still are pressing for federal controls which would limit imports of foreign crude and products. There was a difference of opinion Feb. 19 when the Texas Railroad Commission met to set the March production allowances. Most oilmen present did not want a large March increase. Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, the commission chairman, repeated previous statements that Texas should produce in accordance with its share of proved reserves. Thompson said Texas has 51.7 per cent of crude reserves but in February was producing only 42 per cent of domestic output. He said Wyoming was the only other state producing less than its share. An oil industry publication this week cautioned its readers against a "growing fear" that a flood of surplus oil is developing. Warren L. Baker, editor of World Oil, said United States output has increased 2,000,000 barrels daily since 1945, compared to 4,000,000 for the rest of the world. "Much more oil will be needed in the future than at present," Baker said. "This may become the industry's salvation." Baker predicted United States consumption by 1959 will be 1,500,000 barrels daily above 1954. He predicted the comparative increase for the remainder of the world will be 1,250,000 barrels daily. "This will require the production of much larger quantities of oil," Baker said. "The gain in consumption may be sufficient to prevent any flood of oil from wrecking international markets."

Completions Drop Again

AUSTIN, March 6 (AP)—Texas oil well completions dropped again this week, but the yearly total remained well above the same period of 1953, the Railroad Commission reported today. Completions counted 179 compared with 230 last week. Total so far this year is 2,105 compared with 1,654 in the same period last year. Of the 179 new producers, 12 were wildcats. There were 48 new gas wells including three wildcats. Gas well completions for the year total 244 compared with 103 in the same months of 1953. In the dry hole category, there were 167 of them 89 were wildcats. authority over independent producers and gatherers. TIPO asked that the Hinshaw bill be amended to provide the same exemption for production and gathering as for intra-state distribution. The Hinshaw bill passed the House and is in committee in the Senate.

National 4-H Club Week

FOR HER DRESSER — Dresser scarf construction is Gwen Proctor's specialty. At left she is holding one that she will show in a county-wide exhibit of dresser scarves in May. Gwen is from the Gay Hill Club.

Big Spring Daily Herald

Sec. II Big Spring, Texas, Sunday, March 7, 1954 Society

WHAT TO SAY? — Jane Blissard (above), a member of the Lomax club, ponders a moment as she prepares a speech on "What Makes a Good Community?" She was prompted by the fact that Lomax is the only organized community in the county.

HOPE IT'S GOOD — Sherry Fuller, above left, and Claudette Moore are trying out a cream cheese icing for a cake which they will demonstrate as a dairy foods team. Sherry is a member of the Cloverleaf club and Claudette belongs to the Elbow club. This and other activities pictured on this page are just some of the work that goes on all year in Howard County 4-H clubs.

THE HARRY HOUSE FAMILY AND CORKY

Newcomers Give Home To Pups

Although they've been in Big Spring just a month, the Harry family has already played good Samaritan to two dogs. A toy collie was rescued from the city pound and a local veterinarian gave them a cuddly black and white part-cocker and part-water-spaniel. A family that's very much on the move, the Houses lean on hobbies and pets to keep them occupied since they're hardly in one town long enough to get acquainted. Mr. House is a chief driller presently contracted to Couden. Mrs. House has just taken up the hobby of building miniature hot-rod, and Mr. House relaxes by making model airplanes complete with motors. She also does textile painting that looks for all the world like embroidery.

The Houses jumped to extremes when they came to Texas. They were used to snow and 36 degree-below weather in their home at Nashua, Mont.

The Houses have two children, Sherry Lynn and Harry Leonard, who have already become bosom pals with the two new dogs.

NCO Wives To Meet

The NCO Wives' Club will meet Monday to elect officers at 7:30 p.m. at the NCO Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base. All members are urged to attend.

South Ward P-TA Hears Blankenship

"What Our School Taxes Provide" was the subject discussed by W. E. Blankenship at a meeting of South Ward P-TA Thursday.

Mrs. Eugene Rush's second grade gave the program.

A nominating committee was selected including Mrs. Dean Bennett, Mrs. Jack Cook and Mrs. L. R. Saunders. Mrs. Burt Sammons presided over the business session. It was announced that Mrs. Alice McCulloch, fourth grade teacher, had resigned because of moving out of town.

The second grade won the room count.

Girl Scout Week Starts Here Today

Beginning today the Girl Scouts of Howard County will join with more than two million other scouts in celebrating Girl Scout Week, March 7-13, and the 42nd anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

This will be the first time that this week has been observed in March, having been celebrated in October in previous years. By the vote of the Girl Scout national convention last fall, however, the dates of the week were changed to coincide with the annual celebration of the anniversary date on March 12.

Theme of the week will be "Know Your Neighbors - Know Your Nation." The seven-day observance will begin when troop members and their leaders attend church in uniform. During each day of the week, scout troops throughout the city will feature some activity typical of the Girl Scout program, such as homemaking, arts and crafts, citizenship, health and safety and international friendship.

Thirteen new members received their pins in investiture ceremonies for Girl Scout Troop No. 23 at the regular meeting recently.

There were 15 members and two guests who participated. Plans were made for working toward second class badges. Mrs. H. E. Bost was a guest at the session in the Kate Morrison School and Mrs. C. W. Henderson, leader, was in charge.

Mrs. E. A. Grissom Named Forsan Study Club Head

FORSAN - Mrs. E. A. Grissom was elected president of the Forsan Study Club at a meeting Thursday evening.

Other officers elected are Mrs. C. B. Long, vice president; Mrs. J. D. Dempsey, recording secretary; Mrs. H. H. Story, corresponding; Mrs. Sammy Porter, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Gressett, parliamentarian; Mrs. H. L. Nixon, historian; Mrs. B. P. Huchton, reporter and Mrs. C. V. Wash, federation chairman.

Friendship Day To Be Celebrated

A band of determined members of the M. Eleanor Brackenridge Club under the leadership of Mrs. Eric Schwartz, a native of Big Spring, have decided that in one year they will have a club in every state in the Union and in every country in the world. Their objective is friendship—friendship for individuals and among countries.

This Friendship Club was founded to honor the late M. Eleanor Brackenridge of San Antonio, who asked that her birthday March 7 be observed as "Friendship Day."

This year it will be celebrated in Holland, Germany, Greece, Cuba, Siam, The Philippines, Japan, Brazil and Mexico. Radio Station KBST will broadcast a recording made by the ambassador from Mexico, His Excellency, Senor Don Manuel Tello.

Mrs. Schwartz, who is the national president of these clubs, now lives in Washington D. C. She will be remembered in Big Spring as Annie Andrews, daughter of a pioneer attorney—one mentioned in "Big Spring," by Shine Phillips. Her son, who is now a doctor in Waco, was stationed at Webb Air Force Base as flight surgeon.

MRS. JAMES WILBUR LITTLE

Nancy Whitney Becomes Bride Of Lt. James Little In Church Rites

In a semi-formal ceremony, Nancy Ann Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitney, became the bride of Lt. James Wilbur Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Little, Saturday evening, at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony before an arch made of candles and tall baskets of white stock. The altar rail was banked with greenery, and candles were placed in the windows.

Mrs. L. G. Talley, organist, accompanied Joyce Howard as she sang "I Love Thee" and "Give Me Thy Hand." During the rites, Mrs. Talley played the "Lord's Prayer." She used the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white silk shantung with a decollete neckline and tiny sleeves. The basque bodice was buttoned down the back with small buttons. A voluminous skirt was defined with unpressed pleats and was worn over starched crinolines.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearls and crystal beads. She used the Bible of her grandmother, Mrs. Anna D. Whitney, topped with white gardenias.

For the traditional "something borrowed," she wore the veil of Mrs. Don Williams; her name was embroidered in blue inside her dress, and the Bible was the "something old." She wore a six pence in her shoe.

The maid of honor, Lynn Porter, wore a blue antique taffeta dress, made empire style. She wore dyed-to-match opera pumps and matching mitts. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of blue Dutch iris and daffodils. The bridesmaid, Pamela Brown, and junior bridesmaid, Beth Whitney, sister of the bride, wore identical dresses. All wore matching headbands made of small flowers and pearls.

Jack Little, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. George Oldham and Bud Whitney, brother of the bride, were ushers. They also acted as tapers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. In the receiving line were the parents of the bride and bridegroom and members of the wedding party. Members of the house party included Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. A. A. Porter, Mrs. J. W. Atkins, Mrs. B. E. Freeman, Mrs. Anna Whitney, and Mrs. J. W. Couch, of Balld.

The bride's table was laid with a white organdy cloth over a satin cloth, and centered with a silver bowl of white stock. Her colors were repeated with blue, white and yellow mints.

The three-tiered cake, which was a wedding gift, was served by Mrs. Don Williams and Mrs. Ike Robb. Punch was served by Mrs. Tom Alexander and Mrs. David H. Elliot of El Paso, sister of the groom. Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach, aunt of the bride, presided at the register.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. E. B. McBride and Molly Kay of Abilene; Lt. and Mrs. Jack Morris of Clovis, N. M.; Lt. Arthur Tucker of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. C.

STANTON (SC) — Walter Mantani will conduct the Midland Symphony Orchestra in a concert here Monday.

Under the auspices of the Stanton Music Club, Mrs. Don A. Gaddis, president, the orchestra is to be heard at 8:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Proceeds from the concert will go to the music department of Stanton schools.

The Midland Symphony group started in September 1952 with 15 members with a repertoire of chamber music. Today it has 43 members and a wide range from the masters to lighter composers.

Joyce Howard is general chairman for the concert. Assisting here are Mrs. Murry Byrd, Mrs. E. B. Coon and Mrs. John J. Wood. Arrangements: Mrs. Don A. Gaddis, Mrs. L. H. The conductor for the orchestra was selected last autumn from a field of 34 aspirants. With a background of training at Juillard School of Music in New York and eight years of student conducting under Fritz Mahler, the conductor of the Hartford Symphony, Mantani actually has had a score of years in directing and conducting.

Among selections on the Monday program here are:

Gavotte and Musette from John

WALTER MANTANI

Sebastian Bach's "Third English Suite"; Franz Schubert's "Symphony No. 8 in B Minor"; the ballet music from "Faust" by Charles Gounod; "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in A Minor," by Robert Schumann; the Russian Sailor's Dance from "The Red Poppy" by Reinhold Gilere.

There also will be selections from Sigmund Romberg's ever-popular "Student Prince." In the Schumann concerto, Lamar Chapman is to be guest piano soloist.

Tape Recording Is Heard By AAUW

A tape recording of a speech by John Clardi was the high spot of the program when the AAUW met in the home of Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs recently.

In his speech on "The Shock of Recognition," Mr. Clardi characterized art as "an expression of human personality. An armored and enclosed mind has no place for the arts," he said. "If nothing is accrued, nothing is acquired." Eight members were present.

D. Harris, of Roswell, N. M., and James A. Davis of Fort Worth.

The couple left for New Orleans, following the reception, and from there they will go to Camp Polk, La., where Lt. Little is stationed. They will be at home in Leesville, La. For traveling, the bride wore a linen suit of bluebonnet blue with navy accessories.

The bride who has been teaching in Roswell, N. M., was graduated from the Big Spring High School and from North Texas State Teachers College. She was a member of Chi Omega Sorority and the Green Jackets service organization. She was in Who's Who of American Universities and was a member of Meritum, a senior women's honorary society. Lt. Little has a degree from Texas A&M in architectural engineering.

Morgans In Mexico After Wedding

Mrs. Omega M. (Pat) Creighton became the bride of John Thomas (Jake) Morgan in an informal single ring ceremony Friday morning in the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Moore of Sunset. Mr. Morgan is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Morgan of Fort Worth.

Dr. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the rites before a mantel banked with pink and white stock. Larry Morgan was his father's best man.

For the ceremony, the bride wore a pastel pink suit of imported linen. The collar and cuffs were embroidered with pink pearls and rhinestones. A pastel pink hat and gloves with navy shoes completed the ensemble. Her corsage was an orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a trip to Monterey and Mexico City. For traveling, the bride wore a brown linen suit with brown lizard accessories.

The couple will be at home at 1018 Ridgeroad Dr.

Give Child The Right Start In His Reading

By ANNE LaFEVER

Never has the old saying, "As the twig is bent, the tree is inclined" been more appropriate than in the field of children's reading. The sooner a child is brought into contact with books, either through handling them or having them read to him, the more at home he will feel with them.

If he is started off with the higher class of literature, the chances are that he will continue to read that kind and like it. This doesn't mean to introduce him to the classics as soon as he is interested in having books read to him. There are many little books that are on a child's level that will give him the right beginning.

Children of nursery school age, from about 3 to 4 years of age, like stories about familiar objects and familiar living things. Stories of other children and of animals appeal to them, and it is at this age that boys and girls like the same kind of books and stories.

Wiggles and rhymes have a fascination for these youngsters, and before they know it, they have memorized the ones that have the most appeal to them. A very small child will often be able to "read" his book of nursery rhymes all the way through—even holding it upside down at times!

The love of action and true-to-life stories is carried over from this age into the kindergarten and first grade, and the child will like tales about fairies and animals that talk and act like humans.

Since his attention can be held for a longer period of time than before, he will listen as longer stories are read or told to him. He will enjoy the rhymes and the little songs that go with some of the stories, and illustrations will have a strong appeal to him.

As children go from the first to the second and third grades, books fall into two classes. They are the books which the child can read himself and the ones that must be read to him. The books which he is to read should be short and well-illustrated.

Fairy tales mean more to this age group, and it is at this time that they can remember from day to day. For this reason, continued stories can be read to them. You will notice an increased interest in life in other lands and also in the more simple books of natural sciences.

At the fourth, fifth and sixth grade levels, the sex difference begins to show in the reading habits of the boys and girls. Boys very quickly leave the imaginative world and show a liking for adventure tales with quite a bit of excitement and action. Girls, on the other hand, cling to the world of fantasy until they are at the sixth grade age.

This is the time when boys begin to read science fiction, while girls care nothing for it, preferring light love stories instead. Both groups will read comic books, usually as a sociable pastime.

Here is the right spot to bring in material that is so interesting and at the same time of such a high quality, that there is little time to spend on this lighter fiction. Boys will read biographies if they are about men who have accomplished things. Girls will read biographies of women who have made a success in life.

While boys are reading more informational books at this time, girls will read the "series books" about girls in boarding schools, in camps, on ranches or having adventures in various places.

As the child approaches junior high level, his reading will near peak ability. Both boys and girls will be interested in almost everything, and the more intelligent the child is, the more interests he or she will have.

Boys will like reading material about noble heroes—Robin Hood, for example, and legendary heroes, since this is the age of hero-worship. He will read more from magazines, and this age should be furnished with plenty of higher class magazines at this time.

Girls, too, will enjoy magazines, now, but they will be the women's magazines. They will also be interested in adult fiction, preferring the love stories, even though they are still reading stories about girls in school—college girls by this time.

An interest in romantic poetry will manifest itself among the girls, maybe with some efforts at writing poetry. By all means encourage any attempts along this line. You may have another Elizabeth Barrett Browning in your family!

For slow readers, there are books with simple language and many pictures. There are new type history books and geography books that are proving popular with both boys and girls. These are useful in the fields of English and for recreational reading, too. Some students like to browse through encyclopedias and other reference books.

But, whatever the preference—as long as it is for worth while reading material, encourage it in every way possible.

Mrs. Fred Stephens has just returned from Pomona, Calif., where she spent three weeks visiting her brother, J. V. Hanson, and Mr. Hanson.

HI--TALK

By Libby Jones

Congratulations to the volleyball girls on winning their ninth annual tournament held last weekend. The Steerettes defeated the Lamesa team in the championship bout. Four of the girls were elected to the all-tournament team. All journey set-ups were Jan Burns and Anna Mae Thorp. Spikers chosen were Bernice Bice and Louise Burchett.

The Big Spring Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs really walked off with the honors at the spring convention held in Lubbock last weekend. Glenn Rogers, Hi-Y vice president, was elected to the office of district president. The Hi-Y scrapbook, prepared by Wade Simpson, won first place in the scrapbook contest and the boys' club also received an "AA" honor club rating for work done in the club this year. The Tri-Hi-Y received an "A" honor club rating and the girls' swimming team, composed of Nancy Smith, Jane Reynolds and Tommie Jo Williamson, won first place in the swimming contest.

The senior student council members and senior class officers were the guests of the Forsan senior class Monday. The event was "Senior Day" and seniors from several of the neighboring schools were present. The program consisted of several speeches on such topics as "What We Look For in Our Employees," by R. L. Tollett; "Military Service As a Career," by Col. Fred Dean; "Finance and Credit," by Horace Garrett; "You and Your Health," by Dr. F. W. Malone; "Going to College," by Dr. W. A. Hunt and a traffic safety demonstration by the State Highway Dept. Those from Big Spring High who attended were Joyce Anderson, Kay Bonfield, Anne Gray, Libby Jones, Janice Anderson, Nina Fryar, Bill Earley, Jimmy Porter, Robert Angel and Roger Brown.

Sunday morning six of the FFA boys and their sponsor, Mr. Vines, left for Abilene to attend a livestock show. The boys taking lambs to this show were Melvin Daniels, Billy McIlvain, Jim Dameron, Johnny Burns, Ben Faulkner and Ronnie Allen.

An assembly was held Thursday morning and the students were given a preview of the Lion's Club Minutrel. Another highlight of the assembly was the speech given by Dr. W. A. Hunt on the subject of colleges. The play cast for "Arsenic and Old Lace" is coming along fine in its rehearsals, which are held Monday through Thursday nights from 7 until 10. The play should be a polished production by April 1 and 2, at which time it will be presented.

MARY ELLA BIGONY

Mrs. John Kolar gave the lesson for the Ladies Missionary Society of the First Church of God when they met in her home recently. She reviewed the second chapter, "Life Task Around the World" from the study book, "Where'er the Sun," by Samuel H. Moffett. Mrs. A. L. Holley gave the devotion and Mrs. Minnie Black offered a prayer.

Mary Ella Bigony, our senior-of-the-week, has been a tribute to the school. She is president of the Shortland Club, reporter for the Majors Club and perhaps one of her biggest jobs this year is serving as associate editor of "The Corral," the school newspaper. Last year, Mary Ella was the junior class nominee for Ranch Week queen. Her plans for next year are to attend McMurry College in Abilene.

Timely Tips

The homemaker will get more for her money by planning meals in advance. Menus should be flexible enough, however, to make use of leftovers easy. Use little "glamour" touches, such as green pepper rings, paprika, parsley, and sliced hard cooked eggs to make simple, inexpensive dishes something extra special.

Denton Boy Choir Set For Concert Thursday

The Denton Civic Boy Choir will appear in concert here Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Municipal Auditorium under the auspices of the Big Spring Concert Association. Members of the choir are a select group of lads ranging in age from nine to 15 years, from the city of Denton. Actually there are about 50 boys in the choir. From this number 21 are selected for membership in the touring concert choir.

George Bragg is director of the choir. He has studied with many eminent choral directors of both America and Europe. He is now working toward someday having the first boy choir school in the Southwest. The little boys dressed in their burgundy coats and gray trousers and crisp white shirts promise to be an unforgettable sight. During the past eight years the choir has filled nearly 500 engagements on Lyceum and College Artist Series throughout the United States. Within the past year it has traveled over 25,000 miles through 25 states, appeared over major radio networks, including a nationwide broadcast over NBC and has appeared on numerous television programs over the country, including a recent appearance on the Dumont TV Network in New York City.

The program will include "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach; "Stabat Mater" by Pergolesi; "Gloria from Imperial Mass" by Haydn; "Twenty-Third Psalm" by Schubert; "Vergine Madre from Quattro Pezzi Sacri" by Verdi; "Four Peasant Songs" by Stravinsky and "A Ceremony of Carols" by Britten.

A Bible Thought For Today—

"Behold he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he has gone to possess it." — I Kings 21:20. King Ahab was a covetous tyrant, but Elijah the prophet had the courage to risk his life to denounce his king for his miserable selfishness. We should honor men with courage to denounce wrong in high places.

Let's Use Opportunity To Make New Arteries Attractive Ones

Both the City and County are nearing the place where they can look back on the completion of a tough job—the acquisition of roadway for Fourth Street both inside and outside of the corporate limits.

Although this has been a long and difficult project, the important thing is that success is within grasp now. Together, the two agencies will have expended something like $100,000 in meeting requirements of the State Highway Department.

In return, the State Highway Department is prepared to let contracts for approximately half a million dollars in improvements to the street. This will have the effect of converting U. S. 80 into a freeway from immediately west of town to a point beyond Cosden.

Property owners along the way will be privileged to erect whatever character of improvements they choose, with the possible exception of those inside the city limits. Here there is a chance of some semblance of order and taste in the erection of businesses and other structures adjacent to the Fourth Street leg due to zoning.

Our appeal is to these property owners to not be in such haste that they will clutter the adjoining line with flimsy, cheap, trashy and ugly structures. We counsel with them to consider that more substantial character of construction will enhance values and at the same time leave the freeway with the appearance of the great thoroughfare that it will be.

Now would be a propitious moment for the city to re-examine its zoning codes to make sure that the areas now zoned are adequate to control Fourth Street in its new role. Perhaps only minor changes would be indicated, for the original commission exercised a degree of foresightedness in embracing most of this area at the outset.

And while at it, due consideration should be given to E. 2nd Street, which is to be opened all the way from its present terminus at State all the way to Birdwell Lane. One of the prime requisites here might well be the elimination of unhandy and possibly unsafe bends before the street actually is opened.

Other highway entrances have more or less happened; let's make the most of this opportunity to come out of the present change with attractive as well as useful approaches and arteries.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippmann

McCarthy Hasn't Caught Spies, And It's Unlikely That He Will

If Congressional investigations in the field of security had not become so debauched by demagoguery, the country would now be looking to Congress for guidance after this second outbreak of terrorism. The shooting in the House of Representatives and the murderous attempt to assassinate President Truman were the work of the same group, and apparently of the same band, of Puerto Rican Nationalists.

The woman, who seems to have been the leader in Monday's shooting, had been spotted as a dangerous character and the intention was to watch her. But the watch was obviously inadequate. A serious and competent Congressional Committee would certainly wish to find out whether the failure to keep a successful watch on her was due to the fact that the FBI is overworked and has more to do than that.

It is just possible that the time and the energy spent on investigating crackpot charges against the Chief Justice and the political wild oats of school teachers, might better have been spent watching Mrs. Lebron.

But whatever a serious investigation would show, it must be recognized that it could never show a way to provide perfect protection against a terrorist who is willing, as were Mrs. Lebron and her band, to die in the attempt.

The failure of the attempts to assassinate Hitler illustrates the rule clearly. Nazi Germany was an extreme police state, honeycombed with secret services, equipped with every device for the detection and suppression of Hitler's enemies. Yet men who wished to kill Hitler were able to enter the same room with him and stand a few feet from him. Though he was surrounded with guards, he was not perfectly guarded. Yet they failed to assassinate him. Why? Because those who had the opportunity were not willing to die in the attempt.

Against those who are, there is, as our own experience with assassination and with near misses shows, no impenetrable protection. This is one of the hazards of public life. The best one can say is that when the police have done their utmost, there will still be occasional breakthroughs. Things are different in some parts of the world where assassination is a regular practice. But here these outbreaks of terrorism may be regarded as accidents—against which there are precautions but no absolute guarantees—rather than as symptoms of organic disease.

As we think about the problem of dealing with the dedicated terrorist who expects to die in the attempt, we may go on to reflect a bit on the different but related problem of countering espionage. The essence of the problem is that the Business Outlook—J. A. Livingston

Argument Over Proposals For Boosting Economy Due To Be Settled By Politics

WASHINGTON — "We cannot fatten the herd by feeding the bulls." Thus, the Democratic members of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report took issue with what they called President Eisenhower's "trickle-down" theory of economic revival.

The Democrats want to fatten every one. Specifically, Sen. Walter F. George, of Georgia, has suggested increasing personal tax exemption a rise from $600 to $700 would mean a minimum of $80 a year more spending power to a married man with two children.

That money, argue the Democrats, would all be spent. It wouldn't be hoarded. It would increase sales. It would lead to industrial revival. And what they don't say, publicly, is that it's good politics.

To the administration, it's poor economics. It's an emergency approach, useful when business morale is shot, when employment is way down, and when a depression psychology prevails. It's the method of 1930-33—a gross anachronism in March, 1954.

To President Eisenhower's economic aides, business is still healthy. Nothing has happened to suggest that the decline has been gathering momentum. They don't want to remedy a situation that is likely to remedy itself. They still consider this an inventory adjustment, a common business cold, which doesn't call for an oxygen tent. They want to let business rather than government generate increased purchasing power.

So, they're in favor of a tax program which will foster long-term economic growth, which will encourage the railroads, public utilities, and industrial companies to spend money. The argument runs like this:

A business firm which improves or expands its plant or equipment to keep pace with its competitors, or which introduces a new product, provides purchasing power just as effectively as a tax abatement to consumers. In one case, the purchasing power comes from payrolls—from production; in the other, from government deficits.

Furthermore, expenditures on new plant and equipment do not result in an immediate increase in the supply of consumer goods. Yet, all the while, money is paid out to workers, consumers. So, demand is stimulated before supply. Thus, new investment creates its own market.

On this theory, the administration has proposed, (1) more liberal depreciation allowances on plant and equipment, (2) a two-year carryback of business losses instead of one, (3) a reduction in double taxation of dividends so as to make it easier for corporations to float new issues of preferred and common stocks.

To benefit from fast depreciation, a company must put up a new plant or buy new equipment. To utilize the loss carryback, a company must have taken some risk. The administration argues that it isn't handling the business man any cold cash. It's giving him a chance to make some cash by taking risks.

The Democrats have a Keynesian answer. They say, "Agreed, these taxes encourage expansion. But who wants to expand when business is declining. In the week ended February 27, department store sales fell 3 per cent from a year ago. In January, Sears, Roebuck & Co. sales were off 11 per cent. Business men won't take risks in a shrinking market. To stop the shrink, you must feed the herd."

The argument is likely to be settled by politics. The House Ways and Means Committee has voted sweeping reductions in manufacturers' excise taxes, even as Eisenhower indicated disapproval. At the same time, Sen. George says he'll tack on an amendment for increased exemptions.

Thus, the administration proposes and Congress disposes. Republicans and Democrats alike will vie for votes in November. Each side wants to be the consumer's, the taxpayer's, friend. That explains the bulls in Wall Street. They figure that they and everyone else will be fed—with inflation.

As a result, stock prices climbed to a new high just as steel operations dropped to 70 per cent of capacity. Steel production isn't supposed to go down in March. A steel upturn is as much a harbinger of spring as baseball bats, crocuses, and lassitudinous fevers.

That, incidentally, is why March is such a crucial month in judging the business outlook. If business doesn't improve, if employment doesn't increase, then it would suggest that this is more than a common "business" cold—more than a case of simple inventory congestion.

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

If They Discover More Moons, Human Being Will Ruin Them

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

News item says the science boys are now out looking for a bunch of little moons which would serve as way-stations on the way to the big moon.

On the face of it, this sounds all right. I had always thought, from my school days, that all the planets and the satellites had been isolated, identified and put in their proper places.

Besides, the discovery of the stepping stones on the freeway into outer space would be bound to lead to complications. Just say, for example, that we found four of them. Normally, they would be platforms to launch missiles, either missiles back at the poor old earth, or space ships on toward the next way-station.

Can you imagine what would happen just as soon as Yankee enterprise took over the development of one of these little moons? We'd have to name them, of course, and we might as well turn to the signs of the zodiac for this. Say we had a Libra, a Scorpio, an Aquarius and a Sagittarius.

First thing you know, Scorpio would establish a Chamber of Commerce, and this organization would be out to hallyhoop all the earthlings to come up and spend the summer amidst the sheer beauties of the heavenly stratosphere. There would, no doubt, even be hermetically-sealed hotel rooms for those suffering from sinusitis and asthma, so that the change in climate would do no harm.

About the time the Scorpio C-C got going, the Sagittarians would get together a Board of City Development to extol their own isle's virtues and belittle those of the neighboring satellite. Both way-stations would promptly begin to compete for space in the Moon-Day Sun, or whatever the paper is, and would have helmeted press agents dashing around in their coveralls taking pictures of the island beauties so that they could get these distributed.

The way-station of Libra would model itself after Texas, no doubt, since it probably would be the biggest of the space islands. The Librans (no kin to the TV pianist) would immediately start telling big whoopers on the glories of their way-station, to the utter disgust of citizens of all other points. They would demand proprietary rights to all air-lands within a distance of 3,000 miles in every direction (on account of the rich meteorite dust in the air) and defy all-comers to take away title. All this would serve to make Libra so lusty and gusty and so darned far above its neighbors in importance that they would be jealous, and all Moonlings would have to be very careful not to start an inter-terrestrial war.

What would happen is that Scorpio would apply to become the 51st state in the U. S. and this would touch off a bunch of politicking by all islands to come within the scope of our social security.

This would create a crisis in Washington, because the Southern Democrats would not want any more representation from distant, benighted places, and likely would resist in overthrow of the administration.

Drought conditions would inevitably exist on a couple of the islands, and the natives would dream up a project to bring water in from another way-station. This would be done by a series of re-fueling operations, planes passing the water along just like a space-bucket brigade.

This would mean more taxes, and when the Moonlings got taxes, they would start evading them, which would call for penitentiaries.

The more I think of it, the more I believe we had better let the little moons alone. They are probably doing very well, thank you, without a bunch of human beings messing things up.

Return Of Cop On The Beat May Help Solve Crime Problem

J. Edgar Hoover, year by year, calls attention to the increase of juvenile delinquency and his statements fall on dullened ears. Nobody does much about it, perhaps because this country is becoming accustomed to crime. In fact, crime has become a principal form of amusement.

Frank Hogan, District Attorney of New York County, apparently assumes that he will lessen this interest in crime by withholding news in advance of trials. Actually, he will succeed only in heightening interest in crime because suppressed always whets the appetite. He jerked a poor subject for a test of censorship, the murder of the Bodenheims, which, while gruesome, produced no sustaining excitement. To most, Max Bodenheim was just a funny looking drunk and his alleged, if you please, murderer a poor sap.

What with murder a daily fare on the air, the private-eye story being a substitute for the tiresome soap opera and a means to avoid controversy, with many toys imitations of murderous weapons, with comics for children emphasizing murder, it is not surprising that crime is increasingly fashionable and that young boys create their heroes before boy-crazy teen-agers as was done in other periods when the man who killed rode on a horse, while the man of peace was an object of ridicule.

Here in New York, we are going through a police revolution which may die on the vine as such things often do or which may bring about a startling change of attitude toward crime. We have a new mayor who may produce a better-policed and a cleaner city or who may weary of the effort because of lack of interest among the citizens who usually like to complain but rarely support an effort to correct the things complained about. If given half a chance, this police revolution can do much to lessen crime in this big city and perhaps set an example for the country.

Robert A. Wagner, the new mayor, is a difficult man to understand because his training has been in Tammany Hall. Before becoming mayor, not too much was expected of him. In fact, it looked as though we were in for another Tammany regime, not as colorful as that of Jimmy Walker or Bill O'Dwyer, but more honest.

When it came to making appointments, however, Robert Wagner hit the city a wallop. He appointed a set of unusually competent men without regard to political affiliations. And as police commissioner, he appointed a complete outsider, Francis W. H. Adams, a man without police experience but who has studied police problems since the days when he was in the Department of Justice. He hates crime like a G-man.

Adams established it on the very first day that he went to work that he expected the police force to be a disciplined organization, responsible for the peace of the city and the suppression of crime.

That meant putting the policeman back on the beat, a walking policeman who will know the storekeepers and the janitors and the children who play on the sidewalks. It means watching a kid grown into a fierce pup and stopping the process before a jail sentence becomes inevitable. It means getting wise to marijuana and heroin pushers and catching up with them before a murder is committed. It means a humane understanding of all the complex problems of a big city and catching them on the beat, which is where they express themselves first.

Confident Living—Norman Vincent Peale

Any Situation Can End Happily If You Follow The Right Path

I sat one day in the office of the owner of a great store. Filled with splendid merchandise this store justifies its fine reputation. And the history of the man who built it is the romantic old American story. I asked him to tell me what he thought were the reasons for his accomplishments, starting with literally nothing and achieving such outstanding results.

He thought for only a moment. Then he said: "God, my wife Helen, America and hard work. That's it in a nutshell."

He went on to illustrate the points he had made by telling me that he had come to that city with "twenty-five cents in my pocket and my bride by my side."

Both of them put in long hours of hard work and, in a few years, in partnership with another man, were able to open a shop of their own. Unfortunately, the partnership didn't work out, circumstances made things even worse, and eventually they lost the store.

"I found myself on the streets of this city one more," he told me. "But this time I was a little ahead of the game. I had a thousand dollars left, the same wife, more experience, faith in God, myself, and in these United States. I just started in and went to work again."

"There is a passage in the Bible," he continued, "that helped me no end in that trying situation. It is, 'In your patience possess ye your souls.' If you've got a lot of faith, some real spiritual experience and enough understanding so that you don't get upset or lose your head, and if you practice patience and keep up your courage, and put your mind in God, you can solve any situation."

This man then gave me the phrase I use as the theme of this column. "I discovered," he said, "that you can find a happy outcome to any trying situation, provided you go at it in the right way."

What he said and the way he said it fascinated me and has been in my mind ever since. So many people come to me about various difficulties, in which they find themselves and they ask, "What is the right way to meet a trying situation?"

The first thing is to hold in mind the conviction that there can be and will be a happy outcome to every trying situation, even yours. Believe that there are creative values in any trying set of circumstances. It may sound trite, but it's true that, "Every cloud has a silver lining," if you believe it and look for it. It is all too easy to concentrate on the darkness and gloom. But the wise thing is to search hopefully in the shadows for any possible gleam of light that may be there.

I have said this many times, and I say it again now: If you will look with a positive, open-eyed, optimistic approach into any situation, you will find a glint of light; you will find hopeful possibilities.

The second point is simply to do what you think is the right thing to do. You can never go wrong doing right. No one ever has. You only get wrong results when you do wrong things. So in a trying situation don't make the mistake of doing a wrong thing, and to know what is right practice calmness and pray, then be honest with yourself and you will get the right answer. "In your patience, possess ye your souls."

And that leads to the third rule. When you get into a situation that is trying, baffling, bewildering and discouraging, ask for God's guidance. Ask God to show you what to do and how to do it. Then think and study and work hard. In other words, do your best, and God will do His best, and what do you need more than that? This is the effective way to meet a trying situation.

HERITAGE DAYS

By MILLARD COPE

Sam Houston, as commander of the Texan army, began on March 7 the long march destined to end in glory at San Jacinto.

After delivering a farewell address to the convention at Washington-on-the-Brazos, Houston left on horseback to head Texan troops. His destination was Gonzales and from there he hoped to hasten to relief of those besieged in the Alamo.

"REMEMBER THE ALAMO" It was ironical that the Alamo and its defenders had fallen before Houston started his march, but the name of the embattled mission was to become the rallying battle cry for his victorious Texans at San Jacinto.

Eshewere, Texans were seeking aid. Unmindful that the colony he had established had declared its independence, Stephen F. Austin was in Louisville.

AUSTIN SEEKS AID There "Father of Texas" learned that his long services in Texas, his known truthfulness, and his simplicity of character gave great weight to his appeal.

Austin's address in Louisville, on the same day Houston left for Gonzales, was widely published. In a masterful address, Austin presented claims of Texas upon aid. Subsequent response attested to its effectiveness.

A REPUBLIC IS BORN In Texas, delegates to the convention at Washington-on-the-Brazos sought to organize a provisional government to meet the Mexican invasion and preserve order until voters could approve a constitution.

Defense was the biggest problem of debate, condition of the army was discussed, a flag was to be selected, and committees on american designer's pattern

by Anne Fogarty

PRINCESS SILHOUETTE

Tiny Gores Mold Waist To Almost Nothingness

Anne Fogarty, single-handedly, has done more to shape the look for spring '54 than almost any other designer on either side of the ocean. Her dress pattern today eloquently proclaims in all its fine lines the reason for this prominent leadership. Principally, it's because American women just plain love what dresses by Fogarty do for their figures and other designers and manufacturers have been quick to climb on her band wagon with more of these exaggerated princess silhouettes.

Right now, there isn't a well-dressed window display in the country that doesn't spotlight them, but Fogarty still stands alone in her clever method of molding a waist down to nothingness with tiny gores that widen out to an enormously full skirt (petticoats in abundance are indicated).

In addition to the midriff going, Fogarty uses a little but very important extra tuck that gives the wearer a highpointed bosom and in general a rather remarkable bust line.

Make it any fabric that suits your fancy for they all work up beautifully whether it be sheer wool, faille, taffeta, pique, linen and so on through the yard goods department.

Size 9, bust 32 1/2, waist 23 1/2, hips 33 1/2; size 11, bust 33 1/2, waist 24 1/2, hips 34 1/2; size 13, bust 35, waist 26, hips 36; size 15, bust 36 1/2, waist 27 1/2, hips 37 1/2; size 17, bust 38, waist 29, hips 39.

Size 11 requires 5 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for dress, and 1/2 yard of 36-inch material for contrast. To order pattern 1163, address Spadesa Syndicate Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. B-5, G. P. You're Off Base With Brown Only

Lots of men harbor a mistaken idea that brown shoes go with everything. Taint so!

The current fashion for suits of light navy in flannels and tropical weights for spring and summer wear is a case in point. The man who wears them with his neatly polished shoes of tan or brown is completely off base. Black shoes, if you like blue suits, even if it means an extra pair. And the new navy shoe is permissible, also.

Other don'ts include the wearing of real loafers for business as well as sports. Slip-ons, yes. Loafers in the accepted sense, no.

In other words, elaborate buckle treatments, tassels, handstitching in rugged leisure types are distinctly off base with your neatly tailored office suit. If you like the shoe this spring there are dozens of smart correct patterns to choose from.

These are styled like orthodox dress shoe fashions with the added attraction of trim look, no lacing bother. Popular fashions include the plain tip, the U vamp and even in some cases the straight and wing tip. They are usually high on the instep, with elasticized going with no trim.

Soft little fashion Wonder

Buckle them on, walk easy and gather glances of admiration as you dance through summer in these peak-vamp flats that wear a strap curving across your foot. They boast as much comfort as fashion—so what more could you want? Rich white leather. Only

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Ann Miller Advises Being Well-Groomed

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Ann Miller is one of the best dressed girls on and off the screen and she never allows herself to step a foot out of the house without being perfectly groomed.

"Glamour is nothing more than a habit," Ann told me as we lunched recently at Romanoff's in Beverly Hills.

"What is your definition of glamour?" I asked.

"Basically it comes from within," she said. "It is your expression and the way you carry yourself — everything radiating with poise and confidence."

"Most girls confuse wearing a lot of make-up with glamour," Ann added. "But the real secret is to use it so naturally that your beau doesn't know what you have done to your face."

Ann ordered her favorite dish, crepe a la reine, before she added: "Being scrupulously clean and neat, having a good posture and knowing how to dress yourself is also an important part of glamour."

"It's also a know-how," I remarked. "Some people call it the movie-star-look."

In a properly fitted shoe there should be space in the toe to allow for elongation of the foot while in motion to permit toes to function without restraint or pressure.

Whereas once the tiny foot was fashionable today's styles approve length and slenderness for our taller, and healthier women.

Stocking Length

The foot of stocking should be long enough to extend possibly an inch beyond the longest toe for more comfort and better fit of shoes.

"First you have to have a good complexion so you have to be sure you go to bed with a clean skin," Ann explained. "In the morning I wash my face again and splash it with lots of cold water."

ter and then use a lotion which gives a moist feeling to my skin and makes my make-up go on evenly.

"I don't think you can use a lot of corrective make-up without it showing but if you have dark circles under your eyes, pat on a little cream make-up to conceal this blueness."

"Next I dot cream rouge on the high spots of my cheeks and blend this in. I much prefer cream type because it gives a more natural effect. I think using the right puff is also important—I like an inexpensive one that is smooth as velvet. And I throw it away as soon as it becomes soiled."

"Work with your face close to a mirror, in a good light, so that you know what you are doing," Ann advised.

"Next I brush my eyebrows smooth and with a pencil fill them out lightly but always following my own line," Ann went on. "If you use a sharp point on your pencil you can do this so skillfully it looks natural."

"For a glamour date I think it's fun to use artificial eyelashes. But you have to shape these exactly to your own eyes. Cut out every other lash so that they will fit in with your own lashes, and if they are too long shorten them, otherwise they look too heavy and unreal. Practice at home before you try to wear them out. Get a tube of liquid adhesive—it's the only satisfactory way of putting them on. And if anyone knows that you have filled out your own lashes with artificial ones, you don't have them on right."

I noticed that despite the fact Ann had eaten green salad dripping with dressing her mouth was beautifully in tact.

"The secret," Ann confided, "is to set your lipstick with something to help make it indelible."

"Isn't this drying?" I asked. "Not one bit. And it will never run, no matter how creamy a stick you use. But for a clear outline you should use a brush. "But," Ann reminded me, "I haven't finished with the eyes."

"Use mascara with a reasonably dry brush on the tips of your lashes because they are usually light, and a little eye shadow in a color that is basic for you."

In addition to your face, Ann advises that you check on every detail of grooming. With sheer hose you have to have clean shaven legs and smooth heels, she explained.

"Then I like to use a lotion all over my body as soon as I get out of the bath," Ann added. "Now let me see what have I forgotten. Oh, yes. Always keep your teeth clean and be sure you have a fragrant breath."

"How about perfume?" I asked. "Do you have a favorite?" "That's my hobby," she told me. "I collect it. I think perfume makes a perfect finishing touch for glamour."

Casual Shoes To Be Vivid

Yes, men can go all out for a splash of color in these weekend casuals. In addition to color, from seafoam to grey and navy, with bright shades thrown in, manufacturers for shoes for the male in all price ranges are making clever use of detailing to give these leisure-time shoes a fresh new look for spring and summer.

For example take a new version of the ghillie tie with thong lace in tan shag leather with bright red crepe rubber sole. Or a similar type in bright yellow glove leather with instep buckle strap and platform crepe sole.

Yellow promises to be a popular favorite for the sports shoe. A slip-on of soft yellow glove leather with navy trim has a strip of goring on each side for fit and a cushion sole for comfort.

Grey has become a high fashion color in men's casual shoes, alone or in combinations. A grey shrunken grain leather is combined with navy suede in a smart handstitched six-eyelet oxford for country wear.

Seafoam, the new pale tint follows the trend for lighter foot wear for both men and women. This is used in all-over effects or in combinations. As for instance, a two-eyelet plain toe blucher of seafoam soft leather with bright navy trim and synthetic crepe sole.

Supplementing the vogue for high shades is the current fashion for black and white in men's sports shoes. This includes the all-white shoe, the all-black shoe and the one that combines both, as for instance, a white buck oxford with platform, lacing and collar of black.

The New In Shoes For Spring '54

Victor Melling's Store for Men & Boys

The Big Spring Herald

Fabrics Are Starring In Shoe Styles

The great trend toward lighter more delicate footwear gives added interest to straw and fabric shoes for warm weather wear.

Linen has been with us a long time. But women continue to like it especially in the classic pump or sandal which may be dyed to match any costume. It's not at all unusual for a woman to order three or four pairs and have them keyed to her late spring, and summer outfits.

Watch for the new nautarium shades, a hot orange, a sun yellow, a stem green, white, natural, pastels or prints.

The real news in linen, in the more expensive brackets, is a handsome texture, all-over embroidered with small flowers and leaves. Smartest color in this, a pale sand beige with white embroidery—literally a go-with-everything shoe.

This same color scheme shows up in another shoe fabric—a finely ribbed cotton in greige with narrow white stripes about a half inch apart. Very modern in feeling, very slenderizing on the foot.

Imported straws and straw braids, in natural color alone or combined with brilliant shades continue to be used for patio and play wear.

More practical for day long use are the shoes made of straw cloth woven of rayon yarn imported from Switzerland. They are smooth, or in simulated straw weave. They are sturdy and hold their shape and they come in white, natural and a wide variety of charming colors.

Favorites again are the white and natural, often combined with bright red or pale tan polished leather trim. For early wear they may be had in black, bright red and navy. Some of these straw cloths are brilliantly embroidered, very attractive in sandal types.

Paisley prints have staged a big comeback in dresses and blouses, and they make some of the most striking shoes for warm weather wear. Leather trim often picks up a color in the print—bright red or green, vivid yellow or royal blue. Prints in the brown and beige family are especially smart with trim of neutral brown leather.

Meshes aren't news, but women will wear them—and wear them early, in black and navy with Easter and early spring outfits. The news is in the patterns which are lazier, more elaborate, used to give a delicate air to shoes of suede, smooth leather or patent.

For casual shoes there's a new two-tone knitted nylon mesh with closely woven pattern in white, with black brown or navy. Combined with matching leathers it goes well with sports clothes.

Another early comer for town is the shoe of shantung combined with leather. This fabric, so popular in spring suits and dresses has finally been made firm enough to stand the wear and tear of footwear.

The Toe's The Thing This Season

This season, in the smartest women's shoe fashions, the toe's the thing!

With skirts definitely shorter, 34 inches the accepted length and the more adventurous going to fifteen and sixteen, the toe becomes the focal point of the whole costume.

Sometimes the fact that it isn't there at all makes the shoe outstanding. No more peep-hole shoes for an ungainly big toe to peek through.

In the smartest open models, the whole front of the vamp is sliced off, in straight, curved or asymmetric line, to reveal all five toes through the gauze of a nylon stocking.

The needlepoint Spanish toe continues as an attention getter. On some looks good. On others, not! If the foot tends to be broad, the half of the foot is extended. With high curved heel and sharp triangle toe, the effect is not what the wearer had in mind.

Or there is the new asymmetric treatment of the T strap, which draws the eye up the instep to a slender ankle strap. The T strap crosses and holds the three vamp straps, set aside.

For summer cocktail and party wear, rhinestones and pearls sparkle on the vamp of an open-toe ankle strap sandal with very high Spanish heel.

In general, the long slim last with taper but not needlepoint vamp is the most popular as it is the most flattering shoe fashion for spring. It's strictly in line with the current silhouette—no sharp angles, gentle curves, softly feminine lines in suits and dresses.

The tapered square toe, at first a very limited fashion, is gaining in acceptance. In polished leathers it is particularly smart and suitable for flannels, tweeds and spring tailored fashions in general.

As the season advances, the slender square-toes can do spring-into-summer service in the pale aniline tones.

And speaking of toes, big bows promise to return. Again, look to your foot.

On a small foot the butterfly bow can be piquant, provocative. On the large foot it's a stopper all right, but hardly in the fashion sense. Catons, flat bows and pings for these.

Related to the big bow is the current fashion for large handsome ornaments on the vamp of open sandals.

Again something to call attention to a pretty foot and a slim ankle, to make the shoe a real feature of the costume.

Casuals Play Star Role Among The New In Shoes

You'll never stop with one pair of the casual shoes that are putting in their appearance for spring and summer indoor and outdoor wear.

Bright shining stars of footwear design, they make the simplest costume a conversation piece.

"Imagination Unlimited" is their motto. Fantastic combinations. New materials and colors.

Best of all, good sound construction with leather soles, spectro heels, some with rubber inserts, a shoe that feels wonderful on your foot and will do with considerable wear and tear as well.

Black, bright red, navy and white and natural are basic colors. In addition to these, brown and deep charcoal are favorites. And luscious pastels include the newly smart turquoise, avocado green, bright yellow, watermelon or paler pinks, sun yellow and orange.

Such bread and butter fabrics as good old denim have been shined up with frosted beads and spray embroidery to take a front row in foot fashions. Sateen is another sturdy fabric, now glamorized for patio or party wear.

Startling contrasts are in order, such as shag suedes bedewed with sparkling rhinestones. Silk shantung and linen, smart with your dress-up separates, also go in heavily for jeweled trim. Imagine the humble sneaker glorified in a leopard print cotton with shiny black patent binding and laces.

Smooth leathers, and glove-soft grain leathers are more simply styled for practical wear, but add that 1934 dash of spice with startling lining of giddy checked or striped cotton.

Comfortable Laceless Shoes Gain In Masculine Favor

The laceless shoe soars to the front for peak popularity this spring as runner among boys of all ages—from the kindergarten set to the brass hats of big business. Their ease, comfort, excellent fit and perfect styling have endeared these smart shoes to every member of the male animal kingdom.

The tassel moccasin is a favorite among the slip-on types. But there are some interesting new moccasin treatments for the coming spring season.

Take for instance a smart version of the Norwegian moccasin in polished leather, with metal rings circling the instep strap in place of the tassel. And from London comes a new interpretation of the kiltie moccasin with fringed tongue, either rising high on the instep, or posed straight across in the new square throatline.

Anilines, in pale wood and russet tones are more important than last spring and featured in a wide variety of laceless shoe fashions. Often a contrasting piping sets off the pattern of the shoe.

White is coming into the picture—white in heavy linen, crash, and buck, alone or in combination with black, tan or navy leathers. There is a big comeback in the brown and white and black and white and white shoe, which has an entirely new look in laceless patterns.

Colorwise, combinations of grey, blue and brown in suede and calf promise to be important.

Reptile, genuine or imitation, is well represented in the town and country slip-on types, with horn-back lizard the favored grain.

For town wear there is a custom-type blucher moccasin, also bluchers with straight and wing tips emulating the more formal type of footwear. These are smartest in the conventional black, brown or navy leathers for wear with flannels and tweeds.

The increasing popularity of the laceless shoe has been an inspiration to shoe designers and manufacturers.

Sub Teener's Bags Match Shoes, Too

It's the little girls' delight to go through her mother's handbag, occasionally counting the money in the change purse, testing the lipstick, running the comb through her hair.

Then she wants a bag of her own—not a little bag but a great big one just like the one her mother carries when she goes shopping.

It's for the sub teener, the ten-to-twelve, that this fashion offers the greatest possibilities. Lots of things to carry. Lots of things to do. And so stylish, too, to carry a bag to match her shoe.

Polished calf is the favorite in these bag and shoe combinations. In black, bright red and navy blue, in brown and lighter wood tones of calf leather or fabric combined with calf it matches the new spring shoes for school and general daytime wear.

Favorite shapes with the younger set are the big strap handle satchel with handstitching and metal clasp, and the bucket bag in round, oval or octagonal shape with lid that clasps and wide strap that may go over the shoulder. A wonderful object to cram with all sorts of school treasures and necessities or do duty as an overnight bag.

Two favorite tailored shoes that go handsomely with these tailored bags are the shell pump, perennial favorite, newly styled with gypsy seam and bow tie, and the single or double instep strap shoe with small metal buckles, handstitched extension sole and stitched detail on the vamp. Accessories like these do lots to dress up the school coat or tweed skirt and sweater, at a time when being grown-up is very important.

Yessir, Baby Always Needs New Shoes; But For Foot Health Be Sure They Fit

By DOROTHY ROE

"But surely Junior doesn't need shoes AGAIN. He just got a new pair last month!"

That's a bit of dialogue repeated regularly in most American homes, as harried parents try to stretch the budget to keep up with the startling growth of their children's feet.

It's also a fact that may as well be faced. From the ages of 2 to 6, children's feet grow a half size every four to eight weeks. From 6 to 10, you can expect to buy new shoes every eight to 12 weeks. From 10 to 12, shoes may last four months if you're lucky. From 12 to 15 the feet often are still growing at the rate of a size every four to five months. And even after 15, some youngsters continue to need a larger shoe size every six months.

This may be a depressing prospect, but there it is. And doctors are constantly warning parents of the importance of properly fitted shoes for young and growing feet.

A recent survey showed that almost 80 per cent of American youngsters from 5 to 18 years of age suffer from some kind of foot ailment ranging from weak arches to hammer toes. Doctors who took part in the study concluded that the feet of modern children are probably in worse shape than Grandpa's were when he used to hike three or four miles every day to the little red schoolhouse.

The greatest enemies of healthy feet, the medicals emphasized, are outgrown shoes and hand-me-downs. They pointed out that more than 2-3 of children's foot troubles stem directly from—or are aggravated by—outgrown shoes. They also frowned on hand-me-downs, which force the soft bones of the unformed foot into the foot shape of the previous wearer. Presumably, even the greater use of hand-me-downs in Grandpa's day was offset by lots of walking.

Your boy or girl will be 12 before the general structure of the foot is formed, 16 by the time the bones start their hardening process and nearly 20 before the development of the big toe bone and vital weight-supporting heel bone is finally complete.

You can't depend on Junior to tell you when his shoes are too small, either. The average child is able to force his feet into shoes that are a size or two too small without pain, because of the softness and pliability of his foot bone structure. Even though he feels no discomfort, constriction may be forcing his foot bones out of shape and laying the foundation for future foot ills.

At one school, 4 of the pupils were found to be wearing shoes from a half to three sizes too small—yet only one child complained that his feet hurt. He was wearing size 4-4-1/2 shoes on feet that measured 6-1/2.

Even if Junior doesn't outgrow his shoes every few weeks, he probably will wear them out almost as fast. A normally active child walks, runs, skips and jumps about 12 miles daily—and that uses up shoe leather.

How can you be sure that your child's feet are adequately shod?

1. Check his shoe and foot size every few weeks, and plan on a shoe-buying schedule based on the average rate of foot growth.
2. Be sure the shoes you buy are correctly fitted in a reliable store.
3. For everyday wear, the children's shoes recommended by most doctors are lac-d leather oxfords, with supple uppers and flexible leather soles. They point out that the fibrous structure of leather permits the foot to "breathe."

Doctors also decry the current fad for flimsy soft-soled play shoes and for sneakers for every day school wear. You wouldn't expect the mailman to start out on his rounds in a pair of house slippers. Yet many mothers allow their children to start out on a 12-mile day of strenuous play in flimsy "play shoes" which offer no more protection than bedroom slippers.

Specialists say that shoes which do not provide sufficient protection and support for growing feet result in weakening the arch structure, which in turn causes an inward-turning of the ankle bone. This affects both posture and gait, and is a sure forerunner of painful foot troubles in later years, when the bones calcify.

Mothers may get a picture of the condition of their children's feet by examining their shoes. If wear covers the entire sole area, with the greater wear evidenced along the margin of the sole, the shoe fits correctly. The heel, also, should be worn along the outer edge. If the front part of the sole shows excessive wear, the shoes are too short. If wear is heavier on the inner margins of heel and sole, this indicates a weak arch, with the ankle bone turning and throwing too much weight on the inside of the foot.

The recommended shoe wardrobe for toddler or teen-ager consists of three pair of leather shoes—two for every-day wear and one for dress-up occasions. Specialists advise that children should not wear the same pair of shoes every day, but that wear should be alternated, giving the shoes a chance to air out between wearings.

The price paid for shoes does not necessarily indicate quality and good fit. You do not have to pay a premium for good leather and correct fit if you patronize a reliable shoe store.

Never buy a pair of shoes for your child without taking him along to try them on. You cannot go by the size of his current pair of shoes, as children's feet will grow two sizes in a few months, sometimes they will stay the same size for the same period. The only way to be sure is to have his feet measured for each new pair of shoes.

The feet should always be measured when the child is standing up, so that his weight is on the feet. Each foot should be measured individually for length, width and thickness through the arch. Correct length allows 3/4 inch leeway between the longest toe and the end of the shoe. Correct width allows the upper leather across the top of the toes to be pinched slightly between the fingers. The heel base should be bought in a size that fits the larger of the child's two feet—often the feet are not the same size. The inside of the new shoe also should be examined for ridges or seams which might chafe or irritate young feet.

Don't be misled by the over-enthusiastic sales clerk who, in response to your insistence on correct fit for your child, informs you that new shoes need "breaking in." Shoes that fit correctly should be comfortable from the start.

Let your child walk around the store in the new shoes before you hand over your money. Slipping, pinching or discomfort of any sort indicates a poor fit or inferior construction.

If your daughter rebels against the laced leather oxford—as most of them do when they reach junior-high age—try to find a shoe which has the style features to please her, but which still offers sufficient support for a growing foot. Manufacturers have anticipated the style-consciousness of the sub-teens, and offer a wide choice of pumps, saddle shoes, moccasins and party shoes in vari-colored leathers with a "grown-up" look which still have good leather soles and adequate arch support.

The problem of buying boys' shoes is simpler. They want shoes just like Dad's, and these usually are the classic laced oxfords which are the top choice of foot specialists. Just be sure the size is right and the quality good.

Attention to your children's feet in the formative years will pay off in foot health when they are grown.

Pale Tones Good In Men's Leisure Shoes

Smartly sophisticated are the new light beige range in men's leisure shoes for spring wear with all sorts of casual clothes. Some are monotone—and these really look newest. Others combine the light neutral shade with a touch of dark or bright.

Materials are varied—smooth leathers, suede, brushed leathers and nylon meshes. For that wonderful slipper like feel, softer glove leathers play an important part. And many cushion soles in light or dark shades for that final touch of ease.

There are hundreds of styles to choose from—but we pick a few outstanding examples of "The New in Shoes" to highlight a growing trend.

Choose for instance, in the pale category, an amber toned polished leather moccasin, with whip-stitched trim, buckle and front strap—or a taffy-tone suede two-eyelot Sahara boot with a white cushion sole. Couldn't look cooler, handsomer. Good, too, a desert saddle shoe in sand colored suede with the lightest most flexible construction possible with excellent wearing quality thrown in.

More conventional, but still adhering to the light look and feel is the white smoked buck and black 5-eyelot saddle oxford with the new white stitched black sole. In tweeds and novelty sportswear mixtures, black and white is hot news in spring ready-to-wear, and there remains an important spot for variations on the classic black and white spectator shoe. Black trim is a favorite, and a blucher of pale tone chrome tanned steerhide features black binding and two-eyelot tie.

Burgundy with white strikes a note. You'll see it in many shoes for the younger man who wants a touch of color. The classic wing tip of white buck makes news with medallion toe cap and saddle of gleaming burgundy calfskin.

Footwear To Be Cool, Light, Less Formal

Who said, "Take the overcoat off your feet?" This spring there's really something for the men. They will walk in luxury, in the new shoes that are light as a feather (compared to the old ones, that is!) soft as a glove, yet constructed to hold their shape, and more smartly styled than ever before.

The same revolution that has taken place in men's clothing has hit the shoe industry, with wonderful results.

How many men now own a winter greatcoat, or an office suit of flannel or serge heavy enough to stand alone? Their clothing is light in weight, often combined with "magic fibre" to keep it wrinkle-proof and fresh, designed for wear in heated offices, heated trains and cars, heated homes.

Shoes are going right along with the trend. You're going to see some of the smartest of the new models in nylon mesh for general street wear with business suits. New meshes have been developed in lighter shades, basket weaves and two tone tweedy effects.

These appear in the classic wing tip, the newer U-wing and variations on these themes for street wear. Smooth leathers are perhaps first for combination with these airy meshes, but there is increasing popularity for grained leathers and reptile, real or grain.

Highlights for this type of shoe are the slimmer, narrower, more elegant silhouette, and the continued interest in browns for combination with the lighter shades. In some cases shoes are monochrome with mesh dyed to match the leather trim.

While brown leads, don't overlook the smartness of a pair of blue shoes in the early spring wardrobe. Blue caught on first with the younger set who took to all-over blue suedes with white cushion soles. Now more conservative men are going for the navy shoe because it has a smart new look and combines well with the grey and blue suits which lead the field for town wear.

Mesh isn't the only combination material for new spring shoes. Some of the handsomest of the new shoes combine linen with leather—plain linen or linen with a slightly nubby texture. And there are some new Dacron meshes out which have tested well for appearance and sturdy wearing quality.

For the man who likes something a little different from his fellows there's a wing tip four-eyelet oxford combining copper nylon mesh with matching reptile trim. Looks wonderful with the new black-brown shade in flannel as high as rivaling oxford grey as high fashion for very early spring wear.

Another "New In Shoes" look—cocoa nylon mesh with narrow reptile grain mudguards, or a tweedy mesh combined with cordo calf. Conservative, but new looking, the monotone wing tip business shoe in all-over blue calf and nylon mesh.

Reptile and reptile trimmed shoes appear in a surprising variety of spring shoe fashions, designed to complement the nobby touch or surface interest in men's ready-to-wear fabrics.

Styles in these are somewhat less formal—such as a wine suede slip-on with reptile trim and built-on laces to give the appearance of a tie. Or he may fancy a navy blue all-over reptile in a tasse moccasin or a light grey suede combined with navy reptile in a tasse wing slip-on.

A classic spectator gets the new look for spring by combining light blue linen with navy reptile. For the man who likes smart accessories there's really a new look for spring '34.

BROWN CALF WITH WHITE BUCKSKIN

Tapered Pants Start Trend For Smart Flat Slippers

No question, tapered pants have taken the girls by storm. For marketing, gardening, beach wear, barbecue, any excuse is good enough to get dressed up in these intriguing versions of slacks fashions for women.

The shoes are as gay, as young and as smart as the pants. They may be fabric, they may be leather. Anything goes, in materials and colors for these care-free costumes.

Take, for instance, a shining gold tweed denim, for a new kind of espadrille. It's embroidered in black and boasts a gold and black striped lining for further dash. Bright red glove leather is the choice for another gay model. It's square-toed, on a low leather heel, with bold white hand-stitching, and a white tie drawn through brass eyelets on the vamp.

Vamp bands of white kid and natural colored cork are laced together in a slipper copied from a medium curved cork heel and white lining. The white kid instep strap is gored on the inside so it will stay on the foot without too much scuff-scuff or clop-clop as you walk.

White and red is a pretty combination for a new version of the ankle-strap sandal. White glove leather takes red piping outline in a halter back tie with deep toe opening.

This is just a taste, a sample of hundreds of fascinating new designs in foot wear for the woman who has said goodbye to the dull in casual fashions for warm weather wear.

Boys Favor New Shoes Like Dad's

Kindergarten, grade school, junior high! Nothing takes the place of the oxford for growing active boys. But there's a variety even in the staple oxford these days. The classic wing tip still sells to boys of all ages.

But again junior fashions are grown-ups in the addition of plain toes, straight tips, U vamps and moccasin types. There are also some good-looking school shoes with buckled monk strap treatments.

Smooth leathers, of course, because a nice shine (if the boy owns a shoe shine set) and can be persuaded to use it). Shades of brown, including the Burgundy color popular in men's shoes are the favorites.

In addition to the all-leather shoe, leather with mesh promises to appeal to small boys as it does to their dads. In some places blue suede is being featured as an alternate to a black shoe.

Most of these shoes are made with leather soles, but there is an increasing interest in foam crepe soles in white or color. Boys like them, and if their taste is consulted are apt to insist on this feature.

Saddle oxfords, of course, go on forever, and the basic combinations of tan or blue with white continue to be the first choice. Again copying dad, youngsters who are style conscious are going for the gored or elasticized laceless shoes. Some boys wore them last year.

Both brown and blue smooth leathers are in the shops in these slip-on shoes for early spring school wear, (also for best if you wish). And they may be had in a choice of leather, composition or foam crepe soles.

The side zipper is good on the laceless shoe because it's easy-on, easy-off for the boy in a hurry. The conventional loafer is basic but the tasse moccasin is more appealing to many youthful wearers.

In addition to leather shoes there will be fabric oxfords this spring, made of sturdy materials, sometimes leather trimmed and laced, with the conventional blue, tan and brown the leading colors. White cushion soles are favorites with these.

For the younger boy, the play or school sandal of interwoven strips may be either leather or fabric.

Flats With City Flair Win Favor

When skirts go higher, heels go lower. Latest development for spring is the emergence of the flat as a real town shoe.

Once again, grown-ups borrow a fashion from teen agers, just as they did in the case of separates. Separates became the leading factor in school and college wardrobes—so practical so changeable, so adaptable. Now mothers buy separates for at-home wear, for sports, for cocktail and dinner costumes.

So it is with flats. Shoe retailers found that mothers first borrowed their daughters' flats for casual wear, and having tested their comfort proceeded to buy their own. Designers sensed the trend and in addition to making play and sports shoes, started to style flats for city wear.

Among them are some of the smartest, most sophisticated shoes for the spring and summer season. They look slim and elegant on the foot. They're divinely comfortable. And they are, in complete accord with the new shorter skirts in spring suits and dresses.

Tie treatments are favorites. Also higher cuts on the instep, giving an effect of more shoe. Sometimes a strap or pleated buckle effect emphasizes this higher line.

Some of the outstanding designs have been created for the town tweeds, an important feature of spring fashions. They make use of glove soft leathers, alligator, grained leathers, calf and suede.

A typical example is a two-tone flat glove-soft leather with vamp of paler tone rising in square tongue effect on the instep, hand-stitching and narrow string tie give a feminine touch.

Very smart is a flat of polished pine calf, with pleated tongue held in place by a side buckle strap. This is a moccasin type, also hand-stitched. Severe and chic is a plain tie oxford of brown suede, cut high on the instep and very long and slim in the vamp.

For more formal wear, black patent is the big favorite sometimes in cutout effect, sometimes with contrasting trim of white or parchment leather. Black polished leather also subscribes to the fashion for dark shoes with pale costumes.

And navy red and the paler tan and navy, red and the paler tan styled for city wear.

Influence Of Short Skirts Is Apparent

Delicately styled closed and semi-closed pumps for wear with the important dressmaker suits make the big fashion news in shoes for this spring.

They get a brand new look for the season as rising hemlines create the need for more decorative treatment of footwear.

They will point to the mode that will be dominant for Easter and they hint of fashions that will prevail later for the summer when the wide open shoes will rise to record popularity.

Heels, whether high or medium, are slimmer and more graceful for spring. The silhouette is longer. And color, in terms of pale tones offsetting dark hues, lend the smartest of all of the delightfully new touches.

Black is more important than ever this spring — black patent and polished calf. Navy is a little lighter, and cool neutral browns are exceedingly smart.

In other years these colors have been lived with touches of white

—a narrow piping, a little bow, cording or stitching. This year the popular two-tone effect is handled more boldly.

The trimming is part of the shoe giving a very modern effect of design. And white trimming in many cases has given way to the new pale off-whites and beiges which are more subtle in combination with dark shades.

These are the colors which go by such names as parchment, cashmere, cameo, panama, polished pine, polar bear etc. etc. They are all off-white in various degrees of depth, and the way in which they are handled with the darker base shade of the shoe is new and different.

Often the greater part of the vamp is made of the pale tone, shirred, pleated or plain, with just a shell of the basic shoe color. Or it may be a half and half vamp, or a vamp of one color and the back of the other.

Since skirts are definitely shorter, shoe designers have taken advantage of the situation to create really outstanding attention getters in spring shoe fashions.

With these two-tone shoes, eight button gloves in pale leathers to match the trim, and bag to match the basic color of the shoe, make a very nice threesome in suit accessories.

Another version of the two-tone shoe matches the mood of a town tweed for the important spring costume. Here again the closed pump is a favorite with the new stacked or built up leather heel, slimmer and highly polished.

The newest of these shoes are in the pale anilines, in the honey, ginger or polished pine shades. Here the contrasting leather is a darker tone, handled more delicately, in a narrow band of scalloped suede, an underlay, or a piping or binding of black or a deeper tone of brown.

The beige to brown family is definitely the favorite in these highly styled city spectators, with honors for advance fashion going to the paler tones.

For the woman who wants a smart street shoe that will bridge the gap between the early closed types for Easter and the later wide open shoes which will follow there is the closed vamp, open back sandal which is one of the prettiest shoe fashions we've had in a decade.

In front it's a slim pointed closed vamp with an air of tailored elegance. The back is wide open in a sling, a halter or one of the new fluid asymmetric straps. It's delicate, feminine, new and prepared to go right on into warm weather.

A new angle on the red shoe story for spring is the combination of red with dark leathers in effective shoe styles for wear with tweeds, flannels and fleeces for less formal town wear. The narrowest square toe pump, which many women like for spectacular wear, lends itself particularly well to combinations of leather.

A panel of red on the vamp of the shoe, extending down to cover the square toe, is an effective touch on shoes of polished black, navy, taupe or oxford grey. This permits the carrying of color to the ensemble.

Advice To Parents

Regardless of how old a child is, he should never be allowed to wear his big brother's outgrown shoes. It is unkind economy that saves a few dollars now, only to cause pain and discomfort in years to come.

Little Girl Shoes Get Gay Touch

Small feet are going to look mighty pretty in their new spring slippers. Never have designers taken such time and pains to give the new look to children's dress-up shoes.

More and more they reflect the style points of grown-up fashions — a lighter look, lower cut vamps, delicate touches of decoration, a wide variety of strap treatments.

Black patent is the undoubted leader for the Easter Parade. From tiny toddlers to smart teen-agers, patent is first choice. For the littlest ones, the classic black patent Mary Jane ankle strap can't be beat. It just goes on forever. It fits, it's simple and suitable, it's the perfect shoe. If she's still in arms her Mary Janes may be white or pastel kidskin.

For kindergartners, the Mary Jane takes on the new slightly more grown-up look with curved sides, lower cut vamp decorated with flat tailored bow.

Bright red is another big hit with young wearers. They like it because it's gay. Their mothers like it because it goes with everything, and in polished leather it's long wearing and always renewed with a fresh shine.

If she's big enough to wear a suit of grey flannel or navy woolen these days she'll adore a tailored ankle strap of red calfskin with cutout sides and rounded vamp decorated with a smart scalloped design of perforations. Or a sabot strap, which is among the revivals in children's shoe fashions, very effective in red calf with wide curved strap piped and dotted with white.

For really "dress-up wear, navy suede usually combined with contrasting leathers or colors goes

Fit Is Important In Teen's Shoes

In choosing footwear for teenagers, their parents and the men who sell them shoes should be educated to the fact that bones of the foot do not harden until a person is in his early twenties.

The National Shoe Institute says that the cartilage in the foot continues to harden until a boy or girl is 13 or 14, but the bones take some ten years longer.

A teen-ager can very readily lay up all kinds of discomfort and even illness for himself and in later life if he misses his feet in their adolescent stage.

Nude Shoe Flattery Points Way To Summer

If you have a pretty foot and ankle the later spring and summer shoes were made for you! And even if you haven't these new shoe fashions are designed to create that illusion. They're "The New in Shoes."

They're shells, they're skeletons, they're the nudest of the nude. But so skillfully contrived that they actually fit, stay firmly on the foot, and stand much more wear than you would think.

The sandal is the queen...and offered in a bewildering variety of patterns.

The T-strap which staged a comeback last season is a leader, but now handled much more subtly in more youthful patterns. The ankle strap, which all but disappeared, is now shown in some of the prettiest designs of the season.

The halter strap is still a big favorite, but yielding place to the asymmetric "Fluid" strap which leaves one side of the foot bare and yet moors the shoe firmly in place. Wide open toes are the rule. No more peepholes revealing a somewhat uncouth big toe peeping out, but the whole front of the vamp cut off in curved or asymmetric line as a setting for beautifully pedicured feet. This new trend, combined with sheer as gauze sandal stockings should be a godsend for the cosmetics business.

They call them slings or spats, these sandals that consist of nothing but a wide instep band, a sole and a strap. Sometimes the spat idea is emphasized by button trim or narrow lacing at the side. They manage to convey the impression of a complete and beautifully designed shoe while affording the minimum of coverage.

Among the nudest is the fluid line sling — two narrow bands and an asymmetric strap, pleated and stitched. In black patent, pale shades or bright pastels it's going to look wonderful with your summer linens and prints.

Another halter sling has side sections of leather caught with an ornament on the vamp and held on by a halter strap. Minimum shoe, maximum chic!

The offside T-strap is the newest version of this revived fashion with twisted leather strap fastened to one side of the vamp to follow that all-important fluid line which is as important in costumes as it is in shoes.

As warm weather comes on, white, natural and pale beige shades will be important in wide

White Comes To Front With Cottons

Yes, white. Pure white. And not in old lady shoes but in models that are highly styled, young and fresh, coolest and prettiest of fashions for summer cottons, linens and sheers.

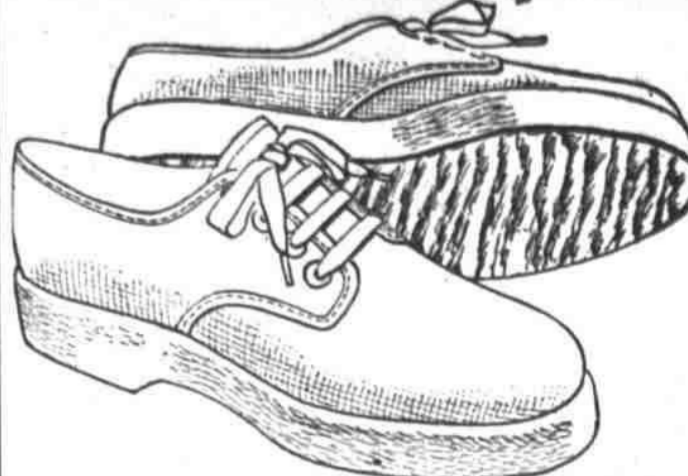

Naked strap sandals on slim high curved heels are big favorites. They may be white kidskin, white calf, white linen, suede or straw cloth.

In any event they're a spiderweb of white over sheerest of pale beige nylon sandal stockings, a fragile frame of flattery for the foot.

Straps take all sorts of new and exciting designs. For instance, slim strips of white kidskin set in curved, rather than straight lines, with white nailheads at each fastening.

open sandal types, for wear with everything. And there will be a riot of pale pastels or shock colors to go with everything. The nude patent sandal is a godsend in any wardrobe.
